VOLUME FORTY-TWO

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1935.

NUMBER FIFTEEN.

Large Majority Favors Sewerage

The election held in Goldthwaite last Saturday, to decide whether or not bonds should be issued to provide a sewerage system for the city, resulted in a large majority in favor of the issuance of the bonds and providing the system. Only property taxpayers were allowed a vote, and the total of votes polled was not as large as in general elections. There were 181 votes cast, 140 favoring the bonds and 41 against the proposition, giving a majority of 99 for the system. The proposition was to install a sewerage system in the city at a cost of $47,000. Of this total, $20,000 is against the system and $27,000 is a grant or gift from the federal government. The service, and $6,000 is to be paid by the city. The remaining $21,000 is a grant or gift from the federal government. Hence, is not to be repaid. Under the arrangement, the city will pay $47,000 sewer system and taxpayers are only responsible for $6,000 and the federal government loans that amount.

Day Study Club

Bethon Barnett entertained the Tuesday Study Club at the home of Mrs. Dickerson.

John Griffith and Mrs. D. Barnett were guests. John Merry has been elected to membership in the club. Refreshments were served during the program.

Baptist Reminder

A special feature of our services Sunday will be the Howard Payne trio. They will render a special program, both morning and night. It will be a privilege to hear these girls sing. They have won state-wide recognition as singers, having appeared on practically all our state convention programs. This will probably be the last chance we will have to hear them for some time, since they are invited to give programs practically every Sunday. All it will cost you will be your presence.

Sunday is the day we are to remember our orphans. We will have a brief program between Sunday school and church.

One week from Sunday night (15th) we are to have the high school Glee club to sing for us at our church. I am sure they will have a treat in store for us. The town and churches appreciate the fine work that Mrs. Sullivan is doing with our young people.

Remember all of our services Sunday. In the morning my theme will be "Under the law or above the law." In the evening my subject will be, "Consecrated Gossip."

Mills County Boy Earns Advancement

Roy Hunt, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hunt of this city, joined the United States navy about eighteen months ago, and word came from him this week that he had been advanced to the rank of seaman of the first class. This promotion was gained by an examination, and he was the youngest of the class to be advanced. The promotion carries with it an increase of $20 per month in salary, which is additional proof that he is making good.

Roy was reared here, and all of his friends expected him to sustain the reputation of Mills county young people who go out into the world to make their way, no matter in what line, and they are all pleased over his advancement.

Merry Wives Club

One of the first Yuletide parties of the season was enjoyed Wednesday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fairman and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hodges entertained members of the Merry Wives club and additional guests.

Red radiance roses and red cathedral tapers in silver candelabra were effectively used to decorate the rooms. The score pads, tallies and refreshments were symbolic of the Christmas season.

At the close of six games of bridge, Mrs. Robert Steen, Jr. and W. C. Dew received club prizes for high score and Mrs. Raymond Little guest prize.

Refreshments were served to the following: Messrs and Mesdames C. M. Burch, Tom Toland, W. C. Dew, Ed Gilliam, Kelly Saylor, Robert Steen, Jr., Earl Summy, Charles Frizzell, Raymond Little, Mrs. Mark Fairman, Mrs. Templeton, Miss Frances Page and Hulon Fletcher. REPORTER.

Business Change

B. F. Gealin sold his stock of groceries last week and closed his business at this place. The building heretofore occupied by the Gealin store has been rented to W. A. Richards, who is installing a confectionery and sandwich shop therein, with Herman Richards in charge. The store is being arranged and decorated and will be attractive in appearance. Herman is popular with everybody, and is sure to receive a liberal patronage.

Trades Day Plans Perfected

Goldthwaite is to have a Trades Day every Saturday, beginning Saturday of this week.

The merchants are making special preparations, and are naming bargain prices on merchandise in many lines. Those who attend these trades day events will find it to be to their advantage in many ways, and are sure to come back every Trades Day, when it is at all possible. Some of the merchants have announcements regarding this first Trades Day, and will continue to make it advantageous to the people to come to Goldthwaite to buy their supplies, as well as to sell their produce and other property they wish to dispose of, or exchange it for such things as they need or desire.

