COUNTY LIVESTOCK SHOW DATE SET FOR NEXT JANUARY TENTH BY MILLS CO. ASSN.

The Mills County Livestock | highest classification-Ribbon. Raisers' Association met Thurs-County Agent's Office and de- bon cided to hold the Annual Livestock Raisers' Show on Saturday, Jan. 10.

The show will consist of for Beef Cattle, Dairy Cattle, Rambouillet Sheep, Delaine-Merino Sheep, B and C istered and the grade animals all classes except goats. In the goat division the grade goats and the registered goats shall be classified in two classes but they shall be in direct competition for the champion and grand champion of the show. The show is open to every one in Mills County who has any of the above animals and also is open to any one in the adjoining counties or states.

The animals in each division shall be classified and then probably will be placed in each class, thus determining the champion and grand champion.

The show will be held some where in Goldthwaite, but the exact place has not as yet been determined. The committee apointed to designate a place will probably make a report in the near future.

Everyone who plans to participate in the show must mail their entries in to the County Agent's office not later than January 1. This rule was passed so the General Arrangements Committee would have a definite idea as to the number of pens and other accommodations that shall be necessary.

The following classes will be arranged:

CENTER CITY— By MRS. J. M. OGLESBY

Heavy rain fell here last week causing cotton pickers to take another rest. Cotton is good in most fields and selling and picking prices are very good.

District Superintendent Dr. Cooke of Llano was here with his son, our pastor, in all day services Sunday. He preached an excellent sermon after Sunday school. Lunch was served at noon. Communion was observed and conference was held has not paid out in full, we regret to say; however, we are quite sure all will be paid before general conference. We appreciate very much the earnest work of Rev. Bunny Cooke and trust that he will return as our pastor. He is quite young and needs all the encouragement Christians can give him.

Crocheted Bedspread Reflects Good Taste

HAVE you ever considered how important your bedspread is to the appearance of your bedroom? It's the focal point of your decorative scheme, the reflection of your taste—and the one article which will most assuredly catch the eye of a visitor! A crocheted bedspread is perhaps the loveliest possession anyone can own, and it will never fail to incite admiration. This distinctive new design for you to crochet is called "Weathervane", and it's made up of 117 large motifs. 76 yards of mercerized crochet cotton are required for each motif, and the spread will give you years of delightful service. Directions for making this bedspread may be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper, specifying Weathervane design.

For The Duration Of The Emergency By GEORGE C. HESTER

As the great world emergency speeds on, ever deepening as it goes, it is becoming more and more evident that the spectors of week financial bankruptcy are looming on the horizon for most countries of the world. The countries now engaged are making some magnificent efforts to avoid such a fate.

In fact, a mania for saving is griping all of Europe. In England, for example, virtually all non-essential spending has been stopped. The citizen is just not permitted to buy anything beyond none of the family was injured. absolute essentials, and they are severely limited. Worker's wages have risen about 28 per cent, compared to a 30 per cent rise in the cost of living. This is a fine tribute to the price control system in that country and which operates from the bottom up.

In Parliament an all powerful committee has general supervision of all the government's spending. This committee is composed of thirty-one members and went into action three months after the war broke out. It is headed by the eminent economist Sir John Wardlow-Milne. It makes complete surveys of all expense outlays, holds hearings, travels thousands of miles to inspect defense industries and governmental offices. Its fine record for cutting down wastes and effecting savings shows what can be home of his grandparents, Mr. done, even in an old and normally eficient government as Eng-

In America little or nothing has been done to conserve our financial resources for this great struggle. Prices are still spiraling upward, already resulting in increasing the cost of our defense program by nearly one-third. Moreover, the collossal federal debt is shooting further and further beyond our reach each day. To this must be added the huge state and local debts of many years' accumulation. Contrary to the general opinion, the American current tax burden is rapidly approaching that of the English.

Our first and primary task, of course, is to win this war, and the sooner we Americans stop dilly-dallying around and get down seriously to the task by making our resources count for the most, the better it will be for us in the long run.

It is most tragic, of course, that we must face this emergency with a forty billion dollar debt burden created by deficit financing in a peacetime era. It is even more tragic that we are attempting the imperative task of paying for defense with the floodgates of political spending,, national, state and local, still wide open.

Public debts and their hand-maidens, loose fiscal policies, have betrayed other democracies before.

Few thinking people really believe that our huge debts will ever be repaid at par value. Much will be repudiated through governmental devices such as devaluation and other manipulations. What will happen to the savings, wages, salaries, social security guarantees, insurance policies, as a result. are prospects that are terrible to contemplate. Worse still is the fact that fiscal bankruptcy resulting in the widespread repudiation of financial obligations, is always accompanied by a moral bankruptcy of the people's faith in government.

There are some signs, however, that our leaders are just beginning to awaken to the realization of the realities facing us. The joint economy committee in Congress announces its intention to pecially the joint.

of short duration, but recovery different agencies. Thereby, they is slow. While causing great dis-accomplished results, which, if they It is just this attitude that constitutes the sad plight confronting fatal. However, the loss of time probably would have taken weeks of our country today.

