BREVITIES.

It transpired in a Keokuk lawsuit that the defendant had sent his wife to the poorhouse and married his father's divorced wife.

A STALWART woman got employment in male attire as a farm hand at Hutchinson, Ill., but the farmer discharged her on learning her sex. She has brought suit to recover wages for the whole contract.

THERE is at Elgin, Ill., a Society of Pandemonium, "devoted to the noisy recognition of nuptials," in other words, an organized band of serenaders with horns, tin pans, and other implements of noise.

MARY ANDERSON is furious because druggists have been using her advertising busts for the purpose of displaying electric stomach pads in their show windows. She considers it a degradation of high art.

AMONG the Sisters of Mercy who accompanied the Russian army are two princesses and a beauty with a fabulous fortune. These women maintain out of their own means the well appointed ambulances to which they are attached.

It is officially announced that the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad will be completed and connected with the Southern Pacific about January 1, 1881, thus opening up a new through route between the East and the Pacific Coast.

A CALIFORNIA farmer got considerable fun out of what had been an annoyance by placing a stuffed deer in his grain field. The hunters, after emptying a large amount of ammunition into the animal, and discovering the fraud, never trespassed again.

THE Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company and the Pullman Car Company are involved in a lawsuit at Baltimore. The railroad people are building a large number of drawing-room cars after the Pullman model, claiming that the patents are invalid.

THE work of removing the obelisk was slightly delayed recently, by the breaking of two of the iron bolts into which the purchase for turning the monolith were hooked. The workmen kept at their task all night, despite this drawback, and succeeded in turning it twenty-five degrees.

IN Russia, all the sons and daughters of princes inherit their title. They are, consequently, as plentiful as sparrows. It is said that there is a village where every inhabitant is a Prince or Princess Gallitzin. The title of Prince in Russia is about equivalent to that of Esquire in England.

THE American Bible Revision Committee has completed the revision of the English version of the New Testament, and has transmitted the result of its labors to England. The British Committee will meet in November for final action, and the revised New Testament will be issued in February, 1881.

DOM PEDRO, Emperor of Brazil, wished to test a certain railroad brake. He had one adjusted to a car, and started off for a trial trip. The engineer soon saw what seemed to be a big rock on the track ahead, and applied the brake, stopping the train within a few feet of the obstacle, which proved to be of paste-board.

MISS SMITH was to have been married at Springfield, Ill., but she disappeared the morning of the wedding day, and various were the conjectures as to her conduct. She has written from an advertising State to her affianced husband, saying that she fled because she was scared, but that she is now ready to face the clergyman.

BELMONT, a handsome young man, went to Minneapolis two years ago and became a nephew of August Belmont and the heir expectant to a large estate. This was fraudulent, of course; but worse humbuggery has been exposed. Leon Belmont loved the daughter of the hotel keeper, and engaged to marry her, thus avoiding the payment of a large sum of money to Belmont's father. The swindler turns out to be a woman in trousers.

JUSTICE SMITH said, on opening his court at Connorsville, Tenn.: "William Henry Smith is arraigned for assaulting his father." The magistrate had on the previous day knocked his father down with a club, and it was himself that he was now arraigning. He continued: "The evidence is conclusive, and I'm not at all obliged to send myself to jail for days. But, as this is my first offense, I certainly had a good deal of provocation, I will simply impose a fine of $100."

NUBBINS OF NEWS.

SYMPTOM OF OCCURRENCES IN ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

Home and Foreign Intelligence Carefully Compiled.—Personal, Social and Political Potpourri.—Various Delights of the World Over.

WASHINGTON.

Collector Young telegraphs from Raleigh, N. C., Monday, November 5th, as follows: Jarvis, Democrat, is elected Governor by nearly 5,000 majority. Hubbs, in the Second District, is elected to Congress, a Republican gain of 8,000 on the vote of 1876.

