NEW MAGNOLIA FILLING STATION ALMOST FINISHED

Work is progressing rapidly on the new Magnolia Filling station, located next door north of the West Texas Telephone company office, on Fisher street. This station is a brick veneer, put up under the latest designs for convenience in serving and for beauty. A. E. Evans will occupy the station.

The distant city with its towering buildings and promises of gay life is often an irresistible lure in the eyes of youth, seeking opportunity and excitement. True, the big city has its charm and magnificence, but these are not to be found readily by the young man or woman who goes there in search of a job.

Better opportunities are to be found here in Goldthwaite where there is a greater and increasing demand for those who have vision and ability. The big city is full of fortune hunters, yet only a limited number can win out in the great struggle. Those who fail often lose heavily.

The best advice that can be given the young people is to stick to the home town and reap the rewards of faithful service to it. They should remember that success is not a matter of geography. To be successful in Goldthwaite is to be accepted as a success everywhere.

Will Little and family visited relatives in the city this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Newt Irvin visited relatives at Novice last week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Y. Stokes, Jr., have recently moved from Ardmore, Okla., to 9ustin, Texas. Mr. Stokes will be connected with the Austin American there.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Thompson are expected in within the next few days to spend a few weeks here.

TEXAS TO LOSE AN ATTORNEY GENERAL OR A GOVERNOR

One of the strangest "bets" ever made in Texas politics was the challenge last week by Governor Ferguson to Dan Moody to let the July primaries rid Texas of either "Fergusonism" or "Moodyism". Mrs. Ferguson stated that she would resign the Governorship immediately after the primaries July 24 if she did not beat Mr. Moody 25,000 votes provided Mr. Moody would resign if she did. Mr. Moody immediately accepted the challenge and it seems that July 25 will find Texas without a Governor or an attorney general.

HUGE GRAIN CROP READY FOR REAPER

Work is beginning on cutting Mills County's huge small grain crop. Where the hail did not damage it the grain is as fine as it can be. The foliage is heavy and several car loads of twine have been sold to the farmers to tie-out the crop.

STATESMANSHIP NEEDED

Gasoline prices have gone up from two to four cents in Texas since the merger of the Standard Oil Co. with the Magnolia, the Humble and the lesser producing companies.

A control of oil filling stations by the Standard and its group is in the process of making.

The price of gasoline may be expected to advance further.

With hundreds of thousands of gallons of gas used in Texas daily the profit will soon amount into millions. In one year's time the profits made from a four-cent advance in gasoline would make the $600,000 profits on a road contract look trifling in comparison.

Lynch Davidson saw this issue in the governorship campaign long before it dawned on most of the people.

OIL WELL DOWN TO 1,000 FOOT LEVEL

Work on the Weston No. 4 oil well being drilled on the Bayou is progressing nicely. Despite several breakdowns, a good record has been made so far and the drilling is progressing rapidly. About 1,000 feet have been drilled.

It was reported that a fine showing of oil was encountered at the 700 foot level, however, drilling was not halted and will not be until the 1300 foot sand is struck. At that depth if indications are favorable it is the intention of the drillers to test the sand. Should this sand fail to produce in commercial quantities the 1800 foot sand will be reached and tested before abandonment of the hole.

The bill permitting the Standard to come back was passed quietly, yet under the eyes of the Fergusonists, and is consequences were not realized until it was too late.

It will take statesmanship to remedy this situation in which Texas finds itself with reference to the apparent oil monopoly, from which Texas had been free for a score of years. But state anti-trust laws can be enforced. What is needed is a governor with the fidelity to the people's interest of a Hogg or a Culberson or R. V. Davidson, who as attorney general, drove the oil monopoly from the state.

Of the three leading candidates Lynch Davidson, with his years of experience in study of state affairs, appears best able to protect the public interests.—Dallas Dispatch.

FACTS ABOUT SHEEP AND GOATS

One of the most rapidly developing industries of Texas during recent years has been the raising of sheep and goats and the production of wool and mohair.

Ten years ago the Texas wool crop was averaging a value of about two million dollars. Last year Texas sold more than eleven million dollars worth of wool. The value of mohair produced has jumped from two million eight hundred thousand dollars to five million and eighty four thousand dollars in the last five years.

