

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

THIRTY-SEVEN.

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, AUGUST 21, 1931.

NUMBER TWENTY-TWO

QUAKE SHOCKS

Earth tremors, characteristic of the southwest, caused consternation among the people of Southwest section.

The first named couple live here, the groom being a son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Archer and the bride a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dennis, whose home is a short distance east of town.

Forest Frazier is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Frazier of this city and his bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Carlisle of the Mullin county.

All of these young folks have many friends and well wishers here and elsewhere. They have gone for a wedding trip to Austin, San Antonio and elsewhere and when they return will be at home in Goldthwaite.

DOUBLE WEDDING

Leonard Archer and Miss Beatrice Dennis and Forest Frazier and Miss Irene Carlisle were married Wednesday night at the Methodist parsonage, Rev. H. H. Dare officiating.

The first named couple live here, the groom being a son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Archer and the bride a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dennis, whose home is a short distance east of town.

Forest Frazier is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Frazier of this city and his bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Carlisle of the Mullin county.

All of these young folks have many friends and well wishers here and elsewhere. They have gone for a wedding trip to Austin, San Antonio and elsewhere and when they return will be at home in Goldthwaite.

GARAGE BURNED

Roy Rowntree's garage, at his residence on West Fifth street, was destroyed by fire about 6 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. It is not known how the fire originated, but the blaze was well underway when discovered and nothing could be saved from the building. A number of articles were stored in the garage, such as stoves, grass cutter, garden tools and the like, all of which were lost. There was no insurance on the building or contents and the loss will amount to several hundred dollars. Fortunately there was no car in the garage at the time, otherwise the loss would have been much heavier.

PECAN MARKETING MEETING

We have promise of a bumper pecan crop in prospect and prices are very low. A representative of the National Pecan Marketing Association will be in Goldthwaite, Tuesday at 2 p. m. in the Chamber of Commerce rooms on August 24th to explain to the growers what the Association did for the members the past season, and explain the Association's plan for marketing the present crop. Everyone interested in the pecan industry come and hear him and bring your friends. This meeting will be of interest to all.

TEACHERS INSTITUTE

Announcement is made that the Mills County Teachers Institute will be held in Goldthwaite on Thursday and Friday, Sept. 3 and 4. The program has not yet been arranged, because the names of several speakers of note not being placed at this time. It is known, however, that the program will be interesting and beneficial. All teachers of the county should make arrangements to attend this Institute.

CUNNINGHAM REUNION

Mrs. and Mrs. R. E. Clements attended the reunion of the Cunningham family at the old camp grounds near Newberg Saturday and Sunday. This is an annual gathering of the members of the family and is always an occasion of pleasure. The attendance this year was not as large as usual, yet there were 151 there to enjoy the pleasant associations and talk over former meetings and family affairs.

SCHOOL OPENING

At a call meeting of the school board it was decided to start school on the seventh day of September. We are looking forward to making this the best school year we have ever had and ask the co-operation of all, in order to make this possible. A large enrollment is expected and we extend a welcome to all the old as well as the new pupils. E. D. STRINGER.

FOOTBALL DAYS ARE HERE AGAIN

Last week we discussed the object of the game and here we continue on with a few high lights of the game. It will be hard to understand what it is all about unless we learn a few more expressions in current use.

The goal line of our team is the one at their backs which they are defending. The teams will exchange goals twice during the game, between the first and second quarters and between the third and fourth quarters.

The team on the offense is the one in possession of the ball and trying to satisfy the conditions necessary for it to keep in possession of the ball. These conditions are that it must advance the ball at least ten yards in four attempts. Each attempt ends when the referee declares the ball dead and is called a down.

A team tries to remain on the offense until it scores. A touchdown is scored when the ball is placed over their opponents goal line and counts six points. The team scoring the touchdown is given an opportunity to add another point to its score. It is given the ball on or back of their opponents two yard line and one try to get the ball back across the goal line or kick a field goal.

Remember that a field goal during a try for point after a touchdown counts only one point. Sometimes the offensive team finds it impossible to score a touchdown even though close to their opponents goal line. Usually, they then try to kick a field goal by a place kick or drop kick. The ball is held to the ground by one player and kicked by another or it is dropped by a player who kicks it as it rebounds. The ball must pass between the goal posts and over the crossbar before again touching the ground or being caught by a player in order to score. A successful field goal counts three points.

There is only one more way to score. This is called a safety and is very confusing. A safety is scored when a player is tackled and held down behind his own goal line while he has possession of the ball; provided his own team is responsible for the momentum which placed the ball in such position. A safety scores two points for the team not in possession of the ball. The safety is easily confused with the touch-back which will be discussed next time.

Hon. Homer C. DeWolfe came home yesterday for a short visit to his family and to look after personal affairs, before returning to Austin to represent the state in the prosecution of the impeachment charges against District Judge Price of Bastrop, charged with neglect of duty and carelessness in approving official accounts in his district. While no criminal charge is involved, a large amount of public money has been paid out wrongfully and because of his negligence. Mr. DeWolfe was one of the leaders in the house demanding a hearing on the state's account and while a number of leading lawyers of the state opposed the impeachment it was voted and the credit for it is largely due Mills county's representative, who always takes a leading part in all matters of legislation.

A meeting of the P. T. A. will be held at the school auditorium September 2, at 3 p. m. Miss Alexander, the state health nurse, will lecture to us on the health program that is being put on throughout the state. Every father and mother is urged to attend. Learn to make every day a healthy day for your child. MRS. J. M. CAMPBELL, Pres. P. T. A.

DOWN ON THE FARM

Thirteen automobiles carried over 40 men and women on the pecan field tour through Big Valley Tuesday.

After looking at the trees on McGirk's lot in town that Frank McDermott grafted last May, we went to Wellie Saylor's on the western edge of town. Here we beheld a real show place consisting of grapes, berries, peaches, plums and pecans, all planted within the last 5 years. Mr. Saylor demonstrated grape pruning, pecan budding, and commented on the pecan work done 5 years ago, and each year since. We appreciated Wellie's courtesy and carried him along with us.

We stopped at Dr. Brookings' long enough to see the English walnut budded on black walnut and making remarkable growth. Then down the highway to Cockrell's. Here we saw a part of the grove he has been improving for 5 years.

Each top worked tree is labeled to show date of working variety and number of buds or grafts set. These trees are making rapid growth and some are coming into bearing. Mr. Cockrell explained his plans for thinning the trees to a proper stand after those topworked came fully into bearing. Mr. Cockrell and Melyn Doak gave budding demonstrations and G. D. Byrd, owner of a fine grove on Bennett Creek, showed how to prepare fall buds for use by trimming the leaves.

