

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

SEVEN

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS.—FRIDAY, AUGUST 8, 1941

NUMBER FIFTY-ONE

REPORT ON COUNTY ALUMINUM DRIVE IS GIVEN BY CHAIRMAN

WITH EX-12-YEAR SYSTEM

The Aluminum Collection Drive in Mills County has ended with thorough success as it did all over the nation. Although junk dealers for years have been buying, or otherwise getting, all available scrap metals in the country to send to market, the people of Mills County would not be balked by that. Aluminum was brought in from places where none was thought to be before and Mills County filled its quota of three-fourths pound per family. One thing became very noticeable about the aluminum brought in: most of it came direct from the kitchen. Percolators were extremely numerous. Cake pans and stewers came next. Some housewives insisted on giving perfectly good pieces.

I am sorry that it is impossible to list the gatherings by communities. Weights were kept by commissioners' precincts and were as follows:

Precinct No.	Pounds
Precinct No. 1	496
Precinct No. 2	204
Precinct No. 3	550
Precinct No. 4	250
Total	1,500

Roach Fox carried the Mills County collection of aluminum to Abilene August 4, and brought back a receipt for 1,500 pounds.

To the local chairmen, the Boy Scouts, the Women's Defense League, and all others who assisted in the drive, I wish to express my appreciation for your co-operation in this patriotic service. If the present danger to the country continues, we shall, no doubt, be called on for further activities in the national defense program. The people of Mills County have become so conscious of the situation that they recognize that even the smallest of undertakings are important if they affect national defense.

R. J. GERALD,
County Chairman
for Civil Defense.

The Sabbath is God's day for worship and the cultivation of the spiritual side of life. So used it becomes one of man's finest blessings. When used for business or pleasure-seeking it may become man's real curse. At the church is the best way to celebrate the weekly reminder that God made the world and that we are responsible to Him.

All the regular services next Sunday. Come and join us in the worship of the Lord and in Bible study. You are always welcome.

36TH DIVISION GONE TO LOUISIANA FOR 2 MONTHS MANEUVERS

The 36th Division, together with the headquarters of the Eighth Army Corps, has this week been moved from Camp Bowie, Brownwood, to new headquarters near Mansfield, La., where the division, together with other Texas troops, will be engaged for the next two months in extensive field maneuvers as part of the III Army.

Movement of the men was under command of Major General George V. Strong, commanding general of the Eighth Army Corps, and began on a large scale early Monday morning. Over 1,050 trucks left Brownwood for Louisiana by way of Goldthwaite and Waco. Wednesday was another big day, when the other half of the division was moved.

The 36th Division, made up principally of Texas and Oklahoma National Guardsmen but brought up to war strength by enlistments during the year, contains many men from this section, and much speculation has been going on as to where the division will be sent after the August and September maneuvers are over. They are not expected to be returned to Camp Bowie.

He thinks it was the largest and most remarkable wedding that ever occurred in Texas or even in the United States.

DOWN THROUGH THE AGES

YOUR BOY AND MINE

Who is your boy? Who is my boy? Answer: They are very much what we make them.

That Boy In Your Home

That boy in your home is your first concern. He is worth all the time you can give him. He is worth all you have or will ever have. Lands and cattle, stocks and bonds, have but small value as compared with the value of your boy.

What Can We Do For Our Boys?

Mills County needs a Boys' and Dads' Club. They have them in other counties and towns. Why not have a Club here?

What Good Will The Club Do?

There is no way to measure the good the Club will do. Listen to this: What good will a good fence do about your ranch? Why fence your ranch at all? A club for our boys will mean to them and their lives just what a good fence means to you and your ranch.

ARE YOU INTERESTED?

A boys' club is worth the time and money that it will cost any man or any town or county. Peace officers tell us that boys' and dads' clubs are worth more than one can believe. Boys who belong to these clubs are seldom in trouble. They grow up to be fine men in whatever line of work you may find them engaged.

Yes, your boy and mine. I have been thinking of them and what we might do to help our boys. What do you THINK?

W. H. MARSHALL, Pastor Methodist Church.

CAMP BOWIE SOLDIER WRITES GRATITUDE

August 2, 1941.

Dear Mrs. R. M. Thompson:

One week ago Thursday part of our mechanized regiment was in your city while working out a scouting maneuver. Although being there only a few hours, we were so impressed with the kindness and generosity of some of your local people, I sincerely feel a word of thanks is very much in order. In thanking these gracious people, I can only mention them as to their approximate location as I do not know their names, and hope indirectly they can know of our appreciation.

Katy-corner from your building, if my memory is correct, is a small ice house. There we were treated to an ice cold watermelon by a young gentleman who apparently received as much kick out of watching us eat it as giving it to us, as I know he delayed his own lunch by at least half an hour. Shortly before making away with everything but the seeds and the rind a more elderly man living in the house next door south, if my directions are correct, or I'll say across the street from the court house, brought over a homemade pie. Being a radio operator in a scout car and not having the "do as I choose" moments while in the various cities of Texas, this was a rare treat. I hope you won't think I am exaggerating if I continue as there is more to follow.

We moved our scout car one block south and to the left in the driveway of the first home on the left side of the street. The lady of this home wished to give us some more watermelon, but of necessity had to decline, but did accept some ice water. After being there about one-half hour a lady from across the street and a couple of houses down came over and offered a pitcher of lemonade. Being a very hot day, I for one was very glad to hear our commanding officer accept. It was really swell and mighty typical of my interpretation of Southern hospitality. Nothing would please me more than to visit Goldthwaite some time in the future and personally thank these people.

We are leaving for Louisiana in the morning to carry out a two-months' maneuver and shall enclose my address in case you would like to know my impressions of our daily events.

Hoping again to return to Camp Bowie and Goldthwaite, I remain,

Yours very truly,
Pvt. LLOYD H. LANSROD,
H.J. Det. 2nd Sq. 113th

C. O. NORTON RANCH SCENE OF FIELD DAY

OVER 300 THERE TO HEAR GOAT EXPERTS SPEAK

The farmers and ranchers of the county are indebted to a group of enthusiastic goat and sheep raisers headed by County Agent Sam Rosenberg, who met last Monday morning and laid plans for a very profitable county-wide meeting held at the C. O. Norton ranch last Tuesday, Aug. 5. Those who were not able to attend the all-day meeting missed some good speeches on conditions of wool, mohair, etc., as well as a good dinner on the ground, donated by the goat raisers of the county.

The program consisted of a speech by W. R. Nebith, sheep and goat specialist from A. & M. College, who explained to the audience about the establishment of a basis for grading mohair, a new idea in the development and use of the mohair industry, designed to put use of mohair on a wider basis.

