

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

VOLUME THIRTY-NINE

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1932.

NUMBER TWELVE

News In Brief From Many Points

President Hoover returned to the White House Wednesday from Palo Alto, California, where he had gone to vote.

When the Prince of Wales dedicated the new parliament building in Belfast, Ireland, this week, 12,000 men guarded the route of his five mile parade.

Butter, meat, fish and sugar are rare delicacies in Russia. Even Red soldiers, the most favored class, are allotted only two pounds of butter and sugar per man per month.

Dr. J. C. Hardy, president of Baylor College at Belton, was elected president of the Baptist General Convention of Texas at its 84th annual session at Abilene this week.

A carlot of yearling Hereford steers, bred in Stamford, Texas, broke all records at the American Royal Livestock show in Kansas City this week by winning $3200 in prizes.

Senator Bingham, the big beer booster from Connecticut, has a new tax raising idea. It is a tax on all receipted bills. Evidently the senator doesn't know how many bills are entitled to be receipted.

WELL LICENSED

The question of how to get rid of 1800 new 1932 automobile license plates that are taking up valuable space in the sheriff's office has been solved by Constable W. H. Lee.

As soon as the year is over and the plates become worthless to the state he is going to use them to weatherboard a house. So when you see a green house entirely covered with white figures don't think your eyes are playing tricks.

Social Happenings Club and Society

The Art and Civic club meeting has been postponed until Wednesday, Nov. 23. It will meet at three o'clock at the home of Mrs. L. R. Conroy.

CLUB MEETING

The Tuesday Study club met in regular session this week with Miss Vivian Campbell as hostess. During the business session the club voted to have a Christmas party for all club members and husbands or escorts on December 9, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Y. Stokes, Jr.

The club as a unit joined the Red Cross.

Mrs. Roy Wilkins was leader for the literary program.

A short review of past programs was enjoyed as a round table discussion.

Interesting papers were given by Mrs. Joe A. Palmer, Miss Vivian Campbell and Miss Ellen Archer.

The hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. J. M. Campbell, served a delicious salad course with coffee.

MAIL ALL GOES ONE WAY

Since the change in schedule of the Santa Fe last week, all mail leaving Goldthwaite by train is dispatched at 9:39 p. m. on train 92. This is also the only train which picks up mail from the mail box at the station. Mail addressed to Mullin, Brownwood or other points west of here is carried to Temple and there transferred to the west bound train that arrives here at 6:35 a. m. Letters mailed at the post office up to 7 p. m. will be dispatched that night, but after 7 p. m. they should be placed in the mail box at the station.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

County Clerk Porter has issued marriage license since last report to George Schumaker and Miss Ruthie Mae Templeton, both of Mercury. He also has an application for license for Ovel Williams and Miss Arlene Christian, both of Richland Springs.

Commissioners Court Session

Court was in session Monday and Tuesday, looking after the county's business, checking over official reports, auditing accounts against the county and giving attention to other matters.

A jury of view consisting of J. J. Cockrell, A. G. Weston, Joe Curtis, S. P. Rahl and C. R. Willis was appointed to see about securing the right-of-way for the highway from Goldthwaite to Brown county line, in conformity to the survey made by the engineers for the highway department.

The highway money was divided among the precincts in accordance with amounts paid in from each precinct: No. 1 received $60.36; No. 2, $17.78; No. 3, $42.76; No. 4, $35.22.

The returns from the recent general election were canvassed and the results declared in conformity with the totals.

The delinquent tax list for 1931 was examined and approved in accordance with the collector's report.

Mrs. Bolinger Burned Fatally Near Ebony

Mrs. Ferris Bolinger, 22, died in Central Texas hospital as a result of burns over her entire body Monday morning at the home of her father-in-law, Joe Bolinger, south of Indian Creek near Ebony, on the Colorado river.

She was burned, relatives believe, when she started to put kerosene on a fire in a cook stove and the fire blazed up exploding the can of oil. The house, a five-room frame building, was totally destroyed.

Mrs. Bolinger was cooking dinner at the house alone. Her husband and other members of the family were in a cotton field near the house. A. R. Minica, her father, was in the field about 200 yards from the house and heard the explosion and saw flames shoot up out of the building.

He was the first to reach the burning building and found his daughter lying on the ground off the front porch. He does not know whether the explosion hurled her from the house, or whether she ran from the building. She was (Continued on page 8)

Fire Damages Dan Yates Home

The residence of Dan Yates, in the western part of town, was badly damaged by fire Wednesday evening about 7 o'clock and a good portion of the furnishings was also damaged, as was much of Mrs. Yates' clothing, although Mr. Yates' clothing was rescued by the fire fighters. A number of dresses being built or remodeled by Mrs. Yates for customers were also destroyed. The origin of the fire is not definitely known, although it is believed to have resulted from defective electric wiring. The flues were of brick and there was only a small fire in the room when the ceiling was discovered burning.

The fire department responded promptly to the alarm and by hard work saved the house and contents from total destruction. Some insurance was carried on the house and contents, which will help to rebuild and refurnish.

Lometa Seeks Revenge Friday Pep Squad Asks Support of Fans

It seems that the Lometa Hornets were not entirely satisfied with the beating the Eagles gave them the first of the season, so they are coming back for more Friday.

They think because their team has gained strength since they played us, perhaps we have declined in strength, but our boys plan to send them back in the same condition that they did before. At least that is the idea the pep squad has in mind, and we don't intend to lay down on the job of conveying it to them. We are also confident that everyone else will continue to give the necessary support that they have formerly given. REPORTER

EAGLES LOSE TO RICHLAND SPRINGS

Saturday afternoon the Eagles lost a hard fought battle to the Richland Springs Coyotes. Weakness of the Eagles in defense against long passes gave the Coyotes a 13 to 7 margin.

The Eagle line was a real football line on both offense and defense. Few gains were made by the Coyotes through the Eagle line and when on the offense, the Eagles tore holes in the Coyote line large enough for a wagon to drive through.

Blocked kicks and two failures to break up passes turned the (Continued on page 8)

Baptist Church Notes and Announcements

Circle No. 3 met in the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Palmer for our Bible study.

The cordial greeting that we received by Mrs. Palmer made us glad we had come.

Mrs. W. P. McCullough was our teacher for the afternoon.

She made the lesson so interesting, each one enjoyed it very much.

After the lesson Mrs. Palmer served hot chocolate and pineapple cake, which was delicious.

We will meet with Mrs. Luther Rudd next Monday at 2:30.

REPORTER.

CIRCLE MEETING

Circle No. 1 won the attendance banner the first meeting of the year, and we are striving to keep it, as was demonstrated last Monday, when we met in the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. John Jackson with fifteen ladies and five children present.

After a short business session we took up our Bible study, which was the book of Exodus. As everyone takes part and feels perfectly free to express their opinion, quite a lot of interest is created.

We were so glad to have our president, Mrs. Anderson with us. Also Mrs. Lewis Hudson and Mrs. G. W. Jackson as guests.

Mrs. Jackson served delicious pecan pie topped with whipped cream and coffee.

The next meeting will be on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Mrs. R. L. Armstrong.

REPORTER.

A BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

On Sunday, Nov. 13, Mrs. Herbert Meyer gave her husband a surprise birthday dinner.

When all the guests arrived there was much talking and laughter until about 11:30, when this was interrupted by the announcement that dinner was to be served. The dinner consisted of all the good things that it takes to make a meal complete.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kelly and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Horton and family, Mrs. W. M. Hodges and son, Hoover, all of Pleasant Grove; Mr. and Mrs. Gus Meyer and family of Mullin, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Horton and family, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Fulton, Mrs. G. H. Dalton, Mrs. M. A. Horton and daughter, Miss Vera, and Miss Maudie Belle Kirby, all of Goldthwaite.

At five o'clock each one was on his way home, wishing Mr. Meyer many more happy birthdays.

A GUEST.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Woman's Missionary Society met at the Methodist church Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for a regular business session and especially the election of officers for the coming year.

The devotional part of the program was conducted by our new pastor, Bro. Hammond, after which the regular routine of business was transacted and then the election of officers took place and resulted as follows: President, Mrs. R. M. Thompson; vice-president, Mrs. H. B. Johnson; recording secretary and reporter, Mrs. Tom Collier; corresponding secretary and connection, Mrs. Eli Fairman; local treasurer, Mrs. Neal Dickerson; superintendent of publicity and Outlook programs, Mrs. R. H. Mayfield; superintendent of study and missions, Mrs. S. O. Hammond; superintendent of children's work, Mrs. C. E. Bayley; superintendent of supplies, Mrs. Dan Yates; superintendent of young matrons circle, Mrs. M. Y. Stokes, Jr.

The program from the Outlook will be led by Mrs. John Keese next Monday afternoon at 2:30 in the church.