Total coinage at the United States mints during October: Gold, $3,978,835; silver, $2,279,000. During the week ending Nov. 5, 1880, there were distributed 504,496 standard silver dollars; during the corresponding week of 1879 but 527,282 standard silver dollars were distributed.

The Turkish legation in this city has received an official address to the bondholders of the Ottoman public debt inviting them to go to Constantinople to settle matters with the imperial government. They can designate the bank to manage payment, and the Ottomans promise satisfactory settlements.

The Signal corps station at Cape Henry, North Carolina, reports to the chief signal officer as follows: The British steamer Sandringham, 787 tons, Captain John McKey, from Galveston to Glasgow, cargo of cotton, is ashore a half a mile south of this station. She is in fourteen feet of water, and will probably get off.

In 1875 Oscar Snow, a white boy, aged fifteen, was tried with others in the Western District court of Arkansas for murder. Snow was sentenced to be hanged September 18, that year. Application for pardon was made, and sentence was commuted to life imprisonment. April 7, 1877, application for pardon was renewed, and was decided if, at the end of five years, he had behaved well the application would be favorably considered. Five years have elapsed, and the warden of the Joliet penitentiary having reported the prisoner's conduct good, and the judge who sentenced him having recommended it, the President to-day granted the pardon. When the sentence was commuted, Snow begged to be hanged, saying he would rather suffer death than remain a prisoner for life.

The hearing in the case of Samuel B. Perry, exodus leader, on a writ of habeas corpus, sued out to prevent his removal to North Carolina as a fugitive from justice on the charge of raising school teachers' certificates from $15 to $45, was resumed before Judge Wylie in Chambers to-day. George K. Bagby, agent of the State was cross-examined by Jeremiah Wilson. Judge Wylie stopped the questions, which implied political motives for the removal of Perry, saying his duty was to decide on the case as presented, and he would not presume that excessive punishment or persecution would be inflicted on the man if returned, as the eyes of the whole country were on him now, and as his party were in a majority he would not be without friends. A lively exchange of views took place between Merrick, for the State, and Wilson, regarding the administration of law in North Carolina, existence of ku klux, etc. Prof. R. T. Greener asked in behalf of the petitioner, if Bagby had ever heard of the ku klux, but the question was ruled out. Marshal Fred. Douglass was called to testify as to the state of the country, but he had not been in Lenoir county. Arguments were then proceeded with and were in progress, when the hearing was adjourned until Monday.

A terrible fight occurred in the Grove house saloon at Hannibal. One Schaffer shot Charles Coonced through the hand, when the latter struck Schaffer with a beer glass, fracturing his skull. Schaffer lies in a very precarious condition.

Thos. Johnson, the alleged murderer of Dale, at Middleton, O., has been caught. He has been concealed in a sewer ever since the murder was committed, and the rain raised the sewer, so that he had to come out or be drowned. He was immediately taken to Hamilton.

Mike McHugh, a notorious desperado, was shot and mortally wounded by Officer White, of the police force, at Bloomington, Ill. McHugh was on a drunken spree and was severely clubbed while resisting arrest. He started out with the intention of killing the officer and was shot as stated.

Samuel Miller, a farmer, near Fulton, Ohio, went on a spree and came home and went to whip his hired boy, Harry Deaters, aged 18. Forcing him into a corner with a spreading sick he said he would kill him. Deaters then picked up a club and, in self defense, struck Miller a blow from which he died.

THE SOUTH.

One negro was killed and thirteen wounded in Edgefield, S. C., on election day.

Virginia has evidently given the Funders Democrats a handsome majority over both the Republicans and Leaguers.

Mr. W. A. Shaffner, a prominent citizen near Mulberry, Lincoln county, Tenn., hanged himself. He was 55 years old and was considered insane.

A suit by George M. Pullman against the Baltimore and Ohio road company, involving the validity of the sleeping car patent is on trial in Baltimore.

