NEED FOR WATERWORKS

City's Growth Dependent Upon Water Supply—A Business Proposition.

Most citizens realize the great necessity for waterworks in Goldthwaite and a great majority of them will favor any reasonable plan for securing the much needed system. The plan proposed by the city council is meeting with approval wherever it is understood and the prospects now are that there will soon be active efforts toward securing a system of waterworks for the town that will supply every need for domestic uses as well as for fire protection and street sprinkling. Perhaps the most attractive feature about the plan outlined by the council is that the system is to be owned by the city and will not be in the hands of a corporation with power to make unreasonable rates or requirements. The people will own the system if it is installed and each taxpayer will have an interest in it. Instead of being a perpetual expense, the system will soon become a paying investment that will not only enable the council to reduce the tax rate, but will provide water for the protection of property from fire and reduce the rate of insurance in the residence portion of the city as well as in the business district.

WHY SHEEP MAY BE KEPT

The fact that sheep have the adaptation of close grazing, these animals being able to maintain themselves on pastures where cattle, horses and swine would not find substance, is well known, yet this fact is not fully considered when animals are selected to supplement diversified farming. Next to swine, sheep are very economical animals. The swine make greater gains for the amount of dry matter in the feed than any other of the domestic animals. Sheep are second to swine in this respect.

Every farmer with a few acres of pasture has a good chance to raise sheep. On many farms there are a few acres of rough land not suitable for regular farm crops. This land with the proper attention would support a few sheep perhaps with very little extra expense for feed.

Sheep are able to consume considerable roughage such as stover, straw, hay and silage. For this reason they are able to convert coarse farm products into mutton and wool. With pasture and roughage not much grain is required to fatten the animals.

Sheep produce their kind very rapidly. From a few ewes and one desirable ram enough lambs can soon be raised to stock a farm or ranch with considerable acreage.

Local markets for both mutton and wool are likely to be better as farmers learn better how to prepare and handle the products and as the demand increases, as it seems likely to do. Most small towns where there are one or more meat markets will afford a market for a few lambs every week. Farmers who have fat lambs to market weekly are not likely to need credit or to be forced to depend upon cotton for the things they need.—Farm and Ranch.

IT CAN'T BE DONE

Heaven help the man who imagines he can dodge enemies by trying to please everybody. If such an individual ever succeeds pass him over this way that we may have one look at his mortal remains ere he vanishes away, for surely this earth not be his abiding place. Now do not infer that one should be fighting through this world trying to knock and thump his head against, disputing every man's opinion, fighting and elbowing and crowing all who differ from him. That, again, is another extreme. Other people have their opinions, so have you. Don't fall into error of supposing they will respect you more for turning your coat every day to match the color of theirs. Wear your own clothes in spite of wind and weather, storms and sunshine. It costs the irresolute ten times the trouble to wind and shuffle and twist that it does honest manly independence to stand.—Ex.

Store of Quality B. A. HARRIS Store of Quality

Rev. J. C. Newman returned Tuesday morning from Luling, where he had been to hold a meeting for the Baptist church of that place.

A. E. Evans has purchased P. D. Yarborough's residence on Fisher street and in turn sold Mr. Yarborough some land near McGirk.

The walks are being placed around the new depot and other improvements are being made on the grounds. The new building will soon be ready for occupancy.

The strong wind Sunday night did some damage to the front of E. M. Meyer's store building at Priddy. There was no damage to the stock of goods and his loss was not serious.

P. D. Yarborough left Tuesday for Lubbock to take the management of Walker-Smith company's wholesale house at that place. He and Mrs. Yarborough will be missed by their many friends here, who will wish for their happiness and prosperity in their new home.

Rev. J. B. Ward of Kent county was here the first of the week visiting his friend Jo H. Frizzell, and family. He was en route home from the sanitarium at Temple, where he had been for treatment. He was pastor of the Baptist church at Mullin some years ago and is kindly remembered by many friends here who hope for his complete recovery.

