MILLS COUNTY FAIR NEXT WEEK

State and County Election Close At Hand

Widespread Interest In Results

The election is but two weeks off and the candidates and their friends are bestirring themselves for the final windup. This campaign is and has been one of the most peculiar in the history of state politics. Notwithstanding the Supreme Court, in a recent decision, obliterated party lines and, in effect, abolished political parties, the candidates are working as hard for endorsement at the polls now as in former years.

Especially is the campaign remarkable as to state candidates, because of the fact that a very few candidates have supporters who are exercised in their interest, most voters being "in the air" as to their choice for state officers.

The county candidates have a pretty good line up on the situation and all have friends who are hoping for their nomination and ultimate election.

It is the duty of all citizens to take part in the election and not only assist in selecting the best men for the places, but share the responsibility in making the selections. It is a duty every citizen owes his government to use his best judgment in selecting officials to have charge of the public business.

AN ANNUAL CLUB LAKE MEETING HELD

New Directors Named Officers Elected

The annual meeting of the shareholders in the Mills County Hunting and Fishing club was held in the district court room Wednesday afternoon, with an unusually large attendance, as there was much interest in changing some of the rules and amending the by-laws, as well as in the election of officers and directors for the ensuing year.

President Walters announced the receipt of a letter by a member of the club from a Santa Fe official, advising against closing the lake to Sunday fishing and this information was taken as final, and no effort was made to enact or maintain the rule against Sunday fishing, which had been enforced by the board of directors to terminate with the convening of the annual meeting.

The rule restricting the number of guests allowed a member was amended so as to not include bathing and picnics, but remains as to hunting and fishing privileges, each member allowed ten guests or heads of families during a club year.

Directors for the next year were elected as follows: W. P. McCullough, J. V. Cokrum, Luther Rudd, Frank Taylor, Albert Tischler, G. H. Frizzell and R. L. Steen, Jr.

The chairman appointed Homer DeWolfe, Dow Hudson and Kelly Saylor as an auditing committee, and they asked for further time to make a report and stated the report would be made to the directors.

The by-laws were amended to provide that where a member died his stock should be used by his widow and minor children only and where he left no widow or the widow died the stock should be held in suspense until its ownership was determined, thereby forbidding the use and privileges of the stock to married children of a deceased stockholder.

The rule restricting the ownership of shares in the Club to Mills county citizens was amended so as to allow twenty-five per cent of the stock to be owned outside of the county.

After the close of the annual meeting the newly elected board of directors organized by electing W. P. McCullough president and R. L. Steen, Jr., secretary.

THE PASSING OF W. K. MARSHALL

Mr. William K. Marshall, aged 51, died at his home in this city Tuesday night at 10:45, after a long illness. His condition had been critical for several months, although he was able to be up and about a part of the time until a few weeks ago.

Mr. Marshall had been a citizen of Goldthwaite for more than twenty years and was held in the highest esteem by everybody. He was universally known as a man of culture and refinement, one of quiet and genteel demeanor, and he drew to himself the respect and confidence of all who came in contact with him in business or in a social way. He was highly educated and well read and it was a satisfaction to be able to talk with him on any subject or submit to him a problem of any magnitude. It can truthfully be said that he was one of the best educated men ever claiming citizenship in this county and, with all, was affable and unostentatious—a refined, Christian gentleman under all circumstances.

Mr. Marshall was a native of Glasgow, Scotland, but migrated to America about twenty-three years ago, making his first stop at Carlton, Hamilton county, where his aunt and other relatives lived. After spending a few months at that place he came to Goldthwaite to be associated with the Eagle and remained with this office for twelve years. During all of that time he was honored for his fidelity to duty and his faithfulness to every charge committed to him. No man was ever more loyal to a business institution with which he was connected and this loyalty continued through the remainder of his life, after he had formed other business connections. The Eagle management knew he could be depended upon and trusted to the utmost limit and the friendship felt for him makes his going a personal sorrow to the Eagle editor and his family, and all of the former employees of the office who were associated with the business while Mr. Marshall was connected with it. This friendship extended to the customers of the paper, for they realized that it was largely due to his splendid ability and attainments that the paper reached the position of benefit to the county and interest to its readers.

