School Aid Much Larger

Our new rural school supervisor, Miss Opal Gilstrap, and Judge R. J. Gerald, visited the state aid schools last week and found school conditions generally good and schools working nicely. Miss Gilstrap expressed regret at not being able to visit all the schools in the county, but said she hoped to make another visit to the county later, when she might be able to inspect every school in the county, regardless of whether it is a state aid school or not. Miss Gilstrap is a lady of high intelligence and broad school sympathies and we feel that we are fortunate in having her assigned to our district as supervisor.

State aid recommended for the various schools is much larger than that allowed last year, as is shown by the attached table. In cases where the figures are not given for last year there was not aid allowed for that year.

School	1934	1933
Center Point	$537	$392
South Bennett	$428	$206
Pompey Mountain	$780
Ridge	$211	$226
Jones Valley	$199
Priddy	$1546
Pompey Creek	$592
Center City	$1035	$376
Pleasant Grove	$305	$414
Big Valley	$1045	$260
Washboard	$484	$234
Mount Olive	$836
Midway	$115
Mullin Ind.	$1981	$1087
Star Ind.	$1258	$124

Total $11,089 $3719
Lake Merritt Not determined
These amounts include $800 for industrial aid, but do not include transportation and tuition aid, which will be allowed later in the year. Last year Center City was allowed $200 industrial aid and Big Valley was given $100.

Every school in the county should make plans to get on the state aid list next year.

DISTRICT SCHOOL MEETING

More than two hundred school men and women from the eleven counties comprising supervisory district 14 met in Brownwood last Tuesday for discussion and study of the present day curriculum problems.

The principal speakers on the program were W. A. Stigler of the state department of education, who is chairman of the curriculum revision work for the state, and State Superintendent L. A. Woods. Both speakers stressed the necessity of a revision of present day school methods. Mr. Stigler brought out the point that we are trying to train boys and girls for citizenship in a present day society, but are using a school system antedating at least a quarter of a century for doing it, while the high point of Mr. Wood's address was the economic waste that is going on, due to the inefficiency of the present day school system.

All speakers were agreed that a revision in the way of adjustments and improvements is imperative.

The meeting was presided over and the speakers were introduced by Supt. A. H. Smith of the Goldthwaite schools, who is chairman of the revision study work in the district.

Methodist Notes

As announced in last week's paper, the conference year closed, so far as public services are concerned, last Sunday. The pulpit will be vacant next Sunday, as is usually the case on conference Sunday. This gives the people a chance to visit other churches, get acquainted with their neighbors and worship with them. We shall have our Sunday school as usual, but it is to be hoped that our people will avail themselves of this opportunity to attend preaching services elsewhere. I am sure the other congregations will give all a welcome, as they always have done.

Bro. Highsmith and his family left us last Monday. They will spend a few days visiting his wife's family at Killeen and his family at Taylor, and then attend the conference at San Antonio. From the announcement last Sunday he will go to another field of labor next year. The best wishes of the church and the people who know them, will go with them to their new field and hope that the powers that be may deal kindly with them.

It is a pleasure to note that Bro. Kelly, our faithful superannuate, is rapidly recovering from his recent accident. It is hoped that he may soon be in his accustomed place at church and Sunday school. No man is more greatly missed and more appreciated than he.

Capt. Walters is also able to be about, after a month's confinement to his home. The people are anxious to hear the melody of that horn in the choir once more, and will welcome his return to the place he has so faithfully and efficiently filled during all these years.

It is to be hoped that we may all be able to strike the right pace with the incoming year, a pace that will spell success for the ongoing of the kingdom, as represented by the Methodists.

The good women, as usual, are getting the parsonage in order, and the new pastor, whoever he may be, will find everything in order and will receive a kindly reception. J. S. BOWLES

ZONE MEETING

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church will entertain the societies of the third zone, which is composed of Lometa, San Saba, Lampasas and Goldthwaite on Tuesday, October 30, at the Methodist church at this place, beginning at 10 o'clock.

There will be an interesting program as outlined by Mrs. Pence of San Saba, our zone leader, and the ones from here asked to take part on the program are: Mrs. C. E. Bayley, opening prayer; Mrs. R. M. Thompson, welcome address; Mrs. Tom Collier, paper, "Honoring the Outlook;" Mrs. Eli Fairman, afternoon devotion.

All the ladies of the church are invited to spend the day with us at the church and help entertain the visiting ladies.

FIRST PREMIUM APPLES

J. J. Cockrell & Sons of Big Valley have received notice that they were awarded first premium on apples at the Dallas fair and, incidentally, have received a check for the premium money. This is the third time they have received first money on their display of yellow apples at the fair and the reason they have not secured more premiums is that they only exhibited three times. Last year their display of apples was shipped to the fair, but for some cause failed to reach their destination. This is a fine record for the Cockrell nursery and fruit farm and is also decidedly creditable to Mills county. All who have seen the Cockrell apples, or other fruit grown on their farm, are agreed that the premium was properly awarded.

Cattle Buying Now Ended

The government's cattle buying program in this county has ended and the quota of goats is being filled. During the time of buying livestock there were 7633 cattle bought, of which number 3928 were condemned and 3705 shipped. The total amount of cattle purchases was $87,622.00. This week 269 checks have been received, totaling $7,283.00. There have been approximately 5000 goats purchased and of this number only 1400 were suitable for shipment and the others were slaughtered.

A GOOD MARKET

The cotton market is still strong, yet not quite so high as last week. The price in Goldthwaite yesterday was 12.25, whereas, it ran as high as 13c last week. This decline was caused by the heavy selling thru out the country, no doubt, and it is expected the market will go higher as soon as the sales begin to drop off.

The certificates that have been awarded to farmers are much in demand and a good price is realized. However, those who do not sell can use them next season, yet it is not known at this time just what the restrictions will be.

Press reports early in the week told of the demand for these certificates and urged holders to turn them into the pool. The dispatch said:

Texas farmers with surplus Bankhead cotton tax exemption certificates are being urged to enter them in the AAA surplus pool immediately, as tentative plans call for the closing of the pool on Nov. 10. Sale of certificates from the pool to growers with excess cotton will continue however.

The pool now has on hand orders for many more certificates than it is able to fill, officials say, despite the fact that the number of surplus certificates in all states is far in excess of the total number of excess bales.

Producers will be paid approximately $20 per bale for all certificates sold through the pool. When the pool is liquidated, each grower will be returned his share of any not sold and these may be used next season, as the Bankhead act is effective in 1935.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Martha Jane Edgin, or Grandmother, as she is lovingly called, quietly and pleasantly passed her 95th milestone, Monday, October 15, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Ross, of Big Valley.

She received congratulations and good wishes from the children and grandchildren who came to renew family ties and especially to visit the mother, who is nearing the century mark. All the children were present except one son, Marion, who lives near Little Rock, Ark. Grandmother has been bedridden from a fall received about eighteen months ago. Her two daughters, Mrs. John Ross and Mrs. Lon Smith, are in attendance at her bed side.

The dinner was all one could wish. We must not omit to say that Mrs. Bledsoe of Big Valley sent a birthday cake, which was enjoyed and appreciated by all.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Edgin, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Edgin, both of San Saba; Mr. and Mrs. U. F. Edgin, Mount Olive; also eight grandchildren, three great grandchildren and two great great grandchildren.

In the afternoon they sang some of her favorite old hymns, much to her delight. Time passed all too soon. Goodbyes were said and the guests departed carrying away tender memories, never to be forgotten.

Trades Day Plans Forming

Some of the business men and others interested in the welfare of the town and country are formulating plans for the inauguration of a regular Trades Day for each third Monday. This is a good plan and one that should be appreciated and supported by the business men and citizens generally.

A trades day is advantageous to all citizens who have livestock or other property they do not need that they can exchange for something they do need. It provides an occasion for a gathering of citizens and fosters a neighborly feeling among the people. It also provides an occasion where the merchants can offer inducements to the trade because of the volume of business that they could not offer for a light trade.

Many reasons can be advanced that are favorable for a trades day, not the least of which is that some of the neighboring towns have these trades day occasions and are making a success of them and attracting trade from Goldthwaite territory.

THE MERRY WIVES

Mrs. C. M. Burch entertained the members of the Merry Wives and a few guests at her home on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Ed Gilliam scored high and the table cuts were won by Mrs. D. A. Trent, Mrs. W. W. Stevens and Mrs. L. E. Miller.

Beautiful pink zinnias were used in decoration. An ice course was served to Mrs. L. E. Miller, Mrs. W. W. Stevens, Mrs. Mark Fairman, Mrs. A. H. Smith, Mrs. Frank Taylor, Mrs. M. Y. Stokes, Mrs. D. A. Trent, Mrs. Tom Toland and Mrs. Chas. Frizzell, Mrs. Ed Gilliam, Mrs. Marvin Hodges and Miss Lucille Conro. REPORTER

A LIBERAL POLICY

The Eagle has been more liberal than judicious in the matter of subscriptions for the past three years, owing to the depression, but the time has come when all newspapers are being required to cull their lists to those who really want and pay for the paper. One requirement recently brought to the attention of the Eagle management is that the paper can only be sent through the postoffice at the second class rate to bona fide subscribers and business men who carry advertisements and are entitled to a copy of the paper to check such advertisements, but the old "free and easy" policy must be abandoned.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

After many delightful games were enjoyed on the lawn, the gifts opened, the three tiny candles on the cake were lighted and blown out by the little honoree. Refreshments of birthday cake and punch were served to the following guests: Dora Alice and Louise Ruth Calhoun, Greta McKinzie, Mary Loraine Ligon, Norma Ruth and Mery Carline Featherston, Carolyn Mills, Marialyce Smith, Benois Karnes, Dorothy Marie Wolfe, Gene Long, Sonny Gilliam, James Arthur Childress and Delpha Reese Blackburn. PUBLIC HEARING

There is to be a public hearing in the district court room tomorrow (Saturday) at 11 o'clock on the subject of issuing bonds in precinct No. 1 to buy right of way and fence the proposed change of route for highway 74a. The commissioners have ordered this meeting and all persons interested should be there at that time. Those who do not attend should quietly abide by the decision of those who do attend.

Oil Well Going Down

The prospecting oil well on the Weston tract, in the Rock Springs community, was 1462 feet Wednesday night and those interested say the prospects continue good and they are hopeful. While it is expected to strike oil around 1700 feet, they are prepared to go deeper if necessary. The machinery is all working well and rapid progress is being made with the drilling. They are now working "towers," which is to say drilling is going on night and day, by a shift of the crews. With continued work without accident it is believed the result of the test will be known in the next few days.

A BRIDAL SHOWER

There was a gathering of friends of Mrs. J. A. Doggett at the home of Mrs. R. V. Littlepage Tuesday afternoon, when a shower was given Mrs. Doggett, a recent bride. Many beautiful and useful presents were given her and a most delightful time was spent by the entire company.

Mrs. Littlepage served delicious refreshments during the afternoon. A GUEST

SPECIAL RATES

The Eagle is prepared to offer special combinations with the Houston Chronicle, Fort Worth Star-Telegram and Dallas News. Those who subscribe for those papers can save money by combining with their subscription to the Eagle. In some cases almost if not indeed the entire amount of a subscription to the Eagle can be saved. Most of these papers have already announced their Christmas rates, which can be seen at this office.

