Last Word About FFA-4-H Club Fair

All divisions are getting ready for the Mills County Spring Fair. Exhibits will be placed by the Future Farmers, 4-H Clubs, H. D. Clubs, Homemakers, and the Women's General Division. A number of schools will place exhibits. Club calves may be weighed at the Greathouse gin. Mr. Greathouse will do the weighing free of charge. Livestock entries must be in place by noon. Judging sheep and hogs will begin at 1:00 p. m. Calves will be judged at 2:00 o'clock and auction will follow the judging. Pens will be prepared for Club boys and probably a few for "outsiders." Non-club members might bring panels for their own pens. Teachers bringing school exhibits Saturday morning. Insect exhibits, and handicraft exhibits may be sent to Supt. A. H. Smith for space. The following managers have been named by the Board of Regents: Club calves—Jack Kirby, 4-H Club leader, Center City. Hogs—Mr. Coffee, V. A. teacher, Goldthwaite. Sheep—Mr. Burkes—V. A. teacher, Priddy. General Livestock: E. D. Robertson. To assist the ladies division Friday afternoon—Neal Dickerson. School exhibits: Supt. A. H. Smith. Handicraft, insect, and taxidermy: Jack Sanders. Miniature Aeroplane Derby: Lee R. Tesson. Official broadcasters: Edgar Furr and Tolbert Patterson.

Mills county's second annual farm fair, sponsored jointly by the Future Farmers of America and 4-H Club, will be held at the Goldthwaite high school today and tomorrow (Friday and Saturday), Feb. 24 and 25.

Preparation of exhibits has been in the hands of County Agent W. P. Weaver, A. F. Vandergriff, Lee Tesson, Miss Emma Scott, Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Eula Harkey. The new athletic field will be used for livestock and other exhibits will be housed in the school buildings. Last year at Mullin the first fair proved a big success, and with the experience gained there, this year's exhibits are expected to be even better.

Star Is Champion In Basketball

As Athletic Director, I want to thank the people of Mullin and Star for the cooperation in making the Mills County Basketball Tournament the success it was. In general, we had a good tournament, one forfeit was made—Priddy's forfeit to Star in the final game of the Class B. tournament.

Results: Star 37 Center Point 21; Mullin 9, Priddy 29; Star 63, Big Valley 7; final game Star won from Priddy on a forfeit. Goldthwaite being the only Class A school in the county, played Star two games out of three for the championship. The first game was played in Mullin, Star won by a score of 32 to 14. The last two games were played in Star, Goldthwaite winning the first 24 to 16 and Star winning the third game by a score of 24 to 4.

Star won the Junior Tournament defeating Center City 17 to 15 and Goldthwaite, 10 to 7.

Rickle of Star was high point man with 45 points, Atchison runner-up with 30 points, Rudolph next with 28 points, all scored in one game, and Tieman next with 14 points.

ALL COUNTY TEAM
The all-county team was selected by the coaches of the county.

Rickle, Star; Head, Star; Atchison, Star; Tieman, Priddy; Kuykendall, Goldthwaite. Boys who received honorable mention: B. F. Renfro, Alton Rose, Ferrel Simpson, G. Wright, Rudolph, Partin and Fisher.

In the district tournament at Brownwood, Star was defeated by Carlton, a school in Hamilton county by a score of 40 to 31. Rickle of Star made the all-district team, quite an honor. Rickle was the only boy unanimously chosen by the coaches of Mills county for all-county team.

LETTERMEN IN BASKETBALL
The following Goldthwaite boys played enough to letter in basketball: Captains Alton Rose and Ferrel Simpson, B. F. Renfro, Dean Dickerson, Eugene Dyas, Sumter Gerald, Odell Ellis and Bailey Kuykendall. All of these boys have played their last year of basketball except Odell Ellis who has three more years to play.

Junior Lettermen
Capt. Stoddard Gerald, Coke Long, W. G. Rose, Kenneth Featherston, Joe Boland and Earl Hunt.

GOLDTHWAITE LETTERS 19 GRID PLAYERS

High school letters have been awarded to the Goldthwaite Eagles. Black pull-over sweaters with an old-gold G with service strip inserted in the G.

Mills County Wins Honors In Debate Meet

Mills county boys made a clean sweep of debate honors in the tournament staged in the Brownwood high school last Saturday by the Central Texas Speech Arts Association. Representatives from a dozen nearby high schools were entered.

Lawrence Stokes and Cartwright Oglesby of Goldthwaite won first place. They not only won all of their debates, but secured a unanimous decision each time. Their victims included the team from Coleman high school.

John Bowman and J. T. Soules were second, and the boys from Mullin high school placed third. Cartwright Oglesby made an unusually good showing as it was not only the first time he had debated, but the first time he had heard a debate.