Monroe Ebers, wife and sister, Miss Pearl of Goldthwaite, returned Wednesday morning from Shreveport Louisiana, where they looked after the personal affairs of his brother, Ben Ebers who was killed in that city two weeks ago. Monroe visited the scene of the accident and it would be hard to give more accurate details of the sad affair than has already been given. The cable pole on which Ben was working, had electric light wires on either side and the one over which Ben would have had to cross to get to his work, had the insulation worn away for a short piece and Monroe feels confident that his spur came in contact with this particular place which caused him to fall and too, he learned there was a hole torn in the foot and thigh where the current entered and came out. Monroe was well pleased with his managers and feels that everything that could be was done for Ben.—Killeen Herald.

A SHORT VACATION

The Eagle editor and family expect to leave next Thursday night for Los Angeles, San Francisco and other points on the Pacific coast to spend a few weeks. During the editor's absence, Mr. W. K. Marshall will have full charge of the editorial and business departments of the paper. He is a newspaper man of long experience and the highest qualifications. He has been with the Eagle a number of years and is well acquainted with the people and is thoroughly conversant with the business modes and methods governing the paper.

The editor of the Eagle took charge of the business in July, 1895—just twenty years ago. During the entire time from that date until now the paper has never missed an issue, has never failed to be published on Saturday and only one issue has been sent out without the personal assistance and supervision of the editor. Considering this long and unbroken term of service we feel that a short vacation has been earned and we know it will be beneficial, not only to the editor, but to his business, for he hopes to return to his work refreshed and recuperated, after spending three or four weeks in the west, and again enter upon his duties with renewed determination to publish a paper that reflects credit upon Goldthwaite and Mills county.

INTERESTING SPEECHES

Peter Radford, one of the state managers of the warehouse system, and E. F. Shropshire, manager of the warehouse system at Houston for the Farmers Union, were here last Saturday and delivered addresses in the court house on the subject of the warehouse law and the proper warehousing of cotton. These gentlemen dwelt at length on the necessity of proper storing and warehousing of all farm crops and the proper marketing, showing that a system by which all the crops were marketed in a few weeks or even a month was not the best for those concerned. Mr. Radford explained the warehouse law on some points that it has not heretofore been understood and both speakers gave considerable information of interest to those who heard them.

A STREET FAIR

The Commercial club of this city has in contemplation a street fair for Goldthwaite, to be held some time this fall. For several years a county fair has been held at the time of the Confederate reunion, but careful observation has shown that the date is too early for a successful showing of the products of the farm and garden and orchard. Field crops are undeveloped by July, while much of the fruit is unripe and has not reached full development at that time. Many reasons can be advanced for a later date for a fair and for this reason a street fair is to be held the coming fall to ascertain if the later date will not be better. Exhibits will be made of all farm, garden, orchard, ranch and poultry products and premiums will be provided as in the past. The Commercial club's committees will be at work on the fair proposition as soon as the Confederate reunion is over.

SMITH-MILLS

Friends here of Miss Madge Mills and J. R. Smith are pleased to offer their congratulations and good wishes because of their marriage, which was solemnized in Brownwood a few days ago. The groom is a prosperous young citizen of Mullin and the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mills of the Liberty community. Mr. Mills was in to see the Eagle one day this week and his conversation proves that he is proud of his son-in-law, who is a very worthy young man. Mr. Smith owns property at Mullin and is also interested in a gin in the San Angelo country, but he and his bride will make their home with Mr. and Mrs. Mills for some time and perhaps permanently. The Eagle joins in extending good wishes to the young couple.

The examination will be open only to male citizens who are actually domiciled in the territory of a post office in the county and who meet the other requirements set forth in Form No. 1977. This form and application blanks may be obtained from the offices mentioned above or from the United States Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C. Applications should be forwarded to the Commission at Washington, at the earliest practicable date.

