Group Meeting Of Lions' Clubs Is Gala Affair

The quarterly group meeting of Lions Clubs in this section was held in the recreation room of the Methodist church here Tuesday evening, and was attended by enthusiastic delegations from Richland Springs, San Saba, Santa Anna and Coleman in addition to local Lions and their guests. Carnival caps, paper streamers, and toy balloons gave the meeting a festive air.

State Senator Penrose Metcalfe of San Angelo was warmly applauded for an impromptu, off-the-record speech in which he described legislative affairs at Austin. A vocal trio by Misses Saylor, Ross and Hodges accompanied at the piano by Mrs. A. H. Smith gave two pleasing numbers, and Aubrey Smith played several catchy accordion solos. Lion President A. H. Smith of Goldthwaite was toastmaster and Raymond Little and Floyd Fox, the program committee.

The feature of the evening's program was a youthful ventriloquist, Byron Bilton, Waco high school student, who by personal permission of Edgar Bergen has been permitted to name his wooden-headed partner, Charlie McCarthy, Jr. His clever skit in which various Lions were made the targets of Charlie's pointed remarks brought gales of laughter.

Noble Prentiss of Richland Springs, group chairman, presided over a brief business session in which Brady was selected for the next group meeting and Arch Wood and Dougl Cameron of San Saba were elected group chairman and secretary, respectively.

Vaccinate Livestock Against Anthrax

The following letter was received by Judge R. J. Gerald from T. O. Booth, State Veterinarian:

Hon. R. J. Gerald
County Judge, Mills County
Goldthwaite, Texas

Dear Judge Gerald:

I have your letter of March 21 relative to immunizing the cattle and horses in your section against Anthrax.

Undoubtedly there will be some outbreaks of Anthrax this year, especially in sections where we have a rainy, wet spring, and if the citizens in your section where the disease has formerly appeared would immunize them at this time, the losses could be kept to a minimum.

You, I know, understand the situation as far as the State is concerned, we have only five men to cover the entire State and naturally cannot, except in emergencies, give much service.

I believe the best thing to do would be to have the different stock owners get together and secure the services of a qualified veterinarian and use an intradermal vaccine. If they would do this, undoubtedly they could get a very reasonable price on the work.

It has been our experience whenever someone who cannot properly make an intradermal injection tries to immunize cattle and horses, usually produces several cases of Anthrax rather than protect the animals. This undoubtedly has happened in your county in the past and is one reason the disease got such an extensive hold.

The State has not attempted to immunize animals in any section except during outbreaks, and cannot attempt to do so as the area in Texas which would naturally expect the same services is too great for the present force to attempt to handle.

If this Department can be of any service to you when the disease does break, please notify us. Yours very truly,
T. O. BOOTH,
State Veterinarian.

Trick Bicycle Rider To Give Free Show

Dale Whittington, red-headed Irish trick bicycle rider, will be the headliner for the Trades Day celebration here on Monday, April 3. He will give three free shows at 10:00 a. m., 3:00 p. m. and 6:00 p. m.

As will be seen from the advertisements of the following businessmen of Goldthwaite, special trade inducements are being offered on Monday. Those who will have special bargains are:

Yarborough's, Melba Theatre, Brim Grocery, Clements Drug, Little and Son, Bird Service Station, Long & Berry, Piggy Wiggle, Hudson Bros., Gerald-Worley, Economy Store, Mrs. Joe Moody, J. H. Randolph Co., Fox Service Sta., Barnes & McCullough, W. T. Keese, and C. M. Burch.

School Trustee Election, April 1

Saturday, April 1, will be more than April Fool's Day for the schools of Mills county, as on that date school trustees will be elected for every school in the county.

In the Goldthwaite Independent School District, J. E. Great-house, after long and valuable service on the board, has declined to serve again. The names of Marvin Hodges (re-election) and Barton Smith have been filed for the ticket. For trustee-at-large in the county, the names of Carl Bledsoe (re-election), Joe Langford and Ray Priddy have been filed. Precinct 3 will also elect a county trustee.

Mullin and Star will elect two trustees each, and the four consolidated schools districts in the county, Lake Merritt, Center Point, Prairie and Priddy, will elect three each. The remaining schools will elect one trustee each.