A second speaker was Walter Garth, a mohair specialist with the Extension Service from Sanford Mills in Maine. He explained many of the new uses of mohair, those already widely used and those in the beginning stages of development. He showed the difference between mohair and the rayons, nylons, and other inferior threads. He brought with him a sample of all the different types of mohair and explained to the group the particular value of each type and the differences in them. He demonstrated these types by grading some goats and shearing them and showing the hair.

From out of county many individuals and groups came to see the demonstrations. County Agents Elmo Cook from Eastland County, A. C. Pratt from San Saba County, W. P. Graham from Lampasas brought groups from their respective counties. A group from Hamilton County attended. Something around 300 people were present, including representatives of New Mexico and Arizona.

The goats used in the demonstrations were furnished chiefly by C. O. Norton, with smaller pens from the herds of Felton Waddell, Shorty Horton, Jess Petsick, Floyd Fox, Ball Ranch, Owens Brothers, Doc Laughlin, and Delton Barnett.

Those who were present as well as those who were interested and unable to attend are indeed grateful to Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Norton for the lovely entertainment as well as the profitable knowledge gained. Some of the enthusiastic business men of Goldthwaite also assisted in making it possible to hold a successful meeting.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D. Dean of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for August 10

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education, used by permission.

JAMES TEACHES CONSISTENT CHRISTIAN LIVING

LESSON TEXT—James 1:17-22; 2:14-17; 4:13-17; 5:12. GOLDEN TEXT—Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world.—James 1:27.

Spiritually minded but very practical was James, an outstanding leader in the Church (Gal. 2:9; Acts 15) and the brother of our Lord. His epistle speaks little about Christ, but it reflects more of His teachings than any of the other epistles. It parallels the sermon on the mount and in that way, as well as other ways, greatly resembles the teachings of Jesus. It is a straightforward discussion of practical Christian living.

There is so much inconsistency among Christians in their daily walk that nothing could be more needed than a careful study of the exhortations of James.

I. Be Doers of the Word—Not Hearers Only (1:17-22).

Knowing God's will is important, but it amounts to little except to bring condemnation upon us, unless we do it. It is good to hear with swift apprehension, but there is no point in talking about what we have heard unless we practice it.

God is the "giver of every good and perfect gift" (that's literally and wonderfully true). He has not withheld one blessing, even to the giving of His Son, who was sent down from heaven to redeem us. His very goodness should prompt us to lay aside everything which dishonors His name. Wrath (v. 20), all uncleanness of speech or thought, pride (v. 21)—all these must go, and will go, as we permit the Word to take root (be "engrafted") in our hearts and lives. Note that it is not enough to read the Word, or even to memorize it. It must take root and grow in our life.

II. Believe—But Do Not Forget to Work (2:14-17).

Saved by faith? Yes, we are, and in no other way; but the man who says he has faith in Christ will inevitably show the results of that faith in his life.

James is not in any way contradicting the teaching of Paul's epistles regarding justification by faith, but is clearly stating what must be true, "that a faith which does not result in works, i. e., in a manifestation of a true Christian life, externally and visibly, is not the kind of faith commanded by God, and constantly revealed in the New Testament as the only instrument for the appropriation of the redemption that is in Jesus Christ our Lord. There is no such thing as real, genuine, vital, living, Christian faith, except it has its fruits in the works of faith" (Wilbur M. Smith).

How that faith will show itself in the practical dealings of daily life is graphically presented in verses 15 and 16. Pious talk has always been very cheap, and it certainly accomplishes nothing. Real Christianity works.

III. Trust—But Do Not Boast of Tomorrow (4:13-17).

There is a strange religious attitude which talks about faith as though it were something of which to boast, which encourages people not only to believe, but actually to presume. There is a radical difference between faith and presumption.

All Christians are subject to the temptation of talking about being "strangers and pilgrims" (Heb. 11:13) in this earth, and then planning their lives, and their business as though everything will continue as it is through all eternity. It is right to plan, but every day we should plan subject to God's will, always realizing that this may be the day when we shall be called into His presence to give an account of the deeds done in the flesh.

Every hour of life should find us ready to meet the Lord, and with all in readiness, so that our going may leave behind a clear testimony of faith in God, and of consistent Christian living.

IV. Be Honest—Without the Need of an Oath (5:12).

A Christian should never need to give an oath in the ordinary affairs of daily life. His life should be so transparently honest and consistently aboveboard that his word ("yea, yea, or nay, nay") will be "as good as his bond."

The Jews were accustomed to use formulas for oaths such as those mentioned in Matthew 5:33-37. They would have felt much at home in our day when there is so much dishonesty that people are constantly calling on God to witness to their truthfulness. Those who have least to do with Him and the worst records for dishonesty are most prone to thus seek to bolster their word.

What a striking contrast is the simple "yes" or "no" of the true Christian. Let us make our word always good, because it is the expression of the integrity of our lives.

CENTER CITY

By Mrs. J. M. Oglesby

About 8 o'clock Monday morning the soldier boys from Camp Bowie began to pass through our city on their way to Louisiana. Many parents and children were at the highway to bid them good-bye. Most of the Center City boys were drivers of trucks and were among the first to pass through. Our prayers are that they will soon return to their homes and all danger of wars will cease before our nation enters directly into the fighting.

The revival meeting conducted by Bro. John Lewis of Oglesby and our pastor, Bro. Sims, is in progress. There are services each morning and at night with the Booster Band, a number of prayer services and good singing led by Prof. Huggins of Brownwood. Mrs. Huggins was here the first of the week, but returned to her work Monday afternoon.

Joe Green's mother of Pecan Wells visited in his home the first of the week.

Mrs. Byrd attended church services Monday night. She has been quite ill for some time.

Dan Waggoner had the misfortune of losing the end of one of his fingers in closing the back of his car. It caused much suffering for several days, but glad to report he is doing nicely now.

Mrs. Oscar Hill received a message announcing the death of her uncle, M. V. Reatherford, at Amarillo Sunday. He was a brother-in-law of her mother, Mrs. J. Everett Evans. We extend sympathy to the family.

Wilbur D. Herndon and Vernon Lawson of Dallas spent the week-end with Tom House and family. John L. House of Camp Bowie spent Sunday with them and Mr. House and family visited the boys at Camp Bowie in the afternoon.

Misses Nora B and Annie Laurie House attended the street dance in Brownwood Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Tubbs and Miss Lucille Welch of Dallas and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tubbs of Osage visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Welch, last week-end.

Relatives and friends of Mrs. Frank Karnes met at Long Hole on Bennett Creek and helped her celebrate her birthday Monday, Aug. 4. It is an annual affair and many look forward to this date for the picnic. All her children were present except Mr. and Mrs. Webb Karnes. A bounteous feast was spread at the noon hour under the shade of trees. Many enjoyed swimming in the clear waters. We wish for Mrs. Karnes many more happy occasions.

