A Proclamation.

Whereas, the Governor of the state of Texas has issued his proclamation designating Saturday, Nov. 2, 1918, as Fire and Accident Prevention Day in this state, setting forth the fact that the annual fire loss in the nation averages $250,000,000, a great portion of which is caused by carelessness; and,

Whereas, said proclamation calls upon the mayors of all cities in Texas to urge upon their people the importance of observing the designated day by co-operating with the authorities for the prevention of fire and accidents, to the end that such loss be reduced to the minimum.

Now, therefore, I hereby call upon all citizens within the city of Goldthwaite to observe Saturday, Nov. 2, 1918, in an especial way by having a careful inspection made of all furnaces, flues and every character of heating apparatus to make sure of a minimum of danger of fire spreading therefrom; also by removing from their premises all trash, waste and inflammable materials in which fire might start or spread easily and accidentally.

If all citizens will give their hearty co-operation to this movement we will be benefitted as a community and at the same time carry out our part of a patriotic service. WILL H. TRENT,
Mayor of Goldthwaite, Texas.

One of the first experiences of Rev. W. R. White, who is in training at Camp Taylor, Louisville, Ky., for commission as chaplain in the army, was to meet a good seasoned case of influenza that sent him to the hospital for a week. But he is about well again and will better understand how to sympathize with the other boys when he is regularly installed as chaplain.—Central Messenger.

Draft calls, which were suspended three weeks ago on account of influenza, have been resumed in some zones, where the surgeon general deems it safe to send the men to cantonments.

F. A. Lane and Key Johnson left Tuesday for the coast country with a car load of Jersey cows, which they intended to sell to the denizens of that section.

G. T. Perry, a prosperous young farmer of Miller Grove community, was a business visitor to the Eagle office Saturday.

Mrs. W. H. Thompson of Sealy spent Sunday with relatives in this city. She was en route home from a visit to Brownwood.

L. C. Atkinson, a prominent rancher of the western part of the county, transacted business in this city the first of the week.

C. A. Faulkner, who was confined to his home for a couple of weeks on account of a spell of the "flu," was able to be among his friends in town Saturday.

G. C. Stanley, a prosperous farmer of the Star country, had business in this city last Saturday. He has an advertisement of his fine turkeys in this issue.

A Test of Character

Fortunate are those who have the confidence and the respect of their neighbors. Such people are in a position to become leaders in their community because their leadership will be recognized and appreciated.

But without the confidence of ones' neighbors there is little hope for leadership. People do not follow and emulate the example of those in whom they have no confidence nor do they choose such examples as have not shown their ability and their honor among their neighbors.

Self is the greatest enemy. And no one who has not been able to control his own acts should attempt to control others or even aspire to places of honor and trust among his neighbors.

How easy it is for the man who has gained self-control! He has the strength and character to take care of himself in any trying time when passion or prejudice would distort judgment. He has won in the contest with the greatest enemy and may henceforth be his own free moral agent to act for himself.—Exchange.

Birds and Insect Pests

It is noticeable that insect depredations cost farmers of the country millions of dollars every year. With all of our "spraying" and "poisoning" advice handed out by the department of agriculture and the various state institutions it seems the destruction of plants and animals by diseases and insects is increasing rather than diminishing as we have a right to expect.

It appears that many of the birds, the friends of man, that aided so materially in keeping the increase of insect life in controllable limits have been destroyed. Thus the ally of man has been driven out and destroyed so that insects are increasing so rapidly that their control does not seem practical with facilities in our reach.

Nature's balance evidently has been broken and the enemies of plants allowed to propagate in such a manner that these enemies lay a heavy toll upon our products. Game birds, songsters, domestic fowls—if given a chance—doubtless would destroy enough of these enemies to give man a better chance to hold them in check.—Exchange.

Rev. Geo. Ryan of the Center City circuit left Monday night for San Antonio to attend the Methodist annual conference.

C. W. Batchelor of the Caradan country called last Saturday and added his name to the Eagle's flourishing list of readers. We are glad to have such excellent young men as patrons.

Those who expect to send Christmas boxes to the boys in France must get them ready for shipment before Nov. 20. It is advised that no perishable or breakable articles be sent.

Joe Pfluger and family and his sister, Miss Bettie, passed thru the city Monday en route to Eden and other points in the west. They were in his car which had been especially fitted up with camping arrangements which are ideal.

Mrs. McBurney of Zephyr has been here a part of the week visiting her daughter, Mrs. E. P. Thompson, and family.