Back at the house we met the surprise of the trip. However, we knew it was coming all the time. A large collection of these famous Big Valley watermelons, cool and just off the vine, were served in the most hospitable manner together with baskets of luscious grapes, fresh grape juice and abundance of ice water.

Then a walk through the apple orchard and vineyard where we saw apple trees loaded down with fine apples and grape vines literally groaning under loads of grapes. Now off to Geo. Robertson's. Here we saw a marvelous sight. Three acres of stately pecans grown from Oliver nuts planted 17 years ago and budded to improved varieties 4 years later and now loaded with pecans. Some of these are as symmetrical trees as we ever saw. He pointed out one tree from which he sold $20 worth last year. To look over this upland orchard and hear Mr. Robertson relate its history is an inspiration to pecan enthusiasts.

Mr. Robertson took us through his apple orchard loaded with fruit and many trees propped up after severe thinning. We then accepted Bob Robertson's invitation to see his Short-horn calves. His are of the best breeding and show excellent care. Whoever saw anything prettier than a fat calf?

Over 40 citizens spent 4 hours looking over work of men who have accomplished something worthwhile to themselves and to the entire county. All were intensely interested and many astonished at the progress. Some will go home and do likewise. During the 4 hours together I never heard the much talked "depression" mentioned, but often I heard some one say "I wish I had started improving my grove sooner". It was primarily an educational tour, but it was also a pleasant social event, friend meeting friend and making new friends, a jest laugh, cares forgotten and going home to long remember the events of the day.

IMPEACHMENT TRIAL

District Judge J. B. Price of Bastrop must face impeachment trial on charges of "official misconduct" and negligence in examining the accounts of certain sheriffs in his judicial district.

Articles of impeachment were adopted in the house late Wednesday by a vote of 74 to 49. The articles will be submitted to the senate and Judge Price will be tried by the senate, sitting as an impeachment trial court.

The voting of the articles of impeachment automatically suspended him from the performance of his official duties as judge of the Twenty-First Judicial District.

Conviction by the senate would remove the judge from office permanently and prevent him from ever holding office again. The governor has 10 days in which to assemble the upper house for trial of the impeachment charges. In the event the governor has not acted at the end of the 10-day period, the lieutenant governor may issue the call.

The house began the sifting of the charges Wednesday of last week. The charges were preferred by a special investigation committee of the house, based on evidence developed by a special senate investigation committee.

At the conclusion of the arguments, Representative Homer DeWolfe of Goldthwaite offered a resolution recommending that the committee of the whole house, which has conducted the investigation, recommend to the house proper that articles of impeachment be voted against Judge Price. The resolution also provided that a board of managers should be appointed by the speaker to prosecute the charges before the senate court.

The committee of the whole report, providing for impeachment, was adopted by a vote of 74 to 9, and Speaker Minor appointed a board of managers. This board of managers will prosecute the impeachment articles before the senate impeachment court.

Those appointed were: Representative Harry Graves of Georgetown, Homer DeWolfe of Goldthwaite, Alfred Petch of Fredericksburg, G. E. Lockhart of Lubbock and B. F. Vaughn of Greenville. The board will be aided by the state auditor's department.

BOOSTER FOR GOLDTHWAITE

The Dallas News of yesterday carried the picture of O. H. Yarborough of Goldthwaite, who is in that city buying from the wholesalers. The paper also reported an interview with Mr. Yarborough, which is a booster for this section and shows that he believes in his old home town and county. The News says:

"Better than usual," is the way O. H. Yarborough described the conditions of his city, Goldthwaite, while he was in the Dallas market doing his fall buying.

"We need a little moisture for our cotton and we'll have the best crop we've ever had," he said. "We have had the best grain and feed crops this year that I can remember. Our barns and granaries are full and overflowing, and although there isn't any money for it right now, some day that will be wealth. Conditions are rather better than usual, and we are much encouraged about the fall."

FIGHT THE FIRE MENACE

This country needs an intensive public movement against fire waste. It cannot too often be repeated that the individual is generally solely responsible for the gigantic annual fire toll in lives and property. The fire insurance industry, aided by various public and private organizations and groups, carries on an unceasing, year-round work in an effort to promote better understanding of fire hazards, fire-resistive building construction, more adequate fire-fighting facilities, and building inspections. This work has certainly not failed—without it our fire waste would reach a far larger total than at present.

Fire prevention is mainly a matter of using one's eyes and one's common sense. If wiring is regularly inspected, corners kept free of accumulations and chimneys and heating plants cleaned and examined, the average property's chances of burning will be small. Let's give fire the careful treatment it deserves—and by doing that, save the greater part of the half-billion dollars of property and the ten thousand lives that the "red menace" now destroys each year.

ROSE FIRST PLANT PATENTED IN U. S.

The first patent ever granted in the United States was issued under the date of Aug. 18 for a "climbing or trailing" rose, named the New Dawn and the patentable feature is its everblooming character. Plant Patent No. 1 goes to Henry P. Rosenburg of New Brunswick, N. J. The rose is described as being identical with the Dr. Van Fleet climbing rose, except that it blooms successively after the manner of ever-blooming tea-roses instead of once a year. A plant patent gives the owner exclusive right to reproduce, use or sell his invention or discovery in the United States and territories for seventeen years. Approximately fifty applications for plant patents are now pending. The plant patent act was signed by President Hoover last year.

REWARDS FOR BABIES

At Srinagar, India, owing to an alarming decrease in the number of female children in the state, the Maharaja of Kashmir was offered an acre of land to every father of a new-born baby girl. He also had pamphlets and posters circulated through the village warning the population against the evils of infanticide. In years past Northern Indian races have made it a practice to destroy female offspring at birth because they potentially are less valuable as workers than male children.

BAPTIST CHURCH

A card from Rev. G. C. Ivins, pastor of the Baptist church, asks that announcement be made that all services will be held in his church next Sunday as usual. He is engaged in a meeting at Cherokee, San Saba county, and the card announces they are having very fine results—large congregations and several conversions already announced. Brother Ivins says they are treating him fine over there and the way the "Methodist chickens" are finding their way to the table each day is decidedly satisfying.

APPLICATION FOR LICENSE

An application is on file in the county clerk's office for marriage license for Garland Hall and Miss Greta Mae Brown, both of Richland Springs.

