MEETING CLOSED

The revival conducted for two weeks at the Methodist tabernacle closed Sunday night and Rev. Cassidy and Prof. Ellis left on the 9:30 train for their homes, the former at Ada, Okla., and the latter at Dallas.

This revival was successful in many ways and the beneficial results will be felt for years to come. Rev. Cassidy is a fine preacher and Prof. Ellis is a most successful choir leader. They both did excellent work and Rev. Fomster, pastor of the church at this place, is entitled to the thanks of his church and the public generally for securing these good men for revival work at this place.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

A Good Attendance and An Interesting Session.

The Democratic county convention was held in the court house last Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock with a good attendance. A number of polling places sent delegates and the convention decreed that where no regularly appointed delegates were present any Democrat present from such voting place would be recognized as the delegate.

A committee composed of M. J. Thorpe, J. M. Traylor and Wm. Dennard was appointed to select a list of names to submit to the convention as suitable delegates to attend the state convention. The committee reported as follows: Jno. W. Roberts, P. H. Clements, H. C. Cobb, E. F. Casey, T. E. Hamilton and R. M. Thompson. On motion the report was adopted and the gentlemen named were chosen as delegates. A motion that the committee making the selection be added to the delegation was adopted.

A motion was adopted instructing the delegates to vote for the adoption of a platform demand by the state convention for the submission of a prohibition amendment to the state constitution and also to support a demand for the retention of the Robertson insurance law.

Delegates to the state convention were also authorized to represent the county in the various district conventions.

There was no contest or rivalry of any kind in the convention and everything moved in harmony.

MY BROTHER'S KEEPER, OR MY RESPONSIBILITY TO MY FELLOW MAN

God being the Great Federal head had the unquestionable right to lay down a code of laws by which He expects all His subjects to be governed and in doing so He gave no special class superiority over another. But says to all alike, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." This command makes love the key note to the carrying out of all problems as to our responsibilities to each other and when we fail to find love predominant, just that sure we may know we are void of the Christ like spirit and may look for a widening of the breach that will separate us from the Divine.

The carnal mind is enmity against God and where enmity exists against God or any member of the great family of God the peace and joy that should possess that heart is greatly disturbed and there must be reconciliation or the disturbance will work harm and that soul will remain at variance with God. Taking this view of my Brother's Keeper, who is my brother, and the responsibility of one to another is clearly and unmistakably settled and it is up to us to do or not do, love or not love and suffer the consequences. Human drawn lines without consulting the will of the Father will have us going in every direction, seeking our own little circles, limited sometimes to the family circle and widening as the peculiar views of the individual or individuals choose to go, so that the world will be calling from every point of the compass "Lo here and lo there" with their little circles, clubs, lodges, churches, etc., with unmistakable evidences to the passer by that each is loving his or her own with but little if any thought of the neighbor whom God says, "Love as you love yourself." To illustrate, we hardly ever pick up a paper but what we read of those in good circumstances preparing feasts and inviting those who are able and doubtless will return the favor, while just across the street or within calling is a more unfortunate sister, (so far as worldly concerns), but whose lives are as spotless as any of the invited guests and they are not even sent the scraps that still remained on the well laden table after all had been satisfied. Would or could that family thus slighted be impressed with the real sincerity of their neighbor's love for God if they should perchance hear them testifying in a revival meeting as to their love for Him and all mankind.

Mr. Editor, you publish these notices, (which is right) but have you ever had an occasion to publish one where some Christian woman made such a feast and invited only those who could not in return invite her? Have you ever had an opportunity to publish one where the club women of the church united and prepared a program of songs, prayers, readings and then something to satisfy the man to which they invited only those who could not entertain in return, but whose aching hearts often yearned for such love and recognition? There are possibly some who live within the sound of the church bells and see their neighbors going to and fro in answer to same, who wonder what this means and why some one does not stop to explain and invite them to participate. There may be some whose hearts beat beneath the faded calico dress, whose cheeks are often wet with tears, whose longings are for sympathy and a word of cheer from some one who seems to be getting more out of life and yet whose love for God and their fellow beings far surpasses the more pretentious and better dressed.

