MIT SIMMS, BROTHER OF MRS. E. B. ANDERSON, NOMINATED GOVERNOR OF ARIZONA

In the primary election held in Arizona September 7, Mit Simms received the nomination by a big majority. An extract from the Leader, published at Flagstaff, Ariz., follows:
Phoenix, Sept. 9.—Mit Simms, chosen by the Democrats at Tuesday's primary election as their candidate for governor at the November 2nd election, returned to Phoenix today from his home county, Graham, where he voted.
The candidate was met at the train by an admiring host of friends and given a great ovation as he alighted on Phoenix soil. Members of all political parties are congratulating him.
So fine that no other form can be considered the only way the exceeding fineness of SAN TOX Vitamin Talcum Powder can be described. It is absolutely pure and has been used for many years. Simms cannot be classed as a Hunt Democrat or an anti-Hunt, as he has been strictly neutral in these matters. He is what can be called a real Democrat, one who has been neutral during primary campaigns and a warm supporter of the entire ticket during each of the general election campaigns.
Mr. Simms is very popular throughout the entire state and will not get the big Democratic vote, but will poll many from the Republican side. Everybody here seems pleased with the nomination.

Mit Simms is a brother of Mrs. E. B. Anderson of Goldthwaite, and is well known here, having visited a number of times. Goldthwaite people will unite in extending congratulations to him as a big man who will fill a big office.

WORK ON NEW GARAGE OF WEATHERBY AUTO COMPANY PROGRESSING VERY NICELY

Alteration work being done on the three buildings on East Fisher, formerly occupied by the firm of McKinley Bros. and Jones, and which became necessary when they were bought by Norman Weatherby for the Weatherby Auto Company, is progressing nicely. The three buildings are being thrown into one, and arches cut in order to allow passage way through. A cement floor is being substituted for the wood. When completed this garage will be one of the best in West Texas and one of which Goldthwaite and Mills county can be proud.

FISH AND SQUIRRELL STORY OUGHT TO "GET THE DOG"

Mr. J. C. Mullan turns in the fish and squirrel story that ought to draw the capital prize. He reports that in company with John Keese and thirteen others on a fish and squirrel hunt, one day's catch was over 20 large fish and 43 squirrels. We know the parties and can vouch for the truth of this story. Who can beat it?

PROCLAMATION BY THE MAYOR.

Whereas Texas suffers a property loss by fire of several millions of dollars annually, seventy-five per cent of which is preventable and can be avoided by applying the simple rules of safety, and by the abandonment of carelessness; and
Whereas each year many of our citizens are burned to death, or maimed for life by fire. A compilation of statistics by state authorities show there were 152 deaths and 310 injuries during the eleven months period ending July 31, 1920.
Now therefore I, W. L. Jones, Mayor of the city of Goldthwaite, to the end that the needless destruction of our created resources by fire may be minimized, and the lives and health of our people properly protected, do hereby proclaim SATURDAY the NINTH day of OCTOBER, A. D. 1920, FIRE PREVENTION DAY in the city of Goldthwaite, and do hereby call upon our entire citizenship to observe the occasion by an examination of all flammable chimneys for the purpose of placing them in a safe condition for use; to clear away all accumulations of trash and other fire breeding agencies; to resolve to abandon careless habits responsible for so much of the fire loss, and particularly to exercise care in the handling, use, and storage of gasoline and other volatiles.
On that day let our commercial organizations, our Women's Clubs, Boy Scouts and other local bodies, stimulate interest in the work of eliminating fire dangers by actively engaging in the campaign against the things that cause fires, and let the teachers in all our schools on the day preceding this occasion, instruct the children under their care in the execution of fire drills, and urge upon them the need for vigorously observing Fire Prevention Day.
In testimony whereof, I hereunto sign my name and affix my official seal this 25th day of September, A. D. 1920.
(Seal) W. L. JONES, Mayor.

PROF. HUGHES REQUESTS ALL PARENTS TO PUT CHILDREN IN SCHOOL BY OCTOBER 4TH

The second week of the Goldthwaite High school has run by smoothly and all the pupils have buckled down to work. Prof. Hughes, superintendent of the school, requests all parents who have children in the school age to start them on or before October 4th, if it is possible. It is very troublesome to the teachers and serves to break the regularity of the class progress for a new pupil to drop in who is several weeks behind, and it will be impossible to start very many new classes. Every possible effort should be made to get all pupils in school by October 4.

SOME OF THE PURPOSES FOR WHICH DONATIONS WILL BE USED BY SALVATION ARMY

The state budgets for maintenance and extension work of the Salvation Army were unanimously adopted by the delegates from the various county advisory boards at meetings recently held in Dallas and San Antonio. Throughout the Southwest campaign committees are being formed and the Salvation Army's appeal to carry on its work is everywhere meeting with a generous response. The building of an extensive addition to the Salvation Army Rescue and Maternity Home in San Antonio, so that it will be capable of handling the increasing number of cases that are continually being brought to the attention of the county advisory boards is one of the uses to which this money will be put. The home is now overcrowded. Mills county within the past two months has sent a maternity case to the home in San Antonio. The Salvation Army last year spent over $47,000 in general relief in this state, which embraces the following: 11,277 Christmas dinners, 2,626 other meals, 23,018 garments and shoes, 2,347 lodgings, 20,726 persons furnished with wood, coal, ice, medical aid, transportation and employment; the Salvation Army workers spent 11,451 hours visiting the sick and poor and held 6,620 street and indoor services which were attended by 514,243 non-church-goers; 176 children were admitted to the children's home and training school of the Salvation Army last year. This year the Salvation Army contemplates much more work. The following is the state budget and the purposes for which the money will be used: New buildings—State Rescue Home and Maternity Hospital, San Antonio, $30,000; maintenance of State Rescue Home, $4,000; maintenance and extension of children's home in El Paso, $3,000; new central divisional headquarters, $6,000; for county relief work in co-operation with the County Advisory Boards, $13,750; for opening and equipping central new industrial homes, $3,300; for Americanization work among the Mexican people, $3,000; assisting small corps, $1,000; for work among United States soldiers on the border, $4,200; for territorial and divisional maintenance and extension fund, $3,000; for disabled officers' fund, $2,500; for training college maintenance, $1,250; for work in prisons and among prisoners' families, $2,500; total $80,500.

