

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, MAY 2, 1930.

NUMBER TWENTY FIVE

UNEFICIAL RAINS OVER THIS COUNTY

INCREASE IN POPULATION IS SHOWN

Town and Precinct Both Improve

The census enumeration has been completed and the results are being made known as rapidly as the figures can be compared and verified. Some of the larger cities are in a turmoil over their figures, most of them claiming there should be more people in their territory than the enumeration shows. However, they can be depended upon as substantially correct, while there are a few missed in every community and the duplications will not offset the omissions.

Goldthwaite shows an increase, according to the figures available at this time, as does the precinct, while the county as a whole will doubtless show a slight decrease. In the enumeration those living within the incorporation were taken by one enumerator, while the rural population, outside of the incorporation, was taken by another enumerator. When it is realized that the city incorporation of Goldthwaite covers a very small area, scarcely reaching beyond the dense population limit, it will be seen that the population of the city proper will reach from 1800 to 2000. The exact figures for the incorporation are 1323, as compared with 1214 ten years ago, an increase of 109. The precinct shows 2535, as compared with 2533 ten years ago, an increase of only two. In this territory are included 297 farms.

Precinct No. 2, which includes Center City, Star, Payne and Caradan, shows an increase of 35 over the last census, i. e., 1960 as compared with 1925 last census. In this territory are included 464 farms.

Precinct No. 3, which includes Mullin, shows a population of 1993, as compared with 2391 ten years ago, or a decrease of 398. In this territory are included 321 farms.

Justice precinct No. 5, shows a population of 736, as compared with 831 ten years ago, or a decrease of 95. In this territory are included 177 farms.

Goldthwaite Assured Gas Supply

Council Grants Time To Gas Company

A representative of the Consumers Natural Gas Co., which company holds a franchise for piping gas into Goldthwaite, was in the city yesterday and at his request a special meeting of the city council was held and the company granted a thirty-day extension of the time for beginning work. He stated that all supplies had been purchased and gas secured, but it would be impossible to begin work on the line before July 1, but that would give ample time to get the gas to Goldthwaite before winter.

This action on the part of the company proves good faith and it makes Goldthwaite people feel sure of securing a gas supply.

SHERIFF DENMAN COMPANIONS INJURED AS CAR GOES IN DITCH

Sheriff M. H. Denman, Dr. H. L. Locker, N. H. Locks and Coon Ervin sustained injuries Tuesday afternoon at 6 o'clock in an automobile wreck near Goldthwaite as they were returning from San Saba. Sheriff Denman suffered a wrenched back and a bursted artery in one leg, Mr. Ervin received a broken arm and other injuries. Mr. Locks suffered a sprained hip and knee injuries and Dr. Locker was bruised and received a scalp wound. The car was completely wrecked.

The wreck occurred four miles south of Goldthwaite and resulted when a wire wheel on the sedan crumpled, throwing the car into a ditch and turning it upside down, pinning the occupants in the car.

Sheriff Denman said that the car was running about thirty-five miles an hour and along a straight, smooth strip of road when he felt the wheel give way and before he could bring the car to a stop it had turned around in the road and tipped over in the ditch. The car was a new Ford, bought recently by the sheriff. Reports from Goldthwaite where it was taken for repairs, said that any repairs on the top of the car were impossible.

Three members of the party had been attending the McNeil trial at San Saba, where they were called as witnesses, and Mr. Ervin was visiting his son, Tom Bird.—Brownwood Bulletin.

A BUSINESS CHANGE

O. H. Shaw, who has been agent here for the Continental Oil Co. for a number of years and has also operated a service station at the corner of Fisher and Fourth streets for a long time, this week sold the agency and the station to Matt. Kyle, who will have Elvis Morris associated with him in the business. They have already taken the management of the business and Mr. Shaw is giving attention to his collections and other details of winding up his part of the business.

CEMETERY MEETING

The Cemetery Association will meet next Monday afternoon at 4:30. All interested please be present in the rest room at the court house.

MRS. E. B. ANDERSON, President.

KILLING IN BIG VALLEY

Dr. J. C. Barrett, aged about 60, a veterinarian, was shot and killed on the Pecan Belt highway, in Big Valley, just across the road from a farm on which he had an option, a short distance from Attaway's filling station and about a mile east of the river bridge Tuesday morning.

Dr. Barrett owned the farm for some time, but a month or more ago he decided it back to the parties in San Saba county who held the vendor's lien on it, but retained option on it until June. He rented the farm to the Fowler family, but after some disagreement with the tenants he moved to this city and the Fowlers continued to occupy the premises. Some days previous to the tragedy he had employed three Mexicans in a quest for hidden treasure and they had made some excavations east of the highway and opposite the farm in question.

He had been there the day previous to the killing and returned to the place about 8:30 Tuesday morning, but had only been there a few moments when the killing occurred. It is not known at this time whether he had gotten out of the car or was shot and fell out. At any rate, his body was on the ground and his rifle, which had not been fired, was near by when the report of the tragedy was made and some of the people in that section reached the place and notified officers.

Sheriff C. D. Bledsoe, Deputy E. O. Priddy, Constable Lee, City Marshal Harry W. Allen, Justice of the Peace James Rahl, County Attorney A. T. Pribble and others hurried to the scene and on the way met W. B. Fowler, aged about 60, tenant on the Barrett farm, who surrendered and was brought to jail. It was found that the dead man had been struck in the jaw and throat with a heavy charge of shot, which made a large hole. A part of one of his hands had also been shot away. The body was brought to the Fairman undertaking rooms here to be prepared for burial and a brother of the dead man, who is a barber in Dublin, was notified of the tragedy.

Judge Rahl held an inquest over the body before it was removed from the place of the killing and took testimony of a number of witnesses, including the three Mexicans employed by Dr. Barrett in the treasure hunt. County Attorney A. T. Pribble represented the state in the proceedings and developed the facts as far as possible.

After the officers reached the scene of the shooting, Bailey Fowler, son of W. B. Fowler and a member of the Fowler household occupying the premises, was placed under arrest and brought to jail, to await examination by the grand jury.

Dr. Barrett had been about here for several years, but did not have an extensive acquaintance and his family affairs are not generally known, beyond the fact that he was a widower and had several children living elsewhere.

The remains of Dr. Barrett were interred in the cemetery here yesterday morning, several of his relatives having come here for the funeral.

SELF CULTURE CLUB

On Thursday of last week Mrs. J. H. Randolph was hostess to the Self Culture Club for the last meeting of the year. Sixteen members and three associate members were present. Bowls of bluebonnets and roses were placed about the reception and dining room.

