MILLS COUNTY FAIR ASSOCIATION OFFICERS ELECTED

A New President Was Named

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of Mills County Fair Association, held Monday afternoon, Dr. J. M. Campbell, W. P. Weaver, R. F. McDermott, R. E. Clements and T. F. Toland were re-elected directors for three year terms. The entire membership of the board is now composed of the gentlemen named, together with A. E. Evans, J. H. Burnett, O. H. Yarborough, J. A. Palmer, G. H. Frizzell, Dow Hudson, S. P. Rahl, L. B. Burnham and E. T. Fairman.

The directors held a meeting and elected T. F. Toland, president; S. P. Rahl, vice president; R. L. Steen, secretary; J. A. Palmer, treasurer. Dr. Campbell, the retiring president, has served the association in that capacity since its organization and much of the success of the fair has been due to his efforts and influence. The stockholders reluctantly allowed him to retire. His successor, Mr. Toland, is one of the city's most progressive and enterprising business men. Under his direction the fair is sure to grow and expand and the splendid plans he already has prepared for advancement shows that his heart as well as his ability is in the work.

Messrs. W. P. Weaver and R. F. McDermott only lacked one year serving the association as treasurer and secretary, respectively, as long as Dr. Campbell. They were allowed to retire from those offices last year, but are still retained as directors.

The Mills county fair is one of the best in Western Texas and that means there are none better anywhere. The newly elected officers and directors will extend its influence and benefits to greater dimensions.

X-RAY IN GOLDTHWAITE

With his well known progressive spirit and his determination to give his patients and the public generally the best service possible, Dr. Swanger has purchased and is installing in his office, the latest model of X-Ray machine. This will be of vast benefit to the people here, for not only will they be saved the time and expense of going elsewhere for examination by x-ray, but many diseases are successfully treated by this method and it will be more convenient for the people here as well as much cheaper. Dr. Swanger has a large practice in his profession and patients come to him from far away places, as well as in this immediate vicinity. His splendid record has drawn to him a large list of patients and he is also a valuable citizen for the town. This last investment shows his willingness and ability to secure the best to be had for those who come to him for relief from disease.

REAGAN-JOHNSON

These young people were accompanied by a number of their friends. Their names are as follows: Miss Hazel Reagan, Miss Theana Reagan and Leman Reagan, Miss Pauline Johnson, and Mr. Henry Byrd. We join their many friends in wishing for them a happy and prosperous journey through life.

DISTRICT COURT HAS A BUSY SESSION THIS WEEK

Adjourned Yesterday For Term

The court has been pretty busy this week. Judge Brewster, who exchanged benches with Judge Watson of Cameron last week, is back on the job and business has been moving regularly. A jury commission, composed of W. C. Daw, O. H. Yarborough, Robert Robertson, W. H. McFarland and J. M. Geeslin met Tuesday and prepared the jury list for next term of court.

The case of the State vs. Bailey Fowler, charged with the theft of a goat, resulted in verdict of guilty with a penalty of two years in the penitentiary. A new trial will be asked by the defendant.

The trial of J. C. Lawson, charged with child desertion, resulted in a verdict of guilty, with a penalty of two years in the penitentiary. Prior to the last legislature wife and child desertion was only a misdemeanor and it is now a felony. Court adjourned for the term yesterday afternoon.

T. E. L. CLASS MEETING

On Tuesday afternoon the T. E. L. class of the First Baptist church was entertained at the attractive new home of Mrs. George Jackson. Guests were given cordial greeting by the hostess and her daughter, Mrs. John Jackson.

Hallowe'en colors were used very effectively to decorate the living room where the twenty-two guests gathered to hear a splendid program that opened with a scripture lesson from the fourth chapter of Matthew, read by Mrs. Ben Forehand, followed by a prayer by Mrs. Parks. Other topics were given in a most creditable manner by Mesdames W. B. Jackson, W. P. McCollough, E. B. Anderson and A. C. Langlitz.

A short business session was held during which Mrs. Ben Forehand was elected assistant teacher.

A number of games and contests were introduced which provided an unusually good time for every one present.

Many Important Local Announcements Are Made

Junior Circle Holds Meeting

The Junior Circle No. 139 met in regular order Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Odd Fellow's Hall. There was one member initiated—Deacher Shaw.

Officers were elected where needed, as follows: Genevieve Greathouse, musician; Deacher Shaw, past guardian; Clark Huddleston, assistant attendant; Moline Pitts, adviser; Glendon Armstrong, inner sentinel.

The drill book has been ordered and new rituals. We hope to have a real Grove and good attendance thru the winter months.