There is no better place in the world to raise sheep and goats than in Mills county. Every farmer needs to have a sack or two of wool to sell and should have a small bunch of sheep and goats. This is diversification in the right way.

This Bank will be glad to help you locate what you want.

HOW LAND SWINDLERS AND LOAN SHARKS DEFRAUD THEIR PREY

W. R. Morehouse Reveals Further Schemes by Which Poor Widows Are Bereft of Their Savings—Unbelievable Frauds Are Worked on the Uninformed.

By W. R. MOREHOUSE,
Public Relations Commission, American Bankers Association.

ARTICLE NO. III

LAND swindles are almost as common as sand on the seashore. Here is one. A widow was left alone in the world with but $6,000. She was urged to take a free ride into the country to look over a new town site. Just a pleasure ride, she was told. No obligation on her part. She accepted the invitation with no intention of parting with her precious $6,000, but she fell among high-pressure salesmen and in an unguarded moment she affixed her signature to a contract to purchase a vacant lot for the $6,000 cash she had in a savings bank.

Thirty days after she drew out her account for what she supposed was a business lot she received a notice that her monthly instalment of $6,000 was due, being a $1,000 payment on each of six $6,000 lots. Strange as it may seem, not until she received this notice did she read the contract she had signed. Instead of buying one $6,000 lot and paying for it, as she meant to do, she had signed a contract to buy six $6,000 business lots and the $6,000 she drew from the bank had been applied as a first payment of $1,000 each on the six lots.

Had she gone to her banker she would have saved herself the loss of her inheritance, but doubtless the reason she had not consulted her bank was because she was not aware that bankers render such a service.

Wednesday at 2 A. M. Mr. J. H. Wilson died at Marlin Sanitarium where he was carried the day before in an ambulance hoping the change would prove beneficial to him. His health had been declining for several months and he had made frequent visits to the sanitariums in this section of the state. Howard Wilson was at his bedside when the end came.

Mr. Wilson was a upright Christian gentleman and one of the oldest citizens of the town. He leaves a wife and seven children and a number of grandchildren besides hosts of friends and comrades who will miss him in the daily walks of life.

Laws You Don't Want

Laws requiring the Santa Fe and other railroads to spend money needlessly, tend to keep freight rates up. Limiting length of trains and saying how many men shall be employed to run a train, to that extent prevent lowering costs. This is your problem, too. Think it over.

In a manufacturing business the greater the output the lower the cost per unit. Therefore all progressive manufacturing concerns try to increase volume of output.

The railroads of this country are in the manufacturing business. They make and sell transportation.

Obviously it is to their interest to sell their product at as low a price as possible, in order to increase volume of business handled.

To sell at a lower price they must get their costs down to as low a figure as possible consistent with good service.

They cannot lower prices for materials and supplies, or wages, the latter being fixed by agreements with the men and by the Labor Board established by law.

The only other way left is by more efficient operation—that means handling more freight per man employed. To handle more freight economically means larger locomotives, better track and longer trains.

Laws limiting the number of cars in a train, or saying how many men shall be employed on a train, are laws which to that extent prevent lowering costs and keep up rates.

Any laws that require the railroads to spend money needlessly have a tendency to keep up rates.

While primarily this is a railroad problem, in the end it affects your own business as well. That is why your attention is called to it in this way. Think it over.

FUTURE BECKONS YOUNG AMERICANS

Achievements of Past Only Show Great Opportunity Ahead.

Great events of the past quarter century which lead some young men to complain that all the big things have been done, leaving no opportunity for them, as a matter of fact only go to show that even greater opportunity today lies ahead of them, F. N. Shepherd, Executive Manager of the American Bankers Association, recently told members of the American Institute of Banking in New York. After reviewing the outstanding accomplishments in science, industry and finance during the last twenty-five years, Mr. Shepherd emphasized the reward given men of achievement in America, especially in the financial field.

