GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, MAY 25, 1928.

NUMBER TWENTY-NINE

CHAUTAUQUA VISITS GOLDTHWAITE TODAY SATURDAY AND MON.

The Radcliffe Chautauqua, Miss Lucille Ellis, superintendent, will offer Mills county citizens a treat today, tomorrow and Monday. This company of artists, each renowned in his line, will place the same high class entertainment before the citizens here as can be had at the finest theatres in the cities.

The program for today has been re-arranged somewhat on account of the graduating exercises of the pupils of Goldthwaite High School. No program will be given tonight. Instead this morning at 10:30 o'clock in the study hall at the high school a FREE program, the usual Friday afternoon program will be rendered by Niel Paterson Trio, composed of Mr. Paterson, Scotch comedian, Miss Doris Kimball, one of the nation's leading pianists, and Miss Dorothy Clark, soprano. The native Scotch costumes will be worn by these people. Mr. Paterson is a native of Glasgow, Scotland. The Elliott and Wallace plaids will be worn. Mr. Wallace will play the Scotch bagpipes and the carpenter's fiddle.

In the afternoon the usual night program will be rendered: the admission charge will be 25c and 50c.

Saturday will be the big day of the Chautauqua. In the afternoon at three o'clock will be presented the play, "It Can't Be Done," and at night the big play, "Putting Pep In Papa."

"Papa" is in for an exciting evening when the Radcliffe Players put on the thrilling, laugh-provoking dramatic comedy, "PUTTING PEP IN PAPA," which has scored a success wherever it has been played.

Poor "Papa" thinks he is sick, and when his wife and his son, and his son's beautiful sweetheart try to prove to him that he isn't, a series of both laughable and heart-rending incidents follow which will bring tears into your eyes.

JOE PALMER PUTS NEW CHEVROLET DE- LIVERY ON ROUTE

Joe A. Palmer has recently bought a New Chevrolet roadster and converted it into a delivery car for his grocery business. This car will speed up deliveries from his store considerably and Mr. Palmer is always securing the best for his business.

Messrs Walker and Brooks, owners of the Eastland Tribune were delayed while passing through Goldthwaite last Thursday on account of a puncture and while waiting, they made the Eagle a pleasant call.

P. J. R. Macintosh, associate editor of Bunker's Monthly, an industrial magazine published at Fort Worth, made the Eagle a call the first of this week. Mr. Macintosh is writing a series of articles concerning the Heart of Texas district, which will appear in his magazine in the near future.

JACK HOXIE TO APPEAR IN PERSON AT THE DIXIE FRIDAY EVE., MAY 25.

A little 4,000-acre ranch near Redwood, Cal., with a small camp site near Burbank where he resides keeps Jack Hoxie interested in the ranching game, where he got his start toward being a western movie star. He will appear in person with one of his feature pictures at the Dixie Theatre Friday. He is a sort of "lone wolf" about Hollywood, and spends most of his time at Burbank.

Declared the champion bulldogger of the world in 1915 when he bulldogged a steer in ten seconds, Hoxie comes by his acting quite naturally. He learned the art of a cowhand in Idaho and Wyoming range country, and he's as good at trick and fancy roping as Will Rodgers.

"Western pictures will be popular as long as motion pictures of any kind are popular," said Hoxie. "By westerns I mean the newer type of outdoor picture and not the cheap western films made in four days at a cost of not more than $20,000.

"These newer western pictures are more popular in the west than any other part of the country, proof, I believe, that they are technically accurate. It might seem strange at first that west Texans that may see cowboys on the streets every day prefer pictures about cowboys to other films, but I believe the reason is that everyone is interested in the out-of-doors. I think there is something wrong with anyone who does not like dogs and horses. Westerners who know animals better love them better; that's why they prefer outdoor pictures."

Hoxie's scorn for makers of western pictures that do not resemble true life was ill-concealed. He illustrated his remarks on that subject of pictures that had been made with German police dogs shown as guardians of sheep and as being found on western ranches.

"I have never yet seen a police dog on a sheep ranch," said Hoxie. "My dog is an Australian shepherd, a dog that is common on the sheep ranches of Australia and has just been introduced in this country. The pure bred dogs, which are descendants of a cross between English shepherds and the Australian dingo, are marked by having one brown eye and one white eye. Wednesday I got a telegram from my ranch in California that one of these dogs that I have there had just given birth to five pups. That makes me at least $5,000 richer than I was the day before."