Following information relative to the sale of public lands in Texas is given out from Austin: "Approximately 2,000,000 acres of public free school land will be thrown on the market between now and June 25, to be sold on September 1, J. T. Robinson, state land commissioner, is preparing a list showing the location, price and character of this land which will be ready for distribution within a few days. About one-third of this land must be sold with the condition of actual settlement, while the remainder has no such conditions attached. Most of the land lies in the western portion of the state, some of it being agricultural, but most of it is mountainous." Fans are put to all sorts of curious uses in Japan. At wrestling and fencing matches the umpire always uses a large fan, and the various motions of this fan constitute a language which the contestants understand perfectly, and to which they pay prompt attention. The servant girl has a flat fan made of rough paper to blow the charcoal fire with or use as a dust pan; the farmer has a stout fan to winnow his grain. Another variety is made of water-proof paper which can be dipped in water, and creates a great coolness by evaporation.—New York Journal. Decayed fruits and vegetables may make rich soils, but they do not make rich farmers. Canned fruits and vegetables grown and put up in other states do not increase the bank accounts of the farmers who buy them. Any farm can furnish a plentiful supply of many kinds of fruits and vegetables and anyone with average intelligence can make a success of canning.—Southland Farmer.

SIDELIGHT ON WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Instead of making it cause for grievance that the woman voters of her state "have shown that they can't stand together" in politics, the Colorado suffragist who threatens to abandon her cherished principles should be heartened. It is the best message she could bear to the rest of the country in support of votes for women.

If women on receiving the ballot were to be herded like a flock of sheep and all made to vote one way, "going down the line," as the Colorado suffragist pleads, they would merely be part of a political machine swayed one way and another from time to time as chance might direct. In her disappointment, Mrs. Martha J. Cranmer of the state board of pardons talks like a district boss whose gang had got away from him.

Women's independence as voters is one of the things that make many professional politicians look with apprehension upon their entrance into public affairs. If they could be drilled in advance and lined up in a body for any one ticket or set of candidates, the rest would be easy. But in Colorado, where they have been voting for 40 years, they "can't stand together," which means that they are free voters and recognize no boss.—New York World.

R. M. THOMPSON, Editor

It is reported that Gen Obregon, one of the most decent of the Mexican commanders, died the early part of the week from the effects of a wound received in the battle of Leon some days ago.

Some of the developments in Mexico the past few days have been encouraging and cause the hope that there will be peace in that land of desolation some day, even though the date may be a long way off.

Some of the warring nations of Europe are calling for more arms and ammunition, which is a hopeful sign. When their supply of the munitions of war is exhausted they will be ready to talk about terms of peace.

Many who read of the interchange of communications between this government and those of Europe do not realize that there is an enormous expense attached to the communications. Last month the cable fees paid by the United States amounted to $18,000 and one month recently the cable account reached $30,000.

An exchange tells of a newspaper reporter who interviewed thirty successful business men and found that all of them when boys had been governed strictly and even frequently thrashed. He also interviewed thirty loafers and from them learned that twenty-seven of them had been reared without any restrictions whatsoever, the other three having been reared with only semi attempts at restriction. Comment enough.—Terrell Transcript.

Every man and woman in Mills county should hold membership in the universal "Flowers for the Living" club. There is no initiation or membership fee. It is only necessary to form a firm resolution to scatter sunshine among your friends and associates at all times and you are a member and the only way to withdraw from the club is to break the resolution. If you appreciate the efforts of some friend or acquaintance in any line of work or duty tell them so—don't wait till after the death of a person to make known the high esteem in which you hold them, but tell them about it and DO IT NOW.

The return of Col. E. M. House of Houston and New York from a trip to Europe has renewed the discussion of the probability of his having made the trip as a representative of the president of the United States. He is positive in the statement that the president had nothing whatever to do with his visit and that while he met and talked with most of the heads of governments involved in the war he had no commission to represent anybody or any interest. He says the people of the different nations are optimistic for the final victory for their side of the conflict, no matter which side they happen to represent.

