Friends here of J. A. Weaver and family, who recently moved to Coleman, are glad to know they have received a hearty welcome in that city. They are desirable citizens and their friends here parted with them with regret. The Coleman Democrat-Voice says: Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railroad company has a new section foreman on the job today. He is John A. Weaver, who has been an employe of the company for about 14 years. Of the time he has been with the Santa Fe he has been a foreman for 11 years. During the time Mr. Weaver has been with the Santa Fe he has served as gang foreman, relief foreman and regular foreman. Mr. and Mrs. Weaver and daughter, Joyce May, moved to the city Monday. He takes the place of J. F. Clark, who probably will be transferred to branch line service.

ROCK SPRINGS

There were thirteen present at Sunday school Sunday morning.

I guess everybody will be glad to know when the sandstorms are over. The east wind makes us think maybe it will blow up a rain. The sandstorms have made the housework heavier for the housewives.

Mrs. Harvey Dunkle left Wednesday morning for Ardmore, Okla., where her husband and brother, Jack Robertson, have an oil well job. Her uncle, Marlon Jetton, accompanied her on the trip.

Those who visited school Friday were Mrs. Joe Roberts and John Earl and Janette, Dail Massey, John W. Roberts and Doyle Laird.

Friday afternoon twelve of our neighboring ladies met with Mrs. J. Frank Davis and organized a club. They named the club Rock Springs Workers. Collier, didn't join the bunch until afternoon. The crowd finished Mrs. Nickols snake quilt and almost finished the "throw" that they were quilting for her pillows.

Mmes. Robertson and Dunkle spent Monday night at Center City in the Walter Robertson home.

Center Point spoke about thieves in that community. They were in here, too. Two different parties have had sheep to disappear lately. There is always more or less stealing, but if times do not get better people will steal before they will starve.

Joe Roberts is able to be out again. He repaired several radios last week.

James Nickols has done quite a bit of trading with R. C. Webb. I guess the trades were alright, as both men are good traders.

Joe Almos Davis and Rudolph Cooke sat until bed time with Mrs. Nickols and boys Monday night and enjoyed the music.

Marlon Robertson and family visited Sunday afternoon in the Traylor and Robertson homes.

Hillard Dyches and family from Breckenridge spent Saturday night and Sunday in the Dunkle and Robertson homes.

Lost 20 Lbs. of FAT In Just 4 Weeks

A St. Louis, Mo., lady wrote: "I'm only 28 yrs. old and weighed 170 lbs, until taking one box of your Kruschen Salts just 4 weeks ago. I now weigh 150 lbs. I also have more energy and furthermore I've never had a hungry moment."

Fat folks should take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast—a quarter pound jar lasts 4 weeks—you can get Kruschen at any drug store in America. If not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back.

LIME SHORTAGE IN SOIL

Soil on American farms has now reached a point where the lime content is so low that unless it is added each year crops suffer. Rain dissolving the mineral and carrying it to lower levels in the ground and the steady demand of crops has gradually reduced the natural supply. Why this has happened and why it is now profitable to spend money for lime application is readily seen when the extent of the crop demands are known. In every 100 bushels of corn taken from a field are two and a half pounds of that field's limestone, and in the same amount of wheat there is double the amount. In a ton of blue grass there are 17 pounds of lime, and in each ton of clover hay there are 75 pounds. A ton of alfalfa contains 100 pounds of the mineral. Each 1,000-pound steer that is driven to market carries away 40 pounds of lime and a 200 pound hog contains five pounds. A ten gallon a day milk production means a yearly loss of 80 pounds of lime from the soil.—Pathfinder.

Personally we have no objection to a woman judge, but our guess is that most of the female divorce hunters would take their cases to another court.—Dallas News.

Looking on at the new creations of the fashion experts, we understand that the idea now is to alter the ladies to fit the garments.—Tyler Courier-Times.

DAILY HAZARDS

Recently a large life insurance company concluded a study of 117,000 accidents with the opinion that the risk from injury at home is "almost seven times as great as when riding on buses, taxicabs, boats, airplanes, trains and other public conveyances." The National Safety Council reports that our annual automobile slaughter kills only five per cent more people than home accidents, about which we hear next to nothing. Indeed, in some cities the motor car runs second to the domestic accident as an undertaker's leader.

Considering the occupational hazards of industry, it is interesting to note that while 15,000 people were accidentally killed in the entire industrial field in 1932, 28,000 were killed at home—almost twice as many.

POWER ZONE    COMFORT ZONE    ECONOMY ZONE

V-8 POWER    Comfort Zone Riding    FORD ECONOMY

With the introduction of the V-8 engine, Ford brought a new standard of performance to the low-priced field.

Gives the ease, smoothness and comfort of a "front seat ride" even to back seat passengers—an important engineering advance.

Why take less?

FORD has always aimed to make the automobile-buying dollar go as far as possible. This year, the 1935 Ford V-8 gives you traditional Ford low prices, traditional Ford operating economy—and, in addition, riding comfort, body roominess, new beauty and new safety features that will satisfy the requirements of almost everyone.

Consider some of the major improvements in the Ford V-8 for 1935. Take Comfort: From this standpoint alone, what a completely rounded car this is! Comfort Zone Riding that gives "front seat comfort" even to rear seat passengers. Deep cushioned, high-backed, wider seats. Big, air-balloon tires. Easier steering and a newly-designed clutch that responds to the touch of your foot.

Consider safety: There's safety glass all around—on all models—at no additional cost. A new, welded all-steel body. New, more powerful brakes, with an unusual high ratio of braking surface to car weight. And a lower center of gravity that gives increased safety and stability on curves!

Why be satisfied to receive less than this for your money? Examine this new 1935 Ford V-8. Ride in it. You will realize that it is truly a new automobile value.

