FORTY-SEVEN

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, MARCH 14, 1941

NUMBER THIRTY ONE

Lions Club Gives Mills Co. Boys Fine Seed Corn

Under a program sponsored by the Goldthwaite Lions Club, County Agent Sam Rosenberg has secured state registered corn planting seed and certified maize planting seed. This seed has been distributed to more than 50 different 4-H Club boys who are in the 9 different 4-H Clubs in the county. 500 pounds of corn seed and 200 pounds of maize seed were distributed to these boys. With this program under way, all communities of the county will be benefited considerably with a greater supply of better seed being available. This seed is not given to the boys, but is sold to them for the actual cost, and in some cases, is furnished to the boys and they will pay for it during the year in the fall when the crop is harvested. The boys are planning from 1 to 5 acres each of these crops. Boys who are cooperating in this program are Jack Wells, Darrell Arnold, Carl Woods, Garland McConel, Charles Dennard, Billy Dennard and Johnny Woods all of Big Valley; David Nugent, Leroy Tesson, Cameron Byler, and Gail Pyburn of Mullin; R. B. Lee, Loren Jones, Robert Harris, Doyce Von Burks, T. J. Burks, Jr., Lemuel Langley, Thomas Jones, Jas. Poer, and Warren Harris of Mt. Olive; George L. Horton and Barney Hines of Midway; Bobby Townsend, Alva Ray Geeslin, James Brown and Marshall Meyer, of Lake Merritt; Lewis Conner, Richard Shelton, Joe Vines, and Ben Davee of Center Point; James Green, Julius Cowen, Melvin Duren, Clayton Swafford, Gayle Hicks, Junior Pyburn, Roddie Duren, Bobby Green, and Truman Brown of Duren; Charles Ray Ellis, Hudson Hodges, Gene Fisher, Erven Fisher, Jr., and Buford Vaughn of Prairie; and Winifred Soules and Johnnie Boykin of Star.

The omnibus tax measure will probably come up this next week for consideration in the House, as well as several other important tax measures. The Governor signed the Pan American Student's Bill. This will entitle a certain number of students from the other countries of the western hemisphere to free tuition in our state institutions of higher learning. It is designed to promote friendlier relations between people of these countries. The truck load limit bill has reached the floor of the Senate for discussion. What the outcome will be is speculative. Several amendments have been offered to change the scientifically based load limit, but some believe that the bill will pass with a limit somewhere between 35,000 and 45,000 gross load pounds. Coming up in the Senate next week, besides the truck load debate, will be the measure which would license certain insurance agencies, one providing for a chemical test for people driving while intoxicated, another for the maintenance of an airport at A. & M. College, and a bill commonly referred to as the Uniform Simultaneous Death Act. Penrose B. Metcalfe, 25th Senatorial District.

Legislative Activities

Several important confirmations were made by the Senate this week. The Governor's appointments of Harry Knox, Jr., of Brownwood, as chairman, and Frank Davis of Itasca, as member, of the Board of Control were approved. Among the other appointments were J. Watt Page of Fort Worth as Adjutant General of Texas and Elster M. Halle of Hereford as member of the Board of Pardons and Paroles. The Senate rejected the appointment of Tom C. King as State Auditor. The omnibus tax measure will probably come up this next week for consideration in the House, as well as several other important tax measures. ## Engineers Finish Surveying For New Light System Here

Paul Wynn and Frank Krueger, employees of the Garrett Engineering Company of Houston, who have been here for the past four weeks laying out lines and making all preparations for the beginning of the construction of the new municipal light and power distribution lines, completed their work and have returned to Cuero where they have similar work under construction. The work completed covered surveying for the lines here in Goldthwaite for the 340 customers who have signed applications for service with the new company and the high tension transmission lines from Lometa to Goldthwaite. It is expected that work on actual construction and erection of the system will start within the next few weeks.