The fine rains this week added to those already registered give hope and prospects for a fine small grain crop, as well as much winter pasture.

The Eagle appreciates community letters and would be glad to publish a letter each week from every town and school community in the county. These letters are beneficial to the communities and the county as well as interesting to the readers.

The clock is to be moved back Sunday morning at 2 o'clock and those who are accustomed to arrive at 8 o'clock in the morning will hereafter have an extra hour to sleep. This marks the first change in the "time saving scheme" inaugurated in the spring.

District Court was postponed two weeks on account of the epidemic of influenza. On Monday Court convened and the Grand Jury empaneled and after calling the appearance docket Court was recessed until Monday, Oct. 28, the Grand Jury continuing in session, however.—Comanche Chief.

Two men passing as Red Cross solicitors, were taken in charge by the local officers Wednesday afternoon and it later developed that they were army deserters from San Antonio. They came here Tuesday afternoon and called on Roy L. Walker, chairman for the Red Cross in Lampasas county. They stated that they were from Camp Meade, Md., and were out in the interest of the Red Cross soliciting funds to purchase artificial limbs for wounded soldiers and sailors. Mr. Walker was too well acquainted with the Red Cross work to believe any such talk and he began investigation. He wired the Red Cross headquarters in St. Louis and they stated that the men were evidently impostors. The federal authorities in Austin advised that they be taken in charge and locked up.—Lampasas Leader.

Edward, the little 5-year-old son of Mrs. W. J. Oltrogge, died at the family home in this city last Sunday at noon, after several days illness with pneumonia. One especially sad feature connected with the death of the child was the fact that Mrs. Oltrogge and her two daughters and other son were all sick in bed at the time. Kind friends assisted in giving all attention to family and the entire community deeply sympathizes with the bereaved ones.

Death's Visit

Charles Gardner died at the sanitarium in Temple Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock and his remains were brought here on Thursday morning's train and interred at 3:30 o'clock in Odd Follows cemetery, the sad service being attended by a large number of the friends of the young man and his family.

Chas. Gardner spent several years of his boyhood here at the home of his sister, Mrs. J. M. Campbell, and attended school at this place. After his graduation he was employed in the depot and became a telegraph operator, serving in that capacity here and later at Lometa and elsewhere. He was employed as operator at Belton when he was stricken with influenza, which soon developed into pneumonia. He was hurried to the hospital and given every attention, but his condition was known to be critical from the beginning and his death was not a surprise to his Goldthwaite friends, of whom he had many.

The bereaved young wife, together with his parents and sisters, can be sure of the deep sympathy of the people of Goldthwaite.

Mrs. McBurney of Zephyr was called to San Antonio this week on account of the serious illness of her son Murray at Kelly Field military hospital. Later reports to his sister, Mrs. E. P. Thompson, say he is improved.

MULLIN

The good rains that we are having at intervals have vegetation, grain and the people on the go. The long severe drouth is certainly giving way to the good rains, and the Huns are giving way to the onward march of the allies.

Our American boys are pronounced heroes in every fight. Britain, France and all the allied powers are amazed at the fighting qualities of America's boys. Lead on, boys! To the victor the spoils belong! All true Americans are behind you with money and everything in their power to help you win a great name. It was said by one of old, "A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches." Our hands are up, wide open, with our possessions at your command. Eat, sleep, fight, crow and blow as you press your way on to Berlin. And say, boys, if you can keep the devil from taking him away from you, bring kaiser Bill to America alive when you capture him, or hang him on a pole in the center of Belgium and feed him enough to keep him alive, to watch poor little Belgium again come to the front at the expense of perfidious Germany.

Jeff McMillan, one of our best citizens, a good farmer and to all appearance a very strong, stout, healthy man, became suddenly alarmed about his physical condition, went to Brownwood, then to Temple, to consult their best physicians, and they informed him that his case was beyond medical skill, so far as they knew, and therefore nothing could be done for him. We think they pronounced the trouble to be sarcoma, a malady that would do its work in a short time.

The "sickness" seems to be giving way and, since the great rain Monday night, we will look for still greater improvement.

Dr. Herrington came in Tuesday morning from some place in Oklahoma and brought with him his son Barney and wife, the latter having been very sick in Oklahoma. The doctor went out to see her and brought her home on a cot.