The vast expenditures, built up primarily to combat the depression, should be parred to the bone, at least for the duration followed by immunity for a few of the emergency. The same principle should be applied to all unessential state and local spending. It is no longer a matter of what we want, or would like to have. It is becoming increasingly a matter of cold and inescapable necessity.

See With Your Experience

NATURALIST in Bryce Canyon, Utah, gave some sage advice to those who are out to see things. 'See with your experience, not just with your eyes," he said, "If you just see with your eyes you may come home and remember that you've seen some trees, some rocks, a bear and a squirrel, but what you've seen will have little significance."

How many different kinds of trees can you identify? How many different colors can you see in the rocks and what creates the colors? What is the history of the section? What are the names of the wild flowers? Reading up on the section you are traveling through adds interest to the trip. Keeping a little notebook enables you to relive your trip when you return.

The old rancher saw with his experience when he looked down into Bryce Canyon with its maze of buttes and towering rocks and exclaimed: "What a hell of a place to lose a cow." And the poet standing in the same spot saw with his exerience and imagination when he said: "Surely, this is God's Rock Garden!" Those who look, and think, and meditate, see much more than those who just look.

RADIO BROADCAST FROM HYDE PARK .- We drove down to New York city after lunch one day and I had a visit from Dr. Reinhold Niebuhr and Dr. James Loeb Jr., who came to ask me to speak at a meeting. They allowed me a choice of dates in October or early December. October is al-ready so filled with obligations and December is filling up so rapidly, that I had a very hard time deciding. I finally agreed that I would try to and if no one can be found who will do a better job than I.

Then I went over to the broadcasting station and went through reading time would be the same at least twice, it would save the poor people who run these programs a of the broadcast, I had a most entertaining telegram which reads: "Face the fact that Communism and Democracy are not the same and see where that leaves you was signed: "An Isolationist."

DEFINITION OF DEMOCRACY

I must be very dull, because I thought I had made crystal clear that Communism and Democracy are not the same. I thought that had given a fair definition of what Democracy really is! However, I am delighted to have an opportunity to say here that it seems to me that Democracy has one great advanquires the participation of every citizen in the choice of the people to fill government office.

Of course, it would be impossible to have a real democracy in a country which has not so far had, for at least two generations, free public school education and laws which protected people in their right to exercise fundamental freedoms of thought, of speech and of assembly.

Mr. and Mrs. "Isolationist," ever you may be, facing the fact of this difference between Communism and Democracy, leaves me in just the position I was in when I made my radio speech.

ANOTHER NEW YORK TRIP One day we caught the six o'clock plane for New York city and worked on my personal mail during an extremely smooth flight. I went home first, where I had a glimpse of Jimmie and Rommie, who were just starting out in their best bibs and tuckers to dine very gaily in celebration of her birthday.

Miss Thompson and I dined in a little restaurant on Sixtieth street near .Fifth avenue, which we both like, and had a very leisurely and pleasant meal by ourselves.

The meeting called the next day by the Co-ordinator of Federal Security Services, Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, was a most inspiring occa-It brings together not only the different agencies under that bureau, but all the other government agencies working in the area. correspondence finally to clear up.

In the afternoon, all the state of- ness. ficials joined the meeting. This meant that purely state responsibilities, and the points at which the state officials touch the federal government officials, could also become clarified because of personal con-

In addition, Lieutenant-Governor Poletti of New York state, state coordinator of civilian defense activities, and Maj. Gen. Irving J. Phillipson, representing the military interests of the area, were present. It seemed to me that this was as good a co-ordinating job as I had seen accomplished anywhere in the government.

SOUTH AMERICAN FILMS One evening the President and I

with our dinner guests, had the pleasure of seeing some new films. One is made from pictures taken during Mr. Julian Bryan's last trip to South America, and his voice near Star. Mr. Miles had been in gives the running comment.

Life is full of little coincidences, and I smiled when I thought that, only that morning I had read a letter which a young friend wrote from Bogota. She told most interestingly of the country and the life there and casually mentioned that they had been spending some very pleasant hours with Mr. Julian Bryan. Here I was looking at the picture made on his last trip, while he was out making pictures for a future film!

The other picture shown was done under the direction of Mr. Joseph Losey. It is a very charming picture of a nursery school in a rural area. Children are shown in all the activities that are possible in country surroundings. them at work and at play. children range in age from two to seven years. It has no great significance, except that it brings the people who see it a realization of the value of the nursery school. This educational experiment is fairly new in our country. In Europe it has long been known.

Bro. Simms preached Sunday at his regular hours at the Baptist church.

Supt. J. T. Owens of the Methodist Sunday School wishes to announce again that next Sunday, Oct. 12, there will be conference here. District Supt. Dr. Cooke will be present. Lunch will be served at the noon hour. He especially requests that all members of the church be present and bring your assessments that our pastor will be paid in full before general conference.

Thos. Atchison and family left the first of this week for Pidcoke, where they will make their new home. We wish for them the best of success.