L. B. Porter Named Acting Postmaster

Lewis B. Porter has received official notification from the Postmaster General of his appointment as Acting Postmaster at Goldthwaite to serve during the absence of Postmaster M. Y. Stokes, Jr. who has been granted a military leave of absence. Mr. Porter has notified Inspector W. T. Macy of Fort Worth that he will be ready to take over his duties on March 15, and has asked that he be checked in by the inspector at that time or as soon after as convenient.

The Mills County Selective Board has named O. H. Shaw to fill Porter's place as Secretary of the Board while he is in the post office.

Wool And Mohair Market Is Steady

Very little activity has been noted here in the wool market, but several small mohair clips have made their appearance on the local markets, according to local wool buyers. The predominant prices for wool has been steady around 35c per pound for the local fleeces. While mohair has been selling at from 50c to as high as 70c per pound. Not much activity is expected on the wool market for at least another 30 or possibly 45 days, when sheep shearing will be well under way.

100 Club Boys Girls Attend Stock Show

More than 100 4-H club boys and girls, club sponsors, and parents from Mills County attended the Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth on 4-H club day, Monday, March 10. Groups attending the show included 4-H clubs from Mt. Olive, Lake Merritt, Duren, Prairie, Mullin, Midway and Center Point. This was a big day for the club boys and girls who made up a part of the more than 25,000 boys and girls from over the state attending the show. The first big event to be taken in by the boys and girls was the special 4-H club championship rodeo held in the Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum and sponsored by Montgomery Ward & Co. In this special rodeo the boys and girls saw 11 outstanding professional cowboys perform in special matched events, including wild Braham steer riding, wild bronc riding, bulldogging, calf roping, and bare-back bronc riding. Several special events were included, such as trick and fancy roping, trick riding, square dancing on horse back, and the activities of three clowns, who kept the group in an uproar. Following the rodeo the group attended the Fat Stock Show to look at the many fine livestock. Some of the group visited other points of interest in Fort Worth including radio station KGKO, Fort Worth Municipal Airport, Fort Worth Livestock Market, and Packing Plants. It was a full day of enjoyment for all of the clubbers attending. Some of the leaders and sponsors of the group attending were Mr. and Mrs. Olen Kemp of Mt. Olive, Durward Reynolds, Raymond Williams and wife of Lake Merritt, Mr. Doss and Miss Margaret Oden of Prairie, W. H. Wasserman of Duren, and a number of others whose names are not available at this time. This special trip for 4-H club boys and girls was sponsored by the Mills County Extension Service, under the direction of County Agent Sam Von Rosenberg and County Home Demonstration Agent Emma Scott. The rodeo and all other activities were entirely free to club members and the only cost to them was for transportation to and from Fort Worth.

NEW CANNING PLANT ESTABLISHED IN TEXAS

DONNA, Texas.—Records of the industrialization program, sponsored by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel's office, today revealed the opening of a new canning factory at Donna. The concern will operate under the name of The Kessler-Bagnetto Canning Company, and will have a weekly payroll averaging $600. The April enrollment is merely to replace those enrollees who have been discharged due to the fact they have completed their 18 months or two years service, or to accept employment to better their condition, or who have been called home due to emergencies. Texas has over 16,000 boys currently in the CCC, those from New York and Pennsylvania only exceed that number, and over $250,000.00 per month is returned to Texas boys' families, while $125,000.00 is set aside and saved to be paid to them when discharged from the Corps. Due to conditions throughout the country, the vocational program of the CCC will be stepped up and members can be assured of being trained in many of the trades and skills, thereby being benefitted to a greater extent than ever before. They will be able to secure employment in pharmaceutical industry and become self-supporting in less time than heretofore. Boys wishing to join the CCC for a six-month period should call at their County Welfare Office and their applications will be given immediate consideration.

MILLERS LEAVE TODAY FOR COLLINSVILLE

Final Results In Tuesday Night District No. 34 Track Meet

Fairman Company To Sponsor A Wood Chopping Contest

A contest and feature of an unusual nature, is a log chopping contest to be held by the Fairman Company on the lot west of their warehouse and on the block north of the Linkenhoger machine shop on Monday, March 17 at 11 o'clock. The contest is supervised by Mr. Paul Bunyan Criss, one of the world's best known wood choppers and authorities on axes. This contest will be waged between local wood choppers and prizes will be given to the best three choppers. Following the wood chopping event Mr. Criss will use one of their regular Kelly Axes and proceed to shave some person in the crowd. Anyone having a few days growth of stiff whiskers is urged to be present for a free shave.