MAIL ORDER LICENSE

County Clerk Porter this week has done some mail order marriage license business. He sent license to Bedias, Grimes county, for J. L. Kerby and Miss Mae Featherston. The young man is a nephew of Mr. Porter.

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

T. E. Hamilton of Star looked after business in this city Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Randolph went to Austin last Saturday for a visit to relatives.

Wilbur Wood was here from Hanna Valley Saturday, looking after business and meeting his friends.

The Eagle will hereafter go to Mrs. M. A. Childers at DeLeon, by order of J. A. Childers of Mullin.

Mrs. G. W. Templin of Austin has been visiting in the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. J. Cockrum, this week.

Nolan Hale of Dallas is visiting with Jeff Lowrie in the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Priddy.

Supt. D. A. Newton of Brady was a caller at the Eagle office Tuesday morning and the editor sincerely regrets having been absent at the time.

Ray Fesler and family of Mexia visited relatives in this county the early part of the week and went from here to Hamilton for a visit.

Carroll Lowrie returned to Dallas Sunday, after visiting with relatives and friends. He is assistant manager of J. G. McCrary Co., at Dallas.

R. L. Armstrong and family returned last week-end from a trip through southwest Texas and a visit to Dr. Em. Wilson and family in Corpus Christi.

Supt. E. D. Swinger and wife returned last week end from a vacation trip thru the northwest as far as Yellowstone Park and other points of interest.

W. A. L. Graves and wife returned to their home in San Antonio Saturday, after a visit to her mother, Mrs. Weathers, and other relatives at this place.

It is a money saving plan to read all the advertisements in this paper. If you have not been reading them regularly you will find it to your interest to do so.

The Eagle appreciates orders for job printing and guarantees the work and price.

Several Goldthwaite people felt the earthquake shock Sunday morning at 5:40. While the vibration was not severe here, it was sufficiently distinct to be recognized.

Kenneth Graves and wife returned to their home in San Antonio Sunday, after a visit in the home of his aunt, Mrs. Kelly Saylor, and with other relatives in this section.

Clell W. Reed of Crane, one of the big oil field towns, was here last week visiting his parents and other relatives in Big Valley. He called at the Eagle office Friday and ordered the paper sent to his address.

Billie Saylor, who was carried to the sanitarium in Temple last week, was able to be brought home Sunday. In some respects he is improved considerably and it is hoped he will soon recover the use of his arm.

Mrs. Alonzo Bauchman and sons, John Allen and James, of Sequin, are visiting Mrs. Carroll Lowrie in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Priddy. Mrs. Bauchman was Miss Leila Allen before her marriage.

Howell Cobb arrived in Brady Monday from Goldthwaite, and will in future be associated with his brother, Wm. Cobb, at the Cobb Drug Co., succeeding Steve Francis. Mr. Cobb is an up-to-the-minute drug man, having for three years been with the Liggett Drug Co., at Houston, and is certain of welcome to citizenship here.—Brady Standard.

When you have visitors, go for a trip or know any other item in which your friends would be interested, phone, write or tell the Eagle.

ROCK SPRINGS

Our Sunday school had more present Sunday, but still there are more yet who we miss. Unless our B. Y. P. U. survives, it can't be alive very much longer. The program Sunday night wasn't rendered because those on program were not there. There were three present on program and one of these three had her part prepared, but the other two didn't. We can excuse one of the boys, because he didn't know he was on program, but the other boy didn't have any excuse at all. He was present when the program was read the Sunday night before. We hope our president tries his best to be present from now on, as he has his ear in running order.

Those who didn't go to the Association at Mullin missed an awful good day. It will convene with us next year.

I believe all of our sick folks are well again. It seemed fine to have J. C. Stark well and at Sunday school again.

J. T. Robertson has been suffering with the toothache the last week.

Mrs. Lillie Moore and Miss Nealie spent Saturday night and Sunday with F. U. Chadwick and family.

Some from here went to San Saba to the fair last week.

Gus Roush, Jr., spent Monday night with Woody Traylor and family.

Fred and Ethel McClary are at home again. They visited in Dumas and Crumbe. Their sister and children from Crumb accompanied them home.

Marion Robertson and family from Big Valley, Mrs. Woody Traylor and daughters, Joe Davis and family and Mrs. Eula Nickols visited in J. T. Robertson's home Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. L. B. Porter, who has been visiting Mrs. Nickols and boys and other friends, left Thursday morning for San Antonio.

Mrs. John Roberts enjoyed last Thursday at the Lake with the McClary family.

Harvey Dunkle and wife, J. T. Robertson and family and Gus Roush spent Tuesday in Big Valley in Robert Robertson's home.

Mrs. J. M. Traylor and son returned Saturday night from Dangerfield, where they visited a few days last week.

Harvey Dunkle and wife, who visited in the west three weeks, are at home again. Mrs. Hillard Dyches and children from Breckenridge came home with them for a few days visit.

Joe Davis and family and Jess Davis, Claud Smith and wife and Nellie D. Cooke visited in J. C. Stark's home Saturday night.

W. A. Daniel and wife took their little daughter, Billie Ruth, to Brownwood Monday morning early to have her tonsils removed. We hope she gets along alright.

James Nickols has been very unfortunate here of late. He worked for R. C. Webb for goats and they got out and went to go back home. They tried by the dipping vat and drank that poison water and several of them died.

Mrs. Hillard Dyches and sons visited Marion Robertson's in Big Valley Sunday night and Monday.

Bert Galloway and wife and James Nickols enjoyed a 42 game in the Webb home Friday night.

Landy Ellis had company from Houston, San Saba and Goldthwaite last Friday. I failed to get their names.

Mesdames Robertson, Dunkle and Traylor and children and Dyches and children spent last Friday in Walter Robertson's home at Center City.

Some are making tomato catsup and preserves.

Mesdames Porter and Nickols dined in Homer Doggett's home Wednesday. In the afternoon Mrs. Doggett joined them and they visited in Dwight Nickols and R. E. Clements homes.

Mrs. John Roberts accompanied John Edlin and wife of Center Point to Mullin Friday.

J. F. Davis and wife came back home one day last week to see how their soon was getting along with the feed cutting.

Austin Cooke and daughter, Miss Florence Stark and Mrs.

HEAD - CASBEER

The wedding of Chester Head and Lena Mae Casbeer was solemnized Friday morning, August 14, at 9 o'clock in the presence of the bride's immediate family and Wilson Head, brother of the groom. The ceremony was read by the Rev. R. V. Mayfield at the home of the Rev. L. L. Hays.

