GROW A FALL GARDEN; HELP NAT'L DEFENSE

Mills County H-D Agent Lists Plants To Be Grown Here

Since rain has fallen in most sections of the county, Mills County farmers should take time out from their farm and ranch duties long enough to get a fall garden started. Now is the time to free the garden of weeds and plow the soil three or four inches deep, chop up the clods until the earth is thoroughly pulverized. When this is done, the soil is ready for planting as soon as the moisture will permit.

Vegetables that can stand the heat of late September and October may be planted now. Begin with mustard, the tender-green variety, turnips, purple top, and the Shogoin varieties are recommended; radishes, Scarlet Globe and White Iceberg are good varieties that will grow in the fall garden.

Cool season vegetables should not be planted until October hot weather causes the tender plants to burn. To the early planting already up, add these vegetables: Carrots, Nantes and Danvers Half Long will provide the family with vegetables throughout late winter and early spring. Beets may be grown as a fall, winter and spring vegetable, using the Detroit Dark Red variety. Thin the plants when they have attained the height of three inches in order to encourage early growth. Spinach thrives best in a limy soil, and under cool climatic conditions. It must have good drainage. Bloodleaf Savoy is a good variety for Texas gardens.

Frame gardens can be depended on to supply fall and winter vegetables, too, as they afford protection from weather conditions. These vegetables grow splendidly in a frame garden: Mustard, radishes, spinach, lettuce, parsley and Swiss Chard. This same bed can be used next spring for planting tomato, pepper, cabbage and other plants for transplanting to the open garden.

LET'S GROW A FALL GARDEN FOR HOME DEFENSE!

MARKERS ARE TO BE PLACED AT 2 PECAN TREES AT C-H LAWN

On the 22nd of February, 1932, had George Washington still been living he would have been 200 years old, and in that year there were many shade trees set out in his honor.

On February 12, 1932, the Commissioners' Court granted permission to some of the oldest citizens of Mills County to plant two pecan trees on the court house lawn, which were planted that day, one on the east side of the walk in honor of Abraham Lincoln and one on the west side in honor of Jefferson Davis. The Commissioners agreed that the fruit from these trees should be sold and the proceeds be saved for the purpose of erecting a small marker at each tree, otherwise the purpose of these trees would be forgotten.

Now that these trees are bearing and already some of the old men who took part in this work have passed away, and very few people know of this incident. I have undertaken the task of continuing the will of these patriotic old gentlemen by gathering the nuts and placing them in the hands of R. E. Clements, who will sell the pecans and take care of the proceeds.

WELLIE SAYLOR.

Constitution Day Marked

Rep. Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo, who ranks with Gov. Coke Stevenson among Texas' foremost exponents of the Constitution, here is receiving congratulations of Speaker Homer Leonard on his Constitution Day speech before a combined assembly of the house, the judiciary and executive branches of state government Wednesday morning. Gov. Stevenson and Rep. Hardeman were principal speakers at this exercise. In the picture on the speaker's rostrum are, left to right, Speaker Leonard, Gov. Coke Stevenson, Rep. D. B. Hardeman and Rep. W. R. Chambers. (Neal Douglas Photo.)

WOMEN OF THIS BIG TERRACING COUNTY MAKE 716 COMFORTS PROGRAM TO BE STARTED HERE

Comfort Receipts Recorded In H-D Agent's Office Here

Mills County cotton applicants have certainly been on the job since August 21. To date 716 comfort receipts have been recorded in the county home demonstration agent's office. These comforts are made from ten yards of good quality percale and four pounds of cotton supplied by the Surplus Marketing Administration. Cotton Comfort Centers have operated in 25 Mills County communities since the above date. The rapidity with which these centers have worked is due to the fact that 76 women attended the four precinct demonstrations conducted for the purpose of training community leaders.

Twenty-one women from these communities, Prairie, Pompey, Mullin, Lake Merritt, Duren, Priddy, and Center Point attended the first training school held on August 21, for Precinct 3. On August 26 twenty-two women from these communities, Mt. Olive, Pecan Wells, Midway, Center City, Star, Live Oak, attended the second training school for Precinct 2.

On August 27, nineteen women from these communities, Scallorn, Payne Gap, Nabors Creek, South Bennett, Pleasant Grove, attended the third demonstration.

On August 28, fourteen women from these communities in Precinct 4, Ridge, Regency, Rock Springs, Ebony, and Big Valley, attended the last comfort training school for Precinct 2.

The precincts were taken in the order of the number of comforts to be made. Precinct three had the largest number, therefore they were first.

There is some unused percale and cotton on hand after each cotton applicant family has received one comfort, but not enough for every family to have a second comfort. A just plan will be worked out for the disposition of these comfort materials by October 4.

Landowners Should File Requests In The County AAA Office

Terracing is finally coming into its own in Mills County, J. M. Geeslin, chairman of the Mills County AAA Committee, announced this week.

According to information from the state office, College Station, the conservation materials and services phase of the AAA program has been enlarged to include terracing under the 1942 farm program, he said.

This phase of the AAA program, designed to assist farmers in carrying out more soil-building practices, already makes it possible for them to obtain phosphate, Austrian winter peas, common hairy and Willamette vetch with costs of the materials being deducted from future payments. Similar arrangements will be in effect on the terracing program, Mr. Geeslin pointed out.

With more emphasis placed on soil-building practices under the 1942 program than ever before is probably an indication that the future appropriations will be more contingent upon the amount of soil-building practices carried out, the AAA chairman explained.