Leaving the Eagle about ten years ago, he became associated with the Fairman company, as bookkeeper, which position he held up to the time of his death and his associates in that business feel as keenly his going as does the Eagle family and former employees.

About sixteen years ago Mr. Marshall was married to Miss Kate Fairman of this city and she and their two sons, William Fairman and Frederick Dew Marshall, survive him. He also leaves an aged mother and one sister in Glasgow, one brother in Africa and another brother in Australia, an aunt, Mrs. Carson, and her family of Dublin, Texas, and several cousins and other relatives in this part of the state.

Funeral services were held in the home Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock conducted by Rev. S. D. Lambert, pastor of the Methodist church of this city, as-

BAPTIST MEETING

The revival in progress at the Baptist church continues to hold the interest of large congregations and every service is well attended. Rev. Fuller, who does the preaching, and Mr. Carroll, the song leader, are both able men in their lines of work and Rev. G. C. Ivins, pastor of the church, chose wisely and well when he selected them to assist in this meeting. Members of other congregations and choirs are co-operating to the fullest extent in the meeting and great and lasting will be the results. Many people are being attracted from surrounding communities and the night services especially are largely attended. It is thought the meeting will close Sunday night.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Woman's Missionary Society met at the Methodist church last Monday afternoon at four o'clock. There was a small attendance, on account of sickness, warm weather and some members being out of town. However, our work still goes on, for many sick visits, lunches and flowers sent to sick and shut-ins were reported, also a box of groceries sent to the C. C. Young home at Dallas for dependent old ladies, and a plan to start a market basket to make a small sum during the hot weather, when it is impossible to do much toward keeping our treasury up to the regular standard. Then, too, the splendid financial help rendered by Messdames Sullivan, Yates and Huddleston, in sending some of our young people to the training school at Kerrville for their education in Christian training, is a matter of great pride to the Society.

It is to be hoped that all our members will rally to the help of the society in the good work being done. REPORTER.

assisted by Rev. J. W. Kelley and Rev. G. C. Ivins, and the beautiful tributes by these ministers and the consoling assurance given his bereaved wife and sons were fully justified and merited by his splendid character and blameless life. The pall bearers were selected from the membership of his Sunday school class—the Men's Wesley class—with which organization he had been associated and to whose advancement he had given the benefit of his knowledge of the scriptures and his influence for righteousness all the years of his residence here, and these pall bearers were also his personal friends of long standing. They were Messrs. Joe A. Palmer, Neal Dickerson, O. H. Yarbrough, Claud Dickerson, M. H. Fletcher and R. M. Thompson.

The immense assembly at the home, the long procession to the cemetery and the wonderful display of flowers presented by individuals and organizations all attested to his stalwart character, and the esteem in which he was held by the people, and should be a matter of consolation to his family.

KONJOLA ENDED TWO YEARS OF STOMACH MISERY

Again This New And Different Medicine Shows Why It Has Become Famous

MRS. BERTIE COWAN

Strange, but absolutely true—Konjola, the new and different medicine seems at the very peak of its powers when pitted against the stubborn cases that have held on with bulldog-like tenacity. Take for example, the experience of Mrs. Bertie Cowan, 614 West Second st., Fort Worth, Texas, who says: "For two years the lightest of foods caused misery. At times I had to grab for breath and I belched up bits of undigested food. I took soda constantly. My kidneys gave me trouble too. I had backache and had to rise many times at night. But Konjola ended all this, and today my back is free from pain, my nerves are steady, I sleep soundly and wake up every morning rested and refreshed."

Thus Konjola works, swiftly yet surely. It is strongly recommended, however, that a complete treatment of from six

COMING — THE ROYAL GRAY
SHOWS TO THE MILLS
COUNTY FAIR

The advertising agent of the Royal Gray Shows, is in town
this week making final arrangements for the coming of his shows. He would like to call the attention of the readers of the Eagle, as this is the second time
the show has had the honor of playing this fair, that his shows carry no gambling devices—
nothing that is not within the law. He wants to mention that the show carries 4 up-to-date riding devices, featuring the monster Ferris Wheel, which is 57 feet high and gives you a thrill with each ride. Next, one of the fastest mix-ups that you ever had the pleasure of riding.
Then comes the children's delight, the big Carry-Us-All,
which has three horses abreast,
commonly called the Hobby Horses. It has hundreds of lights and wonderful music as the little ones go galloping by. The miniature train is a delight to young and old alike. This is an added feature since the shows
were here last year.

