GOLDTHWAITE LIONS CLUB PLANS CHRISTMAS TREES

All Citizens Asked To Participate

The Goldthwaite Lions Club is preparing for the erection of a large Christmas tree at the intersection of Fisher and Fourth streets, northeast corner of the square, to be lighted and otherwise decorated, as is evidence of the Christmas spirit throughout the county. Then the members of the Club who own business houses will be expected to decorate small trees on the sidewalks in front of their business places. Other business men, not members of the Lions Club, are solicited and expected to cooperate by placing Christmas trees in front of their places of business, in order to ornament the business part of town and make it attractive for the home people and visitors.

The Club will announce a prize for the most attractive tree in the home yards of the citizens and it is likely there will also be a second prize in this contest.

Announcement will be made in detail next week, in order that all citizens may have ample time to prepare their decorations and place their trees.

CLASS MEETING

The Philathea Class of the M. E. Sunday school held its monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. M. E. Lowrie on Monday evening, Nov. 25th.

Devotional service was led by Mrs. J. C. Evans, teacher of the class. Owing to inclemency of the weather, and sickness in the homes of some members, the attendance was smaller than usual at these meetings. However, those present were very enthusiastic in the work of the evening. A pleasant and profitable time was spent in the business session. New lines of work being planned, also arrangements made for extra work for the Christmas season now approaching.

After all business was attended to a pleasant time was spent in conversation and before we hardly knew it, 'twas time to adjourn. XX.

FIRE AT COMANCHE

At 6 o'clock Monday morning a $200,000 fire swept Higginbotham Brothers and Company, general store and damaged Rees Drug Store, Rolland's and Dr. J. M. Cochran's office. Firemen from Brownwood and Dublin answered Comanche's call for aid and assisted the Comanche firemen in saving the west side. The fire lasted about 2 hours.

Attractive Improvements Being Made In Business District

Another Swell Front Being Built

Goldthwaite business district is constantly being improved and beautified and every time an improvement is made others are inspired. A new swell front is being built for the B. F. Geslin building on Fisher street, which will add greatly to the appearance of the place and that part of town. This is the building recently damaged by fire and when the front is completed it will be one of the most attractive business houses in the town.

Two doors north of this building R. L. Steen & Son's new store front makes a most attractive appearance and a rumor says that the Sullivan building between these two will soon have a new front equally as fine as either of these.

Improvements are going on in the residence sections of the town, as well as in the business district.

Better Cotton Seed Assured

R. F. McDermott announces orders for a carload of planting seed is assured and all who desire to pool their order with this shipment should advise him, Mr. Greathouse, or the county agent at once. The order will be forwarded within a week.

These seed are State Certified will cost $2 per bushel, and are to be delivered about the 15th of March. The full amount must be deposited by the first of March.

Arrangements have been made to gin this better cotton on certain days or if enough is planted to gin exclusively this variety.

FIRE AT PRIDDY

Fire at an early hour Tuesday morning destroyed the Tischler & Finke building and stock of general merchandise at Priddy, entailing a loss estimated at $6,000 or more. The building was constructed of sheet iron, but the entire interior was aflame when discovered and nothing could be saved from it. Messrs. Tischler and Finke carried insurance for perhaps three-fourths of the value of their stock and it is supposed they will re-enter business as soon as an adjustment of the insurance is made and another building secured. These gentlemen are long time residents of that town, although they have only been engaged in business about a year. They have done a large volume of business there and have many friends throughout that section who hope for their early return to commercial circles.

Pastors Workers Conference

Let every Sunday school superintendent announce Sunday about our meeting Monday, which is to be held with the Goldthwaite Baptist church. The good women are making all the necessary preparations to take care of all that will come. Now, we have been visiting the rural districts and their entertainment has been lovely. Now, those of you who live in the rural districts, won't you let us have the joy of entertaining you. Remember the date Monday at 10 a. m.

Let every man that knows himself to be a board member be present. It is very essential that you are present. G. C. IVINS, Chairman

POULTRY DRESSING RESUMED NEXT WEEK

Goldthwaite Market Holds Its Lead

The Goldthwaite poultry market is recognized throughout this section as being one of the best to be found. The dealers here pay the highest prices for poultry and produce of every kind and many people in this county and in this region are now devoting their entire time and energy to poultry and dairying. The turkey market is especially good here and these fowls are brought here from a great distance, the growers having found by actual experience that they get good pay for coming to this market. The dressing plants here shipped twelve or more cars prior to Thanksgiving, distributing from $75,000 to $100,000 in this section for turkeys. They will begin dressing for the Christmas market on December 1 and will dress perhaps double as many for the Christmas holidays and for storage as they did for Thanksgiving. Some turkey raisers are known to have as many as 500 fowls and almost every farm and ranch throughout this section has a drove of turkeys yet to be marketed.

