THIRD ANNUAL SESSION OF THE PIONEER CLUB

On August 17, 1927, the Third Annual Session of the Mills County Pioneer Club was held on the Fair grounds at Goldthwaite.

In the absence of the President, Jas. Rahl acted as master of ceremonies and the following program was carried out: Prof. D. A. Newton brought us a treat when he gave us a stirring talk on pioneer days, and also a cheering message to our honored heroes, the Confederate Veterans that were with us on this occasion. A short talk from Dr. Durant who is associated with the State Board of Health and a visitor in our city was received with applause. Perhaps the climax was reached when it was announced by Mr. Rahl that Mr. Frank Gholston of Langford Gap, Coryell county, a war veteran and appreciated visitor, would talk to us of frontier days in which he saw service as a Texas Ranger. Quite thrillingly did this old soldier, whose hair was white with the snows of 85 winters, tell of the capture of Cynthia Ann Parker and the restoration of the Williams children, who were carried away by the Indians. Our only regret was that there were not more present to hear him and enjoy his wonderful message.

Other visitors that were with us were Mr. and Mrs. Neal McNalley of Lometa, he being the first white child born in Lampasas county, Frank Gholston and wife of Langford Gap, Coryell county, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Welch of Sterling City and Sam Sneed of Evant, Texas.

A meeting of the Trustees was called for 2 o'clock and the following business was disposed of: On motion and second James Rahl acted as chairman; minutes of previous meeting was read and adopted; discussion of next meeting was left for consideration of the Board of Trustees. The election of new officers was then in order and selections were made as follows: P. H. Clements, President; W. M. Dennard, Vice-President; Minnie Ashley, Secretary; Mrs. Newton Ervin, Treasurer and J. D. D. Berry, Marshall. The Club then proceeded to the election of a Board of Trustees, naming the following: T. J. Williams, H. M. Kirby, Wallace Leverett, W. H. Oglesby, Mrs. Eli Fairman, Luther Rudd, H. G. Forehand, James Rahl, ex-officio member, P. H. Clements, ex-officio member.

A motion was made and seconded by five members that the following persons be elected as honorary members: H. M. McNutt and wife, J. C. Burdette, H. A. Sykes and wife, Mrs. Will Leverett, H. M. Kirby, Bud Welch and wife of Sterling City, Texas.

EX-CONFEDERATE REUNION

The Old Soldiers Reunion held August 17, 18, 19 during the Fair was one of the best in the history of Jeff Davis Camp, No. 117. The veterans were guest of the Fair and the efforts of the Fair Committee co-operating with the Old Soldiers Committee seemed to be successful in giving the old veterans every care and attention. They are unanimous in their praise of the management and say it was so good they do not ask for improvement.

The old soldiers were at home for the three days and nights in their own cozy dining room on grounds near their memorial tabernacle. There they were served three substantial meals each day cooked by A. P. McGowan under the supervision of the entertainment committee Mesdames Irwin, Palmer and Pardue, R. E. Clements and W. P. Weaver represented the Fair and had charge of arrangements for the reunion.

Mrs. Nora Berry had charge of the evening entertainments given especially for the old soldiers. These entertainments drew more people to the same place at the same time than any other feature of the three days fair.

After lunch Friday, R. E. Clements and W. P. Weaver met the old soldiers in an informal meeting. The committee reminded the Camp that they made possible the building of the Fair by the erection of the splendid memorial tabernacle for a meeting place. The committee invited suggestions from any member for the improvement of the program or for making the members more comfortable next year. The Camp expressed itself wholly satisfied and said there could be no improvement—that it was good enough.

After the talk by the committee several members made short talks, all commending the management for the good time they had enjoyed. Resolutions were unanimously passed thanking Mesdames Irwin, Palmer and Pardue, the entertainment committee, Mr.

McGowan, the cook, Clements and Weaver, the Fair Committee and Mesdames Fairman, Bowman and Bigham, decoration committee.

