

OUR FIRST FAIR

The date for the First Mills County Fair is Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, July 20, 21, and 22, 1926. Eight Community Fairs have already been organized, and more are expected to bring displays to the County Fair, besides the large number of individual exhibits of livestock.

ADVERTISE MILLS COUNTY

VOLUME THIRTY-TWO.

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, JUNE 25, 1926.

No. FORTY-THREE

DEMOCRATIC EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MET TUES.

Tuesday afternoon there was a meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee of Mills County, pursuant to a call by Chairman John W. Roberts.

The meeting was held in the District court room at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

The following members were present: John W. Roberts, W. B. Wilcox, Dee Hartman, J. M. Poer, J. W. Burdett, R. W. Geeslin, T. R. Priddy, and E. E. Wilson, who was elected secretary.

The meeting was called for the purpose of selecting the order of arrangement of the names on the Democratic primary ballot and for assessing the candidates for the expense of the election, and to transact other necessary business.

After careful consideration, the following amounts were assessed the candidates for the various offices:

Sheriff and Tax Collector	$78.25
Judge	$33.75
Assessor	$47.25
County Clerk	$42.75
County Treasurer	$14.85
District Clerk	$14.85
County Attorney	$13.50
Surveyor	$ 6.75
Wagner, Precincts 1, 2 and 4	$20.25

A motion made by J. M. Poer at the request of Chairman Roberts, and seconded by Dee Hartman, authorized Mr. Roberts to repay candidates of the 1924 primaries $152.04, which amount was left over from the last election.

The matter of placing the name of Judge J. R. Smith on the primary ballot, after discussion, was voted affirmatively and his name ordered placed on the ballot.

The names of the different candidates, where there were more than one for an office were drawn and their arrangement will be seen in the facsimile ballot appearing elsewhere in this paper.

A committee composed of the members present was appointed by Chairman Roberts to meet on July 12 to o. k. the ballot.

DOES THIS APPLY TO YOU?

A man was out hunting one day when a terrific thunder storm came up. It began to rain in torrents and he began to look around for shelter, but all he could find was a hollow log, into which he crawled and found it a very snug fit.

The rain lasted for hours and the water soaked through the log and the log began to contract. When the storm was over he could not get out.

He struggled and strained to free himself with all his might, but the log held him tight. Exhausted he gave up the struggle and resigned himself to his fate. He knew what, unless released, he would starve to death.

Like a drowning man he saw his whole life flash before him, especially his mistakes and among them the one which stood out the most prominently was the fact that he always borrowed his home paper from a neighbor.

This made him feel so small that he was able to crawl out of the log without difficulty.

The Wife: Does this new novel end happily?

Henry: "It doesn't say it only says they married."

Prof. S. B. Wallace and son Wando of Sterling City visited his sister Mrs. A. P. Johnson whose condition is critical.

GOOD RAINS INSURE BUMPER CROPS

Last Monday night another rain fell over Goldthwaite and Mills county. Almost every section of the county reported rain, especially were those sections which failed to get any rain last week benefited.

According to the government gauge at the Eagle office, there was 1.35 inches of rain fell. This, however, fell in a very short time and did some damage by washing away soil.

Mills county folks are getting ready for a bumper crop this year and prospects were never brighter than they are just at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Kelly of Dewey county, Okla., visited Mr. Kelly's folks here this week. Mrs. Kelly, who is a newspaper-woman, could not resist the smell of the printers ink, and made the Eagle a very pleasant call.

Judge Bert Holden Chief Justice of Miss., has informed friends here that his wife died at Jackson on the 13th. inst. Those who resided here in the young days of Goldthwaite will recall the Holden family.

OIL NEWS

well, which is, in the estimation of several oil men, right on top of the pay.

On account of caving of the hole it was decided to pull the casing and reset at a lower depth. The casing was pulled into near the top of the ground and a bad cave in resulted. After two or three days of efforts the cave-in was drilled through and the casing pulled. The hole was ready for the five inch casing Tuesday, but the big rains made it impossible to haul it for another day or two. Yesterday work of hauling had begun and should be completed within a day or so.