Henry Jackson and Miss Lillie Epley were married last Saturday at 11 a. m., Rev. J. T. Weems being the lucky one to say "I pronounce you man and wife." They left at once in his car for Humble, where Mr. Jackson has been at work for some months.

A telegram reached Mullin on Tuesday evening that Charley Little was very sick somewhere in the rice belt of Texas. Albert Savoy took the first train to go to him.

Rev. J. T. Weems left Tuesday night for San Antonio to attend the annual Methodist conference which convenes there for a two-days session.

We had another good rain Wednesday night, which has everything so wet at this writing that all the box whittlers are in regular attendance, except T. D. Johnson, whose wife has gone to eastern Texas to the bedside of a sick daughter and left Bro. J— on the ranch. He and Weems both being away, the talking club is at a discount this week. Much more could be said, but as it is against the rules of the club to talk about absent members, we desist.

Ernest Duren has gone to Louisiana with two cars of horses and mules to sell for W. W. Tippen.

Jeff Clendennan has a little boy hanging between life and death this a. m. Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Meeks are here at the bedside of their daughter, Mrs. Barney Herrington, who is very sick with pneumonia.

Conservation Committee

The conservation committee of Mills county chapter, A. R. C., is as follows: Mesdmes J. C. Street, Will H. Trent, J. H. Randolph; Messrs. J. A. Gillespie, J. C. Street. All branches and community auxiliaries are urged to at once organize their conservation committees and report to Miss Nora Hooks, secretary of the county chapter, or to Mrs. J. C. Street, chairman of county Red Cross conservation committee.

The work of the conservation committee is one of the most important tasks that the people of the county have before them to aid the government in winning the war by conserving and making available materials necessary for the government and industries of the country. The co-operation of all branches will be essential and will offer splendid opportunities for a large number of members to work.

We have to date shipped 1662 pounds of fruit pits to our collection center and hope to double this amount. Do not lose this opportunity to interpose a barrier of safety between the enemy and our men.

A tin famine confronts the country. The government looks to the American Red Cross conservation organizations in the various chapters and branches for assistance in meeting this war-time problem.

Besides food, clothing and shelter, privates in the United States army get from $1 to $1.20 a day; privates in the English army get from 35c to 50c a day; privates in the French army get from 5c to 8c a day; privates in the Italian army get from 2c to 4c a day; privates in the German army get from 10c to 25c a day.—Exchange.

The homestead law is being attacked by many for many reasons and purposes, but Farm and Ranch is of the opinion that the homestead law will remain practically as it is, unless German methods are used to destroy it. Duty to the family is paramount and sacred. Those extending legitimate credit and familiar with the homestead law are doubly protected.—Farm and Ranch.

One of the proofs of the insincerity of the German chancellor in his reply to President Wilson was his denial of outlawry, cruelty and acts of barbarity on the part of the Huns. He even claimed that the submarines do not fire on life-boats, that the retreating armies do not poison wells and that the cruel and wanton murder and maiming of women and children by the kaiser's men is without authority.

In an address to the preachers at Houston a few days ago Gypsy Smith, the famous evangelist who has spent the past three years in Y. M. C. A. work in France, said that denominational lines have been wiped out in the war zone and when the boys come home they will think mighty little of creeds. He told of holding a meeting recently which was opened by a Catholic priest and closed with prayer by a Jewish rabbi.

Most of the schools and colleges in Texas have been closed this week as a precaution in preventing the spread of influenza and it is likely this action has had a great deal to do with the decrease in the number of cases of the terrible disease reported. To be sure, not all cases reported or claimed as "flu" were genuine or dangerous, but there was enough fatality attached to the scourge to make reasonable people fear it and do their utmost to prevent its spread.

Governor Hobby of Texas and Governor Williams of Oklahoma this week cabled their congratulations to the "fighting Thirty-Sixth division," in France, in recognition of the valiant fighting in the last few days. This division is composed of Texas and Oklahoma men. Mills county has a number of men in the division among them being Frank Taylor, Travis Griffin, Mark Conroy, Earl Welch, Elmer Featherston and perhaps a number of others.

The way in which the people of the nation responded to the Fourth Liberty loan proves the genuine patriotic spirit of Americans—both native grown and adopted. The loan was the largest in the world's history and instead of there being a shortage, as many feared and predicted, it was largely over-subscribed. And this was done with the full knowledge that other calls are to be made and are already being made and must have a hearty and liberal response. The Thrift Stamp quota and the Red Cross Christmas drive are to be met and the home charities, the drouth sufferers and the many other worthy causes receiving attention should prove to all thinking people that the Americans are a very unselfish and liberal lot after all, and are not the money-lovers they have been accused of being.

