Have You Made Your Plans to Attend the Reunion Next Week?

If not, mark your calendar so you will not forget to spend one day—the 18th—next Friday, the big day—to make the old soldiers happy one more time and the young veterans glad that they are back home again.

Your part in the County Celebration and Welcome to the men who made the sacrifices necessary to answer the country's call in the time of her peril cannot be filled by some one else, and if the great time we are going to show them is not what it should be, it may be possible you are to blame. So be ready to put your shoulder to the wheel and show these boys that the people of Mills county appreciate the work they accomplished and that you are as ready to answer the call to duty as they were to answer the call to arms. Come to the Reunion, July 16-17-18.

Arthur Whatley of Whitney was here the first of the week meeting his friends and looking after business matters.

Perry Lawrence, one of the leading citizens of the Pleasant Grove community, was transacting business in the metropolis Tuesday.

Dr. A. D. Nelson of Richland Springs sends a check this week together with a kind letter in which he says, "Keep the Eagle coming." We appreciate such letters and such men.

Obituaries, cards of thanks, resolutions of respect and similar articles are charged for at this office. In fact, all newspapers charge for publishing articles of that kind and the Eagle is no exception to this rule, altho we make an especially low rate.

If you fail to receive the Eagle regularly notify this office and an effort will be made to have the paper reach you properly. If your subscription date is marked wrong on the margin of the paper notify this office at once, as our books are in conformity with the date printed on the margin and the paper is discontinued to an address at the expiration of the time for which subscription is paid.

KEEP YOUR STAMPS

They Are Worth All They Cost And Should Not Be Sacrificed

Another warning to holders and future buyers of War Savings Certificates and War Savings Stamps has been sent out by Secretary of Treasury Carter Glass, as a result of the receipt of numerous reports of dishonest traffic in these securities. The warning urges those now holding these certificates to avoid all dealers and redeem them only through the postoffice. Secretary Glass' warning is as follows:

"These securities were not intended to be negotiable and for the protection of owners, in case their necessity required, provision was made for the redemption of War Savings certificates at postoffices upon ten days' written notice, at a fixed price, representing the original purchase price with an addition for interest.

"No obstacles have at any time been placed by the treasury in the way of redemption of these War Savings certificates and it should be generally understood that the owner of a certificate has an absolute right to redeem it in accordance with its terms. Any case of a refusal to make such redemption, if brought to the attention of the treasury, will result in prompt action.

"The government needs the money and hopes the holders of War Savings certificates will retain them, but will place no obstacle in the way of those bona fide holders who request payment. On the other hand, the secretary will exercise every means within the power of the treasury, and has asked the cooperation of the postoffice department, to prevent payment being made to those rascals who are buying the certificates and stamps for less than their redemption value and promptly turning them over to the government for redemption at a profit and serves notice upon those people who are engaged in this disreputable business that this is the settled policy of the treasury."

A WONDERFUL AIRSHIP

The British dirigible on a trial flight from England to America landed safely at Roosevelt flying field, Mineola, N. Y., at 9:54 o'clock Sunday morning, after an aerial voyage of 108 hours, which covered 3600 miles. This immense "balloon" flying machine is more wonderful than an ordinary flying machine in many ways. Its driving power is five motors totaling 1000 horse power. The length of the dirigible is 640 feet and from the bottom of the lower gondola to the top of the gas bag is 79 feet. It carries 8000 gallons of gasoline for fuel. Five gondolas are swung from the gas bag, connected by a 600 foot platform. In these are comfortable accommodations for the crew of thirty, with sleeping quarters for half that number. Radiators on top of the motor supply them with hot water and electric stoves assure them of hot meals. Communication with Mother Earth is provided for by a wireless equipment with a radius of 1,500 miles.

KINDERGARTEN DEPARTMENT

By the United States Bureau of Education, Washington, D. C., and the National Kindergarten Association.

By MRS. LENORE R. RANUS

Allow your child to have company and playmates as often as you can. When possible have playmates near his own age. Naturally out of this social intercourse will spring valuable lessons in courtesy, generosity and patience. Always be fair in settling disputes among children. Do not favor your own child's story entirely, for though he may never have told an untruth there is always the possibility of a sliding from grace. Sometimes it is very difficult to get a correct account from excited children. If the quarrel is over a doll or a train of cars and you cannot discover who is in the right, take away the toy, remarking quietly that if they can't play nicely with it they will have to do without it.