Then comes the shows. First he introduces Tex Max, who presents Maggie and Jiggs and Jiggs, Jr., together with a new member of the Jiggs family only six weeks old. See this baby with its mother, as she performs.
This show has no equal as an entertaining attraction and appeals to the better class of show goers. All seeking amusement and who want to see the greatest performing monkeys ever shown to the American public, cannot go wrong in seeing this show.

Then comes the Serpent Girl
—a show in a class by itself. Well worth your time to pay a visit.
Mentioning next the athletic arena headed by such men as Bulldog Henry, taking on all-comers and giving you a show equal to that of any of your city wrestling matches.

Next in line is the wonderful show, which is managed by Mr.
Harris. It has many new and novel acts to entertain you and make you feel that you have gotten your money's worth after seeing this show.

We have lots of smaller attractions, each one worthy of your patronage, and will not need introduction after you have seen them.

This show carries thirty concessions that is within the keeping of the Royal Gray Shows—clean. So let's all come to the Fair and make whoopee. We will show you a show that has a million friends. X

AUTOMOBILES AND
THE WORLD WAR

The annual death rate due to the automobile, according to Robert Lamont, Secretary of Commerce, is now close to the total American casualties in the World War.

Fatalities have increased from 12,500 in 1920, to 31,000 in 1929.
And while in 1926 there were 107 deaths for each 100,000 cars in use, last year the rate was 117.

The rising toll has been blamed on such factors as the increased utilization of the average motor car and the high speeds at which it is driven. These have undoubtedly had some effect.
But of far greater importance is the general disregard of traffic regulations and the fact that most of our states are now attempting to control 1930 conditions with 1915 laws.

Only 17 states require examination of drivers. The other 31 allow persons to use the public highways irrespective of their competence and responsibility.
Almost no states have modernized, adequate and rigidly enforced codes. Last year a few cities, such as San Francisco, St. Louis and Chicago, recorded decreases in their automobile accident records through concentrated attention to traffic problems.

That the rising death and injury rate caused by automobiles
is one of the gravest of our national problems goes without saying. It is the opinion of experts that improvement in the situation will only come when every state requires examination of drivers, keeps the reckless and incompetent from using the public highways and rigidly enforces the traffic codes in keeping with modern conditions.

CARD OF THANKS

It is indeed difficult for us to give expression to the full extent of our feelings of thankfulness and gratitude to the people of this community, who were so kind and thoughtful for the comfort and well-being of Mr.
Marshall during his illness, and gave to him every attention that a spirit of helpfulness and neighborliness could dictate or Christian fellowship dictate.
His suffering was made less severe by the ministrations of kind and willing hands and the knowledge of the friendship felt for him and for us must have been consoling to him when he realized that the end of life was approaching. Nothing could make a more lasting tribute than the many good deeds and kind expressions of our neighbors and other friends.
After his death, we were the recipients of so many evidences of sympathy from our friends and were given so many expressions of willingness to share the sorrow with us and life, as far as possible, the overshadowing mantle from us, that we are moved to feelings beyond our power of expression, but we want all those who contributed to his relief and comfort and to our consolation to know that we are profoundly grateful.

In an especial way we want to thank all who took part in contributing the wonderful display of flowers for his bier and his funeral. God Bless you all.

The very first day of the week is an ideal time to write, phone or tell your news items to the editor. The editor has no miraculous way of getting news and obtaining your guest list. A few people seem reluctant to do this, though often, seem to be disappointed later because their guests were not chronicled in the Enterprise, but most of the good people are quite helpful along this line and all are urged to send in their news the day it happens don't wait for tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Keating and children have returned to their home at Norton, after a visit with her sister, Mrs. A. H. Pickens, and at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Garner. While here, they canned a number of cans of peaches and corn. Mr. and Mrs. Keating were especially proud of the corn, as it is not grown out in their county. Mills county is not the richest county in the state, yet it's a mighty fine place to live and has many advantages if we only stop to enumerate and appreciate them.

A CLOSE CALL

Glen Kittle was painfully burned at the thresher at Fred Johnson's farm Thursday night. Glen attempted to light a gas lamp and his overalls had kerosene on them and became ignited from a spark. Glen ran and was caught by Roy Crockett and John Shelton after a short and exciting chase. The blaze was extinguished with dirt and Glen escaped with a few severe burns on his lower limbs and he is yet confined to his room.

