Temple Has A Progressive Chamber of Commerce Which Does Things: Goldthwaite Has-- ?

BOOSTERS VISIT GOLDTHWAITE WEDNESDAY

The special trainload of Temple Get-Together Boosters, which this week visited most of the West Texas Santa Fe towns, arrived in Goldthwaite at 10:45 a. m. Wednesday. Proceeding the train, an aviator, with George Williams, a brother of E. K. Williams of the Temple Telegram, as passenger, circled the city a few times, scattering literature, in a plane belonging to the Temple Telegram.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE REVIEWS WOOL SITUATION

County Farm Demonstration Agent W. P. Weaver has received the following self-explanatory letter: To All County Agents: What to do with the wool clip we are sure is a question confronting wool growers the country over. It is common knowledge the bottom dropped clear out of the woolmarket in a very short time. Buyers the country over withdrew from the wool market absolutely refusing to make bids on wool. The price of wool dropped from ten to twenty per cent within a very few days and there have been only a few bids at any price. This unusual slump came at the time retail clothiers began their price cutting crusade and tailors were refusing to place contracts with woolen mills at prevailing prices. During the last few weeks many large woolen mills have closed their doors temporarily and are marking time until the market has regained some stability.

Largest in Texas.—San Antonio is the largest city in Texas, with a population of 161,308, according to figures announced by the Census Bureau. Pink Boll Worm.—The senate at Austin last Saturday passed the pink boll worm bill by a vote of 13 to 7. The house is expected to disapprove. Louisiana Defeats It.—The lower house of the Louisiana legislature by a vote of 67 to 44 Tuesday rejected a resolution calling for ratification of the federal suffrage amendment. Democratic Convention.—J. Bruce Kremer, vice chairman from Montana, will call the Democratic national convention to order at noon June 28, according to prearranged plans of the convention. Auto Bandits.—One of the most notorious gangs of automobile bandits, in which several Texas police officers are implicated, has been broken up in Dallas with the arrest of six men and a woman, says a dispatch from Dallas. Three Negroes.—Three negroes were lynched at Duluth, Minn., Tuesday night by a mob of 5000 persons who seized six negroes, who were held at police headquarters in Duluth in connection with an attack on a young white girl. New Party?—Representatives of labor organizations in Richmond, Va., are obtaining signatures to a petition asking Senator Hiram Johnson to repudiate the Republican platform and announce himself as an independent candidate for the presidency. Protest.—Secretary Frank Morrison of the American Federation of Labor announced Monday afternoon he had telegraphed a protest to the department of labor against the immigration of laborers from Mexico to break the longshoremen's strike at Galveston. Woman Boosted.—Quite a bit of agitation is being caused at the Democratic National convention to be held at San Francisco on account of the possibility that a woman will be nominated for vice president of the United States. Three women have already received consideration.

CHAIRMAN J. W. ROBERTS ISSUES DEMOCRATIC CALL

By virtue of authority vested in me I hereby call a meeting of the Mills County Democratic Executive Committee of Mills County, Texas, to convene in the court house in the city of Goldthwaite on Monday, June 21st, 1920, at 2 o'clock, p. m., for the purpose of assessing the candidates, drawing for positions on the Democratic primary ballot, and transacting such other business as may properly come before said meeting. If I am not mistaken, the following is a list of the precinct chairmen: Precinct No. 1, Goldthwaite, Geo. W. Jackson. Precinct No. 2, Nabors Creek, R. C. Johnson. Precinct No. 3, Antelope Gap, Frank R. Hines. Precinct No. 4, Center City, Charlie Evans. Precinct No. 5, Payne, W. J. Benningfield. Precinct No. 6, Star, F. J. Henry. Precinct No. 7, Caradan, R. W. Geeslin. Precinct No. 8, Mullin, Rev. A. R. Watson. Precinct No. 9, Fisher, J. Martin Smith. Precinct No. 10, Priddy, Thos. R. Priddy. Precinct No. 11, Big Valley, Wm. Dennard. Precinct No. 12, Rock Springs, J. M. Traylor. Precinct No. 13, Jones Valley, Wm. Wilcox. Precinct No. 14, Hanna Valley, Wilburt H. Wood. Precinct No. 15, Buffalo, John W. Tippen. Precinct No. 16, Ridge, R. J. Edmonson. Precinct No. 17, Rye Valley, T. J. Hufstetter. Precinct No. 18, Mount Olive, J. A. Poor. In the above list I have appointed Charlie Evans, R. W. Geeslin, A. R. Watson and Wm. Wilcox to fill vacancies in their respective precincts. I trust every member will be present at this meeting. JNO. W. ROBERTS, Chairman Mills Co. Ex. Com.

Temple's Chamber of Commerce this week sent a special booster train over West Texas, boosting Temple products and advertising its home merchants. This booster excursion will be worth hundreds of dollars, possibly thousands of dollars to Temple, and the direct incentive, as well as the details, were furnished by its live Chamber of Commerce. Of course, Temple is quite larger than Goldthwaite and can do things on a more elaborate scale, but it seems to the Eagle that we are letting our neighboring towns walk away from us on this important matter of getting together and boosting the town as a unit. Goldthwaite once had a commercial club, but that has fallen through and now the wide-awake merchants are forced to work with serious handicaps without the organization that gives the advancement of the welfare of our town and county a head under which to work. The merchants of Goldthwaite are as lively a bunch of people as will be found in any town, handle as good stuff and sell it for as little money. But we think that they are unwittingly omitting this thing that will be necessary for the rapid growth of the town—A LIVE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE. The more prosperous and business-like farmers of the county can readily see why a chamber of commerce will directly benefit them and it would not be hard to get a big percentage of the farmers into an organization that will be of untold usefulness to both the farmers and the business houses of Mills county. The Eagle thinks that a date should be set for a rally of every man, woman and child in the county for an organization of a Chamber of Commerce, or an organization of similar order—and it will be pleased to publish any comments for or against such an organization which any one wants to make. Let us have your opinion on the matter. FREE OFFER FOR SHORT TIME: TAKE ADVANTAGE OF IT NOW. Recognizing the fact that almost every person in Mills county has something of no value to him but very useful to others, and that a great amount of valuable vegetables, commodities and things of all descriptions are going to waste because the buyer and seller can not get together, we are with this issue starting a "Want Ad." column, to contain nothing but reader ads for the benefit of primarily the farmer and stockman, and incidentally everybody. Last year many dollars worth of vegetables rotted in the fields and gardens because there was no market, when at the same time numbers of people in Goldthwaite were trying to buy the identical thing. In order to show the people the value of these little ads, we will for a short time run one "want ad" free for any person in the county who has something of value, no matter how small, to sell, trade or buy. We accord a cordial invitation to everybody to take advantage of this free offer now, and sell that thing which is valuable to you but of great value to some one else. Simply write your ad and address the Goldthwaite Eagle. HOME MISSION SOCIETY. The Home Mission Society will meet Monday afternoon at three o'clock at the Methodist church in devotional service. If the ladies whose dishes have not been returned from the dinner Wednesday will ring Mrs. Eli Fairman the dishes will be delivered to them. MRS. HENRY MARTIN, Pres.

SCHOOL BOARD MET MONDAY NIGHT; ELECTED 3 TEACHERS. School board met Monday night and elected the following teachers: Johnnie B. Harrison, second grade. Beulah Cobb, fifth grade. Harrison, of Brownwood, High school.

THREE DOLLARS PER PUPIL MAY BE ADDED FOR SCHOOLS

Austin, Texas, June 1.—About three dollars per pupil will be added to the school per capita for next year by the passing of the five million dollar school relief appropriation by the legislature, according to officers of the State Teachers' Association. "Many persons are unaware of the fact that there is sufficient money in the state treasury, unappropriated by legislature, to give the schools this needed relief," said G. O. Clough, following an investigation made for the association.

"At present it is evident additional taxes will not have to be levied either this or next year to give this relief.

HARDING AND COOLIDGE ARE NOMINATED BY REPUBLICANS

Warren G. Harding, United States senator from Ohio, was nominated for the presidency late Saturday afternoon, June 12, by the Republicans in national convention at Chicago. As his running mate the convention named Governor Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts.

The nomination was made on the tenth ballot. General Leonard Wood and Governor Frank O. Lowden were leading the field, up to the last ballot, with Johnson third. The collapse of the forces of Lowden and their transfer in a large part to Harding put the Ohio candidate over.

The money is on hand; the schools need it; the people of Texas want the schools to have it, and as they have said it, we have every reason to believe the legislature will grant their wishes.

The imperative duty of the school people now is to advise the legislature that citizens of Texas are demanding this be done for the schools. School boards pressed for funds should participate in this movement; members of the legislature will hear them and heed their words. But immediate action is necessary. Delay means defeat.

SAYS LEAGUE OF NATIONS QUESTION COULD NOT AND SHOULD NOT BE AVOIDED

Editor Eagle:

Dear Sir:—When you took over the Eagle from your worthy predecessor you announced that its columns would be open for the public discussion of all questions affecting the public, regardless of politics. I very much admire this position and hope no writer will attempt to abuse this very great privilege you offer the public.

There is one paramount issue shaping for the coming presidential campaign which the American people could not avoid if they would and should not avoid if they could.

This is the most vital question, from my viewpoint, that has confronted the American people since the settlement of the slavery question. It is vital because it contemplates casting to the forewinds all of our American traditions, throwing aside the advice of Washington and casting serious doubts on America's ultimate rights to maintain and declare the meaning and purposes of the Monroe Doctrine. This question, commonly called the League of Nations, can not be discussed too much by both those for and those against it. Every man should have his say in this question for if America enters the League with or without the Republican reservations every home in America will be affected by the entry or later.

The American voter will do nothing for himself on this great issue and not allow his party leaders to do it for him. When the people of this country allow any one man to do the thinking and exercise no thought of their own but blindly follow without that mental reflection on their own account, which should at least make them cautious of accepting sweeping radical changes which completely reverse all ancient traditions, they are frequently required to settle in both blood and money the penalty for failing to think for themselves. As a great example of this error we can only point to the German people who for most of the present generation allowed the German Kaiser to think and act for them. In settlement for this folly one million Germans forfeited their lives and the remainder of the German people now have a debt of thirty billions of dollars hanging over them.

George the Third lost his North American colonies because he was arbitrary and imagined no one in Great Britain was competent to think but himself. This was probably a good thing for the world but it fell pretty heavily on George the Third and his British subjects.

The advice of Washington to keep clear of entangling European alliances has served so well for one hundred and forty years. In following that advice we have made greater advancement and more material progress and have had less international friction than can be found recorded in the history and progress of any nation on earth. Then why should we cast the policy to the four winds, turn our ship of state to uncharted seas where we know, whether we wish to or not, we must meet and weather, in some fashion, every storm that rages there.

A peculiar thing happened in the U. S. Senate last week. President Wilson sent a message to congress asking it to grant him permission to accept a mandate over Armenia. This would be quite consistent with the League of Nations and in fact the mandate to be exercised by the stronger nations over the weak nations seemed to be, up to this advent, one of the most valuable assets of the League, according to its supporters, but the peculiar thing was the opposition of Mr. Hitchcock, Senator from Nebraska, and the president's sponsor in the Senate for the adoption of the League as the same came from Versailles without crossing a "t" or dotting an "i."

I can only take Mr. Hitchcock's opposition to granting this authority to the president as an incident which weighed him in the balance of good faith in what he had been advocating all winter and found him wanting. President Wilson said that Sec. 10 of the covenant was its heart. If that be true, then the mandate could be called its stomach as it was supposed to furnish the nourishment until the weakling grew strong and robust. What should a Senator be called anyhow who supported the League of Nations and objected to the first simple burden it imposed.

I object to the League of Nations with or without the Republican reservations, as I believe it will damn my country to everlasting contention and eventually drive her into a more bloody war than the world war just closed.

America and Europe hold no ideals in common as can plainly be seen by the treaty of Versailles. Their efforts to reconcile such opposite ideals can only eventually cause friction that will produce international calamity.

Let Americans manage America and Europeans manage Europe, only stepping in as need be to save civilization and to incidentally trounce the whey out of a big overheating bully like we did in the case of Germany.

(Intended for last week)

Editor Eagle:

As I have not seen anything from this part of the globe, I thought I would drop the dear old Eagle a few crumbs.

The health of the community is pretty good.

J. D. Ford was on the sick list a few days.

Joe W. Morgan came home from Temple Wednesday where he has his wife. She has been in the sanitarium about two months. Her friends are glad to learn she is doing nicely. J. W. says it will be some time yet before she can be moved home.

The hum of the reaper can be heard, although there is a small percentage in grain. Mostly cotton and feed stuff are planted.

Cotton chopping is the order of the day. Almost every one has laid their corn crop by.

M. C. Hall returned Sunday night from Waco, where he has been on a visit. He is chopping cotton for John Kuykendall.

Thelma Wright of Brownwood had the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Black.

Mrs. D. J. Smith and mother, Mrs. Gray of May Town, spent a few days in Goldthwaite visiting Lawrence Johnson's family.

Hassell Ford of Brady spent a few days with home folks.

Several from this and adjoining counties went to Brownwood Monday.

C. H. and Hazel Black are spending several weeks with their uncle, Stanley Black and family at Ricker.

Elder J. R. Davis filled his regular appointment Saturday and Sunday at Scallorn church.

Bro. Bynum came down for Sunday school and 11 o'clock services. Then he went to Long Cove, preached at 3 p. m. Several went from here.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown Stockton and daughter spent Saturday night and Sunday with T. J. Laughlin's family. They attended church Sunday.

Little Grace Denison of Goldthwaite spent last week with her grandmother, Mrs. Kuykendall.

Albert Hereford, wife and daughter from the "C" ranch attended church Sunday and took dinner with R. D. Evans.

Mrs. Lora Hound spent Sunday in the home of Mrs. A. B. Ford.

Scallorn's ball team played with Goldthwaite Friday. They scored 2 to 4 in favor of Goldthwaite. They played Saturday with Bend. Scored 11 to 4 in favor of Scallorn.

I will ring off. If the waste basket don't get this I will come again.

VALUABLE HORSE SAVED.

Expected Horse Would Die — Now Sleek and Healthy.

In reporting his experience Mr. J. C. Huste, of Rock Bridge Baths, Va., stated: "My horse is the best advertisement you would want for Dr. LeGear's Stock Powders. He was in a run down fix and poor and I thought he would die soon. I got some of Dr. LeGear's Stock Powders—and today he is as fine a looking horse as you can see in this section. I only used a few boxes of Dr. LeGear's Stock Powders."

Mr. Huste benefited by the advice of Dr. LeGear. By following the Doctor's advice you can also keep your stock sleek and healthy. WOMEN GIVE OUT.

Housework is hard enough when healthy. Every Goldthwaite woman who is having backache, blue and nervous spells, dizzy headaches and kidney or bladder troubles, should be glad to heed this Goldthwaite experience:

Mrs. N. B. Allen says: "About two years ago I was so bad off with kidney trouble, I couldn't get out of the bed without help. The pains I endured were severe and I had headaches that were so bad I could hardly see. It felt like pins and needles going through my head. I was so nervous I would jump at the least noise and everything would irritate me. I would get so dizzy at times, everything would turn black in front of me and I would have to catch on to something, as I was afraid I would fall. I had a lot of trouble with the action of my kidneys, which was irregular and my hands and feet would swell twice their size. I went through this suffering until I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and got some at Clements' Drug Store. I believe I took five boxes of Doan's. After I finished the first box I could see the swelling go down and my back started to get strong and my kidneys were regulated, too. Five boxes entirely cured me."

