Mrs. W. H. Hightower will hereafter receive the Eagle at Lesa, Arizona, by order of her mother, Mrs. Haney.

Rev. J. H. Briley of Ebony has our thanks for kind expressions in his letter of Saturday. We certainly appreciate the good will of such men.

Mrs. Mollie Lowrie and Miss Kate Lowrie returned from Waco, where they had been on the sad mission of attending the funeral of Ben Brown's oldest son, Booth, whose death occurred Saturday.

Friends here of the Ashley family were grieved when the announcement came Saturday that Mrs. Cheatham, nee Amelia Ashley, had died at her home in Waxahachie at 6 o'clock that evening. Mrs. Cheatham was reared in this city and is kindly remembered by a host of friends here and elsewhere.

Miss Eloise Anderson, daughter of Judge and Mrs. E. B. Anderson of Goldthwaite died Saturday Oct. 5, at the home of Mrs. R. Male, in Brownwood, who was attending her during her illness. Miss Anderson was a student in Howard Payne College and had been here but three weeks, but had become a favorite among the young women of Howard Payne Hall. The beautiful, Christian character and her studious habits commended her to all right thinking people. She had been ill but a few days, and her untimely death was a great shock to the community and to her large circle of friends. The body was shipped to Goldthwaite, accompanied by her parents and other relatives. The funeral was conducted by Dr. L. J. Mims of Brownwood. The family has the heartfelt sympathy of a host of friends who sorrow with them in their sad bereavement.—Central Messenger.

OVER THE TOP.

Mills County's Quota of Fourth Liberty Loan Bonds Sold.

Mills county has far exceeded the prescribed quota of bonds, as will be seen by the list on another page. All who know Mills county and its splendid citizenship knew this would be the case and most of us knew who could be depended upon to "get under the load" at the right time, but we were not expecting it to "go over" as early as Tuesday afternoon, but that is exactly what happened.

Monday morning Rev. W. G. Callihan, chairman for the county, received a message from the district headquarters instructing that all business houses be closed Wednesday morning and a campaign be waged unceasingly until the county's quota was raised. He at once sent out circulars concerning the drive and named a committee of eighteen business men, with Mr. W. C. Dew as chairman, to take charge of the campaign in the city.

Mr. Dew called his committee together in the court house Tuesday afternoon and after stating that the reports showed that the sum of $11,900 would have to be raised to complete the $66,900.00 apportioned to the county, made a proposition that the Trent State Bank would take care of $6,900 if the other members of the committee would take the remainder. Mr. Will H. Trent announced that D. H. Trent & Son would take the remaining $5000 and Mills county went "over the top."

Sam Frizzell and family of San Saba visited relatives in this city this week.

W. A. Richards has moved back to his old stand in the bank building and has an advertisement in this issue.

Mrs. Alice Hill has moved from Lometa to Kempner, where she is teaching school and the Eagle goes to her at that place.

Ed Evans, a prosperous young citizen of Scallorn community, was an appreciated visitor at the Eagle office the first of the week.

L. C. Atkinson and R. T. Roberts were two of the prominent and prosperous citizens of Ridge community who had business in this city this week.

Will Braker writes to say that his address has been changed from Priddy to Taylor. Mills county is willing to loan him to Williamson temporarily, but we still claim him as a citizen.

Jesse Oquin, who recently moved from Mullin to take a position with Swift Packing Co. has already been promoted to the position of city salesman for the company. His advancement is decidedly pleasing to his many friends in this county.

The many friends of Ben Brown and family were grieved when the announcement came of the death of his son Booth, which occurred at the family home in Waco Saturday. The family lived here several years and the sympathy of the people goes out to them in their bereavement.

Mrs. M. M. Van Glahn writes from Los Angeles that she hopes to again write a communication to the Eagle readers, which announcement is indeed pleasing to us all. The people here and at Mullin, especially the old settlers, hold Mrs. Van Glahn in loving remembrance and always read her letters with interest and pleasure.

When Animals Help

Much is said these days about expensive feeds and the difficulties of raising livestock. The facts are that there are difficulties in raising crops without livestock.

While it is unfortunate to be forced to buy expensive feeds as many will be, because of drouth, nevertheless it is not safe to raise crops to sell where drouth is prevalent. In seasons of drouth when crops fail there is no income. But if there are animals on the farm and pasture, even if some feed must be bought, farmers may have employment taking care of the live stock.

In very critical times when drouth makes feeding expensive those who save their animals may be prepared to farm economically when the seasons are normal.

Those who dispose of their breeding stock when drouth makes feed high and scarce generally sell at very low prices and must buy again at high prices, or farm without livestock.

In general farming livestock raising is almost indispensable. The animals consume the bulky feeds that are very expensive to market; they make it possible to maintain the fertility of the soil; give employment to labor at off seasons, and when properly managed, provide a regular income.—Farm and Ranch.