CLEAN-UP WEEK

TO ALL CITIZENS OF GOLDTHWAITE

Notice is hereby given that the week beginning on the 3rd day of April and ending on the 8th day of April, 1939 has been designated as "Clean-up Week" for the city of Goldthwaite.

During that week, I suggest that all patriotic citizens clean up, burn up and beautify their premises in every way possible. All places where water stands should be drained, sink and cess pools should be cleaned up, and made mosquito-proof, grounds should be leveled off, stones and trash removed and all fire hazards eliminated as much as possible.

The city wagon will haul off trash and tin cans, but not rocks. Please place what you want hauled off in a convenient and accessible place. Place trash in sacks, if possible, or in containers that can be easily loaded.

By making our town sanitary, and beautiful to look upon, we can make it a more desirable place to live in, and it will be a recommendation for us, to all who see it.

Yours with best wishes,
H. G. BODKIN, Mayor

Collinsville Reunion Celebrated Sunday

SHERMAN, Texas, March 29.—Judge G. P. Webb, Sherman, spoke and W. E. Miller, Goldthwaite, was honor guest at the annual father and son's day celebration at Collinsville Sunday. Last year the reunion drew 500, mostly former residents who set aside this day each year for a return home.

Other speakers on the program included Judge Dayton B. Steed, Sherman; the Rev. Frank Swann, Paducah; the Rev. C. Ross Payne, Crosbyton, and the Rev. J. R. Singletary, Collinsville. Supt. J. P. Buck, Collinsville, was master of ceremonies.

The annual celebration is in honor of the memory of the late Rev. Noah Miller, who founded the Baptist Church in his home at Collinsville in 1866, and his son, W. E. Miller, who paid off the church debt in 1935. The son is a retired banker of Goldthwaite. He is also a regent of Howard Payne College, a former superintendent of Whitesboro schools and president of Wolfe City College.—Dallas News

Local H. D. Club Met Last Tuesday

The next meeting will be with Miss Emma Scott in her office April 10 at 2:30 p. m.

Weather Man Offers Samples

A little of every kind of weather has been provided Mills county by the weather man this week. Showers last Sunday made a slight dent in the drouth. Monday night high winds and plenty of lightening failed to bring the rain they promised. Unusually warm weather for this time of year was provided until Tuesday afternoon when a norther sent the thermometer scurrying for cover around the lower forties.

So far, however, the fruit crop is safe.

H. D. Council to Meet

Mills county home demonstration council will meet Saturday, April 1, at two o'clock in my office. A program concerning Land Utilization, pertinent to every farm woman's interest, has been planned.

I hope that a representative from each home demonstration club can be present at this meeting.

EMMA SCOTT, H. D. Agent.

Variety Show Here Tonight

Five big acts of rip-roaring entertainment are promised at the grammar school auditorium tonight.

Mills and San Saba To Hold Celebration At Completed Bridge

Tuesday, April 18, has been set for the official inauguration of the new $300,000 bridge over the Colorado River between Goldthwaite and San Saba on State Highway 81. Two hundred barbecued goats will feed the throng that is expected to attend the brief ceremony which will be held on the Mills county side of the river in George Robertson's pasture.

A delegation consisting of Judge R. J. Gerald, Mayor Hammond Bodkin, Chamber of Commerce President Tom Toland, Elder E. E. Furr, O. H. Yarborough, Floyd Fox and John Skipper of Goldthwaite and former State Representative Tolbert Patterson of Mullin was joined in Austin Monday by Judge J. B. Harrell, H. M. Henry and E. M. House of San Saba in presenting a personal invitation to Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, Lieut. Governor Coke Stevenson and other state officials to attend the celebration.

Governor O'Daniel declined because of the pressure of business, but Governor Stevenson indicated that he would come if possible. Other officials who

FARMERS TO GROW SWEET SORGHUM ON NEUTRAL ACRES FOR SILAGE

Under the 1939 AAA program, sweet sorghum can be planted on neutral acres for use as silage. This ruling which does not apply to corn and grain sorghums will be an extra inducement to farmers and ranchmen to turn to sorghum and other sweet sorghums for their silage crop in 1939.

Texas farmers and ranchmen filled 17,019 trench silos in 1938. This is an increase of 7,536 over the number in use at the end of 1937.

E. R. Eudaly, Extension Dairyman and number one trench silo apostle predicts that Texas may see 30,000 trench silos filled this year as compared with 17,019 filled in 1938. There were only 12 trench silos in Texas in 1932.

