Mrs. L. E. Miller returned Sunday evening from a visit to relatives in Austin.

Good rains here Sunday night and Monday were decidedly beneficial to the small grain crop.

Mrs. W. H. Thompson left for her home in Selby Tuesday for a visit to relatives here.

Capt. K. F. Cunningham and wife were here the first of the week visiting relatives. He had been in Comanche county looking after his land and oil interests.

Claude Eacott and wife, after several months residence at the Ware ranch, have decided there is no place just as good as Goldthwaite and have moved back to their residence in this city.

R. C. Branham writes to have his paper changed from Waco to Temple. The many friends here of Mr. and Mrs. Branham are glad they have moved closer to Goldthwaite and we will hope to have them return home in the near future.

Max Fisherman this week sold his interest in the grocery business of Fisherman Bros. to his younger brother Charley and he and his family left for their former home in New York City, carrying with them the good wishes of the friends they made during their residence in this city.

Friends here of the Murrain family learned with sorrow the first of the week of the death of Mr. James M. Murrain at his home at Del Rio, after a long illness. He was 88 years of age and was one of the early settlers of this section, having lived here about twenty years prior to 1897, when he moved to the southwest. His sons, J. B., Dan and Jake also lived here at the time and the family is kindly remembered by many friends.

PROGRESS REPORTED IN THE OIL FIELD.

Several Wells Going Down and a Large Number To Be "Spudded In."

The oil well situation in the county is highly satisfactory and it is confidently expected that a number of paying wells will be brought in before many days have passed.

Interest in the Weston well has not abated since the showing of oil two weeks ago, but has increased in the other wells in the county as the drills go down.

The location of W. Scott Heywood here is understood to mean that the outside operators on a big scale are recognizing this county as one of the best prospects in the oil fields of the state. Mr. Heywood's name is connected with much of the development in the big fields and his coming, therefore, is decidedly pleasing to Mills county people.

Good showings have been made in several of the wells, especially the Weston, Tyson and Young, while confidence is felt in results at the Whittenburg well in Ebony community, the Barnham & Huttler well near Antelope Gap and others.

Drilling has been resumed in Cockrum well No. 1 on the Avery place across the river from Warren crossing and it is expected never other wells will be "spudded in" within sixty days.

Keep your eye on Mills county for big developments and those who are in "on the ground floor" will have cause for rejoicing.

A BLUE MARK

The Eagle's subscription list is now on a strictly pay-in-advance basis and will be kept so for all time to come. A blue mark beneath the address on a paper means that the subscription has expired and the paper will be discontinued to that address if a renewal is not received promptly. It is not a case of a subscriber's credit being good or bad, but we have no way of knowing that the paper is desired longer than the time for which subscription is paid and, besides, it is a business rule that will not be violated. We appreciate the liberal patronage given the paper and hope we will never have to drop a name from our list because of failure to renew.

MARSHMALLOW TOAST

Friday afternoon, March 21, the Junior League met at Mrs. Edward Geeslin's and from there went to Street's tank for a marshmallow toast.

We walked thru the woods and pastures, which were especially beautiful this time of year.

As soon as we got there we built a large fire and spread lunch. Long willow sticks were cut and what fun we had toasting marshmallows!

Then the long walk home, singing all the way. Every one enjoyed the afternoon very much and we want to go again soon.

MULLIN

Editor Eagle:

The rain Monday was certainly a clod soaker, gully washer and log floater. The ground is sure wet and the grain fields look more promising than for years.

The rain and mud have given the whittling and spouting club a chance to spend a few days in undisturbed pleasure, except as one gets overloaded with gab and won't let the rest talk.

Bro. Hunt a former pastor of the Baptist church in Mullin, has been visiting in Mullin and preached at the Methodist church Sunday night. His sermon was good and well received by those present. Bro. Hunt is one of the coming young preachers who will be heard from as he goes through life. He believes in preaching his convictions, letting the chips fall where they may. He is now at Kopperl, Texas, and has done a fine work there. His wife was with him.

Rev. J. T. Weems made a flying trip to Burk Burnett this week, on business pertaining to some oil leases.

Mrs. J. D. Cobb left Sunday night for Corpus Christi on a telegram call from H. J. Cobb, her son, whose wife is in the hospital of that place.

Some new oil men were at Mullin this week trying to get drilling contracts on some land near Mullin that has never been leased.

