City Council Seeks New Well

At a regular meeting of the city council Monday night, Clyde Lane, drilling contractor, was asked to submit an estimate on drilling a 10-inch water well through the sand which is now producing most of the city water.

He was also asked to figure on making a smaller test to see if sufficient water could be secured from that sand.

A local dairyman asked the council to enact an ordinance defining Grade-A milk so that he could place it on sale.

The boys who went were Robert Smith, Joe Shelby Langford, Douglas Baccus, Elmo Fallon, Shirley Mahan, Ira Lynn Griffin, Darwin Denson and Marshall Miller.

The banners which these boys brought back with them are on exhibit in Steen and Son's window.

If no unforeseen events occur, that stage should be reached within a few more days.

$60,000 More Allotted REA

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—The Rural Electrification Administration has given preliminary consideration to an application of the Hamilton County Electric Cooperative Association, Hamilton, Texas for an additional loan of $60,000 to extend 75 miles of rural lines to serve some 150 members in Coryell, Mills, Hamilton, Comanche, and Lampasas counties and has outlined the steps which must be completed before an allotment of funds can be made.

The original application covered 389 miles to serve 979 members. REA has already allotted $296,000 for this project.

It will be necessary for the project sponsors to obtain and submit signed applications for membership in the cooperative as well as applications for electrical service from it; also obtain signed easements for the right-of-way for the power lines, and prepare and send to REA a detailed map of the proposed extension.

The same retail rate which has already been established for the first section of the project will probably apply on this new section.

Raymond Williams, principal of the Midway school, has also built a new rock house.

Coney McDonald has completed his new home just east of the school ground.

Walter Dinklage has built a house at Priddy.

Bedford McBride is re-roofing his house here.

Ray Ford and Jack Long have both started new homes.

Peach and Fruit Show At Stephenville, 16th

What is said to be one of the largest peach shows ever held in Texas has been scheduled to take place at the City Park in Stephenville, Texas, on August 16th. This event, the Texas Peach and Fruit Show, is being sponsored jointly by the Erath County nurserymen and the Stephenville Chamber of Commerce.

Registration will get under way at the Recreation Building at the City Park in Stephenville at 9 a. m., on the day of the show, August 16th. Fruit growers from all sections of Texas are expected to be in attendance.

Football Sponsors Re-Elect Council

All members of the Goldthwaite High School Athletic Council were re-elected at a meeting of the sponsors of the athletic field held in the District Court room last Thursday.

Council members are A. H. Smith, president, Duke Clements, vice-president, Raymond Little, secretary-treasurer, and S. E. Cloninger, Kelly Saylor, Y. E. Hoover and Marvin Hodges. They announced that the same policies that proved successful last year will be continued this year.

A. H. Smith presided at the meeting, and detailed reports of council activities for the past year were given by him and by Raymond Little, secretary-treasurer and Kelly Saylor, chairman of the auditing committee.

S. E. Cloninger gave an optimistic report of football prospects for the approaching season. The first game here will be on September 15 with Killen. On September 22 De Leon will play here and negotiations are under way to bring Coleman here on October 6.

First scheduled game in the league circuit will be with Fredricksburg here on Oct. 13. Based on last year's receipts, there is a strong probability that the field and lighting system can be entirely paid for at the close of this season.

New Improvements

Dr. and Mrs. Campbell are adding a glassed-in back porch to their home.

Mrs. J. M. Bateman is remodeling her home, the P. G. Palmer house, and will have a very attractive home when finished.

Mrs. Wiley Howington of Priddy is building a new house.

Gerald-Worley have built a new mill-house here.

E. J. Ward is building a new rock home at his ranch.

Kelly Saylor and Walter Weatherly have both finished new two-story houses at Lake Merritt.

Arthur Bird has recently finished his new rock home.

Raymond Williams, principal of the Midway school, has also built a new rock house.

Coney McDonald has completed his new home just east of the school ground.

Revival Meeting

The Revival Meeting at the Methodist Church at Bethel (south of Caradan) will begin Sunday night, August 13, and close the following Sunday night. Jack B. Hester, Pastor.