This Is Better Than Laxatives

One NR Tablet Each Night For A Week Will Correct Your Constipation and Make Constant Dosing Unnecessary. Try It.

Poor digestion and assimilation mean a poorly nourished body and low vitality. Poor elimination means clogged bowels, fermentation, putrefaction and the formation of poisonous gases which are absorbed by the blood carried through the body.

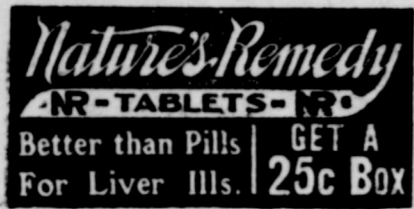

The result is weakness, headaches, dizziness, coated tongue, inactive liver, bilious attacks, loss of energy, nervousness, poor appetite, impoverished blood, sallow complexion, pimples, skin disease, and often times serious illness.

Ordinary laxatives, purges and cathartics—salts, oils, calomel and the like—may relieve for a few hours, but real, lasting benefit can only come through use of medicine that tones up and strengthens the digestive as well as the eliminative organs.

Get a 25c box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and take one tablet each night for a week. Relief will follow the very first dose, but a few days will elapse before you feel and realize the fullest benefit. When you get straightened out and feel just right again you need not take medicine every day—an occasional NR Tablet will then keep your system in good condition and you will always feel your best. Remember, keeping well is easier and cheaper than getting well.

Obituary

Saturday, October 5, 1918, all Goldthwaite was bowed in grief because of the death of Eloise Anderson, daughter of Judge and Mrs. E. B. Anderson.

Eloise was only sixteen years of age and, having finished High school here in May, she had entered Howard Payne college and was there, seizing with eager hands, mind and heart the opportunities given her to develop a noble and useful Christian character. Her teachers in Howard Payne college were impressed with her brilliant mind and the eagerness with which she strove to do her best in every line of study and preparation. To please father and mother and to show and prove her appreciation of the advantages they were giving her, was her highest ambition.

She had spent only a few weeks in college, but during this short time she had endeared herself to the student body and her classmates in a way that was unusual, and her strong personality had impressed itself on all with whom she had become associated. Her future was full of promise for a useful life and she with her sweet Christian spirit had, like her Master, already gone about doing good. To scatter sunshine seemed to be her chief mission, for she found her greatest pleasure in making others happy. Indeed, her whole short life seemed one intense ray of sunshine, which shone so intensely that it soon found its way into that glory world where nought of darkness can enter. Even in the hour of death her chief thought was for the comfort and happiness of others, for only a few minutes before she passed away she kept bidding her mother to lie down and rest, because she thought she looked so tired.

Her death was so beautiful and triumphant that we should rejoice rather than grieve because of it. A short time before her spirit took flight she threw her arms about her mother's neck and exclaimed, "Oh, mamma, how beautiful everything is!"

"In my Father's house are many mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you, and if I go, I will come again and receive you unto myself, that where I am there ye may be also."

Why grieve then, dear ones? Only trust in this promise sweet; your darling has gone on before And is waiting her loved ones to greet Cannot you lend her a little while To your heavenly Father so dear? Ah! think of the home she now enjoys And let perfect love cast out all fear!

Your darling, your beautiful rose! Let her be as a memory sweet, Shedding fragrance along life's way, Till in that heavenly home you meet. MRS. S. A. LOWRIE.

Obituary

These lines are written in memory of Richard Bynum, brother of our well-known Rev. R. W. Bynum.

Richard was born March 2, 1896, and died at the base hospital in Fort Bliss, El Paso, October 12, 1918. His young life was cut down amid much promise, because God chose to take him to a higher and a happier life. When our country became involved in war and the President called for volunteers, Richard offered his services. Later he offered his services again and was enlisted in the quartermaster corps. He was rapidly promoted until he became Sergeant. His last letter to his mother stated he expected to leave the United States soon for France, but that he felt safe and was willing to lay down his life for the sake of humanity.

His devotion to his widowed mother and brother and sister was something more than usual. His letters home were marked by expressions of Christian faith and loyalty. To our way of seeing life, as human creatures, it seems an irreparable loss for a family—and country—to lose a young member so manly and so Christian-like as Richard, but God had provided better things for the dear boy.

