GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1939.

NUMBER TWENTY-FOUR

NEW HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION IN PROSPECT

New Route Between Dallas and Del Rio Includes Goldthwaite

Austin Gossip
(By ZEKE)

AUSTIN, (Sp).—Governor O'Daniel's announcement that he thinks 35 cents is enough to pay for a meal has brought much discussion and some fear lest his plan be put through the Legislature. Many State employees have heretofore sailed along the highways, putting down $1 meals on their expense accounts, along with $2.00 hotel rooms. When a newspaperman figured out the saving to the State would be $285,000 annually if the expense accounts were cut to 35-cent meals and $1 rooms, the governor thanked him profusely for the information, saying it wouldn't take long to save several millions if strict economy is put into effect in State affairs. "Then we could pay the old folks," smiled the Governor.

By the way, Claude Teer, chairman of the Board of Control, says he would like to see the present Legislature take the operation of the Old Age Assistance set-up out of the hands of the Board. "It was dumped on us at the last session and we don't want it," Teer says.

Howard Hertzog has promised a hearing soon on the Westbrook resolution calling for an investigation of the operations of the Old Age set-up.

When the House committee on eleemosynary institutions visited the State Deaf and Dumb Institute last Friday, five or six of the members of the committee refused to eat dinner as guests of the superintendent who has been under fire recently. On the other hand one of the members blandly announced that "if any of you fellows need to have your car fixed, they will fix it out here and it won't cost you anything." Representative Bundy of Wichita Falls took it on himself to inspect the garage and reports he found six cars being repaired and that "none of them belonged to the state." So there may be more fireworks here, soon.

It begins to look like February will be a month noted for visits from many delegations interested in legislation. The Fourth Estate will have its day—two days—Feb. 10 and 11, when the Texas Press Association meets here. Deskins Wells will preside, with program chairman Ray Nichols discussing legislation. Entertainment will be provided by Louis N. Goldberg and others.

Manufacturers and merchants who own and operate trucks, as well as those engaged in truck operations as a business, are expected to be in Austin on Feb. 7, for the first skirmish on the bills to increase the load limit. At this time the House committee will determine which of several bills introduced will be passed through for consideration by the House.

Mohair Crop Better This Year

J. A. Hester of Goldthwaite, manager of the Henry Stallings warehouse there, noted an apparent drop of about 14 per cent in the poundage of mohair in his immediate section last year, but added that the volume had come back during the last year. Mr. Hester was here for the opening sessions of the wool growers' meeting.—San Angelo Times.

Prospects for a brand-new state or federal highway in Mills county appear bright following a meeting in Austin last week of legislators and the State Highway Commission. The road will be a section of a proposed airline highway connecting Dallas and Del Rio.

The project has the active support of all the counties which will be traversed, and Representative Albert R. Cauthorn of Del Rio stated that the Mexican government has agreed to build a direct highway from Del Rio to Mexico City to connect with it.

The proposed route follows highways already built or authorized with the exception of a gap of slightly more than 30 miles between Hamilton and Goldthwaite and of 40 miles between San Saba and Mason. This means that the expense to the Highway Department would be comparatively low, and favorable action is expected soon.

Commissioner Harry Hines stated that he expected to make a personal survey of the route from Mason to Hamilton.

This year will see the completion of the Colorado river bridge between Goldthwaite and San Saba and paving of the highway between Goldthwaite and Star. The only other highway project remaining in the county is the paving of State Highway 81 between the bridge and the Comanche county line, and the possible re-location of the highway between here and Comanche. The prospect for an entirely new road connecting Hamilton and Goldthwaite is therefore particularly encouraging. It would also undoubtedly speed up the paving of the present road between Goldthwaite and San Saba.

Route of the proposed Dallas-Del Rio Airline Road is as follows: Dallas, Midlothian, Cleburne, Glen Rose, Chalk Mountain, Hico, Hamilton, Goldthwaite, San Saba, Mason, Rock Springs, Del Rio, a distance of approximately 350 miles, which is a considerable saving over other routes.

With a concerted effort on the part of Dallas business interests to foster Latin-American relations, sponsors of the project feel that the early construction of the road is virtually assured.

Ground Hog Gets All Mixed Up

Texas weather had local groundhogs (if any) all confused. Thursday started off with a heavy shower totalling .80 inch on the Fairman Co. gauge at Goldthwaite, and it appeared likely that the ground hog could scamper about unfrightened by his shadow. About noon a few fugitive rays of sunshine appeared, but whether they were bright enough to frighten the weather prophet is debatable.

Rainfall for January

Almost five inches of rain fell in Goldthwaite during the first month of 1939; 4.94 inches to be exact, according to Harry Allen's government gauge.

Although this is no kind of record, it does show that the moisture has at last discovered this section of the state, and is making frequent, if not very heavy, visits.

Sunday, Jan. 8, took first honors with a total of two inches, while Jan. 11, placed close with 1.92 inches. The lightest rains of the month, if they can be called rains, fell on Jan. 17, and 27, when only .001 of an inch was recorded.

Lee O's Billy the Goat Leads 'Capitol' Life In Mansion Yard

By FLORENCE HELLER

(Editor's Note: The following article from The Daily Texan, Austin was sent to The Eagle by Shu's Faulkner of Goldthwaite, student at the University of Texas and a clerk in the office of Senator Penrose Metcalfe).

There were rumors circulating around to the effect that a strange creature was playing sentinel on the Governor's lawn. Weird noises emanating from that vicinity further corroborated the statement. They say that at the last Ohio election, the Republicans celebrated their triumph with parades of elephants all over town; yet an animal on the Governor's lawn! Obviously the matter called for investigation.