Why That Headache?

When you know the cause of a disease a cure may often be affected. This is particularly true of headache. These tablets are easy to take and mild and gentle in effect. (Adv.)

CORPUS CHRISTI.

Mr. Editor.
Since my last communication some experiences and observations have dropped here and there close to my path. Of course, news from Corpus perhaps will not interest every one, yet I am sure the happenings here will be of interest to some. The storm wrecked causeway that meant so much to this city and the surrounding country will soon be rebuilt. The breakwater to protect the city from the waves of another storm is also a certainty, at least the contract has been let and work promised to begin at once. A $10,000.00 reinforced concrete 8-room personage will be built right away by the First Methodist church. The new 100-room bath house being insufficient to accommodate the bathers, another 80-room addition is being added. While it is claimed there are 35 garages in the city, others are being built. Subscriptions are being taken for a new fire-proof sanitarium which will be built. When people set their heads to do something they manage to put it through. A nice pier for the comfort of those who come and go will also be built in the near future. All the piers along the bay were put out of commission during the storm. Fishing is good whenever we can catch a morning when the waves are not too high for the fishing crafts. Tourists are coming and going all the time. Those you mix and mingle with today are on the go tomorrow for other places. Sightseeing fun and even downright desecration of the Sabbath seems to dominate the majority. The picture shows are in full blast all day on Sunday, boat-riding, fishing and general roundups for all sorts of amusements has the Sabbath under complete control. The bath houses have larger congregations on Sunday afternoon than any of the churches have at their preaching hours. A few grocery stores are wide open all day Sundays. It is nothing unusual to see men in their offices or other places of business as busily engaged on Sunday as if God had never said "Thou shalt not."

The results of the Republican convention seem to meet the approval of the party as far as we have heard expressions. The Democrats are looking forward to their convention, many of them with the hope that the proposed platform will deal fairly with the labor proposition and unanimously vote for the nomination of Mr. McAdoo for president and return home feeling assured their work was well done and the fruits of which will be another Democratic administration. It might be best to let Republicans win this time that they may show the world how much they can improve over the present administration. It would be very nice indeed after the war is over, victory won, prosperity in sight, for them to step in and claim the honors of the after results. We owe too much to the wise, hardfought, successful, yet much abused Wilson administration to sit idly by and allow the enemies of said administration come in and claim the honor of bringing things to a peaceful and satisfactory finish. The Democratic administration has thus far managed the affairs of the nation through the most perilous time in its history and should not think of surrendering its work to a fighting, antagonistic foe to finish up and claim the honors as a wonderful, financial, peace-making, country-loving party. McAdoo or Pershing would lead the party to victory.

I am getting anxious to hear some good oil news from Mills county. The prospective crop report from there looks good, and we trust will develop as predicted. The Eagle came swooping down upon us this a. m. with its records of marriages, deaths, meetings, citations, advertisements, etc., furnishing your lonesome scribbles an interesting time with home affairs.

F. M. SPANN'S RECORD.

With a record of more than four years as judge of the Twenty-seventh judicial district of Texas, comprising the counties of Bell, Lampasas and Mills, Judge F. M. Spann is a candidate for re-election. Judge Spann is well and personally known practically to every voter and resident in the district and he enjoys the esteem and respect of each and every one. On the bench he has shown the sound wisdom of the trained jurist and observant mind. He has discharged the important duties of the high position of district judge with impartiality and absolute absence of favoritism and prejudice. All the grave questions that have come before him have been given the most serious consideration and deepest thought to the end that justice might be done and the rights of life, liberty and property of all whose affairs or interests brought them into the court, established, preserved and fairly adjudicated.

At all times and under all circumstances Judge Spann has enjoyed the respect of the lawyers and litigants alike for his judicial manner, the calm dignity with which proper order and decorum have been at all times observed and exacted in his court and he has ever shown the utmost consideration for jurors summoned for service at times of stress or threatened calamity to their crops or business affairs. When possible, without prejudice to the interests of the state, the taxpayers, or either the attorneys or the litigants he has looked to the material welfare of the community by giving farmers an opportunity to save crops threatened by adverse conditions. In his personal relations, with those appearing in his court he has won confidence and admiration by his never-failing courtesy, ever thoughtful treatment and unvarying spirit of fairness and justice.

Since his elevation to the high position on the district bench which he has so signally honored, some of the most intricate and important legal situations in the history of the district have developed and in all these the calm and deliberate mind of the presiding judge has risen to the demands of the occasion and the records of the higher courts show a dearth of reversals and revisions of the judgments and charges of the judge. Vast interests have been in-

involved in cases that have occupied the attention to judge and the jurors and attorneys in the time Judge Spann has been on the bench in this district and in no single instance has there been any suggestion of criticism of the clear-sighted and impartial manner with which he has dealt with all interested in these matters. Truly he has proved that he is indeed an upright judge and an able and industrious one. At all times the work of his court in the counties composing the district has been performed with dispatch and accuracy and complaints about delays and obstructions often heard elsewhere have not been in evidence.

With a personality that inspires confidence Judge Spann withal is dignified, courteous and attentive, possessing executive ability of high quality and being a thorough master of detail and specific application of the law. These are the qualities which mark him as worthy the continued confidence and support of the voters and entire citizenship of the twenty-seventh district in his aspiration to serve them again upon the bench of this district.

His merits commend him as in every way worthy and his high ability as a lawyer, his demeanor and administration of the duties of the judgeship and his record of equitable treatment and his handling of the grave responsibilities of his position entitle him to the favorable consideration of the voters of the district.

In the selection of one to fill a judicial position of this magnitude care should be taken that the one chosen measures up to the high standard that should be expected and insured on the part of the occupant of a high and important judicial position. That Judge Spann measures up to the highest standard of ability, judicial conduct, proper attention and consideration of the interests of all involved in the proceedings in his tribunal and the unwaveringly impartial administration of justice, whether life, liberty or property interests are involved, has been demonstrated during his incumbency of the judgeship and that he will continue to travel upon the same high plane is certain.

The voters have known him through many years and for more than four years as judge and his friends feel assured that he will be continued upon the bench to which he is a credit and that the result will be marked by an eloquent expression of popular sentiment through the medium of the ballot box.

COTTON ASSOCIATION PLANS: GET BUSY ON FOUNDATION

In almost every local market town in the South cotton farmers are suffering from gross evils which can be corrected by the farmers themselves through the simple process of erecting a bonded warehouse and having their cotton officially graded and co-operatively sold. The great work of the Cotton Association, as we see it, should be the active promotion of such local marketing units, holding out at the same time the prospect of a general federation of such units just as soon as the time is ripe for it. In years when cotton is scarce a federation controlling even one-sixth of the South's cotton crop could largely control prices.

The California plan is the capstone of a cotton marketing structure. The local warehousing and marketing associations are the foundation. The thing to do now is to make ready the capstone, but also to remember we must first lay a broad and deep foundation. In every neighborhood in the South cotton farmers should right now work out plans for properly grading, classing, warehousing and cooperatively selling their own neighborhood cotton next fall. If only this is largely done, then all these other things will be added unto us.—The Progressive Farmer.

Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Every family should keep this preparation at hand ready for instant use when needed. Severe attacks of colic and cholera morbus often prove fatal before medicine can be procured or a physician summoned. The uniform success that has attended the use of this remedy and the prompt cures which it has effected has made it a staple article of trade.

"IT'S JUST GRAND," SAYS MRS. ROGERS.

Could Not Eat Meats or Bread for Two Years—Gains 18 Pounds Taking Tanlac.

"No one could see the wonderful change in me and doubt that Tanlac is just a grand medicine," said Mrs. Louise Rogers, of 4017 Brooklyn Ave., Los Angeles, Cal. Mrs. Rogers formerly lived at Wenatchee, Wash., where she is also well known.

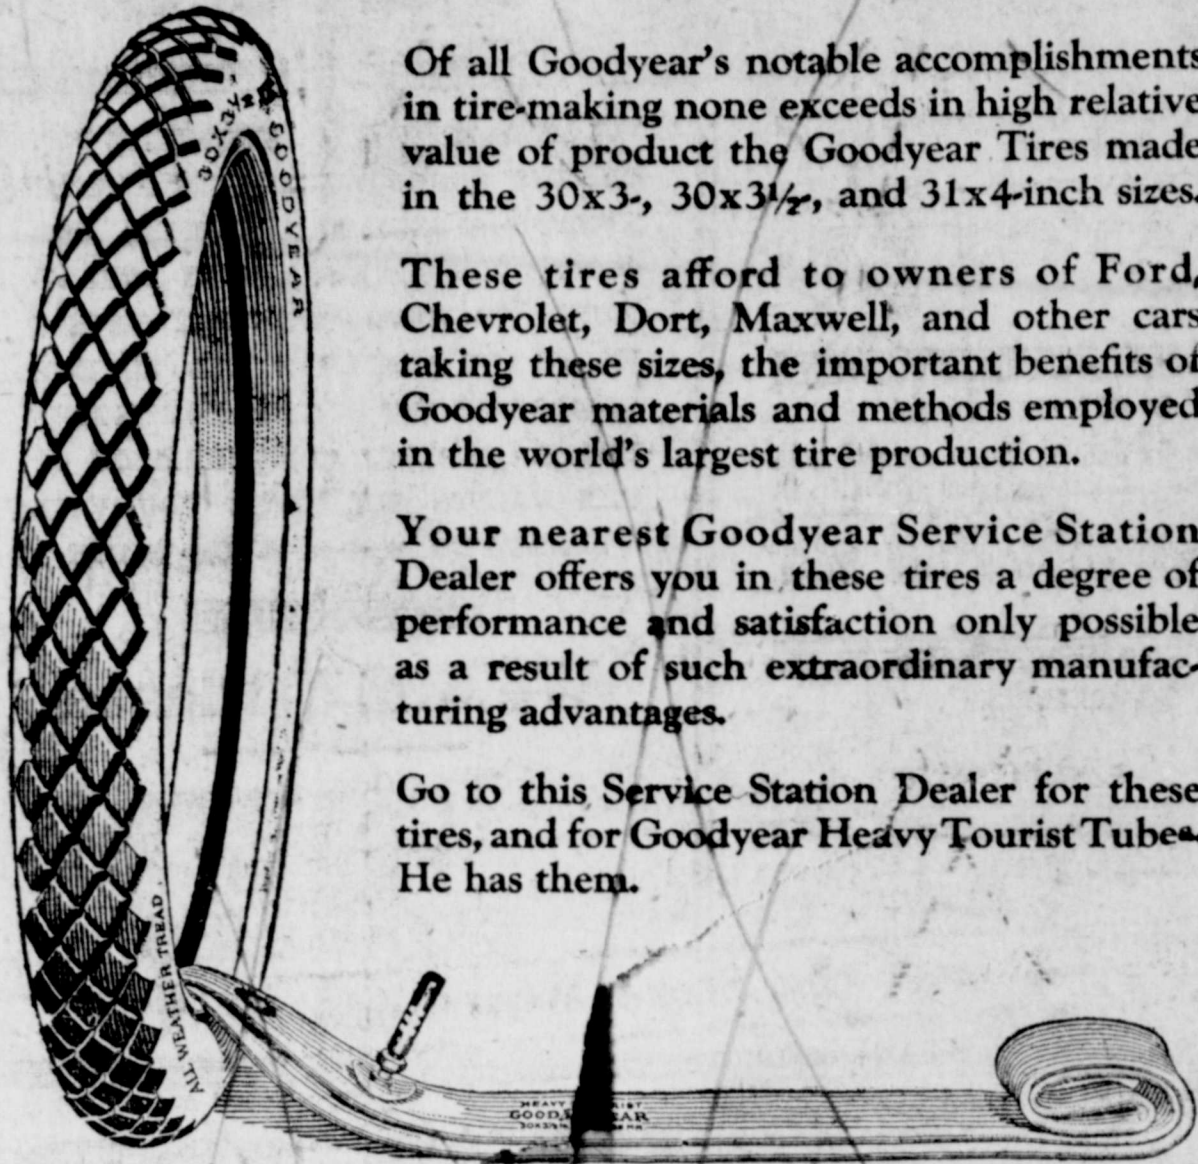

"My health was so bad for years that I became almost a physical and nervous wreck," she continued. "I had nervous indigestion, disordered kidneys and other troubles. I was perfectly miserable and for over two years I could not eat any bread, milk or meat, and I had to live on the very lightest of foods. I suffered so that sleep was almost impossible and I fell off to a mere shadow of my former self. I was under constant treatment for eighteen months but kept getting worse instead of better. I nearly gave up all hope and my husband, too, thought I was going to die. He decided to send me to a health resort, but I was so low I had to have an attendant all the time.

"It was then that a lady from Vancouver persuaded me to try Tanlac and it was just three days before I noticed a change for the better. I have now taken five bottles, have gained eighteen pounds and all of my old troubles are gone entirely. I eat three good meals every day and sleep like a child all night long. I just want to tell everybody what a good medicine Tanlac is."

Tanlac is sold in Goldthwaite by all dealers.—Adv. 6-19.

GOOD YEAR

You Can Depend On Plowing Ten Acres a Day With the G-O Tractor

Ten acres in one day is not a stunt performance with a G-O. It's a regular day's plowing you can depend on any day. And you can set your plows six or seven inches deep and be sure of getting deep, clean furrows with the stubble thoroughly covered.

That's the kind of work the G-O will do. It's one reason why I picked it.

You can safely plow steep hillsides, the extra low center of gravity in the G-O keeps front wheels firmly on the ground. You can plow close to the fence and in corners and the adjustable drawbar will always keep the pull on the tractor's low dead center. The front wheels have three point suspension to give you greater flexibility, and there's a powerful coil spring mounted on the front axle to prevent jolts and jars on the motor when you pass over stumps or other obstructions.

Your plowing or any other tractor job can be done with your boy on the G-O. Its simple driving mechanism, six speeds forward and reverse, and no gears to strip, makes it the easiest tractor on the market to operate. It has fewer parts and it has no exposed gears to give trouble—all gears are enclosed and running in oil—no gears or chains on the rear wheels.

Come in and see this 14-28 H. P. kerosene burning tractor that will also operate any stationary machine up to a 28" Separator.

FROM THE FIVE

LETTER FROM CONGRESSMAN BLANTON'S CAMPAIGN MANAGER

To Voters of 17th District:
Determined enemies in his absence through false accusations are attacking your Representative. Don't condemn him without a hearing. He is faithfully performing his duties, attending to your business. Campaigns tempted many Members home. He sticks to his post, stays on the job and puts duty before personal interests. When Congress adjourns, he will answer his accusers to your complete satisfaction.

No time and no where has he ever opposed honest labor or lawful unions. His uncompromising fight has been against the deadly enemies of honest labor, anarchy, disloyalty, brigandage, inefficiency and the attempt of destructive radicals to throttle Congress and overthrow our Government. Statistics show that during 1919 unlawful strikes caused a loss of $725,000,000 in wages, and $1,250,000,000 in production, and that railroad employes alone paid to their Unions last year a sum of $27,000,000, making their leaders and agitators here in luxury. And the farmers and unorganized masses bear the burden.

Congressman Blanton is known from Seattle to Florida. His efforts to protect this Government, and save it from domestic enemies, to stop graft, waste and extravagance, to abolish useless Departments and clean them up, has given him a National reputation. His work is admired and appreciated by every posted, unbiased citizen in the United States.

