How Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Bad Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fifth night if needed.

Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the system. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds.

Former Representative A. E. Harding of Fort Worth announces he will be a candidate for the governorship of Texas in next year's Democratic primary.

The state liquor administrator said Saturday the liquor control board collected $226,820 and approved 582 applications for permits during its first week of operation.

Increasing turkey receipts added to the advance, the department of commerce reporting revenue to Texas farmers, dealers and other workers during November, December and January estimated at $10,000,000, an increase of about $4,000,000 over last year.

A five-year plan calling for the increase of the endowment fund from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000, completion of the administration building at a cost of $60,000 and erection of new library and chemical buildings was presented by the president of Southern Methodist university to the advisory committee Saturday.

Two men from the coal mines—John L. Lewis and William Green—who rose to leadership of organized American workers, split Saturday in an open quarrel that rocked the American Federation of Labor. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, curtly tendered his resignation as vice-president of the A. F. of A. to Green, long-time president of the labor federation they built to its present strength.

The committee for economic recovery revealed Saturday the plans for a 10-year home building campaign to increase construction more than 10 fold in three years and to revive the durable goods industry. An elaborate report on housing conditions in America and recommendations for meeting the need for more private homes has been placed in the hands of President Roosevelt, who is tacitly expected to take the lead in the movement.

The United States treasury in thumbing through the nation's bank roll, has found 600 more $10,000 bills, 400 more $5,000 bills and 19,000 more $1,000 bills today than there were during the previous thumbing in January. The biggest money, it was explained by bankers, is demanded by municipalities as a storage plant for assets. Cities used to place their excess funds in banks as time deposits, but interest no longer is paid on such deposits. A lot of money can be stored in $10,000 bills in a small place, and it is more convenient.

THIS AND THAT

"Pretty rank," remarked the colonel, reviewing the passing troops.

"You've driven me as far as you can," shouted the nail, rather pointedly.

"They're all crazy about me here," declared the new inmate asylum keeper, in his first report.

Lorene says, "The girl who speaks volumes always ends up on the shelf."

Mr. Balentine thinks a good motto for gossipers would be: Stop, look and listen in.

Tom Toland says, "When the wind is from the north, it is a good bearing on his wool blankets."

Harry Couch says, "It's impossible to bury your past when the neighbors insist on keeping it alive."

Miss Neal says, "No girl can stand on her own feet if she is head over heels in love."

Billy Hightower says, "A rounder is a fellow who fits into all the best circles."

There was the absent-minded professor who died of grief. It seems that when he hid his face in his hands, he forgot where he put it.

MUSICAL

Wednesday night, November 20, a small group gathered at the school house for a short impromptu musical and to organize our P-T. A. Three songs were rendered by the intermediate room, Clinton Harris and Billie Hightower gave two numbers on the violin and mandolin; the primary room sang "On the way to school," "I had a little doggie," "Hey, diddle, diddle," "Miss Muffet," "Good Morning," Maudine Burkes and Evelyn Hodge played two piano solos each; several numbers were given by Harry Couch, Colvin Weathers, Bert Weathers, Clinton Harris, Clarence Koen and Billie Hightower. A number of jokes on the pupils and patrons were also read.

The following officers for the P-T. A. were elected: Mrs. T. J. Burkes, president; Herbert Cook, vice-president; Miss Jessie Neal, secretary; Mrs. O. L. Harris, Mrs. L. Lane, Harry Couch and the three teachers were elected as the program committee.

It was decided that the musicals should be twice a month, and the P-T. A. meeting once a month. Everyone is invited to be with us at these times, and enjoy our meetings with us, for we expect to make them worthwhile.

BASKET BALL

The girls expect to have a good basket ball team as soon as we can get our ball and get our court made. Even though there was only a handful at the musical Wednesday night, we sold $2.00 of popcorn. That will help some on our project, and everyone enjoyed eating and talking during an interval.

THE PRIMARY ROOM

Thanksgiving will soon be here and gone. We are working on a few numbers for a program. Mr. Turkey is proudly strutting on several posters, and harvest time is also being made up into posters. We are very proud of our new green cretonne curtains, with their autumn designs and our new olleth for our nice new reading table. Mr. Jack Frost has made the leaves so very pretty that we just had to keep some of his bright colors in our school room along with all its other cheerfulness.

NEWS

Mr. Weaver was a welcome visitor at school Friday. He is getting some fine work started, and may count on the support of the entire school.

We are glad to report that Mr. McArthur, who was hurt in a runaway last week, is improving nicely, and will be able to be about his work in a short while if his improvement continues.

The new curtains have arrived and are being installed. They are look nice.

HUDSON BROTHERS

ROCK SPRINGS

There were six at Sunday school Sunday morning. Too bad people don't go to Sunday school and church on Sunday morning. They take time to go visiting in the afternoon and at night.

JOKES

The seventh grade history class had just finished studying colonial life and was taking an examination. One of the questions was: "Discuss life in colonial times." Billie Hightower wrote: "There were not many cities and what there were were out in the country."

Mr. Smith: How do you account for the phenomenon of dew?

Mary B. Hodge: The earth revolves on its axis every twenty four hours, and in consequence of the tremendous pace, it perspires freely.

Eldridge Lane: The directions say to rub the surface down with steel wool. What on earth is steel wool?

Melvin Wilcox: I'm not sure, but I think it is made from the fleece of hydraulic rams.

Grady Balentine: Why do those trees in the orchard bend over so far?

Jack Hightower: You'd bend over too, if you were as full of green apples as they are.

Soldier of fortune: I've fought in Mexico, I've fought in Spain, I've fought in Italy.

Mr. Smith: Have you ever been married to an American woman?

Mr. McArthur: Young man, do you attend a place of worship?

Elmer Koen: Yes, sir; I do. In fact, I'm on my way to see her now.

WHAT IF—?

Jack were a low lower instead of a Hightower?

Grady were a valentine instead of a Balentine?

Hazel Christine were a colt instead of a Holt?

Alvis were feathers instead of Weathers?

Arnold were a knot instead of a Scott?

Maxine were a run away instead of a Conway?

Addie Belle were a derby instead of a Kerby?

Robert Louis were Paris instead of a Harris?

Glendon were a spinning wheel instead of a Benningfield?

Charles and Curtis were four-o'clocks instead of Wilcox?

Max were tax?

Evelyn were a Dodge instead of a Hodge?

WONDER WHY—?

Mr. Cooke enjoyed his lunch so much the day after he and Cecil batched the night before? The intermediate room has resolved not to have so much fun during music class?