When that little old widow (who had perhaps been passed by, overlooked and neglected) walked up to the Master and emptied the little purse of its contents as an offering, placed herself on record, and if this old world should stand a million years longer that woman and her gift with the commendation of the Son of God will be heard from all down the ages. Do you suppose she was the only woman who contributed on that occasion? If not why should her name go down in history and the others remain unknown? If God recognized the motive that prompted the gift of this widow who had perhaps never been invited out to participate in any of the festivities of her day, may He not in the last day command someone whom we are today neglecting?

If all that glitters was gold
The world's treasures could not be told,
And those who have lived in poverty all their days
Could be found walking in pleasant ways. H. C. COBB

BIG BELL COUNTY DEAL

Special to Temple Telegram: Belton, Tex., Aug. 1.—By a deal closed here today, Mr. J. M. Allen, now of Goldthwaite, becomes possessor of two of the best tracts of land in the Midway district—the old E. E. Graves home place and farm and the property probably best known as the Donnell Creamery dairy farm. The two tracts include almost 600 acres, more than 300 acres in one solid body in cultivation. Mr. and Mrs. Allen, with their three daughters, will move to their new home in about thirty days. The splendid agricultural district in which the property is situated. Baylor college and the fine schools of both Belton and Temple, the easy accessibility of these two fine towns are among the features which have drawn Mr. and Mrs. Allen to their new home.

One of the features of the place which seems to have as much or more than any other won Mr. Allen's interest is its large pecan orchard. There are about five hundred trees in the orchard bearing pecans of the best quality. The amount involved in the sale is $75,000.

Forest fires in Ontario, Canada, caused the loss of millions of dollars worth of property and several hundred lives. A number of small towns were entirely destroyed.

The announcement this week that a labor strike had been declared in the City of Mexico occasioned considerable surprise, not that a strike is so unusual, but that there should be anybody guilty of laboring in Mexico.

A report of expenses incurred during the campaign by Chas. H. Morris, who opposed Governor Ferguson for re-election, shows his total outlay to have been $20,131. Mr. Morris defeated Governor Ferguson by a handsome majority in Bell county, but the result in the state was decidedly different.

The majority in favor of submission was not large in the state, the majority being given at about 2500, but in twenty of the senatorial districts there was a majority and it is believed the senators will look upon this as binding, notwithstanding Governor Ferguson says the vote on submission and the Robertson law is not binding.

Duval county, Texas, comes about as near being unanimous in its political activities as a county could be and have any divisions at all. In the recent primary Colquitt received 802 votes and Culbertson 1. In all other cases the candidates received 803 each and there were 803 against submission and 803 against the Robertson insurance law.

The state Democratic convention in Houston next Tuesday is likely to develop into a lively contest between the anti and pro, which includes the advocates of the Ferguson administration and its opponents. A number of counties have sent delegates instructed on the submission question and the Robertson law and some interesting results may be expected.

An explosion at Black Tom Island in New York bay, Sunday night, caused the loss of forty million dollars worth of property and a number of lives were lost. The explosion of the ammunition stored on the island for shipment to the European allies was thought at first to have resulted from a plot, but later it was decided that carelessness was the cause.

A funeral procession in Houston was halted Monday while officers examined the body of the dead man to ascertain if he had suffered violence. Finding no bruises or other marks of violence the funeral was allowed to proceed. The dead man had been a recluse for a number of years and was found dead late Saturday afternoon. Just why the officers delayed their investigation so long does not appear.

Texas will have six new congressmen in the house of representatives. Four of these take the places of congressmen whom they have defeated, while Tom Connally goes in the place of R. L. Henry and Daniel E. Garrett goes from the state at large in place of Cyclone Davis. The defeated congressmen are Burgess from Cuero district, Stephens from Panhandle district, Colloway from Comanche district and Smith from El Paso district.