As usual, someone always turns out to be the goat, and this case was no exception. His name is Billy and he's of genuine Angora stock. In fact, his coat's so thick, you can easily pull the wool over his eyes, and that's no yarn, either. The story goes that one Tolbert Patterson, former Mills county representative, presented the animal to Governor O'Daniel on inauguration day. Mr. Patterson declared that Mills county had been the goat long enough as far as political representation had been concerned; and since Governor O'Daniel received 76 per cent of the votes last election, the people thought a real hillbilly goat would be the appropriate gift for him.

The O'Daniels weren't as amazed as they might have been, for they have always had strange pets. Once someone presented them with five duck eggs, which when hatched were named "Goo Goo," "Ga Ga," "Wa Wa," "Woo Woo," and "Ha Ha." (Can't you just hear the last one wise-cracking, "Ha Ha, the yolk's on me!") Then there were "Jack," the fighting rooster, and "Bottle," the colossal lamb. "Jerry," Mrs. O'Daniel's pugnacious 12-year-old canary, is now stationed at the mansion.

But to get back to Billy—and really, it's quite safe to turn your back to him—he's as friendly as a puppy and as stubborn as a mule. He gaily romps up to all visitors, and on this specific occasion exhibited a healthy appetite for a certain blue leather purse. Anyway, Billy has got Mike O'Daniel's goat, for the animal absolutely refuses to get riled up about anything and proudly disdains to engage in a lively tussle with Mike. The only time Billy ever gets het up is at mealtime, when detached nibbling at the mansion lawn seems just "too terribly futile."

As far as politics is concerned, Billy himself doesn't believe in having conventions, be they Republican or Democrat. As far as his present situation is concerned, he probably thinks it's a capitol idea. He's some KID, eh what!

Bearded Cagers Meet Howard Payne

Plenty of color will be promised to basketball fans when the Howard Payne basketball team tangle with the House of David on the hardwood at Brownwood, Friday night (tonight), Feb. 3. The House of David basketball team is recognized as the World's most colorful club. The entire team is heavily bearded and combine real basketball ability with trick shots and comic antics, that will furnish plenty of entertainment for the crowd.

The Howard Payne quintet has improved rapidly in the last several games. The high scoring trio of Jacket sharpshooters, Warren, Odell, and Smith, are expected to deal the bewildered basketballers plenty of misery.

The Davids played 201 games last season in Canada, U. S. and Mexico and only lost 7.

Motions were made and carried as follows:

To close solicitation of funds for financing the show on Feb. 10.

Luther Rudd and M. L. Jernigan were named as a committee, with authority to name others to invite buyers to the show and auction.

That the secretary-treasurer provide ribbons and deliver the prizes.

That Lee Tesson sponsor a miniature airplane derby as an entertainment feature for the fair visitors.

That a resolution of appreciation be entered on minutes commending C. F. Vandergriff, who is retiring from the board, and is moving from the county, for his co-operation on making plans and for last years show and for the 1939 show.

The next meeting was set for Monday night, Feb. 13.

Twenty-one new members have been added:

Poultryman Gives FFA Baby Chicks

A. H. Demke, who has a large hatchery in Stephenville, last week presented the local chapter of Future Farmers of America with 50 of his S. C. White Leghorn chicks.

The chicks were one-week-old when presented to our vocational agriculture teacher. They will be carried as a class project and will be used for class work as well as a demonstration project. When the cockerels and pullets are sold the money will go into the chapter treasury; however the pullets probably will not be sold. Mr. Henry is taking care of them now but plans to turn them over to some boy in the chapter in the near future.

Mr. Demke is cooperating with the National Poultry Improvement Plan and at the present time his flocks are in the third breeding stage, which is United States certified, and means that every hen in the flock must be carefully examined and approved by a government inspector. The roosters used must have a much higher rating.

Joe Long Opens New Business

An announcement elsewhere in this paper is published of the new electrical and automotive shop opened by Joe F. Long in the Conro building west of the Saylor Hotel.

Mr. Long, who recently resigned the position of local manager of the Community Public Service Co. here will specialize in electrical contracting and in selling electric fixtures and supplies. He will also handle auto supplies, tires, gasoline and oil.

The building has been attractively remodeled to house the new business, and friends of Mr. Long are confident that it will prove an important business unit here.

County Basketball Tournament,

The County Basketball Tournament will be played in Mullin gymnasium, February 10 and 11. The teams have drawn for first round play in the tournament and will play as follows:

The first game will start Friday night at 7:00 o'clock, between Star and Center Point, at 8:00 o'clock, Mullin and Priddy will play. Then Saturday morning at 10:00 o'clock the winner of the Star—Center Point game will play the winner of the Mullin and Priddy game, which will determine the Class B champion of Mills county.

Tuesday night, February 14, Goldthwaite will play the Class E champion, for the Mills county championship. This winner will represent Mills county in the District Basketball Tournament, in Brownwood, February 17 and 18.

Star won the county championship last year defeating Goldthwaite in the final game by a score of 19 to 9. The All-County team last year was made up of two boys from Priddy, Adolph Kunkle and Charles Partain; two from Star, Kress Steel and Delmer Geeslin and one boy from Goldthwaite, Duron Kerby. Only one of these boys will be playing in the tournament this year. Charles Partain from Priddy, will be playing his last year and looks like a clinch for all-county again this year.

Star, Priddy and Mullin seem to have the strongest teams. Center Point has shown much improvement the last few weeks, and little is known of the strength of Big Valley.

The tournament was played in the Star gymnasium last year and financed by charging an admission of 5 and 10 cents for preliminary games and 10 and 15 cents for the final game.

The expense of last year's tournament were:

|---------------------------------|---------|
| Trophy and two gold basketballs | $27.00 |
| Basketball | 9.95 |
| Light bill | 2.00 |
| Official | 15.00 |
| Whistles | .25 |
| Telephone call | .40 |
| TOTAL | $54.60 |

After all expenses were paid there was approximately $8.00 profit left.