Mrs. J. J. J. Newton is spending the week with her new grandson in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Omrie Newton at McGirk.

Alfred Carter, June Clifton and Joe Shelby Langford were returning from Abilene Sunday night and ran into a parked truck eight miles from Cisco, causing a wreck. Clifton was taken to a hospital and was treated for injuries. Joe Shelby was bruised and scratched. An aged couple were in the other car and were injured, but not seriously.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Covington of South Bennett visited her sister, Mrs. Biddle, and William Sunday.

Glenda Oglesby is visiting relatives in Fort Worth.

Miss Nella Beth McCasland of John Tarleton College visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ercher McCasland, last week-end.

Marion Karnes of San Antonio visited his mother and other relatives the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Hawkins have moved to a place near Star.

The new home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Walton is nearing completion and is beautiful. We are very glad for them and like to know prosperity is near us.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Oglesby visited in the Henry Martin home in Goldthwaite Sunday afternoon. Those who remember Mr. Martin in the dry goods business a number of years ago regret to hear he is ill and suffering much.

Virginia Oglesby spent Saturday night with Ella Beth Early in Goldthwaite.

Ewell Venable and family of Ewert attended church and visited relatives here Sunday.

Miss Theresa Venable of Goldthwaite is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Venable, and attending church.

Mrs. Luther Piper and children of Goldthwaite visited relatives here the first of the week. Ben Littlepage and Will Head of Mineral Wells are visiting relatives here.

Mrs. Luther Whitlock and children of Arizona are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Collier, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Blackwell and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kirby returned Wednesday from a vacation trip which took them through Arkansas, Tennessee, Mississippi and Louisiana. They visited many interesting places but the capitol at Baton Rouge, La., impressed them very much as to size, beauty and expensive imported material in its structure.

Bob Tabors of South Bennett visited in the Aubrey Head home Sunday.

J. T. Owens visited Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hudson and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Martin Saturday afternoon.

Clarence Collier visited in the J. Everett Evans home in Goldthwaite and with Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Till last week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Blackwell are having their home remodelled.

Miss Shirley Lucas, who is attending a business college in Abilene, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lucas, recently.

Denver McCasland of Abilene visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stacy McCasland, the first of the week.

Five New Contracts At Camp Wolters

Five New Contracts for additional construction work at Camp Wolters, Mineral Wells, have just been announced by the War Department. Dallas firms got four of the contracts with an Abilene construction company getting the fifth.

Scallorn H-D Club

The Scallorn H. D. Club met in the home of Mrs. Lila Crawford July 31.

Miss Greta Hines, our delegate to the Short Course, gave a wonderful account of her trip and study while there. She said they heard discussions and talks on food for national defense, better food for people, also food for an average family for one day.

Our meeting was based on club picnics and entertainment. Several gave interesting discussions on those topics. The club planned a picnic supper soon that includes the entire community. Refreshments were served to 17 members and seven visitors.—Reporter.

This excellent solution to the problem of the small house embodies economy in every respect yet sacrifices nothing in arrangement.

Simple and effective in design, this Ohio property, valued at $4,250 by the Federal Housing Administration, illustrates good orientation of the living and service quarters. It has an interesting plan for cross ventilation, economy of space, and ease of circulation.

The small covered front stoop and the attached garage provide breaks in what otherwise might be monotonous design. The efficiently arranged kitchen has equally easy access to both front and rear doors. The living room and bedrooms are of splendid proportions for a house of this size.

This property was financed with an FHA-insured mortgage of $3,600. Monthly payments on a 25-year mortgage of this amount, exclusive of taxes and insurance, amount to approximately $21. The property will vary with localities.

The Blue Bonnet Club

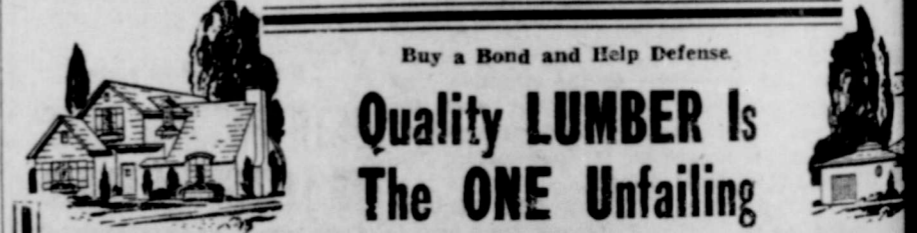

The club met with Mrs. Charlie Turberville July 24. We spent the afternoon quilting. Mrs. Turberville served refreshments to nine members. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Clyde Featherston Aug. 14.—Reporter.

The wise buyer is never fooled—The market today is filled with countless lumber "bargains." To get business the appeal of tempting prices has been substituted for quality you can see and feel a cut in lumber quality. The one way sure that you have invested your dollars wisely is to buy seasoned, dry and lumber cut from big timber—the lumber that you know has never tampered with quality.

HOME D. CLUB COUNCIL MEETS

"I won't attempt to make a complete report of the A. and M. Short Course at College Station on July 13 to 15," said Mrs. Jake Brown from the Lake Merritt club, "but I will tell some of the most interesting things we saw and heard."

Then we listened to a report that made all of us wish we had been a delegate to the A. and M. Short Course. Also, Miss Greta Sue Hines gave us a very interesting report on what she saw at the Short Course. One thing of great importance was co-operative marketing, which, when properly organized, would aid all people who have produce to sell.

Miss Scott, our home demonstration agent, gave a few details concerning the cotton comforts we are to make in the future. We will hear more about it later.

We discussed plans for the 1942 year books and decided to ask each club to prepare a program which it considered beneficial to the members and present same to the year-book committee, and then the new year-books will be formulated from these programs.

Plans for an achievement day in October were discussed briefly.

The Council cordially invites visitors to attend our meetings. In so doing you will understand more thoroughly what is being done by the home demonstration Clubs in Mills County.

Those present at our last meeting were: Miss Mary Edna Fouse, Mrs. George White, Priddy, Mrs. W. A. Cline, Midway; Mmes. Ira Aldridge, Tom House, J. M. Oglesby, Dan Waggoner, Center City; J. R. work to a Mr. Jones, who is working at Camp Bowie.

Wilmeth spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wilmeth at Dulin, where they met their son, Lillard, of Camp Bowie, who was to leave Monday morning with the 144th Infantry for maneuvers in Louisiana. Mr. and Mrs. John Holder and children visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crowder Sunday after church.