"The achievements of the past are the groundwork for the opportunities of today and tomorrow," he said. "There never was a time when so great were the potentialities of the individual. The world was never so ready and able to pay well for what it wants. For superior service to society under competitive conditions, whether through invention or production or organization or distribution of useful articles, no reward is begrudged, particularly here in America.

"Adding to human comfort and human needs, these things make life easier and better. The world has shared, but it is in America that they have reached their highest development and utilization. The American spirit of useful enterprise, however, does not confine itself within our own borders. It permeates the entire world and renders great service to peoples other than our own.

"Let us pass over America's service to humanity in the war and consider what is being done now. Largely to rebuild the economic life of a world shattered by the war and its devastating after effects, America has, since the war, loaned other peoples over ten billion dollars. Last year alone a billion and a half in foreign financing was consummated in the United States. American financial genius has so far readjusted our banking machinery to meet enlarged international obligations that stupendous foreign loans, such as the $100,000,000 Dawes plan credit to Germany, are concluded and the books closed after being open to public subscription only a few minutes.

"With our new world viewpoints we in America have many great things yet to do. These things are typical of the broadminded world viewpoint of American finance. It shows the vision necessary to the men who guide our business affairs today. Certainly there is an inspiration in this and the great opportunities which await us."

Bankers and business men of the leading towns of Taylor county, Texas, employed a county agent last spring, and requested that he vigorously promote boys' and girls' club activities. As a result of his work over 300 club members were enrolled. Work is being concentrated this year on poultry culling and grain sorghum seed selection. This fall there will be exhibits and contests, for which the business men are contributing generous prizes.

CLASS HISTORY

By Ruth Featherston

Now, the history of the Class of nineteen hundred twenty six, of the High School of the City of Goldthwaite, County of Mills, State of Texas, is in this wise:

In the beginning, in the year of our Lord 1922 in the ninth month and on the eighth day, there entered into this land of learning twenty five beautiful and charming young ladies and nineteen hold and dashing young men. Some came from the Goldthwaite Grammar School; some were green and fresh from a far country, some came from farms where they had been tillers of the soil, and some came from other halls of instruction.

It came to pass, as they entered this land that they were received with wild welcomes and rejoicings by Mr. Cantrell the Superintendent; Miss Lula Hays, the English and History teacher, Miss Pryor, the Algebra teacher and all the rest who, as fate decreed, should henceforth lead them up the slippery byways of knowledge.

As they entered the land they were received with malicious glee by a certain band of wild beings who were called Sophomores, and who, because of their fierce taste for Freshman blood, did pounce upon them in the day and night and did cause them to suffer great things and to say in their hearts: "Behold, blessed be the name of Education for because of it we have endured great torments, both of the body and of the mind, verily have we been martyrs to its great and noble cause."

As this class of forty four members dwelt long in the land, they fell in with the custom of the inhabitants and then the strangeness wore away.

Scarcely, before the time could be realized this class glided into its second year.

Now as it happened that there dwelt in an adjoining territory, Mr. D. A. Newton, a man of much learning and good repute, who, hearing of the departure from his post of W. E. Cantrell, removed from this field of labor, and came to this land of learning and dwells with this class of forty members.

As time and years rolled by this class pressed on to a higher goal. Toward the end of our Junior year our eye began to be turned to graduation. When lo, we looked around and found many familiar faces were gone. Let's see some causes. During the Freshman year, Vida Faulkner and Agnes Roberts said, "We are going to get married and therefore we need not graduate." This same malady fell upon Lorene Huffman during our Sophomore year and upon that Geometry star, Alpheus Roberts during our Junior year.

Some of our boys: Brown Jarrett, Clarence Faulkner, Clifford Burks, Ector Greathouse, J. B. Harper, Brownie LLeverett, and many others said, "We need to toil at home, therefore we will not graduate." However, they are not all toiling at home or anywhere else. So thus did the Class decrease but with each succeeding year it did enlist many new members who proved to strengthen it both in athletics and literary work.