I do not think that there is a better opportunity than in play to teach lessons of honesty; play is so vital a part of child life and the child takes his play so seriously. In teaching a child to be honest in word and action the parents first must be honest in all their dealings with the child. Never make a promise that you cannot keep, or that you do not intend to keep. For the same reason never threaten. "Son if you do that again, I'll spank you," for if he does it again you will have to spank him or in a short time he will come to laugh at your authority.

Do not confuse the workings of an imaginative brain as evidence of untruthfulness, but enter into the spirit of "make-believe." In the case of the little tot who says, "Muvver, I went out in the garden and I saw some Indians," enter into the spirit of the play and say, "Just make-believe Indians, dear, you mean?" My little two-year-old daughter quite startled me one day by insisting she saw lions and tigers and great big elephants out in the yard. She was kneeling on a chair looking out, so I came at once to the window, not expecting to see a zoo in the yard, but wondering what there was to make her imagine such things. There was nothing at all in sight but grass and flowers, so after thinking it over for a second, I said in reply, "Oh, yes, I see some monkeys, too—just make-believe like yours." She looked up at me and laughed delightedly and at once we entered upon a new game.

Cheerful obedience is another lesson to be learned from play. A child should not cry or fuss when mother says, "Time to put away your toys," or "Come to me, dear, I want to dress you." The average parents demand obedience, but usually exercise their authority only at such times as disobedience means inconvenience to the parents themselves. It is the teaching of constant obedience which requires the greatest patience and tact in all child-training. You cannot let your vigilance flag for one moment, nor can you allow an offense to pass unnoticed.

This brings up the question of punishments. I have said that children are naturally sociable. An effective form of punishment for most offenses, therefore, is isolation from the rest of the family and no reinstating to favor until pardon has been asked and given. Make your punishment fit the offense. Children are so active that to make them sit still on a chair alone is a sufficient punishment for rudeness, whining and the like. The child who persists in touching things which are not his to touch can be punished by having his hands tied behind his back. I used this form of punishment or "cure" successfully in breaking the nail-biting habit, also.

SOME INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT THE COLLEGE OF INDUSTRIAL ARTS AT DENTON, TEXAS.

Denton, Texas, July 10th, 1919.—The College of Industrial Arts at Denton, Texas, the second largest educational institution of its grade in Texas, the largest college for women in the state and the third largest college for women in the United States of the most interesting, democratic and efficient of the colleges of this country, and the following facts concerning it of especial interest to the citizens of Texas and to the thousands of Texas girls who are ambitious to acquire further educational training for increased happiness and usefulness in life.

1. The law providing for the establishment of the College of Industrial Arts was enacted by the Twenty-seventh Legislature in 1901 and the first session of the College was opened September 1903, during which 186 students were enrolled and instructed by a faculty of 14 members, there being only one building in which the work of the College was carried on.

2. During the year of 1917-18 there were enrolled 1266 students in the regular session and 650 in the summer session, or a total enrollment for the year of 1910 students. The enrollment for the year, 1918-19, in both the regular session and the summer session exceeds that of last year and totals more than 2000 girls. The faculty of 90 members, the work being carried on in 20 buildings located on a beautiful campus of 75 acres.

3. A summary of the different kinds of work done by the College follows: Literary, Manual Arts, Household Arts, Home Science, Industry and Vocations, Fine and Applied Art, Piano, Voice and Violin, Commercial Arts—Typewriting, Salesmanship and Bookkeeping, Teacher-Training in Vocational Home Economics. No college or university of first rank in Texas, or the South, gives better literary or industrial training of higher quality than does the College of Industrial Arts; and for the completion of prescribed training the following college credentials are conferred: Degree of Bachelor of Arts, Degree of Bachelor of Science, Degree of Bachelor of Music, Degree of Bachelor of Business Administration, Commercial Arts Certificates, Teacher Certificates, Public School Music Certificates, Vocational Certificates, Homemakers' Certificates, Kindergarten Certificates.