"The dog that I use in my pictures had been raised on my ranch and had never seen a sheep in his life, yet when we finished 'The Shepherd of the Hills' he handled them as though he had been around them all his life. The intelligence of the dog and his response to training is remarkable."

THE CRYSTAL SET

Part Three

(By M. E. Boatman)

First the panel is marked and drilled. Lay the panel in front of you and with a ruler measure one inch from the top at the left corner and one inch from the left side. Where these two marks meet, punch a small hole with a punch or a nail. Then one inch below this mark, and also one inch from the left side make another mark and punch it. Then in the upper right corner make two punches like the first two; the last punches will be one inch from the right side and one and two inches from the top.

These are for the binding posts. Mark the top left one "A", the lower one "G", and the two right ones "PH".

In the middle of the panel, and two inches from the top another punch. Then with a compass use this mark as a center, and with a radius of one and three-eighths inch draw a circle on the panel. With your ruler mark off every three eighths inch on the upper half of this circle until you have 10 marks or divisions and punch each one.

The crystal holder is mounted just under these punches, which are for the switch arm and contacts. No definite dimensions can be given for mounting the holder, as they are different in size and methods of mounting. One can be taken at random and described, but the author neither wishes to restrict the set builder nor become involved in charges of partiality; follow the directions received with the holder or mount it as it suits you best.

With a one-eighth inch bit drill holes at all the punched places and also two holes at the bottom of the panel to fasten it to the base. Mount the binding posts in the two left and right holes, the switch points on the circle and the switch arm in the center; tighten it so as to make good contact with the points. Mount the crystal holder beneath the switch points.

Now take the cream container or a similar tube and punch two holes in it about one-fourth inch from one end. Loop one end of the enameled wire through these and allow about three inches of wire to make connections with. For the present this is bent over inside the tube.

Start winding the wire on taut and wind it as evenly as the tube, keeping the wire possible. A good way is to get someone to hold the spool of wire while you wind. Wind on fifty turns and take off a tap. This is easiest done holding the wire on the tube with a finger, slacking up on the wire from the spool and twisting a loop in it. This need not be very large—about an inch in diameter is sufficient.

Wind on five more turns and take off another tap, another five turns and a tap, and so on until you have nine taps. That will be 95 turns, so wind on five more, punch two holes in the tube, allow about three

GOLDTHWAITE MAY GET NATURAL GAS IN NEAR FUTURE

A representative of a gas company of Brownwood was in Goldthwaite the first of the week consulting Mayor Bodkin and the city council concerning the piping of natural gas into Goldthwaite. The representative stated that his company would probably run gas mains from Brownwood to Austin by way of Goldthwaite, Lometa, Lampasas, etc. He did not ask for a guarantee in the number of connections, merely asking for a permit to place the mains in the alleys of the city.

The plans have not materialized to such an extent that definite action can be taken, but it seems probable that the proposed route will be adopted inasmuch as a nice revenue-bearing territory not now being served with gas will be opened.

Goldthwaite's two primary handicaps, which have undoubtedly cost the community thousands of dollars in undeveloped resources, absence of adequate cheap fuel and cheap water. The gas main would remedy the fuel situation to some extent. The water situation is now being considered by the city council.

BASEBALL GAME AT FAIR PARK SUNDAY

There will be a baseball game at Fair Park Sunday afternoon between the local M. W. A. team and the Santa Anna M. W. A. team. Both are fast teams and an interesting game is assured. The game will be called at 4 o'clock.

Rev. Joe Frizzell, who underwent a serious operation at a sanitarium at Temple Monday, is recovering rapidly. Miss Norma, who has been attending his bedside, returned home last night.

Take a piece of wire that you have left and run a wire from the binding post marked "A" to the switch arm. Be careful to scrape the enamel off the wire where the connection is made or a poor contact will result. Take another piece of wire, connect it with the post "G", run it down to the end of the coil not tapped, where it connects to it, then up to the bottom "PH" post. From the top "PH" post run a wire to one side of the crystal holder. Then take short pieces of wire and connect the taps on the coil to the switch contacts. Commencing at the middle of the coil, the first tap will go to the first switch point, and so on until the fifth is reached. This one will connect to the fifth point and go on from the switch point to the remaining side of the crystal holder.