The Mississippi river steamer Robert Mitchell was sunk at Fox Island with a cargo of cotton and breadstuffs. The Arkansas river packet Onachita Belle sunk near Austin, Miss., with cotton and general freight.

Collector Clark, under date of Atlanta, Ga., telegraphs: "I have seized within the last thirty days thirty illicit distilleries, two teams and about 1,000 gallons of illicit spirits. Nine of the distilleries were in the notorious Red Oak neighborhood. As soon as stills are torn out in that section others are at once set up and the illicit work resumed."

Varnish on the Church Pews, Peck's Star.

There was the queerest scene at one of the churches last Sunday. It seems that during the service the cur of the church, newly varnished, and somehow the varnish was not right; as it was terribly sticky. You know when you pull anything off of sticky varnish that it cracks. Well, the audience had all got seated when the minister got up to give out the hymn, and as the baseness of his trousers let loose of the varnish of his chair there was a noise like the killing of a fly on the wall with a palm-leaf fan. The minister looked around at the chair to see if he was all present, and that no guilty man's pants escaped, and read the hymn. The choir rose with a sound of revelry, and, after the tenor had swallowed a lozenge, and the base had coughed up a piece of frog, and the alto had hemmed, and the soprano had shook out her polonaise to see if the varnish showed on the south side, the audience began to rise. One or two deacons got up first, with sounds like picket firing in the distance on the eve of battle, and then a few more got up, and the rattling of the unyielding varnish sounded as though the fighting was becoming more animated, and then the whole audience got on its feet at once with a sound of rattling musketry. The choir sang "Hold the Fort." When the orchestra had concluded the people sat down gingerly, the services were short, and all went home praying for the man that painted the seats.

THE BEE AT THE ALTAR.

A dusky bee with its gossamer wings Fluttering soft in the Summer air, Came through the chapel window low. To the shrine, where the priest, in his robes of snow, Was breathing the consecration prayer.

Humming its dulcet hymn of praise, Balancing bright on its gauzy wings, The bee hung over the altar stone Over the miniature marble throne, Which bore the weight of the King of kings.

Close to the sacrificial hand Of the fair young priest the creature drew, As though in the Host and the sacred Wine It scented the sweetness of buds divine, Heavenly honey, celestial dew!

Then on mine ear a whisper fell, Breathed by the Spirit: "O sweetest, Well may the bee fly close to thee, Lured by the scent of thy purity, Drawn by thy beauty's wondrous power."

"Flower of flowers! Thine odors rare Ravish the soul with a rapture new, Lo! ere the lights of the altar wane, Ere the Host and the Chalice are lifted again, Draw near, like the bee, O sons of men! For His Heart and its honey are all for you."

THE NATIONAL CONTEST.

The Lessons to be Learned by the Supremacy of Republicans.

Kansas City Times.

We cannot treat this subject lightly, nor pass it by in a serio-comic manner. It is too grave a matter. Too many of the most important and material questions affecting the liberties of this people, their welfare, their happiness and their peace of mind were involved in the contest. This was not a contest for offices, it was not a struggle for place on the part of the Democracy; and whether the Republicans believe it or not, the fact remains that the attitude of the Northern Democracy toward the South implied a charity, a nobleness of conduct that might well challenge the admiration of the world. The Republican party, backed by a majority of the people of this country, said no. They said "not only is the South unworthy of trust, but you Democrats of the North, for holding out the olive branch to that hated section, shall have our execration also." Thus the proposition for peace and good feeling has been spurned, and men who profess Christianity tell us it is a crime to forgive political offenders.

What course will the Democracy pursue now; has defeat convinced them they are in error? Shall they accept the verdict of Tuesday and disband to contest for the principles dear to us no more forever? The Republican party demand we shall do this thing.