PRIDDY TRADE GRADUALLY GETTING AWAY FROM CITY; IMMEDIATE ACTION NECESSARY

It has been ascertained that a big portion of the trade from the Priddy community is now going to other points. A careful probe of the causes led to the conclusion that Goldthwaite is not trying to get this trade, while surrounding towns are making every effort to divert it. Talking with several of the best posted men in the Priddy section, and personally going over the roads have led us to the conclusion that the roads—and the roads alone—are responsible for this condition. The road to Priddy must be worked—a few extremely bad places at least—immediately. There is one place in particular—the mountain nine miles from town—which is in such a deplorable condition that it is practically impossible for a load to get over it.

The citizens of the Priddy community have put up with this condition as long as possible and if immediate steps are not taken one of the richest trade sections of the county will be lost to our town.

It is true that several thousand dollars must be spent on this road before it is in first class condition, but just now a hundred or two will fix the worst places so that they can be traveled.

The business men of another town have agreed to spend $1,000 on the Priddy road in Mills county in order to get the trade. It is reported that over $150,000 of Priddy money is in one bank in another town. Goldthwaite is the county seat and the logical trading place for the citizens of that community and were they given half a chance they would trade here.

They are well pleased with the prices they receive for their products here and the prices for which they can buy their goods. They say this is a cheaper town than any other. But—they can't get over the road; consequently they can't come here.

This condition demands immediate action and as the road finances of the county are in such condition that no money can be spent, it is the duty and interest of every merchant to donate to a fund for the purpose of temporarily patching the Priddy road.

COTTON PALACE TO AID WOMEN SOLVE DOMESTIC PROBLEM

Labor-Saving Devices and Ways to Prepare Dishes Will Be Shown

Woman and her activities will reign parallel with the farmer and his interests, the music lover and his favorite classics, the social devotee and his functions at the Texas Cotton Palace, Waco, Oct. 30 to Nov. 14 this year.

Under the able direction of Mrs. Lee Davis, general chairman of the women's department, prominent women have been appointed to direct various departments of this important feature of the greater Texas Cotton Palace. Mrs. Davis predicts that never before will the women from adjacent towns and outlying rural sections find so many interesting exhibits and demonstrations.

"We want them all to come in and meet us and talk over their problems with us. We will have experts in domestic science who will be able to solve many problems for them," she says.

Canning Club Exhibits

Canning clubs will send exhibits and specimens in cooking. If your club has not entered an exhibit, you should urge it to do so, as it probably is proficient in some especial manner that will win warm praise for it at the Texas Cotton Palace.

Here's Vogue Feature

Still another new exhibition will be that displaying decorated tables, arrangement of tables of all description having become a vogue among artistic women. Tea tables, library tables, porch tables for decorative use, hall tables, bedside tables, invalid tables and others.

Specimens of cotton modeling this year will be replaced by another feature which will bring out the value of cotton and uphold the tradition of the Cotton Palace in regard to a display of Texas' principal product.

Woman and Her Use for Cotton

A woman's day in cotton is to be displayed, showing how a woman in the course of the day's work finds cotton products indispensable at every turn.

The Better Babies conference is another popular feature.

Another prominent affair is Children's Day, which will come early in the second week. Woman's Day is also being planned on a large scale.

Labor Saving Devices

An interesting display will be the display of labor saving devices, many of which have been placed on the market since the inauguration of the Cotton Palace.

A special showing of lamps and rugs is also being arranged. This will be in line with the arrangement of brasses and tapestries.

TOYLAND AT TEXAS COTTON PALACE WILL AMUSE ALL CHILDREN

So complete are arrangements to make this year's Texas Cotton Palace the most pleasing and successful that even entertainment for the children have been included in the plans. The big exposition opens in Waco, Oct. 30, and closes Nov. 14.

A complete new feature of the program this year, and one that is intended especially to please mothers who will bring small children with them will be "Toyland," an exhibition of toys arranged for the delight of youngsters. It is planned to display all the latest toys, specially mechanical and musical and others. This or two ment is, as it should be, the direction of these the folks by L. E.

To the Children of Texas and Their Teachers: September 9, 1920

As a firm believer in, and friend of, education, I want every pupil and every teacher in Texas to visit the State Fair. I want them to learn the lessons it teaches and to have the fun a visit will afford. I have asked Honorable E. J. Kiest, President of the State Fair, to let me invite all the children of Texas and their teachers to visit the Fair as my guests and Mr. Kiest, with his ever-present desire to help accomplish worthwhile projects, has granted my request. I take this means of extending you an invitation and I am going to be disappointed unless all of you accept.

The day set aside is Friday, October 15. If you will write to Mr. W. H. Stratton, Secretary of the Fair, Dallas, Texas, and tell him how many tickets your school can use, he will send tickets admitting you to the grounds and to the afternoon performances at the Coliseum and the grand stand. All you have to do is to write to Mr. Stratton for the tickets. SCHOOL NOTES.

Seniors.

The class of '21 has seventeen more or less "dignified Seniors" who are hoping to make theirs the best class yet. That they are living up to their position is shown in the fact that the leader of the Girls Glee Club, the captain of the Girls Basket Ball Team, and one or two of the Orchestra-Boys are Seniors. The class has resolved to improve the looks of their room with pictures and flower boxes, and to make G. H. S. proud of them.

Freshmen.

The Freshmen have unanimously agreed that they have "the" class at High School this year. They are 43 strong, and are brimful of the spirit that not only makes good Freshmen but also speaks well for the Juniors and Seniors-to-be. They are not quite so vivid a freshman color as one would expect, either. It will not be very long until they can tell the "agricola" that be "amat" the "terram" without a single hitch.

Sophomores.

The Sophomores are forty strong this year. This is the largest Sophomore class in the history of the Goldthwaite High School, and the members of the class expect to make it the best one. They are setting forth with a determination to win no matter what the cost might be. They have already taken a very prominent part in athletics as well as in the Orchestra and Glee Club. Both the boys and the girls of the Sophomore Class are striving to capture a good share of the honors in all departments of school work this year.

