Editor Eagle:

I will send in some dots of news to the old bird.

No one on the sick list as far as the writer knows.

The Baptist revival meeting is in progress at this place and is being well attended and much interest is being shown. Brother White our pastor, is conducting this meeting and if you want to hear a glorious and uplifting sermon just come and hear him. We invite everyone to come and hear him, for it will be worth your while. Prof. Harry Epps and wife from Coleman county are assisting in the singing service.

Sunday evening was our regular singing day. We had with us Prof. Shelton of Comanche, also Prof. White of Miller Grove, besides numerous other good singers of various places. Every one seemed to enjoy the singing.

Prof. Shelton will teach a 20 days singing school in the near future.

Mr. Dan Weston and family are visiting in our midst this week.

Mr. Harley Davis is visiting his father this week.

Bro. Davis returned home from Coleman one day this week, where he had been conducting a revival meeting. He will leave for Mercer's Gap one day this week to begin another meeting. We wish Bro. Davis much success and pray that God's spirit will be in the land.

Mr. Ben Davis returned home last week. His grandmother and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Warren accompanied him home for a short visit.

Miss Vera Karnes was in our midst last week.

Wesley Stark returned home from a visit to Cherokee, San Saba county, this week. JENNIE LIND.

MISSIONARY AT WORK

The meeting at Jones Valley closed Sunday night after running eight days. Interest continued to increase until the close of the meeting. There were several reclaimed and some professions. There should be much more done along the line of morals and Christianity in Jones Valley.

We are at Payne this week. Brother Charlie Jackson, a young preacher of the Goldthwaite church, is with us helping in these meetings. He is a fine yoke-fellow.

We get home-sick, but there are some things more important than roosting around home. We wish for more preacher help. L. L. HAYS

LODGE RESOLUTIONS

Whereas, it pleased the great Commander of the Universe to call from this life to the higher and better life, our beloved fellow sovereign, Roy F. Greathouse on July 13, 1915.

Whereas, Sovereign Greathouse was one of the most faithful and loyal members of Goldthwaite Camp No. 230, W. O. W., therefore, be it

Resolved, that we realize that this camp has suffered a great and irreparable loss by the death of Sovereign Greathouse, who was ever true to his obligations as a Woodman and to his duties as a citizen.

Resolved, that the camp as a body and its members as individuals extend heartfelt sympathy to the parents and other relatives of our deceased sovereign, realizing that the family has lost one of its most loved and appreciated members and that there is a vacancy in the home that can not be filled.

Resolved, that a page of the records of Goldthwaite Camp, W. O. W. be set apart for these resolutions, that a copy be furnished the bereaved family by the clerk of the camp and a copy be published in the Goldthwaite Eagle.

WATER WORKS ESTIMATE

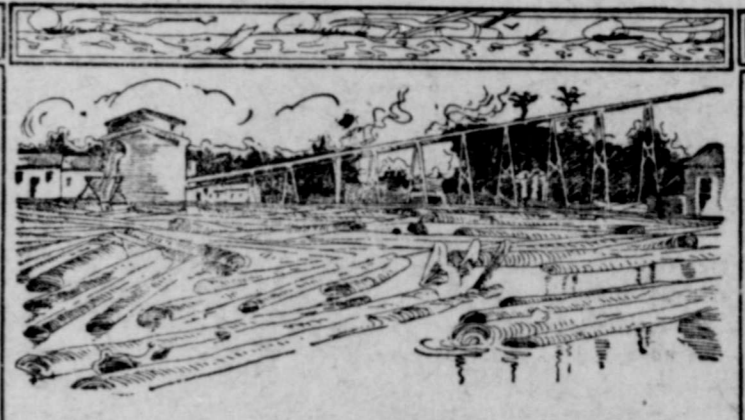

Acting Mayor Walters received the estimate yesterday of the cost of the water works system for the city, the survey and estimate having been made by a Dallas firm under contract with the council. The estimate is very satisfactory and the full details will be given as soon as the mayor and council can have time to go over it carefully. It is likely some changes will be made in the plans in order to reduce the cost below the estimate and at the same time make the system more acceptable to the citizens. It is likely full details can be given next week.

Over Fifty Per Cent Saved

The lumber industry in the South represents many millions of dollars in the business of the States in which the lumber plants are situated.

Materials which were formerly regarded as waste are utilized for making many things of importance to the people of this country.

Paper, boxes, shingles, staves and other articles have been added to the products of the mill which formerly produced only planks, etc.