Ghas. Trowbridge writes from Floyd county to renew his subscription for the Eagle and gives an encouraging report of conditions in his section. He says two former Mills county citizens are now serving as county commissioners in Floyd county—himself and B. C. Willis, who was raised in Hanna Valley. The Eagle and their other friends here are confident they make good officers.

A good rain fell here Sunday afternoon, making a good season and stock water in many places.

Mrs. Walter Fairman visited her sister, Mrs. S. H. Allen, and family in Temple this week.

Miss Sophia Martin returned Monday night from a visit to friends in San Angelo and Merten.

R. H. Patterson and wife of Stat came over Sunday for a visit and were waterbound for several hours.

Miss Bettie Pfluger of Eden, who has been visiting relatives at Priddy, visited in this city the first of the week.

John Boyd, one of the substantial citizens of the Ridge section, transacted business in this city the early part of the week.

O. A. Carothers returned Sunday from Southern Texas, where he had been to dispose of some stock. He reports plenty of rain in that section.

E. M. Geeslin and J. W. McNeil were two of the prominent citizens of Caradan section who transacted business in this city the early part of the week.

Miss Mary Anderson returned to her home in Brady the early part of the week, after a visit to her brother, Judge E. B. Anderson, and family in this city.

The Eagle appreciates to the fullest extent the splendid patronage given it by the public. Especially are we appreciative of the prompt and cheerful manner in which the change in the subscription system was accepted by so many, practically all realizing that the publisher was obeying instructions from the war board, without equivocation or favoritism. A few have apparently taken offense and have expressed the idea that it was a "collecting scheme" on the part of the Eagle, but the idea is confined to a very few.

STAR SIFTINGS

By Our Regular Correspondent

Being accused of suffering with partiality toward a select few, a disease which, if I had it, would only enable me to write to the Eagle about like this—"Well, Star is still hear and we air all farely well, but I kant think of nothing important so will close an hoap you will get enuff news this weak to make the readers intrested." We had the above dis ase once, when we courted "our best girl and her family," got cured and haven't had a tinge of it since. Now, if some happenings fail to fall into my "Sifter," it is on account of my "seoop." My "mcn-skid machine" for gathering our weekly harvest is—telephone 43, also persons who like to see the Star Siftings reach their fri rds, my ear, eyes, feet, nose (sometimes), fingers and a small "gourd" full of curiosity (killed a kat once), and last an ordinary cranium. Now, if you want to help make the Siftings always better and learn that we highly appreciate any item of even questionable interest, and sometimes if you think it will not "taste good," why, we will get our "spices" and "flavorings" and make of it a real nice "item pie" after all. Now if I had a dozen or so "cat and garden hose" ears, we would not be accused of partiality toward a select few.

We must mention the enterprising spirit of W. D. and B. B. Brooks, who have been supplying Star with a couple of young kids Saturdays for the past month. (Well goats, then).

After two good rains this week our people are smiling. Oh yes, they smiled during the rain too, but R. L. Clemons had an Uncle Josh leak in the roof and didn't. (?)

We have several that are seriously ill, but with continued care and attendance of our efficient doctors each is doing nicely.

Miss Arie Slaughter is making a winning fight against that prolonged attack of typhoid. No complications. She will soon recover.

Ed Hamilton is being starved past the danger point of pneumonia. A few days will answer the question.

We overlooked Bruce Roberts' condition last week, which demanded the attention of a nurse to the extent that Miss Arie Slaughter's nurse was released. He is doing nicely. Have released the nurse who has returned to her home in Temple.

Herbert Childress is reported in the danger zone of pneumonia.

Mrs. Fulton Henry is receiving the undivided attention of anxious husband, family and friends. Influenza, Pneumonia?

A score or more are suffering with this very unpleasant menace, but are not seriously affected. The ordinary cases seem to be something on the order of the '88 epidemic. We look for the influenza to close the school instead of the trustees.

Lightning left a half dozen turkeys dead in a neighbor's pasture with an O.K. on them. They proved to be Otis Knowles'—No O.K. freak after all, but unusual death for the turkeys.

Last Saturday was one of our record days for inactivity in the business line. Just wanted to celebrate over the good rain.

Mrs. Will Waddill has accepted a position in the post office and is the petite delivery clerk with ever a smile.

After the first week of "line-up" and straightening out, Prof. Neighbors reports that prospects for a most successful school term are flattering.

We can never find out why that cat gave such a dying wail in high G and at the same time caused Bill Lucas to emanate from a "waiting-for-supper" doze on a regular nightmare, "starep around the flower garden, ending with a front-yard circus to the wondertainment of R. L. Poe and family, and advising them to have fits (of laughter). Bob thinks it was Bill's bald pate shining in the moonshine that reflected a distorted image of the kitten and caused the kitten to have a cat fit.

