

OUR FIRST FAIR

The date for the First Mills County Fair is Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, July 20, 21, and 22, 1926. Eight Community Fairs have already been organized, and more are expected to bring displays to the County Fair, besides the large number of individual exhibits of livestock.

ADVERTISE MILLS COUNTY

When you have finished with this issue, send it to some relative or friend out of the county, requesting him to read "Farm Facts and Fancies," written by our County Agent. These are not daily paper "booster" articles they so often see, but facts about Mills County.

VOLUME THIRTY-TWO.

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, APRIL 9, 1926.

No. THIRTY-TWO

UNUSUAL HONOR COMES TO FORMER GOLDTHWAITE WOMAN

Mrs. Hill DeWolfe—better known in journalism as Genie Griffin DeWolfe, received a unique honor when a Fellowship in The Poetry Society of England was offered her recently.

Some of this writer's verse was used for a season in the Eagle and will be remembered by those who followed the columns of this paper during her sojourn here. Now it seems that her output of metrical type is recognized as poetry by one of the most important of poetical groups of international scope.

Mrs. DeWolfe explains that the membership was offered her through a sonnet on "ILLUSSION" which she submitted in an International Poetry Contest. Of course she accepted the offer and was duly elected to membership in this organization which has its headquarters in London.

Besides her verse—Mrs. DeWolfe placed some "big time" Journalism during last season while out with DeWolfe's Dixie. She has had several big feature articles—sometimes of a page and a half including photographs—in the San Antonio Express, The Houston Chronicle and the Waco Times Herald have also used the product of some of her feature work gathered during her travels.

DeWolfe's Dixie—equipped originally for travel with Mr. DeWolfe in search of health has accomplished its intended purpose and she says her husband is fully recovered. He is working to improve a small farm on Lake Worth in Tarrant County. The daughter of the house, Hildagene, is in school at Fort Worth under her father's care.

Mrs. DeWolfe is accompanied en route by her son, Clinton and his wife, who was Miss Lauda Martin McCarty of Lamkin. Clinton is the equal partner in the picture show and is studying for the work of an electrical engineering for which he shows great aptitude.

It will be remembered that the elder son of this family chose a wife from Goldthwaite, Miss Ruyel Keese. Interested friends will be glad to know that Homer has recovered sufficiently to pursue his studies at the State University Law School, with a view to future practice of that profession. Homer and his wife, Clinton and his wife, and Mrs. DeWolfe have all been here for a short stay this week.

ORDER EASTERN STAR

There will be a special meeting of the Eastern Star next Monday evening at 7:30 for practice work. Every member is urged to be present. MRS. MARY EVANS, Worthy Matron.

CITY OFFICERS ELECTED

At an election held Tuesday of this week, H. G. Bodkin was elected Mayor, W. A. Bayley, J. D. Brim and D. O. Simpson were elected aldermen, E. O. Priddy was elected tax assessor, collector and recorder, Grover Dalton was elected Treasurer, and Mrs. M. Bowman secretary of the city of Goldthwaite.

SAYLOR & PARK BUY CHEVROLET AGENCY

Saylor & Park, owners of the City Garage here and agents for the Chevrolet automobile for Mills county recently bought the Chevrolet agency at San Saba and will call same the San Saba Chevrolet Company. Burrell Park has gone to San Saba to take charge of the agency there, while Kelly Saylor will have charge here. As quickly as possible they will move into better quarters there and will put in a first-class repair department.

Messrs. Saylor and Park have made a remarkable success in business since buying the City Garage here a few years ago. They have steadily advanced, both in the number of cars they have sold and in the amount of general garage business they do. While some garages have been compelled to cut the force of employees, Saylor & Park have been adding to their number. Consequently, they enjoy one of the biggest repair businesses in Goldthwaite. A curious coincidence—if it is a coincidence—and one which many other garages as well as other merchants would do well to ponder is this: Saylor & Park have been the most liberal and the most consistent users of advertising space of any garage in Goldthwaite.

That they will make a success of their San Saba agency there is no doubt.