Mills County Students Make High Grade At Denton College

DENTON, March 12.—Maintaining more than a B average in all their subjects at Texas State College for Women four Goldthwaite girls, who are Misses Grace Briley, Irene Gromalsky, Oleta Henry, and Jo Whitaker, are entitled to class exemption this semester. Students with this high scholastic average make application in the Registrar's office and following approval from that office are not subject to compulsory class attendance. Only 200 students of the total 2500 enrolled received the privilege of class exemption for the second semester.

Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel Wants Agricultural Agencies Merged

Reorganization of agricultural and related activities of the Texas State Government was proposed by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel in a special message to the Legislature last Thursday. Control of the State's agricultural program would be placed in the hands of a five-member "State Board of Agriculture," to be selected by the farmers themselves. Five existing departments of the State would be abolished and their functions handled by divisions under the new Board. The agencies which the Governor proposed to consolidate are: State Department of Agriculture; State Board of Water Engineers; Livestock Sanitary Commission; Game, Fish and Oyster Commission; and the Soil Conservation Board. While not suggesting any connection between the control of the A. & M. College and the State Board of Agriculture, the Governor expressed the opinion that the new State Board of Agriculture should be housed in a building to be located at College Station, "where farmers who visit the State Board of Agriculture would have the opportunity of contacting those who head our A. & M. College." "Money can be saved to the State by this consolidation," the Governor said, "and much more service can be rendered."

METHODISTS LEAD

Methodists take the lead and Baptists hold a close second among University of Texas student church members. Nearly nine-tenths of the student body goes to church, a current Registrar's report shows.

Mail Carriers Must Have Commercial Licenses on Mail Cars

"All car owners are requested to bring in their 1940 registration receipts. Certificates of Title or Transfer Bill of Sale. In order that the tax collector's office may register same," said Sheriff and Tax Collector J. Hern Harris this week. "If your car was registered in Mills county during the year of 1940 by the present owner, the number on your old license plates will be sufficient," said Mr. Harris, otherwise the additional papers will be required. Another ruling has been sent to the local tax collector from the Highway Department at Austin which states: "All mail carriers and substitute carriers are required to purchase Commercial Car plates for their cars and in addition the driver of such cars must have Chauffeur's License in their possession at all times."

Notaries Public Applications Should Be Made At Once

In a letter to County Clerk Earl Summy, from Wm. J. Lawson, Secretary of State, at Austin, he advises that all existing notaries will be automatically re-appointed by that office for a term beginning June 1, 1941, and expiring June 1, 1943. There will be no necessity for an existing notary to write to that office or to other persons requesting that he be re-appointed. The letter continues to state that those who are not notaries at the present time and who desire to be appointed notaries should write to that office and give their correct name and address before May 1, 1941, applications for appointment received after that date will not be acted upon by this office until after June 1, 1941.

THE MASK

"Texas" was the theme of the last meeting. This was very appropriate in remembering Texas Independence Day. Syble Miller was in charge of the program for the meeting, which was started by an interesting talk from Christine Metz entitled "History of the Flag." Dora Dean Arnold

read a poem, "The Story of Texas"; Doris Rae Shaw played a piano solo; "Texas Independence" was an interesting talk given by Dortha Marie Wolfe;
and the program was concluded
by singing "Texas Our Texas"
and other Texas songs by members of the club.

THE LITTLE MAN WHO WASN'T THERE

Walter says he really means it this time. Oh well, there's always an end to everything, anyway.

Billye Helen seemed intensely interested in "Maggie and Jiggs"
Sunday or was it just Jiggs?
Bill and Velma aren't speaking these days. He got a lock of her hair.

Hopie, Adelia, and Jo had their smile up-side-down Sunday nite.
Gordon, why couldn't you have gotten your car.

