VOLUME THIRTY-NINE

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1932.

NUMBER THIRTEEN

News In Brief

Dallas city employes will receive $200,000 less in salaries next year as a result of a general salary cut decided on by the city commissioners there this week.

President Hoover will not object to a bill legalizing beer, Republican Representative Britten of Illinois announced Monday, after a conference with the president.

Premier Herriot and a large party of French government officials narrowly escaped death Monday when the railroad track over which their special train was due to pass was dynamited.

The John D. Rockefellers, senior and junior, have been hit by the depression too. Their fortune once estimated at a billion dollars is said to have shrunk to a measly $150,000,000.

In Chicago a 17-year-old boy, former inmate of an insane asylum, has confessed to killing two men and attacking a girl. "But you can't do anything to me for it," he told police. "I'm insane."

High Priest Robert Harris, Detroit negro, has confessed that he slew his negro boarder, James Smith, with a silver knife, as a human sacrifice. The body had been found in the high priest's house on a crude altar.

How many words do you know? William D. Boutwell of the U. S. Education department has said that the average first grade child knows 3,000, professional men know 45,000 or more and many editors and writers are familiar with 50,000.

The Democratic landslide swept Thomas J. O'Malley, veteran railroad conductor, into office as lieutenant governor of Wisconsin. He will continue to work on the railroad except while presiding over the state senate.

Mayor Chambers of San Antonio didn't like it when state highway patrol officers swooped down on the city Sunday and arrested motorists by the hundreds. He instructed the traffic court to refund the fines it had collected from those arrested.

Better be careful about accepting $50 and $100 bills from now on, San Antonio secret service operatives have warned. There are some bad ones in circulation. But what we would like to know is if there are any good $50 and $100 bills in circulation.

Charles Levine, the man who flew the Atlantic as a passenger with Chamberlain not long after Lindbergh, says he is a pauper. His wife says he has plenty and owes her $32,000 a year alimony. They are leaving it to the judge to decide.

Twenty thousand Bolivian and Paraguayan troops are facing each other on the Gran Chaco battlefield in South America where 1500 have been killed within the past few days. A decisive battle which will end the war is now expected.

Although he has refused to make public the details, General Frank T. Hines, head of the veterans administration at Washington, has admitted that he is working out a plan for full payment of soldier bonus certificates, when and if the government orders the payment.

Colonel Robins, former gold miner, a friend of President Hoover, and an ardent prohibitionist, disappeared several months ago while on his way from his Boston home to Washington. He was discovered this week in the North Carolina Hills, and was going by the name of Rogers, wearing overalls and a beard. He at first failed to recognize his wife, but he since done so. He had not forgotten to save newspaper clippings telling of his disappearance.

Legion Auxiliary Feeds Legionaires

Members of the Harry F. Edmondson Post of the American Legion and their wives were guests of the newly organized Ladies Auxiliary at a turkey dinner Tuesday evening in the office of the Texas-Louisiana Power Co.

Bountiful plates of roast turkey and dressing, fruit salad and other good things, hot coffee and delicious pie were served and the old army custom of providing "seconds" was also observed.

A telegram of congratulations from state headquarters of the American Legion Auxiliary was read. Talks were made by the Auxiliary president, Mrs. Coley O. Sevier; the Post Commander L. L. Wilson and Adjutant M. Y. Stokes, Jr.

Following the dinner, the tables were cleared and games of "42" and dominoes were enjoyed until a late hour.

Members of the auxiliary and their guests were present from Mullin, Priddy, Star, Big Valley and several other communities as well as from Goldthwaite.

MRS. D. A. NEWTON HOSTESS TO BRIDGE CLUB

The Wednesday Bridge Club was delightfully entertained on Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. D. A. Newton as hostess, at which two tables were arranged for the series of auction bridge.

The autumn and Thanksgiving motif was beautifully carried out in a profusion of bronze chrysanthemums for decoration and tallies with miniature turkeys.

Cut prize was awarded to Mrs. J. E. Shropshire. At the conclusion of the games the hostess served a delicious plate consisting of orange baskets filled with fruit salad, Chinese cake and hot tea.—Brady Standard.

Baptist Church

The Mills County Singing Convention meets at the Baptist church the first Sunday in December. This convention is not sponsored by the Baptist church or by the town of Goldthwaite. It is a county affair and the citizens of the county as a whole are responsible for its success. We have extended to this convention the use of our church and the citizens of our town will endeavor to make it a success. It is the custom for everyone to bring his own lunch and to just make himself at home. This is a very fine thing, as it will not burden any community and everyone will feel free to participate in its deliberations. You are invited.

We attended the convention last week and were entertained in the D. Howard Rudd home. These people certainly know how to entertain and it was fortunate for us indeed to share the hospitality of this home.

This convention had a far-reaching influence on the moral, social and religious life of our people. There has never been gathered together a more humble and consecrated group anywhere to carry on for the good of humanity than these people who were at Abilene. Every Baptist ought to pride themselves in the fact that they belong to an organization that is moving along, preaching the gospel, educating the youth, taking care of the orphans, ministering to the physical needs of man and helping to take care of the old preachers and their widows who have given their lives for the cause's sake. Our denomination has been reducing their indebtedness for the last three years in spite of the fact that we have had three years of financial distress. And our church has had a little part in all of this work, for

Bullington Fails To Equal Butte Vote

Final election returns which include all but a few small Texas counties that failed to report, show that Orville Bullington, Republican candidate for governor has trailed Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, Democrat, by approximately 200,000 votes. He failed to reach the mark of 294,970 set by Republican George C. Butte, who ran against Mrs. Ferguson in 1924. Bullington polled nearly 100,000 votes less than President Hoover received in Texas in 1928.

Goldthwaite Eagles At Bangs Thursday

As announced last week, the football team of the Goldthwaite High school journeyed to Bangs this week for their Thanksgiving game which was played at 10:30 yesterday morning.