F. P. BOWMAN ANNOUNCES

As stated in the Eagle last week County Attorney F. P. Bowman authorized us to announce his name as a candidate for county attorney to succeed himself, of course, subject to the action of the Democratic primary next July. Mr. Bowman has held the office for the last year and a half and has conducted same in a manner entirely satisfactory to the citizenship. His request for a customary second term will, no doubt receive favorable consideration from the Mills county voters. Mr. Bowman's qualifications are ample and his efforts for the enforcement of the law are untiring.

W. M. U.

The Baptist W. M. U. of Mills county will hold an all-day service at Mullin next Sunday. All women are requested to be there. Mrs. Leigh, a state worker, will attend. Dinner will be served on the ground.

MRS. D. D. KEMPER, County President.

AFTER (Ode to an abandoned oil field) by Genie Griffin DeWolfe.

I.

Fields no plowshare's turning—
Rusting and rotted debris
Blotched the face of creation,
Pimpled in every way.
Blind are those who would hold it,
Sordid and glorious both,
Seeing not that its waning
Never will wax into growth.

Refrain:

After the oil boom's punctured—
After the derricks are gone—
After the crowds have vanished—
Worker and sharp passed on—
Many a shack's left standing
Emptied of all but room,
Many the hearts still hoping
After the punctured boom.

II.

Dim are the lights and scattered—
Huge bulks a building or two Silent and dark as if vaulted—
Domed with a Stygian hue.
Distant lowing of cattle
Drowned once by the clang of steel
Voice of a sleepy infant
Clear as a screaming wheel!

Refrain:

After the din and clatter—
After the ruck and risk—
After skyrocket-fortunes
Cease to clamber and whisk—
Many the heart that's hopeful—
Sure of a boom to come:
Not one moment believing
"After the boom the bum!"

WESLEY BROTHERHOOD HELD FINE MEETING

The Wesley Brotherhood met at the Methodist Church Thursday night, April the first. Music was furnished by the orchestra of the church. After prayer Judge L. E. Patterson, President of the organization, spoke on the Constitution and By-laws. Rev. F. G. Clark of Center City delivered an inspirational address on Christian Brotherhood, A solution of Our National and International Problems. W. C. Dew spoke on How the Men Will Vote, and Prof. D. A. Newton on Men, Not Money, The Primary Need. The Six required committees were elected. A letter addressed to Congressman Thos. L. Blanton, for the purpose of expressing the Brotherhood's desire for him to use his influence to prevent such modifications of the Volstead Act as would tend to encourage the manufacture, sale, or use of intoxicating liquor, was read by Judge J. C. Darrah. The letter was prevented from being presented on the ground that no politics should enter into the organization. Mr. Edward Geeslin treated the men with soda water and cakes and an enjoyable social hour was spent. It was agreed that the Brotherhood should meet on the first Thursday night in each month. — Claude Dickerson, Corresponding Secretary.

J. B. RENFRO ANNOUNCES

J. B. Renfro of Mullin authorized the Eagle recently to announce his name as candidate for county commissioner, precinct No. 3, subject to the action of the Democratic primary next July. Mr. Renfro needs no introduction to the people of his precinct, he having resided there for many years. His ability to successfully conduct the important duties of the office of commissioner will be shown by his record, for he held the office several years ago and satisfied his citizenship. He assures the people that should they elect him, he will make every effort to not disappoint them in his conduct of the office.

PARENT-TEACHERS ASS'N

There will be a meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association next Tuesday, April 15th at the school building. All members are urged to be present.

MRS. J. M. CAMPBELL, President.