His mother is a citizen of Comanche county and his several brothers and sisters there and elsewhere filling worthy places in life, are, together with her, in deep sorrow at this time, but know how to find comfort in God who heals the sorrows of his children. The writer joins with their many friends in expressing interest and deep sympathy for these loved ones who weep, tho in hope.

We laid the remains of Richard to rest the 16th inst. in the Newburg cemetery, in the presence of a large gathering of sympathizing friends and neighbors.

OIL! OIL!

Because of the present good supply of cheese in the country and the prospect of continued abundant production this summer, those who know the food value of this dairy product and appreciate its appetizing flavor will be interested in the action the United States Food Administration has taken to facilitate its movement from the manufacturer to the table with as few delays and as small expense as possible.

Rules have been announced that will not permit dealers in American and Cheddar cheese to take advantage of advances in the market by selling cheese bought at a low price on the basis of higher costs that may prevail after the time of purchase. Commissions will not be allowed to enter into costs, reasonable margins have been fixed to prevent speculation and "dummy" sales have been prohibited. These and other regulations should make it possible for retailers to buy at lower prices, and, through the working of the fair price committees, the consumer should get a good food product at the cost of production plus only the reasonable charges for handling and a just margin of profit.

With the increasing demand for meat for our army and navy, and the request by the food administration for beefless days in hotels, restaurants and homes, the effort to stabilize the marketing of cheese comes at an opportune time. One of the best concentrated foods has a good chance to occupy a more prominent place on the menu as it already does in the allied countries.

TO ALL WHO EAT.

The public should read the newspapers for their own protection and in order to keep posted upon all changes and modifications of the food conservation law.

Every day there is something new in food conservation. It can be learned in no quicker or better way than through the columns of the newspapers.

Read these articles upon food conservation and food production. Don't skip in reading.

If you don't remember or haven't a good memory—cut out the items and save them for continuous reference.

Use the newspapers to keep posted. Mails are slow. The story is always in the paper before it reaches our district and county administrators. You owe it to yourself to keep posted. You will then know the law and be able to live up to the law. Remember, if you violate the regulations you are subject to a fine of $5000 or two years' imprisonment, or both, and ignorance of the law is no excuse.

Read the newspapers. They are the voluntary distribution agents of the government.

STAR SIFTINGS

By Our Regular Correspondent

A fifteen thousand dollar rain Monday night, followed by a ten thousand dollar downpour Tuesday night, would make anyone feel better after this long, long drouth.

We are muchly pleased and happy, but the following are more so, we know: Miss Arie Slaughter, T. E. Hamilton, Bruce Roberts, Herbert Childress, Mrs. Will Boykin (at Temple) and Dan Campbell—for they are past the danger zone of what was considered a most serious illness and are rapidly recovering.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert White, also his brother Darrell, of Goldthwaite were Saturday visitors with J. E. Perkins and left Sunday for Pearl, accompanied by Miss Vivian and Vernon Perkins.

A "news hunt" found Rev. A. C. Searcy on a morning stroll, recovered from an attack of rheumatism.

Alton Kincheloe of Cottonwood, while on a business trip to Star Tuesday, was notified of the death of his uncle, Geo. Kincheloe of Shive. Mr. Kincheloe was a pioneer citizen, highly esteemed and well known. No particulars regarding his death.

Dyer Stephan, after an extended visit to Elgin, Texas, is a home comer.

The influenza cases are so numerous that to mention each case separately might cause a pencil famine. However, we are glad to say there are no serious cases. "Hit hard, hateful Huns home-ward hiking" is this neck-of-the-woods' answer to the armistice pleading.

A forty pound watermelon from Frank Soules' ranch! Now what do you think of that?

The school board met Monday (after a rumor of suspension) and suspended school officially on account of the influenza.

When a mother and devoted wife is called before the great white throne it is then that we are unable to express our sympathy for the bereaved ones. Mrs. Dicie Lee Henry, nee Smith, wife of Mr. Fulton Henry, died Friday, Oct. 18, at 8:45 p. m., after an illness of five days. Besides a heart-broken husband, she is survived by five boys and one daughter, also her mother and three sisters. Undying love and patriotism caused her to request that the announcement of her death be withheld from her son Doran, who is a soldier in France fighting for the liberty of mankind. The bereaved have our deepest sympathy. Mrs. Henry was born Nov. 3, 1877 and was raised near Star. She was married to Mr. Henry May 27, 1894. She died in that faith that promises eternal life.