REPORTER.

BAPTIST CHURCH

This preacher applied this week to the proprietor of a store that is operated by a Methodist steward, for a position as cashier, but he was informed at once, that the wife of this steward was cashier and a good one. Anyway, in order to get rid of the pest, the proprietor gave him one of the best pairs of gloves he had in his house. So you can readily see that it pays for a preacher to ask for a job. I am only hoping that the other merchants in the town may take the hint and when this preacher applies to them for a position, that they will go and do likewise.

On last Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock the pastor and wife, with the Fidelis Sunday school class, were entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Holland Frizzell with a lovely dinner. Most of you have heard about dinners and have read about them, but this was one that this writer actually participated in, and the best of all he did not have to eat at the table with his wife, so he just did as he pleased, and ate just as much as he wanted to. It is awfully embarrassing for a man to have to eat by his wife at one of these "swell" affairs.

On making inquiry as to why all these young women did not attend church every Sunday night, several excuses were rendered, and the outstanding one was that they did not like to go by themselves. However, one in particular said she would be at church from now on every Sunday night; that is, if the usher carried out his contract, and that was to see that she did not have to occupy one of those long benches by herself. Now, I think we have the best ushers in the country and believe that this contract will be carried out. Well, "Fidelis," let's have another dinner.

The program rendered by the choir Sunday night was well attended, and each member did their part in a most deserving way. Many complimentary things have been said this week in reference to the program. We are always happy to know that the people are pleased with our services. The one outstanding thing we try to do is to honor God, and thereby please all the folk.

Our average in the Sunday school for the first quarter of the new associational year is as follows: September, 201; October, 211; November 216. Now listen! Whatever we do if possible let's see to it that we do not fall below the 200 mark. Everybody working in the future just as they have in the past will keep it up. So stay in there.

Remember that next Wednesday night is our regular conference night. The report on the budget will be read and plans for our next year's work will be made. So every member take notice and if you have not been in the habit of going out on Wednesday night, go this time, because you are part of our church, and we need your counsel and advice. Keep the home fires burning and go to church Sunday.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

A school board hired a teacher, paid him a good salary to teach school. filled the coal cellar with coal, everything was in readiness in September to start the school. The taxpayers paid their taxes, which was used to pay the teacher's salary. School opened, a week went by and there were no students. Upon making inquiry the teacher was informed that he had the building and was receiving a salary to teach school, and it was up to him to get the pupils there. Would not that be a queer community?

A young woman was hired as a servant in a home. Plenty of food was purchased, she was a good cook and prepared fine meals. The first day she prepared breakfast, dinner and supper. The father and mother and ten children were absent from the table. She stood it fairly well the first day, but the second morning she inquired why her meals were untouched. The family replied: "We furnish the house and the food and pay you a salary, now it's up to you to get us to eat." Would not that be regarded as a queer family?

A church hired a preacher gave him a good building in which to preach, gave him a reasonable salary. He prepared his sermons, went to the meeting place each Lord's Day morning and night, but the people were not there. Upon making inquiry among the members he was informed that he was furnished a good building and supported, and that it was up to him not only to prepare sermons, but to also go around each week and induce those who were supporting him to attend the services. Would that be a queer church?

There are a lot of them in this world. The community hiring the teacher and the family hiring the servant girl are no more queer than the church following this procedure. The writer is truly thankful that he is not laboring with a church like the one above described. However, there may be a few members of the church in this community who are acting in the above way. If so, we are urging you to repent and be regular in the worship each Lord's Day that you may build a character that will be permitted to pass through the gates into the eternal city.—Brother, Sister, begin now.

Bible study begins each Lord's Day at 10 a. m. Preaching at 11 a. m. Communion at 11:40 a. m. Young People's Bible drill at 6 p. m. each Sunday. Preaching each Sunday evening. Ladies Bible class at 3 p. m. each Wednesday evening. We are very pleased with the interest being shown in the mid-week service. Wednesday evening of last week, though the weather was very bad, there were thirty-five at prayer meeting. This was very encouraging. Such interest makes the preacher feel that he is not alone in the work. At Goldthwaite is one of the most pleasant your humble servant has ever helped in. There were eight or ten cars well filled with members of this congregation motored out to Midway school house where the writer preached at 3 p. m. the third Sunday in this month, and the same was repeated on the 4th Sunday afternoon when the