METHODIST CHURCH ANNOUNCEMENT FOR THE COMING SUNDAY

THOMAS J. RENFRO ANNOUNCES

Representative Thomas J. Renfro authorized the Eagle to announce his name as a candidate for re-election as representative for the 104th district, composed of Mills and Comanche counties. Mr. Renfro has served faithfully during the time he has been in Austin and his record shows that he was "present and voting" on almost every subject coming before the body. How Mr. Renfro has voted, we do not know, but we are sure that as long as he was "present and voting" the best interests of the two interested counties were safeguarded. Mr. Renfro solicits the votes and influence of the citizens of these two counties in order that he may be re-elected to this important office.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

Elder O. O. Newton of Evant will preach at the Church of Christ at the 11 o'clock hour and in the evening next Sunday. Newton Brothers will sing at 3 in the afternoon.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

This will be our Easter service as we were away last Sunday. Prayer meeting every Wednesday night.

The lesson to be studied next Wednesday will be the last two Chapters in 1st John. We want every one to come and bring their Bibles. A hearty welcome awaits all who visit us. Any one who does not attend Sunday school we are inviting you to come. Our special contest is working well, the Busy Bee's are doing their best to beat the Hustlers.

Our revival meeting convenes from May the 16th to 30th. Rev. Lum Jones of Ada, Oklahoma, will conduct the Meeting.—G. R. DOSIER, Pastor.

LIKE FATHER, LIKE SON!

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. proves in "Wild Horse Mesa" the new Paramount western melodrama, that he is a chip of the old block.

In this picturization of Zane Grey's widely read novel of the same name, young Fairbanks is given an opportunity to rival his famous dad's athletic ability. He portrays the very important role of "Chess Weymer"—a part that calls for genuine acting and some horsemanship feats for which he trained long and faithfully.

Jack Holt, Billie Dove and Noah Beery share featured honors with Fairbanks in the production. The story has to do with the capturing of wild horses, and is a swift succession of pulsating thrills, capped by astupenduous climax, in which several thousand wild horses are stamped into a vicious barbed wire trap.

This picture plays at the Dixie next Monday and Tuesday, April 12th and 13th.

SCHOOL TRUSTEE ELECTION

In Goldthwaite Independent District. At an election held last Saturday, A. E. Obenhaus, Edward Geeslin, J. E. Greathouse, and A. E. Evans were elected for the ensuing two years.

--The Bank's Opportunity To Serve--

The bank's opportunity to serve goes far beyond the lending of a few hundred dollars to finance a crop or to make needed farm improvements. The merchant in town takes advantage daily of the services of the bank; yet how often the farm customer—to whom these same services are willingly extended—fails to avail himself of the counsel and co-operation of his banker in helping to solve the financial problems of the farm.

Our farm depositors will find it to their advantage to co-operate constantly with this bank, and are invited to do so on every occasion.

Congress No. 1

I went to Washington the other day. I visited "The House of Representatives," they were in session. What I mean by being in session, the tax bill was up for debate and they were arguing on "Better Golf courses for the medium salaried man." I suppose if the World Court bill had been up, they would have been talking on "Shall America park oblong or parallel."

Well, then I went over to the Senate. They had adjourned, so I felt that America was not having such a bad day at that. We were only 50 percent inefficient THAT DAY.

You know we all joke and kid about Congress, but we can't improve on them. No matter who we elect, he is just as bad as the one he replaced. So with all their faults we love 'em. They are as good as the people who vote to put them there, and they are 10 times better than the ones who don't vote at all. They are like "Bull" Durham, they are not perfect, but they are the best in their line.

Will Rogers

P.S. There will be another piece in this paper soon. Look for it.

When Mr. and Mrs. Trent decided to make Brownwood their home, Mrs. Trent was asked to retain her membership in the Club. It has been the club's pleasure to have her at most of the meetings this year. Mrs. Trent enjoys her new home and new friends but tries to reserve the first and third Tuesday as Old Home Days. The Merry Wives had looked forward to this meeting with much pleasure and had hoped to make the attendance 100 per cent and it was but for sickness of two of the members. ## --FARM FACTS AND FANCIES--

By W. P. WEAVER, County Agent.

Comanche Farmers Will Grow Sweet Potatoes

At a meeting of sweet potato growers in Comanche it was indicated that not less than 300 acres of sweet potatoes will be planted this year within a radius of five or six miles from Comanche.

