

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1931.

NUMBER TWENTY-FIVE

SCHOOL OPENING

Public school opened here this morning with a good attendance and every indication is that the year will be a successful term. The school is not as large now as it was last year, but is sufficient to fill the rooms and keep the teachers busy.

The principal expressed pleasure in the prospects for the year and the faculty and board of trustees are enthusiastic in their cooperation of the school and community. The pupils are enthusiastic in their work. Goldthwaite's school has been steadily improving for a good many years and this year gives promise of a continued improvement.

INCENDIE BURNED

Residence of Bess Laird, on street between Hutchings and the school grounds, western part of town, was destroyed by fire about Thursday morning and was saved from the flames were so far advanced when the fire was discovered that the fire department made no progress toward the house. Flying shingles from the burning roof ignited a lot of at least three residences in that section. The Laird was away from home and no fire about the place, as known, hence the origin of the blaze is unknown. There was some insurance on the building and its contents, but help toward overcompensation.

PLAYGROUND OPENING

Monday night the gates of the Athens playground were opened to the Baptist Sunday school and a number of others.

They met at the gates by the gates, who directed us to the book, presided over by F. Q. Jackson, and from the punch bowl, which was served in evergreens. We were served punch throughout the evening.

The circulars read: "Beware: 'A one dollar bill is used for the swindle. Both ends are clipped thereby removing the numerals No. 1 from the ends. The ends of a ten dollar bill are clipped and pasted on the ends of the defaced one dollar bill, thereby ostensibly making the latter resemble a ten dollar bill."

"It is presumed that the original ten dollar bills with the ends missing are sent to the United States treasury for redemption as mutilated currency; when the scheme is carried out successfully, the perpetrator realizes $19 profit from the transaction, receiving $10 from the person or firm on whom the raised bill is passed and $10 for redemption from the Treasury. He of course loses the one dollar bill, which he uses as the body of the raised ten."—Brownwood Bulletin.

FOOTBALL DAYS ARE HERE AGAIN

This column has now become a part of our local high school activities, so its heading will be changed to High School Athletics. We will try to give a short article on the sport being played along with the news of our own team.

The Start of a Game

The two captains meet on the field and toss a coin to see who kicks the ball first. The winner of the toss can choose to kick or choose the goal he will defend. The other captain gets the remaining choice.

The kicking team spreads out in a straight line, while the receivers scatter out to cover as much territory as possible.

The referee blows his whistle and the ball is kicked—up in the air and down the field. The man who receives the ball is nervous and may drop it, but the chances are he will catch it and run back up the field with it until some member of the kicking team catches him and throws him down.

The game is then on in full blast and we are now ready with first down, ten yards to go.

The prospects for the High School football are much brighter than last year. We have eighteen men out with twelve of them having a little experience. We need your support and encouragement.

DIRECTOR.

WATCH FOR BOGUS BILLS

Merchants of Brownwood are warned by the sheriff's office to watch out for bogus bills. Bills made from $1 bills to appear as $10 have been passed in towns in this section of the state and officers in several different towns are making an effort to apprehend the one who is passing them.

A bill of this kind was received and detected by a local bank several days ago, but so far as known no other instances of this nature have been noted.

Circulars about the bills were printed today by the sheriff's office, the description of the bills being taken from a letter from Temple police warning officers here to keep a look out for the bogus money.

The circulars read: "Beware: 'A one dollar bill is used for the swindle. Both ends are clipped thereby removing the numerals No. 1 from the ends. The ends of a ten dollar bill are clipped and pasted on the ends of the defaced one dollar bill, thereby ostensibly making the latter resemble a ten dollar bill."

"It is presumed that the original ten dollar bills with the ends missing are sent to the United States treasury for redemption as mutilated currency; when the scheme is carried out successfully, the perpetrator realizes $19 profit from the transaction, receiving $10 from the person or firm on whom the raised bill is passed and $10 for redemption from the Treasury. He of course loses the one dollar bill, which he uses as the body of the raised ten."—Brownwood Bulletin.

A FINE COOK BOOK

The Wesley Workers Sunday school class has issued a cook book, compiled by members of the class and their friends, and it is now on sale. This is one of the most complete books of the kind to be found and it is doubtful if a more valuable book of the kind is in existence. The book contains a great deal of data not in recipes for cooking, but there are a good many hundreds of these recipes, covering almost anything in the culinary art. The books have been placed in the hands of various members of the class and they are selling them fast. There were only 300 of the issue and those desiring one are advised to hurry with their order.

TEACHERS INSTITUTE

The Mills County Teachers Institute was in session in the Goldthwaite school building last Thursday and Friday, with a large attendance of teachers. President Thos. F. Taylor of Howard Payne college was the conductor, while Mrs. Trapp of Daniel Baker college delivered several interesting and instructive lectures.

While the proceedings of the institute detail were of little interest to others than teachers, they were undoubtedly of benefit to all who attend.

In the closing session of the Institute the following resolutions were adopted.

Resolutions

Whereas, the Mills County Teachers Institute met in Goldthwaite, on September 3 and 4, 1931, therefore, be it resolved:

3. To Rev. H. H. Dare and Rev. J. W. Patterson, for leading the devotional part of the program.

The members of the congregation were pleased to welcome him and to hear him preach again.