4. The courses of study are so organized that girls may enter the College and pursue their work for one, two, three or four years as their financial ability may permit and their ambitions may dictate. The vocational counselor of the College is qualified and ready at all times to advise girls in the selection of their courses of study as to enable them to accomplish their ambitions and purposes in the shortest possible time.

5. There is not a college or university in Texas which renders a greater service to the people of the state than is rendered by the College of Industrial Arts and the girls may get at this great College precisely the work they need, and which will best fit them for life in its larger, most practical and useful aspect. The College year is divided into four quarters of approximately twelve weeks each. The next regular session begins September 16, and continues for three quarters, or 36 weeks, at the close of which the summer session begins and continues for one quarter, or twelve weeks.

The best friends of the College of Industrial Arts are the thousands of Texas girls who have attended the College and the benefits of its instruction and training. Anyone who desires further information concerning the College and its work should write to the college or to the college catalogue should write President F. M. Bralley, College of Industrial Arts, Denton, Texas.

REUNION POSTPONED

Rush of Harvesting Would prevent A Large Attendance

Because of the rush of harvesting and threshing it was decided this week to postpone the reunion and celebration for four weeks and the new dates fixed are August 6, 7, 8. Of course there was some disappointment and regret because of the necessity for the postponement, but those charged with the responsibility of arranging all plans and preparing for the success of the occasion considered every phase of the situation and consulted with the people of all parts of the county and the consensus of opinion was that the delay was not only advisable, but absolutely necessary, as many people would be unable to attend at the earlier date.

Some of the advertisements and announcements were already printed when the dates were changed for the entertainment, therefore, the readers are advised to disregard the dates conflicting with August 6, 7, 8.

The eugenics bill introduced in the lower house of the Texas legislator should become a law and doubtless will receive favorable consideration by the legislature.

Advertising experts addressing the American Newspaper publishers association in Asheville, N. C., this week stated that the nation is now on the verge of the greatest prosperity in its history.

The defeat of Jess Willard by Jack Dempsey in the third round at Toledo, Ohio, was a surprise to most of those who were not acquainted with the condition and ability of the two men. Willard was the champion heavy-weight and was much the larger of the two men. The suggestion that the fight was a "frame up" can not be credited, for Willard proved he was heavy all right, without science or skill.

The tacit agreement between the nations is to have the trial of ex-kaiser Bill take place in London. Premier Lloyd George says it is not expected that the former German monarch will be put to death, but that he and his advisers will be banished from civilization. The ex-kaiser and those close to him do not expect that Holland will consent to his removal anytime soon.

One representative in the legislature announced he would introduce a resolution asking Governor Hobby to resign, but his intention did not come to fruition, for a resolution expressing confidence in the governor was introduced and unanimously adopted by the senate and practically all of the members of the lower house supported it, only two votes being cast against the resolution.

The Barnhart Range is the name of a new paper which made its appearance last week. It is owned and edited by Robt. E. Downey, who was connected with the Eagle for several years and knows the business from every standpoint. The business interests made no mistake in negotiating a deal with Mr. Downey to publish a paper in that town. He has many friends here who are glad to know that he is so well located.

The Missouri senate by a vote of 18 to 1 this week passed the bill restoring capital punishment in that state.

President Wilson returned to the white house Tuesday night, after an absence of four months. He is confident the peace treaty just completed, which is yet to be ratified by the nations, will bring permanent peace to the world. In his first speech after reaching America he stated that the reason some people opposed the league of nations for permanent peace was that they had thought too much of their own interests and not enough of the public interest or the interest of humanity.

The request of four of the former kaiser's sons that they be allowed to stand trial in his stead is edifying as an evidence of filial devotion. But to found that request upon the plea that he be spared the "degradation" of a trial shows that the Hohenzollern conception of disgrace differs radically from that of Socrates. Socrates set up and rather ably supported the idea that only that which he himself did was capable of disgracing or humiliating him, which is equivalent to the rather trite notion that one is responsible only for what one does of free volition. If this is so, the trial of the former kaiser would not degrade him, if he is not now degraded, nor add to any degradation he may already be under. His sons would show a wiser devotion if they should assume that he would insist on answering for himself to any indictment brought against him.—Dallas News.