It is useless to palliate or seek to avert the blow we have received. The judgment of a majority of the people is against the Democracy in the recent contest. To say that new issues, the tariff question, for instance, would give us victory is idle. The North fears the South. Whatever is the issue, whatever the question before the people of this Union, if the South is solid for that issue, defeat will follow. Is it indiscreet for a Democratic newspaper to make this acknowledgment? THE TIMES thinks it better to look matters squarely in the face and to call familiar objects by their right names. And we may remark by parenthesis that it is for this reason we have always been free in our strictures of Gen. GARFIELD, because we thought him little better than a thief; believed him not a proper person for the high office he sought, and, up to this time, have seen no reason to think otherwise.

The question is pertinent: What is to be the future condition of the South if it shall continue to vote collectively alike? We answer without reserve, the condition of Ireland to England, of Poland to Russia, and thus as inevitably as Republicanism rules the country, it is vain to talk of retaliation or an appeal to arms. Such course could only rivet their chains the closer. Moreover, if it should appear to the North that it was at all essential to their present supremacy, a dictatorship and the abrogation of the office of President would be resorted to as freely and as easily as they have now voted for Gen. GARFIELD. Do men say they will never live under a King? We say to them the sectional prejudice of Northern Republicans will carry them to any length, and that their hatred of State rights is rapidly taking them, perhaps unconsciously, towards the worst forms of imperialism. To them already is a solid North commendable, but the solid South is a crime. A philosopher can see no difference, but the Republican partisans can preach for hours upon the fancied distinction.

Here, then, is the substance of the whole matter: Whoever may have been responsible for the fatal breach in the confidence existing twenty years ago between the people of our common country, as it stands to-day the Republican party is responsible for its continuance. A business panic, indeed, might change the political condition of our country in the twinkling of an eye, as in 1874, but so long as the Republican party are able to exercise a calm and sober deliberation, unexacted by untoward circumstances, they will roll their revenge as a sweet morsel, and compound the sins they are inclined to by damning all and singular every effort of the South to rise in material or political prosperity.

Congratulations to the noble Democracy. They stood bravely to meet a crushing defeat, and for the present the approval of a still conscience is their only reward.

A Westerner Searching for Society.

Washington Post.

"What I want to see," said a Denver man, as he alighted from a train at Manhattan beach, "what I want to see is some of your boasted civilization. I am at much on the swell myself, but I want to see some top-shelf society. That's what I want. Now just parade your Astors and your Vanderbilts, and your Jay Goulds, and your Knickerbockers, and the other ancients right before my presence. Don't be anywavs skeered of me. These clothes only cost $15 and I'm no way stuck up. I want to see some tone. Cut me a thick slice of high life. I come a long piece to see the fashionables, and if they're in condition just pull off the blankets and trot 'em forward."

"Is there anything I can do for you?" asked the manager courteously, noticing the crowd gathering.

"Right you can, stranger. I come more'n a bushel of miles to see this climate, and I want the attractions spread so I can examine the layout. I can show some money, myself, but what I want to see is style. Tell 'em not to hide on my account. Just walk some of the dignitaries up and down before me a couple of times. I want to see their points. Fetch me out a couple of well-matched high-steppers and give 'em their heads."

"All the people you see around you, sir, are first-class people. They move in our highest circles, and belong to the aristocracy," explained the manager.

"Are you giving it to me straight, partner? All these fellows way-ups? Who is the philosopher with his breeches tucked in his socks?"

"That is a Yale young gentleman, come on a vacation."

"I don't want that kind. Show me a high daddy, one of 'em that gets their name in the paper for going to whooping weddings, and is called eight. Pick me out some Astors. That's the trout I'm throwing for."

"I don't think any of Mr. Astor's family are here to-day. That stout gentleman with side-whiskers belongs to one of the first families in New York. He is a very popular young gentleman, and leads in the German."