Mrs. W. A. Gantt of Round Rock stopped off to see her brother, Lewis Hudson, on her return trip from Los Angeles, Cal., to visit her daughter. While here Mrs. Gantt and Mr. Hudson visited an old friend of their father, Mrs. George Campbell, nee Mary Sloan, of San Saba. They came back by their old home, a little log cabin their father built in 1885, three miles from San Saba, on Simpson Creek, on the Locklear farm. The house is still standing with the logs and mortar intact.

BAPTIST CHURCH

It appears from what we can see and hear that the pastor of the Baptist church has become a target for most everybody. Especially did it seem that way last week. Before the first day of the week had passed, two professors informed him that he used a word wrong in his Sunday night message. Our answer to that was we wanted to see if they were really listening to what was being said. Early Monday morning we met a very affable and likeable fellow, who resides at Brownwood, but lives in Goldthwaite. This gentleman wanted to know why it was we never had much to say about Baptists. Our answer to that was, Baptists were forordinated and predestinated to do right. They must be that way before they can be Baptists. We moved on down the street and met another gentleman whom we have the highest regard for, and he informed us that some of the Baptists said they had a good preacher, but he preached too long. Our answer to that was, it takes lots of good things to fill up some Baptists. Now comes along the week end, finding Windjamming Jane changing her name to Pajama Jane, and if we ever find out her real name we are going to reply to the same.

The opening of the playground by the Athens last Monday night was a decided success. Numbers of people were present and every thing that could be done had been done for the entertainment, not only for the class, but for the visitors. Most any kind of game that you could think of was the order of the day and we strictly mean games that were innocent. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fairman furnished the refreshments, which consisted of watermelons. These melons had been on cold storage for 48 hours and to say that the big crowd enjoyed them would just put it in a mild way. Mrs. J. V. Cockrum, who is the president of the class deserves much credit for the splendid way she arranged for the entertainment. Now listen. We are going to see how many of those at the entertainment will be at church next Sunday. We are going to count and see if the number registered will correspond with the number present, and we are going to make allowances for all invited guests. To all members of the Baptist Sunday school that were at the playground had better put in their appearance at the Baptist church Sunday.

There were two or three things very noticeable Sunday. Several of our regular church goers were not present. We are going to make allowance for you being out last Sunday, but please put in your appearance Sunday. You help to make our church just what it is. You help to build, or help to take away. Of course if you are provisionally hindered you have a legal excuse. But to maliciously and deliberately stay away from your church is not treating your church right. You are not treating God right and you are not treating yourself right. Another thing: Frank Taylor attended both services last Sunday and if he can do this you go and do likewise.

Just a warning and not that we are trying to run anyone's business. Unless some of us have more regard as to how fast we run our cars in the city limits, trouble is just ahead. It's inevitable. We like to have had two serious accidents last week on Fisher. Providence undoubtedly intervened. Just remember that next time they may happen. Some parents ought to get on the side streets and watch how fast their cars can run. If the officers inform them they get angry, if friends inform them they get angry. Now someone who is reading these lines, is thinking that it is none of the preacher's business. Well, we just don't want to see some one killed, as a result of carelessness and many times it is an innocent party, too. Let's see that our

A GRAIN SHOW

County Agent W. P. Weaver called a meeting of business men in his office in the court house yesterday morning, for the purpose of discussing the advisability of holding a show of corn, maize, kaffir, feterita, hegari and cotton in the court house on Tuesday, Sept. 22. The plan was unanimously approved and Mr. Weaver appointed a committee of young business men to assist him with the display. They are Raymond Little, R. L. Steen, Jr., Foster Brim, Billie Bigham, Jack Harrison, Earl Summy and Granvil Barnett. Tables will be arranged in the corridor of the court house, where the display can be made. Those who desire to make exhibits of their products are invited to bring in their ears of corn or ten heads of the other grains and ten open bolls of cotton at any time. Those bringing in products before the day of the show—Sept. 22—can leave them in Mr. Weaver's office and in case he is out of town Judge Simpson or County Clerk Porter will take charge of the exhibits.

RADIO PROGRAM

The Shive string band, composed of C. C. Soloman, violin; Mrs. C. C. Soloman, piano; Charles Cole, guitar, will give a program over KFPL, Dublin, 7:30 to 8:30, Saturday night. All radio fans are invited to tune in at that time.

DOWN ON THE FARM

By O. G. H.

Now that the legislature has convened to consider the cotton farmers plight and a number of bills are before the solons, let thoughtful farmers look into the merits of the various bills and advise our representative of their preference. In the meantime go forward with a "Live at Home" program against the coming winter.

And why not have a corn and grain sorghum show? Start getting up an exhibit of 10 heads or 10 ears of quality products and watch for announcement of a one day show.

A few months ago, an interesting letter appear in Farm and Ranch from the pen of Mrs. J. W. Dellis, who is carrying on an interesting home program. If Mrs. Dellis will write a letter for the Eagle concerning her home activities, we are sure it will be gladly accorded space. O. G. H. will yield his space. What says Mrs. Dellis?

ONE OF THE CHEAPEST AND BEST FOODS

Campaigns to encourage the consumption of milk, will, of course, benefit the dairy farmers of the nation—but a far greater benefit will come to the public as a whole, and particularly to growing children.

The value of milk as food can hardly be over-estimated. It has no effective substitute. It contains elements vital to sustain and nourish the system and provides them in easily assimilated form. Dr. Percy Howe, lecturer of Harvard Medical and Dental school, says a quart of milk a day will help prevent decay of teeth by furnishing necessary lime.