A GOOD TEACHER

Experience is such a persistent teacher it sometimes has to kill the student before he learns his lesson. This is a pity because the world thrives on experience, capitalizes experience, progresses on experience and draws dividends from it generation by generation. The biggest trouble with a baby is that it has had no experience. But its parents have had experience, therefore, are under contract to give the babe the benefit of what they have learned. All parents admonish their young not to venture beyond a safe depth before learning to swim. There is a famous story to the effect that an innocentling asked her mother if she might go out to swim. "Yes, my darling daughter—hang your clothes on a hickory limb and don't go near the water." That was maternal conservatism, appropriate and protective. Some critics, of the so-called "debunking" type, have hinted, as sinisterly as their unhallowed minds dictated, that the old lady wished her darling daughter to put on what is called a beach parade in our modern parlance. Nothing could have been farther from that mother's thought. She wished her darling to enjoy the sea breeze, but not get wet, perhaps to get a cold or possibly drown. The very fact that she recommended the hickory limb for a clothes line signifies her sound thinking. A hickory limb is tough and does not break under a strong wind, such as blows by the sea and which she wished her youngling to enjoy. Mamma also may have wished daughter to get a properly distributed sun tan. As for choosing drowning above demotion by an automobile, there is not much to be preferred either way.—State Press in Dallas News.

We give to everyone a special invitation to come and co-operate with us in this meeting. The meeting will be held under the big tabernacle. The little city of Star has many God-loving and God-fearing people, and we are expecting their prayers, in behalf of the lost of that community, to be answered.

MISS McCULLOUGH ENTERTAINED WITH BRIDGE BREAKFAST

Mrs. Hugh E. McCullough was hostess Thursday morning at a bridge breakfast at her home, where colorful decorations of nasturtiums made a pleasant setting for the morning affair. This was given in honor of Miss Mary Florence McCullough of Goldthwaite, who was a guest in the McCullough home.

Tables were arranged for sixteen and at the close of the games it was learned that Mrs. P. M. Mings was high score winner. She was presented with a green refrigerator dish. Low score went to Mrs. T. A. Duncan, who received a green bowl with whip. Miss Charlotte Mings was fortunate in cut, and was the recipient of lovely green salt and peppers. The honoree, Miss McCullough, was given a green antique vase.

The menu consisted of grape fruit juice cocktail with cherries, smothered chicken, rice with gravy, sauted tomatoes cheese biscuits, coffee cake and coffee.—Hico News-Review.

NOTICE TO WATER CUSTOMERS

Several months ago the City instituted the system of prompt collection of all water rents. This applies to all customers and water bills should be paid at the end of each month.

Hereafter, when bills are not paid by the 10th of the succeeding month the water may be cut off and on second notice will be cut off. The customer will then be required to pay all amounts due and $1.00 for turning on again.

For convenience some customers have been paying by the quarter, but in fairness to all, payments must now be made monthly. Notices will, therefore, be sent out to all customers each month.

Make payments at the City Secretary's office, or if convenient, mail check, which will be given prompt attention.

This order passed by the City Council July 7, 1930.
 F. P. BOWMAN, Secretary.

Thin, Pale, Weak

"I HAD been through a bad spell of sickness which left me very weak," says Mrs. Virginia Spruce, of Stapleton, Va. "I was pale and felt lifeless, and my strength did not return. I spent most of my time on the bed. I was very nervous, and the least thing upset me. I did not have strength enough to lift a broom. At times I would have had headaches, which would hurt me until I could hardly see. "Someone asked me why I did not try Cardui. I had read of it, so I thought I would see what it would do for me. It was really remarkable how I came out. My strength returned, and my health was better than it had been in years. I gained in weight about ten pounds. My color was good, and I ceased to suffer from headaches. I have told my friends about Cardui because I was benefited after taking it."

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

Mrs. H. B. Bradley, whose home is a few miles west of the city, is only a friend to the local paper, when she knows a local item of interest she lets the Eagle know. We sincerely appreciate friends like Mrs. Bradley.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Bradberry and Mrs. McCutcheon of Abilene spent the week end here with their daughter and sister, Mrs. Claude Wilson, and family.