PREACHING AT STAR

The Eagle has been requested to announce that Rev. Johnnie Lovell of Dublin will preach in Star Baptist church tonight (Friday) and a cordial invitation is extended the public to hear him.

BUYING FEED

Those who have feed for sale should communicate with the relief office or direct with the federal livestock feed agency at Kansas City, if they have any considerable quantity.

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

Clato Hall of Lometa visited in the Moreland home Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cox and family of Albany visited relatives here the first of the week.

Miss Tommy Moore of San Saba visited her sister, Mrs. Lee Long, and family this week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Tate of Brownwood spent Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Tate.

Hugh Moreland and Cas Bledsoe returned to Medina Friday, after spending a week at home. They report the pecan crop there ready for gathering.

A card from Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dew tells of a delightful trip they are having through the north and east. They are with the excursion of the American Bankers association.

Miss Virginia Bowman, has been elected secretary of Gamma Literary society at Baylor, Belton. Gamma is one of the three social organizations for freshmen and is directly in contact with the activities of that class.

Talmage Head, son of W. W. Head of Center City, who is attending college in Brownwood, was elected secretary-treasurer of the "B" association of the college at a called meeting on Tuesday morning, when all letter men met and organized for the ensuing year. He is an outstanding member of the football squad.

Baptist Reminder Ginnners Report Shows Decrease

Sunday school 10 a. m. Sunday morning.

Preaching 11 a. m., "The grace of God in bringing salvation to all men."

B. T. S. 6:15 p. m. Sunday evening.

Preaching, 7:15 p. m., "The devil's banquet."

Prayer meeting each Wednesday evening at 7:15.

We didn't quite reach our goal Sunday in Sunday school. We had a good crowd and will try to increase it Sunday. We will have 200 Sunday if you do your part.

Our local B. T. S. is to have a part in the county program Sunday afternoon at Scallorn. They gave this program in our church and it was well received. I am certainly anxious that every church in the county be represented at this meeting. Bro. R. G. Alexander of DeLeon, pastor of the First Baptist church, will be the inspirational speaker.

Everybody ought to be able to sing at the Baptist church Sunday. We have ordered 100 new song books, the "American Hymnals." I am sure you will enjoy this book in a fine way. Come and be with us Sunday morning and evening.

There are some of our modern psychologists who advance the theory that a child has a mature mind at seven years of age. This seems to be just a re-statement of the contention of the Catholic church through these years. If this be true it should certainly challenge the best within our ability to train the child in its first years. We must depend upon the home, the church, which includes the Sunday school and B. T. S., to do this training.

We always appreciate visitors in our services.

FRANKLIN E. SWANNER

BAPTIST W. M. S. MEETING

The meeting opened at 2:30 p. m. Monday at the church with Mrs. Carl Bledsoe in charge. A song, "I'll Go where You Want Me To Go," was sung by all, after which Mrs. Anderson led a prayer. Mrs. Chas. Rudd read a few verses from the ninth chapter of John and a comment as The Open Door, for the devotional.

The minutes of the last meeting by Mrs. Ashley was read and approved.

Mrs. J. S. Bowles met with us for a short time to discuss plans of relief for the needy for the winter. After a lengthy discussion on this subject, Bro. Swanner dismissed the meeting.

TRIGGER MOUNTAIN

W. M. S. and Y. W. A. met Tuesday, October 16, at the Trigger Mountain church, as it had been decided that the men and boys of the community would spend the day repairing the building and we ladies were to prepare lunch for them. There were a number of men and boys present, and most of the day was very busily spent. There was also quite a bit of much needed work done, and at the noon hour everyone enjoyed a delightful lunch.

The W. M. S. and Y. W. A. met at 2:30 p. m., with thirteen members and two visitors present. We are studying "Africa" and the program was very interesting.

Our next meeting will be with Mrs. E. W. McNutt, November 6.

OUTLAW KILLED

Chas. Floyd, known throughout the nation as "Pretty Boy", one of the most notorious and elusive criminals of modern times, was surrounded by officials at a farm house in Ohio Monday afternoon and shot to death, without his having a chance to murder the officers. This closes the list of the most notorious outlaws. Dillinger, Barrow and others of lesser notoriety, having come to their death this year.

The federal census department report of cotton ginned up to October 1, shows a decided decrease in bales from last year, yet the amount netted by the producers is considerably more than that of last year.

In Mills county 3438 bales were ginned up to Oct. 1, against 6629 last year. In the state 1,720,833 had been ginned up to Oct. 1, against 2,344,552 last year.

Announcement has been made from Washington that the Bankhead law will again be in operation next year, although announcement of the apportionment has not yet been made. However, it is believed sure that delays in receiving certificates will be avoided next year.

THE ART AND CIVIC CLUB

The Art and Civic club met with Mrs. Fred Martin October 18. "Queens and Martyrs" was the subject of study.

Interesting papers were read by Mrs. John Schooler, Mrs. M. Y. Stokes, Mrs. Harry Allen, Mrs. Claud Ecott and Mrs. Marvin Hodges.

In studying the lives of these famous women, we find that their problems were not so different from our's of today. High taxes, greed for power in the financial and political world and lack of co-operation in the problems of today, are perhaps as prevalent now as they were in the sixteenth century.

After the program Mrs. Martin, assisted by her daughters, served a delicious refreshment to the club members and the following guests: Mrs. Henry Martin, Mrs. R. M. Thompson, Mrs. Haynes Harrison and Mrs. Cecil Ramsey. REPORTER

BIRTHDAY SOCIAL

Mrs. Duich McKenzie opened her home Monday evening, Oct. 22, for her little daughter, Greta, to entertain her many friends on her third birthday.

A great number of little girls and boys gathered into the living room and to Greta's surprise, each one brought a package containing a gift, which were all opened later, bringing much joy to Greta in finding so many nice gifts. Thanking each one in her lovely little way, they were all entertained by a number of games. Later, each one was treated to ice cream cones and cake by Mmes. Arthur Robbins, Hugh Nelson and Ross Wheeler.

The little ones then marched into the living room, where the candles were blown out by Greta on her cake that was baked and presented to her by Mrs. Hugh Nelson.

Birthdays are coming once a year. Make up a golden chain of memories of happy years, of joys that are coming to you Greta. All went home at a late hour wishing Greta many happy birthdays. XXX

AN UNUSUAL ACCIDENT

J. M. Oneal met with a serious accident at his home in the Moline community last Saturday night. He cranked his car while it was in gear and it ran over him, knocking him down and breaking his leg. The car was in the garage and after starting it knocked out the end of the building and ran against the residence before it stopped. Mr. Oneal was getting along well at last report.

PRISONERS TRANSFERRED

An assistant transfer agent of the penitentiary was here Monday with the prison car and took into his custody Oran Conway, Raymond Wilson and Vivian Milam, all convicted here at the last term of district court and sentenced to the penitentiary.

The agent went from here to Hamilton to get other prisoners and expected to go via Stephenville to take on others.

ROCK SPRINGS

There was Sunday school Sunday morning and E. T. S. Sunday night.

Brother Homer Starnes from Brown county is to preach Sunday and Sunday night. I'm not sure, but I believe he is to preach Saturday night, too. Ask some one for fear I am not right.

All the pupils say they are liking school fine. I am sure the teacher can say the same.

There have been several sick ones in this community the last two weeks.

I really enjoyed all the letters in last week's Eagle. I found news in the Lampasas letter, Big Valley's letter was real newsy. I noticed there were several birthday dinners celebrated. It won't be long until you will read about more of them being celebrated.

Mrs. Charley Stark, our teacher, asked me to tell you people there would be a Halloween program at the school house tonight (Friday). Be sure and be present. There will be other things besides the program, so you can get a comfortable seat near the back like you do when you go to church. There would be more people go to church if there were more back seats. Come to the program.

I spent Sunday at Chappel Hill in George Hill's home. I went to be in a birthday or birthdays celebration. We celebrated Mrs. C. H. Ford's, Ira Hutchings' and his twin sister, Mrs. George Hill's Otis and Besse Hutchings and myself's. John Edlin and wife were to be with us, but he was sick and not able to go. Mrs. Ira Hutchings and daughter made the cake, which was fine. All of the dinner was fine, even to the beef soup, which C. H. Ford ate too much of. It was a great day with everyone present. We hope all can have many more happy birthdays.

James Roberts from town was kept busy Saturday morning helping his uncle, James Nickols, cut and haul wood.

M. R. Circle and Ben Davis helped John Roberts to skin goats last Thursday.

Mmes. Ellis and Souders went to Big Valley, Texas.

Thursday to a bridal shower for Miss Anna Belle Long.

Mrs. J. R. Davis has been sick for the last week or two, but she is better.

Mrs. Joe Roberts and John and Jeanette spent Wednesday in John Roberts' home.

I was pleased when I saw my grandson, Beryl Vann Roberts', name on the sixth grade honor roll in the Goldthwaite school.

A. F. McGowan and wife from Rabbit Ridge helped Mrs. Ben Davis to can goat Thursday.

Mrs. Eula Nickols sat until bed time in the Webb home Friday night.

Ed Huffstutler and family made a trip to San Saba Thursday. Mrs. Underwood and Sam Darwin from across the river accompanied them.

R. C. Webb and wife spent Sunday in Joe Rober's home across the river.

There was a surprise party at Mrs. Nickols' Saturday night. There were people there from Ratler, Ridge, Big Valley, Goldthwaite and Midway. The orchestra furnished some mighty pretty music. Those who played were Roberson, Doggett, Renfro, Forehand, Davis, Hicks, Waldine Traylor and Mrs. Nickols.

Let's all go to town Saturday afternoon and Saturday night to see the parade and carnival. It will be fine and don't fail to go.

Mmes. Glenn and Eula Nickols visited in W. A. and Walter Daniel's homes Monday afternoon.

George Hammett and family from DeLeon and Joe Davis and family spent Sunday in J. C. Stark's home.

Dr. Mills was called out to see Walton Daniel Sunday morning. At this writing Walton is better.

Harvey Dunkle and wife and Mrs. J. T. Robertson went to Brownwood Monday. Elvis Morris from Big Valley, accompanied them.

Proest Harper and Raymond Williams from Center City were at Mrs. Nickols' party Saturday night. Their girl friends, Misses Luella Johnson and Rose Miller, accompanied them to the party.

Mrs. Doyle Lancaster and children from May visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dewbre, this week.

J. Frank Davis and wife went to see their son, Arlie, and family and Grandfather Davis in Brown county Saturday after-

PILGRIM FATHERS

The Pilgrims were hardy, but not unanimously so. A heavy percentage of their number died during the first year of their landing. The Pilgrim Fathers were said by one historian to have brought "the spark of the greatest nation on earth." Never the less, a lot of the Pilgrim Mothers lost their lives for lack of warmth and proper nourishment. Those doughty Puritans deserve the highest encomium in tribute to their courage and tenacity. But they had a whole rich continent to hunt and fish in, all the free land they could see over, and a good deal of help from the Providence to which they appealed day and night. Even with all that, their hardships were terrific and their loss of life desolating. They did prevail, or those who lived through the worst of it, prevailed. They realized from the first moment that there was no help for them except self-help. Federal aid had not been invented in their time, but their faith in the Lord was more beautiful and sufficing than our present generation's faith in the Washington administration. The Lord helped those who helped themselves, and the Washington administration is doing what it can to make opportunities for self help. But there is no longer a continent to be given to settlers free of charge.—State Press in Dallas News.

noon. Grandfather came home with them for a visit.