The following letter from Miss Clara Bowman, who is in France, to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shave will be appreciated. This letter in "rhyme" we consider a treat for the Eagle readers.

THE LETTER. (Base Hospital — Somewhere in France.)

My dear little Nelson, Lula and Fred, It is night here, but I'm not in bed. I went on night duty for the first time. And I'm inclined to write a rhyme. So by my little candle light I'll write a note to you tonight.

I must say that you don't know When I'm away I miss you so. If I could see and tell you all That I have done and seen since fall, You'd understand and then could tell Why I love this life so well.

Every day there's something new— Along with work we have fun too. We meet so many people here We can't remember them all, I fear. The land is beautiful and bright— The sun by day and moon by night.

They shine just like they do at home And make me feel good when I roam. I must describe (omitting name) On the — Highway, as we came. The beautiful scene before our eyes, With tints of color in the skies.

The road was winding and great trees Were growing by it—if you please. Six of us were on a big truck Having a nice time and didn't get stuck. It was about the 18th hour And over behind the Cathedral tower.

The sun was bidding us all "good day," Shining warmly with its last ray. Until — with its anti-aircraft gun Cast a shadow and hid the sun. The breeze was blowing nice and cool And soon we returned to the village of—

The motor hummed and the truck did glide Oh, it was a most glorious ride. We rode I guess about twenty kilometers And 'twas a relief from patients and thermometer.

Fritz entertains us most every night And the air fills with signals and light. It is a display that we all like to see, But Fritz drops his souvenirs to us free. Maybe you'd like to know what I do. As for my patients, I only have two. Sometimes we're busy and sometimes not. It depends on how many patients we've got.

We love all the boys—they are just fine. And all seem to want to get back to the line They tell great tales of helping the French And of cooties and rats that live in the trench.

They go over the top with a heart that is brave And think of their mothers and the country they save.

We eat out of mess-kits and wash them up too. Now isn't that funny for us girls to do. We wash our clothes and iron them nice And turn our collars and wear them twice. We have a piano that no one will play And we have a victrola that plays all day.

Sometimes we steal rides with boys in a car But in that case we don't dare go far. We have new beaux most every night. But they have to be officers—aint it a sight The boys they stop us out in the street And beg us to talk to them "tout de suite"

For an American woman they've not heard For a length of time that is absurd. Guess this rhyme is about long enough. I know you are tired of reading such stuff. I hope you are well and felling good, I'd love to see you if I could.

Guess Nelson is your pride and joy, For he is a fine smart boy. I'd love to play with him a while, Hear him talk and see him smile. This France weather I'll have to praise, We've only had just two hot days.

One more thing I'll ask of thee, Please eat enough ice cream for me. There is a lot I'd like to tell, But of course you know this war is— Drop me a line when you think of me, I'm yours as ever, over the sea.

—DOT.

Tuesday message announcing the death of Ira Hawkins at Ochiltree, Texas caused, a halt in our routine affairs and turned our thoughts to regret and our hearts to sorrow, for all who knew him were most generous in their esteem, admiration and interested in his life. He was a young man destined to attain that zenith of life that would gratify both himself and friends, possessing that fullness of life that pours forth a love and trust in his fellowman and creating always a joy in knowing him. Words fail to express our sympathy. If only our heart throbs of sympathy could reach forth and touch the grief stricken hearts of his family and loved ones it would be to calm their grief and cause their earthly life to be a happy journey onward to meet Ira Hawkins, enjoying the sweetest promise to man kind, of a risen Savior and a loving God—a home with life eternal that knows no sorrow. The remains arrived Wednesday night via Goldthwaite and were buried beside his mother and father at Center City, his boy hood home Thursday.

Emit Hawkins was confined in bed suffering with influenza when notified of his brother Ira's serious illness, also was unable to attend the funeral. He is doing nicely, and we hope no complications will arise.

But few here knew of this event at Evant or it would have been an event for Star.

Our soldier boy's letter failed to show up for this week, but we give you a few extracts from one of our noble Red Cross nurses, Miss Clara Bowman, and reading between the lines we would place her in the St. Mihiel section. She says—"It is raining and I think it is lighting for I can hardly tell it from the signal flashes and can hardly distinguish the difference in the thunder and the heavy artillery. I wanted to go over to—on the laundry truck and get a flash light battery. Joe (Peck) doesn't realize what he gave me, when he gave me that flash light. It is a nurse's right hand. Had no idea we could buy batteries this near the front, but we can get most any thing"—(except Pecco tooth paste) Received a letter from you the other day that was written before two others I had received. So you see I get mail eventually. Night duty is agreeing with me.