The remaining two taps and the end of the coil are connected to the other three switch points and the set is ready for operation.—O. E. D.

AN EXPLANATION

It seems that some of our readers have the wrong idea about what kind of set it will take to receive KGKB. Reports have come in from tube set owners wanting to know if they will have to buy a crystal set to receive this station.

The answer is "NO" with all the emphasis that can be placed on it. If you have a tube set what is the use of buying a crystal set? If you can get stations hundreds of miles away with the tube set, surely you can get one only a few mile distance. If it won't you had better junk it and get a good one.

What was meant by the expression "necessary to receive this station", which appeared in the April 27 issue of the Eagle, was that the crystal set is the cheapest and simplest set that can be used for broadcast reception, from this or any other station. If you already have a tube set you are just that much better off than the rest.

W. E. LOWE WILL MAKE RACE FOR LEGISLATURE

(W. E. is a brother of Commissioner Jesse Lowe of Precinct Four. The following article from the DeLeon Free Press shows what his home community thinks of him.)

Friends of W. E. Lowe will be glad to learn that he has definitely decided to enter the race for representative in the 104th legislative district composed of Comanche and Mills counties. Friends in all portions of the district have solicited him to make the race, knowing his outstanding qualification and ability to make the financial sacrifice necessary to anyone who serves in this office.

Free Press doubts if our people could have found a more acceptable candidate. Everyone to whom the matter has been mentioned have expressed themselves enthusiastic in his support. His friends believe he will roll up a majority at the polls that will be a compliment to one of his character and station.

Mr. Lowe is a versatile and experienced man, having had a wide and varied business and professional experience. He studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1893, in Erath county, practicing in Dublin 5 years. During this time he was City Judge and City Attorney there. He came to DeLeon in 1901 and was alderman and mayor for several terms, in fact, he filled the mayor's office until he voluntarily withdrew from the office three or four years ago. He also served the school district as trustee for many years.

From 1901 until 1906 Mr. Lowe was engaged in the mercantile business here and has since held interest in wholesale mercantile concerns.

But it was as active head of the Farmers & Merchants National Bank for a period of 14 years that Mr. Lowe rendered most real service to this community retiring voluntarily in 1919. During the early portion of his connection with this strong financial institution, the boll weevil struck this section. Mr. Lowe with a number of other progressive farmers and local business men, urged a program of diversification which proved the salvation of this section of the state. The resources of the bank were liberally placed at the disposal of the producers, and as a result the changing order was the sooner bridged over to the advantage of the entire section. Free Press editor wishes that he might convey to the minds of the people the facts of how Mr. Lowe gave unstinted and efficient service to the financing of a half million dollar peanut crop when we had no peanut mill, and many outside buyers would only come into this market when furnished storage and financed at home.

N. T. Haskins, manager of the DeLeon Peanut Company, says that the handling of peanuts on bills of exchange was an original idea with Mr. Lowe so far as he knows, never before used in any part of the United States; and this was at that time the method by which local banks could take care of the situation.

It is a little hard for people who live in tight land and stock raising districts to understand the crisis that faced this sandy land section of Texas.

DeLeon's annual cotton receipts, declining from a maximum of 16,000 bales, to a minimum of less than 1000 and with us it was peanuts, hogs diversification—or bankruptcy.

The change was accomplished without an important financial failure in our town and home people now hardly realize the wonderful change that was brought about, but they do know that always in the front lines Mr. Lowe was found, on ceiling and aiding in an effective manner.

Mr. Lowe has always taken an interest in political affairs, being for many years a member of the County Executive Committee. And was a recent delegate to the county convention from his voting box here.

At the present time he is a member of a drilling firm of Lowe, Delaney and Carter and his firm has had a large part in the recent years in developing the oil resources of Eastland and Brown counties and Free Press feels no hesitancy in commending his candidacy to the consideration of the voters for their action and approval.

Mr. Lowe is a man whose counsel and advice is sought and valued by those who know him, not by any one, but by people of every class and vocation.