Mrs. Randolph was the leader for the afternoon, the theme of the program being, "Texas." Those telling us of the attractions and weaknesses of our state were: Mrs. Earl Clements, Mrs. Jim Cockerun, Mrs. Marvin Rudd, Mrs. John Heister and Mrs. F. N. Irwin. Wishing to pay homage to two very dear friends, one a personal friend of the hostess and the other a former member and friend of the club, Mrs. Randolph had Mrs. Floyd Jackson read a poem of Jan Isabel Fortune's, a Texan poet of note, called "A Child of Spring," and Mrs. Earl Fairman read "Beloved" by Mrs. J. A. Gillespie. It seems that Mrs. Gillespie was inspired to write her poem after hearing Mrs. Fortune read her's. It is an especially tender, appealing song out of the author's heart to the memory of her son, James Charles.

At the close of the program, Mrs. Evans was presented with a gift from the club as a token of appreciation of her leadership the past year.

Before going into the business session, Mrs. Randolph invited her guests into the dining room and served a refreshing drink and wafers.

Mrs. L. E. Miller was the club guest of the afternoon.

Mrs. John Berry, the club's new president for 1930-31, presided over the business meeting and outlined some exceptionally fine plans for another year. With Mrs. Berry as president the Self Culture Club is certain to have an outstanding year.

BAPTIST CHURCH

A good rain has fallen over our county and every man, woman, and child seems to be happy. We all have a right to be happy, but while we are happy, I am wondering if we are grateful to the One who has sent the refreshing showers upon our land. Gratitude is a grace that every one ought to possess. Honor ought to be bestowed upon the one to whom honor is due. To whom should you be grateful for the good rain that was so much needed? Answer the question in your own heart.

Now let's remember what God has done for us during this week, and let's prove to Him our gratitude by attending His services Sunday at His house. He has extended to us the temporal blessings and is more than willing that we share the spiritual blessings. I dare say that next Sunday will find some Christians riding over their ranches looking at the growing grass, interested in the growth of their stock, and the outcome of the market, and never stop for one moment to think that God is in it all. How men ought to march to church Sunday morning with adoration in their heart, and songs of praises on their lips for the manifold blessings that God has bestowed upon us in a material way.

This pastor was made to rejoice when returning Sunday afternoon to find out that the Sunday school was normal in attendance. Whether present or absent we are always happy to keep the record in attendance as well as in efficiency at every service.

Monday morning we were talking to a man and his wife about the Sunday services, and the pastor was extending to them congratulations for attending the services and they said, "We heard the best sermon Sunday morning that we have heard in a long time." This was very complimentary to our Sunday school superintendent, for these people have heard this preacher most every Sunday since he has been here. And to say the least of it, they have heard some mighty good preaching. But no wonder they heard a good sermon Sunday morning. The superintendent took the pastor for his text, and no man can preach on that text without preaching a good sermon. Several have used the same text lately and they all have preached mighty good sermons.

It is a fine thing for any pastor to have a group of people who are one hundred per cent behind the program of the church. This pastor has just such a group and eternally alone will bespeak for him his appreciation and gratitude for such a lovely spirit and such beautiful co-operation. Not only those who constitute the membership of our church, but others manifest the same kind of spirit and co-operation, and to them we are just as grateful.

Remember that "Mothers' Day" will soon be here and we are doing our best to have a program that will pay tribute to the mothers of men. Just remember that the greatest battle that was ever fought was not fought on the battle field, but was fought in the hearts of the mothers of men. People all over this county, and

ART AND CIVIC CLUB

In conformance with the American Child Health Association, the Art and Civic Club has launched a health program at the public school. The approval and co-operation of the local health officers and school authorities have been assured. The first program was given May 1—National Child Health Day. Miss Campbell of Austin, from the state health association, and Mrs. Osterhout, who is a graduate nurse and has had experience of this kind throughout the state of New Mexico, had charge of this work, which consisted of clinic, illustrated lectures, demonstrations and project work all suited to the ability and development of the children in the different grades.

The aim of this work is to secure for every child in our community the advantages as set forth in President Hoover's Child's Bill of Rights.

The ideal to which we should strive is that there shall be no child in America:

That has not been born under proper conditions,
That does not live in hygienic surroundings,
That ever suffers from under nourishment.

That does not have prompt and efficient medical attention and inspection,
That does not receive primary instruction in the elements of hygiene and good health,
That has not the complete birthright of a sound mind in a sound body.

That has not the encouragement to express in fullest measure the spirit within which is the final endowment of every human being.

We earnestly seek the cooperation of every individual in our community interested in child health and protection.

CLUB MEMBER

CLASS MEETING

Mrs. Dan Westerman was hostess to the Philathea Class on Monday afternoon, in the regular monthly meeting. Despite the showery weather twenty members and two guests answered to roll call with scriptural quotations.

The guests for the afternoon were Mesdames A. M. Hunt and D. A. Newton, their presence being much appreciated.

After all business was disposed of, Mrs. Westerman served delicious ice cream and cake. The next meeting will be at the Fair Park and a "Pot Luck" supper will be served.

JOE BARNETT IS RECOVERING

Joe Barnett, who was hurt two weeks ago, when his horse fell with him at the Barnett ranch, south of town, was able to be brought home from the hospital this week and is getting along nicely. His leg was broken in the accident and it will be some days before he will be fully recovered from the injury.

especially visitors in our town that day, are urged to attend this service. Let every father and mother bring their children to church that day. Let every young man and young woman honor their mother by going to church on MOTHERS' DAY. Whether they are dead or living, you can do nothing that will please them better.

Now don't forget that you need to be in your place next Sunday. That will help prepare you for "Mothers' Day." Watch these columns for the program.

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

It is announced from Cisco that Mrs. R. Q. Lee is a candidate for Congress to succeed her late husband, Hon. R. Q. Lee, who died two weeks ago.

A special train is to be run from Dallas to New Orleans to carry delegates to the Baptist general convention, which is to be held in that city May 14 to 18.

Burglars entered the tax collector's office at Texarkana Saturday night and stole $600 tax money that had been collected after banking hours that day.

Efforts to have long staple cotton grown more extensively about Corpus Christi have resulted in the erection of a gin there to handle that class of staple.

Poultry breeders in Bosque county estimate they lose $10,000 annually by theft of their fowls. They have organized and evolved a plan of branding by tattooing their fowls for identification.

