

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

THIRTY-SEVEN.

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, MARCH 27, 1931.

NUMBER ONE.

YOUTH RELIEF FUNDS NOW OBTAINABLE

Applications Ready For Signatures

Persons desiring to make application for seed and feed loans should advise that the following conditions govern the commitment: The applicant must be appointed to investigate the conditions.

A waiver of lien by the landowner by the mortgage holder, must be secured. No share cropper or minor secure a loan. Loans will be made only to persons who raised a crop last year.

The mortgage must cover the entire crop. The cropping system of applicant must show a balanced system that is feed to maintain livestock and food to support family, as well as a cash crop sufficient to pay the mortgage. Applicant must show the guarantee that it is not possible to secure assistance from any other source.

Funds secured must be spent as designated in application. The loan may be paid in installments and subsequent installments will follow at stated intervals, if expenditure of first payment is shown to be proper.

Budding time is here and it is important that the thousands of buds now on cold storage be set at the proper time and that the work be done right.

Assisting the county agent and Geo. Robertson, J. J. Cockrell, Hoyt Cockrell, L. B. Burnham and other local pecan men will be a number of practical growers from out of the county. C. F. Denney, Comanche, owner of a 100 acre orchard, J. A. Barton, county agent, Comanche, pecan leader; J. T. Kelly, state department of agriculture; Bill Milligan, one gallus farmer, expert and grower from Bend; D. T. Moore, Bend grower and expert.

This meeting should hold interest for all growers. It will not be a convention of speech making, but a school to show correct methods of budding, grafting, topworking, cultivation and pest control. This school affords an opportunity for the growers that will not come again and they should attend. Remember the date, April 3, all day. Enrollment at 1 o'clock. Everything free.

It is indeed a pleasure to note improvements being made in home yards about Goldthwaite, for thereby is progress and prosperity denoted. T. F. Todd has installed a fish pond and other improvements, as have J. Gartman, F. P. Bowman and Dan Westerman has greatly improved the appearance of his yard by the building of decorative spots and M. E. Arch has done a lot of improvement by way of building walks. Many others have doubtless done work along this line, but those mentioned are particularly noticeable.

The Fifth Sunday preachers and Christian workers association will meet with the church of the Nazarene of Goldthwaite Friday night, Saturday and Sunday, March 27, 28, 29. Everyone invited.

Will Hold Pecan School Here Next Friday

Growers Entertained Budding Discussed

An enthusiastic meeting of those interested in the Pecan School, to be held next Friday, April 3, was held yesterday morning and committees were appointed for all details. It is planned to provide dinner for the growers who are in attendance and in the afternoon several classes from the schools of the county are to be there for instruction. Citizens who are not pecan growers, but are interested in the subject are invited to attend the meeting in the afternoon.

PECAN SCHOOL April 3

Plans are being pushed for the big pecan school at Jess Tullios' place April 3.

This location was selected for convenience of Mullin and Star people, as well as the folks who live on the bayou and the Colorado.

Budding time is here and it is important that the thousands of buds now on cold storage be set at the proper time and that the work be done right.

J. A. Palmer, R. L. Steen, Jr., Dow Hudson, E. T. Fairman, W. P. McCullough, Earl Clements, O. H. Yarborough and R. M. Thompson have been named on the committee to work out plans for publicity and to assist Jess Tullios in preparations for the meeting.

Assisting the county agent and Geo. Robertson, J. J. Cockrell, Hoyt Cockrell, L. B. Burnham and other local pecan men will be a number of practical growers from out of the county. C. F. Denney, Comanche, owner of a 100 acre orchard, J. A. Barton, county agent, Comanche, pecan leader; J. T. Kelly, state department of agriculture; Bill Milligan, one gallus farmer, expert and grower from Bend; D. T. Moore, Bend grower and expert.

This meeting should hold interest for all growers. It will not be a convention of speech making, but a school to show correct methods of budding, grafting, topworking, cultivation and pest control. This school affords an opportunity for the growers that will not come again and they should attend. Remember the date, April 3, all day. Enrollment at 1 o'clock. Everything free.

PLEASANT GROVE 4-H CLUB

Tuesday morning, March 3, County Agent W. P. Weaver, met with the students of the school for the purpose of organizing a 4-H club. The following entries were made: Four corn club, three poultry club, three pig club, two grain sorghum. The officers elected were president, L. C. Covington; vice-president, J. D. Benningfield; secretary, Catherine Hall; reporter, Beth Howell. The club meets twice each month for the purpose of discussing matters and methods pertaining to their projects.

The pigs and poultry have been secured and in most cases the crops have been planted. We are planning a very successful year.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

County Clerk Parter reports the issuance of marriage licenses last Saturday to L. B. Burnham, Jr., and Miss Nola E. Miller.

SOME WELL WRITTEN COMMUNICATIONS

BIG VALLEY

There was a fairly good attendance at Sunday school Sunday, notwithstanding some of the crew went fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Sykes and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Robertson visited at J. J. Cockrell's Sunday.

Mrs. Jack Attaway and Mrs. John Jackson were in San Saba Monday.

R. E. Bass, James Youngblood, C. Lagu West of Hamilton were fishing at the Cockrell shoal last week.

Mrs. F. L. Hartman is numbered among the sick. Mrs. Harry Oglesby and Noma Lee Webb were busy Saturday taking the school census.

We are glad to report that Aline Johnson won first place in rural school essay contest in the Interscholastic Meet at Goldthwaite Saturday. Big Valley is always on the map.

Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Long and Mrs. Jack Attaway visited in San Saba county Sunday.

Jack Attaway attended Sunday school at Big Valley Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Cockrell enjoyed a radio sermon at H. A. Syke's Sunday night.

B. Y. P. U. is progressing nicely. Grandmother Gilentine and Mrs. J. C. Morgan are on the sick list.

The outlook for a fruit crop is encouraging.

SCALLOON

Everyone is busy plowing and finishing their corn planting. We had another good rain Thursday evening.

Earl Malone and family of Del Rio visited in the home of Mrs. Cora Ford several days last week. Several from here attended the funeral of Mrs. Ivy of Lometa.

The Ford boys, Fields Hines and Marvin Laughlin attended the County Meet at Goldthwaite Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Tom Hale and Mrs. Cora Ford and son, dined with Mr. and Mrs. Winter Stevenson Sunday. In the afternoon they called on Mrs. Eckert.

Misses Freda and Gretha Hines spent the week end with home folks.

Marvin Laughlin spent Saturday night with Fleming Ford.

Hick Bloodso spent several days in Fort Worth with relatives and attended the fat stock show.

Dolf Mimms is visiting with the Laughlin family.

Albert Hereford and wife spent Sunday with R. D. Evans and family.

LAKE MERRITT

We had a very pretty Sunday. Some took advantage by visiting and going to church.

Mrs. J. M. Baker attended church at Goldthwaite Sunday.