IN MEMORY

On March 29, 1848, Robert Jetton was born in Memphis, Tenn. His parents brought him to Texas in 1852. He lived near Bellevue, Clay county. He moved from there to Hill county and from Hill county to the Plains. Having lived on the Plains some eight years, he and his good wife came to Goldthwaite last September for his health. They have had their little grand son, Walter Nelson Jetton, with them ever since they came here.

Uncle Robert, (as he was best known) had five children by his first wife. Two of them are dead. The three surviving him are S. G. Jetton and M. J. Jetton of Ranger and Mrs. T. Robertson of Goldthwaite. He and his last wife have been married 37 years. No children were born to them, yet besides rearing those of his first wife Uncle Robert and Aunt Mary have reared other children.

Uncle Robert has been a faithful member of the Methodist church for more than 36 years. His religion was not the noisy ostentatious kind, but his devotion to God was persistent, constant and unassuming. His children pay an incomparable tribute to the cleanliness and uprightness of his life. Like the fragrance of a modest flower his congenial spirit filled every association he touched with pleasantness. During his more than a year of severe suffering Uncle Robert seemed so submissive and hopeful that it was good to be around him.

His friends are numberless. When acquaintances think about him in his former days their hearts grow tender as memory brings them the genial face and sympathetic smile. There was something about him that made the children feel at home in his presence and that he was their friend. How like his Lord!

He was ever found championing the right and standing for the clean thing. A noble citizen, good, faithful and true companion was he. The way he has gone and the place he has gone to his loved ones know. His constant desire and prayer has been that his loved ones be prepared to meet him in glory. How true is this saying, "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth; yea saith the spirit, that they may rest from their labors, and their works do follow them." A FRIEND.

PROTECTION OF GRAIN

Several farmers protected themselves against loss to their growing grain by hail with a hail policy and many others wish they had taken the protection offered them, but waited too late.

Corn, cotton, cane, maize, etc., can be protected the same as small grain by a hail policy.

I now offer you protection against fire on your grain while standing in the field uncut, cut, shocked, stacked, sacked or stored in your granary anywhere on your farm, one policy covering in all these conditions.

Also tornado protection after grain is in granary or barn. The rates are very reasonable on this class of insurance.

I am also prepared to take care of your insurance needs in all respects, whether in city or country.

I can get bonds for those who have to give bonds of any kind.

Notary work is also done, and will appreciate your business.

W. A. BAYLEY, Agent, Goldthwaite, Texas.

LIGHT FOR AUDITORIUM

Hugh Campbell, district dealer of Deleo Light products with offices at Brownwood, writes that he will attend the reunion and will furnish the lights for the pavillion.

These small electric light and power plants are a boon to all who use them, but especially to farmers and ranchmen. The electric power can be used to turn small machinery, such as churning, grinding feed, fanning mill, washing machine, cream separator, electric fan, grindstone, corn sheller, pumping water and operating vacuum cleaners, also the electric incubator and electric iron. There are over 75,000 satisfied users of these plants. (adv)

THE TEST THAT TELLS

Is the Test of Time. Many Goldthwaite People Have Made This Test.

Years ago this Goldthwaite citizen told in a public statement the benefit derived from Doan's Kidney Pills. The statement is now confirmed—the testimony complete. Instances like this are numerous. They doubly prove the merit of Doan's Kidney Pills. Can any Goldthwaite reader demand more convincing proof? It's Goldthwaite testimony—it may be invested.

Mrs. Wm. Taylor, says: "My kidneys some years ago were inactive and annoyed me badly. I suffered from spells of backache. I found that Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at Clements' drug store, regulated my kidneys and relieved the discomfort in my back. I have every reason to believe that Doan's Kidney Pills are as represented." (Statement given April 26, 1915.)