A tinge of sadness envelops us to see the soldiers leaving for their long maneuvers in Louisiana. Seeing them passing through the maneuver grounds out here brings a feeling of excitement to our quiet neighborhood. When they are gone there is a lonesome feeling. That they do not wholly forget Ebony may be illustrated by the following episode:

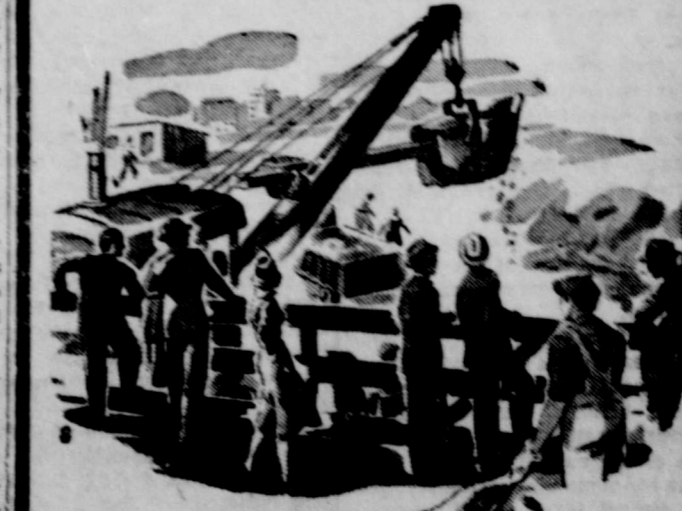

Mrs. J. F. Batemna (nee Grace Wilmeth) of Fort Worth recently met a Camp Bowie soldier in her city. "I was rec'd at Ebony," she told him. "Oh!" he says, "I know all about Ebony."

"Do you know P. R. Reid?" she asked. "Yes," he said. Then, as if he felt they had mutual friends, he asked, "Do you know Dale and Evelyn?" Dale and Evelyn are our young and genial storekeepers who kept the store open all night to accommodate the soldiers during their recent maneuvers here.

Don't forget the ice cream supper on the lawn at the Day home Friday night, Aug. 22. The community is invited. Bring a cake or some ice cream and enjoy the evening.

W. S. Hendrix and wife and son, W. S. Jr., and Monroe Harris and wife and daughter, Lois, of Merkel visited their uncle, E. I. Pass, and wife Sunday.

Hudsons Celebrate Sixtieth Anniversary

On Saturday evening between seven and ten friends came from far and near to greet Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hudson on their sixtieth wedding anniversary. Mrs. Dow Hudson welcomed them on their arrival and asked them to register, then Jon Schooler conducted them to the receiving line where they congratulated the happy couple who were attended by their children: Mrs. Jon Schooler, Goldthwaite; Clyde Hudson, Gary, Ind.; Dow and Blake Hudson, Goldthwaite; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sykes, Winters; and Mrs. Hudson's nephew, Lt. Taylor D. Howard of Camp Bowie. Two lovely granddaughters, Misses Mary Margaret and Lenora Sykes, served cake and punch.

The setting was beautiful. The lawn was gay with lights, flowers and seats. The appearance of the honored couple belied their many years of useful living. The occasion was a happy one for all concerned, and a most remarkable one for the Hudson family.

On the following day (Sunday) Mr. Hudson's brother, J. D. Hudson of Georgetown, with Mrs. J. D. Hudson and Rollo Hudson and his sister, Mrs. W. A. Gantt of Round Rock, with her son Garland from Camp Bowie, Miss Bertha Puckett and Mrs. T. P. Kelly of Brownwood came to enjoy a family dinner in the Hudson home. Twenty were served buffet style. Between the main course and dessert Mrs. Kelly, a close friend of many years' standing, told the story of Mr. and Mrs. Hudson's life together in rhyme. She began:

"There came to the heart of Texas some 60 years ago
A newly married couple whom 'tis our joy to know.
Lewis was the bridegroom and Mary's heart he had won,
And they were very happy in eighteen eight-one."

And ended:
"Sixty years of marriage and what does it bring?
Happiness mingled with sorrow and pain;
Sometimes the sadness outweighs the gladness—
Life is not all roses. Joy has its pain.

"Sixty years of marriage and what have you gained?
Knowledge that comes with the passing of years,
Facing together life's darkest weather,
Sharing with each other life's laughter and tears.

"Sixty years of marriage and what have you left?
Courage and Ideals and Faith that still mounts.
The past is behind you, the future will find you
Richer and wiser in everything that counts."

Miss Long And Mr. Schmidt Are Wed

The Rev. E. E. Dawson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, read the words of the beautiful ring ceremony. The bride's only attendant was her sister, Miss Johnnie Belle Long. Louie Krause, close friend of the couple, attended the groom as best man.

The bride was lovely in navy sheer trimmed in dainty white silk braid, with black and white accessories. She carried an arm bouquet of dahlia and fern tied with white satin ribbon.

Her sister wore black sheer with white and black accessories and a dahlia corsage.

Both parents of the couple were present for the wedding.

Refreshment plates consisting of angel food cake and delicious punch were passed to members of both immediate families and a few close friends.

The happy young couple left Sunday morning for McAllen, where they expect to make their future home.

Getting Better Results From Your Vacuum Cleaner

By Katharine Fisher

Director, Good Housekeeping Institute

If you are not satisfied with the job your vacuum cleaner does on rugs and carpets, perhaps you may need a new cleaner. On the other hand, you may not be using your cleaner correctly so that it can do its work well. The first rule in using your vacuum cleaner is to make sure that the floor nozzle is adjusted to the thickness of each rug or carpet on which it is used. This is a must, if you want your cleaner to do its best work on rugs and carpets of different thicknesses. Some cleaners have nozzles that do not need adjusting. Find out whether nozzle of your cleaner does need adjusting and how it should be done.

If your cleaner has a motor-driven brush, the second rule is to keep the brush in good working order. Brushes will wear out with use. When worn they should be adjusted or replaced.

EMPTY DUST BAGS FREQUENTLY. Your cleaner will also be better able to do its job if you empty the dust bag each time you use the cleaner. This is a disagreeable task, but if the bag is empty, on damp newspaper it really isn't so bad. Wear your household gloves and shake the dirt down toward the opening. Then hold the bag close to the damp newspaper and shake the dust out gently. And here's a caution note: Don't dump loose dust directly into your furnace or incinerator. Loose dust mixed with air sometimes forms an explosive mixture, which may explode on contact with flame. Disposable paper-bag liners are available in cleaners of some makes. When old, dust may escape from them. When this happens, it is better not to attempt repairing the fabric. Buy a new bag.

DAILY USE IS GOOD. How long should a cleaner be run over a rug? That depends upon the regularity with which rugs are cleaned, the amount of traffic they get, the kind of soil, the kind of rug, and the kind of vacuum. The important thing about cleaning rugs and carpets is to get the dirt before it has a chance to settle far down into the pile, where it is most difficult to remove and may eventually do damage. A good rule is to use your cleaner daily in rooms where traffic is heavy.