Official Returns From Election Mills County

The commissioners court this week canvassed the returns from the election and the Eagle's report of last week was found correct. However, returns from Star and Rye Valley were not in the report last week and are here given, together with the totals. It is not necessary to give the figures on all candidates, as all Democratic nominees were elected and in most cases without opposition.

The amendment allowing army and navy officers to vote was defeated in this county, as was the amendment providing for the celebration of the state's 100th birthday, but they together with the other seven amendments were adopted in the state by overwhelming majorities.

GROCERY STOCK SOLD

The Long & Laudamy stock of groceries, together with the fixtures and delivery truck, recently turned over to the creditors by the firm, sold at auction Wednesday afternoon at the firm's recent place of business, E. B. Anderson was the trustee and G. H. Frizzell was the highest bidder, paying $200 for the stock, $70 for the fixtures, $135 for the truck and $25 for the notes and accounts, making a total of $430. The stock invoiced $485.50 and the notes and accounts amounted to $498. No disposition has been made of the business by Mr. Frizzell, but it will likely be sold to someone who will re-open the store.

EXCHANGE OFFICES

Beginning today, the office of W. M. Johnston, secretary of the Retail Merchants association, will be on the third floor of the court house, immediately above the office of the county attorney.

Highway department engineers, who have been occupying this office, will move to the basement office formerly occupied by Mr. Johnston.

A part of the basement space will be used by F. P. Bowman, city secretary, after a door has been opened in the partition between it and his office.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Thos. J. Harrison of Sample Fruit Farm, South Bennett, will celebrate his birthday at his home Saturday night, at which time there will be a number of his neighbors and other friends assembled to celebrate with him, as is their annual custom. He informed the Eagle he would welcome all who cared to come at this time. He is one of the county's oldest citizens, both in years and time of residence and has many friends throughout the county.

Community News by Eagle Correspondents

STAR SCHOOL NEWS

Due to the cold weather, basket ball practice has been delayed. Some games are expected for Friday. All the high school are enthusiastic about them.

The senior class has organized a self-improvement club. They are to give a program Friday morning for the school. There will also be some choral numbers by the Star Choral Club. The plane geometry class is breaking the record this year. They have gone through the book and are now going through it again.

The P. T. A. is to meet and render a program Friday night week. It will be very interesting. Let's all be prepared to attend.

Activities in the Grades

All the students in the second grade got their names on the honor roll for reading one day last week. It has caused much more interest and they are doing much better now. Instead of the beginners drawing lesson, they have been painting and cutting out animals. The little table for the beginners has been painted and that room is starting on an improvement program.

Tests are the order of the day in the sixth and seventh grades. There were two pupils started in music last week. This will be another outstanding activity. Perhaps more will join later.

The sixth and seventh grades have been making turkeys and pilgrims.

The third, fourth and fifth grades are increasing their work. All are improving in their work.

The whole school is taking more interest now than usual. It is hoped that it will still be doing better next month.

SCHOOL REPORTER.

MOUNT OLIVE

I don't know of anything that is suffering more severely from these cold winds fresh from the north pole than this correspondent, unless it is our fatted porkers.

We are glad to report that our school is making excellent progress and we are looking forward to the best school in history, because of our advantages we begin enjoying this year. We are expecting several students from our neighboring communities to take our ninth grade course that is being offered for the first time. We believe our school can be of a great service to you, and we heartily invite you to enroll at once for our school term.

Our basketball coaches would like to take this chance to warn the rural schools. We believe we have the best team in the county and openly challenge any rural team for a game after the first of December. Our boys and girls are good clean sports, who know how to play basketball! Let us show you. If you want to see how much our community thinks of their team we invite you to come to the school house Friday night. We are going to have a box supper for the purpose of getting suits and other material for our team. We ask our neighbors to co-operate with us in this plan, with a promise to repay the favor.

Jesse Roberts is in Dallas taking the Stamps-Baxter music course. He is specializing in playing sacred music. We extend our best wishes to him for a great success in his chosen work.

Melvin Barrington visited in our school last Tuesday. We appreciate a visit from the patrons at any time. We need your council and co-operation.

BAPTIST CHURCH

We worshiped at the Methodist church last Sunday night, heard a good sermon, also good music and enjoyed the splendid fellowship. We predict for Bro. Hammond and his church a good year's work.

The annual Red Cross drive is on in full force. The ladies of the Self Culture Club are sponsoring this drive and everyone that is possibly able financially ought by all means make a contribution to this work. We heard a gentleman say that he would not join because he never expected to get any benefit out of it. That no one never helped him and for that reason he would not join. This man, doubtless, has never needed help, but he is not immune from calamities. I know people who at one time had more money than he has and today they are homeless and in dire need and the Red Cross has helped them. Let every one remember that you can not get so high but what you can be brought to earth again. There may be many things about the Red Cross you do not like. This organization may have many imperfections and doubtless has, but the outstanding thing it is trying to do is to help the unfortunate, and those of us who have been fortunate enough not to need help ought to be grateful and if we do not feel in our hearts that we ought to give, certainly we ought to feel that we have no right to criticize.

This drive is not just confined to our town, but to every nook and corner of this country. Every community ought to help make it a success. Every teacher in this county ought to see to it that the children of the respective schools be enlightened as to the purpose of this organization. Every pastor in the county, by all means, ought to call the attention of his people to this work and urge all that will to join.

Last Thursday night we attended a barbecue given by one of our Sunday school classes and sponsored by the teacher, Miss Ellen Archer. We motored out to J. V. Cockrum's pasture, where Millard Cockrum had prepared the meat and spuds in the new way. That is, he had dug a hole in the ground, put the potatoes in a sack, also the goat, covered it up and went his way until time came to dig it up for the feast. This boy Millard knows just how it's done, and when his teacher told him he must do it that was enough said.

There were forty youngsters out there, including the pastor and wife. However, fifteen of these were visitors from other Sunday schools. After several games of different formations, we retreated to the bonfire, where we all enjoyed the eats. Just to be frank, we have never seen a more congenial bunch or a better behaved bunch of young people anywhere.

We were very fortunate last Sunday. Some of our friends brought us spareribs, backbones and sausage, also one lady brought us a quart of whipped cream. We told the lady that we could have driven out and eaten that cream at her home and she would have had less trouble, but she said she preferred to bring it and we accepted it with gratitude.

When you read these notes, if not hindered, we will be on our way back from the Baptist state convention. We will make a brief report Sunday morning. Now, don't anybody stay at home saying that you care nothing about hearing what Baptists are doing. If you are a Baptist, you ought to be glad to hear what Baptists are doing, and if you are not a Baptist and want to know about our work and what we are doing, come to the Baptist church Sunday morning.

All regular services at church Sunday. PASTOR.

"Jack Horner was so proud of finding the plum in the pie that he forgot he could not have found it unless some one else put it there. He did not even make the pie, somebody else had to do that, too. The modern scientist who considers the world his pie is inclined to act in the same way. He forgets that the laws that govern the rising and setting of the sun, the laws that give life and take it away, are laws instituted by someone beyond him." — New York Preacher F. A. Fadden.

When you have visitors or know any other local items of interest to your friends, phone, write or tell the Eagle.

It's the Little Things =
—That Count In Making the Federal Government Top-Heavy, Bureaucratic and Wasteful of Tax payer's Money.

If a brown Kodiak bear has twins, one brown and one black, they become subject to supervision by two different government departments. The agriculture department is charged with the protection of brown bears while the interior department ministers to grizzly bears. Even the commerce department horns in on the bear question by being charged with the welfare of all polar bears under the American flag.

Similarly, if a man shoots a fox in Alaska he must settle accounts with the agriculture department, but if he traps the fox he is amenable to the commerce department.

A federal highway can be built by any one of four governmental agencies. Ordinarily it is constructed by the bureau of public roads of the agriculture department. But if it runs through a national forest the forest service (same department) must build the road. If it traverses a national park, the work must be done by the national park service of the interior department. And, if it happens to be in Alaska, its construction is by the engineer corps of the war department.

And consider our possessions and dependencies. Hawaii is ministered to by the interior department, the Philippines and the Canal Zone by the War Department, Guam and Samoa by the Navy Department, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands have civilian governors and Alaska is subject to jurisdiction of the secretaries of agriculture, commerce and interior as well as of congress as a whole.

These cases are cited by Marcus Duffield in Vanity Fair magazine as examples of conflicting and overlapping federal authority piled up by years of bureaucratic and unbusiness-like methods at Washington, a condition against which the taxpayer, because of the economic pinch, is just beginning to rebel.