The bride was attractively dressed in a brown tailored suit with harmonizing accessories. The groom also wore a suit of brown.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. M. L. Casbeer and is a graduate of the Lometa High School and valedictorian of the class of 1929-30. During her senior year at Lometa she was editor of the Hornet Stinger, the school paper. She has been a student in John Tarleton College this summer. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Head. He is a boy of unusual promise and ability.

Both of these young people have grown to manhood and womanhood in the Center City community, and both are possessed of outstanding qualities that determine a successful life.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Head left for Corpus Christi and other points of interest in the state. They will be at home in the Center City community after September 1st. XX

MOST MEXICANS IN TEXAS

According to the 1930 census, practically one-half of all the Mexicans in the U. S. live in Texas. This number, 683,681, is almost as large as the total Mexican population of the county in 1920. Texas had 854,964 negroes in 1930, and was one of the few states to show a gain in negro population since 1920.

NEED GLASSES

Dr. Jones, the Eye Man, in Dr. Campbell's office Saturday, September 5. See him about your eyes, headaches and glasses.

Eula Nickols attended the Association at Mullin Friday, Mrs. Homer Doggett from town accompanied them.

Beryl Vann Roberts spent a few days with his grandpa Nickols last week and this week.

Marvin Spinks and family and James Nickols sat until bed time in the Webb home Saturday night.

Greta Marie Traylor spent Sunday night and Monday with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robertson.

Mrs. Woody Traylor and Christine spent Monday afternoon in J. T. Robertson's home.

Miss Nellie D. Cooke has been having trouble with her eyes lately.

James Nickols is still working for more goats from Mr. Webb.

Some of the men worked at the dipping vat Monday afternoon, fixing it so stock can't get to it to drink that poison water. It has killed several head of stock in the last year. BUSY BEE.

How One Woman Lost 10 Lbs. in a Week

Mrs. Betty Luedeke of Dayton, writes, "I am using Kruschen to reduce weight—I lost 10 pounds in one week and cannot say too much to recommend it."

To take off fat easily, safely and quickly take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast—an 85 cent bottle lasts 4 weeks—Get it at Hudson Bros. or any drug store in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you this is the easiest, safest and surest way to lose fat—money back.

IT CAN'T BE DONE

There is one born every minute.

This time a young man in New Jersey decided to try out the old theory that a lighted match would be extinguished if quickly plunged into gasoline. Result! He is now in the hospital in a critical condition, his body badly burned.

Theoretically a lighted match could be extinguished by gasoline if it could be quickly plunged through pure air into the liquid. Unfortunately, it is impossible to fulfill these requirements, as wherever there is gasoline there is also gasoline vapor immediately above it. This vapor mixed with air forms a powerful explosive, the same as that which propels motor cars. In the foregoing experiment the lighted match had to pass through a layer of vapor mixed with air which immediately exploded and covered the victim with flaming gasoline.

As an interesting sidelight of this experiment, The National Board of Fire Underwriters reported a 1929 fire loss of $15,500,000 caused by petroleum and its products and listed under the heading "Strictly Preventable." It also points out that people who attempt to do dry cleaning in their homes with gasoline are courting disaster.

Whenever anyone feels inclined to take liberties with gasoline he should remember that potentially it is nothing less than a death-dealing explosive. The vapor from one gallon of gasoline mixed in proper proportions with air, has explosive possibilities equal to 83 pounds of dynamite.

SPEEDY JUSTICE

Within a few hours of their arrest and confession, three Michigan slayers, David (Pop-eye) Blackstone, negro, Fred Smith and Frank Oliver were in the Michigan branch prison at Marquette to spend the rest of their lives in prison at hard labor.

Their crime was one of the most brutal in Michigan's history. They had robbed, attacked and beaten to death two boys and two girls on a lonely country road near Ypsilanti. Then the murderers drenched the car with gasoline and set fire to it.

As there is no death penalty in Michigan, the sentences of life imprisonment for each man were the heaviest that could be imposed.

Marble and Granite

We have a large stock of up-to-date monuments in stock now, and will make our prices to conform with the depressed times. If interested, come to the yard and inspect our stock and designs. It really pays to see what you are buying in this line and the saving to you in discounts and Agent's commission is worth considering. We buy in car lots and this is our 36th year here.

Learn what a difference six cylinders make

Step out of any other low-priced car into a Chevrolet, and learn the difference six cylinders make.

"Idle" the engine—and the whole car remains steady. Open the throttle—the power flows evenly. Accelerate—throttle down—go fifteen or fifty—and this smoothness stays with you whatever you do. It's actually built into the motor—and objectionable vibration never even starts!

Yet smoothness is only one of many six-cylinder advantages. There's greater quietness, because noisy vibration is gone. There's greater comfort, because built-in smoothness doesn't tire you out. There's greater flexibility, because the power-impulses of a six overlap. And a six is much easier to handle!

If you raise the hood of a Chevrolet and watch the engine running so smoothly, you'll realize that six cylinders also mean greater dependability.

And remember when you do—that no other car is so economical to operate as the Chevrolet Six.

Twenty beautiful models, at prices ranging from $175 to $675 All prices f. o. b. Flint, Mich., special equipment extra. Low delivered prices and easy G. M. A. C. terms.

GRAIN GAMBLING

A Chicago speculator is credited with having made a million dollars by obtaining a "corner" in corn. Operating in the Chicago grain exchange, he bought so extensively for future delivery that he temporarily forced up the price 18 or 20 cents a bushel within two weeks. He had obtained control of such a large part of the prospective supply that those who had sold were forced to pay off at a higher figure. Finally, of course, such transactions—in wheat and cotton as well as corn—rest on the possibility of actual delivery of the commodity. In reality, however, they are carried largely on paper. The speculators, or gamblers, buy and sell grain or cotton that they never own, and never expect to own. The man who made a million dollars, and others like him, produce nothing. The prices they are able to establish are without relation to the intrinsic value of the product. Farmers who produce the crops and consumers who finally buy them are the ones who suffer. The profits of the gamblers in the Wall Street boom came from the little fellows who had been enticed into the market. Farmers complain, and small wonder, when the sale value of their crop is fixed by manipulation, particularly when short selling takes their profits. The corner in corn is pretty good proof that the existing regulations designed to check such gambling are inadequate, if proof were needed. The federal grain figures act does little more than require reports to the agriculture department on transactions, on which tabulations and observations are based, and the department has no control over the volume or nature of trading. Business control committees set up by the exchanges themselves have been ineffective. Gambling has thrived as always in the face of these efforts to stop it. It is too much to expect the exchanges themselves to eradicate the evil, for it has persisted in the face of popular complaint for many years. Legislation ranging in scope from stricter federal control of exchanges to their complete abolition will be considered in the next congress. The time seems propitious for its passage. That reform will not prevent overproduction nor solve the farm problem, but it will help some.—Cincinnati Post.