"Ain't big enough. Haven't you got a couple of head of Vanderbilts or a Jay Gould or so anywhere? You see, stranger, I've read about these fellows, and I'd like to greet them with cordiality. What I want is to wabble flush with the said kind. That Yale man and the boss leg slinger in the Dutch fandango ain't new. We saw them home when they string for tourists. I'm onto them, but what I want is the balloons, the soarers. Throw your pickaxe, and see if the wash don't pan better than dirt. Strikes me your rock don't assay pretty well this evening. Where's the mob?"

"These are the best people I know of to-day," said the manager, in despair. "Mr. Vanderbilt is not here, nor is Mr. Gould."

"Ain't you got any Knickerbockers on draught? Don't you keep the best in stock? You'd make out to starve in Denver if you wasn't interfered with, partner. When a man thrives himself for a hoteler in these parts he keeps the highest population right out in front and shored up behind. You don't seem to have much experience in running a beef a-la-mode ranch. Just begun haven't you? If I was in your place I'd have them Goulds and Knickerbockers and Vanderbilts and Astors ranged right along the front edge of the back stoop, spitting at a chip for drinks, and the first one that broke gravel would pay his bar bill or go home bareheaded; now you hear me. What you want, stranger, is enterprise. All you've got is a shed and some water; and if your liquor ain't better than your judgment I'm going back dry."

"You will find everything first-class here, I think," argued the manager. "We ain't just so chief, but you don't hit. You aim too low. You've got room here to hold the biggest bug that ever straddled a blind, but there isn't a card out higher than an eight spot. I reckon you play pool without the fifteen."

"Would you like to try something?" asked the manager, anxious to dispel the grinning crowd.

"You might fetch me one, and these gentlemen a little tan bark, if it's good; I don't want any stock which the shareholders are responsible for the debts, but if you've got some liquid sympathy in you, major, I'll wrap up a cartridge with you, stranger."

"Join me in the bar-room," said the manager, nervously.

"Good stake off for a junction. Gentlemen, me and the engineer are going for the doxology. Will you jine us?"

They "jined," and the manager ordered refreshments and left, despite the entreaties of the gentleman from Denver that he would "introduce him to the ladies, such as they were, and he would forego the top-lifers until he (the manager) had run along the vein to the prospect of paying clean up."

SEVERAL farmers in Prince George county, Va., are gathering peanuts with a machine just invented for that purpose by Samuel H. Jones. Two advantages claimed for the machine are, first, it does not eat the peas while picking them; secondly, it has no pockets or bags to be filled with peas to be carried home at night.

An old sailor, knowing nothing about ladies' toilets, the other day picked up a hair-pin in a New York street car, and, handing it to a woman, said, "Madam, you've dropped one of your orks!"

Nature's Remedy. It is evident that a large portion of our city people suffer from diseases of the liver, bowels, or kidneys. Kidney-Wort is nature's remedy for them all. Those that cannot prepare the dry can now procure it in liquid form of any druggist.—(Globe-Democrat.)

Dr. John Bull's SMITH'S TONIC SYRUP, FOR THE CURE OF FEVER AND AGUE OR Chills and Fever

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine, justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the SAFE, CERTAIN and PERMANENT cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southern country to bear his testimony to the truth of the assertion that in no case whatever will it fail to cure if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, while whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is however prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order. Should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the tonic, a single dose of BULL'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient.

The genuine Smith's Tonic Syrup must have Dr. John Bull's private stamp on each bottle. Dr. John Bull only has the right to manufacture and sell the original JOHN BULL'S TONIC SYRUP, of Louisville, Ky. Examine well the label on each bottle. If my private stamp is not on each bottle do not purchase, or you will be deceived.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

EXECUTIVE MANSION,
Washington, D. C., Nov. 1, '80.