The conservation materials and services program may result in difficulties in securing necessary seeds and supplies and terracing is being added to help farmers in earning maximum soil-building assistance.

In explaining the terracing program in Mills County, the county chairman said that if demand is sufficient, the county committee will let bids to contractors to build terraces for co-operating farmers. The contracts will be let on a 100-foot basis and contractors will be paid by the AAA after the terraces are completed.

Under this phase of the program, farmers may use 70 per cent of their total payments, less any previous assignments, for terracing.

Mills County farmers who wish to participate in the terracing program should file their requests in the county office in order that the demand might be ascertained, the AAA official said.

CAR OWNERS MUST HAVE CERTIFICATES

Can't Run Car On Highways After Next January 1

Mills County Sheriff and Tax Collector Hern Harris and his deputies are anxious that all Mills County citizens who do not have title certificates to their automobiles get them at once, in order to save themselves inconvenience later.

It is pointed out that no cars can be registered next March without the owner having a title certificate of ownership. Mills County people who wait until the last minute may find that they will have to store their cars after April 1 before they can register them, while they wait for a title certificate to come back from the State Certificate of Title Division at Austin.

It is also pointed out that no car can be sold without the owner having a certificate of ownership. Sheriff Harris has received a letter from John L. Green, director for Certificate of Title Division at Austin, that no title certificate will be issued for car ownership unless the car has been registered for the year 1941. It will be against the law, also, for any person to operate an automobile upon the highways after next January 1 without a certificate of ownership in his possession. Mr. Green, in his letter to Mr. Harris, quoted Paragraph C, Section 63 of the Certificate of Title Act, which reads:

"The owner of a motor vehicle registered in this state shall not after January 1, 1942, operate or permit the operation of any such motor vehicle upon any highway without first obtaining a certificate of title therefor from the Department, nor shall any person operate any such motor vehicle upon the public highways knowing or having reason to believe that the owner has failed to obtain a certificate of title therefor."

Office Deputy Joe H. Frizzell of the Mills County Tax Collector's office urges that car owners of the county get their title certificates at once. In order to get a certificate the owner will have to establish the fact that he owned the car before Oct. 31, 1939. The car owner should take his bill of sale, his 1939 (or earlier) registration receipt, and an affidavit of ownership to the tax collector's office, pay a fee of 50 cents, get his receipt, and the office will forward it to the Department in Austin, which will mail the title certificate direct to the car owner.

MARK GEESLIN BUYS REGISTERED JERSEY BULL

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—A registered Jersey bull, formerly owned by C. O. Norton of Goldthwaite, has been purchased by Mark Geeslin, also of Goldthwaite. The animal is Forward Poppy Jolly Count.

The whereabouts of all registered Jerseys is known and carefully watched over by the American Jersey Cattle Club, with offices in New York. This important job is made possible through registrations and transfers made by Jersey breeders everywhere. Tattoo identification, somewhat similar to fingerprinting, keeps individuals of this dairy breed always known.

Jerseys make up 42 per cent of all dairy cows in the United States. Because they produce the world's richest milk, and because there are more Jerseys than any other breed in America, their role in National Defense is an important one. Increased production of Jersey milk guarantees the protective needs of here and abroad.

Defense Speaker

Senator Tom Connally of Texas, above, will deliver the principal address for National Defense Day at the State Fair of Texas on Sunday, October 12. Senator Connally will come from Washington for the event, which is to be the greatest patriotic demonstration ever held in the Southwest. Ceremonies will begin at 3 p. m. in the huge Cotton Bowl and more than 50,000 persons are expected to hear the address. Every civic and patriotic organization, including American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Texas Defense Guard and others, will participate. Many organizations will send representatives from every section of the state.

FARM-TO-FARM CANVAS IN NOV. TO SPEED FOOD

National Defense Plans Food Sign-Up By December First

Speeding up AAA work in the county to meet the demands of the defense campaign for greater food production, the AAA office promises that all farmers in Mills County will receive their 1942 allotments by November 1.

During the month of November, the farm plan, incorporating a survey of food production in 1941 and pledges on food production in 1942, will be presented for the consideration of every farmer in the county in a farm-to-farm canvass, J. M. Geeslin, chairman of the county USDA Defense Board and the County AAA Committee, said.

Definite plans for the food production sign-up have not been made, J. M. Geeslin announced, but, according to Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard's recent announcement of food production goals, the campaign will be completed by December 1, and every farmer in the nation will be asked to do his part in meeting the food needs of this nation and the nations fighting aggression.

Allotment notices for cotton, wheat and peanuts will be in the hands of producers before November 1 so that they can make definite plans as to how best they can do their part in the food drive. No allotments will be issued this year on vegetables or general crops.

BIG VALLEY SCHOOL PUPILS VISIT EAGLE

The group included: Elizabeth Ann Haggood, Robert Lee Robertson, John Weaver, Juanita Weaver, Ramona Flores, Dean Woods, Gene Woods, William Ted Dennard, Winona Lawson, Nelda Sloan, Bobby Dean McConeil, Walter Martin Weaver, and Victor Carona.

VERY LITTLE WORK BEFORE DIST'CT COURT

Grand Jury Meets, Finds 4 Bills, And Adjourns Monday

The fall term of 27th District Court for Mills County was opened in Goldthwaite last Monday morning. Very little business was up before the term. District Judge Few Brewster granted two divorces and has others pending. He and District Attorney Jim Evetts returned to their homes at Temple and Belton Tuesday, to return here for the convening of court again Monday.