Those who dined in the Leverett home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Willis Booker and family, Gladys Brown, Tom Fuller and Mrs. J. M. Baker. Those who called in the afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Charley Booker.

My! How proud we are of our boys and girls who carried off places at the County Meet. Especially were we proud of Virgil Geeslin and T. J. Booker for winning first place in Declamation.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Brown dined in the Bramlett home Sunday.

Those who called in the Booker home Saturday night were: Mr. Booker's sister and three children: Mr. and Mrs. White and children, from Fluvanna. Luke Booker and Pauline from Goldthwaite, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Leverett, Mr. and Mrs. Waddell, Ramsey and Felton and Gladys Brown.

Mrs. J. M. Baker sat until bed time with Mr. and Mrs. Will Fickle Saturday night.

Frank Booker, Milton Huling and Joe White spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Leverett.

Little Lita Ray Bishop came to make her home with her proud parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Bishop, last Thursday morning.

Milton Collier and family, Mrs. J. A. Perry, Sherman and Gladys Perry were callers in the Stark home Sunday.

Walter Conner and family spent Sunday with Jack Huffman and family.

Mrs. Ray Hammond visited in Garl Perry home while Sunday.

Joe Spinks made Ben Shields a call Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Will Spinks and daughters made Mrs. Jennie Hallford a pleasant call Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. J. D. Fallon visited Mrs. Ed Davis Tuesday afternoon.

The school is working on their program, which they plan to present sometime next week.

BLUE BELL

Sunday was another one of those beautiful sunny days. Everything seemed to be happy.

The farmers are busy working in their fields. Some are planting corn and some are planting maize and other small seeds. Everything looks favorable for a wonderful crop this year of 1931.

Bill Cody has been on the sick list for the last few days.

Willis Neal, who is going to school at Indian Gap, spent the week end at home. His cousin, Erna Roberts, accompanied him home.

Several from here enjoyed a dance at Mrs. T. J. Hardcastle's Wednesday night.

Red Barrington gave a party Saturday night.

BAPTIST CHURCH

We have just learned where, when and why card playing came into existence. In France about the year 1390. The occasion that brought it about was due to Charles VI, king of France, who was subject to fits of melancholy.

Doubtless this was good diversion for the king, but we have our doubts about him playing cards on Sunday night when the church bells were ringing, calling people to the house of God to worship.

The county contests are over and many boys and girls are happy because they won for themselves and schools honor.

While there are some who got defeated, and we would have them to remember that, "If you don't at first succeed, try, try again."

Remember that all of us can glory over victory while it takes the best in us to admit defeat.

Boys and girls we have always heard that it is a long lane that never turns. So let's try it over. We will win, if we don't get a medal. Irk Black and wife ought to be happy. They have five children in their home and four of them won honors and the reason the other one did not win, she was not old enough to enter the contests.

We had dinner (not lunch) in the Haynes Harrison home Sunday. Haynes knows how to get "Athens" to Snuday school and knows how to teach them after he gets them there, but we doubt if he knows how to select and prepare a dinner such as we had Sunday. So we are giving the credit to the one to whom it rightly belongs, and that is the lady of the house.

Several motored over to Lometa Sunday afternoon to an ordination service, when two young men were set apart as deacons of the Baptist church.

One of these young men is well known in our own town, being the grandson of our fellow townsman, J. D. D. Berry. Judge Anderson was unexpectedly called on to deliver the charge to these young men, and we have heard several charges delivered not only to deacons, but also to ministers, and we confess that we have never heard one equal to this one. Many who were present paid the same tribute to the address he made.

Last Sunday was a very good Baptist day, if we did have a number of regular attendants out. Some were ill, others went to see their wife's kinsfolks, while others just stayed away. Doesn't make any difference why you were absent, we missed you and we want you to know it. Had all of you been present we would have had three hundred.

We only lacked about thirty. Now listen Baptist. We are going to need you Sunday. Let's just accidentally have three hundred provided everything is normal.

Get busy right now, use your phone, go see someone who has no Sunday school home, ask them to visit our school and if they won't come to the church send them to the Melba theatre.

We have the finest bunch of young men to be found in our class every Sunday morning. Remember, however, we do not want any one who is a regular member of any Sunday school. We want every boy and man who has been attending to be present Sunday and want you to bring a friend.

When you read these notes this Man Kerby of Pottsville visited his son, Ira, Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Hightower's father, Mr. Denman, is staying with her again this week.

On Thursday night, March 26, there will be a program at Mount Olive. Everyone come. We will be glad to have your company.

REPORTER.

ENROLL SCHOLASTIC

Parents and others having charge of children within the scholastic age are urged to see that they are properly enumerated for school before the end of this month. In Goldthwaite they should call at F. P. Bowman's office or phone Mrs. Bowman and make the report of the names, ages and other particulars regarding children of the school age. To fail to do this will deprive the school of the apportionment for the child. In every school district in the county there should be special care to see that the children are enumerated. If the census enumerator does not call the parent or custodian of children of school age should call on the enumerator or some member of the school board and make such report. It is just that much money lost to the school and the term will be shortened where the full enrollment is not made.

BRIDGE PARTY

Springtime was suggested in the decorations and table appointments at the bridge party Mrs. Walter Fairman gave Friday afternoon. After several spirited games of bridge, high honors went to Mrs. G. H. Frizell, who was presented with a modernistic designed luncheon dish. Mrs. Fred Martin received a black glass compact and cut, blue and gold candles and holders, went to Mrs. C. A. Eacott.

A delicious salad course was served to the following: Messdames Mark Fairman, O. H. Yarborough, Fred Martin, G. H. Frizell, C. A. Eacott, Foster Brim, Marvin Hodges, Bob Steen, Jr., Frank Taylor, Haynes Harrison, Earl Sunny, Kelly Saylor, Carl Keese, D. A. Trent, C. M. Burch, Tom Toalnd, J. J. Osterhout and Misses Adeline Little, Lucille Conro and Frances Page.

A GUEST.

MERRY WIVES CLUB

Mrs. Walter Fairman was hostess to the Merry Wives Club Tuesday afternoon. High honors in bridge went to the hostess and Mrs. C. A. Eacott was high for guest.

A sewing novelty was put on each table and after refreshments were served, each one drew for it. In this, Mrs. D. A. Trent, Mrs. Mark Fairman and Mrs. Mayfield were lucky.

A LIBERAL COMMUNITY

A card of thanks published in this issue tells of the liberality of the people of Star, who sent a contribution to Mr. and Mrs. Guice of Meadville, Miss., upon learning of the destruction of their home by fire. Mrs. Guice, nee Vada Lee Roe, was reared at Star. She is a granddaughter of Mrs. S. J. Roe, formerly of Star and now of Mullin.

Methodist meeting will be in full blast. Now Mr. Baptist, your pastor wants you to attend. It will do you good to hear some good preaching and these Methodists tell me they have one of the best, in the person of their pastor. That is the way we like to hear people talk about their pastor. It seems to me that we need a little more religion anyway. So let's all work for an old fashioned Methodist revival. It will help you and it will help me. So get on the firing line.

