Turkey Market For Season Opens Today

Good Prices Expected
A Heavy Crop

The Turkey market opens for the season of 1930-31 today and the prospects are for a heavy offering at fair prices. It is understood that prices will range from 12 to 15 cents and the estimate is for the turkey crop to be about 90 per cent of that of last season.

While the price is not as high as last season, for No. 1 turkeys, it is fairly satisfactory when it is considered that most other commodities are lower this year than last year. It is hoped that the system of grading will also be more satisfactory this year.

The turkey crop of this county will yield fully $100,000 knowing ones say and this amount turned into the channels of trade between this time and Christmas will help business wonderfully.

TURKEY GRADING SCHOOL

A turkey grading school has been secured for Goldthwaite, by the undersigned, to be held Saturday, Nov. 8, under the combined direction of the United States department of agriculture, the Texas state agricultural department and the A. & M. extension service.

Lessons on how to grow a No. 1 turkey will be given by experts. How to grade turkeys at home that the producer may not offer common grades to the trade will be demonstrated.

Poor grade birds should be held until they come to proper quality and weight. More often turkeys sell for higher prices on the Christmas market than the Thanksgiving and still higher in price in January than at Christmas. By all means hold birds until properly fleshed.

The school will open at the court house at 10 o'clock. Grading birds before picking will be demonstrated at the cold storage plant at 2:30 p. m. Remember, Saturday, Nov. 8.

Everybody invited.

County Agent.

JUNIOR CLASS ORGANIZED

On Oct. 31, the Junior class of 1930-31 met and organized. The meeting was held under the supervision of the old sophomore president, Samuel Carrol, until a new president was elected.

New officers were elected and Miss Harrell was elected sponsor. Tessie Swanger was elected president by a large majority, while James Jackson was elected her assistant. Letha Burks and Dorothea Todd were elected secretary-treasurer and reporter, respectively. A committee was appointed by the new president, both for the purpose of nominating a class flower and harmonizing colors, and for nominating a class motto. The class decided on orange and white for their colors and shaster daisies for their flower. And for their motto "Not merely to exist, but to amount to something, is life."

With these conclusions the class adjourned until a next meeting was to be called. Every member left with the determination to line up to their motto and make this year the more successful than any other preceding one. REPORTER.

ARMISTICE TO BE OBSERVED AS HOLIDAY

War Heroes Honored In Celebration

Next Tuesday, Nov. 11, will be observed throughout America and possible the entire civilized world as a holiday, commemorating the cessation of hostilities in the World War. If there is a day on the calendar other than Christmas that should be observed the world over certainly it is Armistice day, not in form only, but with genuine thanksgiving.

Several times some degree of effort has been put forth to combine Armistice and Thanksgiving into one celebration, but little has come of the proposal and likely there will never be such combination—not for many years at least. Regardless of any combination or suggestion, Armistice Day will continue to be observed as a holiday and a time of thanksgiving as long as the horrors of the World War are remembered.

It is fitting indeed that this date should be observed and that the memory of those who represented this nation in the mighty conflict should be honored, and the names of those who made the supreme sacrifice should be held sacred. May the people of America never forget the debt of gratitude they owe to these heroes, both living and dead, and ever be glad to do them honor.

ARMISTICE PROGRAM

Following our regular custom, the Self Culture Club on Friday night, Nov. 7, will observe the day honored by all Nations—Armistice Day—at the school auditorium at 8 o'clock. The public is invited. There will be no admission charged or collection taken.

Program
The Star Spangled Banner.
Invocation—Rev. G. C. Ivins.
Part I—Tableaux depicting scenes from American history.

1. Early associations with the Red Men.
 2. Pilgrims going to church.
 3. Birth of the American flag.
 4. Texas under six flags.
 5. Social life—Virginia Reel and Tap dance.
 6. Spanish America.
 7. Junior High Glee Club.
 8. Reassembly—Tribute to our flag.
- Part II—A play—"To You a Torch."
Benediction—Rev. H. H. Dare.

ART AND CIVIC CLUB

Mrs. C. A. Eacott was a charming hostess to a regular meeting of the Art and Civic club on Friday, Oct. 31. The home was decorated with signs and symbols of the Hallowe'en season, witches riding broomsticks racing around the wall amid wild looking black cats, bats and goblins. Weird lights from chandeliers hooded in orange and black balloons gave the scene a spooky effect. After an interesting business session, a number of guests came in for an afternoon of the ever popular game of 42. After eight spirited games, covers were laid and a dainty salad course featuring the seasons colors was served by the hostess and Mrs. Al Dickerson. REPORTER.

SCHUBERT CLUB

The first of the program and social meetings of the Schubert club occurred when Mrs. Al Dickerson and Mrs. Claude Eacott, mezzos, entertained with a Hallowe'en party Thursday evening, Oct. 30, at the Eacott home.

The silent, eerie advance of shrouded mystic spirits through the north gate marked the beginning of the festivities. As the ghostly figures entered a dark gloomy cave, each was subjected to a severe test of stamina as well as equilibrium, for as each ghost proceeded through the cavern, suddenly the earth dropped out from under them, and at the same time they were seized by strong hands and bounced up and down. This "running of the gauntlet" was accompanied by a weird oppressive silence with nothing but the outcries of the victims to intimate the terrible turmoil going on in that stygian darkness.

Some were dragged and some were bounced over the bridge of the river Styx by two trolls and those who survived were then eligible to have their fortunes told by an old hag, who assisted by the black imp Dorcas presided over the boiling cauldron.

This company of ghosts was escorted to the house by quite congenial spirits, and upon being unmasked all were back into reality in the living rooms. Here mundane persons vied with one another in showing prowess in several games.

Mr. Littlepage and Mrs. Claude Dickerson proved agile in the sorting and enumeration of sun flower seeds, while the ballroom game, apple contest and permutation controversy were quite intriguing in their originality.

When these games merged into "42" and the guests settled down to steady competition the gathering was rewarded with a musicale, songs being interspersed between games as follows:

- Duet—Misses Rachel Johnson and Ruby Lee Dickerson.
Chorus—Messrs. Paul McCullough, Julian Evans, W. C. Barnett and Raymond Little.
Trio—Mesdames Littlepage, Martin and Miss Myrna Miller.
Solo—Mrs. F. P. Bowman.
Ensemble—Led by Racketeers.
- Our hostesses, assisted by Miss Floyce Aileen Dickerson and Mr. Claude Dickerson, served a very appetizing refreshment plate to the Schubert Club, their husbands and the following guests: Mesdames and Messrs. Walter Fairman, E. D. Stringer, Neil Dickerson, W. C. Barnett, Tom Toland, Misses Floyce Aileen Dickerson, Vivian Campbell, Messrs. Paul McCullough, and Julian Evans.

TREASURE HUNT

The Epworth League certainly enjoyed a treasure hunt Saturday night.

We all met at the church and were given instructions for a treasure hunt. Then we piled in cars and were off, eager to find the treasure.

Forest Jernigan was lucky in finding the hidden treasure.

We then enjoyed chili and crackers, for we were certainly hungry after several hours of tramping.

We are indeed grateful to our host, Mr. Mayfield, and we hope he comes again soon with another treasure hunt.

