BURGLARY AT STAR

Edson & Son's grocery store was robbed at Star Wednesday night and a considerable amount of merchandise was taken. No clue as to the identity of the robbers has been obtained, as far as the Eagle can ascertain.

Star Bank Burglarized and Safe Injured

Burglars Get Nothing And Leave

The Star State Bank was burglarized Tuesday night, sometime after 11 o'clock, but the burglars secured no money or anything else of value.

They pried the door open and entered the building, battered the vault combination off and finding it impossible to gain an entrance that way, dug a hole in the wall of the vault and crawled thru, but failed in an attempt to open the safe, notwithstanding they battered the combination badly and practically ruined the safe.

Mr. Hamilton was in the bank at 11 o'clock that night and, therefore, the burglary was after that hour and the time he reached the bank Wednesday morning. Nobody heard the burglars working and so far there has been no clue discovered, or at least none has been made public. Officers are at work on the case and hope to develop a trail that will lead to the outlaws who committed the burglary.

A few years ago the same bank was robbed by a daylight hi-jacker but the funds were insured and there was no loss, other than to the insurance company.

This burglary did not interfere with or seriously delay the conduct of the bank's business.

Married Christmas

Mr. Harry H. Seawall and Miss Mattie Laura Johnston were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Johnston, in this city Christmas night and left the following day for their home at McAllen, where Mr. Seawall is the owner of a Rio Grande valley fruit farm. Rev. S. D. Lambert was the officiating minister and a few friends witnessed the ceremony.

Mr. Seawall has visited here a few times and has a number of friends here, having been reared at Waco. He is highly recommended as a citizen and business man. His bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Johnston and is one of the most lovable and attractive ladies ever grown to womanhood here. She was prominent in social, church and business circles and her friends are numbered as all who know her.

The young couple have the sincere good wishes of all who know either or both of them.

ANNOUNCEMENTS MADE FOR CHURCHES

BAPTIST CHURCH

The year 1929, is no more and the year 1930 has just been ushered in. It will be a pleasure to us to recall the joys at times during the year 1930 that we had in 1929, but let's forget the discouragements, disappointments and life's injuries. We will find enough of them during this present year, but let us not forget "that all sunshine makes a desert."

Last year our town made progress along all lines and with the optimism that prevails certainly we will continue to go forward. When we fail to go forward we will go backward. Impossible not to move one way or the other, and let's all see to it that we do not retrench.

Casually glancing backward over the work of the Baptist church, we note that it went beyond our expectation along all lines. Our Sunday school has increased in a substantial way. Not counting the Sunday when the snow was a foot deep, we had the largest attendance during the Christmas month that we have had. Our records for the past four months have averaged 217 for each Sunday. Our congregations have increased at the preaching services and especially at the night service. We have had approximately fifty additions to the church and two are awaiting baptism at this time. We have met our financial obligations every month. We have sent an offering to the co-operative program every month, paid to associational missions over two hundred dollars, contributed to Buekner Orphans' Home during the month of December, $272 and gave to the Lottie Moon Christmas offering over twenty-five dollars, and other contributions have been made too many to mention. God has been wonderfully good to us and to Him and the membership of my church, with the good citizens of this town, we give the honor. We are going to begin another year Sunday and we are going to begin with renewed confidence in God and man, and this pastor firmly believes that this will be the best year in the history of our church. We are looking for you Sunday morning and by your presence we believe that you are saying as for me, I will help make this year a great year for the Baptist church.

I would not have you think for a moment that we want have any reverses, disappointments, discouragements and criticisms, but remember that it takes those things to take the dross out of our lives and make us a fit subject for the indwelling of God's Holy Spirit. The man that can meet those things just mentioned and walk over them is the man that will succeed in any realm of life. The political world, the business world, the social world and the religious world are calling for just such men and women. The church that has none of those things mentioned to combat will not make any progress. And will not make any progress anyway unless they combat them in the spirit of our Master. This pastor wants to suggest a prayer for every member of his church and may God help you to pray it as you read it. "Our Father, help me to dry each bitter tear;

CHURCH OF CHRIST

We had sixty at prayer meeting Wednesday night. Some of our regular attendants were sick and could not be with us so we failed by five to get the number we ask for, but we are going to continue to try. Be one in our midst next Wednesday evening.

We are asking for 125 in Bible study next Sunday from 10 to 10:40 a. m. and then the largest crowd we have had in the 11 a. m. service. "New Year Resolutions" will be the theme. Do not forget the young people's class at 6 p. m. each Sunday. We always have a large attendance and an interesting program.