In Austin last Saturday, Roy Marshall, 22, was killed instantly, when a bullet from an automatic pistol discharged when it fell from his pocket, entered his back, Marshall was sitting in a barber's chair when the pistol fell from his pocket. The bullet passed through the air before entering the victim's body.

Dr. George W. Crile of Cleveland, Ohio, operator of the largest private hospital in the world, is a believer of plenty sleep. In a speech delivered a few days ago, Dr. Crile compared the human system to a battery, which, when it is run down, can not function until it is recharged. Sleep, he says, is the means of storing up energy in the body, and if the person is exhausted and has no reserve strength, disease has a much better chance to take hold.—Denison Herald.

A children's hospital for incipient tubercular patients will open at the State Tubercular Hospital at Carlsbad not later than Oct. 1, and possibly earlier, it was said Friday by Dr. J. B. McKnight, superintendent of that institution. Construction is well under way on the building, which will cost $200,000, with $50,000 for equipment. Not only will the children receive preventive treatment, but will be sent to the same institution. They will be given a limited amount of instruction each day so as not to exhaust them. The new building is to have 160 beds and applications for them are being received. If all of the beds are not taken by children, adults will be accommodated, as the hospital is filled with 500 grownups and a waiting list of 150 or 200.

It will be surprising to most persons, accustomed to hearing Texas described at a State backward in efforts toward public education, to find that expenditures for this purpose here are nearly 40 per cent greater than the average of all the states. This ratio of expenditure has increased in favor of Texas rather than decreased since 1927, due to the increase of the gasoline tax from which the schools take one-fourth, and other increases through direct appropriation. The same is true of highway expenditures, which in 1927 showed Texas below the average of the states. Texas still spends rather less for advanced humanitarian and social purposes than does the average state, this discrepancy being especially noted in the matter of state charities, hospitals and in health and sanitation work.—Texas Tax Journal.

"KONJOLA'S WORK MIRACULOUS," SAYS THIS LADY
Waco Lady, Lifetime Resident, Enthusiastic About New Medicine That Relieved Stomach Ailment

MRS. LILLIE COLLINS

"Konjola made a new person of me," said Mrs. Lillie Collins, 3617 Homan avenue, Waco. "For the past few years I have had a severe case of stomach trouble. The food I ate failed to digest, gas formed and I was subject to chest pains and heart palpitations. I was always tired in the morning. Pains in the small of my back from affected kidneys often kept me from doing my housework. I often suffered with numbness in my hands and feet and was extremely nervous. I began to get relief immediately after I began the Konjola treatment. The gas in my stomach after meals has now been eliminated and I no longer find night risings necessary. I sleep well and I am no longer nervous. I am free from back pains and my kidneys have been regulated until they function perfectly. I have not an ache or a pain in my body. The results I got from Konjola were miraculous and I heartily recommend this medicine to all who suffer as I did."

Konjola has become the most talked of medicine in America because it makes good. And Konjola makes good in the most stubborn cases when given a fair trial. Six to eight bottles are recommended for usual cases.

Konjola is sold in Goldthwaite, Texas, at Hudson Bros. drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

TAX RESOURCES

The tax most easily collected is the one most favored by the taxing power. Our Federal Government ran along for nearly a hundred and fifty years before it discovered the easy revenue to be derived from the income tax. Now that it has tapped that source, it will never let go. Same with the gasoline tax. As long as internal combustion engines are in use the gas tax will be levied and collected. Rightly so, perhaps, seeing that we have to collect taxes somehow and somewhere. The tax that extorts the least roar from the taxed may be preferable to the others. If we pay without feeling oppressed, our oppression is light. Yet indirect taxation is dangerous. It is like an edged tool in the hands of a child. It has deadly potency unknown to the possible victim. Who steals our purse steals trash if we do not wish to carry trash ourselves, but he who filcheth that which we are depending on for dinner leaveth us poor while he dines in style. The tariff tax works while we sleep. We do not dream about it because we do not consciously contact it. But our breakfast is foreshortened by the tariff tax, and our lunch reduced in quality and quantity. This tax, and other indirect levies, might be carried to such a length or height that we would have to join little Tommie Tucker in singing for our supper. Painless taxation is more menacing than the hurting sort. When we are aware of the pain we can rebel. When unaware we may incur anemia and die without knowing what has ailed us.—State Press in Dallas News.

ON HOMESTEADS AGAIN

The Supreme Court found itself called on the other day to interpret once more the Texas homestead law in relationship to liens for other than direct case involved, the validity of tax purposes. In the Fort Worth homestead protection as against a paving assessment was in issue and, as in other cases, the highest State court held that the lien for paving purposes did not constitute a tax, and that the property could not be levied on.

Although the court was fairly explicit as to the fact that, under the homestead act, such property is only liable for a tax debt as long as it remains its homestead aspect, it is regrettable that there has not been formulated a legal code covering all aspects of homestead liability, thereby precluding the waste of court time in the effort to collect obligations that can not be protected by seizure of such property.

Suits to collect judgments on this type of property after it has lost its homestead character are, of course, a different matter. A paving assessment is a just obligation and it should be met. But in justice to the man who sometimes pleads homestead exemption against a paving assessment voted over his protest, it must be recalled that paving is expensive and that small homeowners must frequently regard it as a luxury which they can not afford.—Dallas News.

TAXPAYERS RESPONSIBILITY

Taxpayers themselves can be charged with a large part of the responsibility for permitting the growth of the curriculum which includes almost every human activity, due to the urge from within and without, until the present hodgepodge menu served us in our institutions of learning is not only breaking the backs of the taxpayers, but is turning out products not equal to that of even the much maligned little red school house days. Quality has been sacrificed in the interest of quantity. This cannot be charged entirely to the school people but also to the patrons themselves who have insisted that these be assumed by the public schools. Parental obligations are being saddled upon the school teacher, all of which means an inflated, bulged-out curriculum that is responsible for top heavy mechanism and the tremendous outlays which today are involved in education. This should serve as a challenge to the school people to remodel the curriculum based upon the time honored responsibilities which the school should assume in training the boy and girl how to think and to relieve the curriculum of the incubus which has been saddled upon it by unthinking and selfish patrons, added to the all too ready attitude of the teachers themselves to build up this unshapely, unsymmetrical, non-descript thing called education.—Texas Tax Journal.