Parent-Teachers

Remember next Tuesday, Dec. 10, is the day for the next Parent-Teachers meeting. Let all parents be present and help in the school affairs. The following program will be given, with Mr. Ramsey as leader:

Music: Rhythm Band
Responsibility of the home to the school: Rev. F. E. Swanner
Girls Glee club of high school
Echoes from Texas State Teachers association: Mr. Smith and Mrs. Barnett
Social hour. REPORTER.

Thanksgiving Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Kuykendall entertained the elderly people with a Thanksgiving dinner. Dutch Smith furnished the turkey. Mrs. Dutch Smith, Mrs. J. V. Gage, Mrs. John Kuykendall and daughter, Cecil Jo, prepared the dinner, each lady bringing a covered dish.

There was turkey, ham, cakes, pies, salads and even old time pumpkin pies, which were enjoyed especially by Mr. Kuykendall.

The young folks entertained with singing, which was enjoyed by all.

Then Mr. Kuykendall gave a reading, and told just how he liked pumpkins, but that wasn't necessary, because you could watch him eat and know he liked pies.

After several games of 42, dinner was served to about fifty-nine guests:

Mr. and Mrs. Elza Laughlin, Lometa; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Ford and girls, Oleta and Reba, Lampasas; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Stephenson, Lometa; James Hunt, Lometa; Mrs. Earl Blake, Mullin; Mr. and Mrs. Fate Eckert and children, Aldera, Cricket, Marylou, Altha Mae, Lometa; Mrs. Ora Black and Billy, Scallorn; Mr. and Mrs. Homer Eckert and children, Junior, Lucrita and Bunny, Lometa; Alvie Johnson, Lometa; Mr. and Mrs. Barney Laughlin and son, Arlen, Lometa; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Henry and son, Gardin, Scallorn; Mr. Olinbush, Goldthwaite; Mrs. Cora Ford, Scallorn; Mrs. T. Everyone enjoyed the dinner, and went away wishing Thanksgiving would come at least twice a year.

Methodist Notes

For next Sunday at the Methodist church, we have an unusual program. It will not be necessary to invite the public to come. It is only necessary to tell you that representatives of the orphans' home, Waco, will have charge of the service at the 11 o'clock hour. The high class entertainment rendered by this orchestra on former visits is sufficient to fill the house. Not only is the high class work a pressing invitation to be present, but the cause that they represent is sufficient to the Goldthwaite people. This home has sheltered and cared for so many of our Mills county children, that we feel sometimes that we have an interest in the home that ties us more closely to it than has most any other of the smaller counties of the state. What a blessing the work has been to these children who have found a refuge there! Hats off to the Methodist home of Waco. Yes, purses open, too. Let us give them a greeting such as we have not been able to do in all the past.

The Sunday evening hour will be devoted to a musical program. Mrs. Sullivan will render a program through her orchestra. This will be worth hearing. Let all our people be present.

It is becoming more and more apparent that the people are coming to the conclusion that the gospel can be sung into the hearts and minds of the people, with as much efficiency as by preaching. In this I would in no sense discredit the preaching of the word. As a matter of fact, the preaching of the word is the thing of greatest importance. But this is not said to discount the power of music. We are devoutly hoping that the new hymn book, now just off the press, may be a mighty force in bringing to our people a proper appreciation of the power of song. Already its force has been felt in many sections of our church. May it continue.

The press has announced the passing of the Rev. H. E. Draper, pastor of our church at Luling.

Possibly his going is, to this writer, as great a sense of loss as to any member of his conference. This, because of the fact that our lives have crossed in so many different ways. I first knew Dr. Draper when he was a very young man, fighting his way through the university of Missouri. While there, we were both pastors in the county where the university is located.

After a few years I came to Texas, and while pastor at San Saba invited him to hold a meeting in the church there. This he did with great effectiveness, and greatly endeared himself to the people. When I was ready to leave that church I requested the presiding elder, Rev. J. D. Scott, to send Bro. Draper to that place as pastor. I felt that he could do a work there in building a church, a thing I, and others, had failed to do. Bro. Draper left the San Saba people with the first marble church building ever erected in Texas. Since that time I have watched his work with joy and have seen him fill some of the most important appointments in the church. In all this I have rejoiced. It is almost inconceivable to me that he is gone from among us. In his going there is in my heart a sense of loneliness that has grown upon me with passing years. In looking over the appointments of the conferences to which I have belonged, I find that in some there are none in the active work who were there when I had membership among them. And now, Brother Draper, my junior by several years, has slipped away to be with God. But we shall meet again, soon, possibly.