The fears of many people were aroused last week when the resignation of Hon. W. J. Bryan as secretary of state in President Wilson's cabinet was announced. It was thought and understood that the president's note to Germany, which was declared to be the cause of the resignation, amounted to an ultimatum and that war between this government and Germany might result from the transmission of the note, but when the document was made public no objectionable expression could be found in it and no reason for the severance of diplomatic relations could be imagined. Neither the press nor the public can understand what Mr. Bryan found in the document that was so objectionable that he could not remain a member of the cabinet after it had been transmitted. Those who have been opposed to him in the past are not surprised at his action, but those who have been his supporters during his long political career are at a loss to understand his motive in taking such radical action at such a critical time in the negotiations between this government and the German government.

GOOD RAINS

Good rains this week have practically assured the corn crop in Mills county. In some communities it is believed the corn will mature without any more rain, but in other sections the crop is later and another rain may be needed to make the grain fill out. However, it is safe to say that Mills county will gather the best crop of corn grown here for a good many years and this crop will be of vast benefit. Some years vast sums of money are sent away for corn and other feed stuff and when these are grown here the money can be saved for other purposes.

Verily old Mills county is the best part of the known world.

MRS. VAN NORT DEAD

Mrs. E. L. Van Nort died at the family home in this city Tuesday morning shortly before noon, after a week of severe illness. She leaves a husband and three children, the youngest of which is only a few days old. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Yardley and they were at her bedside when the end came.

The family only recently moved back to this city from the west, where they spent several years. They have a large number of friends here who deeply sympathize with them in this exceedingly sad bereavement.

BILIOUS ATTACKS

When you have a bilious attack your liver fails to perform its functions. You become constipated. The food you eat ferments in your stomach instead of digesting. This inflames the stomach and causes nausea vomiting and a terrible headache. Take Chamberlain's Tablets. They will tone up your liver, clean out your stomach and you will soon be as well as ever. They only cost a quarter. Obtainable everywhere. (Advertisement)

RESTORED TO GOOD HEALTH

"I was sick for four years with stomach trouble," writes Mrs. Otto Gans, Zanesville, Ohio. "I lost weight and felt so weak that I almost gave up hope of being cured. A friend told me about Chamberlain's Tablets, and since using two bottles of them I have been a well woman." Obtainable everywhere. (adv)

Shields was raised in this country and has many friends here who will be sorry to hear of his untimely death. He leaves a wife and two children, who are at Douglas, Ariz. SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

The Mills county Sunday School convention was held in Big Valley last Sunday and was well attended. Most of the attendance, however, was from that community and Goldthwaite, while a few were present from some of the other communities. President A. H. Daniel of Mullin was unable to be present, but the business of the convention was taken in hand by vice president, Mr. F. P. Bowman, and the convention was decidedly interesting.

The main speaker for the occasion was Mr. Glenn of Temple, a banker and business man of large affairs who is also interested in the Sunday school work. He delivered a magnificent address in the forenoon and in the afternoon he made another very interesting and instructive talk. His speeches and the round table discussion conducted by him will have a strong influence in the interest of the Sunday school work in the county.

Several of those assigned places on the program failed to respond, but the presiding officer made up for the deficiency with some very helpful suggestions on the subjects.

The convention was invited to meet with the Baptist church in Goldthwaite the first Sunday in September.

JOHN PENNINGTON DEAD

The remains of John Pennington of Indian Gap were brought here from Temple on Sunday night's train and a number of citizens of that community were here to convey them to that place for burial. Mr. Pennington was a nephew of Mr. J. O. Swindle and had other relatives in Washboard and Indian Gap communities. He was about 22 years old and unmarried. He became ill the first of last week and was carried to the Temple sanitarium last Wednesday. It was announced that he was suffering with pneumonia and probably appendicitis, but his condition was such that no operation was performed.

All who knew the young man speak well of him and much sympathy is expressed for the bereaved relatives especially his mother, who came from Oklahoma to attend the funeral.

TESTING TEXAS ROAD MATERIALS, UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS BUREAU OF ECONOMIC GEOLOGY

Millions of dollars per year are voted for road building in Texas and increasing millions will be voted as the state becomes wealthier and more populous. The proper spending of this money is an enormous problem. The University of Texas is contributing to the solution by training young men in engineering and the installation of a first-class roads material testing laboratory, where over a thousand samples of Texas roads material have been tested in the last few months and recommendations made concerning each sample.