A TREASURE HUNTER.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

On Friday evening, Oct. 31, from six to nine o'clock, John Osterhout entertained a number of his little friends with a real masquerade Hallowe'en party. The spooks assembled on the lawn, where the weird lights from pumpkins and owls made it great fun to decide who the guests were. Bobbing for apples and stunts in the open caused much merriment. An old witch appeared and called the children into the house, where their fortunes were told. The witch presented each child with a clever noise maker. John assisted by his mother gave each one a tall spook hat as a favor of the evening. These spooks decided to visit some of the homes of the town, so cars driven by Mesdames Rowntree, Palmer and Osterhout took the merry group on their spooking trip. Tired and hungry the children returned to Mrs. Osterhout's, where Mrs. Grant, John's grandmother, assisted by Mrs. McGirk, served a delicious refreshment plate.

The children enjoying this hospitality were: Wanda and Wilda Bledsoe, Mary Louise McGirk, Mark and Bobbie Fairman, Berl Vann and James Roberts, Sam Saylor, Glenn Collier, Edward Eugene Palmer, Edward Dean Dickerson, Harriet and Ellen Allen, Byron Lowrie, June Eve Tyson, Ruth and Mary Ann Rowntree, Liman Saylor, Raymond Ray, James Goodman, John Osterhout. ART AND CIVIC CLUB

In keeping with suggestions made by Mrs. R. F. Lindsay, president of the Texas Federation, the Art and Civic Club will launch their beautification program November 10. The initial step being a clean-up week from November 10 to 15. Every person in Goldthwaite is urged to cooperate in this work to make our town more beautiful.

It is the desire of the club to see about each home a rose garden, a blue bonnet bed and a red bud tree. Every club in town has promised to co-operate with this plan. There will be prizes offered on all rose gardens put out after Nov. 1, 1930. These prizes—fine two year old rose bushes—will be awarded to first, second and third best rose gardens in fall of 1931.

If a sufficient number of people are interested in a fall flower show of roses, chrysanthemums, marigolds, cosmos or any other flower that grows well here we would be glad to sponsor this movement and those interested please notify a member of the Art and Civic club.

In the spring, as is our custom each year, we will have a flower exchange, flower sale, Mothers' Day sale of flowers and contests at school on beautification.

DIRECTORS MEETING

There will be a meeting of the Board of Directors of Mills County Fair Association Monday, Nov. 10, at 2:30 p. m. to elect officers and transact such business as may come before the Board.

T. F. TOLAND, President,
R. L. STEEN, Secretary.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Let all Baptist ladies of Mills county remember that the quarterly meeting of the W. M. U. will be held at Baptist church, Goldthwaite Saturday at 1:30 p. m. All officers are urged to be present, as well as all chairmen of committees to make their reports. This will be an informal meeting. However, it will be a business meeting and we urge all the ladies to attend.

We worshipped with the Methodists last Sunday night to the delight of all. We were given a hearty welcome by the congregation, also by the new pastor. As pastor of the Baptist church and on behalf of the church we extend to Brother Dare and his family a hearty welcome into our midst, and assure him of our co-operation, and appreciation of anything that he shall undertake to do for the advancement of the kingdom of God. We want him to feel that he is not a stranger, but that he is co-worker for the salvation of the lost, and for the promoting of the kingdom of Christ.

Everybody ought to go to church Sunday, remembering that it is the Sunday preceding the 12th anniversary of the signing of the Armistice. We have always had a large congregation on that day, so we are extending now an invitation to all former soldiers to worship with us at 10:45 a. m. We understand that the Self Culture club will render a program at the high school auditorium Friday night as a memorial of this day. Everybody by all means ought to attend this program. From what we can find out it will be one of the best of the season and very appropriate for the occasion. No one has asked me to make this statement, but I am somewhat a privileged character, and so let's all go to the school auditorium Friday night.

Last Sunday found us with a splendid Sunday school and a splendid congregation at the preaching service. We held our standard as to numbers and we are going to continue. The reason we know that we are going on, is our people do not know how to quit. The word "quit" or "slacker" is not in their vocabulary, let alone in their system. Why when people come on Sunday from other towns they just send them on to the Baptist church. We had a number of visitors last Sunday. In fact we have them every Sunday, and they help us, and we appreciate them. Now listen: Those of you who read these lines and live out of town and thinking about coming to Goldthwaite to spend the Sunday, you had better not visit a Baptist home unless you can go to church. Anyway, if you will come to our services once you will come back.

When we get up Sunday we will naturally have the signing of the Armistice in mind, so don't stop until you have reached the Baptist church for Sunday school and preaching. We will get out Sunday at 11:30 a. m. The pastor having an engagement several miles across the country to perform a wedding ceremony will rush the services just a little, but no one will be angry because we will get out just a little earlier. So be on time. Quit on time. Get out on time. Preaching Sunday evening at 7 p. m.

G. C. IVINS, Pastor.

RURAL SCHOOL AID

Judge L. E. Patterson and Mr. L. A. Hollar of the state department of education have spent several days inspecting the schools of the county with a view to adjusting the state aid. On account of some reports being incomplete the allowance to the different schools can not be given this week, but the Eagle is informed the amount will be approximately the same appropriation to the county this year as last, although there may be some changes as to the schools.

The state aid system is operated on the basis of a six and one-half months school in each community employing teachers on the schedule promulgated by the state board.

A one teacher school paying $95 per month to its teacher is supplemented to an amount that will make its school fund total $617.50.

A two-teacher school paying its principal $105 and assistant $85 will need $1,235 to run six and one-half months and this rural aid supplements the local funds to make them reach that amount.

A three teacher school paying its principal $120 and the assistants $85 each must have $1,885 to meet the expense for the required time, hence the aid supplements that local fund to make it reach the necessary amount.

A four teacher school must have $2,567.50 to run the required time, where the principal is paid $130, the primary teacher $95 and other assistants $85. The state aid supplements the local fund to make it reach the required amount.

It is obvious that where the local funds will pay the expenses for the required time there is no state aid allowance. Hence there is no favoritism, but a business proposition figured according to a set schedule.

FOOTBALL NOTES

Last Friday the Eagles took another bite of Armadillo meat. We have the smallest and least experienced team in the district, yet we are the only team able to score on the San Saba boys.

We have played real competition and on the 15th, or tomorrow week, we go to Brady for our next game. The boys are working hard and expect to bring home the bacon and some Bull Dog meat.

The football boys, with one exception who is evidently a weakling and not good enough to stand the test, unanimously agreed to keep strict training study, conduct themselves as gentlemen on and off the field and maintain the proper attitude toward all things, especially practice and work.

The following boys agreed or rather pledged themselves not to smoke or otherwise violate training rules and maintain passing grades in their studies: Horace Gray, captain; D. K. Simpson, Worth Johnson, Wayne Locklear, Horace McNutt, Woodrow Long, Raymond Bledsoe, James Nickols, Harmon Frazier, Howard Hoover, Shirley Nickols, Roy Hunt, Sterling Kirby, Burton Leverett, Hardy McClary, Lewis Blackburn, and Joe Bill Johnson.

Cancellation of 367 certificates for operation of motor truck lines was ordered on Monday by the Railroad Commission of Texas because of non-payment of the annual tax and for failure to file insurance renewals.