Mary Elaine still prays each night that she will see a certain little one come up to see her in his gray sedan.

What were Sam and Christine doing when the lights came on?

It seems that Stoddard likes to keep his girls out late. It seems that she got home about 1:30 a. m.

You girls, when you write to L. B. Be sure to put Jr. on the address. You might embarrass his dad.

We hear Jimmie stood Mohler
Carroll up because she couldn't get her car. (She says it was too muddy.)

Of all the girls Leslie has been seen with, not one invited him to the program on Sadie Hawkins Day. What's the matter, Leslie, are you slipping.

Billye Ruth has changed her affections for a certain boy that lives at Lake Merritt.

It seems Mohler is very proud of his accomplished—Jimmie.

Good luck kids. Larry and Lanelle.

Well, Imarhea and Foy Von seem to be our most promising couple.

Mary Beth, do you and Sonny
like peanut candy? If not, why did you buy so much Saturday night?

Son Of Goldthwaite Man Is Song Writer

Charles Roberts, Jr. a sophomore of San Angelo Junior College, and son of C. W. Roberts of the Goldthwaite Eagle force, has received some notariety as a song writer, having recently composed five songs that will be used in a school play which will be given tonight and Saturday
at that place.

The accompanist is Miss Cly-dene Everitt, grand-daughter of

Mineral Wells More Popular Than Ever As Vacation Center

Despite the boom conditions brought on by the construction of Camp Wolters, Mineral Wells continues to be a law-abiding city and attracts a great host of winter vacationists. Local regulations and laws are being well administered by the local police department, augmented by the establishment of branch offices of the Sheriff's department and state Highway Patrol on the ground floor of the Baker Hotel.

Work is progressing rapidly on Camp Wolters, which is to be ready in March. Many high ranking army officers are here,
along with several detachments of regular army soldiers. Preparations are being completed to receive the first contingent of draftees next month. There is much activity in business and civic undertakings and further business stimulus is anticipated
if the powder plant is built at Possum Kingdom Dam. It is believed that this great project will soon be put through, according to well-informed sources.

Despite the rapid influx of workers and visitors, winter vacationists from northern and eastern points are coming in greater numbers than ever before. Better business conditions and the almost total restriction of tourist and vacation travel to points within the boundaries of the United States are contributing factors to a better winter resort business here. Men of Texas and adjacent states will get a good break if sent to this famous resort city for training.
Camp Wolters is located within

WE ARE YOUR Neighbors

We are the Texas petroleum industry. There are nearly 225,000 of us, living in every section of the State.

With our families, we make up one million Texans, nearly one-sixth of the State's population.

Each of us has his job. Together we represent almost every type of worker.

Some of us live and work in your community. Our children go to school with your children. We trade in your stores, attend your church, pay taxes and vote—as you do—for the betterment of our community and State. We operate an industry which pays 75 million dollars a year in taxes to our State and local governments and our schools.

We are your neighbors.

When you think of the Texas petroleum industry, remember it is made up of people like you and me.

Biography of Zachary Taylor—New Book On Texas Early Days

Warfare in Texas nearly 100 years, Americans pitted against Mexicans, battle, murder and sudden death in the Lone Star State are featured in a new book published here today by the Bobbs-Merrill Company and hailed as one of the biographical "finds" of 1941.

The book is a colorful biography of Zachary Taylor, twelfth President of the United States, who spent eleven months fighting and camping in Texas prior to crossing the Rio Grande for a campaign that culminated on the bloody slopes of Monterrey.

In honor of General Taylor's victories in Texas and his intimate association with the early history of the state the publishers have announced a special limited Texas Edition of ZACHARY TAYLOR: Soldier of the Republic. The edition is limited to two hundred and fifty copies, each copy numbered and signed by the author. The limitation page for the Texas Edition is ornamented by a special design showing the head of General Taylor derived from an old medal, surrounded by the names of the Texas battles where he won fame. The Texas Edition will be available through Texas book dealers.