T. J. doesn't like to go to sleep on a bed made of school desks?

Bowie hangs around the school house for a while after school is out?

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

The intermediate girls met with their teacher Friday and organized a Glee club. There were twelve girls present, and all seemed very anxious to start practicing. Most of these girls have had training in club singing before. The girls decided to buy red dresses, as the school colors are red and white. Miss Neal agreed to change rooms with Mr. Cooke one period a day so the Glee clubs could use the piano.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

The intermediate boys also met Friday and organized a Glee club. There were nine boys present. This is the first attempt the boys have ever made to organize a club and sing, but they are expected to do some good singing, as only those that were interested were allowed to enter the club. The boys voted to wear white shirts and white trousers. The boys are planning on being able to sing for the next P-T. A. meeting.

It's rumored that we have a new bride and groom in our community, but haven't learned where they were married, and I may not know any more than I do now, but I hope to be able to find out by next week. It would be terrible not to let people know there has been a lucky man in our community. It is very seldom we have weddings in this part of the world. So we want it known when there is a lucky boy or girl.

I guess we all had lots to be thankful for yesterday, Thanksgiving day. Poor old turkeys that were killed.

TEN IMPORTANT QUESTIONS
The organizer of a woman's finance forum, after interviewing 20,000 women throughout the country, says her experience has taught her that the women of the country do not know enough about finance and not sufficiently informed about their family business. She submits ten questions for married women to consider:
1. Has your husband a will?
2. Do you know the difference between a stock and a bond?
3. Do you know where your husband's safety box is?
4. Is there a second beneficiary on your husband's insurance policy?
5. What would you do if your husband died tonight?
6. To whom would you go for advice?
7. Do you know how much you should inherit from his estate?
8. How would you invest any money from the estate?
9. Do you know if the estate has been planned so you could live on the income or would you have to liquidate the assets?
10. Do you know if provision has been made for available cash to pay probate costs?

THE TREATY AND POLITICS
Washington is already buzzing with reports that the Canadian reciprocity agreement will cut a figure in next year's presidential campaign. In both parties politicians are pricking up their ears about it. As the tariff is involved, Republican managers see an opportunity to make an issue again of protection. This naturally looms before them as the shadow of a great rock in a weary land. On the other hand, it is said that administration circles are not only willing, but eager to appeal to the country on the question of increased trade with Canada. It is even said that this may be made by the president his "paramount issue" in 1936. This would be the very irony of political scene-shifting. Anything may happen in politics, but who could have believed that the achievements of the new deal and the question of amending the constitution should be shoved aside in favor of a challenge to voters on the subject of potatoes and eggs and whiskey in Canadian commerce?
We all know the east with which the trail of politics may be over it all. It has been made easier in the case of the trade treaty with Canada, by the rival official statements issued at Washington and at Ottawa. In each there is a plain, but polite intimation that it got the best of the bargain. On this side of the border we point to the great number of manufactured articles on which the Canadian government agreed to reduce duties when coming from the United States. The Lady of the Snows

RATES FOR DAILIES
The holiday rates for daily papers are now in effect. Some of them have already given notice that the rates will be withdrawn on the last day of this month. They may change the plan, but the Eagle has no authority at this time to quote the special rate past that date. This special rate is the same as last year, and those who renew their subscriptions to the dailies through the Eagle office are urged to send in the amount at once, as the rate is mighty likely to be withdrawn. You can save by a combination subscription for any daily and the Eagle, but your subscription to any of the dailies is solicited at this office, no matter whether you desire to subscribe or renew for the Eagle or take advantage of the clubbing rate.
talks a little proudly of her new opportunities to sell cattle and lumber in the American market. But this is rather in the manner of boasting after a horse trade that you have beaten the other fellow. To an impartial student of the actual treaty, it would appear that both parties to it did very well and came to terms profitable to both. Yet, no one who knows the capacity of politics to pervert and distort will be surprised if there is a loud cry that the Americans got taken in by the Canadians, or the other way about. The politicians have not yet got in their work on it, but may make a perfect monstrosity out of the treaty before they get through with it.—New York Times.

A. H. Smith, Mr. Cloninger, W. T. Smith, Mr. Stephens, Mrs. Euna V. Barnett and probably others of the faculty, at this writing are planning to attend the Texas State Teachers Association in San Antonio during the Thanksgiving holidays. We hope they have a nice time and learn lots.

MID-TEXAS EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION
The executive committee of the Mid-Texas Educational Association met in the high school building in Brady last Saturday for the purpose of formulating plans for this year's meeting. The annual meeting will be held in Brady February 7-8. The major theme of the program this year will be, "Curriculum Revision," with the "Texas Centennial" as a secondary theme.

The Mid-Texas Educational Association is a sectional organization composed of eighteen counties. The average annual attendance of teachers is about fifteen hundred. Superintendent A. H. Smith of the local school system is president of the organization this year. This is considered quite an honor for Mr. Smith, since there are many larger towns in the district than Goldthwaite.

FISH STORIES
On November 18 several of the junior boys met to organize a tennis club. They elected Francis McDermott for their manager. We are expecting a good junior tennis team this year.

The senior basket ball team won second place at the practice tournament at Center City Saturday. A few of the junior boys have been practicing, and we expect to have a dandy team. Mamie Lou Womack moved to Center City last Thursday. Center City is lucky to get such a good pupil, and we are very sorry to lose her.

The freshman class is glad to welcome a new member this week, Mary Zoe Burns, who comes to us from Oklahoma City. We hope Mary Zoe likes our town and school.

DANNY, THE DIRT DAUBER
Who is Elmer? He is an alright guy—we think. It looks as if some of these heah young chilluns would be seached to visit such a dark, gloomy place, but it did the trick! Just ask Harvey. Johnson and Doggett a sure charm that will make us win a football game. Is all the coughing around here just a habit, or is it genuine? It might be a good habit—to drop. After the six-weeks' tests, some of the teachers have not been seen alone. Maybe they think there is strength in numbers. Fred Soules is a very clever boy, not only in school, but in

Lady Took Cardui When Weak, Nervous
"I can't say enough for Cardui if I talked all day," enthusiastically writes Mrs. L. H. Caldwell, of Statesville, N. C. "I have used Cardui at intervals for twenty-five years," she adds. "My trouble in the beginning was weakness and nervousness. I read of Cardui in a newspaper and decided right then to try it. It seemed before I had taken half a bottle of Cardui I was stronger and was soon up and around." Thousands of women testify Cardui benefits them. It is safe and healthful. Consult a physician.