The decoration committee of the Mills County Fair deserves particular mention for the work done in providing an artistic setting for the exercises and programs at the Old Soldiers Tabernacle. In keeping with the spirit of the Reunion the stage was draped with blue and gray against a background of evergreen cedar. A central arch bore the words "Confederate States"—On either side hung gray cords bearing the names, in blue, of those states which supported the cause of the South. Interspersed with the gray was the red, white and blue of the Stars and Stripes.

The Fair management, and the Old Soldiers wish to express appreciation to those ladies composing the committee: Mrs. E. T. Fairman, Mrs. F. P. Bowman, and Mrs. Bigham.

COMMUNITY BOOTHS

Much effort has been put forth during the last few months to inspire community effort. This resulted in four booths at the Fair which was one of the most attractive features of the Fair. All visitors to the exhibit hall were greatly impressed by the attractive arrangement, the variety and the quality of the four booths.

Miss Helen Swift and T. B. Wood, A. & M. College and N. H. Scudder, County Agent, San Saba, judged the booths giving Mullin first and Prairie second place, Lake Merritt and Rock Springs tied for third place. The Mills County Chamber of Commerce awarded $100.00 in cash prizes. Mullin, winning first, took the $50.00 cash prize, Prairie took the $25.00 prize and Rock Springs and Lake Merritt took $12.50 each.

These communities are also to be congratulated for their enterprising citizens and the example they have set before the slower communities.

Delton Barnett and Omer Rudd left Wednesday morning for San Antonio.

Mrs. Guy Rudd and Loduska Laceywell went to Energy Wednesday to visit relatives.

INDIAN GAP DESTROYED BY FIRE

Last Thursday night between ten and eleven o'clock all the business portion of Indian Gap was destroyed by fire of unknown origin. The fire began its headway in the eastern part of town in the front of a garage and could not be extinguished. Priddy was called upon for help. On account of lack of water the fire could not be controlled.

The business houses were a bank, postoffice, two garages, a barber shop, two stores, including a house built on one store.

This is the second time Indian Gap has been destroyed by fire in the last few years. However, very little insurance was carried. Work has been started on a new postoffice.

Let every member, as well as his friends, be present for preaching Sunday morning. We have not been having regular services for some time because of the summer revival meetings, but now the revival season is over so we want to do our best for the next few months of our assembly year. The people of Goldthwaite can make the churches just what they desire to make them. A hearty welcome awaits you at the Nazarene Church.

FARM EXHIBITS

In this department, S. J. Fisher won first, a $10.00 cash prize. H. E. Moreland the second prize of $5.00 cash, and R. E. McDermott third, $2.50. J. D. Fallon also placed an exhibit. These exhibits were complete in variety, high in quality and showed a diversity of products, giving the whole a proper balance between cash crops, food and feed crops. It is hoped that the Fair will be able to interest many farmers in this department next year.

Miss Mattie Johnston returned from Waco Monday afternoon, where she has been visiting.

CHEESE FACTORY IS RAPIDLY NEARING COMPLETION HERE

The cheese and butter factory being built by the Texas Cheese and Butter Co., general headquarters at Fort Worth, is assuming shape fast. The building will be reinforced brick veneer with sheet rock interior walls and concrete floors. The superstructure has been built and work is progressing rapidly on laying brick. It is estimated that the building will be complete in from 15 to twenty days. Then the necessary machinery will be installed at once and production of cheese begun.

Mr. W. A. Green of the Texas Cheese and Butter Co., is in Goldthwaite and he and R. F. McDermott have been calling on the citizens of Star, Lometa, Mullin, Priddy and other points, interesting them in establishing cooling stations to care for the sweet milk until the trucks could get to it. Mr. Green reports that he finds great interest in the project in every community.

Texas' First Cheese Factory

The Goldthwaite factory is intended as one of a chain of factories to dot this portion of Texas and Mr. Green states that they intend to have 50 or more in operation or in course of construction by the first of January, 1928. Work is beginning now on a plant at Round Rock, Texas. However, to Goldthwaite will go the honor of having the first factory in Texas for the production of cheese.