Athletics.

The past week saw the organization of two baseball teams. Warren Davis was chosen captain of the first team and Raymond Little captain of the second team. They have been practicing during spare time and in a week or two the teams will be rounded into championship form and be ready to take on any opponents. A volley ball team was organized and Howell Cobb chosen captain. A great interest has sprung up in recent years for volley ball and Cobb intends to develop a good team here this year. The girls have been busy too. A basketball court has been put in playing condition and they are now ready to begin tossing the basketball to and fro. All students are taking part in some game or other and Goldthwaite High seems to be in a position to win a majority of games this year from any contender.

Glee Club.

Friday, Sept. 17, the girls interested in singing met and organized a High School Glee Club. Miss Mildred Street was chosen director, and it was decided to meet once a week for practice. Much interest was shown and when the first regular meeting was held Wednesday, Sept. 22, a very large number of girls attended. A Goldthwaite school song was adopted and practiced—also several short "yell songs." The school song was sung in assembly and was received with enthusiasm. The Glee Club is planning great things for the year, and indications are that it will be one of the liveliest organizations of the school.

Orchestra.

June 21, the High School boys interested in music met for the purpose of organizing a school orchestra. Warren Davis was elected director, and it was decided to meet several times a week for practice. Wednesday afternoon the club met with the Girls' Glee Club and a very jolly hour was spent in practicing the new school songs and several other popular ones.

Basket Ball.

The Girls' Basket Ball Team met last Thursday and elected Miss Merle Linkenhogor captain. Tuesdays and Thursdays were decided upon for practice days. Tuesday was spent in preparing the court and Thursday all were out "rearing" to play. Every girl is working hard to make first team, which depends not only upon good playing, but also upon good grades made in school. So watch the paper for our line up later.

Seventh Grade.

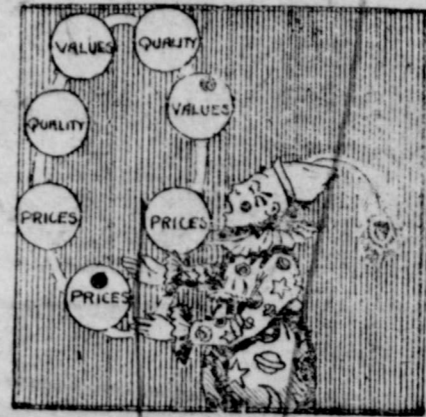

There are 48 pupils enrolled in the Seventh Grade room, and there has been a good attendance the first two weeks. We have started a little museum where we will exhibit our best work.

A committee is working to get a place to keep the pig that we have decided to raise.

We hope to accomplish much this year, and welcome visitors at all times.

Clarence Ousley, in a letter to the Dallas News, said: "A man who has good cotton to sell is foolish to sell it at current prices, unless he is compelled to settle with his creditors, for it can be stored without deterioration and he may be sure that the Southern farmers have learned the lesson that food and feed crops are more profitable than low-priced cotton. I am confident that if this crop does not bring more by next March than present future quotations, the next crop will be cut a fourth."

From Jan. 1, 1920, to July 1, 1920, 800,000 immigrants arrived in this country, says the Christian Science Monitor. This is more than came in any other six months in the history of the United States—more by a quarter of a million. Last Saturday's news dispatches carried this word: "Eight ships are anchored in New York Harbor unable to unload their 25,000 immigrants, because of congestion on Ellis Island." Mr. Caminetti, commissioner of immigration, says they are arriving at the rate of 5,000 a day, or 1,750,000 for twelve months.

It is the desire of the publishers of the Eagle to give the people of Mills county as good a local paper as is possible and to this end we ask the assistance of everybody in the county. All news items of whatever character are much appreciated by the publishers, whether they are brought in personally, sent in or phoned in. The Eagle desires to chronicle all the happenings that take place within the county, in order that the people may be correctly informed and in order that a correct history may be kept of the progress and advancement made. Along this line, the publishers would be pleased to be notified of any land or property exchanges or sales; any one having extra good success in the raising of any kind of live stock, crops or produce can greatly help their neighbors and friends in other parts of the county by writing an article for publication in the Eagle explaining their methods of cultivation, etc. No doubt much less acreage will be planted in cotton in Mills county next year, and many of the best farmers are planning their next year's crop at this time.

"DOES SHANTUNG BELONG TO GERMANY, JAPAN, OR CHINA?"

Under the above caption, Mr. A. J. Harrison has written quite a lengthy article for the Eagle, which was intended as a reply to an address delivered by Judge C. H. Jenkins before the Teachers' Institute of Mills county. While I do not wish to assume the role of a "meddler in other men's matters," still as a citizen of Mills county, I am interested somewhat in public affairs, and also in having our people see and hold correct views with regard to the League of Nations and all other matters in which we are directly concerned; therefore I venture a few thoughts upon this highly important matter.

Mr. Harrison begins by saying that he "would wish to set before the readers a fair and uncolored opinion with regard to Shantung," and yet it occurs to this writer that all the gentleman has said in his article is highly colored by his political views and alignments. Mr. Harrison may not be conscious of the fact that his views of the Shantung matter and all other things pertaining to the League of Nations are colored by his political views and affiliations, but whether he is conscious of this or not, it is a fact all the same. He writes as if he and the Republican Senators opposed to the ratification of the league covenant recommended by the Versailles conference would have favored the ratification of that document had it provided for the return of Shantung to China, and yet it would be a safe guess to say that such is not the case. Who believes that Mr. Harrison and his political colleagues would have favored the league covenant no matter what its provisions might have been with reference to the Shantung affair? With reference to this whole matter, their performances show that whatever their motives may have been, they have been in the objective case and the "kickative" mood. Again, Mr. Harrison seems to hold that the return of Shantung to China by Japan is in a class with the return of Alsace and Lorraine to France. Or in other words, that there are just as strong and just reasons for the return of Shantung to China as there were for the return of Alsace and Lorraine to France. And yet, what informed person believes such to be the case? Whether Germany was right in taking possession of Shantung as indemnity for her participation in the Boxer war or not, her title to Shantung was recognized, not only by China, but by the other nations of the world and when Japan, soon after the world-war began, declared war upon Germany we felt then and feel now that Japan was right. But was Germany right in declaring war on France in 1914? What true American would undertake to say so? After the campaign of Shantung, Japan, according to the law of nations, took charge of that territory to indemnify herself for her expenses of that war. Germany unjustly declared war on France, over-man and laid waste that country, and when she lost in that mighty struggle, she was justly required to return to France the territory wrested from her as a result of the Franco-Prussian war. Was it not right for Germany to return Alsace and Lorraine to France under these circumstances? If Germany ever had any right to this territory she forfeited it by her unwonted, cruel and unjust war upon France. The two cases are far from being parallel, and Mr. Harrison is far from the correct position when he asserts that "if one restoration was right the other was bound to be."