Bangs won the hard-fought game by a score of 6 to 0. Harmon Frazier, Eagle halfback, was sick and unable to play.

Lometa Loses Second Time In the game here last Friday, the Lometa Hornets failed to get revenge for their beating by the Eagles early in the season, but did manage to score a touchdown and extra point, giving them the short end of a 13 to 7 score, as compared with 7 to 0 in the first game.

DELIGHTFUL VENISON Mayor H. G. Bodkin and Hud. Hamilton were among the successful deer hunters who visited the southwest last week and the Eagle folk have full knowledge of their success, for they sent us a large and delightful roast that was enjoyed by every member of the family. We are mighty glad these gentlemen had the good fortune to bring back the fine buck and are especially proud that they consider the Eagle folk among their chosen friends.

Pecans Win Prize

J. J. Cockrell, the fruit man, this week was awarded first premium on his pecans exhibited at Rising Star pecan show for that section in competition with pecans from various sections, including those exhibited by Vice-President Elect John Garner. These pecans are native to Mills county and never fail to receive recognition wherever exhibited. They were given second premium at the Dallas fair and first place at the Brownwood exhibition. Mr. Cockrell has a fine pecan grove and when all of the trees he has topped and budded come to bear full crops he will have a wonderful supply as well as an excellent quality and large variety.

Thanksgiving Day Is Observed Here

Yesterday was Thanksgiving and the day was almost universally observed in Goldthwaite. Practically all of the business houses were closed and there was really less doing about the business part of town than is usual on Sunday. Many people went away for a visit and some attended the football games at Bangs, Brownwood, Austin and possibly elsewhere. Some of the teachers whose homes are elsewhere took advantage of the opportunity to go home for a visit, since school will not open again until Monday. Everything passed off nicely at Goldthwaite, although there was no special program or celebration.

Four Half-and-Half Taxpayers So Far

Mills county taxpayers either do not need to take advantage of the law which permits them to pay half of their 1932 taxes by November 30 and the other half any time up to June 30, 1933, or they do not know about it. Only four taxpayers have gone on the fifty-fifty basis so far, and their taxes totaled only $122, of which $61 has been paid.

Since the tax rolls were opened on October 1, $5201.60 has been paid in taxes here.

Those who pay their delinquent taxes by Dec. 31, will not have to pay any penalty and interest. Last year delinquent taxpayers had a month longer in which to make payments.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

County Clerk L. B. Porter issued marriage license since last report to Tom Crier of Goldthwaite and Miss Johnnie Mae Mosier of Mullin; J. L. Stewart and Miss Jackie Wilson, both of San Saba.

President Confers

For the first time in American history, a retiring Republican president has conferred with his Democratic successor. Tuesday President-elect Roosevelt called on President Hoover at the White House in response to the latter's invitation, and for two and one-half hours they conferred with each other regarding the troublesome question of war debts and reparations.

A brief statement issued after the conference stated that the President and Governor Roosevelt "traversed at length" debt problems and the problems of disarmament and the world economic conference. Although the statement said that "progress has been made," it did not indicate that an agreement had been reached. Secretary of the Treasury Mills advised President Hoover during the conference and Governor Roosevelt was assisted by Dr. Raymond L. Moley of Columbia University.

As Governor Roosevelt was driven from the station to the White House, he was cheered as "President Roosevelt" by the crowds.

Now a Market Here For Armadillos

Not only is Goldthwaite a good market in which to buy goods, but it is also the best place in which to sell, as is evidenced by the prices paid for cotton, pecans, turkeys and everything else the people have to sell. This has long been true, but this week the record was broken, when Long & Berry bought a number of armadillos from people who brought them in. To be sure, the Eagle can not imagine any use these animals, varmints or beasts can be put to by anybody, yet this firm will doubtless sell them if they are wanted. Long & Berry made a market the past summer for mountain plums and purchased a good many hundred bushels and have been constantly on the look out for anything offered for sale in any line, but the armadillo purchase is the last word in buying what the people have to sell. It is now more than ever before, an established truth that you can find a market for what you have to sell and you can find anything you need to buy in the way of merchandise in the good town of Goldthwaite.

What may prove to be the beginning of a new and profitable source of income for Mills county was inaugurated Wednesday when the Fairman Co. received an order from Chicago for canned armadillo meat. Members of the company which placed the order stated that they had heard that armadillo meat was good to eat, and that if it proved acceptable more orders would follow. At any rate five fat armadillos are going to Chicago by the tin can route, and Chicago epicures will be given an opportunity to taste something new. The cans will not carry any pictures on them, however.

BALL TEAM BANQUETTED

Monday night W. F. Brim gave a banquet in the Royal Cafe to the Goldthwaite High School football team. Superintendent Stringer and Prof. Mayfield were also guests of the occasion and there was a fine spirit of fellowship in the gathering. The banquet was given as an evidence of Mr. Brim's appreciation of the good work the football team has done this season and especially on last Friday afternoon. At the beginning of the last quarter of the game between Lometa and Goldthwaite Mr. Brim announced he would give them a banquet if they won the game and they certainly exerted every effort and won a splendid victory over a strong and well drilled team.

Mr. Brim's liberality is certainly appreciated by the team and should receive the hearty commendation of every citizen.

THANKSGIVING DAY

The first Thanksgiving Day observed by the people of the United States was in 1621.

It was then 13 years after the Declaration of Independence, and 11 years after the surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown.

Manners and morals had noticeably declined. Some said it was the effect of the war and influence of French and English soldiers.

George Washington himself had suffered from the times. This year he found it necessary "to do what I never expected to be driven to, that is borrow money on interest" in order to pay his debts before assuming the Presidency.

Keeping in mind these conditions which faced our infant nation and its able president, it is inspiring to read his Thanksgiving proclamation and to apply its message to our own times.

Here it is in full:

"By the President of the United States of America.

"A proclamation.