SMALL TOWN IS LEADING

Not long ago the nation was stirred by the drift of population away from farms and rural areas into the great cities. Young men, attracted by the high wages paid by industry and what appeared to be the superior social and economic advantages of urban life deserted the soil for the city. In the past quarter-century rural America has made tremendous progress. Better schools, good roads, the automobile, telephone and radio have created a rural civilization greater than any in history. Industrialists, attracted by such factors as lack of labor difficulties, low taxes and uncongested, pleasant living and working conditions, were barred from entry into the small towns only because of lack of power. Then rural electrification on a large scale was inaugurated. And now, according to authorities, the small towns are on the road to industrial leadership of America and the countryside is staged for the next scene of our industrial progress. The drift of population has turned. At present the only pronounced gain in industrial wage earners is taking place in the country. It is safe to say that many towns which are almost unknown today will be the great industrial centers of the future. The industrial revolution of the eighteenth century apparently doomed rural progress—now the electric revolution of the twentieth is reversing the process.

Run-Down

"ABOUT seven years ago, I was all run-down, worn-out and never felt good," says Mrs. Harry Cantrell, of Cape Girardeau, Mo. "A chair would be more welcome any time than my work."

"I was so tired when I would arise in the morning. Instead of being rested, I felt terrible."

"At last, mother told me to take Cardui, and I did. After the first bottle, I could tell a difference, and when I had taken five bottles the tired feeling was all gone. I felt like a different person, thanks to Cardui. I hope that other mothers will try Cardui. I have been wonderfully benefited by it."

SHOPPING DRAWBACKS

More and more residents of our smaller towns and rural communities are coming to realize that even though the auto has provided them with a quick means of reaching the big city stores, there are still many drawbacks to doing their shopping there.

The problem of parking is the most general one. With thousands of city car owners clamoring for parking places the outsider finds it next to impossible to find a place for his car. If it is stored in a garage or parking lot there is a charge of from 25c to 75c. Then, too, there is always the danger of violating a parking law or traffic ordinance, and perhaps paying out in the shape of a fine as much as he would have spent in shopping. Again, if you find a parking place the time is so limited that you have to keep fretting and worrying for fear you'll leave the car a few minutes overtime and find a tag on it when you do finally get back to it.

These are but a few of the many drawbacks faced by those who shop in the city. But they are unknown here in Goldthwaite and will be for many years to come. For that reason the wise residents of the smaller town or rural districts steers clear of the big city as much as possible and does business with his home merchants. He has learned that in doing so he can save time, money, annoyance, possible arrest and fine—and still maintain the friendship of his neighbors who are engaged in business here at home.

A WINTER FORECAST

There's something funny about the weather shark. No matter how far he may miss it, he always manages to forget his failures and turn up a little later with another prediction.

We feel sure many citizens around Goldthwaite recall the prediction of the Chicago scientist, Mr. Brown, that two years ago would be "a year without a summer." They will also probably remember how far he missed it. Well, Mr. Brown wasn't squelched with that failure. He is with us again, and this time to predict that the winter just ahead of us is going to be composed of a little of everything, though not enough cold to class it as a "hard winter." He says there will be many light falls of snow, but that most of them will come toward the end of the season. He predicts plenty of sleet and ice and an unusual amount of high wind. Foliage, still green at the time he made his prediction, leads him to believe that this will be what we usually call an "open winter" and one without excessive moisture.

We have no means of knowing how many of our readers, if any, set any store by these self-appointed forecasters. Neither do we know whether or not they follow their predictions, or if they prefer to do their own guessing. But we do know that the weather is still the favorite topic of conversation, so we are offering Mr. Brown's forecast in the hope that it may add a little interest to the subject.

MONEY TALKS

John D. Rockefeller the elder for many years has been in retirement. He has taken no active part in the management of the gigantic enterprise he founded.

Seldom has he consented even to comment on business affairs or other things. He has been content with his golf, his church, his philanthropies. He has made no effort personally to wield the power his vast wealth might have made possible.

He saw fit last week, however, to emerge from his obscurity with which he has so laboriously clothed himself to assume again—even for a moment—a commanding position in the financial affairs of his country. Fundamental business conditions are sound, he said in a statement on the stock market collapse during the past week. He and his son, he added, were buying and would continue to buy common stock at levels they believed to represent sound investment value.

No one knows just what factors start stocks on the toboggan or cause them to rebound. But the market did revive and we are told that the statement of the 89-year-old Rockefeller was a factor. Although he is almost a legendary figure, this assertion of confidence by the eldest financier of them all helped to check the fall.