Most were satisfied, or had a very distinguished talent of acting by with their false face. Although some had to be very optimistic to have enough to eat, the picnic broke up with everybody in a jolly good humor.

BASKET BALL SEASON OPENS WITH VICTORY
Last Saturday Goldthwaite started its basket ball season in a big way. We entered the tournament at Center City. In our first game, with Moline, the Eagles won by a one-sided score of 38 to 16. The second game of the Eagles, with Priddy, supposedly the strongest team, resulted in a victory for the Eagles of 17-7. Goldthwaite then went into the finals with Prairie and was defeated with a score of 10-7, giving our boys second place in the tournament. The boys who played, mostly football boys, were Lucas, Doggett, Head, Langford, Weathers, C. Berry, and R. Tubbs. Others planning to come out for basket ball are Miller, Coulter, Johnson, Gray and DuPuy. Football fans, the football season is over. Why not turn your backing to basket ball? The team comprises the same boys and has the same coach. Give it your backing, and you will have a winning basket ball team, as indicated by the scores in the tournament.

GOLDTHWAITE EAGLES WIN OVER MOZELL
The Eagles won their first conference game Friday by defeating Mozell 7 to 6. Mozell took the lead early in the first quarter, resulting from a blocked Eagle punt and recovery by Mozell. Mozell's backs hit the line three times, but failed to gain ground. On the fourth down, behind good interference, a back skirted around his own right end for a marker. The try for extra point failed. After a series of passes and runs in the second quarter, the Eagles reached a scoring position. On an off tackle play, C. Davis carried the ball over for the Eagles. A pass from Davis to McKenzie was good for the extra point. Neither team threatened to score during the last period. Kirby, Lucas and McKenzie were outstanding for the Eagles.

PEP SQUAD
The season for football will be over for Goldthwaite Tuesday, November 23, when we hope the Eagles will show their last, but not falling spirit. The pep squad's season ended Friday, November 21, when the Eagles won a 7-6 victory over South Coleman. After the game a good representation of the pep squad showed the business men we had spirit that they should borrow some of to help back our team. Between the halves the pep squad did a formation that had been used at Brady, going over big there, and succeeding equally as well here. The pep squad was successful in making their last game of 1935 one to remember without distaste. We think our pep squad has been unrivaled this year in appearance, attendance and most of all, loyalty to the football team, whose spirit and loyalty to G. H. S. has not been in the least superior to that of the pep squad. In all accounts, we may say the season was a success, and appreciate those who have given support and backing in making this season more successful. The pep squad wore their G's for the first time Friday, and were as proud of the G's as we were the town and school name of the pep squad.

PICNIC
During the game Friday afternoon the pep squad planned a picnic for the football boys. The picnic was at the fair park, and a large number of boys and girls came. Mrs. Woody was a very pleasant chaperone, and the supper being grab and eat style, everyone was responsible for their own failure to be satisfied.

THANK YOU, AMERICA, for more than a Million cars in 1935

This year Chevrolet has two very good reasons for saying, "Thank you, America."
One reason is that people have bought so many Chevrolet cars that production for the year will reach 1,040,000.
And the other reason is that they have placed a record number of orders for new 1936 Chevrolets during the first few weeks they have been on display.

Chevrolet is indeed happy to say, "Thank you, America," and to pledge continued adherence to the manufacturing and service policies which have won and held the friendship of the nation.

EBONY
 A goodly number were out at Sunday school and church Sunday morning, and everyone present seemed to feel that it was good to be there.
 A crowded house listened to Bro. Wharton Sunday afternoon at three o'clock. His sermon was encouraging, edifying and enjoyable.
 Mr. McChristy accompanied Bro. Wharton out from Brownwood.
 Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Crowder and their tiny daughter, Betty Lou, who have been staying with Mrs. Crowder's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Griffin, for several weeks, left Saturday for their home at Ridge. They will farm Mrs. Volney Meeks' place next year.
 Mrs. W. M. Clements was quite sick last week and had to be taken to the doctor. Mrs. J. R. Wilmeth and Miss Bernice went to call on her. They found her up at the Philen place sitting in the car piecing quilts. Mr. Clements said he had to go there to pick cotton, and he was afraid to leave her at home by herself, so he took her along where he could look after her. She is very much improved.
 Uncle Newt Kelly seems to be still improving some, though at times he is not so well.
 Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Ketchum and children spent Sunday with Mr. Ketchum's mother, Mrs. J. M. Ketchum.
 Ray Haley and Frank Crowder returned Tuesday from their deer hunt in Bandera county. They were met there by Ray's brother, Lawrence Haley. They report a very enjoyable time.

 Mrs. Nellie Malone and Mrs. Charlie Roberts visited Mrs. P. R. Reid Wednesday.
 Mr. and Mrs. Gene Egger spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Egger.
 Mrs. Clara Wilmeth spent Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Nellie Malone.
 Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Briley were guests for dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Clements Sunday after church. The Clements have killed hogs, and Mrs. Clements has all sorts of things which she has canned. Believe me, they had something to eat.
 Mr. and Mrs. J. Austin Cawyer and little Edna Beth of Pasche spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Dwyer.
 An Ebony girl, Miss Ruth Mashburn, made the highest score in a standardized diagnostic English test sent out from Austin to the Indian Creek school last week. Ruth is a sophomore in high school. Out of the 100 questions, she answered 96 correctly.
 Ebony children in the Indian Creek school, Evelyn Mashburn, Erma Egger, Ruth Mashburn, Daphne Bell, Nelma Jean Jones, Dale Reid, Gene Wilmeth and Warren Bell, and also Clayton Egger attended two ball games at Brownwood Friday after school. In the afternoon at Daniel Baker field, they saw Indian Creek beat Brownwood Junior Hi 19 to 0. At night, at Howard Payne stadium, they watched the game between Southwestern university and Daniel Baker college, resulting in a tie, 6 to 6.
 Sunday morning at eleven, J. B. Jones of Brownwood will preach here. Sunday afternoon at two o'clock he will meet with the Townsend club. Come on out. We now have 37 paid up members. Let's make it 50.