One of the largest oil wells on record came in last week end in Oklahoma City and the floor was uncerber for several days, creating the greatest fire hazard ever known to that city. The blow was finally checked Monday.

The National emergency committee for employment announced that welfare organizations throughout the country were preparing to take care of the jobless, through their community chests, and that the Navy department had decided on construction to cost $3,000,000.

A 2-cents-a-mile fare between East Worth and Big Spring on the Texas Pacific railroad went into effect Saturday and will continue sixty days, as an experiment. If it proves beneficial other railroads are said to have applications in waiting for the railroad commission's decision.

A hearing will be given before the plant quarantine and control administration of the United States Department of Agriculture the morning of Nov. 14, to determine whether the Federal quarantine on account of the phony peach disease shall be extended to Texas and other states.

The proposal of the state prison commission to buy a printing plant and have all state printing done inside the walls is meeting with stubborn resistance from the allied printing trades. It is claimed by those opposing the move that the constitution does not permit of such an undertaking. At any rate, the matter will likely be carried thru the courts before the plant is installed, if it is ever installed.

For the third time in two years Will Fritts heard a verdict of death rendered against him at Clairmont, Kent county, where he was tried on a charge of venue for killing D. W. Hampton in Haskell county. Juries in Haskell and Jones county had assessed the supreme penalty, but the court of appeals reversed the finding. Fritts is also under sentence for the murder of Hamilton's 17-year-old son, in October 1928.

A committee of city school superintendents meeting in Austin Friday planned court proceedings to resist and test the constitutionality of the law requiring independent school districts to pay their share on a per capita basis of the county superintendent's salary. Should the courts hold the act constitutional it is planned to ask the Legislature to repeal it. Some forty school superintendents out of sympathy with the movement have suggested that the law be amended so the county superintendent will be paid from the general fund and not out of either state, county or local school funds.

KONJOLA VERY MEDICINE THAT FIT THIS CASE

Amarillo Lady Rejoices Over Results Obtained from New And Different Compound

MRS. ETTA STANLEY

"For twenty years I tried to free myself of stomach trouble, constipation, kidney and liver trouble, said Mrs. Etta Stanley, 1220 West Fifth Street, Amarillo. "Even specially prepared foods did not digest. Gases formed and bloating pains resulted. My kidneys were so weak that night risings were frequent. I had dull pains across my back. Neuritis gripped me and I became almost helpless at times and suffered untold agony from piercing pains.

"Konjola seemed to just fit my case. Soon after starting the treatment I began to feel better. Now, after finishing the treatment, I feel like another person. Food digests as it should and I feel better than in years. The pains of neuritis are rapidly leaving me. My kidneys have been strengthened and function properly. I am gaining in weight and strength."

It is the same glad story whenever Konjola is given a real test. Try this medicine for ailments of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness.

Konjola is sold in Goldthwaite, Texas, at Hudson Bros. Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns

POULTRY PAYS

Proportionately, the raising of poultry has brought more profit this year than most other farm operations—and this in spite of the low prices generally prevailing, according to reports emanating from the Middle Western states. As a consequence, farmers of the central portion of the country are planning to pay more attention to their flocks than ever before.

They are being advised by poultry authorities not to be frightened by the present season of low prices. They are being urged not to do as generally has been done in the past—stock up heavily after a good season and turn loose of every thing after a season of low prices, such as the present.

A government bulletin states that "extreme reduction does not appear to be necessary" and means that it might be "a mistake to reduce poultry numbers radically now."

Flock owners are being informed that the best way to cut down flocks for the fall and winter is to cull out rigidly all "boarders," or non-producers. It is pointed out that there is no such thing as a poor poultry season when birds of real laying ability are retained and fed, housed and cared for in the proper manner.

The authorities declare that one sure way of realizing a profit from farm poultry is to increase the egg production of the entire flock. By obtaining good stock in the spring to replace the old hens, the productivity of the entire flock can be raised.

Hatcheries themselves furnish the quick and logical method of building up the farm flock to a profitable egg-production level, particularly since the leading ones of the country are organized under the slogan "Hatchery chicks for greater profits," to insure better flocks and square dealing.

Higher egg production per hen, and, at the proper time, increased size of farm flocks offer solution of the farm poultry problem, regardless of prices.

TOWN GRAVE-DIGGERS

In nearly every community may be found quite a number of persons, who consider themselves leading citizens, but who in truth are helping to dig a grave for their town.

They do it through their failure to support the institutions which make the town what it is. They do it by sending away for merchandise, which might be bought with equal advantage at home. They do it frequently through thoughtlessness, but oftener through sheer disregard for the welfare of the community of which they are a part.

The doctrine of buying at home is not advanced solely in the interest of individual merchants. It is advocated because every citizen of a town is to a certain extent dependent upon every other citizen for his own prosperity. Business men are sometimes as greatly at fault as anyone else in the matter of out-of-town trading.

If the shoe dealer sends away for his automobile tires, and the automobile man sends away for his furniture, and the furniture man sends away for his clothing, and so on, how can they expect to build local prosperity?

All the fine talk about civic pride that we may indulge in will never make a town, so long as the life blood of the community—the cold cash—is spent elsewhere.

A man may make boosting speeches until he is black in the face, but unless he spends his money where he makes it he is a home-town grave-digger.

INDUSTRY SPREADS OUT

Instead of further concentrating in the larger cities, the present tendency of industrial plants is toward the smaller towns, according to a recent magazine writer, who considers this one of the most far-reaching movements of recent years.

Some of the reasons for this decentralization of industry is given, among them being the bringing of factories closer to the raw materials and the ultimate consumer, thus reducing transportation charges; the extension of cheap electric service to the smaller cities and towns; lower living costs and better surroundings for employees, and in many cases a more intelligent and more dependable labor supply.

Summing up the results which this movement will bring about, the writer says that from now on we may expect to see a marked movement toward these smaller cities and towns, instead of having vast populations necessary for large production herded together in a few big cities.

This trend of industry affords the small town its opportunity to share in the benefits of industrial payrolls. Besides, the industrial workers create a better market for farm produce. This industry and agriculture may go hand in hand in the upbuilding of those communities which take advantage of their opportunities in this direction.

RETAIL CREDIT LOSSES

The statement that $7,500,000 annually is lost in bad accounts by department stores, specialty shops and retail is one that concerns all of us. For naturally the customers who pay their bills must eventually make up, at least to some extent, the losses suffered by business as the result of extending credit where it is not deserved.

The bureau of foreign and domestic commerce declares, as a result of its investigation into the subject, that the indiscriminate extension of credit is responsible for a large number of stores winding up in bankruptcy. In all cases it was found that the number of losses of unsuccessful stores averaged much higher than the losses of successful stores; in the former case the percentage ranged from 8 to 33, while in the latter it ran only from 1 to 26.