City's Streets Are Being Marked

Another step forward into the city class is being made by Goldthwaite with the marking of the city's streets. Walter Reeves is labeling each curb with a neatly stencilled name of the street on which it is located.

It will thus soon be possible to refer to Goldthwaite streets and intersections by names instead of by color and construction of the house which are located on them.

Meanwhile Charles Ragland's force of WPA workers is keeping busy extending the curbs and gutters which are their specialty. This week they are working on First street between Parker and Reynolds, if you know what we mean. If not, just look on the curbs for the street names.

H. D. County Council Meets

Mrs. Oran Carothers presided at the County Council of Mills County H. D. Clubs Saturday p. m., August 5th, at the courthouse.

First on the program were reports from clubs that had held social meetings. Mrs. Ora Black reported for Scallorn; Mrs. Harvey Hale for Big Valley, Mrs. A. D. Robbins for Pleasant Grove and Mrs. Tom McArthur for Mt. Olive.

Most of these meetings were outdoor picnics, with families of club members participating, some with basket lunches, others having barbecues. Mt. Olive reported 100 per cent attendance of club members.

Accounts given by the delegates to the short course at A. & M. College, made those who did not go this year resolve to attend next year. Mrs. Ora Black said that if we would begin saving our pennies now we would have money enough to go next year, for expenses are very moderate. Miss Emma Scott gave a glowing report of the whole short course.

The project Home Food Supply and Clothing Demonstration will be carried on another year. Miss Scott is working on the new year books so she asked for suggestions. Many were offered such as children's clothing, accessories, seam finishing, remodeling, more vegetable cookery, etc.

Present were Mmes. Alvin Oglesby and J. M. Oglesby of Center City, Harvey Hale and Floyd Sykes of Big Valley, T. J. Hardcastle and Tom McArthur of Mt. Olive, Willis Hill of South Bennett, Lee Tesson of Mullin, Ora Black of Scallorn, Roy Berry, A. D. Robbins, O. Z. Berry, and O. R. Carothers of Pleasant Grove, Geo. Lewis, W. E. Garner, Bettie Eubanks, J. W. Dellis, and Jake Brown of Lake Merritt, Jacob Saylor, Jim Weatherly, Jon Schooler and Fred Reynolds of Goldthwaite, Vernon Perkins of Star and Miss Emma Scott.

The number of visitors present was very gratifying.

Band Mothers Met Tuesday

The Band Mothers held an enthusiastic meeting last Tuesday night following the regular band concert.

Plans were discussed for the furthering and improvement of the band during the coming year.

The purchase of ten more uniforms was ordered. Ways and means for paying for the uniforms were discussed. Saturday, August 26, was designated as Tag Day. The Band Mothers have already secured the concession in the athletic field for the coming season.

The Band Mothers call attention to the fact that they are simply a group of volunteers working for the good of an organization which they think is an outstanding asset to the town and school. Whatever you may do to assist them will be highly appreciated.

MILLS COUNTY BUDGET IS OPEN FOR PUBLIC INSPECTION

Mills county citizens have so far failed to act on the advice of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, and are showing no interest in the 1940 county budget which has been completed and is available to the public in the office of the county clerk.

The average citizen and tax payer is satisfied that the affairs of the county are being administered economically and efficiently by Judge R. J. Gerald and the commissioners and therefore does not trouble himself to see what it is all about.

For the benefit of those who are interested but do not find it convenient to examine the bulky budget in the clerk's office, the following summary has been prepared:

RECAPITULATION OF MILLS COUNTY BUDGET FOR 1940
Resources	1939	1940
Net Current Ad Valorem Taxes	33,953.00	29,515.00

TOTAL REVENUES	58,053.00	58,119.00

TOTAL RESOURCES	63,053.00	68,119.00
EXPENDITURES

TOTAL EXPENDITURES, 1940		87,322.82
TOTAL EXPENDITURES, 1939		61,372.33
ESTIMATED INCREASE		$25,950.49

Of the expected increase of nearly $26,000.00, over $21,000.00 is included in the estimated cost of securing right-of-way and making other capital expenditures, chiefly for roads and bridges.