Glee Club Goes To Belton
 By Naomi Langford
 At a meeting of the girls glee club several weeks ago, it was decided for the club to enter the Texas Music contest at Belton April 13.

The director, Mrs. Sullivan, has drilled and worked constantly to prepare the eighteen girls for the final contest. These girls are fully prepared and are in high spirits about the trip.

This trip is probably the most important event of the season. If Goldthwaite comes back winner, the trip will be successful.

Goldthwaite high school will have contestants for girls glee club, girls trio, high and low solos and piano solo.

He has a football sweater with three stripes on it. He has fond hopes of going to Schreiner Institute next year. He weighs 165 pounds, and is about six feet one inch tall.

This is the first year in Goldthwaite high school for this particular student. He is a senior and says he is going to graduate this year. He is a likeable chap and seems to have a good many friends among the student body. He sometimes fails to bring up his memory work in English and has to stay after school to get it. He is about five feet, eleven inches tall and weighs about 160 pounds. He has black hair and dark eyes.

Now, who are these two seniors?

An increase of $19,000,000 in farmers' cash income, including benefit payments, during February compared with that month a year ago was reported by the bureau of agricultural economics at Washington.

The Association of American Railroads announced that loadings of revenue freight for the week ended March 30, were 617,485 cars, an increase of 9705 above the preceding week, 7295 above the corresponding week in 1934 and 119,129 above 1933.

The conservation and reclamation committee of the Texas house voted a unanimous favorable report to a bill to establish a state corporation to construct and operate giant pipe line from the Texas Panhandle to St. Louis and Detroit. The company would be authorized to receive a federal loan and grant of $60,000,000 to construct the system.

Every family in Toole, Okla., school district, in the northwestern part of Pittsburg county, owns a car and there is only one person in the district who uses coffee and tobacco and even he shuns liquor. The reason—there are only two families in the district. The school has been ordered closed next year, because there are only two pupils available.

Alarmed at the ravages of water erosion and dust storms in the western area, senators and representatives from five states this week sought $150,000,000 from the newly authorized public works bill for emergency soil erosion work. Barring under the leadership of Chairman Jones of Texas, of the house agriculture committee, the group will call on President Roosevelt with its demands.

Insistent reports that a herd of ibex is ranging in the Big Bend country around Boulder Dam moved skeptical government authorities to investigate. Presumably the ibex—if such the animals are—descended from those placed in Nevada a quarter of a century ago by President Theodore Roosevelt. Numerous citizens of that area, insist they have seen the animals—a variety of wild mountain goats, found usually only in Asia and Africa.

A report from Oklahoma City says that with one signature, Governor E. W. Marland ordered the release of 48 prisoners from the McAlester penitentiary. He commuted the sentences of the prisoners, canceling fines and court costs against them, in addition to giving them credit for time served in county jails before their commitments. The mass liberation was the first such act of clemency filed in years. In addition, he issued ten paroles, including two convicted murderers.

John Dillinger carried a deadly steel automatic instead of a wooden gun, when he made his celebrated escape from the Lake county jail in Indiana. This was the finding of the United States department of justice bureau of Investigation in a report stating that the notorious desperado fled his cell without help from his jailers. The automatic pistol was carried to Dillinger by his Indian sweetheart on a visit to the jail according to the report to the United States attorney at Fort Wayne.

A unique system of old age pensions for Texas was proposed in the Texas house of representatives Monday. The age of a person would determine the amount of the pension. Those between 60 and 65, who had lived in Texas five years, would receive $30 a month; those between 65 and 70, would receive $35, and so on. The fund would be created by an additional ad valorem tax and by a $5 annual head tax on all Texans between the ages of 21 and 60. Those failing to pay the head tax would be ineligible for the pension in their old age.

A citizen of Houston has undertaken a frog farming experiment on his two-acre tract, 30 miles northeast of Houston. He has purchased six pairs of bullfrogs and during the next few months expects to raise thousands of their offsprings. His frog pond will be made attractive with water lilies and willow trees will provide shade. He plans to ornament his wire fence with moon vines. He will take steps to combat the frogs' four chief enemies, owls, cats, snakes and mischievous boys. The food supply of the frogs will be provided by stocking the pond with small shiner fish, crayfish and shrimp. Electric lights burning at night and attracting countless bugs will increase the food supply. His farm will consist of three ponds, one large one and two smaller ones. He hopes to sell between 20,000 and 30,000 frogs.

LIVING AT HOME

When one has a pretty good living in tin cans and fruit jars, Old Man Trouble isn't going to make it so terribly hard on him.

Our gardening season is early. If the dry weather sets in like it did last year vegetation will burn up before we get into the summer. But once those beans and peas and tomatoes are in a can and on the pantry shelf you have a strong line of defense against a drouth, depression or calamity of any kind.

It has been said that Texas farmers depend too much on the policy of raising cotton and buying everything else.

The cotton situation is such that it should be changed. Get everything pressure cooked if possible; fight distress back with good judgment and work. When this is done, there will be much less suffering in our state. The long Texas growing season; the early spring makes it possible for us to do better than the farmers in any other state.—Waco Record.

CENTER CITY

All enjoyed the misty weather Tuesday and the nice shower Wednesday morning, only to be disappointed later in the day with the northwest wind blowing as if another sandstorm was on the way.

Crops are growing nicely, considering the dry weather we have been having. We see prosperity on all sides. Joe Langford now drives a new car. J. M. Geeslin a new one. W. W. Head a nice car and Hollis Hendry a good coupe and probably there are others I have not learned of.

Brook McCaland is very busy hauling rock to build a fine new home. He has made a number of trips to San Saba for the marble rock for trimming, etc.

The new girl of Mr. and Mrs. Stacy McCaland has had many visitors. She is quite a favorite in that family, being the only girl for four big boys to care for. We extend deepest sympathy to the Lacy family in the loss of their mother.