Retailers throughout the country are now engaged in an effort to determine whether the all-cash or the credit system is better for their particular business. One school of commercial thought insists that the all-cash plan is better in the long run, while the other is inclined to believe that the credit system pays in spite of the losses. Many people, it is argued by those of the latter school buy things on credit and ultimately pay for them when they would not buy at all were they compelled to pay cash. That is undoubtedly true, as far as it goes. Credit experts are studying the figures in an effort to arrive at some basis of judgment upon which to form correct conclusions. Upon the result of their inquiry depends the eventual decision as to whether business shall continue to extend credit freely and indiscriminately to all who seek it, or whether there shall be material curtailment of credit. Certainly the fact that bad credits are responsible for an annual loss of $7,500,000,000 would argue that the credit method has been followed unwisely and recklessly by many merchants in the desire to take business away from their competitors.

All stores, it should be explained, have credit managers, who are in charge of credit extensions to customers. When credit is asked the customer is usually referred to the credit every year. The Department of Commerce, in its survey of 23,779 retail establishments, finds losses on credit accounts amounting to a large percentage of business done.

In recent years tradesmen have got into the habit of extending credit to almost anyone asking for it. They are beginning to realize that this policy, temporarily advantageous, is a highly dangerous one, and they are now debating among themselves ways and means of

THERE'LL BE NO REGRETS

GOOD GIVERS

Those blessed with abundance will be blest more abundantly if they give to the worthy in an abundant manner. They may not have their riches increased thereby. It is not a fact that those who give to good works are materially rewarded in proportion to their giving. One can begin rich, give himself poor and stay poor as long as he lives, as regards money. But in giving worthily and willingly one does win to himself a satisfaction such as mere cash does not supply. To give all and save nothing is not intelligent. But to give some and save enough to keep oneself from competing with the others who need charity is wise. If there were no reserves of wealth there would be multiplied and appalling poverty. In England, more than two million people are being supported by the government through doles. The doles come out of taxation, and the taxation is laid upon those who have incomes. Without the incomes there would be no taxes. Without the taxes there would be no doles. It is inevitable that in any condition of society some will have more than others. Russia has sought to change the inevitable by dictation. In that country a few have sufficiency, the great majority insufficiency, although none have vast possessions. The Russian hope is that through some political alchemy, applied to production and distribution, all eventually will have comfort and none suffer penury. It is a worthy hope, but takes too little account of human nature. Men in neither small nor large groups have ever been willing to share and share alike. Given comfort, some will strive for luxury. Denied luxury and liberty, they will contribute less of talent or labor to the whole group. Men are that way and theory does not blind them to condition.—State Press in Dallas News.

THINGS IN GENERAL

Some people look good in almost everything they eat.

They say Byrd came home broke. Must have been a vacation instead of an expedition he was on.

One way to stop over-production of wheat would be to establish a Tad Pole golf course on each farm.

A few old settlers in Chicago can still remember when the big fire did not come from machine guns.

Some fellows are strong for personal liberty—they want to put all the sulphuric acid into solution and drink it up.

There should be a law compelling them to build apartments over filling stations. People must have some place to live.

No matter how much the average woman consults the dictionary, she never learns the meaning of the word "expenses."

The dollar is said to go further this year in the purchase of a dress, so the skirts must be getting shorter.

When you are single you may not think very seriously of marriage, but you won't be married long before you'll be thinking seriously.

The people who spend their time playing Pee-wee golf and talking hard times might better start Pee-wee gardens and grow something to eat.

In Detroit men out of work are solving their unemployment problems by marrying women with jobs. Now they'll have some real problems to worry with.

According to the findings of the National Teacher Training Survey there is an excess supply of teachers, but there is no excess supply of capable teachers.

When we look at some of the people who claim their ancestors came over on the Mayflower, it seems too bad the immigration restrictions were not instituted sooner.

It was the demonstration by the Post Office Department through the air mail service that private capital was brought to realize that there were great possibilities for the airplane in the field of commerce.

Wet and dry organizations naturally disagree on the effects of the recent primaries, but whatever the real facts as to gains and losses, it has been demonstrated that this is a poor year for fence-straddlers.

About a month ago, this county witnessed the beginning of a noble experiment in aeronautics—the opening of hourly air passenger service between Washington and New York. During the first 17 days the new line carried 2,601 passengers, a total of 66,300 miles, more passengers than any other air line in the world, an average of 153 daily.

CARD OF THANKS

We are grateful beyond expression for the great kindness shown us by the people of Goldthwaite, Rock Springs and other communities upon the occasion of the funeral of our beloved wife and mother. We knew we had friends who would sympathize with us and show us kindness, but we were not prepared for this exhibition of kindness and sympathy and were overcome by it. Be sure, dear friends, we will ever hold you in loving remembrance for all you did and said and we are specially thankful for the beautiful flowers sent in as a loving tribute to a memory we hold so sacred. May you in your hours of sorrow find such friends as we found.

HAMILTON

Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Moore of Star, were business visitors in Hamilton last Monday.

There were 7,729 bales of cotton, counting round bales as half bales, ginned in Hamilton county from the crop of 1930, prior to Oct. 18, 1930.—Record.

PAPERS REFLECT TOWN

It is recognized that a town may be rather accurately judged so far as its progressiveness is concerned, by the way in which it supports its newspapers. In other words a creditable and prosperous looking newspaper may be safely taken as an indication of a live and enterprising community.

The reason is plain. A live town naturally demands a representative newspaper or news papers, and there will always be found someone to meet the demands. Almost without exception it may be found that a town has just about as good a newspaper as it deserves; sometimes better than it deserves.

In this connection a quotation from an address by James J. O'Shaughnessy, former executive secretary of the American Association of Advertising Agencies, is to the point. In the light of his many years of experience in dealing with newspapers, he says: "I have been widely quoted as saying that the village weekly newspaper is the cornerstone of American journalism. No one has disputed that assertion. Modern communities, large and small, grow and prosper in the wake of their newspapers. If their newspapers are prosperous, retail business prospers and real estate appreciates in value."

WHAT'S NEW

A device has been invented to record brain action, operated by electrodes placed on the tongue, where they are affected by delicate nerves.

In order to avoid annoying persons living along railroads, a locomotive whistle has been invented that concentrates its sound in a beam projected ahead of a train.

The General Electric Company has made the largest shovel in the world, which is operated by electricity and is used in the coal stripping fields.

Maurice Poirier, an inventor of Burbank, Calif., has built a model of a rocket plane, which he hopes will attain a speed of 600 miles an hour.

Operated by an electric motor, a safety razor has been invented that consists of two parallel slotted shearing plates.

A portable apparatus has been invented in Germany for pumping hot air into new buildings to dry them quickly for prompt occupancy.

Black-Draught
For CONSTIPATION
INDIGESTION, BELCHING, BURNING

Mrs. Cora Meahler, of 601 North New Orleans Ave., Sulphur, Ark., writes: "I was so constipated until I was just sick. I could not stand to take strong medicine, so I decided I would take Black-Draught, and I found it to be all right. "I would have such dizzy spells, and such bursting headaches, until I could hardly go. But after taking a few doses of Black-Draught I would feel just fine. DAYLIGHT

The summer solstice leaves no special impression of its arrival or departure; but the vernal and autumnal equinoxes make one aware of the rotation of seasons. When September merges into October and those in the Northern Hemisphere, who have been observing daylight-saving time have set their clocks back to standard reckoning, is interesting to recall some facts relating to hours of daylight which prevail on different parts of the globe.