Coldest Weather Comes This Week

The weather man made good his threats with a vengeance Monday night and sent the mercury to 20 degrees. It stayed around freezing all day Tuesday, although the weather was fair. A few lambs were lost from the cold, but it is believed the chances for a good fruit crop this year were greatly helped by the cold spell.

Mary Ellen Schulze Gives Recital

Friends of Mrs. Mary Ellen Trent Schulze have received invitations to a piano recital which she will give in McFarlin Memorial Auditorium at Southern Methodist University, Dallas, tomorrow afternoon (Feb. 25).

Mrs. Schulze is a pupil of the renowned Paul van Katwijk Her program will consist mostly of classic compositions of Beethoven, Chopin, Brahms and Moszkowski, and will conclude with the celebrated Mendelssohn Concerto in G minor. She will be assisted by Miss Mary Hubbard, soprano who will sing two groups of songs.

Conoco Favors Newspaper Ads

PONCA CITY, Okla., Feb. 23.—Newspaper advertising will again be the backbone of Continental Oil Company's 1939 advertising program, the largest in the company's history, it was announced here today by A. J. Rabe, advertising manager.

"While we feel that we have a well-rounded program for the year," said Rabe, "assigning a fair appropriation to every important advertising medium, by far the largest share of our 1939 budget will be spent for newspaper space."

Continental's current newspaper advertising presents the new form of "Zig-zag" reading, an interesting game or contest for readers. A sample will be found in the Conoco ad in this issue of The Eagle.

South Named to House Wool Group

WASHINGTON.—Chairman Lea (D-Calif.) of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee has notified Representative South (D-Tex.) of his appointment to a sub-committee to consider wool and textile legislation.

One of the first measures to be considered by the committee, South said, is the truth-in-fabrics labeling bill which would require manufacturers to state on the label of a garment the percentages of virgin and shoddy wool it contained.

Lions Club Plays Question Baseball

At the regular meeting of the Lions Club in the Methodist Church recreation room Tuesday evening mind-reading and question baseball made up the program arranged by Kelly Saylor and Dr. T. C. Graves.

Following the dinner, Julien Evans gave a demonstration of mind-reading with Dr. Graves as his subject. Sides were then chosen W. P. McCullough and H. G. Bodkin and questions asked by Dr. Graves. The correct answers represented base-hits, doubles and home runs while incorrect answers were "outs."

A lot of amusement was caused by some of the answers which the heavy sluggers on the teams swung at—and missed. On page three of this issue of the Eagle are given some questions similar to those fired at the Lions.

Due to conflicting dates, the Lions district meeting to be held in Goldthwaite was advanced from March 7 to March 21.

Senator Connally Fights High Rates

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—"I have today introduced in the Senate a bill seeking to correct the inequalities and discriminations in freight rates in Texas and the Southwestern territory," United States Senator Tom Connally of Texas announced here this afternoon.

Explaining the action, Senator Connally said: "The act seeks to remove the differentials which operate to increase the rates in that territory."

"The bill makes it unlawful for any carrier to make any unreasonable preference or advantage to any shipper or to any transit point, region, territory, sub-region or sub-territory, or to subject any particular shipper or region or territory to any undue or unreasonable prejudice or disadvantage in any respect whatever. It also provides that the Interstate Commerce Commission shall investigate and determine the inequalities in freight rates between different sections of the United States where different freight rate levels have heretofore prevailed and shall remove such inequalities, and the Commission shall further investigate to determine the extent to which free movement of the traffic involved in such investigation will be promoted or encouraged by removing such inequalities between interterritorial rates and rates upon the same classes of traffic in a lower rated territory. It further provides that the Commission shall readjust the rates so as to eliminate any inequalities which may be found to exist."

"The purpose of the bill," Senator Connally said, "is to remove the gross discriminations and inequalities in the matter of rates which burden freight and commerce in the Southwest and in some other areas. The Committee on Interstate Commerce of the Senate will begin hearings on Feb. 27, on a number of similar bills, all having in mind the same objective. It is our purpose to thoroughly examine all of these measures and endeavor to work out one upon which all can unite and make a concerted drive for its enactment."

Hurley Wilcox Has Broken Leg

Hurley Wilcox stood at the supposedly safe end of a mule last week, but was kicked and received a broken leg. He was examining the mouth of a 19-year-old mule belonging to Smith Bros. when Guy Rudd touched her tail. The mule jerked around kicking Hurley in the shins and breaking both bones in his right leg just above the ankle. He received prompt attention and is recovering satisfactorily.

Farmers Who Failed To Get FSA Help May Now Re-Apply

Many farmers who were unable to obtain loans from the Farm Security Administration earlier in the year can now be served by applying at FSA's local offices.