We had a fine crowd Wednesday, but more of the members can come. There will be a Hallowe'en party at Odd Fellows hall next Thursday night, Oct. 17. All Juniors are to wear costumes. Following the party we will serve sandwiches and fruit. All mothers are invited. We will go to the movies after the party. Mr. Pents will have a place where we can all sit together for the second show. All can go who so desire. Of course you are to pay your way to the show, but the Grove pays the expense of the party. Supervisor, Mrs. L. P. Huddleston. REPORTER.

HOWELL PLAYERS COMING

The Ray Howell Players, who were here last spring and made a splendid reputation in their tented theatre, are coming back for a week's engagement opening Monday. This is a good clean show with good clean folks. They are good actors and present a bill free from questionable acts and situations. They will be located at the Star Wagon Yard lot and are sure to have a hearty welcome and liberal patronage.

Trebel Cleff Club Entertains

Another delightful compliment to Miss Mildred Stephens the bride-to-be of next week, was the informal musical and "42" party given by the Trebel Cleff Club on Tuesday evening of this week at the hospitable home of R. V. Littlepage. Eight tables of players made up the personnel. The bridal idea in colors of pink and green appointed the affair. Baskets and vases of pink radianse roses and ferns graced the rooms where the tables for games were placed. The dining table lace with a bride under a beautiful arch with subdued lights deserves special mention. Tallies, score pads and other game accessories were in smart bridal design. As Mildred had succeeded in remaining at head table throughout the evening, Mrs. Sullivan told her there was a hidden treasure for her. From one place she was directed to another until finally on the front lawn she found a beautiful waffle iron and a complete set of dishes in which to serve them, the gift of the club, of which she has been a member since her return from college.

The dainties served in two courses at the game table with heart cakes pierced with arrows, bride plate forms and other wedding emblems echoed the chosen motif.

WESLEY CLASS PICNIC

On Friday evening of last week the Wesley Class of the Methodist church, composed of young married couples and young men and ladies, were delightfully entertained at Fair Park by four members of the class: Mesdames Claud Burch, John Berry Jess Hall and Sparks Bigham.

A very tempting supper of fried chicken, baked beans, salads of all kinds, with pickles, onions and potato chips, was served cafeteria style, finished with peacan and sweet potato pie and coffee.

To say that all enjoyed it would be a very mild way of expressing it, for everybody was busy as bees around a honey suckle vine in full bloom. After the delicious supper had been enjoyed, many old time games and songs were indulged in and enjoyed by all. MEMBER.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

The audience of the Church of Christ is increasing in number each week. We had the largest crowds last Sunday and Sunday evening that we have had in some time. Two placed their membership with us last Sunday evening.

Our audience at prayer meeting was larger last Wednesday evening than it has ever been, 49 being present. We want to increase the number attending prayer meeting each week.

Every member is urged to be in the Bible study next Sunday from 10 to 10:40 a. m. Preaching from 11 to 11:40 a. m. Subject, "The Proper View of Life and Death." Subject Sunday evening, "God's Word Will Meet Every Condition and Supply Every Need of the Human Soul."

We are asking for every member of this congregation to make a real effort to be with us next Sunday. Bring someone with you. E. S. FITZGERALD.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

Miss Mildred Stephens, bride elect of this month, was honored last Friday morning with a miscellaneous shower given by Mesdames T. F. Toland, Walter Fairman and J. V. Cockerum at the pretty Cockerum home in west end.

The rooms of the home were decorated in a yellow and lavender scheme. Clusters of the yellow and lavender cosmos mingled with fern in baskets and vases gave floral charm.

Forty two gave diversion for a time. On counting punch-les, Miss Mildred and Mrs. C. A. Eacott were found to have won all the games. The honoree was given a string and told to follow it and she would find her prize. After being guided by the string through several rooms she came to a large box laden with all kinds of gifts, linens, silver ware, glass ware etc.

Great was her surprise, as the nature of the gathering had been so well guarded that all she expected was a gift for high score. Eagerly did she unwrap package after package, and many were the expressions of surprise and pleasure from her.

Ices and confections were served from the game table, centered with a basket of flowers. A GUEST.

JUDGE LEIGH CLARK

Judge Leigh Clark, one of the fine and picturesque old school of frontier lawyers, is dead.

One no longer meets many of the type; impulsive, warm-hearted, fighting, careless of consequences and not vindictive.

He had the gay zest and charm of manner of the old south, his heritage. He had the oratorical gift, the picturesque manner. In El Paso's early days Judge Clark was engaged in many exciting events which tested his physical courage or his moral stamina. He fought valourously for the right as he saw it, but was generous enough to accord others the right to a different opinion.

As district attorney, as special district judge, he won the respect of other members of the bar.