It was not my privilege to hear the address of Judge Jenkins, and so do not know what his reason was for not answering Mr. Harrison's question, but whatever his reason may have been, I am sure it was not because he could not do so and at the same time take care of his argument for the League of Nations. If the United States had ratified the league covenant, she would have sustained the same relation to Great Britain under the circumstances referred to by Mr. Harrison that she would under any other circumstances. The particular conditions alluded to by Mr. Harrison would in no way change that relation. It is also perfectly manifest to every informed mind that such a relation would be a sufficient guarantee that neither of the nations referred to nor any other nation out of the league would undertake to interfere with the domestic affairs of Great Britain or any other nation within the league. I do not know much of the domestic affairs of Mr. Harrison, but for the sake of illustration we will show that he is a 14-year-old boy who rebels against the family government, and Mr. Harrison undertakes to subdue the disobedient and obstreperous youngster, and in doing so it becomes necessary for the father to give the son a sound spanking, and when he is preparing for the performance I interfere and say to the boy that I will join him in an attack upon his father and in that way enable him to have his way; but just as I am preparing to join the boy in his resistance, a company of six able-bodied men step up to me and taking me by the collar say to me: "Sir, this is none of your affair, and if you undertake to meddle with the domestic affair of this man we will thrash you till your wife can't recognize you." Now, it would take neither a prophet nor a philosopher to guess what I would do. Therefore, instead of our becoming involved in a foreign war under such circumstances, the league would be the very best guarantee that there would be no such war.

It matters but little with me whether the league covenant is an American document or otherwise. The paramount question with me is this: Would that covenant, if ratified by the United States, help to prevent a reproduction of the awful world-tragedy through which we have just passed? I believe it would, and am, therefore, heartily in favor of it. One thing is certain, we got into the war recently closed without any league of nations, and without such league I see no reason to suppose that there is not constant danger of our again being drawn into a similar catastrophe. The proposed league is nothing more nor less than an association of civilized nations for the purpose of using all proper means for the prevention of war. And it seems to me that all the American money, blood and life sacrificed in the late war call loud and long to the United States government to join hands with the other nations of the world in an effort to prevent a recurrence of the awful experiences through which we have passed. We must choose between a league of nations on the one hand and the ever-increasing burden of maintaining an army and navy sufficiently strong to cope with the combined nations of the world and the constant and ever-increasing danger of being drawn into a struggle for our national existence on the other. I would, therefore, appeal to every one who reads these lines by the dangers that constantly threaten us, by the money, blood and life already squandered in war, by the tears, heartaches and prayers of our American mothers and wives, by the suffering and dying groans of our boys who have fallen upon foreign battlefields and today lie buried in foreign cemeteries, by the ties and interests of a common humanity, and above all, by the love of Him who so loved the whole world as to make the greatest of all sacrifices in order that He might make of all tribes, tongues and nations one common brotherhood of which He Himself shall be the head—by all this do I appeal to you in these lines to join me in prayer and effort for the bringing in of that glad day when wars shall be no more and when the nations of the earth shall "beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning-hooks." The stars in their courses fought against Sisera, effecting his defeat and death because he was waging an unrighteous warfare against Israel. Even so, do I verily believe that Woodrow Wilson and those who stand with him for a covenant of nations by which wars shall be prevented are standing for a principle of government that embodies the teaching and religion of the gentle Galilean, and, therefore, shall, in the providence of God, prevail.

A. R. WATSON,
Mullin, Texas.

Several stock farmers and cotton raisers from different parts of the county have recently complimented the Eagle office for the gradual improvement in the paper, especially the appearance of the advertisements. Every one asked said he and his family read the advertisements each week in order to simplify buying. It was pointed out by them that during these busy times of marketing cotton and corn, farmers' families could take the paper, which they receive before noon on Saturday, and during the noon hour could read the advertisements and know just which store had a certain article and the price it could be bought at when they come to town Saturday afternoon to purchase the supplies for the coming week. When a certain merchant advertises an article and advertises the price, the busy people know just where to go to make the purchase without losing any time during the busy period of harvest.

CARADAN NEWS.

(Intended for last week.)

Editor Eagle:

As I have not seen any news from Caradan, I thought I would write a few dots.

Every one seems to be enjoying life fine, as cotton picking time is here.
Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Blackburn of Evant are visiting relatives at Caradan.

The sad news was received last Monday morning that Mr. C. H. Koen, who has been in the Temple sanitarium, was very low. His children of this community are now by his bedside.

Rev. R. W. Bynum held services at Caradan Saturday night and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Bleeker, Misses
Jessie Koen and Martha Couch spent Sunday with Mrs. A. M. Oliver of Energy. Mrs. Oliver's daughter, Faye, returned with them for a stay of a week.

Mrs. Ralph Cline came in from Sipe Springs Saturday for a vacation of about one month.

There was singing at Jess Petsick's
Sunday afternoon, every one reporting a very enjoyable time.

Simpson and Bleeker are ginning this week.

Jasper Brown gave a party last Friday night. Every one enjoyed a good time; had lots of candy to eat.

Rev. R. W. Bynum is going to hold another meeting at Midway school house the second Saturday in October.

Well, as it is almost time for the postman, I will be drifting.

MOONLIGHT PARTY HONORS

MISS IRENE ATKINSON

On last Friday, Sept. 17, a swimming party and "weeney" roast at Lake
Merritt was a unique farewell event for Miss Irene Atkinson, a graduate of the 1920 class of Goldthwaite High school, and who leaves next week for Belton to enter Baylor College.