Mrs. Mary Faulkner and grandson spent Monday afternoon in the J. R. Davis home.

Ira Dewbre and wife, W. A. Daniel and family spent Sunday in Will Dennard's home in Big Valley.

Joe Davis and family moved to themselves last week. They live on the same farm.

Henry Simpson, who lives on the creek, and Glenn Nickols traded hound dogs last week. Neither one got cheated.

Forest and Wilson Renfro from Ratler were in our midst Saturday night. They were ing "goo goo eyes" at some of our young ladies.

Loy Long and family from town visited in the Ellis home Sunday.

Mrs. Walton Daniel went to town shopping early Monday morning.

Mrs. Landy Ellis spent Monday across the river at Arthur Wilcox's. He was real sick.

Richard Souders and wife went to the city Monday morning.

Ed Huffstutler and family and her mother, Mrs. Underwood, and her brother, Sam Darwin, from across the river, spent Saturday night and Sunday in San Saba county.

Ollie Dewbre and boys and Howard T. Davis spent Saturday in the Daniel home.

Haskell Gatlin from Rabbit Ridge spent Sunday with James Nickols.

Mmes. Traylor and Robertson went to Big Valley Monday afternoon. I didn't learn who they visited.

Don't forget the program tonight at the school house —also church Sunday morning at 11.

1st and 2nd grade—
Wilford Schuster.

The eleventh graders have ordered their rings and expect to receive them sometime before Christmas.

The tenth graders received their geometry notebooks.

Seventh grade—Glenn Dunlap found a pair of glasses and if anyone has lost his glasses, we would be glad to have him come and see these.

Sixth grade has changed news reporters. Mamie Simms has taken the place of Leona Walker. We feel assured that she will do the part.

Someone reported that Mr. Hein, the fifth and sixth grade teacher, sat up three nights studying questions which he thought the supervisor might ask him, but when she came she only made a short visit to his room.

Lost—A number 12 shoe. Please return to Miss Watson. Reward: The other shoe.

Fifth grade — The students were supposed to learn about John Babet that day and A. J. Clark asked Mr. Hein whether the fifth grade was going to study about John Combat that day. One of the students, while reading, took Santa Anna for Santa Claus.

Third and fourth grades — Clarence Schuman visited in Eden over the week end.

Mallinda Niemann was absent from school Monday on account of sickness.

Crawford Hopper is back in school, after an absence of two weeks.

Anton Hohertz is out of school at present, visiting his grandfather.

News From the Primary Room
The first and second grade pupils are very proud of a new primary reading chart, a new number work chart and a new lunch cabinet.

We have two new pictures added to our room this year, "The Boy and the Rabbit" and "The Sleeping Baby."

Lazy Bones and Jitters, our gold fish, are very interesting entertainers. We plan to get a canary for our room soon.

Alvin Drucekhammer of Eden, Truman Marwitz and Laverne Jeske visited our room Monday.

Norman Drucekhammer, a second grade pupil, read the story "Scottie's Big Day" to the first grade pupils.

Home Economics

The home economics girls prepared lunch for the supervisor last week. The girls are working out menus for breakfast and in groups of five, had to prepare a breakfast this week. The girls have been busy making charts and doing outside reading.

The civics club was organized with the following as officers: Carl Willman, president; Ethel Hill, vice president; Edna Lubke, secretary; Velma Bufe, reporter.

Girls Sports

The basket ball girls had their first match game Friday, October 19, at Priddy, against Indian Gap. At the beginning of the game the players were as follows: Edna Lubke, Lillie Henkes, forwards; Louise Koch, Velma Bufe, guards; Irene Gromatzky, jumping center; Paula Wiederbusch, running center. During the first half, Mildred Mason took Lillie Henkes' place. Then at the half Velma Bufe was put in as center player in Paula's place and Hilma Hein took Velma's place as guard.

The centers and guards played a good game in keeping the ball at their goal as much as possible. The forwards, although they had strong guards, did very well. Many people of the community came to see the game, as it was the game with Indian Gap, our strongest competitor, thus far in our basket ball history.

The score was 12-8 in Indian Gap's favor. Although the girls were defeated the game was of worth.

Boys' Sports

After having been rubbed in dust by Indian Gap since Priddy has played basket ball, we all have been admitting that those Indian Gap boys are lions when it comes to playing basket ball, but Mr. Grimland decided that the Priddy team had grown enough to be a little "lionish" itself, so Wednesday, October 17, the boys and Mr. Grimland decided to pay those so-called lions a visit, and what do you suppose happened? The score was 23-9, but not in favor of Indian Gap, although they had their own referee. Did those Indian Gap boys like it? Their coach matched another game with the Priddy boys October 19, at Priddy. This time they didn't take the Priddy boys for a cinch, quite so much. The old song, "Priddy can't ball" had left their minds and seemingly they realized that they would have to put up a tough fight before rubbing our team in the dust again.

Priddy ran in several good substitutes, which has proven the old saying to be true, "The substitutes make the team." The score was 16-7 in favor of Priddy with Townsend as high point man, making 13 points. The boys all played a "heads up" game. Mason at guard broke up many of the opponent's plays.

The small children and the larger boys and girls besides all those not playing ball, showed much interest by singing for the team and the pep song, "Oh, see those Priddy boys," rang out over the air.

Priddy Bus

The bus has been on time ever since first day. Arrangement has been made making getting in and out safer and easier.

Mr. Grimland: "Have you anything in your garden this year."

Mr. Cunningham: "Yes, I have several different varieties. I have Plymouth Rocks, Leghorns and Rhode Island Reds."

DON'T GET MAD

If your paper stops after coming to you a long time without payment of subscription, just bring or send the subscription price and all will be lovely.

A REASONABLE CHARGE

The Eagle must observe its rule of long standing of making a small charge for articles written by persons giving their views on any public issue. Matters of public record or on current events are news, but private views in advocacy or opposition to political or personal issues come legitimately under the head of advertising. There is no good reason for expecting to give voice to one's views at the paper's expense. The editor pays a good price for this privilege, as the preparation of every line for publication costs real money.

The Eagle can offer some low rates on daily papers for long or short time.

Black-Draught Brings Refreshing Relief of Constipation Troubles

Constipation produces many disagreeable sensations, several of which are mentioned by Mr. T. E. Smith, of Boonville, Ind., who writes: "I have used Thedford's Black-Draught many years when needed for biliousness and other minor ills when a laxative was needed. I have a tight feeling in my chest when I get bilious. I get dizzy and feel very tired, just don't feel like doing my work. After taking Black-Draught, I feel much better. This is why I continue to use it when needed." Thedford's Black-Draught is a good, purely vegetable laxative, obtainable for 25¢ a package.

The students of the entire school are anxious that you know about the Halloween carnival to be sponsored by the P. T. A. Saturday, October 27.

Last year a similar carnival afforded fun and amusement plenty for all who attended. This year bids fair to be even better than last.

The ladies of the P. T. A., who work so diligently in their efforts to add their school, deserve the highest commendation of everyone. As a result of their efforts every boy and girl in the community enjoys many good things they would not otherwise enjoy.

Attend this carnival Saturday afternoon and evening in the court house. A good time awaits you.

Halloween Queen

Wednesday, October 17, the classes of Goldthwaite high school met to elect a representative of each class for Halloween queen.

The queen will be elected by penny votes of the citizens and students of Goldthwaite. The proceeds of this contest will go to the Parent Teachers association.

The representatives were selected as follows: Daphane Evans, senior; Aleene Martin, junior; Alice Doggett, sophomore, and the freshmen did not select a candidate.

Selection of Football Sponsor
 Wednesday, October 17, each of the classes of the Goldthwaite high school met to elect their representative for football sponsor.

The winner of the contest, who will be the football sponsor will be decided by votes, which will cost one cent each. The funds that are received will be used to help in purchasing football sweaters. The winner will be announced Thursday at noon.

The representative for the classes are: Senior class, Ima Lois Bayley; junior class, Mary Clements; sophomore class, Lottie Bell Hester; freshman class, Joyce Johnson.

Home Economics Club

On Tuesday, October 16, the home economics club met for the second time. At this meeting several definite things were decided.

In the first place, the name of Home Economics club was decided on as being the most appropriate name for the club. Then we voted unanimously to have yellow and white for the club colors. A committee, composed of Daphane Evans, Clara Blackwell, Fatima Faulkner and Mary Louise Fairman, was elected to find a motto.

Several methods for making money were discussed, but were rejected. At last we decided to sell candy in town Saturday. The candy sellers are Ima Lois Bayley, Jeanette Martin, Dorothy Hartman, Von Dean Geeslin and Gertrude Johnson.

If every person in town will back this club, it is sure to be one of the most beneficial organizations in school.

Santa Anna Vs. Eagles

This evening at 4 o'clock the Eagles will play Santa Anna. This will be the first conference game here this year.

Last year Santa Anna beat the Eagles 31-6. We want to reverse that score at 4 o'clock this evening.

Everybody that likes to see a good football game come and see this game and you will get your money's worth. There are many people who haven't seen a football game. Bring them to see this one. They will enjoy it.

Eagles vs. Blizzards

Last Friday, Oct. 19, the Goldthwaite Eagles went to Winters to play their third conference game. The score was 20-6 in favor of Winters, but the Eagles played good football. We seemed to have come out of the sun in the first quarter, and scored a touch down on the Blizzards. Goldthwaite kicked to Winters and then held them three downs. On the fourth down Winters attempted to kick, but the Eagles rushed the punter so fast he was forced to kick sideways and in doing this kicked the ball into his own man. A Winters player was knocked loose from the ball, but it went over to the Eagles, because the required ten yards was not made. At the climax of about twenty yards of driving the Eagles scored, McDermott taking the leather across the goal line. Todd failed to kick the extra point.

Winters scored two touch downs in the second quarter and one in the third.

The kick that Todd, of the Eagles, performed was a very unlucky break for the Eagles. The ball hit the cross bar and bounded straight up and came down on the cross bar, only to fall off on the inside. The referee had a little trouble figuring the point out himself.

The standing of the teams to date are:

	Won	Lost
Winters	3	0
Ballingler	3	0
Santa Anna	1	0
Coleman	2	1
Brady	2	1
Bangs	1	2
San Saba	1	2
Goldthwaite	0	3

Winters is the favorite for the district.

Goldthwaite scored for the first time on Winters this year.

Senior Class

Wednesday, October 17, the senior class met and selected the class colors of green and white, which represents life and purity. The sweet peas were selected for the flower, and "Give to the world the best you have and the best will come back to you" as the motto.

School Spirit

What's the matter with the school spirit this year? There is less school spirit in the town and on the school ground this year than there ever has been before.

We have a football team, and we should back it, win or lose. The man, who backs his team win or lose, or draw, in every game is a real supporter to the team and calls it "his" team, as long as they are winning, and when they begin to lose he says it "your" team, is not a real supporter, but is a quitter.

The Santa Anna Mountaineers will invade the city this afternoon to have a tilt with the Eagles. Let's go out to the park this afternoon and give the Eagles our support and see if they can win this game.

The Eagles are going to win this game and we want you to be on hand to see it.