According to one of the drillers, the well is making a little more gas each day than it did the day before. And it is the estimation of this driller that the pay that has already been struck will make a pretty good paying well, even though no other oil is found. There has been very little trading during this week.

BAPTIST REVIVAL IS VERY SUCCESSFUL

The revival meeting at the Baptist tabernacle is attracting large crowds at both the morning and the evening services.

The preaching is being done by Rev. I. A. Dance, pastor of the Baptist church here, and Rev. Dance has won the hearts of his audiences by his forceful delivery and the earnestness of his remarks.

The singing, under the direction of E. J. Thomas, is exceptionally good and is doing its share to make the revival a success.

Mills county citizens who are in reach of Goldthwaite are cordially invited to attend these services.

LAWN PARTY

The Palo Sunday School Class entertained the Wesley Workers class with a lawn party at the home of Mrs. Annie Little Thursday evening, June 19.

After a number of interesting games were played refreshments were served, consisting of lemonade and sandwiches.

The ones present were Kathleen Cokrum, Fay and Vlara Cortis, Annigene Johnson, Myra Nell and Rachel Johnson, Johnnie Philen, Frances Louise Geeslin, Beatrice Hendry, Garetta Little, Ruby Lee Dickerson, Doris Oden, Horace Gray, Eugene Dickerson, Jerald and William Doggett, Paul Johnson, William Glenn Yarborough, Leonard Archer, Boyd Morris, Gaylord Mullan, M. D. Queen, J. D. Brim, C. L. Featherston, Luther Ray Rudd.

WOOL SOLD

G. H. Frizzell this week shipped three cars of wool to the eastern markets, paying about 33 cents average for it. Mullin shipped considerable also this week, as is shown from the following clipping from the Enterprise.

The Mullin wool growers this week sold about 38,000 pounds of wool to J. H. Couther of Lampasas at 33 per pound. Delivery was made yesterday. This leaves some 16,000 pounds unsold, which is being held for better prices.

MILLS COUNTY FIRST FAIR NEXT MONTH

An attractive Sixty page catalogue and premium lists for the First exhibition of the Mills County Fair is just off the press. A sufficient number of these booklets are available for wide distribution and may be had at the secretary's office. Call and get one.

The management is making every effort to make their first Fair creditable in every department. Liberal premiums are offered on Sheep, Goats, Field Crop, and Garden exhibits. Every thing in the woman's department. Farm and Community exhibits.

The entertainment committee is preparing a program to interest and amuse visitors throughout the three days and nights. The first feature of this program is a parade the first day at 10 o'clock sponsored by the business interest of Goldthwaite. Horse racing and Baseball will be offered to lovers of these sports each afternoon. Speakers of note will hold forth each forenoon. The local Candidates will have opportunity for a last announcement on the third night.

The Confederate Veterans will be guests of the fair, and the first day is theirs. A complete program will appear later. Jeff Davis Camp No 117 U. C. V have just completed a magnificent Memorial Tabernacle on the lots adjoining the fair grounds. All meetings during the fair will be held under this tabernacle.

Every Citizen of Mills County should support the fair by exhibiting their products and boosting their own county fair. Don't expect a few men to put up money to equip a fair and make it a success. It will take us all to make it the great fair it should be.

Get ready to exhibit at the fair and attend every day and night.

Casey has received a car load of new machinery and is now busy installing a new cleaner to his gin and making other necessary repairs, making ready to gin the 1926 bumper cotton crop now indicated. Mr. Casey is an experienced gin man and he expects to have the gin in prime shape before the season opens, to do all the ginning that may be expected from this territory.

AGED LADY GETS A FALL

(Mullin Enterprise) Grand mother Guthrie fell down on the floor of her room about 7 o'clock Tuesday morning and remained there until after twelve, before she attracted the attention of one of Mr. Scott's children. She called Mrs. Ben Guthrie to come to the rescue but grandma Guthrie had all the doors locked. Prof. Scott came to their assistance and they at last gained entrance and found Mrs. Guthrie not hurt but stiff from the fall.