There are many reasons why we should have fewer elections in Texas. Most of them have been presented. One not often advanced, if at all, is that the campaign attending them throw the worst possible light on us as a people. If all the charges made during a campaign were true, or if even half of them were, we should be irretrievably lost; too deep sunk in ignorance and iniquity to make any work of salvation, or even of salvage, worth while. Of course, the majority of the charges rival candidates make against one another are false, but the mere fact of their plentitude is discreditable to us.—Dallas News.

The house was empty and was so completely wrecked that timbers were blown to the creamery some 100 yards away. One four by four piece of timber was plunged thru the creamery west wall while A. B. Estep, manager, and wife were eating supper. Further than oil mill there was no damage, which here is estimated at from $5,000 to $10,000.—News.

NOTICE OF HEARING TO APPROPRIATE PUBLIC WATERS The State of Texas No. 158

Notice is hereby given, to whom concerned, that F. Merritt, whose postoffice address is Galveston, Texas, acting for the G. C. & S. F. Railway Company, did on the 6th day of July, A. D. 1916, file an application in the office of the BOARD OF WATER ENGINEERS OF THE STATE OF TEXAS, in which he applies for a permit to impound, divert, and appropriate 1000 acre-feet of water per annum, for the purpose of engine service and other railway purposes; the proposed impounding reservoir to be located on Brown Creek, a tributary of the Colorado river, on parts of Blocks 66, 67, 71 and 72, of the subdivision of Caldwell County School Land League No. 113, and about 4 1/2 miles in a northwesterly direction from the town of Goldthwaite, in Mills county, Texas. The proposed reservoir will be created by means of the construction of an earth dam 1700 feet long with 15 inch concrete and timber core wall, said dam having a 200 foot spillway with a relief spillway 300 feet long, the reservoir thus created having a capacity of 300,000,000 gallons, and from which the water will be diverted by means of a gravity pipe line to the company's elevated supply tank.

A hearing on the said application of the said F. Merritt, for the use and benefit of said G. C. & S. F. Railway Company, as aforesaid, will be held by the Board of Water Engineers of the State of Texas, at its office, in the city of Austin, county of Travis, said State, on Monday, the 28th day of August, A. D. 1916, beginning at 10 o'clock, a. m., at which time and place all parties interested may appear and be heard. Such hearing will be continued from time to time and from place to place, if necessary, until such determination has been made relative to said application as the said Board of Water Engineers may deem right, equitable and proper.

Given under, and by virtue of, an order of the Board of Water Engineers of the State of Texas, at the office of said Board, in Austin, Texas, this 7th day of July, A. D., 1916.

CANALS IN THE GREAT WAR

The historian will tell the next generation about the enormous value of canals in this European war. Over exactly the caravan route traveled by the Crusaders 800 years ago the Germans have a canal from the Rhine to the Danube. It is therefore possible to send a submarine from Cologne to the Black Sea with as much freedom from hostile shot as to navigate a canoe on the Schuylkill river.

That Black Forest Canal is playing a vital part in Germany's swift mobilization of munitions, just as the Kiel Canal makes its fleet safe from an enemy's battle ships as if it were in the great park at Berlin and miles from a navigable stream.

The Egyptians had canals before the days of St. Paul, but the lock canal which made it possible to cross mountains in a boat came only a few years before Columbus discovered America.

America's first canal was dug at South Hadley, Massachusetts, when Washington was president. It was completed 120 years ago. That little waterway gave DeWitt Clinton his idea for the canal across New York state—the greatest single impetus ever contributed to the upbuilding of a large city. It was the Erie Canal that gave New York the speed to pass Philadelphia as the metropolis of this continent. —Philadelphia Ledger.

CAGLE WHEELER

Austin, Texas, July 25, 1916.—A wedding of interest took place Monday evening at the home of Rev. Allen, when Miss Edna Cagle and Mr. Edwin Wheeler were made man and wife. Mrs. Wheeler came here from Priddy, Texas, three weeks ago to visit her brother and friends.