The name of Rockefeller for generations has been synonymous with money. Money talks on the market. —Hous-

FRONT SEAT ADVICE

Make a practice of adding water to your batteries just before you are going out in your car rather than after you come in. It helps to run the car after the water has been added.

Many of the automatic pressure gauges on air lines in filling stations are unreliable. Better test the pressure in your tires with your own dependable gauge—if you've been foresighted enough to provide your self with one.

It is not enough to avoid running out of gas. Don't let it get too low in the tank, because sediment and water, which sink to the bottom, are sucked into the feed line and carburetor from a low tank—and trouble results.

Failure of your starting motor and eccentricity in your headlights — alternating dim and bright—may be due to imperfect connections between the battery terminals and the cables connecting them with the electrical system. —Exchange.

Doctors Disagree

When children are irritable and nervous, grind their teeth and sleep restlessly, have digestive pains and disturbances, lack of appetite, and have itching eyes, nose and fingers, doctors will not always agree that they are suffering from worms. Many mothers, too, will not believe that their carefully brought up children can have worms. The fact remains that these symptoms will yield, in a great majority of cases, to a few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge, the sure expellant of round and pin worms. If your child has any of these symptoms, try this harmless, old-fashioned remedy, which you can get at 25c per bottle from

A Great Discovery

When Pasteur discovered, in 1881, that the infection of wounds was caused by malignant bacteria, he performed a service of incalculable value to mankind. Since then medical science has been producing better and better antiseptics, to kill these germs that may enter the smallest cut and give us diseases such as typhoid, tuberculosis and lockjaw. Now, all you have to do to be sure that these dreadful germs will not infect a wound, is to wash that wound, however small, thoroughly with Liquid Borozone, the modern antiseptic. BOYS AND BULLETS

In the midst of the hunting season, we feel it timely to caution Goldthwaite fathers against leaving guns, shells or ammunition of any kind lying around where the children can get hold of them. Only last week four small boys in an eastern town were injured while attempting to drive a bullet from a cartridge shell with a hammer and nail, the cartridge exploding while they were hovering over it. That is but one of scores of like incidents happening all over the country. When weapons are kept in the house they should be put away where the children cannot get to them, and especially is this true of the ammunition intended to be fired in them. To keep them loaded and within reach of the little ones is nothing short of criminal. But they are a menace in the hands of the youngsters under any and all conditions.

FOOLISH FOOD FADS

In an address at Louisville a few days ago, Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of The American Medical Journal, asserted that "food faddists" are a menace, and that nothing so upsets digestion as for someone to deliver a talk on dieting at the dinner table. Modern science, he said, urges a balanced meal containing a variety of food substances—"breakfast that will include fresh fruit, cereal, milk, butter, bread and perhaps eggs and ham or bacon; a noon meal that will include vegetables and one in the evening that will be complete from soup to dessert." He does not encourage over-eating, nor does he favor "gorging." But he does believe that a balanced diet that will appeal to the appetite is sure to produce good health and longer life than can be obtained through any system of dieting that the "food faddist" may suggest.

At last report she was resting well.

DALLAS WOMAN FINDS RELIEF AFTER 10 YEARS

"I don't believe anyone ever got finer results from this new Sargon treatment than I did. "I had become so weak and run down from ten years of suffering with stomach trouble that I simply felt like giving up. Nearly everything I ate disagreed with me. I had terrible pains in my right side; my color was bad and I was finally told that I needed an operation on my gall bladder. "But I'm feeling so much better since taking Sargon that I fully believe that I am a well woman. I never suffer in the least with indigestion now, and that dreadful pain in my side has completely disappeared. The Sargon Pills, that go with the tonic, seemed to have a stimulating effect on my liver and gall bladder, and my complexion has improved wonderfully. I feel worlds stronger, can even do my own housework, and I'm convinced that Sargon has saved me from an operation." —Mrs. Catherine Taylor, 1906 Cadiz St., Dallas.

CRIME DOCTORS NEEDED

Crime, according to foremost scientific opinion, is a disease, and must be treated as such. In the past, crime legislation has failed to take this into account. We have had an abundance of laws, but no determined effort to correct evils—emotional, mental and social—that have caused crime to increase. Zealous reformers have made strong efforts to pass a national law forbidding the sale and possession of revolvers and pistols. While such efforts have failed, many state laws are in force that make it virtually impossible for the honest citizen to own a gun for protection or amusement. The futility of such laws is evident. The pistol may be an instrument of crime, as may knives, shotguns or the mails. But it is never a cause. To legislate against it is equivalent to legislating against the automobile because reckless driving causes deaths. We need crime doctors to correct our judicial system, reorganize our laws, and strike at crime in the manner dictated by science. Too many laws have reacted to the disadvantage of the good citizen and to the benefit of the criminal. Organized, fanatical minorities have made crime legislation impotent.