GLEE CLUB NEWS
 Due to the play presented here tonight, the Glee club was neglected last week. The greater part of the girls are in this play and, therefore, there were hardly enough to practice, so we postponed the meeting until this week.
 We are expecting new material to work on.
SPORTS
 The Priddy Pups went to Prairie Wednesday afternoon, and were victorious. The score 39-16 is the best proof of the splendid effort that the boys made. Adolph Kunkle was the high point man of the game.
 Friday afternoon Prairie came to Priddy to do their best to prevent Priddy from being victorious again. However, they failed, as Priddy defeated the Newburg Bulldogs with a 28-4 victory, and defeated Prairie by a 30-10 victory. The Priddy girls also defeated the Prairie basket ball girls with a score of 14-4.
 The Pups were represented 100 per cent at the tournament at Center City Saturday, with Miss Nelma Greale representing Miss Priddy in a contest for Miss Mills County. In Priddy's first game, which was with Star, Priddy was victorious with an 18-8 score. Their second game was with Goldthwaite, and for the first time this year they were defeated by the score of 17-7.
GIRLS' SPORTS; BASKET BALL
 Will Priddy have a girls' team this year? What kind of suits are they going to play in? These questions should be answered after the girls won a game over Newburg with a score of 30 to 14. Yes, Priddy has a girls' team, a team that is ready to play any other team any time. Although we didn't play in new suits Friday, we are getting some. They will be ready to wear soon; at least we hope so. The colors will be blue and gold. Everybody come out and see the next game, which will be announced some time later.
GIRLS' SPORTS; BASEBALL
 Whenever the weather permits, we are always outside and practicing very hard, for we hope to have a winning team again this year. After a little more practice, we will be ready for a real match game with some other team.
 The suits will be navy blue slacks with gold buttons, and a similar shirt.
SENIOR CLASS NEWS
 The senior class is very glad to hear that there will be no school Thursday, as you all know it is Thanksgiving. We are looking forward to this day, when turkey, pumpkin pie and other goodies are eaten galore.
 We are very disappointed to hear that a student, Miss Burah Ledbetter, of our senior class is ill again. A speedy recovery to you, Burah!
GRAMMAR SCHOOL NEWS
 The seventh grade travel club will meet Thursday, November 29. The members are expecting the meeting to be very interesting, because they have read the travel books from Denver, Colorado, which will be read and discussed.
 The fifth and sixth grade students are decorating their room for Thanksgiving.
 A few of the fifth and sixth grade students are taking a part in "The Flapper Grandmother," a play to be presented in the auditorium Tuesday night. The students are: Charlie Schwartz, Walter and Edward Rost, Leroy Mason, Myrtle Schrank, Lorene Druexhammer, Leona Druexhammer and Ruth Hein.
 The third and fourth grade students are doing their part to make "The Flapper Grandmother" a success.
 Edward Jeske is absent from school, because of the illness of his little sister. His classmates miss him very much, and hope that he will soon be with them again.
 The third and fourth grades enjoyed the ball game Friday, and were very glad that the Pups won.
 Neal Dale Wright, a first grade pupil, spent the week end with his sister at Oglesby.
 All of the grammar school students are doing their best to make the "Baby Contest" a success by working hard to get votes for the representative of their class.
HUMOR
 Hattie Schumann: This is an ideal spot for a picnic.
 Irvine Scott: It must be. Fifty million flies can't be wrong.
 Opal Hohertz: How dare you speak to me. I don't know you from Adam.
 Edmund Tischler: You should. I'm dressed differently.
 Recently Raymond Schrank wrote a letter to a concern that makes corn syrup. It read as follows: "Dear Sirs: Though I have taken six cans of your corn syrup my feet are not better now than when I started."
 Sam Roberts' mother: Doctor, I suppose you will get a good fee for attending Adolph Kunkle, the family is so rich.
 Doctor: Why do you ask?
 Sam's mother: Well, I hope when you send us our next bill, you'll bear in mind that it was our Sam that threw the brick which hit Adolph.
 Government officer: Are you married or single?
 Mr. Cunningham: Yes.
 Gov't. officer: Where were you married?
 Mr. Cunningham: I don't know.
 Gov't. officer: You don't know where you were married?
 Mr. Cunningham: Oh, I thought you said "Why?"
 The other day in our history class Mr. Cunningham said: "When we get to the death of Charles II, we will have a test."
 Ira Townsend: "Long live the King!"

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed proposals, addressed to the city council of the city of Goldthwaite, Texas, for the construction of a sanitary sewer system, in accordance with the plans, specifications and instructions to bidders prepared by Joe E. Ward, successor to Montgomery & Ward, consulting engineers will be received at the office of F. P. Bowman, City Secretary of the city of Goldthwaite, until 10 a. m., December 14, 1935, and then publicly opened and read. The owner has available for this contract approximately $42,500.00.

The successful bidder will be required to enter into a contract with the city of Goldthwaite, which will contain provisions conforming with the requirements of the Federal Emergency administration of public works, as set out in PWA form No. 166, or 179, issued July 22, 1935, and revisions thereof and the special requirements of the state director PWA.

A cashier's or certified check, payable without recourse to the order of the city of Goldthwaite, or an acceptable bidder's bond, in an amount not less than five per cent (5 00) of the largest possible total bid, including consideration of alternates, must accompany each bid as a guarantee that, if awarded the contract, the bidder will promptly enter into a contract and execute a bond on the forms provided, as outlined in the specifications and contract documents.

A performance bond, in an amount not less than one hundred per cent (100 00) of the contract price, conditioned upon the faithful performance of the contract and upon the payment of all persons supplying labor or furnishing materials, will be required.

Attention is called to the fact that not less than the prevailing rates of wages as established by the city of Goldthwaite, approved by the state director, PWA, and as herein set forth must be paid on this project.

In case of ambiguity or lack of clearness in stating prices in the proposal, the city of Goldthwaite reserves the right to adopt the most advantageous construction thereof, or to reject the proposal.

Labor Classification and Minimum Wage Scale: The labor classification and minimum wage scale below has been predetermined by the owner in accordance with the statutory and the PWA requirements, and the prevailing local wages, and shall govern on all work performed by the contractor in connection with the construction of the project covered by these specifications. The bids submitted are based on not less than the rates of pay indicated in this predetermined labor classification and minimum wage scale. In no event shall rates of pay be lower than those established by recognized unions operating in the community at the time of the bid opening.

Skilled mechanics, whose minimum rate shall be 80c per hour: Acetylene cutter, welder Asphalt plant engineer Blacksmith Bricklayer—manhole Carpenter—forms Cement finisher — building works Foreman—trade Form setter—buildings General foreman Operators: Crane, dragline, clamshell ditching, trenching machine, hoisting engineer, plumber, pipe layer or working foreman (in charge of pipe laying gang), reinforcing steel placers and/or tiers, steam and/or pipe fitter.

The award of the contract shall be conditioned upon funds being made available, and the city of Goldthwaite shall have the right to hold the bids for a period of sixty days from the date of the bid opening, and no bid may be withdrawn within thirty (30) days after date of bid opening.