It is announced that additional office and field help has been received, in order to push loans through promptly, and that assurance has been given by national headquarters that money will be available for every eligible farm family.

Loans will be made covering a wide range, from a one-team setup in the Eastern portion of the State to the large operator in the West who may need several thousand dollars to lease grass land or to stock it.

Loans will be made to those who are unable to get adequate financing elsewhere when they have or can get enough land to provide a reasonable living. Before a loan is made, a sound plan of farm and home management must be worked out through which the family will be able to grow most of its food and feed at home, and repay the loan over a period of one to five years.

N. Y. A. to Purge Aliens from Rolls

AUSTIN.—All young people participating in the National Youth Administration program must execute affidavits of citizenship if their employment is to be continued after March 5, 1939, J. C. Kellam, State Youth Director, has announced.

This step is being taken in conformity with a recent act of Congress which requires among other things the execution of citizenship affidavits forms by approximately 30,000 NYA student aid and work project employees in Texas and NYA administrative and supervisory personnel. The official forms will be mailed to participating schools and colleges from the State NYA office in Austin and delivered to NYA project employees through the NYA district offices.

The affidavit forms for all schools, colleges, and universities participating in the NYA Student Aid program must be attached to the time reports sent in for the first payroll period ending on or after March 5. Youths employed on NYA Work Projects will be given the forms by the persons supervising their work.

Mills County Goat to Get Education

AUSTIN.—A highly-blooded billy goat which has been browsing around the lawns of the governor's mansion since the inauguration, Monday was, in Governor W. Lee O'Daniel's own words, "sent to college."

A gift to the governor from the citizens of Mills county in the mohair-producing area of Texas, the animal was turned over to Texas A&M College with the specification it was to be used for educational purposes only.

"That goat became quite a member of our family," the governor said. "We didn't want to be partial so, since other members of our family are going to the University of Texas, we offered Billy to A&M."

T. O. Walton, president of A. & M., put it up to the board and they accepted it. I'm afraid we'll miss him."

Star Cash Store Robbers Caught

Three young men of Star are out on bond following their arrest last week in connection with the robbery of the Star Cash Store owned by D. A. Jeske early this month. Several Stetson hats some clothing, firearms and other articles were taken, and part of the loot has been recovered.

The case will go to the grand jury in the May term of district court.

Legislative Activities

During the past week practically all the committees of both houses were very busy with hearings on various important bills. The committees on Agriculture in the House and Senate reported favorably the measures setting up a state soil conservation program. I was a member of the sub-committee which had these bills, and they appeared to be in good shape. One provision which was incorporated requires the approval of 90 per cent of the land owners in the district before land-use regulations can be adopted. These bills appear to have an excellent chance of passing.

The Governor approved the bill authorizing issuance of $900,000 worth of warrants to maintain payments to the old folks, without reduction, until further revenues can be authorized.

After another long hearing by our committee, the truck load limit bills were sent to a sub-committee of three, of which two members are known to be favorable to the bill, and the third is also thoroughly fair.

Our sub-committee on finance, of which I am chairman, heard the West Texas State Teachers College on their budget. Several members of the same committee heard C. B. Wardlaw, President, and G. W. Cunningham, Secretary, of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association in behalf of additional funds for the wool scouring laboratory which is now located at A&M College.

This same sub-committee has set for hearing Thursday at two o'clock the proposal for funds to inaugurate the experiment station, for the cross-timber section of Texas, heretofore authorized in a bill by Senator Davis in 1935.

Our committee on constitutional amendments has set for hearing February 20 the bill by Senator Sulak, authorizing a sales tax for social security purposes.

"Be It Ever So Humble"

About one thing at least, we can all agree—that "There's no place like home."

Happily for most of us, a dwelling is no less "home" because it is humble, rather the reverse. A place is so-called a home in the full meaning of the word "home."

But how to obtain that home? What shall it be like? How large? Of what construction? How financed?

We consider it a part of our job to assist the builder to satisfactorily solve the home-building problems. Come in and talk with us—we have many plans of inexpensive homes, and our practical building counsel will help you.

FRIED CHICKEN OR FAT PORK

By I. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary
Breeder-Feeder Association

Fried chicken is a luxury for which city people willingly pay high prices. Probably not one person in ten ever had enough fried chicken to get tired of it, for few are able to buy it regularly after it passes through the hands of dealers and caterers, yet farm folks who raise it and can have it every Sunday and in between at a fraction of the money cost to city people, are too much inclined to treat fried chicken as luxury only to be served when company comes.

Whether you set the hens on their own eggs, hatch them in a home incubator, or buy baby chicks from the commercial hatchery, the cash outlay for raising a two-pound fryer is only a few cents. Any well-managed farm raises at least a part of the grain which chickens need, and for which they will pay a good price, either for home consumption or sale. The mash feeds required to balance the ration can be had in every town nowadays, and few farm "crops" offer as quick a turnover as the sixty days or so that it takes to bring a chick to maturity for market or home use.