The grand jury met and was organized Monday morning, found four bills of felony indictment, and was dismissed, subject to recall at any time during the three weeks' term.

Mills County, besides being the prettiest and best country in the world, also has the best citizenship.

The following list of petit jurors are to appear Monday morning, but may not be used. There are four cases scheduled to be tried, but some are expected to plead guilty and the others may be tried before the judge.

EBONY NEWS—

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

(Intended for last week)

We were glad to have Bro. Greene and his family with us again Sunday. Bro. Green preached us a good sermon on "Do We Accept Our King." Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Reid and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Egger went to Llano County Sunday.

Grace Briley of the Zephyr school spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Briley.

We have as our guests this week John White and his mother, Mrs. Brownie Reeves White, of Los Angeles, who arrived at the Stanley Reeves home Wednesday. John is now a mail clerk in Los Angeles. He endeared himself to us in his childhood by a pleasant little smile which he handed out generously to all of us. It is still with him. Brownie is one of our own girls. Her presence refreshes our memory of a time when rollicking, horseback riding youngsters made this neighborhood hum.

Mrs. Preston McCall of Albany, daughter of Mrs. White, was also a guest at the Reeves home from Wednesday to Sunday.

C. L. Mashburn is driving a new car this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Godwin and children of Brownwood spent the week-end at the Wilmeth home where Mr. Godwin is doing a repair job on the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Tillman Smith and children and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grady and son of Indian Creek attended church here Sunday.

Mrs. Bob Egger was able to be out at church Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Reeves, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Reeves and children, John White, and Mrs. Brownie White went to the Richland Springs Cavern Sunday.

Charlie and Darwin Roberts of Brownwood and Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Mashburn and family had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Dale Reid Sunday.

Mrs. Frank Crowder gave a birthday dinner for her mother, Mrs. Lula Kelly, Sunday, Sept. 7, honoring her 74th birthday. Most all of the children were present. Among the number were Mr. and Mrs. Abe Kelly of Zephyr, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kelly and children and Mrs. Floyd Kelly and children of San Angelo, Mr. and Mrs. Ross White and children, Mr. and Mrs. Coe, and Mrs. Ofa Burrus and family.

The H. D. Club will meet Friday, Sept. 26, at the home of Mrs. P. R. Reid. Miss Scott will be with us.

All of Ebony and many other localities gathered at the cemetery Thursday afternoon to pay tribute to one of our most loved citizens, Zeola Philen, who died at the home of her brother, Jack, at Port Arthur, Tuesday, Sept. 9.

Zeola was born Sept. 22, 1885, in Burleson County. At the age of three she came with her parents to this county. The Philens, substantial and enterprising, were not long in getting a foothold and establishing a home here. Of all those who have made up the warp and woof of our community life, none have been more outstanding than the Philens. Perhaps no other single individual contributed so much of her character to the community as did Zeola. Though she had been away from here for many years, her life is inseparably linked with this community.

Devout in her religious convictions, she stood for all that was upright and good, and she worked at it heart and soul. To aid and uplift humanity was a passion with her. She began with herself, sending herself to school. By teaching part time and going to school part time, she got her college education, graduating from Baylor College at Belton in 1913. When she had completed her education, she helped her brothers and sisters go to school. Later her nieces and nephews became her fondest care, and often, if she found among her school children a child insufficiently closed and fed, it became the recipient of the bounty of her altruistic spirit. She had taught school for many years, teaching at Ebony, Mullin, Snyder, Brownwood, San Angelo, Wayland College, Plainview, and perhaps other places.

Beneath a mound of beautiful flowers, she was laid to rest beside her father and mother. Dr. Carl H. Moore, pastor First Baptist Church, Brownwood, officiated. Austin-Morris Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements. Pallbearers were four nephews, Rob, Everett, and Jack Jr. Philen and John Mashburn; and two nephews-in-law, Dale Reid and Alvin Ketchum. She is survived by two brothers, Josh Philen of Indian Creek and Jack of Port Arthur; five sisters, Mrs. Bettie Mashburn of Ebony, Mrs. Lela Clements of Gilmer, Mrs. Ollie Forsythe of Port Arthur, Mrs. Mary McCarty of Chapman's Ranch, and Mrs. Eva Webb of San Angelo.

Friends and relatives from a distance attending the funeral included Mr. and Mrs. Trav Hawthorne, Mrs. Etha McClung, Mrs. Lily Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Middleton, Misses Mary and Bessie McAden, Mrs. Myrtle Boyd, and Mr. and Mrs. Luther McCoy, all of Indian Creek, Mr. and Mrs. Ode Henson of San Angelo, Mrs. Clifford Crowder and Miss Velma Lindsey of Brownwood; and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Lovelace and Miss Joyce Lovelace of Santa Anna. All of the brothers and sisters were present except Mrs. Clements and Mrs. Webb, both of whom were unable to attend.

Miss Irene Gregg of San Saba is spending the week with her sister, Mrs. Houston Kuykendall.

ROCK SPRINGS—

By MRS. EULA NICKOLS

We extend our sympathy to Mrs. Sam Rahl on the passing away of her sister who lived in San Angelo. She and Mr. Rahl left Monday for the funeral.