Overexertion Causes Increase In Drownings Says Health Service Chief Advising Caution

Sanity in outdoor bathing and swimming to check the growing number of week-end and vacation period drownings is counselled by Dr. W. G. Exton, director of the longevity service of the Prudential Insurance Company, who declares it is time that the fallacies of many age-old superstitions built up around the healthful sport of swimming and bathing be exploded. "The carefree, daring spirit that seems to go hand in hand with summer vacations and week-ends is to blame for the drowning and other fatalities that seem to be increasing this year," Dr. Exton said. "Outdoor bathing and swimming are healthful, invigorating practices if ordinary rules of common sense are applied. Over-exertion, and remaining in the water too long, cause most of the trouble. "Swimming is good exercise but there must not be over-indulgence. If the swimmer feels invigorated and lively after he has donned clothing again, then it has proved to be of benefit. If he feels tired and listless the chances are that too much time was spent in the water and there was too great a drain on his physical resources. Experience will serve as the most effective gauge of the length of time to spend in the water. If you are 'all in' when you leave the water, that is too long. Don't remain that long next time. "Going in swimming or bathing after a meal invites trouble. The chill of the water drives the blood away from the surface of the body so that normal functions necessary to the digestive processes are interfered with and gas distends the stomach of the bather and may even develop to the extent of disturbing proper heart action. "Development of the quick burn is a dangerous and foolish fad. Persons on a one or two-week vacation sometimes feel that the first thing necessary to the success of the holiday is a quick tan. A skin burned by the sun is akin to any other type of superficial burn. Especially harmful may it be in the case of infants, when exposed to the blazing sun and even convulsions may result. It seems that a warning to mothers at this time of year would be acceptable. "Sunburn does not indicate any other acute disease."

BE CAREFUL WITH YOUR CREDIT

There is more "credit" in circulation these days than there is money. Business of the country is largely transacted on credit. The volume of your credit depends upon the confidence which the commercial world has in your fidelity to your obligations. You are very careful about taking care of your money, you keep it in the bank and guard it carefully against those who would improperly use it. Are you as careful about your credit? It is much easier to recoupe the loss of money than to restore lost confidence.

It is not possible for every one to possess money, but it is possible for every one to be honest and those who are honest seldom have trouble about their credit rating, because he is a bankrupt as a moral risk. Don't make obligations which you cannot fulfill, meet your bills promptly, keep your credit in good shape, and hard times will have no night-mares for you. — RETAIL MERCHANTS ASSOCIATION. (adv)

FOR THE VACATION WARDROBE

Wherever smart frocks are assembled this season one will see the cape model of plain material combined with plaid or figured silk. To the left is pictured a design that is easy to copy. One of its distinguishing features is the open neck with three collars. Another is the band stitched across the front to join skirt and long-waisted blouse. Medium size requires 3 3/4 yards 36-inch plain and 3/4 yard check material.

A black-and-white plaid is a very stunning thing to have, whether it be in French gingham or silk. The model to the right stunningly interprets a favorite Paris mode. The front is cut in a deep V, underfaced with plain material, and rolled to form revers. Circular sections are inserted at the sides of the skirt, and the lower part of the two-piece back is also circular. Medium size requires 3 3/4 yards 36-inch plaid and 3/4 yard plain material.

First Model: Printed Pattern No. 3211. Sizes, 14 to 18 years and 34 to 38 inches bust. Price, 45 cents.

Second Model: Printed Pattern No. 3214. Sizes, 14 to 18 years and 34 to 44 inches bust. Price, 45 cents.

THE BASIC TROUBLE WITH AMERICAN AGRICULTURE

Many Mythical Causes Given But the Chief Financial Problem Rises From Inflation of Capital Account Based on War Prices—Remedy Pointed Out—"Trick Legislation" Will Not Help.