"Whereas it is the duty of all nations to acknowledge the providence of Almighty God, to obey His will, to be grateful for His benefits and humbly to implore His protection and favor—and whereas both houses of Congress have by their joint committee requested me 'to recommend to the people of the United States a day of public thanksgiving and prayer to be observed by acknowledging with grateful hearts the many signal favors of Almighty God, especially by affording them an opportunity peaceably to establish a form of government for their safety and happiness.'

"Now, therefore, I do recommend and assign Thursday the 28th day of November next to be devoted by the people of these States to the service of that great and glorious being, who is the beneficent author of all the good that was, that is, or that will be—that we may then all unite in rendering unto Him our sincere and humble thanks for His kind care and protection of the people of this country previous to their becoming a Nation—for the signal and manifold mercies and the favorable interpositions of His providence, which we experienced in the course and conclusion of the late war—for the great degree of tranquility, union, and plenty which we have since enjoyed—for the peaceable and rational manner in which we have been enabled to establish constitutions of government for our safety and happiness, and particularly the national one now lately instituted—for the civil and religious liberty which we have obtained, and the means we have of acquiring and diffusing knowledge; and in general for all the great and various favors which He hath been pleased to confer upon us.

And also that we may then unite in most humbly offering our prayers and supplications to the great Lord and ruler of nations and beseech Him to pardon our national and other transgressions to enable us all, whether in public or private stations, to perform our several and relative duties properly and punctually—to render our National Government a blessing to all people, by constantly being a government of wise, just and constitutional laws, discreetly and faithfully executed and obeyed—to protect and guide all sovereigns and nations (especially such as have shown kindness unto us) and to bless them with good government, peace and concord—to promote the knowledge and practice of true religion and virtue, and the increase of science among them and us—and generally to grant unto all mankind such a degree of temporal prosperity as He alone knows to be best.

"Given unto my hand at the City of New York, the third day of October, the year of our Lord 1789.

HOW OLD IS OLD?

Last week a friend passed the milestone marked 50 on his earthly career. It made him feel, he says, that he has started down the hill and towards the sunset.

On the other hand we can point to a man soon to be 70 years young. His hair is snowy white, his eyes have lost a little of the fire and flash of former years, but his step is firm, his active mind is clear, and his thinking is all for the future.

He is vitally interested in what is happening in the world about him, and his mind is still too much occupied with the events of today and tomorrow to turn quiescently back to the past.

AN HONEST COUNT

In an adjoining county a jury last week brought in a verdict of "guilty" and assessed the punishment of two years in the penitentiary upon an election official charged with falsifying the count at a primary election.

Without passing upon the guilt or innocence of this particular official and with no interest whatever in the candidates he tried to aid or injure, we rejoice that the serious offense of falsifying the ballot count is receiving publicity.

The partisan politician who betrays the trust of those who have honored him with a responsible position at the polls puts himself in the same class with the thief of a blind man's pennies. He may smirk to himself for a while over defeating the will of the voters, but sooner or later his crookedness will be revealed, and he will be held in contempt for ever after by every honest man.

Odd Texas STICKS STAHALA

Keeping Up With Texas

The state government is the biggest purchaser within the confines of Texas. Its buying record for the 1931-32 period totaled 33,000 different items, everything from a big tractor to a bottle of medicine.

The increase of 13,000 items, or requisitions, this year compared with last, as explained by John Wallace, purchasing member of the Board of Control, is not due to a greater outlay of money, but because the depression reduced stocks.

"Merchants and manufacturers were unable to bid on purchases of a large amount of sundry articles," he said, "so they sold only what they might have in stock, and this caused more bidding more divided sales and more requisitions. It all resulted in the 13,000 gain, which almost doubled the work on our staff here.

The state government buys supplies of automobiles, tractors, graders, cement, trucks, gasoline, oil, furniture, books, clothing, medicine, food, ice, butter, milk, hay feed, stationery, horses, cattle, hogs, pistols, ammunition, lumber, stone, sand and gravel, fiber building material, tires, office equipment. This is but a partial list. The highway department buys more than any other branch of government, but the Board of Control acts as the purchasing agency. The bidding system is resorted to for all items.

A five-day week is going to make it harder to look the parson in the eye and tell him it is impossible to come to church because health demands one day in seven in the open.—Detroit Free Press.

HEALTH HINT

That worry or anxiety can cause high blood pressure, a theory still held by many experts, is scouted by a New York State physician, Dr. Harris A. Houghton, in a recent letter to the American Medical Association. Worry and mental strain are rapidly fading out of the picture so far as he is concerned.

What Other Editors Have to Say

WOMEN IN THE FRONT LINE TRENCHES

The hue and cry about the worthlessness of modern women leaves me cold. In fact, I am tired of the slurs and slanders cast at my sex by individuals who take the rich matrons of Park Avenue and the imprevient Hollywood stars as examples to prove their point.

This attitude is on a par with that of the wealthy man who insists that, because all the gentlemen at his club are well fed, nobody is hungry.

And most of the criticism leveled at women comes from those who see only the fortunate or acquisitive types. They hunt for no other.

This is a particularly narrow point of view, and the gentlemen and ladies who hold it should travel about their country for a while and find out some real facts before they begin their carping.

Never have American women been finer or braver than they are now. During the bally-hoo of the war, when they dreamed of noble enterprises, they received almost constant praises for what we were then pleased to call their sacrifices.

Now, when they are in the midst of a real battle, facing an enemy more deadly than a German machine-gunner, they are standing in the front line trenches and are also the targets of plenty of shrapnel fire from the home boys.

Yet thousands of once prosperous matrons are tasting the bitter bread of poverty and are eating it without a grimace. Other thousands, with their hopes of careers destroyed and their plans for a secure old age ruined, work on, giving their best and still miling.

The faithful farmer's wife, who has always slaved, now slaves harder. Multiplied thousands of obscure women married to wage-earners and white collar and professional men, have seen their homes sold from under them and watched while their larders grew empty.

But search them out. Talk to them. They are still hopeful, still brave, still fighting.