Oliver Traylor took a few goats to Big Valley last week to be sheared and coming home one nice mutton got out of his trallor and gave Oliver quite a chase, but of course Oliver was not fast enough on foot and he couldn't catch it and he hasn't seen it yet. We guess the goat is still running.

James Roberts who is in the electric welding school in Big Spring spent a few minutes visiting in my home Monday morning. He came down to get his birth certificate.

Herbert Cooke and wife from Pottsville spent the week-end with his father.

Last Thursday night James Nickols and family and myself visited in Ira Hutchings' home. We took Otis and Bess Hutchings with us.

Miss Billie Ruth Daniel, who is in Stephenville school, spent Sunday at home.

When any of you ladies are in town and don't have much business, go up to the Red Cross sewing room and help those faithful workers. I feel sure they would appreciate your help.

Shirley Nickols and wife from town were out to Sunday School Sunday morning.

Otis Hutchings went to Brownwood last Friday with James Nickols to sell some livestock.

While in that city they park right so they found ticket in their car, and obeyed orders at once.

Mrs. Sam Self helped Walter Robertson with one day last week.

James Nickols and spent Sunday with V. D. Jr., and family in the Y. son home at Center Post.

Saturday afternoon o'clock. Mmes. Ira Dew Glenn Nickols and my for Stephenville to attend State Singing Convention spent Saturday night in R. Davis and wife's nice house. Sunday morning out to visit a few minutes Mr. and Mrs. Landy E. enjoyed seeing the Day Ellis's and of course the was wonderful. We act Dad, Anna, Rose and the sides lots of other good tettes.

Mrs. Orby Woodie from came by Friday afternoon went with her to Mr. most news squad, but a nice cold grape juice.

Mrs. Walter Robertson some for Mrs. Woodie last week, while Mrs. ironed some for Mrs. Pretty good swap, do think?

Last Friday afternoon Emma Scott from town and I went to Mrs. Ashton's and Miss club meeting. I enjoyed meeting. Miss Lora have everything ready so we just visited. The ice cream and cake.

REPORT

Senior Class was well liked at Rising Star Saturday. The pep squad and we all had a delightful time. Most of us paid well with soreness over the weekend.

To thank the gentleman who played a big part in our trip a success. Our gratitude goes to Mr. Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Barnett and Mr. and the many others who failed to name.

Reporter is a little late with most news of the pep squad, but she hopes she is forgiven. The good cheer is being this year by the four members. When America finds a place in the defense program for its women fliers, these Texas State College for Women students, Elsie Adams, El Paso, and Gladys Ingenhuet, Comfort, will be ready to go. Both girls own airplanes and were instructed in the CAA approved school at the Denton Airport where the college permits its students to train with parental approval. A ground course in flying is offered in the TSCW physics department.

Center City H-D Club

The Center City demonstration club met Monday afternoon with Mrs. Herbert Geeslin. Our subject, "Warm Weather Weight Covering," was discussed after the business meeting. Members answered roll call with "How many quilts do you sleep under?"

Miss Scott discussed storage, standards and suitable materials for bed coverings. With the assistance of other ladies she demonstrated the making of a springs cover and showed how to make mattress protectors. We enjoyed this meeting very much, and wished all members could have attended.

Refreshments consisting of sandwiches, potato chips, pickles, cheese-bits, peanut crisps and iced tea were served to the following: Mmes. Dan Waggoner, Tom House, Jim Hamilton, Harry Welch, J. C. Blackwell, T. J. Venable, Sherwood Owens, Forest Venable, Lee Kendall, J. J. Geeslin, J. M. Oglesby, Misses Scott and Malle Jones and a number of children.

Our next meeting will be with Mrs. J. J. Geeslin Oct. 13. Let's everyone attend and more interest be shown. The subject for that meeting will be "Serviceable linens for the bedroom and dressing center. Club members are to bring any attractive or useful articles and display them."—Reporter.

Big Valley H-D Club

They want us to do Red Cross sewing, said Mrs. E. D. Robertson, as she conducted a short business meeting of the H.D. Club in the home of Mrs. Alvin Oglesby Sept. 18.

Our council member gave an interesting account of last meeting. We will meet in Lower Big Valley school building to do Red Cross sewing Thursday of this week.

Miss Scott told us how to successfully wash wool to be made into bats for quilts. She also helped with two bedspreads.

A large number of members were present, also several visitors. All enjoyed the cold drinks and candy served by our gracious hostess.

Since there will be an all-day meeting of the clubs of the county, we do not meet on our next regular day, but will meet October 30 in the home of Mrs. Floyd Weaver.—Reporter.

GARDEN CLUB

The Goldthwaite Garden Club met last Wednesday for luncheon in the home of Mrs. John G. Berry.

The reception rooms were beautifully decorated in patriotic colors and fall flowers.

Mrs. J. M. Campbell was leader. Guest speakers on the program were Mrs. Kerry Berry of Brownwood, whose subject was "The Grey Ladies and Their Work," and Mrs. J. F. Cross of Brownwood who chose as her subject "Special War Time Training for Red Cross Service."

After a short business session, the club voted unanimously to invite Messrs. W. C. Dew, Grover Dalton, Malcomb Jernigan, and R. C. Woodward for membership in the club.—Reporter.

Miss Allene Ross spent Saturday at Brownwood visiting friends.