In the organization of this vast industry every available means for reducing waste has been studied with great care. It is natural to find that the largest lumber plants in these States with the most complete organization are using for their work. One lumber company of great importance found that it had effected a saving of over 50 per cent, in the lubricating oil consumed, by the use of Texaco Products.

SIGHTS AT THE FAIR

Things Worth Seeing at the Great Panama-Pacific Exposition.

The Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco is perhaps the greatest exposition ever attempted on earth and the natural conditions there made it less expensive in the preparation as well as more attractive to the visitors.

It is a well known fact that the California people by private subscriptions and the issuance of bonds, assumed the entire expense of the preparation for the fair, even supplying the United States government with floor space in which to make its exhibitions. This was not entirely patriotism on the part of the people of that state. In fact, there was little patriotism in the plan, but rather it was considered a good business investment for the state and her people. The proposition to pay the entire expense of the exposition and relieve the government of any responsibility was made in order to have the exposition held at San Francisco rather than New Orleans to celebrate the completion of the Panama canal. The exposition has been a great thing for the entire state of California and even some of the adjoining states have profited greatly by the immense travel and the streams of money that have poured into them, but a much greater profit would have been realized had not the European war interfered. Many of the foreign countries have not placed exhibits there and few representatives of some of the nations have visited the fair, most of the patronage and financial support for the fair coming from the states of this republic. However, large crowds are in attendance at the fair each day and the exhibits there are well worth seeing, while there are no reports of "grafting," over-reaching or over-charging coming from any direction, the people engaged in the various lines of industry or enterprise throughout that section seeming to realize that it would be bad policy to "kill the golden goose" or give the public an idea that there was a "grab game" on the part of the people there and thereby deter many from visiting that section. In only a few instances did we find charges to be unreasonable or accommodations inadequate.

The San Francisco bay forms one side of the exposition enclosure and the ships at anchor in the bay can be seen by the people in the fair grounds and rides in boats can be enjoyed by those who so desire.

Among the most attractive sights in the fair is the representation of the Panama canal, which is in miniature form on the zone and can be seen for a small admission fee. Those who have not been thru the canal can gain a fair idea of it and the country thru which it runs as well as the other conditions by seeing this miniature canal and hearing the lectures.

Grand Canyon and Yellow Stone Park are also reproduced in miniature on the zone and can be seen for a small admission fee. Aside from these exhibits there are few "shows" on the zone worth the time to see them. However, there are a few very good places of amusement and entertainment along this joyway.

The main buildings are filled with exhibits of various kinds and those interested in any and every kind of manufacture, culture, enterprise or undertaking can find plenty to interest them and much to entertain and benefit them.

The tower of jewels is perhaps the most talked of public building on the ground and when the lights are thrown on it at night it is indeed a thing of beauty and a sight long to be remembered.

In the fine arts building will always be found a throng of people, for it is here all can be interested in the works of master hands and cultivated brains and the works of some of the greatest artists on earth are on display in these halls.

Art Smith, the daring and death-defying aviator, makes two flights daily in his airship. He makes the flights at the same place Beachy made flights until he met his death a few weeks ago. It is claimed the fair management pays Smith $1,500 per day for making the two flights and we candidly believe he earns the money.

A SUFFRAGETTE PARTY

On Wednesday night, Lucile Frizzell entertained the girls of the younger set with a Suffragette bunkin party at her home in the suburbs. The rooms were well posted with suffragette cartoons and banners and the girls began to arrive at eight o'clock. When all had arrived, each girl was "tagged" with well-known Suffragette slogans and went from there to the picture show. After the show the girls enjoyed watermelon and had a general good time until twelve thirty when several sleepy girls said it was bedtime. Of course a general pillow fight then ensued. The girls left for their homes at nine o'clock the next morning, those having been present were: Misses Gladys Brown and Claudia Patton of Brownwood, Miss Lucile Bryan of Sweetwater, and Misses Lucile Grisham, Joyce Harrison, Lucile Forehand, Stenorra Berry and Lucile Street.

While no names are being called, Hon. W. J. Bryan and Col. Roosevelt are making side remarks about each other in their speeches at various points on the Pacific coast and these remarks show that neither holds the judgment of the other in the highest esteem. Col. Teedle wants the "big stick" applied in the European trouble, while Mr. Bryan wants to apply a much milder remedy.

Somebody is responsible for the terrible steamship disaster at Chicago, where more than a thousand people lost their lives when an excursion boat turned over. The boat must have been unseaworthy and more, it must have been known to some to have been dangerous. There are investigations in progress and we will hope that there will be no whitewashing, but the guilty parties should be discovered and made to suffer the penalty of their crime.