You can't defeat a country whose women are as fine as ours. And if you have lost faith in America, get around a bit and listen to the "forgotten women," housewives, teachers, workers. They will stiffen up your backbone.—Mrs. Walter Ferguson in the Fort-Worth Press.

AMERICAN SEAMEN

According to the department of commerce the chance for an American to get a job aboard an American vessel are improving. This may be regarded as somewhat remarkable in view of the competition which American ships encounter in foreign craft manned by crews picked up from the ends of the earth.

Something of this can be seen along the Fall River waterfront when foreign craft visit the port as they frequently do. It appears from the department's reports that for the year ended with last June, American born or naturalized seamen constituted more than two-thirds of the crews of American ships signed up by the United Shipping Commissioners at the 15 largest ports of the country.

The larger part of the other third was made up of European seamen. Not only is the proportion of American seamen large, but it has been steadily growing in recent years, having advanced 5 per cent since 1930. The fact is important in many ways, including the opening which is thus afforded by the growing mercantile marine for more employment for Americans whose inclinations lead them to the life of a seafarer.

WHO SHOULD PAY FOR HIGHWAYS

Asserting that highway development and use has grown to such an extent in America that these highways have in fact become a public utility, Charles B. Steward, secretary of the Nebraska farm bureau federation, declares that those who use the highways should pay for them.

Annual expenditures for highways have reached the stupendous sum of two billions of dollars, declares Mr. Steward, expanding to this figure in but eight years. The official expenditures as shown by government reports were less than $100,000,000 in 1923. In the eight-year period the annual expense expanded more than twenty-fold.

Mr. Steward's discussion is from the viewpoint of the farmer, who, he declares, has already contributed substantially toward maintenance, the amount of such payments having no relationship to the farmers' use of the facility.

SUICIDAL CHANCES

Accounts of suicides usually indicate a preference for the quickest and easiest way out of life. An exception comes from Cuba in a recent report stating that 65 girls, from 16 to 23 years of age, committed suicide in Havana during a three-week period because they were disappointed in love or tired of living.

Americans take chances with fire by permitting faulty construction of hollow walls, unsafe chimneys, heating plants and roofs, and by neglecting rubbish.

Perhaps we will no longer take 'suicidal chances' with fire when fully informed on this subject. It is the duty of those who know to spread the information.—Exchange.

COTTON SPINNING

The report of the department of commerce covering the cotton-spinning industry for September emphasizes, as usual, the supremacy of the South in this important branch of manufactures. Of the 31,545,832 spindles in United States 19,109,840 are in the South, 11,276,136 in New England. But the contrast in the relative activity of the industry in the two sections is even more striking of the spindles that were busy in the month of September 70 per cent were in the South.

JAPAN ASKS MORE DELAY

Japan's anxiety to have the council of the League of Nations postpone its consideration of the Lytton commission's report on Manchuria until a special delegate can reach Geneva with her defense is in marked contrast to the haste with which she extended diplomatic recognition to the new Manchukuo government before the League could consider that report.

Mr. and Mrs. Ryan Howard were returning to Austin from Lampasas Sunday afternoon in a truck loaded with household goods when engine trouble developed just beyond Briggs. When he saw the car was going to hit him he attempted to leap upon the hood of the truck, but was too late to keep from being struck. However, his attempt to get out of the way probably saved his life, as the car struck and injured one of his legs. The truck was badly damaged and had to be brought back here for repairs. The car driven by the other fellows was practically demolished by the impact, and the occupants were not injured. —Reporter.

KEEP GOOD TIMES COMING

Judging from reports "better times" are on the way. The job ahead is to keep them coming. Action is needed to hasten the ultimate arrival.

Many more men must be put to work so they can buy the food and clothing their families need. And it must be done with less than the normal amount of money.

Fortunately, the desired result can be accomplished by adopting a policy of devoting the public funds to the most useful and most necessary activities.

For instance, in the matter of roads and streets, there is no question but that many more miles of useable surfaces are essential. These will be most useful when the type of surface chosen provides the greatest volume of people with good roads. As one authority says, "We all prefer plush seated limousines to Fords, but we do not prefer to ride nine miles on horseback through the mud so as to be able to ride a mile in a limousine when we could make it all the way over a cheap road in a Ford."

Ten miles of "satisfactory" surface is much better than nine miles of mud or dust and one mile of "excellent" road. Each improvement should be justifiable from the standpoint of need and should be within the size of the pocketbook.

In road and street building the amount of the expenditure, not the products used, governs the number of men employed.

Nagging Pains are WARNING SIGNALS

TEMPORARY pain relief remedies may save you much suffering at the moment, but putting a mask over a warning signal does not clear up the condition it was telling you to avoid.

When periodic pains, due to a weak, run-down condition, today, too, treatment for the cause of the trouble should be started without delay.

Take Cardul to build up against the nagging symptoms of ordinary womanly ailments. It has been in use for over 50 years. So many women praise CARDUL it must be good to have the widespread use that it has today. Sold at drug stores.

COUNSEL FOR DRYS

DISCUSS BEER

The drys would have a difficult task to prevent the sale of beer by court action if congress modifies the Volstead act, Edward B. Dunford, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League, conceded last week.

The legal obstacles confronting the drys were discussed by Dunford after Senator Thos. J. Walsh (Democrat) of Montana, pointed out the question of constitutional validity of legalized beer might never reach the supreme court.

"Certainly the matter presents present difficulties," said Dunford. "It would not be surprising to test the law as it stands for the brewers to test the Volstead act when it was passed.

Why Your Electric Bills Vary

If your electric bills have been gradually getting a little higher each month since the end of Summer, the following chart may help to explain the reason:

This Chart Shows Why Electric Bills Vary

The average use of electric lights in the home is nearly three times greater in the Winter than in the Summer, because of the shorter days and the longer periods of darkness.

And lighting is only part of the story.

During the late Fall and Winter months more time is spent at home. The electric radio is probably on longer. More entertaining is done . . . the electric grill, toaster, percolator and other appliances are kept busier than in the Summer months.