In the tropics, near the equator, nearly equal hours of day and night obtain the year round. The extremely short twilight, which comes to this locality is proverbial. Kipling's lines picture the dawn coming up like thunder; but generally speaking, in the temperate zone there is nearly an hour from the exact time of sunset until it becomes totally dark. Twilight, the transition period between daylight and darkness, increases in length as one goes north or south of the equator. It has been stated that of the 8,766 hours which make up a year, there are at the equator 4,407 hours daylight, 864 twilight and 3,495 night; while at the poles the proportion changes to 4,450 hours daylight, 2,403 twilight and 1,913 night.

Dwellers in the north temperate zone do not always recall that their autumn means the advent of spring in the Southern Hemisphere. Similarly, accustomed as we are to watch for wonderfully colored sunsets at this time of year in the temperate zone, it is difficult to picture of ourselves the vast veil of darkness that is now descending upon the northern polar regions.

American Business Men Lured by Music To Vacations

Men of Affairs Growing Continental in Travel Tastes, French Line Officer Finds

New York City.—American men are beginning to play, beginning to let business take only a part of their time. This is the belief of Henri Quedeec, commissaire of the S.S. France who takes many pleasure-seeking Americans abroad each year.

"More and more, American business men are taking vacations," he declares. "They take them in winter and in summer, even in spring and fall. After a man has a sufficient competence, and I note that each year younger men must get it for they are traveling, he now starts in to take life easy and see the world. In the past, few men went voyaging for pleasure. That was only for women and children."

"I think the fact that music has become such an integral part of American life is largely responsible for the new power of men to relax. Music has a 'douce far niente' effect on any nation. Constantly singing and dancing to happy, joyous music with tune and lyric telling of Araby, Zanzibar, Hawaii, Bues and what not, one really develops a yen to start on the magic carpet.

"It Happened in Montreux," the waltz ballad I hear everyone humming, is a good example of what I mean. This piece has all the glamour of the old world told in modern idiom."

Monsieur Quedeec is largely responsible for the success of the famous Mediterranean cruises of the S.S. France, of the French line each winter. This fairland cruise takes in all the wonderful parts of the Mediterranean, which America has pictured so often in romances. Quedeec is holder of the croix de guerre and a son of a former doctor-in-chief of the French Navy. He is a large cotton plantation owner in both Martinique and Porto Rico.

LETTER FROM REV. LAMBERT

The many friends of Rev. S. D. Lambert and family are glad to know they are so delightfully situated in their new home at Eagle Lake. His letter to the Eagle is published for the benefit of the friends of the good family:

Goldthwaite Eagle, Goldthwaite, Texas:

Dear Brother Thompson:—Accept my thanks for the kindness shown me in giving me of your space so generously and remember a warm place in our hearts is made warmer at the thoughts of you. We are safely and happily domiciled in our new quarters, one of the best parsonages in the conference. We have a nice brick church, though not room enough for our work. A wonderful audience greeted us Sunday morning and at night.

Give of our love and express our thanks to the many folks who so abundantly showed us courtesies during our sojourn there. I trust you may have a great year under the leadership of Brother Dare.

With love for you all and with memory of you in our prayers, I am
Yours in His service,
S. D. LAMBERT.

P. S.—The family join in sending love.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Anderson have returned from Winters, where they had taken a load of household goods for Aaron Conway.

Neal Dale Wright has been on the sick list this week.

REPORTER

MR. STEWART DEAD

The many friends of Brother J. V. Stewart were deeply grieved when he passed away Sunday morning, Nov. 2.

Brother Stewart was born Feb. 14, 1850, his age being 80 years, 8 months and 18 days at this time of his death. He was married Jan. 20, 1870, and was the father of eight children, four of whom survive him. They are: Mrs. J. W. Smith, Ratler; Mrs. R. J. Maudlin, Donna; Wesley Stewart, Miles; G. T. Stewart, Ratler. He also leaves his wife and a number of grand children and great grand children.

Brother Stewart had been a resident of the neighborhood in which he died for about 30 years having moved here from Llano county. He had been a member of the Methodist church since 1896 and was not only a member, but a man who wanted to do something for his church and his community. The writer often thought of the loyalty of Brother Stewart and his good wife and family when he was their pastor, and has known of the times when the family crossed the river when it was really dangerous to do so in order to attend church. His companion who has been left so lonely will miss him sadly we know, but it is such sweet consolation to know where to find him and to realize it is our privilege to live such a life as he did.

He was laid to rest in the cemetery at Goldthwaite Sunday evening at 5:30 o'clock, after funeral services in the Methodist church conducted by his former pastor, Rev. H. E. Moreland and Rev. Joe Benningfield, assisted by Rev. H. H. Dare, pastor of the Methodist church, and his old time friend, Rev. J. W. Kelley.

The writer extends consolation and sympathy to the bereaved ones and is glad to know they all trust in the same God that Brother Stewart loved and served.
HIS FORMER PASTOR.

CITY ORDINANCE

A city ordinance to be a part of the code of ordinances of the city of Goldthwaite, Texas, regulating the peddling of meats in said city; requiring same to be kept in a sanitary condition; requiring peddler to have certificate as to health from reputable physician; requiring listing with City Secretary of all animals killed or sold; and requiring bond to be filed. Also amending sections 1 and 3 of article 1 of chapter 33 of the code of City Ordinances, specifying the territory on which peddlers may operate, and permitting sale of certain products of Mills county, Texas, and providing penalties. Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Goldthwaite, Texas:

Article 1.

Sec. 1. Every person engaged in the business of selling meats of any kind at retail in the City of Goldthwaite, Texas, as a peddler, or out of wagons or other conveyances, or who peddles meats from house to house, or on the streets of Goldthwaite, shall keep his wagon or other conveyance in which he keeps said meats for sale, in a clean and sanitary condition. The same shall be screened in, and so enclosed as to exclude flies, dust or other foreign substance. The owner or operator thereof, shall clean the same thoroughly, after each day's use and by the use of water, remove all blood, particles of meat, or other substances found therein.

Sec. 2. Every person engaged in the business or occupation of peddling meats of any kind from house to house, on the streets, public square or any other place in the city of Goldthwaite, Texas, shall, before he engages in such occupation, secure from some reputable practicing physician in the city of Goldthwaite, a certificate showing that he is free from any infectious or contagious disease or malady of any kind. Such certificate shall be posted in a conspicuous place on such peddler's vehicle or conveyance, or container of said meats, and shall be kept there while he is engaged in such occupation of peddling meats. Such certificate shall be renewed every six months. And if same shall become mutilated so as not to be plainly read, a new certificate shall be obtained and posted.

Sec. 3. Every person engaged in the business or occupation, or who so engages at any time, of selling meats of any kind from house to house, or peddling the same in the city of Goldthwaite, Texas, shall file with the City Secretary of said city, a complete description of any animal butchered and sold by him in said city, or bought from another after it has been butchered, and sold by him. Such description shall name the kind of animal, its age, sex, color, marks and brands, and the party or parties, from whom same was purchased, and shall be sworn to by said person selling. Said report shall be made before said animal or said meats are sold. A recording fee of 25c shall be charged for filing the same.

Sec. 4. No person shall be permitted to peddle meats in the city of Goldthwaite, Texas, unless same shall have been slaughtered in a clean and sanitary manner. And the sale of meat that has been exposed to dust or flies shall be unlawful.