SOME LOVE THE BOLL WEEVIL

Farm and Ranch frequently receives letters in which the boll weevil is credited with being a real blessing to the cotton farmers. One letter we have in mind said that the writer was always glad when the weevils got in and ate up half his cotton. This man refuses to poison or do anything else to check the ravages of the pest because of the blessing the weevil is conferring on him by reducing his cotton yield.

It is true that when the South overplants cotton and the boll weevil comes along and reduces the total yield to some where near the needed supply, prices are enough higher to make up the difference, but what about the cost of the extra labor in preparing the land, in buying seed and planting it; in chopping and cultivating and in picking over an enlarged territory? How much better it would be to plant such acreage to cotton as one can properly care for and harvest, increasing the yield per acre by proper soil selection and fertilization. The greater the yield per acre. The less the cost of production.

There have been hundreds of instances in low price years, where farmers, after they had made the crop, refused to gather it because it was said not to be worth the picking. This cotton was plowed under and another crop planted the following spring. In these cases farmers prepared the seed bed twice, planted twice and performed all other labor two times over in order to gather one crop. After they had made the first crop, it should have been picked and stored. It would have been better business to have saved the first crop and planted none at all the next season than to destroy the first in order to grow the second.

A balanced farm program which includes food and feed for farm consumption will automatically reduce the cotton acreage and keep prices more nearly around the profit level.—Farm and Ranch.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

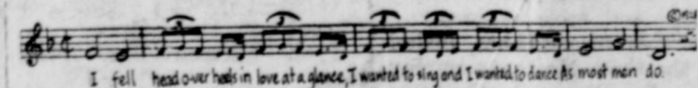

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store.—Clements, The Rexall Store.

B. A. ROLFE

Musician With Cornet Makes New Fortune After Losing First

New York City.—B. A. Rolfe, world's most famous cornetist, is rapidly proving that money and music, if not synonymous, are at least team-mates, especially if the music is jazz. Once Mr. Rolfe was a millionaire for a while. Now he bids fair to be a millionaire for keeps—all because of jazz. Starting in the motion picture business with Jesse Lasky, now one of the world's most noted picture magnates, Mr. Rolfe amassed a great fortune overnight, only to have it all vanish in a single deal. Luckily, he had never neglected his old cornet, which when a boy, he had played before the crowned heads of Europe. He decided now to adapt modern rhythms to his instrument and organized a jazz band, which is today one of the most famous musical combinations in the country. "When I was a boy, musicians were musicians for art's sake, because they couldn't really be anything else," says Mr. Rolfe. "As for making a fortune out of music, that was unheard of. Music of those days appealed only to the few but the modern American variety has a universal scope, and those who really interpret it can become famous in the financial world. "I understand colleges are worried because so many promising doctors, engineers and lawyers are leaving college to become jazz band players, but I want to say that I think any young man who has a yen for music can go into it without any fear of not being able to rise to the same heights in the financial world as his banker brother. Of course the money in playing this music is made by the fact that the music itself is what the public wants. Just what that something is that wins people I don't know, nor do I know anyone who can analyze it. "Why, 'I Fell Head Over Heels in Love' should be the most popular foxtrot of the year, I can't explain, except that the piece has 'it'—in short a personality that turns it into a gold mine."

A cafe man in Dallas kicked a drunken man out of his place of business Saturday night and dislocated his foot in the operation. If you owe Arden Co. pay them. You should see samples of spring is showing.

MRS. REBECCA WALKER

"I only weighed 85 pounds when I started taking Sargon. Six bottles of this wonderful medicine increased my weight fifteen pounds, and I don't feel like the same woman.

"I suffered so with stomach trouble that I even thought I would be better off dead. I was so weak I could hardly get about.

"Sargon Soft Mass Pills entirely rid me of constipation. I believe this wonderful treatment saved my life."—Mrs. Rebecca Walker, Elwood, Kans.

Many who wisely put Sargon to the test express amazement at the speed and thoroughness with which it goes to the very source of their ailments.

TRANSPORTATION IMPORTANT

According to the American Farm Bureau Federation, improved roads have cut automobile operating costs from ten to less than seven cents a mile during the past few years. In addition, our thousands of miles of paved highways have stimulated social contacts, accelerated business and industry and played an appreciable part in the progress of American civilization. In most states adequate trunk highway systems are now in existence. The vital need is for a greatly increased mileage of improved feeder, or farm-to-market roads. But a small percentage of American farmers live on roads which are passable during all months of the year. As a result the farmer is cut off from his markets, and local merchants lose valuable business which good roads would bring them. American agriculture deserves a fair deal. If there is a serious farm problem at present, good roads could materially help in solving it by increasing efficiency in farm transportation. This would be of great value to the town and city dwellers as well. Every state should provide its rural sections with improved, all-weather roads as fast as the budget will permit.

MODERN GASOLINE SUPERIOR

The motorist who fills his tank at a service station handling the products of one of the many dependable producers, is getting the best motor fuel that modern science can provide.

The type of gasoline now sold by established companies is better than is required by state specifications, and is superior to any marketed since the war. Power, quick starting, acceleration and general operating efficiency are assured to a degree unheard of 20 years ago. The excellence of present day gasoline is said to be due to two opposing influences—co-operation and competition. Co-operative laboratory and road experiments, between oil producers, automobile manufacturers and the Federal Government led to the development of a better fuel. And out of competition has come a series of exhaustive tests. Not only do competing companies buy and analyze each other's products, but the U. S. Bureau of Mines buys gasoline in the open market in various parts of the nation for the purpose of laboratory investigation.

LIVING FROM HAND TO MOUTH

The American idea of surplus is having more of any commodity than can be used immediately. If the consumption of American cotton is 14,000,000 bales, 100,000 bales more than that is a surplus and bears the price on all of it. A few million bushels of wheat more than the estimated consumption is also a surplus, which decreases the value of all of it. Yet a bale of cotton is just as useful at 15 cents per pound as when it is priced at 20 cents; and a bushel of wheat contains as much food at the price of a dollar as it does when the market is twice that much. The intrinsic value is the same, no matter what the market.

Business has peculiar ideas. Common sense teaches us that a few million bushels of wheat beyond our immediate needs or a few thousand extra bales of cotton would give us a sense of security against a bad crop. On the contrary, however, a surplus of valuable commodities penalizes the producers.

Americans are always anxious to turn everything tangible into dollars. We, thus far, have given little thought to the future. We try to cut all of our timber in the least possible time; we are trying to use up all of our gas and oil and are mining our soils. We are living from hand to mouth, having plenty today without giving thought of tomorrow.