It has been a number of years since advancing age impelled his retirement from the practice of his profession but he remained, and will remain, in the memory of his fellow townsmen for his was the sort of personality people do not readily forget.—El Paso Herald.

The Eagle editor had the pleasure of an acquaintance with this splendid Southern gentleman and joins in the tribute by the Herald. Mrs. Clark nee Miss Myra Prater, was reared in Goldthwaite and has many friends here who extend sympathy to her in her bereavement.

LON EVANS DEAD

A. E. Evans, one of the most popular and well known business men of Goldthwaite, was found dead in his office at the Magnolia Petroleum company's warehouse, in the southern part of this city, this morning shortly after daylight.

He spent last night at home and went to the oil house about 5 o'clock this morning and when Otto Kelly, Ray Blackburn and Eldredge Collier went there to get their daily supply of gas for the highway workers they found him lying on the floor of his office with a jagged hole in his left nipple and a Colt's pistol laying nearby.

Justice of the Peace James Rahl was notified and immediately held an inquest, determining that Mr. Evans took his own life.

He left a note conveying the idea that business troubles caused the act.

He leaves a wife, a son and daughter, a step-son and step-daughter.

ATHENS CLASS

On Monday evening, Oct. 6, about fifty members of the Athens Class enjoyed a spiritual meeting in the class room. Devotional was in the form of scriptural quotations by each one present, with prayer by Brother Ivins, after which officers were elected for the ensuing year.

For lack of a better teacher and president, Mr. D. H. Harrison and Mrs. J. V. Cockerum were unanimously chosen for the respective places and the "acceptance speeches" were very clever, as usual. Brother Ivins made the remark that it was not wise to change horses in the middle of a stream and the Athens class desires to push toward its highest peak in Christian work this year. The hardest pull is always nearest shore, so every member is urged to fall in and help our two wonderful leaders in the good work they plan for the class to do. Without their leadership there would be a possibility of falling with the tide.

Other officers include Mr. Floyd Henderson, assistant teacher; Mrs. Walter Fairman, first vice president; Mrs. Haynes Harrison, second vice president; Mrs. Fred Martin, third vice president; Mrs. Otto Simpson, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Harry Palmer, assistant secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Orvil Greathouse, reporter.

For their untiring work, Mr. Harrison and Mrs. Cockerum were each presented with a lovely gift and other past officers given a rising vote of thanks.

The entertainment committee took charge and in a novel way afforded much excitement for a while. Next came the work of the most important committee, that on refreshments.

The report of personal work which was read during the business hour, showed that Athens members had been about their Master's business, but let there be still more loyalty and co-operation on the part of each one and "greater things than these" will be do. MEMBER.

The prison mutiny at Canon City, Col., last Friday was the most serious in consequence of any similar occurrence in recent years in America. Twelve men were killed and three were maimed who were slain by their leader when he saw they were fighting a losing fight with the prison guards. After the leader killed his three comrades he put an end to his own wretched life. Practically all of the convicts in the penitentiary were involved in the mutiny.

Twenty-seven convicts escaped from the penitentiary during September, according to a report made to Governor Moody. There were 23 men who had previously escaped recaptured during the month. Some of these had been at large since 1925. Ninety-seven new prisoners were received and 179 discharged. Three were paroled, 26 furloughed and 4 died. There was a grand total of 4,896 men doing servitude, an increase of 11 over the previous month.

Because of the rejection by the United States Pension Bureau of claims of surviving members of Company C, First Texas Cavalry, a military organization of the early '80s, and known as the Montel Guards, will result in submission of an amendment to the pension laws at the regular session of Congress to take care of the few survivors. The organization assisted in protecting the Texas frontier against Indian depredations, and were engaged in numerous conflicts.

Dangerous Business
Our stomach and digestive systems are lined with membrane which is delicate, sensitive and easily injured. It is dangerous business, then, to use medicines containing harsh drugs, salts or minerals, when we are constipated. In addition to the possibility of injuring the linings of our digestive system, these medicines give only temporary relief and may prove habit forming. The safe way to relieve constipation is with Herbine, the cathartic that is made from herbs, and acts in the way intended. You can get Herbine!

REFORM'S WORST FOES

Prison relocation, it would appear from present developments in Texas, is something to be campaigned for on economic, humanitarian and social justice grounds but to be actually decided on a basis of site alone. We have had into our ears the need of "relocation" because the present prison system is obsolete and expensive, because the accommodations for prisoners are not all they should be, and because crowding and other conditions of housing convicts defeats the great social object of turning out convicts better men and women than when they entered the penitentiary. Thousands of our citizens have been led by their own sentiments and the campaigns of more or less interested publicists to think that these objects are the prime goals of relocation. It is disappointing to them to observe instead, that the question of location has risen to dominance over all other considerations.