It was, of course, political expediency which led Representative Rainey, Democratic floor leader, to point out that President Hoover has four secretaries at $10,000 a year each as compared with two at $7500 for Wilson, and has 11 autos at his beck and call as against two for Wilson. Even so, this is a reduction from the 27 cars once reported in the White House garage. Today a 16-cylinder Cadillac, a Lincoln, a Pierce-Arrow and a Ford are reserved for the President and his secretariat. Another car (an open one) is assigned to the ever-present secret service men. The other cars mainly constitute Fords—trucks and service wagons. It is said that the Pierce-Arrow company supplies the White House with a new car every year in exchange for an old one and $500.

The general use of government furnished autos by lesser officials was drastically curtailed by the recent "economy" session. It was disclosed that many officials were employing the machines for social functions. Speaker Garner relinquished the car assigned him, and upon taking office Secretary Chapin gave up the use of a $5000 limousine. However, according to Leo R. Sack in the Washington News, there are still some 500 federally owned autos on the streets of Washington, maintenance of which costs from $35 to $100 a month per car. Chauffeurs' wages, paid at public expense, range from $1200 a year (outside of enlisted men) to Attorney General Mitchell's driver, Rodney Dutcher, in his daily Washington letter, itemizes the upkeep of the Vice President's limousine as follows:

New car $7193, with $2193 allowance for the old one. Average of 161 gallons of gasoline a month at 24 cents, about $39.63 monthly for gas alone. Chauffeur $1920 a year; chauffeur's uniforms, $50 and $25, gloves, $4; three gallons anti-freeze, $11.40; oil, sponges, chamols, cheese-cloth, wiping cloths, brushes, soap, whisk broom, greasing, repairs, etc., at varying sums. Allowance for maintenance—$4000.

This same authority reports the government honoring a bill for $194.25 "for payment in full for repairs to auto of Whitney Leary damaged accidentally by collision with the Buick automobile of the secretary of the senate."

Getting down to miscellaneous Capitol expenses, Mr. Dutcher airs some other interesting figures:

Fixing up the vice president's room: Velvet portiers for washstand alcove, $102.95; two pairs of velvet window draperies, $473, one easy velvet-covered chair, $119; one Sarouk rug (18x15), $1450.

For senate barber shop (where service is free). Eighteen shaving mugs for senatorial use, $27; changing name on one, 75 cents; three blackhead removers, $1.35. Nicker-plating five bottle openers for cloakrooms, $2.50.

Senators' lavatory: Replating hot water urn, $13.50; shoe shine stand, $105; tan shoe paste, $13.50; rubber mat, $3.25.

Six female attendants, ladies retiring room, $1500 a year each. Mirror for naval affairs committee, $265. Regilding other mirrors, $75 to $100 each.

Two eight-ounce packages of Copenhagen snuff for Senate chauff boxes, $1.16. Seventy-two chair pads to ease senate seats, $56.16.

Five Teziak rugs for the marble room, $715. Reporting senate debates, $60.-340. Folding 12,500,000 copies of speeches, $12,500.

Incidentals for a senator's funeral: Telegrams to 87 honorary pallbearers, $47.55; sixteen pairs of gloves for pallbearers, $4; pay for eight active pallbearers, $40, auto hire, $186 (including three trucks to carry the flowers).

To go back to Mr. Duffield: "For 30 years presidents and congresses have been trying to get each other to do something about governmental waste. But the politicians can be trusted to follow whatever policy gets them the most votes; in the last analysis the onus returns to the national fuzzy-mindedness that tolerates such waste." — The Pathfinder.

This Woman Lost 45 Pounds of Fat

"Dear Sirs: For 3 months I've been using your salts and am very much pleased with results. I've lost 45 lbs., 6 inches in hips and bust measure. I've taken 3 bottles—one lasting 5 weeks. I had often tried to reduce by dieting but never could keep it up, but by cutting down and taking Kruschen I've had splendid results. I highly recommend it to my friends."—Mrs. Carl Wilson, Manton, Mich.

To lose fat SAFELY and HARMLESSLY, take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—don't miss a morning. To hasten results go light on fatty meats, potatoes, cream and pastries—a bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle—but do not take chances—be sure it's Kruschen—your health comes first.—get it at any drugstore in America. If not fully satisfied after the first bottle—money back.

SELF CULTURE CLUB

On Thursday, Nov. 10, 1932, the Self Culture Club met in regular session at the club room in the court house. In the absence of the president, Mrs. E. B. Anderson presided.

The Red Cross drive was planned during the business session. After a short recess the meeting was again called to order by Mrs. Anderson, who was leader of the splendid program on Folklore of Texas.

The roll call being current events, gave each an opportunity to discuss the recent election.

Mrs. E. T. Fairman told in her inimitable way of the "Legends of Texas Lovers." It was most enjoyable to listen to "Texas Tales and Anecdotes," as told by Mrs. Joe A. Palmer, and "Indian Myths of Texas," by Mrs. J. S. Bowles was very instructive.

After the program recorded music was enjoyed. The club was pleased to have with it at the meeting, Mrs. W. C. Dew, who was a charter member.

We adjourned to meet again Friday, November 25.

Helped By Cardui

Here's the true story of how Cardui helped Mrs. H. E. Dunaway, of McComb, Miss., as written by herself:

"I was sick and rather discouraged. I was so weak and thin, I was not able to do my work as it should be done. This made me fret a good deal, and did not help my condition. I had pains across my back and lower part of my body. My nights were spent in rolling from one side of the bed to the other, hoping I would soon go to sleep. Then when morning would come, I would be just as tired as when I went to bed. A neighbor, seeing how badly I felt, told me to try Cardui. After I had taken one bottle, I was much better. I kept on taking Cardui, and I was stronger and slept much better at night."

An Oil that reaches vital parts of your Motor as quickly as possible

OR An Oil that is already on all the parts before your motor starts!

CONOCO
GERM PROCESSED
MOTOR OIL

DID YOU KNOW THIS ... that half of all your motor wear occurs while you're starting your car and letting it warm up! Here's why: Your motor makes 3,000 to 5,000 revolutions before oil circulates from the crankcase to all parts of the motor. Your motor runs with vital parts receiving no oil from your crankcase reservoir! ... What protection do other oils offer you against this half of your motor-wear? The best of these oils "reach all parts in the shortest time," say their makers.

What protection does Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil offer? It is already in and on every part and lubricates safely from the second you step on your starter! A "Hidden Quart" of Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil stays up in your motor and never drains away! Other oils drain away during idle periods, leaving parts "dry." Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil actually penetrates and combines with metal surfaces and never leaves any part unlubricated. It cuts starting-wear to the minimum and gives your car longer life!

Like other good oils, Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil is thoroughly dewaxed and circulates freely at subzero temperatures.

Avoid the terrific wear of winter's long warming-up periods. Change today to Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil ...

HUNTING RIGHTS

Countless farmers have for nothing what a great many city folks would pay good money for the opportunity to shoot game. They can get some of this money the city sportsmen would so gladly spend by raising game, stocking farm land and selling the hunting rights. In short, the farmers, can have their cake and eat it too. That it is perfectly possible to sell hunting rights is indicated by farmer-sportsmen partnerships that have been organized here and there, says the Farm Journal.

"We all know there are hundreds of men in this state who would gladly pay and pay quite lavishly for the privilege of having a good shoot," says Pierre Garven, former member of the Nevada fish and game commission. Mr. Garven then proceeds to point out that the raising of game birds—quail, pheasant, etc.—can be made a profitable sideline on farms in Nevada, just as has been the case in other states. It is true, of course, that the best farm land for hunting is that with plenty of natural cover. The game birds can be raised in captivity, however, then sold to sportsmen to be set free elsewhere.

Raising quail and pheasant in captivity is no trick. There are numerous game farms, state-owned and private, that produce thousands of birds each year. One that is typical of others is the Wicomico state game farm, in the outskirts of Salisbury, Md. Around 5,000 young quail constitute the 1932 crop. This farm started from 29 pairs of quail three years ago. Hatching and brooding are done artificially. Commercial rations are used.

In some sections best results in protection of game birds will call for trapping of furbearing animals, which are enemies of bird life. The income from pelts constitutes still another source of income.

There was a good crowd at church Saturday night, also Sunday morning and night. The B. Y. P. U. rendered an awful good program Sunday night.

Next second Saturday morning we will have church and conference. Church Saturday night and Sunday morning and night.

Don't forget our singing the fourth Sunday afternoon in this month. We wish to invite all the communities who have a singing class to come and bring their cars full.

Bro. Renfro delivered three good sermons Saturday night and Sunday.

The W. M. U. met with our president, Mrs. John Roberts Monday afternoon. There were six present. We hope more can be with us next time.

Bro. Bedford Renfro spent Saturday night with W. A. Cooke and boys. He dined Sunday at noon in the McClary home, ate supper and spent the night with J. F. Davis and wife. He took dinner Monday in the Circle home.

Jack Robertson's girl friend, Miss Lorain Dewey, from Center Point, attended church Sunday night.

George Bohannon and family from town attended church Saturday night.