60c or Better for Butter Fat

Mr. Green, confirming the statement of Mr. White of the Texas Cheese and Butter Company, states that the opening price for butter fat here will be sixty cents per pound and that it is his opinion that, as the amount of milk increases and the overhead automatically decreases, a better price will be paid. At present Wisconsin farmers are being paid 69c for milk from which cheese is made.

Following is an article written by an uncle of Judge E. B. Anderson of this city, a man who is very conservative in his opinions and a stock-farmer of note, in the Farm & Ranch:

(J. N. Colwick in Farm & Ranch)

Early last spring I took advantage of the opportunity to inspect the dairy industry in Wisconsin. Wisconsin produces 70 per cent of all cheese made in the United States.

At the State University I met Professor Farington, who is thoroughly familiar with cheese and butter, and all the manufacturing details, and is head of the dairy department.

They have a fine herd of dairy cows, Holsteins and Jerseys. I was shown through the butter and cheese factory when the students were at work, making cheese by the hundred pounds every day from milk purchased from dairymen who brought it to the university. The university pays 60c per pound for butter fat, and the farmers retain the whey.

I found that where cheese is produced the price of butter fat is high. When we in Texas are paid forty cents per pound they pay in Wisconsin 60 cents per pound. The cheese production has increased many fold during the last ten years, while butter production decreased. I became fully convinced that what we need in this part of Texas is the dairy business, and to stimulate it, a cheese factor where enough milk can be secured (say 5000 pounds). When the farmers see that they can get 40 to 60 cents per pound butter fat they will soon supply the amount of milk and become dairy farmers. The (Continued on last page)

BUCKNER ORPHANS HOME AND ITS POLICIES

Buckner Orphans Home is an institution of broadest charity, being non-denominational in its benefactions, open to orphan children, of white parentage, without regard to sect or section. It was founded fifty years ago by R. C. Buckner, and is controlled by a Board of Directors, made up of active Baptist Deacons only. Twenty-seven men are annually chosen by the Baptist General Convention of Texas. Of Charter, granted by the State of Texas, requires that nine members shall be chosen in such a way as to include a minimum of six who served the previous year.

Buckner Orphans Home has enjoyed a steady growth from the very beginning. Its family numbers always close to seven hundred. Just at this time there are five hundred and two of the large family who are of school age.

It is the policy of the Home that every child shall have a fair chance at the gospel message, and full training in church activities. Its policy includes a high school education for every child able and willing to take it. There being no age limit for the reception of children, or for the dismissal of children, many under-privileged children, having entered school very late, are older at graduation than in the average school.

It is the policy of Buckner Orphans Home never to assume a financial obligation unless it can see some way out. Because the property of Buckner Orphans debt makes it hard for us to get the buildings we need from time to time; yet, because of this policy it does hold the confidence of the people at large. We have suffered for lack of buildings since the fire of three years ago—in such a degree that the people can hardly be conscious of it. During these three years, we have erected new fire-proof dormitories and have succeeded in housing the boys who were burned out.

The needs of Buckner Orphans Home can not be saddled with Home now, in the way of buildings, are as follows: A complete educational plant involving the expenditure of about one hundred and sixty thousand dollars; a remodeled church plant; a dormitory to relieve the crowded condition now existing among the girls; two small dormitories, one for boys and one for girls, to take care of the children that ought to be admitted within the next year or two; a fire-proof "Mother's Building for Motherless Babies," for the small children, to house at least one hundred.

The needs for school buildings is so acute as to demand immediate action, and we are hoping that individuals who love the cause of orphan children will subscribe to the needed funds. There are individuals in Texas, who could, all by themselves, erect a building as a memorial to some loved one or to bear their own names and thus bless humanity through the decades that are to come.

On account of the pressure being brought to bear on the people by so many causes it is very hard to finance the current expense of Buckner Orphans Home. We see no reason to believe that there will be a "let up" of this pressure; but somehow we must carry on and provide the necessary annual budget, which is close to one-quarter of a million dollars.