If the State Highway Department fails to improve Highway 81, as requested, the larger part of the expected increase will not be expended. A public budget hearing will be held by the Commissioners' Court at 10 a. m., August 18.

Business Session of M. E. Societies

A large group from both Circles of Methodist Missionary Society, met with Mrs. C. E. Bayley Monday, August 6. After a business session, Mrs. Joe Palmer led a very educational and constructive program on "Widening Missionary Service."

Miss Love Gatlin and Mrs. T. C. Graves gave a most interesting topic on "Missionary Work in Various Parts of Our U. S. A.," one of which is so near to us, the Mexican Mission center at Ozona Texas.

The beautiful and sincere prayers offered by some of our older ladies, who have worked and experienced much in the work of the Lord, were an inspiration to all, and they warmed and stirred our hearts for those out of the ark of safety.

Arrangements were made to care for the entertainment of our Evangelist and son during the revival.

It was decided that it would be best for them to stay at the parsonage and women working in groups of three, send in the cooked food each day.

Let us all do much in prayer for our revival and remember the special requests for prayers, also the cottage prayer meetings which will be held Friday night. Attend the one nearest you.

Delicious refreshments of cookies and punch were served by Circle No. 1.—Assist. Reporter.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

According to the records in County Clerk L. B. Porter's office, two marriage licenses have been issued this week.

The first was issued to Floyd Green and Miss Florina Sauers, both of Pecan Wells.

Martha Raye To Be In Casa Manana At Fort Worth 2 Weeks

Fort Worth, August 10.—Martha Raye, famous motion picture singer, dancer and comedian, will be represented at Fort Worth's Casa Manana for two weeks, beginning Friday night, August 11. The girl with the huge mouth has been starred in a dozen movies and she is being counted on to "pack 'em in" at the huge open-air cafe-theatre.

But Martha Raye is only one of the attractions, for co-starred with her is Everett West, new national radio singing sensation. The handsome "high tenor" is well and favorably known to the people of the Southwest—in fact, they "discovered" him as far back as 1936 and '37 when he was the stellar member of the California Varsity Eight—otherwise, the Peppers—at Casas Manana.

First time Lawrence Tibbets heard West hit that marvelous high note, the Metropolitan Opera star leaped on a table and shouted "Bravo!"

Held over for the first week of the Martha Raye-Everett West engagement will be Abe Lyman and his Californians, the orchestra that has been setting the crowds wild the past week, with Red Pepper, huge trumpeter, and Rose Blane, torch-singer, stopping the show. Then there are Trixie, greatest woman juggler in the world; Gracella Daners, outstanding adagio team; Emmett Oldfield, acrobatic comedian; Adele Inge, world's champion acrobatic ice-skater; Wanda Ticknor, Texas Sweetheart No. 1, who sings, and 70 Texas lovelies, in a show that—in acts, stars, scenery and costumes—is entirely different from the Casa Manana revue of the first two weeks.

The Blue Bonnet Club

The Blue Bonnet Club met with Mrs. Bachus, July 1, with nine members present and four visitors. We are always glad to have visitors. We all quitted a quilt out that afternoon.

Our hostess served delicious cake and cold drinks.

Our next meeting will be with Mrs. Clyde Faulkner, August 15, in an all day meeting.

Trench Silos Are Money Savers

During the past month we have had a lot of inquiries about the workability and advisability of stack silos. By stack silos we mean stacking green feed on top of the ground. Feed so stacked will rot inside for about 18 inches. Inside the rotten layer will be good silage.

This method of making silage has been in use in Texas in a limited way for about 50 years.

The only advantage of the stack silo over the trench is that it saves the cost of digging a trench. If the silage is fed within six months after stacking and the stacking is done correctly, there should not be more than 7 or 8 percent loss. The longer you keep a stack silo the more loss there will be.

The disadvantages of the stack silo are: it can burn up, blow away, be destroyed by rats and will not keep as long as silage in a trench silo. There will be about four times as much loss in a stack silo as there will be in a trench silo even though the silage is fed within six months after stacking.