As every farmer should provide a surplus of feedstuffs and foods for at least a year ahead, so should we as a Nation, provide ourselves with a surplus of grains and cotton in sufficient quantity to carry us over a bad year. But, just so long as this surplus is used to bear the markets, there will be no inducement for the people to make provisions for off seasons.—Farm and Ranch.

MUSCLE SHOALS AGAIN

The bill for government operation of Muscle Shoals has again passed the Senate. It is in substantially the same form as the bill which was defeated by the famous "pocket veto" of President Coolidge.

The bill, according to the San Francisco Chronicle, "is not an engineering proposition. It is purely political, designed to bamboozle farmers into believing something is being done for them. It proposes to operate the plant, not for wholesale production of fertilizer, but for 'experimentation'."

"This 'experiment' has already cost the taxpayers of the nation some $150,000,000. Before the plant finished private experimentation had developed new processes that made Muscle Shoals obsolete. Why throw away more of the nation's money on experimentation with an industry in which private initiative will always go faster and do more than can be done under the handicap of government red tape?"

SAD BUT TRUE

"Some one suggests that the only way to drive is with the idea constantly in mind that the other fellow may be an idiot," says the Los Angeles Times. This is sad but true. Recklessness seems to be part of the motorist's code with millions of American drivers. And the inevitable result is that every year 25 or 30 thousand persons are killed and hundreds of thousands injured in preventable automobile accidents. The tragic part of it is that the enormous annual waste of life and property is almost entirely unnecessary. The unpreventable accident is rare as the do-do bird. Someone is incompetent or reckless in the case of practically every collision, great or small, between motor cars. The blame may be laid in two places. First in the apparent indifference of many motorists to the fundamentals of safety. Second in the lack of strict licensing laws in most states to keep the incompetent and reckless off the road, and an accompanying lack of enforcement of modernized, commonsense traffic codes.

INTENTIONS TO PLANT

According to a survey recently made by the Crop Reporting Board, farmers are planning reduction of acreage in some crops and increases in others. Upon the information furnished in the January Outlook Report, durum wheat will be reduced, flax will be increased in the spring wheat area, and oats will also be increased. Rice will be increased in all areas in line with market indications, and although the number of livestock on farms is about the same as last year, an increase of 2.7 per cent in feed grains is planned.

This last item is of special interest in showing the trend toward greater supplies of home-grown feeds, leading to better fed, and therefore, more profitable animals. In the southwest the increase in feed crops is perhaps greater than elsewhere, but the first plantings here do not represent the possibilities for the year. Many acres of stubble land will go into forage and grain sorghums to be either harvested, silaged or grazed off.

The prospect for better prices of feed grains sold or cash is said to be dependent upon foreign demands, but as thousands of farmers have found feed grains always a ready and profitable price through livestock of one kind or another.—Farm and Ranch.

NO MONOPOLY ON COTTON

There was a time when our boast that the South had a monopoly on the production of spinable cotton had a basis of fact. It is no longer true and our growers might as well face the truth. In 1929 the United States produced just 53 per cent of the world's cotton and 23.6 per cent of that was under contract. The South no longer has a monopoly on cotton and its prestige will become less and less from year to year unless producers make a supreme effort to grow a better staple. Even then, they may well make up their minds that the production in other sections of the world will continue to increase.

Cotton growers—in fact all business interests in the South—have been producing and merchandising cotton on the basis of having a monopoly. Their judgment has been blinded by a sense of security which has proved to be false. Now we must face the facts. We must grow cotton only on such lands as will produce both quantity and quality, and we must use our marginal lands for the growing of other products.

Perhaps the crisis which we are facing in the cotton industry will lead to a balanced farm program. If it does, then we can continue indefinitely in the production of desirable staple and use as a money crop. However, until we put into operation a plan whereby the man operating the farm, whether he be tenant or owner, can make a living without touching his cotton money, we are going to produce too much cotton in normal years and fail to receive a compensating price.

Every business and industry in the country has undergone changed programs. Agriculture is now faced with the problems of developing a new program of its own. The progress made in this direction is such that there is good reason to believe that those engaged in the industry will meet all demands made upon them. Farmers are like men engaged in any other industry. When Mother Necessity issues her commands, they make immediate response.—Farm and Ranch.

50 Years' Use of Black-Draught

"About fifty years ago," says Mr. Lewis G. O'Shields, of Portersville, Ala., "my mother gave me the first dose of Black-Draught, and I have taken it ever since, when I needed a medicine for constipation. I have used this remedy all my married life, in raising my children."

"I have used Black-Draught for heartburn, as I have had spells of this kind, off and on, for years. This follows indigestion, and indigestion comes close on constipation."

"I have found that the best way to head off trouble is to begin taking Black-Draught in time. It relieves me of dizziness, tightness in the chest and backache."

"By getting rid of impurities, Black-Draught helps to keep the system in good order. I always keep it in the home, and have recommended it to many people, in my time."

ROCK SPRINGS

We had another pretty day Sunday. There was a nice crowd at Sunday school and we had a good number at the B. Y. P. U. We elected officers at the B. Y. P. U.: Woody Traylor is president and Philip Nickols, vice-president; Hardy McClary and James Nickols group captains and Miss Murna Traylor was elected pianist. The quiz leader won't be with us all summer, so we didn't elect a new one. We will do that later. Their chorister — well they think can't be beat — so we have the same old one.

Don't forget Saturday night and Sunday are church services.

After Sunday school those who wanted to took their dinner and went to the river and ate dinner. The dinner was fine and all had a good time. Some complained after dinner about feeling so bad. Well it was the menu mostly. No wonder. You should have seen them eat.

Some from here went to Duren Saturday night to the closing exercises of Miss Oneta Traylor's school, but the cloud and some rain and hail prevented them having the program, so all were disappointed.

Master Bently Clements from the city visited his cousins, the Nickols boys, Saturday night.

Next Monday, the fifth of May, the Workers' Meeting is to meet with this church and we want as many churches represented as can be, and we hope to see Big Valley out. These meetings are wonderful and we would like to make this the best one.

Mesdames Porter and Nickols visited Joe Roberts and family Tuesday.

Mrs. J. O. McClary and Miss Ethel visited Mrs. Joe Roberts in the city Tuesday afternoon.

Earl Hill from Waco and his lady friend, Miss Ohwaite Sandford, visited in the McClary home last week.

Miss Lula Arvin from town visited Miss Elsie McDermott Sunday. In the afternoon they visited Miss Johnnie Belle Circle and all three girls rode around some and finally ended up at the Nickols' tennis court.