Plan your silage crop now!
W. P. WEAVER, County Agent.

D. H. RUDD BREAKS ANKLE

D. H. Rudd had the misfortune to break his ankle while visiting his brother out on the ranch, Saturday.

The accident occurred when he was thrown from a horse he was riding.

Only the small bone was broken and after the break was set in a cast, he was moved to his mother's home, Mrs. Chas. Rudd and is doing as well as could be expected.

Berean Class Social

A large crowd of members and guests of the Berean Class participated in a steak fry at Lake Merritt last Thursday night.

Those present were served and delighted with the well-cooked food. After supper we went to the clubhouse and entered into games of ping-pong and dominoes. We left assuring one another we had enjoyed the evening.—Reporter.

Mrs. Roosevelt
Answers Questions

The First Lady of the Land thinks that "the greatest dangers to democracy are apathy, a lack of personal responsibility and an inability to look courageously at the world." This opinion appears in the March issue of The Democratic National Committee, in answer to a question asked by Mrs. Wilbur W. Hubbard, Washington, D. C., as to whether propaganda, exaggeration, and misrepresentation are the greatest dangers to democracy. Mrs. Roosevelt says: "Propaganda, exaggeration and misrepresentation are all dangers but not the fundamental dangers. They become dangerous because people are indifferent and cowardly."

The President's wife considers the minimum duty for good citizenship "to vote intelligently in the primaries and on election day." She further comments: "To do this requires a knowledge of the candidates and thought given to the fundamental issues at stake. One cannot be an expert on many questions but one can know what qualities the candidates for any public office should have, and through personal contact or by letter, citizens can let those representatives know what they expect their attitude to be on fundamental questions." This statement was made in answer to a question asked by Mrs. J. A. Rollison, Waycross, Georgia, as to what Mrs. Roosevelt considered the primary duties of a good citizen.

Mrs. Virginia C. Beck of Charlottesville, Virginia, asked Mrs. Roosevelt if she thinks modern emancipated women contribute more to progress than women limited to domestic duties. The First Lady replies that she does not consider it "a question of being a modern, emancipated woman. It is a question of being a creative human being, or a burden on somebody else's creative ability."

Governor Endorses Fight Against Vacancy Racket

AUSTIN, March 30.—The state-wide movement to stamp out vacancy racketeering was given impetus this week by Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel who urged passage of proposed land legislation now before the Legislature. He particularly praised the favorable report given by the House Public Lands Committee to a bill sponsored by Representative Paris Smith of Bay City, saying the bill would end "racketeering in vacancy-seeking, protect the landowners and the public school fund."

Sponsors of the bill said it had the support of the majority of the House and Senate, educational leaders and bona-fide land claimants.

The governor's endorsement said: "A few days ago the house committee on public lands and buildings by overwhelming vote, reported favorably a bill of which Rep. Paris Smith of Bay City is the author, and sponsored by Rep. Harold Hankamer of El Paso, to end the land vacancy racket in Texas."

"For many years this vacancy racket has been a disturbing factor in Texas and has resulted in many losing their faith in government, for land bought by ranchers and farmers from the state, which land they developed was seized by greedy, self-serving persons in the name of the state."

"This bill proposes to ring down the curtain upon such further depredations and Mr. Hankamer should be congratulated for the masterly way he has negotiated this piece of legislation, which is one of the most important before the session."

"It is an act that will greatly assist in restoring public confidence in government and clear the good name of the school for the land grabber should never have the support of the schools. The bill throws adequate safeguards around the public school fund and at the same time protects the rights of the land owner."

Fire Insurance Rates
May Be Slashed

AUSTIN.—Fire insurance rates in Texas may soon be slashed for the second time within a year according to Marvin Hall, State fire insurance commissioner, who today announced that a public hearing would be held on April 17 to consider rates and various other matters pertaining to fire insurance.

"Although the loss ratio figures and experience records are as yet incomplete," Hall said, "the present trend is very encouraging, and will probably mean further reduction in fire insurance rates. Our fire prevention program is showing results and bringing us nearer the goal of lower insurance costs to the citizens of Texas."

On June 15, 1938, the Board of Insurance Commissioners issued orders which effected an approximately annual saving in insurance cost of $2,500,000.