Contract will be awarded subject to the approval of the state director, PWA.

The city of Goldthwaite reserves the right to reject any and/or all bids and to waive any and/or all formalities.

The contract price will be paid by the city in cash, but to provide the city with part of the funds necessary, the city council will on the 14th day of December, 1935, pass an ordinance authorizing the issuance of revenue bonds, secured by a pledge of the revenues of its sanitary sewer system, provided the holder or holders of said obligations shall never have the right to demand their payment out of the funds raised, or to be raised, by taxation; in accordance with Articles 1111-1118, both inclusive, 1925 revised statutes of Texas, as amended, to be issued in the maximum of $25,000.00, bearing 4 per cent interest, maturing serially, having a maximum maturity date of 1970.

Plans and specifications may be procured from Joe. E. Ward, successor to Montgomery & Ward, consulting engineers, upon a deposit of $15.00, $10.00 of which will be returned upon the submission of a bona fide bid, or the safe return of the plans and specifications prior to the contract letting date.

NORTH BENNETT

We were very glad to see the pretty weather last week. The farmers certainly were busy. Some finished picking cotton, others cut feed and gathered corn.

We are sorry to say Mrs. E. M. Geeslin has been sick again. We hope she will soon be well again. Mrs. C. W. Batchelor and boys visited with Mrs. S. J. Batchelor Thursday.

W. C. Mills and boys helped C. W. Batchelor snap cotton Thursday and Friday.

Mrs. J. J. Geeslin spent Friday afternoon with Mrs. Hubert Geeslin.

Thursday afternoon, as some of the children were going home, they found a big rattlesnake. It seems like the weather doesn't get too cold for them to get around.

Jessie Ruth Ellis spent one night last week with Miss Agnes Johnson at Goldthwaite.

We did not have Sunday school Sunday. There were so few there. If the weather permits, everybody come next Sunday.

Mrs. C. C. Ellis and children and C. W. Batchelor took dinner with Mrs. S. J. Batchelor Sunday.

J. B. Howerton and family and Eric Geeslin visited in the J. M. Harris home Sunday. Mr. Howerton had the misfortune of getting some cotton burned last week. His young sons set it afire. Mr. and Mrs. Kendall visited in the J. J. Geeslin home a while Sunday afternoon.

Otto Kendall visited in the R. L. Kendall home a while Monday.

Mrs. Anderson and Andrew took dinner with Bill Anderson and family Sunday. They visited in the Charlie Anderson home Sunday afternoon.

We had another nice rain Tuesday, and some cool weather Wednesday.

BIG VALLEY

We have had rains, sunshine and winter this week. At the present time, all signs point toward fair weather for Thanksgiving, but you never can tell.

Sunday was church day, but due to bad weather and other hindrances, very few attended church services.

John Burnett is the proud owner of a new pickup. He has had the car for several weeks now.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dennard have a new son in their home. At last reports both mother and son were doing nicely.

Bobby Doak has gone to Austin to spend a while with his sister and her family.

Thursday is the day set aside as our national Thanksgiving day. Some few, I have heard, are going to have a big dinner, while others will continue their regular routine of work. Whatever we may be doing, let us all give thanks to God for his bountiful blessings He has bestowed upon us.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Cooke and children and Miss Flora Weaver visited in the Alvin Oglesby home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nelson received word last week of the arrival of a new grand daughter. Dr. and Mrs. Herndon Nelson of Beaumont are the proud parents of a baby girl.

Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Barnett of near Goldthwaite and Mr. and Mrs. Will Marshall of Goldthwaite visited Miss Lucy Smith in the Cockrell home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Long and daughter of Goldthwaite visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Long, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nelson, Mrs. Floyd Weaver and son visited in Mrs. Liva Weaver's home Wednesday afternoon.

NEWS BRIEFS

A total of 71,561 persons were employed in Texas under the works-relief program as of last Saturday, an increase of 16,714 over the preceding week, according to figures issued Friday.

Six Seattle, Wash., policemen, of the night patrol, a national guard sergeant and a county employee, were in jail Saturday night, accused of burglaries. Chief Kirtley said the men are accused of taking about $1,500 merchandise from two local companies. The chief said commissions related a police automobile and a national guard truck were used to transport the booty.

The upward surge of the volume of rail freight traffic has carried carloadings in the United States to a higher level than at this season in any year since 1931. The recent rise in rail freight figures, according to recent reports of the car service division of the associations of American railroads, is sufficient to warrant hopes that it is the beginning of a definite upward trend.

The flight of the China Clipper with the first trans-Pacific air mail caused the largest first day sale in dollars of a single new stamp in postal history. It was announced by the post office department.

MULTIPLE CHOICE TEST

I. B. Anonymous, distinguished student in the University of Texas at Austin, took the multiple choice test in the Herald of last week. I. B. made the score of 60. He missed questions number 2, 4, 5 and 7. The answers are, respectively: philanthropist (in study hall talks—you have forgotten your biology), human being, girls (the gnats are bad though), football (we won a game Friday).

CARD OF THANKS

We are indeed thankful to all of our friends for their kindness and comforting words in the home, in the hospital and at the cemetery. THE EMPLOYMENT IMPROVEMENT

While there are still many unemployed people in the United States, there is no denying that the situation has been greatly improved in the past few months, and that indications now are for a normal restoration of working conditions throughout the country. The number of persons employed in the United States rose in September to a new high for the recovery movement, according to the Alexander Hamilton Institute. There were 38,101,000 persons employed in September, as compared with 37,740,000 in August, an increase of 361,000. The number of persons unemployed declined from 13,858,000 in August to 12,521,000 in September.

Unemployment, however, did not drop to a new low for the recovery movement, despite the peak reached by employment. This was due to the increase in the supply of workers as the result of the gain in population. As compared with the low reached in May, 1934, when 13,398,000 persons were unemployed, unemployment in September, 1935, was higher by 123,000 persons. Preliminary figures indicate, however, that unemployment was further reduced in October, and it is possible that unemployment last month may have made a new low for the recovery movement.

Since the low for the depression in March, 1933, the number of persons employed has shown an increase of 5,039,000. Since the gain in population during this period has added to the supply of workers, the increase in employment has naturally not been accompanied by a corresponding decrease in unemployment. The decrease in unemployment, however, has been substantial, amounting to 4,293,000 persons. If it were not for the increase in the supply of workers, and the fact that 2,485,000 persons were unemployed at the peak of activity in 1929, the unemployment problem at the present time would be much less serious, since the number of persons employed in September showed a reduction of only 7,914,000 from the high point in 1929.