There are seven Congressmen who belong to labor unions. When Congressman Blanton has refused to wear a yoke, and obey orders from Mr. Gompers; when he has forced Members to stay in Washington and attend to business; when he has prevented them from passing scores of private bills involving more than a hundred million dollars; when he has tried to reduce their mileage to actual expenses; when he has tried to abolish the practice of giving to every Member each year a Cedar chest, a pine chest and an oak chest at Government expense, when he has blocked all efforts to raise the Members' salary from $7,500 to $10,000; when he has denounced the frequent and expensive junketing trips and tried to abolish them; when he has blocked at every turn the annual $500,000 garden seed graft; when he tried to pass his measure forbidding Members and Senators from appointing their relatives to office; and when by points of order, sustained by the Chairman, he has knocked out of appropriation bills over $100,000,000 saved for the people, is it any wonder that some side-jobs and under-currents have been made at his feet from the floor?

and abuse. On May 6, Biggers wrote certain editors for rates, asserting that before the Primary he was going to cover the district either with political supplements, 6-columns, 2 or 4 pages, inserted in all the newspapers, or else by printed circulars. Who is paying for it all? Is Mr. Biggers able and willing thus to spend his own money? Possibly so, but the following letter would not so indicate:

CLYDE GROWERS' ASSOCIATION.
Clyde, Tex., May 7, 1920.
Hon. Thomas L. Blanton,
Washington, D. C.
Dear Friend: I wish to advise you that Mr. Don H. Biggers, previously of Lubbock, Tex., has been owing the Clyde Growers' Association $62.79 since 1917. The present manager, Mr. O. S. Maggart, and the previous manager, Mr. Carl C. Grubb, have repeatedly asked him by letter to settle, and he ignores their requests. The farmers who compose the association have shared in the loss. We still consider "our" Congressman "honorable."

Yours,
R. O. CARNES.
Is Mr. Grisham paying for this advertising? If so, he should explain why in the case of Tunstall vs. Grisham, now pending in the Appellate Court at Fort Worth, Mr. W. A. Tunstall claims that Candidate Grisham and his partner owe him $80,000 which by contract they agreed to pay him out of $240,000 he caused them to make on some oil business. Ask Judge Harry Tom King, of Abilene, what he knows about this case.

How else are Unions spending their boasted $100,000 slush fund, if they are not paying for this Biggers and Sweetwater advertising? Illustrating how ridiculous some of Biggers' charges are, he asserted that Uncle Joe Cannon had to restrain Blanton to prevent his attacking Congressman Knutson whom he asserted was a small man about 50 years old. Mr. Knutson is a young, unmarried man, fully as large as Blanton, who has a letter from Uncle Joe Cannon stating that said newspaper concoctions had no foundation whatever, as he never held, or restrained, or even spoke to Blanton relative to any disagreement with Mr. Knutson.

The American Federation of Labor recently sent to every daily paper in the U. S. a carefully prepared attack, falsely charging that New England was furnishing Blanton's campaign expenses. Heretofore in every campaign Congressman Blanton has refused to accept proffered contributions, and has paid all of his campaign expenses himself. Various admirers who have daily read the Congressional Record and become familiar with his work here, have written deploring the fact that radical organizations are sending money to Blanton's district in an effort to defeat him, requesting that his campaign manager notify them when commencing his campaign, as they would deem it a privilege to contribute, in recognition of his efforts of national benefit.

To answer the false accusations of his enemies, and to let his people see his actual record here, I proposed having reprints made of the permanent Record for distribution. When I advised that this would cost $1,654.36 merely to print same, he said he could not afford it. Ten years ago he was worth $25,000. Today if he sold everything he possesses he couldn't raise $3,000 in cash. Since war began he has used most of his salary in his private investigations to clean up Departments, in fighting anarchy, and in donating to the needs of others. Under the circumstances, I insisted upon writing to his friends who had asked that such be done and who wanted to contribute, and as campaign manager wrote them. They were men in every walk of life, one a member of a union for 30 years, and lived in El Paso, Houston, Galveston, Lufkin, Beaumont, Ft. Worth and San Antonio, Texas; Lebanon, Tenn.; Opelousas, La.; Tampa, Florida; Memphis, Tenn.; Macon, Ga.; Charleston, S. Car.; Richmond, Va.; Cincinnati, Ohio; Louisville, Ky.; Lynchburg, Va.; St. Louis, Mo.; Carrollton, Ky.; Chicago, Ill.; Portland, Oregon; Boston, Mass.; Kettle Island, Ky.; Tullahoma, Tenn.; Waterloo, Iowa, etc. Congressman Blanton absolutely required that I accept no contribution from a corporation, and I did not. His entire campaign will not cost over $2,000. I will gladly exhibit to anyone interested the campaign ledger showing all campaign receipts, the amount, name and address of each person contributing, and all disbursements.

Someone burglarized Congressman Blanton's office one night, rifled my desk and files, extracted certain copies including the letter to Boston, which the American Federation of Labor later published, falsely stating that New England was furnishing the campaign expenses. The Superintendent of the Building found that an elevator operator possessed a master key to my office, and discharged him.

The Dallas News, August 23, 1919, page 1, reports the successful fight made by Congressman Blanton in preventing cotton from being placed in the Food Control Act, his point of order being sustained, thus saving every cotton farmer from ruin, as otherwise the price of cotton would have been fixed at a low price. For months he has been working on a plan to bring the New England and foreign Spinners and the Southern Cotton Farmers together, so that they may no longer be fleeced by Wall Street Gamblers, thus stopping all speculative profits. Then Spinners would pay to the producing farmers for their cotton its real worth, putting gamblers out of business. In accepting invitations to address the business men of Boston, Providence, Fall River and New York, he has been moved by this motive in furthering his plan.

In trying to embarrass Congressman Blanton, and prejudice his Colleagues against him, Biggers has mailed his paper each week to certain Members, and has written personal letters to our Democratic leaders, Champ Clark, Claude Kitchin, Crisp, of Ga., Gard of Ohio, and Flood, of Va., and to big Republican leaders like Jim Good, Joe Walsh, John Tilson and Uncle Joe Cannon, endeavoring to get them to say that Blanton's work has not been valuable to the country, and Biggers can not produce a single line from a single one of them against Blanton. On May 3, Mr. Crisp wrote Biggers as follows:

"While Mr. Blanton and I have differed many times on questions of legislation, I consider him an honest, able, industrious and courageous Representative. His fight for economy in public expenditures, in my judgment, has been of real and substantial benefit to the country."

Biggers received a similar reply from another one of the above.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted May 4, 1920, by the Democratic Convention of Mills County, Texas, to-wit:

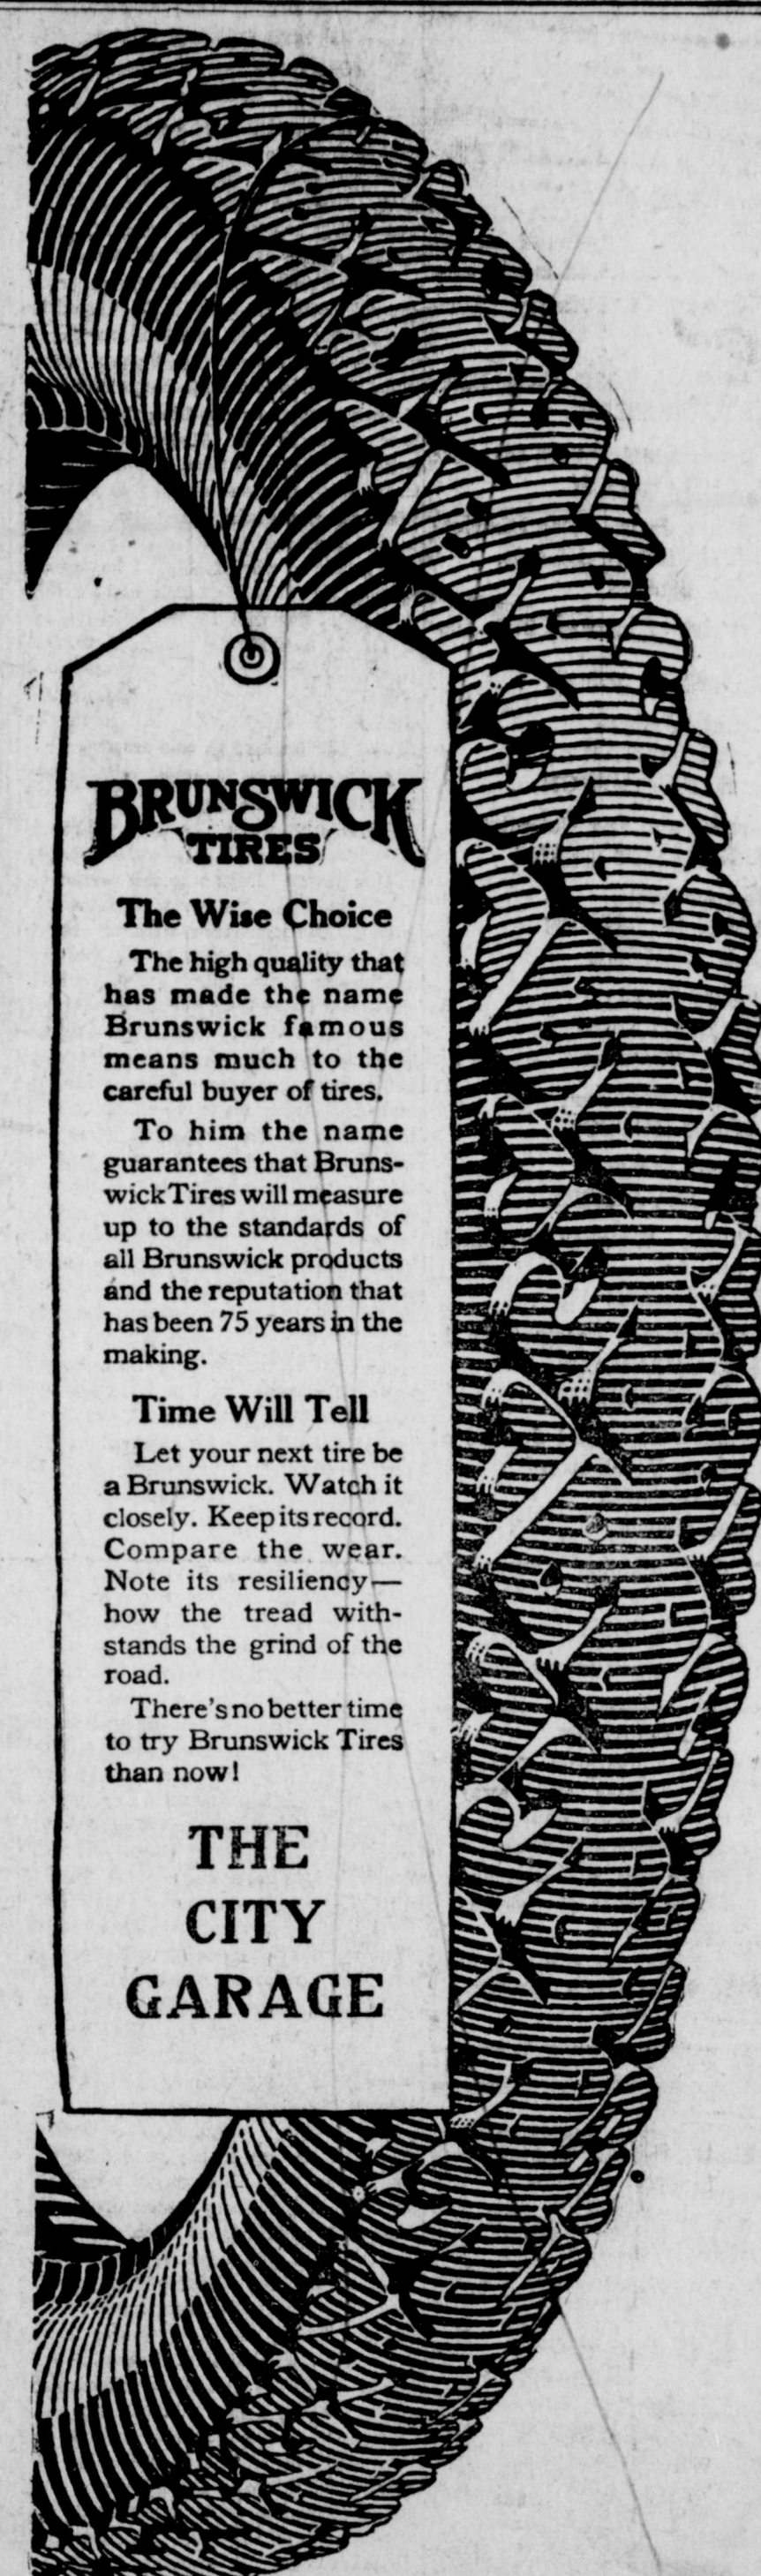

"WHEREAS, an unjust and unwarranted attack has been made on Hon. Thomas L. Blanton, our Representative in Congress, by a certain citizen of Eastland County, Texas, and

"WHEREAS, the said Hon. Thomas L. Blanton is making our district a competent, brave and efficient Representative,

"THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the conduct of the said Eastland County citizen be and is hereby condemned as unworthy of a citizen of this district, and that this Convention approve and commend the labors and efforts of our Representative, Hon. Thomas L. Blanton."

Gompers has just forced the term "National emergency" to be stricken out of the army bill, because it permitted the National Guard to be called out when strikes menace the safety of a State. Congressman Blanton has fought for all of the people. Shall the United States or Mr. Gompers' Union be paramount? I am now having reprints of the Record made, which I hope to distribute by the latter part of June. The envelope will be entitled "LET THE RECORD SPEAK." Look for it, read it carefully, see that your neighbor reads it and preserve it. I hope that every man and woman in the district will read it. You will be surprised at just how much your Representative has accomplished. His people will never realize just how much work night and day he has done to better conditions. Should Congress recess or adjourn, he will report to you personally, and answer all criticisms to your entire satisfaction.

Sincerely yours,
WILLIAM W. BLANTON,
Campaign Manager.

THE NATURE AND METHODS OF THE HUMAN MIND.

To this faculty must be added a perfect knowledge of music. Some of us have listened to the playing of Blind Tom. He was almost an idiot, but could play any piece of music he ever heard as soon as he was tall enough to reach the piano. A very high order of the subjective mind is also exhibited in the genius for art. Most of our great painters and sculptors and poets even had hardly sense enough to go in out of the wet, as far as anything that people learn is concerned. Nearly all the so-called prodigies or natural geniuses are weak physically and subject to nervous diseases, the brain being just sufficiently obscured to allow their subjective minds to work freely. I have only to mention Carlyle, with his terrible dyspepsia, Poe with his alcoholic mania, Napoleon and Bichlieu with their epilepsy, Darwin with his neurasthenia, Chas. Hunter, the celebrated anatomist with his hallucinations. All lived the life of the damned in this respect.