"Drastic reductions were made last June," Hall pointed out, "on those classes of property which affect the greatest number of people and provide the largest part of the premium volume of the State. After the hearing on April 17 of this year, it is hoped the figures will justify still further reductions. The figures we now have are evidence that greater saving are forthcoming."

House Bill No. 129 known as the State Civil Service Bill, attempts to set up a commission who is to pass on the ability of persons seeking jobs.

Two other bills which are receiving quite a bit of comment are the Fair Trade Act and the Anti-Discrimination Bill. These bills seek, among other things, to fix the level of prices on marked articles, giving the manufacturer the right to fix the price. It further provides that no handler of such articles can handle same without making a certain profit above handling charges and above replacement prices.

The Soil Conservation Bill, known as House Bill No. 418 has the House. It provides that Conservation Districts may be set up throughout the state at the will of the landowners of the districts. There has been another Soil Conservation Bill introduced which if passed does not require the forming of the district, but is left to the discretion of the individual.

The Truck Load Limit Bill has been defeated as to this date, by about twenty-six votes, but those favoring the bill are working faithfully for support of a bill that is supposed to come up in the near future which will give trucks permission to remove perishable farm products and livestock.

There has been a bill introduced to remit back to each county the ad valorem taxes collected in each respective county.

The Committee on Revenue and Taxation was requested by a majority vote of the House to report out three tax bills and the said committee killed the bills in the committee by a vote of 14 to one. At the present time the House has no tax measures to vote on and all bills are suspended and no bill except the Extension No. 14 Extension Bill. It was second reading on March 22 and will come up for third reading on March 28.

A bill known as the State Taxation Bill which attempts to kill in the House brought out on Permanent pastures are the key to permanent livestock. More generally realized this is the case of hogs and poultry (turkeys) as it is of sheep or beef cattle. It can be done this year, which will insure permanent pasture for next summer or a year is a step in the right direction. There is still low speepezda, sod berms, and run contour furrows. The rainfall on the permanent pastures, such as alfalfa, are equally important. Permanent pasture runs short in the drouth and it always has occasional rest so that the clovers can mature. In the sparse spots, and such a dense sod that an overture usually soon becomes pasture, and the sod is brought into play to help improve the pasture, but of more moment, is the need for summer pastures to supply of green all the livestock and the farm. A complete acreage in sudan milk flow up when the pasture is short all keep the hens and they, it will supply an ammin to all manner of successful farm-owpeas or soy beans and turn livestock in Here are harvesting. It will pur- vantage of the new Kelvinian compared with of a few years 50% less in time, often frigeration. Add to all features... prices! Con-shot, twelve-month, source of succulent feed—the silo. Of all the "pastures," permanent or temporary, it is the only one which neither drouth nor water-spout, fire nor flood, heat nor cold, affects. It can be used any day in the year when needed, or it can be left indefinitely without deterioration. Many thousands of farmers in the Southwest have already proven the trench silo as a cheap and efficient method of storing feed as an insurance against shortages. Many more thousands will this spring plant for the silo, and those who do not will go on taking the risks of weather and fire. What shall we plant? Whatever will grow best on your farm! Grain or sweet sorghums usually make the heavier yields in the Southwest, and where they "head out" well are equally as good, ton for ton, as corn. Corn and soy beans make an ideal silage, but it takes good land and ample rainfall to produce a good crop where they are drilled together in the row. A good many farmers like popcorn as a silage crop, planted thickly. Plant what ever you think best on your farm, but plant silage of some sort! It is pretty hard for a South western farmer to ensile a corn crop which is making a good yield of grain. Those who know its value by experience do not hesitate to put a 40-bushel corn crop in the silo, as Troy Fenner did last year. But Troy had been feeding silage and knew that forty bushels of grain in the silo is worth more than the same amount of dry grain. For those whose heart might fall on a promising corn crop, it is probably better to plant something else for silage; but by all means plant something for the silo!

Scallorn H. D. Club

It isn't always an easy matter for the farmer to keep an expense account, because of the irregularity of his income, said Mrs. Ernest Ohlenbusch, local member of the Scallorn Home Demonstration Club which met in the home of Mrs. Ohlenbusch Thursday afternoon, March 23. According to Miss Emma Scott, Home Demonstration Agent, moths are not always to blame for the small split places in our silk materials. Very often these places are caused from the metals used in weighting. Miss Scott gave a very interesting and practical demonstration on stretching the clothing dollar. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. At the close of the meeting delicious refreshments were served to ten members, one visitor, and our H. D. Agent, Miss Scott.