Sec. 5. Every person engaged in the sale of meats as a peddler in the city of Goldthwaite, Texas, shall first file with the County Clerk of Mills county, the bond required by Article 1451 of the penal code of Texas.

Sec. 6. Any person or persons violating any provisions of this article, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction, shall be punished by fine of not less than $5.00 and not more than $200.00.

Article 2

Sec. 1. Section 1 of Article 1, Chapter 33 of the Code of Ordinances of the city of Goldthwaite, Texas, as the same appears in Volume 1, page 92 of said code of ordinances, shall be amended so that the same shall hereafter read as follows:

"That hereafter it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to Peddle, Sell or Offer for sale any product or commodity in or upon any public street, alley or square within the following described area in the

NEWS NOTES CLIPPED FROM THE MULLIN ENTERPRISE

SENIOR CLASS HONORED BY JUNIOR CLASS WITH A HALLOWE'EN PARTY

The seniors recently won in a contest of the Tattler and the junior class honored them with a Halloween party Friday night at the pretty new home of Mrs. J. L. Burkett, grandmother of Miss Blanche Burkett, one of the juniors.

Pretty decorations were effectively arranged all over the living room and dining room with black cats, and goblins were looking over the social affair. A unique gypsy, who was kept busy telling the fortunes of the gay young people and the future was always to be one of happiness and riches, if they could realize the fact, they are both happy and rich now in health and the red blood and sparkling eyes and rosy cheeks of youth. Every moment were happy, busy ones at this ghost party.

Miss Blanche was assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Arch Hodges and Miss Burkett. The guests traveled through the dark cavern and had a variety of games and contests that were both unique and entertaining.

Mrs. J. M. Scott, the charming sponsor, was present and assisted in making a complete success of this social event.

Refreshments of popcorn, candy, cake and hot chocolate were served to the personnel of the party.

METHODIST CHURCH HOLDS PROGRAM SATURDAY NIGHT

Welcoming home the pastor Rev. T. M. Mitchell, a large group of friends met at the church Saturday night. The following program was rendered:

Reading—Miss Mary Lou Preston.
Piano solo—Miss Marie Rice.
Reading—Miss Carrie Kirkpatrick.
Vocal solo—Miss Nelson.
Presentation of a most generous pouncing to Rev. and Mrs. T. M. Mitchell.
Song—Blest Be the Tie, Benediction.

Misses Jennie Vee Wallace and Hazel Hancock served the people as they arrived at the church Saturday night to delicious hot chocolate and wafers.

SUNDAY SCHOOL HONORED BY L. J. SMITH

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Smith opened the doors of their hospitable home and entertained royally the boys of his Sunday school class Friday night.

A big bonfire was built near by and you would have to be a boy again to know just how much fun they had toasting marshmallows and at the weenie roast. Well, they all had a lovely time and appreciated very much the pleasure extended them by Mr. Smith and his amiable wife on this memorable night when ghosts were walking abroad.

William Pyburn, a good citizen of Pompey was in town Wednesday enjoying the pretty weather and meeting old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Henderson of DeLeon have returned to their home, after a visit with her mother, Mrs. D. V. Childers.

Mrs. Margaret Wilson visited her son, Claude Wilson, and family Wednesday in their new ranch home near Goldthwaite.

Mrs. Carrie McCowan returned to her home in San Saba Wednesday, after a visit here with Mr. and Mrs. Z. T. McCowan.

Mrs. F. E. Lieneweber and son, Francis, visited in Brownwood Saturday and Mr. Lieneweber returned home with them for a week end visit.

G. W. Absher was in town a few days ago and called on the editor. He has many interesting things to relate about his early days in this section.

Mrs. H. S. Casey and children of Brownwood and Mrs. J. S. Chesser made a brief visit with Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Casey Sunday. Mrs. Chesser was accompanying her daughter, Mrs. H. S. Casey, home for a visit.

Rev. and Mrs. Shaw of Howard-Prynt college were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Kemp Sunday. Rev. Shaw preached both Sunday morning and night at the Baptist church to a large crowd of interested people.

Mrs. R. W. Hull of Pendleton is visiting her parents, Rev. and Mrs. L. J. Van, and other relatives here. Mrs. Hull is still wearing her permanent smile for everybody and her old friends are indeed glad to see her.

Two beeves were canned last Wednesday and Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Williams by a very jolly crowd of willing workers. All through the winter excellent food will be at their command on short notice and already prepared for their table.

Mrs. M. C. Kirkpatrick had the following guests from Brownwood Tuesday. Mrs. W. T. Gilmore, Mrs. Travis Gilmore and Mrs. Carson, the wife of a former Mills county physician, Dr. and Mrs. Carson were located at the county seat have a few decades ago and have many friends in this section.

Mr. and Mrs. Z. D. Kemp of Post visited his brother, J. S. Kemp, and family here Sunday. They had been to see her parents, Mr. and Mrs. McNutt in Goldthwaite. Mrs. Kemp is making a long visit with her parents, as they are both quite feeble and probably the oldest couple in the county. He will be 92 years of age Christmas. She is only a few years younger.

The following people from here saw Andy and Amos in Brownwood Tuesday and Tuesday night: W. W. Mosier; Messrs and Mesdames L. L. Wilson, W. S. Kemp, S. J. Casey, J. C. Weston, R. H. Patterson; Mrs. A. G. Weston, Miss Pat Weston, Mrs. Jewel Ivy, Mrs. R. W. Hull, Wilba Kemp, Jack and June Casey; Misses Kirkpatrick, Burkett and Blanche Burkett.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. I. McCurry was most attractive to the sophomore class of young boys and girls Friday night and all had a very jolly party together. Clap in and clap out was enjoyed by them and other contests of fun. Miss Shaw is the sponsor of these young people and was present to help them have a good time. It seems that all the young people in town found plenty of innocent fun here the past week and the sophomores came in for their portion of merriment and innocent fun.

MRS. WESTON ENTERTAINS THURSDAY NIGHT CLUB

Mrs. Weston's lovely new home was a scene of much merriment on the night of Oct. 30. Guests arrived at an early hour. Some in costumes typical of the date celebrated.

The home was elaborately decorated with all the signs and symbols of the time of witches and spooks. Streamers of black and orange were everywhere and about the walls were silhouettes of black cats, owls and everything seemed very "spooky."

Bridge and progressive 42 was enjoyed by all and contests of eating apples hung on strings and chewing a cord brought laughter to all. A visit to the room of wonders caused some to become so frightened they would not enter, but those that failed can never know what they missed. At 10 o'clock they were invited into the dining room and Mrs. Weston being an expert in the culinary art, a most sumptuous supper was served, this too, being carried out in all black and yellow colors. Too soon we had to bid our hostess adieu, declaring this to have been one of the most delightful occasions of the season.

Those present were: Mesdames M. E. Casey, Jewel Ivy, O. E. Rice, J. C. Weston, F. E. Lieneweber, R. H. Patterson, C. C. Hancock, S. J. Casey, W. C. Preston, L. L. Wilson, Forest Weston, S. V. Roberts, W. L. Smith, I. McCurry, W. S. Kemp, H. R. McDonald, L. J. Smith, G. M. Fletcher, L. W. Wigley, C. L. Sammy and Mrs. J. B. Carmichael of Cameron, Texas. Misses Shaw, Nelson, Fisher, Hancock, Kemp, Smith and Elizabeth and Mildred Mills and Lindsey. REPORTER.