Mrs. Wheeler grew to womanhood at Goldthwaite and always made this her home up to two years ago when she moved with her stepfather, Liss Walker to Priddy, Texas. Mrs. Wheeler was loved and admired by all who know her. Mr. Wheeler also made Goldthwaite his home up until six years ago when he moved to Austin. He is the oldest son of Mrs. Richard. Mr. Wheeler is held in high esteem by all who know him.

This young couple have the well wishes of all who know them.

A FRIEND.

Newspapers in the North as well as leading Republicans everywhere take the plurality given Mr. Colquitt in his race for the senate to mean that the people of Texas—the Democratic voters at least, are not in accord with the national administration and by supporting the outspoken and avowed opponent of Mr. Wilson's policies have given voice to their disapproval of those policies. They misunderstand the question at issue in this state and mislead the minds of the voters. The subject of endorsing or repudiating the administration did not enter into the contest and but few of the supporters of Mr. Colquitt really knew that he was the opponent of the Democratic national administration. If these political forecasters will watch the result of the second senatorial primary they will be able to see very clearly that there is a very slight opposition in this state to Mr. Wilson's administration.

The votes of the 400,000 railroad employees on the question of calling a strike on 225 railroads in the United States have been placed in the hands of a committee in New York and the result of the balloting will probably be made known today, but it is understood the men are practically unanimous in favoring the strike. It is not believed the railroad companies will yield to the demands of the strikers and therefore, the strength of the organizations will be tested, if the national government does not take a hand in the affair. In this as in other strikes it will not be a question so much of securing men for the places as it will be of giving them protection from the strikers and strike sympathizers. If the national government takes the matter in hand there will not be any considerable interference with the commerce of the country by the strike.

Three people were killed in a wreck on the M. K. & T. railroad a short distance from Dallas Tuesday and a large number were injured.

Miss Lawrence Thompson has been in Lampasas this week visiting Miss Eloise Lewis and other friends.

The state board of education has fixed the state per capita apportionment for the year 1916-17 at $7 per pupil. The apportionment was based upon estimated receipts of $8,800,000 and scholastic enumeration of 1,246,890 children. The per capita is considered high, in view of the fact that the census enumeration for the year 1916 includes an extra year. Heretofore, the scholastic age limits were 7 to 16 inclusive. The Thirty-Fourth legislature extended the scholastic age limit to include all children 17 years old, which occasioned an increase of about 80,000 scholars. This number, added to the natural annual increase of about 40,000 scholastics, makes the number of children entitled to participate in the public funds very much larger than that of any previous year.

BRIDGE CONDEMNED

Lunsford Bridge In Dangerous Condition.

The bridge at Lunsford crossing on the Colorado river on the San Saba road is in a dangerous condition and has been closed to travel by order of Judge Dalton, county judge of Mills county.

The stays that are to hold the main span to the cable on the upper side have all but one broken off, leaving the span badly weakened. There is a sag in the middle of the bridge and the floor tilts with a load. Some of the stays in the upper part of the span are also loose, but they are not so important as the cable.

This bridge was built by Mills county in 1896 and an addition was built to one end a few years later. In order to secure the co-operation of San Saba in its upkeep a half interest was given that county, as it spans the river dividing the two counties. Therefore, the necessary repairs will have to be made by the counties jointly. Judge Dalton has called a meeting of the Mills county court for today and it is his plan to take the matter up with the San Saba court at once, in order that the bridge may be repaired and opened to travel without unnecessary delay.

The immense submarine freight carrying vessel which recently arrived at Baltimore, coming direct from Germany laden with chemicals and dye stuffs, has started on its return voyage, loaded with rubber and nickel. The successful voyage of this vessel was wonderful and the return trip is even more hazardous. If you are ever depressed by having the blues and you feel that life holds nothing for you, just try to get rid of the blue devil by doing something worth while for someone else. This does not mean that you must spend money, the lack of which may be the cause of your depression. There are other gifts which are just as valuable, and yet their value cannot be measured in dollars and cents. Perhaps you can offer a kind word to someone. You may be able to assist someone with her work. Lending a helpful book will also bring happiness to your heart as well as to the person to whom you lend it. All of these things will help you to forget yourself, which, after all, is the secret of chasing the blues away. Someone has aptly said that "Happiness is found in self contemplation, it is perceived only when it is reflected from another."—Selected.