We will have no night services of any kind at the Baptist church until the meeting is over, but our regular Sunday morning services will be as usual. Everybody on time Sunday. This means you.

The "raffling" of a house in Houston was stopped by officers when it was learned that 5,000 tickets at $1 each had been sold for the raffle, when the house was only worth $600.

In the interest of economy and to aid the cotton farmers, a resolution has been adopted by the co-eds of Colorado university to wear cotton garments, including stockings, instead of silk.

A farmer of Johnson county this week loaded a truck with 100 bushels of corn and carried it to the drought stricken area of Arkansas, to relieve the suffering among his former neighbors and friends in that section.

The state of Nevada has held a conspicuous place on the front page since the enactment of a statute in that state making gambling legal and reducing the time of residence required in which a divorce may be secured.

Police shot and killed a yeggman in a Houston warehouse Saturday night, when they surprised two men attempting to open a safe. The officers received a tip of the proposed robbery earlier in the night and were in waiting.

Development of a 200-horsepower "vest pocket" motor weighing only fourteen pounds, which is expected to revolutionize long distance ariplane flying, is claimed to have been accomplished by a German expert on liquid gases.

A bandit entered a store in San Antonio Saturday night and shot and killed one man, fighting viciously with two others, when he was finally overcome. When police arrived they found the bandit crying and asking to be shot.

Income tax receipts are so much lower this year than in former years that government officials are alarmed. The prospects for a large treasury deficit cause considerable concern by those in touch with government financial affairs.

The Cotton Consumers' Association of America, composed of cotton growers throughout the South and Agricultural Commissioners in Southern states, formed an auxiliary organization in Atlanta, Ga., Monday to work for increased consumption of cotton.

Two bank bandits robbed a bank in Edna, Kan., Monday and would have made a clean get-away but for a dentist who was located across the street when they came out with the money. He shot and killed both of them. This was the second time the bank had been robbed.

The trial of Will Edmondson of San Saba county at Georgetown, charged with the murder of Fred Bollinger, a neighbor rancher, resulted in an acquittal last Saturday. This was the sixth trial of Edmondson, twice at San Saba, twice at Llano and twice at Georgetown.

With this week commenced spring season the official season of winter having closed last Saturday. It can certainly be said with truth that the past winter was one of the lightest in many years, in this section. At no time was there sufficient freezing to endanger water pipe or radiators, while the "open" weather was mighty fine for stock.

A MAGNIFICENT WORK

The nation's schools, aided by police departments and other organizations, have done a magnificent work in educating children in accident-prevention.

In 1922, according to A. W. Whitney of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, 57,912 adults were killed in accidents in the United States. In 1928, 76,476 were killed—an increase of 32 per cent.

In contrast to this, 18,598 children died through accident in 1922 with a slight increase in the two years following. Since then, the rate has gone steadily downward, with the result that if child deaths had increased at the same rate as adults, 6,000 more children would be killed each year than is now the case.

In other words safety work is now saving the lives of 6,000 children annually.

The query naturally arises as to why adults—who are as susceptible to instruction as children—would show steady increases in the accident rate. Hazards naturally increase as the world grows more complicated—but they increase just as much for children. The reason for the discrepancy is that adults lack the educational environment of children.

Just how the problem will be solved is difficult to say, but Mr. Whitney points out, it is good to recognize its immensity and seriousness. And the pessimism caused by our general accident records is partially alleviated by a survey of the magnificent educational work done among school children—a work that cannot be measured in terms of dollars.

"BURSTING HEADACHES"
Dizzy Spells
Mrs. Cora Mosher, of 601 North New Orleans Ave., Brinkley, Ark., writes: "I was so constipated until I was just sick. I could not stand to take strong medicine, so I decided I would take Black-Draught, and I found it to be all right."
"I would have such dizzy spells, and such bursting headaches, until I could hardly go. But after taking a few doses of Black-Draught I would feel just fine. It is a good medicine, and I recommend it to all who suffer as I did. It is very easy to recommend a medicine that has done so much for me as Black-Draught has done."

THE LAST OF THE LONGHORNS

References to the gradual disappearance of the enormous herds of longhorns once maintained in Texas have turned attention to this striking variety of cattle that played a part of importance in the history of the west.

While a few specimens may be preserved on out-of-the-way ranches, the former millions have been reduced to a known minimum of thirty cattle in the Wichita National forest.

So far as known these longhorns, at an opposite extreme from the British shorthorn variety, were first introduced into Mexico more than 300 years ago from Santo Domingo, where writers of the time had described them as a variety of cattle remarkable for size and rapid growth. They spread north across the Rio Grande and the entire cattle industry of the Southwest was founded on this variety. The annual drive north to frontier towns of Kansas and vicinity is said in some years to have included nearly 500,000 of these great animals. After the introduction of pedigree strains early in the century, chiefly of Hereford stock, their numbers decreased with a rapidity that seems amazing under the circumstances.

Of the aurochs, or wild ox of Europe, a few diminished specimens are preserved in royal parks, but their appearance casts doubt on the purity of their descent. Whether in other parts of the world any of these longhorns are preserved does not seem to be ascertained.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

MORE ROAD FOR LESS MONEY

The organized farmers of the United States have, for several years, been making a drive to obtain good roads for themselves. They have pointed out that at present less than five per cent of farmers have access to roads that can be relied upon at all times of the year and under all conditions.

On the other hand, public expenditures have been increasing alarmingly, and businesses and citizens, including farmers, are seeking ways to curtail governmental expense.

Under modern conditions, two traffic lanes are necessary. The problem is, then, how to get more road for less money. This can be achieved by the use of low cost local materials—topsoil, sand-clay, shale, cinders, crushed stone and so on. It is true that experiments in the past with these materials have not been wholly successful. But in recent years engineers have developed bituminous treatments for such surfaces that prevent dust and mud, reduce wear to the minimum and give smooth, non-skid roadways.

Every community which seeks good roads—and that, it is safe to say, includes a majority of American communities—should investigate the possibilities of scientifically treated, low-cost road materials. Only by using them can full-width, weather-proof, farm-to-market roads be built without inflating the tax rate.

Like Color . . . the best Gasoline is Blended

THE artist stands before his canvas with color-laden palette. Blues, greens, white and touches of warmer tones are blended by his inspired brush as the waves of the seascape take form. His genius tells him that only through the blending of just the right colors is the ideal result achieved. Otherwise his most painstaking effort could only result in a monotone, wholly lacking in brilliance.

Artistry and genius have their place in the making of CONOCO Gasoline. CONOCO engineers long since have found that the ideal gasoline is a balanced blend of the three types containing the elements most desired in a motor fuel. There is highly volatile Natural Gasoline, to give quick starting. There is Straight-run Gasoline, to give power and long mileage. There is Cracked Gasoline with its well-known anti-knock quality.