Now we come to the beginners of the Senior Year. Get this picture. Here is a class of thirty eight members, nine boys and twenty nine girls. We range in height from Pattie Belle Cockrell's five feet and one inch to James Charles Gillespie's six feet and two inches. We range in weight from Pattie Belle's ninety five pounds to James Charles one hundred and seventy five pounds. Taken together as the one in body as we are supposed to be in spirit, we make up an individual of sufficient age to know a great deal, if he is ever going to begin to learn for he would be six hundred and forty years old. We would be over two hundred feet high, which certainly raises us far enough up in the world to allow us to tower above our enemies, and look down upon the inferior graduates. And if we do not make the success in life that we desire and expect, it will not be because we cannot gain a foothold upon the world's battleground, by way of our colossal understanding, for we wear a No. 97 shoe. Thus, was the class at the beginning of this year. Then Mr. Newton said, "Go, gather ye in a body, and organize yourselves, in order that your courage may be strengthened."

As he spoke this, so it was done. Oran Hale was elected president and Lois Keese first vice president, Mary Helen Cockrum secretary and treasurer and Mary Florence McCullough reporter. Sweet peas were chosen as class flowers. "We can because we think we can" was chosen as our motto.

It so happened during this year that one gallant gentleman, Joe Bailey Karnes, fell victim to a sting by the love bug which resulted in his marriage to a pretty little Freshman, Willie Mae McGowan.

It also happened this year that the class did march down stairs one day in order that a skilled artist might make a picture of it. But, when the picture was completed and the eyes of the class fell upon it, disgust was upon all their faces, for they were able "to see themselves as others see them."

As the class pride grew to great ness someone suggested that we purchase rings which would be suitable to our station. Messengers were sent to all the surrounding jewelers and after much considering and reconsidering, the class professed itself to be satisfied with its choice and rings were purchased.

Taken all together this year of 1925-26 has been a most joyous one. It has been made much more pleasant because of the splendid cooperation and class spirit which has existed between this and the lower classes.

Now we look at the larger more majestic life ahead and feel that our experience here, has fitted us to withstand every storm, on the ocean of Life, with no fear, saying with Byron:

"Roll on, thou deep and dark blue ocean, roll!"

Ten thousand fleets sweep over thee in vain!"

But not in vain the class of 1926 for we will go on writing new memoirs of greater adventure, and more wonderful discovery, for while the voyage of High School life is at an end the voyage of Real Life is just now and here in its triumphant Commencement.

Mrs. J. W. McAlexander was called to Austin a few days ago on account of the illness of her daughter.

Judge and Mrs. E. B. Anderson spent last week-end in Panhandle visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Irvin visited in Novice last week-end.

Floyd Mullan of Marlin, Texas is looking after business here this week.

The mode in summery frocks is quite varied, but in most cases, simplicity dominates. Many frocks follow ultra tailored lines, and are smartly pleated and buttoned, while printed models are greatly favored, in crepes and chiffons.

New Coats Are Light in Color and Fabric

Sport and street coats sponsor flannel or kasha for summer, and are sometimes plaided or collared with fur. The cape still swings gracefully, enhancing many chic wraps.

These new fabrics lend themselves beautifully to cool, dainty frocks for summer. Soft clinging silks and crisp cottons are favored in the mode.

Prints Are Smart

Floral patterns are lovely in the printed fabrics, especially marked by beauty of hue, for the summer mode is colorful. Priced according to quality.

Sports Clothes for Participants and Onlookers

Our sports department specializes in garments and accessories for the ardent sportswoman. The correct frock for tennis, the comfortable golf outfit, the smart riding outfit and hiking costume—all are to be found here in a wide assortment.

Other Sports Togs Are Decorative

THE CLASS POEM
By Ollie L. May

We started down the pathway of High School,
Where the path led we did not know;
So with a smile,
We went right on,
We were DETERMINED to go!
Later, Some fell by the wayside,
They were tired, weak and sad;
But the remainder went on,
No matter how tired,
Watching more closely the path.
At times our path seemed rugged,
Many stones fell in the trail;
But we worked and tugged
With all our strength,
And pushed the barriers away.
Always sincere, true and faithful,
Always watching our step,
We gradually pushed on
Toward the shining goal,
By means of our teachers help.
Why should we thank the teachers
That's a foolish question, I guess;
But who stood behind us?
Who told us how?
It was the teachers, let us confess.
In the future we shall remember
Our Senior year in Goldthwaite High
A happy year!
A glorious year!
Though the days flew swiftly by,
"We can, because we think we can
Ah, how that motto rings true;
We have stood the test,
We have reached the goal,
We have done what we wanted to do!
Of course there are other goals to reach,
Each of us has one in view,
We are going straight on,
Though the pathway be rough,
We are going to reach them too!