Some claim that stack silos are better on level land on account of trouble with water in trenches. This is no advantage since trench silos can and should be built above ground on level land, where trouble is had from water. Trench silos are built above ground by building two parallel levees of dirt any height wanted. Place the feed between the levees and then cover with dirt.

If the trench silo is dug properly, it should last twenty years. Therefore the cost of digging per year amounts to very little. The loss in the stack silo will be great every year. Over a period of years the trench silo is cheaper than the stack silo.

Trench silos are a safe place to store grain. R. W. Hutchins, County Agent of Willacy county, reports that the farmers of Willacy county are filling 1,400 trench silos with grain. The most of it is threshed grain sorghums. Some of it is grain sorghum heads.

How to Remove Spots and Stains

College Sta.—Summer stains from fruits and beverages, automobile grease, rust or mildew require immediate attention if they are to be satisfactorily removed. Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, Texas A&M College Extension Service specialist in clothing, advises.

It's best to begin work on removing spots immediately, she says, for old stains which have been "set" by improper treatment are frequently hard to remove. "Before using anything else," she suggests, "try the simple, universal remedy—cold water. It does no harm and may do wonders, for it sets no stains, endangers no dyes." Any water spot remaining may be steamed out easily.

"In removing a fruit stain, coffee, or tea, stretch the stained part over a pan and then pour boiling water on it from a height so that the water will strike the stain with force," Mrs. Barnes says. She adds that Javelle water is also good for removing these stains.

Many stain removers had best be purchased compounded, but a number can be made at home. Mrs. Barnes says, listing Javelle water, oxalic acid, and potassium permanganate in this classification. In making Javelle water, dissolve one pound of sal soda or pearl ash in one quart of boiling water, and dissolve one-half pound chloride of lime in two quarts of cold water. Strain both liquids and combine when cool. Bottle and keep in a cool, dark place. When applying a chemical, use a medicine dropper, she advises.

"For automobile grease, axle grease, or tar, use kerosene; then wash the article in soap and water," Mrs. Barnes says. "Clothing affected by mildew should be soaked in lemon juice or vinegar and salt and then placed in the sunshine. In removing iron rust use any of the following: Lemon juice, salt and sunshine; Javelle water; or commercial iron rust eradicator."

High Ceilings Are Out-of-date

College Station.—Old fashioned ideas that high ceilings are cooler than low ones are becoming as obsolete as button shoes and bustles, popular in the same era. Proof that high ceilings are no cooler was obtained in recent engineering tests for the A&M College Extension Service. Rooms with high ceilings are harder to heat and therefore are more expensive in winter as well as being without advantage in the summertime.

To obtain this evidence walls in two test houses were constructed with interchangeable panels, so that the location and number of doors and windows and the height of the ceiling could be altered at will. Thermometers on the walls did not reveal any significant difference in favor of 10-foot ceilings as compared with eight-foot ceilings.

A desirable arrangement of windows and doors to provide cross ventilation and to take advantage of the prevailing breezes does far more to make rooms comfortable than high ceilings.

Undertaker Not Wanted

The demise of the independent merchant, due to the rigors of competition, is often forecast by the pessimistic. But apparently the independent refuses to take the hint. Instead of dying, he's in amazingly good health.

The Twentieth Century Fund, an organization whose specialty is fact finding, irrespective of what the facts prove or whose toes are trodden upon, recently made a survey to find out just how matters stand in the merchandising field. And here is the opening paragraph of the Fund's report: "Despite the rise of the chain store and the development of new forms of retailing such as the super-market, the independent, single-store merchants have held their own in numbers since 1929 and now operate nearly 86 per cent of the stores in the United States, handling nearly two-thirds of the total retail sales volume."