It is nothing short of tragic that some farm families deprive themselves and their children of all the eggs and chickens they can eat and enjoy, sitting down day after day to fat pork shipped in from Wisconsin or Iowa. Of all people who ought to live well the farmer who produces the food is that one, and he lives well in just about the proportion that he grows what he can use at home without paying tribute to handlers, processors, haulers and merchandisers.

All these people render an essential service and farmers can no more do without the cities than the cities can do without the farmers. It is worth thinking about, however, that every dollar a farm family saves by producing for its own use is a dollar that can be spent for something else they cannot produce—some of the things farm folks too often do without because they are not indispensable.

Now the farm poultry business is different from the specialized poultry business in many respects. There is less cost, less risk of disease, less cash outlay all along the line. At the same time it brings returns for time and labor that would otherwise have no market, and since their time and labor that would otherwise have no market, and since their time and labor that would otherwise

AAA Will Pay For New Wells

COLLEGE STA.—Ranchmen hard put to supply range livestock with plenty of drinking water will be able to drill wells this year with financial aid of the AAA, according to a recent announcement.

The drilling or digging of wells as a conservation measure has been put back into the AAA's range program, George Slaughter, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee, has assured. It had been announced earlier that this practice, which was included in the range program of the Southwest last year for the first time, would be left out in 1939.

This brings to four the number of watering-development practices of the program, which provides payment also for construction of earthen tanks or reservoirs, concrete or rubble masonry dams, and for development of natural watering places such as seeps and springs.

Payment for drilling or digging wells is $2 a linear foot where the casing is not less than 4 inches in diameter, and $1 where it is less than 4 inches, provided a windmill or power pump is installed and the water is conveyed to a tank or storage reservoir. An artesian well with casing less than 4 inches in diameter will qualify for payment if adequate stock water is made available during the grazing season and the water is conveyed to a tank or trough.

Payment will not be made for a well developed at any ranch headquarters, the regulations state.

Vacancy Racket Hit By Bill

AUSTIN.—Texas farmers and ranchers will have a potent "poison spray" to protect their lands from the blight of vacancy racketeers if the Smith house bill is passed, proponents say.

"There is a strong sentiment among the lawmakers to remove flaws in the land laws which discriminate against the land owner," said Representative Paris Smith of Bay City, the author.

The bill is before a sub-committee of three, all committed to the aim of giving landowners protection against vacancy hunters who "ride on the coattails of the school children, in order to dispose of families holding tracts made valuable by oil developments," as Representative Price Daniel, member of the sub-committee, expressed it. The sub-committee is expected to give the Smith bill a substantially favorable recommendation soon.

Salient provisions of the landowners bill are: a $100 vacancy filing fee instead of the present $1; impartial surveys; lifting the five-mile ring around oil and gas properties wherein landowners themselves are now prohibited from filing on vacancies; preference rights of occupants to buy vacancies on their lands, and

Pruning Fruit Trees

COLLEGE STA.—The old theory that heavy pruning of fruit trees results in increased yields has been blasted by J. F.
Rosborough, horticulturist of the Texas A&M College Extension Service.

He said recent experimental work has shown that young trees cut back too much have been forced to devote their season's growth to replacing the wood, rather than to producing fruit.
Light pruning, with an even distribution of fruiting wood, is desirable. This will establish trees that will give maximum production and also result in longer life for the trees.

Peach trees should be held down to allow harvesting from the ground or low ladders. "It is customary to head peach trees near the ground, but with the increased use of tractors and heavy equipment, the trees are now being headed slightly higher than previously," Rosborough pointed out.

"Pecans require very little pruning. They are usually headed high enough from the ground to allow tractors and sprayers to be used under the lower branches. Spacing is more important with pecans than pruning. They should be spaced 12 or 15 to the acre, and when trees have been planted closer than 60 to 70 feet, it will usually be necessary to thin them later."

Plums, cherries, apples, and other tree fruits are usually treated with an intermediate method of pruning, between those used for peaches and peccans.
Rosborough said most pruning should be done when the trees are planted to establish scaffold branches at the proper height. Later pruning should be mainly to remove dead or broken branches or slight cutting to keep the tree in balance.

Average Freshman Has Awful Pose

AUSTIN.—The fable of the ugly duckling and the graceful swan doesn't faze University of Texas co-eds who take their figure problems seriously.

Climaxing a season of classwork, University girls last week held their second annual Posture Parade, with Ruth Spargo of Houston, Glenn Appling of Lul-ling and Jane Loomis of El Paso chosen as "princesses of posture."