The interchange of notes by the European governments engaged in war and the United States makes the situation extremely delicate at this time. The wording of a note is as likely to bring about war as is the firing upon the flag of a nation. We will trust to President Wilson's good judgment to so conducting this government's affairs with dignity and in a way that intanglements with the warring nations can be avoided. There are many would be advisers of the president who desire the influence and power of this government on one or the other side of the European war, but it would be a mistake to become involved in the trouble if it can be avoided in any honorable way.

The constitutional amendments submitted to the voters in the special election last Saturday were all defeated by a considerable majority, the amendment for the divorcement of the A. & M. college and the State University, which was the most notorious measure proposed, receiving the largest number of votes. It is a safe rule to depend that constitutional amendments will fail, not because the people do not understand them, but rather that they understand them so well and see beyond the wording of the amendment to the place where an increase of the burden of taxation or other hardships come in. In the amendments just defeated there were some features and sections that were meritorious, but in the whole they were lacking in merit and the people acted wisely in defeating them.

A steel that will neither rust nor tarnish has been discovered, and is being made commercially in the United States. The importance of this invention can hardly be exaggerated. Rust and corrosion are the great enemies of iron and steel. Cut through a lemon with your pocket knife and it comes out tarnished—corroded; stop the street cars, even for a few hours, and the rails are yellow with rust. Various more or less clumsy expedients have been adopted to fight this condition. For fine tableware the metal is silverplated galvanized or painted. Sooner or later the coating fails, then rust and corrosion start their work of destruction. The loss of steel through rust in the United States has been estimated at 1,600,000 tons a year, valued in the crude semifinished state at from $2,000,000 to $40,000,000. The new stainless steel need not be painted or otherwise coated, and it stays bright under all conditions of weather and usage. For years scientists have been seeking such a metal for tableware, pocket knives, watchcases, for certain parts of typewriters, guns, sewing machines, automobiles, bicycles and for countless other uses. Table knives forged of this metal can be used with impunity to cut acid fruits with no fear of stain, and the knife will remain bright without incessant scouring that is a bugbear to every household.—Iron Trade Review

FROM MRS. VAN GLAHN
Los Angeles, Cal.

Editor Eagle:
Am I dreaming or is it a reality that I have met, clasped hands and had a face-to-face talk with yourself, family and other good people from Goldthwaite? Yes, I have truly realized a fond hope, cherished for four long years, each day growing brighter as the time grew nearer. It has come and gone and I am left to gaze thru the kaleidoscope of memory on the beautiful picture so indelibly stamped on the tablet of my memory.

July 14—This morning I received a card from San Francisco which closed the door of hope of seeing my friends again, ere they bid adieu to the sun-kissed land of California. Take with you the assurance that you and each member of your party brightened the life of your old friend, yea, thrilled me that bright Sunday afternoon with a shock of delightful surprise.

Following the Editorial Convention the Elks are being royally entertained by the citizens of Los Angeles. The most interesting event so far is the contest between two Southern cities for the next national session of the Antlered Tribe, Atlanta and Baltimore, the latter coming out victorious and Atlanta accepting her defeat most gracefully. Parades are planned for every day. The most attractive is that of the Mid-Summer Floral Dream, an allegorical pageant composed of numerous floats. On the evening of the thirteenth illuminated pageants dazzled the beholders, thousands cheer the Elk's huge emblem as the float containing it comes into view, adorned with an Elk's head of mammoth size, a clock with the hands pointing to eleven o'clock, and the usual number of pretty girls, while on the other side, in silver letters, was inscribed the Elk's motto "The faults of our brothers we write in the sand, their virtues on the tablet of love and memory." The float was instantly voted a most appropriate one. Music from six military bands contributed to the lively occasion.

Saturday, the 17th, ended the Elks reunion, and it is certain that the care free throng of "Brother Bills" will cling to the pleasant retrospect with Angeleons for a long time to come.

And now the Campbells are coming as the Elks take their departure. Tomorrow Los Angeles will receive Shriners with cordial greetings the biggest Shriners in the world and 4000 of them. They have been in conclave at Seattle, now they are seeing the Angel city, and the rest of California. Receptions everyday at the Alexandria.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Trent left Los Angeles Sunday eve to join the Elks in San Francisco and participate Tuesday in their ceremonies at the exposition.