Beautification Chairman

JACK WHITE

The first shovel of dirt to launch the San Antonio River Beautification project was turned by Jack White in a ceremony Friday, March 24. White has served as chairman of the beautification committee for more than a year. He is operator of the Plaza Hotels of San Antonio and Corpus Christi and the White-Plaza Hotel of Dallas.

San Antonio To Be American Venice

SAN ANTONIO, March 30.—San Antonio is on the way toward becoming the "Venice of America" following ground-breaking ceremonies on its downtown river beautification project at 12 o'clock noon, Friday, March 24. Jack White, civic-minded citizen and operator of the Plaza Hotels of San Antonio and Corpus Christi and the White-Plaza Hotel of Dallas, who has served for more than a year as chairman of the beautification committee, turned the first shovel of dirt. Simultaneously, WPA workers opened the flood gates to drain the water from the river as the first step on the project. It is estimated work will be completed within six months.

White, in his talk, spoke of tourist business as being second in importance only to the mammoth oil industry in Texas. He predicted that beautification of the river will double the tourist business to San Antonio and bring people from all over the world to Texas to enjoy the experience of riding in a gondola through the downtown section. He further stated this is only the beginning of what San Antonio is going to do to attract tourists.

The San Antonio River, winding through the heart of the business district between tree-shaded banks is one of the unusual features of the city. The work just started will beautify the river from the Plaza Hotel to the Municipal Auditorium, a distance of one and a quarter miles. It will give San Antonio a "Main Street" such as no other city will have and make it "the city where you shop from gondolas." Construction of walks, stairways, an walls, planting of vines, flowers and shrubs, building of fountains, an outdoor theater and boat landings—these will convert the river into a street.

Then will come the boats, the flower vendors, the musicians. And there will be in the shadow of the city's skyscrapers, a thing of beauty to charm the eye and a playground where a happy populace can relax, where delighted visitors will linger.

One feature will be the outdoor theater with the stage on one side of the river and seats for the audience on the other to permit the use of water curtains.

Mr. and Mrs. McGirk were married 56 years ago, March 28, in the Center City community by Bro. Harrelson. Mrs. McGirk was Minnie Davis, stepdaughter of Judge J. P. Grundy, first county judge of Mills county.

Another daughter, Mrs. Ivah Bourland, of Brownwood, was not able to be at the celebration because of sickness.

South Bennett H. D. Club

The club met March 21 with Mrs. Hibler.

We finished quilting a quilt which Mrs. Hibler had in the frame, and cut a waist pattern.

Our next meeting will be with Mrs. Bertha Hill, April 3. We hope more of the members will try to be there. Miss Scott will meet with us and will have an interesting demonstration.—Re- porter.

JUST LIKE ME

"What kind of a place would my town be if everyone in it were JUST LIKE ME?"

Read these lines over again thoughtfully before you answer them. Have you been talking or thinking about all the things that are wrong with the town you live in? Are there too many selfish people in it? Are those who are running it too unconcerned about your needs? Wait a minute! Suppose everyone else in Goldthwaite opens up with such an anvil chorus of criticism and complaint. How long will it take to destroy all confidence in everything worthwhile?

Criticism is easy, but action is rare. What are you doing to improve conditions here? Suppose everyone else just stands back on the sidelines and proffers advice? How will we get things done? Unless somebody rolls up his sleeves and pitches in to work for better conditions, improvements will never come. Just suppose everyone wholeheartedly and enthusiastically started to work for the betterment of our town and county. Impossible you say? Why, not at all. In fact it is just such unanimous enthusiasm translated into action that has built Florida and California and our own Texas Rio Grande Valley.

"It takes all kinds of people to make a world." Possibly so. But it takes one kind of people to build a town, and they are the working, constructive kind of folks who use their hammers to drive nails and raise buildings—not just for knocking and raising cane.

A growing town needs planners and plodders, too, but unless the planners are willing to work out their plans, and the plodders are willing to put thought behind their muscles, the achievements of both will be disappointing.

All of us must learn to give and take, to harmonize our differences, and to consolidate our efforts for the general welfare. Then, as the general level of conditions rises, we will rise with it, not as so much dead weight, but as a working part of the machinery of progress.