Mrs. Almos McGowan visited Mrs. Will Stark last Wednesday afternoon.

Herbert Stark visited Monday afternoon in Austin Whitt's home in the city.

Mrs. Erma Whitt and grandson are visiting her daughter, Mrs. Abijah Stark, and family this week.

Mesdames Porter and Nickols spent last Friday with Miss Besse Hutchings at Center Point. Mrs. Porter visited a few days with Miss Bessie and Mrs. John Edlin.

W. A. Daniel was real sick Saturday afternoon, but at this writing he is better.

Jno. W. Roberts and wife visited in J. M. Traylor's home Sunday afternoon.

There were so many of the neighbors visited in the Daniel home Sunday afternoon I won't attempt to write their names, for I would leave someone out. This community believes in caring for their sick ones.

Will Dennard and wife and Jack Dennard and family from Big Valley, Sam Frizzell and family from town visited in the Daniel home Sunday afternoon.

Last Saturday was J. C. Stark's birthday and Mrs. Stark and children surprised him with a good dinner. They took their dinner to the creek. Austin Cooke and boys were the invited guests. All reported a good time. So Saturday night the young crowd invited themselves over to a surprise party. There were a few went, but we all wish him many more birthdays.

Mrs. Eula Nickols visited Mrs. McNutt one afternoon last week.

Charley Simpson and family from Live Oak spent Sunday with Will Stark and family.

Mrs. Iva Ballard and son spent last Friday night with C. Ballard's family. After supper Landy Ellis and family visited these good people.

The school board at New Hearse have appointed them to teach their school next session.

TRIGGER MOUNTAIN

It is still dry here, but looks threatening this morning. I guess we will get our's if we deserve it.

Sunday school, B. Y. P. U. and a singing in the afternoon filled our Sunday.

Our school closed Friday with a play that night, which was enjoyed very much. All the characters rendered their parts well.

Miss Opal Baber, teacher of the primary grades, presented those who received the greatest number of headmarks in their grade a book. Those who received books were: Milton Vaughn, fourth grade; Jack Singleton, third grade, and Mattie Lou Davis, first grade.

Oscar Lively of Nix, came up Monday and hauled his father's wool to town for him.

Olen Dellis and family of Comanche spent Sunday in the home of his father, T. S. Dellis. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bryant and children of Goldthwaite spent Sunday in the home of R. E. Davis.

There was a party at V. T. Stephens' Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Clint Petty and children and grandmother Petty, enjoyed a joint birthday dinner in the home of J. D. Nix and wife Sunday. Mr. Nix and Miss Opal Petty had a birthday recently.

Several of us went to Duren to the play Saturday night, but it was rained out. A nice shower fell between here and there and made roads quite slippery in places.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hayes went to Indian Gap, Sunday to help her father celebrate his birthday with a nice dinner. All the children were present.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Garner are entertaining a wee young man in their home. They call him Johnnie Herbert and he thinks he'll stay.

MULLIN NEWS
FROM THE ENTERPRISE

The Duren play and closing exercises Thursday and Tuesday nights attracted a large crowd from here and other places. Duren people always are present at their school entertainments and are loyal school people; so seats were at a premium on these two nights. The programs were exceedingly interesting.

Paul Guthrie won first place in high jump at the District Meet in Brownwood and expects to go to Austin Saturday to compete for the State honors.

Miss Sybil Guthrie has been elected by the Priddy Board to again be the superintendent of their good school. She has successfully held this position for a number of years. The faculty was re-elected also. G. R. Willis of Democrat, is one of the faculty and is a fine young teacher making good.

Misses Clemmie and Hazel Hancock were at home to the Sophomore class of Mullin school Friday night. These young people report the gayest party of the season and surely they should be gay and care-free in the 'teens years and school days of this term almost over and fishing fine down on the old creek.

Messrs. and Mesdames S. J. Casey, L. J. Smith, R. H. Patterson and Misses Petsick, Nelson, Guthrie, Burkett and Kirkpatrick were among the ones who attended the Passion Play Sunday in Brownwood.

Misses Mirla Guthrie and Della Tippen have been honored by the Ebony school board. These young ladies have been re-elected as instructors in the Ebony school and the Ebony people are to be congratulated as well as the teachers, for Misses Guthrie and Tippen are faithful, efficient teachers and with their ambition and excellent qualifications inspire their pupils to higher education.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Stebbin recently visited Rev. Clark of Zephyr and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dixon.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

The services of the Church of Christ were all well attended last Sunday. Good large classes in all departments of Bible study Sunday morning and a real large crowd attended the 11 o'clock service. The lesson was well received by all present.

More than twenty of the congregation here attended the afternoon service at Midway at 3 o'clock.

There were 42 young people attended the young people's class Sunday evening. Too much care and time cannot be given to our young people. They should be given every encouragement in every worthy pursuit. All young people are given a hearty welcome to all of our services.

Last week seventy eight attended prayer meeting. This is a real large class indeed. We try to make the lesson just as interesting and profitable as possible. Wednesday night of this week, there were 112 at prayer meeting. We have for some time asked for one hundred in the Wednesday night service. This week we reached our goal with one dozen over. Such co-operation and Christian fellowship is indeed encouraging. We studied the 10th chapter of Acts, in which we have the conversion of Cornelius under consideration. We find in all true conversions the essentials are always the same. Incidentals often differ, but the essentials never. They are always the same. Our Mid-week prayer meeting is one of our most interesting services. Be sure to be with us next Wednesday evening. Acts 11th chapter is the lesson.

We are having an encouraging attendance in the Bible Study each Sunday morning. However, there should be many more in attendance. Remember the Bible Study begins at 10:00 a. m. Preaching at 11:00 a. m. Young People's Class at 7:30 p. m. Preaching at 8:00 p. m. The subject next Sunday morning will be "Christian Progress." I hope each member of the congregation will be present to hear this lesson. I think the subject Sunday evening will be "Seeing Things Alike, or What is it that Divides the People." I here extend a hearty invitation to our friends and neighbors to be with us next Sunday. There is always a hearty welcome for you.

E. S. FITZGERALD

PICNIC

The cast of the opera comique, Miss Cherryblossom, decided to go picnicking last Saturday evening. So having invited a few friends they repaired to the "Old Man River" to "list to nature's teaching."

Some arriving ahead of time went for a fine swim, while the main crowd came about the time the "golden sun sinks in the west."