Mr. and Mrs. Grace McCasand and Stacy McCasland and family visited Brock McCasland and family Sunday.

Kenneth McCasland left last week for California, where he enters work after completing a course in Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Carey Owens are driving a nice new car. Mrs. Owens, accompanied by J. T. Owens, made a trip to Lockhart below Austin to visit her sister and spent some time in Austin. Glen Walton of San Angelo visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Walton, last week end.

Edwin Arnold, Glen Geeslin, Al Langford, Delma Don Geeslin Vernon McCasland, and probably others of Camp Bowie visited Monday night with homefolks. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Black-

Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Head and her sister and husband visited relatives Monday night. Our deepest sympathy is extended to Mrs. Fox and family and to Mr. and Mrs. Weathers and family in the going of their loved ones. May our Heavenly Father bless each.

Last Thursday our community was saddened when news reached here that Mr. Harvey Miles had passed away at his home failing health for sometime. He was treated in a Temple hospital a number of times and failed to improve. Funeral services were held at the Baptist church by the pastor, Rev. Sims, assisted by Allen Carter, a life long friend of the family. Interment was made in the cemetery here beside other loved ones. Mr. Miles was a good neighbor, a fine Christian gentleman. This heritage he leaves his wife, their six sons, two daughters and six grandchildren and other relatives and friends who crowded the church to pay their last respects to the one they loved. THE HOLY SPIRIT OUR HELPER

LESSON TEXT—John 3:5-8; Acts 1:8; Romans 8:26-28; Galatians 5:22-26.
GOLDEN TEXT—As many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God.—Romans 8:14.

Nothing could be more practical or blessed for and in the life and service of the believer than an understanding of the person and work of the Holy Spirit; yet it is a subject concerning which most Christians are woefully ignorant.

Before taking up the work of the Spirit as it appears in our lesson, we should understand that the Holy Spirit is a person, not an influence which may exert itself upon a serv ice, or a power which a man may obtain and use. He—the Spirit—is one of the Trinity, with the at tributes of a person, doing the work of a person and always referred to as a person in Scripture. (When "it" is used of the Holy Spirit in the A.V. it will be found to be cor rected to "him" in the R.V.)

What then does this divine person do? The work of creation was His as one of the Godhead. He regen erates, He teaches, He comforts, He leads, He calls and qualifies Chris tian workers, He is the divine These and many other things He does, this One who indwells the believer as the ever-present Guide and Counselor The Christian is

I. Born of the Spirit (John 3:5-8). The new birth is indispensable to entrance into the kingdom of God. We either enter that way or we do not enter at all. Let's be clear about that. "Ye must be born again," is not the edict of a church or the plea of a preacher; it is the plain statement of our Lord Himself

The Holy Spirit is indispensable to regeneration. We must be born of Spirit. How it takes place we can no more explain than the coming or going of the wind, but just as the power of the wind is known to us by clear evidence, so the regenerating power of the Spirit, mysterious though it be in operation, is known to us by the evidences of redeeming grace in a man's life.

II. Empowered by the Spirit (Acts 1:8)

Spiritual birth calls for service for Christ. For that we must have the power of the Holy Spirit. A man may do many ordinary things in the strength of his own body and mind (although even these ought always to be under the Spirit's control), but when he comes to witnessing for Christ, teaching or preaching God's Word, he must have Holy Spirit power or he is utterly ineffective.

III. Directed by the Spirit (Rom.

8:26-28). The guidance of the Holy Spirit, especially in the matter of prayer, is stressed in these verses, but they are a part of a longer passage dealscious submission to His leading.

It is in the realm of the spiritual however, that we find ourselves peculiarly infirm (v. 26), and this shows itself especially in prayer-"we know not how to pray as we ought." Then the Spirit in the Christian makes intercession. How blessed! "The practical meaning of these profound words seems to be that the divine Spirit, by His immediate influence in the saint's soul, which becomes as it were the organ of his own address to the Father, secures the rightness of the essence of the saint's prayer. To our understandings such intercessions with groanings which cannot be uttered, take the form of desires of ours inspired and secured by Him. any special case of prayer, the saint may or may not use words; but any wise the root-desires that underlied the prayer, being the Holy Spirit's promptings, are unutterable to the full. In the heart the Father sees below the surface of our ignorance the sacred longings which are the expression of the Spirit's influence" (H. C. G. Moule).

IV. Walking in the Spirit (Gal. 5:

Being born again of the Spirit, living daily by the Spirit, it is right that (as v. 25 puts it) "if we live by the Spirit, let us also walk by the Spirit." The works of the flesh, horrible in their wickedness and lust, are listed in the verses preceding (vv. 19-21), and then by striking contrast we have the fruit of the Spirit in the life of the Christian. Note the distinction: Work is something we produce; fruit is some thing that grows.

Walking in the Spirit the Chris-tian finds in his life the inward graces of love, joy, and peace. These then express themselves out-The Eagle has just received a complete line of the newest wedding announcements.