GOVERNMENT SPENDING

The matter of federal government spending and the treasury deficit are subjects of much discussion and a great amount of criticism has been indulged by Democrats, as well as Republicans and citizens from the ranks of other political parties, yet few have so far made bold to suggest a place for the curtailment of this spending. Doubtless everybody favors the farm aid appropriations, all surely endorse the relief for the unemployed and those in need, all want the co-operation of the government in highway construction and in the many other ways in which the government has given help. The figures reach a large aggregate, and most folk would like to see a smaller total—but where shall the cut be made?

Federal government expenditures for a little over three months of the current fiscal year passed the $2,000,000,000 mark—breaking all previous records in the country's peace-time history. Certainly that looks large, but there is another side to the picture. The federal deficit in the first four months of the fiscal year amounted to $1,393,000,000 this year as against $1,040,000,000 last year, an increase of $353,000,000. While a part of the deficit this year was met by withdrawing funds from the treasury, it was still necessary to borrow a substantial amount. Consequently, the debt rose from $28,701,000,000 at the beginning of July to $29,462,000,000 at the end of October, an amount which was $2,774,000,000 larger than the debt of a year ago. Yet, when we remember we have the strongest and best government on earth, these figures are not nearly so appalling.

IMPORTANT WORK AHEAD

The special session of the legislature has ended without all of the measures coming before the session having been enacted into laws, but it was a very busy session, and its proceedings were fraught with matters of consequence. The liquor control law was one of the most far-reaching measures to be handled, and there were many matters of less public interest, if not of importance. It is believed and expected that the next session of the law-making body of the state will convene on or about January 6. It will be incumbent upon the coming session to find means by which the necessary finances may be raised for paying the old age pension, which law becomes effective the middle of February. Many suggestions have been made as to the source from which this money should come, but it is the duty of the legislators to consider all of the plans and select the most feasible for enactment. A number of other matters will be up for consideration before the session, among them the submission of constitutional amendments on various subjects, all of which must be carefully considered before submission, as the expense of an election on any constitutional amendment is not inconsiderable. The responsibility of a legislator is great at all times, but under present conditions it is of unusual importance.

FACING GORY FACTS

Some newspapers have adopted the plan of printing accounts of automobile accidents with all the gory facts in detail, and the idea seems to be spreading. The more gruesome the account of an accident is made, the more impressive it will be upon the reckless. One New York judge has adopted a plan of having the most horrifying details of a wreck read by those charged with traffic violations. It is time we faced the gory facts—time we all realized that the scene of an automobile accident can be as horrible as a battlefield. It is time we remembered that automobiles have killed more Americans than have all the wars of our history.

The press and forum of this and other states have had no appreciable effect in the reduction of accidents on the highways or the traffic. Some way must be found to make an impression on the careless and reckless drivers and pedestrians, and it is possible that being forced to look upon the distressing effects of their acts may have a tendency to cause them to observe the rules of caution.

THANKS FOR HEALTH

The first Thanksgiving day was proclaimed for the purpose of giving thanks for the colonist's health that had allowed them to survive the first rigorous year in America.

The state health department asks that citizens of Texas give thought to their own health at this season of the year.

Although we have experienced one of the longest depressions in history, the people have retained their health to a remarkable degree. Last year Texas was one of the few states to show a further decline in deaths among infants.

During the last fifty years health departments have been established for the purpose of preventing disease. While their activities have been hampered by a lack of funds, a great improvement in the general health has resulted. During this period the life of the average person has increased by fifteen years. In other words, a baby born now is expected to live fifteen years longer than if he had been born in 1885.

So let each give thanks for the methods that have helped in the conservation of life and, also, pledge to assist in furthering the work being done to improve health conditions throughout the nation.

PYORRHEA PREVENTION

Pyorrhoea is a chronic disease involving the gums and also that part of the jaw bone surrounding the roots of the teeth. It also affects the membrane which fastens the tooth to the bone, and helps to hold it firmly in place, the state health officer says.

Being an adult's malady, it is seldom seen in children. It is most common after middle life. It begins at the gum margin. Early symptoms include swelling and redness. Moreover, the gums are prone to bleed when brushed. Usually there is no pain, even in advanced cases. If the progress of this disease is not arrested, the bone and ligament become involved, pockets are formed between the teeth and gum and pus collects.

Uncleanliness, undue stress on a few teeth, malnutrition and irritation produced by the accumulation of food, tartar and bacteria around and between the teeth are outstanding factors in the development of pyorrhoea. Badly fitted crowns and bridges and over-hanging edges of fillings which are direct contributors to mouth uncleanliness, also lead to irritation. Incidentally, pyorrhoea is not contagious.

It is a curable disease if it is not too far advanced when recognized. Treatment is not by the use of drugs, but in educating the patient in the proper use and care of the teeth and the removal of the remnants of dead membrane adhering to the root surfaces, as well as any existing tartar.

Proper daily attention to mouth hygiene is the one great bulwark against pyorrhoea.

SELF RELIANCE

A young Southern farmer, if he would be true to the traditions of the past, will endeavor to develop an attitude of courage. A willingness to meet any situation that confronts him and the courage to control it—these are necessary factors in anybody's success. But particularly true is this in the case of a farmer. Unexpected conditions prevail from time to time, and a farmer must be prepared to meet and solve all kinds of problems. The changing conditions from season to season bring new problems that continually challenge the resourcefulness of everyone who cultivates the soil. To meet this challenge successfully courage is indispensable, together with constant study of the best methods of good farmers and the latest teachings of agricultural science.—Progressive Farmer.

Views of the Nation's Press on Topics of Interest and Importance

IDEAL FOR FARM YOUTH

There has been such radical change in the problems of the farmer in the last quarter of a century or two that, should one of a former generation return today, he would be totally lost and he would, if he were alert, find particular interest in the statements of Oscar L. Chapman, assistant secretary of the interior, who spoke to the Future Farmers attending the American Royal. Years ago the farmer's one problem was production. There was always a market. Let him grow his crops and his livestock and the selling would take care of itself. He could afford to bury himself on his own quarter section and develop as an individualist. He didn't need the co-operation of other farmers, except at threshing time, and that was a matter of labor, not of thought or planning. His soil was comparatively new; it was fertile. All he needed was the equipment to put in his crops, rain and sunshine, and time to harvest. The world needed whatever he grew. His financial well-being depended almost entirely upon his energy. Even the town-farmer knows it requires more than energy to farm successfully now. Overworked fields are not as fertile as nature left them, markets frequently are glutted with the things the farmer has to sell. It no longer merely is a matter of early rising and year-round industry. And that is the point at which Mr. Chapman took up the problems of the farmer of the future—an individualist, yes, but also wise enough to see farming as an individual industry, and ready to co-operate with others engaged in that industry; a restorer and a conserver of the soil, a student of the markets, a man educated to the soil and its products, a citizen of the world, rather than the hermit-like occupant of a quarter section. There is an ideal for the youth of the American farm.—Kansas City Times.