I sleep like a baby and the girls wonder how I can sleep for sometimes the raids (dropping of German kultur) do not awake me. Time is certainly going fast, for we will soon have a service chevron and will soon be in service a year. I would not take anything for the experience I have had during that time. Guess you think this a funny note, but have been interrupted about a dozen times. Will quit and write again soon. (her letter was launched at Bordeaux, Sept. 10) If Miss Clara receives a package of Pecco from the "Star Sifter" she need not worry about who sent it.

Mrs. Alvy Clarey (nee Miss Beatrice) will again become the pleasing clerk in charge of her farther's store. Alvy and Beatrice will be at home in the Patterson place next to Wm Gent.

Ollie Hamilton is manager pro tem of the Star Cash Store during Dick Jeske's sojourn abed.

The soldier boy that wrote "that it would take about a year to clean up the Boches, but it would take about 39 years to wind up the barbed wire would make good on contracts.

Every one is pleased with the President's answer to the chief of assassins and father to the Devil.

Of all kinds and prices carried in stock.—A. E. Evans,

Let us please you with a nice heater for the parlor or living room.—Bodkin, Hurdle & Co.

It pays to buy goods from advertisers and it is a mighty good policy to patronize home dealers.

A. O. Dunlap of the Democrat community looked after business matters in this city Wednesday.

Deputy Sheriff John Tippen was confined to his home by sickness the early part of the week.

It is time to put up the heater for the winter. We have the heaters and pipe.—Bodkin, Hurdle & Co.

The election tickets have been printed and distributed, but there is far less interest in the November election than the one in July.

No use to be mad about the War Industries Board's order being obeyed. We may as well all be happy over it, for it has to "go" anyway.

Floyd Jackson and family arrived from San Antonio Saturday for a visit to relatives. He returned home the first of the week, but Mrs. Jackson and children remained for a longer visit.

Rev. W. G. Callihan left Monday night for San Antonio to attend the Methodist conference, which was changed to that city from Austin on account of the influenza in the capital city.

Tell your grocer you want Magnolia coal oil. It will not smoke.—A. E. Evans

Better get your seeders ready for the fall planting. We can supply the seeders and extras.—Bodkin, Hurdle & Co.

F. P. Eubank of Austin has been here a part of the week visiting his mother and other relatives. He is now a member of the National Guard and expects to be mustered into service soon.

The minutes of the 1918 session of the Mills County Baptist association are being distributed by Tax Assessor Kemper. The clerks and pastors of churches are requested to call at Mr. Kemper's office for the copies apportioned to them.

John Malone and family left this week for their new home in Amarillo, where his son and son-in-law have been located for some time. They carry with them the good will of many friends.

Bring me that old, dirty hat and I will make it look like new. Have a big assortment of bands and ribbons coming. Step in and have a look at my work. If you are not satisfied with your work, I will cheerfully refund the money.—Steve the Tailor.

CALOMEL SALIVATES AND MAKES YOU SICK

There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when a few cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone—a perfect substitute for calomel.

It is a pleasant, vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and can not salivate.

Children and grown folks can take Dodson's Liver Tone, because it is perfectly harmless.

Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more biliousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than horrible calomel your money is waiting for you.

RULES FOR HOUSEHOLDERS

(U. S. Food Administration)

All kinds of food, especially wheat, meats, fats and sugar should be economically used.

No food shall be hoarded. Hoarding is the holding, contracting or arranging for food by any person in excess of his reasonable requirements for use or consumption by himself and dependents for a reasonable time. This does not refer to stocks of home-grown vegetables and home-canned or preserved fruits.

All householders who can entirely eliminate the use of wheat until the next harvest, about September 1, should do so.

Householders who are obliged to use wheat should not use more than a total of 1 1/2 pounds of wheat flour or prepared wheat, in any form, per person per week, including the wheat flour in Victory bread, and including the wheat flour or prepared wheat in crackers, pastry, macaroni, breakfast and other foods.

Victory bread is bread manufactured by bakers under the rules of the United States Food Administration. In estimating flour consumption 1 3/4 pounds of Victory bread may be considered equal to 1 pound of wheat flour.