General Taylor landed at Corpus Christi from New Orleans, Louisiana, in July, 1845. There he was joined by some of the men who later became outstanding heroes in the Civil War. Robert E. Lee, Ulysses S. Grant, Jefferson Davis, and Abraham Lincoln were at various times under his command. His dramatic march from Corpus Christi to Brownsville, the battles of Palo Alto and Resaca de la Palma on Texas soil, and the occupation of Matamoros and Monterrey are vividly described.

Zachary Taylor: Soldier of the Republic is written by Holman Hamilton, Indiana newspaperman and historian, who spent a number of weeks in Texas and Mexico obtaining material and writing part of the book.

STUDENT OF U. OF T. TO PRESENT ANCIENT PLAYS

AUSTIN, Texas, March 10.—To prove to Texas school boys and girls that William Shakespeare is a master showman whose plays
are riotous, exciting stage fare,
the University of Texas Curtain Club is inviting them to a special matinee performance March 15, of Twelfth Night.

Music that catches the Elizabethan flavor at its best moment, costuming that is elaborate and resplendent, staging that is historically accurate—all are aimed to recapture the romantic gayety of the Shakespearean comedy so that people who know Shakespe-peare only through the printed word may see his characters in their proper setting; the stage.

Singers, dancers, fencers, will act on Hogg Memorial Auditorium stage remodeled to resemble an Elizabethan stage, so that the style as well as the spirit of the period may be maintained.
A specially written musical score will be performed by an orchestra from the University Department of Music.

Guides will be furnished by Alpha Phi Omega, service organization on the campus, to direct the school children who are expected from towns over the state within a hundred-mile radius of Austin.

SCRIPTURE VERSE FOR THE WEEK

"What shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?" Mark 8:36. (Read Mark 8:34-38.)

MOBILIZING TEXAS

To provide the proper coordination of activities, national defense matters in Texas are being cleared through the Office of the Governor of Texas under a plan worked out through the President's Office.

The Adjutant-General of Texas, who is also state selective service officer, consults with the Governor on military matters, and is directing the organization of the Texas Defense Guard; the various state departments are cooperating in the solution of community problems arising in national defense areas within the State; and the Governor's office staff and those state agencies assisting in the state industrialization program are giving their attention to industrial mobilization for national defense.

From a military standpoint, Texas will be represented in the national defense program by its national guard units, by trainees under the Selective Service System, and by officers and enlisted men in the regular branches. The Texas National Guard consists of: the State Staff at Austin; the Thirty-sixth Division and the 11th Observation Squadron, stationed at Camp Bowie, Brownwood; Company C, 193rd Tank Battalion, now on duty in Georgia; the 56th Cavalry Brigade, on duty along the Texas-Mexico border; totaling 11,633 men.

State selective service headquarters has issued eight calls on Texas, 541 Local cards, and when the eighth call is completed on March 13, Texas will have 17,865 men actually in training under the Selective Service Act.

On June 26, 1940 the Governor of Texas proposed to the President of the United States that home guard units be authorized to replace the National Guard when the latter was called into Federal service. That action has been taken and enabling legislation passed by the Congress and the Texas Legislature.

Two hundred units of the Texas Defense Guards, with an enrollment of approximately ten thousand officers and men, have now been organized.

INDUSTRIAL SURVEY

It is no idle statement, and the public no longer needs proof of the same, that American industry has cooperated magnificently in the defense program. Both the President and William Knudsen have praised the work of those who are at present co-operating and the spirit of those who have as yet found little they can do.

In particular regard to the latter there is a current activity planned this long time and lately brought into being by the National Association of Manufacturers, which gives them a chance at aiding in defense activity.

The association has originated and asked local aid in pushing a survey inventory of American industry. This survey may be of vital importance. The office of production management counts heavily upon it. Its work will be to record every square inch of industrial capacity now in use and the possible maximum of that capacity.

Here is real service on the part of industry and such gives an idea of the intelligent way they are going about their task. Nothing haphazard here, nothing left to chance. The survey gives ample indication why the problem of mass armament procurement is best left to the skilled hands of industry itself.