NO PARDON FOR FALL

Executive clemency has been denied to Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, serving a sentence of a year and a day for accepting a bribe. Attorney General Mitchell announced that the application for clemency would not be granted by President Hoover. The reason for the denial was given that none of the three prosecutors and judges whose opinions were asked on the petition advised clemency. A recent executive order signed by both President Hoover and Attorney General Mitchell provided that "when none of the persons so consulted advises clemency the papers shall not be sent to the president," except in exceptional cases. "The attorney general said he had determined there was 'no reason to make a special order submitting the papers to the president' and thus the plea in behalf of Fall automatically was denied. Besides the year and a day sentence, Fall was fined $100,000. He began serving his sentence several weeks ago in Santa Fe, N. M.

onious but only a gesture—a bit of chaff. In departing all high hatted and spruce for the theatre, I stopped before a window mirror in the horseshoe court of the Savoy to oop a final peep at my get-up. "Ain't he purty," yelled someone across the drive way. But I took no notice. Undoubtedly one of those "vel-gah Aw-meerikans."

THE BOARD GOES DAFT

Just why the Federal Farm Board would impose further burdens upon the distressed cotton farmers of the South by asking them to go to the extra expense and labor of plowing up every third row of cotton rather than leaving it unpickered in the fields, has not been made clear. It seems that the board is floundering from one uneconomic experiment to another in the apparent vain hope of saving something from the wreckage it helped to create. Any more amateurish suggestion than this latest absurdity can scarcely be imagined as coming from a body of men assumedly picked as agricultural leaders. It appears to be an instance of the blind trying to lead those not so blind. Recently we have had the spectacle of the vice president of the American Cotton Co-operative Association, Mr. C. O. Moser, pleading with the Texas Legislature to enact a cotton acreage reduction law, and now comes the Federal Farm Board with its appeal to Southern Governors to advocate a further economic monstrosity. It is a case of clutching at straws. On what theory of sound business principles and economic laws would involve the destruction of a large part of the world's greatest fiber crop, which in its fluctuations over a period of ten years has involved serious shortages? Cotton has seen bad days before and survived; the present mess, to which operations of Government-supported agencies have contributed a large part, is not a hopeless one. This latest native effort to circumvent the immutable law of supply and demand would be ludicrous if it were not so pathetic. Cotton farmers have been in muddles before but not within the last fifty years in one so needlessly aggravated by Government interference in business. Every cotton grower will, of course, pick all his cotton. He will let George omit every third row.—Dallas News.

DESERTED CHILDREN FOUND IN LUMBER YARD

At Fort Worth, two small girls, 7 and 11, deserted by their father, were discovered Monday living an adventurous life in a Fort Worth lumber yard where, when they were not begging food, they had lived for almost a week. Welfare workers placed the two tots in an orphanage until a home can be found for them. The children, who said they had been chased away from a rooming house where their father had left them last Tuesday, had made a rough home out of short pieces of lumber with a hole in the roof "so the moon could look in." They appeared quite cheerful in their ragged, dirty dresses, and were enthusiastic about having run to witness the burning of a grain elevator on the South Side several nights ago. However, they said they were "much happier" after they had been bathed, fed and dressed in clean clothing. "They say they're going to find us a nice home," said the older girl, who told of a brother, 16, now in the Gatesville Training School, where he had been sent "because he stole some chewing gum." "We'll be all right when he comes back because he said he'll take care of us," said the oldest of the waifs. The Welfare Department is seeking the father and step-mother of the two children.

WHERE CO-OPERATION WILL PAY

Declining foreign trade is one of the factors most responsible for prolonging the business depression—exactly as it was a factor in bringing it on. Few of us sufficiently understand how vital international commerce is to domestic prosperity. A decrease of a "mere" five or six per cent in employment and purchasing power means all the difference between good times and bad. And a decline of ten or fifteen per cent might mean the difference between stability and chaos. The doctrine of economic and social isolation may have been workable in 1831—but it is suicidal in 1931. No nation can, figuratively, remove itself to a high peak and look down on the rest of the world, depending on itself alone for sustenance. Co-operation between businesses and individuals has solved many of the industrial problems of the age—and co-operation between nations, both in commerce and in diplomacy, must solve those of an international character. The reason for the decline in foreign trade, divorced of argument and confusing details, is simple enough—foreign nations cannot buy from us unless we buy from them. We must look beyond state and national boundaries toward the world horizon, in the knowledge that foreign trade is one of the keys to domestic prosperity and industrial stimulation.

ROADS ON THE INSTALLMENT PLAN

As the individual buys furniture, automobiles, refrigerators and what-not out of income, so can the community buy roads. Modern, scientific developments in surfacing materials have made "roads-on-the-installment-plan" both practical and possible. The method varies with the locality, but the principle remains the same. Roads of local materials, whether gravel, clay or top soil may be asphaltically treated at a very low cost, and the result is a weatherproof, year-round thoroughfare suitable for all but the heaviest of traffic. As traffic flow increases new layers may be placed on the surface, building it up to any necessary thickness. In this way rural areas can get the good roads they need without going deeply into debt; the farmer and the inhabitant of the small town can be given the contact with the outside world that is so vital to his progress and standards of living. The day of the cow path, impassable during several months of each year, is coming to an end. The model rural community of the future, with quick accessibility to main highways and the facilities of the great cities, will be a far different place from the average community of the present.

CLOSE BORDER BRIDGES

Because of repeated complaints of gambling in Texas, the U. S. Department has ordered the national bridges from Brownsville to Del Rio closed at 9 p. m. Previously the bridges remained open all night. Mexican soldiers are said to have been stationed in front of gambling houses to see that none but Americans entered them.

Doctors Disagree

When children are irritable and peevish, grind their teeth and sleep restlessly, have digestive pains and disturbances, lack of appetite, and have itching eyes, nose and fingers, doctors will not always agree that they are suffering from worms. Many mothers, too, will not believe that their carefully brought up children can have worms. The fact remains that these symptoms will yield, in a great majority of cases, to a few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge, the sure expellant of round and pin worms. If your child has any of these symptoms, try this harmless, old fashioned medicine which you can get at 85c per bottle from HUDSON BROS. DRUGGISTS

A resolution to call Governor Sterling before the house to explain why he declared martial law in the East Texas oil fields was ruled out of order in the house late Wednesday.