Like the artist with his colors, CONOCO refiners take these three types of gasoline in balanced proportions and blend them. The result is as pleasing to the car owner as is a Rembrandt to the art connoisseur. Of course the genius of "knowing how" is the vital element and it is here that CONOCO refiners excel.

Convince yourself of the merit of CONOCO Blended Gasoline. Try it today. You will find this triple-test motor fuel wherever you see the CONOCO Red Triangle.

EDUCATIONAL LEAGUE MEET

MEET RESULTS

Scholastic Meet, held last Friday and Saturday attracted a large attendance. Only the pupils of the schools here, but quite a number of the parents and school teachers attended. The atmosphere was excellent, and the weather was better than the weather more promising, but a cold weather both making it unpleasant for those attending or participating in the outdoor events. Everything passed off smoothly and those in charge were well pleased with the results.

SUSPENDED SENTENCE LAW

A bill to further liberalize the application of the suspended sentence has been engrossed by the house at Austin. It provides that offenders against the dry law may be given suspended sentences, regardless of age. At present a defendant over 25 years of age, convicted of dry law violation, cannot claim the benefits of the suspended sentence act.

There is no good reason why a 35-year-old bootlegger should not have the same privilege as a 35-year-old burglar, so far as the suspended sentence is concerned. To that extent the proposed new law is a just one. But most of those who have watched the administration of the suspended sentence law feel that any changes that are made should be in the direction of greater strictness, rather than of greater liberality. There is little sentiment for outright repeal of the law. There is much sentiment for making it a more effective instrument of justice.

There is no very important difference between a suspended sentence and an outright acquittal. The defendant whose sentence is suspended has lost his citizenship, to be sure, but that loss rests lightly upon many offenders. No effort is made to keep track of him, he is not required to report to the court or to give any further account of himself. As all peace officers know, he can and does change his name, so that the record of former conviction becomes difficult to establish, and thus can make for another suspended sentence if he is again indicted in some other county. A defendant had two suspended sentences in two other counties. He asked for another one here, but officers were able to establish his identity.

The suspended sentence law is sound in principle, but sadly defective in its application. We hate to see it made still more liberal.—Wichita Falls Times.

LEVEL HEAD

The American people are the most conservative of all the earth's populations. Their experience during the last year and a half has exhibited them in the most admirable light. The reverse of fortune which thousands of rich men experienced, or men who believed themselves rich, and the millions of earners on the wage basis, who have seen their earnings disappear, and found themselves idle, would have produced the gravest social unrest in any other quarter of the world. What has occurred in South America might have occurred in North America, but for the sound reasonableness and dispassionate viewpoints of our people. There has been less radicalism, less wild disorder, less wild politics in the United States since the economic depression began, than during a like term of more evenly distributed prosperity.

Americans know that demagoguery does not produce, that it only excites. Therefore, there has been almost a dearth of demagoguery, from high and low places. All of us realize deeply that political projects fall short of practical achievement, therefore, politicians offering everything and giving nothing have been less conspicuous in the times of trial than in better times. All this reflects the largest credit on American intelligence, and foreshadows that certain and tangible reconstruction which is now obviously beginning and will in due course restore the industrial equilibrium.—State Press in Dallas News.

NOTICE OF ELECTION

Notice is hereby given that there will be an election within and for the City of Goldthwaite, Texas, on the 7th day of April, 1931, for the purpose of electing three aldermen, to take the place of Joe A. Palmer, Neal Dickerson and W. P. McCullough, whose terms expire this year.

Lewis Hudson is appointed judge of the election. Said election will be held in the court house at Goldthwaite.

Five-Tenths Preventable

Nine-tenths of all the diseases of an American people can be traced directly to constipation, doctors say. Constipation throws into the system poisons which taint and weaken every organ of the body and make them easy victims for any germs which attack them. Prevent constipation and you will avoid nine-tenths of all diseases, with their consequent pain and financial losses. Herbin, the good old vegetable cathartic, will relieve constipation in a natural, easy and pleasant way. For sale by HUDSON EROS DRUGGISTS

NORTH BENNETT

All pupils are working steadily for these last two months of the year's work most really count. They tell whether we have learned the past work. Some work and planting has been done this week in the school garden.

Our teacher, Miss Swim, plans to attend the Heart O' Texas Epworth League Union at Lometa Sunday, where she will take part in the day's program.

Brother Mayfield of Brownwood preached here in the North Bennett Baptist church Saturday, Saturday night and Sunday morning. In the afternoon Sunday, Brother Lewis Sparkman preached at the same church.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Brooks and children spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McNeil.

It has seemed good, indeed, to have Tom Booker at home, after his long illness at Brownwood. M. W. Wright is also up again, after a serious illness. In fact, everyone is well again, and we hope nothing serious will happen to any of us again.

Mrs. Huling of Fluvanna, accompanied by her son, Milton, and two small girls, Lola and Elizabeth, came to her parent's, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Booker, Wednesday of last week. While here they visited with other relatives. On Friday there was a dinner for her at her parent's home. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Geeslin, Willy Booker and little daughter, Louise, Mel Booker and sons, Vance and Raymond, and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Booker and baby. Mrs. Huling and children returned to their home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Head visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Booker Sunday.

Johnny Mason and family are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Booker this week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Geeslin spent Sunday with his brother, C. E. Geeslin of Vista Mountain. Mr. Lee had spent a night with his father, here in the community, one night recently and with two of his brothers hunted rabbits. They killed about twenty rabbits in a short time.

Miss Gertrude Head came Thursday of last week and spent a few days with her sister, Mrs. E. M. Geeslin. She is now visiting another sister, Mrs. J. W. McNeil. Mr. Geeslin met her in Hamilton on Thursday. She had come from Wichita Falls and plans to spend quite awhile in our community.

Mr. Williams and her daughter, Alice, visited Mrs. Tom Head Monday.

There was a musical entertainment at Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Bynum's Friday night. Quite a few went and enjoyed the evening in their home. Music is one of the best expressions of the musician's emotions and feelings and is something that is carried into all types of life for entertainment and for many other purposes. It is something that every home should have, for the right is not only of educational value, but is refining in many ways.

Pearly Ellis from Trigger Mountain visited at Mrs. Ellis' Saturday and Sunday. Vernon Bynum also spent the day there Sunday.

Mrs. Bob Geeslin and Clemmie visited Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Geeslin Saturday night.

Maxine Geeslin, daughter of Mr. Huber Geeslin, was taken to Santa Anna Tuesday morning to have her tonsils removed. We hope she can soon be in school again.

Easter is coming and we are anxious to get the true meaning of the day in our mind. We have been having a Bible story told each Monday morning by one of the pupils. On Monday following Easter we hope to spend some time telling Easter stories and studying the origin of Easter and its true significance to the world. BLUE JAY

Rev. G. C. Ivins has been serving as principal of the Live Oak school this week. Prof. Williams having been suffering with the mumps.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Weathers, Mrs. Will Burks and Miss Grace Denson went to Fort Worth for a visit last Sunday. Miss Mary Alice Weathers and Master Jeff McCain came home with them.