A TRIBUTE TO MRS. D. D. McBRIDE

I have known Mrs. D. D. McBride from my Childhood. She was of noble parentage and a woman of sturdy character, a wife and mother of unusual traits. She was tender, kind, and amiable in spirit and very devoted to her family. She was loved by all who knew her. She was converted when young in years and joined the Methodist Episcopal church South, and lived a faithful attendant at church when her health would permit. She was incident to many conflicts and battles such as is common to all mothers rearing a family of children but she proved to be always conqueror in every battle of life. She became afflicted more than three years prior to her homegoing, and was a constant sufferer, most of the time was bedfast, and helpless, at times her suffering was beyond words to express but there was never a complaint escaped her lips. It was my privilege to be in their home the last fifteen days of January and I had my consternations with her about her Christian experience and her physical troubles, and she was perfectly submissive to the will of God, saying, I would like to get well, but I am ready and willing to go. It was a pleasure to be in her presence. To talk of the joys of salvation. She leaves behind her a devoted husband and a number of children many relatives and a host of friends to mourn her departure, but, all who have come in contact with this beautiful spirit will be enriched in life by having met her. I did not meet a soul while in Goldthwaite who did not speak of Mrs. McBride in the highest terms. Truly, the church has lost a good member, her husband an excellent wife, the children a loving mother, the town a good patriotic, and citizens a good friend but we all look forward to a blessed reunion just beyond the silver stream, where parting will be no more. To our dear cousin, her husband, Mr. D. D. McBride, to her children, friends and relatives we say God bless and comfort us, and help us to prepare to meet her in the skies.—Her Cousin, J. B. McBride.

Miss Sophia Martin of Chicago is here visiting home folks.
Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rowntree and children left a few days ago for a six weeks visit in Kentucky.

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE RESULTS THAT LAST!

Proven by Goldthwaite People

Thousands of kidney sufferers have tried remedy after remedy with only temporary relief. That is mighty discouraging! But one kidney remedy has earned a reputation for lasting results and there's plenty of proof right here in Goldthwaite.

Read the experience of one who used Doan's Pills years ago and now makes his endorsement even stronger.

J. C. Carlock, farmer, Goldthwaite, says: "I was doing heavy work in lifting. I strained my back and kidneys. I commenced having pains in my back; finally the pains extended into my hips and limbs. My kidneys became weak and I had to pass the secretions far too often. I used Doan's Pills and the pains in my back left and my kidneys were regulated."

OVER FOUR YEARS LATER, Mr. Carlock said: "Doan's permanently cured me and I always recommend them."

THE CLASS WILL

By Lois Keese

Ladies and Gentlemen, Board of Education, Superintendent, Teachers and Friends:

Upon behalf of my client, the Class of 1926, of Goldthwaite High School, of the City of Goldthwaite, State of Texas, U. S. A., I have called you together upon this solemn and serious occasion to listen to her last will and testament, and to receive from her dying hand the few gifts she has to bestow in her last moments. Cutting so rapidly loose from life, and finding so many things of such gigantic proportions to be attended to before the end should come upon her, she did, collectively and individually, deem it best to distribute these virtues with her own hands to those friends to whose needs they seem best fitted. As a result of this announcement a wild scene took place amidst most frantic and pleading friends for this or that long coveted glory. She has tried to be just, as well as generous and impartial, and distribute wisely unto those who will make the best use of such gifts as she has in her power to bestow. These are her decisions, as at last definitely arrived at through very deliberate consideration. Owing to the flighty condition of her brain, and the unusual disturbance in its grey matter, she begs me to state for her that she may quite possibly have been mistaken in her inventory; but such things as she thinks she has, she hereby gives into your possession, praying that you will accept them as a sacred trust.