LEGION CONVENTION

To All Posts 21st District:
 I hereby call a convention of the 21st district to convene at Llano, Texas, Saturday and Sunday, November 17 and 18.

The purpose of the convention is to receive the 1935 program from our department commander, H. Miller Ainsworth, and make plans to carry it out.

The Llano post is making elaborate plans for our entertainment and on behalf of the 21st district, I urge you to be present with a large delegation from your post, and let's get some legion splashing.

The American Legion has been fairly successful this year with our four point program, but there will come out of the Miami convention a program that will be just as vital to each and everyone of us, and the only way to win is for every buddy to be an active legionaire.

ORVILLE H. TURNER,
 Committeeman 21st Dist.

HERE AND THERE

For the first time in its history the University of Texas is expected to pass the 7000 mark in enrollment this year. This year's total is nearly 1000 more than the same date last year.

The federal deposit insurance corporation reports deposits in 320 licensed commercial banks in Texas increased more than $90,000,000 in the period from Dec. 30, 1933, to June 30, 1934.

Almee Semple McPherson, the dynamic blonde evangelist of Los Angeles, hasn't "squared" herself with Uncle Sam on her 1928 earnings, according to an income tax lien filed against her there. The lien called for an additional payment of $635.62 for that year.

A Pecos pharmacist worked up the other morning and found himself an heir. A great grandfather at Weatherford left an estate years ago and it was finally being settled. The pharmacist's share was 1-8448th part of the estimated $4200 estate, or in round figures, about 50 cents.

France, with one eye always fixed on the German frontier, is worrying about its birth rate. New cause for worry is contained in the latest statistics to be released by the National Alliance for the Increase of French Population. In the year 1933 it was announced, births decreased 40,000 over the preceding year.

Utilizing a special fingering system, Virginia Martin of Salt Lake, who was born without a right arm, has become an expert stenographer. She can take dictation at the rate of 100 words a minute and transcribe it half as fast. She was the only entrant in a recent typing contest to turn in a perfect copy.

Another proof that advertising pays comes from the far north. Squating in his igloo an Eskimo gazed fth fascination at an advertisement of a woman's dress, priced at $25, in an old newspaper. He went to the trading post, presented a fox skin worth $25, and said: "Please send this pelt to the Hudson Bay Store and ask them to send this woman to me. I want to make her my wife."

The Moscow Soviet is constructing a "City of Science" on the banks of the Moscow river grouping in one locality half a dozen of its most important medical and experimental institutions. When the project is completed in five years, there will be accommodations for 12,000 persons, 600 of them patients—a museum and a 600,000 volume library. To meet laboratories requirements for experimental purposes, 9000 dogs, 2000 cats and rabbits, rats and porpoises are being assembled.

NEW ALIGNMENTS IN EUROPE

The diplomatic history of modern Europe has been replete with shifting alliances and groupings among the various nations. At first concerned with considerations of defense and offense, more recently such alliances have had important economic bearings as well.

The last few months have witnessed one of these periodic regroupings among European countries which have occurred from time to time since the rise of the great nations of western Europe. Relations between Italy and Germany have become less cordial following the Dollfus assassination. On the other hand, Poland has become estranged from France, her erstwhile closest ally, and to establish increasingly close relations with Germany, a country with which her relations had been strained since the war.—New York Journal of Commerce.

A Nevada county has solved the bank robbery problem in an effective manner, the bureau of investigation, U. S. department of justice learned. In response to a questionnaire sent out by the bureau, the sheriff of the fortunate county replied: "We ain't had no bank robbery in the last five years. P. S. We ain't had no bank."

Snakes kill more than 500,000 people in India every year, new official figures show. King cobras cause most of the deaths and the death rate is highest in villages bordering on jungles—especially at harvest time and at the approach of the monsoon. One reason for the high mortality is that villagers insist on trying to cure snake bites by magic.

Although "all that glitters is not gold," maybe the shining fingernail of the Parisian beauty is worth a fortune. For liquid gold dust is the latest manuring craze in the "gay light city." Yellow tints have taken the French capital by storm and bronze and light mother-of-pearl Chinese laquers frequently speckled with gold are rapidly supplanting diamonds and rubies as finger decorations, according to the fashion-setters.

A report from Belgrade says that the prices paid for wives by the Moslems of South Yugoslavia have fallen heavily. Prices for wives used to be high because there was a shortage of suitable women. But many women have gone to South Yugoslavia. Numbers of them are actually prepared to bring a dowry to their husbands instead of having to be "bought" from their families. Also, farm product prices have fallen and made it impossible for most men to support more than one wife.

THE COST OF WAR

The world war, all told, cost—apart from 30 million lives—400 billion dollars. With that money we could have built a $2500 house, furnished it with $1000 worth of furniture, placed it on five acres of land worth $100 an acre and given this home to each and every family in the United States, Canada, Australia, England, Wales, Ireland, Scotland, France, Belgium, Germany and Russia. We could have given to each city of 20,000 inhabitants and over, in each country named, a five million dollar library and a ten million dollar university. Out of what was left we could have set aside a sum of five per cent that would provide $1000 yearly salary for an army of 125,000 teachers and a like salary for another army of 125,000 nurses.—Nicholas Murray Butler.

As I have been gone I haven't written for the dear old Eagle, but will give a few items.

It was reported I had gone to stay, but I just went on a visit.

Joe Evans and family and Tom Tarleton and family from Lome-ta visited in the R. D. Evans home Sunday.

Miss Marvel Ford from Eldorado spent the week end with home folks.

Velma Gage and wife and son spent several days in Austin, visiting relatives and friends.

Albert Canady returned last week from Austin, to spend the winter in the Mrs. W. J. Ford home.

Frank Eckert spent several days last week in Miles with his children and attended to business.

Mr. Williams has leased the old Kuykendall place and will stay in the community another year.

Mr. and Mrs. Ran Gunn from near Mexico, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joe Morgan, their aunt and uncle.

Mrs. Cora Ford and son, Fleming, spent two weeks visiting Mrs. Ford's sister in Moran and her sister's girls in Kress. Fleming and his uncle, Harry Davenport, attended the fair in Roswell, N. M.

Dutch Smith and family have gone to the Pecan bottoms to gather pecans.

Leslie Nance and family from Sonora spent the week end in the Elza Laughlin home.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Ran Gunn and Mrs. Earl Blake spent Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Whittenburg.

Mrs. T. J. Laughlin spent last week with her son, Worley, in Kerrville.

Mrs. Cora Ford spent several days in Lampasas with her son, J. D., and family.

Mrs. W. E. Stevenson was real sick last week, but is able to be up and about again.

Mrs. Will Harbour and son, went to Hallettsville to see her father and sisters.

Frank Hines and girls, Misses Freda and Greda, spent Sunday afternoon with their son and brother, Fields, and wife in Lampasas.

Lloyd Laughlin from Tarleton spent the week end with Fleming Ford.

Miss Lucile Strayley from Ad-amsville spent the week end with Misses Freda and Greda Hines.

Webb Laughlin and wife and son, Elton, and daughter, Miss Dortha, spent Sunday in Mrs. A. B. Ford's home. Webb is camped on his place this week, doing some plowing and seeing after his stock there.

Mr. Eckert's daughter, Mrs. Harry Tinkley of Eden, accom-panied him home Wednesday and returned Friday.

Mrs. Barney Laughlin spent Tuesday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Heatherly.

Homer and Mr. Eckert are hauling baled goober hay this week from Richland Springs.

Mrs. T. J. Laughlin, Sr., spent Tuesday with Mrs. Tom Elliott.

Mrs. Homer Eckert and chil-dren spent Monday with Mrs. Cora Ford.

Alva Ford has been sowing oats for Joe Morgan.

CENTER POINT

The crowd at Sunday School was rather small as usual. There was no B. Y. P. U. program Sunday night, but quite a good bunch gathered and sang.

Mrs. Julia Taylor spent Monday with Mrs. Johnnie Taylor and baby.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cox and children of Stamford were week end visitors in the B. F. Mahan home.

Quite a few from here attended the party at Mrs. Eula Nickols' Saturday night. All report an excellent time.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Cox of South Bennett visited Mrs. Julia Taylor Friday.

Mrs. W. A. Allen called on Mrs. Fred Davis Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Jim Harmon entertained quite a crowd Saturday night with a party, honoring her daughter, Edna's, birthday. All report a pleasant time and wish for another birthday party soon.

Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Brooks are moving from our community to Moran. We regret to lose these folks, but wish them success in their new location.

Otis and Besse Hutchings, accompanied by Mrs. Eula Nickols of Rock Springs, attended a birthday dinner in the George Hill home at Lake Merritt Sunday. The dinner was honoring several members of the family's birthday.

Lloyd Allen of Hamilton spent the week end with home folks.

Misses Arlie Taylor and Doris Davis called on Gladys Perry Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Davis entertained quite a crowd Friday night with a party. All report a nice time.

Mrs. Edith McWhorter spent the Sabbath with Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Stark and family.

Johnnie and Deward Fallon made a delightful visit to the Dallas fair the early part of last week. They report their trip well worth striving for, as they both saw and learned some very beneficial things.

Jim Long and son were in our community Sunday afternoon, looking after his land interests.

Misses Anna Beth Davis and Merlene Stark dined with Mrs. Idella Allen Sunday.

Miss Opal Cox returned home this week end, after an extended visit with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Fallon, Eva and Elmo were guests of N. T. Waddell and family of Lake Merritt Sunday. Miss Eva remained for a week's visit.

Our school is surely progressing nicely under the leadership of our efficient teachers, Mr. Robbins, Misses Loraine Duey and Gertrude Frye. All the pupils seem delighted with their work.

Several young folks enjoyed ice cream in the Fred Davis home Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Braswell and little son of Brownwood were Sunday diners in the L. W. French home. Mrs. French returned home with them for a two week's visit.

Claude and Jessie Shelton made a business trip to Lyndale the early part of last week.

Bad colds have swept our community out. Most everyone has had one and are truly glad to be over it again.

A big crowd enjoyed a get-together last Wednesday night near Otis Hutchings' house. Everyone enjoyed the occasion.

Mrs. Julia Taylor and Miss Besse Hutchings called on Mrs. Johnnie Taylor and baby Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Harmon were Tuesday visitors in the Joe Spinks home.

Bob Martin returned recently from Phoenix, Ariz., where he spent a few days visiting his son, Al, and family.

There has been quite a bit of beef canning done in our community this week. Mrs. Omer Hill, Fred Davis and W. A. Allen, all canned together Thursday.

Mrs. Kyle Lawson helped Mrs. W. L. Conner can Wednesday and Will Harmon and wife and Joe Spinks and wife canned Wednesday.

There will be a pie supper Friday night at the school house. Everyone is invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Conner spent Saturday night in the Jim Harmon home.

Everyone come to Sunday school Sunday morning. Bro Jim Hays will fill the pulpit at the morning hour. There will also be B. Y. P. U. and singing Sunday night.

Wedding Bells

Wedding bells rang in this community Tuesday night, October 23, 1934, when Miss Annie Belle Long became the bride of R. T. Padgett at the home of Rev. J. M. Hays, Rev. Hays officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Long and has been reared and educated in Big Valley.

The groom lived in Dallas, prior to his coming here several years ago.

The wedding party consisted of close friends and relatives of the bride and groom.

Both young people are well thought of and all of Big Valley Joins in wishing them God speed and many years of happy married life.