The greatest crowd ever gathered in "Bay City" greeted Liberty Bell. Young America is said to have joined with war veterans and the business men to catch a glimpse of the spirit of '76 and as the auto with the historic relic moved slowly down the flag bedecked streets its progress was marked by roars of cheering. Never in the history of San Francisco has such a crowd appeared for any parade or pageant. The Bell's escort included all branches of military service represented there. Speaker Champ Clark was orator of the day. A pretty ceremony featured the formal exercise. Amid cheers of thousands little Helen France lifted the flag from the bell carriage and forty-eight girls representing the states of the Union marched past. Salutes were fired by the war vessels in the harbor. This was a signal for noise making all over the city. The bell was taken to the Pennsylvania building to remain during the exposition.

Miss Anna C. Gaber, daughter of the late Dr. J. D. Gaber of Beaumont, is among the Texas visitors at Los Angeles en route for San Francisco.

I have written this letter 'neath the boughs of "The old oak tree." I shall cherish the hope of having the same crowd with others meet here next summer.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Trent are in the midst of the whirl of excitement and are being entertained every day and evening. Am glad to say, however, that they have found time to visit their old friend more than once. Among other noted visitors is Gov. ernor Slaton of Georgia, who commuted the death sentence of Leo Frank Champ Clark is also the city's guest to day. He will deliver the Liberty Bell Speech at the Panama-Pacific Exposition. He with his wife will be honored with a round of social functions. And I must not forget W. J. Bryan, who is here with his wife. More than 20,000 persons gathered at Exposition Park to hear his address. The new band stand, from which Bryan spoke, was filled with city and county officials. The crowds were packed over the lawn and seats, and hundreds of people brought camp stools and boxes. The park was taxed to the limit to handle the crowds, which began to arrive two hours before Bryan was scheduled to speak.

July 15th—St. Swithin's Day brings no fear of rain in Los Angeles today is St. Swithin's day. St. Swithin, according to an old English legend has it all over the ground hog as a weather indicator. If it rains today in the east or elsewhere it will rain for forty days, according to the legend.

As Mrs. White and daughter, Mrs. Paul Brown, were witnessing the Tuesday morning parade, Mrs. White recognized Miss Myra Prater, who was also one of the thousands on the street. Several years have elapsed since they last met and yet Mrs. White recognized and greeted her. "Why yes I knew her, she was from Goldthwaite."

Mrs. White has been visiting her daughter several days preparatory to their departure for Catalina for a vacation.

Am glad to report the family fairly well. I have felt quite youthful since receiving the many compliments so artistically presented by my good friends from Texas.

TRAVELING MAN'S EXPERIENCE

"In the summer of 1888 I had a very severe attack of cholera morbus. Two physicians worked over me from four a. m. to 6 p. m., without giving me any relief and then told me they did not expect me to live; that I had best telegraph for my family. Instead of doing so, I gave the hotel porter fifty cents and told him to buy me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and take no substitute. I took a double dose according to the directions and went to sleep after the second dose. At five o'clock the next morning I was called by my order and took a train for my next stopping point, a well man but feeling rather shaky from the severity of the attack," writes H. W. Ireland, Louisville, Ky. Obtainable everywhere. (adv)

BENEFITED BY CHAMBERLAIN'S LINIMENT

FACTS AND FANCIES

Some Conclusions Reached and Reasons for Reaching Them.

The Eagle editor and family reached home last Saturday evening, after an absence of more than four weeks in California and other western states. We inspected the exhibits at the state fair of California at San Diego and at the world's fair at San Francisco, besides visiting other portions of the country and making observations and investigations.

A description of the fairs might be interesting to some and even some reference to the various states in and thru which we traveled would likely be acceptable to a part of the readers, but we will refrain from any lengthy description or discussion of any of the places or subject. It is but right and proper, however, to say that our observation, experience and information lead us to believe that Texas is the greatest state in the Union and that Mills county is the best part of this great state. This may seem unreasonable to some, but it is only unreasonable to those who do not know of the conditions elsewhere or are not familiar with affairs and conditions in this county.

We endeavored to write for Eagle readers a short description of each place we visited and our last letter was written from Colorado Springs, Col., which is one of the prettiest and most attractive cities we visited on the trip. This city has a population of perhaps 30,000 and is modern in every way. Some of the most beautiful and attractive scenery in the world is in and around that city. Pike's peak is located a few miles from Colorado Springs and at the base of this high mountain are located the springs from which the city takes its name. The little town of Manitou is at the base of the mountain and is little more than a resting place for those who go to the summit of the peak or visit the scenes in that section. On the way to the Peak from Colorado Springs is the old town of Colorado City, where was located the first capitol of the state and the old log building in which the state's business was transacted is still there and is in a good state of preservation.