"What do You Mean . . . Penetrates Metal Surfaces?"

A Plain Answer to a Reasonable Question

THE Germ Essence, imparted to highly refined paraffin base crude under a patented process exclusively owned by the Continental Oil Company for North America, actually penetrates and combines with metal surfaces, forming a permanent, protective film.

No matter how long a motor stands idle or how cold it gets, this film is present and immediately lubricates the moving parts when the engine turns over.

It takes five to ten minutes—often longer—for the oil in the crankcase to fully flood the bearings in the starting operation. During this period, automotive engineers agree, from 40% to 60% of motor wear occurs. This wear is reduced to a minimum by the ready-and-waiting lubrication which the Germ Essence imparts to CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oils, retaining it on and in the surface pores.

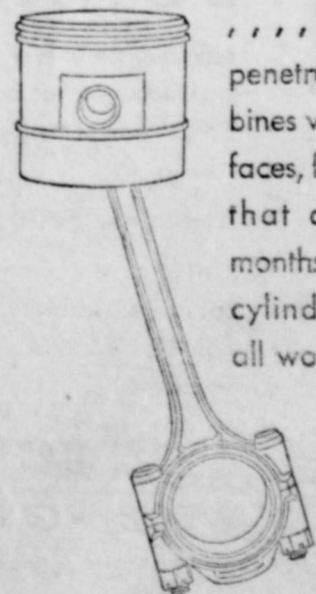

CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil stands up under every condition of stress and strain. It will not break down or burn nor will it evaporate to any appreciable degree.

No other oil possesses these qualities.

So positive are we in our convictions, so positive have been our tests of this remarkable lubricant, that we are perfectly willing for you to select any operating condition—no matter how extreme—and we will meet it with CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil so satisfactorily that you will never consider using any other oil.

Go now to stations and dealers displaying the CONOCO Red Triangle—have your crankcase drained and begin immediately to profit through the use of this remarkable oil.

Some Things We Haven't Always Known About Rocks

The rocks are God's economy. The synthetic chemist tells us, "Where we have a mountain of limestone and a running river, we have the raw material for starch and sugar." This gives us something to think about. Even the rocks of the earth are full of that dust of the earth from which God forms the bodies of men—they evidently represent His reserve. However, if our theory of creation is correct, we all came from the rock. We teach that our earth was once in a nebulous or incandescent state—a mere sphere of molten substance, until it cooled sufficiently to form a sphere that could be peopled by human beings.

John the Baptist said to the Scribes and Pharisees that came to his baptism, on the Jordan, "ye say ye have Abraham to your fathers, but I say unto you, that God can raise up seed to Abraham from these stones." Now I am fully persuaded that God not only can but really does raise up men from the rocks of the earth.

Our chemists have discovered that many of our rocks are rich in those properties that produce starch and sugar, particularly the lime rock. We are also taught that starch and sugar are the principal substances nature employs in forming the human body.

The synthetic chemist can take the starch and sugar directly from the rock. We could not always do this, however, but God provided a way to make it available for men through the process of disintegration and the functions of the plant life. "Every herb of the field shall be for his (man's) meat."

If I could say to you, "God draws wine from the granite with the grape seed," you would think me crazy or a fanatic or both. He does, however, and I can prove it to you I believe, at least it is proven to my satisfaction in the following account.

"In what a few years ago was a desert valley lying between two granite ridges in California, now, we are told, is one of the largest vineyards in the world. In this vineyard there are fifteen hundred varieties of grapes growing. The grapes, we are told, have a fine bouquet—a flavor more pleasing than the ordinary. The soil is of a light sandy texture and is composed of disintegrated granite." There you are.

Who gave us the granite and who gave us the grape seed? Who surrounded the granite

Auto License Due January

The Attorney General of Texas has given a ruling that 1930 automobile license cannot be paid before January 1, 1930, for the year 1930 and that no penalty for non-payment of license can be assessed before February 2.

This makes January an auto tax license month by legal direction.

License not to be paid before January 1st and after February 2nd subject to fine and not subject to fine before February 2nd.

Automobile owners—and that means most of the families—should take note of this ruling from the Attorney General's office and govern themselves accordingly.

The tax collector's office is collecting 1929 tax now, having opened books for collection October 1st and property tax and poll tax are due now and poll tax must be paid before February 1st, to carry voting privilege and property tax will take on penalty after February 1st.