The better independent stores have emulated successful merchandising ideas of their competitors, and in some cases improved on them. In many cases they have formed buying organizations, in order to cut overhead and middleman costs. Like the chains, they are substantial advertisers, particularly in their local newspapers. They've gone after business with all the competitive weapons at their command, and they've obtained and kept it.—Industrial News Review

New Game Laws

Austin, Texas, Aug. 10.—Of the 94 game and fish laws passed at the recent session of the Legislature, 23 were local laws relating to hunting, fishing, trapping and other outdoor activities in 41 counties of Central and South Texas, the Game Department announced today.

Of the 23 local laws affecting Central and South Texas one of the most important is that which made certain changes in the universal hunting and fishing license statute that formerly applied to Harris County and to 21 other counties, all located in the Hill country. Under the new law, Medina county joined the group of counties requiring the licenses, and Harris and Maverick counties dropped out, leaving 21 counties in which the law is now in force. The new law requires that 90 per cent of the license money collected in each county must be spent for game and fish restoration work in the county in which the money was collected. Also, it is no longer necessary, under the new law, for shooting preserve operators to pay to the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission 10 per cent of the total amount collected in the sale of shooting privileges. The $5 shooting preserve license is still required, however.

In the 21 counties, resident hunting licenses shall sell for $2 and be required of hunters except those under 17, persons hunting on lands they own or on which they reside, or persons holding non-resident hunting licenses. Further, the resident licenses are good in any of the 21 counties and in the State as a whole. Resident fishing licenses sell for 55 cents and be required of all fishermen except those under 17, persons fishing on lands they own or on which they reside, and persons holding artificial lure or commercial fisherman's licenses. A resident fishing license bought in one of the 21 counties is good in all the others.

The counties to which the universal law applies are Mason, Menard, Kerr, Schleicher, Crockett, Sutton, Kimble, Real, Edwards, Blanco, Llano, Kendall, Gillespie, El Paso, Hudspeth, Culberson, Val Verde, Kinney, Terrell, Medina and Brewster. In Llano county the provisions of the law do not extend to or include the Colorado River, Inks Lake or Buchanan Lake.

Other local laws applicable to nearby counties are as follows; officials emphasized that the list does not include ALL game and fish laws in effect in the various counties, but that in summarizes only those laws enacted by the recent session of the Legislature.

COMANCHE COUNTY
QUAIL—Unlawful to hunt quail with gun or dog on private lands of another without first obtaining written permission of owner or agent in charge. No permit required while hunting in company of owner or agent.
Coryell County
DEER—Unlawful to hunt for five years.
WILD TURKEY—Unlawful to hunt for five years.
FISHING—Unlawful to fish with any device other than ordinary hook and line or trot line or rod and reel. Children Need Birth Certificates

Austin, Texas.—Parents of children starting school for the first time this fall are urged by the State Department of Health to make sure that they have a birth registration certification regarding their child and if not, to take proper legal steps as soon as possible to obtain this record.

Parents who do not have registration notification of the birth of their child are advised to contact their local registrar of vital statistics with whom the certificate was originally filed.

In many Texas school districts, a notification of birth certificate is required to prove the child is old enough to enter school. As the Vital Statistics Department will be called upon to answer numerous requests for school certificates, securing this record early will speed up the process of securing the needed forms before school opens.

Acquiring a record of birth is not only an important part of the task of getting the child ready for school but is an essential item in the larger job of preparing the child for the future. The time will come when he will need a record of his birth. Proper registration now will prevent difficulty later on in his life.

In addition to its importance at the time of admission to school, birth registration may be necessary for obtaining a work permit, an automobile driver's permit, the right to vote and the right to marry; for proof of parentage, inheritance of property, settlement of insurance and in establishing identity.

Gladioli Pests

College Sta.—Gladioli growers, who generally have little to fear in the way of insects and disease had better beware of the gladioli thrip, which has spread with great rapidity in practically all states where gladioli are common, says R. R. Reppert, Entomologist for the A&M College Extension Service.

The adult thrip is dark brown and measures about one-twentieth of an inch in length, while the wings have a light colored area at their base near the center of the body. Reppert said in describing the insect. He added that the thrip's larva is pale yellow and pupa is orange. Generally these last two stages are found inside the buds and leaf sheaths, and are seldom noticeable on the outside of the plant.