That Unproductive Period Cut

The job of making 8,000 new feathers is certainly an awful drain on a hen's system. Let's hope you are not one of those who figures that feed doesn't matter because the hens aren't laying. Wrong feeding now will add weeks and months to that unproductive molting period.

Now, more than at any other time, your hens need Purina Chicken Chowder an dmore of it. Chowder is the mash that will put on feathers in a hurry. Chowder will cut short the unproductive period and put your hens into laying when egg prices are high.

The cheapest ration frequently is not the most economical. The ration that will cut short the unproductive period is the economical one. So get Chowder busy now—before and during the molt.

NATHAN LEADS DAVID TO REPENTANCE

GOLDEN TEXT—A broken and contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise. Psalm 51:17.

Lesson Setting and Survey

To avenge an Ammonite insult, David's army led by Joab defeated in the fields the armies of Ammon and their Syrian allies. He then laid siege to Rabbah, the Ammonite capital, twenty-two miles east of the Jordan. While this siege was going on, David committed at Jerusalem the blackest sins of his life. But the reproof of the faithful prophet Nathan brought the king to sackcloth and ashes before God. Sincere repentance was, a train of sorrows followed in wake of immorality. His own house was rent with discord, two of his sons Absalom for incest, and Absalom being ignobly slain—Ammon and by Joab in the war for the throne.

Lesson Text and Outline

I. THE PARABLE OF THE PROPHET.

And Jehovah sent Nathan unto David. And he came unto him, and said unto him, There were two men in one city; the one rich, and the other poor. 2 The rich man had exceeding many flocks and herds; 3 but the poor man had nothing, save one lamb which he had brought and nourished up; and it grew up together with him, and with his children; it did eat of his own morsel, and drank of his own cup, and lay in his bosom, and was unto him as a daughter. 4 And there came a traveller unto the rich man, and he spared to take of his own flock and of his own herd, to dress for the wayfaring man that had come unto him, but took the poor man's lamb, and dressed it for the man that had come to him.

II. THE WRATH OF THE KING

5 And David's anger was greatly kindled against the man; and he said to Nathan, As Jehovah liveth, both the man that hath done this is worthy to die; 6 and he shall restore the lamb fourfold, because he did this thing, and because he had no pity.

III. THE FIDELITY OF THE PROPHET.

7 And Nathan said, Thou art the man. Thus saith Jehovah, the God of Israel, I anointed thee king over Israel, and I delivered thee out of the hand of Saul; 8 and I gave thy master's house, and thy master's wives unto thy bosom, and gave thee the house of Israel and Judah; and if that had been too little, I would have added unto thee such and such things. 9 Wherefore hast thou despised the word of Jehovah, to do that which is evil in his sight? thou hast smitten Uriah the Hittite with the sword, and hast taken his wife to be thy wife, and hast slain him with the sword of the children of Ammon. 10 Now therefore the sword shall never depart from thy house, because thou hast despised me, and hast taken the wife of Uriah to be thy wife.

IV. THE PENITENCE OF THE KING

13 And David said unto Nathan, I have sinned against Jehovah. And Nathan said unto David, Jehovah hath put away thy sin; thou shalt not die.

Notes Analytical and Expository

While his army was at the front and he was at home in ease, David committed one of the blackest crimes in human history. The regrettable record appears in full upon the faithful pages of the Word of God. There was, first of all, the lustful look from the roof of the palace at eventide; then the commission of adultery with the wife of one of his thirty captains absent in the war; then the summoning home of the valiant Uriah, whom he coaxed and then made drunk in order that he might divert suspicion from the royal crime; and then in deception sending the faithful Uriah back to the front, bearing in his hands his own death-warrant in the royal order that he should be cast into the heat of battle and exposed to the fire of the foe. To what depths had the king fallen! Yet the general carried out his duty and saw the brave Uriah fall on the field of honor, and then sent a report to the king in the capital. But was the awful sin hidden? See Nathan, the prophet, come and let fall the lightning stroke upon David until, heartbroken and conscience-stricken, he cried out in agony and penitence.