Help us to make next Lord's day the greatest day we have had in some time.
E. S. FITZGERALD.

WATCH NIGHT SERVICE

On December 31, one group of the Epworth League entertained the other groups and several invited guests with a night watch service at the Methodist church.

After playing several games we were served with sandwiches and hot chocolate with marshmallows.

At 11 o'clock we started for a hay ride, which was enjoyed by all; returning to the church at 11:40, where Bro. Lambert gave a very interesting talk and after the talk we had a song and the League Benediction.

LACKEY-CASBEER

Monday morning, Dec. 23, 1929, at 10 o'clock at the home of Rev. and Mrs. H. E. Moreland, Mr. J. C. Lackey and Miss Ozeana Casbeer were united in marriage, Rev. Moreland officiating. Miss Casbeer is the lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Casbeer of South Bennett. She formerly lived at Adnell, moving here with her parents several months ago. Mr. Lackey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Lackey of Adnell, coming here as strangers, but he made many friends the few days he was here. They left Saturday for Adnell, Texas, to make their home, carrying with them the good wishes of their friends.

O, Lord help me to banish every fear;
And when I find my pathway strewn with thorns,
Help me to know that my Savior is near.

O, Master help me to know that light can drive darkness away.

Help me to know that sun and shadow blend;
Help me to know that thou art my friends,
And will journey with me to the end."

Let everyone be in their proper place next Sunday. Let's not have a disappointment the first Sunday of the New Year. If you are providentially hindered and know that you can not be in Sunday school, please let your teacher know it. There is no greater disappointment that can come to a Sunday school teacher than to work hard on the lesson, making special preparations to teach his class and when he goes to his room on Sunday morning find half of the members absent.

G. G. IVINS, Pastor.

METHODIST CHURCH

Happy New Year Everybody. Your preacher and his family were generously remembered Christmas and take this means of saying a great big thank you.

The eight persons wed during the holidays have our prayers for a happy new year and a successful voyage on the sea of life.

The old year has gone, and some partings always bring regrets. The year may have had its disappointments, hardships and failures, yet we hated to see it go. But it went whether we chose it or not. The new is with us and shall be for 365 days. We regard it with suspicion and stand aloof with fear, but it will be with us just the same. Let us enter it with the assurance that an unerring guide is ready to pilot us. The Father of us all promises to withhold no good thing from those that walk uprightly and to put upon us no greater burdens than we can bear. With the assurance that His grace is sufficient we press trustfully on. This year to some was "God has been passed a weaver's shuttle" to others the moments pass as with leaden wheels. This is not because each day does not have the same allotment of hours, minutes and seconds for each of us. The difference is within us. The drudgery and grueness should give place to worthwhile service, vision and conception of the greatness of the privilege of laboring and waiting with the assurance of the Father's care upon us and the unspeakable peace of His presence "who is not afar off."

Have you made the New Year resolution yet? It's a mighty good thing to do provided you really do it inwardly, as well as outwardly. The inward purpose is what counts. The reason some folks find this the time to "resolute" is that they have a feeling something should be done to relieve their feeling of "the morning after" revelry, followed by sobering up and that "after feeling." Others who remained sober so far as intoxication is concerned have over eaten and otherwise been intemperate are suffering small uncomfortable ills and now act the part of starting out anew. Be the moive as it may. It is wise to take stock and plan for the new year, even if we did disappoint our selves and others during the old year. I think the only failure God sees is the failure of not trying. I would rather try a thousand times and make a poor success on the very last trial than be so afraid of myself, my fellowman and my God as not to try at all. God pity those purposeless lives with such puny wills! I shall be happy to have you worship with us as soon and as often as possible. Not your agreement with my thoughts, but your agreement with God that is of importance.

Sunday school every Sunday morning at 9:45. Preaching at 10:50 and at 7:00. Epworth League, 6:15. Hi-League at 1:30. We are never quite so happy as when we are helping others. A hearty welcome awaits you at our church.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

To the members of the Church of Christ, Greetings.

It is the hearts desire of all the members of the Church of Christ in and about Goldthwaite that the Goldthwaite congregation of the Church of Christ accomplish more in 1930 than in any year of its existence. To carry out our noble desire it will be necessary for the church to have a hundred per cent co-operation and support of every member of the church.

Brother, Sister in Christ will you not give us that said support and co-operation that we so much need?