Mrs. Ed Hamilton was forced to leave the bedside of her husband and is an 'enza patient. Also Maurine (Mrs. Soules) and Dick Jeske (boarding) are 'enzasites, which includes all adults of the family. The little ones are expected to "follow up."

If two stray silver tea spoons should appear in your neighborhood, give them a cool reception and perhaps they will return home (?) They crawled out of a shoe box and then out of the buggy and possibly follow some animal away. We have the owner's name and a hint as to the direction in which they went. Also one of our merchants reports that several articles, pocket knives, cuff links and quite a few apples, got tired of store life and wandered away. Rain seems to be putting life into the inanimate.

(On account of the work and space required to publish the list of bond buyers, a portion of the excellent Star letter had to be eliminated, but will appear next week, if agreeable to the correspondent. We regret the necessity for this, but it could not be helped.—Eagle.)

FLOUR RECORDS

District and County Administrators:

As you well know, all merchants were required to keep a record of their flour sales when the fifty-fifty and quantity sales rule was in effect. Inasmuch as the Administration has seen fit to depend upon the patriotic compliance of the consumer, to only purchase flour in sufficient quantities to meet their requirements for a reasonable time, it will be no longer necessary for the retailers to keep a record of their flour sales.

It is left to the merchant to see that the consumer purchases, at the same time he buys his flour, the required amount of substitutes, and of course, in order to do this, it is necessary for the merchant also purchase sufficient substitutes to supply the consumer, and while, as outlined above, it is no longer necessary for the merchant to keep a record of his flour sales, he must keep a record of all the flour substitutes purchases so that the local Administrator can check same whenever he so desires.

Yours very truly,

E. A. PEDEEN,

Federal Food Administrator for Texas.

BUY BONDS

Your city and county have gone over the top with the Liberty Loan and I congratulate you sincerely. It may be that an impression exist that no further action is necessary. The loan is about sixty per cent subscribed. The necessity for patriotic men and women to come forward and volunteer to buy bonds was never so great. I appeal most earnestly to every citizen in your city and county to reconsider his Liberty Loan subscription and if it is within the bounds of possibility go to the bank and buy more bonds. The situation is indeed grave and the man or woman in your community who will come forward and help at this time is doing the most truly patriotic act that it is possible for anyone to do. I appeal to you one more to buy more bonds, for it would break the hearts of our boys in France if the loan failed.

Republican leaders state with all candor and apparently with sincerity that they expect to elect the governor of the state in November. The only way they can hope to have a voice in selecting the chief executive is for them all to vote for Governor Hobby and make his election unanimous. It will be practically that anyway.

Rev. W. G. Callahan received notice from Bishop Ainsworth last Sunday that the Methodist annual conference, which was to have been held in Austin this week had been postponed for two weeks, on account of the prevalence of influenza in that city and throughout the state.

The action of Rienzi Johnston, editor of the Houston Post, in issuing a pardon to old man Watson, who was convicted of the murder of Bank Commissioner Patterson and given a life term in the penitentiary has caused much discussion of the system which allows a man who is occupying the governor chair for a few days to have authority to issue pardons. Johnston was never elected lieutenant governor, but was presiding officer pro tem of the senate and when Lieutenant Governor Hobby was made governor he substitute presiding officer became active until the next election and under the constitution filled the office of lieutenant governor. Therefore, when Governor Hobby left the state to go to Washington the substitute presiding officer of the senate became acting governor and in the few days he was in the office he pardoned both old man Watson and his son, the latter having been convicted of forgery.

Farmers and Stockmen

The federal department of agriculture, co-operating with the various counties throughout the United States, has seen fit to place in most all agricultural counties emergency demonstration agents, therefore, I am now located in Mills county in the capacity above mentioned, maintaining an office in the court house at Goldthwaite, where I can be found on Saturday of each week and at such other times as will be announced in the future.

It is my desire and intention to meet with the citizenship of the county as quickly as possible and I earnestly request that you not wait for me to get around and make your acquaintance, but make yourself known and thereby we will be able to get to work much sooner than we would otherwise. I am here at the instance of the government for purpose of assisting in whatever capacity needed, therefore, I will be very grateful for and opportunity to be of service to any one who care to avail themselves of my service.

The problem of securing our winter feed is one that demands immediate attention, and to meet the emergency and somewhat counteract the extra high prices of feed, the department has made it possible for the farmers ordering feed to get a freight discount of fifty per cent on all feed ordered in carload lots, that is feed that is to be fed to stock that is to remain on the farm. In order for you to get the advantage of the freight discount it will be necessary to order in car-load lots and co-operate with the county agent. Any one interested in the matter of purchasing feed may have the benefit of the daily market quotations by calling at the county agent's office where the report will be found on file.