"Champion Munn's Osage Sonny" was the Best Amer Dog in the 1940 Texas Kennel Club Show held at Fair of Texas. "Sonny" is a liver-colored English Set. Shown with his owner, Mrs. J. E. Munn of Thomas. Dates for the 35th annual Texas Kennel Club Show are Oct. 1 and 2, and the show will be held at the 1941 State Fair as under the auspices of the American Kennel Club.

And A Good Time Was Had By All

Saturday, Sept. 20, the Goldthwaite band and pep squad was invited to the "All Texas Show" at Rising Star, Texas.

Leaving at 7:00 Saturday morning, the two organizations traveled in school buses. We arrived in Rising Star at 9 a. m. After getting our instructions, we were well prepared to start marching in the street parade at 10. We marched three blocks and received applause from hundreds of people. The band played several pieces while the rest of the parade passed on.

After the parade we assembled at the Majestic Hotel, where we were served a delicious dinner given to us by the Comanche County Association. To make perfect, everyone had a fine time at the camp. p. m. we were ready to come home.

We wish to extend appreciation to the people:

THE SMALL FARMER MUST BE SAVED

By GEORGE C. HESTER

In connection with the drive to increase production, it would be wise for the government to consider the problem of rehabilitating to the land some of the many thousands of tenant farmers that have been evicted from the farms in recent years.

Some 200,000 tenant farmers have been dispossessed in Texas alone during the last seven or eight years—due to the tractor and other developments in mechanized farming and the tendency toward larger holdings and fewer men. Some 1,000,000 acres of agricultural land in Texas during that period have passed from small farms into what is known as the "large-farm" group. The number of farms decreased by 77,487 during the decade ending 1940, yet the area in cultivation actually increased.

These evicted tenant farmers and their children represent a total of some 600,000 people, or ten per cent of the state's entire population. Many, of course, are being absorbed in the temporary defense industries, but these people, as a rule, are not mechanics and are poorly suited for industrial work. They belong to the soil and no sound or permanent solution of the problem will ever be reached on any other basis. If the present trend is permitted to continue the whole situation can only help bog down and intensify the difficulties of post-war adjustments.

What are the causes of such trends? By noting the circumstances giving rise to such conditions we shall better be able to formulate agricultural policies that will tend to counteract and alleviate the situation.

Fundamentally, the conditions are "part and parcel" of the vast economic and social transformations of the past decade in this country. The loss of foreign markets and the general worldwide depression were largely responsible for the shrinkage in farm values of over one billion dollars, or by one-third, during the period.

Then came the A.A.A. with its crop reduction program, farm quotas, conservation and other allotments, and various kinds of farm credit.

Along with these came other developments, that in the long run may prove even more significant. It is the trend toward mechanized farming, as represented by the wide use of the tractor. It is even possible that the mechanized farm is coming in this country. In such states as California, a large percentage of the farms are already corporate owned, and are operated in factory style by combining machinery and hired labor.

In the great grain producing areas of the Middle West, there are those who are predicting the ultimate elimination of the small farm homestead if present trends are not checked.

There are other symptoms of the situation that will also bear watching. Corporations and other large land holders, in addition to the cash rentals, are finding the A.A.A. payments and revenues from oil leases, etc., a most lucrative source of income. Many instances could be mentioned of A.A.A. allotments running from $10,000 to $125,000 annually.

The size of the farm units in Texas vary somewhat according to the ability to secure cheap labor. They are larger in South Texas where cheap Mexican labor is plentiful.

The social consequences of such trends, of course, are apparent. The dispossessed masses will always be with us; but even independent farmers may find it increasingly difficult to compete with mechanized farming, based upon modern machines and pauper labor.

When the war ends the problem of restoring the tenant farmer, or making him a small home owner, will still face us. It will probably involve the whole question of the land economy in this country.

At least these developments are worth watching as they may become explosive elements in future politics.

A WEDDING OF INTEREST

Saturday, Aug. 23, 1941, Rev. Charles Cook of this place united in marriage Forest Faubion and (Miss) Troy Berry in the bride's room. The bride and groom are vocational agricultural teachers, the groom at Andice and the bride at Liberty Hill. The wedding was witnessed by R. A. Spencer (unknown to the happy couple).

In our curiosity we find that this wedding is a womanless wedding, and therefore not destined to be a success. However, we wish to extend our most sincere congratulations and hope that we're wrong in the fact that because it is womanless, that they will not be happy. The groom will reside in Andice, while the bride will continue to stay in Liberty Hill.

In a further investigation we find that the preacher was merely practicing. — Leander

1001 Ways to Stay Awake

RAY GILES has written a book which gives 1001 ways of going to sleep. It is a Godsend for insomnia sufferers and I recommend it to them. As for me, a champion sleepy-head, what I need is a book on 1001 ways to stay awake.

Here is a suggested outline of the chapter headings for any expert stay-awake who wants to write the book:

- How to keep from nodding and dozing off in church.
- How to stifle that yawn when the clock strikes twelve and your guests seem to think it is still the shank of the evening.
- How to stop dreaming and looking out the window when your desk is piled with work.
- How to keep from pounding your ear when you should be out pounding the pavement looking for business.
- How to read more than one chapter of a book without falling to sleep in your chair.
- How to keep from taking that little extra nap in the morning, having to eat your breakfast on the run and being late at the office at that!

—The Silver Lining.

If thou art a man, admire those who attempt great enterprises, even thou they fail.—Seneca.

The Farm Outlook

A recent statement from the secretary of agriculture, Mr. Wickard, should be of interest to all farmers, and to citizens generally of agricultural states, such as our own.