Gladioli attacked by the thrip have the appearance of being withered, bleached, and spotted; the plants are stunted; and badly damaged flowers fail to open. Even when the petals are open, irregular, silvery blotches may appear on them, Reppert said.

To prevent damage by the thrip, a spray has been developed by the U. S. Bureau of Entomology. It includes tartar emetic, one ounce; brown sugar, four ounces, and water, 12½ pints. The plants should be sprayed thoroughly with this solution.

COTTON QUERY

There's a Cabin in the Cotton,
But no Cotton in the Cabin;
Aunt Jemima's gettin' supper
In a dress of acetate;
Uncle Peter in a polo shirt
And pants of rayon yarn,
Wears a tie of purple silk-spun
While he's milking in the barn;
Sara Manth's peelin' 'taters in
Her brand new celanese;
Arabella in her bemberg
's on the doorstep shellin' peas;
Baby Ned and little Eva,
Crawlin' round the cabin floor,
Have on little lastex rompers
From the 5 and 10-cent store;
Oh! the Cabin's in the Cotton still,
Just like in verse and song,
But with no Cotton in the Cabin, will
It be there very long?
—Chas. E. Fenner.

POOR OLD U. S. A.

Every Republican orator, editor or newspaper columnist insists that Government expenses must be cut, but there is yet to arise one who will state how and where the cutting is to be done, points out Charles Michelson, director of publicity, Democratic National Committee.

As to our near approach to national bankruptcy, the newspapers of the day this is written tell of another increase in the market value of our Government bonds—they are now selling from 106 to 116. In the good old Hoover-Mills days they were down in the eighties. The terrific cost of interest on our National debt is another evidence of our financial plight. The interest charges were more in 1921, when President Harding was in office with the war-cry of "Back to Normalcy" than they are today. This means not merely that they were more in proportion, but actually the total interest paid then was millions in excess of what it was last year.

Still the Republicans must declare that ruin is just around the corner, and can only be headed off by the election of Senator Vandenberg, Senator Taft, District Attorney Dewey, or what have you, to the Presidency. They have been clamoring that chaos was ahead ever since 1932, when President Hoover, campaigning for re-election, saw grass growing in our city streets if Franklin D. Roosevelt attained the Presidency and monkeyed with the sacred Smoot-Hawley tariff.

And still we are plodding along, with our dollar the standard of the world's currency; with our big corporations reporting profits and paying dividends, and our chief worry the amount of money in the banks' coffers that ought to be out in the investment field.

We hear a lot about the seriousness of the unemployment problem. Of course that is grave, but realizing that something over three million young people have come to working age since the great depression, it may be figured that perhaps six million of the army of unemployed are back at their jobs.

So possibly we may survive for a while longer.

BITING THE HAND

A disturbing trend towards the advocacy of new forms of distribution by tax-supported employees is growing evident. Propaganda from the extension service of Texas A. & M. College in favor of cooperative buying by farmers is becoming more and more common. Recently a professor in a north Texas state teachers' college broke into the limelight with a similar plea for eliminating all middle-men.

So merchants of Texas on the one hand are facing rising taxes, numerous restrictions relating to the hiring and firing of employees and their working hours and the continual threat of a sales-tax, while on the other hand they are blamed for their rising costs of doing business.

The same hired hands who are making their living out of taxes paid to a large extent by business men are urging the consumers to quit trading with them.

Suppose the consumer takes their advice and sets up co-operatives? Do these tax eaters believe these co-operatives will continue to pay taxes like the stores they supplant? Do the consumers believe the co-operatives will come to their assistance in community projects as the local merchants do now?

It seems to us that the shoe is on the wrong foot. Even those with short memories know that both the merchant and the consumer were better off before the dealer was hog-tied with a tangle of restrictive regulations and burdened with taxes.

Instead of trying to put the merchant out of business, why not once more give him the opportunity to make a living out of his store, even if some of the tax-eaters might have to go back to the plow and the churn?