By MELVIN A. TRAYLOR
First Vice President American Bankers Association.

In recent years agriculture and the welfare of the farmer have been our most fruitful topics of conversation. Political fortunes have revolved around the unhappy situation of the farmer and the business barometer has gone up and down with varying proposals for his relief. Only a few years ago there was widespread feeling voiced by the leading agriculturists that the time was fast approaching when America would not be able to feed its rapidly increasing population unless there was improvement in soil culture, fertilization, reforestation and larger production. What is the situation now? The worry seems no longer to be for food for the hungry millions but for more millions to consume our tons of food.

M. A. Traylor

Evangelists of despair have talked so much about over-production and surplus of agricultural products since 1920 that we are warranted in calling attention to a fact or two which may be enlightening to those who have felt that there has been a crushing surplus of the staples of the farm. From 1911 to 1915 average production of cotton was 14,175,000 bales at an average price of 12.41 cents per pound, while from 1921 to 1925 production averaged 11,802,000 bales at an average price of 21.35 cents per pound. In the 1911-1915 period, wheat production averaged 806,558,000 bushels at an average price of 89 cents, while in 1921-1925 the average production was 804,334,000 bushels at a $1.11 1/4 average; in the former period corn averaged 2,754,000,000 bushels at 60.3 cents while in the latter the average was 2,873,000,000 at 69.6 cents. Cattle on farms for 1911-1915 were 37,178,000 at an average estimated price of $26.52 while in the latter period the annual average was 41,616,000 at $26.08. Hogs on farms in the first period were 43,151,000 at an average price of $9.58 per head, and in the latter 60,418,000 at $11.34.

The Surplus Production Myth From these figures, which eliminate the period that embraced the war and the early post-war inflation, it will be observed that, with the exception of cotton and cattle, production has been almost uniform in the two periods. In no case has production anywhere approached an increase commensurate with the increase in population. So-called surplus production is largely a myth and the cause of the farmer's complaint must be looked for in some other direction. It must be admitted that all has not been and is not well with this industry. After all, what is the matter with agriculture? There are a few facts which seem obvious as a part at least of the underlying causes of the situation and which suggest something of the remedy that sooner or later must be applied.

Present difficulties had their inception largely in inflation of prices for agricultural products from 1915 to 1920 with consequent large expansion of profits. This led inevitably with the farmer as with the manufacturer to expansion of plant and equipment—the acquisition by the individual of larger acreage and modern, if not always efficient, machinery. These statements do not apply to every one because there are always some who play safely and conservatively, proved by the fact that there are millions of farmers who have gone through the recent crisis without any difficulty and are today prosperous and contented. In fact the complaints today are coming from less than 25 per cent of the farmers of the country and from the hordes of politicians who are seeking to make capital out of the situation.

Results of Inflation and Expansion With the average and with the majority of those who were swept off their feet by the wave of prosperity through which they were passing, let us analyze the results of this inflation and expansion. The farmer operating on land that he was carrying in his capital account at a value of, say, $100 per acre, and who perhaps had a loan of $50 an acre, suddenly found that because of the increased profits from his operations, his land had a market value of $200 per acre and that, if he had a new tractor and some new farm machinery, he could greatly increase his production. But if he did that he would need a larger barn and more warehouse facilities. The chances are that with an appraisal of $200 per acre on his land he increased his loan to $100 per acre, thereby doubling his capital account and his bonded debt—not out of earnings but because of his ability to effect a "clean write-up" of 100 per cent of his plant account.

If he did not effect the doubling of his capital account in this manner, and if his $100 acre farm was clear, he probably bought his neighbor's farm for $200 per acre and mortgaged both the new and the old for $100 per acre. In this latter case, he increased his capital account 150 per cent.

