Don't Dodge the Issue, Mr. Bullington

Orville Bullington, Republican candidate for governor, made the following statement in a recent speech:

"I will not support the Republican nominee any time you Democrats put up a better man, and if the Republicans do not like it, they can kick me out."

W. A. Thomas, a Roosevelt-Garner campaign manager at Dallas, immediately took the Republican candidate up on this statement. Mr. Thomas said:

"Three-fourths of the people of the United States have lost confidence in the Republican party and believe that it has failed miserably in the administration of our national affairs. They see incompetency and lack of vision manifest on every hand. They believe that the average citizen has been neglected to the aggrandizement of trusts, corporations and the big money interests of the country.

"The situation has become so acute and unbearable that outstanding progressives like Senators Hiram Johnson of California, George Norris of Nebraska and Robert M. LaFollette of Wisconsin, demand a new day and a new deal.

"If Mr. Bullington's professed interest in the welfare of the people be not feigned or selfish, he should come out openly and squarely for the Democratic National ticket."

To which Bullington answered as follows: "When I opened my campaign in Texas I told the people I was a Republican, but that I was a Texan first. My sole desire was to save Texas from the calamity of Fergusonism, regardless of any sacrifice on my part.

"I am now ready to make any personal sacrifice to save Texas from Fergusonism. If, therefore, Mr. Thomas and his associates will withdraw Mr. Ferguson and his wife from the Governor's race and have the Democratic State Executive Committee put up an outstanding man on the Democratic ticket, I will withdraw from the race and support Franklin D. Roosevelt for President and John N. Garner for Vice President."

That's not a fair answer, Mr. Bullington. You said, in effect, that you would support the better candidate regardless of the party to which he belongs. Now you say you will vote for Roosevelt and Garner if Mrs. Ferguson will withdraw from the race for governor. What in the name of common sense has that got to do with Hoover and Roosevelt? Do you mean that if Mrs. Ferguson runs, Hoover is the best man, but that if she doesn't run, Roosevelt is the best man? Or if you still believe Mr. Hoover is better than Governor Roosevelt, would you deliberately sacrifice principle and vote for Roosevelt, although, you don't believe he deserves the place, if you can thereby keep your opponent for governor from being elected?

You were a Democrat long enough, Mr. Bullington, to know that neither Mr. Thomas nor any other man or group of men has the power to withdraw a candidate from a race, after a majority of Democrats has nominated him. One-man control of a party is an old Republican custom, and we Democrats don't allow it. Tom Love tried it and now he has to consort with you Republicans to feel at home.

Your friends have been talking a lot about your sincerity and honesty, Mr. Bullington. Many of them also have no doubt that the election of Roosevelt will be better for this nation and this state than the re-election of Hoover. Maybe you agree with them privately. Maybe that is why you are willing to vote Democratic at all. But you know, Mr. Bullington, that Rene Creager, Republican boss of Texas, won't let you run as a Republican candidate if you don't vote for Hoover. And you know that what Mr. Creager says, goes. Is that why you would have to give up the governor's race in order to vote for the better man for president?

Or is this just another sample of smart Republican politics? You may try to dodge the issue, Mr. Bullington, but you won't get far because, in this governor's race, a woman is the better man.

MODERN BOXING

"I think boxing today is far better than it was a generation or two ago. There is more science displayed by comparative amateurs than the best of the old fighters could produce, and the boys are smarter, too. This isn't confined to boxing either. All sports have improved..." —Jess Willard, former heavy-weight boxing champion.

NEWS ODDITIES

The new library of the British museum at Hendon, England, has fourteen miles of book shelves.

Brunetto Grossato, 9 years old, successfully conducted a 78-piece orchestra at a theater in Venice.

John B. Lucas of Des Moines has an unusual job. He rides around town and stops to pick up glass lying in the street.

German hospitals are employing a new and cheaper method in X-ray diagnosis by using paper instead of photographic plates.