Have we been trying to squeeze out a living from our town without caring about what we put back? We have found that sort of exploitation does not work on the farm or on the ranch. We have found that the "grab everything hold everything" policy of nations breeds wars and revolutions. It is just as bad for a town. If everybody else in town is interested only in what he and his immediate family can secure, it won't be long before everything worth having will be gone.

Where do I spend my money? Do I work in Goldthwaite, enjoy the advantages of its schools and churches, the security provided by the local law enforcement officers and fire department, the conveniences of local stores, and then hurry out of town to spend my money with merchants whose taxes never reach this far? Suppose everyone else becomes an out-of-town buyer too; how long will it take for my town to degenerate into a huddle of ramshackle buildings decaying beside the highway?

How about our schools? Am I a booster or an acher? How would it do for all the patrons to act like me? Would that spirit build a better school system for Goldthwaite, or would it ruin what we have?

So much for civic spirit. Now how about private lives? What kind of examples are we setting to the boys and girls who very soon will have our places in the sun while we piddle around from one pension-payment-day to another? Do we expect them to have higher standards of character and accomplishment than our own? Do we think we can hoodwink them with our solemn cautions and good advice to what we really are and really do? No, we know our youngsters are not dumb. Perhaps our lives are pretty fair on the average, but would it do for everyone else to brag along, no better and no worse, setting precisely the same uninspiring examples to oncoming youth? Indeed, we know better than this.

Never before in the history of our nation have so many men and women, boys and girls, been allowed to do exactly as they please. But let's not fool ourselves. The laws of God and nature have not changed. It has been the sad history of one civilization after another that as its people achieved self-sufficiency and the leisure to do as they pleased, the foundations of that civilization began to totter and fall. Why should our nation and our age be exempt from this time-honored rule? Assuredly they will not be.

Day in and day out we are pretty easy on ourselves, making allowances for this and excuses for that as we fumble along. What a tiresome world this would be if everyone in it acted in this way too!

As Americans we are pretty well grounded in the belief that all men are equal. Then does anyone have the privilege to lead an aimless, worthless life which, if adopted universally, would quickly lead the world to chaos and decay? On the other hand, how fine it will be for all of us—beginning with you and with me—to start boosting and building and living not merely for a better town, but for a better nation and a better world!

What kind of a place will this old world be when everyone in it is just like me?

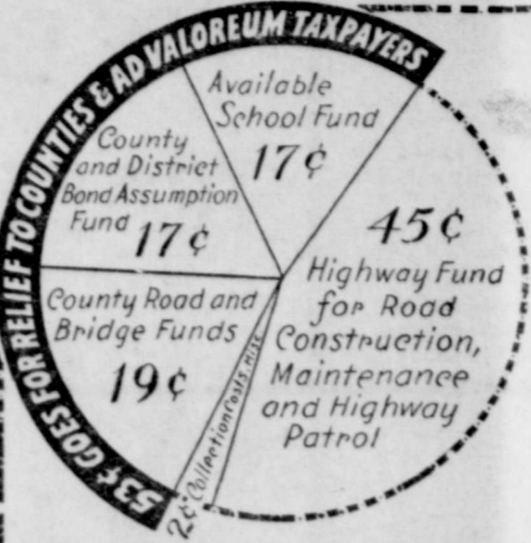

WHAT IS THE DIFFERENCE?

When Adolph Hitler seized Czech-Slovakia recently and incidentally grabbed eighty million dollars in gold from that country's treasury, the rest of the world called it stealing.

In Austin this week an effort is being made to have the state assume the responsibility for millions of dollars worth of county road bonds, most of which are selling for 25c or 30c on the dollar. If the states assumes them, they will of course go up to par, and the millionaire bankers who have bought them cheap will profit tremendously.

Mills county is one of the counties that resolutely refused to issue road bonds without seeing how it could pay for them. Now this law would deprive Mills county of its share of the gasoline tax to pay off the near-worthless bonds of profligate counties.

The tremendous influence behind the bill is shown by the fact that it has been approved by the committees in both Senate and House without sufficient hearing. What do you think about it?