This very pleasant affair was given by Mrs. E. B. Anderson and her Sunday school class, of which Miss Irene is president.

The crowd quietly grouped at the Atkinson home at 5 o'clock p. m., from which place Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Anderson and Mrs. T. E. Strickland chaperoned several car loads of boys and girls to the lake, where every plan was carried out and a moonlight joyride home dimmed the occasion.

A few invited friends were present with the class to offer many good wishes to the honoree as she leaves to resume her school duties again.

That the Eagle's Classified Column has been getting results for the people who place ads in it, is shown by the large number carried last week and also this week. There are always people who have something to sell that other people want to buy or want to buy something that other people have to sell. It is a safe prediction that all the classified ads are read by over five thousand people in Mills county, besides a great number in adjoining counties. Rates for Classified Ads are 50 cents for first insertion and 25 cents for each additional insertion for any ad containing less than fifty-one words.

A great portion of the money that makes this section prosperous comes from cotton. Therefore every person, no matter what his other vocation, is financially, directly interested in assisting the producer in getting a fair price for the staple and seed. Every pound of cotton and its by-products are needed and the price at which the manufactured products are sold to the consumer means that the producer should receive a much higher price than is now being paid. By holding cotton off the market until actually demanded by spinners, producers can demand and will receive a price that will leave a decent profit above cost of production. Market slowly, and not at all if the price offered does not leave a reasonable profit for labor of producing and an investment.—Farm & Ranch.

East Nashville, Tenn.—The efficiency of Theford's Black-Draught, the genuine, herb, liver medicine, is vouched for by Mr. W. N. Parsons, a grocer of this city. "It is without doubt the best liver medicine, and I don't believe I could get along without it. I take it for sour stomach, headache, bad liver, indigestion, and all other troubles that are the result of a torpid liver.

"I have known and used it for years, and can and do highly recommend it to every one. I won't go to bed without it in the house. It will do all its claims to do. I can't say enough for it."

Many other men and women throughout the country have found Black-Draught just as Mr. Parsons describes—valuable in regulating the liver to its normal functions, and in cleansing the bowels of impurities.

Theford's Black-Draught Liver medicine is the original and only genuine. Accept no imitations or substitutes. Always ask for Theford's. E 88

Chronic Catarrh.

Our manner of living makes us very susceptible to colds and a succession of colds causes chronic catarrh, a loathsome disease with which it is estimated that ninety-five per cent of the adult population are afflicted. Cotton White Flour, just received a new car.—Archer Grocery Co.

Fritz Bufe, a prosperous farmer of the Caradan country, made the Eagle an appreciated call Monday and had his name entered on the list. Mr. Bufe said the boll weevil were doing considerable damage to the cotton where it was surrounded with brush, but the prairie cotton was doing well.

That the Eagle's Classified Column has been getting results for the people who place ads in it, is shown by the large number carried last week and also this week. There are always people who have something to sell that other people want to buy or want to buy something that other people have to sell. It is a safe prediction that all the classified ads are read by over five thousand people in Mills county, besides a great number in adjoining counties. Rates for Classified Ads are 50 cents for first insertion and 25 cents for each additional insertion for any ad containing less than fifty-one words.

A great portion of the money that makes this section prosperous comes from cotton. Therefore every person, no matter what his other vocation, is financially, directly interested in assisting the producer in getting a fair price for the staple and seed. Every pound of cotton and its by-products are needed and the price at which the manufactured products are sold to the consumer means that the producer should receive a much higher price than is now being paid. By holding cotton off the market until actually demanded by spinners, producers can demand and will receive a price that will leave a decent profit above cost of production. Market slowly, and not at all if the price offered does not leave a reasonable profit for labor of producing and an investment.—Farm & Ranch.

East Nashville, Tenn.—The efficiency of Theford's Black-Draught, the genuine, herb, liver medicine, is vouched for by Mr. W. N. Parsons, a grocer of this city. "It is without doubt the best liver medicine, and I don't believe I could get along without it. I take it for sour stomach, headache, bad liver, indigestion, and all other troubles that are the result of a torpid liver.

"I have known and used it for years, and can and do highly recommend it to every one. I won't go to bed without it in the house. It will do all its claims to do. I can't say enough for it."

Many other men and women throughout the country have found Black-Draught just as Mr. Parsons describes—valuable in regulating the liver to its normal functions, and in cleansing the bowels of impurities.

Theford's Black-Draught liver medicine is the original and only genuine. Accept no imitations or substitutes. Always ask for Theford's. E. 68

J. E. LANDERS KILLED FRIDAY; HOOKED BY BULL AT HOME

Friday morning J. E. Landers, who lives in the Shaw Bend community, just across the river in San Saba county, was almost instantly killed by a ferocious bull. He lived only a few moments after the encounter, dying before he could be removed from the lot to the house.

Mr. Landers had gone to the lot to help milk cows, when the bull, a dehorned Durham, charged into him, knocking him down and trampling on his body, causing in his chest and side.

Burial will be at the Odd Fellows cemetery in Goldthwaite this morning.

Mr. Landers is an old settler of this section of the country. He lived with his son, L. L. Landers, here for several years, until he and his son moved to the Shaw Bend community.

GOLDTHWAITE BUSINESS MEN SUBSCRIBE $1,000 FOR WORK ON PRIDDY ROAD IMMEDIATELY

A popular subscription list was circulated the last of this week by some of the enterprising business men of the city, and something around $1,000 has been subscribed for immediate work on the Priddy road. This amount of money will be sufficient to temporarily put the road in passable condition and will be of great benefit to the town as well as the citizens of the Priddy community, who thus have access to the best marketing and buying center in this portion of Texas.

Goldthwaite business men are quick to act in case of an emergency and they have royally assisted in this matter.

UNCLE BILL ROLES DEAD.

William Roles, affectionately known to his friends as "Uncle Bill," passed away at the home of Seth Waddell, near Star Tuesday afternoon.

Uncle Bill had been here at Goldthwaite visiting relatives and left for Star last Friday evening, feeling well. He was visiting at the home of Seth Waddell and the family went to the field Thursday afternoon, leaving him alone at the house. When they returned late in the afternoon he was dead. It is thought that death was caused from heart failure. He had been in bad health more or less for several years.