The elders and deacons of the church and your minister have a great responsibility resting upon them. Will you not lighten this heavy responsibility by doing every thing you can to make the work prosper?

Remember there is an all seeing eye ever looking down upon each of us. This is the beginning of a new year. Can we not make great improvements over the old year that has forever gone. One more mile stone from time to the school year 1929-1930 the school work has been most harmonious. We believe that the rest of the year will be likewise.

During the seven years that it has been my pleasure to work with the schools in this community, the people have stood loyally by us in administering the schools. We appreciate this support and we have learned to depend upon the co-operation of the people. We expect the public to work together with us in the coming year 1930.

Sincerely yours,
D. A. NEWTON

Newton's New Year Greeting

To the patrons of the Goldthwaite Schools. — Greetings.

May the year 1930 be a year fruitful of accomplishments for your schools. The year 1929 has been, in many respects, a record year for the Goldthwaite schools. During 1929 new quarters have been provided. The new school building being larger than the old one has made re-organization possible. This re-organization has already started and should be perfected during the school term 1930-1931.

The enrollment in our school has grown steadily. During the fall of 1929 we have had the largest beginning enrollment in the history of the schools. There are approximately five hundred pupils enrolled in all departments at this time. This enrollment consists of the finest boys and girls, out of the best families in the county. It is well known that many out-of-town pupils enroll in our schools each year. The town is glad to have the pupils from other districts in its midst and the school gives them a hearty welcome.

It has been our policy to have our schools measure up to a high standard, both in instruction and surroundings. Our teachers all meet state requirements in qualification and they seem interested in working for the best interest of the schools. During the school year 1929-1930 the school work has been most harmonious. We believe that the rest of the year will be likewise.

During the seven years that it has been my pleasure to work with the schools in this community, the people have stood loyally by us in administering the schools. We appreciate this support and we have learned to depend upon the co-operation of the people. We expect the public to work together with us in the coming year 1930.

TRAGEDY AT CAMERON

CAMERON, Tex., Dec. 23.—Three men were killed in a twenty-minute gun battle on Main Street today. The dead are Hubert Hefley, automobile dealer; Charles Sens, Constable; and Anton Huebner, farmer.

Anton Huebner, believed to have become suddenly insane, appeared at the door of the Ford automobile agency on Main street with an automatic rifle in his hand and started shooting at everyone in sight. Hefley was killed before the Huebner opened fire upon Sens as soon as he came in sight, killing him instantly.

Crazed Man Shot Down

The crazed man was finally shot down by Eugene Smith. After Hefley and Sens had been killed, Sheriff Blaylock appeared. Huebner fired at him three times, one bullet grazing the Sheriff's knee. Huebner then backed out the front door and turning, fired three shots at employees of the Texas Power Company, just across the street. He continued to shoot at everyone in sight until he was finally killed by Smith.

DECLINE OF SPELLING

The old-fashioned spelling book has fallen under the displeasure of those iconoclastic pedagogues who would reshape our educational system. As a result of an examination of a heterogeneous mass of documents, personal letters and business correspondence comprising some 5,000,000 words, an inquiring professor has discovered that in most correspondence only 1,000 different words are used, with an additional 4,000 or 5,000 in less common use. It has, consequently, been decided that the old-fashioned spelling books have too many words. We don't need them all.

ART OF DREAMING

To our modern minds, accustomed to genuflection to the great gods Efficiency and Punch, the word "dreamer" has come to mean inefficiency and irresponsibility, vagueness and bad business judgment. When a man, for one reason or another, fails to achieve a measure of success equal to or surpassing our own goals, we say that he is a dreamer, that he is impractical.

It was but recently that an internationally prominent man made the statement, before a group of the most powerful business leaders of one country, that no great business was ever founded and made great without first being dreamed about. No great movement for common good, he went on was ever realized and materialized without having its genesis in the dreams and vision of a man.

There can be no doubt that he spoke wisely and well. Ask the presidents of our giant commercial institutions about the start of their businesses. They will tell you of themselves as young men, toiling and hoping, working and visioning, driven by the vital spark within that is sometimes called ambition. Ask them what they most desire in an executive, and they will tell you that, all other qualifications being equal they most value the man with imagination and foresight and vision.