Again we may mention a perfect knowledge of the lapse of time. The animals who work entirely through this portion of their minds often exhibit this power. Dogs who are accustomed to go after the cows will usually start at the right time without being told. We usually wake at the hour we set in our minds before going to bed, especially if we have formed a habit of waking at a certain hour. The subject lying in hypnotic sleep always wakes at the time suggested to him by the operator. I hurry on to speak of dreaming. This is the constant flow of thought during sleep. I am inclined to believe that dreaming is continuous during sleep, even though we may not be conscious, when awake, that we have beheld any of the pictures which so often inhabit our slumbers. It is during this most profound unconsciousness that the so-called somnambulist performances occur, showing that we do dream, even when we are under the impression we do not. In this train of thought one idea suggests another, but most of the suggestions come from the outside, in the shape of disturbed bodily functions, unpleasant memories and presence of constant danger. Macbeth with his unsleeping conscience beholds visions of the air drawn dagger and the ghost of murdered Banquo. His somnambulist wife washes and washes in vain to remove from her hands the damned blood spots that all the perfumes of Arabia could never cleanse. In all these cases, the objective mind weary with its constant vigils has retired from active control and the subjective mind, overwhelmed and obsessed by its last painful suggestion sees horrible nightmares and dreams dreams. The pious monk, whose fasts and vigils have reduced his body almost to a shadow remaining on his knees on the cold stony pavement of his cloister cell, his eyes strained upward toward the great crucifix, at last sees the heavens open and beholds the celestial phantasmagoria of paradise, the golden streets, the jasper walls and pearly gates of that wonderful city erected from the jewelry of his early imagination. So the shipwrecked mariner starving and forlorn, tossed upon his frail raft and fatigued with constant exertion and sick from exposure, when he sinks to sleep is fantasized by visions of green fields, trees loaded with luscious fruits, tables groaning with delicacies, all that is nice to eat and drink, which the disordered irritability of his craving empty stomach suggests to a state of mind already in the ascendancy. So in the condition of insanity, the nature of the delusions and hallucinations is often determined by the diseases of the organ, whence such suggestions usually originate. The insane patient with ear disease hears strange voices calling him or feels the vibration of the thunders of Sinai reverberating through his head. Disordered stomachs often create delusion, that animals are being concealed therein, or that they are being slowly poisoned, and sexual delusions may be usually traced to diseases of the genito urinary system.

One of the most useful manifestations of this portion of the mind is skill. When an act of the hand or the mind has been performed a large number of times, the subjective mind takes charge of the operation and relieves the consciousness of any further worry connected therewith. The skilled musician needs not to look at his fingers. They find their way to the right strings unconsciously and unerringly.

The type setter when skilled no longer looks at his case. The typewriter no longer looks at the keys of his instrument. The most complicated machinery is run with unerring precision and such mental processes as adding figures are carried on by skilled accountants in the same unconscious manner. I might speak of the natural emotion of love and hate as varied and inexplicable as the vagaries of chemical affinity. Of the natural appetites for fresh air, food, drink, sleep, warmth, sex and company, all of which are perfectly familiar to you. The great faculty of telepathy or mind reading, which is now interesting the scientists all over the world, but concerning which we can say so little with absolute certainty, it partaking of the so-called spiritualist phenomena of which I spoke at the beginning of this article. All instances of so-called clairvoyance and clairaudience depend upon this phase of mind and are but instances of the great faculty of mental perception.

The man in whom the subjective mind predominates is what we call a natural genius. The divine frenzy possesses him. He perceives truths by great flights of intuition, so called, and expresses them in the language of the somnambulist.

Joan of Arc, a poor, ignorant peasant girl, during an attack, leaves her mountain grotto to take charge of the armies of France and leads them on to glorious victory. Again the attack passes away, forsaking her in prison and at the stake and abandons her, a victim of the inhuman revenge of her times. We see the ancient Christian martyrs hurrying to scenes of slaughter that they might share in the glory of a death for sake of their faith, sustained and upheld by the subjective state, which they were accustomed to assume. Again we see Torquemada wrestling with the Lord in prayer, tearing his flesh with the terrible scourge, praying that he might be delivered from the dreadful duty of burning the heretics, but the awful suggestion of the Jews and early education would not pass from him and he went out to perform deeds of blood and hand that have horrified the world ever since.

If the time allowed, I might recite the experiments of Charcot, of Braide, and of Oehorgwizor, relate the now almost mythical history of Mesmer, of Paracelsus and the followers of the Rosy Cross. I might mention divine healing and tell of the wonderful doings of Solomon Greatrakes, of Mrs. Eddy and Schlatter of Colorado. I might describe the different methods employed for inducing the subjective state, the postures and the prayers, the fasts and the vigils, the fetishistic charms and musical incantations, all of which have been practiced since a time to which the mind of man runneth not.

Any Cow worth keeping is worth feeding in summer

Profitable cows can't produce up to the limit of their capacity on grass, because grass is practically never balanced. A cow can't eat enough grass to get sufficient protein.

Purina Cow Chow supplies the lacking elements, and enables the feeder to perfectly balance the grass ration, no matter how irregular the pasture conditions. This is done with ingredients that any expert will approve and practical dairymen know to be right.

Dairymen in all parts of the country have demonstrated time and again that 2 lbs. Purina Cow Chow make the average cow on pasture, produce at least 6 lbs. more milk per day at an additional cost of about 6c per cow per day. Figure out what this would mean to you each month.

To show the remarkable development of this county it is only necessary to state that less than twenty years ago there was not a post office in the territory now included in Mills county. HOW WOMEN'S CLUBS BENEFIT COMMUNITIES

The chief relief for the past undesirable condition of country life has been realized through co-operative endeavors of the woman's club.

The woman's club makes the best institution for upbuilding the home and community and bears great responsibility for socializing country life. Farm home life was never sufficiently broadening until women took a larger part in community affairs.

On the woman depends, to a greater degree than we realize, the nature and extent of the movement for a better life. By having clubs, women have learned more about science, sanitation, cooking, decoration, household management and economics. They have learned how to decrease household labor by use of labor-saving machinery and system. They have exchanged ideas until now they have well planned and conveniently arranged homes.

Women's clubs have affected all classes, as women have come in touch with the wider world. Some results of women's clubs are enlarged social activities, love for home and higher and better things. Children in homes have learned to be of more assistance with the work.

Every worker for rural progress has possessed vision but no one has seen it more clearly than the worker in women's clubs.—Mrs. J. E. Daniel, in The Progressive Farmer.

Applications are now being made by schools for money under the rural aid law. The amount now being received from this source is determined by the financial condition of the school; if it has money enough to meet all demands, it can not obtain aid. With the apportionment per capita increased some $5 per pupil, unless salaries are increased,
many schools will have enough money on hand to meet demands, and may not be eligible to receive aid. Increases in salary, if it is understood, will be considered sufficient ground for granting rural aid to schools. The High School Division of the State Department of Education holds that effective high school work can not be done where teachers are underpaid, and the salaries paid teachers and length of term of the school are taken into consideration in regard to classification and affiliation.

Already there is complaint of too much commercialism in the church, although this complaint is usually registered by those who do not contribute contributions free-heartedly. Under conditions that were more primitive than those of the present, it was proper to affirm that salvation was free. It is still free, as for that, but when a church gets to that point of overorgani-zation, where the pastor becomes an official collecting agent and the members begin absenting themselves from the service when they know there is a drive on—when the time comes that the money side seems to be the poorer members the main side of the church—then it is questionable if the church is doing more good than harm. A church may be extending itself too far when it begins to transform its communicants into uncheerful givers.—State Press in Dallas News.

Opposed to the selected candidates of the Republicans and the future selec-or five "third" parties. The Bull son, Wood and Hoover under one ban-

The famous committee of forty-eight party snuffed the big issues of the day, proposed a ticket and the committee will meet in Chicago July 10 for the selec-hold a convention in Chicago July 11-13

and propose to put a ticket and platform in the field. The Socialists have already organized Eugene V. Debs.
James E. Ferguson with a large number of followers has started his campaign for president on the American People's ticket. William Randolph Hearst,

JUDGE P. M. SPANN IN RACE TO STAY.

Spann Issues Statement to the Voters of the District and Raises a Serious Question as to Blair's Right to Place on the Official Ballot. Text of the Statement.

(Temple Telegram.)

Raising a serious question as to the right of Mallory B. Blair to have his name on the official ticket, because in filing his application he had failed, it was charged, to state his age, Judge P. M. Spann issued a statement to the voters of the district yesterday saying that he is in the race to stay.

Judge Spann alleged that his name was kept off the ticket through the refusal of Judge Blair to "take a broad view on the subject" and ask the committee to permit it to go on, and then charged Judge Blair with overlooking a more serious technicality in the matter than he himself had overlooked in failing to file his application before the required time.

Judge Spann's signed statement follows:

"To the People of the 27th Judicial District: I made my appeal to the committees of the democratic party in the three counties of this district to place my name upon the ballot to the end that the people, as is their right in the full exercise of their franchise at the ballot box, might select their district judge. I believed then, and I believe now, that legally, rightfully and justly, my name as a candidate should be placed upon the ballot, but my appeal failed. Two of those committees refused to place my name upon the official ballot, refused under guise of strict construction of the law, a mere technicality, to allow the people their inherent right to select the judge of their district court.

I now appeal from the committees whose actions in barring my name from the ticket, to all intents and purposes, amounts to nothing more or less than the committees themselves attempting to select the next district judge of this district and denying the right of the people in making the selection. I say I appeal from such action to the people themselves.

"And in so doing I want to announce that the people shall determine who shall be their district judge and that whoever is the next district judge shall be so, not by the action of any committee, but by virtue of having received a majority of the votes cast at a legal election.

"I announce that I am still a candidate. That the real fight for the sovereignty of the people's rights has just opened and that I am in the fight to the finish. I appeal to every forward looking citizen who believes in fair play and a square deal to join me in this fight. While incidentally it is my fight because I have been denied the right to get my name on the ticket, after all, it is the fight of the people to maintain their right in free elections to select their officers.

"The committees of Bell and Lampasas counties refused to put my name on the ticket because the law said that I should file my application on or before the first Monday in June, or the 7th of June, and that because I filed my application on the 9th or 10th of June that it is too late, that my name could not go on the ticket and the people were denied the right to decide whether they would have Judge Blair or myself for the next district judge. Clearly this was a strict construction, a valuable right was denied to the people on a mere technicality.

"I stated to the committees that if Judge Blair had failed to file before the first Monday in June and I had filed before that time that I would agree that his name should be placed upon the ticket regardless of any question of law or technicality to the end that the people themselves might decide the issue.

"Judge Blair refused to take a broad view on the subject, refused to let my name go upon the ticket, but he and his friends did everything that they could do to keep my name off the ticket. Not only did he and his friends use influence upon individual committeemen and brought pressure to bear upon them, but the Honorable P. H. Dougherty, his brother-in-law, a splendid young lawyer of the Bell County Bar, appeared before the committee at Goldthwaite in behalf of Judge Blair and fought in his behalf to keep my name off the ticket. The only reason that Judge Blair and his friends offered justifying the action of the committee in keeping my name off, which they strenuously urged, was that I had failed to comply with the law, that the law be strictly construed, that the very letter of the law must be followed, and that because the law said that the application shall be filed before the first Monday in June, therefore my name should not go on the ticket.

"That was their own construction of the law. I presume that they will stand by the construction of the law that they themselves placed upon it.

"A philosopher said that, 'He who sows to the winds will reap the whirlwinds;' so mote it be.

"It now appears that Judge Mallory B. Blair's application to have his name placed upon the ticket is defective in this, that it does not state his age.

"Article 3098 of Revised Statutes of Texas provides that any person who desires his name to appear upon official ballot as a candidate for the nomination for state office of such party shall file his written request, that his name be placed upon such ballot as a candidate for such state office as he desires, giving his age and occupation, the county of his residence and his post-office address, which shall be signed by him and acknowledged.

"Article 3100 of said Statutes provides that any person desiring his name to appear upon the official ballot as a candidate for District Judge, where the district is composed of more than one county, shall file with the chairman of the executive committee for the district the request prescribed in this chapter, (Article 3098 which provides that he shall state his age.)

"Now article 1671, which prescribes the qualifications of district judges, provides that he shall be at least twenty-five years of age in order to qualify as district judge. Chapter 13 on page 17 of the general laws of the state of Texas passed by the Thirty-sixth legislature prohibits the placing of any person's name by any party or committee upon the primary or official ballots, who is not eligible under the laws and constitution of this state to hold the office for which he applies.

"Now if they denied my name a place upon the ticket because I had failed to comply strictly with the letter of the law and filed my application a couple or three days after the time designated by law for the filing of same, then by what right do they place Judge Blair's name upon the official ticket? They say it is important to comply with every provision of the law. I said that only in essential things where some wrong had been done or some injustice would result, or some right be denied, was it necessary to follow the strict letter of the law and that I thought that the law should be construed both liberally and reasonably to the end that elections be fair and that the people should have an opportunity to vote upon all the candidates.

"However, Judge Blair's oversight and the defect in his application seems to be much more serious than my failure with reference to filing in time. It is necessary that the committee determine before they place a candidate's name upon a ticket that he is not ineligible to serve in the office that he seeks, therefore the law requires he state his age as to state and district offices in order that the committee determine whether or not he is constitutional age and possesses the necessary qualifications for the office he seeks. The only means that the committee has of determining these are the facts stated in the application. Therefore the committee, left with no guide, can not do its duty as prescribed by law, to wit: determine the qualifications of the officers, hence the on Judge Blair's part or his oversight on his part, may prove a fatal defect.

Who started this fight and that does not matter. I am here to stay, and the fight has to be fought. The people shall choose their district judge. I can not permit myself to tend to my many friends sincere appreciation for their loyal support of my cause.

"Respectfully submitted,

F.

Events of the next few days will determine whether a general railroad strike will be called to hasten action by the Railroad Labor Board, leaders have announced. The purpose of the tour is to give the young Texans an opportunity to see and study at first hand the best methods of the most successful farming areas of the United States.

Applications are now being made by schools for money under the rural aid law. The amount now being received from this source is determined by the financial condition of the school; if it has money enough to meet all demands, it can not obtain aid. With the apportionment per capita increased some $5 per pupil, unless salaries are increased, many schools will have enough money on hand to meet demands, and may not be eligible to receive aid. Increases in salary, it is understood, will be considered sufficient ground for granting rural aid to schools. The High School Division of the State Department of Education holds that effective high school work can not be done where teachers are underpaid, and the salaries paid teachers and length of term of the school are taken into consideration in regard to classification and affiliation.

Already there is complaint of too much commercialism in the church, although this complaint is usually registered by those who do not contribute contributions freeheartedly. Under conditions that were more primitive than those of the present, it was proper to affirm that salvation was free. It is still free, as for that, but when a church gets to that point of overorganization, where the pastor becomes an official collecting agent and the members begin absenting themselves from the service when they know there is a drive on—when the time comes that the money side seems to the poorer members the main side of the church—then it is questionable if the church is doing more good than harm. A church may be extending itself too far when it begins to transform its communicants into uncheerful givers.—State Press in Dallas News.

The famous committee of forty-eight issuing a statement that the Republican party offered the big issues of the day, proposed a ticket and the committee will meet in Chicago July 10 for the selection of candidates. JUDGE F. M. SPANN IN RACE TO STAY.

Spann Issues Statement to the Voters of the District and Raises a Serious Question as to Blair's Right to Place on the Official Ballot. Text of the Statement.

(Temple Telegram.)

Raising a serious question as to the right of Mallory B. Blair to have his name on the official ticket, because in filing his application he had failed, it was charged, to state his age, Judge F. M. Spann issued a statement to the voters of the district yesterday saying that he is in the race to stay.

Judge Spann alleged that his name was kept off the ticket through the refusal of Judge Blair to "take a broad view on the subject" and ask the committee to permit it to go on, and then charged Judge Blair with overlooking a more serious technicality in the matter than he himself had overlooked in failing to file his application before the required time.