We missed J. T. Stark from church Sunday morning. He claimed he couldn't get their house cleaned up in time to come. We hope he can arrange to do part of the house cleaning on Saturday hereafter.

Rudolph Cooke, who lives across the bayou in the Crawford home, visited his father and brothers Sunday morning. He also attended church.

J. T. Stark visited the Cooke boys Sunday afternoon. They all enjoyed helping Rudolph push his truck half way to the bayou. Mr. Meeks and family visited Will Stark and Austin Whitt's families Sunday afternoon.

Herbert Cooke, Joe Davis and family ate supper with J. F. Davis and wife. Herbert also spent the day with Joe Davis. Mrs. Joe Davis spent the day with her parents, J. C. Stark and wife.

John Roberts and wife dined with J. O. McClary and wife Sunday.

J. F. Davis and wife made a short visit in the Nickols and

LURE OF BURIED TREASURE STILL STRONG IN SOUTH TEXAS

Search still goes on for a Spanish cannon filled with gold, near the mouth of Cedar Bayou in East Harris county. Tales of the cannon have been current for nearly 100 years, says the Houston Chronicle.

Many persons smile at the mention of the cannon, but "Uncle Chris Casey, 64-year-old Cedar Bayou farmer, has seen and heard some strange things and he feels that some day he will discover the cannon, which he believes contains at least $50,000 in gold.

And he can tell about some other treasures, too: About the pirate ship still holding its cargo of gold beneath the waters of Trinity Bay, near Anahuac; about a Mexican treasure ship in the mud of Burnetts Bay; about the old homestead treasures; and gold loot buried by pirate bands.

"Why, man, there is enough Spanish gold buried in the east end of Harris county and the west portion of Chambers county to end the depression in south Texas," Uncle Chris declares.

Uncle Chris is slender and about six feet tall. He grows enthusiastic when he talks about treasure.

He knows history, and can tell about the doings of Santa Anna, about Jean Lafitte and the early settlers of the Tri-Cities area.

Uncle Chris says the cannon filled with gold is the most sought treasure and he thinks it will be found sooner than the others.

According to Uncle Chris, the cannon was on a small sailboat belonging to Santa Anna and was sunk during the Texas revolution to prevent its capture. Several years ago, he relates, a cannon was found by a treasure hunter in Cedar Bayou. The cannon was sealed and was very heavy. Uncle Chris has forgotten the name of the hunter.

"The man naturally was very excited," Uncle Chris said. "He rushed to Houston to get help in salvaging the gun, but when he returned the gun was gone. Some believe the gun may have slipped down the sloping banks of the bayou back into the mud. At any rate, the poor fellow never could find it again. He was heartbroken, so I have heard.

There is going to be a box supper at the school house Thursday night, November 24, Thanksgiving. Everyone from everywhere has an invitation to come and help out. The proceeds are to be used for the benefit of the singing class and a few other needs. There will be a beauty contest, so come on and see who wins. The American Legion will present a program and display numerous interesting war souvenirs before the boxes are auctioned. This alone will be worth your time, without mentioning the box supper. Remember and don't forget the night—Nov. 24.

Miss Loraine Ducey spent the week end with home folks near Big Valley.

The following were Sunday visitors in the Jim Fallon home: Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Faulkner of Goldthwaite, Mrs. M. E. Queen and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Fallon and son of Gladewater.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Sparkman and family visited awhile Friday night in the Spinks home and practiced some new songs.

Mrs. Adams and James and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Terry visited near Granbury Sunday.

Quite a few attended a singing at Mr. Sanderson's Sunday night.

The members of our League are preparing a program to present at Rock Springs on the 4th of December.

There will be an all day gathering at the schoolhouse Thanksgiving day and clean off the school ground. However no definite decision has been made concerning the program and ball game for the afternoon, but it is supposed there will be both.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Braswell and little son, of Bangs visited in the L. W. French home Friday. Mrs. French returned home with them for a few days visit.

Gordon Williams is at home now, after several months absence, as he has been away at work.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Conner visited Jack Huffman and family of Duren Sunday.

Mrs. Neely spent the week end with Mrs. John Edlin.

Vernon McWhorter ate supper Sunday night with Gordon Williams.

Singing Sunday afternoon was enjoyed by an awfully large crowd. We had visitors from Big Valley, Priddy, Rock Springs, Lake Merritt, Center City, Mullin and Goldthwaite. The house could not hold the people. We feel like we have some real singers in our country, so you who miss these singings can't guess just what a treat you are missing when you fail to come. We have singing here each second Sunday afternoon. You are invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Fallon and son, Clell, of Gladewater are visiting Mrs. Jim Fallon for a few days.

Miss Vera Conner dined with Misses Georgia and Geneva Sparkman Sunday.

Mrs. Julia Taylor and family returned from Stamford late Sunday afternoon, after having been there for several weeks.

Misses Faye French and Ola Belle Williams and Mrs. Ruby French dined in the Charley Stark home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Anderson of Midway are visiting a few days in the Joe Spinks home.

Otis Hutchings went to San Saba Sunday.

Misses Lillie and Vera Conner and Ola Belle Williams visited Faye and Ruby French Friday.

Misses Julia Dee Fallon and Mary Lou Shelton visited school Friday afternoon.

Everyone remember and come to the box supper Thanksgiving night. BO-PEEP

DIZZINESS

relieved by Black-Draught

"I decided to take Thedford's Black-Draught, as I had been having bilious spells," writes Mr. Charles E. Stevens, of Columbus, Ind. "When I got bilious, I feel sleepy and tired and do not feel like doing my work. It is hard to tell how I feel, but I do not feel good. I get awfully dizzy. I know then that I had better take something. After I found how good Black-Draught is, that is what I have used. I guess it rids me of the bile, for I feel better—don't feel like I am dropping off to sleep every time I sit down. That, to me, is a very bad feeling."

Now you can get Black-Draught in the form of a SYRUP, for CHILDREN.

NEW FRENCH LINER IS BIGGEST OF ALL

Proud French statesmen made speeches, bands sent patriotic strains tooting over the water and Madame Paul LeBrun, wife of the president of the French Republic broke a bottle of the country's best champagne, as the new French liner, Normandie, slid down the ways at the historic Penhoet shipyards at St. Nazaire, France, last week, to take her place as queen of the French mercantile marine.

The new vessel, which will be commissioned for her first trip between Havre and New York in the spring of 1934, is the largest craft ever floated and when completed will add several other superlatives to her list, as regards beauty, speed, capacity and novelty of equipment.

Ten hundred and twenty feet long, the new vessel would stretch for about four city blocks—which is the best way to give a landlubber an idea—and if stood on end would reach quite a way toward the top of the Empire State building, New York, which, from base to crown measures 1248 feet.

The height of the Normandie from the waterline to the masthead will be 202 feet, so passengers on the upper deck will always be looking down at the waves, instead of up, as was the case in the not too distant past when ocean travel was a far different and more awe-inspiring proposition than it is today.

It is interesting to compare the size of the latest amrine giant with the two leaders of the present ocean commerce—the Majestic and Leviathan. The Normandie, besides being 105 longer than the Majestic, has a gross tonnage of 73,000 as compared to the latter's 56,621, while the French vessel outreaches the Leviathan by over 113 feet. Owing to the recent change in the tonnage of the American liner, she falls far short in the records for comparison.

But it is in the equipment of the ship that the builders have let themselves go. Provided for in the plans are swimming pools that will compare favorably with anything on land; a dance floor on which several hundred couples may trip the light fantastic without being crowded; tennis courts, gymnasiums and other sports features where athletically inclined passengers may keep in trim during the voyage.

The speed of the new ship still is a matter of conjecture, but engineers believe that she will lower the present trans-oceanic records considerably. The run to New York is expected to take less than five days.

The size of the Normandie is causing speculation along New York's waterfront as to where the gigantic craft will be berthed. At present there is no pier in Manhattan which can accommodate the pride of France, so it is predicted that a new pier will have to be constructed for her special use. However, if the big ship should arrive in the United States before accommodation is ready for her, it is believed she could be made comfortable at the army piers in South Brooklyn.

HIGHWAY WORK

Several of Mullin's business men met with the commissioners court at Goldthwaite Monday and discussed with them the matter of the new highway from Mullin to the Brown county line. Commissioner E. A. Duren appointed a committee composed of L. L. Wilson, A. H. Daniel, Willard Mosier, J. A. Holland, W. H. G. Chambers and R. H. Patterson to see what arrangements could be made about securing the highway.

As the county is very limited on finances the highway will have to be obtained at a very low cost for right-of-way or not secured at all. At present the securing of several thousand dollars from the state and federal department for this county depends on the work that can be done by this committee. We hope that all will be as liberal with their claims as possible.