Masquerading as a girl, Thos. Ahern, Nery, England, policeman, won the prize for the prettiest ankles at a town hall dance.

A week after his death, H.W. Porter was elected Moderator of Wendham, Mass., in a special election. There had not been sufficient time to remove his name from the ballot.

C. W. West of Portland, Ore., celebrated his 75th birthday recently by riding from Portland to Salem, a distance of about 50 miles on a surfboard.

One of the shortest air mail routes in the United States has been opened up between Boise and Atlanta, Idaho. It covers 60 miles.

Artificial fogs have been developed by French chemists in an effort to protect growing fruits and vegetables against winter night frosts.

Two trees at Bowdoinham, Me., have grown together about seven feet above the ground and follow the shield-like outline of a gate nearby.

When a pheasant hid behind a tuft of wheat, a binder driven by George Gotsch of Springfield, Neb., deftly picked up the bird and tied it into a bundle of the grain.

To save expenses, juries in Richardson county, Neb., are returning verdicts a few minutes before meal time and going home for meals, instead of eating off the county.

Squirrels are so numerous in certain parts of Virginia that they are playing havoc with crops. As a consequence, killing of squirrels began even before the hunting season opened.

Marin Sykes, Greensboro, N. C., claims to have grown the world's largest pea pod in his back yard garden. The pod measured 31 1/2 inches in length, surpassing a 23 1/2 inch pod recently displayed at Marion, N.C.

Eugene Stewart, Portland, Ore., had a broken leg. To pass the time while it was healing, he sometimes amused himself by flipping coins. A 50c piece fell into his opened mouth and he swallowed it.

Miss Mary McCormack of Eugene, Ore., says a tree in her yard bears the largest leaves of any maple in the United States. As a specimen, she has one 19 inches long and 20 inches wide, with a 1 1/4 inch stem.

LOST 20 LBS. OF FAT IN JUST FOUR WEEKS

Mrs. Mae West of St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I'm only 28 yrs. old and weighed 170 lbs. until taking one box of your Kruschen Salts just 4 weeks ago. I now weigh 150 lbs. I also have more energy and furthermore I've never had a hungry moment."

Fat folks should take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast — it's the SAFE, harmless way to reduce as tens of thousands of men and women know.

For your health's sake ask for and get Kruschen at any drug store—the cost for a bottle that lasts 4 weeks is but a trifle and if after the first bottle you are not joyfully satisfied with results—money back.

GONE HOME

Mrs. D. H. Trent departed this life Monday afternoon shortly after 2 o'clock, following several weeks of severe illness. Prior to her last illness she had been in good health and the seriousness of her condition was not known to her friends or even the members of her immediate family until she underwent an examination and slight operation in a Temple hospital a few weeks ago. The physician at that time announced her case hopeless and she was brought back home, where her condition continued to grow worse until the end came.

Mrs. Trent was 79 years of age and spent most of her life in this country, having made her home in Williams Ranch, where she was married to Major D. H. Trent and they later moved to Goldthwaite.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. S. P. Sullivan; two sons, D. Albert and Howard Trent; two granddaughters, Mary Ellen and Connie Trent; two step-daughters, Mrs. F. H. Lindsey and Mrs. Ida Roberson, both of El Paso, besides a number of other relatives, including one brother whose home is in Oklahoma.

Mrs. Trent was universally loved and esteemed for her kindly disposition and cheerful spirit, always ready to help those in need of her assistance and counsel. She was a loyal member of the Methodist church and was constant in attendance upon its services as long as her health would permit.

Funeral services were held in the home Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock and the large number gathered there to pay their respects to her memory, as well as the gathering about the grave at the cemetery attested the high regard in which she was held and the universal sorrow at her going.

The floral offering was one of the most elaborate ever seen here, the wonderful display having been supplied by friends in other towns as well as Goldthwaite and the grave was piled high with the most beautiful arrangements of flowers, fashioned in every conceivable design.