At no period in their history, since the United States became a Nation, has the people had so abundant and so universal reasons for joy and gratitude at the favor of Almighty God, and been subjected to so profound obligation to give thanks for his loving kindness, and humbly to implore His continued care and protection. Health, wealth and prosperity throughout all our borders; peace, honor and friendship, with all the world; firm and faithful adherence by the great body of our population to the principles of liberty and justice, which has made our greatness as a nation, and to the wise institutions and strong form of government and society which will perpetuate it. For all these, let the thanks of a happy and united people as with one voice ascend in devout homage to the giver of all good. Therefore I recommend that on Thursday the 25th day of November next, the people meet in their respective places of worship to make their acknowledgments to Almighty God for his bounties and his protection and to offer to Him prayers for their continuance.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the city of Washington, [SEAL] in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty, and of the independence of the United States one hundred and fifth,

[Signed] R. B. HAYES,
By the President.
WILLIAM M. EVARTS, Sec'y of State.

The Superb is still the senior Major General.

We still have the Senate. Glory enough for one day.

Three Democrats in the Kansas State Senate. It might have been worse.

"The Government" has climbed down from the stump and returned to Washington.

We have lived twenty years under Republican administration; we'll try to live four years more.

The Republicans will proceed to demonize silver and destroy the greenback. Then our Greenback friends will howl, but the howl will come too late.

The Hon. T. Bent Murdock was defeated for State Senator in the district composed of Butler and Harvey counties, by Niel Wilkie, a bolting Republican, of Harvey county.

The election returns show that the prohibitory amendment to the State Constitution was adopted by a large majority, while the other two propositions were defeated by overwhelming majorities.

The Hon. Almarin Gillett was defeated for State Senator from the district composed of Lyon and Greenwood counties, by A. P. Cagwell, of Greenwood county, the independent candidate.

It is in farming as in every other kind of business. No man can make it profitable unless he looks carefully after the details. There are hundreds of ways in which waste must be prevented in order to secure success.

The people have voted the Republican party into power again, but we hope they will not forget that the honesty and thrift of a Democratic Congress reduced public expenditures $40,000,000 a year and that since a Democratic Congress came into existence every item of public expense has been reduced, save that of pensions to soldiers.

R. M. Crane, of Marion county, was elected State Senator from this district. Although this county gave Col. R. C. Bates, his opponent, 112 majority, Mr. Crane carried Marion county by 38 majority; and in Morris county "the colored troops" (the Exodusters on the Kaw River) fought nobly, giving him 806 majority in that county, making his majority in the district 732.

A Kentucky farmer who knows how to raise 400 bushels of potatoes to the acre, gives these points as his method: Rich light soil, plow deep early in the spring, plant fifteen inches apart, cover four inches deep or more; keep down the weeds, but do not work the ground after the potatoes begin to bloom. The main secret, he says, is in selecting the seed. He always cuts off the blossom end. One eye will yield more potatoes than two.

While Hancock is apparently in a great minority in the Electoral College, his majority of the popular vote—taking the figures of Republican newspapers as a basis for calculation—is 120,000 at the present writing; and when the official counts of the vote shall have been made it will be found that his popular majority will be much greater than this. This is one of the anomalies of our system of elections. It is likely that twenty to thirty thousand votes differently distributed would have turned the scales, beyond question, in favor of Hancock. The Democracy has plenty of votes, but they are not fortunately located.

KANSAS STILL AHEAD.—The Cawker City Free Press says that two months ago Arthur Gladhill, of twelve Mile, lost a fine fat Shorthorn which weighed about one hundred and fifty pounds. Three days ago he found it in the bottom of a dry well about fourteen feet deep. In putting down a ladder to get it out, a few leaves of dry grass and weeds were knocked into the well, and the poor starving creature devoured them greedily, and then began to devour the ladder. It only weighed thirty pounds when released from confinement. The attention of Dr. Tanner is called to this fact. There is a hog in Kansas that can beat you fifteen days at your own game.