Singing Convention A Great Success

The Mills county singing convention convened here last Saturday night at the grammar school auditorium, and continued in session through Sunday, adjourning Sunday afternoon. There was a large attendance of Goldthwaite and Mills county people, many from surrounding counties, and a number from a distance also attended. The singing was fine, and there was an excellent spirit throughout the session.

President L. B. Porter and his helpers prepared an abundant supply of barbecue, bread, pickles and coffee, and this was augmented with baskets of lunch brought by those who attended; hence, there was no lack in provisions and certainly no shortage in good singing.

Prof. J. H. Carr and his wife and two sons were among the most important visitors, although there were a number of well known and talented singers from other places, yet the singers of Mills county fully maintained the reputation the county has for good singers.

There were many pleasing and interesting features of the convention, one outstanding being the announcement that the next session would be held in Goldthwaite the first Sunday in March and Saturday night before. Goldthwaite feels especially honored by being chosen for a second session of the convention and those who expect to attend can well look forward to being splendidly entertained by President Porter and the entire citizenship of Goldthwaite, who appreciate good singing.

Short Local Items

Dr. Chas. K. Mills was in Houston the first of the week, attending a post graduate medical clinic.

C. R. Wilson, who is now engaged in the insurance business in Colorado, Texas, spent last week end as a guest in the C. E. Bayley home.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Blue of Santa Anna, accompanied by their son and daughter, John Hardy and Bettie Ruth, spent last Sunday in this city, guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Allen and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Randolph returned Monday from Waco, where they were called last week on account of the serious illness of his daughter, Mrs. Porter, who was somewhat improved when they left her, although her condition is still serious.

Dr. Rodney Hearne and wife of Seattle, Wash., were guests in the home of his aunt, Mrs. W. C. Dew, the early part of the week. He was reared in Mills county, and while he has been away a long time, he still has many friends here who remember him, and were glad to meet with him and his wife.

Miss Robert Elizabeth Littlepage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Littlepage of this city, a student in Baylor college in Belton, was stricken with appendicitis last week and was carried to a Temple sanitarium, where she underwent an operation Saturday morning. Her parents were with her and Mrs. Littlepage is still at her bedside, and has written friends here that she is getting along satisfactorily. Her friends sincerely hope for her speedy recovery.

A Last Minute Rush

Several letters had to be left out this week because of the unusual and unexpected demand for advertising space. These letters will all be published next week, and we assure the correspondents we regret the necessity for crowding them out, and will endeavor to prevent a recurrence of the necessity.

Nazarene Remarks

The meeting closed last Sunday night. As we usually say of all meetings, it was not what we had hoped for, nevertheless, the church was greatly helped. We rejoice because of this and especially the conversions which were seen during the meeting.

We appreciated the splendid increase in our Sunday school last Sunday, and are looking for a continued increase next Sunday. The newly organized boys' class is sure to grow, with such a splendid group of boys to start with. We are expecting that class to be by far the largest class in Sunday school. Come on, boys!

Next Sunday morning my subject will be "Then What?" Evangelistic service Sunday night.

CHARLIE HARRISON, Pastor

Jail Breaker Captured By Sheriff

A young man who had been left in the run-around in the jail Monday night, escaped by using the damper out of the stove pipe to dig the mortar from around one of the large stones in the wall, under a window, thereby removing the stone and making a hole large enough for him to crawl through. He attached a portion of his bedding to the bar across the window and by that means let himself down to the ground. He made his way on foot to Center City, where a passing motorist picked him up and carried him to a point near Gatesville, where some of his relatives live. Sheriff J. H. Harris learned he had passed through Evans, hence drew the conclusion he had gone to the home of one of his relatives. Sheriff Harris and Deputy Walter Doggett drove over to the relative's residence Tuesday night and instituted a search for the fugitive, locating him in the barn. He was taken into custody and returned to jail that night.

Delta Han Bridge Club

Miss Lillian Summy was hostess to the Delta Han Bridge club Wednesday, assisted by her mother.

Delicious apple pie topped with whipped cream, and tea were served to the following members: Mrs. Raymond Bledsoe, J. P. Atkinson, J. R. Teppin, J. L. Brim, F. E. Frazier, Miss Madeline Dennis and Miss Rusty Burnett. REPORTER.