The opinion also states that the county cannot deduct collection cost from the $50,000 which each county is allowed to retain from automobile license.

The automobile tax for 1930 will be cut considerable under the new law passed by the 41st legislature.

The purchasing divison of the Board of Control is swamped with work as a result of its new duties, buying supplies for the prison system. Since Oct. 1, when the new law became effective, the prison system alone has filed 520 requisitions, necessitating that many separate purchases. This is in addition to buying for eighteen State eleemosynary institutions.

The president issued a proclamation Friday for the 15th decennial census to begin on next April 1 and called upon the country to give prompt and accurate responses to all inquiries in order to make "this great and necessary public undertaking a success." The president said there need be no fear on the part of any citizen that there will be any disclosure of information divulged to census takers, pointing out that employees are under heavy penalty for permitting any information given to them to become known.

The total value of clay products produced in Texas in 1928 broke all records according to the recent report of the Bureau of Economic Geology at the University of Texas. Total value of all brick, tile, stoneware and pottery is given at $6,500,000, which was slightly in excess of the figure for the preceding year. Total number of operating plants was given as 66. A majority of the 54 counties of Texas, it is said, have clays that are of commercial value. Koalin, a clay adaptable to making porcelain ware, is discovered in a number of localities in the southern part of the State.

Representative Luther A. Johnson of the Corsicana district Thursday introduced a bill in the House providing that parents of World War veterans killed in the war not be required to show dependency to obtain compensation benefits under the World War adjusted compensation act. Mr. Johnson explained there were a number of parents unable to obtain benefits under the act, because they were not wholly dependent upon their son. He believes the sacrifice made by the parents in losing their sons in the war should be taken into account. In many cases parents are partially dependent upon their sons yet not sufficiently so to obtain compensation benefits under existing law.

Georges Clemenceau, the Father of Victory, his sufferings ended early Sunday by death which closed 88 years of a fighting life, at night was taken for eternal rest in the loneliness of a little wood near Monchamps in his beloved Vendee. The man who had been a firm and fiery Premier for France in her trial of the World War rode through the darkness in an automobile hearse over 250 miles of road toward the southeast to a spot within 30 miles of the sea he loved so well. He was buried upright, as his father was before him. What he desired above all was to carry out to the end his appearance of a hard exterior, which all knew covered a warm heart. He lived and wanted to die "a man."

BROWNWOOD WOMAN TELLS EXPERIENCE

Orgatone Has Relieved Me of 2 Years' Suffering And I Am Grateful To It, Says Mrs. Roberts.

Speaking to a group of local citizens, the Orgatone man who has headquarters at the Camp - Bell Drug Store said: "It is no wonder I am enthusiastic. If you had witnessed the wonderful results obtained through the use of Orgatone, you would be just as enthusiastic and sincere as I am. I know that in this formula has the means of bringing more happiness to homes in this county than anything else that has ever been thought of before. Mrs. P. H. Roberts of 301 Melwood, says:

"I have been a terrible sufferer from stomach trouble and a bad case of constipation. I had gas that formed on my stomach that made me miserable and at times I would have that puffed-up feeling and would just be uncomfortable for hours after eating. I had heartburn after eating, and at times would get so nervous I could hardly sleep at night and had intense headaches. Everything I ate just seemed to stay in my stomach and would not digest and wasn't giving the proper nourishment.

"Orgatone was advertised so highly I decided to try it and have just taken one bottle and you should see the change in me now. I eat anything I want and am relieved of all my digestive and heartburn trouble. I am completely rid of all that gas on my stomach and my constipation is relieved. I'm not nearly so nervous and I sleep and rest fine at night, and feel better in every way. I think Orgatone is a good medicine and it will help anyone suffering from stomach trouble or similar ailments as I had, and I would like for everyone to try a bottle of it."

Orgatone is a remedy for those ills so common in our life today, nervous debility and stomach troubles. Ailments of the stomach, kidneys, liver, nerves and blood are immediately and wonderfully relieved by the use of this remedy. It cleanses, reconstructs and revitalizes. Try it and you will know.

ROCK SPRINGS

Mrs. Harvey Dunkle from Hamlin and her nephew, Wanda Dane Dyche, from Breckenridge visited J. T. Robertson and family last week.

Several from here attended Mrs. Godwin's funeral at Goldthwaite last Friday. This good woman was a former citizen of this community and we wish to extend our deepest sympathy to the dear ones left to mourn her death.

Mesdames McNutt, Redford and Roberts went to town shopping Thursday afternoon. Mesdames Nickols and Traylor and daughter, visited in J. T. Robertson's home Thursday.

Miss Mary McNutt visited her sister, Mrs. Joe Huffman in town last week.