Bills for electric service naturally reflect this greater use, but the slight increase is negligible compared to the comfort and cheer electricity brings to the long winter evenings at home.

TRADES DAY SUCCESS TO BE REPEATED
 Saturday's Trades Day in Mullin was a success and those who attended express their appreciation of the efforts of Mullin's business men in their efforts at entertainment and in prices on goods sold.
 The registration of every visitor in the various business houses in order to be eligible to the presents given by the different firms, was a new plan developed and one that proved very successful.
 Several hundred people visited the town during the day and one was reminded of old times, when everybody came to town to trade and meet old friends and have a good sociable time.
 The business people feel that their effort was a success and announcement has been made that Mullin will have another Trades Day on the first Saturday in December, at which time plans are now being made to serve an old time barbecue, as well as furnish various amusements.
 So you are invited to begin now and make all arrangements to be on hand Dec. 3, and enjoy a real Trades Day. Don't forget to bring along anything you have that you want to trade, sell or have auctioned off.
 The business men wish to express their appreciation of all who contributed in any way to the success of this enterprise.

 John Hart and wife are visiting Lloyd Hancock and family in Gatesville.

 Rev. and Mrs. L. D. Brown have gone to Richland, near Mexia, to attend a family reunion through Thanksgiving.
 Miss Sybil Guthrie, Miss Holley Guthrie and Miss Laura Nelson expect to spend the 24th in Austin.
 Lloyd Hancock and family of Gatesville were Sunday visitors in the home of Tip Hart and other relatives here.
 Ernest Fisher and Barney McCurry have been "air-minded" during the past week, after having been called to W. A. Triplett's farm last Thursday morning to repair a plane that had been forced to make a landing the night previous and whose pilot had failed to drain his radiator, thus causing serious damage to the plane, but through the efforts of these men and the pilot, the plane was repaired and was made ready for the air. However, Fisher and McCurry failed to take off with the plane.

 The Eighteen-Carat Boob, a three-act comedy-drama was presented at the high school auditorium Saturday night by the high school pupils and was attended by one of the largest audiences ever seated in the auditorium. No one was disappointed for all the players did their parts like veteran players. Each character seemed just fitted to the part allotted him.
 To see so many boys and girls who can do their parts so well before a large audience reminds us that someone has done some hard work to accomplish such. Just how many have contributed we are unable to say, probably father and mother and individual teachers, who sponsored the play, certainly didn't fail on their part.

CRYER—MOSIER
 Miss Johnnie Mae Mosier, the efficient telephone girl at the West Texas Telephone Co. here, and Tom Cryer of Goldthwaite were married Sunday night at 8:15 at the home of Rev. J. D. Long, who read the impressive ceremony to the happy young couple.
 The attractive young bride wore a beautiful suit of brown with all accessories harmonizing. The young couple left immediately after the ceremony for a bridal tour to Waco and other points in the state.
 Mr. and Mrs. Cryer will reside in Goldthwaite where the groom has been reared and is now in business with his father, Henry Cryer.

MAN REVIVED BY ADRENALIN TELLS HOW DYING FEELS

Snatched from death by a powerful injection of adrenalin directly into the heart muscle as he lay on an emergency ward operating table in Atlanta, Ga., his pulse stilled, B. E. Stringer, 46, told how it felt to "die."

"There was no pain—just an overwhelming weakness," Stringer said. "I heard the doctors talking about me and one said, 'he's gone! I couldn't move or talk. It was like a pleasant dream, I guess I know how it feels to die.'"

Stringer was rushed to the hospital, unconscious and dying from knife wounds and loss of blood after a fight. As he lay on the operating table his heart beat ceased and his breath was stilled. Muscular reaction and eye dilation shower Stringer was dead.

As a desperate resort, a young interne quickly administered an injection of adrenalin, powerful heart stimulant. Lobelin was injected into the lungs. The "dead" man's heart fluttered and beat again in measured tempo, but weakly. His lungs gasped and came to life.

With a blood transfusion, doctors gave Stringer an even chance to recover.

TOO MANY GOVERNMENTS

In Oklahoma the state chamber of commerce proposes to merge 77 counties into 57, lopping off 20 useless county governments, prying from the payroll hundreds of tax eaters, saving property owners $17,000,000 a year in taxes. Here's a real reform. Instead of blaming Uncle Sam for all their tax troubles States can begin reducing overhead by consolidating their local government units and making them conform to modern conditions. The United States now supports 150,000 separate government units—school, road, irrigation, drainage and other districts, townships, counties and cities. New York, in spite of recommendations by both Governors Smit and Roosevelt to consolidate, supports 13,644 units of government, many of which are utterly parasitic. Michigan groans under 3230 units, supporting at the public feed trough 42,902 officials. One-quarter of North Carolina counties have less than the $10,000,000 in assessed value needed to support the simplest sort of county government. Since two-thirds of the American tax dollar goes to support local and state governments it would seem that economy, like charity, should begin at home.—New York World-Telegram.

HOG HIKES 81 MILES FROM PACKING HOUSE BACK HOME

From Orange, Texas comes a member of the swine clan that has elevated itself to the rightful title of "what-a-hog."

"What-a-Hog" walked, swam and possibly hitch-hiked a distance of 81 miles, in a little one-hog drama that might be called "From Packinghouse to the Trough Back Home."

W. A. Nelson, interstate inspector for Texas and Louisiana departments of agriculture in Orange, is authority for the story. He was informed by his father-in-law, G. W. Miller, of Reeves, La., 81 miles from Orange, that one hogs of a truckload which he sold to the Sabine Packing Company at Orange a year ago had made its way back to the Miller farm.

Marks on the hog made it easy for Miller to identify the animal positively, the owner said.

In order to return to the Miller farm where it was raised, it was necessary for the hog to cross the Sabine and Calcasieu rivers and numerous bayous and creeks.