EMPHASIS WITHOUT PROFANITY

Another United States Army tradition—that of the hard-boiled top sergeant who emphasized all his verbal directions with expletives—disappears with the training of the selective service troops of 1940-41. An official order has been posted at various camps forbidding the use of profanity to punctuate commands in the presence of draftees.

The change marks a great forward step, for officers at Fort Devens said the order resulted from letters written home by young soldiers who disapproved of the language used by non-coms. This means that the Army has a better class of recruit than formerly—one who feels he doesn't have to be sworn at to make him an efficient soldier. And since draftees are a cross-section of young American manhood, the incident indicates an improvement in morals and manners.

Reach High

Haven't you often wondered how the giant redwoods of California draw water to their foliage, often more than 200 feet in the air?

"It's not done through pressure from the roots," writes Albert Collier. "It's done by pull from above. Although nature the same law will be found—then the means which she need itself provides."

Mr. Collier finds inspiration for us in the pulling power of the redwoods: "Use what you have to provide the vacuum, then draw upon the necessary elements to fill it. Reach up with your stalk, speak out your branches, provide the 'pull' and you can leave to your roots the search for necessary nourishment. If you have reached high enough, if you have made your magnet strong enough, you can draw to yourself whatever elements you need, no matter if they be at the ends of the earth."

THE LORD'S SUPPER

LESSON TEXT—Luke 22:14-30. GOLDEN TEXT—As often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do show the Lord's death till he come.—1 Corinthians 11:26.

Old things pass away, and new things take their place—such seems to be the law of life. That which is useful and greatly desired fulfills its time of service and is set aside for that which takes its place. The change which occurred in our lesson shared this aspect, but in reality so vital and fundamental that it merits our closest attention.

The Passover feast had (since that great and awful night of Israel's redemption out of Egypt's bondage) pointed forward to the Christ and His cross as the fulfillment of the type of redemption by the shedding of blood. But now the hour had come for Him to give Himself in death, and He set aside the Passover (because it has been fulfilled) to establish the great Christian feast of remembrance—the Lord's table, showing forth His death till He come.

I. The Last Passover (vv. 14-18). Our Lord looked forward with intense desire to the Passover which He now observed with His disciples, for it was the last feast of that kind fore-shadowed of deliverance and hope was fulfilled in Him who now sat at the head of the table. He had moved forward with resolute purpose and desire to the day when His mission on earth was to be accomplished, and He was to become our Passover (1 Cor. 5:7).

The fact that He had looked forward to it with desire does not in any sense minimize the deep darkness of either Gethsemane or Calvary. Remember that, when in the garden he faced that hour and thought of the possibility of the cup being taken from Him. He said to the Father, "Not what I will, but what thou wilt." Praying concerning the same matter (in John 12:27), He said, "Now is my soul troubled; and what shall I say? Father, save me from this hour: but for this cause came I unto this hour."

II. The First Communion (vv. 19, 20).

Taking the unleavened bread and the unfermented wine of the Passover, which had just been observed by Him for the last time, Jesus established a new feast, the Christian feast of remembrance, which we call communion or the Lord's table.

As we have already suggested, it is a feast of remembrance. "For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup ye do show the Lord's death till he come" (1 Cor. 11:26). At the Lord's table His followers find spiritual strength in remembering His death for them, and they also find joy as they remember that He is to come again. In doing so they testify to the world that they believe in and cherish these truths.

This feast is also rightly called "communion," for down through the ages and until He does come the saints of God have at His table sweet communion, first of all with Him, and then with one another.

III. Betrayal and Strife (vv. 21-26).

Someone will say, "That point does not belong with the other two. Both the feast of the Passover and the Lord's Supper are for the joyful remembrance of deliverance and redemption." The objection is well taken, except for one thing—we are dealing with human beings as they are, not as they should be and could be by the grace of God.

Here in the inner circle of the twelve there was one traitor. It seems impossible, but apparently Judas had maintained such outward conduct as to turn no suspicion in his direction, even though all along he had in his heart the blackest of treachery against his Lord. It is a sad and soul-searching fact which is here revealed, that it is possible for one to make a high profession of faith in Christ and even so to live as to give no cause for criticism, and yet to be unregenerate and in fact the enemy of Christ.