It may be said that the nation has never had a better or safer milk supply than at present. In most states rigid codes of standards are in force, and organizations among dairymen themselves are working in the interests of safe and wholesome milk. It is one of the cheapest foods—and likewise one of the most necessary.

NARROW ROADS DANGEROUS

Communities should pay more attention to the width of their new roads.

It is generally conceded that building one-way highways menaces the safety of those who travel and constitutes economic waste. Two "half highways" built at different times cost a good deal more than a "whole highway" built at one time.

Nowadays modern low-cost, waterproof, bituminous surfaces, laid over local materials, can be secured for a nominal figure to serve rural districts with year-round secondary roads. Such roads pay for themselves again and again in a multitude of ways—in allowing farmers to go to market at favorable times, in giving farm children better opportunities to attend district schools, in limiting the hazard of fire in isolated homes. And while we are building them, we should build for the traffic of the future that will demand twenty-foot surfaces if the maximum of efficiency and safety is to be achieved.

A LIBERAL OFFER

The Eagle has again secured the concession from the Dallas Semi-Weekly News which enables us to offer that paper one year, together with a year's subscription to the Eagle for $1.50. This applies to new or old subscribers for either the News or the Eagle. The regular subscription price of the News is $1.00 per year, but by this arrangement it is given free, else the subscriber pays the price for the News and gets the Eagle for 50 cents. Either way it saves the subscriber $1.00. As this offer is made the Eagle as a temporary inducement it is passed out the same way.

LOWER PHONE RATES

In Amarillo, Texas, in addition to lower gas, water and light rates, residents now enjoy lower telephone charges.

Following a demand for lower rates by Mayor Ernest Thompson, the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company announced a reduction of 25 cents monthly on residence phones, 50 cents on business phones and 75 cents on commercial trunks.

Monthly charges for the three services now are $3, $6.50 and $9.75.

A REASONABLE CHARGE

The Eagle makes a charge of 5 cents per line for obituaries, resolutions of respect, cards of thanks, notice of entertainment where there is a financial benefit, as well as for all similar articles. The sender of these articles will be expected to see the bill paid. The fact that the Eagle has accumulated quite a number of these accounts makes it necessary to require that payment be arranged before the articles are published.

NO LONGER A JOKE

About thirty years ago the press of the country was publishing an alleged joke on Texas in which it was related that the Texan got up in the morning at the alarm of a Connecticut clock, put on Chicago pants held up by Ohio suspenders, etc., the story winding up with the statement that the only thing the man had that originated in Texas was a yellow dog.

The editor of Farm and Ranch was a youngster working on a Wisconsin newspaper. This Texas story looked like a good joke, so it was slipped and pasted up as a filler. The senior editor, however, saw it, and said: "Young man, that joke was used in this paper fifteen years ago, and has been repeated off and on every since."

To our surprise we find this old moth-eaten, bewhiskered piece of libel going the rounds of the Texas press. It has even appeared in an educational journal published for educated people who ought to know something of the industrial development of their own state.

Of the things listed that this Texan used, which came from other states we note that many are now produced within our own borders. We may be getting our alarm clocks from Connecticut as of yore, but we are making numerous other articles, some of which are probably used by the New England Yankees.

PLENTY OF MONEY

Coin Harvey and those of his school of finance hold that there is a scarcity of money in circulation, which accounts for our ills. But whenever the Government wants to borrow money it is overwhelmed with offers of it. Washington offered us $800,000,000 worth of 3 per cent bonds Monday. The over-subscription is so great that there is no chance of supplying all bidders with as much as they wished to buy.

That doesn't look like too little money. The chief trouble about money now is finding a safe place to invest it. Everybody is thinking about safety so hard that for a moment the siren song of big returns is unheard. Three per cent is a good profit, we have found out of last, provided you are sure of getting the 3 per cent.

The truth is that we have plenty of money, just as we have plenty of wheat. But the money has ceased to circulate just as the wheat has ceased to circulate. The wheat is not in the right place. This is not just a coincidence. For money, if you remember your copy-book definitions, is the medium of exchange, and when exchange slows up, money slows up, too. It piles up in bank vaults and savings accounts just as surely as wheat piles up on the ground in West Texas, while China is starving in some provinces for the want of wheat.

Overproduction is pretty nearly world-wide, largely because we have ceased to exchange our surplus for the surpluses of other countries, which produce different things from ours.

In some articles there is a world-wide surplus, notably cotton and oil. But, in most items, interference with channels of trade is clearly to blame. That interference comes from tariff walls, from artificial burdens like the war debts, and from military disturbances and governmental violence, as in the case of China, Russia and some South American countries.

CHINESE FLEEING FROM MEXICO

Jails on the Arizona side of the Mexican border are being crowded by Chinese fleeing from Mexico under an expulsion edict by the legislatures of several Northern Mexican states.

The Chinese, many of them obviously in fear of bodily harm, were held in American jails for hearings on a charge of entering this country illegally.

C.K. Wong, Chinese vice consul at Nogales, said many wealthy Chinese were being reduced to near poverty by being compelled to sell their property hurriedly. Importers and merchants in Sonora alone will lose upward of $10,000,000, he estimated.

The Anti-Chinese movement had its inception in 1919 when first complaints against the Orientals were heard. A law requiring all employers to hire a minimum of 80 per cent of native Mexican workers was a chief factor. Many of the stores and companies are owned cooperatively. To comply with the law, Wong said, owners frequently were forced to quit working in their own establishments.