Miss Average Freshman, 17, 5 feet 4 inches tall, weight 115 pounds, goes through a combination health-posture-feet examination when she first enters the University.

She has no structural body defects, the examination shows, but through faulty "body mechanics" she gets a grade of B-minus on both posture and feet.
She has that "co-ed slump," a mild sort of S-shape, which tightens her knees, curves her shoulders and throws her head forward. Her feet toe in or out, and she puts them stiffly on the ground.

Guided by the examination and a "silhouetograph" posture picture, the University physical training department takes her in hand and offers her a "new figure"—if she wants it.

She is required to take an eight week intensive course in "freshman fundamentals," during which she spends a few minutes each day in class exercises and the remainder of the time working on her own particular posture problem.

At the end of the eight-weeks course, a second examination is made and a second silhouetograph is taken. They probably show that she has gained a few pounds, bringing her a little nearer the 121-pound national

CHURCHES

Training School to Be Held at Methodist Church, Starting March 5th

The Board of Christian Education of the Methodist Church announces a Training School to begin Sunday, March 5. This school has been planned for several months and it is hoped that a large number will avail themselves of this opportunity. Four courses will be offered as follows:

1. The Life of Christ—taught by Rev. Geo. J. Steinman of San Saba.
2. Toward the Christian Ideal Brotherhood—taught by M. Y. Stokes, Jr.
3. The Methodist Church—Its Message and Work—taught by Rev. Jack Hester of Star.
4. Achieving a Christian Home Today—taught by Fred J. Brucks.

Course No. 1 is a credit course and the other courses are "Learning For Life" courses. The Board of Christian Education invites the people of Goldthwaite—members of other churches—to participate and take any of these courses. The only requirement is attendance. The school will close on March 9.

Methodist Missionary Society Met, Feb. 20

Methodist Missionary Society Circle No. 2, met Feb. 20, with Mrs. John Hester. The meeting was called to order by the chairman. Opening prayer led by Bro. Brucks. Then the program was turned to Mrs. Hester, leader and a very interesting study on chapter No. 1 of our "study" the way of the witnesses was given. Mrs. Brucks read the 11th chapter of Romans and it was explained by Bro. Brucks, which was very interesting. Mrs. Hester served date loaf and chocolate fudge to 14 members of the society and Bro. Brucks. We adjourned to meet Monday February 27, with Mrs. Walter Weatherby.

Methodist Church

Our church was well represented last Sunday at the Youth Crusade Rally at Lampasas. About 50 of our young people attended the Rally. About 350 young people from the churches of this end of the Llano District were present. It was an enthusiastic and worthwhile meeting. Next Sunday we will have the regular morning services. And we urge all our members and friends to be present. Our attendance last Sunday was a little below the average. Let us bring it up next Sunday. For the evening service, Dr. Harold G. Cooke, our Presiding Elder, will preach for us and hold the second Quarterly Conference. We ought to have a large attendance for both these night meetings. Come and bring someone with you. The Girls Auxiliary met last Thursday afternoon with splendid results. The devotional taken from St. John, was given by Mary Henry, and the program was given by Dortha Marie Wolfe, Kathryn Wright and Madlyn Porter.

The stately suburban home of Mrs. Charles C. Baker, Sr., was the scene of a beautifully appointed Valentine tea on Tuesday afternoon, when the 20th Century Club held their regular meeting with a group of the members of the Goldthwaite Art and Civic Club as honored guests, featuring Goodwill Day. The tea table was laid in rare lace and had a centerpiece of red carnation and ferns on a reflector, flanked with tall red tapers in silver holders and small white china heartshaped bowls holding lavender sweetpeas. Mrs. Eloise N. Parker, the first president of the 20th Century Club, poured tea, and sandwiches and sweets, salted nuts and mints were passed by Mrs. Baker and her house party group. Featuring the program of the afternoon was a clever and interestingly entertaining review of the book, "With Malice Toward Some," given by Mrs. Paul McCullough, of the Goldthwaite club, who is the incoming president of her organization. Other club visitors were Mrs. John Schooler, Mrs. C. A. Eacott, Mrs. A. L. Whittaker, Mrs. Jacob Saylor, Mrs. Owen Clements and Mrs. V. C. Bradford.—Hamilton Herald-Record.

You, as poultryman, may not recognize the word "Avitamosis" as being a very common handicap to you in raising baby chicks. The word means "vitamin hunger" and is just as real as food hunger. TOO MUCH SQUABBLING

In Washington and in Austin there are too much ranting and raving lately. Some of President Roosevelt's opponents have gone to extreme lengths to voice their opposition to him and all that he does. Although anyone who is half-way fair can see that the President has been working heart and soul to keep this nation at peace with all the world, some of these half-baked opponents have pretended to believe that he has actually tried to lead this country into war.