Trusting that I may have the unlimited co-operation of the entire citizenship and assuring you that I am yours for service, I am, Respectfully, GUY E. CASEY, County Emergency Agent.

For several fires in Minnesota have destroyed a vast amount of property during the last week, many lives have been lost, and a number of towns were entirely consumed by the flames.

Postmaster General Burleson has been in Texas this week looking after private business interests and visiting his old home at Austin. He, like all others, heartily endorses the president's reply to Germany's peace offer.

The influenza scourge is sweeping the nation and in almost every section there are cases of serious sickness and deaths. The disease is of unusual severity and the authorities are using their utmost endeavor to prevent its spread. Public places of gathering have been closed almost everywhere and caution is urged upon the public.

President Wilson's reply to Germany's peace offer was clear and plain, leaving no place for doubt or quibble. He stated that the terms already outlined and elucidated by him and well known to the allies and the nations at interest must be fully met and that a repetition of the present savage warfare waged by Germany must be made impossible in future by the elimination of those responsible for the acts of barbarity and wholesale murder. Every statement made by the president is fully endorsed by the people of this and the other nations and every one of the terms imposed meets with public approval. His reply to the German challenge has also removed any fear from the minds of those who imagined he would allow the Kaiser and his co-conspirators to have a part in framing the peace terms or in assessing the penalty for the outrages committed on the people of the invaded countries and the civilized world.

Part of the increased cost of living comes from the bettering quality of groceries. Time was when semi-spoiled stuff might be sold to the economical at bargain prices. There was nobody to interfere with the adulterators, or the beef embalmers, or the vendors of rotten vegetable. Short weights and adulterations were common. Personal liberty authorized the grocer to swindle if he could get by with it, the manufacturer to cheat, the consumer to deadbeat his way. The latter privilege is still permitted, but is itself on the wane. Food-stuffs certainly cost too much, especially in this cotton country; but they are of better quality than they used to be. State Press used to know a man who lived mostly on side meat bought from a grocery store. He ought to have been a happy man, considering that he had nothing and wanted about the same. He used to get mad every time he bought a new "muddling," because he said the "damyankees pressed the grease out" before sending the meat down South. He might have raised his own meat, grasped to taste, but he didn't consider that possible. He had a cotton "crap" to attend to, and it required all the time he cared to give to labor. If he is still living, which probably he isn't, the meat he buys today has not been pressed. It is greasy enough. But he is paying about five times as much for it, incidentally selling his cotton at the same ratio of increase.—State Press in Dallas News.

MOTOR VEHICLES NEEDED

Farmers of the country will regret exceedingly if the Council of National Defense has as reported, finally requested manufacturers of automobiles to cease manufacturing not later than January, 1919. Contrary to the council's view automobiles are more than "pleasure cars." For farmers they are necessary for comfortable living, marketing and educational advancement.

Now that the government is urging farmers to help relieve the congestion in freight and passenger traffic, produce to their maximum capacity it is unfortunate that those who are scarce of teams will not be able to use automobiles.

Is there not a great need at a time like this for a greater use of such quick means of marketing as automobiles, trucks and trailers afford? The fact that city people use automobiles as "pleasure cars" does not argue that these motor vehicles are not necessities for greater production and better marketing.

Surely our supply of labor available is not so critical as to prevent the manufacture of sufficient motor vehicles so essential to maintaining the war. Let us hope that the Council of Defense will investigate further and find the food, and money which motor vehicles promote are urgently needed to help win the war.—Farm and Ranch.

FOODS FOR EFFICIENCY

The housekeeper who prepares the foods for the family table has a more responsible position than some of them believe. There is the most important task in economy and in efficiency.

Feeders know that the ration of young stock should not be the same as for older animals; work horses and colts do not require the same feed; calves and cows must have proteins, carbohydrates and fat in different proportion. Yet the fact is often overlooked that the requirements of young children, older children and farm hands need nutrients in different proportions. Where the family is composed of different ages and people doing different kinds of work, the housekeeper has a problem of supplying the various needs in the foods prepared.

It is of paramount importance that the family have the right kinds of foods and that they be prepared in appetizing and easily digestible ways.

An eminent authority, the late Mrs. Ellen H. Richards, tells us: "The prosperity of the nation depends upon the health and morals of its citizens, and health and morals of the people depend mainly on the food they eat and the houses in which they live."—Exchange.

A THOROUGH TEST

One To Convince the Most Skeptical Goldthwaite Reader

The test of time is the best that counts.

Doan's Kidney Pills have made their reputation by effective action.

The following case is typical. Goldthwaite residents should be convinced.

The testimony is confirmed—the proof complete. Testimony like this cannot be ignored.