Four negroes convicted in District Court in Dallas of perpetrating a series of street car robberies, were sentenced this week to serve an aggregate of 215 years in the state penitentiary.

Mayor Brown F. Lee, vice president of the San Angelo area in the Texas League of Municipalities, has issued a call for mayors and representatives of city government in that area to meet there Aug. 27 for a discussion of utility rates and problems.

Asserting four or five oil company representatives who called on him Wednesday had agreed to pay $1 a barrel for oil, Governor Murray said he believed a plan could be worked out within a few days "under which the companies can run day and night if they want to."

Governor Sterling, other state officials, members of the Legislature and of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission will be invited to attend a barbecue at the famous Goodnight ranch headquarters near Clarendon, Sept. 7. Plans for raising funds to buy the ranch as a game preserve and a permanent home for the Goodnight herd of buffaloes will be formulated at the barbecue.

Fads of women may be made in Paris or Dallas, but so far as Kilgore girls are concerned they are subject to change at the orders of Texas rangers. Tuesday they were ordered not to appear on Kilgore streets wearing pajamas, as had become popular style. The order was not observed fully because the word had not been given except directly to the fad followers as they appeared but the order is to be rigidly enforced.

The general manager of the Texas Cotton Co-Operative Association, announces that the association will advance to its members within several dollars a bale to the actual market value of cotton delivered to its seasonal pool as an initial advance. "This advance approximates the 90 per cent advance of last season," he said. "We anticipate Texas deliveries to the association in excess of 1,000,000 bales this season."

The military commandant of the East Texas oil area inspected the field this week and announced the ordered shutdown had been complied with 100 per cent. As the patrols of State troopers to enforce the Governor's proclamation of martial law perfect their beats in the 160,000 acres of oil wells, they probably will inspect seals on the gate valves to simplify the inspections that will be kept up to assure the continuance of the observance.

The Bonehead Club of Dallas was asked in a telegram from fifty Business Men of Welling, Texas, to grant full memberships at once to the members of the Federal Farm Board, who proposed that farmers reap under every third row of cotton. "We, as citizens of Texas in consideration of the recent commendations of Herbert Hoover Farm Board," reads the message, "wish to nominate these gentlemen for membership in your Bonehead Club." The Bonehead Club immediately rescinded that such action is very doubtful. This spokesman pointed out that even the Bonehead Club puts some limits to the extent to which a person or persons may pull boners and still be eligible for membership.

TAXES IN ENGLAND

There are plenty of wealthy men and women in England, including a big assortment of earls, dukes, counts and barons. But they have to pay for the privilege of being millionaires.

For example consider the sad case of the Earl of Strathmore, father-in-law of the Duke of York, second son of the King of England. The Earl has vast estates and an ancestral home at Glamis Castle, Scotland. But everything he owns is taxed. He is already paying out in taxes 80 pounds of every 100 he receives, and now a new and heavier land tax has been levied.

America has many more millionaires than England. But we are more democratic in our treatment of them. Who could imagine a Rockefeller or a Mellon being taxed four-fifths of his income!

JOE SHIELD EXECUTED

Joe Shield, triple slayer of Brown County, was electrocuted in the state penitentiary at Huntsville early Friday. He was pronounced dead at 12:12 a. m., eight minutes after the first shock was administered.

Shield was convicted of slaying his estranged wife and charged with killing her parents at Brooksmith, Brown County, May 16, 1930. He had failed to gain forgiveness from his children before his death.

DIES FINISHED

At Washington, dies have been finished on the postoffice department's most pretentious commemorative stamp series—the 12 Washington portraits to decorate 1932 bicentennial year mail.

For two months, the work occupied the government's most careful makers of miniatures. John Eissler, Louis Schofield and Clarence Benzing, protrait engravers of the bureau of engraving and printing.

Under canopies of slanting glass, these super-artists sat in their cubicles, doing George Washington free-hand on steel from famous paintings. Their diamond-pointed engravers were guided through magnifying glasses, making steady, sure, although minutely-dotted lines that must be magnified again for their artistry to be appreciated.

Infinitely skillful fingers have these makers of stamp portraits. Their product must baffle the counterfeiter as well as satisfy the art critic.

The government of Newfoundland is in financial difficulties. One way out that has been suggested is the sale of Labrador. But Jeanette M. Lewis, patriotic Canadian subject, came to the rescue. She has offered to lend the Newfoundland government $109,000,000, on easy terms.

Miss Lewis lives in New York and it occurred to one newspaper there to find out something about her. They discovered that she was a "kitchen director" in a Greenwich village restaurant. But in any event her intentions were good.

TWO BILLION DOLLARS TEXAS SALES IN 1929

Echoes of the boom year of 1929 are found in the report from the Census Bureau of retail sales in Texas in 1929. The figures show a total of $2,074,164,500, for the state with about one-fourth of the business in the three cities of Houston, Dallas and San Antonio. This amount is equal to $365, a year for every man, woman and child in the state. Independent stores accounted for nearly three-fourths of the total business.

It may be the depression to the rest of the world, but to Sam, a Cuero negro, "It's just where the melon's been lyin' in the sand."

Sam makes his living out of what truck and chickens he can grow on his little farm outside Cuero.

He came into town the other day with a load of melons. He had them priced at 20 and 30 cents each.

Sam glanced at the "white folks."

"That there ain't no depression on that melon, Mr. Bob," he pointed out. "That there's just where that melon's been lyin' in the sand."

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS ENJOYS PARTY

The home of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Rice was the scene of much merriment on Thursday afternoon from 6 to 8 o'clock, when Miss Marie Rice entertained her Sunday School Class, and a few of their invited friends.

Perhaps the most thrilling event of the afternoon was when the children took their first airplane ride.

Miss Mary Lou Preston then introduced the mysterious visitor of the afternoon, Madame Bouncing Betty. She was able by magical methods to answer the many questions that were asked.

Many interesting games and contests were provided that were conducive to much enjoyment.

The charming hostess was ably assisted in entertaining by Miss Dimples Beshears.

Perhaps the event of paramount interest to the children was when they were invited into the dining room, where delicious refreshments consisting of pink lemonade, cake and watermelon were served to the following joy makers: Clayton Ince, Charles Elliott, Dorothy and Billy Casey, Adeline Pybean, Willene Wigley, Mary Lou and Joyce Preston, Rey Ivy, Barbara June and Jack Casey, Kenneth Masters, H. G. Marilyn and Hester Smith, Virginia and Lawrence Scott, Dick Hamilton, Fred and Virginia McFarland, Marie Clardy, Theda Fay and Bonita Daniel, and Aline and J. R. McCullars.