Huntsville is making a fight for retention of the penitentiary, and nobody can blame that city. Indeed it should require a very strong showing that the present location is wholly and irreparably unsuitable to call for moving the prison plant. Other sections are bidding for the location; interested individuals are mustering their political influence. All in all it appears certain that the question of site will bring one of those free-for-all battles in the Legislature the issue of which is generally unsatisfactory to most everybody.

The quarrel over what town or section shall get the new penitentiary already has obscured the main objects of relocation. It seems certain that the benefits, that might be obtained from a free consideration of relocation, with politics of this sort eliminated, will be sealed down in whatever measure may win through the Legislature at this time. Indeed the quarrel over location has the possibility of preventing passage of any desirable relocating bill at all.

That such a situation should develop points to mismanagement on the part of those leading the agitation for prison relocation. Governor Moody's haste to get the thing started, haste which forced advanced consideration of the project without the background of study and deliberation over ascertained facts that is indispensable to sound decision is chiefly responsible. The Governor, in his eagerness to acquire the feather of prison relocation for his painfully undecorated gubernatorial cap, has been the worst enemy to the cause he professes to have so much at heart.—Star-Telegram.

The census bureau reported to the senate Monday that additional safeguards would be employed hereafter to prevent a recurrence of an error in the last ginning report, which fixed Georgia's ginned cotton at 300,000 more bales than actually existed. The report explained the error occurred when a clerk placed the wrong figure on the state ginning card, and outlined precautions to prevent errors in the future.

THE GREAT DESTROYER

Today, if this is an average 24 hours, several score people will be killed and thousands injured in automobile accidents. It happened yesterday, and it will happen again tomorrow.

Somebody turned without giving a signal; somebody was driving too fast; somebody didn't stop at a school district or a through boulevard; somebody insisted too much on right-of-way or what he conceived to be his privilege; somebody lost his head in a crisis. The result: Casualties and waste, in lives and property, that knowledge, caution and fairness toward others would have prevented.

It should be a reasonably simple thing to observe traffic laws, to keep a machine under control, to learn the written and unwritten rules of the road, and to keep one's eyes open for the mistakes of others as well as one's own. Yet millions of motorists fail to do so.

It should be remembered that every accident is caused because someone was reckless, incompetent, careless or ignorant. Unpreventable accidents are rare. And in this day of fast cars and congested traffic, the poor driver is a menace to the life and property of every citizen.

HIT-AND-RUN

There is a killer of a certain stripe who drives his car into a child, steps on the accelerator and leaves his victim dying in the street. Minneapolis was treated recently to the revolting spectacle of a motorist fleeing from the spot where he had knocked down and badly injured a 16-month-old boy. It ought to reserve a little of its indignation, which has lately been vented on the degenerate, the molester of children and the moral washer, on the craven driver who hasn't the decency or the backbone to stop and help his mangled victim, and who hasn't the moral courage to take responsibility for his act. This sort of motorist deserves not the slightest sympathy or consideration. Granting the accident itself may have been entirely unavoidable, he still stamps himself as a dangerous and irresponsible individual the moment he turns tail and slinks from the scene of tragedy. The hit-and-run driver hasn't an ounce of the milk of human kindness in his entire constitution. He would rather save his own precious skin than save the life of his victim by rushing him to a hospital or calling medical aid. He would rather leave a small child writhing in the street than give a straightforward, honest account of the accident at police headquarters. Minneapolis should have little tolerance for drivers of that stamp. They should be sought out as any other dangerous criminal would be sought out, with all the energy and resourcefulness of which the police department is capable. And they should be accorded justice as quickly and as fully as the law allows, as a fair warning to the pack. Exonerating circumstances, as far as the hit-and-run driver is concerned, simply don't exist.—Minneapolis Tribune.

Last Friday night Virgil Cook and Haskell Seaborn were painfully, altho not seriously injured, in a car wreck in San Saba, and as a result they have been wearing bandages this week and their car has been undergoing repairs. The two boys had been in San Saba at the skating rink and had started home when a lady driving a car in the opposite direction from that in which they were going, attempted to go around another car and met head on the car in which these young men were riding. Their car was knocked into the ditch and pretty badly damaged, while the boys were knocked out for a short time and were unable to come home that night. The lady accepted responsibility for the wreck and had a physician attend the young men and agreed to have their car repaired.