Even twenty minutes spent in cleaning a 9 by 12 rug will probably leave some dirt in the rug. So don't be disturbed if a vacuum-cleaner demonstrator gets dirt out of your rug immediately after it has been cleaned with your cleaner. If your cleaner is a good one, and is working properly, it would get this extra dirt, too, if you emptied the bag and started all over again.

NO HARM TO RUGS. Forget the bugaboo that a good cleaner will wear out or injure rugs or carpets. It is well established that one of the chief reasons rugs wear out before their time is the dirt that is allowed to accumulate in them. Gritty dirt, ground under the heels, can shorten the life of the best rug. Reduce the dirt accumulation by regular use of your cleaner, and you will be helping to prolong the life of your rugs.

ABOVE-THE-FLOOR CLEANING. Most vacuum-cleaner manufacturers supply attachments for their cleaners for dusting and cleaning furniture, woodwork, draperies, radiators, clothing, and the like. Ask to have the attachments demonstrated for you, and be sure you try them yourself. Some may seem more useful to you than others. You may not need them all.

Convenient for above-the-floor cleaning are the small hand-type cleaners we've tested and approved. These are light enough to be carried about and used with one hand. Hand-type cleaners are particularly useful for cleaning upholstered furniture. Attachments for other above-the-floor cleaning jobs come with some cleaners of this type.

Also effective for above-the-floor cleaning is the small-size tank-type or cylinder cleaner we have approved for this kind of work. However, we do not have on our approved list any of the tank-type or cylinder cleaners that are also sold for rug and carpet cleaning. We have not as yet found any tank-type cleaner that meets our requirements for removing dirt from rugs and carpets. We feel that rug and carpet cleaning is a vacuum cleaner's most important function. There is no other way we know of for a woman herself to keep her rugs and carpets clean, and lessen the accumulation of destructive gritty dirt, except by using a cleaner that has efficiency for this kind of work.

THWARTING INFLATION

By GEORGE C. HESTER

The national government is today making preparations to face the threat of inflation, or runaway prices. Wartime control of prices is another device of total war.

Most discussions of price control legislation seem to imply that such a field of activity is entirely new to our government. Only in one sense is this true. In setting price ceilings, incident to wartime activities, we have had only a limited experience back in the first World War.

In another respect, however, the very essence of new deal policies for the past eight years has been that of dealing with price controls. But it has been price control with a different purpose—that of jacking up prices to combat depressed markets, deflation and depression.

This program in one form or another has covered almost the entire field of production and has ramified far into monetary policies directed toward the same purpose. A few examples will illustrate:

The whole program of crop reduction with loans and benefit payments had one objective—that of higher prices. This has put price props under such commodities as wheat, corn, cotton, rice, tobacco, rye, barley, sugar, fruits, vegetables, etc.

Prosps have also been put under labor. The price of silver was pegged.

The Gold Act and the Gold Purchase policy were inflationary techniques to cheaper money and encouraged credit expansion, forcing interest rates to an all-time low. Deficit financing for public works, pump priming and similar fiscal policies likewise sought to encourage purchasing power, higher consumption, and industrial expansion.

Now the problem is to keep down prices—not to raise them. It is to combat inflation, not deflation; to curb private purchasing, not to stimulate it; and to restrict instead of expand private credit, and to encourage private savings instead of urging spending.

To many the whole thing will not make very good sense. It is like trying to go in opposite directions at one and the same time. But governmental policies are rarely characterized by any marked degree of foresight, especially in the economic realm. Be that as it may, an economic machine, like any other machine, must have brakes as well as the power of propulsion. It is largely a matter of temporary expediency. At least that is the emergency we are now facing.

A complete change confronts us. With our industrial system geared to defense production, many shortages are appearing, especially in durable goods such as automobiles, household appliances, accessories, etc. The enormous increase in payrolls and wages have stimulated consumer purchases, which, together with government buying, are sending food prices higher as well as the prices of other commodities in which there are no apparent shortages.

The whole situation of price control, therefore, reduces itself to one fundamental problem: How we can divert sixty billion dollars into defense production without completely distorting price structures, thereby further increasing the already exorbitant defense costs, and at the same time leave millions of our people in a worse condition than now, in addition to creating an almost insuperable problem for post-war readjustment?

It is an old adage that regulation begets regulation. Price regulation is extremely complicated and each step will probably call for several others. It is the essence of planned economy. For that reason the whole program should be approached with caution and with due consideration of the readjustments to a peacetime economy.

Many plans will be proposed, and the specific techniques will vary. The first legislation will be very limited. As the war emergency lengthens, however, the whole program will likely be developed along the following broad lines of governmental policy:

The initial legislation will deal largely with the administrative policy of fixing prices on basic raw materials most needed in the defense program, giving governmental priorities on crucial items and rationing of others.

The price administrator will likely be given authority to limit rentals in defense industry areas. Any direct legal power to limit either wages or agricultural prices will probably be omitted.

The above program will suffice only in case our emergency is a temporary one. If, after another year or so, the emergency deepens, it will be evident that mere price control is not enough. Supplementary and more basic policies, dealing with taxation, credit restriction, enforcing private savings, fixing wages, severe reduction of non-defense expenditures, and even greater increases in the production of raw materials will be looming before us.

You Can't Cut Down the Clouds!

WHEN THOREAU, the nature-lover, saw the woodsman's axe destroying the forest he exclaimed: "Thank God, they cannot cut down the clouds!"

There are some eternal things that the destructive powers of men, in all their fury, cannot destroy. To think of these things is to achieve an inward quiet and peace even in a war-torn world. The stars still shine. The sun still rises and sets. The mountains are not moved. Birds sing. Little streams dance merrily on their way. Flowers bloom and give off their perfume. The world goes right on being an everlasting beautiful place.

There are indestructible qualities of the human spirit, too. Mother-love is immortal, and though crushed to earth it will rise again. Courage and sacrifice glow with a new light in the midst of the blackouts of hope. Faith gallantly rides the whirlwind that's sweeping the earth.

You cannot cut down the clouds! The spirit of man cannot be destroyed! The finest things of life are immortal . . . they will survive!

—The Silver Lining.

NUTRITION INFORMATION

A little after five one afternoon, on our picnic grounds at Hyde Park, representatives of various organizations in the county gathered to discuss with state representatives what had been accomplished in spreading nutrition information. Miss Ruth Wheeler of Vassar college, who had been made chairman by the Cornell university group, which is in charge of this work in the state, has been ill, and so the work is not completely organized.

I felt a good deal was accomplished for they named a radio and publicity chairman and talked over methods of getting information to the people of our county. A home demonstration agent is being sent by the Emergency Home Demonstration committee to a group of counties, including Dutchess, and our county agent, Mr. Shepherd, called a meeting at which women were named to take charge of the arrangements for the agent's work.