Mrs. Ed Stephenson and children of Brownwood spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Smith and attended the Methodist revival.

A. J. McDonald complimented the editor with a large sample of his fine tomatoes. The tomatoes and the kind thought were equally appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Shelton visited in Hamilton recently and Billy Frank and Jean Hancock came home with their grandparents for the week-end.

Rev. George Henry of Rice visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wylie Henry, the past week-end. He was enroute to San Saba county to hold a revival.

Mrs. G. G. Hodges left Thursday for her home in Oildale, California, after a delightful visit in Texas with her father, Henry Fisher at Sudan and relatives and friends here.

Sweeney Brothers sheared 1700 goats for Ed Dudley recently and say that is the largest bunch they have sheared this season. About three pounds of mohair was received from each goat.

The Methodist revival closed Sunday night after a series of sermons for the past week. Rev. Hamner, pastor of the San Saba Methodist church, brought to the people here excellent spiritual truths. Mrs. L. L. Wilson led the singing, Mrs. C. C. Hancock, the pianist, and the orchestra was faithful and present to give of their talents. The Booster Band was there in full force and report that Saturday afternoon program was the best ever held. There were two conversions.

Mrs. B. R. Buford and her daughter, Jane Lou, of Dallas came by last Wednesday on their way to Corpus Christi. Mrs. R. T. Vaughan and Mr. Tillman Vaughan accompanied them to Corpus Christi. Mrs. Vaughan expects to visit her brother, Mr. K. C. McQuary, whom she has not seen for about twenty-five years. She also expects to visit her sister, Mrs. C. T. Echols and her son, Mrs. C. E. Vaughan, all of Corpus Christi. They expect to be away about two weeks. Misses Ruth and Kathleen Vaughan are visiting Mr. C. C. Blackman and family while they are away.

JANITOR SELECTED

The Mullin school board selected Calvin Scrivner as the janitor for the school session of 1931-32.

MANY CHANGES

I. McCurry and family expect to move to the residence of Dr. R. H. Jones about the 1st. of September. L. J. Smith and family have moved to thier new home on North 4th street.

Mrs. G. B. Wallace has gone to Christoval to try the change for her severe attack of rheumatism. Her many friends here anticipate for her a speedy recovery.

Sam Morgan and family moved to Lometa Saturday. Mr. Morgan and family have resided in the Sleepy Hollow section for several years and made many friends while here who will regret to see them leave.

FREAKS OF THE NEWS

At Wilmington, Del., fees from marriages performed by Mayor Frank C. Sparks will go to swell the fund for unemployment relief, the chief executive has announced.

At Kansas City, four stamps were sold by a stamp company for $15,000. The stamps were an unused block of four of the first United States air mail, 24 cents of 1918, with the inverted center.

In Chicago, Dennis Cronin has just drunk up his fourth pair of trousers, his mother, Mrs. Hanna Cronin, complained in court. "Every time he feels a spree coming on, he sells his pants for a bottle. It's the fourth pair he's drunk", she said.

At Detroit, a long distance telephone call from Richmond, Va., after the brother of the victim had seen his picture in a Detroit paper, has brought back the memory of a man who had been in a receiving hospital there five days as an amnesiac patient.

As the Loveland, Col., volunteer fire department, pride of the town, was winning several prizes at the annual State firemen's convention and field meet at Grand Junction, the Kuntz-Toppson canning factory at Loveland was swept by fire. Damage was estimated at $50,000.

They had to call out a good, old-fashioned team of horses to help when three automobiles slid and skidded and went haywire in a 100-foot mud puddle on Broadway and Forty-Third street, New York City. Visiting country folks remarked a mule team would have done the work better.

In Denver, Mrs. Norman Ewald, 30, a divorcee, was held in charge of forcing her way into the home of County Judge George A. Luford and demanding that he support her for the rest of her life. Mrs. Luford told police Mrs. Ewald asserted that, as a result of the judge's action in granting her husband a divorce, she had a "general right" to make her "room" with them.

In Chicago, for two hours Friday a man wandered around a bus station, studying travel literature. Suddenly he walked toward the bus line clerk, Harry Lucas, drew a pistol from his pocket and said: "I guess I'll take my vacation. It's a hold-up." He then forced eight travelers, including three women, into adjoining rooms, took $550 and left to start his vacation.

At Beverly, Mass., squads of health department workers struggled to bury the millions of dead herring and hake that come in at high tide Monday. Huge mounds of dead fish extended a mile and a half along the beach in the vicinity of Bass River, where one of the most exclusive summer resorts along the north shore is situated. Summer residents moved temporarily to less offensive quarters. Fishermen said that the herring and hake were driven to the New England coast by larger fish and were unable to get off the sand flats when the tide went out.

CUBA LIBRE!

That so-called "Pearl of the Antilles" for whose freedom America expended blood and treasure in '98 seems determined to put on one revolution after another. The leader of the present movement is to throw off the yoke of governmental tyranny is former President Mario G. Menocal, who helped free his beloved country from the Spaniard a generation ago, and expects now to do as much for his fellow-patriots in divesting from office Senator Gerardo Machado.

The more liberal part of the American public opinion will, of course, rejoice to learn that the state department at Washington professes unconcern at the Cuban disturbances. The United States has certain duties which were placed as heavy burdens upon our backs by the Platt amendment, which guaranteed to save the Cubans from everybody but themselves. If the constitutional liberties of that nation are temporarily lost, due to the presence in office of a conscienceless dictator, that would seem to be the Cuban people's hard luck. At least they have the right of revolution and the ability to carry it out without undue interference from the United States. That is something.

America has had a dozen different policies which it has tried to carry out in connection with the vexed question of maintaining law and order in the Caribbean and Central America. We have backed governments which were in and governments which were out. We have cheered winners and on several recent occasions mourned with losers. As a result of our extensive adventures into the tortuous world of Latin American diplomacy, we have managed to get more than our full share of hatreds and prejudices on the part of those we have tried to help.

The state department at Washington has perhaps lost patience with this latest Cuban fiasco and decided to let president and former president, dictator and former dictator, tyrant and former tyrant, fight it out and may the best man win. The Cuban people will in the end work out their own political salvation, gradually and with painful slowness evolve a more perfect form of government. It will necessarily be a process and one which the United States cannot help by maintaining an attitude of strict impartiality to all factions unless American lives and property are endangered. Only then will we intervene, not from without, but from within.