THE HIGHWAY USER'S TAX DOLLAR VITAL QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

- Q. How much did highway users pay the State in taxes for 1937? A. $92,226,000. Q. How much did they pay in 1936? A. $81,882,200. Q. How much was spent by the State Highway Department in building and maintaining roads in the years 1930 and 1931? A. In 1930—$47,221,000. In 1931—$48,500,715. Q. If the highway users paid over $100,000,000 more taxes in 1937 than in 1930 and about $20,000,000 less was spent on roads, what's the answer? A. Relief in counties and road districts. Q. How were they relieved? A. Under the 1937 Bond Assumption Act, Counties and Road Districts were relieved of some $12,000,000 principal debt with payments to be made from gasoline tax money. Q. Did the counties get any further relief? A. Yes, the counties were further relieved beginning this year by not having to pay any part of construction costs on state roads which had been existing from around $10,000,000 per year. Q. How much of the highway user tax money is now going into construction and maintenance of a state system of roads? A. Less than 45%.

Unpleasant Truths About Pensions

If we are really going to freeze anything we'd better put a little salt of common sense along with the ice of melting platform promises (if any). To take all politics out of the pension problem the constitutional amendment might well provide these items:

(1) Application for an old-age pension should automatically disfranchise the applicant on the ground that an endowed voter is a menace to free institutions.

(2) Application for an old-age pension should be accompanied by a tender of deed to all real property owned by the applicant.

(3) Application for an old-age pension should be accompanied by a sworn and certified showing of the name, residence and financial status of all living children, and the publication of such data should be absolutely privileged under libel laws of Texas.

(4) The county of residence of the applicant should have the option of offering old-age support at a central tax-supported home or at the applicant's place of abode, as may be most economical.

(5) Corporations, partnerships and individuals retaining competent employees in their employ after such employees pass the age of 65 and who offer employment to competent persons 65 years old or older, should be exempt from taxation especially dedicated to the support of the aged in Texas. (This to stimulate self-support among those able to support themselves.

Once such an amendment is put into working order, we will hear no more in Texas about electing men to office because of their stand on pensions. The suggestions may be a trifle cold—but brother, they will freeze all the politics out of pensions. And they provide ample room to keep from starving every worthy old person who is threatened with starving.—Lynn Landrum in Dallas News.

Watch Your Feet

COLLEGE STA.—Take care of your feet and they will take care of you, Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, clothing specialist of the Texas A&M College Extension Service, tells home demonstration club women and 4-H club girls.

"Efficiency, enjoyment in life, our posture, and beauty itself depends a lot upon our feet," she says. "A strong, healthy foot, if mistreated, may not contribute as much to living as an essentially weak foot properly cared for."

In shoe selection, she urges: "Get shoes to fit your feet. The shoes should have a straight inner line, they should have room for the toes, should be long enough, have a flexible shank, a snug-fitting heel, and the widest part of the foot should come at the widest part of the shoe."

Among her suggestions for foot hygiene are these: Wear stockings that are long enough, bathe the feet often, cut the nails regularly, and gently massage the feet to shape them into an arched structure.

Hot and cold foot baths and the use of a stiff brush are also helpful. Mrs. Barnes urged special attention to foot ailments, and says a doctor should be consulted about all abnormalities.

Extra Safety

(By a Highway Patrolman)

What is that extra margin of safety in driving? By making allowance for the errors of other drivers or the mechanical failure of your car, you are giving an extra margin of safety that in all probability will some day save you injury from a collision. This is real insurance against driving hazards that pays dividends. After all, we are yet compelled to use the same roads with poor drivers, drivers with poor eyesight, drunks, morons, and irresponsible drivers of all descriptions.

By approaching the summit of a hill slowly and cautiously you are more able to avoid colliding with the driver who pulls over on the left-hand side of the road and passes another car on hills and curves—expect to find him on your side of the road just over the hill or around the curve because some time you will find him there. Be prepared for him all the time then you will be ready when he is there.

Always expect another car around a blind corner or intersection. When approaching an intersection controlled by signal lights and your light shows green, be prepared for it to turn red—you know they do just that at regular intervals. Never follow another car too closely—he may stop suddenly. You should be prepared to stop gradually in order to avoid being hit by another car behind you, and too, you should allow for that time when your brakes fail to function properly.