The tournament will be financed the same way this year with the same admission as last year.

All coaches will please be present and have their teams ready to play at the scheduled time. All coaches are asked to send a list of all eligible players by February 12, and bring basketball membership or registration receipt the day they play.

The Junior basketball teams will play their tournament of either one or two weeks after the senior tournament, at Star.

Record Number Poll Taxes Paid

After the smoke had cleared from the last three days' rush in the tax collector's office Wednesday, Sheriff and Tax Collector Hern Harris reported that 1,635 poll taxes had been paid, a record for an off-year politically. This figure compares with 1,504 for 1937 and only 1,490 for 1935. Last year, a state election year, 1,950 poll taxes were paid.

Tax payments for the final three days of January also exceeded previous estimates, and many remittances by mail could not be opened until Wednesday due to the press of window business.

Those who neglected to pay their poll taxes before the deadline will not be allowed to vote this year, but they will not be exempted from paying the poll tax later if they decide to pay their other state and county taxes, the sheriff said.

JUST LOOKIN' AROUND

SCHOOLS

THIRTEEN schools, which have been some hard sledding in the last few months, are eagerly awaiting the progress of a bill introduced in the Legislature at this week. This bill authorizes a deficiency appropriation to enable the State Department of Education to make good on its promise to pay the salaries of 25 school principals last year, but has so far failed to pass.

Reports state that prospective buyers are good for an early passage of the bill. This is good news for Mills county schools which all receive a generous amount of money from the state for last year's work.

Good news for the school year is also being received by Supt. A. H. Smith in his week notifying him of the share of the Education Fund this year has increased to $8,009.00, an increase of approximately $2,350 over last year.

Most of this money is available, and it is considered that the Goldthwaite school is in a position to pay the salaries of its teachers, which are $31,000, while the district is only owing $27,000 to be paid over the school year.

Over the state has so far paid one-ninth of the salaries, and the remainder cannot be paid promptly. Teachers are having to borrow money from the state to resume their work.

Current situation exists in Mills county, in fact, districts with heavy debts make them more dependent on state aid. The teachers in the local districts are taking the situation philosophically and going to work efficiently.

They have the knowledge that, in view of the policies of the Department of Education, salaries in the school have been cut from $75 to $67.50 in the past four years. Many of the words receive more in salary than they used to.

Businessman experienced depression now and which his income is pace with the out- many of them have respect of finally col- cent as do the Goldthwaite school. Teachers have rallied support of the school. Approximately 80 per cent of the school district taxes have been paid, and indications are that 90 per cent of the taxes collected before school is a good increase over the year which only 80 per cent were paid. In order to collect the taxes, the possibility that the delinquent taxpayers are public. Composing the Goldthwaite Board have a difficult time. In order to secure they must employ as many as the depart- and must pay the

The SNAPSHOT GUILD
A NEW CAMERA YEAR

Progressing—moving upward into the light—this striking picture could well symbolize the serious camera hobbyist today.

HOW much did you learn about picture-taking in the past year? How much will you learn in the New Year we are now entering? This is a splendid time to take stock of yourself, examine your camera progress, make plans for the future. Could the figure on the staircase above symbolize you? Are you standing still—or are you moving upward into the light, reading more about picture-taking, studying your pictures, taking more, and constantly trying to improve?

Much of value is being written these days about taking better pictures. Simple, practical handbooks about photography are readily available. Photo magazines contain much useful information. Manufacturers of cameras and film offer dozens of free pamphlets—not advertising, but practical instruction booklets. Every camera hobbyist should avail himself of these aids, for wider knowledge helps one make better pictures.

Is it your habit to study light and shadow—not just when taking a picture, but in everything you see? Light and shadow are the substances of which photographs are made. Observe them, compare their variations in morning and evening, on sunny and hazy days—and you will learn much about finding pictures that please the eye.

What do you know of color filters—the little devices which, slipped over a camera lens, account for many of the striking "effect" pictures one sees today? Have you studied the simple rules of composition that help you arrange pictures so much more pleasingly? Inexpensive, elementary books on how to make good pictures explain all these things in a manner that any picture-lover can understand.

Why not make the new year a period of study as well as of picture-taking? Broad knowledge is not needed to get pictures, but it helps obtain pictures that are better, more pleasing, more satisfying. And today such knowledge is so easy to acquire!

Though Sunday was a very disagreeable day, it didn't keep the Fifth Sunday meeting from being a success. There were visitors from Lamkin, in Comanche county and from Goldthwaite, Scallorn, Ridge and Big Valley Churches. The program was well rendered. The B. T. U. program put on by the Ridge young folks was fine. The next Fifth Sunday meeting will meet with the Ridge church in April. As the wind was so high and cold, Bro. Wade didn't preach Sunday.

How glad we all were when it quit snowing Friday afternoon. Can you remember ever seeing it snowing from the south like it did Friday? It sure was a wet snow.

Mrs. Eula Nickols spent Saturday and Monday afternoon in town with Mrs. Duke Clements, who is sick.

John W. Roberts happened to an accident Monday afternoon, late. He was throwing up in a tree at some chickens and the stick came back and hit him in the eye breaking his glasses and cutting his eye lid. We hope his eye ball isn't injured by any glass being in it. As I close my letter he is in town to see a doctor.

John W. Roberts sold his farm west of the Gatlin farm to a man in South Texas last week.

Phillip Nickols enjoyed eating dinner Sunday with his brother, Shirley and wife, in town. Annette Renfro from Big Valley spent Saturday night with Greta Traylor.

Otis and Besse Hutchings from Center Point helped Mrs. Nickols and Phillip to butcher last Tuesday.

Claud Laird and family from Galveston and Mrs. Mary Faulkner from town visited in the Wood's home, Sunday.