It is easy to see what this did to his net percentage of income. If he had been able to make 6 per cent on his original investment, without any allowance for the increased cost of operations which of course did take place, he cut his net income, based upon his capitalization, about one-half when he had completed his expansion program. But worse than that happened. His calculations had been made upon a price for his product which reflected wartime demand and buying power of government money which were suddenly curtailed. With demand gone and buying power withdrawn he found his gross selling price cut in two. His gross at the high figure had enabled him to make 3 per cent net on his new capitalization. This now was cut one-half by the reduction of his gross selling price and instead of making a 6 per cent return, as he was able to do perhaps on his original $100 acre farm, he has since been lucky if he has made 1 1/2 per cent on his new capital account.

The Remedy I am confident that something of this kind underlies 75 per cent of the present difficulty. How can it be remedied? I believe that time and intelligent hard work is the surest restorative of better conditions. No magic of trick legislation can accomplish the result. There are a few facts which must be faced and accepted before a start to better things can be made. The first and most important is recognition that farming never was, is not now, and I do not believe ever will be a so-called money-making proposition. By this I mean a business in which a man may engage with the certainty of being able over a period of years from the production and sale of farm commodities to accumulate great wealth.

There are those who will say that unless farming can be made a successful money-making proposition there is no hope for the future of the country. My argument with such people will turn on the correct definition of what is a satisfactory money-making business. I believe that if farming is intelligently and industriously followed it is a satisfactory business but I do not believe that it is sufficiently a money-making proposition to attract those who are ambitious to play for big fortunes.

There are those also who say that many men have grown rich in the past in agriculture. I do not think they have from the mere production and sale of farm commodities. The men who have grown rich in the past from agriculture have owed their success most largely to the ownership of what would now be considered very cheap lands, which over a period of years have shown quadruple and more appreciation in value.

The Advantages of Farm Life But if agriculture does not mean great wealth, and it certainly does not involve a life of idleness, ease, or luxury, it does mean much more. It means intelligent and industriously followed a character of independence vouchsafed to no other trade or profession. How do I know this? I know it by experience and I know it by observation. The farmers of today have more good, wholesome food than any man working on a salary of $2,500 per year can buy for his family and be able to pay his grocery bill without paying any other of his debts. The farmers who are complaining of their inability to make money enough to pay for their necessities of life are enjoying at home as a natural heritage of their business comforts and luxuries which the man in the industrial centers working for a salary is spending every dollar of his income to obtain and then is not getting anything commensurate with those enjoyed by the farmer.

It is these so-called unledged items of the farmer's income that are too often lost sight of in the calculations made by our reformer friends who would legislate a living wage and universal prosperity to those engaged in agriculture. If the farmer as a whole would be happy again he must take stock of his blessings, ease, or God for them, get rid of his quick doctors of political bunkum, revalue his plant and equipment, and start over again in full knowledge of the fact that he must face keen and effective competition, that he must work hard and intelligently, that he must calculate in his income inherent and undeniable items, which are not measured in dollars and cents.

Pains disappeared

"SEVERAL years ago I was badly run-down," says Mrs. John Bunch, R. F. D. 3, Columbia, S. C. "I could not do any of my work. I was so weak I could not wash a dish. My back and sides hurt me at times dreadfully. I dragged around until I finally got down in bed." Then, explains Mrs. Bunch, she happened to read about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and decided to give it a thorough trial, the results of which she describes below: "It seemed to reach the cause of my trouble at once. I did not take it long before my appetite began to improve. I gained in weight from 114 pounds until now I weigh 125 pounds. I soon was able to be up around the house. I took up my household duties and was delighted with my returning strength. "I now do all my own work. The pains in my sides and back have disappeared and I feel like a different person." Cardui has been helping suffering women for nearly 50 years. Sold by all druggists.

You take just one teaspoonful at bed time and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. The prescription has a double action. So with the cause removed, coughing stops quickly, your sleep undisturbed, and the entire cough condition soon disappears. Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, sore throat, hoarseness, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children as well as grown-ups—no harmful drugs. "EVE'S SECRET" HAS EVERYTHING

Laughs, Thrills and Colorful Drama in New Paramount

"Eve's Secret," a new Paramount picture co-starring Betty Compson and Jack Holt, which will be the feature at the Dixie Theatre Monday and Tuesday, June 28-29, is the story of a Duke, who falls in love with a pretty peasant girl and sends her to Paris to be educated and then has the time of his life keeping her for himself.