J. C. Fulton, stone mason of Goldthwaite, says: "Three years ago I was down in bed with a severe pain in the small of my back. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage, painful and unnatural. I decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills, as I had often heard they were good for kidney trouble. I got a box from Clements' Drug Store and my condition improved right away and after finishing two boxes I was able to go back to work. I am never without Doan's Kidney Pills in the house."

No Trouble Since.

Over three years later Mr. Fulton said: "I still think well of Doan's Kidney Pills. I haven't needed a kidney medicine since using them."

SPANISH INFLUENZA RAPIDLY SPREADING

Persons Weak and Rundown
Easy Victims—Fortify
Yourself Against It
By Taking Tanlac

According to late reports issued by State and Federal health authorities, the Spanish influenza epidemic is rapidly spreading to all parts of the country and it now seems that practically every state in the Union will be seriously affected before it runs its course.

It has not only become a great and terrifying menace to public health, but unless checked, it is apt to seriously affect the progress of war work in all its various departments. Already the Shipping Board has announced that ten per cent of its workers had been affected.

The disease has made its greatest progress in the east, where it has claimed its victims by the thousands. Reports from other sections, however, are equally alarming; and both civil and military authorities have warned the public to take every precaution to prevent its further spread. In many cities the schools, churches and theatres have been closed and public gatherings of all kinds forbidden.

Medical authorities agree that people who are weak and rundown are the earliest victims of the influenza epidemic. If you find yours if tired, weak and losing flesh, or if you are in a generally run-down condition, or if you catch cold easily, this warning should be heeded promptly. You are really in great danger, because the germ of this disease is very catching and you are apt to fall an easy victim if you come in contact with the germs. People who are well and strong are not likely to contract the disease, because they are able to throw it off. The common-sense way to keep from taking it is to fortify the system against attack by building up the constitution.

In other words, to use the old adage: "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." If you are in a sub-normal condition the proper thing to do is to begin immediately to build up your powers of resistance. To accomplish this, nothing on earth will strengthen you and build you up like Tanlac, the powerful reconstructive tonic, which contains the very elements needed by the system to give you fighting strength and ward off the influenza germ.

First of all Tanlac begins its action by creating a good healthy appetite for wholesome, nourishing food, and assists every organ of the body to perform its natural functions, thus helping to build up health and strength in the natural way.

Tanlac is also the ideal strengthening tonic for persons who are suffering from the after-effects of influenza, gripe or bronchial troubles, and hundreds of thousands are using it daily with the most gratifying results.

In connection with the Tanlac treatment, it is necessary to keep the bowels open by taking Tanlac Laxative Tablets, samples of which are included with every bottle of Tanlac. It is also important that every-day rules of hygiene be observed; that is, sleep in well ventilated rooms, get plenty of fresh air and exercise and keep away from crowds.

Tanlac is sold in Goldthwaite by L. E. Miller & Son. (adv)

CANNED GOODS NEEDED TO SUSTAIN THE ARMY

Canners of tomatoes, corn, peas, salmon, and string beans have been notified by the U. S. Food Administration that the requirements of the U. S. army, navy and marine corps will take the following percentage of the 1918 pack:

Tomatoes: The navy and marine corps will take 33 1/3 per cent of the packs of Delaware and New Jersey, the army will take 33 1/3 per cent of the packs of all other States.

Corn: The navy and marine corps will take 25 per cent of the canned corn packs of Maryland, Nebraska, and Pennsylvania; the army will take 25 per cent of the packs of the other States.

Peas: Allotments for 25 per cent of the total pack of 1918 have been made.

Salmon: The salmon canning industry has been instructed to reserve for the government 65 per cent of their total packs of red, medium red and pink salmon; 55 per cent of the total pack of Chum salmon, and 20 per cent of the total pack of Stockeye salmon.

Beans: The string bean packers have been instructed to reserve for the government 25 per cent of their total packs of green and wax beans.

It will be understood that such reservations are made from the stocks of commercial canners and home packs are not referred to whatever. One of the principal elements entering into the federal campaign to have housewives put up canned vegetables was to lighten the home drain on stocks of canned goods originating at the canners. Every can or jar of tomatoes, peas, corn and beans put up in the home gives from a fourth to a third of a can to the army, navy, and marine corps.

SUGAR CROP OF CUBA TO BE DISTRIBUTED BY THE U. S. FOOD ADMINISTRATION.

Administrator Peden is advised by Washington that the Sugar Equalization Board has closed a contract with the Cuban minister for the purchase of the Cuban sugar crop at a price basis of about $5.50 per hundred pounds f.o.b. Cuban ports. This purchase is made on behalf of the American, English, French and Italian governments.