You've heard the localism: "She's the prettiest girl in three counties?" Here's a young lady who really is the prettiest girl in three counties. She is Miss Virginia Bergfeld of Mouton, Texas, and recently she was selected as the most beautiful girl in DeWitt, Lavaca and Fayette counties.

SOVIETS USE GOLD FROM RINGS TO PAY GERMANY

The wedding rings from the fingers of thousands of "old-fashioned" Soviet Russians, gold watches, trinkets, and even the gold leaf from the five great domes of the dynamited Church of Christ the Savior in Moscow, are going to Germany to pay for soviet purchases.

The gold trinkets were exchanged for food at special government shops which refuse to accept soviet paper rubles. They are melted down, purified and assayed, a process which is repeated by the German mints, which are better equipped for the delicate work of turning out gold bars to conform to international standards.

The soviets have shipped about $40,000,000 in fine gold to the German reichsbank so far this year. More will have to come, since out of a total of about $100,000,000 due Germany this year, $25,000,000 is payable in the final quarter.

In order to help the soviets meet their obligations, the German government buyer of silver for mining purposes, suddenly shifted its silver purchases from England, Holland, Mexico and the United States to Russia. Germany bought 221,000 pounds of silver from Soviet Russia in July and 335,500 pounds in August, which was 93 per cent of the total silver imports.

There is considerable anxiety in financial circles of Berlin as to how the soviets will meet the $150,000,000 in long-term credits which fall due to Germany next year. Large scale imports of silver will no longer be necessary and other imports will decrease. Some other means of helping out the soviets will have to be found. Banking circles here agree that in view of the possibility of credits from the United States, the soviets will not default and thus wreck business prospects in America.

SPEAKER GARNER BREAKS RECORDS BREAKING GAVELS

Vice-President Elect Garner has developed a new hobby since he was elected speaker of the House of Representatives almost a year ago. He is a collector of gavels. Franklin D. Roosevelt collects stamps and navy books. Ambassador Mellon collects famous paintings. Others collect coins, old furniture, Egyptian mummies or mirrors. But Speaker Garner collects gavels. One attraction in collecting them, no doubt, is the fact that they are all gifts and didn't cost him a cent.

Jeff Davis in the San Antonio Light tells about some of the gavels in the collection.

Speaker of the House and Vice-President Elect Garner could call the house to order with a different gavel every morning from here until next March and still have some left over. It's that bad.

When Garner was elected speaker of the house, practically everyone was seized with the sudden inspiration that he needed a unique gavel. Almost every day since, he has opened his mail to find gavels ranging in size from thimbles up to the biggest: one with a six-foot handle, sent him by admirers in the Rio Grande valley. He has kept them all, some in Washington and 100 or so at his home at Uvalde.

Gavels made from the iron-wood tree of the Chuckawala desert in California, (the hardest known wood; it must be cut with a steel lathe); ebony wood from Zapata county; Illinois walnut; black walnut, shrunk 50 per cent; Hill county cedar from Hillsboro; pecan wood from Uvalde county; Osage orange wood from Texas; cherry wood from the west coast; hard maple from Kansas; mahogany from the Philippines; Australian pine; Mississippi hickory.

That's why he doesn't get excited any more when someone sends him a gavel.

The speaker has any number of gavels made from funny things like walrus ivory from Nome, Alaska; leather from Texas cattle hides; Uvalde rock asphalt; the horns of Texas cattle; tree branches growing in rock; heat-treated aluminum alloy, such as was used in the construction of the Akron; celluloid containing 48 per cent Texas cotton.

Some day he's going to collect them all and do something or other with them he doesn't know just what.

He especially likes the one sent him by the National Lumbermen's Manufacturing association made of pine lumber taken from the roof of the White House when it was repaired in 1927. The wood had been built into the White House in 1815 after the structure was damaged. He also has the last gavel used by the late Speaker Nicholas Longworth and has one made from the roof of a tree under which Zachary Taylor camped in 1848, for what they may be worth.

Another prize gavel is a relic of the old fire and brimstone days in the Panhandle, made from the wood of the stairway of the old Collingsworth county court house. The head of the gavel bears a bullet, one fired during the cattlemen and nesters war in the '90s. It seems that some rancher didn't like the way things were going and shot the hat off the head of the tax assessor, a direct and effective means of persuasion.

25 DANGEROUS AGE FOR WOMEN, SAYS ANNETTE KELLERMAN

Twenty-five is the dangerous age for women, according to the celebrated swimmer, Annette Kellerman, who is showing that she is just as fine a fish as she ever was, back in the good old days of modest bathing suits.

"This is the time when most women begin to slip," says Miss Kellerman. "Those who are slender think they will remain so all ways, and those who are not feel there is no more hope. They eat, drink and smoke too much, and of course in the meantime, youth flies out of the window."

"American women know better how to keep younger than those of any other country, through careful diet and exercise. The Germans come next, but they like their food too well."

"America is the home of the diets, restaurants and cooks who all cater to them, and this is how many women have retained their youthful looks."

The celebrated swimmer who has been training at the Lido pool, Paris, France, is the perfect vegetarian, never touching meat, and living entirely on fruits and vegetables. Cocktails and coffee are also taboo. Breakfast consists of orange juice, lunch is composed of carrots and spinach and dinner is very much the same. On such a diet any woman can be happy, healthy and young forever, says the swimmer.

THIS IS THE "NO-NO" BIRD!
The fool bird doesn't care where he's going, he only wants to know where he's been.

THE NO-NO BIRD
By Col. Bill Talbot

There has been a recent discovery—a new kind of bird. It is the No-No bird and flies backwards. The fool bird doesn't want to see where he is going—just wants to know where he has been. There are a lot of us right now in Texas that can be compared to the No-No. We know where we have been, but do we know where we are going?

The only sure indication of a return to normal is when commodity prices increase in value. The uptrend started in July, with few fluctuations, has continued to improve. If we could face the situation calmly and determine to do something about it, we could materially hasten recovery in our own state. The time has come when we must stop thinking of our individual prosperity and think of our people as a whole because we can only be prosperous in proportion to their prosperity.