Funeral services will be held today at the Heintz Ranch cemetery, two miles from Star.

Uncle Bill Roles, who was 80 years of age at his death, was one of the pioneer settlers in the Star community, and was a man of many friends. He was an uncle of Mrs. C. D. Lane and Mrs. Key Johnson of this city. He leaves two sons and two daughters, besides other relatives.

The Eagle joins the many friends of the bereaved one of this good man in extending sympathy.

Rates on Electric Lights BEGINNING OCT. 1, 1920

Minimum rate, residence or business, $2.25 per month.

Price of 20c per kilowatt for first 25 kilowatts; 15c per kilowatt for next 75 kilowatts, and 10c per kilowatt for balance of current.

Will give 10% off on all accounts paid on or before the 10th of each month, 6 p. m.

We expect to have all lights on meters within thirty days.

You will notice that the above rates will not increase your light bills where you are reasonably careful with your lights—as you can burn 10 kilowatts per month and if your bill is paid by the 10th of the month it will only cost you $2.00, the amount all customers are now paying that have Electric Irons.

By installing meters you will get much better light, as the customer who without a meter turns on all lights making it impossible for those who use light economically to get a bright light, will, with a meter, burn lights only when needed.

Our lines are very heavily loaded and the consumer who is several blocks from the plant is not getting the proper amount of current on the flat rate system.

We are sure the above arrangements will meet with the approval of every consumer on our lines.

Yours for service that serves,

Goldthwaite Light & Ice Co.

WHAT FARMERS OF TEXAS HAVE ACCOMPLISHED IN THREE YEARS.

The following is from the State Department of Agriculture at Austin:

Some times it is very important to take a view of the past. Farmers as well as others.

No doubt the bear talk you have heard and read lately about the price of this cotton crop, how low the price is, and is likely to be, and the causes for them, have gone the rounds freely. This is not new. Did you ever know of a fall that was otherwise? Bear talk is always plentiful and free.

Do the farmers of Texas know what they have accomplished in the past three years? Many of them do not. This is to refresh the minds of all what they have done and encourage them to do it again, and not only the same ones do their business duty again but take their evidence to others and line them up to help themselves. Talk it to single farmers, groups of them and call meetings and explain it.

Now listen: During the summer of 1917, 2,500 delegates of the Farmers' Institute met in Austin and pledged themselves that if Commissioner Fred W. Davis would throw the aid and influence and himself at work to aid the farmers to price their cotton and receive the price, they would go home and do their best to follow his instructions to accomplish it. He agreed to it and started his machinery in motion.

The price of 30 cents was named as the minimum price cotton should sell for. Cotton was selling for 16 to 20 cents September 10th, and going down daily. Thirty cents was at least $60 per bale more than it was selling for when the work started. He urged that every bale be held for at least 30 cents that could be held. The farmers in northeast Texas made the cotton of Texas that year and many of them held. In 60 days they were selling cotton for 30 cents. They were urged to continue to hold, as the railroads could not haul it, and to offer too much would break the market. They held and got 35 cents, or $85 per bale more than it started at. Who priced this crop? Who made the price advance $85 per bale? It was those determined farmers mainly of northeast Texas and other states who refused to sell. Can the farmers price their cotton and get the price? Does any one believe the price would have advanced if the farmers had been willing to sell at 16 or 18 cents? Did any one ever see the price advance $85 per bale before? With the railroads and ships forbid from hauling only a limited monthly supply of cotton, if the farmers had rushed it on the market, don't you know they would have made the price 10 cents? Have not the farmers got it in their power to make the price and make it to cover cost and a profit if they work together as they have been doing? If they are indifferent, won't their indifference make it low? Of course they have the pricing in their own hands.

Well, let us see further: The price (35 cents), recommended in 1918, was $85 per bale higher than it was selling for when picking began. Again northeast Texas farmers made the crop and also made the price. In about 30 days cotton was selling for their price, 35 cents. They had ups and downs and fights from every angle, but those who stood their ground received the price. They prevented the crop from selling for 12 to 15 cents. They whipped the bears in their price-fixing scheme for 20 cents and forced the price back to their old wishes.

Last fall the price named was about $90 per bale above the street price September 1st. This time the nifty West Texas farmers made the crop of the state and made the price. By November 1st they were reaping their reward. Their nerve and good judgment made West Texas rich in spite of opposition, and some of it in their own section. Again all kinds of schemes, tricks and combinations were brought into play. Compresses shut down, embargo against the railroads hauling cotton was put on and a "no demand" camouflage spread to all grades of cotton while an eager demand for good cotton existed all the time. Under such conditions middling cotton would have sold for 15 cents if the farmers had not demanded their rights and stood their grounds. With the exception of the last three crops, has not the price been higher early in the fall than any other time until late in the spring? Why this change except by the action of the farmers??

What are the conditions affecting this crop? Are they worse or better? Let us look at both sides. The government estimate September 1st is about one and a quarter million bales more than we made last year. There is more than a million bales less of cotton, linters, bollies and dog tail than there was last year. A good portion of the spinable carry-over though mostly low grade, is in the farmers hands. The damaged mills of Europe are repaired and ready for cotton; foreigners have adjusted their business so as to buy cotton in larger quantities than last year; the mills have small stocks which will be exhausted before the new crop can reach them; there is nothing certain that more cotton will be made this year than last; we have not made peace with the boll worms and weevils yet and their damage to the crop is minimized to the public; we count on all blooms up to the 10th to 15th of September making cotton; the weevils stopped blooming in the Rio Grande Valley in July; but a good crop was matured. In South Central Texas they prevented blooming August 1st; in Central, North and East Texas, blooming ceased about September 1st. Experience has taught us that when the weevils become plentiful enough to stop blooming they began work on the small bolls and continue their work on larger ones. We had hoped West Texas would escape the ravages of the worms and weevils but recent reports say that section has been seriously visited by the boll worms. The fact that the crop is about one month late, it looks safe to consider the September 1st report as about representing a normal August 1st report.