Miss Mary Kemp and Billie Joe Chancellor expect to go to Graham in a few days to visit her sister, Mrs. G. E. Hutchings, and husband.

Mrs. J. B. Applewhite is convalescing from a recent illness of short duration.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Canady of Brownwood were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Canady the past Sunday.

Morgan Black of Pompey was transacting business in this city Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Slack of Abilene were guests of his sister, Mrs. J. E. Ince, and husband last Sunday.

Mrs. Jennie Hallford and family of Bangs have moved to their farm at Williams Ranch.

ROCK SPRINGS

Sunday was a cloudy day, but we had Sunday school and Brother J. R. Davis preached at eleven and we had our B. Y. P. U. Sunday night.

Several from here attended Grandfather Stewart's funeral at Goldthwaite Sunday afternoon. We extend our deepest sympathy to Mrs. Stewart and children.

Last Wednesday the message came from Dallas telling us that our friend and schoolmate, Mrs. W. W. Fowler had passed away. Mrs. Fowler has been in very bad health since March. It is sad to give up our loved ones—one whom we have known so long. Those who knew Mrs. Fowler loved her. She was a good wife and mother. This community wishes to extend our sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Jno. W. Roberts in the loss of their sister. May God's richest blessings rest upon them is our prayer.

J. O. Stark and wife visited their son and family in Center Point and Mr. and Mrs. Roberts Sunday afternoon.

Brother J. R. Davis ate dinner Saturday with E. W. McNutt, spent Saturday night in the McGowan home and ate dinner with Austin Cooke Sunday.

Mrs. Eula Nickols and boys visited Woody Traylor and family Saturday night.

Joe Davis and family visited with Miss Florence Stark Sunday afternoon.

Marvin Robertson and family from Big Valley attended church Sunday and they ate dinner with Woody Traylor and family. In the afternoon Mrs. Traylor and children joined them and they visited J. F. Davis and wife.

Sunday, Misses Waldine and Bernice Traylor enjoyed a birthday dinner, which was prepared by Mrs. Ellis and Fay for Waldine. I know the dinner was fine, for I have been in this home to birthday dinners myself.

J. T. Brown and mother from Burkett visited in the McClary home last week.

J. T. Robertson and wife visited in the Lasley home Sunday afternoon.

Fred McClary from Dumas, Texas, is visiting his father.

J. T. Stark from Rising Star visited his parents and friends a short time Sunday evening.

Hardy McClary and the two McDermott boys sat until bed time one night last week in the McClary home.

Miss Oleta Daniel spent the week end at home. She went back to her school Monday morning.

Mrs. L. B. Porter, who has been visiting in San Antonio, is visiting in the Nickols home.

W. A. Daniel and wife, Mrs. Eula Nickols and Woody Traylor held the election Tuesday.

Jim Traylor had business in town Saturday.

Mrs. J. F. and Joe Davis spent the afternoon Saturday with Mrs. J. T. Robertson.

Walter Weatherly has a man sowing his farm down.

There was a crowd at Frank McDermott's Sunday. Some played tennis and others football.

We heard Marvin Spinks was moving some of his feed this week to Grandmother Westerman's farm, where they will live next year. We welcome them as neighbors.

A BIG SALE

The Star Cash Store advertises a special sale in this issue that should interest the people of that trade territory, for Mr. Jeske has an immense stock of general merchandise and is known as a careful buyer who knows values; therefore, his house is full of merchandise well bought and carefully selected. He has been engaged in business at Star for a long time and has built a reputation for reliability that is known to the people all over that section, hence when he advertises any fact they believe it and are ready to follow his suggestions. The cotton crop in that part of the county has turned out well and the folks over there have money with which to buy goods, which makes it certain that the Big Cash Sale at the Star Cash Store will be a great success.

GINNERS REPORT

The report of the ginner of Mills county of cotton ginned for the 1930 season, shows they ginned more than 3800 bales up to the night of Oct. 31. This makes it reasonably certain that the total for this year's cotton crop in this county will reach 4,000 bales and possibly more. This crop would have been very satisfactory had the price been anything like that expected. However, the outcome has been far better than was expected earlier in the season.

CARD OF THANKS

I desire to express my sincerest thanks to each and every one for their many acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy during the illness and after the death of my sister, Mrs. W. W. Fowler. I am especially grateful to those who prepared the grave and the ladies who aided so generously in caring for visiting relatives. May the Lord's richest blessings abide with each one of them.

MRS. JOHN W. ROBERTS.

A TOLERANT PEOPLE

What would happen to the members of an American Syndicate that would go to Russia and participate in a business disturbance as the All-Russian Textile Syndicate has in this country? The Russian Syndicate, a government agency, helped in the reduction of the price of wheat by selling short on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Just as these operations were being called to the attention of the country and the officials of the Chicago Board of Trade by the Secretary of Agriculture, a cable from Russia described how six natives had been lined up before the firing squad and shot for forging bread tickets. Could a syndicate of Americans expect more if they attempted to manipulate prices of foodstuff and depress business in Russia?

Or again, what would occur in France if an American syndicate should attempt such manipulations in that country? In view of the treatment that was accorded William Randolph Hearst for criticizing the policy of the French government, how long would such American syndicates be allowed to stay in that country if it attempted to participate in the manipulation of the prices of any staple food.

We are a tolerant people. Foreign propagandists are permitted to do things here that are not tolerated in other countries.

Waco visited her cousin, Mrs. J. W. Roberts, last week end.

Mrs. Eula Nickols visited in the McClary home Sunday afternoon.

Abbie Hunt from town visited Fred McClary Sunday.

We were disappointed Sunday, as it did not rain and the norther failed to get here too.

BUSY BEE.

It is proposed to "investigate" the action of the Alabama and Coshati Indians in their refusal to occupy the twenty-five new cottages built for them in Polk county with funds appropriated by the Texas Legislature. The Indians found that the cottages were not equipped with fireplaces, which they demand for open fire cooking, being unfamiliar with stoves. No money is available to build chimneys and fireplaces and the cottages may be vacant until the next Legislature provides funds. In the meantime the board will not spend a second $10,000 to build twenty-five new cottages.

Pale and Weak

"I never Cardui is a wonderful medicine, for I improved greatly after taking it," says Mrs. A. W. English, of R. F. D. 4, Roanoke, Va. "When I was just a girl of 13, my mother gave this medicine to me, and it did me a great deal of good. I was weak and run-down. After I had taken Cardui awhile, I felt much better."

"In 1894, my health was poor. I felt nervous, and hadn't enough strength to do my housework. It took all my willpower to keep up. I was pale and weak."

"I got Cardui again and took it. My improvement was wonderful. I can recommend Cardui to others, for my health was so much better after I had taken a course of the Cardui Home Treatment."

A RATIONAL OPTIMISM

It has been said that the liberal man is the man who is going to save the world—not the so-called optimist or the pessimist.

A liberal man is defined as a citizen who has an open mind on every subject until he reaches a conclusion after study of the facts. In other words, he's not the type that "jumps at conclusions."