This seems to me very important, because she can help us to accomplish things which are now being asked of the women of the United States of America. First we may see that our schools are used as demonstration centers for child feeding. That means that every available source of supply must be tapped for food to be used daily.

BACK IN WASHINGTON

We reached Washington, D. C., from Hyde Park in time for lunch the next day and the visitors began to arrive at once. I did have a little time to talk over one or two important family things with the President before he was again engulfed in government affairs.

At 4:40, I went to the airport with Jimmie and Rommie, who were starting for the West coast and waited to meet my daughter, who was coming in from Seattle, Wash., to attend Mayor LaGuardia's meeting on civilian volunteer participation in defense.

Anna was about twenty minutes late, which meant that a gentleman who was waiting to hand me a gift for the president sent by the mayor of an English city, had to wait for nearly twenty minutes. However, he was very kind about it. Afterwards, Dr. Frederick Douglas Patterson, the president of Tuskegee institute, came to tell me how well the training of the flying cadets is progressing there, and that Tuskegee is being named as a recreational area for Negro men on leave from Fort Benning.

PRESIDENT'S MEMORY

Four of us sat on the south portico of the White House one night having dinner; the President, our daughter, Anna; our cousin, Monroe D. Robinson; and I. Mr. Robinson had just returned from Peru and was telling the President of his impressions. He thinks Peru is one of the most interesting countries he has ever visited and cannot wait to return. Mr. Robinson has made some real friends and feels that they like him just as much as he likes them.

In the midst of his talk, my husband, in a very quiet way, said: "Have you ever happened to see an old book which has an illustration of a Peruvian Indian playing golf?" They played golf in Peru years before they played it in Scotland. To all intents and purposes it was the same game except that instead of having to end up in a little tin cup, they had to hit a very small stick.

Monroe's face was a study. He had hardly expected to be told something about Peru, especially something which he felt might even be news to some of his Peruvian friends! Then my husband went on to explain that in college, he had bought the books every year for the Fly Club and Pudding Club libraries. For the Fly Club, he had concentrated on books of old travel, and among them had found this particular book, which he considered the most interesting and which furnished the basis of some of his knowledge of Peru.

What wouldn't I give to have as retentive a memory as the President has, and at the same time always to be able to reach back into my mind and pick out the particular thing applicable to the conversation of the moment. Hours afterwards I can sometimes remember something which would have been very valuable, if it had only come to me when I was actually talking.

LA GUARDIA GROUP

The next day was given up entirely to the meeting held in the White House by Mayor LaGuardia's committee. Five members have been named from every corps area and represent all the different interests in our national life.

After lunch, the details were taken up and I hope that every member of the committee will go home knowing what the first steps in this program actually mean in the way of work. The future alone can tell how it will develop.

State Department Health Notes

"Beware of house to house agents who would sell you merchandise under some high-sounding name and claiming that it will cure all diseases known to affect man or beast," warns Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer.

"By patronizing such people the general public is not only wasting its money but is often purchasing an article that may be dangerous to the safety of persons or livestock."

One of the more recent frauds uncovered by field inspectors of the State Department of Health concerns so-called "radio-active Cones." Agents for this company have been covering certain sections of the state zealously, and have been selling a product that is not only worthless, but if used according to directions would be very dangerous to the public health.

False claims have been made by salesmen peddling this product that it will not only cure all diseases, but if used continuously will definitely prolong life.

Laboratory analysis reveals that this product contains radon in sufficient quantities and potency to be unsafe for children and if used by adults frequently and in high dosage would be dangerous to their health.

Personnel of the State Department of Health are constantly on guard to protect the general public against such fraudulent practices but to gain a greater degree of success every citizen should be extremely careful in purchasing any treatment concoction or device from persons who claim marvelous results from their fraudulent product.

"If you or your family needs medical attention, play safe, see a competent physician and leave the quacks alone," concluded Dr. Cox.

TEXAS HELPED BY US DEFENSE

Construction of Army field houses at Camp Barkeley, Camp Bowie and Fort Sam Houston has been announced in a statement received by the Eagle from Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel, chairman of the National Defense Committee of Texas, from the War Department. Each of the field houses will cost about $77,000. The field houses will provide approximately 2,750 seats for basketball and approximately 3,750 seats for boxing and wrestling.

Gov. O'Daniel also announced the construction of a general Army Depot at San Antonio, to cost $1,857,559. This project will include warehouses, sheds, magazines, fencing, etc., and is an addition to the existing San Antonio General Depot. Thirty-six miscellaneous buildings and utilities will be constructed at Normoye Quartermaster Depot at San Antonio.

At the Texas Ordnance Depot at Texarkana, construction of a depot to include railways, roads, magazines, loading platforms, shelters, fences, miscellaneous building and utilities will cost $9,411,827.

At Houston, construction will be made of a shipping terminal, at a cost of $7,566,517, for the San Jacinto Ordnance Depot.

Contracts for construction at Army camps and posts in the states of Texas, Oklahoma, Arizona and Colorado awarded during the last eleven days of June totaled $7,141,627.

Spindletop Oil Field To Have Birthday

Spindletop, the most famous oil field in history, located near Beaumont, will have a birthday party this year.

Discovered forty years ago when the Lucas gusher blew in with a roar heard around the world, Spindletop will furnish the theme for a national oil anniversary celebration to be held at Beaumont Oct. 9, 10 and 11 by the Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

The Eagle has just received a complete line of the newest wedding announcements.

TEXAS GAME LIMITS LIBERAL

"I'll take my hunting in Texas," exclaimed a sportsman recently after perusing a story issued by the Pennsylvania Game Commission which noted that the season and bag limits on most game in that state will be more liberal than usual.

The reason for the exclamation was that, while Pennsylvania has long been noted as the leading game state in the nation, its bag limits are far below those of Texas for almost every species of game. It was also found that Michigan, another of the leading game states of the nation, also had far more stringent regulations than does the Lone Star State. Michigan, for example, generally ranks second in deer, Texas fifth, and in all species of big game Michigan is generally second and Texas sixth.

Yet the sportsman read, to his amazement, that Pennsylvania allows the hunter only one buck deer during a two-week season. Michigan also gives the sportsman the privilege of killing but one deer. Texas' bag limit is two per season and the season is six weeks long.

Hunters in Texas are allowed three turkey gobblers during a six-week season under the general state law, but the Pennsylvania hunter legally can take only one and Michigan's nimirods do not even have that pleasure, there being no open season on the great American bird in that huge state.

Quail hunters who pursue their sport in Texas can take almost two and a half times as many birds in any week of the six-week season as Pennsylvania hunters can legally bag all season. The Keystone state allows its sportsmen to kill five quail per day and not more than 15 in a season. Should a Texan be lucky enough to get his limit of 36 birds each week during the season he could legally take 316 quail. Michigan has no open season on quail, but allows its grouse hunters to take 25 birds per season.