OIL: Winning of Oil Triumph of Science

CHAPTER VIII SIMPLY to say that the oil producing area of the United States has been extended since the exciting days when Drake drilled the first oil well is to tell only part of the story of the winning of oil in the United States.

The Laboratory Plays Its Part

It is true that old fields have been extended and new ones discovered, thus adding vast territories to the pioneer producing state, Pennsylvania; but it should also be pointed out that deeper drilling has uncovered deposits of oil which only a few years ago would have been considered beyond the reach of man.

Oil in its underground reservoir exists in association with natural gas; and to bring about the efficient utilization of this gas scientists have engaged in important work bearing upon the very life of the oil pool itself.

Evolution of Petroleum Industry The Drake well produced 20 barrels of oil a day—not enough to supply a small town at the present time. Today eight barrels of oil are being produced in this country annually to each person of the population. The oil is coming from 250,000 wells, which are producing in 15 states.

The faith placed in the possibilities of petroleum by those who built the first refineries has been more than justified. These pioneers could not have begun to guess all the products of petroleum essential to our modern existence. But they did know that petroleum would provide light and lubrication, that it would soothe the ills of man. Small refineries which at first manufactured the products giving light and lubrication have grown into great industrial plants which make products furnishing light, lubrication, heat, and power. The first primitive tank car has evolved into the efficient cylinder on wheels that is seen in long trains on every railroad. And the first pipe line has extended into a unique underground railway with gathering lines lateral lines, and a large network of trunk lines rivaling our great railway systems. The tank vessel represents today one-sixth of our merchant tonnage. The old sailing ship may be said to have struck its flag to the oil tanker.

New Era of Cooperation The oil industry of the United States is many businesses rolled into one. It is a "mining business," a transportation business by land and sea, a manufacturing business, and a marketing business that distributes its products not alone to the retailer, but to the consuming public as well. No industry has been called upon to make so available a capital outlay within so short a time as has the oil industry during the last two decades. Furthermore, though tremendous growth has enabled it to meet every demand made upon it, rapid expansion has also been responsible for some of the major problems of the industry today—whether they be problems of production, refining, or marketing.

The American oil industry is now engaged in a cooperative effort to solve its own problems and to improve further its operating methods. For this purpose it is pledged to cooperation in the conservation of petroleum—not merely within its own ranks, but also with the federal and state governments. It is launched upon a new era—one of cooperation. (Reprinted from Petroleum Institute, N. Y.)

BEAUTY in the HOME

Crisp Curtains for the Sleeping Room

HOME furnishings with a distinct period feeling, bugbears to the housewife, who never is quite sure whether they "go" well with the rest of a room, are not so embarrassing as one might think, as is delightfully illustrated in this sleeping room which combines the French Provencal and early American spirit. The permandry curtains, a most important adjunct to which the remainder of the apartment is tuned. They are ecru marquisette in a bel-marque finish which is a chemical treatment of the yarn that gives it the necessary crispness and permanently seals the fiber in the yarn so that it is not necessary in laundering to use starch. Val colors, resistant to light and water, are used in the lining, and the curtains carry out the light cream color of the Provencal wall paper which has a small pattern of blue and orange dots. No drapes are used but such a window might well have over-drapes as well. The furniture is of French design in maple and the lamp-work bedspread is covered with a Kentucky coverlet. Braided Colonial rug, pewter and an old-fashioned clock add to the quaint charm of the place. So, here is a room furnished very simply but with a beauty all its own, a personality, in fact, in which many furniture from the south of France, American contemporary, Colonial accessories and a touch of color from the Kentucky mountains all go to help. Mixing colors doesn't matter; on the contrary, sometimes it helps.

GOLD SAFE IN AMERICA

The unusual amount of gold now in the U. S. totaling nearly $5,000,000,000, is not in this country as a result of a trade balance, but because of flight of capital to the United States from the whole world. It was estimated that at least $2,000,000,000 worth of gold has taken refuge in American banks as a result of a lack of confidence of other peoples in their governments.

COTTON ESTIMATE INCREASED AGAIN

A 1931 American cotton crop of 15,685,000 bales was forecast Tuesday by the department of agriculture.

The estimate was based on a condition of 68 per cent of normal on September 1. On August 8, the department crop reporting board estimated the crop would be 15,584,000 bales. Last year's production was 13,932,000 bales.

The indicated yield of lint cotton was 183.6 pounds per acre for harvest. The abandonment was estimated at 1.5 per cent, with the indicated area left for harvest placed at 40,389,000 acres.

The census bureau issued a report showing that 565,160 running bales, counting round as half bales, had been ginned from the 1931 crop prior to September 1, compared with 1,879,919 bales for the same period of last year.

Forecast of a cotton crop of 15,685,000 bales gave further confirmation to previous estimates of an unusually high cotton pro-

SPECIAL SESSION CONSIDERS COTTON

Tuesday cotton leaders of the south centered their attention upon the Texas capitol, where the legislature was convened in special session by Gov. Sterling with the exhortation to enact cotton reduction laws that would "light the way for the southland out of the darkness that now engulfs it."

Governor Sterling's message was read in both houses of the legislature only a few hours after the federal department of agriculture at Washington had issued a new production estimate which gave little comfort to alarmed cotton growers.