What about the strife regarding position? Shame on us, for it still goes on in the church. Not even the remembrance of our Lord's death and the reminder that He is coming again is enough to keep men from wanting to be greatest.

May the spirit of Christ get hold of some self-seeking Christian as he today sees Christ as the One whose body was broken and whose blood was shed for him.

ties belonged to the black pages of Shanghai, Canton, and Madrid. Already the hue and cry was rising west of the Alleghenies sharp on the heels of the first hysterical waves of fear. What of the Army? Why had our armed forces been caught napping? Why hadn't the raiders been detected and shot down? The first reports of mobilization of Army and National Guard were pouring in. Mobilization was less than one fourth complete. The Regular Army was ready to entrain for concentration points from its far-flung network of small garrisons whose location had been dictated by chambers of commerce and congressmen rather than by the necessities of military training in the vital team-play of larger units. Plans were being laid for a call for 500,000 volunteers. That would have to wait action by Congress, but Congress could be depended upon now to go the limit. A draft army of a million men would come next. As for modern equipment, that would have to wait. There would be no such thing as buying it in France and England, even in Canada, as at the time of the World War. A year, or two years, might elapse before industrial mobilization, the country's own resources, could infantry into position for battle. Boll's motor column bravely withstood a terrible strafing from enemy aircraft, but he ordered the men to abandon their trucks when he observed twenty more planes approaching. Further resistance seemed useless to him. Now continue with the story. confirms what we'd guessed long ago. They also suggest that the enemy espionage has its headquarters in New York, disguised as some large corporation, no details available. Second, I have positive information that Van Hassek's bombers had ground liaison in Washington last night. Light signals were flashed from the area of the White House during both raids. Benning started. Into his mind flashed Captain Fincke's cryptic statements at the Shoreham. Promptly he decided against reporting this conversation for the time being. He gave Flagwill a brief account of his discovery of the Austrian captain and Colonel Boggio and explained his logic in not immediately causing their arrest. "All right, Benning," Flagwill said, his eyes snapping. "I'll assume you made no mistake in not arresting them last night. But now you forget everything else and get out after them! Use your own judgment about when you make arrests, but see to it they don't get away from you. I needn't tell you that the Coalition spy net is ten times more dangerous in the long run than Van Hassek's present rotten invasion."

CHAPTER X

General Mole sat in the hot shelter of his command post which had been dug by engineers into the reverse slope of a squat ridge. He puffed glumly at the stub of a cigar as he observed the arrival of his regimental and battalion commanders whom he had summoned from over his battle position. Planes soared overhead, American combat planes covering his position against air attack. From time to time an observation plane dashed low with a dropped message reporting progress of the Van Hassek approach. At last word, the main Van Hassek column had cleared the Nueces River after routing a motorized battalion strong-point that Mole had sent out to gain contact and delay the enemy. Mole's plan of battle was shaped; his formal orders had been distributed. Since morning the men had been digging in. All his artillery had been dug in and camouflaged. Here he had an immense, hastily organized citadel of mutually supporting strong-points. Machine guns had been placed for the maximum of destructive effect. The breaking of one line yielded the enemy the grim necessity of attacking a new one. Roads menacing his flanks were strongly covered. It was not such a position as he would have selected of his own choice, but since necessity forced it on him, he meant to make the most of his opportunities for stubborn resistance. His senior aide-de-camp came up to him and saluted. "Sir, the officers are assembled," the captain advised. There was a greenish hue to the general's lean, cadaverous face, brought by the stress of the past few days. His eyes were bloodshot under puffy black lids, but they shone with a stout, even glitter, that proclaimed the mastery of will over flesh. As he stood up to face his assembled commanders, he was perfectly contained. "I wanted a few words with you before we go into action, gentlemen," he began in a calm voice. "The decision to fight here was made for us by General Hage. Therefore, it becomes our decision. Let me frankly say that the Army is on the spot, that the people wouldn't understand the simple wisdom of our falling back without a fight."