The Comanche Chamber of Commerce and Lion's Club will co-operate with the farmers in developing a market for the product and also expect to secure a sweet potato curing plant.

Up to Mills County Farmers

Since cheap cotton seems inevitable why not Mills county farmers capitalize their resources by betting on sweet potatoes. Other sections with no better soil are making sweet potatoes a sure money crop every year.

We have been investigating the possibility of a curing plant and find it is not an expensive project. Many communities in Texas build these plants by going in with a man who has had experience in the management and forming a stock company. I know some places where farmers have paid out their stock with potatoes the first year. A curing plant would mean much to Mills county.

Control for Cut Worms

The most effective control for cutworms is clean cultivation and the destruction of all weeds in July and August. However, if the garden is infested at this season, vigorous measures must be taken at once to save the plants.

To destroy cut worms wholesale use the following mixture: To six pounds of dry wheat bran add a quarter of a pound of paris green or white arsenic. Put a pint of molasses and the juice of a lemon in a quart of water and stir well. Pour this liquid over the poisoned bran and make stiff adding more water if necessary. Sow broadcast along the rows.

Line Breeding

Line breeding, or line-breeding as it is to be when one gets the work down to a really scientific basis, is about the only way definite results may be secured. Where one has secured really valuable traits in his stock, either for fine points in Standard breeding or for egg production, then it is that he should strive to attain such points, and, in fact, improve upon them. The successful exhibitor of fine stock can hope to retain his reputation only by the most careful inbreeding. The stock one is working with should be of the best types, strong and vigorous to the limit, and free from disease taints from having passed through serious sickness. The latter point is the most important of all, for any foul that has passed through a severe case of roup or other constitutional trouble is not fitted to be a breeder in important cases like this. The youngsters will not come up to par.

Equal importance should be attached to the male and female lines. Space will not permit us to go fully into this matter, but to illustrate: Taking a good cock and hen, not closely related, and breed them together for being better understood, we will give them names, calling the male Theodore and the female Mary. The first year of course, the young will be one-half Theodore and one-half Mary blood. Toe-mark the young and record in a small breeding book for the purpose. You will very likely find that many of the males will resemble their dam and the females their sire. In color they will more or less resemble the sire more than they will the dam, but in shape and form resemble their dam.

The second year mate the best all around cockerel you raised to his dam, Mary. Such a one should be fully matured and in good health. Mate the old cock, Theodore, to the best pullet he has produced. Do not use but these single matings. This may look like slow work to the energetic breeder, but we must remember that in building a strain we must make haste slowly, and be sure of every move we make. The stock raised from Theodore the second year will be three-fourths Theodore and one-fourth Mary. The stock raised from Mary the second year will be three-fourths Mary and one-fourth Theodore.

The third year mate two of the best pullets raised from Theodore line back to him, and the offspring will be seven-eighths his blood. The third year mate Mary to the best cockerel raised from her the second year and the young will be seven-eighths Mary blood.

The fourth year, a half-blood of the original mating, which will be two years old then, can be mated to a seven-eighths blood pullet, and the result will be eleven-sixteenths blood of each line; or should either Theodore or Mary be in a good breeding condition, this one can be mated to a seven-eighths blood bird of its own line, producing a fowl fifteen-sixteenths pure of its line. As a rule, however, males do not live to be of much service at that age.

You are now ready with the goods to draw from one line to breed on the other line, back and forth, which will give you health in your flock that you cannot get by haphazard inbreeding. As indicated at the start it will be necessary to toe-mark all chicks when hatched, using a certain mark for all chicks of that mating. In that way you will be able to tell by referring to your book just how each one is bred and plan how you wish to make the future matings. Care must also be exercised not to carry the close breeding so far as to injure the vitality of the stock. After one has bred as indicated above for four years he should have stock enough on hand to mate up at least four yards which will give stock that can be crossed from one yard to another, and give as good vitality as would be gotten from an outside source, and much safer in quality.

Long-Drawn-Out Tragedy

The effort put forth year after year and decade after decade by the all-cotton farmer to prosper and never succeed. The reason is that it is basically wrong. Such farming means that such farmer intends to buy out of the State high-priced feed and food with the money he receives for his low-priced cotton.