Cosmopolitan Education Possible Without Europe

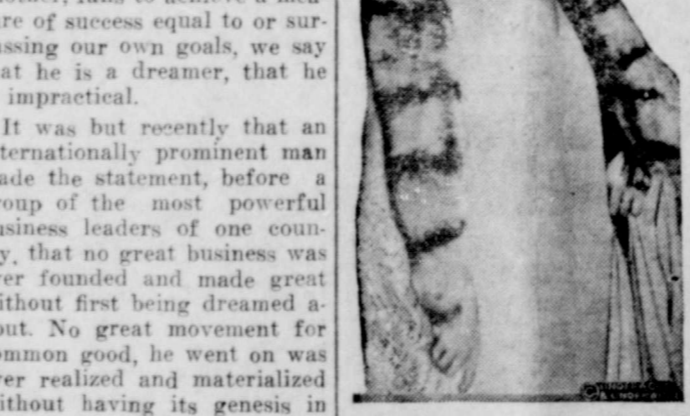

RAE SAMUELS

Singer Declares Foreign Colonies Here Will Supply It

New York City.—A cosmopolitan musical education need not be sought abroad in foreign lands, but may be had right here in our own country, says Rae Samuels, who tours the United States every year as a vaudeville headliner. "There are worlds within worlds in this nation of ours, and the old conventional idea that a singer must go abroad for his education is absurd," declares Miss Samuels. "I have met practically all the peoples of the earth on my coast to coast tours. In our foreign colonies I have plunged into Italian, French and Spanish atmospheres as truly native as though I were in the lands from which these people come."

dreaming, visioning in the world today — particularly in the world of business—is lost. For the creators in the business field will surely drive him out. And there are creative artists in business just as surely as there are in literature and music and art. It is these for whom the business ruler looks. Given these finer, more valuable qualities, the check can always be supplied. But lacking this, nothing can be supplied to take its place. The colt of racing blood can be taught to trot in harness, but the plow horse can never be taught the exhilaration of contest and victory.

It is not the dreamer who loses in the race today. It is the one who cannot or is afraid to think and dream who finds himself in the same rut as the years roll by. — Holland's Magazine.

PAYROLLS VS. POLITICS

An English member of Parliament a few years ago wrote a level-headed common-sense book that out-sold all others and the title was "Industries Versus Politics." His argument was that steady employment and good payrolls were more important than the ordinary political palaver one heard or read about in the newspapers or that was talked on the hustings. A newspaper that gives a good share of its space to news about payrolls and industries is more humanly interested than the most learned disquisitions about the claims for this or that political party. It is of great importance for the press to make itself the community exponent of payrolls and industries that add men and women to the payroll column. A newspaper which dedicates itself to the idea of making its home city and district an industrial center and pledge to give a far amount of space to industrial development, renders a public service of inestimable value which should receive hearty support from all citizens.

VIEW OF OIL WASTE

In a recent address, Sir Henry Deterding, famous foreign oil magnate, said that over-production of oil must eventually result in a higher cost of petroleum and its products to the public. He gives examples of fields where millions have been expended in duplicate facilities, under cut-throat competition. Production has decreased to where many of these facilities are worthless, a mere drag on the industry. The American people and the leading oil companies have recognized the need for practical oil conservation and it is pleasing to note that the trend of American production is constantly toward a higher percentage of recovery. It has been found that by saving and injecting back into the wells, properties may be induced to yield a far greater quantity of petroleum. At the same time, the oil can be held in natural storage in the ground until demand calls for it. In California and other states this has been tried and found successful. The difficulty has been in persuading the thousands of small, irres-

"My stomach was out of order and my digestion was so bad that often I had to get rid of undigested food through a rubber tube down my throat.
 For a long time I had to practically live on milk. My color was bad and I was weak, rundown and nervous. I have taken six bottles of Sargon,
 eat anything I want, my digestion is perfect and all my stom-

 while she was gone and I wonder what kind of a time she

T. E. L. CLASS

On Tuesday, Dec 17th, the T. E. L. Class rendered the following program at their annual Christmas tree given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bledsoe on south Parker street.
 Devotional—Mrs. Ben Forehand.

Prayer—Mrs. Jeff Priddy.
 Song—Silent Night.

Roll call on Christmas. Story of the first Christmas tree—
 Mrs. C. L. Stephens.

True spirit of Christmas—
 Mrs. J. M. Campbell.

Bright lights, tree loaded with gifts, a Santa Claus with a true Christmas rapture on her face, a fine spirit of fellowship, all these went to make this our very best meeting.
 Our hostess served a delicious refreshment plate, assisted by Mrs. Allen Ross and Mrs. Ben Forehand. Our class was 100 per cent last Sabbath day. Let us make this our average all the new year, be a booster.