The report blanks furnished the various county chairmen on which to record the votes polled on the question of amending the Robertson insurance law caused considerable misunderstanding and some chairmen made reports exactly opposite from that intended. The secretary of the state committee avers there was no intention to deceive or mislead the chairmen and he thinks the reports should have been readily understood. However, there was such a roar of disapproval raised that he sent telegrams to each of the county chairmen requesting a verbal report on the Robertson law vote. He states that these telegrams cost $500 in the aggregate, but he wanted the voice of the people to be heard. One good way to have heard the voice clearly would have been to send the blanks out as they should have been, using the same wording that was used on the ballots.

FAKE CHARITIES

The Boston chamber of commerce has a bureau which investigates charitable schemes, with a view of protecting its business men from improper solicitation. In two months it looked into 121 different schemes, and reported only seven worthy ones. There were 112 propositions which by ordinary standards of business and efficiency must be regarded as undeserving, and of this number an astonishingly large percentage were out-and-out fakes.

Even in many cases where the object seemed legitimate, it was evident that the chief motive back of the scheme was to provide somebody with profitable employment. An illuminating incident was the discovery of a solicitor of charitable funds, "part professional and part crook," the report calls him, who had bought a $10,000 home and was preparing to retire from business, well fixed for the rest of his life.

"Organized charity" is often criticized and condemned. It does seem sometimes to work in a heartless way, to rate efficiency higher than humanity, to substitute mechanism for kindness. Yet such investigations as that of the Boston chamber of commerce always demonstrate the essential merit of using business sense and business methods in the distribution of charitable funds. It is proved over and over again that promiscuous, indiscriminating giving is wrong—that instead of confining its relief to deserving cases and helping people to help themselves it wastes money and makes paupers.

SAVING WHAT IS RAISED

We as a class of farmers and citizens could not be considered wasteful in living, yet many of us could be more economical with the products we raise. Our lands have generally yielded well, but labor has been expensive. To save labor the manner of harvesting and storing farm products has often been wasteful of fertility.

It is true that labor, whether it be the manager's own time or hired help, must always be a problem. The margin of profit will always be controlled very largely by the cost of production, yet when the crops are produced we owe it to ourselves and those who live after us to save the crops we have raised. It is far better to reduce the profits by diligent work in harvesting and storing or marketing than let the results of labor go to waste.

Whenever we let grain, hay, cotton, fruits, vegetables, etc., waste we utilize the fertility constituents of the soil without benefit to ourselves and to the detriment of those who will depend upon the products or live on the farm after us. Hence it is our duty as husbandmen to save everything possible. We have been instructed with the sacred duty of caring for the soil and producing the people's food. Shall we not be held to account for the manner in which we perform these duties? And will not those who inhabit this country after us have opportunity as citizens in proportion to the way we conserve fertility?—Farm and Ranch.

MEETING IN PROGRESS

Rev. E. D. Morgan has been at Nabors Creek this week assisting Rev. D. I. Haralson in a meeting. Reports say they are having fine success and a number of conversions have already resulted. They also have fine attendance and are much encouraged.

Plans should be made now to manage the farm in such a manner that larger crops may be expected next year and the years that follow. We as farmers cannot afford to let our yields of staple crops remain low. If we cannot make progress by increasing the yield from year to year in normal seasons, then we do not understand our business and unless we begin to study and prepare for it we had as well leave the farm. Farming is no place for the man who does not study his business. It is no occupation for those who expect something for nothing. The soil will not always respond to methods of tillage that take crops from it without returning manure, fertilizer or cover crops. That some have expected their land to do this has been responsible for unprofitable farming. Nature's way of restoring soils is good enough for abandoned fields where nature can have her own way. It will not suffice for the farm that must produce a living for a farmer and his family. The manager who would maintain the fertility of his farm and increase the yield must put some of the farm's income back as an investment. Manure, fertilizers, cover crops, rotation, and perhaps a combination of all will be necessary.—Farm and Ranch.