Joe Ivey, who died in Bisbee, Arizona, was buried in Mullin Sunday evening at 2 p. m. Rev. Hunt preached the funeral. Joe was a son-in-law of Rev. L. J. Vann and leaves a young wife and little boy who have the sympathy of the whole community.

Robt. McDonald a mechanic who is building derricks in the Luke oil field, was in Mullin Tuesday selling stock in the Erath Duke Oil Co. He is a son of A. J. McDonald, near Mullin.

While four gentlemen were out reconitering in a Ford car they came to a running stream of water and in midstream the driver killed his engine in water knee deep. He happened to have on booties and out he went to try to get up steam, which he finally did, but the car refused to go landward and there sat the other three distinguished gentlemen with only shoes on and the water very cold, so the wading proposition was horrible to contemplate and therefore, suggestions as how to get to land began to revolve in the minds of the occupants. While the driver went off to try to find a log long enough to reach from bank cat to the car the most elderly of the three being somewhat corpulent and reaching up to about 200 avoirdupois conceived the idea that the driver could pack the other two out on his back and perhaps the stubborn engine might go to shore with him on board. The suggestion was made and the driver, a gentleman of three score or more, backed up to the car and No. 1 a young soldier, mounted the two legged steed and was safely landed on dry ground. No. 2 fared the same fate. By this time the new pack-horse was feeling his keeping and challenged the 200 pounder to take a ride, and not wanting to appear contrary mounted the highest point of the fender and eased himself down on the back of the docile steed who went ashore with all ease. After the weight was relieved and with some good pulling from those on shore the car waded out and the journey resumed.

If any one should become curious to know further details you are at liberty to ask any one around Mullin except T. D. Johnson, E. F. Casey and the writer.

A circular from an oil exchange company in a nearby town found its way to Mullin with the startling information that none of the many wells now under contract in Mills county are near enough Mullin to even mention the little city, when the fact as can be revealed by actual measurement that two-thirds of the wells mentioned are nearer Mullin than Goldthwaite and that Mullin is being acknowledged by knowing ones that it is the center of the coming great Texas oil fields. We think this company should have mentioned the Burnett well as one of the great eye opening products of oil activities which is located perhaps 14 miles south east of the Tyson well, which when properly located is about 16 miles west of Goldthwaite and only a few miles from the Weston well, both of which the real facts figures and geographical location can and are claimed as Mullin wells and any one wanting fair information as to real oil prospects in Mills county can be accommodated by Mullin's reconitering committee that furnish cars and blooded steeds for any emergency, from a financial, oil or water-wily divergence from all misrepresentations as to distance and centers of real oil activities.

THE CORPULENT RIDER.

P. S. The above is intended only in defence of Mullin and not as a war measure against any part of the county.

Lost—A hog between Mullin and Goldthwaite. If there is a stray hog about our place notify me.—Hugh Morland.

A PROCLAMATION.

Whereas, the week of March 31 to April 5 has been designated as "Clean Up Week" in Goldthwaite and realizing that it is necessary for all residents of the city to co-operate in the movement if best results are to be obtained, I hereby call upon all citizens to observe the time in a befitting manner. Let all premises, vacant lots and alleys be freed from trash, debris and refuse of every kind and the city be put in the most sanitary condition possible.

All trash should be burned and rocks, tin cans, etc., should be piled at convenient points on the sides of the streets and alleys. If rocks are placed in separate piles from trash city wagons will haul all such trash and rocks away, free of charge, on Thursday and Friday, provided everything to be hauled away is placed in an accessible place. Scrapings from stables and barn yards will not be moved free.

I sincerely hope that all citizens will give their co-operation in keeping our city in the highest sanitary condition.

RED CROSS GIFTS $400,000,000

War Council on Retirement Announces Cash and Supplies Contributed.

WORKERS WILL "CARRY ON."

Five Big Societies in World Wide Plan. H. P. Davison Heads International American Red Cross Commission. Dr. Livingston Farrand Permanent Leader of Peace Organization.

Washington.—(Special.)—Henry P. Davison as chairman issues the following statement on behalf of the War Council of the American Red Cross:

"To the American People:
"The War Council of the American Red Cross appointed by President Wilson on May 10, 1917, to carry on the work of the American Red Cross during the war, at their request and by vote of the Central Committee, ceased at midnight, February 23.