The historic motto of the coast guard, "always ready" denotes efficiency. We will all need to put our shoulder to the wheel. Someone has said,
 "God will not look you over for medals, degrees and diplomas, but for scars."

WRECK AT SWEETWATER

Four persons were seriously injured and more than a dozen suffered minor injuries when a passenger train was struck by a car of crude oil in the Santa Fe yards at Sweetwater.
 The yard crew had made up a Red Ball freight train on the east lead track of the yard, adjoining the main line, with several oil tank cars at the head of the train. The high southwest wind which was blowing put in motion a box car on one of the yard tracks entering the lead track, and the loose box, having rolled down with considerable momentum, struck one of the oil tankers just as passenger train No. 95, Amarillito to Sweetwater, was pulling into the yard.

Dallas Newman and Leverett
 Henry were visitors in the Taylor home Sunday afternoon.

 Mary, Eva and Julia Dee, visited with relatives in San Saba

 Joe Conner and girls.

 waite visited Octor Taylor
 Sunday morning.

Rev. Joe Benningfield will fill his regular appointment
 Sunday. BLUE BELL.

Pope Pius XI., ending nearly sixty years of self-imprisonment of the Popes in the Vatican, made his exit at dawn
 Friday from the pontifical quarters and entered Italian territory. It was the first time since 1870, when the kingdom of United Italy was formed and the papal state destroyed, that a pope had left the vatican.

 feet in length and weighs nearly two tons. It will be used to anchor steamers off shore in the Pa-

 is so heavy that even the strongest chains snap under the strain.

Jazz Is Red-Headed, Says Titian-Tressed Drummer

BOBBY GRICE

What a girl — what a night — What a moon — shining bright —

Who Also Adds That Waltzes Are Brunette!

New York City.—When the boys in the neighborhood yell d
 "Red Head, Red Head, gingerbread" at the sight of Bobbie Grice's red pig-tails, Bobbie need to shake her little fists, stamp her feet and weep, though never until she got home where the boys couldn't see her.

This wasn't so long ago, because Bobbie is only twenty-one
 now. But she is still stamping her feet. That's because as leader of The Parisian Red Heads, the highest paid girls' band in the country, no part of her small body can keep still as she directs one of the newest jazz hits.

Still Stamps
 She no longer stamps in anger
 or cries in sadness over her red hair. In fact, she gives to her titian tresses much of the credit for her astonishing musical success.

"Red heads make the best jazz
 musicians, and I've got fourteen other red heads in my band. So don't consider this unduly personal," declares Bobbie. "Somehow, the ginger-breads seem to have the temperament that goes with our modern music. In choosing the members of my band, and I've listened to hundreds of girl musicians, I found that the dark-haired girls could play the soft moon-light type of rhythm,

 but for the snappy jazz tunes,
 the carrot-tops are best.

"Take the foxtrot 'What A Girl! What A Night!' No brunnette could get as much out of that tune as a red head. Jazz is really a red head's music. Its very tempo is red."

Well-Paid

The members of Miss Grice's band get from sixty to one hundred and fifty dollars a week, and their leader urges more women to enter the musical profession.

"It pays higher salaries than almost any other profession open to women," says Bobbie. "The idea that women can play only the piano and violin is absurd. If they are talented they can learn to play any instrument. There is a great demand right now for cornet and trumpet players, in fact, there is a scarcity of all wind instrument musicians."

Miss Grice, herself, is one of the head-line drummers in the country.
 "And if a woman can play the drums, and still please her audience, she can play anything, even the mouth-organ," declares this famous red-head.

Christmas has come and

time getting here, as the snow was so deep. The new year is here once again. We hope it

GRATITUDE

The sweetest spirit that ever filled a human heart, is the spirit that is conscious and responsive to the blessings of life. Especially is this true when we are conscious of the fact that God is using human instrumentality to bless and win the lost to Christ. How blank and empty our life would be without the existence of someone else. Every life is, more or less, dependent upon another life for existence and growth. We live because there is another who lives. What we are and what we may be in the future, is the result of our life environments. We do not fashion and mold all our sentiments. There is but a small amount of originality in each human life. "No man liveth unto himself." If I go up or down, it will be largely because of human influence. How ungrateful is that human heart
that does not appreciate wholesome surroundings, and the helping hand of thoughtful and loving friends.