Let Us Sing

Don't forget the community singing at the Baptist church Sunday, Dec. 8, at 2 p. m. We will start with a selection from the Sacred Harp, and come right down the ages to the singing of today. Bring your books, for congregational singing will be a part of the program. Several choruses will be rendered. Persons under three years or over ninety-three will not be allowed to take part. Old and young alike will be pleased with this program.

So bring your books. Be there on time to "Read your title clear and wipe your weeping eyes." All churches please announce next Sunday. LEADER.

Certificates Will Be Necessary

Young men who have become 21 years of age since Jan. 1, 1935, must procure from the tax collector's office an exemption certificate before the end of January, 1936, to enable them to vote in any election after that date. There will be no charge for such certificates, but the law is plain and mandatory.

Lions To Sponsor Christmas Tree

Continuing a custom inaugurated several years ago, the Lions club of Goldthwaite will erect a Christmas tree on the court house square this year. On Christmas eve Santa Claus himself will arrive and present candy and fruit to the boys and girls of Mills county. Definite plans for the tree and gifts were made at the regular meeting of the Lions club Tuesday evening.

Other topics of discussion at the meeting included highway construction, lateral road building, city street paving and the recently authorized sewerage system.

Steps were taken to learn the status of highway 7, east of Goldthwaite, and to recommend to the state highway department that construction start as soon as possible on the portion of this highway which is in prospect.

President A. H. Smith presided at the meeting. REPORTER.

An Ideal Teacher In the Community

By Tolbert Patterson

It is difficult to judge the efficiency of a school. It is equally difficult to judge the efficiency of a teacher's work. Some of the greatest and best results of a teacher's work may be of a type to prevent measurement. The results of greatest worth may be far-fetched and not tangible for a great many years. It is not possible to accurately judge inspiration, and yet a teacher's greatest work may come from inspiration instilled in the life of youngsters, which may not materialize until later life.

Citizens do, however, pass judgment on teachers. The estimations made by parents should be based on characteristics that determine true worth as teachers, and not upon some personal grudge or petty belief. Teachers in turn, should set up standards for their personal attainment. We accomplish a great deal more when we have goals to reach and ideals to attain. For me the following items represent some of the major ideals generally accepted by parents and desired by teachers. These characteristics represent a few of the qualities and practices which we, as teachers, would do well to attempt to develop as our own:

1. Thorough mastery of subject material to be taught
2. Kind and sympathetic with pupils
3. Demand respect from and good behavior of students
4. Interested in all community citizens, and not a tool for a separate few
5. One that is reasonable and patient in discussing and explaining pupil problems to parents
6. One that spends a reasonable part of their out of school time in the community
7. One that is interested in some extra curricula activity besides athletics
8. One that is pleasant to know and enjoys social contacts with folks
9. One that gets pleasure from denominational work in the community where he is teaching
10. One that is self-served and refined, too intimate with folks and one that is of bad behavior and conversation
11. One that has leadership
12. One that has moral integrity.

RATES FOR DAILIES

The holiday rates for daily papers are now in effect. Some of them have already given notice that the rates will be withdrawn on the last day of this month. They may change the plan, but the Eagle has no authority at this time to quote the special rate past that date. This special rate is the same as last year, and those who renew their subscriptions to the dailies through the Eagle office are urged to send in the amount at once, as the rate is mighty likely to be withdrawn. You can save by a combination subscription for any daily and the Eagle, but your subscription to any of the dailies is solicited at this office, no matter whether you desire to subscribe or renew for the Eagle or take advantage of the clubbing rate.

MRS. I. T. MORRIS IS CLAIMED BY DEATH

Death Wednesday claimed one of the most beloved women of McCulloch county in Mrs. I. T. Morris, who succumbed to a heart attack at her home at 2:30 o'clock. She was 76 years of age, and was the wife of Rev. I. T. Morris, retired Methodist minister.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Brady Methodist church. Mrs. Morris was a native of Powhattan, Ark., where she was married to Rev. Mr. Morris on March 23, 1879. Six years later they came to Texas, where they since had made their home. Rev. Mr. Morris being pastor of a number of churches in the West Texas conference. Rev. Mr. Morris was pastor here from 1912 to 1916, and he and Mrs. Morris came back to Brady to live in January, 1921, residing in this city since his superannuation the following fall.