All labor necessary for construction will be Mills county citizens except the skilled labor. This means employment for our citizens during the year and at a time in which it would be appreciated and if not done now it may be many years before another opportunity presents itself to get this work done as the federal government is now taking a very liberal view of the highway work as a means of assisting the unemployed of the nation.

Fellow citizens here is a chance to eat your cake.

Come to the school building December 2, and bring teams, wagons, trucks and dinner and all the family and have a picnic spread. Meet the neighbors and friends in all this section and help complete the school improvement on the lawn.

Time to plant trees and flowers now and an experienced landscape man has promised to assist in the shrub planting. All the patrons of the school and their friends are coming. Join the crowd and lend a helping hand. You can eat your cake and have it too, by the pleasure of comradeship with good friends and a good deed well done.

W.M.U. PROGRAM

Subject: Around the World With Our Prayers and Money. Hymn. Scripture—Leader. Prayer. Around the World—Leader. News From the World—Mrs. L. J. Smith. Broadcasting Our Prayers—Miss Alice Fisher. Broadcasting Our Money—Mrs. S. J. Casey. Two Broadcasting Stations—Mrs. W. S. Kemp. Hymn—Must I Go Empty Hand. Benediction.

A wind from the north pole struck here Tuesday and it whistled a death tune to many a fat hog over this county. Plenty of big fat lazy hogs heard their death bullet whistle Tuesday and are now really being enjoyed as good sausage and backbone. The north was welcomed by all the people who owned hogs, as they were all so fat and in such prime condition for slaughter.

FORMER PASTOR TRANSFERRED

Rev. J. D. Ramsey passed thru Mullin Monday en route to Strawn, Texas, where he has been transferred to that church as pastor. Rev. Ramsey was sent from Mullin to Bloomington, but upon arriving and taking charge of his new church his physical condition began to run down and his physician informed him that he would have to leave that climate at once. So he was immediately transferred to Strawn. His many friends regret to hear of his misfortune, but hope that the transfer will avoid further trouble.

FAMILY REUNION

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Kemp enjoyed an unbroken circle with all their children and grandchildren at home on Sunday.

A splendid dinner was served and they all made merry together again.

Those present were W. O. Kemp and family of Brownwood, Miss Katherine Kemp of Brooksmith, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Hutchins of Graham, W. S. Kemp and family, E. A. Kemp and Miss Mary Kemp, G. W. Chancellor and family of Mullin.

Miss Flowers Lindsey of Ridge was a Mullin visitor Saturday.

L. W. Wigley and Roy Crockett now have a new feed grinder.

C. B. Lindsey and family of Brownwood visited relatives here Armistice Day.

Tip Eaton of San Saba county spent the week end with home folks in Mullin.

Harvey Hodges of Bakersfield, Cal. is here visiting his sick brother, Wiley Hodges.

Mrs. L. L. Wilson, Miss Lacy Wilson and Mrs. S. J. Casey were Brownwood visitors Tuesday.

Jake Burkett complimented the editor with a fine treat of fresh spare ribs Wednesday.

Mrs. Fred Jones and children of Goldthwaite visited her old friend, Mrs. J. Waggoner, Saturday.

Mrs. M. F. Wallace, Mrs. Wilford Favors, Mrs. D. W. Reed and Tom Wallace are visiting Clarence Wallace of Leander this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunk Henry visited in the home of Charlie Hodges Sunday in the Duren community.

LET'S HAVE A GOOD TIME

Saturday is Trades Day in Mullin—a time to meet your old friends, trade horses, cattle, etc.—as in days of old. Have you forgotten how the old timers use to meet and dicker for hours, making a trade on ponies? Do you remember the thrill of your first trade? Come in Saturday and trade for something you need on your farm or ranch. Have a good time once more. Forget about the hard times. Money is scarce but life rolls on just the same. Come with your family and enjoy the broncho busting, goat roping and other amusements here Saturday.

Bring your white elephants to town Saturday and trade them off. Your neighbor may need them. Saturday is Trades Day.

Ernest Fisher visited his mother at her home at Turkey Peak. Mrs. Fisher has been suffering with pneumonia for several days.

Carter Cox and wife of Freeport returned to their home Wednesday, after a visit with relatives here.

Judge Few Brewster of Belton has been in Brownwood this week trying some cases for Judge E. J. Miller, who was disqualified to act. Judge Miller is in Belton acting for Judge Brewster.

E. A. Kemp, W. S. Kemp and families and Miss Mabel Smith of Mullin, Chas. Gill of San Saba and Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Hutchins of Graham attended the races at San Angelo Friday morning.

F. E. Schultz of Prairie was in town Monday and reports his son, Rector, who was recently badly hurt by a fall, as improving. We hope the lad will soon be able to return to his school work.

Lee P. Burkett and his ball-players from Locker were here Thursday. The game resulted in a victory for Mullin, the score being 26 to 4. Come again and better luck for these fine boys next time.

E. A. Kemp entered his race-horse Butterfly and W. S. Kemp entered his famous horse Chicken in the San Angelo races the past week end. Butterfly won in the 3-8 mile race Friday and Chicken won in Saturday's races. Both horses won first places.

Friends of Miss Nell Kirkpatrick will regret to hear she is suffering from a very severe attack of influenza. Miss Carrie Kirkpatrick has gone to Brownwood to be with her sister and Mrs. C. C. Hancock of Gatesville is expected to come today and will assist with the nursing of Miss Kirkpatrick.

Friends here of Mrs. Frankie Forgy of Hico will sympathize with her in the loss of her household goods, furniture and clothing by a recent fire. Mrs. Forgy and son, Rollene, barely escaped with their lives. The fire occurred at night and the origin of the fire is not definitely known. Mrs. Forgy is linotype operator for the Hico News-Review.

Mrs. Inex Kirkpatrick and son, James, of Abilene spent Armistice Day and the week end here with relatives.

Miss Sybil Guthrie, Miss Laura Nelson and Miss Clemmie Hancock attended the Texas and T. C. U. football game Saturday and saw the Longhorns snowed under

E. P. Smith is making extensive improvements at the Jake Hodges home, especially in the modernizing of the kitchen.

S. V. Roberts this week purchased a farm from Mrs. W. C. Dew, three miles south of Mullin. Mr. Roberts will occupy this farm as his home as soon as the property is vacated.

THE TOUCHDOWN SALE

In speeding down the rugged field of merchandising there is only one goal in view . . . that is to move merchandise at live and let live prices, leaving the consumer in line to have a few dimes left to spend elsewhere. We are not eleven rugged football players struggling to cross a line that means six points, but a merchandise concern that is willing to buck the line of scrimmage in the selling game and hit it hard, for the goal we want to reach is just as important as any valuable points in a football game.

We want to move merchandise and move it with a big advantage to our customers!

REMEMBER, FRIDAY MORNING the BIG GAME WILL START AT 9:00 A. M. Our field of merchandise is ready so be here for the kickoff and help us make the Touchdown in Merchandising.

IS BEER COMING BACK?

Legalized beer is expected by many people to be coming back in a few weeks or months, as a result of the overwhelming Democratic victory at the polls last week.

Back in Chicago, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, Detroit and hundreds of other cities where the sentiment has always been preponderantly wet. What little attempt has been made at prohibition enforcement in those centers has been directed at hard liquor, and the beer saloons have usually not been molested, provided they paid their graft money promptly.

This has been one of the most unsatisfactory phases of the prohibition question. Ardent dries contended for effectual prohibition. Ardent wets bewailed the diversion of former beer taxes into racketeer's pockets and complained about the quality of the beer they had to drink. And corrupt politicians joined hands with the gangsters and grew rich.

There are several obstacles to bringing the sale of beer out into the open as a government taxed and regulated business, however. Can they and will they be surmounted by the wets?

First in order of adoption and importance is the Eighteenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution, which was proposed to the states by Congress in December, 1917, eight months after the United States had entered the World War, and was finally ratified by the necessary three-fourths of the states in January, 1919, two months after the Armistice. It was eventually ratified by all the other states except Connecticut and Rhode Island. This amendment prohibits "the manufacture, sale or transportation of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes within, the importation thereof into or the exportation thereof from the United States." But it leaves to Congress the duty of defining "intoxicating liquors," of setting the penalties for breaking the law and, concurrently with the states, of enforcing the statutes.

Repealing an amendment will require the same process and time as adopting a new amendment. Moreover it requires the two-thirds vote of both houses of Congress and the ratification of three-fourths of the states to become effective. While it is possible that the Eighteenth Amendment may be repealed, it certainly will not be in the near future, as the legislatures or special conventions of only 13 states will be able to block it.

But the Volstead act which defines and prescribes the method of prohibiting "intoxicating liquors" may be amended or repealed by only a majority vote of Congress, providing the President does not veto the bill, or by a two-thirds vote of both houses it may pass the bill despite the President's veto.