WHAT SHALL THE HARVEST BE?

We are told by the Southern press, and it generally appears as the consensus of the press,
over our country with Democratic learning, that Governor Al Smith will win the approaching fall election if nominated.

In support of his candidacy every political thought that can be gathered under the Democratic banner, is being fused in the name of Democracy. If he is successful this aggregation of conflicting thought must, under the general order of things, furnish the seed for the legislative harvest during this administration.
Hence, from this viewpoint thoughtful men ponder: "What shall the legislative harvest be?"

We have the dry Democrat whose heart and mind is thoroughly set on the enforcement of the National dry laws, who regards the Volstead Act as the corner stone of his country's moral fiber. We have the wet Democrat who regards the Volstead Act as a tyrannical encroachment on individual liberty. While the issue of corruption in the Republican party is made a stalking horse in the present campaign by the Democrats, the wet and dry issue, if Smith is elected, will be the first to receive legislative action. Their proposed antidote for corruption is Smith and Tammany Hall. To many of our Southern Democrats the remedy looks worse than the disease for which they assume to prescribe.

Smith has already said that each state should have the right to form its own definition of intoxicating drink.
Then as we have forty-eight states, we could have forty-eight definitions of intoxicating drink. The ardent Smith men call for light wine and beer, but tell us that they are against the saloon. Yet I have not seen where Smith or his supporters have advocated putting the government in the light wine and beer business.
What good would light wine and beer be to the public unless someone sold it? If sold to the public it would be sold at a drinking place and a saloon by any other name would be just as bad, so what would be the value of an excuse that merely changed the name? But could or would the conglomera-tion of wet and dry thought assemble under the Democratic banner ever be able to pass an anti-Volstead Act that would be satisfactory to it or its constituents? The man who answers yes before he sees such a miracle performed has a stretch of imagination that advances far beyond the border of reason.

But let us return to the question of party corruption, the stalking horse of the Republican party. Is the Republican party totally corrupt because a few of its adherents have gone wrong? This would be both a dangerous and unjust precedent in judgment. The Democratic party in Texas, has had its Bailey, its Ferguson, its Moore and its Dale. Shall we set up the judgment that the Democratic party of Texas should be evicted from office
because Bailey, Ferguson, Moore and Dale have been recently found in its ranks? No.
We all know that the Democratic party, in Texas, has a percentage of honest men proportionally equal to any party within its borders. In fact the only just judgment that can be pronounced by man against man is judgment against the individual who committed the crime and not against all that body with whom the criminal was associated in political or religious affiliation. If such a criticarian of judgment is sound then neither the Democratic nor the Republican parties can escape condemnation; no church nor no state could escape condemnation; and indeed but few families could escape from such an unjust judgment.

If the Democratic banner is carried to success in the coming campaign what will the legislative harvest be during the Smith administration? Why not give this question serious thought, not as a partizan, but as a citizen?

PELLAGRA AND THE MISSISSIPPI FLOODS

W. C. ROUNTREE
(By W. C. Rountree, M. D.)

Pellagra has become greatly discussed lately because of its prelanee in the flooded districts of the Mississippi River. The urgent need for relief workers brought to that area many kind hearted doctors and nurses, who gave their time and skill toward the prevention of diseases that are so common after such catastrophes.

To their astonishment they found PELLAGRA in almost every home among the rural population. Not being residents of the South, these doctors at once came to the conclusion that these victims of Pellagra had contracted the disease as a result of the flood. The lack of proper nourishment to some parts of the body has been the popular theory as the cause of PELLAGRA. Naturally the devastating flood caused starvation and self denial. Hence it was easy to couple these two things together and conclude that the deprivation caused by the extended flood caused the many cases of PELLAGRA.

PELLAGRA is not a deficiency disease. It is caused by an infection which destroys the normal functioning of the digestive processes of the intestines. The flood had nothing to do with PELLAGRA as it now exists in that section.

It had been there for years before the flood. These good doctors and self sacrificing nurses only discovered what they had before not had the opportunity to discover—Viz., that in the Southland one woman in almost 75 per cent of the rural home is suffering with PELLAGRA.