TRADE-BALANCE SHRINKS

The tide appears to be turning with a vengeance. The merchandise trade balance has shown a marked shrinkage during the present year, falling to the abnormally low level of $28,000,000 for the first eight months. That decrease in itself would be a salutary development if it were the results of long-time permanent readjustments, guaranteed to bring our receipts and payments on foreign account into better balance. To achieve this is the purpose of the reciprocal trade agreements negotiated by the state department. And to the limited extent to which imports have recently been increased as the result of tariff concessions, the administration is entitled to praise for the cut in our "favorable" trade balance. The reduced export surplus, however, is largely the result of an unlucky combination of circumstances. Imports have risen because a severe drouth and the AAA restriction program have created a shortage of domestic foodstuffs. Agricultural exports have fallen for the same reasons. Consequently, the better adjustment of imports to exports has been secured by crude amputation, under conditions that are, it is hoped, ephemeral. While we should be prepared to welcome larger imports from abroad as a means of adjusting our trade balances, we cannot be expected to rejoice in a monetary change that has deprived our producers of export outlets for their surplus products. Larger purchases of foreign goods are quite consistent with an expansion of exports of lesser proportions, and that should be the goal of endeavor. The world needs not only better balanced interchanges of goods and services, but also a greater volume of goods and services to exchange.—Washington Post.

NAMING DEMOCRATS

With a presidential election only 12 months away, it is natural enough to find Republican leaders all over the country suggesting all sorts of men as possible nominees; but it is starting to find them all nominating Democrats. Wickersham's nomination of Douglas might pass as the muttering of a retired statesman, but when Ham Fish comes along nominating Ritchie, Talmadge or Ely, after half a dozen smaller fry had already nominated various Democrats, the thing attains significance. It is evident that a great many republicans are seriously considering putting up a Democrat. But why? Where are their own champions? How does it happen that there are no Republicans whose names immediately occur to everyone as the logical contender in 1936? Perhaps it is because the more realistic Republican leaders have realized that while Roosevelt might be beaten, it will take brains to do it and Republican brains are out of training. During its long tenure of power, the party had little or no real opposition. It could hold office without thinking, so it didn't think. All the hard, heavy political thinking that was done in the country was done by Democrats. Most of the conspicuous new ideas in government were sprung on the country by Democrats. All the men who have developed individual political philosophies in the last dozen years are Democrats. The result is that the Democrat party has at this time a long list of men, each of whom stands for something definite in political life in the minds of the people. Ritchie, for example, is a platform in himself, and his nomination would show exactly where the party backing him stands. There is no Republican who is recognized as so clearly the embodiment of an idea. But to beat Roosevelt, who embodies an idea, some similar figure is necessary, and only in the Democratic party are any such figures apparent.—Baltimore Sun.

THE FAMILY OVEN

Not long ago an official of the United States department of agriculture said that because the American family is growing smaller and the oven in the family cook stove is following the size of the family downward, the demand for large turkeys has practically ceased. He said that not a great while ago a 25 or 26 pound gobbler would go into the domestic oven very handily, but today not many ovens will take a turkey weighing 20 pounds.

Be that as it may, the great American bird is managing to hold his own in public popularity.

In the space of six buying days ending Thursday of this week, Abilene turkey buyers paid out an estimated $54,000 to raisers—nine thousand dollars a day. And still four buying days left.

That's a lot of cash, any way you look at it, and it proves that the Abilene country is still good turkey country.

The experts have been experimenting to develop a new turkey to fit the American demand. It will be 12 to 15 pounds in weight, lower-bodied—streamlined, somebody said—and reach maturity sooner. It has already been demonstrated that turkeys raised indoors, without setting foot on the ground until ready for market—which makes it possible to destroy an ancient prejudice against them in two counts: Because they roamed afar and because they were considered strictly an outdoor creature. Even the idea that turkeys were purely Thanksgiving and Christmas birds is giving way before the advance of knowledge, for many stores feature them in other months.

The crop this year, 15 million, is 2 1-2 millions below last year's.—Abilene News.

"A DONE-IN OLD MAN"

Outstanding among the political careers broken and the ambitions thwarted by the whims of the voters in the British is the pathetic figure of Ramsay MacDonald, pioneer of the Labor party, twice minister and lord president of the council. Overwhelmingly defeated, MacDonald retires to a country home in Hampstead, done-in old man," as he himself expresses it.

Many like George Lansbury, veteran laborite and former league of MacDonald, see in MacDonald's departure from office his "gathering of the harvest," his apostasy." In 1931 MacDonald left the ranks of the Labor party to join the Conservative and some of the Liberal Party, forming the national government. A financial crisis broke the nation and the best of all parties were called to avert disaster.

Many at the time charged that MacDonald's desire for office caused him to reject his principles and ideals. He denied it, saying he had not abandoned any of his Socialist tenets. It was hard to maintain what he agreed in almost every act of the Tory-dominated national government. He could not convince his constituents of his idealism. He was never able to finish a speech during the campaign. The miners in Scotland shouted him down. It is bitter memories that he said has been a filthy, horrible situation.

There is talk of finding a constituency where the conservative incumbent will retire to the veteran's favor. It is likely that MacDonald will enter politics. He wishes to retire to write his memoirs, they will be interesting, for he guided the destinies of an empire through one of the critical periods in history.

The man of 69 who, alone, opposed Britain's entry into the World War, only to come a party to the nation's largest rearmament program, will probably await a promotion from the king before venturing into public life again. The benches of the house of lords are a fitting retreat for a "done-in old man" who has served his country according to his light.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

MOTHER'S AT THE WHEEL

It is sometimes said that the American home is suffering from deterioration. There are those who see danger in the vanishing of the old fireside with it the sweet influence it felt there.

Things have happened in this country in the past few years, and it is not to be feared that home life will stand in our own light. There are many things to detract from the way of pleasure and entertainment. But after all, a mother still a mother, and will be the sweetest and most intimate creature in all the world. She may be modern, but she knows her duty, and she has the gentle qualities that are possessed into the hearts of those who come under her care.