Survivors are a husband and seven children; five sons and two daughters.

Mrs. Morris was a devout member of the Methodist church, having been since childhood, and until her death, attended practically all the church activities. Until a few years ago, she took active leadership in social and civic work, as well—Brady Standard.

Mrs. Morris lived in Goldthwaite a good many years ago, when her husband was pastor of the Methodist church at this place. She is remembered by many Goldthwaite people, who were grieved when the announcement of her death reached them.

Burch is prepared to clean and dress garments for any member of the family and takes orders made to measure garments for his sample for Spring and summer clothing.

CHORAL CLUB
MOTHERS ORGANIZE

The mothers of the high school choral club met with Mrs. Sullivan at her studio on Tuesday for the purpose of discussing plans for organizing and the selection of officers for the year. In the business meeting Mrs. Marsh Johnson was elected president, Mrs. Armstrong, secretary, and Mrs. Claude Saylor, reporter.

Mrs. Sullivan then outlined her plans for the Choral club activities for the year, and asked the co-operation of the mothers in the making of vestments for the girls. These vestments are to be the permanent property of the club, and are to be paid for out of the club funds, the mothers making them.

The regular uniforms for the year was also discussed.

All mothers of the high school Glee club are invited to join this organization, the sole purpose of which is to further the interests of the Glee club.

HOLIDAY ACTIVITIES

Last Friday Mrs. Sullivan entertained her private pupils and college girls with a tea. The guests present were Mary Margaret Bigham, Catherine Egan, Sarah Fairman, Lottie Trent, Ima Lois Mayle and Charline Brim. DORIS CHILDRESS

With the last football game of the season, the pep squad automatically disbanded. The pep squad of 1935 will long be remembered, we hope, as the best pep squad in district 18B.

As president of the pep squad, I wish to express, for the whole school, admiration for the work of Willie Faye Gray, main yell leader, and Irene Ray and Lottie Hester, assistants. We also wish to express our appreciation of Mrs. Barnett and Mrs. Little, our sponsors, who always went with the pep squad to games, and who made many original plans for the pep squad.

SENIOR CLASS NOTES

The seniors seemed to have enjoyed their Thanksgiving, although there were a few complaints heard. Two of our senior girls attended the B. Y. P. U. meeting in Dallas; others went to Lampasas to a football game, others spent their time in Goldthwaite, and some few failed to return on Monday morning. At any rate, as a whole, the holidays were appreciated.

We have received our senior rings, and some few are wearing them, while the remaining group waits with anticipation until their ship comes in.

We regret that our fellow member, Julius Miles, is still absent from school, and hope that he will soon be able to be back with us.

AZTECAS CLUB

On Monday, December 2, 1935, the Spanish club met. President Earl Harvey opened the meeting by having the minutes read by Aileen Stark.

The committee appointed to select a name for the club suggested the name "Aztecas." "Aztecas" means "war lords," and it was the name of the leader of the most educated Indians in Mexico. The club adopted this name, and decided it should be pronounced by Spanish pronunciation.

Mrs. Barnett told the club about her trip to San Antonio during Thanksgiving. She told of her visit to the Alamo, the governor's mansion, and many other interesting places.

The club adjourned to meet again on the fourth Monday of this month.

GLEE CLUB TO RENDER PROGRAM

Next Sunday night, on Dec. 9, the Girls' Glee club is to render a Christmas cantata at the Methodist church before the preaching service. The Glee club will sing parts of five numbers. There will also be solos, duets and quartets.

This will be the first appearance of the Glee club in the costumes. They are to wear white vestments over black skirts.

If you want to hear an interesting Christmas program, be sure to go to the Methodist church next Sunday night.

Emphasizing the uncertainty of the outcome of the London naval conference, Secretary Swanson, in his annual report, reiterated a strong recommendation that the American navy be built to the full strength authorized in the Washington and London pacts. "The situation in regard to treaties for limitation of naval armaments still remains uncertain, and it is impossible to predict the nature of future treaties, if any," he said, in his annual report.

Mrs. Dora Goode of Star was a pleasant caller at the Eagle office Tuesday.