The first cotton bill of the legislative calendar was the plan sponsored by Governor Huey P. Long of Louisiana for complete cotton planting prohibition in 1932, embodied in a bill introduced by Representative Victor Gilbert of Cisco. Representative Gordon M. Burns of Huntsville introduced a bill calling for 50 per cent reduction in acreage.

Several other bills were in preparation both in the house and senate, although the upper house spent the afternoon in organization.

Governor Sterling's message to the lawmakers declared that nothing less than an acute emergency in public affairs of Texas would have occasioned the session. The weary legislators already had been in session 161 days this year, wrestling with problems of oil conservation and taxation.

He indicated he favored a 50 per cent cotton acreage reduction in 1931. The executive said the session "was called to aid an industry in distress—the basic industry of the state, materially affecting practically the entire population, directly or indirectly."

SUB RETURNS SAFE

To Advent Bay, Spitzbergen, Sir Hubert Wilkin's polar submarine, the Nautilus, returned Tuesday, after an extended tour of the Arctic ice fields.

The Nautilus was damaged in the ice and for several days anxiety was felt for its safety, because of failure to answer radio queries.

The submarine when it arrived appeared to have been badly damaged by its adventures in the ice.

duction to be added to surpluses which already have brought sharp declines in cotton prices.

Cotton prices touched the lowest levels since 1904 in New York Tuesday, but rallied to give demonstration of firmness in the face of the government's revised crop estimate as of September 1.

The close was 1 to 3 points higher, with most positions within a 5 point range of the highest for the season.

LIVE OAK

Allow me to tell you the following things:

Mrs. John Casbeer and daughter, Nova, of Del Rio, Texas, visited Mrs. Jennie Simpson and Virginia last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Ferguson, Mrs. Jennie Simpson, Virginia and Dick, Ila Fay Featherston attended church at Mount Olive Sunday.

We rejoice with Mr. and Mrs. Homer Denman over the arrival of their baby girl.

Everyone enjoyed the party at O. U. Tumlinson's last Saturday night.

Miss Parker is the daughter of Mrs. Maud Parker of the Live Oak community, and a granddaughter of R. A. Stevens, a well known citizen of Mills county. Mr. Harwell is a brother of S. L. Harwell, a prominent resident of the Live Oak community. They left Sunday morning for Briggs, Texas, where they plan to come back and make their home on the old Harwell place.

RUPTURE EXPERT HERE

C. F. Redlich, Minneapolis, Minn., will demonstrate without charge his unequalled method in Lampasas on Wednesday, Sept. 16, at the Wachen Hotel and in Brownwood on Friday, Sept. 18, at the Southern Hotel, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. Please come early.

Mr. C. F. Redlich says: The "Perfect Retention Shields" hold the rupture perfectly, no matter what position the body assumes or how heavy a weight you lift. They give instant relief and contract the opening in a remarkably short time.

The secret of their success is in their simplicity. An expertly adjusted device seals the opening without discomfort or detention from work. It is practically everlasting, sanitary, comfortable and actually holds ruptures which heretofore were considered uncontrollable.

Stomach troubles, backache and constipation, nearly always a consequence of rupture, promptly disappear.

Bring your children. According to statistics 95% recover by our method.

ATTENTION: You cannot fit yourself successfully with appliances sent by mail. It requires personal attention by an expert to obtain lasting results.

CAR OWNERS DEMAND VALUES -not Claims!

MOTORISTS are finding the Greatest Values in Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires. Ever since Firestone and Firestone Dealers began advertising the true facts about tire quality and construction and actually demonstrating the Extra Values in Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires, distributors of special-brand mail-order tires have grown bolder and bolder with misleading claims and comparisons in the desperate effort to interest car-owners.

Car owners bought more Firestone Tires in May, June and July, than in any period in history. This clearly shows that car owners are interested in Firestone Extra Values and are not interested in comparisons based on an almost obsolete tire size confusing laboratory analyses—meaningless definitions—impractical challenges with unfair claims of twenty-five per cent savings—and deceiving price comparisons.

Why risk a tire of unknown manufacture when you can get the Extra Quality Extra Strength, and Extra Safety of the special patented construction features of Firestone Tires—Gum-Dipping, and Two Extra Cord Plys under the Tread?

You get these Extra Values—plus our Service and the DOUBLE GUARANTEE of Firestone and ourselves—at no more cost!

Drive in today.—We have sections cut from Firestone Tires, special-brand mail-order tires and others.—See the evidence.—Take nothing for granted.—Judge for Yourself.

A machine capable of sorting 1,000 letters in ten minutes and distributing them in 100 receptacles without error has been perfected in the Newark, N. J., plant of an electrical company by Douglas T. Young, an engineer, who is still in his twenties. The robot was made for the specific purpose of letter sorting, but with slight alterations can be adapted to other uses.

Michael R. Daley, of Derby, Conn., owns the world's smallest bicycle. The wheels are only one and five-sixteenths of an inch in diameter. There are 185 parts, including 100 links of chain. Daley, who is a tool-maker, is looking for Tom Thumb to demonstrate his product.

A prospective student drove a truck load of beans up to the Texas Technological College campus at Lubbock and traded them for three months room and board. Herbert D. Bell found a boarding house proprietor who was willing to exchange the accommodations for the beans. Bell explained to college officials that he was going to school somehow, and the bean crop seemed his best chance.