Ask those that have used Miller's Screw Worm Killer and you will find they will tell you there is none better. It kills the worms right now, is healing and keeps away the fly. Costs you nothing if it don't do all that's claimed for it. Get it at Miller's Drug and Jewelry Store. (Advertisement)

1895 MONUMENT SALE 1916

A nice lot of Monuments and Markers at Close Prices. Can save you 15 to 25 per cent and give the very best material and the highest grade work. How? By eliminating the agent-commission-business, which means that amount saved for the buyer. Agents will tell you their firms can buy marble or granite cheaper than your home dealer and make you a better price, which is false and misleading, as we dealers pay exactly the same price for the same grade of stock. Figure with me before placing your contract, as I can save you money—and I guarantee my work. Will take feed or Good Stock in trade.

It is just as well to save money as to make it. Anyone who will save their money can get rich, but not everyone who makes money will get in comfortable circumstances. One of the best ways to save money is to read the advertisements in the Eagle and see where to buy the supplies you need.

The great amount of money put in circulation by marketing of the immense oat crop has put Mills county people in fine financial condition.

The Texas poultrymen must learn that eggs to be of value in summer must be infertile. They have lost $1,000,000 a year because they did not know this. They will lose more in the future. It is just as easy to render the eggs infertile as not. They bring a higher price and they are sure of a market. The sooner the producer learns this the sooner he will be making fair profits from his poultry.—Houston Post.

ACT QUICKLY

Delay Has Been Dangerous in Goldthwaite.

Do the right thing at the right time.

Act quickly in time of danger

In time of Kidney Danger Doan's Kidney Pills are most effective. Plenty of Goldthwaite evidence of their worth.

J. C. Carlock, farmer, Fisher St., Goldthwaite, says: 'I was doing some heavy work and I strained my back and kidneys lifting. At first I commenced to have pains in my back and mornings I couldn't straighten up. The pains extended in my hips and limbs. My kidneys became weak and I had to pass the kidney secretions far too often. I used a kidney medicine, but it did me no good and finally I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills. Soon the pain in my back left and the action of my kidneys became regular. I have had no need of a kidney medicine since.'

MY NEIGHBOR

My neighbor's such a lazy shirk, he lets his engine do the work. It bales the hay, it saws the wood and threshes grain and grinds the food. It milks the cows, it skims the cream and turns the churn, then gets up steam and washes out the family clothes and irons and sweeps and sews. (No, dear reader, this isn't Uncle Wolk Mason) My neighbor makes it store up light for them to sit and read at night; he makes it haul and plow and dig and shear the sheep and feed the pig; and when the water trough is dry, he shifts a belt and lets it fly. My neighbor's folks just laugh and sing, they don't do one dod-gasted thing.

Now me—I never was a shirk! I think the farm's the place to work. We chop the wood with might and main in mud and slush and sleet and rain. We milk the cows the good old way, and wash the clothes the livelong day, and churn and sew to beat the band and pump the water up by hand. We lack electric lights and such, but we don't miss 'em over much; for when we're through the work and fed, we're all so tired we go to bed.—Mrs. W. E. Jenkins, in Progressive Farmer.

CURE FOR CHOLERA MORBUS

'When our little boy, now seven years old, was a baby he was cured of cholera morbus by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy,' writes Mrs. Sidney Simmons, Fair Haven, N. Y. 'Since then other members of our family have used this valuable medicine for colic and bowel troubles with good satisfaction and I gladly endorse it as a remedy of exceptional merit.' Obtainable everywhere. (Advertisement.)

JUST THE THING FOR DIARRHOEA

'About two years ago I had a severe attack of diarrhoea which lasted over a week,' writes W. C. Jones, Buford, N. D. 'I became so weak that I could not stand upright. A druggist recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. The first dose relieved me and within two days I was well as ever.' Many druggists recommend this remedy because they know that it is reliable. Obtainable everywhere. (adv.)