E. M. Geeslin of Caradan, accompanied by his son, made the Eagle a pleasant call Tuesday. Mr. Geeslin has been suffering with rheumatism quite a while, and his friends are glad to know he is much improved and hope he will soon be entirely recovered. It is sincerely regretted, however, that Mrs. Geeslin's condition is still a matter of serious consideration for her family and friends.

A REASONABLE CHARGE

The Eagle, like all other newspapers, makes a reasonable charge for the publication of cards of thanks, obituaries, lodge resolutions and similar articles. This is not a new rule, but has been in effect all of the years of the Eagle's publication. The charge for these articles must be assumed or guaranteed by the writers or some other responsible party.

We have not cleaned up our campus like we would like to, but as soon as the weather will permit, we will clean it up also.

A CONTINUED IMPROVEMENT

According to every record available, the business of the country continues to improve, and there has been no backward movement at any point, as far as reported or ascertained. When the business enterprises and organizations prosper, it is pretty safe to depend that the whole country is in the same condition, for business of every kind is dependent upon agriculture and industry for its support. On the basis of income reports, 264 important companies show earnings during the third quarter of 1935, which are 68.6 per cent more than for the third quarter of last year.

Of the 26 major industries represented, only four failed to show increases over the corresponding quarter of 1934. The steel industry transformed a large loss in the third quarter of last year into a good profit this year, reflecting substantially higher operations. Automobile producers greatly improved earnings despite September close downs for model changes. Building supply company earnings responded to sharp increases in construction. Electrical equipment producers reported a 100 per cent gain in total net, and the same is true of machinery companies. These industries reflect the first important stirring of demand for capital goods. Estimates show that full-year net profits of the reporting companies are likely to be not less than 30 per cent higher than in 1934.

These figures indicate that the country's industries are staging a come-back without the aid, or should the expression be, interference of the national government in regulating the business. Business seems to have taken courage since the knock-out of the NRA by the supreme court, and it is hoped the incoming congress will not again enact measures to retard the country's industries returning to normal, thereby reducing the list of unemployed.

ENFORCEMENT IMPORTANT

While all methods suggested for remedying the traffic accident situation have more or less good in them, in the last analysis a strict enforcement of the laws of the various departments of government must be depended upon to bring about the desired results, which will be a reduction in the list of killed and injured. This is not to minimize the vital need for such primary measures as education and engineering, for education is a great hope, and only through it can we achieve the ideal of self-enforcement. Traffic engineering is a fast-developing science, which can and does go far in reducing the probability of motor accidents caused by faults in street and highway design and construction. Nevertheless, until education teaches the motorist better habits and a proper respect for the added advantages given by traffic engineering safety, enforcement must assume the practical leadership in accident reduction.

People who are otherwise law-abiding, deliberately break the traffic laws every day. The result last year was 35,000 killed and close to a million injured. The officers can not afford to let down in their enforcement efforts—rather must they intensify them. One requisite of good enforcement is intelligent application of the law. All offending motorists are not alike, either in their attitude or the degree of their offense. Real enforcement really is self-enforcement. Death and destruction on streets and highways will practically cease when every driver—and every pedestrian—becomes his own agent of enforcement.

HOPING FOR IMPROVEMENT

The administration sends out the word that conditions have improved to a point where direct relief or "dole" will soon be a thing of the past, and that all who desire employment will have it, either in private business or on public works. Administrator Hopkins hopes that it will not be long before the WPA is providing 3,500,000 jobs, the goal it was designed to reach some time ago. When that time comes, all direct relief will be at once abandoned. At this writing, it has already been abandoned in more than a third of the states.

No problem would exist if active employment of 3,500,000 workers meant jobs for all needy. But an additional 1,500,000 or more needy will not be given jobs—because they are unable to work. Those 1,500,000 unemployables fall into three broad categories—the physically handicapped, dependent children and the aged and infirm. Mr. Hopkins says that the federal government is going to provide jobs for those who are able to work, and that the states must provide for the unemployables.

That is the situation as it appears today, and while congress will doubtless be called on for additional legislation in the premises and additional appropriations. However, whatever assistance is to be given by congress must of necessity be several months in the offing.

SAVING FOOD AND FEED

Statistics that have been compiled in Texas, by local authorities and that supplied by the federal census bureau and other sources available, present some very pleasing and encouraging facts. These give assurance that a huge surplus feed and food crop, nearly three times as much as grown in 1934, has been harvested and saved. More than 1,000 new trench silos have been reported as filled in 1935 to save this feed crop.