The crop will be available in December, and its division between the allies will be directed by the United States Food Administration. These arrangements, as was the case last year, put an end to all speculation in sugar and assure an equitable distribution between all allies and our own consumers.

With the shortage of labor already universally existent in the United States owing to the demands of the war industries and with the prospects of further inroads under the new 18-45 draft regulations, there is a serious question in the minds of producers of our domestic beet and cane sugar crops as to their ability to maintain the normal rate of production this next season.

It is most prudent, advises the Food Administration, to prepare for a reduced production of our domestic beet and cane crop. From our main sources of supply, Cuba particularly and also Hawaii and Porto Rico, comes reports of severe labor shortages and difficulties in obtaining necessary supplies and fertilizers. While the probability of reducing production in these places is not as great as in the continental United States, some considerable reduction is certain to come. It would, therefore, be unwise to depend on the 1918-19 sugar crops to make up for any deficiency in our present supply. It is better to build up stocks to provide against further crop reduction.

Their Medicine Chest For 20 Years

IT is characteristic of folks after they pass the allotted "three score years and ten," to look back over the days that are gone and thoughtfully live them over. I find myself, at seventy-one, frequently drifting back a quarter of a century, when I see myself in the little drug store I owned at Bolivar, Mo., making and selling a vegetable compound to my friends and customers—what was then known only as Dr. Lewis' Medicine for Stomach, Liver and Bowel Complaints.

For many years while I was perfecting my formula I studied and investigated the laxatives and cathartics on the market and became convinced that their main fault was not that they did not act on the bowels, but that their action was too violent and drastic, and upset the system of the user; which was due to the fact that they were not thorough enough in their action, some simply acting on the upper or small intestines, while others would act only on the lower or large intestines, and that they almost invariably produced a habit requiring augmented doses.

I believed that a preparation to produce the best effect must first tone the liver, then act on the stomach and entire alimentary system. If this was accomplished, the medicine would produce a mild, but thorough elimination of the waste without the usual sickening sensations, and make the user feel better at once.

After experimenting with hundreds of different compounds, I at last perfected the formula that is now known as Nature's Remedy, which I truly believe goes further and does more than any laxative on the market today. The thousands of letters from users have convinced me I was right, and that the user of Nature's Remedy as a family medicine, even though he may have used it for twenty-five years, never has to increase the dose.

My knowledge of medicine and the results of its use in my own family and among my friends, before I ever offered it for sale, caused me to have great faith in Nature's Remedy from the very first.

And now as I find myself nearing the age when I must bow to the inevitable and go to another life, my greatest pleasure is to sit each day and read the letters that each mail brings from people as old or older than I, who tell of having used Nature's Remedy for ten, fifteen and twenty years, and how they and their children and grandchildren have been benefited by it.

It is a consoling thought, my friends, for a man at my age to feel that aside from his own success, one has done something for his fellow man. My greatest satisfaction, my greatest happiness today, is the knowledge that tonight more than one million people will take a Nature's Remedy (NR Tablet) and will be better, healthier, happier people for it. I hope you will be one of them.

Mullin In Sorrow.

Mrs. Bessie Clark, wife of Mr. J. R. Clark of Mullin, after a brief illness, died Tuesday morning at 5 o'clock and was buried that evening about 6 o'clock. Rev. Mimms of Brownwood and Revs. Vann and Weems of Mullin conducting the funeral service. The services were held in the Baptist church, where a large congregation assembled to pay respect to one of our noblest women. Mrs. Clark was a Christian whose walk was worthy of imitation. She numbered her friends by her acquaintances and met all with a cheerful smile and kind words. She was the mother of six children, the two youngest being twins about six months old.

She was conscious until just a few hours before she died and more than once called her family to her bedside, told them how to manage the home and gave them to understand her life had not been in vain, but she was trusting Him who came into her life when she was 14 years of age and had been her stay and comfort through the remaining 16 years of her life.

She will be greatly missed, not only by her family and loved ones, but by all who knew her. The family have the sympathy and best wishes of all. But few women are more faithful to the Master, the church, family and friends than was Mrs. Clark. A beautiful life went out, yet she will live on in the minds of the people of Mullin and all are confident she rests in that house not made with hands.

May God's richest blessings be with her family and re-unite them in the paradise of God.

Christmas Boxes to France.

Those who intend sending the soldiers in France Christmas boxes must notify their Red Cross auxiliary not later than Tuesday, Oct. 22, and the auxiliary must notify Miss Nora Hooks in this city the same day, in order that arrangements may be made for the transportation of the boxes. Each soldier will be allowed to receive one Christmas box, but only one; therefore, it is important that the matter be given attention at once and Miss Hooks notified by the local Red Cross auxiliaries of the number of such boxes to be expected.

As a precaution against influenza and other illness it has been decided to have no Sunday school or church services in Goldthwaite Sunday in any of the churches.