All the teachers were in Brownwood last week end for the track meet. Miss Keese accompanied three of her declaimers, Glen and Gladys Geeslin and Avril Carter. Mr. Womack took his daughter, Miss Virginia, also to declaim. All are glad Gladys won second place and Glen third. We are more than proud of our school. The pupils have done mighty well.

The junior girls won first place in the glee club singing, and they keep the cup, which makes four for the school.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Lee entertained Prof. Cooke and his ball team with a 6 o'clock dinner last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ercher McCasland, Mrs. J. M. Geeslin, Mrs. Hubert Geeslin and Bro. Liles visited school Wednesday.

We are very sorry to learn that Mr. Frank Karnes suffered a stroke of paralysis Tuesday. We all hope he will be improving soon.

Saturday and Sunday will be church days at the Baptist church. The glee club will sing for the Sunday morning service.

MOUNT OLIVE HIGH SCHOOL

April 26—A play entitled "The Wild Oats Boy," to be presented at the school house.

May 8—Graduation exercises.

May 9—Senior play, entitled "Sally Lynn."

Teachers Elected

Sick List

We are very sorry that Nellie Ruth and Almata Koen are sick with the measles.

We have been lucky to keep the measles out of our school this year. We have not put on many plays, but we have kept the measles down in the community.

Seventh Grade

The seventh grade has ordered their diplomas. They will have their graduation exercises May 8 with the seniors.

Joe Bailey Kirby and Lorene Hodges made straight A cards this month. It will be hard to tell who will win honors, as several have made excellent records.

Mr. Cooke entertained the sixth and seventh grades with a marshmallow roast Tuesday night. Everyone enjoyed it.

We Wonder Why

Mr. Cooke kept Maudine and Violet in at recess Monday? Violet did not come to school Tuesday?

Clinton likes to practice the play? Lorene enjoyed the dance at Lindsay's so much?

Miss Blackwell spent the week end at Brownwood.

District Meet

Miss Blackwell and Billy Hightower went to Brownwood last Friday. Billy did not place in declamation, but he did very well and we are very, very proud of him and think he's a great help to our school.

Humor

Ural Lawson stood in the entrance to the cobbler's shop watching the man at work.

"What do you repair boots with, Mister?" he suddenly asked.

"Hide," replied the cobbler sharply.

"Er-r-r, eh?" asked Ural.

"I said hide," replied the cobbler impatiently.

"What for?" Ural insisted, somewhat surprised.

"Hide! The cow's outside," sighed the man.

"Don't care if it is. Who's afraid of a cow, anyway?" said the youngster, defiantly.

Flowers to the Living

If a stranger should see him he would guess him to be about a seventh grader, so small, so modest and so undignified, is he But, although T. H. McArthur is very young, "very small and very undignified," he's a senior—and one of the most intelligent boys in school. He is very good-natured; has a witty come-back to his fellow classmates and has the friendship of all who know him.

Black-Draught For Dizziness, Headache Due To Constipation

"I have used Theoford's Black-Draught several years and find it splendid," writes Mr. G. W. Holley, of St. Paul, Va. "I take it for dizziness or headache (due to constipation). I have never found anything better. A short while ago, we began giving our children Syrup of Black-Draught as a laxative for colds and little stomach ailments, and have found it very satisfactory." Millions of packages of Theoford's Black-Draught are required to satisfy the demand for this popular, old reliable, purely vegetable laxative. 35¢ a package. "Children like the Syrup."

Seniors of 1935

Jewel Bramblett

The seniors of Priddy high are the seniors of today, Soon they'll receive their diplomas

And then they'll go away. Some will travel to foreign lands Far under the bright blue sky; But when they win, they'll return again

To the place called Priddy high. When happy school days have passed and gone, We'll recall them with a sigh; We'll pray and yearn and weep and cry.

For the years of Priddy high.

The Seniors Couldn't Do Without

Wiederbusch's pleasing ways. Hohertz's smile. Hein's laugh. Ivy's jokes. Mason's singing. Drueckhammer's pimples. Stahnke's Priddy high jacket. Hill's red hair. Stewart's booties. Lubke's temper. Bramblett's lipstick. Bufe's jolly disposition. Naurert's manners. Schwartz's silly sayings. And do we miss Petty? You would be an "ideal girl" if you had:

Miss Swindle's patience. Hilma's eyes. Paula's hair. Edna's mouth. Jewel's complexion. Ethel's disposition. Tuffy's smile. Miss Watson's ears. Miss Brazier's figure. Mrs. Brown's wilful attitude. You would be an "ideal boy" if you had:

Henry's figure. Mutt's mouth. Pete's disposition. Johnnie's complexion. Walter's nose. J. T.'s hair and eyes. Mr. Grimland's ears. Mr. Cunningham's walk. Mr. Hein's voice.

Interesting People

This is the first year that this senior has had the great honor to go to Priddy high school. He has made many friends since he started here. He is about six feet tall and weighs about 160 lbs. He has blue eyes and rather dark and slightly wavy hair. He is a good all-around sport and good tennis player. He is a fair student in all his subjects and we think he will be in the senior play and he is Henry Naurert—no other.

She is just another one of those real sports. She is little, but loud and has dark hair and eyes. She weighs about 100 pounds and is five feet in height. She won first place in tennis at the county meet and she is a fair student in school. She also sings in the glee club and has a good voice, and we are sorry to say Edna is a senior of 1935. She is our sports editor in part.

You see him sitting very quiet reading his lesson or a story book. Imagine! He is never idle! He is an ideal sport and has pleasing ways and a loving smile. He is our boys sports editor and he can draw anything from a grasshopper to an elephant. He is one of our star players in basketball. J. T. Ivy is a senior and a lively one at that. He has made many friends that I'm sure will not easily forget him.

Ninth Grade

We are now reading Sohrab and Rustum in English.