R. C. and Wick Webb had business at William's Ranch Thursday.

I believe there were more community letters last week than we have ever had before. I hope they continue to send the news, for I enjoy reading every one of the letters. There are more in the county that should let the world know they are alive. We folks out here want the world to know that we are very much alive.

The cold spell sure made green stuff pass out. The cattle seem to realize it was a cold spell too, for they wanted shelter.

Mrs. Eula Nickols visited Mrs. Henry Dalton, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith and Mrs. Lula Gatlin in the city last week.

Mrs. Abijah Stark returned from Waco Friday evening late. She left her mother better and at this writing, Mrs. Whitt is still improving.

Mrs. Jno. W. Roberts visited in the Nickols and McNutt homes Wednesday.

J. T. Robertson had important business in town Friday and Mrs. Roberts and Billie spent the day with Mrs. Nickols.

Dalton Bennett, the cattle king from the city, was in our midst one night last week.

Glen and Philip Nickols went hunting last Friday night.

Rudolph Cooke attended Sunday school at the Evans school house on the bayou Sunday morning. This is where his brother Herbert teaches school. Herbert organized this Sunday school, they have 30 enrolled. Robert got his training from the Rock Springs Sunday school and B. Y. P. U., so you see how it pays to keep our boys in Sunday school. We have others from here making good. We are proud of everyone of our young people.

Carbon Monoxide Poisoning

Carbon monoxide poisoning, another of the hazards of the machine age, already has begun to take its winter's toll of lives in more northerly regions. Newspapers of the North are now daily recording deaths caused by warming up balky motors in closed garages. Before winter has ended scores of lives will have been lost as a result of this practice, although motorists have been warned time and again.

Combustion in the gasoline engine produces the deadly carbon monoxide gas. Since it is odorless, it kills its victims without warning. Nearly all of the fatalities result during the winter months. A danger arising other than from warming up the engine in a tightly-closed garage is that of being overcome in a closed car on which the exhaust apparatus is faulty. Of the numerous cases of this kind reported last year there was one close to home. A Denton couple, riding in a closed car, carried a sleeping baby in a basket at their feet. When they stopped the baby was dead, a victim of carbon monoxide poisoning. It was found that the car was closed tightly, and that enough of the deadly carbon monoxide gas to kill the baby had escaped from the exhaust pipe, pushing its way through a crack in the floor boards.

Every motorist should see that the exhaust pipe on his car carries the fumes away from the car, and he should be doubly careful of fooling around a running engine in a closed garage.—Star Telegram.

DEATH'S VISIT

The 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Knowles died in the sanitarium in Brownwood last Friday from diphtheria and the remains were received here late that afternoon and interred in the cemetery at this place. The little boy had only been sick a few days and it is not known how or where he contracted the disease which proved fatal. All that could be done for him was done and the heart-broken parents have the sincere sympathy of all who know of their bereavement.

The New Safety Attitude

The changing attitude of executives toward the safety problem is directly reflected by decrease in industrial fatalities and injuries.

The employer of the past regarded safety measures as more or less necessary evils, which caused him expense without benefit. Insurance companies set up elaborate systems of rating which rewarded reduction of hazards with decrease in rates. This inducement was primarily responsible for steps taken in early days to guard mechanism and protect the worker. The executive today buys safety, not only for a saving in insurance rates, but because he realizes that it is a basic industrial necessity. Every accident, no matter how trivial, is an economic loss and stands in the way of progress. Safety, efficiency and economy have become related words in industry. The safe plant is the efficient and economical one, attaining a maximum of achievement with a minimum of delays and disorders.

INTELLIGENCE IN CRIME REFORM

The interest being taken in our growing criminality by scientists, statesmen, industrialists and leaders in all fields of endeavor is a hopeful sign. In the past, most crime investigations have been left to professional reformers, many of them fanatical. As a result a vast number of theories have appeared and disappeared with the criminal still flourishing. With our "crime feature" in the hands of men proven practical and successful there is some hope for relief. There is small place for sentiment in crime suppression. It is notable that a great army of experts has commented unfavorably on our super-abundance of laws destined to curb crime. It seems to be a proven fact that more laws make more crime. The first move in any genuine crime reform must be to clear the decks of the red tape and legal technicalities that now make a trial a duel of legal phrases rather than a discussion of fact. The criminal cannot be deterred by prohibitory legislation alone. It must become apparent that crime is unprofitable and that offenders will be quickly punished. We have had our fill of anti-this-and-that laws. The United States needs a simple, effective legal code that will punish and prevent crime without working a hardship on the good citizen.