Ira Hawkins Dead.

Mr. D. I. Hawkins died at his home in Ochi tree Monday, after a short illness with pneumonia. He was reared in this county and was, for a number of years, engaged in the drug business at Star, where he also served as postmaster. A few years ago he disposed of his business at Star and later located in Ochiltree and again engaged in the drug business. He was a man of high principles and all who knew him had full confidence in him.

The remains of Mr. Hawkins reached Goldthwaite on Wednesday night's train and were conveyed to the home of Mr. Lewis Hudson and from there to Center City for burial Thursday, the burial service being conducted by the Masons and attended by a large number from Goldthwaite, Star, Center City and other communities.

Mr. Hawkins leaves a wife and two children, together with other relatives and they have the sympathy of all who know of their bereavement.

Executive Board Meeting

The executive board met in the Baptist church in Goldthwaite Oct. 16th to talk and plan for carrying on the work of the churches during these strenuous times. Several of our ministerial brethren were with us.

We learn that some of the churches are without pastors and no doubt owing to the severe drought it will be impossible for some churches to maintain a pastor and it is to help these that we are striving for.

After some consultation it was decided to have another meeting at the Baptist church in Goldthwaite Oct. 23rd at 2 o'clock p. m. to further consider these things, and that we request as many as can possibly come both preachers and laymen to meet with us, and especially members of churches who have no pastors.

Brethren, we feel that at this time above all others we should put forth an earnest endeavor to keep the religion of Jesus Christ to the front, "come let us reason together". G. W. JACKSON, Moderator.

Calomel is quicksilver and acts like dynamite on your liver.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bowels and should never be put into your system.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember that your druggist sells for a few cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salivate.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tonic straightens you right up and you feel great. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe

UNCLE SAM'S ADVICE ON FLU

U. S. Public Health Service Issues Official Health Bulletin on Influenza.

LATEST WORD ON SUBJECT.

Epidemic Probably Not Spanish in Origin—Germ Still Unknown—People Should Guard Against "Droplet Infection"—Surgeon General Blue Makes Authoritative Statement.

Washington, D. C.—(Special).—Although King Alphonso of Spain was one of the victims of the influenza epidemic in 1893 and again this summer, Spanish authorities repudiate any claim to influenza as a "Spanish" disease. If the people of this country do not take care the epidemic will become so widespread throughout the United States that soon we shall hear the disease called "American" influenza.

In response to a request for definite information concerning Spanish influenza, Surgeon General Rupert Blue of the U. S. Public Health Service has authorized the following official interview:

What is Spanish Influenza? Is it something new? Does it come from Spain?

"The disease now occurring in this country and called 'Spanish Influenza' resembles a very contagious kind of 'cold' accompanied by fever, pains in the head, eyes, ears, back or other parts of the body and a feeling of severe sickness. In most of the cases the symptoms disappear after three or four days, the patient then rapidly recovering. Some of the patients, however, develop pneumonia, or inflammation of the ear, or meningitis, and many of these complicated cases die. Whether this so-called 'Spanish' influenza is identical with the epidemics of influenza of earlier years is not yet known.

"Epidemics of influenza have visited this country since 1647. It is interesting to know that this first epidemic was brought here from Valencia, Spain. Since that time there have been numerous epidemics of the disease. In 1889 and 1890 an epidemic of influenza, starting somewhere in the Orient, spread first to Russia and thence over practically the entire civilized world. Three years later there was another flare-up of the disease. Both times the epidemic spread widely over the United States.

"Although the present epidemic is called 'Spanish influenza,' there is no reason to believe that it originated in Spain. Some writers who have studied the question believe that the epidemic came from the Orient and they call attention to the fact that the Germans mention the disease as occurring along the eastern front in the summer and fall of 1917."

How can "Spanish Influenza" be recognized?

"There is as yet no certain way in which a single case of 'Spanish Influenza' can be recognized. On the other hand, recognition is easy where there is a group of cases. In contrast to the outbreaks of ordinary coughs and colds, which usually occur in the cold months, epidemics of influenza may occur at any season of the year. Thus the present epidemic raged most intensely in Europe in May, June and July. Moreover, in the case of ordinary colds, the general symptoms (fever, pain, depression) are by no means as severe or as sudden in their onset as they are in influenza. Finally, ordinary colds do not spread through the community so rapidly or so extensively as does influenza.

"In most cases a person taken sick with influenza is sick rather suddenly. He feels weak, has pains in the eyes, ears, head or back, and may be sore all over. Many patients feel dizzy, some vomit. Most of the patients complain of feeling chilly, and with this comes a fever in which the temperature rises to 100 to 104. In most cases the pulse remains relatively slow.