WHEN CHILDREN Need a Laxative

"We have used Theodor's Black-Draught in our family for thirteen years. I have found it of great help in raising my family. I have given it to all six of my children. Whenever they complain of upset stomach, or begin to look pale and sickly, I make a tea of Black-Draught and begin giving it to them. In a day or two they are all right. I give it to them for constipation, and my husband and I both take it. I always give it for colds in winter, for I believe a way to prevent them is to keep the system clean."—Mrs. Doobie Terry, 1206 4th Ave., Decatur, Ala.

Your watch, too, should be "well-dressed"

You insist upon style, of course, in your clothing, your automobile, your home—in fact, in almost everything that serves you in this business of living.

Yet one point may have escaped you, as it has so many others. And that is—your watch.

Today there must be style in your watch—true art in its design, distinctiveness in its shape and finish. An old-fashioned, bulky, over-ornamented watch may ruin an otherwise excellent attire.

RADIO CLOCKS

Some day, we will no longer need to wind our clocks and watches each day or week. Radio-controlled clocks will be run and set at perfect time by some central radio time-broadcasting station. Experiments carried on at Elgin, Ill., are said to be the forerunners of the new method of registering time. As yet the experimenters have not passed the stage of merely broadcasting time signals, but they expect eventually to perfect the real radio timepiece that will abolish all worries about the correct time. Every radio watch will have to be exactly right at all times.

A time broadcasting station used last year had its license revoked by the Federal Radio Commission. A new station permit has been applied for to carry on experiments. Those in charge of the work are confident the radio watch will result from their studies.

MILKED BY RADIO

Only cows with sense enough to operate a radio set will be in demand by future dairymen. If a cow hasn't education enough to tune in on its owner's little broadcasting station when it comes milking time it might as well pack up its lunch and start for the nearest butcher shop. Three Guernsey cows were led into a hotel in Racine, Wisconsin, connected to a milking machine and the machine started by an electrical impulse sent from a broadcasting station some distance away. One cow donated 75 pounds of milk by way of radio. With such a system a farmer could load his portable broadcasting set into a car and go fishing for a week, his only care being to remember to press the milking machine button night and morning. Another button might call the chickens and crow like a rooster if necessary. Another button could be added to feed the pigs, throw down hay and water the sheep. Still another button might be attached for winding the clock and putting the cat out at the proper time. If science continues to advance by 1950 a farmer can quit agriculture and go into the electrical button business on a large scale.—Exchange.

CHRISTMAS CARDS

It may seem a little too early to begin soliciting orders for Christmas Cards, but time gets away pretty quick and before we realize its passage, the coming event is upon us. But what we started to say was that the Eagle office has both samples and stock for Christmas cards that can not be excelled and those who call early and have their cards prepared or laid aside will get the most satisfactory service. Just come and look at the samples and there is not a question about your order being placed.

Sergeant York's Feat Is Reproduced

One of the main features of the annual carnival held at the War college in Washington was this reproduction of the great feat of Sergt. Alvin York who with a small force of men rushed a machine gun nest at Chateau Chateche-Hury, France, capturing four German officers and one hundred twenty-eight men.

CARBON MONOXIDE

With the coming of cold weather it is time to issue the annual warnings about the dangers of carbon monoxide gas generated by a running automobile engine. There is deadly danger when a motor is allowed to run in a closed garage or any enclosed or partly enclosed space.

No one should ever work around a car with the engine running, when it is in the garage. No person should sit in a car with all the windows closed and the engine running idle. These practices are extremely dangerous.

Many deaths have been recorded of persons overcome by carbon monoxide gas in garages or in enclosed cars that are standing still. When the weather is cold there is a tendency to shut the garage door when working on the car. Some times the wind may blow the garage door shut.

One cannot be too careful in this respect. This insidious gas is deadly and it strikes its victims unawares. It is a good practice never to run the engine in the garage except when driving out or in with the doors open, and never to sit in an enclosed car with the motor running.

Even when driving, it is well to have a window lowered enough to insure ventilation. It is better to be sure than sorry. Those who never take a chance will never be in danger.—Duluth News-Tribune.

Over a Billion Deadly Germs in a Single Drop of Water

Germs are so small that there may be as many as one billion, seven hundred million of them in a drop of water. And just a few of these tiny germs, if they get into your blood through a cut in your skin, may make you so sick you will be in bed for weeks—may cause the loss of a limb through blood poisoning—may even infect you with that most dreadful and fatal of diseases, lockjaw.