"Our Farmers," said Mr. Wickard, "must raise more than they have raised in any one year before."

In support of this policy, the government promises to maintain prices at not less than 85 per cent of parity until January, 1943. The parity prices is interpreted as being the average price, in terms of purchasing power, which a given crop brought during the period 1909-1914. Incidentally all important crops are now selling above that level.

There are several important points about this program that should be understood clearly.

In the first place the government requests that several crops be held in check. Among these are wheat, cotton, and tobacco, chiefly because of large existing surpluses. On the other hand it urges increased production in such commodities as dairy products, hogs, poultry and eggs.

Back of this plan is a long range program aimed at avoiding the chief error made by us during World War No. 1. In those years there was virtually no control of agriculture. After we entered the war, it became necessary to place price ceilings on some commodities, especially wheat. As a result of the greatly inflated prices, with no control on production, our farmers literally plowed up the hills and plains for farming. This, of course, resulted in severely depressed price levels after the emergency ended.

The program this time is to limit production as nearly as possible to the land already in cultivation.

By setting annual goals for each commodity, supported by the system of parity loans, it is hoped that both peaks of "too high" and "too low" prices will be avoided.

The success of this program will mean much for the future of the American farmer. Naturally, there will be much muttering and grumbling. In a time of rising prices, there are many who will want to "shoot the works." They will complain against limits on production, while prices are so good. Short-sighted politicians also, will cater to their desires and protest price ceilings and limits on production under such circumstances.

Farmers who fall for such agitation should recall what happened after the first World War when farm prices scraped the all time lows in this country. In fact, agriculture in this country has never fully recovered from the catastrophe of those tragic years.

There are certain things, of course, our government should avoid doing. One of these is to import certain commodities from other countries, while limiting production here. The present agitation to import wheat from Canada and to buy grains and meats from South America are cases in point. Any prospects of too high prices should be cared for by increasing the goals for production.

There are also many who will question the logic at the basis of this effort toward a "balanced program" in agriculture. They will maintain that, even though the war should end in the next year or two, the food markets of Europe are depleted and must be replenished. Others insist that the threat of general inflation will give good speculative value to any commodity at this time, regardless of surpluses.

There is some basis for each of the above viewpoints. Against them stand other basic, inescapable facts. In the first place continental Europe may not be so depleted in food products as we imagine. It should be recalled that production has been intensified, for several years in anticipation of war, and will continue to be while foreign sources are cut off.

In the second place there are large surpluses in other parts of the world. Canada and Australia, for example, hold large surpluses of wheat, absolutely de-

C. H. Ford is preparing to move to the residence on Parker Street he recently purchased from M. G. Cline. He expects to move about Oct. 1 and his residence in the eastern part of the city will be occupied by Will Rahl and family. Mr. Cline has purchased the Bleeker residence in College Heights, now occupied by George Gartman, and will move into it.

J. M. Hicks and wife and Mrs. J. C. Darroch made a visit to Brownwood the first of the week.

The scholastic year of 1916-17 opened with encouraging prospects for Goldthwaite Public School. The high school auditorium was crowded with patrons and pupils at the opening Monday morning. The total enrollment is 285 in grammar school and 92 in high school, a grand total of 377.

Claud McPherson and Miss Jewel Greathouse were married last Saturday evening at the Baptist parsonage, Rev. E. D. Morgan officiating.

Ira Harvey and wife will occupy Mrs. Harris' residence on Fisher Street, recently vacated by Joe Allen and family.

Wilson Brothers, produce dealers of this city, have opened a branch in Houston and Charley Wilson, senior member of the firm, will look after the business in that city.

Tom Seabolt, who has been confined to his bed for almost two months with typhoid fever, is reported to be slowly recovering and it is hoped he will soon be well.

Will Patterson was one of the good men of Moline who had business in this city yesterday.

Mrs. R. R. Collier and daughters of Bangs spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. J. S. Chesser. Dorothy Rhee Collins is drum major of the Bangs high school. She led the Bangs band at the Cotton Bowl game in Dallas. The band won a ribbon for their performance there. Bands from all sections of the state were there to participate.

pendent on the foreign markets and usually quoted at lower prices than our own. South America, too, already has surpluses in grains, meats, and other commodities that would probably exceed a billion dollars in value. These surpluses must be dumped some time. Remember also that our agriculture is already subsidized and inflated by governmental policy far more than countries like South America. This means that we will be at material disadvantage when it comes to competing on world markets in peace time.

And lastly, but not least, most of the European countries will be broke financially and unable to buy anything. As long as our lend lease program operates, the sales to our allies will be taken care of by our own financing. But after the war—WHAT

TRAPPING ANTELOPE

Antelope, which in years past have been successfully live-trapped and transplanted to better ranges in lower West Texas and the Trans-Pecos region, will be trapped next in the Panhandle, Will J. Tucker, executive secretary of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, has announced.

The project, scheduled to begin within a few weeks, will be centered in Oldham County, where a considerable antelope herd has developed, and animals trapped will be distributed to thousands of acres of suitable range in that portion of the Lone Star State.

Details are being worked out in conferences between the executive secretary, the director of Wildlife Restoration of the department, and the game manager who has been in charge of such work in the past and is most familiar with it.