Mrs. R. E. Collier helped Mrs. Nickols to quilt Friday afternoon. Harvey Dunkle and wife visited with Walter Robertson and family at Live Oak last week.

Rev. B. F. Renfro and wife from Big Valley spent Saturday night in the Self home.

Clifton Renfro from Big Valley spent Saturday with James Roberts.

Miss Ruth Hale spent the week end with her home folks in Big Valley.

33 Years of Service in U. S. Army Is the Record of Geo. Morehouse

"Including two campaigns in the Philippine Islands, I served in the United States army for 33 years," said George Morehouse. "I had suffered with a minor bronchial irritation due to colds for the past two years. Finally I got hold of a bottle of Mentho-Mulsion through a friend of mine, and it is the first preparation that ever gave me any genuine relief. So far as I am concerned, I think it is the best cough medicine I ever saw."

If you or any member of your family is suffering with a common cough, take the advice of this army veteran, go to your drug store at once and ask for Mentho-Mulsion, the combination of eight healing ingredients recommended by doctors everywhere. If Mentho-Mulsion fails to give you relief, ask for your money back.

HOW DOES YOUR GARDEN GROW?

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary
Breeder-Feeder Association

Best time to start a spring garden is last fall, but never too late. Some soils require several plowings or spadings with time for nature to do its work in aerating, pulverizing, settling. If this was not done with fall plowing and fertilization it can still be done, but more labor. A poor seed bed enough with the ordinary field crops, costing loss of soil and yields, but it is invaluable in the garden. In case good preparation before planting is the best cultivation the crop will ever have, and most economical.

There are sites on most farms where the run-off water from other ground may be turned onto a garden for the vegetables which require considerable space. Fred Kveton of the South Plains plants his Irish potatoes, corn, melons, main crop beans, peas, etc. in regular cultivator-width rows and waters an acre or two by collecting the run-off from several acres of pasture on the garden plot. It thus gets two or three times as much water as falls directly on the garden, the flow being distributed by a system of "syrup-pan" terraces carefully laid out by the farm level instrument.

There is a way to have a garden in every soil and under every climate in the Southwest, and its value in contributing to a wholesome diet, besides the money value, is incalculable. A few cents' worth of seed multiplies a thousand-fold in skillful hands.

"Frame garden" has solved the problem of having vegetables under the difficult conditions of high winds, hot sun, and timely rainfall with which the Southwest has to contend. It is nothing more than a large box, four or five feet long as desired, with walls rising 12 to 18 inches above the surface of the soil in the well spaded and fertilized planting. Rows run crosswise of planting and on. It may be sub-irrigated by the usual methods or on the surface, and with a twelve inches apart, an unbelievable amount of smaller vegetables can be raised.

Mrs. F. D. Waddell

I have never seen any news under this heading, but here we come.

Henry Stevens visited his brother, Tiny Stevens and family last week. J. V. Brown and family spent Thursday in the Cornwell home. Mr. and Mrs. D. Waddell and family, Mrs. Sam Townsend and children, Miss Virginia Smith and brother, and V. T. Stevens and family visited in the Geeslin home Wednesday night and listened to the fight over the radio. Miss Bobbie Fairman spent Thursday night with Marjeanne Perryman.

We are very proud of some of the young men of the community who are putting forth a very strong effort to have a string band. Let us all help them. Ramsey Waddell called on Bunk Fuller awhile, Friday morning.

Mrs. Travis Long spent Thursday evening with her mother, Mrs. Featherston. C. O. Norton returned home, Friday night after several days visit with his father, at Amarillo. Mr. and Mrs. Lester Harris and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Geeslin and Lester Parish visited in the home of Luther Geeslin and family, Wednesday.

Mrs. C. O. Norton and mother Burns called on Mrs. F. D. Waddell, Wednesday.

C. O. Norton and F. D. Waddell returned home, Sunday evening from East Texas, with a very fine Jack.

Mrs. Jake Brown called on Mrs. Crowder, Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. V. T. Stevens called on his mother Sunday.

Ralph Massey and Curtis Crowder have been seriously sick but are better at this writing.

Several enjoyed a musical in the Waddell home, Saturday night.

George Mason has been on the sick list, lately.

The band boys met in the Grelle home Monday night to practice. They are certainly improving. They named the band "Verdie Price and His Downyonder Boys." We were also entertained by Felton Waddell and Mr. Grelle. Felton picked the banjo and Mr. Grelle sang, "She'll Be Coming Round the Mountain." Those who missed this, really missed a treat. But I believe they will have to improve quite a bit before they are ready to go on the air. Mrs. Grelle served Doughnuts and coffee.

Mrs. F. D. Waddell and children called in the Sparkman home awhile, Sunday afternoon. We were glad to learn that Isabelle Grelle is enjoying her work and study at Austin. Let me urge again for all to help the band boys instead of knocking, so we will have something to be proud of.

Poultry House Lighting Will Maintain Production of Eggs

Ordinary and ultra-violet lights maintain health as well as production.

By IRA MILLER
Rural Electrification Bureau

With the coming of the shorter days of fall and winter, many farmers experience a sharp decline in the egg production of their flocks. For many others, however, there is little if any decrease in the number of eggs they obtain. Why? Barring disease, the difference is solely due to the fact that the latter group has wired its poultry houses for electric lights.

It long has been known that hens require thirteen to fifteen hours of light per day to consume sufficient food to lay regularly. However, when days are short, there is only enough natural light to permit them to eat but little more than is necessary to maintain body weight. In consequence, egg production drops precipitately just when prices are highest and the poultryman not only urgently needs a quick "cash crop" but also usually has a chance to make a real profit on his poultry operations for the year.