"I have two reports that will interest you."

provide anything more than the crudest necessities of combat. If a major war was in the offing, the country would have to depend upon the massed valor of its manpower to take unequal red losses and drive through at all costs. It was nine o'clock before Colonel Flagwill stamped in from the Chief of Staff's office. His face was ashen and lined, but his level black eyes glowed vitality. "What an inglorious tangle!" he muttered to Benning with a tormented shake of his head. "Which way to turn, that's the question bedeviling all of us." "I've been reading the reports and recommendations of the staff sections, sir," Benning answered. "Mobilization seems to be moving right along and the panic is cooling off, even in Washington."

Small Borrowers' Bill Offered By Former Speaker

Representative Emmett Morse of Harris County, former speaker of the Texas House of Representatives, has introduced a bill in the Legislature at Austin, to protect small borrowers against high interest rates disguised as service charges, commissions, premiums or special fees. The measure would also place personal loan agencies under strict State regulation.

The Morse bill provides that persons or corporations engaged in the business of lending small amounts shall obtain licenses from the Commissioner of Banking, pay license fees, make bond for the protection of borrowers and submit to periodic inspection of their books and accounts. Power to make rules and regulations to protect borrowers from unfair tactics is vested in the commissioner.

Interest is limited to 10 percent a year and all subterfuges intended to increase actual interest are prohibited. Charges for services must be for those actually rendered upon particular loans and, in any case, must come within limits set forth in the bill.

Salary buying, a favorite practice of lenders of money at high interest, is made impossible by the Morse bill, according to its author. Penalties for violation of the proposed act include loss of principal as well as interest, loss of license, fines and imprisonment.

Banks, building and loan associations, credit unions, Morris Plan Banks and other lending agencies already under State or National regulation are exempted from the provisions of the bill.

Farmers & Ranchers Grocery and Market Make Improvements

The Farmers and Ranchers Supply House, operated by Otis Early, has recently undergone considerable improvements. The main part of the store has been enlarged by moving the partition toward the rear and adding considerable more shelf room.

The market department has been considerably improved by the installation of a complete and modern new display case and a large meat storage box. To the service department new scales, meat slicing machine and meat grinding machinery has been added. The market is now in charge of E. L. Hollon who recently came to Goldthwaite to take charge of this department.

Mr. Early not only carries a nice and complete line of groceries and meats but is a rather extensive dealer in feeds. Carrying a suitable line of feed for every purpose. Not only special feeds for poultry and dairy cattle but he can supply any one's needs for feed in any quantity.

Among the employees of the Farmers and Ranchers Supply House are B. H. Fulton, who has been with the firm for some time, also George Bohannon.

MEANING OF THE

British ships for use in the war zones.

Aircraft will constitute a large share of the aid. Over 85 percent of all American made combat planes are already going to these countries. Production, of course, will increase. In like manner, arms, munitions, and weapons of all kinds will be transferred to these countries under the terms of the bill, in such quantities as we can produce and afford to spare, and without the necessity of requiring those countries to purchase them as at present.

The bill makes no mention of sending troops abroad, although the opponents are trying desperately to insert this amendment. It is probably the President's intention to supply all-out aid to these countries, short of actual intervention with our own troops, which it is hoped, can be avoided. At any rate, it would probably require a declaration of war before actual troops could be used directly in the war.

We should bear in mind that, behind the Lend-Lease bill is the realization that this war is being fought primarily for the control of the seas of the world. Such control will enable the dominant powers to fix the rules by which the trade and commerce of the whole world will function. At present, England and America, dominate the seas and the commerce of nations is run broadly along the lines fixed by these powers. To lose this war would mean that these powers would be regulated to positions of subordinate and secondary nations with their economies subservient to the new world order of the Totalitarian States. The impacts and consequences, although they might be several years in maturing, could hardly be imagined.

Huntsville Item Celebrates 90th Year As Weekly

HUNTSVILLE, Texas, March 6.—The Huntsville Item, Texas' oldest weekly newspaper in point of continuous operation, issued a fifty-two-page paper Thursday, dedicated to the publication's ninetieth anniversary.