Everyone in our class has been present every day of this week and we are very proud of this attendance.

Nicknames of the Sophomores
Viola Limmer, Ola; Wilma Naurert, Snookie; Helga Tischler, Sally; Nelda Jeske, Caesar; Dora Mae Steinmann, Door Mouse; Hazel Eakin, Snookie; Ira Townsend, Dusty; Charlie Ivy, Mutt; Fred Scott, Simple.

Interesting People

She is a member of the sophomore class and is a good sport and true pal. Everyone likes her and she has many friends in this school. She wears a never-ending smile and has lovable and kind ways. She played baseball at county meet this year and is also a member of the band. We are glad to say that Viola Limmer will be in school with us two more years.

He is also a sophomore of '35. He is a funny and likable person and his classmates look upon him as a good sport. He has always done his part in track work for his school. Mutt Ivy is one who is always willing to do anything that is asked of him.

School News

The seventh grade pupils are now reading the poem of the "Vision of Sir Launfal," which they are going to study carefully, as they believe they will need it later in high school.

They are also finishing the story of "Six Feet Six," which tells about the life of Sam Houston.

The sixth grade is going to hand in the note books a week or two before school is out, which means a great deal of steady work for them.

Imagine M. C. Walker working in his history note book. Earl Henkle has been absent for some time. We hope it doesn't take him long to finish his work, so he can come back to school.

We have found it very difficult to get all our daily assignments in arithmetic. After the last recess we prove to our teacher that we have all assignments, showing him our work. If we don't have it, we find physical education just the time to get them.

The ones on the honor roll in the fifth grade are Arnold Koch and Myrtle Schrank.

Third and Fourth Grades

Reginald Wiedebruch was absent Monday on account of sickness.

Wendall Willis was absent on Monday, having gone to Brownwood.

We are all looking forward to Easter.

We hope to take this play to some other school soon.

The home economic girls have been studying things that are becoming to different shapes of faces. Miss Watson seems as interested in this line of work as the students.

These modern home economic girls adore spinning wheels, but she wants four of them and a spare on the rear.

Civics Club

The civics club has been reading over some plays from which the seniors will select one.

A SAD MESSAGE

Mrs. C.H. Ford received a message last Friday, telling of the death of her sister, Mrs. Ella Franklin, aged 78, of Lebanon, Ind. Mrs. Franklin was also a sister of the late P. H. Clements and Mrs. Mille Hutchings of this place. She has twice been to Texas, visiting among her relatives here.

BO-PEEP

A LIBERAL POLICY

The Eagle has been more liberal than judicious in the matter of subscriptions for the past three years, owing to the depression, but the time has come when all newspapers are being required to cull their lists to those who really want and pay for the paper. One requirement recently brought to the attention of the Eagle management is that the paper can only be sent through the postoffice at the second class rate to bona fide subscribers and business men who carry advertisements and are entitled to a copy of the paper to check such advertisements, but the old "free and easy" policy must be abandoned.

WILLARD THE WIZARD SHOW COMING TO GOLDTHWAITE

When it became generally known that the Willard Magical and Illusion show was coming to Goldthwaite for a 3-day engagement, starting Monday, April 15, many favorable comments were heard on all sides, for the Willard show has become almost known as a state institution, for from the first time that the Willard show made its appearance in Texas over 50 years ago with Mr. J. M. Willard, presenting his wonderful entertainment, the show has now grown into the biggest and best of its kind in the whole United States.

Mr. Harry Willard, son of the original Willard the Wizard, has been presenting the show to the public, at times appearing in the largest theatres of the country and during the summer months, showing in his big 1000 seating capacity tent theatre. AN ENORMOUS APPROPRIATION

The appropriation of approximately five billion dollars by the federal congress for the president's work relief program sets a precedent for a peace-time appropriation, but if the use of the immense sum is helpful in restoring normal work conditions and incomes to the millions of unemployed it will have a beneficial effect. The statement was made during the debate over the appropriation that the immense sum was needed to put more than three million people on payrolls at fair wages and the president's contention for authority to pay fair and reasonable wages was accepted and he was given practically a free hand in making distribution of the immense sum. The plan is to provide work rather than a dole for those who are needy and certainly that plan should appeal to the country, in contradistinction to the prevailing direct relief plan. Many worthy people are, doubtless, receiving the dole or direct relief who would be glad of an opportunity to earn what they get, while those who prefer the dole or charity should be forced to work. It is believed that the distribution of the five billions will assist the business of the country to regain its losses and get back to normal. Much ground work will have to be done by the administration helpers before the money will begin to flow into trade and commercial channels, but the fact that the appropriation has been made will give a good tone to business and the spirit of the public. Of course, in handling such a stupendous amount there will be some waste and more or less graft among the distributors, but the major portion of the money will reach the proper channels and save thousands from want and suffering, as well as getting the business of the country on a better financial basis.

STATE AID FOR SCHOOLS

The state's policy of helping the public schools under a system denominated as "rural aid" has come to be a necessity and the public now wonders how the free schools were maintained without this assistance. Certainly the school system of the state would suffer without these appropriations. However, this state aid should not be depended upon entirely for various reasons, one of which is the growing delinquent tax lists in the state. The money appropriated by the state must come from taxes collected, but if such tax money is not paid in the cause is in a more desperate condition than it would have been had it not depended upon the appropriation.

In a discussion of this subject the Texas Tax Journal says that "several years ago the legislature started the custom of appropriating money out of the general revenue fund to the available school fund under the name of "rural aid." At first the appropriations were modest, but only a few days ago the house appropriated the colossal sum of $10,000,000 for rural aid. The puzzle is where is this amount and the other millions coming from? Fifty per cent of the taxable property is not assessed, and at least 20 per cent that is assessed is delinquent and no effort made to collect it. Land can not stand any more taxes, and additional taxes on industry may not work out as planned."