The price recommended for the 1920 crop is 48 cents, which is about as much above the street price as that of the past two years. Take all these facts into consideration and then remember the organization has been vigorously extended all this year and practically covers the whole state. The machinery is in the best shape it has been in since the work began.

As business men let me say to you: your work has proven its value. You do not have to take the advice of any one else to know what to do; your own acts stand out boldly before you, which is all the evidence you need. Why consult some one who has not informed himself? Take this to your banker, your merchant, and show them what has been accomplished. Convince them you are doing what ought to be done and they will help and encourage you.

Do not allow yourself to become discouraged because some enemy, or thoughtless friend, throws up to you that John Smith was offered 40 cents and finally sold for 30 cents, losing $50 per bale. Call his attention to the hundreds of John Smiths who sold for 18 to 30 cents at the beginning of the season the last three seasons and lost $50 per bale. The man who fails to sell at the top price is remembered. Those who sold cheap and the price went up are last sight of. The fact is those who refused to sell made the price for all, and even if some did not get the top, they got more than they would have if they had sold as fast as gathered. Farmers are doing some studying for themselves and they should do more. They know more about how the price of cotton is made and how the farmers can price it than their banker or merchant, and do not forget it. Go to these friends and inform them. Secure their co-operation. Make them close up their shop, if necessary, when one of our field men speak in your town and hear him. Get busy and make your work complete this fall. Remember above all things: you are establishing a business system of selling your cotton and you cannot have it just like you want it until it is completed. Reduce your acreage to that which your own family can easily cultivate and let the cows have the bollies and very low grades, and we will be a country of home owners.

There is no economy in buying so-called bargains in tires offered at sensationally cheap prices when a well-made tire delivers mileage at a considerably lower rate of cost.

Add the time and trouble occasioned by frequent replacements and it is fully apparent why tire users, seeking real mileage economy, are not attracted to very cheaply priced tires.

The popularity of Goodyear Tires, of the 30x3-, 30x3 1/2- and 31x4-inch sizes, is based on the fact that they are built to deliver exceptional mileage at low cost and consistently do so.

Mr. Landers had gone to the lot to help milk cows, when the bull, a dehorned Durham, charged into him, knocking him down and trampling on his body, ending in his chest and side.

Burial will be at the Odd Fellows cemetery in Goldthwaite this morning.

Mr. Landers is an old settler of this section of the country. He lived with his son, L. L. Landers, here for several years, until he and his son moved to the Shaw Bend community.

He leaves two daughters, Mrs. Joe Baudett, who lives north of town, and Mrs. Harry Wilsford; and three sons, L. L. Landers with whom he was staying at the time of his death, Barney and Felix Landers, besides other relatives.

The many friends of this good family will join the Eagle in extending to the bereaved ones condolence and sympathy in this hour of bereavement.

GOLDTHWAITE BUSINESS MEN SUBSCRIBE $1,000 FOR WORK ON PRIDDY ROAD IMMEDIATELY

A popular subscription list was circulated the last of this week by some of the enterprising business men of the city, and something around $1,000 has been subscribed for immediate work on the Priddy road. This amount of money will be sufficient to temporarily put the road in passable condition and will be of great benefit to the town as well as the citizens of the Priddy community, who thus have access to the best marketing and buying center in this portion of Texas.

Goldthwaite business men are quick to act in case of an emergency and they have royally assisted in this matter.

UNCLE BILL BOLES DEAD.

William Roles, affectionately known to his friends as "Uncle Bill," passed away at the home of Seth Waddell, near Star Tuesday afternoon.

Uncle Bill had been here at Goldthwaite visiting relatives and left for Star last Friday evening, feeling well. He was visiting at the home of Seth Waddell and the family went to the field Thursday afternoon, leaving him alone at the house. When they returned late in the afternoon he was dead. It is thought that death was caused from heart failure. He had been in bad health more or less for several years.

Funeral services will be held today at the Hearst Ranch cemetery, two miles from Star.

Uncle Bill Roles, who was 80 years of age at his death, was one of the pioneer settlers in the Star community, and was a man of many friends. He was an uncle of Mrs. C. D. Lane and Mrs. Key Johnson of this city. He leaves two sons and two daughters, besides other relatives.

The Eagle joins the many friends of the bereaved ones of this good man in extending sympathy.

Rates on Electric Lights BEGINNING OCT. 1, 1920

Minimum rate, residence or business, $2.25 per month.

Price of 20c per kilowatt for first 25 kilowatts; 15c per kilowatt for next 75 kilowatts, and 10c per kilowatt for balance of current.

Will give 10% off on all accounts paid on or before the 10th of each month, 6 p. m.

We expect to have all lights on meters within thirty days.

You will notice that the above rates will not increase your light bills where you are reasonably careful with your lights—as you can burn 10 kilowatts per month and if your bill is paid by the 10th of the month it will only cost you $2.00, the amount all customers are now paying that have Electric Irons.

By installing meters you will get much better light, as the customer who without a meter turns on all lights making it impossible for those who use light economically to get a bright light, will, with a meter, burn lights only when needed.

Our lines are very heavily loaded and the consumer who is several blocks from the plant is not getting the proper amount of current on the flat rate system.

We are sure the above arrangements will meet with the approval of every consumer on our lines.

Yours for service that serves,

Goldthwaite Light & Ice Co.

WHAT FARMERS OF TEXAS HAVE ACCOMPLISHED IN THREE YEARS.

The following is from the State Department of Agriculture at Austin: Some times it is very important to take a view of the past. Farmers as well as others.

No doubt the bear-talk you have heard and read lately about the price of this cotton crop, how low the price is, and is likely to be, and the causes for them, have gone the rounds freely. This is not new. Did you ever know of a fall that was otherwise? Bear talk is always plentiful and free.

Do the farmers of Texas know what they have accomplished in the past three years? Many of them do not. This is to refresh the minds of all what they have done and encourage them to do it again, and not only the same ones do their business duty again but take their evidence to others and line them up to help themselves. Talk it to single farmers, groups of them and call meetings and explain it.

Now listen: During the summer of 1917, 2,500 delegates of the Farmers' Institute met in Austin and pledged themselves that if Commissioner Fred W. Davis would throw the aid and influence and himself at work to aid the farmers to price their cotton and receive the price, they would go home and do their best to follow his instructions to accomplish it. He agreed to it and started his machinery in motion.