Those who, like vice-president-elect John Garner, are prophesying the legalization of beer by Christmas, are counting on Congress amending the Volstead act in December so as to legalize beer, either specifically or by raising the percentage of alcohol now allowed in near-beer.

But the Congress that sits in December is the same Congress that only last spring rejected such a measure by a two to one majority in the senate and a vote of 228 to 169 in the house. Even though many of these congressmen who voted dry have since been defeated, it does not appear probable that enough of them will now reverse their votes and favor the return of beer. Nor can it be held that the election of new representatives and senators is an indication that the people put beer foremost in voting. Senator Bingham of Connecticut was the most persistent proponent of beer in the senate, and he like many other Republicans, both wet and dry, was defeated last week.

The new Congress which convenes next March is claimed to be definitely wet by wet leaders, so it probably will accept beer, but it is doubtful if it will be strong enough to vote to repeal the Eighteenth Amendment.

But suppose Congress, either in December or March, does modify the Volstead act so as to permit the legal return of beer, that will not make it legal in Texas. Because Texas has a prohibition amendment in its constitution, which not only specifically includes malt liquors but is self-operative and makes prohibition violation a felony. It is self-operative "until the Legislature shall prescribe other or different penalties." It also prohibits the sale of intoxicating beverages except in case of sickness when prescribed by a physician "until the Legislature shall prescribe other or different regulations." This stringent amendment was adopted in May, 1919.

After this amendment was adopted, the Texas legislature passed the Dean act, which makes illegal the manufacture, sale or transportation of any liquor with an alcoholic content greater than 1 per cent. The Dean act is so strict that it is rarely used in the larger cities of Texas, where liquor cases are usually prosecuted by Federal prohibition agents in Federal courts, where fines as low as 10 cents have been imposed.

There is no question of repealing the Texas prohibition amendment at this time. But the legislature which convenes in January can amend the Dean act so as to exclude beer of 5 per cent or even more alcoholic content from the penalties applied to intoxicating liquors.

We do not believe the legislature, as it is now composed, will be able to pass such a bill. But if it does, there is still the old recourse of local option left to each county and subdivision of a county.

Prohibitionists have been asleep. The Literary Digest poll of 1930 showed that throughout the country 70 per cent — a considerable majority — of the five million voters who responded to the poll favored either outright prohibition repeal or modification permitting beer and light wines. But prohibitionists, relying upon the amendments and statutes, felt that prohibition was safe.

Now the tide has turned. Politicians, like Governor Murray of Oklahoma, for example, are turning overnight from ardent dry to eager wet. Instead of prohibition, the emphasis must once more be placed on temperance.

How long has it been since a temperance lecture was given in Mills county? How many of the young voters of this section ever heard any sensible argument against using alcohol except the worn-out "you mustn't do it because it is against the law"? Screaming warnings and calling names won't turn the tide. Temperance education is needed now as never before. This is a democratic country with a republican form of government. The majority rules, whether one likes it or not. The only certain way of insuring the continuance or a revival of prohibition, is the revival of temperance sentiment in the school, in the church, and first and foremost, in the home.

THE NEVADA MORATORIUM

Out in Nevada where the West hangs on, where gambling is open and hard liquor flows free for those with the cash to pay, money has gotten scarce.

And so Governor Balzar has clapped on a moratorium for 26 days during which all but seven banks have closed and no one need pay any debts but taxes.

Money is scarce, but in the gambling halls one hundred thousand silver dollars are still stacked on the green topped tables and the games of chance go on.

FROM NORTH CAROLINA

Editorials and news items from the GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE are often widely quoted, but a new record was set the other day. In far off North Carolina the Burlington Times quoted approvingly from a recent editorial in the EAGLE, "The Small Town Grows Important."

Items and editorials from the EAGLE have been quoted or referred to by many state papers, and the TEXAS WEEKLY of Dallas recently devoted its leading article to a discussion of the negro in Texas politics as referred to in the EAGLE editorial "Say It Out Loud."

Mention of these facts is made here not for the purpose of bragging on ourselves, but to call attention to the publicity that Goldthwaite and Mills county are receiving far and wide. We have said, and we repeat, that Mills county is a mighty fine place in which to live, and the more people hear about it, the better pleased the EAGLE will be.

Keeping Up With Texas

SO BIG TEXAS!

You've heard that the entire nation of France could be put in Texas and there would still be room enough for parts of other foreign countries, but you've probably never had a clear conception of just how big a state you live in. Listen to G. C. Roussel, manager of the research department of the Houston Chamber of Commerce:

"We are often asked if Texas could hold the entire population of the world, and have answered in the affirmative," Mr. Roussel said. "But no one has ever stopped to find out just how much room there would be for each man, woman and child in the world if they had to live in Texas. The population of the world is given at 2,000,000,000. There are 262,398 square miles of land in Texas. In each of those square miles there are 27,876,408 square feet. This means that in all Texas there is a grand total of 7,315,238,502.384 square feet. (It's in the trillions, if you haven't counted that high before.)

"Now divide the two billions of people into this figure and you will find out that there is room enough in Texas to give each person in the entire world a total of 2657 square feet.

"This 2657 square feet would be a little smaller than the average city lot a tract about 60 feet square for each person," continued Mr. Roussel.

"Japanese and Chinese people could actually live and produce all they needed on such a tract of ground, and I expect that if something should happen to the rest of the world and everyone had to live in Texas the rest of us would find some way to get by on our little 60x60," Mr. Roussel said.

HEALTH HINT

WHEN BABY IS ILL

A baby can not tell you what is the matter with him when he hurts, therefore, the careful mother must find out the next best way—by watching.

Babies most often indicate pains in the abdomen by drawing their legs up over their abdomen. If the pain is in their limbs, they hold them still. Earache usually is indicated when the baby tosses his head from side to side or pulls his ear.

Hoarseness should be taken seriously. It may be the first sign of diphtheria. Spasms and convulsions are early signs of disease. A rash accompanied by fever calls for a diagnosis.

The quicker a doctor is called in case of illness, the smaller the risk.

A careful mother should watch the normal position of the baby, its normal color and expressions, its normal activity and wakefulness. Then, when it suffers discomfort or pain, the fact is quickly noticed.

Each mother should learn how to read the gradations on an ordinary clinical thermometer so that when the baby is slightly feverish over a period of days or undergoes a sharp rise in temperature a doctor may be called to diagnose the trouble.

THE REALM OF SCIENCE

Did you see the shooting stars this week? Thousands of observers, both amateur and professional astronomers, were looking for the flock of Leonids thru which the earth was scheduled to pass in the early hours of the mornings of Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

If you were up and looking for them, blame it on the moon if you failed to see them. With moonlight almost as bright as day, a little thing like a shooting star is hard to see. Or maybe something diverted them. Back in 1899 the big planet Jupiter pulled the Leonids out of their computed path, and the show that year was a frost.

But last year and the year before at this time observers all over the world reported seeing many meteors. Some reported as many as 100 an hour.

In telling about them Dr. Charles P. Olivier of the University of Pennsylvania had this to say:

At 33-year intervals meteor showers have been reported at about the proper dates 20 times since 902 A. D. The 1833 shower was described as a "rain" of stars and made a deep impression on even the most casual and uninterested observers. The predicted 1866 shower came on time and was certainly an impressive sight, though far from equalling that of 1833.

The 1899 Leonids failed to appear and in their disappointment careful computations, published shortly before the Leonid date, had indicated that the meteor stream had been moved out of its path by the powerful gravitation of Jupiter.

We wish to avoid this year any similar dissatisfaction with astronomical promises. Meteor showers can not be predicted with absolute accuracy.

The calculations this year indicate that the meteor stream has been shifted back toward its orbit before 1899; we should not miss the stream again. However, it has not been moved back to its 1833 position. We should not have so good a show as in 1833.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

To clean straw hats. For each hat take the juice of two lemons and add enough powdered sulphur to make a thin paste, apply on the hat and then dry in the sun. When thoroughly dry, rub off the surplus sulphur.

To prevent the disagreeable odor when cooking cauliflower, after preparing it for boiling in the usual manner, place a piece of stale bread on top of it. Do not cover it. When done, remove the bread.

What Other Editors Have to Say

"EYE-MINDED"

Oratory does not dovetail easily with the arranged programs to which the networks and stations look for their income. If the speaker goes over his time allotment a sponsored program must be cancelled and the broadcaster must pay the help and straighten out the mess. This has run into giddy sums. And it plays havoc with good will. On one occasion when a nationally known comedian twiddled his thumbs while a speech went on and on, the network received over 6000 complaints. But the chorus of complaints has opened up a new appraisal of the political utility of the radio. In 1928 we were hearing of the new era in which the candidate was credited with say 25,000,000 listeners. There are reasons this year for questioning whether any such number listened to a given speech. Both governor Roosevelt and President Hoover thought it best to take to the special train. That is a tacit confession of what the campaign managers think. They have discovered that it is necessary to build up a situation which the newspapers recognize as news. And there is involved what specialists in advertising are well acquainted with. For matters which require thought, the public is "eye-minded." That is why this campaign switched back to something far different than the predictions about radio in 1928. — Cincinnati Enquirer.