America will stand as long as America's motherhood endures. The boy may seem too carefree and the girl too neglectful of her little home duties. The dependence of youth may be there, but it asserts itself, and eventually to the extent of revolting against the old customs and fashions that were so wholesome. Most boys and girls look to their mothers for advice and guidance. They are tremendously influenced by them, and will go with the virtues that made them what they are today. The present civilization the best ever rose to bless and beautify the earth.

This nation must care for the aged in a way that is creditable to the richest people on earth. Nothing parsimonious befits the American character.—Record.

A LITTLE PUSH

During recent months many news publications tell us that business is getting back to normal conditions. In some branches of industry statistics show a decided improvement, yet some of these writers express doubt as to permanence or stability. The start is made, they say, but there is fear lest indications will not hold out.

If the vast millions of money the government has appropriated to quicken business hasn't made times better financially, then conditions are much worse and more played out than any of us thought they were.

In the mean time, most of us have learned some splendid lessons. One is the lesson of economy. Another lesson is plain, strong results that make one flinch and squirm and not able to discover the cause. That is to say, the powers that be are not in the hands of men. There is a phrase about the times that reminds one of Alice's experience in Wonderland. The strange cat appeared near her on a bough of the tree with long claws and plenty of teeth, and she thought it deserved to be treated kindly.

The strange thing was not its teeth and claws, but its sudden appearance and then vanishing so slowly. She said, "I wish you wouldn't vanish and appear so suddenly. You make me feel dizzy." The cat grinned wider, and slowly vanished, beginning with the tail and disappeared, but leaving the grin on the bough of the tree. "Well, I've often seen a cat without a grin," said Alice, "but a grin without a cat is the most curious thing I ever saw in my life." I suggest that Alice's experience is illuminating and impressive. Often the grin is left a long time after the cat is destroyed.

Often, when I was young, I attempted to kill cats that were intruders and a nuisance, but the grin followed me; it was on every post and tree, and even

WILL SCHWARTZ PASSED AWAY

Mr. Will Schwartz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Schwartz of Priddy, died in the Baylor hospital in Dallas Saturday morning, Nov. 23, at 4 o'clock, after suffering several months from cancer in his jaw, caused from being accidentally struck by a pump handle. The injury was not thought to be serious at the time of the accident, but grew to be malignant, notwithstanding the most skillful physicians were in charge of his case and he was given every care and the best of medical treatment.

Mr. Schwartz's home had been in Comanche for several years, and at the time of his death he was agent for the Magnolia Oil Co. of that city. He was 44 years of age at the time of his death, and is survived by his wife and eight children, his father and mother, two brothers and five sisters. His brothers are Fritz Schwartz of Priddy and C. D. Schwartz of San Saba; his sisters are Meses. Charlie Tiemann, Walter Kunkle, Ed Dearson, all of Priddy; Meses. Will Albright of Pottsville and Dick Jeske of Star. He is also survived by numerous other relatives and a host of friends.

Mr. Schwartz was a member of the Lutheran church, and lived a Christian life, devoted to his home and family. He was possessed of many estimable qualities which endeared him to all with whom he was associated.

His remains were carried from Dallas to his home in Comanche, where funeral services were held at 1 o'clock Sunday, and they were then conveyed to the Lutheran church at Priddy, where services were concluded by Rev. Kluge, pastor of the church, and burial was made in the Baker Mountain cemetery and the grave was banked high with flowers provided by loving friends.

We miss thee from our home, dear Will,
We miss thee from thy place,
A shadow o'er our life is cast,
We miss the sunshine of thy face.

We miss thy kind and willing hand,
Thy fond and earnest care,
Our home is dark without thee—
We miss thee everywhere.

ONE WHO LOVED HIM.

RATTLER

There was a large crowd at Sunday school Sunday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Bedford Renfro and several others of the Renfro family took dinner with the Jernigan family Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Renfro and little son of St. Louis are back to spend the winter at Ratler.

Mrs. Juanita Bogush spent Sunday afternoon with Miss Florine Griffith.

Miss Josephine Liggon made a pop call in the home of Miss Florine Griffith Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Atkinson went to Goldthwaite Saturday afternoon to see her grand father, who has been ill for some time, but is improving.

Prentice Patton worked for Arthur Wilcox one day last week.

Those that spent the day with the Griffith boys were Clifton Renfro, Horace Brooks and Dorman Langford.

The people of Ratler community met at the school house Sunday night and organized a B. Y. P. U. The following officers were elected: President, Odean Renfro; vice-president, Wilson Renfro; secretary, Thelma Jernigan; reporter, Beatrice Atkinson. The meeting closed with a few songs and a talk by Bro. B. F. Renfro.

It seems as if two of the Renfro boys are grazing toward Jernigan's here of late. Joe Collier and family spent Sunday afternoon in the home of his brother, D. C. Collier.

W. B. Wilcox visited in the home of Arthur Wilcox Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Joe Collier's brother returned home, after an extended visit with her.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bogush are moving to Cat Claw. We

Miss Lillie Connor of Center Point was a pleasant caller at the Eagle office Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Alvin Oglesby and daughter and Mrs. Harry Oglesby and daughter of Big Valley are spending the Thanksgiving season with relatives in Dallas.

Mrs. W. J. Oltrogge, as is her annual custom, sent the Eagle one of her delightful fruit cakes for Thanksgiving, and it was well up to the standard of her making, which is equivalent to saying it was as fine as could be made. It was certainly appreciated and enjoyed by the Eagle folk.

Burch is prepared to clean and press garments for any member of the family and takes orders for made to measure garments. See his samples for Spring and summer clothing.

Regret to lose this young couple very much, although it is Ratler's loss, it is Cat Claw's gain.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hale were in Goldthwaite on business Saturday.

Wesley Crawford has moved to Ratler and has put in a store.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hale had visitors Sunday, but I failed to learn who it was.

Geo. Bogush went to Cat Claw Sunday to get a truck to move in.

Mrs. Jack Atkinson is very proud of her little dog, but from what I hear, he is quite a bit of trouble.

Arthur Wilcox and son, Raymond, cut feed for C. F. Griffith Saturday.

Miss Florine Griffith spent Monday afternoon with Mrs. Jack Atkinson.

Miss Lorine Langford took a few of her girl friends riding Sunday afternoon.

Thankful Indeed

At this season of Thanksgiving we are especially impressed with the thought of the thankfulness we feel to the many good people of this city and section who have favored our store with their patronage during the past years, and we hope they have been so well pleased with the service and the merchandise they will continue to make our store their trading place. We carry a full stock of Drugs, Stationery, and other articles carried in a first class Drug Store, and always appreciate the public patronage.