OLD AGE PENSION

The old age pension plan has not made an appreciable headway in recent weeks and those favoring such a system do not appear to have gotten together on the plan. Some favor the federal government providing the entire amount and levying a sales tax throughout the nation to provide the funds, while others want the various states to provide a portion of the money. Various organizations have been formed over the country in advocacy of a pension plan, but the outlook for the success of the plan does not, in reality, appear as favorable as it did earlier in the session of congress. President Roosevelt favors a system of pensions, but is not committed to the Townsend plan, which is by far the most liberal of any yet suggested. While everybody realizes that the amount set out in that demand is too high, they also realize that the pension must be liberal if the system is to accomplish all that was intended for it at the outset. A salient feature of that plan is that all persons of a certain age must retire from gainful occupations, thereby giving their work to younger people and remedying permanently the unemployment situation. However, serious objections can be urged to that plan and it can be stated with much confidence that such a plan will not be put in force in this country for many years to come and certainly not during the present administration.

HELPING WITH TRAFFIC SAFETY

Alarmed by the frightful record of traffic accidents, which is steadily on the increase, the American Legion and Auxiliaries have planned a mighty drive for safety of the highways and streets. The announcement from the Legion headquarters says the forces of those organizations will unite with other safety organizations, such as the automobile associations and insurance companies. Among the methods planned will be a uniform traffic control law and financial responsibility statutes throughout the nation. It is proposed to inaugurate a system of instruction for safety and an educational campaign among the school children. The formation of school boy patrols in every city, town and hamlet is among the recommendations, which include the co-operation of all members of the Legion and Auxiliaries. If these organizations accept the recommendations of their headquarters and enter heartily into the campaign for prevention of accidents, the record for this and later years will be a big reduction in the death and injury toll of the streets and highways. They will instruct pedestrians as well as drivers in methods of accident prevention, which will be the most important part of the undertaking.

LOOKING INTO RECORDS

A great amount of discussion has been going on over the government's policy in the curtailment of cotton acreage, while the condition and future of the tenant farmers has attracted considerable attention. This has caused a look at the records by some interested parties and it is now claimed, or stated as a fact, that tenantry is on the increase. While the cotton section shows by far the greatest percentage of tenants, there is a rapid increase in tenantry in the corn growing sections of the country. Another surprising fact develops from the investigation and that is that the per cent of increase in tenant farming is much larger with white people than with negroes. The government's present policy of assisting by farm loan agencies and home owners' relief will in all probability remedy this situation to a considerable extent and the government's policy toward decreasing cotton acreage may, therefore, not be as hurtful to the tenant farmers than many now imagine.

CHILD HEALTH DAY

"Texas will unite with other states throughout this country on May 1, in the celebration of Child Health Day," says the state health officer. The flag flown from government buildings the other 364 days in the year all symbolize some activity of or in behalf of grown-ups. They pledge loyalty to the government, commemorate great historical events, or the deeds of national heroes. But—in accordance with the act of congress under which Child Health Day was made a national day—for this one day the star spangled banner is displayed on public buildings as a reminder of the obligation of all citizens to care for and maintain the health and well-being of the children and young people of the nation, those upon whom the duties and responsibilities of citizenship will rest in the future.

"The purpose of the Child Health Day observance, national and state," the health officer said, is to focus attention on the inherent right of every child to health, happiness and intelligent care; to opportunities for normal growth and development, physical, mental and spiritual, and to community responsibility for seeing that such care is available for all children. Child Health day is not an end in itself. Instead, it marks the beginning of the year-round activities of all forces charged with the maintenance and well-being of the children and young people of this state.

Some of the things to which attention should be given in connection with the observance of Child Health Day include:

The right of every mother to adequate care, before, during and after the birth of the baby.

The right of every child to adequate care.

The right of every young child to be protected against diphtheria and smallpox.

The nutritional needs of growing children and the importance of milk, whole grain cereals, green leafy vegetables and fruits in their diets.

The recreational needs of children and young people; provision for safe, suitable places for play and pleasure.

THE COMING CONVENTION
By Max Bentley

The 1935 general convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is five weeks away. Dates are Monday-Tuesday-Wednesday, May 13-14-15. Host city is Plainview.

Plans are maturing on a half-dozen fronts to make the convention notable, in the number of paid registrations, number of towns represented, in color, and—most important—in quickly getting to the heart of what West Texas needs most for its prosperity and development and in formulating a program of work calculated to meet those needs. The organization's 1935-36 year, from convention to convention, then will be devoted to carrying out the program laid down as the membership's mandate at Plainview.

The convention will major this year on the following three points, all fundamental in the life of West Texas:

Taxation: A clear-cut program will be devised with the objective of obtaining needed relief for the sorely pressed property owner who pays 75 per cent of the taxes of Texas, although holding only 33 1-3 per cent of its wealth. On an average, ad valorem or real estate taxes in this state total an annual assessment of 3.75 per cent of the investment, and property is not earning 3.75 per cent or anywhere near it.

Agriculture: In this group conference close examination will be made of the Bankhead bill for determination whether the West Texas Chamber should favor its continuance, with important changes, or favor its abandonment altogether. The regional organization already is on record as opposing the acreage control feature and favoring domestic allotment instead.

Clifford B. Jones of Spur, former WTCC president, will be president of the agricultural group conference.

Territorial Development: A great diversity of problems will be considered by this group conference, with emphasis upon development of the Chamber's soil erosion program, and the Brazos river and other developments.

CONDITIONS IN TEXAS

The Santa Fe railroad company's bulletin says of conditions in Texas:

Weather conditions during the past month over the greater part of Texas were generally beneficial, and as a result field activity was greatly speeded up, except in the northwestern parts of the state where abnormally dry or spotted conditions obtain. There is sufficient moisture for present needs, generally, while in the eastern half of the state moisture is abundant. Seasonal work now is about normal, except in the western areas, and outlook for spring planting of crops is excellent.