"Immediately the armistice was signed the War Council instituted studies to determine when the strictly war work of the organization would have been sufficiently matured to enable the direction of affairs to be resumed by the permanent staff. Henry P. Davison, being in Paris when the armistice was signed, summoned a conference there of the heads of all the Red Cross Commissions in Europe to canvass the situation. After considering all the factors it was concluded to make the transition on March 1. The very fortunate choice of Dr. Livingston Farrand as the new chairman of the Central Committee, and thereby the permanent chief executive of the Red Cross, makes possible the consummation of this plan under the most favorable conditions.

Accounts Audited by War Department.

"Detailed reports to Congress and a complete audit of its accounts by the War Department will constitute the final record of Red Cross activity during the war. Although it has been the rule to make public all expenditures when authorized and to give detailed information relative to all work undertaken, the War Council in turning over its responsibilities to Dr. Farrand and his associates desire to give a brief resume of Red Cross war time activities to the American people, to whom the Red Cross belong, and whose generous contributions have made possible all that has been accomplished.

"During the past nearly twenty-one months the American people have given in cash and supplies to the American Red Cross more than $400,000,000. No value can be placed upon the contributions of service which have been given without stint and oftentimes at great sacrifice by millions of our people.

"The effort of the American Red Cross in this war has constituted by far the largest voluntary gifts of money, of hand and heart, ever contributed purely for the relief of human suffering. Through the Red Cross the heart and spirit of the whole American people have been mobilized to take care of our own, to relieve the misery incident to the war, and also to reveal to the world the supreme ideals of our national life.

"Everyone who has had any part in this war effort of the Red Cross is entitled to congratulate himself. No thanks from anyone could be equal in value to the self satisfaction everyone should feel for the part taken. Fully 8,000,000 American women have exerted themselves in Red Cross service.

Has Over 17,000,000 Adult Members.

"When we entered the war the American Red Cross had about 600,000 members. Today, as the result of the Christmas membership Roll are upwards of 17,000,000 members outside of the membership of the Junior Red Cross members.

ing perhaps 9,000,000 school children additional.

"The chief effort of the Red Cross during the war has been to care for our men in service and to aid our army and navy wherever the Red Cross may be called on to assist. As to this phase of the work Surgeon General Ireland of the U. S. Army recently said: "The Red Cross has been an enterprise as vast as the war itself. From the beginning it has done those things which the Army Medical Corps wanted done, but could not do itself."

"The Red Cross endeavor in France has naturally been upon an exceptionally large scale where service has been rendered to the American Army and to the French Army and the French people as well, the latter particularly during the trying period when the Allied World was waiting for the American Army to arise in force and power. Hospital emergency service for our army in France has greatly diminished, but the Red Cross is still being called upon for service upon a large scale in the great base hospitals, where thousands of American sick and wounded are still receiving attention. At these hospitals the Red Cross supplies huts and facilities for the amusement and recreation of the men as they become convalescent. Our Army of Occupation in Germany was followed with Medical units prepared to render the same emergency aid and supply service which was the primary business of the Red Cross during hostilities. The Army Canteen service along the lines of travel has actually increased since the armistice.

"As for work among the French people, now that hostilities have ceased, the French themselves naturally prefer as far as possible to provide for their own. It has accordingly been determined that the guiding principle of Red Cross policy in France henceforth shall be to have punctilious regard to its every responsibility, but to direct its efforts primarily to assisting French relief societies. The liberated and devastated regions of France have been divided by the government into small districts, each officially assigned to a designated French relief organization.

"The American Red Cross work in France was initiated by a commission of eighteen men who landed on French shores June 13, 1917. Since then some 9,000 persons have been upon the rolls in France, of whom 7,000 were actively engaged when the armistice was signed. An indication of the present scale of the work will be obtained from the fact that the services of 6,000 persons are still required.

"Our American Expeditionary Force having largely evacuated England, the activities of the Red Cross Commission there are naturally upon a diminishing scale period. Active operations are still in progress in Archangel and Siberia.

"The work in Italy has been almost entirely on behalf of the civilian population of that country. In the critical hours of Italy's struggle the American people, through their Red Cross, sent a practical message of sympathy and relief, for which the government and people of Italy have never ceased to express their gratitude.

Supplies and Personnel to Near East.