Expand Your Job

TO MOST OF US the other side of the fence always looks greener. As a matter of fact the job we are now on has big possibilities for expansion. We can be bigger men, more successful men, right where we are now.

"Thousands of technical men," says Walter Pitkin, "are too narrowly trained. They are single-track specialists. Today's jobs call for versatility within a certain field. Learn to combine two or more different types of activity within a certain line of work. Beware of over-specialization.

"Take the printing industry. The man who knows nothing but typography will be elbowed out by the man trained both in typography and the fundamentals of art and design. The artist-photographer wins out over the worker who knows but art, or the employee skilled in typography alone."

This is a hint how a man may expand his job. The typographer may become a master of design. The pressman may become an expert in color harmony and the psychological effects of color. The printing salesman may become an advertising man so he can render a real service to his clients.

When a man grows his job grows!

ELISHA: A LIFE OF HELPFULNESS

LESSON TEXT—II Kings 5:1-10. 14. GOLDEN TEXT—Be ye kind one to another.—Ephesians 4:32.

"Loving kindness and tender mercies" (Ps. 103:4) are among the glorious attributes of our God, and consequently characteristic of those who love and serve Him. The world has all but forgotten these virtues, for in its brutal determination to achieve results there is only an outward veneer of courtesy and consideration which extends itself primarily to those from whom some advantage may be obtained or who are highly regarded because of their wealth or position. The poor and needy, the aged and afflicted are quickly brushed aside as unfortunate hindrances in the path of progress.

In all times God's people have been those most considerate of others. It is they who have given time and effort and means to help those in need. The life of Elisha is well characterized as a life of helpfulness. It is surprising to find how many of his miracles were for the purpose of helping others. God's servants are called to be leaders and to be preachers, but they are nonetheless called to carry on a life of helpful service. Elisha's experience with Naaman suggests how we may exercise such a ministry. Without seeking to designate verses in the text, shall we observe that we must

I. Find the One in Need.
It is not always that the one with the deepest need makes himself known. In fact, it is commonly true that those who have the greatest need and are possibly the most worthy of help keep their sorrows to themselves. Certainly it is true that those afflicted with the leprosy of sin do not often come to church. We must go out and seek them and bring them in.

One of the weaknesses of many churches today is that they go through their regular services, which may include preaching the gospel, and then they lament the fact that sinners do not come to the services to hear and be saved. Let us be reminded that it is our business to go out into the highways and the byways to find those in need. Naaman's experience illustrates how the simple word of a little slave girl was instrumental in bringing the leper in touch with the man of God. Had she failed in her responsibility, the prophet would have missed his opportunity to minister. Even the humblest believer has his important work, seeking out the lost and needy, and may thus be the means of bringing about great blessing.

II. Locate and Diagnose the Condition.
Naaman knew that he had leprosy, but he did not know that he had a blight of soul called pride. The prophet, acting under the guidance and control of God, struck right at the heart of things when he directed Naaman to crush his pride and to show his faith by obeying God's command to wash seven times in the Jordan.

The story has many important applications. Let us be sure that in our efforts to help people physically or socially, we get through to their real need, the need of Christ. Let us also be careful not to modify or change God's requirement. There is one way of salvation—through faith in Christ; there is no other remedy for sin. A man "must be born again" or "he cannot enter the kingdom of God" (see John 3:3-7). If men are too proud to go that way, they cannot be saved. Observe also that there was no respect of persons on the part of Elisha. Naaman was a great and distinguished man, ready to bestow rich gifts, but the man of God had no interest in those things. He wanted only to give God's message.

III. Apply the Remedy.
One would be quick to condemn the trained physician who, having found his patient and having given his attention to his need, made a careful and accurate diagnosis and then sent him away without applying the cure which was in his possession. As the servants of Christ the great Physician, engaged in the cure of souls, we need to be equally wise. It is commendable to engage in a discussion of the problems of needy men and women, expressing our heart interest in that need. It is desirable that we clarify our knowledge of their need and accurately understand the truth of the gospel which meets that need. However, all of these things are quite meaningless unless they result in the bringing of the gospel to bear on the lives of the unconverted.