The Cheateau of Jack Holt, Duke of Poltava, overlooks the picturesque little French village of d'Enville. Following a banquet, the Duke discovers the Princess, the woman he loves and is to marry, in the arms of another man. A duel ensues. The Duke kills his adversary, adding another victory to an already long list, which has earned for him the title of "The Killer."

So it is that the Duke becomes disillusioned and loses all faith in the woman of his own rank and turns elsewhere in his quest for happiness. But it is not until another duel passes by the boards with the Duke getting the worst of it for the first time in his life, that he finally finds it.

"Eve's Secret" has everything action, thrills, drama, love-interest and comedy-relief. The story is based on the Broadway stage success, "The Moon-Flower," by Zoe Akins. Clarence Badger directed, and Adelaide Heilbron wrote the screen play.

William Collier, jr. heads the cast playing in support. Others include Vera Lewis, Lionel Belmore and Mario Carillo.

NO-NOX MOTOR FUEL STOPS KNOCKS PUTS CARBON TO WORK

PUTTING the old demon, carbon, to work sounds like a paradox—nevertheless that's just what GULF No-Nox Motor Fuel does and here's how it happens: Compression is power. The more compression the more power. Greater compression is secured by reducing the displacement or space in the combustion chamber. Carbon deposits materially reduce this space—old time gasoline would not withstand this added carbon compression—clicks—knocks—pings or detonations of distress quickly following sudden acceleration or heavy pulls.

No-Nox withstands higher compression—stops the knocks or detonations, thereby increasing engine efficiency. GULF No-Nox and Carbon Deposits work together for more power and greater mileage.

Turns Mountains Into Mole Hills

This guarantee goes with it: GULF No-Nox Motor Fuel is Non-Noxious, Non-Poisonous and no more harmful to man or motor than ordinary gasoline—that it contains no dope of any kind—that the color is for identification only—that it positively will not heat the motor, winter or summer.

GULF No-Nox Motor Fuel is priced three cents per gallon higher than ordinary gasoline—and is worth it.

TO MR. SAM SAY:

More Push and More Push.
I can hardly permit the sayings of Sam Say to pass without another say of my own pointing out to Sam that his say also brings him into deeper water even deeper according to my yardstick than what he accused me of jumping into.

Sam says "I would point out as a first thing that religious denunciations as I know then encourage scientific investigation"

Please give historical references Sam no doubt this is true because you say so, but the great masses of the people have never read such a declaration in history, hence, that declaration is as it comes from your pensil, a dogmatic assertion. I dislike theories and hypothesis.

You demand truth not theory and hypothesis. Now Sam is there any other road to truth save those of theory, hypothesis, reasonable conclusions and conjectures? you seem so hostile to these means of reaching the truth that I fancy you would resent truth brought to you. Over these the only roads by which truth has ever been brought into argument that great fund of truth that science has accumulated. When you declare blocked and condemned every road by which truth may reach the human mind then you stalk of from this point and arrogantly demand that we bring you truth not conjectures theories and hypothesis, theories and reasonable conclusions have always been and are yet, the forerunners of truth just as much as John the Baptist was the forerunner of Christ.

Now Sam here is where you jumped into deep water.

Give us a comprehensive definition of truth, also tell us how to get it to you after you have blocked and condemned all the roads by which we may bring it in. Wade out of this water or swim out if to deep to wade and rescue the rest of us and we will guarantee you a Hero Medal.

To quote further from your "Every where the Church is saying to the scientist, go on my friend go right on the more truth you find the better for all of us where are saying this. Sam, there name five yes name one and it will suffice to raise the Presumption that probably these should be a suspicion of truth attach to your declaration, otherwise you are likely to be judged completely void of that virtue truth you demand others bring to you.