Above is a scene in the roads testing laboratory, at the University of Texas, in Austin, where the Bureau of Economic Geology is testing various stones and gravels which are found in Texas, with a view to determining their suitability for road construction. The United States Office of Public Roads maintains such a laboratory in Washington, but the University laboratory is as complete an establishment of its kind as can be found in the country. The director of this laboratory hopes to be able to test, analyze, catalogue every material of use in road-building in the state, and publish results of all such investigations for free distribution. County road engineers, commissioners, owners of gravel pits or limestone quarries, or indeed, any one interested in having tests made on available road material can secure a report upon the same by sending samples to the University Bureau of Economic Geology.

UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS IDEALLY LOCATED

By popular election in September, 1881, the University of Texas was located in Austin. The wisdom of this selection becomes increasingly apparent as the years go on. Three regions typical of a vast extent of the state lie contiguous to Austin: (1) the picturesque hills of the Edwards Plateau to the west, a typical ranching country; (2) the rolling prairie to the north and east, a sample of the great blackland cotton belt of Texas; (3) to the south the Colorado river bottom, a region of large plantations, reminiscent of the earliest settlements of Texas, when colonists sought the rich bottom lands, and similar to the very productive sections on the Brazos, the Trinity, and other smaller rivers. It is particularly fitting that the State University, the head of the public school system of the state, where thousands of students, rich and poor, from every portion of the state come early for instruction, should be located in a section that sums up in itself such a vast extent of the commonwealth which it serves.

The above photograph was taken a few miles above the University boat-house on Lake Austin, where the magnificent lake, thirty-five miles long, and over a mile wide in places, invites the hardy young Texans to wholesome outdoor sports when the drill of class and laboratory instruction for the week is ended.

It is gratifying to know that the state institutions for the insane have been sufficiently enlarged as to make room for the insane persons who have been held in jails throughout the state. A special from Austin says: It was predicted here today that within a short time there would be room in the State insane asylums for the 1,000 or more insane persons in Texas, who now are being confined in county jails or county poor farms and in some instances with relatives. New buildings at the Southwestern Insane Asylum in San Antonio are being rapidly completed and these will care for many of the unfortunates, who have been crowded out. A recent report of a legislative committee showed there were approximately 600 whites and 400 negroes in the State who should be confined where they could be given treatment.

WILL EUROPE FLOOD US

An interesting question arises from the probability that after the European war there will be a general rush for the United States by surviving soldiers who wish to escape the heavy burden of reconstruction and special taxes. This probability is suggested by a statistician, who presents some figures, concerning the reliability of which he knows more than any one else. Be his prophecy a good or bad one, the fact remains that a considerable immigration need not surprise the United States. Our business is to prepare in advance to turn it to account.

If this country should be flooded by Europe, naturally the tide will be reached in points of present congestion, such as the chief ports of entry. A large majority of those coming over will not perhaps, go into the interior. What New York will do with its share of the excess immigration is a question for New York to solve. What benefit the country as a whole may derive is a question for the general government, and it would not be unwise to have information ready for prospective immigrants, especially pointing out the need of real men in the undeveloped country all the way to the Pacific Coast.

Supposing the predicted flood of Europeans, it may be imagined that experience in the field has tempered them all, and that they will be able easily to carry the load of development of waste lands, to their advantage and the advantage of the whole people. Why not begin now to plan for their use in a beneficial way, instead of waiting for them to be dumped into a single community where now the bread line is a thing of too great significance to be ignored.—Richmond Times Dispatch.

Robt. Littlepage spent last week in company with an experienced oil man from Oklahoma, in the southern portion of this county. These conditions alone indicate that the prospects are considered good for oil in that section and the Eagle hopes the field will soon be developed.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good. I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its being me, and am doing my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of wonderful success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

FIGHT BOLL WEEVIL

To the Farmers of Mills County, Tex I have just been out in the country and examined a number of fields of cotton and I find that it is badly infested with boll weevil—and I fear that unless prompt action is taken by you at this time and followed up that they will destroy a large part of your crop. I would therefore suggest to you to follow the instructions which have been found to be the best for holding the weevil in check and saving a large part of the crop.