Conditions of potatoes in the Eagle Lake-Glen Flora section is good, with rapid growth. Acreage this season is about the same as that of last year.

Cotton planting is well under way over a large portion of the state. A late February freeze necessitated considerable replanting in southern districts. Ultimate acreage is not determined. Cotton acreage in the west will be increased.

Tomato progress in East Texas is well along as practically transplanting to open fields has been completed. Plants have started growth vigorously and indications are that there will be a substantially increased production as compared with previous years.

Onion growth in North Texas continues good to excellent. Weather conditions have been favorable and with a favorable season in the ground, prospects in this territory are bright.

Planting of early rice in coastal areas has started under conditions that are encouraging with good outlook.

There has been a heavy increase in watermelon and cantaloupe planting on the Bolivar Peninsula, Bellville area and the territory adjacent to Milano.

There will be a substantial increase in acreage as compared with last year. Recent rains helping wheat in the major producing wheat districts of the Texas Panhandle, but the situation still is spotted and more moisture is needed. Dust storm damage in the last few days is undetermined.

Ranges and pastures continue to show rapid improvement as warmer weather and beneficial rains bring out grass and weeds. This particularly is true in the eastern half of the state. In the extreme western section conditions are fair to poor, according to needed rain. In northwestern sections insufficient moisture and dust storms have been extremely detrimental to ranges and small grain pastures. Cattle have held up as well as could have been expected in view of the heretofore poor range conditions.

WILD-LIFE CONSERVATION

The Select Committee on Conservation of Wild-Life Resources, created pursuant to a resolution of the Seventy-Third Congress, has brought in a report that is disquieting. First, it is stated, as a result of its extensive investigations and hearings, that there is not only a steady decrease of game and game fish, but a corresponding increase in the number of hunters and fishermen, due partly to the increased number of unemployed and partly to the increased interest in outdoor life. And as to land wild life, there is an alarming decrease due to the drainage, deforestation, erosion, fire, disease, water pollution and the increasing number of hunters. An ironic instance is furnished in the complete devastation (thru drainage) of an area which, by proclamation of President Theodore Roosevelt, was set apart as nurseries for wild fowl. "Ding," now "Mrs. Darling, chief of the United State bureau of biological survey," gave like testimony about another area in the same state, Oregon, once the greatest breeding ground for wild life and water fowl in the country. Water has been led off for irrigation purposes, but the extravagant enterprise has failed; meanwhile the wild life has disappeared.

These are but instances of what is going on in many parts of the country. This means not only an economic loss by reason of the destruction of certain industries (the fishing industry represents a billion dollar business), but the devastation of a recreation estate that belongs to the whole nation.—New York Times.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

VIEW OF THE NATION'S PRESS ON TOPICS OF INTEREST AND IMPORTANCE

NOT A SOLUTION

The current talk in Washington of trade retaliation against nations discriminating against us has very unpleasant implications about it. No one in this section is likely to question that there is justification for retaliation—that point will readily be conceded by federal officials—but there will be real apprehension of further trade losses, intensifying the ills of a situation already bad.

Nor is it quite clear that we are in a defensible position in our contention against the alleged discriminations. Various nations have adopted various methods of controlling imports, of granting trade favors in return for trade favors. The United States has adopted the method of reciprocal treaties. We agree to reduce certain tariff duties if the nation with which we are bargaining agrees to reduce certain duties. To be sure, we grant the lower tariff rate to all countries, and, therefore, maintain a show of equal treatment, nevertheless the purpose, in each case, is to give a benefit to the particular nation with which we are bargaining in return for a benefit. For instance, we guarantee to keep coffee on the free list. How can that help anyone save Brazil and a very few other countries? Technically we are in the clear, we are discriminating against no one, but it is more than likely, other nations can make such such defense of their various systems.

We are at the distinct disadvantage that we have more need of trading with most nations than they have of trading with us. In fact, there is evidence that many nations of the world would be quite content to exclude us from world trade generally. Indulgence in retaliation in such a situation is calculated to do us a great deal more good than harm, pending, of course, the time, if it ever comes, when we can bring the offending countries to heel.

The south will not quarrel with the retaliation threats, or action, per se. Rather, it will urge, with more emphasis than ever, an entirely new approach to the problem of foreign trade, and a more far-reaching effort than any yet adopted to reestablish our foreign markets.—Houston Chronicle.

FOLLOW THE DOLLAR

As we are frequently informed through the press, the dollar is on the move. Right now it requires more dollars to buy pork and beans or shirts and pants than it did only a short time ago. As these commodities and their equivalents are things we must all use, it is obvious that unless it also requires more dollars to buy such products as printing, for instance, the printer will be on short rations of pork and beans and it is possible that he might ultimately lose his shirt and, even more embarrassing, his pants.

Now this is not economics which are vague, involved and disputed by all true economists. This is just plain understandable fact. If what we must buy is to cost us more dollars now and in the future than in the past then it is obvious, if we are not ourselves to lose, that what we sell must bring us more dollars. Any industry which would prosper or even hold its ground must be alive to the fact that its prices must follow the buying power of the dollar it receives for its products or commodities.—Southwestern Ambassador.