The price of 30 cents was named as the minimum price cotton should sell for. Cotton was selling for 16 to 18 cents September 10th, and going down daily. Thirty cents was at least $60 per bale more than it was selling for when the work started. He urged that every bale be held for at least 30 cents that could be held. The farmers in northeast Texas made the cotton of Texas that year and many of them held. In 60 days they were selling cotton for 30 cents. They were urged to continue to hold, as the railroads could not haul it, and to offer too much would break the market. They held and got 35 cents, or $85 per bale more than it started at. Who priced this crop? Who made the price advance $85 per bale? It was those determined farmers mainly of northeast Texas and other states who refused to sell. Can the farmers price their cotton and get the price? Does any one believe the price would have advanced if the farmers had been willing to sell at 16 or 18 cents? Did any one ever see the price advance $85 per bale before? With the railroads and ships forbid from hauling only a limited monthly supply of cotton, if the farmers had rushed it on the market, don't you know they would have made the price 10 cents? Have not the farmers got it in their power to make the price and make it to cover cost and a profit if they work together as they have been doing? If they are indifferent, won't their indifference make it low? Of course they have the pricing in their own hands.

Well, let us see further: The price (35 cents), recommended in 1918, was $85 per bale higher than it was selling for when picking began. Again northeast Texas farmers made the crop and also made the price. In about 30 days cotton was selling for their price, 35 cents. They had ups and downs and fights from every angle, but those who stood their ground received the price. They prevented the crop from selling for 12 to 15 cents. They whipped the bears in their price-fixing scheme for 20 cents and forced the price back to their old wishes.

Last fall the price named was about $90 per bale above the street price September 1st. This time the nervy West Texas farmers made the crop of the state and made the price. By November 1st they were reaping their reward. Their nerve and good judgment made West Texas rich in spite of opposition, and some of it in their own section. Again all kinds of schemes, tricks and combinations were brought into play. Compresses shut down, embargo against the railroads hauling cotton was put on and a "no demand" camouflage spread to all grades of cotton while an eager demand for good cotton existed all the time. Under such conditions middling cotton would have sold for 15 cents if the farmers had not demanded their rights and stood their grounds. With the exception of the last three crops, has not the price been higher early in the fall than any other time until late in the spring? Why this change except by the action of the farmers??

What are the conditions affecting this crop? Are they worse or better? Let us look at both sides. The government estimate September 1st is about one and a quarter million bales more than we made last year. There is more than a million bales less of cotton, linters, bollies and dog tail than there was last year. A good portion of the spinable carry-over though mostly low grade, is in the farmers hands. The damaged mills of Europe are repaired and ready for cotton; foreigners have adjusted their business so as to buy cotton in larger quantities than last year; the mills have small stocks which will be exhausted before the new crop can reach them; there is nothing certain that more cotton will be made this year than last; we have not made peace with the boll worms and weevils yet and their damage to the crop is minimized to the public; we count on all blooms up to the 10th to 15th of September making cotton; the weevils stopped blooming in the Rio Grande Valley in July; but a good crop was matured. In South Central Texas they prevented blooming August 1st; in Central, North and East Texas, blooming ceased about September 1st. Experience has taught us that when the weevils become plentiful enough to stop blooming they began work on the small bolls and continue their work on larger ones. We had hoped West Texas would escape the ravages of the worms and weevils but recent reports say that section has been seriously visited by the boll worms. The fact that the crop is about one month late, it looks safe to consider the September 1st report as about representing a normal August 1st report.

The price recommended for the 1920 crop is 48 cents, which is about as much above the street price as that of the past two years. Take all these facts into consideration and then remember the organization has been vigorously extended all this year and practically covers the whole state. The machinery is in the best shape it has been in since the work began.

As business men let me say to you: your work has proven its value. You do not have to take the advice of any one else to know what to do; your own acts stand out boldly before you, which is all the evidence you need. Why consult some one who has not informed himself? Take this to your banker, your merchant, and show them what has been accomplished. Convince them you are doing what ought to be done and they will help and encourage you.

Do not allow yourself to become discouraged because some enemy, or thoughtless friend, throws up to you that John Smith was offered 40 cents and finally sold for 30 cents, losing $50 per bale. Call his attention to the hundreds of John Smiths who sold for 18 to 30 cents at the beginning of the season the last three seasons and lost $50 per bale. The man who fails to sell at the top price is remembered. Those who sold cheap and the price went up are lost sight of. The fact is those who refused to sell made the price for all, and even if some did not get the top, they got more than they would have if they had sold as fast as gathered. Farmers are doing some studying for themselves and they should do more. They know more about how the price of cotton is made and how the farmers can price it than their banker or merchant, and do not forget it. Go to these friends and inform them. Secure their co-operation. Make them close up their shop, if necessary, when one of our field men speak in your town and hear him. Get busy and make your work complete this fall. Remember above all things: you are establishing a business system of selling your cotton and you cannot have it just like you want it until it is completed. Reduce your acreage to that which your own family can easily cultivate and let the cows have the bollies and very low grades, and we will be a country of home owners.

Low-Cost Mileage—in Goodyear Tires for Small Cars

There is no economy in buying so-called bargains in tires offered at sensationally cheap prices when a well-made tire delivers mileage at a considerably lower rate of cost.

Add the time and trouble occasioned by frequent replacements and it is fully apparent why tire users, seeking real mileage economy, are not attracted to very cheaply priced tires.

The popularity of Goodyear Tires, of the 30x3-, 30x3½- and 31x4-inch sizes, is based on the fact that they are built to deliver exceptional mileage at low cost and consistently do so.

If you own a Ford, Chevrolet, Maxwell, Dort or other car taking these sizes, go to your nearest Service Station for Goodyear Tires—for true Goodyear mileage, value, economy.

30 x 3½ Goodyear Double-Cure Fabric, All-Weather Tread $23.50
30 x 3½ Goodyear Single-Cure Fabric, Anti-Skid Tread $21.50

Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes cost no more than the price you are asked to pay for tubes of less merit—why risk costly casings when such sure protection is available! $4.50