Recommendations to Follow
First—That you go at once and examine say 50 stalks of your cotton and see the amount of damage they are doing at this time, and if you find they are at work apply the following methods which will help to reduce the number of weevils. If left alone they multiply rapidly and the crop is soon destroyed.

Cultivate the crop as nearly as possible every 8 days. Cultivate it shallow with sweeps or small harrow.

Tie a brush or pole to the handle of your plow or cultivator in order to brush off the punctured squares and also some weevil in the hot soil and most of them will be killed.

If you have the labor, pick up the punctured squares often and burn them.

A simple device for picking them up is a broom handle with several small nails driven in one end and sharpened so as to pick them up without stooping. Carry a small sack to empty them in and then burn them as soon as possible.

By this means you will soon destroy a crop of the weevil and by keeping up the cultivation often and until the cotton begins to open you can make a good crop.

If I can be of any other service to you at any time, call on me.

Yours most truly,

O. H. ROBBINS,
County Agent, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

Over in the Philippines the Carabao is the general beast of burden. For all kinds of hauling this short-legged, long-horned buffalo is used.

It is more than a mere coincidence that the principal brand used with the Red-Star-Green-T oils in the Philippines is a picture of this animal with its name "Carabao."

To the native of these islands the Carabao represents service, valuable service continuously performed in many ways. What the horse was to the Texas ranchman in the early days, the Carabao is to the Philippine native.

To Texaco products are pictured to the native by the Carabao, indicating the service and its character, the quality and its usefulness. The same quality and service are available for you in your town under the Red-Star-Green-T emblem of Texaco fame. Ask for them.

ROUTE FOUR ESTABLISHED

Rural route No 4 out of Goldthwaite has been established and the first delivery of mail on the route was made Wednesday. C. E. Strickland, who is a substitute carrier, has charge of the route until such time as an appointment is made for it. This route runs through Simms creek and Pleasant Grove communities. An examination is to be held here July 10 for the selection of a carrier and the applicant making the best grade on examination will be appointed in perhaps three months from the time of the examination. It is not known whether or not Mr. Strickland will be an applicant for the permanent position.

The mail is delivered on the route now three times a week—Monday, Wednesday and Friday. It is believed the days will be changed to Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday as soon as the proper representation is made to the department at Washington and these days would undoubtedly be more acceptable to the patrons of the route than the days first named. It is hoped to increase the service to daily in the near future, but the tri-weekly is a decided advantage over no route at all.

SPECIAL REQUEST

The Eagle editor requests all correspondents to send in letters each week if possible during his absence, in order that the task of filling the paper's columns with news matter of interest may be lessened upon the office force. Those who send in communications and make known their names to the publisher will have our lasting gratitude.

A special from Austin says: "According to present calculations the state advalorem tax rate is to be increased by the state tax board when it meets in July, from 12 to 28 1/4 cents—this being an increase of over 16 cents for 1915, and is soaring close to the constitutional limit. This increase becomes necessary because of the appropriating by the Thirty-Fourth Legislature of approximately $18,000,000 for the next fiscal year. Of this amount about $9,000,000 becomes available and is for use during the coming year, which commences on September 1, 1915. It is figured out that the resources of the state will be about $3,000,000 a year, this revenue coming from franchise taxes, liquor taxes, occupation taxes from insurance companies and other sources; thus $6,000,000 will have to be raised for this year from advalorem taxes. Included in the $18,000,000 appropriated is the $1,000,000 for the country schools, $465,000 for the penitentiary system, nearly $1,000,000 for deficiencies created during the previous administration. The governor has been decidedly liberal with the educational institutions, which accounts for the fat educational bill, and as it is known disapproved nothing in these measures."

Some of the land owners are becoming interested in the oil prospects in this county and development may prove that Mills county has plenty of oil as well as everything else. In fact this country comes mighty near having "all the coons up one tree."