SAFETY SUGGESTIONS

A traffic expert has worked out the following table of accident probabilities for motorists:

If you cut out of line of traffic, your chances of having an accident are multiplied by 50. If you drive over 40 miles an hour, your chances of having an accident are multiplied by 25. If you pass another car on a curve, your chances of having an accident are multiplied by 10. If you fail to signal a turn or stop, your chances of having an accident are multiplied by 5. It is as hard for drivers to take advice as for

THE TARIFF AND COTTON

The south should join in the invitation of Texas to form a compact among the cotton states to sponsor and support legislation which is sorely needed. An unaccountable lethargy seems to grip the south just now, strangely enough at the very time when a Democratic administration is in office and when southern influence in congress is perhaps stronger than it has ever been. The economic domination of the south by tariff-protected minorities must be overthrown; not convulsively, to be sure, but patiently through a program of leveling tariff walls and bringing about a balanced economy through a more equitable geographical distribution of industry and wealth. This is the goal toward the attainment of which a united South should pledge untiring effort. And the South's success will be measured by its unity. Voices are crying aloud in the wilderness of the south, strong clarion-clear voices vibrating the length of the land, but the effort remains to amass them in a well-directed chorus. At no time was it more true that in unity there is strength. The South should organize in the protection of its destiny; its premises should be enunciated, its efforts synchronized, and its program prosecuted with relentless vigor. In this unity among the southern states lies the hope of a distraught nation. Far from being sectional controversy, the forthcoming struggle between privilege and justice will agitate divergent groups the nation over. The problem is merely more clearly defined in the South, where the dependence of a great section of the country on a single export commodity illustrates with simplicity the futility of economic nationalism. For more than a century the South has been the chief sufferer from a high tariff system which has lately become intolerable. Even had the subjugation of the south resulted in the sublimation of the nation at large the justice of forcing one section of the country to bear the burden of progress for others is doubtful at best. But it has sublimated into existence, and it has produced economic maladjustments of such alarming intensity that an entire nation is still in the throes of a profound depression which is now far into its sixth year. The time has come for a mighty movement to reform the commercial policies of the United States, and it is not only proper but probably necessary that this movement spring from the Democratic South.—Texas Weekly.

FEEDING PREJUDICES

Most of us who consider ourselves broadminded are anything but that. Otherwise, how can we account for the fact that we are seldom interested in reading "the other side" of any question.

We read almost exclusively such books, periodicals and news papers as we know in advance will generally coincide with our own views. Few Republicans subscribe for a red hot Democratic newspaper, or vice versa. People take church papers only of their own denomination. Capitalists take few labor papers, and laboring men would hardly look at one that reflects the capitalistic viewpoint.

In other words, we all have more or less confirmed opinions on nearly every important subject and do not admit that there may be some virtue in the opposite view.

As a recent writer has said, "The only facts we can tolerate are those we already know." We read, not really to learn anything new, but for the purpose of confirming ourselves in our present beliefs and prejudices.—Pine Plains, N. Y., Register-Herald.

Experience seems to be the only teachers. But by that time it is frequently too late. The school bell is inaudible in the morgue. But only those who heed will keep their heads, not to mention their legs and arms.—Los Angeles Times.

OUR TRADE WITH

It is doubtful whether Secretary Hull's threat of trade agreements will be effective in materially lowering the country's present quotations against American goods. France would dislike to see the threat carried out as long as France clings to gold standard and has added necessity of limiting European neighbors Germany's compliance demands may be out of question.

In her struggle to maintain economic and monetary parity France has sought a quota system that is vastly more effective than the highest import duties. Automobiles, petroleum, cotton seed products, miscellaneous manufactures, radios, shoes and are among the American exports affected in the market. France has a vast textile and other manufacturing, including silks, linens and liquors, also agricultural products as nuts and cork. Any made by France at present most likely be made in gold countries and to that that are needed as the aggressiveness of another reason that Hull's demand may be answered is found in the trade balance which is of this country. American reports last year were against imports of $1.5 billion. There was a time when can tourist money of France largely offset the balance, but tourist trade declined drastically. This is not in a position to demand unless demands accompanied by attack.

Nevertheless, Secretary Hull's only course is to take him in a difficult position not subjected to too much pressure from tariff-protected industries of this country. It is able to drive some of the gain eventually. If France goes from the gold standard into existence, and it has produced economic maladjustments of such alarming intensity that an entire nation is still in the throes of a profound depression which is now far into its sixth year. The time has come for a mighty movement to reform the commercial policies of the United States, and it is not only proper but probably necessary that this movement spring from the Democratic South.—Texas Weekly.

IMPROVING APPEARANCE

Much progress has been made in many sections of the state toward beautification of communities in anticipation of the coming Centennial celebration of 1936, while in others much work still remains to be done.

The Texas Centennial commission directs attention to the fact that much can be accomplished with yards and lawns in a short space of time, but a year is none too long a space in which to assure the growth of flowers. Trees particularly are out of the question unless already planted, but trees planted now will pay a dividend in future enjoyment.

Attention of the commission has been called of recent months to many civic beautification projects in connection with centennial preparations. Only recently one town placed display advertising in the newspapers calling for beautification under caption "What Impression Will Our Town Leave to the Centennial Visitors." The text of this advertisement, applicable to many sections and communities of the state, directed attention to the fact that visitors will be drawn to the centennial from all corners of the nation and many will come by automobile and pass through the towns. Then was asked:

Will they find our town with a "don't care" manner, or a town of well kept homes, with beautiful streets, yards and gardens? Will they remember our town because of its civic appearance? Will they linger a while longer because of the beauty and attractiveness found here? The answer is with the citizens.

It may be assumed that the average citizen takes a pride in his home and would have it appear at its best under any circumstances. But with the approach of the centennial the public-spirited citizen is given an added incentive. All Texas is planning to beautify.

SHELTER BELT STARTED

The federal shelter belt program, through which it is hoped to protect millions of acres in the Great Plains region of the United States from drought and dust storms, was started in Texas last week, when the first tree was planted. As soon as the trees are planted the area will be fenced and protected from animals. The ground will be cultivated at frequent intervals during the growing season. Hardier, native varieties of trees will be the only type used in the planting program including hackberry, osage orange, cottonwood and red cedar.