While driving at night be alert for that car ahead without a rear light, especially if you are blinded by approaching headlights. If you meet a car with only one headlight allow additional room to pass because you can't tell which light is out. All thinking motorists dim their headlights when meeting another car. It allows the other driver to see the road better and not crowd you off into the ditch. When meeting glaring headlights try focusing your eyes on the right-hand side of the road instead of looking directly at the bright lights. Note especially how much better you can see just after passing the bright lights.

Always remember that even though you were in the right, and get killed, you had just as well have been in the wrong as far as you are concerned—the results to you are the same regardless of who was to blame. Expect the other fellow to drive wrong but don't do it yourself—you'll live longer.

Soils and Men

"The earth is the mother of us all—plants, animals, and men. The phosphorus and calcium of the earth build our skeletons and nervous systems. Everything else our bodies need except air and sun comes from the earth.

"Nature treats the earth kindly. Man treats her harshly. He over-plows the cropland, overgrazes the pastureland, and overcuts the timberland. He destroys millions of acres completely. He pours fertility year after year into the cities, which in turn pour what they do not use down the sewers into the rivers and the ocean. The flood problem insofar as it is man-made is chiefly the result of overplowing, overgrazing and overcutting of timber.

"This terribly destructive process is excusable in a young civilization. It is not excusable in the United States in the year 1938. "We know what can be done and we are beginning to do it. As individuals we are beginning to do the necessary things. As a nation, we are beginning to do them. The public is waking up, and just in time. In another 30 years it might have been too late.

"The social lesson of soil waste is that no man has the right to destroy soil even if he does own it in fee simple. The soil requires a duty of man which we have been slow to recognize."—Henry A. Wallace, from the Foreword to Yearbook of Agriculture, 1938.

Mrs. M. J. Dawson Is Called By Death

Mrs. M. J. Dawson, saintly mother of two prominent Baptist preachers, died in a Waco hospital Tuesday on her 61st wedding anniversary. She was the mother of Dr. E. E. Dawson, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Goldthwaite, and of Dr. J. M. Dawson, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Waco, and 11 other children.

Mrs. Dawson was taken seriously ill two weeks ago, and her son here was called to her bedside last week. He came home Saturday, but returned to Waco Tuesday for the funeral which was from the First Baptist Church at 10:30 Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Dawson was born in Georgia and removed to Texas with her parents in 1872, making the trip by train to New Orleans, by boat to Alexandria, and then in a covered wagon to Panola, Texas. She was married in 1878 and her husband, now 82, survives her. For forty years they lived at Maypearl in Ellis county, then moved to Waco where they have lived for 20 years.

Dr. Dawson has the sympathy of the entire community in his bereavement.

Mt. Olive H. D. Club Food Demonstrator

"I expect when every seed is planted and every plant is put out we'll have two acres in garden," said Mrs. Melrose Hodges, home food supply demonstrator of the Mt. Olive home demonstration club.

Mr. and Mrs. Hodges are making their farm pay. One reason why is, they produce their living at home. Just take a walk over their gardens and orchards and it is easy to understand why the family enjoys good meals and good health. Besides the regular vegetable and a frame garden in which are growing spinach, lettuce and tomato plants for transplanting, there are 78 bearing fruit trees in the Hodges orchard namely: peach, pear, persimmon, plum, cherry and pecan plus a productive berry patch.

"As many as eight gallons of berries have been gathered from two vines in this patch," stated Mrs. Hodges as the runners were examined for bud formations.

Too, Mr. Hodges has put out more berries and a young orchard that will begin producing before too long.

To a question asked of Mr. Hodges concerning the growth of sweet potatoes in black land he replied, "Yes our black pond land produces potatoes of good flavor and their keeping qualities can't be beat."

Sometime in the near future the Hodges family plan to concentrate their time and efforts on adding two more rooms to their present home. In this addition an adequate storage space for conserved foods will be included.

New Bridge to Be Opened April 18

With fair weather prevailing, Mills county looks eagerly forward to April 18, and the opening celebration of the newly constructed bridge across the Colorado River.

An all-day barbecue and picnic will mark the official acceptance of the structure by the State Highway Department. Dismantling of the old bridge will begin soon after the new one is sold to the state. No traffic will be detoured under any normal circumstances after April 18th.

The present bridge structure will be salvaged and presented jointly to the counties of Mills and San Saba. Later it will be erected over the Colorado River near Regency, according to D. L. Hogan, supervising engineer.

UNDERWENT APPENDECTOMY

At last report Magdalene was doing as well as could be expected.