"The occasion for such concentration of effort in Italy, England, Belgium and even in France having naturally and normally diminished, it has been possible to divert supplies and personnel in large measure to the aid of those people in the Near East who have hitherto been inaccessible to outside assistance, but whose sufferings have been upon an appalling scale. The needs of these peoples are so vast that government alone can meet them, but the American Red Cross is making an effort to relieve immediately the more acute distress.

"An extensive group of American workers has been dispatched to carry vitally needed supplies, and to work this winter in the various Balkan countries. In order to co-ordinate their activities, a Balkan commission has been established, with headquarters at Rome, Italy, from which point alone all the Balkan centers can be reached promptly.

Fine rains throughout west Texas almost insure a heavy grain crop besides making fine pasture for the stock and putting the ground in good condition for plowing.

The prediction is made by the chairman of the commercial industrial board that food products are to be cheaper in the near future. Many people hope he is correct in his forecast.

A young man employed in a cotton broker's office in Fort Worth has been arrested charged with "blowing" the safe in the company's office Sunday night and extracting therefrom $15,000 in Liberty Bonds, besides a small amount of money. It is claimed the young man has confessed to having committed the robbery.

The bureau of war risk insurance announces that a great many insurance certificates have not been delivered and, of course, will lapse and become worthless unless called for by those in whose names they are drawn. Those who have not received their certificates should write to the board, in care of the treasury department in Washington.

Conditions in some of the European countries are decidedly unsatisfactory if not alarming, and it was should develop as a result there will be little surprise in well informed circles. Italy and Serbia are not expected to agree on the peace terms, while Hungary, Austria and Russia are giving cause for serious consideration.

A meeting is to be held in Mineral Wells April 16 by the advocates of the proposed constitutional amendment providing for a state bond issue of seventy-million dollars for road improvement. The amendment is to be submitted until November but the advocates of the measure are to prepare for the campaign at this time.

Attention of several persons which time he has attracted to the oil industry. Burk Burnett and other Rob Downey has returned recently and revived the first copy of the revised paper having been read at this office this week. It is "there with the" when it comes to the same.

Edmund Chamberlain Antonio is in prison before a board of naval and marine officers. It is claimed that the report by C. P. Chamberlain had brought down airplanes and damaged them, captured German and rescued a was all false. His a wealthy banker sent an attorney to defend him in the court.

Liberty Loan will be the last popular campaign. Men who have a large sum should take advantage of the opportunity to secure some of the notes. It is a patriotic duty, to be sure, but it is also a mighty good business opportunity for the citizens. The loan will be in the form of five year notes and will bear 4 1/4 per cent interest it is expected. These notes, like the bonds sold in former campaigns, will be free from taxation except in case of income tax, where a single person must pay tax on an income of over $1000 and a married person must pay over $2000 per year.

LIVING AGAIN

Would I live life over if I could? This question at first glance may not appeal to the reader, but when we seriously and honestly retrospect the past and get a glimpse of our miserable failures would we not love to do the job over? George W. Bain, the great temperance orator and Christian gentleman, as he nears the end of an eventful and busy life says: "If I could live this life over and have my present experience with which to begin I would gladly undertake it." When I read sayings like this from as great a man as George W. Bain I wonder why one like myself should not be willing (had I a chance) to jump at the privilege of trying to make a better showing than I have on the first journey; hence like Bain, if I could, try the road again with the experience I now have I am sure I could make very great improvement.

When I begin to give the matter close thought, I don't think I would ask a different parentage, the place of birth, the community in which I was reared the happy big hearted boys and girls, the first school, the old church and many other minor things that come flashing to my memory, the pleasantness and happiness of which seem hard to beat. And when in fond recollection I recall the old house at home, with father, mother, brothers and sisters gathered about the old fire place where we thought we were happy, as we passed away the evenings of the days as they came and went, and when our eyelids began to call for sleep, the fun for the evening about over, father would read from the old book and then we would all bow around the family altar, while he in prayer commended us to the care and keeping of our Father in Heaven. And when Sunday morning came, although we lived three miles from the old church, the whole family went to Sunday school and church. Sometimes our transportation facilities were reduced to a farm wagon drawn by a yoke of oxen, yet we went and were met and made welcome by those who got there another way. It was not so much how we got there, nor how we were dressed, the people we were judged by, but who we were and how we conducted ourselves there and elsewhere were very important elements in the make up of real character which was prized above rubies. Why should I ask for any change, when such environments came my way?