The New York Sun says: "Whatever the controlling causes may have been, the Democrats are beaten. Let them take the defeat like men. The Republicans have done things to carry the country which will not help them on the road to heaven. There have been practices on the Democratic side not at all saintly. The past is lost in all but admonitions to be gathered from its experience. The future still remains open. There is one thing to be said about Garfield: Oakes Ames is dead and he can have no more transactions with him. We will try to do him justice; we will praise him if he affords us an opportunity. At the same time we will watch him as a man not deserving such a high trust should be watched in the office of President."

TEMPORARY TRIUMPH OF AN EMPIRE.

Very interesting now are the comments of the press upon the results of the election. These words, from the Cincinnati Enquirer, express our sentiments: "But the triumph of yesterday is not permanent. The Democratic principle, the idea which underlies our system of government is as lasting as the continent on which the Government dwells. The Democratic party, old as the century, can survive the defeats of a quarter of a century. It has sounded forth the trumpet that shall never beat retreat; while the Republic lives it will live. If the country seems now at the feet of a spirit of centralization, of centralized power that does not differ from the Empire, it is in spite of Democratic protest; and the Democratic party, notwithstanding this reverse, will falter not from its lofty spirit; will fail not in its final purpose; will continue its splendid march in the cause of the people against power, in the cause of Democracy. There is a story of a people who were 40 years in the wilderness. They were engaged in no better cause than that of Democracy on earth. The Democratic party is one of invincible hope; and it has belief in the doctrine,

"Right forever on the scaffold,
Wrong forever on the throne;
But that scaffold sways the future,
And behind the dim unknown
Standeth God within the shadow,
"And the Democratic party is forever opposed to the throne."

THE CATTLE INTEREST IN KANSAS.

The cattle interest is most thoroughly and comprehensively treated in the Third Quarterly Report of the State Board of Agriculture, just issued. This report comprises 156 pages, giving the latest statistics relating to population, wealth, acreage of crops, meteorological data for the quarter, condition of farm animals, orchards, etc. The special feature of the volume, and one upon which much time and labor have been expended, is the presentation of the cattle and dairy interests. The plan pursued in treating this subject has been to secure from the breeders of the State and those possessing experience in Kansas, papers detailing the methods pursued by them, the results of different methods of breeding and management, and to condense in the most compact form the greatest amount of information from those best able to speak intelligently upon the subject. The breeding and treatment of thorough-breeds, for beef and for butter, and experience with grades and grazing cattle, will be found in this volume, given without theorizing. The papers on "The Treatment of Milk Cows, and Manufacture of Butter and Cheese," will be specially valuable to those who contemplate engaging in this business. Kansas is shown by these witnesses to possess excellent advantages for stock raising, and the information given by over 250 contributors to this volume cannot be over estimated.

The work here accomplished by the State Board of Agriculture for the farmers of the State, and those who contemplate making Kansas their home, could not be expected from any other source, and will be worth a hundred times its cost to the State, both at home and abroad. The volume may be procured by enclosing the postage (five cents) to the Secretary of the Board, J. K. HUDSON, Topeka, Kansas.

M. E. CHURCH.
To the Editor of the Courant:

As was announced in your paper, last week, Sunday, Nov. 7, was missionary and general benevolence day in the M. E. Church. The morning dawned fair and beautiful, and the day was exceedingly pleasant. The Pastor had planned that, with the assistance of the Rev. A. Buckner, they would be able to raise during the day $35, which was the amount assessed this appointment, for benevolent purposes. The amount contributed by the Sunday-school was $2. After the sermon, Rev. Buckner presented the claims of the Church in a way that impressed all with their importance, and stated to the congregation that they were expected to contribute during the entire day and evening the amount above mentioned. To the surprise of all, $36.66 were contributed in a very few minutes. In the afternoon the claims were presented at Prairie Hill, and $3.60 were contributed. Elm Dale had already contributed $15; and Cottonwood, $11.60. The total contributions amounted to the very respectable sum of $66.80. Much praise is due non-members of the Church for their generous assistance in this grand work.