BUYING DROPS—MONEY LOAFERS

If five men are seated around a table, each owing $10 to the man on his right and hands his creditor ten dollars, the same bill will settle $50 of the debts, if each debtor, in turn, passes it on. But, according to the current Weekly of the Alexander Hamilton Institute, if the first one to receive payment puts the money into his pocket, the $10 bill will pay only the one debt. This velocity, or turnover of money and bank deposits — the rapidity with which they change hands — is a most important factor of the money supply and is indispensable in explaining what has happened to purchasing power. The present effective shortage of money and buying power is pictured as follows:

"So far as actual money in circulation is concerned, there has been an increase of 20 percent since 1929. In the middle of that year circulation amounted to $4,743,000,000 while this year it was $5,695,000,000. The business ills of the past three years obviously cannot be attributed to a decline in the circulation. But money is used in settlement of only a small part of business transactions. Bank deposit currency is used in payment of many times the volume of business for which payment is made in cash. Here there has been a decline and one of large extent. The deposits of all banks in the country amounted to $53,352,000,000 on June 30, 1929. This year they were $41,963,000,000, a decrease of 22 percent. Combining bank deposit currency and money in circulation, the money supply amounted to $58,595,000,000 in 1929 and to $47,658,000,000 this year, a percentage decrease of 18.7.

"In June of this year bank deposits outside of New York were then circulating at a rate only 58 per cent as rapidly as the rate at which they circulated in 1929. In New York City the deposit circulation was only 30 per cent as rapid. Not only are there fewer dollars now available to pay for goods and services, but the reduced rate of turnover makes it necessary for each dollar to do considerably more work. How much more the dollar of today is compelled to do can, of course, only be approximated. If the supply of currency and deposits and the rate of their velocity three years ago is compared with supply and velocity today, apparently it is taking about three of today's dollars to do the work of only one 1929 dollar."

SPECIAL SESSIONS

Special sessions and Sterling seem to be synonymous, but perhaps the silliest and most unnecessary of all of those forced upon us is the one that started this

GERMAN AND AMERICAN ELECTIONS

Thirty-five million German voters went to the polls Sunday, and when the returns were counted six parties had seats in the reichstag and no party could form a government. The smallest party had 18 seats, the largest 195. The largest is Hitler's national socialist, whose natural enemy, the communist party, has a hundred seats. The reds gained and the Nazis lost in the election. Twelve parties went into the election. A half dozen went into the American election, but only two could possibly figure in any material way in the result. Americans reconcile their differences of opinion sufficiently before an election so that they can produce an administration by their votes. When the ballots have been counted they have a government. There may be considerable confusion in congress over legislative issues, but the continuity of administration is assured. Disputed electoral votes threw the Hayes-Tilden election into a special election commission, but the decision was there when electoral college controversy was decided. The country has not had to fall back on election by the House of Representatives for over a hundred years because the people have been able to divide on the two-party line.

Political conflict at the dagger's point as represented by the issue between Reds and Hitlerites with a multiplication of parties in between the extremes can neither produce nor sustain a republic. Democracy requires more common ground than that. Even if there is a stalemate in legislation there must be an administration of law of government function. When a society discards the hereditary system of providing continuity in administration, it must, above all, be able to supply an equivalent out of its political action.

The American traditionalism which sustains the two major parties provides the common ground needed for a practical agreement. The republic does not disintegrate into so many irreconcilable fragments that it cannot get a government out of its voting. — Chicago Tribune.

It is another effort to do something for those who own oil wells, oil royalties and oil lands. This time the legislators will be asked to conserve oil by passing laws to prevent economic waste, which is just another term for price-fixing.

They say Oklahoma has a similar law and that the economic part has been upheld by the Supreme Court. That is wrong. The Supreme Court judges were not asked to pass on that part of the law and have not. If it isn't unconstitutional, it should be.

Oil means much to Texas. Its physical waste should be prevented, but when it comes to a law that attempts to control the market demand, or fix the price, we are against the principle. Our state legislators have no more right to meddle with petroleum prices than with the price to be paid for potatoes or beans.

The national government made a miserable failure of its price-fixing efforts. Let the state avoid the economic pitfall. — Memo in Houston Press.

A PRIVATE BANKER

Back in the good old days a banker was a man who made his name good for more than he had and his neighbors trusted him with all they had. It was a man-to-man business and honesty counted for more than steel or stone or the laws on the statute books. And it was in those days that Gannon Bros. went over the door of a Dallas banking house and the name of Gannon was its own bank examiner, its own Federal Reserve system, its own guarantee of deposits, its own code of ethics.

Men who dealt with Gannon Bros. put their money in the bank, as they said. But they would have cheerfully put it in E. J. Gannon's vest pocket or the vest pocket of any of his associates. He had been tested and the name stood for something. It still does, now that the owner of it has liquidated all assets of this present world and handed in his accounts for inspection by the Auditor Eternal.

Mr. Gannon lived on into the days of corporate banking and saw the private bank become an institution of rarity. But he never lived to see the day when a good name was not rather to be chosen than great riches. Material things he leaves behind in no lack; but more valuable than stocks and bonds or houses and land is the record of having met obligations promptly when due and squarely without quibble. A good name kept clean does not tarnish, though flesh fall and ashes mingle with the earth whence they came. — Dallas News

THE GREAT FISH WAR

Alfalfa Bill Murray is going to beat off hunger this winter with fish and plans to grow enough fish to give a pound of fish to every man, woman and child in Oklahoma. He is feeling good already over the fish crop that he is going to produce.

Federal fish experts have been consulted by the cynical newspaper men of Oklahoma and they report that bass is the best fish that Oklahoma produces and that it would take more than an acre of water to yield 100 pounds of bass. Since there are two and one-third million people in Oklahoma, that would mean an acre lake for every 100 people, or 23,960 acres of lake, to be more exact about population. That is a mighty big lake to be scooped out of Oklahoma. The governor was going to borrow the money from the government to dig the lake, but the fish experts said he would do better to grow gold fish.

Alfalfa Bill is not the man, however, to be downed by experts. "The trouble with the Washington man," he rumbles, "is that he is one of Teddy Roosevelt's nature fakers that began to infest the country about the time he was president. He is a silk stocking fish expert. I wasn't talking about the best fish being bass, but raising fish. The most prolific fish in Oklahoma is the catfish. Catfish produce he-men that wear breeches."

But another statistically minded person reports that the total catch of edible fish in the United States would yield a per capita per diem for Oklahoma fish eaters of only three pounds. It is big business Alfalfa Bill is angling for. — Dallas News.

Comanche

Fifty men and twenty teams are at work on the highway and twice that number will be put to work within a few days, according to Marvin Hood.

Mrs. G. W. Whitehead, former citizen of Comanche county died at her home near Ralls Monday, Oct. 31, and was buried the following day at the cemetery there.

Five were given prison terms, three of which were suspended, in district court Wednesday and Thursday before that body adjourned at two o'clock for the remainder of the week.

Comanche county swung back to the Democratic column in the election Tuesday, returning a majority both the Democratic electors and for Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson for governor. Mrs. Ferguson, with 1995 votes to 1194 for Bullington, had a lead of a little less than 2 to 1 over her opponent and Roosevelt's lead was more than 15 to 1 with 3023 votes again 182 for Hoover.

Political scenes of forty years ago were revived in Comanche Saturday when thousands of people gathered in the town during the afternoon for an old-fashioned Democratic political rally which began with an address by former Secretary of State C. C. McDonald, at 2 p. m., when he addressed 500 people in the district court room. Instead of decreasing, the crowd more than doubled as night came on and by dusk the largest crowd seen in Comanche in years was present to witness the first torch light parade staged in Comanche since Hogg defeated Clark in 1892.—Chief.

San Saba

Mrs. H. H. Taylor is spending a few months with her daughter, Mrs. C. B. Smith, of El Paso.

There is a total enrollment of 212 students in the San Saba high school, a gain of more than 16 per cent over the opening date of the school, when there were 182 pupils enrolled.

Announcement is made here of the marriage of William P. Daley, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Daley of this city and Miss Helen Keeley of Weslaco, at the home of the bride's parents there last week.

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed six business buildings at Richland Springs about midnight Sunday and threatened others nearby. The loss is estimated at about $8,000 with no insurance.

The ten students making the highest average in the San Saba high school for the first term just ended, were honor guests at the regular weekly luncheon of the San Saba Rotary club Thursday noon at the Hotel San Saba.

According to the records of the public weigher, kept by G. H. Mehrens, of this precinct, there has been 3260 bales of cotton turned into the yard. Approximately 3000 of these have been ginned by the three San Saba gins.—Star.