Judge Spann's signed statement follows:

"To the People of the 27th Judicial District: I made my appeal to the committees of the democratic party in the three counties of this district to place my name upon the ballot to the end that the people, as is their right in the full exercise of their franchise at the ballot box, might select their district judge. I believed then, and I believe now, that legally, rightfully and justly, my name as a candidate should be placed upon the ballot, but my appeal failed. Two of these committees refused to place my name upon the official ballot, refused under guise of strict construction of the law, a mere technicality, to allow the people their inherent right to select the judge of their district court.

I now appeal from the committees whose actions in barring my name from the ticket, to all intents and purposes, amounts to nothing more or less than the committees themselves attempting to select the next district judge of this district and denying the right of the people in making the selection. I say I appeal from such action to the people themselves.

"And in so doing I want to announce that the people shall determine who shall be their district judge and that whoever is the next district judge shall be so, not by the action of any committee, but by virtue of having received a majority of the votes cast at a legal election.

"I announce that I am still a candidate. That the real fight for the sovereignty of the people's rights has just opened and that I am in the fight to the finish. I appeal to every forward looking citizen who believes in fair play and a square deal to join me in this fight. While incidentally it is my fight because I have been denied the right to get my name on the ticket, after all, it is the fight of the people to maintain their right in free elections to select their officers.

"The committees of Bell and Lampasas counties refused to put my name on the ticket because the law said that I should file my application on or before the first Monday in June, or the 7th of June, and that because I filed my application on the 9th or 10th of June that it is too late, that my name could not go on the ticket and the people were denied the right to decide whether they would have Judge Blair or myself for the next district judge. Clearly this was a strict construction, a valuable right was denied to the people on a mere technicality.

"I stated to the committees that if Judge Blair had failed to file before the first Monday in June and I had filed before that time that I would agree that his name should be placed upon the ticket regardless of any question of law or technicality to the end that the people themselves might decide the issue.

"Judge Blair refused to take a broad view on the subject, refused to let my name go upon the ticket, but he and his friends did everything that they could do to keep my name off the ticket. Not only did he and his friends use influence upon individual committeemen and brought pressure to bear upon them, but the Honorable P. H. Dougherty, his brother-in-law, a splendid young lawyer of the Bell County Bar, appeared before the committee at Goldthwaite in behalf of Judge Blair and fought in his behalf to keep my name off the ticket. The only reason that Judge Blair and his friends offered justifying the action of the committee in keeping my name off, which they strenuously urged, was that I had failed to comply with the law, that the law be strictly construed, that the very letter of the law must be followed, and that because the law said that the application shall be filed before the first Monday in June, therefore my name should not go on the ticket.

"That was their own construction of the law. I presume that they will stand by the construction of the law that they themselves placed upon it.

"A philosopher said that, 'He who sows to the winds will reap the whirlwinds;' so mote it be.

"It now appears that Judge Mallory B. Blair's application to have his name placed upon the ticket is defective in this, that it does not state his age.

"Article 3098 of Revised Statutes of Texas provides that any person who desires his name to appear upon official ballot as a candidate for the nomination for state office of such party shall file his written request, that his name be placed upon such ballot as a candidate for such state office as he desires, giving his age and occupation, the county of his residence and his post-office address, which shall be signed by him and acknowledged.

"Article 3100 of said Statutes provides that any person desiring his name to appear upon the official ballot as a candidate for District Judge, where the district is composed of more than one county, shall file with the chairman of the executive committee for the district the request prescribed in this chapter, (Article 3098 which provides that he shall state his age.)

"Now article 1671, which prescribes the qualifications of district judges, provides that he shall be at least twenty-five years of age in order to qualify as district judge. Chapter 13 on page 17 of the general-laws of the state of Texas passed by the Thirty-sixth legislature prohibits the placing of any person's name by any party or committee upon the primary or official ballots, who is not eligible under the laws and constitution of this state to hold the office for which he applies.

"Now if they denied my name a place upon the ticket because I had failed to comply strictly with the letter of the law and filed my application a couple or three days after the time designated by law for the filing of same, then by what right do they place Judge Blair's name upon the official ticket? "However, Judge Blair's oversight and the defect in his application seems to be much more serious than my failure with reference to filing in time. It is necessary that the committee determine before they place a candidate's name upon a ticket that he is not ineligible to serve in the office that he seeks, therefore the law requires that he state his age as to state and district offices in order that the committee may determine whether or not he is of constitutional age and possesses the statutory qualifications for the office he seeks. The only means that the committee has of determining these facts are the facts stated in the application, therefore the committee, left without a guide, can not do its duty as prescribed by law, to wit: determine the qualifications of the officers, hence the failure on Judge Blair's part or rather the oversight on his part, may prove to be a fatal defect.

Who started this fight anyhow? Oh, that does not matter. I am in the fight to stay, and the fight has just started. The people shall choose their next district judge. I can not pass without extending to my many friends my sincere appreciation for their devoted and loyal support of my candidacy.

"Respectfully submitted,
F. M. SPANN."

COTTON SHOULD BE THICK ON THE GROUND.

One of the best pieces of work done by the experiment stations in recent years has been in working out the question of the best distance to give cotton in order to get best yields. A remarkable thing about all this testimony is its unanimity, practically all the stations agreeing as to what spacing gives best returns.

Col. R. J. Redding, of the Georgia Station, did pioneer work in the field, and his results, obtained 15 and 20 years ago, have been quite in line with the later results of the other stations. With the coming of the boll weevil, it was at first thought that a change in cotton spacing practices would be necessary, but it has now been pretty definitely established that the spacing that gave best results before the coming of the weevil will also give the best yields under weevil conditions.

Briefly, the experience of our experiment stations and best cotton growers has shown that close spacing is best. This is true, practically regardless of soil types or varieties grown. As an illustration, cotton at the Mississippi Delta Station, on rich alluvial lands, has consistently yielded best when planted in narrow rows and closely spaced in the drill.

I have tried out wide and close spacing on a sandy loam soil for a number of years, and have concluded that wide spacing means decidedly smaller yields. My aim now on hand that will make a bale per acre under average conditions is to plant in three foot rows and leave the cotton a hoe's width in the drill. This talk of spacing the cotton wide to let the sunshine kill the weevil may sound all right, but in actual practice it won't go. If the reader doubts my statement, let him try close spacing this year. Three-foot rows and a hoe's width in the drill is now my rule.—B. L. Moss, in The Progressive Farmer.

JUDGE F. M. SPANN'S NAME LEFT OFF OFFICIAL BALLOTS ON ACCOUNT TECHNICALITY

The Democratic executive committees of Lampasas and Bell counties in their meetings Monday ruled to leave the name of Judge F. M. Spann from the official ballot, it is reported.

The report has it that through an oversight Judge Spann failed to file his application by the 7th of June, which is the time set for all district candidates to file, but waited until about the 10th, or two or three days late.

Chairman of the Mills County Democratic executive committee, Hon. Jno. W. Roberts, in the interest of fairness, brought the matter of the oversight to Judge Spann immediately after the time limit was up. Judge Spann filed with all possible haste, his application arriving on June 10. Mr. Roberts invited Judge Spann to have representation at the executive meeting for the purpose of settling the question as to whether his name should appear on the official ballot in this county. Representative J. C. Darroch and Judge Anderson acted for Judge Spann in this matter. Judge Blair, Mr. Spann's opponent in the race, was represented here it is reported, by his brother-in-law, P. H. Dougherty, of Lampasas.

After discussing the question, Chairman Roberts placed it before the committee for a vote. The vote cast was 8 to 1 in favor of placing Judge Spann's name on the Mills county ticket.

Chairman Roberts and the other members of the executive committee are to be highly complimented on their liberal construction of the law and their broad-mindedness in allowing the people to decide their choice for district Judge.

MERRY WIVES ENTERTAINED.

Mrs. J. A. Gillespie entertained the Merry Wives of Goldthwaite and a few invited guests on Wednesday afternoon, in compliment to Mrs. W. H. Trent, who will leave Sunday night for an extended trip through Arizona and California.

The sunflower, chosen floral emblem of the Merry Wives, was used for adornment of the spacious living room of the Gillespie home.

Forty-two formed diversion. Mrs. Clarence Chester Elrod received the high score trophy, and Mrs. W. H. Trent the honoree's prize. The score cards were hand painted sunbonnet boys and girls and formed beautiful souvenirs of a delightful afternoon filled with the glow of sunflowers and the warmth of hospitality, which Mrs. Gillespie made all present feel.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. J. H. Randolph, served a delicious salad course at the conclusion of the game.

Those present were the Merry Wives, Mrs. T. A. Lampton, Mrs. G. B. Swain, Miss Lawrence Thompson, Mrs. C. C. Elrod of Siloam Springs, Ark, Mrs. John Little, Mrs. Joe Palmer and Mrs. J. C. Street.

POMPEY CREEK SCHOOL VOTES $4,000.00 SCHOOL BOND ISSUE

Recently the Pompey Creek school district voted on and carried a bond issue of $4,000 for the purpose of building a school house and meeting the advanced prices of schooling. This school district had already voted a 5th school tax. Hereafter this school will be a three-teacher school and first-class in every respect.

The citizens of that community are progressive people and recognize the value of a good school and a pleasant school house.

Mrs. Sam Peebles and little daughter came in Friday morning for a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Johnston, and other relatives.

BOYS WANTING POLAND CHINA PIGS SHOULD SEE MR. WEAVER

The first order for big bone Poland China pigs for the club boys will be made in a few days. All boys who have not talked with me about membership should call or write me at once if they desire to get a pig now. Prospects for a good crop of corn are flattering and this is the logical time to enter the pig club. In this order we will be glad to include any one wanting good pigs.
Should you desire any other breed, we can help you get what you prefer.

Many wool and mohair growers have asked for information and we are ready at all times to render such assistance as we are able, but without an organization we can do very little for them.
If the growers will form an organization it will be an easy matter to get an estimate of the amount of the product being held and ask buyers to come and make bids when the market opens. An organization will be helpful in many ways other than in marketing. If the growers are interested in organization they may confer with me and name a date for a meeting.

J. W. Dunn, secretary of the Texas Pecan Growers Association, has been requested to come to Mills county and assist the growers in forming a local.
The object of the association is to secure better nuts, to provide for grading, and promote top working and the propagation of better varieties. Every grower in Mills county should meet Mr.
Dunn when he comes.

T. E. L. BIBLE CLASS.

The married women of the First Baptist church of Goldthwaite have organized a T. E. L. Bible class for more efficient work in the Bible school of the church.

The following officers were elected:
Teacher, Mrs. D. D. Kemper; president,
Mrs. G. A. Jarrett, first vice president, Mrs. Lindsey Ashley; second vice president, Mrs. G. W. Jackson; third vice president, Mrs. Jim Wilcox; secretary,
Mrs. Marvin Rudd; treasurer, Mrs. Hez
Cobb; reporter, Mrs. C. L. Stephens.

We have an enrollment of twenty-two members, and all married women of the church are supposed to be members of the T. E. L. Class. Although we expect to solicit each individual and secure personal consent from each one and herby have the strongest and most enthusiastic class in the church, we are planning to do things in a beautiful and systematical way.

"T" is for Timothy, which represents the children of the mothers of the church. "E" is for Eunice, which represents the mothers of the church.
"L" is for Lois, which represents the grandmothers of the church who are unable to attend all the church services on account of their age or ill health.
Bless their dear old hearts, they are still here to help train the Timothies in the way of the Lord. We kindly and sincerely invite all mothers (in and around Goldthwaite who will) to come to our T. E. L. Class at 10 o'clock each Sabbath morning. Your presence will be an inspiration to the class and we will try to be a help to you. So come along and we will do each other good. We certainly have a dear good teacher whom we all love and appreciate. Sister Kemper is known over our town as one capable and consecrated.

J. A. AUSTIN'S DEATH.

Mr. Editor:
I noticed in my Fort Worth paper an account of the death of my old friend, J. A. Austin of Brownwood. He was once an honored citizen of Goldthwaite, and I would like to call attention to an indispensable service which he has rendered our county. Mr. Austin and Major Trent established the first bank in Mills county, known as the First National Bank. I well remember the first check I ever received on Major D. H. Trent. It was when J. A. Austin had charge of the "Red" dry goods store, situated where Jones & Hurdle are now in business. I had sold a bunch of steers to A. B. C. Perkins of Hamilton county, and he gave me a check on Major Trent. I was told to take the check to the Red Store and get my money. Mr. Austin was standing behind the counter when I entered the store. After stating my business, he walked to his safe, over which was hanging a red curtain, and gave me
the money.

He was always kind and courteous in dealings, and the simple method he originated of cashing checks in his store has now grown into one of the strongest banks in West Texas, known as the Trent State Bank.

CENTER CITY NEWS.

Editor Eagle:

Just to let the people know that this place still exists. Everybody is busy in their crops when the weather permits. We are having lots of rain and prospects for good crops are fine.

To our sorrow last Tuesday evening
Dr. Snodgrass of Star had to be called to the home of Ed Reeves to see his little son, Diamond, who we hope will soon be well.

Joe and Al Langford made a trip to the river after fruit Tuesday.

We are glad to have Bradley Lee back home. He has been away quite a while at work.

Quite a number of our people attended singing at North Bennett last Sunday evening; reported some fine singing.

We had Rev. Long with us Saturday and Sunday with a good crowd in attendance. Next Sunday Rev. Speck of Goldthwaite will preach here in our school house at 3 o'clock. Everybody come.

Mrs. Lottie Langford has gone on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Barr.

A. N. Morris and daughter, Miss Nettie, made a business trip to Goldthwaite
one day this week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Langford returned last week from Lampasas, where Mr.
Langford has been taking treatment from a specialist. He is improving fast.

Harvey Morris has been on the sick list, but is improving now.

Miss Amber Langford spent Saturday night and Sunday with the Misses Me-Millian. They were among the number that attended singing at North Bennett.
Reported a nice time.

Miss Pearl Casbeer, one of our accomplished young ladies, will leave soon for Brownwood, where she will attend school this summer.

We are glad that one of our young ladies will be one of the teachers at Goldthwaite. We are sure Miss Johnnie Bell Harrison will give good satisfaction.

Guess I'd better quit and give room for better writers than I.

TEMPLE BOOSTERS.

The Temple Mirror, in its writeup of the Booster visit to Goldthwaite, had following to say:
Goldthwaite, all hail to Goldthwaite. Spirit prevailing at Goldthwaite most expressed in the words of its W. L. Jones: I take this opportunity to welcome you, Temple Visitors, to our home town. Our town is at your service. As mayor of the city, I promise you, that if any of you get in jail, will come up and turn you out. (Applause.) I am like the fellow from Texas who was up in Ohio, where he patiently listened to much talk about a certain dead man, and finally spoke up and said, "I don't know anything about this dead man, I never knew him or any of his folks, but I want to take this opportunity of telling you something about Texas." I want to tell you about Goldthwaite. Our town is in your hands, is at your service, dinner is at your disposal, and if there is anything else that we can do for you, just let us know what it is. I understand we have a corps of singers with you, and after dinner is served I hope to hear them sing. (Applause.)
Mrs. S. Cox of the boosters responded:

To describe in fitting terms the table that the ladies of Goldthwaite set for us would be like taking a globe too large to grasp. At first we wondered why the seats were removed from the table, but the reason of this was soon made manifest, and demonstrated the necessity of moving the table back.

The Goldthwaite National Bank served most delightful punch, and pinned on each a flower, with an added note of welcome to Goldthwaite and invitation to return.