Much the same sort of senseless hullabaloo is going on at Austin. Every time Governor O'Daniel opens his mouth, a flock of loud speakers open up like a pack of half-starved hounds on a hot scent. A lot of people are getting tired of all the rumpus.

President Roosevelt makes mistakes. So does Governor O'Daniel. But we are convinced that each of them, is honestly doing what he considers is fair and right. We should differ with them when we consider them wrong, but we can at least remain gentlemen while we object.

The very vehemence of the attackers of these two executives casts suspicion on their motives. Why are they so anxious to discredit the men who should be treated with dignity, if for no other reason than out of respect to the offices to which they have been overwhelmingly elected?

No one can accuse doughty little Senator Glass of Virginia of pulling his punches when he fights, but he remains a gentleman entitled to the respect and confidence of the nation. That is one reason why he is a statesman, and why so many of the sound and fury experts are nothing but cheap politicians.

America and Texas have too many vitally, serious problems to be solved for so much time to be squandered in petty and childish squabbling. Let's cut out the horseplay and the playing to the galleries and go to work!

HOMEMAKERS' MARKETS

In 13 Texas towns, farm women have established Homemaker Markets through which they can offer for sale surplus products that have been raised or made by them in accordance with the high standards set for them by their home demonstration agents.

Sooner or later such a market should be established in Goldthwaite for the benefit of the women of this county. The money derived from these sales is quickly spent for home improvements, so a three-way advantage is secured.

The seller profits by exchanging surplus commodities for the cash to buy needed home furnishings or equipment. The purchaser benefits by securing fresh, high-quality produce, and the merchants who sell supplies find new customers, many of whom would not otherwise be able to buy.

MAY HELP COUNTY LIBRARY

If a bill which is now being considered in Austin is enacted into law, Mills county would receive an annual allotment of $2145.00 for the support of the County Library.

Proportionate amounts would be paid to every county, and the total for the entire state would amount to only $375,000.

Surely this comparatively small amount of money could be saved from the hundreds of millions now being spent for other purposes, so as to establish this valuable service.

IF EVERYONE WHO DRIVES . . .

If everyone who drives a car could lie a month in bed, With broken bones and stitched-up wounds, or fractures of the head, And there endure the agonies that many people do, They'd never need preach safety anymore to me or you.

If everyone could stand beside the bed of some close friend, And hear the doctor say "no hope" before that fatal end, And see him there unconscious, never knowing what took place, The laws and rules of traffic I am sure we'd soon embrace.

If everyone could meet the wife and children left behind, And step into the darkened home where once the sunlight shined, And look upon "The Vacant Chair" where Daddy used to sit, I'm sure each reckless driver would be forced to think a bit.

If everyone would realize pedestrians on the street, Have just as much the right-of-way as those upon the seat, And train their eyes for children who run recklessly at play, This steady toll of human lives would drop from day to day.

If everyone would check his car before he takes a trip, For tires worn, loose steering wheels and brakes that fail to grip, And pay attention to his lights while driving roads at night, Another score for safety could be chalked up in the fight.

If everyone who drives a car would heed the danger signs, Placed by the highway engineers who also marked the lines, To keep the traffic in the lane and give it proper space, The accidents we read about could not have taken place.

And last, if he who takes the wheel would say a little prayer, And keep in mind those in the car depending on his care, And make a vow and pledge himself to never take a chance, The great crusade for safety then would suddenly advance.

Pneumonia Second In Texas Deaths

AUSTIN.—Pneumonia is a seasonal disease in that its incidence and mortality are much increased during wet, cold weather, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Last week 234 cases of pneumonia were reported to the State Health Department. The disease is most prevalent and serious in urban centers where contact with people is most frequent. Pneumonia is always dangerous but it is especially so to persons in a run-down condition. This accounts for the number of cases following illness from some other disease.

The germs that cause pneumonia are spread by careless coughers, sneezers, spitters and objects they thus infect. The first symptoms are usually a severe chill and fever, a very sick feeling, loss of appetite, rapid breathing and a heavy sensation in the chest. Sometimes coughing brings up blood from the inflamed lungs. Any of these symptoms should be the signal for going to bed at once and sending for your family doctor.

The rules and prevention of other respiratory diseases apply to pneumonia. These rules should become personal habits and not put on or off at times of prevalence or absence of disease. Persons should avoid careless coughers and sneezers even if it means rudeness. Wash your hands thoroughly before each meal. Keep your hands, pencils, money and such objects away from your mouth and nose. Get plenty of fresh air day and night. Exercise and eat in moderation and wear clothing suitable for the weather.