PELLAGRA is a disease that is acquired through the skin. Contact by bare hands with foliage such as cabbage, beans, collards, etc, brings about the infection.

It is detected by brown, rough skin, sunburn, nervousness, diarrhoea, constipation, aching in the limbs and back and funny feelings in the head.

Until we discovered a medicine that killed the PELLAGRA infection in the intestines we were powerless to relieve that type of patient. They just wasted away. Indigestion soon set up and the patient is unable to get enough nourishment to live. The Rountree Laboratories after years of study have been able to compound this Pellagra medicine which is a sure relief and in almost all cases a permanent restorer of health to the PELLAGRA sufferer.

SPEED RECORDS MADE WITH ETHYL GASOLINE

The distinction of contributing to several of the best known speed records goes to Ethyl Gasoline. General Motors Research Laboratories developed this fuel and General Motors is now affiliated with the company marketing it.

Driving along Daytona Beach at 207.9 miles an hour Captain Malcolm Campbell set a new world's speed record for automobiles. About the same time, Frank Lockhart and J. M. White made unofficial records. Previously Major Seagrave had set the record at 203.7 miles an hour.

Each of these men rode with Ethyl.

Your car's performance will be increased by the use of Ethyl Gasoline. You will get more power to negotiate tough hills and heavy roads; you will have greater flexibility. great. You will eliminate "knock or pick-up, less gear shifting, ing," reduce vibration. Try Conoco Ethyl on your next fill and enjoy the difference.

MARK FAIRMAN INJURED BY HIT AND RUN DRIVERS

Last Monday night at about 8 o'clock, while changing a car tire on the Goldthwaite-Lometa road, near Lometa, Mark Fairman of San Saba, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Fairman of this city, was struck by a Chrysler roadster, in which four men were riding. The car knocked Mr. Fairman unconscious, but the men did not stop. About thirty minutes afterwards another car came upon the scene and carried Mr. Fairman to Lampasas for medical aid. Mr. Fairman apparently recovered quickly, but yesterday inflammation of the stomach developed and he was rushed to Temple to a sanitarium. Just who was driving the car has not been ascertained, but such men should be harshly dealt with.

Miss Alta Gray came home last Saturday from Valera where she had been teaching school.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Strangl of Fort Worth spent last Saturday and Sunday in the L. R. Conro home.

A new gasoline experience— actually—NEW MILES per gallon

H. B. JOHNSON, Agent

It is a fact that the new Texaco does give better results—measurably better. It has at once overcome the limitations of the older type of engine and enhanced the performance of the new.

You can't be mistaken. You see the record of actual miles rolling up on your speedometer. You notice the ample gasoline reserve and the fewer filling stops. Your car is the same, but the new and better Texaco is a different gasoline—more miles to the tankful.

That's the difference between dry gas and wet! The new and better Texaco, vaporizing to a dry gas, enters the cylinders and ignites instantly. It burns freely and delivers all its power in that split fraction of a second of the power-stroke.

Wherever you stop for gasoline, see to it that your car draws up beside the Texaco pump. Look for the Texaco Red Star and Green T

Not WET But DRY

A wet gas is an atomized mixture of gasoline vapor with liquid drops of raw gasoline. These drops, separating at every manifold bend, result in uneven distribution and loss of power.

A dry gas, the new and better Texaco, vaporizes completely. It is a perfect mixture of dry gasoline vapor and air which provides an even flow of fuel and power to every engine cylinder.

THE TEXAS COMPANY, 17 Battery Place, New York City
Texaco Petroleum Products

You use the vapor—

but you buy the liquid

When you drive up to a filling station you ask for "gas." And correctly, too. It is the gas—the vapor of the gasoline and not the liquid which gives the power.

The better the gasoline—the better it vaporizes—and the more power it produces.

The new and better Texaco Gasoline vaporizes perfectly. It forms a dry gas. Full power—real "Pep"—mileage.

Try Texaco today. There's a difference.

HIGH TEST

If you aren't using the new and better Texaco Gasoline now, it's high time you started.

In every particular it is a "high test" gasoline. Starts easily, responds like a flash, and is there with plenty of power.

Best of all, it is easy on the valves and forms a very minimum of carbon.

Don't just ask for "Motor Oil"

"Take-a-chance" oil in the engine sends many a good car to the scrap heap before its time has come.