Lometa

Mrs. O. C. Weatherby of Toyah was a visitor in the home of her son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Weatherby, one day last week.

Prof. O. L. Davis and children left Tuesday for Sudan, Texas. Mr. Davis will reopen the Sudan school which has been turned out for the last month on account of cotton picking.

W. B. Baxter, aged 87 years and ten months, and who had been a resident of Lampasas county for 50 years died at his home in Lometa Monday, November 7.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Coleman received minor injuries Monday afternoon, when she was kicked in the chest by a mule. We are glad to report, however, that the accident was not serious and the little girl is doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Dee Jones rushed their little son to Brownwood Wednesday of last week, as he had a big swollen place on his right side and their family physician advised taking him to a specialist. The doctor there pronounced it hardening of the muscles.

Hamilton

Ray Gay, Clifton, was presented with a medal and certificate from the National Electric Light Association, Friday, Oct. 4, in Dallas, for saving the life of a fellow employee through the application of the prone pressure method of artificial respiration.

Jesse Earl Pruitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Pruitt, who live out some four miles southwest of Hamilton, was critically injured at about 4:30 o'clock last Saturday afternoon, when he fell from a running car out five miles from Hamilton on the Ireland road.

Pope Miller Gerald, accompanied by young Pruitt, was en route to Ireland to bring back produce. He was driving an old "whoopee" used as a truck. Eight empty turkey or chicken crates were stacked in the back. As the two young men were driving toward Ireland, Jesse Earl Pruitt raised up in the seat and reached backward to see if the crates were steady and in this position somehow lost his balance and fell from the moving car to the ground, striking on the side of his head and face and one shoulder. There has been no rain in some time and the road bed is very hard. His face was skinned and one deep abrasion inflicted. He was lying lifeless, when Mr. Gerald succeeded in stopping the car and reached him. Young Mr. Gerald employed all means of resuscitation known to him and had his companion breathing when assistance reached them in a traveler along the way. The injured young man was brought to the Hamilton hospital and it was found that he is suffering from concussion of the brain. He is reported to be slowly improving under the treatment of the surgeons at the Hamilton sanitarium and it is thought he will recover.—Record-Herald.

Lampasas

Roosevelt carried the county by a majority of 1700 and Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson received a majority of 212.

G. A. McGregor, Jr., and Miss Ernestine Belk were married Saturday afternoon, Nov. 5, at the Methodist parsonage.

The Presbyterian church is now building a Sunday school room just south of the church building for the use of Sunday school classes.

A wedding of interest to many Lampasas people occurred on Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the home of Rev. George Brown, when Miss Evelyn Earnest and Oscar Jackson were united in marriage.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ulrich, just south of the city limits, was completely destroyed by fire Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Ulrich was at home when the fire started and turned in the alarm, but the flames spread rapidly, and were fanned by a strong wind from the south. Very little was saved from the fire and all the firemen could do was to put water on the nearby buildings in the yard and keep them from catching.

W. S. Hetherly was severely cut about the head and face Tuesday afternoon in an automobile accident. Mr. Hetherly and Roy Maxwell were in the Hetherly car and were going east on Second street and was attempting to make a left hand turn when the cars ran together. Mr. Hetherly was thrown into the windshield of his car and the breaking glass made severe cuts on his head and face.—Leader.

COTTON SELLS HIGH AT POSTOFFICE AUCTION

Cotton sold for 10 cents a pound at Atlanta, Ga., postoffice, while quoted at only slightly more than 7 cents at the local cotton market. The record price was paid when an unopened, unclaimed package, weighing 60 pounds, was sold at an "old hoss" sale. Bidding was brisk, with contents unknown, and the box finally brought more than $6. It contained raw cotton.

ville, Texas. Mr. Gage is pastor of four rural Baptist churches and arranged his budget in each church on the basis of produce rather than money. The result was surprising. A committee from each church was sent out to secure from each family represented in the membership gifts in produce.—Reporter.

RED TACTICS

A Communist riot is a publicity stunt. It is a demonstration designed to deceive the general public into believing that the forces of law and order brutally mistreat sections of the populace, and that public bodies charged with the duty of hearing grievances and adjusting claims refuse to listen to them. Even from this distance the outline of tactics followed in London can be discerned. The formula of the leaders who guided crowds into Trafalgar Square, Pall Mall and the Strand appears to have been the same used to stage disorderly scenes in the City Hall and on the Campus Martius in Detroit. The English petition demanded abolition of the "means test," or investigation conducted by authorities to assure themselves that families asking unemployment relief really need it. The second is to get the petition refused. The English Parliament did not refuse to listen to the workers' petition, but had arranged to discuss the matter Friday. John McGovern, a radical member of the House of Commons, offered to introduce it formally, as all petitions are brought to the attention of Commons, but the leaders of the demonstration refused to let him do so. They preferred to go on to the third step, and present their demands by force of numbers. The third step is to mass in the most famous street or attempt to occupy the most famous building in the city. A fracas with police at the House of Commons or in front of the Detroit City Hall is far more impressive than a similar row in a suburb. It makes news. The successful part of the London demonstration, from the Red standpoint, was that the show was staged on streets known throughout the world, such as Whitehall and Victoria Embankment. As a publicity stunt the London affair gained attention throughout the English-speaking countries. It would have gained more and been considerably more serious if the London police had not shown discretion and efficiency in handling it.—Detroit Free Press.

WOMEN ENLIST WITH WAR-TIME SPIRIT IN RED CROSS DRIVE ON DISTRESS

Little Sarah Jo Thrush tries on a dress made from Red Cross cotton in a chapter production room, where Miss Jeanette Rascosin is one of several hundred volunteers sewing garments for the needy. In the lines behind her are thousands of men's shirts and children's garments to be made up and given away. At right, Miss Mabel T. Boardman, secretary of the Red Cross, under whose leadership several hundred thousand women are making clothing for the unemployed.

Now shall 500,000 bales of Farm Board cotton be converted into clothing for the unemployed and needy, was an urgent question concerning the American Red Cross when Congress voted the raw cotton for that purpose to the Red Cross in December.

Congress also had laid $5,000,000 bales of Farm Board wheat upon the Red Cross doorstep, beginning last March, and the great relief organization had accepted the task of putting flour and bread from this wheat into the homes of 2,500,000 of the nation's needy families. The wheat distribution continues and it is estimated that the free flour will be exhausted until the late spring of 1933.

Cotton presented a complex problem, but the Red Cross swung a large staff of workers into the job, and by October 1 had distributed more than 50,000,000 yards of cotton cloth to more than half of the chapters or counties of the nation. Thousands of women volunteered to make the cloth into garments for school children, for men and for women. Dresses, underwear, men's shirts, boys' suits all came flying from the sewing machines.

Following up the cloth, the Red Cross prepared to give men's trousers, overalls, jumpers, boys' knickers, underwear and stockings and socks for all the family.

Without the work of the women who volunteered as seamstresses, and the thousands of men and women who helped give flour, clothing and other direct relief, in the name of the Red Cross, these useful aids to the unemployed would not have been handled so promptly, nor reached so many people, Red Cross officials say.

In the administration of the wheat and cotton, the Red Cross will expend an estimated $450,000. Funds from the Red Cross treasury will be used. Every Red Cross membership in the annual roll call from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day will help toward meeting these costs.

Chairman John Barton Payne has characterized the relief emergency facing the Red Cross this winter as the greatest it has had to meet since the World War, and has appealed for the support of every citizen.

side toward Richland Springs, although they were roundly outplayed the rest of the way.

Next Thursday will see the Eagles at Bangs mixing with the Dragons. No Dragon team has conquered the Eagles to date, but the Dragon team of this year is doped much stronger than the Eagles. There will be an unusual feature in this game in the fact that it will start at 10:30 a. m. There are several reasons which make it necessary to play in the morning, rather than in the afternoon.

The Eagles will probably play Hamilton at Indian Gap on the Friday following Thanksgiving week. This game is by invitation of the Indian Gap school board.

This afternoon the Lometa Hornets will attempt to outfly the Eagles. Many fans have asked for a home game and we have tried to bring other teams here, but were financially unable to even guarantee them expenses. Lometa wants revenge for the 7 to 0 defeat in the opening game of the season. Be there and help boost the Eagles to higher flying than is possible for the Hornets. REPORTER.

MRS. BOLINGER FATALLY BURNED

unconscious, but regained consciousness at the hospital.

Her clothing was burned almost completely off and doctors say that every part of her body was burned.

There was no insurance on the farm house which was owned by the father-in-law, Joe Bolinger. The house and all contents were lost. Ferris Bolinger lost $39 in money in the fire. Loss of house and contents was estimated at between $2500 and $3000. — Brownwood Bulletin.

The Bolinger home is in Mills county near Ebony.