C. H. Tefertiller returned home Tuesday morning from a two week's trip to points in Oklahoma. He reports crop conditions very favorable over the portion of the country he visited.

The many friends of Grandpa Kemp will be glad to learn that he is improving very rapidly now. He is sitting up a few hours each day and has gone to the table to take his meals.

A fine rain fell over the Mullin country Sunday night that is worth a great deal to crops, especially corn which would have begun to suffer. As far as we have been able to learn the rain was pretty general over this entire section.

Rev. J. B. Ward, former pastor of the Baptist church in Mullin came in Tuesday and spent a few days here visiting his many friends in this community. Rev. Ward is now located at Jayton in Kent county where he has been pastor for the last two years.

Prof. A. H. Daniel received slight injury Saturday night when the horse he was driving scared at an automobile. He was thrown between the wheels of his buggy and the rear wheel passed over his body, causing the injury. The horse ran for some distance and damaged the buggy very badly.

The monuments at two graves of departed members of the W. O. W. lodge were unveiled at Oak View cemetery Sunday afternoon by the Mullin lodge. The graves were those of Carroll Lockett and Carl Wilson. The ceremonies were very beautiful and impressive. Other Woodmen graves were decorated the same afternoon.

COMMUNITY PRIDE

Community pride is an asset, and it is one of the greatest of all assets. The town that improves its streets, cleans up the alleys, paints the houses, cuts the grass, rakes the lawns and plants its flowers is not only encouraging cleanliness, but is making for itself a name among the people of the outer world.

Talk travels, and grows, and multiplies until the town becomes known in many climates for its cleanliness and progressiveness.

In time other men who are looking for a change of location hear of this town and then they go and look, and talk, and are pleased, and it becomes their home.

And the town continues to expand and progress, and as the years roll by it gradually assumes larger proportions and a more commanding and dominating position in the world.

When community pride comes in prosperity enters by its side, and the two become the mighty levers that control the machinery of success.

Personal pride and community pride should march side by side when these two potent factors join hands in a laudable purpose opposition quickly melts away.—Loreo Record.

A VISTA FROM LAKE AUSTIN

From University of Texas property, on south shore.

The completion of the gigantic dam across the Colorado River near Austin, supplies the one thing needed to make ideal the location of the State's greatest institution of learning, the University of Texas. The lake runs back winding among the evergreen hills of Edward's Plateau for 35 miles, offering students who are disposed to take their recreation out-of-doors, such wholesome sports as rowing, fishing, motor-boating, swimming, sailing and so on. A large part of the land bordering the lake near Austin is owned by the University, and the students have erected a boat-house at a convenient place where their canoes, rowing and motor-boats are kept at a nominal charge.

SCHOOL LANDS FOR SALE

Lists of the school land for sale will be ready for distribution about July 1. As the land will be for sale September 1, this will allow prospective purchasers two months in which to decide which tracts they may desire to purchase. One who wants a list may obtain it by writing to me at Austin.

Land that is situated in the rough mountainous portions of the western counties may be purchased without condition of living on it. Such land is unfit for a rural purpose and is generally so broken by mountains, rocky hills, canyons and gorges as to be unfit for human habitation. The smooth land there has been sold. It may be that some would want it for grazing purposes. Sale with or without settlement is fixed by counties.

Such land as is supposed to be susceptible for agriculture will be for sale to those only who will become actual settlers on it. There will be some 60,000 acres of this class. This is the chance for the one without a home. Heretofore those who lived within five miles of the land could buy it by living on his other land. Not so now. The purchaser must live on the land he buys when it is situated in a county where such tract of land must be sold on condition of settlement. The settlement purchaser pays one-fourth cash and three per cent interest; the purchaser without settlement pays one-tenth cash and five per cent interest. Each has forty years to pay the balance. Thus is the home builder favored.

The list of lands will give more information and will be ready about July 1. J. T. ROBISON, Commissioner General Land Office.