A record price for a year's subscription to a periodical was established by a New York weekly dealing with current events when it entered the order of a man in Buenos Aires, Argentina. The man wished the weekly sent to him by air mail, and paid $400 for the subscription, $395 of which is for postage.

Juan Valdez of Juarez, Mex., was haled before the penal court on a charge of stealing tombstones from the municipal cemetery.

"I don't know why I wanted them," Valdez told the court. "Well you can think it over for nine months," said the judge.

Valdez was also fined 56 pesos. Two paroled inmates were returned voluntarily to the Kansas State reformatory because it was more comfortable there, with its three meals a day, than the outside world.

The square mile of territory known as the city of London should be renamed the "City of Empty Night." Figures for 1930 presented by the medical officer for the city of London reveal the day population of the city, which are situated most of the business houses of London is 436,721. But at night time it slumps to 10,700.

At Cucamonga, Cal., Leonard Smith, railroad agent, went deep sea fishing off Oceanside. Missing his watch, he thought perhaps he had left it home. Smith caught a good sized bass. An hour later he picked up the fish to clean it. "Why this fish isn't dead yet—I feel its heart beating," he told companions. He slit the fish open—and there was his watch still ticking away. He couldn't explain how it happened.

A STITCH IN TIME ALSO SAVES MUCH AMATEUR PATCHING

This is an appeal to the Government—to the men who possess power to affect the welfare of 120,000,000 people.

Your first duty is to safeguard the state, but, as Mussolini recently said, anything that is good for the state is good for the citizen, as anything that is good for the citizen must be, in the long run, good for the state. The people face the coming winter with ever-increasing dread.

They have been told, by men in position to know the truth, that the first frost will find 6,000,000 men jobless and desperate.

They feel that something should be done to prevent suffering—that wisdom could find a way to prevent the shame of bread lines in this richest of nations.

They know from hard experience that seasons of depression, whatever their cause, are prolonged by the hoarding and hoarding of money.

They know that merchants in small towns all over America are unwilling or unable to buy staple goods for which they have regular demand.

They know the people everywhere are postponing repairs, building operations, dental work, refurbishing and countless other matters because they can't borrow money.

They are told by men of reputation that the government has power to mend matters.

They are told that this country has 40 per cent of the world's gold lying idle in vaults.

They are told that the Federal Reserve Bank system could enter the market with one or two billion dollars, buy up the bonds in which the country's liquid capital is invested, and thus so flood the land with money that the banks would be forced to make loans in order to employ their idle funds.

The people do not understand these matters, but they know that times are good when money is plentiful and easy to get.

Conservative men say that any flooding of the land with money would cause inflation—an artificial boom.

But a boom is easier to control than a depression and much easier to bear.

If that is the worst result to be feared, isn't the present need sufficient to justify taking the risk?

Congress will meet soon, and excited, unwise men will propose many foolish ways to mend matters.

Isn't it wiser to make money plentiful and risk inflation rather than leave the problem to alarmed and hysterical legislators, whose first and last action will include an assault on the public treasury?

You can check inflation. You

Nine-Tenths Preventable

Nine-tenths of all the diseases of the American people can be traced directly to constipation, doctors say. Constipation throws into the system poisons which taint and weaken every organ of the body and make them easy victims for any germs which attack them. Prevent constipation and you will avoid nine-tenths of all diseases, with their concomitant pain and financial losses. Catharine, the good old vegetable cathartic, will relieve constipation in a natural, easy and pleasant way. For sale by HUDSON BROS. DRUGGISTS

LIGHTNING FLASHES 100 TIMES A SECOND

Data collected by the British meteorological office shows that at any time about 1800 thunderstorms are in progress in different parts of the world, says the bulletin. The average frequency of lightning flashes during a storm is 200 every hour. A simple calculation shows that this gives the amazing figure of 100 flashes every second as representative of the average frequency of lightning discharges over the whole earth.

There are, said the bulletin, three types of lightning discharges: From cloud to cloud, which are the most frequent; from cloud to earth, which do storm damage, and from earth to cloud, which are much rarer and most dangerous of all.

The generally accepted theory concerning the origin of lightning is that in certain electric conditions a cloud becomes charged by the coalescence of drops of water. The superficial area of each drop is less than the total area of its constituent drops. Hence this electrical "potential" awakes.

The multiplication of this action on all the myriad drops forming a cloud raises the electrical potential of the cloud as a whole, and so causes it to rise. When the cloud passes near another stratum of cloud or a projection of the surface of the earth, such as a mountain range or, in exceptional cases, a very tall building, a discharge of lightning occurs.

Forked lightning, explained the meteorological office, is that in which the actual path of the discharge can be seen. At other times the violent streak of light is screened from the earth by clouds which are illuminated by the flash. That is sheet lightning and explains the point why both forked and sheet lightning can often be seen at the same time.

Rain and certain lightning conductors discharge the electricity to earth, which also explains why lightning often ceases on the fall of rain.

TEXAS CENSUS FACTS

Despite tremendous population gains by her citizens during the last 10 years Texas continues predominantly rural, three-fifths of her citizens either live on the farms or in small communities of less than 2500 population. Stated in another way, 2,389,715 comprising the state's population, live in the cities, while 3,435,367 are classified as rural.

A further division shown in a statement issued by the Bureau of Census, reveals that 2,342,367 live on farms and ranches, while 1,907,814 live in rural communities. Women outnumber the men in the cities, 1,209,376 of the former to 1,179,972 of the latter, while the men outnumber the women on the farms, 1,786,022 men to 1,649,345 women.