Dairy-Minded Plainmen

Prior to the Civil War the United States Government sent a scouting expedition across the Staked Plains of Texas. This expedition reported a vast level country without water and entirely unsuited to sustain life.

Only recently a survey was made in Hale county. This survey shows 1,471 farms of an average of 293 acres. On these farms were found 8,572 dairy cows of two years of age and over. This is a gain of more than 100 per cent during the last five years. These farms produce wheat, grain sorghum, alfalfa, Sudan grass, sweet clover, and various other general farm crops. Within a thirty-mile radius of Plainview, a county seat of Hale county, it is estimated that there are 22,594 dairy cows two years of age and over. This estimate is based on results of the survey in the county.

There are many counties in the United States with a greater number of cows, but we doubt that any county can show a better record of improvement. When it is taken into consideration that all of this country was given over to beef cattle, range animals and that agriculture is comparatively a new industry, the development of the dairy industry in the Plains section of Texas is a noteworthy accomplishment.

WHEN CHILDREN Need a Laxative

"We have used THE DRUGGIST'S Black-Draught in our family for nineteen years. I have found it of great help in raising my family."

"I have given it to all six of my children. Whenever they complain of upset stomach, or begin to look pale and sickly, I make a tea of Black-Draught and begin giving it to them. In a day or two they are all right."

"I give it to them for constipation, and my husband and I both take it. I always give it for colds in winter, for I believe a way to prevent them is to keep the system clean."—Mrs. Doshie Turry, 1205 4th Ave., Decatur, Ala.

PAVING TAX IMMUNITY

A decision rendered by the Second Court of Civil Appeals at Fort Worth Saturday seems to have been misunderstood by some reports of the opinion, which by substituting a v for a y in the word "paying," made the court hold that a municipality cannot dispose of Texas homestead property for the purpose of "paying taxes."

What the court did hold was only in line with previous Texas decisions, that a paving assessment is not a tax and that a homestead can not be levied on to collect it. There is no dispute over this interpretation of the Homestead Act, and it is only surprising that the issue is again before the courts. Legislative remedial action has been urged against this phase of the law, but, for obvious reasons, revision is opposed. The high cost of paving, several times the amount of annual taxes on most parcels of small residence property, might well amount to confiscation where the paving is authorized by majority vote and opposed by a minority of homestead owners unable to pay the cost.

A paving lien voluntarily assumed is easily collectible and most present-day city paving in Texas is accomplished by unanimous agreement of property owners fronting on the streets involved.

The legal immunity of homesteads to tax sales for paving assessments is responsible for the "leave-outs" frequently encountered in urban paving. But it is an open question as to whether the inconvenience to the general public of these unpared rectangles is preferable to the forced assessment that revision in the law would impose on owners of small means. —Dallas News.

CHRISTMAS SEALS

With the opening of the annual tuberculosis Christmas seal sale sponsored in Texas by the Texas Public Health Association, beginning Thanksgiving Day, an appeal to the people of Texas is being issued by H. A. Wroe of Austin, treasurer of the association, asking them to support the campaign against tuberculosis through the purchase of these seals.

"We know from experience that every thoughtful person who has, himself, enjoyed good health during the year wishes to do his part to help prevent all unnecessary suffering or death. Tuberculosis causes a great deal of unnecessary suffering and death. One-fifth of all deaths that occur among those who are between 15 and 45 years of age are caused by tuberculosis," Mr. Wroe stated, to emphasize the need of relief funds.

Some of the best known men and women of Texas are supporting and directing the Christmas seal sale this year in which 32,000,000 seals will be distributed to cities and towns of Texas.

"She took her husband unawares

Mrs. Kirk's husband wasn't expecting her back from Fort Worth until Sunday morning, but she came home on Saturday night.

"I'll surprise them," she told herself, slipping her key into the latch and entering the house quietly.

Savory odors came from the kitchen and she heard voices behind the closed door.

"Yes, sir; your mother's the best cook on earth," she heard her husband saying to her son, "but, my boy, she certainly doesn't make good coffee. She's such a dear, good woman, though, that I have never liked to tell her so."

"Well, it's good that we found out about this White Swan Coffee and laid in a good supply while she was gone, Dad," her boy said. "I think she'll notice the improvement."

Mrs. Kirk was 'a good sport' and a wise woman. She slipped back to the front door again, slammed it and shouted, "Look who's here!"

Mr. Kirk and his son raced to meet her and immediately after the embraces were exchanged, she said, "By the way, I ran across the most wonderful coffee in Fort Worth. It's called White Swan and..."

Yes, indeed—a wise woman!