Now Sam you entirely missed the aim of your goods article. I made no effort whatever to establish the origin of man according to the evolution theory. The only effort I made was to point out how man was created from the dust of the earth, and what thought the writer of Genesis intended to limited power of reasoning.

First I never have been satisfied with what I must term a dogma: namely that God made man from literal dust. In the first place the language can hardly be adjudged to convey such a meaning when analysed closely.

To create means to construct from apparently nothing, at least nothing visible to our ordinary senses. Now if man was constructed from the dust of the earth he was not created at all, but was built from something previously existing that he was created from literal dust would appear bad of false, first for the reason above stated and second because it puts the Creator in the class with the his hands in building or constructing the objects of his will just like man does. Yet the text is absolutely true, man does come from the dust of the earth, created from the dust of the earth and not built out of literal dust. There is a difference between creating a thing and building a thing from a product already created. Creating is the act of God constructing an object from stuff already created is not creating but building.

Again the creation of man, modern man can be traced through all of its processes by the ordinary high school pupil from a germ the size of an ordinary pin head to the full grown and mature body but with out that comes from the dust of the earth, the ordinary school boy knows that even the beginning germ can not be developed so all of man even the germ through which the spices are perpetuated from come from the dust of earth to use the language of the text.

was flesh and blood as we are, all created from the dust of the earth. The Lord didn't say to Adam alone "Dust thou art," but to the whole species of man kind. Adam earth for therein we know is found that nourishment which causes the body to grow. We are created out of the rocks and gravel but out of that nourishment that is concealed therein and is only brought forth through those agencies the Creator set in operation for that purpose. If God has the power to create man today from the dust of the earth and he has for he is doing it, he also had had the power in Adams day. If he were able to continue the reproduction of the spices for thousands of years then he was also able to provide a means for bringing in the first spices which is properly believed to be Adam and to also produce his female mate and plant in the two the seed of preparations.

Whether he operated his scheme of evolution I do not know or attempt to say, however I am sure he had the power to do so if he willed.

Now Sam you say all fear that science will dig up a truth that will hurt the Church has long ago past and the Church says get it Mr. Science bring all the truth you can we want it all. I will say to both you and the religious organizations you know or you say you know that the only roads we have found to truth are reasonable reasonable Conclusions and Conjectures. If you dont teach the rising generation to develop truth by these routes they will not be able to bring in any more truths to argument that Splendee supply that the tireless Scientist has gleamed from the great mass of rubbish he has threshed out.

Of course you have foregotten the scopes trial conducted at Dayton Tennessee only last summer in which no less a Churchman than William Jennings Bryan volunteered to clear from Florida to Tennessee to aid in prosecuting a science teacher for teaching a theory which at the most, could only upset a religious dogma.

Now in conclusion let me state a truth that I have gleamed from observation and reading and that is, that the prierhood and clergy have universally pushed to the back ground theories, hypotheses reasonable conclusions and conjectures that threatened religious dogma.

I take it for granted that religious truth has nothing to fear from any other truth in existence or that may ever be brought to light. It is the hales of all truth No true christians fears that it can be either exterminated or would by such impatient factors as false theories, lame hypotheses or crippled conjections.

Throw open the door to all investigation, all theories, all reasonable conjectures if they succeed in bringing truth religion will loose by reason of thier error or the exposition of religious dogma.

Religious dogma is the seed of infidelity, the fruit of narrowness, the mainspring to persecutin, Why push back theories you know nothing about theories you pronounce error without any investigation for the purpose only of saving religious dogma.

The plan of creation is laid bare in all nature with all spices of creatures in existence and God is still the motive power in the whole system. His creatures, those who are sufficiently intellectual and industrious, are endeavoring to bring in more truth why condemn and persecute those who would rescue more gems from the fountain of truth because you fancy they have brought forth an error. We must put both our religion and our judgment of mundane things against error.

"Give a reason for the hope that is within you," not a dogma.