The condition we have passed through was occasioned by the curtailment of buying power of millions of people. This naturally was reflected in their inability to purchase the commodities we have to sell. Therefore, isn't it logical if we can create buying power that it will return to us in proportion to our efforts? But if there is no buying power the best efforts we can make are useless. Texas produced last year $415,000,000 worth of agricultural products and the biggest part was sold at prices below production cost. This condition cannot continue, as we well know. You have in your power the means of producing a greater value to Texas than all agriculture. It would cost nothing but your determination to help your neighbor and yourself. We must manufacture our raw materials to the finished product and give that difference in wages to our people, and quit sending our multiplied millions for products from far-flung communities that can be produced right here.

Texas, today, by manufacturing the finished products in ore, cotton, wool, beef and mutton could increase her wealth approximately $750,000,000 annually, which is one and three-fourths times our agricultural crop. In the past we made gold our master. Let's make gold our servant. Remember, Uncle Sam puts one hundred cents in the dollar when he makes it. Let's put common sense in our dollar when we have to sell. Therefore, isn't it

Longhorn Cavern Is Open Today In Burnet County

Four Day Program

Last June the exploration and development of a gigantic cavern, located on the state property in Burnet county, between Burnet and Marble Falls, Texas, was begun. In excess of eight miles of spectacular subterranean scenery was charted and mapped. Development consisted of the installation of electric lights, the paving of trails—in fact, every comfort and convenience of the visitor has been provided. This magnificent underground palace opened Thanksgiving as a Texas State park, with a four days program—Nov. 24 to 28 inclusive.

The giant labyrinth is located in one of the most picturesque spots of all the famous "Texas Hill Country." The state owns 2124 acres of wooded hills surrounding the entrance. Amid oaks, elms, cedars, springs, creeks and canyons, various recreation grounds and gardens are being developed.

The cavern itself defies description. The eight miles which have been explored and charted definitely establishes the cavern as the third largest, yet one can but mentally conjure as to what tremendous proportions the labyrinth may attain when the maze of off-leading tunnels have been explored.

The scenic beauty of the explored area—the splendors which time and water have wrought—are awesome. Walls, ceiling and floors are literally covered with an amazing abundance of weird formations which nature has constructed of glittering onyx and crystallized calcide. There is a lake, emerald pools of pure water, and a subterranean stream, which the visitor crosses passing over a forty-foot bridge.

Five rooms are built of transparent crystal, clear as glass—the largest deposit of its kind known to exist on this globe.

One immense room has the natural architecture of a theatre; a floor slants gradually downward to an orchestra pit. The natural stage is framed with a proscenium arch of glittering flowstone. Behind the stage nature has constructed several grottoes—or dressing rooms. It is the world's only underground theatre.

PLATFORM — CONSTITUENCY

The South of course is strongly Democratic, but Southerners also are for the most part Methodist, or Baptist, or members of some kindred denomination or organization, interested in the prohibition movement. These two larger bodies seem to be waking up to the fact that the problem of prohibition is again before the country and that the Eighteenth Amendment may have to fight for its life, so that they are beginning to prepare for the contest. The newly elected congress is reported to be strongly wet in sentiment and the return of beer, light wines and the amendment's repeal are confidently expected, on the assumption that Southern Democrats will feel under obligations to support Al Smith's Anti-Prohibition plank in the Democratic national platform. This expectation is natural and, on the face of the returns, the Volstead Act and the Eighteenth Amendment are doomed, as far as the new congress is concerned.

Yet many a congressman or state legislator, who suspects that his constituency is still prohibitionist, will hesitate long and thoughtfully before he decides to vote for the modification or repeal of prohibition. He will need to explain to his constituents that a better system is in sight and that will be no easy task. Too many it will seem like a return to the days of the saloon, with brewers and liquor dealers in politics, and the consumption of far more liquor than is good for the Nation. Certainly the legislator who desires reelection must be fully convinced that the Nation is moving into "a better 'ole" and be able to prove it when he appears for reelection.

An attractive part of the repeal argument is to show how largely governmental revenues will be spent in brewery and

FOUR DAY CELEBRATION

NOVEMBER 24 (THANKSGIVING) 25, 26, 27

THREE ROUND TRIPS THROUGH THE CAVERN DAILY—MORNING, AFTERNOON AND NIGHT.

AMERICAN LEGION DAY GOVERNOR'S DAY VAUDEVILLE

Here is a Texas Wonder that Defies description! Longhorn Cavern, a Texas State Park, is now known to be the third largest cave in the world, yet is but partly explored. Several miles have been made ready for you to see, and will be officially opened Thanksgiving day for your inspection.

On a visit to Longhorn Cavern you will see: Five rooms of transparent crystal, clear as glass; a huge Cathedral room with floor slanting gracefully from foyer to stage; weird formations which time and water have wrought—all underneath a beautiful wooded park of more than 2,000 acres.

Children from four counties will hold a big Sunday school rally in the Cathedral room Sunday, November 27. Churches in Llano, Lampasas, Burnet and Blanco counties will be closed so that their members can attend.

DINING AND DANCING NIGHTLY IN THE WORLD'S ONLY UNDERGROUND NIGHT CLUB!

FOOTBALL—POLO—BARBECUE SUNDAY SCHOOL RALLY MIDWAY SHOWS

Governors of four states, Vice-President Elect John N. Garner and Jim and "Ma" Ferguson have been invited to attend the opening celebration at Longhorn. Dr. Frank E. Nicholson, famous as the explorer of Carlsbad cave, will personally conduct the first party of visitors through the cavern.

The amazing abundance of natural wonders in Longhorn Cavern cannot be described. You must see them for yourself to appreciate this eerie realm of Pluto. Cool and dry, with the temperature always at 70 degrees, Longhorn Cavern is free from animal life and safe in every way, even for the smallest child to see.

similar construction, and how many hands will be employed when the sale of liquor is legalized. They neglect, however, to explain that all of this will really be paid for in the long run by the wage earner, who will therefore expend less on his family; or that for every one newly employed, some one else will be released from other employment.