Commissioners court will convene for its regular monthly session next Monday. The members of the commissioners court always look carefully after the business of the county and that is one of the reasons that Mills county is in such excellent financial condition.

Mrs. Dick Moore and son, Billie Max, returned to their home in Port Arthur, after spending several days here and at Enery with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Conlee and niece, Miss Irene Conlee, of Jarrell, Mrs. M. F. Wallace and daughter, Mrs. McCullough, and Miss Marie Caulder of Mullin, visited in the home of Mrs. G. N. Johnson in this city last week end. Mrs. Conlee is a sister of Mrs. Wallace and the late H. T. White.

R. F. Swindle of Priddy looked after business matters in this city the first of the week.

LOOK AND LISTEN

That old familiar crossboard sign post posted on the railroad right-of-way at every crossing was good enough in the horse and buggy days. The driver had plenty of time to gaze up and down the track as Dobbin plodded along over the bumpy road. Even though the driver was not alert to an approaching train, his trusty steed would generally sense and signal the danger himself.

Now that same old road and crossing is a stretch of glassy, smooth highway. Your motor purrs quietly and you roll at a speed often in excess of the train itself. The old "Stop, look and listen" crossboard is still there and is probably augmented by a more elaborate signalling device of one sort or another. Down the highway a short distance on your right you have passed the small sign with an "R R X" on it similar to various other signs used along the highway to mark schools, curves, etc. Generally you see these signs. Sometimes you don't but flash across the track—if you are lucky. Then you look back to see if a train "was coming."

Many accidents occur at grade crossings where the railroad company has taken every precaution possible in the way of erecting standard signalling devices. The trains hit an automobile, or just as often an automobile runs into the side of a passing train. The blame is buffeted between the dangerous grade crossing and the carelessness of the motorist.

In this day of fast moving traffic the best of warning devices upon the railroad right-of-way at a crossing too often come upon the driver as a surprise without giving him sufficient time to stop, or look or listen. He can't stop—probably looks after he has passed the danger—and listens to comment from the back seat.

A standardized warning of a size and character that must attract the attention of every driver, placed by the state highway departments at a sufficient distance from grade crossings, could do much to lower the yearly death and accident toll.

POULTRYMEN NEED PROTECTION

In just a few months poultry thieves will be busy in Texas. Last season farmers and poultrymen lost many thousands of dollars in stolen birds. We may expect the same losses another season, for the State of Texas has not found the time or had the inclination to make this form of theft more difficult.

The State of Oklahoma has a new law which requires the purchaser of poultry to keep a record of whom he makes his purchases, a record of the marks or other forms of identification; the number of the ear which delivered the fowls, date of purchase and the address of the seller. This record is open for inspection at all times.

Under this law, it makes it more difficult for thieves to dispose of their dishonestly gotten fowls. It is easy to steal the birds as before, but it is dangerous to sell them, therefore there is less temptation. Texas should have a similar law. The poultry industry is important enough to have every reasonable protection. — Farm and Ranch.

THE PRESS IS THE REMEDY

Optimism among the smaller newspapers is a good business remedy for depression in our country.

Unemployment is not confined to this nation or to any one nation, but is more or less worldwide.

A late statement from the New Orleans Chamber of Commerce declares that industrial and business conditions have reached almost complete normalcy.

The number of jobs is said to be increasing in most of the regions called civilized and wages are still above the ten-year average.

The American press can do much to maintain progress and prosperity. Pessimism in a time of depression is an admission of defeat. America has the resources, both tangible and intangible, with which to meet and solve all problems.

A REASONABLE RULE

The Eagle has been forced to draw a line on the date of news items reported. Some of our friends are so complimentary and feel such confidence in the Eagle that they do not deem it necessary to report socials, weddings, births and other matters of local interest, believing the Eagle has a way of finding out all such things without being told. After waiting two or three weeks to see if the editor "catches" the item, they are kind enough to send it in, even though it is forgotten history. The Eagle appreciates items and communications on subjects of interest to the readers, but to avoid filling the columns with "stale news" a rule has been made that items dating prior to a former issue of the paper will not be published, other than as an advertisement. The Eagle wants news, but does not want history. Those interested in any local happening would do well to report it as soon as it occurs, so as to be sure of its publication.