Soon tables were set up and preparations begun, which were to culminate in the best all around feed that was ever exposed to the ravage of hungry mortals, Messrs. D. Albert Trent and Holland having previously prepared the meat; a sheep and 15 pounds of beef, and imbedded it among hot rocks and Irish potatoes, had it "done to a turn" by seven o'clock. The excavating of this barbecue was an interesting item for those present.

Just as supper was to be served there was considerable weather disturbance, plenty of sprinkle, but no steady down-pour, yet those actors and actresses; stars and prima donnas and understudies, promptors and property men being such seasoned troupers, not only went ahead with the preparations, but accompanied on the guitar by Lester Berry, were soon "Singing in the Rain."

Besides the most juicy barbecue and baked potatoes, the cuisine consisted of a cool green salad, pig sandwiches and iced tea, topping this with sherbert supreme and cake a la excellence.

The next thing in the course of events was a whole kaleidoscope of songs. New songs, old songs; medleys and folk songs, glad songs, sad songs, classic songs, jazz songs, love songs, operatic songs, sentimental songs, antiquated songs and stately songs and rag time. In fact the whole gamut of songs in the memory of all participants. The crickets and frogs, even the night hawk and rain crows, got ashamed and grew silent. The clouds got discouraged and backed off, leaving the big dipper and milky way to gaze solemnly down on this band of singers who "made the welkin ring," as long as the guitar kept on. And who knows but they are down there singing yet!

A GUEST

County Clerk Porter reports no marriage license or application in this week.

Walter Weathers of Houston spent yesterday in the city visiting his mother and other relatives.

The Goldthwaite school board has not yet selected an English teacher, but with that exception the faculty for next term has been completed.

What A Feeling

HEAD in the clouds -- and why not? a new straw hat - light - comfortable - smart - everything to make the sky seem blue - why even the birds seem to sing their approval of PEDIGREE STRAWS.

It's a great feeling to know that "the old straw hat" is more than what she used to be - - - much more!

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

Judge and Mrs. E. B. Anderson visited Brownwood Sunday. Archer Grocery Co., best place to trade after all.

O. H. Yarborough and family witnessed the Passion Play in Brownwood Sunday afternoon.

E. J. Shave was here from Star Saturday, meeting his friends and looking after business matters.

Martin McCasland of the eastern part of the county had business in the big town Monday.

Phone your order for Bill's famous Brick Chili—Bill's Cafe.

Joe, A. Pamer and wife and Mrs. J. W. Kelley were among those who went to Brownwood to see the Passion Play.

Quite a few Goldthwaite people went to Brownwood last week end to see the Passion Play, staged in that city.

R. L. Armstrong and son, Jack Burns, returned Sunday from a visit to Dr. Em Wilson and family in Corpus Christi.

You should see the stylish samples of spring suits Burch is showing.

Mrs. Wilbur Fairman returned Saturday evening from Temple, where she spent several days with her husband at the sanitarium.

Mrs. Annie Little spent Sunday with her daughter, Miss Greta, who is a student in Howard Payne college in Brownwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fairman returned last week end from a visit to the western part of the state, where they have land interests.

When you think of groceries think of Archers.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Galloway made an auto trip to Santo, near Weatherford, for a visit to relatives Saturday and returned home Sunday.

J. S. Livingston came in Saturday from Dayton, where he spent the winter months, and will likely spend the summer in Goldthwaite and in this section.

Be sure to call for Bill's famous Brick Chili. The only original. Bill's Cafe.

Miss Sybil Guthrie, superintendent of Priddy school, and Miss Mirla Guthrie, superintendent of Ebony school, made the Eagle an appreciated call Saturday.

Several from this section attended the closing exercises of the Washboard school last Friday afternoon and then went over to Priddy to attend the High School play that night.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dew went to Blanket Sunday afternoon to attend the funeral of Mr. Carpenter, a son-in-law of the late Mrs. Carrie Whitaker. He had made his home in Blanket for several years.

Don't put your winter clothes away dirty. Have them cleaned by Burch and the material will be preserved.

Mrs. Harrell of Smithville spent last week end with her daughter, Miss Ella Pearl Harrell, who is teacher of Latin in Goldthwaite High school. She left Monday morning for Sonora, to visit another daughter.

Rev. S. D. Lambert and son, Sam, made an auto trip to Temple Saturday to accompany Mrs. Lambert home, she having been there several days with her youngest daughter, who was in the sanitarium. The young lady remained there for a few days longer.

In last week's issue, in referring to John Jones having lived in this county, the Eagle stated he lived at Williams Ranch, but this was a mistake. He lived in the Shaw Bend community first and the family later moved to Goldthwaite.

I have taken the agency for Kuhn Remedy Co. at this place and will keep a stock of Kuhn Acute Muscular rheumatic remedies at my residence. This is the medicine formerly sold by Mr. W. B. Jackson.—Mrs. D. D. Kemper.

DISTRICT COURT

District court will convene in this city next Monday morning, May 5, at 10 o'clock. Three weeks are allotted to the court at this place, but it is not likely half of the time will be re-noun-jury cases, hence no jury quired in the trial of cases. The first week will be devoted to was summoned for that week. Jurors have been summoned for the second and third weeks and the list of grand jurors, given herewith, will appear Monday morning and after organization will devote all the time they deem necessary for the investigation of violations of the law in Mills county.

REMEMBERS OLD FRIENDS

Editor of Eagle:
Inclosed please find Post Office order for $1.50 for one year subscription to your paper, the Goldthwaite Eagle.

Having been raised in Mills county, around Star and Center City, I enjoy reading the Eagle very much, as I see accounts of many of the boys that I was raised with, such as Judge L. E. Patterson, W. L. Burks, the Welsh boys and many others of these old friends of mine.

Having to go to Lawton, Oklahoma, recently I met some old neighbors: Jim Hamilton, Pete Knight and family, Riley Scrivner and family, all of Mator; K. Jones and wife of Roaring Springs and Johnny Street and family of Lubbock.

I would sure appreciate receiving some letters from my old school mates, having not seen many of them for 30 years.

Yours Respectfully,
LON DANLEY
Chief Deputy Sheriff,
Alamogordo, N. M.

KEEP POLITICS OUT

Little notice has been taken of the newspapers of an event which took place on March 31, and which would have been played up in the headlines if "news value" was gauged by significance. On that date Gibb Gilchrist, chief engineer of the State Highway Department, sent a letter to employees of the department warning them against participating in the political campaign during the coming summer, and informing them that the political activity of all employees of the department must be confined to the payment of their poll taxes and casting their votes as their conscience dictates.