He can't do it and "get by." He has been failing at this game ever since the Civil War, is still failing at it and will continue to fail at it. Looks like he would find this out after so long a time, doesn't it? Well, he it said to his credit, that he is beginning to do so. The continuous and never-ceasing campaign carried on by the Dallas Morning News and the Semi-Weekly Farm News during the last forty years for diversification of crops, supplemented and stimulated the last two years by our "More Cotton on Fewer Acres" contests, is beginning to show very impressive signs of long-hoped-for results. This means that with each succeeding year there will be fewer and fewer farmers in Texas who will pay out their good cotton money for food and feed bought outside the State. It means that the Texas farmer is beginning to see that the place for him to get his food his feed, his meat, his vegetables, his fruit and canned goods is on his own farm.

The Texas farmer pays out each year about $150,000,000 for these products—food and feed—that he should by all rules of economy and common sense produce at home. Would it not mean a lot if this $150,000,000 were now in the hands of Texas farmers instead of those farmers in Kansas, Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin and other states?

Drouth showed Need of Terracing
As a rule, a farmer terraces his fields with the main idea of preventing washing, but the drouth this year proved that the terraces are also beneficial in dry weather. Terraces keep the top soil, which contains the organic matter, from washing away. Soil with organic matter absorbs and retains more water than other soils. Farmers who had good terraces found their crops in the vicinity of the terraces stood the dry weather better than crops further away. In many cases the terraces could be traced through the fields by a greater growth of plants among them. Terracing is the first step in soil conservation.

Home Economics
Money spent for comfortable homes with modern conveniences, efficient machinery for house-keeping as well as for raising crops, should be regarded as an investment rather than an indulgence. The standard of living and shows the children that farming is more than raising and selling crops.

bad spells relieved

"NOTHING can take the place of Thedford's Black-Draught with us because we have never found anything at once so mild and so effective," says Mrs. Hugh Nichols, R. F. D. 4, Princeton, Ky. "When the children have spells of indigestion and upset stomachs, I always straighten them out with a dose or two of Black-Draught."

Ford When You Trade Your Car— Ford owners are continually being approached by automobile salesmen who wish to "accept" Fords as part payment on more expensive cars. But, bear these facts in mind: The amount of the trade-in allowance you can get is not the most important thing for you to consider. The big thing is the difference you have to pay. And remember, that the higher priced car will not be so easy to dispose of when you come to trade it in. It is logical that automobile dealers should be eager to trade with Ford owners. No other used car is so easy to sell as a used Ford—because everyone has confidence in Ford quality. And it is not expensive to recondition, since Ford replacement parts are lowest in price. If you wish to trade your Ford for a new automobile, stick to the car that you know to be dependable, useful and economical. Go to your Ford dealer! He will give you a fair and liberal allowance for your present Ford and will gladly arrange payment of the balance to suit your convenience. Most automobiles carry greater discounts to dealers than the Ford—another reason why other dealers may offer the Ford owner a larger trade-in allowance. THAT HIGH SCHOOL QUESTIONNAIRE CONTINUED

Rev. E. A. Hunter
The Picture Show

The students who answered my questionnaire seemed not to be "movie fans." Very few of them attend the picture show with any regularity. The "averageshow" is described by most of them as being unsatisfactory, disgusting, degrading, enervating, harmful. One student writing on the "average show" says: "I have a vague feeling of dissatisfaction after attending the show. I feel that I have spent some money for something as nearly obscene as the law will permit."

Another writes: "Sometimes pleased, never inspired, often disgusted."

While the next answers: "Really pleased, and satisfied, sometimes inspired, rarely ever disgusted."

Most of the students replying however, indicated that they exercised discretion in the selection of their shows, that they attended only such as "America," "The Ten Commandments," "The Birth of a Nation," or some other well recommended picture.