The purpose of the work, the executive secretary explained, is to remove surplus antelope from overcrowded ranges. Under such conditions the Texas antelope herd, a few years ago, was slowly starving to death. There was not enough food on the ranges to withstand the tremendous competition for subsistence among cattle, domestic sheep and antelope, it was explained.

Success of the antelope trapping work instituted by the Game Department already has been indicated, and this year the Director of Wildlife Restoration estimates the total antelope population of the state at 10,000 head, on the basis of reports from field men who check the various areas where seed herds of the animals have been released.

One of the most cheerful reports this year came last week from the game manager of the Trans-Pecos region, who said there had been an excellent fawn crop of antelope this year, and that owing to rains earlier in the year, the food supply over most of the antelope range was better than average.

If the North Texas project is as successful as the lower Plains and Trans-Pecos antelope programs have been, pronghorns should be much more abundant in the future in the Panhandle of Texas.

Watch For Banded Birds

If you're a white-wing hunter and bring down a bird with a band on its leg, don't throw either the bird or the band away!

It's not unlawful to kill a white-wing or any other bird that has been banded.

Take the band off the bird's leg and send it to the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, Austin, Texas.

The bands are used for purely scientific purposes. Assistance of sportsmen in getting the bands returned to the Commission will be greatly appreciated, the executive secretary of the Commission said.

Birds are banded so that wildlife research scientists may check accurately on migrations and other life habits of birds, and recently hundreds of white-wings were banded in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Please help the Commission help the birds by returning any bands discovered!

It is not uncommon for robins to nest and raise their young in parts of Texas, but such practices have been seldom seen in the Lufkin region. So Watt Avery of Lufkin has been watching with growing curiosity the antics of a robin couple that "settled down" in a tree in his yard. So far they have brought off two sets of young.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL LESSON SUNDAY SCHOOL

Lesson for September 28

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

THE FULFILLMENT OF HIS- TORY: THE NEW JERUSALEM

LESSON TEXT—Revelation 21:1-7, 10-12, 22:3, 4.

GOLDEN TEXT—He that overcometh shall inherit all things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son.—Revelation 21:7.

A happy ending may not suit the fancy of modern writers of fiction, but it does suit God. He "who worketh all things after the counsel of his own will" (Eph. 1:11) will see to it that redeemed man shall "be to the praise of his glory" (Eph. 1:12). The eternal, omnipotent God will bring the history of His dealings with mankind to a glorious ending. The last book of the Bible comes to its last pages where, after dealing with the final struggle of man with his enemy Satan (which has gone on since the entrance of sin into the world in the Garden of Eden), we find the glorious, God-given revelation of the "divine, final restoration of the universe, a picture of the home where we who love the Lord Jesus will forever dwell."

I. "The Tabernacle of God Is with Men" (vv. 1-7).

Our God is always with His people, but there is a promise of the time when He shall "pitch His tent" (for thus we might translate the word "tabernacle") in their very midst and "be with them" in full and unhindered fellowship. This He once did for a time when "the Word was made flesh and dwelt among us" (John 1:14), or literally "tabernacled among us." In the day of which our lesson speaks He will come to live permanently with His people.

The blessings of His divine presence are beautifully described in verses 4 to 7. There will be no more tears, because every occasion for them is gone. There will be no death, pain or sorrow, for the one who sits upon the throne will have made everything new.

Christianity does not evade the question of sorrow and suffering, but it does point to a glorious day when they will be done forever. What a precious promise!

II. "The Holy City . . . Having the Glory of God" (vv. 10-12).

The description of the holy city is differently interpreted, but perhaps the best one is that it will be in the form of a pyramid or a square base 1,500 miles in width and length (12,000 furlongs)—v. 16), rising in terraces, and 1,500 miles high at the top.

The description of the city is glorious beyond words (read 21:1 through 22:7), but the crowning fact of all is that it has "the glory of God." His presence means more than all the glories of precious stones and of "pure gold, like unto clear glass." He is more than His gifts, and His presence is more glorious than all His mighty works.

III. God the Almighty and the Lamb Are the Temple (vv. 22).

As long as we live under the present conditions of life, we cannot do without a place to meet to worship God and to receive spiritual help and strength—a temple. But when the redeemed are gathered in the Holy City they will have no need for a temple. The place of meeting with God "which now has to be delimited from the world, and set apart for God—yes, and held with determination and force of will against invading hosts—has there expanded to cover the whole area of human experience and activity. God's presence has no longer to be sought; it is known; it is felt, universal and all-pervading as the light of day" (C. Anderson Scott).

IV. No Need of the Sun—the Glory of God Did Light It (vv. 23, 24).

The great need of man in this world is light. He rejoices in the sun as it sheds its life-giving rays upon the earth. He does his work and finds his healthful recreation in the day. When darkness comes, he must have illumination, that he may read, study, work, or fellowship with others. From the flickering pine knot man went on to the candle, to the lamp; and now in most places he floods his city and its homes with the light of electricity. But even so there is too much darkness in the world, and the men who love darkness rather than light (see John 3:19) are able to practice their evil deeds.

In the New Jerusalem all will be light, for the One who is light (I John 1:5) and the source of all light, permits His glory to shine forth and "lighten it." Jesus, the Lamb, who is the light of the world (John 8:12), is the never-failing lamp of the city.

In such light not only the nations of the earth, but their kings as well, will want to walk, doing honor with all their glory to the One who is all-glorious. The verses which follow our lesson tell us that the gates of the city shall never be closed, but only that which is good and honorable shall enter in. Nothing sinful, vile, or false shall come within its blessed portals.