By installing electric lights in the poultry house to artificially increase the working day and thereby give the hens a normal amount of time to eat and exercise, the flock can be kept at approximately uniform laying efficiency throughout the normally slack season. Regular light bulbs most frequently are used for this purpose although, within the past few years, the use of ultra-violet lamps has come into increasing favor. The latter also furnish invisible radiations which supply the necessary amount of Vitamin D, thus making for stronger, healthier and more rapid-growing birds as well as for more eggs with a higher percentage of fertility and greater hatchability.

If you now have electric service, or expect to obtain it, by all means wire your poultry house not only for lights but also for water warmers. The cost for extra wiring, equipment and power will be relatively small when compared with the added profits that result. For, when lights and warmers are used from about September 1 to April 1, a net gain in income of from 25 to 50 cents per hen per year—frequently more—is easily realized.

Full information concerning the wiring and lighting of your poultry house can be obtained by writing to the extension division of your state college or university, or directly to the equipment manufacturers.

"As a Senator from Texas, I am deeply interested in the wool industry and its advancement and development."

Continuing, Senator Connally declared:

"In any trade agreements that may be negotiated by the United States, it shall be my earnest endeavor to see that the interests of the wool producers are adequately and fully protected in the advantages which they now enjoy."

She having lived in Llano, San Saba and Mills counties since 1882. Her first husband, W. E. Cassels, died in Llano in 1883.

She was remarried in 1887, to W. H. Byrd at Llano and he died in 1917, in San Saba. Since then she has made her home with her children.

She became a child of God in early girlhood days and united with the Christian Church and has lived true to that faith.

Dedicated to Mother Byrd

Things seem dark, as they always do,

When the best friend on earth is taken from you.

When the one who has toiled and worked,

Whom for you, knew not what it meant to shirk;

The one who has given you life and health,

And has done her best to give you wealth,

It's hard to say, when you know she's gone,

Sleep on—mother—in peace, sleep on.

It's mother who tended our baby cares,

Helped us in life, it's burdens to bear.

Throughout this old world she's suffered and bled,

Her name is now listed among those of the dead.

But she is not what we call dead and gone,

She's only sleeping in that great beyond.

Well it is hard to say, though we know it is best,

Sleep on—mother—you've earned a rest.

Still we must live and struggle on

The darkest hour is just before dawn.

'Tis happier just to sleep and rest

To know that she's gone with the Heavenly blest.

To be through with life, this world and its strife,

And rest in a place they call "After life."

Well it's hard to say though we know it's best,

Sleep on—mother—you've earned a rest.

Her Daughter-in-law,
MRS. W. O. CASSELS.

Faculty Fails to Revenge Defeat

Although the men of the faculty of Goldthwaite High had determined to wipe from the record, the insult handed them in the form of a 16 to 11 defeat by the school basketball team last week, they were again out-played by the students.

The students scored on the first tip-off, but the instructors came back with a counter tally. The score ran almost even for the first half, with the faculty leading by a one point margin.

The second half, however, the school boys "put the heat on," and immediately began their scoring spree.

F. Simpson was high-point man for the school with 7 points, while Coach Cloninger again took that position for the teachers with a total of six points.

Self Culture Club

The Self Culture Club met in the home of Mrs. Earl Clements, last Thursday afternoon.

During the business session, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Mrs. W. C. Dew, president; Mrs. R. J. Gerald, vice-president; Mrs. Jim Weatherby, recording secretary; Mrs. Fred Brucks, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. M. Campbell, treasurer; Mrs. J. A. Hester, reporter; Mrs. J. C. Evans, assistant reporter; Mrs. W. E. Miller, parliamentarian.

A very interesting review of the book, "And Tell of Time" by Laura Krey was given by Mrs. J. A. Palmer.

At the close of the study hour a delicious salad course was served from a beautifully appointed table, by Mesdames Owen Clements and Maston Fribble.

Guests of the afternoon were Mesdames Claud Eacott and Jno. Scholer.—Reporter.

Mt. Olive H. D. Club

The H. D. Club of Mt. Olive met with Mrs. Tom McArthur, Jan. 18.

The house was called to order by our president, Mrs. Ruby Kemp. At roll call, each member responded with what she had done to supply her family with fresh vegetables for the coming year.

Some had only prepared their ground, and some had secured their seed, and made plans as to what, and how much, they would plant. Also each member present practiced, getting the floor, as is directed in our year book, as her name was called.

Miss Scott was with us, also a member of the Midway H. D. Club, Mrs. Kirby. We cut two waist patterns that day, one for Mrs. Kirby and one for Mrs. Oakna Hodges.

There were other visitors with us, Mrs. McCarty and her daughter, Mrs. Lucky. We were glad that we were with us.

The club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Almer Neal, the first Wednesday in February.—Reporter

AUSTIN—Central Texas' empire of public owned electric utilities became a reality last week with the execution of a contract for the purchase by the Lower Colorado River Authority of properties operated by the Texas Power and Light company in a 16 county area.

The purchase price was $5,000,000.

Involved in the trade were properties operated by Texas Power and Light in San Saba, Lampasas, Llano, Burnet, Blanco, Travis, Hays, Bastrop, Guadalupe, Caldwell, Kerr, Lee, Fayette, Washington, Austin and Colorado counties.

While Williamson county was not in the original offer, towns on the border of Williamson county along the Austin-Burnet highway have been included in the properties.

Georgetown, in Williamson county, already is a municipal plant city.

In Travis county, Austin operates its own plant. It already is taking some power from LCRA, and plans to increase its use in the future.

Purchase of the properties open the way for an empire of cities distributing, through municipal systems, low cost power generated by the Authority at its dams on the Colorado river in the picturesque hill country above Austin.

The Authority will resell the distribution portion of the properties to cities and to rural co-operatives for operation through their own governments, with the Authority's generating plant as their source of power, and the Authority retaining the transmission lines.

Max Starcke, operating manager of the Authority, said that some time will be required by the Authority in arriving at the cost of the individual distribution systems to the cities, but that cities can purchase them at approximately reproduction cost.