If I could live life over, I would be willing to again be my father's boy until I was 21 years of age, obeying and giving him my time and then fall short of paying him for what he did for me. I would not turn down my first school at Jordans school house 15 miles from home, and old Stratoga church where I attended Sunday school and met one of the sweetest prettiest girls, who afterwards become my wife and for 35 years from Oct. 25, 1871, to Oct. 25, 1906, was a companion as true as she promised the preacher she would be when he pronounced us man and wife.

The storms and clouds of these 13 years (since 1906) have come and gone and as the shadows fall out toward the grave, I find in contemplating this subject of living life over the changes would be in my own miserable failures to be the man I should have been. Had my life been in keeping with the good things that came my way, there would have been no room nor occasion for thoughts of living it over again. Alas! Like many others, I failed to grasp the vision and now lost unimproved opportunities constrain me to say, "If I could try living life over

 Such Proof as This Should Convince Any Goldthwaite Citizen.

The public endorsement of a local citizen is the best proof that can be produced. None better, none stronger can be had. When a man comes forward and testifies to his fellow-citizens, addresses his friends and neighbors, you may be sure he is thoroughly convinced or he would not do so. Telling one's experience when it is for the public good is an act of kindness that should be appreciated. The following statement given by a resident of Goldthwaite adds one more to the many cases of Home Endorsement which are being published about Doan's Kidney Pills. Read it.

"Mr. W. Taylor, Goldthwaite, says: 'My kidneys were inactive and annoyed me greatly and I suffered from spells of backache. I used Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at Clements' Drug Store, and they regulated my kidneys and relieved the pain in my back. I have every reason to believe Doan's act just as represented.' THE BACKMAN-TINSCH WILD ANIMAL CIRCUS—AN ENTIRELY DIFFERENT KIND OF SHOW

Amusement goers will have an opportunity on March 31st of seeing the newest style of tented exhibition when the Backman-Tinsch Wild Animal Circus comes to Goldthwaite.

The startling program offered by this organization has been received in all the largest cities with the highest praise and the greatest commendation.

For a highly skilled men and women trainers to give a long praiseworthy program in the two regulation circus rings, using forty foot steel cages as a protective measure, principally to insure safety to the timid observers; offering and producing all the wild animal acts in the most dangerous and thrilling act is such an extreme novelty, that no one should miss this opportunity of attending. This exhibition particularly interests and pleases the ladies and children, and for whose care and attention the management is particularly noted.

No exhibition of a like nature or style has ever been seen in this vicinity for the late world war entirely excluded the importation of wild animals, and this enterprise has always had a large supply on hand, there was no uneasiness on the part of Backman-Tinsch in not being able to give their full and complete entertainment.

A special pleasing feature will be the daily rides on the ponies and little horses given to all the children attending this well conducted enterprise. (adv)

WHY COLDS ARE DANGEROUS

You are often told to "beware of a cold," but why? We will tell you: Every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality and paves the way for the more serious diseases. People who contract pneumonia first take cold. The longer a cold hangs on the greater the danger, especially from the germ diseases, as a cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the germs of consumption, diphtheria, scarlet fever and whooping cough. The quicker you get rid of your cold, the less danger of contracting one of these diseases. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a great reputation as a cure for colds and can be depended upon. It is pleasant to take. (adv)

WORLD WAR HISTORY OF MILLS COUNTY

The University of Texas is impressed by the importance of collecting and preserving the Texas War Record of the State's activities in the recent great conflict. Realizing that many of these records will be lost or destroyed unless immediate steps are taken for their preservation, consider it very necessary to prosecute the work through the help of local committees in each county. This will make sure the fair and complete treatment of every county when the history of this world war is finally written. It is the hope that when the final history of the Great War is written, Texas will have on file a complete record of every activity engaged in by the State during this epoch-making period.

In order that the material may be complete for Mills county it is necessary to have a special committee at work in each department of war activities collecting and filing everything of interest pertaining to our particular county's activity in the war! We want Mills county fully and ably represented in every department of war activities, such as the following: United War Work, Council of Defense, Red Cross, City Village and County Government, Chambers of Commerce, Liberty Loans, Press, Speakers, Libraries, Agriculture, Churches, Lodges, Education, Women Workers, Physicians, Lawyers, War Savings Stamps, etc.

As soon as we get thoroughly organized we wish to publish the names of the persons belonging to the different committees or departments so the citizens of our county will know who to cooperate with.

Yours truly,
W. E. MILLER,
County Chairman for War History