The sweet spirit of my membership here, backed up by the citizenship of Mullin, gave rise to this article. This pastor and family was given, by his church here, and many others
of this city, one of the greatest poundings and showers of blessings, during the Christmas holidays, that has ever been our happy privilege to receive. The contributions were of a very wise selection and the value amounted to many dollars. How far above silver and gold do we appreciate the friendship, confidence and cooperation of our church and city. No pastor ever had a more loyal membership and a more attentive hearing than this pastor is given by both sinner and saint. If I fail as pastor, it will not be because I did not get the backing of this church and city. This is one of the best little cities in Texas. All roads lead to Mulin.
Did you say you wanted a square deal? If so, come to Mullin. Did you say you wanted the best high school course
in Texas? If so, come to Mulin, for we have the best High school in this state, under the leadership of Prof. Scott, as superintendent and his highly efficient faculty. Why go elsewhere? If you wish a warm reception, come to Mullin. Our city, with its honest business men and women, will give you an honest deal and as you leave, you will go with a pleasant farewell. If you wish to hear a spirit guided message,
from God's men, come to Mulin.
If your body is tired and worn with the cares and disappointments of life, visit the churches of Mullin. If you have been brought low and feel as if you are down and out, or if friends have left you all alone, come to Mullin and we will give you the recipe that will perfect a cure in such cases. If your soul is lost and the pangs of hell-ge' hold on you, come to Mullin and we will do you good. Remember all roads lead to Mullin.

Yours for more gratitude,
J. W. STRIPKING.

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

Texas American Legion lacks 39 members of having twice the number enrolled this year as was the case last year, Ernest Cox of Austin, state commander, stated in an interview.

Children of 6 and 7 years in portions of South and Central Australia stood in wonder Sunday and saw and felt rain for the first time. A seven-year drought has been broken in the country by torrential rains so heavy that the railway between Quorn and Alice Springs was destroyed and traffic has been suspended indefinitely.

The Secretary of Agriculture Monday announced a revision of the pink bollworm control regulations, incorporating five amendments to the July, 1927, resolutions, effective Jan. 11. The most important change was the authorization of interstate movement of cotton samples and of compressed and baled lint or linters from regulated areas of Western Texas, New Mexico and Arizona, without fumigation, when such samples, lint or linters, have been produced in a county within which, and within five miles of which, no pink bollworm infestation has been found for the two preceding seasons.

The $30,000,000 national cotton marketing corporation will be incorporated probably by January 15, under the laws of the State of Delaware, it was announced Monday at the office of the Federal Farm Board in Washington. Details of the organization were practically completed on Monday night by the suborganization committee named by the cotton co-operators at the Memphis meeting. The completed plan was submitted to the Federal Farm Board on Tuesday and then to the full organization committee of the Memphis meeting as soon as those members can reach Washington. This will be the final step before formal incorporation.

A ludicrous act of Bishop Cannon of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, was the attacking of a photographer from a newspaper in Los Angeles, Cal., when the newspaper representative attempted to snap-shot the more or less notorious parson. Cannon came into the limelight some time ago over reported speculations and was in Los Angeles assisting his son in straightening out some troubles with the courts over the son's military academy. When he grappled with the newspaper man others took pictures of him "in action" and he regained his composure and agreed to pose for the reporters.

Restrictions in the Farm Marketing act which limit its benefits to about 5 per cent of the farmers of the United States were denounced and the belief was expressed that $30,000,000 cotton corporation in process of formation is inadequately capitalized, in the address delivered Monday by Senator Tom Connally before the Dallas Agricultural Club. "The mere lending of money is no substantial benefit to the farmer," Senator Connally said. "The farmer already can borrow money. What he needs is a way to pay back what he has borrowed."

ORGATONE WAS JUST WHAT I NEEDED, SHE SAYS

"I Got to Where I couldn't Eat Anything and Wasn't Able to Rest at Night, But Am Relieved now,"

Mrs. L. A. Brandenburg, of 505 Melwood St., Brownwood, Texas, in her statement regarding the benefits received from Orgatone, said:

"I have just taken one bottle of Orgatone and am greatly pleased with the results in my case. I just haven't felt like myself for several years. I scarcely had any life or energy about me, and my appetite was very poor and I suffered terribly from indigestion. I just got to where I couldn't eat anything without suffering and having intense pains in my stomach afterwards. Gas would form on my stomach and I felt depressed and down-hearted and just had to force myself to do my work. I had nervous sick headaches, and at times couldn't get any sleep at night. I felt that my condition was getting worse and needed something to build me up.