Come to the Art and Civic annual plant and Easter flower sale at Smith-Harrison hat shop April 3 and 4.

W. B. Kemp and wife of Pleasanton were here Wednesday, having come to Mullin to attend the funeral of Mrs. Mary Britton, mother of Mrs. Kemp. They lived in Goldthwaite a good many years ago and are kindly remembered by many friends, who were glad to meet with them again.

For Rent—Bedroom on south and east. Private entrance. Pleasant room for summer.—Mrs. J. D. Sims. 3-27p

Mrs. C. M. Stevens of Corpus Christi was here this week visiting her sister, Mrs. Key Johnson, and family and made the Eagle an appreciated call. As Miss Dora Beshears she had a lot of friends here and prior to her marriage she was employed for a long time in the Eagle office. She was en route home from Fort Worth, where she attended the state convention of the Rebekah lodge, as a delegate from Corpus Christi. She left Tuesday evening for home.

The Eagle has received a card from Jas. E. Laney, announcing the establishing of the Hamilton County News at Hamilton, the first issue to appear next Friday, April 3. Mr. and Mrs. Laney are personal friends of the Eagle editor and the people of Hamilton will find them to be excellent folks. Not only is he a good news paper man, but he is a good citizen and an enthusiastic worker in the church. Mrs. Laney is equally as valuable in social and church affairs and it can truly be said of both of them that the longer you know them the better you like them and the Eagle editor has known them a long time.

MRS. BENNINGFIELD PASSED AWAY

Mrs. J. H. Benningfield, aged 33, died in the sanitarium in Temple Tuesday afternoon at 4:45, after an illness of several weeks, the last one of which was in the sanitarium, where she had been carried with the hope of an operation giving relief, but the specialists decided an operation would be useless. She was given skillful treatment and every care. But her condition continued to grow worse until the end came. Her remains were carried to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lee Berry, from which place the funeral party proceeded to the Pleasant Grove church Wednesday afternoon and after funeral services at that place burial was made in Pleasant Grove cemetery.

Mrs. Benningfield was a resident of Pleasant Grove section for a good many years, having moved with her family to that community from Hill county. A few years ago she moved to this city, where she continued to reside until the time of her death. She was a faithful member of the Methodist church and was held in high esteem by all who knew her. She was twice married and is survived by two sons, Fred and Clifford Jones, and four daughters, Mesdames Henry Featherston, Will Rose, Lee Berry and Miss Ruby Benningfield. She also leaves one sister here, Mrs. C. L. Featherston, as well as a number of grandchildren in this city and county besides relatives elsewhere.

The bereaved relatives have the sympathy of all who know of the death of Mrs. Benningfield.

SCHOOL BRIEFS

It certainly does feel good to be able to lean back in one's seat with the realization that one does not have to go to a Track Meet every day of the year. That does not mean that we are not proud of our achievements last week end. We won a place in practically every event in which we had a contestant. A great many medals were exhibited about the school last Monday.

Little Miss Anna Belle Teifer-teller has been absent from school quite a lot, due to the sickness and death of her grandfather. We have missed Anna Belle and are glad that she will be able to resume her work in school.

The primary room had a pleasant visitor in the person of Miss Zona Lee Perry one day this week.

Prof. Cooke visited in Sidney last Sunday.

Miss Elizabeth Mills was sick several days last week and her sister, Miss Mildred, filled her place during that time.

Misses Rosa and Evie Spinks al-so Lindy Spinks visited school Monday afternoon.

Alva Spinks spent the week end with her brother, Marvin Spinks.

Julia Dee and Johnnie Fallon visited in the McDermott home Sunday afternoon.

Willard Davis spent Saturday night with Jessie Shelton.

Miss Mills—Please tell me, J. C., where shingles were first used?

J. C.—I could, Miss Mills, but I'd rather not.

MR. SHERFIELD DIES

Last Wednesday this community was bowed in grief, because of the death of Mr. J. E. Sherfield. He was buried at the Williams Ranch cemetery. School was dismissed, as a token of respect. A great many of the pupils and all the teachers attended the funeral. Mr. Sherfield was the grand father of Anna Belle Teifer-teller, a pupil in our school. The school extends its sympathies to the bereaved members of the family of the deceased.

ONLY ONE MORE ISSUE

There will be only one more issue of The Pointer for this school year. The staff of this paper has endeavored to make each issue as interesting as possible to the readers. Although the primary purpose of the paper has been to create an interest among the school children, we hope that all the readers of the Eagle have enjoyed our little section. We take this occasion to thank Mr. Thompson for his kindness in publishing our news.

Teacher (to new pupil)—How does it happen that your names is Allen and your mother's name is Brown?

Little lad—Well, you see, it's this way: She married again and I didn't.

ROLL OF HONOR

Arithmetic—Curtis Taylor, Doris Davis, Merlene Stark, Gladys Perry.

Spelling—Curtis Taylor, Ellen Perry, Doris Davis, Grover T. Davis, Viva Delbeck, Gladys Perry and Merlene Stark.

Mr. Cooke asked his class the meaning of the word "furlough."

Gorman held up his hand and said: "It means mule, for it says so in the book."

Mr. Cooke asked for the book and endeavored to find such a definition. He discovered a picture of a soldier mounted on a mule. Under it the following words appeared: "Going home on his furlough."

THE FACE AT THE WINDOW

A humorous drama "The Face at the Window" will be presented at the school building on Friday night, April 3. There will be no admission charges and the general public is invited.

Mr. Cooke—Johnnie, didn't I tell you when someone hit you on the cheek to turn the other for them to hit?

Johnnie (crying)—Y-e-s si-sir, but Willard hit me on the nose and I didn't have another nose to turn for him to hit.

CARD OF THANKS

We are sincerely thankful for the sympathy and kindness of the neighbors and friends who ministered to Mr. J. E. Sherfield during his illness and helped us during his sickness and after his death. We are especially grateful for the beautiful flowers at the house and at the grave.

What You Want—When You Want It.

CHARACTER

Brief Sketch

What are your ideals and thoughts and who are your companions? Or did you ever stop to think what any of these may be worth? I mean a real and high ideal, a worth-while thought, and priceless friendships.

An ideal may be any one of two classes — high or low — which shall your ideal be? Napoleon was a man of selfish ambitions. It was an ambition to conquer, to oppress and suppress the weakest nations. He undoubtedly had a feeling of condensation through ambition. Is your ideal like this conqueror, or is it such that you have to strive and live to the highest and best that is in you to reach that goal?

"As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he."—Bible.

We are real men, or just an empty shell, according to the mental, physical and spiritual influences. The miser hoards, handles and studies his gold coins. His life and soul becomes warped around those shiny, round, hard coins and his very face takes on the yellow, hard glitter of his precious gold pieces. While across from his threshold the busy mother plies her daily task of unselfish serving, thinking first and last of those she loves and the God she knows. Can you ask which has real character?