An even more bag limit is allowed by Texas laws on squirrel. Pennsylvania nimirods can bag 20 of the little nut eaters during a season which extends from Nov. 1 to Sept. 30. Michigan is a bit more liberal, allowing the taking of 25 squirrels. Texans, believe it or not, could legally kill 1,800 squirrels under a state law which provides an open season for six months of the year. The daily bag limit is 10 and with 180 days in which to legally hunt the tree climbers Texans can gorge on squirrels.

Want to hunt rabbits? You can do so, and legally, at any time of the year in the Lone Star State, but don't attempt it in Michigan or Pennsylvania more than three weeks in the year. Too, it is illegal in Pennsylvania to take more than four rabbits in a single day or 20 in a season. If you are in Michigan you can do a little better. That state's daily limit is five and 50 may be killed during the season.

BLACK BUCK CAPTURED

A black deer, far more rare than albinos, has been captured by a Comal County ranchman. The deer is the second of its kind to be seen in that Central Texas county in the last few years. One was killed there in 1935, the state game warden has reported to the Game Department.

EAST TEXAS PROSPECTS

Despite the fact reports continue to reach the Texas Game Department's main office in Austin that ticks are killing deer in East Texas, biologists and game wardens in that section report there are many more deer there than usual. The squirrel crop, in general, is also much better than it has been in years.

TEXAS FARMERS GET INSURANCE RATE CUT

Insurance rates on farm-stored government loan wheat in Texas have been reduced to place them in line with other states, according to a news story released by the Extension Service of A. & M. College at College Station.

This year, for the first time, Texas grain producers in the 55 counties eligible for farm-storage Commodity Credit Corporation loans will pay the same rate—40 cents per $100 valuation—for fire and extended insurance coverage that producers in all other states pay, according to P. C. Colgin, state wheat loan supervisor for the AAA. A previous maximum rate reduction authorized by the State Board of Insurance Commissioners had brought the rate down from $2.53, which had been in effect for years, to $1.33.

The rate reduction was the result of joint efforts by the Texas AAA committee and the State Land Use Planning Committee. The two committees had made a thorough investigation of the rate schedules in Texas as compared with those of other states and had reached the conclusion that Texas was being charged rates in excess of those charged in other states.

LOCAL PAPERS OF TOWNS MENTIONED

Lampasas—

Workmen have been demolishing the old St. Mary's Catholic church building preparatory to being razed. Much of the materials in this building will be erected in the new structure to be erected across the street east of the hospital.

Figures secured from the various wool dealers in Lampasas show that around 2,800,000 pounds have been sold or stored here this spring and summer. Of this, it is estimated that more than 65 per cent was produced in Lampasas County or more than 1,600,000 pounds.

Following a serious illness of several weeks and failing health for more than a year, Jack S. White died at the home of his mother, Mrs. J. F. White, Sunday, July 27, at 2 p. m. He had been taken to his mother's home some days before his death from the local hospital where he had been for some time.

Judge Sylvester Lewis was notified a few days ago that the Adamsville and Utility schools were granted certificates of approval for permanent accredited elementary schools. This was given because of their holding their standard of classification for a number of years.

H. D. Hoover has complimented Company A, Sixth Battalion of the Texas Home Defense Guard with a Guidon which carries the designation of the company and battalion and crossed muskets. The guidon is the flag carried by the local defense guard in their activities.—Record.

FISH COST ONLY HALF CENT EACH

Fourteen years ago the cost of every fingerling fish distributed from the hatcheries of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission was 47 cents. This year the cost of each fish raised will be approximately a half a cent, it was announced by Will J. Tucker, executive secretary of the commission, after he had examined reports from the hatchery division of the department.

Improved methods of fertilization, feeding and handling of fish have made it possible for the Texas Department to cut the cost of fish and it is going down each year. In 1939 the cost of fish was one and a half cents. Last year there was a sharp drop in production costs to 9 mills and with the hatcheries expecting to plant at least 12,000,000 fish in the lakes and streams of the state, the cost will be 5 1-2 mills. That will make the cost of fish distributed this season approximately one-ninetieth of that 14 years ago. Anglers benefit by the number of fish planted.

STRANGE FRIENDSHIP

The mountains of West Texas about six miles from Van Horn are the scene of a rather strange friendship. A seven-point deer and a young ewe bighorn mountain sheep have been seen together several times. Not long ago a biologist of the Game Department came upon the strange pair bedded down together under a bluff on the side of the Beach mountains. They sprang up together and the buck bounded off up the mountain, closely followed by the sheep.

SANCTUARIES HAVE PART

Fish sanctuaries established by the Texas Game Department on some lakes and streams do not always meet the approval of the public, but they serve their purpose, that of protecting fish in their favorite spawning areas and ultimately give the anglers

2,000 Texas Boys, Girls In NYA Shops

Approximately two thousand boys and girls are employed on NYA projects in Texas sponsored by the United States Army, State NYA Administrator J. C. Kellam has announced in Austin. Of this number 1,346 are boys and 538 are girls.

This work, which is non-military in nature, includes the youth assisting in machine, metal, electrical and automotive shops, and acting as helpers in bricklaying, carpentering, painting, steamfitting, refrigeration, laundries, warehouses, electrical and hospital work. By means of these NYA projects, regular army personnel are left free to devote their full time to strictly military duties.

FIND 4 TIMBER WOLF PUPS

Despite efforts of several state departments, including the Game Department, to eradicate timber wolves, there are still a few of the huge beasts in Texas. Four were dug out of a den near Crockett, in East Texas, recently after the mother had been caught in a trap. Two of them were killed by dogs, but the other pair are now in the zoo at Beaumont.

A game warden in the Panther reported that he had killed nine huge rattlesnakes within a period of six weeks. The largest was 6 feet 2 inches long, and had a circumference of 12 inches.

TEXAS BIRD IN EAST

Chachalacas, native to the United States only in Texas, strangely enough are thriving on the Blackbeard Island, national wildlife refuge off the coast of Georgia, according to a report received by the Texas Game Department from the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

A gallinaceous bird, the chachalaca is related to pheasants, quail and turkey. An adult bird is about half the size of a Leghorn hen and is dusky olive in coloration. The birds are extremely noisy and their common name is an imitation of their unusual cry. They are found in the southwest portion of Texas.

Don't forget the next meeting will be with Mrs. Merle Danner Aug. 22. Miss Scott will be with us to cut patterns.

FULL CO-OPERATION NEEDED IN CAMPAIGN FOR NEW MARKETS

Calling on every member of the cotton industry in Mills County and the surrounding area to pledge anew his allegiance to the drive for cotton markets, President Oscar Johnson of the National Cotton Council said that the assurance of parity prices for cotton is only the beginning of the cotton farmers fight for parity income.