In buying wheat flour an equal weight of other cereals as substitutes for wheat flour must be bought pound for pound. This is the 50-50 rule. In buying mixed flours, the substitutes in them may be counted, so that a smaller proportion of substitutes may be bought with these flours than with white flour. In buying graham and whole wheat flours (containing not less than 95 per cent of the entire wheat) 6/10 pounds of substitutes shall be purchased with every pound of such flours.

Wheat flour substitutes are hominy, corn grits, corn meal, corn flour, edible corn starch, barley flour, rolled oats, oatmeal, rice, rice flour, buckwheat flour, potato flour, sweet potato flour, soya bean flour, and feterita flour and meals.

Householders in towns and cities may not buy more than one-eighth of a barrel of flour or two pounds of sugar at any one time. Householders in the country may not buy more than one-fourth of a barrel of flour or five pounds of sugar at any one time. In no event shall any purchaser have more than 30 days' supply of either on hand.

Householders should not use more than 3/4 pounds of sugar per person per week.

In addition to the above, however, sugar may be used for home canning, and will be available to the householder for that purpose upon his signing a certificate that such sugar is desired and will be used only for that purpose.

No wheat flour, or prepared wheat in any form, should be used for any purpose other than human consumption. No wheat fit for human consumption should be used for other purposes.

E. A. PEDEN,
Federal Food Administrator for Texas.

A THOROUGH TEST

One To Convince the Most Skeptical Goldthwaite Reader

The test of time is the best that counts.

Doan's Kidney Pills have made this reputation by effective action.

The testimony is confirmed—the proof complete. Testimony like this cannot be ignored.

J. C. Fulton, stone mason of Goldthwaite, says: "Three years ago I was down in bed with a severe pain in the small of my back. The kidney sensations were too frequent in passage, painful and unnatural. I decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills, as I had often heard they were good for kidney trouble. I got a box from Clements' Drug Store and my condition improved right away and after finishing two boxes I was able to go back to work. I am now without Doan's Kidney Pills in the house."

No Trouble Since.

Over three years later Mr. Fulton said: "I still think well of Doan's Kidney Pills. I haven't needed a kidney medicine since using them."

FISH VS. MEAT

One Way of Doing What the English Call "To Carry On."

No Meat, Please.

Fish—Ah, Excellent!

The United States Food Administration has requested that householders, under no circumstance, buy more than one and one-quarter pounds of clean beef weekly, or one and one-half pounds including the bone, per person in the household. This reduced ration of meat calls for the use of substitutes, and one of the best substitutes for meat is fish. The administration wishes the public to increase the consumption of fish. Increased production will tend to bring about a readjustment of fish market conditions, and also build up an industry which has been painfully neglected. The housewife will be interested in learning the following facts in regard to fish:

- Is fish a "brain food"? No more so than other foods. Fish contains a high percentage of phosphorus, and when food values were first discussed this was credited as "brain" food. Phosphorus is no more a brain builder than other substances of which the brain is composed.
- When is the best time to substitute fish for meat? In the spring and summer, when many varieties of fish are plentiful.
- Is fish cheaper in warm weather? Yes; particularly in localities near the source of supply.
- Which are more plentiful, the ocean or inland fish? Ocean fish. The growth of large cities on inland rivers has brought into existence many mills and factories which pollute the waters and drive away the fish.
- Which variety of fish furnishes the greatest food value? The oily varieties, such as salmon and mackerel.
- Where are these found in abundance? Salmon on the Pacific coast and mackerel on the Atlantic coast.
- Why should we have frozen fish? Because that makes it possible to have good fish in inland towns and cities.
- Is frozen fish good? Fish is frozen for market only when it is absolutely in good condition, and people should not fear to use it.
- Should the fish be thawed out at the retailer's? No; as soon as the fish is thawed out it deteriorates rapidly.
- What should the housekeeper do? She should insist on getting the fish frozen at the retailer's, and keep it frozen until she wishes to use it.
- How is the best way to thaw it out? By placing it on ice in a pan in a cool place.
- How long does this process take? Several hours.
- Is there a quicker way to thaw it out? Yes; by putting it in cold water; never hot.
- Should the water it is thawed out in be used? By all means use the water if the fish is boiled; or use it for chowder.
- Some of the value of the fish goes into the water and is thus lost unless the water is made use of.
- What are the advantages of cold-storage fish?
 1. It brings good fish into large cities.
 2. It standardizes the price of fish.
 3. It lowers the annual price of fish.
 4. It makes the transportation and caring for fish possible and safe.
 5. It provides fish out of season.