There was a substantial reduction of illiteracy during the 10-year census period, the ratio dropping from 8.3 per cent 10 years ago to 6.8 per cent under the 1930 census. Numerically however, there was an increase, the figures showing 308,121 unable to read and write in the last census compared with 295,844 in 1920 among native whites. However, illiteracy was very low, only 1.4 per cent compared with 3 per cent 10 years ago. Illiteracy among foreign born dropped from 33.8 per cent to 27.3 per cent, while among the negroes it dropped from 17.8 to 13.4 per cent.

CHAIN LIBRARY

One of England's most famous libraries, the Chained Library at Hereford Cathedral, has just been reopened after a thorough restoration. It is a relic of the days when books were more expensive and libraries could not afford to take chances with the honesty of their readers. So the 1500 books were securely chained to the shelves. England has several other chained libraries, though not so large as that at Hereford.

A Fruitful Fruit

HERE are fruits and fruits, but the one most fruitful of varied and delicious recipes is undoubtedly the Hawaiian pineapple. One reason for this is that most fresh fruits are available only at certain seasons of the year, while the best Hawaiian pineapple comes only in cans, since raw pineapple is unable to stand the rigors of the long trip to the mainland. Another is that so much pineapple is being canned nowadays that it is remarkably cheap.

Apricots, with their rich flavor, are a fit companion for the pineapple. To make a salad of the two, arrange a slice of pineapple in a bed of lettuce. Mix together chopped ginger, chopped pecans, and cream cheese to taste. Pile this mixture in the center of the pineapple slice and invert over it half a peeled sweet potato. Garnish around the base of the apricot with cream mayonnaise.

UNCLE SAM IS A POOR ADVERTISER

As a merchant Uncle Sam is not so good. In the first place he is a poor advertiser, depending, as he does, on free publicity. Much of the latter is adverse, enough, indeed to offset that which is favorable. The result is that Uncle Sam's advertising costs him nothing and is worth nothing. If he would take liberal spaces in the newspapers and explain what he is going to do, no doubt there would be more sympathy for him in his effort to make ends meet. A few days ago, for example, he closed a deal with Brazil whereby he gave 25,000,000 bushels of wheat for 1,050,000 bags of coffee. All he has to do now is to sell the coffee. Coffee, incidentally, is almost as much of a drag as wheat is. How Uncle Sam intends to dispose of his coffee is unknown. Doubtless he has formulated some plan in his mind, but whatever the plan may be, when it shall be revealed it will meet with hectic opposition. The coffee trade in this country is already disgruntled over it, and the wheat trade in Brazil bears an equal disgruntle. Every time our poor old Uncle sets his foot down he steps on a hot spot.—State Press in Dallas News.

BOY EATS FIRE BUT GETS BURNED

At Hyannis, Mass., Little Harold Savoy, 9 years old, went to the carnival one day and saw there a man seriously occupied in the art of eating fire. Harold thought it was well done, but that it wasn't so difficult.

Arriving home, the boy gathered around him some nice fresh matches and a can of kerosene and went gaily to work to perform some fire eating. When he had conferred upon himself the degree of master of fire eating he started off in search of an audience to display his skill.

The audience found, Harold proceeded with his act. But something went amiss, and instead of the flames emanating from his mouth, they circled his head, igniting his hair and burning his face. The audience turned firefighters and put out the flames.

A blistered nose and singed hair probably will keep little Harold away from his chosen profession as fire eater for some time.

BROWNWOOD WOMAN RELEASED ON BOND

Miss Jewel Casey, former bursar of Howard Payne college at Brownwood, Saturday was charged with embezzlement in connection with the disappearance of funds from the institution. She was released on $5,000 bond.

County Attorney A. E. Nabors said the cases were filed against Miss Casey after an investigation revealed that about $36,000 was reported to be missing from the college.

Nabors said the theft of about $2,800 from an automobile, said to be owned by Miss Casey, led to the investigation, which brought the filing of the charges.

Two cases were filed. One charges Miss Casey with embezzling $154 and the other with $164.

For about 10 years Miss Casey was custodian of the college funds.

The money was alleged to have disappeared in the past five years. As bursar for the college, Miss Casey handled all incoming money, made all bank deposits and served as book keeper.

Miss Casey made a statement concerning the shortage.

Dr. Thomas H. Taylor, president of the college, announced that the institution was fully protected by a bonding company for its losses.

He advised that in the future an audit of the Howard Payne College books be made each year by expert auditors. He stated that the college was in excellent financial condition and would not be affected by the alleged embezzlement.

Miss Casey resigned several weeks ago, after deeding all of her property to the college and making a signed statement.

CIGARETTE TAX

Receipts from the tax on cigarettes during the first twelve days that the law was in operation totaled $260,246.70, J. R. Donnell, chief of the cigarette tax division of the treasury department, has announced. The tax became effective August 22.

One-half of the amount was placed to the credit of the public school fund and one-half to the general revenue fund.

BILIOUS

"I have used Black-Draught . . . and have not found anything that could take its place. I take Black-Draught for biliousness. When I get bilious, I have a nervous headache and a nervous, trembling feeling that unfits me for my work. After I take a few doses of Black-Draught, I get all right. When I begin to get bilious, I feel tired and run-down, and then the headache and trembling. But Black-Draught relieves all this."—H. O. Hendrix, Homerville, Ga.