Mayors and city officials of most of the towns involved in a meeting recently with Starcke and other Authority officials expressed unanimous approval of the Authority's plan to purchase the T. P. and L. properties.

The value of the systems in individual cities, Starcke said, will be arrived at by joint efforts of a Public Works Administration engineer, the Authority's engineers and the City's engineer.

The Authority, he said, will make every effort to assist the cities in sound operation of their municipal system when they are taken over and continue in an advisory capacity a part of their operating problems.

Twenty three cities and towns in the LCRA's territory, most of them in the area included in the T. P. and L. purchase, already had voted to put in municipal systems to distribute the Authority's low cost power to the consumers.

In the properties purchased from the T. P. & L., Starcke said, are 62 cities and communities, in addition to rural electrification co-operatives, which will be served by the Authority.

The $5,000,000 purchase price agreed upon by the Authority's board of directors and the power company represented a $2,398,016 reduction from the original price of $7,398,016 asked by the power company.

Offers Free Book on Care of Poultry

A new 36-page book entitled "First Aid to Poultry" is being distributed to customers by Hudson Bros. This new book contains latest scientific and practical information on the prevention and treatment of diseases that commonly affect poultry flocks.

Hundreds of illustrations give photographic description of many diseases of baby chicks, growing birds, laying flocks and turkeys, to enable poultry raisers to recognize the trouble in their own flocks.

The entire book is printed in four colors and will be a valuable help in the management and care of the flock. Methods of sanitation, disease prevention, treatment, vaccination, flock testing, and other steps of up-to-date management and care are fully outlined.

Hudson Bros. explain that a limited supply of the poultry books have been obtained for free distribution and those interested should ask for their copies early.

What Does the Future Hold for The Smaller Towns in Texas?

What must inevitably be the fate of the small towns and communities in Texas?

This question is being asked in literally hundreds of interior places over the state where today "For Rent" signs clutter the windows of numbers of empty business buildings! It is a question of increasingly serious importance, not only to these small towns and communities, but to the state as a whole.

These once busy places of community life, groups which have largely grown the progressive development of Texas, are being dried up by the operation of heavy trucks over our highways.

Their local business firms and enterprises, the dry goods, hardware, drug and fruit and vegetable stores, retail lumber yards, wholesale grocery houses, bottling plants, feed mills, oil mills, grain elevators and cotton compresses are unable to meet the competition of the larger business centers because of the almost unrestricted and promiscuous use of Texas highways in the delivery of goods by trucks from the larger cities holding the quantity purchase advantages.

The absorption and manipulation, in varying degrees, of the cost of transportation by highway for competitive purposes, if not restricted, will inevitably drive dealers and wholesalers in the smaller towns and communities out of business.

They must succumb to the inequality of opportunity with which they are burdened and thus contribute further to our growing economic chaos.

The plan now being made by certain interests to increase the load limit on trucks operating over Texas highways, who seek no favors and advantages, but who willingly pay their own way in a more efficient, dependable and economical transportation service to Texas communities, have felt the ill effects of unfair and subsidized competition in the same way and measure as the small town business men and, in the interest of our mutual preservation, join with them in urging that existing legal truck load limits be not increased!

Texas highways will hasten the end of local enterprises in smaller Texas communities. If under the present statutes harm already has been done the small town merchant and property owner, what then must be the effect of any increase in the allowable truck load limit? Certainly the larger the load limit the greater will be the distance over which goods can be hauled from the larger distributing centers, and the greater will be the harmful effects on dealers and enterprises in the smaller towns!

The burden of taxation borne by the business interests of the smaller towns and communities throughout Texas will, as a natural result, be shifted more and more to the shoulders of the remaining property owners. Those who have invested in homes and business buildings must sacrifice their investments to what some might mistakenly call "the march of progress."

The thousands of families, for so many years dependent upon employment by these business enterprises as a means of livelihood, must be forced to the cities in quest of work, and failing in that add further to our burden of relief and unemployment!

Inroads by long distance truck operations on the traffic of the railroads must necessarily result in the abandonment of more and more railroad mileage, with consequent loss of payroll and taxes to these communities and an increase of tax burdens to their citizens.

LEGISLATIVE ACTIVITIES

The Senate adopted permanent rules under which legislation will be considered during this session and confirmed most of the appointments submitted by retiring Gov. James V. Alfred and Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel. Among these were three directors of the Upper Colorado River Authority, which includes Tom Green, Coke and Runnels counties, and six directors of the Central Colorado River Authority, composed of Coleman county. Among the major appointments which were approved by the Senate was that of Harry Knox, Jr., of Brownwood to be Adjutant General of Texas.

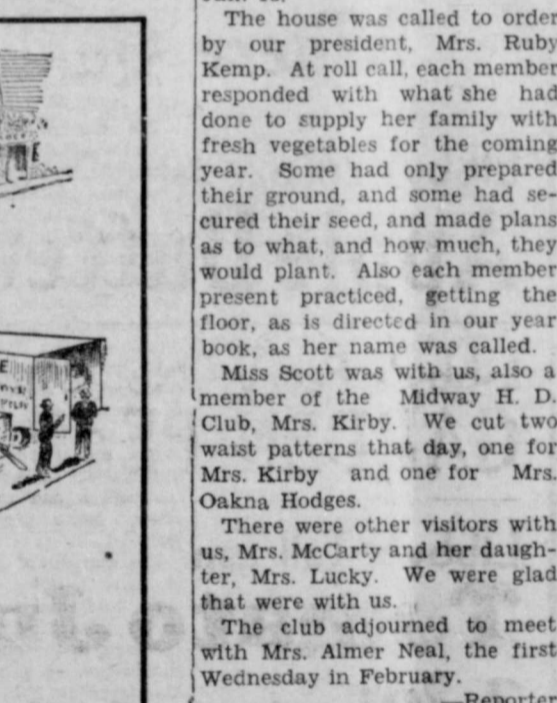

The principal change in the rules provided for introduction of bills throughout the first 60 days of the session.