More than 3,000 horticulture demonstrations and 25,000 co-operating men and women influenced other rural citizens to increase the value, productivity and profits of truck crops, orchards and home gardens. Meats work went forward with continued enthusiasm, with the meat specialist visiting five districts and aiding thirty agents in conducting farm butchering demonstrations. Meat schools were held, and seven meat shows conducted in the state, where home-cured and canned meat products were on display. All of these facts indicate that the people are getting back to the basic principles of self reliance and are depending upon their own resources, industry and thrift.

THOUGHTS ON INDUSTRY

If all incomes in this country were limited to $5,000 a year, and the excess redistributed, the average income would be increased by just $100. This was the assertion of Dr. Ralph C. Epstein, dean of the university of Buffalo school of business administration. It is not so much faulty distribution of wealth, he said, as it is underproduction of wealth that keeps people in want.

For every ten men employed directly in the manufacture of steel, five are working to supply them with raw materials, while many additional men are employed in the fabrication of countless thousands of articles made from steel and iron.

In the first nine months of intensive activity by the AAA, says the New York Sun's Washington correspondent, American farmers interested in the production of 16 important commodities, have lost $109,000,000 worth of domestic and foreign markets, according to a study based upon department of commerce figures. Since last January exports have fallen $68,000,000 below the levels of the preceding year, and farm imports increased $41,000,000.

A $60,000,000 experiment in employment planning by private industry, designed to stabilize production by eliminating seasonal slumps, has been announced by Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of General Motors. Seeking to increase annual income of automobile workers, Mr. Sloan pointed out that efforts have long been under way to stabilize employment.

Prof. John H. Gregory of McAllen won the presidency of the Texas State Teachers association from Miss Quata Woods of Dallas by a margin of three votes, a tabulation of the vote revealed Saturday in the convention in San Antonio.

A county-wide election to decide if justice of the peace precinct 1, comprising that part of the city of Dallas east of the Trinity river, will be wet or the whole county dry, was called Tuesday by the commissioners court for Saturday, Dec. 14.

A federal judge at Waco Friday ordered forfeited to the government five $20 gold pieces, seized Sept. 19, 1934. The gold coins were ordered delivered to the federal reserve bank at Dallas for transmission to the United States treasurer. Seizure was effected under proclamation of last year ordering all gold coins turned in to the government.

Senator McNary of Oregon, Republican leader, predicts that at the session of congress beginning in January a soldiers bonus bill will be enacted, despite a presidential veto. McNary, who helped the senate to sustain last May President Roosevelt's disapproval of the Patman plan to pay the $2,000,000,000 immediately with new currency, told questioners: "A bonus bill will pass this session over a presidential veto, in my opinion."

Stamp collectors' mail that took only five days to cross the Pacific ocean, will not reach addressees in the United States for a month. The post office department said letters carried on the recent flight of the China Clipper would be forwarded from Manila, Guam and Honolulu by regular mail—by steamship and train. The covers are expected, it was said Friday, to reach eastern collectors between Christmas and New Year.

State and local governments have been put on notice that the federal government will give them no more "dole" money. Officials said that from now on the federal government's responsibility in relieving distress will be confined to financing works projects to give jobs for "employables." After states have exhausted federal "dole" funds already granted, they and the local governments will be expected to take care of "unemployables" with their own funds.

VIEWES OF THE NATION'S PRESS ON TOPICS OF INTEREST AND IMPORTANCE

1935 AAA COTTON PLAN

At the beginning of the AAA experiment in production control, Secretary Wallace said: "It is a contrivance as new in the field of social relations as the first gasoline engine was in the field of mechanics—and may be correspondingly crude in its first design and performance." There have been imperfections, as Secretary Wallace predicted, but enemies of production control are foolish when they propose to reject it because of incidental imperfections. Equally foolish are those advocates of production control who, because they so heartily approve the general principle, refuse to admit that there are any incidental imperfections. The general plan is sound, but the details can and must be improved.