Listen, the, one and all, while I read the document, as duly drawn up and sworn to:

We, the class of 1926, in 38 individual and distinct parts being about to pass out of this sphere of education and in full possession of a crammed mind, well trained memory and almost super human understanding, do hereby make and publish this, our last will and testament, we do hereby revoke all former wills or promises made by us at any time heretofore. And first we do hereby direct that our funeral services shall be conducted by our friends and well wishers; our Superintendent and his all wise and ever competent faculty who have been our guardians for so long, the funeral be carried on with all the dignity and pomp that our worth, our merit, our attainments, and our positions as seniors of grave and reverend men must certainly have deserved.

As to such estate as it has pleased the Fates and our own strong hands and brains to win for us, we do dispose of the same as follows:

ITEM 1.—We give and bequeath to our dear faculty, who have been our instructors in all wisdom of the ages, a sweet and unbroken succession of restful nights and peaceful dreams. No longer need they lie awake thru the long watches of the night to worry over the uncertainty of whether this one is doing his night work or that one will have his mathematics in morning class, or the other one will remember every power and limitation of congress in preparation of his civics lesson.

It has been a hard strain on them, for seniors are said to be at all times and under all conditions difficult to manage. But they have all done their duty, and verily, now shall they have their well-earned reward.

ITEM 2.—We give and bequeath to our beloved Superintendent, Prof. D. A. Newton, our sincere affection, our deepest reverence, our heartiest gratitude and the whole unlimited wealth of our eternal memory.

In an attempt at partial payment for all that he has done for us during our long years at Goldthwaite High, we make over to him a heavy mortgage on our future great beyond. It shall be his to watch every step of our upward and onward flitting, to note each trial, each attempt, each victory each success and honor that we may achieve in the arena of the world and to accept for himself, as interest on our deathless debt, every ounce of the praise, every iota of the honor, knowing that it is all due to his faithful instructions.

ITEM 3.—Again we give and bequeath to our beloved faculty all the amazing knowledge and startling information that we have furnished them from time to time in our various examination papers. We know that much which we have imparted to them as well as to all teachers and students every where. It would throw much light on many hither to familiar line of thought, thru-out the whole world of science and learning, even outside the halls and walls of Goldthwaite High School. If the faculty see fit, they are hereby authorized to give out such of this information to the world as they feel the world is ready to receive. We trust that they will also feel at liberty to make use of all such bits of wisdom and enlightenment for the education of the classes to come after us. This, of course, is left entirely to their personal discretion.

ITEM 4.—We give and bequeath to The Goldthwaite Eagle, and to the talented editor thereof, all the events of our lives, past, present, and to come, with all the wonders, sensations, hair-breadth escapes, glorious attainments, and other deserved or undeserved notoriety and fame with which we may be associated, trusting that they may furnish plenty of material for news items and brilliant editorials for ages yet to come. We also hope that they may serve as an inspiration for those younger students who so naturally look to us for examples.

ITEM 5.—We give and bequeath to the Junior Class all such boys as were not able to keep pace with such brilliant girls as compose the majority of our class, trusting that the Junior girls may be able to hold firmly to them and steer them next year through the gates of Commencement. We hope that they may not share in the humiliation that has been ours at not being able to "hold our men folks" as the women of the world would put it.

We likewise give and bequeath to this same Junior Class Hoyt Cockrell's knowledge of Biology, History, Caesar and the universe in whole or in part. We trust the class may be able to survive it.

ITEM 6.—The following may seem but trifling bequests, but we hope they may be accepted as valuable assets to those who may receive them, and a continual reminder of the generosity of heart, displayed in our free and full bestowal.

First—To Miss Whatley, the balance in our class treasury to be used in buying a pair of over shoes so that she may walk to school without fear of catching cold. We sincerely hope that she may get a pair small enough so that she will not lose them.

Second—To the football team of next year, the ability of Oran Hale and Ross Wheeler. We couldn't induce James Charles to surrender his.

Third—To all future class presidents, Oran Hale's ability to dispense the whole class while he is doing his best to please them all.

Fourth—To Earl Oden, Virgie Morris's gift of gab.