BAPTIST CHURCH

(Continued from page 1) ing the hydrant on in the house. We understand their wives are back and that these gentlemen have made amends for their thoughtlessness. We know one man by name, C. L. Stephens, whose wife was gone five weeks and he never went to a beauty parlor, much less a beauty contest.

The unexpected happened Sunday night after church, when Jim Cockrum and wife with Lee Armstrong and wife paid the pastor and wife a visit. The ladies had visited us before, but this is the first time these gentlemen mustered up enough courage to visit the pastorium.

We had an hour of splendid fellowship, and during this time Mr. Armstrong solved the turkey situation as to keeping up the price on the big tom and that is just cut him half into. While Mr. Cockrum solved the Hoover administration by saying the time would come when people would admit that owing to distressing times as we have had for past three years the Hoover administration was successful. The ladies of course said there would be no change in fashions until the Democrats took over the steering wheel.

Everybody attend church some where Sunday.

JOHN GODWIN DEAD

Mr. J. A. Godwin died at his home in Long Cove community Sunday evening, after a long illness, although he had not been confined to his bed but a short time. His remains were interred in the cemetery in his home community Monday afternoon at 2:30 and the sad service was attended by a large number of the friends of the family of this and Lampasas county.

Mr. Godwin was one of the pioneers of this section and was known as one of the best men in the country. He had the confidence and esteem of all who knew him. He and his family located in Big Valley in an early day and after several years residence there they moved to Long Cove community, where he bought a farm and continued to reside until the time of his death.

He is survived by his wife, three daughters, Mesdames Hill, Roberts and Alexander, and one son, Enoch Godwin, besides other relatives and a host of friends throughout the country, as well as in his home community.

Thousands of Women Have Taken Cardui on Their Mothers' Advice

It is an impressive fact that many women have said they learned of the value of Cardui from their mothers.

What stronger evidence of her confidence in a medicine could a mother have than that she advises her daughter to take it!

Cardui is given the credit for relieving so many cases of womanly suffering that it is widely and favorably known. Druggists, everywhere, sell it.

If you are weak, run-down, suffering monthly, take Cardui. Take it for a reasonable length of time and try it thoroughly. As your health improves, you will share the enthusiasm of thousands of women who have written to say: "Cardui helped me!"

The fall term of district court was convened in San Saba Monday morning.

The Bend Pecan Growers Association reports the first car of pecans sold this season at 5 cents.

Eight girls of the Cherokee high school have the distinction of being the only girls in Texas to have a class in vocational agriculture composed strictly of girls.

The government report of cotton ginned in San Saba county to October 1, 1932, shows 1681 bales, against 2882 bales to the same period last year.

Game Warden Eggey last Thursday received from the state fish hatchery at Cisco a truck load of game fish for distribution in the streams of San Saba county. There were more than 30,000 of these fish.

Monday of this week two men in this county fell from pecan trees while thrashing. Pick Sullivan fell from a tree in the Maxwell orchard 18 miles above town, living only about an hour after the fall. In the afternoon Mayfield Sims fell from a tree in the W. J. Millican orchard at River Bend farm. He is expected to recover.—News.

Comanche

The county institute convenes at Comanche October 28.

Rev. Ben F. Thompson of Brownwood was called as pastor of the Mount Pleasant Baptist church Sunday, according to an announcement by the deacons of that church.

Approximately 4500 fish were brought to Comanche last week from the state fish hatchery at Cisco and placed in Lake Eanes. There were 1500 bwm, 1000 perch and 2000 black bass.

One hundred and six bales of cotton were weighed in the Comanche cotton yard Wednesday, bringing the total for the season to 1458, as compared to 2131 bales on the corresponding date last season.

John D. Taylor, 78, of Jacksonville, Texas, who settled in Comanche county on Rush Creek in 1870 and made his home in that section until 1890, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Clate Carnes, and other relatives of Comanche.