"I like John. He's always there, and he's straight. How we cherish those associations and contacts with the finer, more noble side of life. These are contacts that are uplifting to the heart and life, uplifting in all its influences. How do they know what we are? We are known by the company we keep and birds of a feather flock together. We don't have to ask what sort your company is, your life tells. Go about daily with uneducated, rough companions, men and women, boys and girls of low ideals, and we know that you have done so by your life.

If we only seek out the best, high and noble company, company of our superiors, we will quite unconsciously absorb some of their splendid qualities. Yes—we should want the feathers of our flock to be as pure and white as the cleanest and purest snow that falls so gently to earth on a still winter day. E.C.S.

DOWN ON THE FARM

O. G. H.

Mrs. A. N. Lee, Mount Olive, kept a complete set of accounts last year, covering income on six cows, 300 white Leghorn hens and one sow. Her combination of cows, sow and hens made an excellent showing as follows:

Net income $1103
Feed costs 788

Net $ 315

This was accomplished in spite of the feed crop failure in 1929 and short pasture and feed crop in 1930, making necessary the buying of nearly all feed for the stock.

Another factor to be considered is that her mountain pasture at best affords little grazing for stock. This handicap was overcome by the growing of Sudan and other temporary pastures for grazing.

Mrs. Lee sold her surplus milk to the Goldthwaite cheese factory, after feeding what was needed to the hens.

The above record does not include labor. However, the profits this unfavorable year was more than $25 a month. This with her well-supplied pantry of more than 1200 quarts of home canned vegetables supplied the living.

Now that we have brighter crop prospects the Lee's are facing the future with optimism and believe that their hardest struggle is behind them.

Deward Reynolds, Caradan, keeps a record on 104 white Leghorn hens and gives these interesting figures for February:

Number of eggs gathered, 2079. Sold for $16 with a commercial feed cost of $7.90, a profit of $8.10. The cost of producing eggs not taking into consideration milk fed and labor was 5 cents a dozen. Notwithstanding the low prices of eggs, Mr. Reynolds says his hens are feeding themselves and the family.

With egg prices at the lowest ebb in many years, during February, Will Black, Pompey Creek, sold 739 dozen from 510 white Leghorn hens for $83.79, with an expense account for commercial feeds of $58.50, leaving a net profit of $25.29, not taking into account milk fed and labor.

These hens made an average of 17 eggs the short month and made a profit over feed costs of

TRIGGER MOUNTAIN

Quite changeable weather are having. One day we had spring. Next day a blizzard and we forget what time of year it really is, but out the way, the grain is a beautiful green and at the back of the field the red buds are profusely and yesterday I assailed by the odor of plums in bloom. The lambs and goats play in warm sunshine. Spring is a beautiful season.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Vaughan and baby of Goldthwaite and J. H. Vaughan and family day.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos B. Campbell and son, Lavonne, and Mrs. Cora Lively and Alvarado came to Mr. and Mrs. Lively's home Sunday. Mrs. Campbell returned Sunday afternoon, but Mrs. Lively will remain for a longer visit.

News Notes Clipped From the Mullin Enterprise

MRS. MARY BRITTON

Mrs. Mary Britton, aged 83, died at Pleasanton, Texas, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Will Kemp, on March 19, after a short illness. Although she had been gradually declining in health, owing to her ripe old age. She was converted and united with the Baptist church away back in the sixties. She has been a widow for years and leaves three daughters: Mrs. W. B. Kemp, Mrs. W. M. Stanley and Mrs. S. M. Casey, and one son, F. L. Britton, ten grand children.

They will miss the touch of a mother's hand and the voice of one whom they love so well, but the influence of mother will reign in their hearts and lives. The funeral services were conducted at the Methodist church by Rev. L. J. Vann and Rev. T. M. Mitchell at Mullin on Saturday afternoon at three o'clock and interment was at Oak View cemetery.

WALTER R. JOHNSTON

Bellville friends of W. R. Johnston, 56, few of whom knew of his brief illness, were greatly shocked to hear of his death Saturday at Temple, at 2:30 p. m., of heart trouble. Following an attack at his home here, he was sent by his physician to the Santa Fe hospital at Temple, accompanied by Mrs. Johnston and members of the Order of Railway Conductors. Everything humanly possible was done for him, and at times he seemed much improved, chatting with old friends at the hospital.

Mr. Johnston, a member of an old Virginia family, came to Texas when about fifteen years of age, and had been a Santa Fe conductor for 25 years. He lived at Temple and Brownwood for eight years, and while at the latter place was married to Miss Bessie Oxley of Mullin. Shortly after this, seventeen years ago, they came to make their home in Bellville, and he continued his work for the Santa Fe until his final illness. He was known as a devoted husband and father, was a splendid citizen and had many warm friends wherever his work called him, or he was known—especially at Bellville, his home, and at Temple.

Surviving are his wife and one son, Walter Johnston, a sister, Mrs. I. R. Carper of Cleburne, a brother, Ed Johnston, of Winchester, Va., and other relatives.

Funeral services were held Sunday at 4 p. m. at the Wright funeral church at Temple, Rev. Walter L. Barr, pastor of the First Methodist church officiating, and interment was made at Hillcrest cemetery. The floral tributes were very beautiful, and pall bearers were chosen from the O. R. C., in which organization Mr. Johnston had held membership for more than twenty-five years.—Bellville News.

SCHUBERT CLUB

On last week's social calendar were many gala events, the incentive of most of them and also the decorative motif featured being to honor the patron saint of Ireland. Predominant among these was on Tuesday evening, when with Mrs. R. V. Littlepage, F. P. Bowman and W. D. Clements, as joint hostesses, the lovely Clements home was thrown open to the members of the Schubert Club, together with their husbands and a few friends.

The gentlemen present apparently got quite a lot of enjoyment out of the program, which was rendered after all had arrived and comfortably seated themselves about the glowing fire in the large living room. Every one likes variety and this was at least different from the usual run of parties they are privileged to attend.

Mrs. Littlepage, as leader, very ably handled the subjects of study for the evening, which were the two operas "Die Walkure" and "Mignon." Members responded to roll call by touching the high points in the lives of leading opera singers. Next Mrs. Bowman, in her usual pleasing manner, gave a synopsis of "Die Walkure", after which Mrs. Gartman told very beautifully the story of "Mignon." An interesting account of the life of Wagner, one of the greatest opera writers of the period, was given by Mrs. Clements. Peculiar characteristics possessed by only great masters were noted. Last on the program was "Mamma's Lullaby," a four-part chorus by the club, the melody of which follows the familiar strain of "Humoresque." This was declared by the husbands to be the prettiest number they had heard of the club.

Following the program, a delectable salad course was served. Then came the games of 42 in which all alike could participate and enjoy. An ice course at the conclusion of the games brought the evening to a happy close. The colors, green and white, were used throughout the rooms, being noticeable from the soft lights and tapers until the final plate favors, the Irish national emblem.