Editorial by the Editor

There are some boys and girls looking for news for the Owls. Some very important news may be left out because of the lack of co-operation of students and teachers with those looking for the news.

It is against the law of the United States to hoard gold, and I think it should be against the law of Big Valley High School to hoard news.

Students shouldn't think the reporters know everything, because they don't. This is as much your paper as mine and it is partly your duty to help make it better.

We need co-operation from all of you today!

New Pupils

We are proud of our four new pupils. They are Vada Lee, Myrl, Earlene and Anita McCarty. We are very glad to find that Myrl and Vada Lee are good basket ball players and we hope they will enjoy going to school in Big Valley.

P. T. A.

The patrons of Big Valley were intending to organize a Parent Teachers association Friday afternoon, but there were not enough parents present for the organization.

We had six visitors who were welcome. They were Mrs. M. V. Cook, Mrs. L. M. Sellers, Mrs. Orville Hale, Mrs. Sullivan, Mrs. Moss and Mrs. Roberds.

Visitors

Garland Patterson visited the school Monday.

Humor

Virginia: "Daddy told Tony he should be saving for a rainy day."

Lore: "Is he?"

Virginia: "Yes, a few days later, daddy missed his raincoat."

Carlyle: "Set the alarm for 2, please."

Mrs. Stark: "You, and who else?"

Veseva: "Mr. Hale, are you afraid of the dark?"

Mr. Hale: "No, but the dark is certainly afraid of me."

Sally Jean (sarcastically): "Well, no boy ever made a fool of me."

Peaches: "Well, something did."

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our grateful thanks to our neighbors and other friends for the great kindness and care shown our dear mother and wife during her long illness and the help and sympathy offered to the members of the family after her death. Also for the flowers provided for the funeral. May God's rich blessings rest upon each one of you.

BIG VALLEY

A large number in our community have been sick this last week. Some are still sick, but most of them are better. Those who have been on the sick list are Mrs. Livy Weaver, better now; Anna Belle Long, improving; Mrs. J. J. Cockrell is better at this writing; Miss Roberta Robertson, who came home ill from school, is able to be back in school this week. Mrs. Oran Hale and baby were on the list of ill ones. Mrs. Scott Thompson and son, Lacy, were also reported on the sick list. Mrs. Lawson, Mr. Claud Lawson's mother, is not improving very fast. We hope all these people are feeling much better.

Mrs. Orville Hale and little daughter, Mildred Joyce, visited Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. Hale's mother and father at Hale Cove.

Last Thursday afternoon a number of relatives and friends surprised Miss Anna Belle Long with a miscellaneous shower. She received many nice and useful gifts. Refreshments were served, which everyone enjoyed, after which the guests left, wishing Anna Belle lots of joy and happiness in her new life.

Mrs. A. L. Burns' mother and sister from Coleman were visitors in her home this week end.

The young folks of the community enjoyed a party at G. A. Knowles' Saturday night. Everyone reported a good time.

Miss Tura Stephens from across the river, spent Saturday in the Claud W. Lawson home.

Those who enjoyed a good time at Mrs. Livy Weaver's Friday night were Hoyt and Vance Cockrell, Robert and Melvin Doak and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Weaver and son, Walter Martin.

Robert B. Weaver from Waco spent Saturday on the farm.

Charles Dennard from Rusk and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Boles and son visited their brother, Wm. Dennard, Sunday. Others who visited in that home were Billie Daniels and family of Rock Springs and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Robertson.

Mrs. Landy Ellis and daughter, Mrs. Souders, from Rock Springs attended the shower Thursday afternoon.

Miss Vera Sloan from Rogers is visiting in the home of her uncle, Arnold Sloan.

Miss Loraine Duey and brother, Clarence Duey, both teachers in this county, spent the week end at home.

Miss Virginia Long, who is attending school in town, spent the week end with home folks.

Mrs. Morgan and Elsie have returned from Knox county, where they have been visiting Grandmother Gillentine.

Alvin Oglesby and family visited in George Robertson's home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Oglesby and family took dinner with Floyd Sykes and family Sunday.

Robert Doak has returned from the army at El Paso. He is making a hand on the Cockrell farm at present. Mr. Matthews, a friend of his came this far on his way to Waco.

Mr. Carroll and wife, foreman of Stahmann farms of El Paso and Mr. Massey of Mertzzen were visitors at Riverside Fruit farm Sunday.

Lindsey Ashley and wife, Everett Faulkner and wife and daughter of Goldthwaite were in the valley Sunday.

Mrs. F. L. Hartman and grand son left Saturday for Dallas for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Maud Elder. They returned Tuesday.

Those from Goldthwaite who attended Anna Belle Long's shower Thursday afternoon were Mrs. Dee Hartman, Mrs. Loy Long and little son, Mrs. Jake Long and little son, Mrs. Pence and daughter, Mrs. Joe Bailey Karnes, Mrs. Johnnie Neal and sons and Mrs. Lee Long and sons.

Mrs. Dan Calaway attended the shower Thursday afternoon and also visited in the home of her mother, Mrs. Bob Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Connie Knowles from Rabbit Ridge visited in the G. A. Knowles home Saturday night.

Ansel Morgan from Priddy is spending a few days visiting home folks.

Mrs. Hugh Dennard visited in the homes of Jack Dennard and Wm. Dennard Sunday.

Those who enjoyed listening to the radio awhile after B.Y.P.U. Sunday night in the Harry Oglesby home were Miss Pauline Pie Supper—Come to the pie supper tonight and bring a pie!

Pep Squad

Wednesday, a pep squad was organized. A large number of the girls joined. The following leaders were elected: Mildred Wilcox, Nadine Hodges, Vera Koen, sponsor, Miss Blackwell.

New Equipment

A dozen new desks have been added to Mr. Smith's room. They add much to the appearance of the room, and they were certainly needed.

Junior Girls' Glee Club

Thursday of last week, Miss Blackwell organized a junior glee club. This is the first attempt of any of the juniors to try their luck at singing, but they seem to be very enthusiastic over the club and are working hard on the song, "Beautiful Texas." They will sing tonight at the school house.

Junior Boys' Baseball Team

Friday (today) the junior baseball boys will play Pecan Wells here. Last year we defeated them by a large score and we hope to do even better this year. Our captain, T. H. McArthur, is always on the job and we've been practising quite abit.

Hallowe'en Party

Hallowe'en night, October 31, we invite every one to the party to be given at the school house. Come dressed as a "spook" and have some fun.

Humor

Mr. Smith was discussing the merits of each state of the union and asking the students in which they had rather live. Vera Koen promptly replied, "Tennessee."

We've been wondering why Miss Blackwell looked so happy one Monday and so sad the next. Now, we know. Auba Hudson, who has moved to Gatesville just comes every other week end Sunday evening Arvin Guess T. H. McArthur and Melvin Wilcox started pecan hunting, but they evidently decided Clara Mae and Cleda were more interesting as they spent the evening at the Huckabee's.

Mr. Smith: "Wife, I've a good notion to settle down and start raising chickens."

Mrs. Smith: "Better try owls. Their hours will suit you better."

Mr. Cooke evidently found something very interesting at Big Valley. He was seen down here Saturday night.

Primary News

Three new pupils from Early high school have been added to our list. They are Robert, Evelyn and Louis Wharton. We are very glad to have them with us.

Our room looks very "ghostly" with Hallowe'en decorations of witches, ghosts, bats, pumpkins and cats. We are looking forward to the Hallowe'en party next Wednesday night at the school house.

Those who made the honor roll last week in reading were: Ruby Lee Guess, Almata Koen, Euna V. Harris, Ural Lawson Alvis Weathers and Adean Lawson.

Due to the fact that Arvel Montgomery does not talk very plain, Miss Blackwell has a new nickname, "Miss Blackie."

The first graders are enjoying playing in the new sand table. They have a little house made of paste board, a dog, a cat and some pretty shells.

Legal Fee

Miss Blackwell heard a child crying and rushed out to the playground to find out the cause of the disturbance. "What is the trouble?" she asked of Glendon, who stood calmly by, eating an orange.

"Jack took Charley's orange," exclaimed the witness.

"And where is the orange?" asked Miss Blackwell.

"Oh, I have that," replied Glendon, "You see, I am the lawyer."

Piper, Miss Flora Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Hale, Howard Weaver and Sherrill Roberson, Robert Weaver and Miss Noma Lee Webb.

Bro. Sparkman and family visited sick folks in the Lawson home and Cockrell home Tuesday evening.

Miss Nelda Boyd arrived in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Sloan Tuesday morning. We welcome you into our community Miss Nelda. Mother and baby are doing nicely at this writing.

BLUE JAY

CARL KARNES PASSED AWAY

Carl, age 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Karnes, died Monday night, October 22, at 8:15 p. m. at the family home in Star. He had been in bad health a year or more and was treated by various physicians and in the Temple and Glenrose hospitals. His last illness was for only about 24 days.

He was buried at Hurst Ranch cemetery Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Pallbearers were six school boys. Elder O. O. O. Newton conducted the services.

He is survived by his parents, two brother and three sisters, Karnes grandparents, Grandmother Mason and several uncles, aunts and cousins.

An enormous crowd from Star, Center City, Goldthwaite, McGirk and other communities attended the sad burial service. Beautiful floral gifts were sent for the home and cemetery.

Perhaps no little boy in Mills county had more friends and admirers than did Carl. He was noted for his spunk and ready wit and good nature. Although he suffered much, he was seldom heard to complain. He was never very strong, but delighted in work and strenuous play. Carl was never caught without a good humored, witty reply to anyone who joked with him. Anger was a mood almost unknown to his life.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Berry of Pleasant Grove and Booster Berry and family of this city spent last week end at the Dallas fair. They visited relatives in that city and Mr. Berry tells it that while in the home the phone rang and Booster was asked to answer it. He took down the receiver and announced, "Long & Berry."

Miss Lucille Hoover, student of public speaking in Abilene Christian College, made the first speech of the year from that department on the fine arts chapel program last Thursday morning. Miss Hoover gave a vivid description of life as a preacher's daughter sees it. Her speech was enthusiastically received by the students.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dennis returned Friday from Canadian, where they had visited their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fields. Mr. Fields is in the sanitarium, where he has been real sick, but had improved some when they left. Their daughter, Mrs. Madeline, is staying with her sister, while Mr. Fields is in the sanitarium.

State Inspector Makes Visit

Miss Opal Gilstrap, in company with our county superintendent, R. J. Gerald, visited us one day last week. Miss Gilstrap was highly pleased with conditions here at our school and complimented teachers and pupils alike. She is a very affable and amicable inspector. We were very glad to have our county superintendent, R. J. Gerald, with us and hope it will not be his last visit.

This is examination week and every one is very busy.

Why Study

The more you study the more you learn; the more you learn the more you know; the more you know the more you forget. So I ask, "Why study?" And the less you study, the less you learn; the less you learn the less you know; the less you know the less you forget. So I ask you again, "Why Study?"

But "Education is what you have left after that which you have forgotten. Let's study then!"

Entertainments

If you want a little excitement come to the witches stew Halloween night at the school house, where you will be greeted by spooks, goblins and witches. Everyone is invited to come.

Pie Supper

Don't forget the pie supper for Friday night (tonight). Everyone come and bring a pie or buy one.