AN INVENTOR'S TRICKS

Professor Archibald Low of London is often called the English Edison. He has not only performed some of the greatest engineering feats in England, but delights to mystify his friends with small inventions at his home.

For example, there is the invention of the garage doors which seemed to open by magic. The neighbors would see Professor Low drive up to his garage, blow his horn, and the garage doors swing open as if endowed with human intelligence. The secret of this invention was a violin string attached to a delicate mechanism inside the door. As soon as a certain note was sounded, the violin string vibrated. This vibration operated an electric switch which in its turn locked and unlocked the door. It was convenient for the motorist, who could drive up to the locked doors of his garage, blow his horn, unlock the doors, drive through and lock the doors again—without ever leaving his seat.

Another interesting invention is the cigarette for the motorist. The ash does not blow off under the influence of the wind, and fly into the motorist's eyes. Any ordinary cigarette was treated by Professor Low in a manner which, while leaving the tobacco unharmed, kept the ash solidified. The cigarette remains intact, and when the smoker has had his smoke, he throws the whole cigarette away. Another convenient gadget-invention by Professor Low is a box for attachment to the dashboard. Every time a cigarette is taken from the container, it is automatically ignited.

A useful invention for the inebriate, who returns home late in an intoxicated condition, with the key, but unable to find the keyhole, is the selenium lock. All the belated drunk has to do is to turn his pocket flashlight upon a certain spot on the door—if he can find it! The door unlocks itself and swings open. Inserted in the door is a selenium cell, which is sensitive to light. Under the ray of the electric torch its electrical resistance is altered, and this change in turn operates a catch and causes the door to swing wide.

CIGARETTE TAX STAMP

Statements clarifying provisions of the cigarette tax law, which becomes effective Aug. 22, were made Thursday by J. A. Donnell, chief of the cigarette tax division of the Treasury Department. All cigarettes in dealers' hands Aug. 22 must bear the tax stamp properly canceled, which can be affixed to the waxed paper wrapper if it can be securely attached, otherwise it must be placed on the inner package.

Effective Aug. 22, the new license permit fee of $5 is necessary for dealers of cigarettes. If the present license fee has been paid, however, it continues until the expiration date. The minimum penalty for violation of the act is a $25 fine.

WOMEN PILOT FLIGHTS

The 1931 season for non-stop flights may die in the dim of the unprecedented feminine achievement.

To be the first woman to pilot a plane in a non-stop flight, from America to Europe, has suddenly loomed as a much-coveted distinction.

Thus far there are four entrants in the air steeplechase, with the Atlantic as the great barrier, and with winning tapes stretched at London, Paris and Rome. Ruth Nichols, Laura Ingalls, Mrs. Geraldine Grey Lofredo, and Elinor Smith, all transport flyers, have announced plans to take off "some time in August."

OIL: U. S. Surpasses All Countries in Prod

CHAPTER VI

WHILE some 24 countries are commercially producing petroleum, eight of these—the United States, Venezuela, Russia, (including Sakhalin), Mexico, Persia, Roumania, Dutch East Indies, and Colombia—contribute 95 per cent of all the oil that is being produced. The United States alone produces 67 per cent of the total.

How does it happen that the United States has so strikingly surpassed other countries in developing petroleum resources? First, Nature has richly endowed this country with oil resources. Whether she has been more bountiful to us in her gift than to certain other countries only the future can say.

Second, generally speaking, petroleum in the United States is accessible, lending itself to quick and efficient methods of transportation; while in certain other countries, also liberally favored by Nature, the oil is much more inaccessible and far from refineries and the great consuming centers.

Third, American ingenuity and enterprise have found the oil, built the pipe lines and refineries, and—not less important—created great new consuming agencies for petroleum products, notably the automobile. Thus oil is in greater demand and use here than in any other country of the world.

Fourth, under American laws of property ownership, giving, except on the Public Domain, the surface owner title to the sub-soil, and under the operation of competitive methods, oil development in this country has been free and little hampered. In certain other countries the government has retained the sub-soil rights. Highly restrictive laws and royalty obligations, regarded as prohibitive by progressive developers, have limited the number of interests, and competition has been lacking or restrained and development retarded.

Americans in Foreign Oil Fields. Except for a relatively small production in Roumania, Poland, and the Dutch East Indies, the production operations of American oil companies

OIL-PRODUCING COUNTRIES OF THE WORLD

Table listing oil-producing countries and their production percentages: 1. Canada, 2. United States, 3. Mexico, 4. Trinidad, 5. Venezuela, 6. Colombia, 7. Ecuador, 8. Peru, 9. Argentina, 10. France, 11. Germany, 12. Czechoslovakia, 13. Poland, 14. Roumania, 15. Russia, 16. Italy, 17. Egypt, 18. Iraq, 19. Persia, 20. India.

in foreign fields are chiefly confined to Mexico and South America; in other words, the fields tributary to American refineries.

Americans, with the British and the Dutch, pioneered in Mexico and again in Venezuela, and American initiative and methods have been in large degree responsible for the contribution made by these countries to the world's oil supply.

Refineries of the World. The United States probably accounts for 85 per cent of the world's refining capacity. This great preponderance is logical when it is considered that this country produces nearly 70 per cent of the world's oil output and that it probably accounts for 70 per cent of the world's oil consumption.

The World Goes Round on Oil

The world was brought to a full realization of the importance of petroleum in every-day life, in industry, and in safeguarding national security, during the World War. The use of fuel oil in factories and for ship propulsion, and the demand for specialized fuels and lubricants transportation, had during the war.

U. S. Products in All

Since the earliest days of the American oil industry, products can oil have found their way to all parts of the world. Tin and the drum container lubricating oil and ingeniously put up by peoples dwelling in the deserts, in the Indian, the aborigine and the jungle, the American tin lamp brought light signifies in social life something like the dollar worth of oil and petroleum products in the cases of creating oil the quantity parts is small as compared with domestic consumption.

Archer Grocery Co The Best Place to Trade After A

Everything to Build Anything Nails and Staples

Published in the interest of the people of Mills county by Barnes and McCullough.

PAUL McCULLOUGH, Editor

The biggest thrill we get out of the lumber business is the knowledge we have pleased our customer.

In her school essay on "Parents," a little girl wrote—"We get our parents at so late an age that it is impossible to change their habits."

The South Bennett School Trustees have started remodeling their school building.

Bright Beginning: "Hello, Tom, got a job yet?" "Yes, I'm selling furniture now."

"Selling much?" "Only my own, so far."