Just because you can see no dirt in a cut does not mean that it is clean. You cannot see germs. The only safe and sane thing to do, is to thoroughly wash every cut, no matter how small, with Liquid Borosone, to kill the germs, and then dust it with Borosone Powder, to hasten the healing. Liquid Borosone costs 30 cents, 60 cents, $1.20 and $1.50; Borosone Powder, 30 cents and 60 cents, and can be had at

EVERYBODY SEES CHANGE IN SON, SAYS GRATEFUL MOTHER

Brownwood Santa Fe shop employee suffered for over 15 years with stomach-relieved by Orgatone

"My son has suffered from chronic stomach trouble for over fifteen years and has paid out a good many dollars on medicine and doctor's bills," said Mrs. M. E. Cantrell mother of J. A. Cantrell, a well known employee of the Santa Fe Railroad shops, residing at 2211 Avenue B, Brownwood, Texas.

"He tried nearly everything looking for relief, but it just looked like nothing would do him any good.

"I don't guess there ever was a case as stubborn as his, and he finally developed a rheumatic condition which often times put him in misery. Finally his kidneys started bothering him, and I guess he would have been suffering yet if it hadn't been for this Orgatone.

"The first we heard of this medicine was when a friend of his recommended it to him, and he knew what they said about it was the truth—so he got it right away and began taking it.

"Well, sir, it just acted like magic—and everybody notices the change in my son now—why he is just like a different man and sits down to the table and eats like a farm hand. He now goes about his work feeling fine, and his rheumatism and kidney disorder has been greatly relieved.

"Now, when a medicine will do things like that I think the people should know about it, and I want to say right now, I would not give one bottle of Orgatone for all the other medicines and health resorts in the country put together."

Genuine Orgatone may be bought in Goldtrwaite, at Hudson Bros. Drug Store.

At this season of the year, when we are trying to make our cash go as far as it will, it might be a good thing to think of the Rawleigh man. Get his prices and see for yourself—JESS HALL.

GIN BURNED

The Kirksey & Owens gin at Indian Creek, 15 miles south of Brownwood, was completely destroyed by fire about 2 o'clock Friday morning, the origin of the fire being unknown. One truck, the seed house with several tons of cotton seed and six bales of cotton were also burned. The six bales of cotton were not completely burned, but the gin, seed house and truck are total losses. The estimated damage is placed at $6,000 partially covered by insurance. The gin had been ginning cotton all day Thursday since the fire did not break until 2 o'clock this morning. The gin owners of the gin did not believe the fire was caused sparks from the boiler room machinery. The gin was a blaze all over when discovered and the fire spread rapidly.—Brownwood Bulletin.

BAPTIST CHURCH

At the workers conference last Monday, after our county demonstrator had delivered one of his best speeches, one of the young preachers from Howard-Payne "eased" around to this writer and asked: "Where is that old gentleman pastor?"

We had a good conference and the Rock Springs people know how to entertain. There is some one in that part of the country that knows how to cook corn bread. I am anxious to get their recipe.

We had something unusual in our Sunday school last Sunday. Seventy-seven per cent of our classes were a hundred per cent, and we had eighty-three per cent of our enrollment present, which was just a little off from the previous Sunday in attendance. The pastor believes that we had the largest attendance Sunday night, we have had since our revival. We always have fine crowds on Sunday morning, but it seemed that the crowd on Sunday night equaled the crowd Sunday morning. And why not? Just remember that our services begin at 7:15 o'clock and continue for about fifty minutes. That gives every one plenty of time to go driving or get back home in time to hear a service over their radio. We have had more young people than usual at our Sunday evening services, and we want them to bear in mind that they are always appreciated, and they can do nothing else on a Sunday night that will contribute more to their welfare than feeding their souls at the altar of God's church. So come on young people, form the right kind of habits in life while you are young, and you will never have cause to regret it.

The pastor begins his second year the third Sunday, Oct. 20. We have had a most pleasant year together, and if there has been any progress made it has been due to the optimistic spirit, and the determination to work upon the part of our members. During the last year we have had forty additions, most of them coming at the regular Sunday services. We have raised and expended more than five thousand dollars for all purposes. The pastor has conducted and assisted in one dozen funerals, and married nine couples, and has preached 186 times, including revival meetings. Not one penny does the church owe and the pastor's salary is paid promptly on the first and fifteenth of every month. And to add to the pleasure of the pastor and wife there has been only a half dozen Sundays that we have not been invited to take dinner in some of the homes in the membership of our church. Not only have the members of our church been exceedingly nice to us, but the citizens of the town have shown us every courtesy possible to promote our general welfare, as well as our happiness. For which we extend to all our gratitude, and will do our utmost to treat every one in such a way that it will express our gratefulness for every kind word and deed, of which we have been recipients.

On the Sunday which we begin our second year's work, which is Oct. 20, we want to have as our goal 225 in Sunday school; as well as the largest crowd of the season. We are expecting every member to make it a point to be at the morning service. We have on our roll the names of approximately three hundred. At least two hundred of these members live in and near our town and by all means we ought to have that many members present.