On May 20, 1919, Mrs. Taylor said, "I still can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as highly as I did in 1915, for I think they are fine. Once in a while I take a few doses with benefit."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Taylor had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y. (adv)

LOOKING BACKWARD

Editor Eagle:

Sam Jones was a great man. There was but one Sam Jones. Many preachers have tried to be Sam Jones, but failed. No one appreciated Sam Jones' sermons but those who heard them preached. He never lost out and he was a great man from his first effort to preach until the night that he preached his last sermon.—A wonderful sermon it was and sudden death closed his sermon.—He dismissed the congregation, went to the depot, got on the train for home and in a few minutes he was in Glory Land. He said in his sermon that if it was God's will he had rather die at home with his family, but that he wanted God's will to be done. He had fought a good fight. He had kept the faith and was ready to go when the Master called him, even if in the prime of life.

It was our pleasure to hear him preach at a certain place, near twenty years ago. Whiskey had just been voted out of the city limits and someone had put up a saloon outside of the city limits so that the public could get whiskey when they wanted it, over-riding the wishes of the good people of that place. Sam Jones explained it all in his sermon, then added, "He is a stinking, low down pup." This was at the morning service. In the afternoon he was walking down the street and was met by the saloon man. Said the saloon man to him "Your name is Jones, is it?" "Yes, sir," replied Jones very politely.

Says the saloon man to him very boldly and insultingly, "I am the man who is running the saloon and you referred to me in your sermon this morning and called me a stinking pup and you have got to take it back." Sam Jones began lowering his eyes to the saloon man's feet, then raising them gently to the top of his head two or three times and very calmly said, "Well, sir, I am now ready to take it back and say that you are a full grown dog."

It ended at this.

HEADS OF HOUSEHOLDS

It is the mothers who are the heads of the households. The culinary department of your household is in your dominion. You decide all questions of diet and all the sanitary regulations of your house are under your supervision. To regulate the food, the apparel, the habits and decide the thousand questions of home life is a tax upon your brain, nerves and general health absolutely appalling, if there is no divine alleviation. It does not help you much to tell you that Florence Nightingale was very kind to the wounded in Crimea. It would be better for you to be told that the divine friend of Mary and Martha is your friend and that He sees all the annoyances and disappointments, abrasions and exasperations of an ordinary house-keeper from morn till night and from the first day of the year to the last day of the year, and at your call He is ready with help and reinforcements.

Be glad that you have such a friend. Man falls far short of seeing your real worth and has lately said by his vote that you are not worthy of a place beside him at the polls. While he has done this the enumerators tell us that 1,514,000 women work in the fields as farm hands and that 409,000 of them are under 16 years of age and yet the man, the big bully—the voting man—says by his vote that the home is the place for the woman. If home is the place for woman, why compel her to plow, hoe, haul hay, come and go at your bidding, receive the little pittance you in your niggardly way give to her and then say, "Home is your place," while you go with the negro, Mexican, anarchist, bums and dead-beats to the polls and with them, by your vote say woman's place is with the criminals and idiots when it comes to voting. Mr. Man, as you have deliberately said your wife and daughters have no right at the polls, for pity's sake praise them and give them a little encouragement. It wont hurt them. They have perhaps learned not to expect any praise and their eyes would possibly open wider than they have in ten years, but it will do them good for all that and you too. There are many mothers today thirsting for a word of praise and encouragement. Try your hand one time. It may be hard for them to believe you mean it, but give them a trial and when they drag in from the field after a hard day's work to prepare your meal over a hot stove bear in mind that there is just as much reason that a man should work within the house as there is for a woman to work outside the house. That he should be as well qualified to work indoors as she is to work outdoors. It is as much his duty to do the one as it is her's to do the other.

What is the final destiny of a nation whose future mothers spend their girlhood days behind the plow, pitching hay, and hauling manure and what is to become of womanly culture, charm, society and enthusiasm to leap to glory in noble achievements?

A negro once said, "Dey may fall against women as dey like but dey can't set me against dem. I hab always in my life found dem fust in peace, fust in quarrel, fust in de dance, fust in de 'ee cream and fust, best and last in de sick room. What would we be without dem? Let us be born as young, as ugly, as helpless as you please and a woman's arms am ready to receive us. She it am dat gib us our fust dose ob castor oil and puts clothes on our helpless naked arms and cubbers up our foots and noses in long flannel petticoats and it am she, as we grow up, dat fills our dinner pails wid doughnuts and apples as we start to school and licks us when we tear our trousers."