Art And Civic Club

The Art and Civic Club met in regular business and study meeting September 18 for the new club year with Mrs. A. H. Smith.

Mrs. V. C. Bradford, president, presided during the business hour, at which time the club voted to co-operate with Mills County Defense League in the teaching of patriotism in the schools of Mills County, and pledged five dollars for the support of this work.

The study for the afternoon, "The Backbone of Our Democracy," was led by Mrs. Maston Pribble with Mrs. J. J. Stephen and Mrs. L. J. Gartman each assisting with papers.

During the social hour the hostess served a sandwich course to the following members present: Mrs. V. C. Bradford, Mrs. L. J. Gartman, Mrs. G. R. Goosby, Mrs. Marvin Hodges, Mrs. W. P. Ridge Club

The Ridge Club met Sept. 16 with Lora Ashton, with seven members and six visitors present, including Miss Scott.

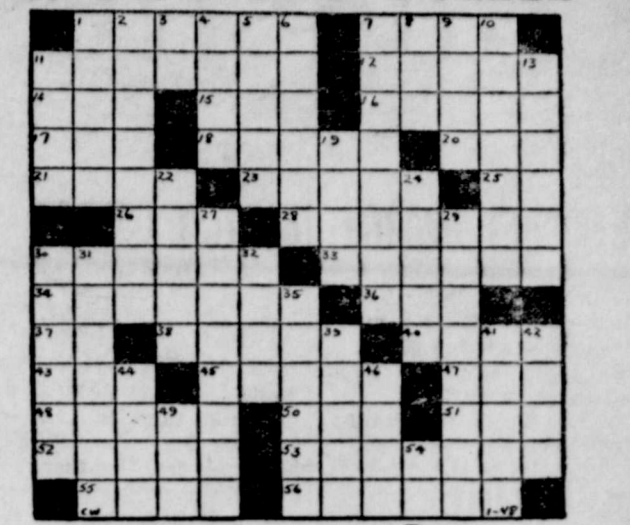

This meeting was a demonstration on a wool comfort. We got the design for the quilting of the top marked off but did not get any quilting done.

Our next meeting will be with Mrs. Sallie Kight and quilt. If you can come and spend the day and bring a covered dish. It will be Oct. 7.

Everyone enjoyed the delicious cake and ice cream before adjourning.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reynolds and daughter Myrlene visited his mother, Mrs. Enoch Reynolds who has been ill at her home at Trigger Mountain. She is somewhat improved.

There is a great hymn entitled "In Christ There Is No East or West." Paul repeatedly says that in Christ there is no Jew nor Gentile, Greek nor Barbarian, bond nor free, but that all middle walls of partition are broken down. It is the glory of Christianity that class distinctions are obliterated, and in Christ is one great brotherhood uniting all mankind in service and love. In keeping with this Biblical idea, our church is neither rich man's church, nor poor man's church; neither cultured man's church, nor ignorant man's. It is just a brotherhood of Christians, all made brethren by the salvation of Christ. Our ministry is to all so-called levels of society. All who have that spirit are always invited to worship and serve with us.

All the regular services next Sunday, and a place for everybody in Sunday school and worship services. The evening service is at 7:30. Fine crowds are attending each Sunday evening now.

JOE CRESSER AND WIFE RETURN TO MULLIN SAT.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cresser of Mesa, Ariz., arrived in Mullin last Saturday night at the home of Mrs. Henry Williams. Mr. Cresser's sister, Mr. Cresser has been gone from Mills County 40 years, and 30 years ago visited his father in Mullin. There was one of the largest crowds lately seen in Mullin Sunday at the home of Mrs. Williams for a family reunion. A feast was spread at the noon hour and guests called all evening to welcome the old settlers home. Mr. and Mrs. Cresser are spending several weeks in this county. They are guests of his niece, Mrs. Carl Featherston. Mrs. Dale Johnston of Brownwood is also visiting her niece, Mrs. Carl Featherston.

Mr. Cresser says Texas really looks good to him, especially Mills County. They have been traveling three months through the state, and Mills County looks best of all to him.

GO. CHAIRMAN EXPLAINS 1942 AAA PROGRAM

Wheat Acreage Referendum Be Held Before Next June 10

Since wheat farmers will vote in a national referendum next spring to decide on marketing quotas, Mills County wheat farmers should consider their acreage allotments when seeding their 1942 crop, J. M. Geeslin, Chairman of the Mills County AAA Committee, said this week.

If quotas are approved by a two-thirds vote, farmers planting within 1942 wheat allotment will be able to sell their entire crop without penalty, but farmers exceeding allotments will be required to pay a penalty of 50 per cent of the national loan rate on all wheat defined as "excess" wheat under marketing quotas, Mr. Geeslin explained.

In the event quotas are voted down next spring, a government loan will not be made since marketing quotas protest loan collateral. The AAA official continued. Loans at 85 per cent of parity are in effect on this year's crop since quotas were given a favorable vote in a national referendum earlier in the year.

Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard issued the wheat proclamation several weeks ago, since, according to the AAA Act, announcement must be made prior to March 15 of any marketing year when it appears the wheat supply will exceed a normal year's domestic consumption and exports by more than 35 per cent. The national referendum will be held before June 10, 1942.

The purpose of wheat marketing quotas is to divide a limited wheat market equally among wheat producers, so that each will get his fair share, the committeeman said.