When it is considered that something like 40 per cent of the expenditure of the State Government is handled by the highway department, aggregating now about $30,000,000 a year, the importance of keeping the department free from politics becomes apparent at once. For it will be readily recognized that such a large amount of money could be made to provide "patronage" of such extensive character as to place the State Government at the mercy of any man or set of men who controlled and used the highway department. Moreover, in no department of the Government is there greater chance for the wasting or misapplication of the people's money; in no department is it so important that the people shall receive a dollar's worth of value for each dollar expended.—Texas Weekly.

DISPLACE MULES WITH NEW EQUIPMENT

Use of Power Equipment and larger units in many sections of Texas are making it possible for farmers to get along with fewer horses and mules, finds the research department of the National Association of Farm Equipment Manufacturers. During the first three months of 1930, nine carloads of surplus horses and mules were shipped out of Dallas county in the Panhandle, while 56 carloads of farm equipment were delivered at Dalhart to reduce costs of production.

THE SECOND CANAL

The Nicaraguan Canal, that great and somehow alluring project, has recently been under a heavy fire of criticism. Mr. John F. Stevens, the famous engineer of the Panama Canal, has been demolishing it in the latest issue of Foreign Affairs; Panama dispatches have been treating it with derision, and M. Philippe Bunau-Varilla, another great Panamanian, has been observing that there are volcanoes in Nicaragua. It was this argument that settled the business in the debate of thirty years ago. But the War Department, whose engineers are now hacking their way through the jungles along the San Juan River unexpectedly responds with a discreet defense. If there are volcanoes in Nicaragua, there are earthquakes in Panama. The argument from seismic danger, according to Major General Lytle Brown, like that of danger from human enemies, is an argument for two canals instead of one.

On strictly economic grounds there does not, in the light of our present rather imperfect knowledge, appear to be a good case for a second canal at present. But the desirability of having two strings to our bow? Mr. Stevens does not discuss the seismic danger, but he dismisses the argument that we need two canals for reasons of national defense by saying that "if one canal can be put out of commission, so can two." It is a debatable point—so much so, in fact, the debate upon it seldom ends until it has been pushed into the realm of military metaphysics. Are you safer in defending one point which is absolutely vital, or two points either of which can be abandoned? Some strategists would prefer the second task. But at all events the engineers are still in the jungles. Until their surveys and estimates are completed the argument is an argument in the dark. The striking thing is that people are enough interested in the idea to argue it.—New York Herald-Tribune.

CHICK MORTALITY CAN BE KEPT BELOW 10 PER CENT

With the new methods in poultry production there is no reason why chick mortality should not be kept below 10 per cent, says Dr. M. A. Jull, poultry specialist of the United States Department of Agriculture. In certain sections it has been common to regard a 15 to 20 per cent chick mortality as nothing unusual, he says.

Doctor Jull bases his statements on results of experimental work conducted by the department and on results of poultry growers in several states where definite campaigns for reducing chick mortality have been conducted. For the past three years the mortality for chicks up to 4 weeks of age at the department's animal husbandry experiment farm at Beltsville, Mo., has been below 4 per cent.

Keeping chick mortality below 10 per cent is largely a matter of sanitation, according to Doctor Jull. The first thing necessary is to get eggs or chicks from breeding stock that has been tested for bacillary white diarrhea. In the second place, be sure that the incubation of the eggs has been carried out under the most sanitary conditions possible. Then the brooder house should be carefully disinfected and the litter replaced two or three times a week. Clean feed, fed in clean troughs, is another important factor in reducing chick mortality.

HIGHWAY BOND ISSUE

In order to discuss adequately the question of the highway bond issue, let us dispose of the other two questions—that of a state utility commission and that of civil service. All that need be said is that there is no likelihood of either becoming so important an issue in the campaign as to be determining in relation to the result. The rural voters do not care anything about the former and the latter is not a question for which popular enthusiasm can be aroused. What about the highway bond issue, then? The first thing that should be said about it is that it involves an amendment to the Constitution, and the Governor of the state has nothing to do with resolutions submitting such proposed amendments. It is customary for the Governor to sign such resolutions, but his signature is not necessary, except with respect to the appropriation for the election, but few Governors would think of vetoing an appropriation for such an election. In any event, inasmuch as it requires two-thirds of both houses to submit such proposed amendments, any action required could be taken over the Governor's veto. For this reason advocacy of or opposition to a State bond issue for highways by a candidate for Governor is really immaterial, so far as the obtaining or preventing of its submission is concerned, and it is hardly to be thought that two thirds of both houses of the Legislature would regard Governor Moody's re-election as a mandate to submit an amendment. On the other hand his defeat could not be construed as a mandate against its submission. Several of the candidates are making a great point of their opposition to a bond issue, as though they could do anything to prevent the Legislature from submitting an amendment if one of them were elected. Of course, the status of the question of highway bonds will not be affected materially, no matter who is elected Governor. That question lies with the Legislature and with the people.—Texas Weekly.

Nurse Tells How CARDUI Helped Her

Mrs. W. A. Cox, a well-known professional nurse, of Burnside, Ky., writes: "I was in very bad health, and only weighed 110 pounds. I read in the papers about Cardui, and thought I would give it a try-out. After I had taken one bottle, I could see that I was improving. After I had taken it a month or two, I began to gain, and I weigh at present 165, and have weighed that for some time. I am now 55 years old, and can do as much work as the average middle-aged woman can. I would advise any woman, who is weakly and in a run-down condition, to try Cardui, but not to expect one bottle to make her well. I take two or three bottles a year, now, and I feel fine."

Most cars require a heavier grade of oil for warm weather. If you have forgotten to change to the correct Summer grade—do it today. But remember that “any oil” isn’t good enough. You have too much at stake to be satisfied with just “any oil.”

Drain—then refill with the correct grade of Texaco. With this clean, clear, golden motor oil in your crankcase you can rest assured of perfect lubrication. For Texaco is made only from the finest of selected crudes. It is refined and again refined, until it passes the exacting Texaco standards of purity. It is free from gummy residual tars which cause faulty valve action and sticking piston rings. It is free from all hard-carbon-forming elements which mean expensive repairs. The clean, clear, golden color of Texaco is visible evidence of its purity.

Let Texaco help your car give its best performance this Summer. Look for the Texaco Red Star with the Green T. Drain—then refill with Texaco. The Texaco chart tells the dealer the exact grade of Texaco for your car.