Four lovely little maidens, daughters of the hostesses, bedecked in pretty green and white caps and aprons, helped very gracefully with all the serving. Beside the personnel of the club those present were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fairman, C. M. Borch, Sparks Bigham, Earl Clements, Claude Dickerson and Miss Bess Crews.

REPORTER. VARIATION IS SPICE One may travel up and down a city and find no two houses exactly alike, unless they be members of a row of dwellings. The different makes and models of automobiles number into the hundreds. Women insist that their coats, dresses and hats be exclusive, but neither will two men be found in identical habiliment.

What is true of houses, automobiles and clothes is also true of breakfast foods, furniture, shoes and virtually all of man's possessions. The reason is obvious. No two people have identical tastes. That which one finds attractive repels another. The person whose discernment you criticize probably thinks even less of yours.

Life would be a monotonous existence but for this conflict of tastes. Nothing bores like uniformity. What interest would the world hold for humanity if every house was built alike, if the choice of the ten million was good enough for the world, if the wardrobe of the modern woman had as little variation as Eve's, if what one wanted every body wanted?

If all humanity was of the same opinion on all things, the Ave-for-all argument would be as extinct as the Roc, but why live if you can't argue?

IMPROVING THE LAW OUTPUT

Supported by logic and with the encouragement of noted professors of political science, a number of legislators representing different sections of the country whose avowed purpose is to improve the quality of the product of lawmaking assemblies. "Fewer and better laws" is the slogan of the organization.

The methods to be employed are similar to those of the so-called "third house," the annual conference of governors. There are to be regular meetings of sitting legislators, of direct acts of legislative reference bureaus and of advisory committees. At those meetings the subjects ripe for legislation will be considered from various points of view.

It is recognized by proponents of the plan that discussion not only tends to prevent hasty and crude legislation, but also must operate greatly to reduce the number of bills introduced by emotional law-makers who believe that all human ills can be cured by statutory prescriptions.

The association, it is safe to say, will not suffer from boredom. It will have plenty of topics for discussion. Between seasons it might overhaul the codes of the various states and list the obsolete, harmful and unenforceable laws whose repeal would prove politically and morally beneficial. If it has the energy and the public spirit to function intelligently year after year it can be of great use to the American public. — Star-Telegram.

PREDICTS PASSING OF COUNTRY WEEKLY

The president of the Western Newspaper Union, supplying ready print and material to printers throughout the country, gave an interview in New York this week in which he predicted the passing of the country weekly papers. He cites in support of his prediction that 3,000 small town papers have ceased publication in the past five or six years.

BEAUTY in the HOME

Cheery Color On The Breakfast Table

OUR love of cheerful surroundings, pleasing combinations of color and as much relief from the thrall of laundering the napery as possible, have carried the well run household of the present day into the habit of a quite different sort of table furnishing and decoration than used to be popular in more formal and simpler times. However the table may be set for dinner company, with the cold glitter of cut glass and white damask, the use of color in the breakfast and luncheon cloths has become more or less general and it turns out to be a delightful custom. In the modern home, the china either matches the table cloth in color or is of shades that form an agreeable contrast. In any event, neither of them are pure white and somehow the menu seems to be much more exciting and appetizing when served in such surroundings. In the picture above, the china service more or less matches the colors of the gaily designed cloth which is off-white in base color, and of fabricoid with a finish very closely simulating linen. The flowers are rose colored, and the leaves and stems of periwinkle blue. The fine line in the border is a soft red and the heavier line blue, the whole forming a most cheery and engaging color scheme. Such table cloths are washable and waterproof, and, as stains can be wiped off with a damp cloth, save the family from the constant replacements necessary when cotton and linen are used, and from the minor tragedies of the old time breakfast when a few coffee stains have been known to disrupt an otherwise agreeable meal.

Wineblood in his home in that city.—Record-Herald.

Nature Thought of Everything

Nature thought of everything when the human body was made. When the body is about to become ill, nature planned danger signals to warn us. Thus, if our children grind their teeth when they sleep, or lack appetite, or suffer from abdominal pains, or itch about the nose and fingers, we should know that they may have contracted worms. Then, if we are wise, we buy a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge and surely expel the worms. Thus we avoid the danger of very serious results. White's Cream Vermifuge costs only 66c a bottle, and can be bought from HUDSON BROS. DRUGGISTS

Those who ate dinner in the B. R. Casbeer home Sunday were Bennie, Virgil and J. M. Casbeer, L. V. Benningfield and Misses Oleta Ledbetter and Wanda Casbeer.

Mrs. Willis Hill was a visitor to the school one morning last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Elder and little daughter and Mrs. Arch Collier made a short visit to M. L. Casbeer and family Sunday.

There were several that visited school Friday afternoon and played ball. Kelly was supposed to come and play with our team, but for some cause failed to get here.

B. R. Casbeer celebrated his seventy-third birthday Friday. J. M. Casbeer and family helped to partake of his birthday dinner. We are hoping Mr. Casbeer lives to celebrate many more birthdays.

C. D. Griffin was able to be back at school Friday, after having his collar bone broken.

AS TO HARD TIMES HERE

We are having hard times in Missouri. The streets are full of automobiles going nowhere in particular. Times are so hard that it is difficult to find a place to park a car. We have only one for every three persons in Missouri. If times were not so hard we no doubt would have an automobile for every person in the state.

We are up against it. We saw a girl last week who was so hard up that she did not have silk stockings and rather than wear rayon, she wore none at all. Of the thousands of girls in Missouri, it is almost unbelievable that one would have to do without stockings. But the consumption of cigarettes only increased about 5,000,000 packages in the state last year, when everyone knows that the sales should have increased twice as much. Times are sure hard. We were able to obtain a seat at the movie show, after waiting only twenty minutes, when we should have had to wait at least an hour. One drug store got along with only installing two fountains last summer, which shows how bad things really are. Only one extra show case for lip sticks, two extra racks for magazines and lunch counter cut into the druggist's savings and made him realize how hard time really are.

And to make matters worse every vacant lot in the state has a miniature golf course and it looks like that times are so hard that they are going to start tearing down perfectly good buildings to make more room for more peevee golf courses. If a fellow wants to play on one of the pesky things he has to wait an hour before he can get a start, and then he gets run over, knocked down and hit by golf balls before he has finished. Everyone of the golf courses are filled day and night and it's hard to realize just how hard times really are.

When will times get better? It is almost impossible to find a parking place near a movie show, miniature golf course or any other place of amusement. A terrible condition. Something really ought to be done to compel "hot dog" stands to carry enough food so that the crowd would not have to go home. This way of building stadiums and other places of amusements only half big enough to accommodate the crowds, ought to be remedied.

Yes, times are hard. The grocer cannot find time to sell flour, grits and bacon. It takes his time selling canned peaches, canned salmon, canned meats, canned soups, canned apple sauce.