I was in favor of limiting introduction of bills to the first 30 days, in strict conformance with a constitutional provision on this subject, but my views did not meet with the approval of the other members of the Senate. My idea in urging this limitation was to allow the people ample time to study what the Legislature has been proposing so that they could appear before committees on any topic in which they are concerned.

Gov. O'Daniel sent a message to the Senate proposing revisions in the State Budget Law and the appointment of the State Auditor by a legislative committee rather than by the Governor.

He said the Legislature, because it has exclusive power to appropriate money, should have the exclusive right to see how the money is spent and therefore should choose the auditor to make the proper accounting.

On the other hand, he said, the Governor is elected by the people and should have the exclusive power to recommend to the Legislature how much should be provided to run the state government. At present the biennial budget is prepared by the State Board of Control and then submitted to the Governor. Under Gov. O'Daniel's proposal, he would be allowed to appoint a director of the budget to assume the function now performed by the State Board of Control. PENROSE B. METCALFE, Senator 25th District.

GOLDTHWAITE STUDENTS EXCEL IN TEXAS U.

Each year the University of Texas makes a compilation of all grades made by freshmen students from the various high schools represented, also a comparison of the grades from the different high schools. In the year 1937-38 the average score of all freshmen in the University was 28.6 while the score made by freshmen from Goldthwaite that year was 30.8.

These scores, being arrived at by a rather complicated system of computation have meaning only in so far as comparison is concerned. This means that the grades made by Goldthwaite students were 4 per cent above the average for all freshmen in the University.

Lampasas

A group of Lampasas city and community citizens met Wednesday night here and organized a Lampasas Rodeo Association to foster rodeos to be held here from time to time. The fair grounds here were leased from the Fair Association for a period of two years on a percentage basis, with the understanding that the annual fair and livestock show may be helped by the old organization.

W. B. Toone, for nine years superintendent of the Lampasas Public Schools, died in Brownfield Friday, January 20. He had lived there since leaving Lampasas, going there as superintendent of schools and serving for two or three years before retiring.

Miss Nell Berry and E. M. Carter of Plainview, James Thomas of Dallas, Harold D. Thomas of Kerrville, and Mr. and Mrs. Hansford Berry and son, Joe, of Rogers were Sunday visitors in the home of Mrs. J. H. H. Berry. Will Page of Lometa was a business visitor here Monday.

San Saba

There is some talk that, if and when the new bridge is completed over the Colorado River on Highway 74 east of town, that the present old Red Bluff bridge may be available for moving to Bend to replace the bridge washed away in the July flood there.

Brown and Mills counties, it is reported, have made application to the State Highway Department for the old bridge, but in view of the fact that this bridge was largely built and paid for by this county, our county should have first call on it, if and when it becomes available.

Key Johnson of Goldthwaite was a San Saba business visitor on Monday. Mr. Johnson who has been quite ill with heart trouble for some time, is feeling better and gaining strength. Mr. Johnson believes in advertising. He said, "Please don't take my ad out if it should 'run out'." Mr. Johnson usually is paid up some time in advance on his advertisement, that's what he thinks of advertising.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dickerson of the Variety Store attend market in Dallas, last week. Supt. and Mrs. W. W. Hart and daughter, Mrs. Ainsley, of Llano were business visitors here last Friday.

Lometa

Thursday afternoon, January 19, Mr. Edward Smith and Miss Albatiana Godwin were quietly married by Rev. J. D. Long in his home near Goldthwaite.

Funeral rites for Mrs. Sireta Lucille Hurdie, wife of B. I. Hurdie, who died at a local hospital at 3:05 Friday afternoon, were held at 3:30 Sunday afternoon from St. Mary's Catholic Church with Father Charles Welsner officiating.

Services were concluded at Prairie Lea cemetery, where Mrs. Hurdie was laid to rest near her father and other members of the Beaumier family.—Brenham Banner.

Since the celebration of wedding anniversaries has become quite popular the past few weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kirby decided they might not be able to live together another 25 years, and last week celebrated their 25th or Silver Wedding Anniversary.

Mick Stephens tells us that they have a mohair contract, and are now contracting mohair for spring delivery at 35c and 45c. So far as we have been able to learn, this is the first mohair contract in the state, so again Lometa leads the state in one of the most important industries.

Drinking Fruit

COLLEGE STA.—America is "drinking its fruit" to an increasing degree, says Grace I. Neely, specialist in foods preservation with the Texas A&M College Extension Service.

Her statement is borne out by a report of the USDA Bureau of Agricultural Economics that shows that during the past year American people drank 80 million gallons of canned fruit juice, not including sizable amounts of sweet apple cider, more than 50 million gallons of canned tomato juice, and about 60 million gallons of wine and grape juice.

Since 1929 the fruit juice industry increased its annual production from slightly more than one million cases to about 24 million cases.

Grapefruit juice, a new member of the fruit juice family, has made a place for itself in the past few years. Almost 25 million gallons of this product have been canned in 1936-'37-'38, more than half of it from Texas citrus orchards, according to J. F. Rosborough, extension horticulturist.

Texas farm women, with the help of county home demonstration agents, put up around a million gallons of fruit and vegetable juices a year for home use, Miss Neely said. This amount is not, of course, included in the commercial figures.

Cotton Surplus Must Be Reduced

WASHINGTON—United States Senator Tom Connally of Texas gave immediate attention on his arrival in Washington for the opening of Congress to a plan for reduction of the cotton surplus.

"The accumulation of the vast cotton surplus on account of government loans is a constant load that is keeping the price of cotton down," Senator Connally asserted, adding: "This surplus must be reduced. The government now has on hand more than eleven million bales of loan cotton and by August first will possibly have two additional million bales."