Solitude
An hour of solitude, passed in sincere and earnest prayer or conflict with, and conquest over, a single passion or subtle bosom sin, will teach us more of thought, will more effectually awaken the faculty and form the habit of reflection than a year's study in the schools without them.—Coleridge.

ITEMS FROM LOCAL PAPERS OF TOWNS NEARBY

Lampasas

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Gartin visited Sunday and Monday in Austin in the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Weir Kriby.

Mrs. E. C. Lambert returned Tuesday from Goldthwaite where she has been visiting with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Barlett. Mrs. Barnett recently underwent a tonsillectomy, and is now doing fine.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Abney and Mrs. Ben Peak were in Georgetown Sunday afternoon to attend the funeral services for C. M. Edens. The deceased was a brother of Dr. M. M. Landrum, of this city and was drowned in the Colorado River early Saturday morning while with a fishing party at Smithwick on the Colorado River.

A company composed of twenty local citizens has been organized for purpose of making an oil test in the western part of the county. The company is known as the Onyx Oil Company, Inc., and they have 4,000 acres under lease and machinery for drilling is now on the ground. The location will be on the G. Cagle place.—Leader.

Lometa

"The Honest John" oil test located seven miles southwest of Lometa, on Mrs. King's place, in the James McWilliam survey, two miles west of Nix was succeeded in Friday, barring providential hindrance. The rig was moved on the first of the week, and some minor repairs have been made and all preparations completed for spudding in.

Seven head of goats which were stolen in Hamilton County from a ranch three miles west of Shive post office, were sold and delivered in Lampasas County last Friday, July 28th, to a man at Moline. The goats were hauled over in Lampasas County in the back of an automobile. Information was obtained to the effect that the men hauling the goats were using assumed names.—Reporter.

Hamilton

Announcement from Washington was released this week that President Franklin D. Roosevelt has recommended Harry Boynton for postmaster at Hamilton. His name was sent to the Senate and that body gave him its official approval Wednesday. Just when he will assume his duties here cannot be officially announced at this time. He will replace Miss Winifred Williams, who has been acting postmaster since the resignation of Tom White more than a year ago.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Stevens and their children, Patricia and Billy, will leave tomorrow for Waco where they will make their home.—County News.

Brownwood

Brownwood's three National Guard units were mustered into Federal service at a mobilization at Memorial auditorium Wednesday night, and afterward an advance detachment of the Service company, 142nd Infantry, consisting of two officers and 20 men, entrained for Palacios to make preparations for arrival there Saturday of the remaining 130 men of the Brownwood companies.

That Lake Brownwood might not be deprived of its annual boat races, after the Regatta association dropped plans for the yearly event to devote its time to advertising the irrigation project, a group of local racing enthusiasts are planning a series of motor boat races without entry fees or admission charges, restricted to boats located permanently on Lake Brownwood, for Sunday afternoon, August 13.

A plan is being considered by railroads to enable you to leave your automobile at home, travel safely by train, and find an automobile waiting for you, ready to use, at any point you desire. In nearly 4,000 cities, chiefly centers of more than 10,000 population is this plan to be put into effect.—Banner.

HOW TO PREVENT EARLY MOLTING

Hens that molt in Hot Weather are not as profitable as those that molt after cool weather sets in. The idea of stopping mash feeding in order to throw hens into a molt this early is a bad one and will cost the poultryman more in the long run than the feed bill through the hot weather.
Hens that molt now never get back into lay again until cool weather anyhow, as they are weakened by the heat and the molt—they do well to live through it. Many of the best hens never get over it in a way to be profitable.

So don't make the mistake of purposely throwing your hens into a molt during hot weather. Keep your hens on MID-TEX EGG MASH right on and they will lay enough all summer to more than feed themselves, and when cool weather comes they will be already tuned up to go on paying profit.

MID-TEX is best for them, as it contains NO cottonseed meal or peanut meal, and therefore will not increase body heat during hot weather. Use MID-TEX this summer and prevent the early molt.

Bring us your POULTRY, EGGS, and CREAM. We appreciate your patronage.