Intermediate Report

The pupils in our room are interested in making the room attractive—pot plants, new posters and pictures of government officials have been added this week.

Primary Report

The enrollment of the beginners' class has increased to ten since James Doggett has entered school.

The second grade pupils are proud of their new arithmetic note books.

Much interest is being manifested in the third grade nature study class. The pupils are enjoying the making of their note books.

Conditions In Europe

War clouds have been rising throughout Europe for a year or more and while there have, so far, been no serious conflicts or entanglements, indications appear to warrant the apprehension that a serious menace to the peace of the world is not far in the offing. It really seems that it would not take much to start a war among some of the nations. This can be easily believed when we remember what occurred in 1914, when the assassination of an obscure archduke in a city few people on this side of the water had ever heard of, set match to powder keg and resulted in the greatest and most destructive conflict in the history of the world.

A repetition could easily have resulted a few weeks ago. King Alexander of Yugoslavia landed at Marseille, was met by Foreign Minister Barthou of France. Surrounded by ceremony—and armed men—the procession started down the main street. Suddenly a man leaped to the running board of the king's car, pressed the trigger of a new-style sub-machine gun, which is hardly larger than a revolver. Twenty shots split the air—and Alexander and Barthou lay dying. The assassin was cut down by the sabres of cavalry officers, almost torn to pieces by the crowd. All the details of the killing were at once flashed to every corner of the world—it was dramatic, vivid, "stagey." But in the chancelleries of the great nations, diplomats feverishly awaited the answer to the question: "What was the assassin's nationality?" On that seemingly minor point depended the peace of Europe! The ambition of France is to establish a "ring of steel" around Germany. To accomplish her aim, she must enlist the co-operation of the nations which, like herself, bound Germany—and the most important of these are Italy and Yugoslavia. A difficult problem is caused by the fact that Yugoslavia and Italy are extremely unfriendly—while they maintain formal relations, accompanied by all the old-world diplomacy, each hates and fears the other. The object of Minister Barthou in inviting Alexander to France was to smooth out if possible the difficulties between Yugoslavia and Italy. Yugoslavia is the main link in the prospective "ring of steel" and so long as she and Italy are close to sword's points, France's purpose cannot be accomplished. Therein is the reason for the vast importance attached to the nationality of Alexander's assassin. Had he been Italian, it is safe to say that Italy and Yugoslavia would have been at war within 24 hours—and it might have been only a matter of time before all other European powers, and possibly this country, would have been drawn in.

The trouble isn't over, however—the entire European situation has again been upset. Alexander was followed on the throne by King Peter, who is still a child. Until he comes of age, Yugoslavia will be governed by a regency—and there are grave doubts if the turbulent Yugoslavian people can be kept under control. Again, as in the past, all eyes are turned to the Balkans.

Amendment Meets Opposition

Some outstanding lawyers have announced the opinion that the adoption of the proposed constitutional amendment, providing for the classification of property for taxation, would invalidate a former amendment exempting homesteads up to the value of $3000 from taxation. On this question attorneys are disagreed and the attorney general's department has ruled that the proposed amendment would have no effect on the provision cited. Nevertheless, there would be room for litigation should the amendment be adopted and it is, therefore, opposed by some of the advocates of the homestead exemption provision. The attorney general, in giving his opinion, states that it was not the intention of the legislature to interfere with the exemption of homesteads from taxation, yet we do know that many of the laws adopted by the law-making body have been interpreted by the courts on the grounds of their constitutionality, regardless of the legislator's intention, if any. In the light of these conflicting opinions it would seem to be the part of wisdom to defeat the proposed amendment. The question as stated on the ballot requiring that taxation of real property shall be equal and uniform, would naturally call for a vote of approval, but when the fact is considered that the home exemption amendment may be involved, the matter takes on a different aspect. There may be no danger in the proposal, yet some of those in position to know, say there is grave danger.

Free Publicity Campaign

The Eagle, like many other newspapers, has complained many times because of the persistent and insistent demand for free publicity by business enterprises of national scope, politicians and political organizations, educational institutions and even governmental departments. This demand has been most annoying and has kept the newspaper publishers constantly on the alert to protect themselves from these free publicity seekers, but another system has been evolved that some of these interests are expecting to net them greater percentage of free service from the newspapers, which system is little short of a blackmail scheme. Instead of sending the articles direct to the publishers, some of these seekers for free advertising prepare their articles and send them to some business firm with whom they have dealings and suggest that they have them published—free of course. One such article was recently sent to an official, who it was known had the placing of orders for considerable printing, and it was suggested to him that he have his local newspaper publish such article. The Eagle sincerely hopes that its patrons will not be inveigled into co-operating with any such plan for avoiding payment for legitimate advertising.

Limiting Taxation

The proposed constitutional amendment to be voted on in November, designated as Senate Joint Resolution No. 13, is meeting with the united opposition of the school teachers of the state, under the leadership of their state association. They believe and claim that the adoption of this amendment would have the effect of curtailing the appropriations for public education and that it would increase the burden of local taxation. While the Eagle seriously questions the soundness of this position and in this opinion such well known and competent authority as Peter Molyneux, editor of the Texas Weekly, can be cited, yet it must be conceded that there are many well-qualified men and women in the Texas teachers association who are deeply concerned for the interest of the schools and whose opinions should carry weight especially in matters effecting the schools.

Health Hint

COMMUNICABLE DISEASES

The daily inspection of school children and the removal and isolation of those found ailing, constitutes one of the most important factors in the control of communicable diseases, declares Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer.

Medical supervision of school children is, of course, the ideal method of disease control. However, in most communities, this is not possible. Parents and teachers can do a great deal in preventing the spread of disease. If the parent notices anything abnormal about the child, he should be kept at home.

The teacher should notify the parents of children who show any of the following symptoms: Loss of weight, pallor, pains, flushing of the face, breaking out of any kind, cold in head, especially running eyes, evidence of sore throat, cough, vomiting, etc.

If children showing the early signs of the common children's disease are excluded and their family physician consulted early, many epidemics could be averted and loss of time prevented. It is much better to have one child miss a few days of school, rather than run the risk of spreading the disease to his class mates.

OVERCOMING DEPRESSION

The rural south began to work out its financial troubles last year and this year it is in a still better position. This is the conclusion drawn by W. I. Myers, governor of the farm credit administration, on his return to Washington from a trip through Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, and the Carolinas.

Merchants repeatedly told me that farmers are paying their back debts and have again become purchasers of a volume of goods. The statements by merchants are in line with the experience of the federal land banks, which lend in the territory which I visited. The officials of these banks told me that collections are very much better than they have been for a number of years and that it is obvious that farmers have had more cash available in this territory than for some time past.

Governor Myers also said he noted a marked improvement in the farm real estate market in the territory visited. He said if the federal land bank of New Orleans continues to sell farms at the present rate the bank will dispose of about $3,000,000 worth of property this year. This increase in the sales is not due to high-pressure salesmanship, but to an increased legitimate demand for farms, which in turn reflects an increased purchasing power of the products produced from the farm.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Well-conceived plans clear the way for their execution.

If we hope to amount to anything, we must break away from the herd.

The people who are doing their jobs best seem to be having a very good time.

Every dishonest man was once honest, until temptation got the better of him.

Failure to criticize our judgment is the obstacle that blocks the progress of many of us.

One mark of a first-rate man is sufficient egotism to overcome the shyness that blocks self-expression.

If things are going well at home, why should a married man want to spend a year or two in the Antarctic?

Seasoning the spontaneity of youth and making it responsible for details is one of the hard jobs of employers.

YOUR GREATEST PROTECTOR

The nation has recently observed "Constitution Week." It was sponsored by the American Legion, which carries on continuous work in the interest of better Americanism.

In these trying times, it will benefit every citizen if he looks backward into the nation's past. One hundred and fifty-eight years ago the Revolution came to an end. A handful of patriots, who had suffered great privations for long years of war to break the bonds of governmental oppression, marched home. Shortly afterwards they established the United States of America—and for the first time in world history liberty and equality became the fundamental governmental principles of a great nation.

There is danger that, in our effort to obtain temporary benefits and favors, in order to meet a periodic depression ("casual embarrassment" in the life of a nation, as Thomas Jefferson described it), we as a people, will lose part of the great heritage that was handed down to us by our forefathers. Today the Constitution is under attack—critics would have us believe that it has outlived its usefulness, and is only a scrap of paper. If the Constitution is outmoded, so is liberty, so is the right to the pursuit of happiness, so is the right to ownership of property, and the privilege and duty of working and saving for one's self. The Constitution deals with the basic principles of liberty, equality and freedom from oppression which are as timeless as the seas.

Every American citizen should resolve to do all in his power to maintain constitutional liberty—liberty which was won with blood at Yorktown.—Industrial Review.

SAVES 80,000 FAMILIES

More than 80,000 families removed from direct relief rolls and helped to economic independence during the first six months of the government's rural rehabilitation program.

More than 400,000 persons, cast adrift by industry, picked up by Uncle Sam, good rich earth placed under their feet and tools in their hands, have, through their own industry, redeemed their manhood, regained their dignity and now look the world boldly in the face.

Such is the remarkable achievement of Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator—an achievement that stands out as a beacon light of hope and inspiration in the fog of the depression. It shows what can be done when human understanding, sympathy and common sense are brought to play in solving social problems.

The vast army of nearly half a million that Hopkins gathered from the highways and byways and who were offered an opportunity to help themselves had dropped almost to the bottom of the economic depths. Their worldly possessions consisted mainly of the rags on their back and a few sticks of furniture.

In addition to land, each family was provided with a mule, a cow, chickens, seed and a plow—not as gifts, but as loans, to be repaid with their labor.

It is to the everlasting credit of these families—as well as a vindication of Hopkins' insistence that work is the "American way"—and that the jobless will gladly care for themselves if given a chance—that half of the debt has been repaid and that with few exceptions every one of the 80,000 families is now able to paddle its own canoe.—Temple Telegram.

A DREADFUL SNAKE

A Palestine farmer recently killed a snake that aroused his curiosity. It was a snake akin to the cobra family, with a head similar to that of an alligator and the mouth containing small teeth or saws. On the end of its tail was a horn or stinger, which it used as a protection when aroused to anger. From this stinger poisonous venom was injected into its enemies which caused death in a very few minutes. The snake was said to be one of the most poisonous reptiles in existence in the United States.—Wylie Herald.

—EDITORIAL COMMENT—

VIEW OF THE NATION'S PRESS ON TOPICS OF INTEREST AND IMPORTANCE

A LONG TIME PROGRAM

We need a long time program for cotton. The best brains in our state and nation should be used to aid in planning and developing this program. It should be worked out for the best interests of the people of Texas and for the best interests of the masses of the people of the United States.

In preparing this program, we need to know the present status of cotton, which stated briefly is this: For many years cotton has been the chief export crop in the United States. We export over 60 per cent of our cotton crop annually. But Texas exports over 90 per cent of its cotton crop! The exporting of cotton is the most important commercial factor in our crop set-up in Texas. We are, therefore, vitally interested in the export situation.

Here are some of the more important factors concerning the export trade:

1. There are a number of foreign countries where, under favorable economic conditions, cotton can be produced successfully.

2. These countries have been increasing their production for a number of years until they now produce 50 per cent of the world's supply.