"Orgatone was just what I needed to bring me out of it. It seemed to go right to the spot and I could tell a change in my condition after the first few doses. I'm not nervous like I was and get plenty of sound, refreshing sleep every night. I eat anything I want, and am not bothered with the severe pains in my abdomen. I seldom have a headache, and feel like doing something, and have more vim and energy. Orgatone is a good medicine and I am glad to recommend it because it has given me relief."

Genuine Orgatone may be obtained in Goldthwaite, at the Hudson Bros. Drug Store.

Prosperity A State of Mind

Prosperity as a state of mind has been frequently attested by business pessimists who have croaked that we "only think" we are prosperous. But no less an economic authority than Mr. Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, characterizes both prosperity and depression as states of mind in the sense that by our thinking we can create either, to a degree. Mr. Willard made his assertion before a recent meeting of the Senate Committee on Education and Labor, which was investigating unemployment in this country. He said stabilized employment can be "more promoted by a state of mind reflecting a conscious desire to stabilize employment than anything else."

Prior to the war it was that to be proper to hire 5,000 men in the summer and lay them off a few months later, Mr. Willard said, adding: "None of us were impressed by the fact that we were doing any particular injustice." A realization that out of the economic system of the United States a unit of social responsibility had been developed caused him to develop a "will toward stabilized employment," Mr. Willard said.

Industrial leaders have an obligation to mankind as well as to the business they manage. Mr. Willard is one of the foremost in realization of this obligation. One of our most flagrant social injustices is the brutality of seasonal employment, a blame to the individual and injurious to society as a whole. Mr. Willard's road in the past six years has cut down the percentage of its labor turnover from 20 per cent to 10 per cent, which means, of course, not a larger force but more employes holding their jobs steadily year in and year out.

Mr. Willard's testimony that keeping a steady force "has been a good thing for us" is obviously true. An industrial organization can not reduce its employment force to a mere total of workman hours. One employe working a full year is worth to the employer vastly more than 12 employes working a month each. And the one employe employed full time is worth more to the community and to society as a whole than the twelve.—Star Telegram.

COMMITTEE.

PHILIPPINE ISLANDS

The Philipinos are again moving to secure from the United States, if possible, the right to become independent, and they plan to have a delegation here in January to plead their cause before Congress and the American public. The Jones Act of 1916, the organic law for the islands, contains a preamble promising independence when conditions become favorable, and the islanders consider that that time has come.

The Democratic party by platform is committed to independence for the Philippine Islands, and States that have strong interests in sugar and cottonseed oil are interested in barring out the United States by tariff regulations importations of sugar and coconut oil from the Philippines. The simplest way of accomplishing this seems to be, to grant sovereignty and then to apply the usual tariff rates against foreign importations.

The issue is before Congress through the King resolution which provides for independence after the Filipinos have formed a Constitution for a republican form of government and have complied with certain other conditions, such as the assumption of debts and other liabilities. The resolution, it is thought, has some possibility of passing the Senate, but not the House.—Dallas News.

OLD YEAR PUSH

Several things are to be observed with the passing out of the old year. One thing not too old to mention is the wedding of Mr. Truman Vaughn and Miss Alice Cunningham, who were made husband and wife at Bro. Hays' home the evening before Christmas. They were reared in Trigger Mountain community and are highly esteemed and well deserve the friendship of our people. We commit them to Goldthwaite for awhile, as that point is Mr. Vaughn's headquarters at present. If he does not already take the Eagle, I hope he soon will, so as to properly hear the rumble of his old rapidly moving community.

Another thing very different is the fact that Father Time brings us face to face with tax duty. Tax paying makes some of us feel a little flinchy. Just now we hear complaints about what they say is high taxes. I am not in a position to say whether or not that taxes could be and should be reduced. I do say that a gradual increase of expenses is the history of every country, as enlargement and development goes so grows expenses, at the same time we all believe in rigid economy. One other thing I am saying at this point. A fellow should feel as patriotic in the act of taxpaying as in whooping and displaying a U. S. flag.

A backward glance at this time will recall many reasons for thankfulness. We will all enjoy life more when we have learned to cultivate a spirit of gratefulness. Shall we not more fully recognize our relations to each other and to Him whose calling is without repentance? L. L. HAYS.

FIELD NOTES

By The Missionary
I was talking to one of the deacons of one of our country churches the other day and insisting that his church have a representative at the next Workers' Conference. He said, "well, if there is any issue up we will all be there." I guess we will all be there for there is an issue. You know one of the marks of a Baptist organization is that they always have an issue about something.