Extensive plantings are scheduled for 1936 and a nursery is being established at the Chillicothe experiment station, where it is planned to grow more than 1,000,000 seedlings. Only one mile of shelter belt will be planted in Texas this year, due to the inability to secure planting stock

BILIOUS

Condition Needs Double Action Treatment

Simulation of liver bile flow is not enough for complete relief, but combined with intestinal stimulation that relieves temporary constipation, quick, soothing results are certain. Herbine, a combination of herbs, combines BOTH actions and so these dizzy, headachy, indigestions, gas, rundown feelings get relieved when both liver and bowels return to normal action. Get your bottle of Herbine from druggists.

FAVOR TOWNSEND PLAN

Congressman Charles L. South has been asked by the Coleman county Townsend club to make efforts to get the Townsend bill fairly debated on the house floor. It was learned at a meeting of the club held Saturday afternoon at the county court house. Efforts are being made to form Townsend clubs in the school districts of the county. Clubs with a membership of 100 or over are considered to be major clubs, while those with membership of 50 or less are considered to be minor clubs.—Coleman Democrat-Voice.

AIR DERBY PLANNED

Elliott Roosevelt disclosed in Fort Worth a few days ago a project to launch from Dallas in 1936, during the Texas centennial observance, the Western Hemisphere air race with the probability that his father, President Roosevelt, would be a visitor to that city for the event. The sporting event would link Central and South American capitals with the leading cities of the United States and would focus attention not only of the United States but of the Latin-American nations upon the central exposition which will be a leading feature of Texas' celebration of its hundredth anniversary.

Young Roosevelt, who is in charge of the international air derby, promised that federal support of the race will be forthcoming. Sumner Welles, in charge of Latin-American affairs in Washington, has voiced his enthusiasm over the project and Mr. Roosevelt said that both the department of commerce and the department of state will cooperate fully in making the event one that would attract the attention of the entire world.

American airplane manufacturers have signified they will have at least thirty entries, the aggregate cost of which will be $3,500,000. Entrants also are assured from Italy, England, Germany, France, Holland, Poland and Australia, he said.

Prizes for the successful aviators will be: First $50,000, second $25,000, third $15,000 and fourth $10,000.

Sumner Welles has suggested that lap prizes be presented to the winners at Dallas by Ambassadors of the various countries.

LAND HUNGER

Japan is reputed to be in a bad way financially. But what great nation is not? The Japanese balance sheet seems to compare not unfavorably with that of our own country. Incidentally, it has been noted in diplomatic circles that Japan is speaking less of the sword and more of the pen in recent communications. It bought the Manchurian railway instead of taking it by force. Now it is proposing to buy from the same power the northern half of the great island of Saghalin. That island has oil on it, also timber and enough fertile ground to raise turnips and other hardy vegetables. Being land hungry, the Japanese are in the market for land, even poor land. Land hunger has been at the bottom of most wars. It is essentially the underlying motivation of European diplomacy even at this late day. Here in Texas, where there is so much idle land, we find it difficult to apprehend how important are tillable acres in the overcrowded countries. Mussolini wants more ground in Africa; Germany wanted the Saar and now wants its foreign colonies restored. France will die if necessary to retain Alsace-Lorraine. Poland wants to extend southward to the Black Sea. England is not showing a disposition to add to her acreage, neither is she indicating any will to give up any that she took when the taking was good. Our nation is the only one that has voluntarily given up landed territory. And we didn't become philanthropic altogether benevolently. The same old human race that has been grabbing from the start is very like it was at starting time.—State Press in Dallas News.

HERE AND THERE

The federal senate passed the house bill authorizing $38,000,000 for construction of buildings and equipment at naval stations on all coasts and in Hawaii and the Canal Zone. Appropriations to carry forward the construction program will have to be made later, unless relief funds are used. Under the relief bill money could be used for this purpose, but not for building war ships.

Notwithstanding depression and drought, the Atchafalaya, Topeka & Santa Fe railway company in the calendar year 1934, made a gain in freight carloadings of 79,393 cars, or 6.8 per cent, and in freight earnings of $7,293,687, or 7.5 per cent, according to the company's fortieth annual report. There was an increase in total miles traveled by passengers of 15.14 per cent, nearly sufficient to offset the lower fares now in effect, the decrease in passenger earnings being 1.9 per cent.

Senator Morris Sheppard, chairman of the senate military affairs committee, declared Saturday night that an adequate army and navy were needed to assure the economic survival of the United States. "We use about one-half of the important raw materials of the world and our American civilization can not continue without them," he said in an address prepared for delivery at the annual army day banquet in Washington. "The lines of transport on sea and land in every part of the globe along which these articles must be conveyed are as much our lines of defense as our land borders."

AAA officials estimate they will pay out approximately $55,000,000 to American farmers for taking part in the 1935 crop adjustment program. This is $20,000,000 less than the payments for 1934. At the same time officials indicated there was a growing sentiment within the agriculture adjustment administration to develop a new type of production control which would be based on regions rather than on crops. Benefit and acreage rental payments already made to farmers are now approaching the $1,000,000,000 mark. Reduced payments this year will come largely in the corn-hogs and tobacco programs, where restrictions have been announced.

Man is still seeking the origin of oil, industrial lifeblood of today's machine age. Under the sponsorship of the American Petroleum Institute, national trade association of the petroleum industry, the search for oil sources begun several years ago is being continued with the co-operation of scientific organizations, domestic and foreign government bureaus and individuals. Scientific research is being employed in seeking the source of oil where once the "wildcatter" or oil prospector gambled by drilling undeveloped territory. It is believed that with further progress it will be possible to ascertain not only the sources of oil, but also to determine in which regions the chances of discovering hidden subterranean pools is greatest.

LIGHT RAIN

A light rain, estimated at about one-half inch, fell here Wednesday morning, which did a lot of good, although it was not enough to have lasting benefit. Reports from various parts of the county indicate that about the same amount of rainfall was recorded pretty generally over the county, all of which was needed.