Fifth—To some benighted Freshman—anybody who will accept them as they are yet unclaimed.—Opal Philen's troubles in keeping up with her books.

Sixth—To the Freshman Class that is to be—any over-looked ends of gum we may have left adhering to the underside of desks, banisters, study hall seats, or any likely or unlikely place. We have sometimes had to rid ourselves of these in so much haste as to be able to pick and choose the most desirable place for disposal. Seventh—To Rachael Johnston, Grace Evans' ancestors. She feels she will not need them any more. She can face the world behind her own coat of paint.

Eighth—To anybody who needs it, James Charles' bluff. Apply early and avoid the rush.

Ninth—To Ernest Linkenhoger, the musical talents of Mary Helen Cockrum. "Music hath charms to soothe the savage beast."

Tenth—To Euna V. Brim and Billy Bigham, the successful ability of Ross Wheeler and Virgie Morris to talk and play hands in Miss Kerfoot's study hall and not get caught more than 4 times in 45 minutes.

ITEM 7.—The subjoined list will be recognized as entailed estates, to which we declare the Class of 1927 the real and rightful successors:

1st—Our seats in the class rooms. May they endeavor to fill them as advantageously, as promptly, and as faithfully as we have done. Our seats in chapel may be taken by whomever is able to grab them.

2nd—Our Senior dignity. May they uphold it forever, with all seriousness and gravity, endeavoring to realize what its vast importance, in spite of their light-mindedness and irresponsibility.

3rd—Any stubs of pencils, erasers, scraps of paper that we may inadvertently leave behind us. May they feel free to make use of them, and feel, perhaps, that they may, in some mystic way, impart some of our knowledge to them.

Last comes the one thing hard for us to part with. To our successors we must leave our places in the hearts and thoughts of our Superintendent and teachers. They will love them, unworthy as we feel they are, even as they have loved us. They will show them all the same tender kindness and attention that they may have bestowed upon us. They will feel the same interest in their attempts and successes, the same sorrow when they fail. We trust that the class of 1927 will appreciate all this as deeply as we have done, and that it may be their most precious possession as it has been ours, and the one we are most loath to hand over to them.

Besides these enforced gifts, we leave—not of necessity—but our own free will—our blessing, tender memories of our associations together, and our forgiveness for anything that we may not exactly have appreciated in the past, and a pledge of everlasting friendship from henceforth and forever.

All the rest and residue of our property, of what nature, kind, and quality soever it may be, and not hereinbefore disposed of (after paying our debts and funeral expenses) we give and bequeath to our beloved Superintendent for his use and benefit absolutely, and to be disposed of for the good of the coming classes as he may see fit.

And we do hereby constitute and appoint the said Superintendent sole executor of last will and testament.

In witness whereof, we the class of 1926, the testators, have to this our last will, written upon these sheets of paper, set our hands and seal this 20th day of May, Anno Domini, 1926.

"SEVERAL years ago I was badly run-down," says Mrs. John Bunch, R. F. D. 3, Columbia, S. C. "I could not do any of my work. I was so weak I could not wash a dish. My back and sides hurt me at times dreadfully. I dragged around until I finally got down in bed."

Then, explains Mrs. Bunch, she happened to read about Gardul, the woman's tonic, and decided to give it a thorough trial, the results of which she describes below:

"It seemed to reach the cause of my trouble at once. I did not take it long before my appetite began to improve. I gained in weight from 114 pounds until now I weigh 125 pounds. I soon was able to be up around the house. I took up my household duties and was delighted with my returning strength."

"I now do all my own work. The pains in my sides and back have disappeared and I feel like a different person."

Gardul has been helping suffering women for nearly 50 years. Sold by all druggists.

Danger In Coughs That Hang-On

Neglected coughs often lead to worse trouble. Yet there is a simple method based on the famous Dr. King's New Discovery, which usually breaks the worst cough entirely in 24 hours.

Here is the method: You take just one teaspoonful and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. It has a double action. It not only soothes and heals irritation, but also removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of the coughing. So the most stubborn cough soon disappears completely.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children, too—no harmful drugs. Very economical, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for