If you will turn to the third chapter of first Corinthians and read Paul's letter you will certainly decide that they were Baptists and had up an issue. It is the same old story, they were fussing over preachers. Some were for Paul and some for Apollos and some did not care for either.

Now, Brothers, let us have a good representation at the Workers' Meeting, for I am perfectly willing for the majority to say what they want. When the majority has spoken I will say no more as to whether we go on with the mission work or not. There is one thing that I would suggest and that is that we pray much that the Lord will lead us in our actions.

I had a very pleasant visit last Lord's Day and preached to the good Methodists of Pleasant Grove.

Advertising And Utilities

The lowest priced commodities of any kind, whether shoes, automobiles or gas and electric service, are those that are most advertised, says W. H. Hodge of the Ryllesby Co. Utility advertising has brought important facts concerning the industry before the American people, and has helped provide them with an understanding of utility problems and operating conditions. And it has helped, as well, in creating a tremendous demand for gas and electricity with the result that our utilities are able to provide better service at lower rates. Possibly one of the most absurd statements ever made is that utilities purchase advertising in newspapers in order to influence editorial opinion. Such an attitude is a grave reflection on every American editor, and it is likewise a serious criticism, unfounded in fact, of the great utilities which have made every effort to aid the industrial, agricultural and domestic progress of the nation. At the present time but .6 per cent of the total revenues of the gas industry, and but .68 per cent of the electric, are used for advertising. It is doubtful if any other industry of great size advertises so little. In the opinion of many authorities a great deal more should be spent in utility advertising in order to give the public a thorough grasp of the operation of the gas and electric industries.

Ross Sisters Introduce Cubist Harmonies

New York City.—Is the public ready for a futuristic interpretation of harmonies? Evelyn, Mabel and May Ross, singing sisters, thinks so, and are just now adventuring with a cubistic interpretation of harmonies, including an unusual treatment of the octave, which may do for singing what the cubist artist has done for painting and sculpture. Many ideal critics who have heard the Ross sisters are enthusiastic, others cock wary ears and prophesy that the new Ross interpretation will add no permanent chapter to vocal history.

Records made by the Ross sisters have been sent to European conservatories and masters of harmony are lending an inquisitive ear to the new interpretation. Meantime, the sisters prefer American music and are giving it first place on their programs. "You're a Real Sweetheart" is a very simple foxtrot song with an orchestration which gives us an ideal range for our voices," says Evelyn, spokesman for the trio. "It is really one of the simplest tunes we sing, but its possibilities are remarkable. It has the perfect dance rhythm and can be dressed up as an aria or garbed as a super-modern. "We try to look ahead of the times and we think that the modern dance rhythm is going to be the one that will stand for the future."

"At certain times, I suffered dreadfully with pains in my back and sides. My head would hurt—felt like it would split open. Spells of weakness would last for weeks. "I read of Cardui. A Letter of Appreciation

Hollywood, Cal.
Dec. 22, 1929.

My dear Mr. Thompson:
Please extend my loving thanks and appreciation to the precious and loving friends who so sweetly remembered me with a lovely Christmas package, in honor of the most wonderful birthday ever recorded in the history of time, that of "The Babe of Bethlehem," our blessed Redeemer. I wish that I could write to each one separately, but I can not, so please tell them for me. I am suffering with vertigo, so must leave it to you.

Love to all of my dear friends.
Yours sincerely,
Mother V.

(Mrs. Van Glahn is held in loving remembrance by a host of friends in Goldthwaite and Mullin, who are thankful for the opportunity to extend New Year's greetings to her and to wish for her every blessing life can give.)

WILL NOT CHANGE

To the People of Mills Co.:

For some time I have been considering the matter of offering as a candidate for Sheriff and Tax Collector and I am pleased to be able to say I have had a great deal of encouragement and the expressions from my friends and from those with whom I have had no acquaintance is a matter in which I take great pride, but after due consideration I have decided that it would be best for the county and for my own satisfaction for me to remain in the position I now hold—that of Commissioner of Precinct No. 1. I have the work in hand and have plans for road improvement and some business reforms, as well as understand the workings of the highway department and feel I can be of some service in securing proper recognition for our road work from the Highway officials. These and other reasons cause me to determine to be a candidate for my present position, rather than attempt to change.

Yours for Mills county and good roads,