Dr. O. F. Gober and G. V. Brindley and Superintendent K. S. Hull were guests of Dr. J. M. Campbell while at Goldthwaite. Dr. Campbell had early in the morning gone to Lake Hull and caught an abundance of fish for the occasion.

At Mullin Reverend W. B. Watson, pastor of the First Baptist church, welcomed us. He said: On behalf of the little city I am glad to welcome you gentlemen on this occasion, and in doing this I wish to assure you that you have our best wishes in all your attempts to bring about closer business relations between the people of our city and the surrounding country and the city from which you come. The only real objection that we people have to Temple as a business center is its tremendous remoteness from Mullin. Perhaps by wise management and hard work you will be able to overcome that difficulty and bring about closer business relations between the people of our city and the people in what we think is the best county in Texas, and Temple again I say we welcome you to our city. If you have any good advice to give us we are ready to listen to it. If you have any money you want to lose, we are ready to take that. Visitors you are welcome. (Applause.)

WOMEN GIVE OUT.
Housework is hard enough when healthy. Every Goldthwaite woman who is having backache, blue and nervous spells, dizzy headaches and kidney or bladder troubles, should be glad to heed this Goldthwaite experience:
Mrs. N. B. Allen says: "About two years ago I was so bad off with kidney trouble, I couldn't get out of the bed without help. The pains I endured were severe and I had headaches that were so bad I could hardly see. It felt like pins and needles going through my head. I was so nervous I would jump at the least noise and everything would irritate me. I would get so dizzy at times, everything would turn black in front of me and I would have to catch on to something, as I was afraid I would fall. I had a lot of trouble with the action of my kidneys, which was irregular and my hands and feet would swell twice their size. I went through this suffering until I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and got some at Clements' Drug Store. I believe I took five boxes of Doan's. After I finished the first box I could see the swelling go down and my back started to get strong and my kidneys were regulated, too. Five boxes entirely cured me."

HOW STRANGE!

To the Eagle:

The president has discovered that the United States really has a constitution. He recently vetoed the budget bill passed by the last congress and gave as his reason that the bill was unconstitutional in that it would not permit the president to remove certain appointive officials whom he had the right to appoint. It is really refreshing to know, after the long period of completely ignoring this ancient and wise fundamental law of the land (the constitution), that the president should admit that the document is still extant and that he intends to recognize its authority. Strange, though, that he only remembers this fundamental law of the land when seeking an excuse for vetoing a piece of legislation that has long been demanded and that is supposed to be of great benefit to the country in reducing and keeping a comprehensive tab on the public expenditures of the nation. Is it better to respect the president's rights under the constitution to remove one of his appointees than to respect the rights of the people to have a comprehensive accounting system by which it might be possible to reduce, slightly, the burdens of taxation which are now pressing heavily upon us?

I have about come to the conclusion that no one has rights under the constitution but the president, as he has never been known to invoke the authority of this wonderful document as an excuse for saving the rights of the people.

Now, if the president is right about the unconstitutionality of this measure, how could he have lost the right to the executive to remove one of his appointees if the constitution guaranteed to him that right? We all know that that part of any act which contradicts the constitution can not stand. But, surely the whole act must not fail because some minor or incidental implication of the language used would give this minor or collateral implication a suspicious appearance of unconstitutionality.

If the president had been as zealous of the rights of the people under the constitution as he has been of the rights of the executive, we would have been a happier and better governed nation. But in truth and in fact, up to the time the president vetoed this bill because of its unconstitutionality, I thought the constitution, like our ancient and wise American traditions, had become completely obliterated from the mind of our executive. But, lo and behold, he still remembers it when he wants an excuse for vetoing a great and long desired measure and excuses the veto by claiming unconstitutionality in one of the minor implications of the act. Oh ye gods and small politicians, remember ye this, that none have rights under our constitution but the president of the United States.
A. J. HARRISON.

FORMER MULLIN EDITOR TELLS OF HIS EXPERIENCES THERE

A recent issue of the Kyle News tells of the experiences at Mullin of the editor, T. F. Harwell, along in 1900:

For fourteen months we stayed with the good people of Milburn, then moved, hundred dollar plant and all, to Mullin, Mills county, arriving there with three and a half dollars and enough paper for three issues, and had to pay fifty cents to the boy who drove the wagon for us. We fared a little better at Mullin than at Milburn—managed to drag along two and a half years. Here the editor probably had the strongest friends and the bitterest enemies of his life. Prohibition was a local issue for the last year—a mean fight—and he was even accused of setting fire to a saloon which was burned. But those who brought the accusation knew who kindled the fire all right. We lost the election but got rid of the saloon as the proprietor couldn't collect his insurance and could not re-open. While only able to eke out a bare existence, not a living, we hated to leave Mullin, we did so much appreciate the friendship of our friends. And to the same degree did we appreciate the enmity of our enemies. In March, 1905, we left Mullin and on April 10 the same year, the Kyle News was established.

HORSE BADLY CUT BY FALL

Specialist's Prescription Prevents Complication.

In telling of the accident to his horse, Mr. Luther Carman of Valley Park, Mo., stated: "My horse fell down and cut his knees all up. I dressed them with Dr. LeGear's Antiseptic Healing Powder and they are healing fine. It is a wonderful remedy for healing sores on horses."

Mr. Carman is simply voicing the sentiments of hundreds of others who feel that having Dr. LeGear's personal prescriptions on hand at all times is nearly as good as having Dr. LeGear where they could reach him in a few minutes.

Wounds and sores must be taken care of immediately. Get a can of Dr. LeGear's Antiseptic Healing Powder from your dealer. Dust on enough of it to cover the wound or sore. It forms a protection against insects and infection and promotes healthy healing.

Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Every family should keep this preparation at hand ready for instant use when needed. Severe attacks of colic and cholera morbus often prove fatal before medicine can be procured or a physician summoned. The uniform success that has attended the use of this remedy and the prompt cures which it has effected has made it a staple article of trade.

LET OLD BELL PEAL AGAIN

Suggestion for the Rejuvenation of the Historic Tocsin that Rang Out Liberty's Triumph.

Shall the Liberty bell ring out once more? Ever since 1843 it has remained mute—and for good reason.

The original bell was cast in England in 1752, and was cracked soon after it was brought to America.

A Smaller Bell Inside of the Liberty Bell Could Be Rung.

was recast in Philadelphia, more copper being put into the composition. But it cracked again while being tolled in memory of Chief Justice John Marshall in 1835.

Here is a suggestion. Why not place within the Liberty bell a second smaller bell which can be rung? The proportions of the original bell permit of this, and it will be, in fact, a cover or jacket for the sound-giving bell.

OUR FOURTH OR JULY EDITION.

On this day, July 4, just 144 years ago, was the birth of these United States of America. Throughout the country—practically throughout the whole world—this day is celebrated as the day of the birth of freedom.

We think Mills county is the best county in the state and we know that she has the cleanest citizenship of any. She has always been jam up on nerve and endurance and now she is coming into her own with the bountiful crops.

For the success of this edition we wish to thank the business and professional men of the city for their liberality in advertising.

We have tried to make this edition so interesting that every person in the county will file this particular paper away—for a guide.

This one is—to the best of our knowledge and belief—the first edition of any special feature in Mills county. Consequently, we found it impossible to make it as complete as it could have been.

WILLIAM E. MILLER.

William Earl Miller, president of the Goldthwaite National Bank, was born at Whitesboro, Texas. His father was Rev. Noah Miller, a Baptist preacher. His mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, was a Miss Tabor before she married. W. E. Miller was raised at Whitesboro and Ladonia, Texas. At Ladonia he attended the Featherston Institute, then the leading educational institution of North Texas. He also attended the public and high schools of Ladonia. When he was about fifteen years old, he was elected superintendent of the Baptist Sunday school and was re-elected for several years afterward until he went off to college.

Deciding that he would like to be a teacher, he attended the State Normal school at Huntsville, Texas, where he graduated with honors. He was elected president of the Normal Alumni Association. The night of the Annual Banquet, while he was acting as Master of Ceremonies, he announced the toasts and called on Governor Ross, State Superintendent Cooper, President Bald-

HOW STRANGE!

To the Eagle:

The president has discovered that the United States really has a constitution. He recently vetoed the budget bill passed by the last congress and gave as his reason that the bill was unconstitutional in that it would not permit the president to remove certain appointive officials whom he had the right to appoint. It is really refreshing to know, after the long period of completely ignoring this ancient and wise fundamental law of the land (the constitution), that the president should admit that erection of a school building. This building was not only provided with a large auditorium and stage sufficient to accommodate the public, but every school room was electrically connected with the superintendent's office and a code of signals mastered so the entire school could be regulated like clock work.

But like ninety per cent of the teachers, he concluded not to make teaching a life work. He, therefore, decided to go into the banking business. But before doing so, he went to San Antonio to learn the banking business so that he might lay the foundation for a safe and successful bank.

In 1901 he came to Goldthwaite and organized the Goldthwaite National Bank and has been president of this institution ever since. He and the bank have been so closely identified with the upbuilding of Goldthwaite and Mills county that when you think of one you think of the other. When you think of our elegant court house, our beautiful depot, our high school building, the Star high school building, the Hotel Saylor, the romantic Lake Merritt, etc., you can think of the Goldthwaite National Bank as either financing or acting as financial depository for them while the buildings, etc., were being constructed.

This bank now has the distinction

CONSTRUCTION Adds to the WEALTH

of the Baptist Sunday school, at Goldthwaite for several years and perhaps the first president of the Baptist Young People's Union here. He was also president of the Goldthwaite Commercial Club the year they chartered a special car for a courteous visit to San Saba at the opening of the railroad there.

During the World War, Mr. Miller was the first man appointed to organize the Red Cross for Mills county. He was county chairman of the following campaigns: First Liberty Loan, Armenian Relief Fund, Young Men's Christian Association, Young Women's Christian Association, National Catholic War Council, The Jewish Welfare Board, War Camp Community Service, The American Library Association, The Salvation Army, West Texas Chamber of Commerce, World War History for Mills County.

During the war, Mr. Miller was perhaps the largest individual buyer of Liberty Bonds in Mills county and his bank the largest buyer of any bank in the county.

For the encouragement of the boys who may read this, Mr. Miller wishes to state that next to the good influence of his parents and Christianity, the most powerful influence on his life was when he, as a boy, joined the Good Templars. He has always lived faithful to the vow and there is not

Margaret Woodrow Wilson at Brownwood which caused her to stop off at Goldthwaite in order that our citizens and especially the school children might have the pleasure of seeing the "President's Daughter." It has always been a part of his life's work and a pleasure to encourage the young men and young ladies to a higher education and to furnish them funds for this purpose whenever necessary.

In regard to his views on Mills county and Goldthwaite, Mr. Miller agrees with many others in thinking this is one of the best, all-around counties in the state. On account of its various soils, hills and valleys, etc., it is almost proof against a complete failure like some counties. Even if the general crops are cut short by dry weather, there are still other resources like cattle, horses, mules, goats, sheep, hogs, honey, pecans, and fish, etc., to tide us over till another good year. He also thinks the lands in this county are much cheaper than similar lands in other counties. He, therefore, extends a cordial invitation to people in other towns and counties, wishing to better themselves, to locate either in Goldthwaite, the city beautiful and prosperous and with great opportunities, or somewhere else in Mills county, the coming prosperous county of West Texas.

CORPUS CHRISTI.

Mr. Editor:

The weekly visits of the Eagle with letters from friends help your scribe to stick to the opinion that this is still a good world to live in. I am certainly proud to hear through letters from friends that you have such fine crop prospects in Mills county. May the good work go on until another bumper crop will reward the hard-fisted yeomanry for every minute of work in said crops. I am hooked up at present with an old red-headed Kentuckian who was raised in the same county I was but now a citizen of Corpus Christi. We have a boat and the gray dawn of the early morning finds us with poles and shrimp-roping to where we think the probable schools of speckled trout may be waiting to make a strike. They sometimes baffle our skill by steering clear of the baited hook. Whether it's because the wind is in the wrong direction or we forget to spit on the bait, they pass us up. The Mexicans have their shrimp platform out over the water where they cast their shrimp at night and the catch often runs into the thousands of pounds. One fish-house company shipped by express fifty barrels of shrimp one day last week. The shrimp seems to be the natural bait for most all fish, especially the trout. There are trout, red fish, hogfish, croakers, perch, blowfish, dogfish, stingrays, tarpon, catfish, drums, porpoise, cow-fish, shads and others all in the same puddle, some of them so large as to break lines and poles, going on their way as if they were not made to be caught. It is nothing unusual to see 25 or 30 boats out in the early morning with men and women all hoping to be the one to make the largest catch. Quite a few men wade and fish, which is often the successful way.

A normal school for teachers opened here this morning and the town will be full of teachers for the next six weeks. While talking about teachers, our Mills county girls (the three Misses Pickens of Mullin) who taught near Corpus made good the last term, and all of them have closed contracts with increased salaries for another year. We have heard good reports from Carmen Jones, who taught near here last term and is employed at a fine salary for the next school year. You must allow the writer to call attention to these young people, telling how proud he is to do so, as they were all members of the S. S. class at Mullin. It is no trouble for well-behaved, intelligent, studious young people to find employment.

We were truly glad to note the verdict of the jury in Mrs. Henry Ivy's suit and hope she will have no further trouble in the collection of same.

Say, Bro. L. L. Hays, my address is H. C. Cobb, Corpus Christi, General Delivery, with post to sender as follows; (viz.) Time 10 minutes, paper, envelopes and stamps, 3 1-2 cents; total 13 1-2 cents, counting time at 1 cent per minute. A hint to the wise should be sufficient. I am not begging for any further correspondence, but to keep you from calling off that "two-weeks' visit due you from me I thought best to inform you our friendship is extended another six months from July 1, 1920.

The unjust steward was commended for making to himself friends that when he was finally turned out a shelter, with something to eat, would not be overlooked. If you don't see the point get W. C. Dew to interpret. Preachers sometimes fail in their interpretations of the sayings and doings of the laity and it's wisdom to have some one of ability and willingness at our command. No extra charge for this.

Any person who reads this letter will be amply rewarded if they can intelligently give the whereabouts of N. J. Tyson and J. H. Wilson. The last heard of they were living in Mullin, Mills county, Texas. Valuable information is in store for them, and I am sure when found and notified of same, they will pay all rewards. Please don't call on the writer for rewards as parties (if found) are able to pay all expenses. Some inquiries on record in the police directories in regard to one J. L. Burkett, but as we are not authorized to push this case we turn same over to Hon. J. L. Farmer, the duly elected representative of the Casey backed-up, whittling and talking club of Mullin. It is not our business to entertain but merely to locate these fugitives, and report same to higher authorities. If J. H. Randolph is still loafing around Mullin, his advice and level-headed counsel might be sought in these cases and valuable wise information be freely obtained. Keep in touch with your great men and abide by their wise, unselfish decisions. Unless there can be a check put on the careless, unthoughtful downward trend of our civilization, the results may prove alarming. With these sad meditations on the fall of man we ask to be excused for the present.

F. P. BOWMAN.

Mr. C. T. Bowman and Mrs. L. E. Bowman are the parents of F. P. Bowman, who was born at Star, Mills county, Texas, on November 11, 1885. Mr. Bowman spent his early childhood at Star, and has also lived in Mullin, from which place he came to Goldthwaite January 1, 1914, and was county attorney of Mills county from 1914 to 1918.

On June 19, 1916, F. P. Bowman was married to Miss Marjorie Taylor, and to them have been born two children—Virginia Mae Bowman, and Clara M. Bowman.