SWIMMING TAUGHT IN PUBLIC SCHOOL

In ordering swimming lessons for school children Philadelphia has taken a sensible course. The establishment of sixteen swimming centers in that city will doubtless be the means of saving many lives. The school authorities and educators often have been censured for burdening the taxpayers with fads which give no results of appreciable worth. This criticism does not hold in connection with instruction in swimming.

One of the best features of the Philadelphia departure is the decision to give special attention to the dangers of over-confidence in the water. Boys of venture-some spirit are apt to over-estimate their powers of endurance. Good swimmers often are drowned because they do not realize the necessity of conserving their strength and avoiding the taking of chances. The physical director of the board of education of Philadelphia evidently takes a practical view of the swimming question—that the exercise of judgment is as important knowledge as the art of keeping afloat.—Providence Journal.

The next meeting of the Texas Press association is to be held in El Paso.

A joint session of the executive committee of the Texas Bankers association and the Texas cotton conference was held in Dallas this week and it was determined to at once lay plans for warehousing a large per cent of the 1915 cotton crop.

A report from Kansas City tells of a young bride who had some weight about her. It says: "The Union station was turned into a big side show and several persons missed their trains in an effort to get a look at Mrs. M. A. Gowdy, aged 16 years, weight more than a quarter of a ton, or, to be exact, 587 pounds. Aside from being the "biggest girl in the world," Mrs. Gowdy is a bride. Until two weeks ago, when she was wedded to Gowdy, tall, lank and weighing 118 pounds she was Miss Josie Jolly."

School improvement is expected in Texas as soon as the compulsory attendance law becomes operative in September and the million dollar appropriation for rural schools is available. A special from Austin says: "There are about 10,000 country schools in Texas, it was shown by examination of State records here today, which will benefit by the recent appropriation of $1,000,000 for Texas rural schools. Half of the money will be available September 1, next, and the remainder one year from that date. The act provides that a sum not exceeding $500 shall be allowed by the State board of education for any one school. The act especially was designed for the smaller schools, there being a proviso in it that none of the money shall be available for schools having more than 200 scholars. The money is to be spent in various ways to increase the general efficiency of the schools.

Every city and county in the state will be affected when the act passed by the regular session of the legislature providing for state inspection of county and municipal buildings becomes effective on June 20. This law provides that an inspection shall be made by inspectors of the state inspector of masonry of every structure costing $25,000 or more. This law specifies that 1 per cent of the contract price of such buildings shall be paid into the state treasury for the purpose of defraying the expense of the inspector in connection with the work. This law was passed at the regular session of the Thirty-fourth Legislature and was opposed by many of the architects of the state. The enactment of this statute means the addition of several inspectors to the force in the office of state inspector of masonry. All plans and specifications for such structures are to be made by the state inspectors.—Austin Special.

AFTER FOUR YEARS

Goldthwaite Testimony Remains Unshaken

Time is the best test of truth. Here is a Goldthwaite story that has stood the test of time. It is a story with a point which will come straight home to many of us.

Mrs. R. Urbach, Front St., Goldthwaite, says, "I was seriously afflicted with a bad attack of kidney trouble, the first symptom being a slight pain in the small of my back. This gradually got worse and I was hardly able to get about. Nights, I couldn't sleep well. If I caught cold, it always settled in my kidneys and increased my suffering. I finally decided that my kidneys were at fault, as the kidney secretions were unnatural, I then used Doan's Kidney Pills and received prompt relief. I am never without this medicine in the house."

The above statement was given on October 24, 1911 and on April 26, 1915, Mrs. Urbach said: "I still use Doan's Kidney Pills as I need them and they never fail to give me good results. I have all the confidence in the world in this medicine."

Gillespie and Miss Nora Hooks and their classes for the very liberal donation made to the civic improvement fund of the Club from the receipts from the entertainment at the opera house last Friday night. It was indeed liberal and courteous for these ladies and those taking part in the program to devote all of the receipts after paying expenses to the Club's civic improvement fund and their act is heartily appreciated by every member of the Club.

They also desire to express their thanks to Mr. Geo. Mayer for the artistic window signs he prepared advertising the entertainment, which he donated to the Club.