Dr. Jewel Doughty of Brownwood, Texas, who many of us know, will be the speaker at the morning hour. There will be special music. We extend a special invitation to the people from any part of the country to worship with us on that day. If you have never heard Dr. Doughty speak, by all means hear him. You will never have cause to regret it, and his message will help you. Go to church Sunday and get the habit. G. C. IVINS, Pastor.

Ms. S. M. Bleeker of Caradan was shopping and visiting relatives in the city Monday.

COST AND EDUCATION

The higher cost of education today, as compared with 1885, should be matched against the higher standards of education now offered. It is only of recent years that American educators began getting away from the European and Asiatic ideals. Those ideals were founded upon the theory that only a lucky minority could hope for, or be entitled to, cultured schooling. So the schooling was designed to make those who received it interesting to one another, not useful to the country. The so-called classic standard was accepted as the measure by which learning was to be imparted and received. It was highly artificial. The Old World, being militaristic, taught war in the guise of romance, and made swords the scepters of glory as well as roses the symbols of sentiment. Swords and roses, dashing heroes and flowery songs were fundamental in the ancient schooling, for it was expected that those who went in for the higher culture would rule the lower orders and be sweet about it. To the peasantry was left the part of raising the cannon fodder, or its equivalent, and so it was for always, and to some extent until now. The militarized Old World has from the start accused the New World of being materialized. There is truth in the accusation. But a materialistic civilization diffuses its benefits over all, while the militaristic reserves the rewards for a class and the penalties for the masses.—State Press in Dallas News.

Success and Failure in Dairying

In some communities where dairying has received attention the past year or two bankers report that the farmers who keep cows and sell milk or cream are paying their debts of long standing, and that some have substantial amounts on deposit. There are other communities where farmers claim that they have been deceived; that they cannot make expenses with cows if they charge anything for labor. Here is the situation, according to one of the field editors of Farm and Ranch who took occasion to do a little investigating:

Many farmers who have become soured on dairying have scrub cows which produce small quantities of 3 per cent milk. These cows are forced to rustle for their living in the woods and burned-out pastures. The farmers complaining did not add to their feed crop acreage when they secured their cows. Being paid on a butter fat basis, the poor quality of milk and the small amount obtained hardly pays for the labor involved to secure it.

He found that farmers who are receiving fair-sized cream or milk checks every two weeks are the ones who increased their feedstuffs acreage and who have obtained cows above the scrub class. These cows, while not the best, when properly fed and cared for, are paying a profit. The owners of these cows are beginning to understand that real success must come through improving their herd and by having an abundance of home-produced feedstuffs. They are the ones that are laying the foundation for a prosperous dairy industry in the Southwest. The scrub farmer with the scrub cows will never make a success of selling milk. The quicker he finds it out the better off he will be. As often stated in Farm and Ranch, a cow producing 3,500 pounds of 5 per cent milk is more profitable than three or four cows producing from 2,000 to 2,500 pounds of the same quality milk and as profitable as six or seven cows producing low-grade milk. If you are going to milk cows, milk good ones even though you have to start with one or two.—Farm and Ranch.

Former Citizen Honored

Lee Bodenhammer, who was born and reared here, has been made national president of the American Legion, which is an honor every Legionnaire might well covet. Bodenhammer is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Bodenhammer and a grandson of the late Mr. D. E. Hopkins. His former school mates and all his friends and the friends of the family rejoice over the honor that has come to him and feel that it also reflects credit on the old home town.

The Dallas News of Saturday said of his selection and life: "O. L. Bodenhammer of El Dorado, Arkansas, was elected national commander of the American Legion here Thursday.

The election was made unanimous upon motion of Albert L. Cox of Raleigh, N. C., who had been regarded as the only other serious contender for the command. When nominations were started Alabama yielded to North Carolina and Mr. Cox rose and placed Mr. Bodenhammer in nomination and asked that his election be made unanimous. It was done in a burst of applause.

Mr. Bodenhammer is the first man in the history of the Legion to be elected without a roll call.

The delegates staged a demonstration which resembled that of a national political convention. State banners were carried to the stage after his nomination, and he was also carried to the platform on the shoulders of Arkansas delegates.

He was presented to Paul V. McNutt, the retiring commander.

The Little Rock drum and bugle corps suddenly appeared on the stage and played vigorously. There was a joyous pandemonium for about ten minutes.

A school teacher who enlisted during the World War as a private and was discharged as a Major is the story of Bodenhammer. He is 39 years old and is not married.