During his lifetime Mr. Bowman has been engaged in farming, teaching school and practicing law, and is now in the latter business. He commenced teaching school in 1908.

Mr. Bowman has attended the University of Texas and the Denton Normal, graduating from the latter in 1908. He owns a residence in this city.

When asked his opinion about the present and future of Goldthwaite and Mills county, Mr. Bowman said:

"Any man who believes he is not in the best county and best state in the world, ought, in justice to himself, to move. I believe this. But I have no intention or desire to move out of Mills county. I am satisfied here. The people here are a satisfied people. Practically all of them are home owners, making a good living, happy and prosperous. Mills county raises quantities of grain, cotton, and produce, of greater value per capita than that of surrounding counties. Closer co-operation between the buyers and sellers could and would make better markets. We must have it. There ought to be no animosity between the towns and the country. All are inhabited by the same free-born American citizens, all having the same end in view, to live lives that will be of value to some one. The future of Mills county is bright for good roads, churches and schools. At the present rate, it will not be long until a majority of the schools will be levying a 50-cent tax, the limit. Everywhere the people are demanding and employing the best teachers, superintendents and school officers that can be obtained. The future of Mills county depends on our children. We are realizing this more every day, and building our strength on that foundation."

"United States of America."

The name was original with Jefferson, and appears in the final paragraph of the Declaration of Independence, as follows: "We, therefore, the representatives of the United States of America, in general congress assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the name of the good people of these colonies, solemnly publish and declare, that these colonies are, and a right ought to be free and independent states."

Made Jefferson Immortal.

The Declaration of Independence was drawn up by Thomas Jefferson, who was only thirty-three years old. This remarkable manifesto, into which it has been said Jefferson "poured the soul of a continent," was adopted as he had drawn it, with the exception of a few unimportant changes.

CLYDE D. LANE.

Clyde D. Lane, county clerk of Mills county, was born April 18, 1889, in the extreme southern part of Mills county. His father's and mother's names are Mr. A. V. Lane and Mrs. Mary E. Lane.

Clyde D. Lane spent his childhood on the Colorado river near the mouth of the San Saba, in Mills county, and has always lived in and around Goldthwaite. He attended school in the Goldthwaite High school and also at Gorman, Texas.

C. D. Lane was married to Miss Ella May Beshears on December 20, 1912. Mr. and Mrs. Lane have two children, Rosa Van and Mary Ebise.

Mr. Lane has worked himself from common laborer to school teacher, district clerk and he is now county clerk for Mills county.

Mr. Lane owns a residence in this city on Sixth and Reynolds streets.

When asked his opinion of the county and city, Mr. Lane said: "Goldthwaite has not progressed to a great extent in population, but cannot be excelled for cleanliness. I was born and raised in the county, and although I do not expect any great commercial gain, I prefer to spend my time with Mills county people. I prefer Goldthwaite because the people of the town and county are on the same level—there is no class distinction. There is but one class of people (the common class). Goldthwaite is the best grain and cotton market of any town its size in the state, and old Mills county always backs its town with the production. As for charity, the needy and unfortunate have and will always find a helping hand in Goldthwaite and throughout the county in general."

"I forged my way through school, what little schooling I received, after reaching the age of 20 years. Managed to obtain a teacher's certificate in 1912; taught school two years at Ridge, Texas; was elected District Clerk in 1914 and served in that trust for four years. In 1918, was elected to the office of county clerk of Mills county, where your humble servant now holds forth."

LEWIS J. GARTMAN.

Lewis J. Gartman was born May 22, 1884, in Rusk county; father, Mr. G. W. Gartman; mother, Mrs. S. F. Gartman. Mr. Gartman spent his childhood in Mills county. On July 3, 1912, he was married to Miss Jewel Daxton. Mr. and Mrs. Gartman have two beautiful little daughters, Evelyn Fay, and Nita Louise. Lewis Gartman came to Mills county in 1888, at the age of four years, coming with his parents from Rusk county. He lived on a farm until fifteen years old, when he entered the music business, in which business he has engaged ever since. He attended and graduated from the Goldthwaite High school.

Mr. Gartman at the present time, besides two farms and a residence in this city, owns one of the finest musical establishments in West Texas here, and also one at Brady. He knows the music business thoroughly, having entered it in Goldthwaite in 1900. He has had an important part in the upbuilding of Goldthwaite and Mills county, and has faith in the future prosperity of its citizens.

RESOURCES OF MILLS COUNTY.

By W. P. Weaver,
County Farm Demonstrator.

A variety of rich soil, mild climate, and accessibility to markets combine to give Mills county an important place among the agricultural counties of the Lone Star State. In days gone by little else than cotton was produced, but with the advent of the boll weevil, the difficulty in securing the necessary labor, and the unstable market, the farmer was forced to abandon the one crop and learn the lesson of diversification. Since the small farmer has raised more grain and feed-crops, and consequently, more and better livestock, he is more prosperous, is better able to distribute his available labor throughout the season, and has the opportunity to build up the fertility of his soil. This county is unexcelled for poultry raising. Poultry products contribute largely in keeping down the high cost of living. Thousands of noble bronze turkeys may be seen roaming over the open country. Beekeeping has proved to be so profitable that the county is dotted with apiaries. All kinds of vegetables and berries and many kinds of orchard fruits are grown in abundance for home consumption, while on the sandy soils watermelons are planted for a commercial crop.

Along the Colorado river and the various streams are found many groves of stately pecan trees containing some of the most excellent varieties in the world. Approved methods of selecting and propagating desirable varieties, top working and cultivation are being applied and the pecan is now recognized as a leading money crop.

In the early days the ranges supported numerous herds of horses and cattle and since the small land holders have become stock farmers and the number of herds of high grade cattle, sheep and goats have been greatly increased and many of these herds are headed by pure bred sows. However, there are yet thousands of acres of rough, brushy land that should be fenced to sheep, goat, and hog pasture. The owners of this land will never realize full returns until they do fence. While fencing material is high, it should not be forgotten that live stock is also bringing good prices. These lands if fenced would afford pasture on which thousands of sheep, goats and hogs could make a living and thereby help their owners make a living.

Flag of Washington

FOURTH OF JULY
1920

Ring the tuneful bells of Freedom,
Let their music float afar,
Look aloft and see our banner
Of the glorious stripe and star; Crowned with victory, bathed in splendor
Upon many a field of fame,
Heroes brave have died around it,
Each with an immortal name.

Neath its folds our fathers triumphed

In the valiant days of yore,
And in battles for their country
They that besetuous banner bore;
Not a star today is missing,
Not a stripe a tarnish knows,
As it waves in conscious splendor
From the sun lands to the snows.

Let our Eagle guard it ever
For the honor it has won,
As he bathes his noble pinions
In the light of Freedom's sun,
Proud to see his emblem floating
'Gainst the vaulted azure sky;
Hear him shriek his proud approval
Every fourth day of July.

On the land and on the ocean,
Far as human eye can see
Lips repeat the deathless story
Of the Banner of the Free;
Ere amid the storms of battle
Not a shame its glory mars;
And new nations wake to freedom
At the glitter of its stars.

Mirrored in our crystal rivers,
Sire sing from our mountain
peaks,
Loved by freemen for its beauty
It for Right and Homeland speaks;
Time will never dim its glory
While in heaven shines the sun;
Ever linked to song and story
Is the flag of WASHINGTON.

American's Creed

I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people, whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign Nation of many sovereign States; a perfect Union, one and inseparable, established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes. I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it; to support its Constitution; to obey its laws; to respect its flag, and to defend it against all enemies.

JAMES H. BORDEN.

James Hardin Borden was born April 20, 1881, in Greenville, Texas; his father's name is Tath Borden and his mother's name, Mary Weatherby. J. H. Borden spent his childhood in McLennan and Llano counties, and came to Goldthwaite May 4, 1900.

On December 23, 1903, Mr. Borden was married to Miss Ora E. Tomplen, and to them have been born one child, Edna Rosalie.

Mr. Borden has been engaged in stock farming and the grocery business, having commenced the latter business in Lone Grove, Texas, April 10, 1916. He is now engaged in the grocery business in Goldthwaite.

When asked what he thought of Mills county, Mr. Borden said: "While I am not in a position to know very much about the county and town, I don't see any reason why Mills county and Goldthwaite should not be one of the leading counties and towns in this section of the state. Let every man get hold of the wheel of progress and help make it such, and we will always be proud of it."

FAIRS SHOULD EDUCATE AS WELL AS AMUSE.

Every county or community should annually hold a fair that will give to those in attendance something more than a few fleeting hours of amusement. Fairs have too long been looked upon as closely akin to street carnivals, where one may go to while away a few hours of leisure or work-weary people may find diversion from the monotony of everyday life.

At many of our county fairs it has been customary to give $100 prizes to race horses and $25 prizes to champion beef bulls, or in other words, to spend the greater portion of the fair appropriation for amusement features and relegate the truly educational things such as stock and agricultural exhibits and judging to a position of minor importance. However, such fairs do not fully measure up to their opportunity for service, as the real purpose of a fair is to educate the people to the possibilities of the section by bringing together the best products of the land, so they may be judged and the reason for their excellence explained.

Fairs that are truly educational play a prominent part in helping along the cause of better farming, and we hope those in charge of our county and community fairs will exert themselves in making the fairs worth while.—The Progressive Farmer.

A. G. Huber, who is putting down several wells in San Saba county, was in Fort Worth Saturday. Huber is confident that a good pool will be brought in in his district. He reported that Sloan well No. 1, which he is drilling, was down 100 feet. Royal Duke No. 1, fifteen miles north of this well, obtained a gas showing the past week and the drilling is being pushed. Gray well No. 1 will have work renewed on it within a week, Huber reported. He also stated that two new test wells were to be started shortly seventeen miles south of Brownwood in Mills county.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

The people in Goldthwaite and all Mills county are the best on earth. Goldthwaite has a good school system. Her churches are of high standard. Goldthwaite is a safe town for business. The above is a picture of the Goldthwaite High school building.

This building was erected some years ago on the most advanced plan for the convenience and betterment of the public school. It is of concrete structure, being absolutely fire proof, and is built in such manner that the greatest possible amount of light will at all times fall into the study rooms.

In addition to this building, Goldthwaite has a very large Grammar school building, located near by. Both of these places of learning are a credit to the citizenship and prove the advancement of Mills county along educational lines. Goldthwaite has first-class school houses and first-class schools.

Over the county the schools have made rapid strides in the last few years, and many settlements are now building or preparing to build new and better school houses. Elsewhere will be found a summary of the work the schools of Mills county have been doing.

grocery and racket goods business in this city.

Mr. Lanford has been a member of the school board of the Goldthwaite independent school district, and has always and is still ready to do his part in the upbuilding of the town and county.

Here is what Mr. Lanford has to say about the town and county: "Goldthwaite is the best place on earth to live. The climate is delightful; the scenery surrounding is beautiful. The people in Goldthwaite and all Mills county are the best on earth. Goldthwaite has a good school system. Her churches are of high standard. Goldthwaite is a safe town for business. Our farmers devote a goodly portion of their time and attention to stock raising and by that means we have a flow of ready cash the year round."

This building was erected some years ago on the most advanced plan for the convenience and betterment of the public school. It is of concrete structure, being absolutely fire proof, and is built in such manner that the greatest possible amount of light will at all times fall into the study rooms.

In addition to this building, Goldthwaite has a very large Grammar school building, located near by. Both of these places of learning are a credit to the citizenship and prove the advancement of Mills county along educational lines. Goldthwaite has first-class school houses and first-class schools.

Over the county the schools have made rapid strides in the last few years, and many settlements are now building or preparing to build new and better school houses. Elsewhere will be found a summary of the work the schools of Mills county have been doing.

CHIMES THAT ARE HISTORIC

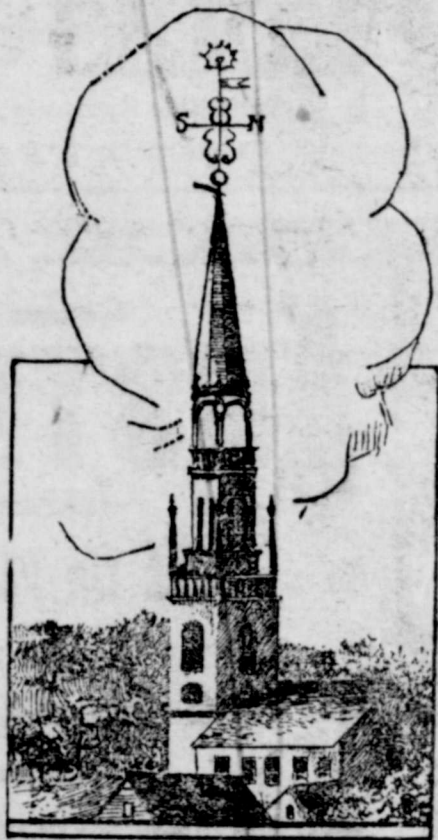

Bells of the Old North Church, Boston, a Part of the Country's Glorious History.

On the date that the armistice was granted by the Allies the chimes in the Old North church, Boston, were rung for forty-five minutes, thus keeping up their record of ringing for every important event in the history of the United States.

The sound of these historic bells was the signal which started Paul Revere on his famous ride. Ten years before the Revolution the bells rang for the repeal of the Stamp act, their ringing proclaimed the news of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, of the peace which followed the War of 1812, and of the peace which ended the Mexican war. The peace jubilee following the cessation of the Civil war was celebrated by these bells, also the victorious conclusion of the Spanish war. A sadder duty was sounding dirges after the deaths of Lincoln, Garfield, Zachary Taylor and Vice-President Wilson.

The eight bells in the chimes were cast in England and set up in the old belfry in 1745. The bells are numbered and each bears an inscription. Some of these inscriptions which explain the origin of the bell are:

No. 1. "This peal of eight bells is the gift of a number of generous Steeple of Old North Church as it Appeared in 1715.

persons to Christ church in Boston, New England, Anno 1744, A. F."

No. 3 "We are the first ring of bells for ye British empire in North America. Anno 1744, A. R."

No. 6 "The subscriptions for these bells were begun by John Hancock and Robert Temple, church wardens, 1743, and completed by Robert Jenkins and John Gould, church wardens, 1744, A. R."

Up to 1840 it required nine men to play the chimes as it was then done. Each man held a rope and pulled swinging bells until the clapper touched the sides. That was a cumbersome method, and if one of the men were absent the ringing had to be given up.

Now each bell is fixed, and when the rope is pulled a striker falls on the side of the bell, making the sound.

Charles H. Jewell, the present chime ringer, is one of the Jewell family, whose members have been chime ringers in the Old North church for ninety years. The privilege of ringing the bell is handed from father to son. When Charles, who is fifty-four years old, gives up his task, Fred Jewell expects to take his father's place. And when Fred has served his time there is a grandson, Charles, now only five years of age, who is destined to become the fifth Jewell to ring the historic chimes for joy, sorrow, for good news and for bad.

Rightly or Wrongly, the Fourth of July is Enshrined in the Hearts of Americans.

The discovery of a long-lost letter from Thomas McKean, one of the signers of the American Declaration of Independence, to Cesar Augustus Rodney, nephew of Cesar Rodney, another signer of that document, reveals information that the Declaration was not actually signed on the 4th of July. "Now that I am on the subject," wrote Mr. McKean, in August, 1813, replying to a question by Mr. Rodney, "I will tell you some truth, not generally known. In the printed journal of congress for 1776, volume 2, it would appear that the Declaration of Independence was signed on the 4th of July by the members, whose names are there inserted; but the fact is not so, for no person signed it on that day nor for many days after . . . on the 4th of July, 1776, the Declaration of Independence was ordered to be engrossed, on parchment

& then to be signed." Mr. McKean adds that after the 4th he was away from Philadelphia for some months assisting General Washington in completing a "camp of ten thousand men," and that he then returned to congress and added his own signature. It is all very interesting, but of course it will not make any difference to the Fourth.