After one travels thru New Mexico, Arizona, California, Nevada, Utah and Colorado the sight of giant crags and great canons become so common that the open country and growing crops are a great relief and we were indeed glad to reach the commonwealth of Kansas, with its broad fields of well cultivated crops and when we reached Oklahoma we felt we were nearing home, for the appearance of that country is not unlike Texas and Mills county. There are fine crops in Kansas and Oklahoma this year and the towns and country have an air of prosperity.

We reached the Texas line at an early hour Saturday morning and a feeling of gladness came over us—glad we were nearing home and glad that our home was located in this great big, wealthy, prosperous, envied and enviable state. On every side there were evidences of thrift and prosperity and the crops were as fine as could be desired. All day we traveled thru a country inhabited by the best fixed people on the face of the earth and when at night we reached Goldthwaite, we felt and knew that we were in the best town and the best county this side of heaven.

A CABBAGE SNAKE

Z. T. Sullivan, who lives on the old Sloan farm on Wallace Creek, brought to the News office last Friday a very peculiar snake worm, or something of the kind. It just looks like an ordinary twine string for wrapping, but it has life and can wiggle like a fish worm. It measures 32 inches in length. Mrs. Sullivan was cutting cabbage for cooking. She found one head which seemed to be decayed in the center and cut the head open. This peculiar thing dropped out onto her hand. She noticed it crawling and called her husband's attention to it. Some people recall that a few years ago there was considerable in the papers about a "cabbage snake" which poisoned a good many people. The question is is this the "cabbage snake" So far as we know no one seems to know. If anybody knows what this thing is and if there is any danger in eating cabbage containing them they will confer a favor by reporting to the News.—San Saba News.

—If you are buying land require the seller to furnish you an abstract of his title, so you may know you are getting a good title. If you contemplate selling your land, have an abstract thereto prepared first, so you will know what kind of title you can make to it, as the purchaser is almost sure to want to know. I have the only complete set of abstracts of the land titles of Mills county and will make your abstracts for a reasonable charge and will help you cure your titles if defective.—E. B. Anderson.

Genuine Paprika is NOT a Kind of Cayenne Pepper

Because they look alike, most of us have a sort of general impression that Cayenne (Red) Pepper and Paprika are made of pretty much the same thing, only that one is hotter than the other. And that the difference in the "burn" of them comes from the way they're made or by putting something into the Paprika to sweeten it.

The best Cayenne is ground from pods that come all the way from the East Indies. Of course, some of the lower grades of Cayenne come from Jamaica, South America, Mexico and our own South, but when we speak of Cayenne we refer to the choicest, most pungent and finest flavored, such as White Swan Red Pepper.

The real Paprika though comes from Spain or Hungary and has no Cayenne mixed with it. It is an entirely different pod than Cayenne and is used to flavor with its own delightful and distinctive taste, mild and sweet, while Cayenne is used primarily to make things hot. And yet though so different it belongs to the red pepper family. Therefore, it is possible to use ordinary red peppers in making a so-called Paprika and to call it by a name similar to this and be within the letter of the law. It is more hot than tasty—yet it might pass for Paprika.

Here again you must buy your Paprika under the brand of a company whose standing and integrity are both beyond question, if you are to be certain of getting a Paprika that has the real and delicious flavor that only the best can have. We guarantee to you that White Swan Paprika is genuine and unadulterated—packed to preserve all flavor and goodness.

Your grocer sells White Swan Red Pepper and White Swan Paprika—both of distinguished quality, purity and strength.

ACT OF A FIEND

A terrible crime was committed near Temple Wednesday night. A fiend entered the home of Wm. R. Grimes while the family was sleeping and crushed the heads of three small children, killing them instantly, and then severely wounded Mr. and Mrs. Grimes with some blunt instrument. The crime was not discovered until well into the day Thursday, when a neighbor called at the residence and it is feared the murderer had made good his escape. Mr. and Mrs. Grimes were not dead at last report, but their recovery was believed to be impossible. Mr. Grimes is a cousin of W. P. Hutchinson of this city.

Later—a negro suspected of the crime and against whom there was strong proof, was captured at Rogers and carried to Temple, where he was taken from the officers by infuriated citizens and burned in the public square. He confessed his guilt to the mob.

J. C. Carlock, farmer, Fisher St., Goldthwaite, says: 'I was doing some heavy work and I strained my back and kidneys lifting. At first I commenced to have pains in my back and mornings I couldn't straighten up. The pains extended in my hips and limbs. My kidney's became weak and I had to pass the kidney secretions far too often. I used a kidney medicine, but it did me no good and finally I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills. Soon the pain in my back left and the action of my kidneys became regular. I have had no need of a kidney medicine since.'