Continuing, Senator Connally said: "I propose that the government turn over to the Commodity Credit Corporation and the WPA three million bales of this cotton with directions that the same shall be manufactured into cotton mattresses and other cotton articles for home consumption and be distributed to families on relief and to indigent persons who can make a showing as to need for same."

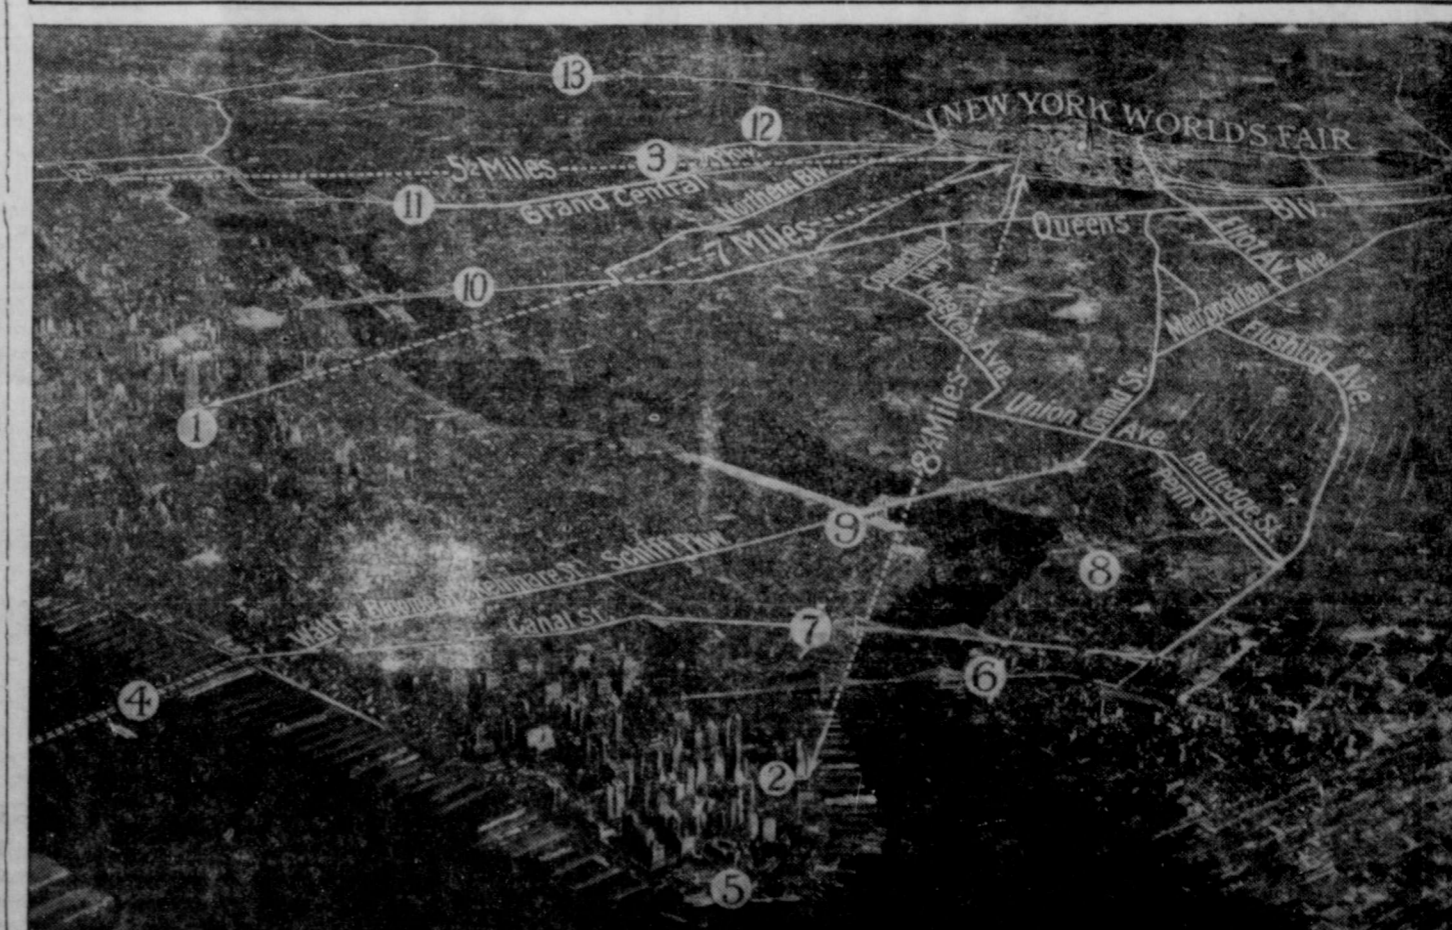

Encourages Cotton Use. Stressing this feature of the plan, Senator Connally observed: "Many persons spend their lives raising cotton are in need of many simple home necessities, which could be supplied by the utilization of cotton. Of course, the WPA or other distributing agent would establish a standard as to applicants who may be worthy so as not to disturb the market now supplied by manufacturers and dealers. To give a mattress to one who is not able to purchase one would not in any wise interfere with such market. The tremendous cotton surplus must be reduced. The government already has on hand this cotton for which it has paid. We are spending many hundreds of millions for relief purpose. Why not spend some of this cotton and serve the double purpose of affording relief and also reduce the cotton surplus."

"The surplus must be reduced if we are to have any success with the cotton program," Senator Connally concluded. Senator Connally's action was based on information and advice received from many sources while spending the last several months in Texas giving attention to various problems coming before Congress with special reference to agriculture. He traveled over 14,000 miles, going into every section of the state and contacting thousands of people in an effort to be of aid.

The new automobiles have all the needed gadgets except one. They still have no automatic choke for backseat drivers.