3. The acreage planted to cotton in these countries materially increases whenever our acreage is decreased or whenever the price rises above 12c or 15c.

4. These countries are now at a disadvantage in producing cotton in regard to lack of improved machinery, both in production and ginning, in fighting insect pests and diseases, in transportation costs and other improvements.

5. But reduction of acreage in this country and high prices encourage them to overcome these drawbacks.

6. When these disadvantages are overcome (which they can be under the stimulus of high prices) it will be most difficult to compete against these countries in the production of cotton for the world markets.

7. If this is done we shall eventually lose to a considerable extent our export trade in cotton as we have already practically done in wheat and as England has done in the production of rubber in her colonies.

DROUTH AND RELIEF

The drouth was exaggerated in the exaggerating states. Texas, not being one of the above mentioned, had a real drouth, a warping, blistering drouth. Insufficient moisture reduced crops to zero in some Texas counties, but Texas lived thru the dry year as it is living thru the depression years—with a good deal of grumble, but not without courage. Texas is that way. She has recuperative powers beyond the rest of the world. There are times when all seems lost, then a sudden change of weather puts an entirely different and wholly beautiful face on everything. Smiles succeed the frowns and songs reverberate where low wailutions were heard before. Such is Texas. The states of the middle west put up a pitiful plea this summer. They suffered a drouth of three months' duration and their fluence men hurried to Washington or to the White House and wept on every shoulder that offered a sympathetic head rest. There wasn't going to be any corn, so the pigs would starve and the beef cattle curl up and die, bleating feebly. Yet we find, by report, quite a crop of nice looking nubbins being harvested in the corn states and quite a neat amount of meat going to market from those regions. Texas doesn't consider that it has a drouth unless there have been six months of rainless weather. Sometimes, in some portions of Texas, the dry weather may last a year or two years without extorting much of a holler from the people. Texas is that way. Texans the same.—State Press in Dallas News.

CONGESTED HOMES

Federal housing plans have not entirely neglected the subject of new construction, but less progress has been made in this direction than in the refinancing of existing mortgages, and remodeling under the new housing act. The latter move, designed especially to aid the heavy goods industries, is largely to blame for the comparative stagnation in new building, activity in which would better accomplish the desired result. The need of activity in new construction is clearly shown by the recent report of the National Association of Real Estate Boards on results of the survey of "doubled-up families."

This type of congestion in home life has been an unfortunate by-product of depression. Increase of economic worry by one earning household through loss of dependents' jobs has been met by eliminating duplicated rent cost. At the worst of the depression this both increased housing vacancy and stopped home construction. The survey figures reveal that the number of doubled-up families is today approximately as large as the number of vacant housing units. As many of these should be eliminated, instead of being occupied, a real condition of housing shortage now exists.

The board survey was made in sixty-three cities, including Dallas, and covered a combined population of 6,804,620 persons and 1,701,350 families. There were 162,700 doubled-up families or 9.5 per cent of the whole. This is a cross section view, but is probably applicable to the whole of the United States, so that the estimate of 1,649,000 doubled-up families for the nation is not unwarranted.

Some relief could be found in a system of adequate building at a reasonable finance cost, spread over a long period of time. This is partially cared for under existing loan terms. The difficulty of general application is obvious. In any plan, fair credit risk must be the basis of operation. As the News has noted before, impermanence of American home construction and occupation is a factor that has not been given sufficient stress or study.—Dallas News.

SCHOOL AHEAD—SLOW DOWN

During the summer months those warnings you saw on country roads and in city streets, "School Ahead—Slow Down" or "School Ahead—Watch Out!"—meant little to you. You knew the buildings were closed and the youngsters scattered to all points of the compass, and you continued your speed without slackening.

Now, however, those signs have a grave significance. Thru out the country, thirty million children have a gain picked up their textbooks and are busy at their school work. The signs are a vital warning to all motorists to watch out for the youngsters.

In spite of the efforts of school authorities and safety workers, automobile casualties still account for more child fatalities than any other accidental cause. Last year 4100 boys and girls of school age were killed in such mishaps, and many thousands more were injured, according to figures of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters.

The evidence underlying the statistics appears to place the blame heavily on motorists, for the youngsters have shown a remarkable ability to watch out for themselves by observing safety rules and principles. In five years, for example, while motor vehicle accidents involving adults have increased 34 per cent, those involving children have decreased 20 per cent.

It has been said that the achievement in the schools is the brightest spot in the entire safety movement. Children can be taught to respect and obey the rules of governing their own conduct in traffic, but they are helpless if careless motorists refuse to co-operate.

Motorists, take care for school children. The sign: "School Ahead—Slow!" is a driving command.—Hofer's Review.

GRADE CROSSINGS

For many years railroads have been eliminating grade crossings. For the last twenty years they have spent an average of some $25,000,000 annually on this work. In most states the cost is divided between railroad companies and the state under various agreements. Yet there are, probably, at least 10,000 more grade crossings in existence today than there were ten years ago, and the total number in the country is probably now at its peak. The reason is that the building of new highways (at the expense of the taxes) has created new crossings faster than they can be eliminated.

Highway needs, not railroad needs, have dictated their creation. Every one of these crossings has directly or indirectly increased railroad expenses without in the smallest degree benefiting railroad revenues, and, of course, been in the interest of the railroad's competitors, the motor, the bus and the truck. There is probably not a state in the Union in which new crossings are not being created every day.

Milton W. Harrison, president of the Security Owners' Corporation, calls the attention of Secretary Ickes to the fact that elimination of grade crossings is a work that can be undertaken at once without long delay incident to preparation of engineering plans, and that 90 per cent of its expenditures go to labor. These expenditures would be made "in congested areas where unemployment is greatest and public purchasing power lowest." In the eastern states, alone, for instance, there are 25,694 grade crossings "menacing alike to motorists and to railroad operation." Their removal would cost $1,400,000, which would provide for 9,000,000 man months of labor. He wants to know why work of this sort is not a proper public works administration affair at this time. Since 1917, the federal government alone has spent $2,308,000,000 in grants to state highways, the building of which has made the railroad effort to remove grade crossings a labor of Sisyphus.

Why is it that a project of this sort has not formed part of our public works program? It is not for lack of suggestion, for long ago it was brought to the attention of those who were considering what could be done to employ men. Is it that because it might look like "helping the railroads" it is not politically practicable? What other reason can there be? If the public works administration feels that they about it, why not limit elimination to those crossings which have been created by highway building in the last fifteen years, leaving the rest to be dealt with in the traditional way?

Why not? Is there a single good reason against it?—Wall Street Journal.

PLAYING THE GAME

Business men should respond to President Roosevelt's newly co-operative profit spirit by wholeheartedly playing the game.

Employers of labor accordingly should dismiss political considerations from their minds, and do their part in the effort to build recovery on a sound foundation.

The government can supply artificial employment only for a limited period.

It can balance the budget only through fostering the effort of private industry and commerce to re-absorb the idle and make them self-supporting again.

The beneficent spiral of recovery, which seems imminent, must rest on the ironing out of existing maladjustments.

This requires the sincere co-operation between government and business, on the one hand, and between capital and labor, on the other.

Re-employment and a recovery of the national income and of average living standards constitute the intelligent weapons with which to attack the phantoms of destructive radicalism.

In this important work, business can and must do its part.—San Antonio Light.

NEIGHBORING NEWS

ITEMS FROM LOCAL PAPERS OF TOWNS MENTIONED

Brownwood

The west Texas pecan growers meeting and winter show will be held in San Saba, Friday and Saturday, November 30 and December 1.

Brown county's work relief program, which was resumed last Friday morning, will continue until November 1, it was announced this week. During this time 466 men and forty women will be given employment.

The Fundamentalist Methodist church building is going forward rapidly. The membership and the many friends are enthusiastic as they work day and night to complete the building within a short time. The contract has been let this week for the rock work and the entire building program will be rushed to completion.

Horace White, superintendent of the May school, was elected president of the Brown County Teachers association at the Saturday afternoon session held in Brownwood. Harley Black, principal of the Holder school, was elected vice president. The county teachers association will hold regular meetings during the year. The date of the first meeting will be announced by Mr. White at an early date.

Bids for material needed in running an electric line from the city water pumping station, a short distance north of the city, to city hall and the Soldiers and Sailors Memorial hall, have been advertised for by the city of Brownwood. Materials called for in the advertisements include 2000 pounds of bare copper wire, thirty 40-foot poles, two 60-foot poles and a transformer. Electricity being generated at the pump station will be brought to town for use by the city in lighting the city hall, the Memorial hall and for operating the traffic signal lights. —Banner.

Comanche

Three cars of peanuts had been shipped from Comanche this season up to Tuesday at noon.

Less than $250 had been collected in city taxes for the new tax year up to Tuesday night.

The last rain that fell in Comanche, which amounted to as much as .05 inch, was on July 28, when .73 inch fell.

State and county tax collections are being held up pending approval of the 1934 tax roll by the state department.

Mrs. Sarah E. Neely, Comanche's oldest citizen and believed to be the oldest woman in the county, died peacefully at her home early Wednesday morning.

DeLeon officials visiting at the state highway department offices in Austin recently, were assured that the DeLeon-Comanche highway would receive its coat of asphalt surfacing before cold weather.

The Comanche county cotton crop is practically all in now, according to C. F. Denny, public weigher. 1942 bales had been received at the Comanche cotton yard Tuesday at noon as compared to 3035 for the entire season last year.—Chief.

Lometa

Carl E. Sonnemann, this week underwent a minor operation in a sanitarium in New York.

Word was received from Forrest Kirby, Tuesday that he had been successful in making the Abilene Christian College quartette.

Mrs. L. C. Mathis returned home Wednesday, after a visit in Hamilton, Fort Worth and Dallas. She went to be with her brother, Dr. W. T. Baker, in Dallas, who is in a very critical condition.

William Whittenburg had the misfortune to fall from a pecan tree, a distance of about fifteen feet, which temporarily knocked him out, but by a little rubbing and a dash of cold water soon revived him.

L. D. Kirby, Laura Tackett and Orilla Shelton went to Goldthwaite Saturday night to meet Forrest Kirby, who came home from school at A.C.C., Abilene, to spend the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. John Shelton, Orilla and Cleddie attended a family reunion at Goldthwaite Sunday. The reunion was to celebrate Mrs. T. C. Westerman's 70th birthday. Mrs. Westerman is Mrs. Shelton's mother. —Reporter

San Saba

Rev. and Mrs. Sam D. Taylor and family have returned from a visit in Louisiana.

Mrs. G. A. Wilson has arrived home, after spending several months in Europe.

Government programs have secured 10,480 cattle in San Saba county and 4802 head of sheep. Miss Blanche Burkett, a teacher at the Bend school, was a visitor in San Saba Saturday.

The first county Teachers' association ever to be organized in San Saba county, was formulated at the regular meeting of the county teachers' institute at San Saba October 13.

Eighty-one mattresses were received by the San Saba relief office Monday to be distributed to persons on direct relief, according to E. B. House, county administrator.

A rural work center, in which the canning, sewing and other community projects would be carried on, is a plan being sponsored by the Rotary club, the commissioners court and the San Saba relief board. The proposed location for the building is the north half of the jail block, which is property belonging to the county.

According to the census report on cotton, as issued by the department of commerce with Bob Norris as special agent, there were 3496 bales of cotton ginned in San Saba county of the 1934 crop prior to October 1. There were 4976 bales ginned prior to the corresponding date in 1933.