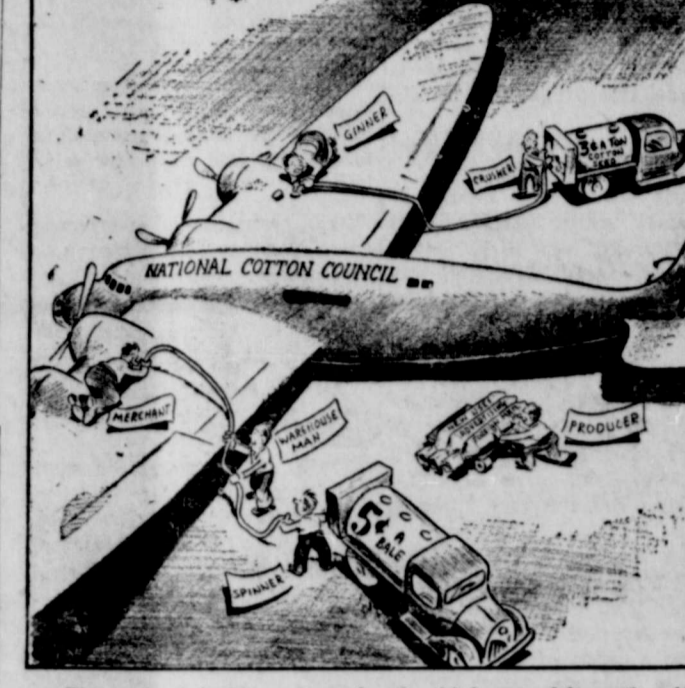

"Only through the attainment of parity consumption can the farmer be assured that his income will be on a par with that of other workers," Mr. Johnson declared. "For that reason we must not slacken for a moment our efforts to increase the consumption of American cotton products; rather, we must intensify and redouble those efforts."

"During the parity period, 1909 to 1914, the consumption of American cotton averaged nearly 13,500,000 bales. We must reach at least this level of consumption to give us parity income. We must go far beyond it if we are to achieve real prosperity for the Cotton Belt.

"The only way we can hope to reach the parity consumption mark is through a continuation of the program of advertising, scientific research, efforts to regain foreign markets, and resistance to discriminatory legislation, which the cotton industry has carried on for the past two years."

In the end, it will avail us little to have parity prices if cotton

COTTON ON THE OFFENSIVE

The cotton industry prepares for the third year of its nationwide campaign to increase the consumption of American cotton through advertising, scientific research, and resistance to discriminatory legislation. Through its three-fold attack the industry expects to attain the goal of parity consumption and parity income as well as parity price.

consumption is cut down. A parity price means nothing unless we can sell a sufficient number of pounds of our product at that price to insure us a living wage and a decent return for our efforts.

"That the cotton industry's program to secure increased consumption is aimed in the right direction is proved by the gratifying results which have been achieved thus far. A gain of almost 2,500,000 bales in domestic consumption over last year is already in sight."

"Again on the 1941 crop cotton producers, ginners, ware-housemen, merchants, crushers and spinners are being called upon to contribute their pro rata share toward a continuation of the domestic consumption campaign on an expanded scale and for a program to regain our foreign markets at the end of the war.

"As a cotton farmer speaking for the producers, I call upon every member of the six raw cotton interests and every individual dependent upon cotton for a livelihood to join us in our efforts to strengthen the program to attain parity consumption."

WHEAT INSURANCE SAVES MAN'S CROP

Wheat insurance for Wilmer Swink, State AAA committeeman and wheat grower from Olney, is the difference in making a crop and not making a crop this year, for even though excessive rains at harvest time caused a total crop failure he will collect insurance to cover part of his loss.

Swink, who has 226 acres seeded to wheat, has carried hail insurance for several years but has never suffered hail loss. With the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, however, hail is one of several factors covered. Of his 1941 crop, Swink insured 50 per cent of his normal yield of 12.6 bushels per acre for 43 bushel of wheat per acre. He seeded 226 acres but will not be able to harvest even an acre.

MOUNTAIN TAKES SHOT AT MAN WHO DUCKS ITS 'BULLET' IN TIME

Many men have had to "look death in the eye," as the saying goes, but P. C. Hampton, of Los Angeles, Calif., believes he is the only man who has seen a "bullet" coming at his head—and ducked it.

Hampton and five friends, on a hunting trip in Western Texas, camped for the night on a steep rock slope in the Jeff Davis Mountains. They built a fire under the overhang of a ledge, cooked their supper, and arranged their bed-rolls.

The fire was hot and Hampton was more warmly dressed than the others. He looked around for a cooler spot to sleep and the top of the ledge seemed to him to be a good place. So he took his blankets and climbed up. He was now above the fire and his friends, and had an uninterrupted view of the steep rock slope toward the top of the mountain. He lay down and rolled up in his blankets.

"All was quiet and I was about to doze off," Hampton says, "when I heard a crashing noise far above me. I grabbed the flashlight out of my pocket and pointed the beam up the slope. What I saw made my hair stand."
 "A boulder had somehow left its foundation near the mountain top. It was rolling and jumping, gaining speed down the slope and coming toward me as straight as a bullet."

"I spun around, tangled in the blankets, and rolled off the rim of the ledge, landing a-sprawl among my camp friends some five feet below. At that split second, the boulder hit the ledge above. It struck with a terrific shock, showering pieces of rock down on us as it caromed into space."
 "Its first landing place was in a growth of young timber somewhere below us. The big stone ball smashed straight through small trees and rocks on its way down the mountainside. Sounds came up to us like a series of explosions as the missile hit ledges and timber patches.

 "If my flashlight hadn't been loaded with good fresh batteries that sent a bright beam far up the mountainside, I would not be here to tell this. Here's the proof of it."
 "My friends and I climbed up on top of the ledge to investigate. There we found what was left of my watch. It was crushed to bits, all mixed up with stone dust and rock chips where the boulder had struck. The watch had been in the pocket of my coat. And I had had the coat under my head as a pillow."

Flooded—But Insured

Wilmer T. Swink, state AAA committeeman from Young County, has good reason to feel bad about this flooded wheat crop—but he also has a good reason to feel good, because all the wheat on his farm was covered by Federal all-risk crop insurance.

given certificates of indemnity by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation and these may be claimed at a later date. Indemnity wheat paid the farmer in the form of warehouse receipts can be placed in the government loan at the regular rate. Swink placed his indemnity wheat in the loan at the 93-cent rate prevailing in Young County. Insurance policies for the 1942 wheat crop are being taken in the county AAA offices at the present time. Producers may take out insurance before Aug. 31 or before they seed their 1942 crop, whichever date is earlier.