1. THE STORY OF THE EWE LAMB. The parable which the prophet uttered in the ears of the king was calculated to stir royal sympathy, to arouse kingly wrath, and at the same time catch the monarch completely off guard. Re-read the touching little story of the poor man having nothing but one little ewe lamb which "did eat of his own meat and drink of his own cup, and lay in his bosom, and was unto him as a daughter." And re-read the story of the rich neighbor who having many flocks and herds took the poor man's lamb and dressed it for the warfaring man that was come unto him. Was it not a story of rank oppression and vile injustice?

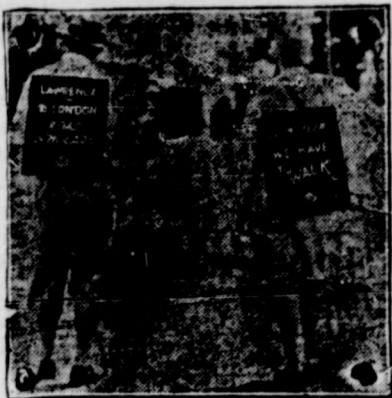

2. THE INDIGNATION OF DAVID. No sooner had David heard the prophet's story than his anger was greatly kindled against the oppressor and he hotly declared: "As the Lord liveth, the man that hath done this thing shall surely die; and he shall restore the lamb four-fold, because he did this thing and because he had no pity."

3 "THOU ART THE MAN" At this moment fell the lightning stroke upon the intriguing monarch whose vile crime, seemingly veiled from view, was yet held up before him in truest and most faithful picture. "And Nathan said unto David, Thou art the man!" Thus the arrow sped straight to the mark and other arrows followed in quick succession until David cried out in agony, "I have sinned against the Lord!" In his penitence he wrote the fifty-first Psalm which is the master cry of the backslidden heart. He was himself restored to divine favor but the mark of his sin was felt in the coming years. The child of guilt soon passed away. Domestic troubles arose in the royal family which were as firebrands and death at court. Long years followed with David on the throne, but with little record of his achievements. An awful blot adorns today upon one of the fairest names in history.

LOSS OF ENERGY

We regret the loss of energy in Niagara, but the loss of precious energy in the unavailing stream of feeling which passes away in imaginative moods is infinitely worse. If we could harness the Niagara of human sympathy, and start it to work in educating the ignorant, in helping the helpless, in nursing the sick, in reclaiming the fallen what great revolutions would be worked in a day. Feeling is worthless if bear no tangible fruit. Our Master wept, but he also bled. "He that goeth forth weeping," not he that stays at home weeping, "shall doubtless come again, bringing his sheaves with him."

Just Tottering, So Weak

"I was in a bad state of health and was going through a critical time of my life," says Mrs. Ella Scarborough, R. F. D. 5, Dothan, Ala. "Several different things were recommended to me, but I did not get any real relief until I began to take Cardui.

"I was just as weak as could be. My legs were shaky, and often I would just totter around the house. I finally got so bad that I was in bed several weeks.

"It was then that I began to take Cardui. I kept it up for quite a while, and at last I regained my health. Cardui was certainly a friend to me in time of need.

"My health is splendid now, and I seldom have to use medicine, but I gladly say a word about Cardui whenever I find a friend going through the same suffering which I endured."

"FASHIONS FOR WOMEN" REPLETE WITH COMEDY!

Once upon a time a woman lived who never read a fashion page; an unattractive motion picture star waxed wealthy; a pretty girl burned all her gowns and a beautiful blonde existed who wasn't preferred by gentlemen. But—those things happened "once on a time."

To disprove all these fallacies, Paramount gave Estier Ralston, its gorgeous blonde beauty, a luxurious gown and girl picture at her initial starring debut production "Fashions For Women" which comes to the Dixie Theatre Thursday and Friday. Of course the "big moment" spectacularly is reached when the fashion revue gets under way. Fifteen American beauties model ultra-modern clothes in what is said to be the most colorful scene ever filmed. But the story provides a number of comic highlights which need absolutely no aid from modistes.