Pneumonia ranks second as a cause of death in Texas. In 1938 5,432 persons died of this disease. It should be remembered that contagious and infectious diseases cannot be decreased or eliminated without the co-operation

Looking At America

America has been made great by the achievements of individuals—plus, of course, her unique natural resources. In many lines of endeavor Americans have outdistanced the world. Consider the esteem that has gone out to such stalwart pioneers as Alexander Graham Bell, Thomas A. Edison, Henry Ford, the Wright Brothers, Morse, Westinghouse, Goodyear and others who originated huge valuable inventions and created vast employment-giving enterprises.

Thank heaven, there still persists throughout America the hope among many that either they themselves or their children will climb to the top.

People after people in foreign lands have submitted to having dictators clamp handcuffs on them. They have surrendered their liberty, their freedom. They have acquiesced in being misled, in surrendering free speech, a free press.

More. The citizens of Russia, Italy, Germany have forfeited the right, the opportunity, to achieve outstandingly in business, industry, finance. They have accepted self-immolation. They have handed over all initiative, all authority, all power to political overlords. They have become serfs, automatons, state slaves.—B. C. Forbes in Forbes Magazine.

A milk cow should be dry for around 60 days each year to give her a chance to rebuild her body. This is one reason the average farm family needs two cows.

of the people and this means the people who are sick with contagious and infectious diseases should be isolated and visited as little as possible by relatives and friends.

Laws and the Public

It used to be that the adjournment of Congress or the Texas Legislature was a good omen, for business figured that, with the lawmakers safely at home, it could go on operating under the natural laws of competition and supply and demand, and for a while at least be free from the treat of new laws.

But business and the professions have learned to use the legislative gristmill for their own purposes.

The tendency to legislate business against business, and profession against profession is growing. And the public welfare which is supposed to be the reason for all laws, fades farther into the background.

Two years ago the ethical dentists went to Austin and got a law passed restricting dentists from advertising. The eye doctors are now imitating them by trying to get advertising by optometrists outlawed.

The doctors are trying to outlaw the chiropractors. Even the barbers would be restrained from advertising by another proposed law.

The truckers are trying to get the state's 7000-pound load limit increased. The railroads are trying to keep the limit where it is. Both have their own selfish reasons, seeking to gain advantage over the other.

There is a great to-do over the Fair Trade Practice Act. One group of retailers wants it. Another group fights it.

Someone called us up about a proposed law which would prevent the selling of health foods without a doctor's prescription.

The next thing we know, the restaurants will try to get a law to prevent the druggists from selling sandwiches.

The hotel association will ask for a law to keep us from letting visiting relatives sleep in the spare bedroom, so they'll have to put up at the hotels.

The taxi and bus companies may think up a statute to make us outlaws if we take a neighbor downtown in our car.

The newspapers might ask for a law to prohibit advertising in anything but a newspaper.

Commercial florists might get a law to keep amateur gardeners from cutting flowers for friends. The barbers might get the Legislature to make it unlawful for a man to shave himself.

The possibilities of punitive and competitive legislation are limitless.

We must have laws, of course, to enforce honesty in business dealing and to punish those who take advantage of the ignorant or unwary in business or profession.

But it seems to us that it's time to haul off and take a look at what we are doing in permitting all sorts of laws to get on the books which have for their purpose merely the giving of some advantage to one class of business or profession over another.

The public welfare and not the advantage of special classes, should be the criterion in considering proposed business legislation.—Fort Worth Press.

Good Milk Depends On Clean Water

COLLEGE STA.—A cow can't say "hocus pocus—milk," E. R. Eudaly, dairyman of the Texas A&M College Extension Service, points out.

While plenty of good food is necessary for profitable milk production, there are several other factors of equal importance, Eudaly says. One of these is water.

A cow uses from four to five and a half pounds of water for each pound of milk she produces. Thus a cow that gives four gallons of milk will need from 16 to 20 gallons of water a day.

"Experiments have shown that when cows have constant access to cool, clean water in summer and warm, clean water in winter they produce 11 percent more than when watered once a day, and four per cent more than when watered twice a day," the dairyman stated.

"I don't know of anything that will return more profit to the owner of a dairy cow, or a commercial herd, in Texas than a roof about eight feet over the water trough, Eudaly said. "I don't care if it's made of brush or of the finest roofing, just so it shades the water."

Are You A Good Driver?

(By a Highway Patrolman)

The use of the proper hand signal is one of the requirements of good driving. Our law requires that you signal your intention of changing your course of direction or to stop or slow down suddenly. By the proper use of hand signals the other driver can more accurately tell just what your intentions are than if you used the horn or sound warning device.

Remember the only purpose of giving signals is to let the other fellow know in time to drive his vehicle accordingly—therefore, give them in time to permit him to change his procedure before you turn or stop directly in front of him.

There are three widely used and understood hand signals:

To indicate a right turn extend the arm out of the window of the car with the upper arm held horizontal, the forearm held almost perpendicular to the upper arm but slightly inclined away from the car, in other words out of the window and upward.