Less than a week after her brother, Troy Fisher, was killed in an auto accident at Marshall, Mrs. Jim Graham passed away Friday morning at a Gorman hospital, following an illness since the birth of a month old son.

Referring to alleged election frauds in Comanche county at the recent Democratic primary, District Judge Joe Eidson in his charge to the grand jury Monday morning said that the preservation of the purity of the ballot box was essential to the very foundation of American government. The court house is no place to repeal or amend a law, the judge said, and that every law as long as it remains on the statute book should be enforced.—Chief.

Raymond Carroll, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Carroll, who live between Adamsville and Evant, died Sunday night in San Antonio. He was taken to San Antonio Saturday for treatment. The young man was eighteen years of age.

The local talent vaudeville show of six acts was presented Friday night at the high school auditorium and everyone enjoyed the entertainment and especially the "Flashes of India" presented by Dr. M. L. Gaffney.

The marriage of Townsen Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Wells of this place, and Miss Florence Miller occurred September 15, at Lodge Grass, Mont. Mr. Wells grew to manhood here, but for several years has been in Montana where he is engaged in the ranch business.

One of the prettiest parties of the season was given on Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the country club when Misses Helen Northington, Louise Oliver, Ruth Sparks and Mrs. Jno. Rowntree entertained with a miscellaneous shower complimenting Miss Margaret Abney, bride-elect of Ryan M. Howard of Austin.—Leader.

TEXAS ANGORA GOAT HERDS RESULT OF SULTAN'S GIFT

The flocks of Angoras which roam the rocky, brush-covered hills of southwest Texas have been traced back to a few choice goats which a Turkish sultan presented to Dr. James B. Davis of South Carolina in 1849, according to a San Angelo dispatch.

Dr. Davis raised his small herd of goats until 1854, when they were sold to Richard Peters of Atlanta, Ga. When Wm. M. Landrum, also of Atlanta, joined the gold rush to California, he took two of the Angora goats along from Peters' herd. In California he experimented with the goats, crossing them with the native short-haired variety.

The experiment proved successful. Landrum returned to Georgia and purchased the entire flock, which he moved to California. In 1853 Landrum moved his herd to Uvalde county and established a ranch on the Neeces river.

A later sultan issued a royal decree in 1881 that death would be the penalty for further exportation of the Angora goat. This made it necessary for Landrum to send to South Africa in 1911, when he wanted to add more Angoras to his holdings.

Frank O. Landrum, son of William Landrum, still operates the ranch in Uvalde county.

Although the market is depressed at present, the mohair from the Angora goat country of Texas long has brought a premium from eastern mills. It is used chiefly for automobile upholstery, overstuffed furniture and has been called the queen of animal fibers.

NO NAME SELECTED FOR LINDBERGH BABY

Baby Lindbergh, who celebrated his second birthday last week, is still Baby.

The second son of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, born six months after his little brother was kidnaped and murdered, was two months old on Oct. 16, but his parents have not decided what to call him.

He is a healthy, happy child, daily growing more like the first baby, a close friend of the family said. He is a perfect infant, except for his namelessness, and his family feels in no hurry to remedy that situation, the friend explained.

"They call him Baby," she declared. "It seems to serve the purpose. They can't seem to decide on his name."

"One thing they have decided and that is the name should come from the Lindbergh side of the family. But there is very little choice of masculine Christian names there. So many seemed to be named Charles. There are also Charleses in the Morrow family. But they will not use the name Charles again."

Dwight Morrow, the name which was predicted for the new baby, in honor of his late grandfather, will not be the choice either, it was said.

SUNLIGHT IS ESSENTIAL TO BABY'S GROWTH AND HEALTH

Sunlight is one of the essentials of growth, and the baby's life out of doors should begin early.