"Fashions For Women" opens as Celeste, a beautiful Parisian model, takes the bandages off which a skin specialist had put on when doing a job of "face lifting." She is delighted at the results and her press agent, Sam Dupont, immediately tells the papers of the success. Then he devises another headline scheme. Celeste suddenly disappears from sight and all Paris is agog as the big fashion show comes into sight. Dupont secures a cigarette girl, Lola, to act as Celeste's double in the show.

RELICS AND CURIOS

The Fair visitors took a genuine interest in the Relic and Curio department. Among them was an old bottle or flask about the size of a "hip pocket" on which was a spread eagle design. Oldtimers gazed on this with a sign which plainly said, "Them days are gone forever." Mr. Johnson showed an old cap and ball gun of ancient design and a large blowing horn. Wallace Leverett brought a hundred year old shot gun. Mrs. Leverett offered a quilt that was pieced 76 years ago and a coverlet more than 100 years old. Other relics were a Bill of Sale to a negro of date 1847, a sausage stuffer entered by J. L. Hallford, a fluting iron 75 years old by W. D. Halle, old magazines by Mrs. W. E. Jenkins, and old fashioned picture of four generations back by Mrs. J. M. Baker, a wedding vest 73 years old by Mrs. Jno. Nesbit, a doll over fifty years old that looked as young as it did on Christmas eve 1877, a fifty year old violin by J. C. Stark, old papers by Mrs. Joe Roberts, old gun by J. D. Walton and a 75 years old spinning wheel by J. C. Stark.

MRS. J. J. COCKRELL DEAD

Mrs. J. J. Cockrell died at the family home on the Colorado river Wednesday afternoon at about 1:00 o'clock, after an illness extending over several weeks. Mrs. Cockrell had been taken to Temple a few weeks ago for an operation, but it was found that her condition was inoperative and no hope was extended for her recovery. The remains were laid to rest in the Big Valley cemetery yesterday afternoon amid a large crowd of sorrowing relatives and friends. Rev. W. I. Newton of Brownwood conducted the funeral services at the Big Valley church, beginning at 2:00 o'clock and interment was immediately afterward.

Mrs. Cockrell was a member of the Missionary Baptist church and had been for many years. She was a devout Christian and won the love of her many acquaintances in the few years that she and her family have lived in Mills county. She leaves a husband, J. J. Cockrell, and four children, besides other relatives. To the bereaved ones the Eagle offers the greatest measure of sympathy in this sad hour.

The following is what her pastor, Rev. W. I. Newton, has to say: Mrs. Virginia Belle Cockrell was born July 13, 1874, making her a little past 53 years of age at the time of her death. She was married to J. J. Cockrell August 30, 1903. To this union five children were born, one having preceded the mother to heaven. Sister Cockrell was converted when about 18 and joined the Missionary Baptist church, in which she was a devout, consistent Christian until her death.

Sister Cockrell in last illness, knowing that shortly she must die, made all arrangements for her funeral. She called the family one at a time and told them how she wanted them to live. The same Power that had guided her life and kept her would keep them. She said she was going to the Father's House with no ill will toward anyone. "I don't want you children to bury your lives with mine, but look across the river, where I will be waiting and watching for you. I am not afraid to die. My Lord is with me to comfort me and keep me."

In her divine moments she clasped her hands and said "Glory, Glory"
 The funeral was conducted at her request by her pastor, W. I. Newton of Brownwood, Texas.

THE dawn of a new season—and that season autumn! Every woman is asking, "What shall I wear?"—As she turns from the flippant informality that is summer to the more varied and defined requirements that belong to fall and winter, she will find her question fashionably answered in this early display of the mode for fall, 1927. A new note is struck in the fashions for this season—there's a decided trend toward formality and a freedom of motion about the new modes that indicate a very interesting attempt to break away from the tailored regime that has held sway for so many seasons.