The AAA cannot long hold prices of American cotton much above the world price level and expect manufacturers to buy it. All talk about the processing tax and acreage control ruining our cotton export trade was absurd. But the 12-cent loan did check exports. The government would not turn loose cotton at less than 12 cents, and buyers would not pay 12. So the new AAA proposal to lend only 9 cents, but add enough extra payments to insure co-operating growers the full equivalent of last year's loan—this plan would have given the farmer just as good financial returns as a 12 cent loan, while at the same time getting more American cotton sold and used—and thereby would have reduced the still-too-enormous surplus or carry-over of American cotton. The ten cent loan policy, we hope, will accomplish practically the same result.—Progressive Farmer.

BEING APPRECIATIVE

We sometimes wonder if folks are really appreciative of the great benefits we enjoy in America. Here practically every child now has the opportunity to attend school and secure at least a high school education. That is something that can not be said of the children of any other land and country.

Less than fifty years ago schooling was something hard to get. In fact, only the well-to-do, and those who had the ambition to study at home were able to prepare themselves for the duties of life.

Those of us who can recall the little rough desks that we had, and the cold days, when we had to draw up close around the old wood stove to keep warm, and then when we had to walk sometimes for several miles through all kinds of weather to get there, and how we had to chop wood and bring in water and do other chores around the place on returning home, know that opportunities are far better now than in our childhood. Why, you can ride to school now in a comfortable bus; you can sit in a modern, brick building with steam heat, and when you go home after "books" the chances are you don't have anything to do—Waco Record.

A new NRA bill was reported authoritatively Saturday to be ready for swift submission to Congress, should business show signs of wanting it. In the same informed quarter it was said President Roosevelt had been advised of the basic provisions of the measure, and has expressed no objections.

Informed sources said Saturday that a French warning to Italy against any unprovoked aggression upon Great Britain's Mediterranean fleet has definitely lessened international tension. It showed Il Duce, these sources asserted, exactly where the nations of Europe stand—and France by the side of Britain as a result, they continued, Mussolini has changed his tune.

The development of capacity power machinery has done more to change the production map of the United States than any other single factor or invention. It has made possible the production of grain and cotton on a large scale in sections of the country where acre production would prove unprofitable when farmed in small tracts. Through the breeding of dwarf grain sorghums, which can be harvested by combines, improved machinery has also been an aid in making profitable the feeding of cattle and lambs in areas where production of feeders for other sections was formerly the only practice.

In the early period of large capacity power machinery, small farms were at a disadvantage. Although small acre yields were secured on large farms in the western areas, low cost production more than made up the difference. Today, however, the man with a medium-sized farm in a more productive section has been brought back to a more competitive basis through the development of smaller and efficient units. Small farmers can equip themselves with power machinery fitted to their conditions and again produce at a low unit cost, laboring fewer hours and increasing their acre yield by efficient soil preparation and proper cultivation. Their machines may have a smaller capacity than those used on the western plains, but they are easier handled, cost less to operate, and are much more elastic, performing numerous services for which the larger machines are unadapted.

Efficient farming on smaller acreage, with due attention to the conservation of soil and fertility, will never be displaced by large farming operations in regions of light rainfall.—Home and Farm.

AN UN-AMERICAN OATH

To war against war is one thing. But to refuse to bear arms in defense of one's home and country is distinctly another.

Almost unanimous in America today is the desire of our people for peace and their determination to keep this nation free from the ravages of war. But this will to peace, this hatred of war, calls for no such abject renunciation of patriotism and honor as is embraced in the so-called Oxford oath, or that adaption of it that pledges its subscribers to refuse to support the government of the United States "in any war it may undertake."

This oath, now being promoted among the spineless, smart-alec fringe of our college student bodies, does not differentiate between wars of aggression and wars of defense.

This oath, had our forefathers clung to such timorous principles, would have left America still a Crown colony of Great Britain, its people subject to foreign domination. It would have bared our country to secession and divided it into two or perhaps, eventually, a number of small nations, potentially not unlike Europe, with its heterogeneous group of armed camps.

The spectacle of one thousand Temple university students rising in endorsement of this un-American oath, without even hearing it read, is not calculated to hearten the more thoughtful friends of peace.

Nor can those who knew him to be other than saddened when they consider how Temple's founder, the great-souled Russell H. Conwell, would have contemplated such a proceeding—Conwell, who as a stripling officer fought gallantly to preserve the Union, before he enlisted as a preacher. In the Army of God.—Philadelphia Inquirer.