"In appearance one is struck by the fact that the patient looks sick. His eyes and the inner side of his eyelids may be slightly 'bloodshot,' or 'congested,' as the doctors say. There may be running from the nose, or there may be some cough. These signs of a cold may not be marked; nevertheless the patient looks and feels very sick.

"In addition to the appearance and the symptoms as already described, examination of the patient's blood may aid the physician in recognizing 'Spanish influenza,' for it has been found that in this disease the number of white corpuscles shows little or no increase above the normal. It is possible that the laboratory investigations now being made through the National Research Council and the United States Hygienic Laboratory will furnish a more certain way in which individual cases of this disease can be recognized."

What is the course of the disease? Do people die of it?

"Ordinarily, the fever lasts from three to four days and the patient recovers. But while the proportion of deaths in the present epidemic has generally been low, in some places the outbreak has been severe and deaths have been numerous. When death occurs it is usually the result of a complication."

What causes the disease and how is it spread?

"Bacteriologists who have studied influenza epidemics in the past have found in many of the cases a very small rod-shaped germ called, after its discoverer, Pfeiffer's bacillus. In other cases of apparently the same kind of disease there were found pneumococci, the germs of lobar pneumonia. Still others have been caused by streptococci, and by others germs with long names.

"No matter what particular kind of germ causes the epidemic, it is now believed that influenza is always spread from person to person, the germs being carried with the air along with the very small droplets of mucus, expelled by coughing or sneezing, forceful talking, and the like by one who already has the germs of the disease. They may also be carried about in the air in the form of dust coming from dried mucus, from coughing and sneezing, or from careless people who spit on the floor and on the sidewalk. As in most other catching diseases, a person who has only a mild attack of the disease himself may give a very severe attack to others."

What should be done by those who catch the disease?

"It is very important that every person who becomes sick with influenza should go home at once and go to bed. This will help keep away dangerous complications and will, at the same time, keep the patient from scattering the disease far and wide. It is highly desirable that no one be allowed to sleep in the same room with the patient. In fact, no one but the nurse should be allowed in the room.

"If there is cough and sputum or running of the eyes and nose, care should be taken that all such discharges are collected on bits of gauze or rag or paper napkins and burned. If the patient complains of fever and headache, he should be given water to drink, a cold compress to the forehead and a light sponge. Only such medicine should be given as is prescribed by the doctor. It is foolish to ask the druggist to prescribe and may be dangerous to take the so-called 'safe, sure and harmless' remedies advertised by patent medicine manufacturers.

"If the patient is so situated that he can be attended only by some one who must also look after others in the family, it is advisable that such attendant wear a wrapper, apron or gown over the ordinary house clothes while in the sick room and slip this off when leaving to look after the others.

"Nurses and attendants will do well to guard against breathing in dangerous disease germs by wearing a simple fold of gauze or mask while near the patient."

Will a person who has had influenza before catch the disease again?

"It is well known that an attack of measles or scarlet fever or smallpox usually protects a person against another attack of the same disease. This appears not to be true of 'Spanish influenza.' According to newspaper reports the King of Spain suffered an attack of influenza during the epidemic thirty years ago, and was again stricken during the recent outbreak in Spain."

How can one guard against influenza?

"In guarding against disease of all kinds, it is important that the body be kept strong and able to fight off disease germs. This can be done by having a proper proportion of work, play and rest, by keeping the body well clothed, and by eating sufficient wholesome and properly selected food. In connection with diet, it is well to remember that milk is one of the best all-around foods obtainable for adults as well as children. So far as a disease like influenza is concerned, health authorities everywhere recognize the very close relation between its spread and overcrowded homes. While it is not always possible, especially in times like the present, to avoid such overcrowding, people should consider the health danger and make every effort to reduce the home overcrowding to a minimum. The value of fresh air through open windows cannot be over emphasized.

"When crowding is unavoidable, as in street cars, care should be taken to keep the face so turned as not to inhale directly the air breathed out by another person.

"It is especially important to beware of the person who coughs or sneezes without covering his mouth and nose. It also follows that one should keep out of crowds and stuffy places as much as possible, keep homes, offices and workshops well aired, spend some time out of doors each day, walk to work if at all practicable—in short, make every possible effort to breathe as much pure air as possible.

RULES GOVERNING SALE OF FLOUR TO FARMERS.

Restrictions covering the amount of flour that can be sold a consumer by a retailer at one time have been lifted by the Revised Wheat Flour Regulations, provided that not more than a sixty days' supply is bought; however, it is necessary for the consumer to purchase 20% substitutes at the time the flour is purchased.

In case of the farmer who has his own home-grown substitutes, it is not necessary to sell substitutes at the time flour is purchased, provided the farmer makes a written statement to the merchant at the time of purchase that he has these substitutes on hand and will use the same.