When the newborn babe is two weeks old it should be taken outside for 30 minutes or an hour, if the weather is pleasant. The amount of outdoor life gradually should be increased. The baby ordinarily should not be taken outside for an airing if the temperature goes lower than 30 degrees.

The sun's ultra-violet rays, which prevent rickets, are checked by window glass and clothing. Direct sunlight is needed. Sun tan is evidence it has been received. If the weather is moderate, the baby should begin taking sun baths when it is three or four weeks old.

In giving sun baths, be sure that the baby's eyes are not exposed to the direct rays of the sun, but that the cheeks alternately are. At the beginning a sun bath should last from 10 to 15 minutes. The time can be increased gradually.

The sun baths may be lengthened until the baby lies in the sun half an hour in the morning and half an hour in the afternoon. The length of time in the sun depends largely upon the season of the year.

In Fall and Winter months the sun baths, which may be

AIR FORCE TO BOMB ROME

On the last three days of this month Rome will be given a lesson in the terror that flies by night in war time. The Fascist air force will undertake sham bombings of the city, and elaborate instructions are being issued to the people on how to behave.

In order to create the greatest possible resemblance to a real attack, bombing planes will release actual—although weak—explosives, designed to go off before striking anything. The people are strictly forbidden to go near any of these "bombs" which fail to explode, and are ordered to inform the authorities where the explosives have fallen.

The city's life will be virtually strangled during the "bombardment." Sirens will warn of the imminence of danger and will give "all clear" signals. Private sirens and whistles must remain silent during these three days to eliminate confusion.

Whenever screaming sirens warn of danger, the people must desert the streets. Pedestrians must run for cover. Busses, street cars, taxis and private automobiles must stop immediately, and the passengers must seek the nearest available shelter. In railroad stations the citizenry must obey the orders of railway employes. During the danger periods the people are forbidden to look out of windows or to go on their terraces or balconies.

For the three nights of the "attack" public illumination will be reduced to a minimum, and during the danger periods it will be shut off completely. Private illumination is forbidden altogether. Windows must be protected so that no light may be visible from the outside. Special precautions must be taken to conceal light in factory buildings, water works, gas and electric plants. The police ruling, that all buildings must be locked at 10 o'clock at night, will be suspended so that citizens may take refuge. Special penalties will be inflicted on those who fail to observe the regulations.

Meanwhile the common people in certain sections of the city seem to have developed a bad attack of nerves. Rumors are whispered in the streets that a new war is threatening and the prospect seems to hold no great attraction for many of those who speak of it.

REMARKABLE REMARKS

"Sin may be looked upon in two respects. It is first an attribute and second a relationship. Sin has to do with our nature and sin has to do with our relationships to God."—Dr. R. F. Gribble, professor in Austin Presbyterian Theological seminary.

"There isn't a (boxing) champion of any weight in the country now who is really a fighter. . . . Weight does not count so much. It is the fighter that the man is. And only work will make a fighter."—Jim Jeffries, former heavyweight champion.

"It seems to me that economic society owes the faithful and efficient worker three things, and these are the highest possible wage, security of employment and provision for the days of retirement."—Owen D. Young.

"Humanism sympathizes with communism's refusal to accept orthodox religion, but recognizes that communism itself is a state religion. It is too destructive creativeness and initiative to attract us." Humanist Dr. Charles Francis Potter.

A TONIC Laxative

CONSTIPATION, with the annoying symptoms that usually come with it, cuts down organic force and disturbs normal health and well-being. A thorough cleansing of the digestive tract is of great assistance in the removal of sickening constipation symptoms.

When excessive accumulated waste matter disturbs and strains
the muscles of the large intestines, rendering them temporarily unable to perform their wave-like evacuating movements, Theford’s
Black-Draught is useful in stimulating them to activity, which, again started, should continue regularly until some future disturbance interferes. In this way, Theford’s Black-Draught is one of the TONIC laxatives, tending, as it does, to establish a regular habit of evacuation.