The nation can not have its cake and eat it, too. If it buys liquor, it spends less on other things. Both the voter and the legislator must consider squarely the problem before them and find "a better 'ole" before they leave the one that in part shields the present generation from the drink-curse of pre-prohibition days. — Dallas News.

Governor?

Governor Ross S. Sterling may resign his office rather than officially hand over the reins of state to his bitter political foe, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, according to the United Press. In this event, Lieutenant Governor Edgar E. Witt, (above) will be governor of Texas for a short time.

CHILE AND ARGENTINA

Chile and Argentina appear to have come to their senses regarding the prohibitive tariff the first named placed on cattle last year. This law halted dead all transportation of cattle and meat products over the transandean railway and, deprived of that major source of revenue, the line was obliged to cease operation. But the winter season—summer to us—when the railway in any event would have functioned only under great difficulties, has been taken advantage of to engage in international arguments which, according to a recent cable from Buenos Aires, have now reached a conclusion. Details of the understanding are not yet to hand but apparently they are such as to set the traffic ball rolling once more. In consequence early next week the transmontane line will be reopened. This should renew the attractiveness of the around-South American tours that were possible via the transandean without the terrifying experience of an airplane flight over the Andes.—New Orleans Times-Picayune.

POLICING THE WORLD

The United States will not be attracted by the French suggestion of a new consultative pact intended to offer protection to France in the event of more trouble. Uncle Sam is already a participant in any number of understandings providing consultations among the nations to advance the cause of peace through the elimination of war. But consultations did no good when Japan was running rough shod over Manchuria. In the new French plan for preserving peace there is provided a general military staff to function when the peace of Europe is endangered. The various countries accepting the plan would assign a certain number of soldiers to this military staff for use in times of emergency. In other words, France is offering the beginning of an international police force to preserve the peace of the world just as the police force of any town puts down riots and disorders. This, of course, presents the surest hope of accomplishing something in the way of putting down war. But it will do no good for France to offer such a scheme to the United States. Not for many years to come will the United States accept any part in the duty of policing the world. France has the right idea, but the wrong country.—Memphis Commercial-Appeal.

BEAUTY in the HOME

Lovely New Moon Bride's Shower

EVERY girl knows that she can make a wish when she first sees the new moon, and what can be more charming than to express her good wishes for the bride by choosing a new moon theme as inspiration for centerpiece and favors when giving a shower or bridge luncheon. The new moon theme fits well as table decoration for an engagement party also, the moon boat being filled with little individual packages of sweet peas. The black and white picture above cannot fully convey the radiant effect of the silver moon boat. The boat is first covered with silver paper, "Cellophane", crinkled over the sides of the boat, shimmers in the candle light and a sparkling sapphire sea of the same material sprinkled with silver stars, is tied into a fluffy cloud with silver ribbon. Orange blossoms or other flowers may be used in the boat. A little bride and groom is also a pretty addition although not imperative. Such a table decoration is easy to make and fits well with shining silver and white regency.

The second month has begun with some sighs over poor grades for the first month.

Highlights For High School

The basketball games last Friday ended in both victory and defeat. Star boys defeated Mullin's team, while Mullin girls defeated Star's team. Greater success is hoped for the future and more earnest work is being done at present than before.

The program rendered by the self improvement club last Friday was greatly enjoyed by all. The talks by Opal Gordon and Payne Thompson of the senior class, were food for thought. Both were excellent. Even better improvement is expected in regard to the club.

Activities In the Grades

The sixth and seventh grades have finished their tests. More have kept off the undesirable list in reading.

The first grade has made turkeys and pilgrims for Thanksgiving. They have also made Indians and wigwams. The second grade is not doing so well in reading. Better lessons are expected.

There are now 38 pupils in the third, fourth and fifth grades, and several more new ones are expected.

Dora Belle Roe from Center City is the new addition to the fourth grade.

Most of the pupils are working better this week. There is a great deal of rivalry among the pupils for class honors. Elieer Roberts is now leading the fifth grade with Rose Lee Sheldon following closely. Stoddard Gerald is leading the fourth grade with Garth Wall next in line. In "A" class of the third grade James Childre leads with Ione Waddell next best, and in "B" class Donald Goode is leading with Winifred Soules, J. W. Waddell and Mildred Jeske trying for next honors.

All are drawing turkeys and pumpkins during their spare time and thinking of the good dinners they shall partake of on Thanksgiving Day.

Your attention is called to the fact that the P. T. A. is to meet Friday afternoon. There is to be an interesting program rendered by both the school and patrons.

Even better work is expected, now that the students have trained their minds back toward study. No more low grades are desirable for the remainder of the year. REPORTER.

which we are grateful. When the books at the judgment shall be opened and the records made known, we will be glad to learn that we had a part in a great work.

We had 226 in Sunday school last Sunday and splendid congregations at both preaching services. We have room, however, for more and especially at our night services. We wish that our own members would make it possible to attend the night service. Some are so situated that they can not and are not expected to attend, but others could attend. Surely most of our members who live in town could come for 45 minutes on Sunday evening and make their presence felt, thereby helping the service. We are afraid think of the health that they have, and the opportunity that God has given them to worship Him.

When you read these lines you will have enjoyed another Thanksgiving Day and if you have not already, just stop and count your blessings of yesterday. You may not have made any money and much sorrow and distress might have come your way, but is it not a fact that you have more sunshine than shadow? Some of us have witnessed our last Thanksgiving Day. It may be the writer of these notes or it may be some reader. Just stop and consider seriously.

Sunday morning the pastor is going to bring a Thanksgiving message. We just can't afford to let the opportunity of showing our gratitude to the Almighty pass by unnoticed. So let everybody come with a Thanksgiving prayer in their heart and a Thanksgiving song on their lips.

G. C. IVINS, Pastor.