Calvin Gunter was determined to find his 1933 Chevrolet sedan that was stolen a few weeks ago, so he sent several hundred postal cards to peace officers in every section of Texas and his efforts were rewarded last week when the car was found at Barry, a small town near Corsicana. This is the second stolen car that has been recovered in recent weeks. Jeff Byrd's V8 Ford coupe was stolen recently and recovered the next day on the streets of Goldthwaite, where it had been parked.—Star.

Lampasas

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hart and two children, Mary and Joe, of Llano, are spending a few days with her father, D. Culver.

Taking advantage of excursion rates to Dallas, about thirty persons from Lampasas spent the week end there attending the fair.

Burglars entered the Union State bank at Florence some time Thursday night, but were unable to get into the safe. They entered the vault but were not successful in their attempt to open the safe. The car carrying the burglars was noticed about 5 o'clock near the bank and when an investigation was started the car left and was seen to pass through Georgetown. —Leader.

The total taxes for the city of Lampasas and the independent school district of Lampasas amounted to $33,311.84 for 1934.

Work in the sewing project started some three weeks ago is progressing nicely under the supervision of Mrs. Benton Roberts. An account of the number of garments completed each week is kept from Thursday night to the following Thursday night.

The total valuation of taxable property in Lampasas county is slightly higher this year than last, according to Assessor John B. Davis, who has just completed his rolls and turned the information over to the collector. The 1934 rendition totals $5,405,705.00 against $5,392,065.00 for 1933.

John H. Allen, Jr., county administrator of the local relief office, said Wednesday that he had received notice from state headquarters at Austin that 20,000 yards of quilt top material and 400 cotton batts had been shipped to the local office. These materials will be used in making quilts and comforters for distribution to people on the county relief rolls.—Record.

Hamilton

Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Brown visited in the home of Mrs. Charley Brown near Goldthwaite last Monday.

Mrs. L. C. Mathis of Lometa joined her sister, Mrs. R. P. Edgar, here late last week for a visit with relatives in Dallas. Mrs. Mathis stopped over here en route home, visiting with relatives and friends until Wednesday.

The purse strings of the AAA were thrown open to Hamilton county this week and livestock producers are being relieved of 1000 head of distressed cattle to the accompaniment of about $14,000. This brings the total livestock purchases in Hamilton county to about $70,000.

Rev. James L. Smart was in Hamilton for a short while last Monday. He filled an appointment to preach at the Agee Baptist church on Saturday night and Sunday. He is enjoying good health and is keeping busy. Many friends were happy to have an opportunity to greet him in the old home town.

W. H. Carter and sisters, Mrs. John Mullenix and Mrs. W. D. Snell, visited in the vicinity of Star last Sunday with their life time friend, J. H. (Uncle Joe) Dixon, who is 89 years of age, and has grown very feeble. He enjoyed very much the visit of the son and daughters of the friends of his younger days, the late Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Carter. Mr. Dixon was a citizen of prominence and influence in the Evant country for many years, and is highly esteemed by many Hamilton friends. Everyone who knows this chivalrous old gentleman will be glad to learn that he is able to be up and about his place, and finds much pleasure in his association with loved ones and neighbors, and all those others whom he has known for a long time.—Record-Herald.

CROP LIMITATION

The south's cotton growers were told Saturday by Secretary Wallace that there would be a crop limitation program for the staple in 1935. The announcement, however, did not reveal the percentage of acreage reduction that would be required, nor how much the growers would receive for their curtailment. Although no decision has been made, present indications are that the planting of about 31,000,000 acres will be the AAA goal for 1935 and that the terms of payment will be similar to those this year.

The fact that an adjustment program for cotton would be continued in 1935 apparently has been taken for granted in the south. About the only disclosure in the announcement Saturday was that producers who did not sign the 1934-35 contract would be given an opportunity to join next year's program.

GOVERNMENT BUYS LAND

Five million acres of sub-marginal farm land are destined by the powers that be to be back in the public domain before the close of the year. Farm administration and relief officials conceded they have 40 projects involving the purchase of about 4,000,000 acres in various stages of completion.

They indicate these projects are in addition to the 1,000,000 acres which the relief administrator, last week reported already purchased or under contract. He said the work of moving families from the land taken over by the government was well under way.

NEWS FLASHES

Nationalized silver is being used for the minting of the first dollars to be made since 1928. The treasury reported that approximately 53,000 of the new dollar pieces have been minted at Philadelphia. The design is the same as the "Peace" dollar, which was placed in circulation in 1921.

A Bridgewater, Mass., man told police over the telephone they had better arrest him, because he was drunk. Five hours later he called up again to find out why no policeman had come to arrest him. The police informed him if he wanted to be arrested, he should come to the police station, so two hours later he arrived at the station and was locked up.

Three Mount Vernon officers late Monday captured Harvey Ferguson, 20-year-old trusty prisoner and kidnaper of Mrs. Ennis Tittle, wife of the Franklin county sheriff, in a dense stretch of woods 15 miles south of Mount Vernon. The youth, who kidnaped Mrs. Tittle Saturday night and forced her to ride with him for 24 hours before he let her out at the Winfield, Texas, telephone exchange, made no comment except to say he knew "everyone was looking for me."

A man who apparently intended to kidnap a baby from a home in Tom Bean, Grayson county, Sunday night was driven to flight when Hebron Davis seized a carving knife and wounded the intruder. Davis was alone in the house caring for the child when the man entered. "I've come for the baby," Davis said the intruder told him. Davis grabbed the carving knife, without a word and slashed the man deeply across the face. Bleeding profusely, the man ran from the house.

Travis county deputies Saturday found a pot of gold such as reputedly rests at the end of rain bows—and three men were charged with putting the treasure where it was found. The treasure cache found in the hills of Austin, was a three-gallon pail filled to the brim with jeweled bracelets, rings, fraternity pins and other jewelry. It had been taken from the parked automobile of a fraternity jewelry salesman September 27. Three men were charged with robbery and lodged in jail.

Without mentioning the bonus, President Roosevelt told the nation's veterans Friday they were "better off" than any other great group of citizens and called to their attention the needs of the under privileged "forgotten" in every locality. Dedicating the new $1,700,000 veterans hospital in Virginia, the chief executive pledged anew the administration policy that "disabled and sick veterans shall be accorded the best treatment which medical and surgical science can supply."

President Roosevelt's appeal for a truce between capital and labor is attributed in such Washington circles as those of the National Association of Manufacturers and the United States Chamber of Commerce as directed more essentially to them than to the workers, and captains of industry seem to draw the conclusion that the White House is proposing to them to make all essential concessions that they are demanding if they will undertake to solve the unemployment problem.

A ring found in the stomach of a codfish by a Boston fisherman last week has been claimed by the Rev. E. T. Drake, of the First Presbyterian church of Orange, Texas, as one lost by him while swimming at Corpus Christi 28 years ago. The minister read of the finding of the ring in a newspaper and communicated with police authorities in Boston. The ring bore the inscription, "Pat D." the abbreviation of his mother's name, Patricia Drake. Fishermen along the waterfront, however, are debating the possibility of the codfish being 28 years old, although many have been known to live more than 30 years, they said. Besides, they said, it's a long swim from the Gulf of Mexico to the fishing grounds.

STYLES IN NEW YORK

Styles in New York this week show some delicious American styles along with the touch of the exotic and the dash of foreign inspiration which is always present in the metropolis.

Fifth Avenue saw the presentation of American frocks meant for the young in their moments of formality. One was a tunic frock, highlighted in brilliant paillettes, another showed deep square bib and cuffs of paillettes, while the third was done in a draped cowl scarf, in stripes of contrasting paillettes. The fabric was cobble crepe woven in acele, presented by one of America's most outstanding houses in the mode. Luxury and distinction were in every line. Probably the Fifth Avenue parade would not be complete, however, without its foreign tang. There was a new dress in Cossack style with open tunic and high neck, quite Russian. It was in alpaca.

The hat of the week, as designated by one of New York's leading milliners was also Russian—a Cossack turban made of black felt with binding of silver braid, and a tight little knot of the same braid as a trimming. It is worn with a black mesh veil with a three or four inch border on it—and a very delicate design—the border of the veil goes just below the nose and fits tight on the face, giving a sort of "harem" effect.

Another outstanding dress of the week featured on Fifth Avenue, was a miratone crepe, a satin back crepe with dull, pebbled surface. It has a window box neckline effect, treated with soft fabric flowers. The style is very youthful. It is meant for bridge, tea or informal wear. It is being shown in medium colors, but high shades are recommended to be worn under winter coats.

Just as this letter is ready to start on its journey to the press, Tuesday, news comes that Josh Philen died at Port Arthur Monday and was to have been buried here Wednesday.

CENTER CITY

Bro. Brown left for conference Monday. Mmes. Tom House and little daughter and Abbye Alldredge and two children accompanied him to San Marcos, for a visit with their sister, Mrs. Emma Johnson.

Our sympathy is extended to the Karnes family in the death of their little son, Carl. He was kept for some time in the hospital at Temple and then carried to Glen Rose, only to receive no hope. He died at the family home in Star Monday night and was buried at Hurst Ranch cemetery Tuesday afternoon. His grandparents and a number of other relatives live in this community and to them also is sympathy extended.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Reid are rejoicing over the arrival of a little son, who came to make his home with them last Saturday night.

The little son of Tul Wright is quite ill at the home of Mr. Wright's brother in Goldthwaite.

The program last Sunday night, led by Miss Naverne Lee, was interesting. These young people are doing good work and ask for more help from the older ones. Miss Walter Robertson has charge of the program for next Sunday.

Wedding bells rang Sunday, when Miss Yvonne Welch and Jack Tubbs of Moline were united in marriage. They left immediately for a short honeymoon and will be at home in Moline. Congratulations and all good wishes to them.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Emma Melissa Harper Tullos was born in Trinity county, Texas, August 26, 1861. She grew to womanhood near Luling, Texas, where she received a common school education. She was married to Mr. S. J. Tullos December, 1882, and moved from Navarro county to this county in 1903. To this happy union was born seven children—two girls and five boys—Mrs. Mittie Jenkins, who preceded her in death four years ago; Mrs. Gertrude Shaw, who was at her bedside at the time of her death; Jess of the Lake Merritt community; Sam of Ranger; Bell of Archer City; Jim of Mullin and Grady of Center Point community.

Grandmother was converted and joined the Missionary Baptist church at Emulate, Texas, while a young woman. She has lived a beautiful Christian life and she was always happy when her friends came to see her and she always talked to them about her great Savior. Her home was always open for Christian workers and she was happy to have her pastor visit her home. Her words of encouragement were always helpful and inspiring.

Mother Tullos loved her children as only a mother could love them, and her loving words will abide with them throughout life. She was devoted to her husband and may God bless him and still the vacant place in his heart.

She leaves, besides her family, a brother, E. B. Harper of Denton and a sister, Mrs. M. F. Kelly of Cross Plains, and other relatives and friends to mourn her death.

She passed to her Heavenly Home October 12, 1934, following several years of illness.

God has called from among us another beautiful life and planted it yonder in the mansions above this vale of tears. His will is accomplished and Heaven gains as we lose.

Dear mother and friend, we miss you, but we shall meet again never to part any more.