The dry goods merchant is crying that his bolts of ginghams, muslin and denim remain on the shelves, when all of his time is taken up selling such things as silks, rayons, etc. The hardware merchant has no demand for plows, wave fencing, rails and hammers, but he cannot supply the demand for radios, electric fans, percolators, vacuum cleaners, etc. As long as folks spend money for luxuries there will be hard times.

Yes, times are hard.—Canton, Mo. Record.

"AT HOME" IN SCHOOL

Dinner served, and eaten, by a group in the Domestic Science Training School of Near East Relief on the Island of Syra, Greece. These girls are being trained as home makers or as superior servants. Four hundred of them have already found comfortable homes in Egypt and are, either happily married or are earning good wages. Some have gone into France, but the majority have stayed in Greece, where they came from Turkey as part of the great Children's Crusade of 22,000 Greek and Armenian orphans.

Pale and Weak

"I THINK Cardui is a wonderful medicine, for I improved greatly after taking it," says Mrs. A. W. English, of R.F.D. 1, Roanoke, Va. "When I was just a girl of 18, my mother gave this medicine to me, and it did me a great deal of good. I was weak and run-down. After I had taken Cardui awhile, I felt much better. In 1924, my health was poor. I felt miserable, and hadn't enough strength to do my housework. It took all my willpower to keep up. I was pale and weak. I got Cardui again and took it. My improvement was wonderful. I can recommend Cardui to others, for my health was so much better after I had taken a course of the Cardui Home Treatment."

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Westerman visited in Comanche Sunday. Mrs. Kate Marshall has been in Temple this week, having gone there to be with Mrs. W. C. Dew, in the hospital. Let us figure with you on that watch, diamond, bar pin, etc.—Clements' Drug and Jewelry Store.

No better gift than a Sheaffer Life Time Pen.—Clements' Drug and Jewelry Store. J. L. Boland returned Wednesday from an extended business trip which carried him to Wichita Falls, Tahoka, Lubbock and other points. He is now more truly convinced than ever that Mills county is in the best part of the world.

Ernest Schweining of Portland, Ore., is expected to arrive tonight for a visit to his mother, Mrs. Schweining, and his sister, Mrs. Henry Martin, and family. He will remain until after the celebration of his mother's birthday, April 10. Raise more cotton by using Coeasin—the seed disinfectant.—Clements' Drug and Jewelry Store.

Springtime is Kodak time. Kodaks and films at Clements' Drug and Jewelry Store. Miss Pat Weston of Mullin spent last week end in this city, visiting Mr. and Mrs. Dan Westerman. Mr. and Mrs. Dutch McKinzie were Comanche visitors last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Miller visited in Brownwood Monday.

MIDWAY

The farmers are getting in some nice work during these pretty days. We did not have Sunday school Sunday. Most of the members went, but failed to get there at the same time and as there was church at North Bennett, most of them went there to church. Everybody come next Sunday and we will not hurry off so soon.

The Jackson children have the chickenpox. The young people enjoyed a party at Mr. Beard's Friday night. A few of the old people and a number of young people sang at Mrs. Anderson's Sunday night. Fred McNeil, Joe Anderson and Fred Perry visited at Mason Saturday and Sunday.

Those who visited in the Anderson home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Page, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Knight and family. The Frank Petsick children from Brownwood visited relatives here over the week end. Mrs. Lloyd Reynolds and boys visited Mrs. Cline Tuesday.

Mrs. Anderson visited her sister, Mrs. Page, from Thursday until Saturday, then went to her daughter's, Mrs. Will Knight, and they brought her home Sunday. We are planning to have an Easter egg hunt Easter Sunday. We will try to have a short program for the little folks, while the eggs are hidden. Everybody come and bring your children and their eggs and let's have a good time together. Brother Stripling will be here and tell us something about Easter, perhaps.

Mrs. H. M. Kerby, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kerby and children visited Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Gerald and family Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. George Denman have gone to East Texas to visit Mr. Denman's relatives. Mrs. A. J. Cline is staying with Velma and Christine until their parents return.

Mr. and Mrs. Colter Leverett and Mrs. Leverett's father, Mr. A. J. Cline, went to San Antonio Sunday on a visit and Mrs. A. J. Cline, who had been there visiting her mother and other relatives, returned home with them.

Mrs. M. W. Wright, Elva and Neal Dale, visited Mrs. A. J. Cline Tuesday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Herman McNeil visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Beard, Friday night. Mrs. McNeil visited school Friday.

Mr. Frank Petsick visited J. M. Petsick Monday. REPORTER.

MRS. DEW DEAD

Mrs. W. C. Dew, who was carried to the sanitarium at Temple several weeks ago for treatment and an operation, died this morning at 8 o'clock. After the operation she was apparently getting along nicely until last night, when she took a turn for the worse and did not rally. No funeral arrangements have been announced and other particulars are not known at this time.

CLASS BANQUET

The banquet given to the Senior class of Mullin High school by the Junior class of the school will take place Saturday night, in the Mullin school auditorium. A number of friends outside the classes, faculty and school authorities, have been invited and the Eagle editor and wife are delighted to be included in the number of guests. The banquet is an annual affair and is always well arranged and most enjoyable.

METHODIST MEETING

A pre-Easter meeting is in progress at the Methodist church, with services each morning at 10 o'clock and each evening at 7:30. Rev. Dare, pastor of the church, is doing the preaching, while Rev. C. O. Boatman, Methodist pastor at LaGrange, is director of the song service and young people's work. It is planned to have the meeting continue until Easter, which is one week from next Sunday. An invitation has been extended to all the people to attend the services.

Mrs. L. R. Conro and Miss Lucille, together with Miss Georgia Frizzell, accompanied Mrs. G. H. Frizzell as far as Stephenville Sunday on her way to Weatherford, where she was called on account of the serious illness of her mother, James Frizzell of Fort Worth met her at Stephenville and accompanied her the balance of the way.

Rev. J. S. Bowles and his daughter, Miss Mary Gatin, are visiting relatives and friends in this city. He was pastor of the Methodist church here some years ago and is kindly remembered by everybody.

Wanted—A 5 or 6 room residence with modern conveniences and garage. Give full particulars including rental. Address M. T. care of Eagle. (Do not phone)

If you know a local item tell the Eagle. Your friends will appreciate it.

LIVE OAK

Wilbur Gray of the U. S. visited relatives and friends in our community last week. Our school is well pleased with the results of the Comanche Live Oak entered two teams and one declared all won first place. We are all proud of our five medals and all can go to the district. The people of our community were sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Rose's mother, Mrs. Kingfield. To the Rose family extend our sincere sympathy.

COUNTING THE COST

A Chicago actress came into a lawyer's office and said, "I want a divorce."

"Certainly," said the lawyer, "for a nominal fee I will institute proceedings."

"What is the nominal fee?" "Five hundred dollars," he replied.

"Nothing doing," retorted the lady, "I can have him shot for ten."