That's why it is so important to use a full-bodied motor oil—a highly refined oil—like TEXACO, the clean, clear, golden motor oil.

We have the right grade for your car.

WEATHERBY AUTO COMPANY

What has gasoline to do with lubrication?

Everything. The new and better Texaco Gasoline forms a Dry Gas. It burns completely. No "heavy ends" are left in the cylinders to dilute the oil film, break the seal, enter the crankcase and destroy the lubricating value of the oil.

C. H. CARTER DEAD

Mr. Carter died at the sanitarium at Brownwood at about 2:30 p. m. May 3, 1928. Mr. Carter had been in bad health for some time, but his condition was not considered serious until a short time before his death. He was carried to the sanitarium at Brownwood, but the hand of death could not be stayed. His remains were returned to his home and laid to rest in the cemetery at Center City about 4 p. m., May 4, 1928. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. C. H. Miles.

Mr. Carter leaves 9 children to mourn his loss. He was converted and joined the Baptist church in 1881. He moved to Center City in 1883 and placed his membership there where it remained until his death. The writer has known Charlie Carter ever since he came to this community, having lived adjoining lands with him for many years, and think I can write as one knowing Charlie Carter as being a man devoted to his family and his God.

Let me say to you children, it perhaps has not dawned upon you as it will in after years, that your father is gone to return no more. You can go where he is, but it is impossible to bring him back. You will miss him. Let his counsel only as given in years gone by be your inspiration as one who loved you and never led you wrong.

—C. M. HEAD.

With Stomach Spells

"I have taken Black-Draught ever since I was a child, and can recommend it as a splendid medicine for family use," says Mrs. Cora Maberry, of Sagecreek, Okla. "My mother used it, in bringing up her family, and after I had a home of my own, I continued to use it, as I thought it was good to give the children."

"My children did not mind taking Black-Draught, and so when they got upset with stomach spells, or were constipated, I gave them Black-Draught tea."

"They are all grown now and have homes of their own, but I still keep Black-Draught in the house and use it myself when I wake up in the morning feeling dull and 'head-achey', and have a bad taste in my mouth."

In use over 87 years.

The Verdict Of Numbers

Most people know what they want. They may not get it at first.

Experience is often a bitter teacher. But in the end they get the best—in tires, as in other things.

Among the baffling claims of rival manufacturers and the alluring inducements of price cutting, special discounts, and "deals," the judgment of numbers stands out undeniable.

It goes straight home:

Goodyear popularity is securely founded on the belief of millions of motorists that Goodyear makes The World's Greatest Tire.

The great army of motorists have tested Goodyears thoroughly—driving over 75,000,000,000 miles last year.

And Goodyear leads every other tire maker by thousands in volume made annually.

Goodyear used 168,000,000 pounds of rubber last year—Fifty per cent more than any competitor.

Our Goodyear Service is of the same high quality as the tires we sell. We make it our business to see in every way possible that you receive 100 per cent service from your tires.

You'll find that we are an expert, courteous and friendly establishment.

Won't you get acquainted with us and with The World's Greatest Tire — soon?

F. M. ANDERSON DEAD

Bro. Anderson was born on March 18, 1859 in Indiana. When a child, he was moved to Illinois, from thence to Missouri, then to Denton County, Texas, and finally to Mills County. Brother Anderson was married twice. To Miss Mossori Bridges Jan. 4, 1885. She died March 10, 1885. He married Miss S. F. Gray September 8, 1889, eight children being born to this union, four girls and four boys. About 1894 he made a public profession of faith in Christ and joined the North Bennett Baptist church and remained with us until his death.

The morning of his baptism he was restless and his companion asked him what was the matter. He said he felt like he should follow his Lord in baptism with the other people. She told him not to let her stand in his way as she belonged to another faith; for him to go on and be baptized if he wished. Those were noble words spoken from his companion.

His remains were laid to rest in the Center City cemetery. A few encouraging words were spoken by Bro. Miller, the Methodist pastor.

He was not a regular attendant but down deep in his heart we believe he loved his Christ and his church.

The last two years of his life he was a great sufferer without complaint. I was by his bedside a number of times and never saw a man more patient than was he.