Excess Uric Acid Gives Rise to Many Unpleasant Troubles.

AUTHORITIES agree that an excess of uric acid is primarily due to faulty kidney action. Retention of this toxic material often makes its presence felt by sore, painful joints, a tired, languid feeling and, sometimes, toxic backache and headache. That the kidneys are not functioning right is often shown by scanty or burning passage of secretions. Thousands assist their kidneys at such times by the use of Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. CHEESE FACTORY—

 farmers who can sell sour cream at 30 cents, as they are doing here and live, would undoubtedly double production many times, if Wisconsin prices were paid for butter fat.

In Madison the university creamery pays 60 cents for butter fat and sells the butter at 50c, gets about 22 per cent over-run buys 1500 pounds of fat daily and buys about $200,000 worth per annum, but are not trying to make money out of it.

Capacity of Cheese Factories
 Cheese factories are built to handle from 300 gallons to thousands of gallons of milk daily. The smallest plant complete, with house and machinery and everything ready to go, costs about $80,000.

Seventy-five per cent of the cheese factories in Wisconsin are cooperative. That is, their stock is owned by dairymen who patronize them, and of course, Wisconsin capital alone is invested. The cheese is sold to Swift, Armour, Kraft, and others, who put their own brands on it, whether they buy it cured or green. The Kraft people own and operate a number of big cheese factories, but their own output by no means supplies the demand.

Small cheese factories are found at cross-roads, where there is no town at all, and frequently will be found not two miles apart. Over a vast area in Southern Wisconsin, nearly a hundred miles west of Milwaukee, it is dairy cows, dairying and dairy cows. One man can operate these small factories and the help they have depends on their needs. They are very economically operated and range in daily capacity from 300 pounds to 20,000 pounds. There is no special construction for a curing plant. Any shape or size room that is kept at the proper temperature, 40 to 90 degrees, is what they need and answers the purpose.

Cheese-Maker Sole Worker
 There is not one man in a thousand in Texas who would believe the first time he was told, what a cheese-maker there does. He is the sole man in the factory where they get from 6000 to 10,000 pounds of milk daily, and he does all the work. I found a small factory owned outright by the man who runs it. He receives the milk of twenty-two farmers; makes it into cheese for 2½ cents a pound. He furnishes fuel, water, hoops, bandages, and everything and in addition he gets one-third of the butter fat that he takes off the whey after it is drawn off the cheese. He makes between 450 and 500 pounds a day the year round. He gave $10,000.00 for his plant, which on first sight looks like a farm residence. The factory is down stairs and he lives upstairs. His house and plant would not cost new, he says, over $6000.00 or $7000.00, but he bought the going business. There are many of this kind all over the country.

Know Their Business
 A cheese maker told me that all his life he had gotten about 2.75 to 2.80 pounds of cheese out of every 1 pound of butter fat that the milk contained, and that he certainly could make 13 to 14 pounds of first-class cheese out of 100 pounds of 5 per cent milk; that any good cheese maker ought to do the same thing or learn how. He laughed when he said this, but anyone could tell that he knows his business, and that he knows he knows it.

He also said that with a moderate amount of refrigeration cheese could be made in Texas just as firm, well flavored, palatable and just as merchantable as in Wisconsin. The at the main thing, and the absolutely necessary thing, is to get the milk to the factory sweet, and then, with a good conscientious cheese-maker, the rest would take care of itself.

The people in Wisconsin know that dairying has made them prosperous when the chinch bug made them abandon wheat raising. So, wake up, Texas! Open your eyes and see how they are now fertilizing their land by the dairy cow. Selling milk at $2 to $2.50 per hundred pounds makes them prosperous. Their milk checks of $200 to $300 per month evidence this. Their painted dwellings and barns, well-kept fences, are the disputed evidences. Our Central Texas is rolling and resembles Wisconsin landscape. They have dairies on every 80 acres and many smaller homes, thus, the country supports a large population.