At Alton, Ill., the growth of Robert Wadlow continues to astound physicians.

Only 13 years old, he stands 7 feet 4 1/2 inches and weighs 283 pounds. He has grown almost half a foot and gained 53 pounds during the past year, physicians say. When Robert will stop growing is a mystery to physicians.

RUSSIA'S WORST CZAR

Ivan IV, "The Terrible" the first of the Russian Czars and the most bloodthirsty ruler to be inflicted on any nation, entered the city of Novgorod on Jan. 6, 1570, at the head of 6,000 gangsters (opryczniki). From then until Feb. 11, 1570, he raged over the unfortunate inhabitants, "with unbridled fury and unchecked cruelty." On a trumped up charge of treason he caused them to be arraigned before him in groups of 100 and after a mock trial invariably sentenced them to be roasted alive over a slow fire and drowned. Seventy thousand

Novgorodians, including women and children and infants, were tortured to death before the eyes of the tyrant within the five weeks, or at a rate of 2,000 daily. "The Artist in Crime," as history dubbed him was a victim of insanity, but he could exercise remarkable ingenuity in the invention of tortures for his subjects.

CROSSES CONTINENT IN ELEVEN HOURS

In a dazzling streak of super-speed, Maj. James H. Doolittle raced across the transcontinental sky trail to a new record Friday.

The audacious airman set his biplane down at Newark airport, N. J., at 3:50 p. m. (E. S. T.) just 11 hours and 15 minutes after he had hopped off from Burbank, Cal., at 4:35 a. m. (E. S. T.)

In bettering the 1930 performance of Capt. Frank M. Hawks by one hour, 10 minutes and three seconds, Doolittle also beat a field of eight into Cleveland, O., to capture the Bendix air trophy competition from Burbank to Cleveland.

Tired, but still ambitious, Doolittle turned his plane around and streaked back toward Cleveland en route to his St. Louis home.

"Where's my gas?" was his main concern when he landed at Newark on the flying argosy which will carry him over a total of more than 3,500 miles by the time he reaches Saint Louis.

A prize of $7,500 rewarded him for his victory in the Bendix race and an added purse of $2,500 was his for the new cross country performance.

PASSING OF MRS. IRWIN

Mrs. Laura Irwin, wife of Mr. F. N. Irwin, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Floyd Mullin, in Dallas Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, she having gone there for a visit several weeks ago, with the hope the change would do her good. Her remains were brought here on Thursday morning's train and were carried direct to the family home, to await funeral services at 4 o'clock, after which they were interred in the cemetery at this place.

Mrs. Irwin was one of the most universally beloved women of Mills county and the announcement of her death caused a pall of gloom to settle over the town. She spent most of her life in this county, having come here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. McAlexander, in early life. She lived for a good many years in Antelope Gap community. After her marriage to Mr. Irwin she lived in Pleasant Grove community and later moved to Goldthwaite. During all these years and in each of the communities where she made her home she was recognized as a leader in church and civic affairs and her life was a force for personal and civic righteousness. Many looked upon her as their adviser in religious and spiritual matters and all were influenced by her beautiful Christian character, which caused her to forget her personal interests in looking to the welfare of her neighbors and humanity in general.

In the passing of Mrs. Irwin a force for good has left us and the church and civic interests have suffered. She was possessed of a strong mind and a wonderful will power, all of which was exerted for the good of those who needed her. Many other expressions of admiration and appreciation might be made, but sufficient to say that all who knew her realize that the world is better because of her having lived in it and is poorer because of her going.

Mrs. Irwin leaves her husband, one son, Mr. B. P. Hurdle of Cameron; one daughter, Mrs. Floyd Mullin of Dallas; a sister, Mrs. Carrie Palmer of this city; 3 grandsons: James Newton Mullin of Dallas; Irwin Hurdle of Houston; Charles Hurdle of Cameron, besides a large list of nieces, nephews and other relatives, all of whom have the abiding sympathy of the people everywhere who know of their bereavement.

The funeral service was largely attended and the procession to the cemetery was one of the longest in the history of the town, showing the universal esteem in which Mrs. Irwin was held.

FORMER CITIZEN DEAD

Mr. T. H. Green, who made his home in Pecan Wells community for a good many years, died at his home in Hamilton Tuesday, after a long illness. His death was not unexpected by those who knew of his condition. His remains were interred Wednesday afternoon in the old Lookout cemetery at Pecan Wells and many friends attended the service.

Mr. Green was an uncle of Messrs. W. T. and J. W. Sparkman of this city and they, together with the other relatives here, attended the funeral.

Will You Let Your Child's Eyes Limp Through Life?

NOTICE the next time you are in a crowd of people how many of them are wearing glasses.

Why is it that so many eyes are defective? In a great many cases it is because of poor lighting and improper use of the eyes in childhood.

If you permit your child to read, to study, or even to play where there is not enough light or where there is blinding glare you are making a mistake that may be disastrous. Take care now to prevent your child's eyes from limping through life.

Good light cannot be obtained from bare lamps, or lamps improperly shaded. Use good light to eliminate harsh contrasts—between bright and dark areas.

Enjoy the benefit of plenty of light, for it is inexpensive, and new lamps cannot be bought for any price.

Let our home lighting specialist tell you how to arrange your lamps, and get the full value of the light you buy. This service is free.

We shall be glad to send you a free copy of our interesting booklet, "How to Light Your Home." Phone or write us today.