And that is the point I want of stress here. Don't go to a show just to be going. An evening at home with the folk, or with a good book, will prove more worthwhile and profitable than the "average show." One must exercise discretion in the selection of his shows, just as he does in the selection of his books. Shows like books may enrich or degrade you. Be slow to emulate the example of movie actresses or actors. You had better take your father and mother in their quiet little house as the models for your life and character.

Prohibition

I am going to quote here Art. 666 of the Revised Statutes of Texas. It is quite doubtful whether many high school students have ever read for themselves this paragraph which they surely ought to know about first hand.

"It shall be unlawful for any person, directly or indirectly, to possess or receive for the purpose of sale, or to manufacture, sell, barter, exchange, transport, export, deliver, take orders for or furnish spirituous, vinous or malt liquors, or medicated bitters capable of producing intoxication, or any other intoxicant whatever, or to possess, receive, manufacture or knowingly sell, barter, exchange, transport, export, deliver, take orders for or furnish any equipment still, mash, material, supplies, device, or other thing for manufacturing, selling, bartering, exchanging, transporting, exporting, delivering, taking orders for, or furnishing any such liquors, intoxicants or beverages."

To violate any provision of the foregoing article is to become a criminal. No one can boast of love for his country and flag who violates in any particular this law of the land.

To make this law, or any other law of the land, the subject of jest, or ridicule in the papers, on the stage, on street corners, is a mark of disloyalty to the government.

Te open saloon has been banished from American soil. It has gone and gone to stay. Read this timely and forceful editorial from the columns of the Christian Century of March 18th.

Not a Failure

"The wets are doing what they can just now to utilize the reaction which always follows in the wake of a great legal reform. While they are arguing the return of light wine and beer, or the adoption of some kind of governmental control as that of Sweden, it is worth while to hear the Swedish journal, the Svenska Morgnbladet, says about it. Its verdict is that 'prohibition in America is not a failure, it is superior in some ways to the Swedish system of drink regulation and while temperance conditions here are not improving, American conditions are becoming more favorable. There was a time when the barkeepers' associations of Chicago voted to offer its cooperation to the police to curb the illegal activities of the 10,000 blind tigers and alley bootleggers, and there were 7,000 saloons in the city."

Surely temperance conditions are improving here. The saloon is gone and it appears that there is no more bootlegging than when the saloon was here.

World Wide Sweep

"Meanwhile the temperance crusade marches on. Local option is on the way in Britain. Germany is experiencing a temperance awakening and leaders in many Latin American lands join Calles of Mexico in working for temperance reform. In India the prohibitionists are wrestling with colonial authorities. Local option is demanded by native leaders in many states and Gandhi has joined the prohibitionists. The Scandinavian lands move on toward joining Finland as complete prohibition states. President Masaryk of Czechoslovakia joins president Hainisch of Australia as a temperance crusader. He writes the anti-alcohol workers: 'I am with you in your campaign to make Czechoslovakia free from alcohol,' and warns his fellow countrymen, 'Nations and states which have over come this habit have resumed the leadership of cultural aims and spiritual culture. The comparison of nations and states in Europe, and throughout the world, proves it. As we desire to be among the first nations, we must change the way of our living, and become sober and moderate. Without the moral issue of our life we cannot make any progress.'"

"Reports from Russia, as from Canada and other areas, where there has been a recession in prohibition reforms," the Christian Century continues, "indicates that the results are not gratifying to anti-prohibitionists. In the old local option days one of the surest ways of insuring permanent prohibition was to allow a town or county to go back to the saloon. A two years dose of the old evil was usually ample, when put over against the better conditions of even a short dry era, to swing the balance of power permanently to the dry side. That is why even the repeal of the Volstead law in the United States would not dismay the dry leaders, for such repeal would bring a sorry era of swinish indulgence which would beget reaction that would insure permanent prohibition."

When the rest of the world is moving forward in this field the United States cannot afford to take a backward step. I have therefore quoted this law, and this comment on our temperance situation, in order to call upon the high school students and all others to stand true. Be not dismayed by the propoganda of the wets.

Lampasas, Texas.