As a member of the Legion's national executive committee, the new commander has long been active in Legion work, especially its rehabilitation, legislative and child welfare schedules. He is a past commander of the Arkansas department and was chairman of the national legislative committee in 1924-25.

A native of Goldthwaite, Texas, Commander Bodenhammer was educated at Howard Payne College and Baylor University. After receiving his degree he became a professor of English and dean of San Marcos College, acting as coach of athletics on the side. He entered service for the World War in April, 1917, as a recruit and was discharged from the Nineteenth Infantry, regular army, in July, 1919, as a Major.

After the war Mr. Bodenhammer entered the real estate business in El Dorado. He also is president of the El Dorado Chamber of Commerce.

"It" On the Radio Means Lots of Fan Letters

ETHEL and DOROTHEA PONCE

Singers With Air Appeal Analyze Qualifications

New York City.—What is "air appeal," the "it" of the radio that the Ponce Sisters, Ethel and Dorothea, head-line radio team, possess to such a degree that fans demand them?

"Some of the fans we have met personally tell us the secret is all in the inflection of our voices, that radio singers who have this 'it' can get across to their invisible audience just as surely as a singer or actor who has his audience before him," says Ethel. "Anyway, I know that deprived of the effect of facial expression and gestures, great allies of the performer working before the visible audience, the radio singer finds himself so concentrated on the minutest expression and inflection of the voice that I do not wonder his voice has a distinct personality when it reaches the radio audience. This same care in enunciation and inflection is doing much to further the use of good English, too."

Dorothea declares that this intense concentration in an effort to reach the radio audience develops almost a "sixth" sense in the radio performer. He begins to "see" his audience, actually to "feel" hypnotic waves of approval or disapproval from his listeners. "Of course," she adds, "we only sing songs with personality, though we must hunt to find them. Only one in a hundred has 'it.' 'Then We Canoo-De-Oodle Along' is an outstanding example, a rippling foxtrot. It has a new idea, a new melody and a different rhythm."

Rearing in the theatrical world, their father is a famous song writer, the Ponce Sisters are not at all intrigued by the glamour of travel and the lure of the footlights. They much prefer the comfort and certainty of radio engagements.

F. R. Hines and family of Scallorn spent a short time in the city Monday, while en route home from attending the Workers meeting of the Baptist church at Rock Springs.

An amendment of the Volstead act to make the purchase of intoxicating liquor for beverage purpose prohibited under law, was proposed in a bill introduced in the Senate Monday by Senator Sheppard, sponsor of the Eighteenth Amendment. Senator Sheppard's proposal would make the purchaser equally punishable with the manufacturer or seller of intoxicants. He said the amendment was necessary because of a recent court decision which held the purchaser not liable in connection with an act of transportation.

The $50,000 breach of promise filed in Seattle, Wash., by the Rev. H. H. Clark against Mrs. Minnie E. Kennedy, Los Angeles evangelist and mother of Aimee Semple McPherson, was thrown out of court Monday. Judge Ronald dismissed the suit for "lack of evidence." Counsel for Mrs. Kennedy had asked dismissal of the suit on the grounds that Clark, a former Seattle minister, had failed to prove that he had been greatly damaged because of his relations with Mrs. Kennedy and that his plans for religious work were ruined. Clark had alleged that Mrs. Kennedy had obtained his consent to marry her and then refused to go through with the ceremony, leaving him "morally unfit" to carry on his work.

A SUBTLE DIFFERENCE

There is a subtle difference between the methods of handling crime in this country and in many other great nations, that is seldom commented on.

Here, when crime gets out of hand, we begin immediately to suggest and pass new laws that restrict the rights of the good citizens, and so create more criminals; there, the laws and judicial procedure are based on the supposition that the good citizen should be protected, in his rights and his property, and that only the criminal should be prosecuted.

Few of us realize this difference. But a mere glance at our statute books will produce a damning pile of evidence to show that in the past quarter-century more and more laws revoking individual rights have been passed, while the criminal has been waxing fat and prosperous.

It is a cold day that fails to produce a number of armed hold-ups and gang shootings and murders in Our Country. Apparently the underworld is better armed than ever. Yet cry unceasingly for anti-pistol laws that will make it impossible for the good citizens to own a weapon, for protection or sport.

We are a great nation, but in many things we can still learn. It is certainly within the bounds of logic that more attention should be paid to preventing and punishing the real criminal than in passing laws against our constitutional rights as a free people.

An Unpleasant Subject

All of the functions of life are not pleasant to consider. Perhaps this is why some mothers refuse to think that such symptoms as restless sleep, loss of flesh, lack of appetite or itching nose and fingers in their children, can be caused by round or pin worms.