Optimism has its values, but pessimism has none, which eliminates the pessimist entirely from consideration.

The liberal citizen may be optimistic, but the minute he carries that to the extreme he loses cast as a dependable member of the community who may be expected to provide sane and wise advice on public questions.

Optimism has its limitations. No amount of this intangible something would save a man who jumped into a cage of wild beasts or drives his automobile directly in the path of a speeding train. Such senseless optimism was likely in the mind of him who wrote, "Fools rush in where angels fear to tread."

Admittedly there are occasions when there seems to be no logical reason for optimism as in times of great danger. But even then there is basis for optimism when persons similarly situated have escaped by hoping against hope.

A rational optimism is the thing the world needs most—an optimism that takes into account uncontroverted facts. It is not the kind of optimism that would counsel action only on the basis of sound reasoning.

Too many people obsessed with a blind optimism, are in the middle of the track when the train reaches the crossing, instead of on the other side as they expected.

Will Modern Jazz Music Become Classic of the Future?

Around the corner—And we do the same. The greatest jazz—And with more...

Singers Think Radio Performers Do Not Fully Appreciate Modern Method

New York City.—Will our grandchildren speak in swed tones of our jazz as classics? Lulu Quinn Weyant and Ethel Horton, nationally famous radio performers, think they will.

"I am sure that we here in America do not hold jazz any more lightly than Germany held Wagner in his youth," declares Lulu Quinn Weyant, who speaks with the knowledge of a music teacher. "There has never been a single innovator or great step in art that the same thing hasn't happened and jazz must be an art or it could never have become the universal language which it has," explains Ethel Horton, pianist of the team. "For the first time in history there is an international music. Not understanding its universal appeal we speak of it lightly and often razz it. Yet we are right in the midst of what is probably the world's greatest forward step, musically."

"True, many of the numbers are trivial, especially novelty songs, but they have their niche in the scheme of artistic development. 'Around the Corner,' new novelty song, is an exception and a distinct contribution. For one thing, it has a new type of lyric which is especially marvelous for singing. It is in the class of 'Pop Goes the Wessel,' which has existed since before the advent of the Pilgrims and which we think of as a real classic. Probably our generations hence will be singing 'Around the Corner.'"

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

Miss Vergie Mae Taylor and her mother were appreciated callers from Center Point Tuesday. Misses Shaw and Nelson, two of the efficient teachers in Mulan school, were appreciated callers at the Eagle office one day this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Randolph expect to go to Glenrose the latter part of the week, to spend a few days for the benefit of their health.

Mrs. J. A. Allen of Buffalo Gap is visiting her son, Harry Allen, and family.

Alfred Randolph of Troy has been in the city this week visiting in the home of his brother, J. H. Randolph.

Friends here of Mr. Tom Pier-son of Hamilton were grieved last Saturday when the announcement of his death reached them. He was about 80 years of age and had been tax assessor of Hamilton county for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Frazier of Brownwood spent the week end with their parents.

Rev. J. R. Davis of Coleman was a pleasant visitor in the home of E. L. Pass and wife Sunday.

W. M. Johnston, Duke Clements, R. V. Littlepage, F. M. Stephens and E. D. Stringer were among the members of the Masonic lodge who attended a meeting of the lodge at Hamilton last Saturday night.

Mrs. J. R. Slack spent part of this week with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Britt Davis.

Mrs. L. C. Jameson of Talpa was a week end visitor in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Gray.

Hoyt Cockrell of Big Valley attended the annual pecan school at John Tarleton college, Stephenville, this week.

Mrs. C. G. Featherston and her daughter were pleasant callers from Live Oak Wednesday.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

On Monday, Nov. 3, the members of the Home Mission Society, M. E. Church, Goldthwaite, met for their regular monthly meeting in the attractive home of Mrs. Dan Westerman on Fisher street.

The president being absent, Mrs. L. R. Conro, vice president, presided.

We first had the business session of the society, followed by the election of officers for the ensuing year. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. R. M. Thompson; vice-president, Mrs. L. R. Conro; recording secretary, Mrs. Lee Berry; treasurer, Mrs. C. H. Ford; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Eli Fairman; superintendent of Voice program, Mrs. Harry Allen; superintendent of Bible study, Mrs. S. P. Sullivan; superintendent of social work, Mrs. H. E. Moreland; agent for the Voice paper, Mrs. Neal Dickerson. Several appointive officers were left until the return of our president.

After all business was attended to we were very agreeably surprised by Mrs. Westerman passing a plate of delicious ice cream and cake. A short time was spent in social intercourse, after which all thanked Mrs. Westerman for her hospitality, wishing she would repeat the same courtesy at some future date.

MEAT PEDDLERS

The attention of meat peddlers in the City of Goldthwaite is called to the city ordinance published in another column of this paper. Also to Articles 1450, and 1451 of the Penal Code of the State of Texas.

Article 1450 provides that every person engaged in the slaughter and sale of animals for market, shall first register with the County Clerk his intention to engage in such business. Failure to do so is punishable by fine of not less than $3.00 nor more than $25.00.

Article 1451 provides that every person engaged in the business of butcher or slaughterer of animals, shall file with the County Clerk of the county in which he resides or engages in such business, a bond as provided by law. Failure to do so, subjects him to a fine of not less than five nor more than $200.00.

THE CITY COUNCIL, Of the City of Goldthwaite, Tex.

CARD OF THANKS

We are indeed grateful for the great kindness and sympathy shown us at the time of the illness, death and funeral of our beloved husband, father and grand father. Our neighbors were so kind and the people of our home community and the surrounding communities, as well as our friends in Goldthwaite tried so hard to lift the burden from our hearts and comfort us that we appreciate them more than ever before. The words of sympathy will never be forgotten and we cannot forget those who brought and sent the beautiful floral offering. May they all be blessed of our Heavenly Father.

If a reasonable number respond to the offer it can be continued for several weeks, but if it does not prove of interest it will be withdrawn in a very short time.

AN ENJOYABLE TIME

The Athens Sunday school class and a number of guests had another most enjoyable time on Oct. 31, when about 90 celebrated Hallowe'en in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Greathouse. The home was decorated with witches, cats, jack o' lanterns and most everything that makes a house look spooky.

On arriving, we were met by a number of ghosts of horrors, which caused a lot of excitement and fun.

The house was called to order by our most appreciated president, Mrs. J. V. Cockrum, and after a brief business session, score cards were passed for the ever fascinating game of 42.

Our hostess, assisted by group number one, served old time ginger bread and coffee. The plate favors proved to be our fortunes, which each read and caused much merriment for the others. After drawing names of our carnation for the Christmas tree, Mr. F. R. Wilson (Doc Static) of Brownwood, gave a humorous monologue on his married life, which was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone present. We hope to have Mr. and Mrs. Wilson with us again real soon.

As the late hours were fast approaching we left, expressing our appreciation for the wonderful time we had and looking forward to our Christmas tree. So let's all be in our places at Sunday school and keep our class going one hundred per cent.

And next to that, about the worst job, to our way of thinking, is trying to get along with a home not lined with sheet rock.

SAD BUT TRUE

Some of the old fellows with whiskers say they can remember the time when girls used to undress to go to bed instead of to parties.