If she does all this so remarkably well, why shouldn't she be capable of casting a sensible vote in self defense against the onslaughts of brewers, political tricksters and thieves who would steal from her as quick as they would from a man? Let the women vote. If you are so prejudiced against her voting and afraid she might uncover some

LOSS OF APPETITE

As a general rule there is nothing serious about the loss of appetite and if you skip a meal or only eat two meals a day for a few days you will soon have a relish for your meals when meal time comes. Bear in mind that at least five hours should always elapse between meals so as to give the food ample time to digest and the stomach a period of rest before a second meal is taken. Then if you eat no more than you crave and take a reasonable amount of outdoor exercise every day you will not need to worry about your appetite. When the loss of appetite is caused by constipation, as is often the case, that should be corrected at once. A dose of Chamberlain's Tablets will do it. (Advertisement)

EVER SALIVATED BY CALOMEL? HORRIBLE!

Calomel is quicksilver and acts like dynamite on your liver.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember that your druggist sells for 50 cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salivate.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.

THE EDITOR'S ADVANTAGE

Did you ever stop to think of how many more whacks the editor gets at his victim than any other business man in town does? With the editor the whacking process lasts from the cradle to the grave. When a person is born, even before the preacher gets a chance to baptize the newcomer, the editor has congratulated the happy parents and has specified in extravagant phrases the weight, sex and pedigree of the new arrival. At the christening the editor often manages to squeeze out a personal item of interest to his readers, which is far better than the preacher can do, for he has to charge up his labors to the Lord, who is far harder to get cash out of even than a subscriber. When the victim graduates from the town high school the editor generally expects to reap about a column of good reading and often prints the picture. Then if the victim gets married the preacher gets $5.00 or less and the editor gets $25 worth of surprise for his readers.

When Mr. Victim gets sick the doctor gets a faint chance of some day collecting a bill against him, (that some say he has already collected from someone more able to pay) but the editor has some cash news every day, telling the patient's many friends how he is getting along. And then if he dies the editor gets the most valuable news of all, while some preacher perhaps travels for miles to answer the call to preach the funeral, say something good about the victim, returns home, foots his own expenses, writes an obituary, takes or sends it to the editor for publication. Neither the doctor nor the preacher are ever glad of the misfortune, but the news is worth money to the editor just the same and the preacher's part of the game an honor and comfort to him.

Maybe the undertaker gets a little more than the editor or the preacher, but it is the only chance he has had at the victim during his whole career, while the editor and preacher have been pulling something out of him all along the line. Some others, who are not looking forward to the undertaker's bill, but want to be noticed by a free write-up from editor or public mention through the editor from the preacher, they pull a few ears of corn or a head of cabbage and a large beet, (to help out on the small beet) or some other article they can get along without and take them to the editor or preacher and then watch the paper to see what they have said. It is getting close on to ripe watermelons and the editors are going to get a chance to tell about the delicious ones Mr. Simons and others have contributed on account of their love for the editors and their families and the editors do their best to elaborate on size, deliciousness and thankfulness of editors and families for such big-hearted friends who are not willing to selfishly devour all the good things they raise. The poor correspondent, who furnishes pencils, tablets, envelopes, stamps and time free to help the editor get out a newsy paper, reads about all these good things and wonders whether his lot in the final windup will be cast among the editors and preachers or among the doctors and undertakers.

We are almost compelled to stay on our job, for quite a few insist on us writing and give us puffs as to the real enjoyment they get out of our articles, but they forget our part of the good things to eat. If this should strike a tender chord in some heart and a big watermelon comes our way the donor will get a write-up that many others will wish it had been them. (Advertisement.) H. C. COBB.

SUMMER COMPLAINT IN CHILDREN

There is not anything like so many deaths from this disease now as before Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy came into such general use. When this remedy is given with castor oil as directed and proper care is taken as to diet, it is safe to say that fully ninety-nine out of every hundred cases recover. Mr. W. G. Campbell of Butler, Tenn., says, "I have used Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy for summer complaint in children. It is far ahead of anything I have ever used for this purpose." (adv)