A left turn is indicated by extending the left arm straight out of the window of the car holding it horizontal, with the palm to the front—the full length of the arm to be held out of the car.

The signal which indicates stop or slow down suddenly is given by holding the entire left arm outward and downward from the window, forming a 45-degree angle with the vertical side of the car, keeping the palm of the hand flattened out and turned backward.

You wouldn't think of riding a passenger train piloted by a blind engineer because he couldn't see the control signals along the way. How much more important then that you use and observe warning signals while driving a car on the road with thousands of other cars. The only means of controlling the direction of a car is the driver of that car. Do as all smart motorists do—use hand signals, and—you'll live longer.

Reasonable Request

Density of traffic and terrain figure in the freight rate structure and that's reasonable. But the I. C. C. warns Congress against any overhauling of freight rates on the ground that an abrupt change would likely have results more disturbing than beneficial. That's unreasonable, for logic now applies to the change by reason of the tremendous industrial growth of the South, its population increases, and its freight tonnage.

The growth has been such as to create an economic unbalance on the basis of the old freight rate structure. Now the I. C. C. in effect insists that the unbalance be maintained to keep an economic equilibrium in the North and East that is now found to penalize the South and Southwest. The effect of the change no doubt would be disturbing but it would be change in keeping with justice based on the South's development.

Yes, there are several difficulties to be overcome, not the least of which is the selfishness of states that have long enjoyed a preferential rate structure. Texans who have seen an old sow with too many suckling pigs know that the stronger of the brood will take everything and leave the little ones to starve to death. The North and East used to suckling the rate structure sow have been thriving on the fare and have never deigned to notice the little fellows who have been penalized all the time.

Now that the little fellows have grown up, the big pigs don't want to divide. It hasn't occurred to them that the maintenance of an economic condition is unjust. Whereas the rate structure may have been justified at one time, there is no justice in setting up that the position is unalterable. Developments have set up another rule of reason, whose logic may deal harshly with those who have become accustomed to preference.—San Angelo Standard.

A Bailey county farmer residing a few miles north of Muleshoe has successfully trained a team of mules to drink gasoline instead of water and says he gets several greater mulepower and since the new habit has been formed.

FORMER STUDENT EXCELS

News comes to us this week of the high record made by a former Goldthwaite High School student. According to reports released from Southern Methodist University at the close of the first term Miss Catherine (Cappie) Fairman made eight A's, this being all the work she was taking. In other words she made a straight A card.

Catherine's record shows that she made a straight A record all the way through high school. Her many friends will be glad to know that she is keeping up this good work in college.

We are always glad to hear of the success of former students.

Five-Inch Perch
14-Inch Catfish Not Large, Says Mosel

A minimum length requirement of five inches on perch and 14 inches on catfish is termed a good regulation by Edgar Mosel, superintendent of the State Fish Hatchery at San Angelo and one of West Texas' leading authorities on fish. San Angelo sportsmen have urged passage of a law setting up the minimum requirement. At present there are no specific length or catch limits on either perch or catfish.

"A five-inch perch isn't a big one and neither is a 14-inch catfish very large, considering the fact that catfish are the largest kind of fish we have out here," Mosel said.

Lake Kemp has a five-inch perch length law and several West Texas counties have minimum lengths on catfish.

All length and catch limit regulations would be subject to state-wide rules of the game commission if it is given full regulatory powers as proposed in pending legislation.

Mrs. F. D. Waddell

February is certainly giving us our share of winter weather.

Miss Isabelle Grelle, of Austin, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Grelle.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Rose visited in the Norton home, Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Patterson and Dorothy Ruth and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cornelius visited awhile in the Brown home, Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Sparkman spent Sunday in the Waddell home. In the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Jake Brown and children and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Robertson and family called in the Waddell home.

Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Geeslin and family spent Sunday in the V. T. Stevens home.

Mrs. F. D. Waddell called on Mrs. Cicero Warren one day last week.

There are lots of bad colds in the community. We hope no serious illness occurs.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Sparkman, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Waddell and children, V. T. Stevens and family and George Mason and family visited in the Grelle home Sunday night and enjoyed the music of Verdine Price and his "Down-yonder boys."

Several from here attended the funeral of Mrs. Wm. Wilcox. Our sympathy is extended to the bereaved.

C. O. Norton and F. D. Waddell spent Monday afternoon in San Saba.

Mrs. Cecil Sparkman spent Monday with her mother, Mrs. Otto Nauret.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Scrivner called in the Norton home, Saturday morning.

Cecil Sparkman is the proud owner of a new car.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Petty have leased out their place. We hope they are happy in their new home.

The coldest spell of the winter is here this morning. Mr. George Hog certainly must have seen his shadow.