ROBERT WEAVER.

Robert Weaver, county judge and county school superintendent of Mills county, was born July 27, 1889, in Big Valley, Mills county, Texas, his father's and mother's names being B. K. Weaver and Mary J. Weaver.

Robert Weaver spent all his childhood in Big Valley, up and down the Colorado river. He attended school in rural school only, and Howard Payne College and University of Texas. Mr. Weaver graduated from Howard Payne in 1911. He is not married.

Mr. Weaver says: "I have done what I could in helping provide better educational advantages and favored every progressive step relative to betterment of Mills county during the last few years. I believe Goldthwaite is an ideal town in which to live, for moral tone, friendly, reliable citizenship, no class distinction whatever, all working people and white folks. The town is unexcelled for location, good water, pure atmosphere, educational advantages, her business and industrial enterprises. Mills county is not noted for any one thing, but she far outstrips any neighbor county in diversity of products. They are innumerable. We thrive because we have something of everything. Mills county is famous for her many kinds of soil of richest variety suitable to the highest production of agricultural products, and of her many acres of suitable pasture lands which permits the raising of live stock to be in the front rank among our industries.

"As a barefoot boy, I held the notion that the Colorado river valley was prepared by the gods to furnish every kind of good thing to eat and was, to all intents and purposes, a paradise in which to grow and fatten boys from year to year. I with neighboring comrades did revel in the abundant products of the orchard—peaches, pears, apricots, plums, etc., and of the vineyard and the blackberry patch, and of the garden chuck full of every known vegetable. Life was wonderful then, and taking as an index the contentment of the people and their loyalty to Mills county, I am of the opinion that this must be a good county in which to live.

"I found later that one community did not hold all but that, with the few exceptions of small bits of rough land here and there, the people of the entire county were all the time enjoying those many and various products.

"For a long time I did not know or realize that there really existed another town except Goldthwaite, and I now believe that no town of its size in the confines of this state could be better selected for a home. For, in addition to what I have said, civic pride is abroad in Goldthwaite. In the heart of the city stands one of the most substantial, convenient and usable county buildings that can be found anywhere. This court house, fire-proof, commodious and beautiful, is the pride of every citizen, as it stands upon large well-kept grounds, of green lawns and flower beds streaming with color, which taken all in all is a high example of civic attractiveness. If one would stand on top of that building and view the beautiful homes owned by citizens, the broad stretch of country to the west dotted with farms of growing crops and then the chain of broken and timbered hills to the east, he would be immediately inspired by the environment of Goldthwaite. My laudation is serious. These things are too commonly overlooked by many.

"One passing through this county by train misses almost entirely the farming sections of the county and also the best ranch sections, as the railroad skirts a divide most of the way, but it must not be forgotten by the traveler that even on those hills thousands of goats are raised, bringing in much revenue; and on top of these low plateau-like hills we find many farms of very rich soil.

"The topic of county affairs relative to their government is too long a subject to be discussed here, but I must say that the present county officials are very cooperative and congenial in their dealings. Our finances are in good shape, and it is fortunate that we are not burdened with heavy debts and high rate of taxation from which the results are not commensurate with the expenditure. The roads of this county have been improved and are being kept up far better than the amount of revenue for that purpose seems to warrant. Only a very few years back there was very little graded road and the county owned no road machinery to speak of. At present a large per cent of the main roads are graded and the county has acquired an ample amount of machinery in engines, graders, trucks, rock crusher, concrete mixer, plows, etc., which are up to date and in good shape and it merely depends on how much money we spend whether we will have better roads.

"Again let me recommend the Mills county citizenship as a good one. It is made up entirely of peaceable, law-abiding people. One county institution has entirely gone out of business—our jail stands only as a monument to what was in days long past and is fast assuming the place as a curious old relic to the younger generation.

"Mills county has two of the most progressive, live and up to the minute newspapers in all the country. The Mullin Enterprise, published at Mullin, gives the real news and does much to mold public sentiment for the good, while this great county paper, the Goldthwaite Eagle, continues to grow in size, importance and real service. I predict for it a big future, because it is doing things for the upbuilding of our town and county in every way.

"I can only recommend the city of Goldthwaite, the county seat; Mullin, the second largest, and Star and Priddy, other important towns, and all of Mills county to every one and to the people who own her I congratulate you; to people outside of the county, I invite you to a good county and if you are not satisfied at first, stay awhile and you will be reluctant to leave."

WORDS FROM HOME.

Statements That May Be Investigated. Testimony of Goldthwaite Citizens.

When a Goldthwaite citizen comes to the front, telling his friends and neighbors of his experience, you can rely on his sincerity. The statements of people residing in far away places do not command your confidence. Home endorsement is the kind that backs Doan's

 Below is a statement of a Goldthwaite

 can be had.

W. M. Doggett, farmer, says: "I have

IMAS L. ERWIN.

Imas L. Erwin was born July 30, 1857, in Upsher county, Texas, his father's and mother's names being James and Sarah Erwin.
 He attended school at Flint school house, where Lake Worth is now situated.

On December 22, 1857, Mr. Erwin was married to Miss Mary A.
 Hamilton, and to them were born thirteen children, all of whom are now living.

Mr. Erwin came to Goldthwaite from Ranger on October 3, 1918, and, although he has now retired from active business life, he owns and has in operation a 3500-acre ranch in Mills county, and also has a ranch in operation in Eastland county. He owns a fine residence in this city.

Mr. Erwin says: "Mills county is the finest county in the state.
 In fact, I like Mills county so well that I have been instrumental in causing others to move here. Mills county can not be beat for raising crops and is an ideal place for ranching. As for the future, I really believe this will be a big oil

 Oregon, and their daughter and family,
 Mr. and Mrs. Tom M. Nickolas, of Oklahoma, and their children.

A picnic on the river had been planned but owing to a recent rise in the river causing the water to be too muddy for swimming, it was decided to meet on Horse Creek in the Flat Rock community. It was an ideal place for the occasion, with beautiful shade trees and water near by.

The crowd began to gather as early as possible and by eleven o'clock all were there. The happy meeting with loved ones was with such joy it became almost pathetic.

After the meeting was over the party was served with delicious lemonade, which every one enjoyed, after the long drives some had made.

Soon came the noon hour, and one would think that indeed the fattened calf had been prepared; for the long table was covered with every good thing to eat, enough to tempt the most delicate appetite.

The afternoon was spent in pleasures of various kinds, conversation, kodak-ing, music and dancing and other amusements.

After six supper was spread, after which came the first pang of sadness, for then it was time to say "goodbye." As the cars began to move away a benediction in the hearts was breathed for protection and care from our dear Heavenly Father until we meet again.

HON. J. C. DARROCH.

J. C. Darroch, representative in the Legislature from the 94th Representative District, was born in Fredericksburg, Texas, February 1, 1885, his father's and mother's names being Dr. D. C. Darroch and Mary Francis Darroch.

J. C. Darroch spent his childhood in Gillespie county, Texas, and attended school in Fredericksburg, graduating in 1902 and receiving first-grade teacher's certificate. He also graduated from the University of Texas Law Department in 1908, and commenced the practice of law in Fredericksburg immediately after his graduation from the University.

Mr. Darroch came to Goldthwaite in February, 1910, from Paint Rock, Texas, where he had resided for a few months previous to coming here. Mr. Darroch owns a home in this city at the corner of Fourth and Lynch streets.

On September 15, 1912, J. C. Darroch was married to Miss Eddie E. Kelley.

At the University of Texas Mr. Darroch was president of the Athenaeum Debating Society, and has been county attorney of Gillespie county and county attorney of Mills county. He is at present Representative of the Ninety-Fourth District. He has been practicing law since 1908, and now has a law office in the court house in this city.

Mr. Darroch was active in enforcing obedience to law while county attorney, and has made quite a number of school addresses in this county. He acted as County Food Administrator and Red Cross and Liberty Bond speaker during the war, as well as being a member of the advisory board.

Mr. Darroch says: "Having been attorney for the city of Goldthwaite most of the time since the beginning of my residence in this county until I became a member of the Thirty-Sixth Legislature, I have had an exceptional opportunity to watch its development. Goldthwaite has been on the up-build continuously. Its streets have been greatly improved, a first class water works system installed, a new high school building erected, the new court house constructed, which at present prices would cost something in the neighborhood of $200,000.00; two of the principal churches in the city have erected large and comfortable tabernacles; two or three new and modern parsonages have been erected; also the new Saylor Hotel, the Everly buildings on Fisher street, the Ford garage, City garage, the West Texas Telephone building, the new Randolph lumber sheds, the Santa Fe passenger depot, besides quite a number of improvements and additions to the other business buildings of the city; and keeping pace with all of this material development, each year new and modern homes have been added to the general landscape of prosperity which Goldthwaite has maintained during those past ten years, and which she will continue to maintain on account of the civic pride of her thrifty citizenship.

"Now, just a word about the most urgent need of the county at large: Mills county needs at present, more than any other one thing, good roads. The present condition of the roads of the county are costing the citizens of this county in wear and tear on their vehicles and automobiles and teams more than it would cost to maintain first-class roads all over the county. We need to forget our differences of opinion existing in the past in regard to the best method of getting such roads, vote a special tax of fifteen cents per one hundred dollars, get the best man available to take charge of the road building of the county, and both town and county get behind him and back him up in his efforts to do something. It will take both money and co-operation to get the desired results. We have the best natural road material obtainable in this part of the state, easily available in practically all portions of the county. Let's get busy and put over a good roads system for Mills county that will make her the pride of her citizenship and the envy of her neighbors. We can do it on a 15-cent tax, then why not?"

Suffering Intense Pain.

"A few years ago when visiting relatives in Michigan something I had eaten brought on an attack of cholera morbus," writes Mrs. Celestia McVicker Macon, Mo. "I suffered intense pain and had to go to bed. I got a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy and one dose relieved the pain wonderfully. I only took two or three doses but they did the work. Sold by L. E. Miller & Son. (Ad.)"

What It Means To Have a Tractor With Such Easy Control as the G-O

It means that you have a tractor that is easier to handle anywhere. That you can put your boy on it, or a hired man, and know that your tractor will be run as well as if you were on it yourself.

With the G-O Tractor the operator can't strip gears. The G-O has no transmission gears to strip. Yet it has a range of six speeds, forward or reverse, all of which are controlled by one lever. And you can change to any speed, or from forward to reverse direction without stopping the tractor.

The same six speeds apply to belt work. You can operate any belt-driven machine up to a 28-in. Separator and get the speed that suits you and your machine. No pulley to change—the belt pulley in the G-O meets all your needs and gives you power a-plenty.

But more than that, this advanced G-O driving mechanism spares the motor all the jars and jolts that ordinary tractor motors get. The motor gets longer life, stays on the job longer—needs less adjustment.

Come in and see the other advantages in the G-O Tractor—the rear wheels without gears or chains—all working parts enclosed and running in oil. If you're too busy, let me send you a catalog.

WILLIAM P. McCULLOUGH

William Proctor McCullough was born at Liberty Hill, Texas; father's name, W. Hamilton McCullough; mother's name, Florence McCullough. Mr. McCullough spent his childhood in Liberty Hill and Lampasas, and attended school at the latter place.

In September, 1893, W. P. McCullough was married to Miss Mary E. Ashabrammer; to them have been born four children—Heriman, Hugh E., Paul P., and Mary Florence.

Mr. McCullough has been alderman of the city of Goldthwaite and also school trustee. His occupation during life, farmer and lumberman. He now owns a home and lumber yard here.

In the year of 1903 Mr. McCullough came to Goldthwaite from Liberty Hill, and since that time has figured greatly in the upbuilding of the city and its advancement along civic and educational lines. For many years he has served as trustee of the Goldthwaite independent school district, having served in that capacity during the erection of several additions to the school buildings. At present he is president of the school board. He has also served as alderman for the city of Goldthwaite.

During his life Mr. McCullough has been engaged in farming and the lumber business. At present he is a partner in Barnes & McCullough Lumber Company and manager of that institution here.

Mr. McCullough thinks that what Mills county needs at present is more hog and goat proof fences and better improvements on the farm, and is doing everything in his power in the promotion of the building of better fences, barns and homes. In fact, he has put his whole life into this work in our midst. He thinks that when we get plenty of barns to conserve the feed of the farms and shelters for everything and every animal and every foot of the brushy districts of this county fenced hog and goat proof and the prairies all sheep proof and a nice bungalow on every farm and ranch, together with the high standard of citizenship, good climate, productive lands and the good roads that are bound to come in the near future, old Mills county will be the best place to live anywhere in the United States, as we have nearer all the coons up one tree than some other sections. Mr. McCullough figures that this county is now only from thirty to forty per cent developed.

BENJAMIN F. GEESLIN.

Having been born in Yellousche, Miss., Dec. 11, 1861, Benjamin Franklin Geeslin spent his early childhood in Mississippi, Arkansas and Texas. Mr. Geeslin came to the territory now included in Mills county before the county was organized, coming here from Hamilton county. Mr. Geeslin attended school at Center City, this county, and also in Hamilton county. September 21, 1887, he was married to Miss Mittie Elizabeth Davis; to this union were born two children—Edward Geeslin and J. F. Geeslin. He was also married to Miss Birdie Queen on April 10, 1908, three children being born to them, Dale, Glyn and Frances Geeslin.

B. F. Geeslin was sheriff of Mills county for four years—1894 to 1898.

Mr. Geeslin was president of the school board of the Goldthwaite independent district in 1913 and 1914—at the time the new High School building was erected.

Mr. Geeslin was a farmer until 27 years old, after which time he has been engaged in the following businesses in Goldthwaite: Furniture and hardware, 2 years; drug business, 1896-1898; grain business year 1899, firm of Yarbrough, Burnett and Geeslin; mercantile business two years, Gatlin and Geeslin; stock business 1902-1904, Burnett and Geeslin; grain business 1905, Gatlin and Geeslin, gin now owned by Crim and Brown. In 1906 Mr. Geeslin bought bottling works from J. M. Baxley, also bought J. C. Street Mercantile Co.; 1907 organized Goldthwaite Light and Ice Company and installed light plant and ice factory in connection with bottling works, and was elected president of the company, which was incorporated for $25,000.00, and has held that place ever since. Without the financial aid and business direction given by Mr. Geeslin it would have been impossible for the light plant to stay in operation during the crop failures in Mills county. This company has spent this year over $10,000.00 on improvements and when completed Goldthwaite will have one of the best plants in Texas for the size of the town. The plant at present consists of one 100-h.p. Desceil Type Fairbanks-Morse engine, direct connected to 75-k.w. generator; one 50-h.p. Desceil Type Fairbanks-Morse engine, direct connected to 50-k.w. generator, and 25-h.p. Desceil Type Fairbanks-Morse engine connected to 15-k.w. generator.

Mr. Geeslin was in the grain business with G. H. Frizzell for two years, 1915-16, and is now in the grain business with his eldest son, Edward Geeslin.

B. F. Geeslin, from 1908 to 1912 was owner of the Rock hotel and opera house, and was owner of the Ross Cafe in 1910, which was run by his son, J. F. Geeslin.
