FORTY-EIGHT

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS.—FRIDAY, MAY 8, 1942

NUMBER THIRTY-SEVEN

Sweet Potato Is One Of The Most Important Crops

Beware Of Weevil and Diseased Slips, County Agent

W. H. Wright, Co. Agent of Growers' and the sweet potato industry of Texas by doing a tag on every bundle of slips you buy. These tags are your only insurance against black rot, stem wilt and the sweet potato weevil. Tags are issued by the State Department of Agriculture, only to growers who have had inspections and it is unlawful to sell slips without the proper 1942 tags attached. Untagged slips may have come from diseased seed or from weevil infested beds outside of the Pest Free Zones and may have weevil eggs in the base of the slips. Many weevil infestations have been traced directly to infested slips.

Today the sweet potato is one of the most important crops the Texas farmer can grow. It is very important:

1—Because it is both a food and a feed crop.

2—Because of its starch content. All varieties contain a fair amount of starch of excellent quality, subject to high refinement, and in view of the situation in the Far East, it is possible that it may become one of the main sources of our supply of commercial starch.

3—Because of its high vitamin content. The pink meated varieties are rich in the important vitamins, A and B1, which makes them ideal for canning and dehydration as well as for consumption in their natural form.

The public is just beginning to recognize the value of the sweet potato as a food and its consumption in its natural form is steadily increasing. The demand for canned sweet potatoes has more than doubled. Dehydration is now an assured fact with big new markets both at home and abroad in prospect; however, in none of these ways of using the sweet potato can diseased or weevil-infested potatoes be used. In 1917 the sweet potato growers of Texas lost $1,800,000 through sweet potato weevil damage and, if the sweet potato diseases were allowed to spread unchecked, they too, would soon cause as great a loss. Today we cannot afford any loss in our food crops, so demand a tag and insure against loss.

MILLS COUNTY USO QUOTA SET AT $1,000; DRIVE STARTS MON.

Mills County's USO quota was revised to $1,000, it was reported this week after a regional meeting of USO chairman in Austin. Quotas were changed from the original figures, set on population, to those based more nearly on population as well as business conditions, James P. Nash, regional chairman, reported.

With organization completed for the nation-wide war fund campaign beginning Monday, May 11, State Chairman Harry C. Weiss called on Texans to make their contributions as substantial as possible. Texas' share of the $13,000,000 national goal is $1,110,000.

"Give searching and sympathetic consideration to your contribution, because all we have and hope for is at stake in this war, and because it cannot be won without American spirit at its best," the chairman urged.

USO has enlarged its program at the rate of one center a day in recent weeks as American fighting men have arrived at new frontiers of battle. By the end of 1942, 940 units will be in operation, providing recreation and comforts for the men in service, at training camps at home and at fighting fronts abroad.

A MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY

THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY
WASHINGTON
May 7, 1942

TO THE PEOPLE OF TEXAS:
This week a new campaign for the sale of War Bonds and Savings Stamps is under way throughout the Nation. It is the War Bond Quota Campaign.

It is urgently necessary that you double the rate at which you are now buying War Bonds and Savings Stamps. This will mean the sale direct to individual Americans of War Bonds and Savings to the amount of not less than one billion dollars every month.

One billion dollars a month is the national quota. It is equal to one-tenth the combined income of all Americans.

This money is needed to buy the tools of our fighting forces. It will not pay for all of them. Our war expenditures now are at the rate of about FOUR BILLION a month, and they are growing daily. But a billion dollars a month direct from the people will make all-out production possible. Without it we cannot do our best, without it we cannot put forth our full effort.

It is desperately needed for another reason. We can't fight a war and at the same time live and spend as usual. There are not enough goods to go around—the things we buy with money. If we go on spending at the 1941 scale, we'll be driving the fighting men to sea for our own comfort or pleasure. We'll be driving up the cost of living for all of us. We'll be lapsing into hardship on our neighbors.

What is asked of you is ten per cent of your earnings—a tithe for Liberty. It is not a tax; it is not even a contribution; it is a loan at interest, for your own and protection later.

Your Government asks you to cut down your expenditures, to save your boys on the firing line and in the training camps, through your Government, and you to save so that they may have what they need to win THIS WAR for you—America asks you to save; to SAVE TO BUY THE WAR; to buy War Bonds and Savings up to not less than ten per cent of your income.

To Liberty worth 10¢ Is Democracy worth 10¢ Is America worth 10¢ I think I know your answer.

Sincerely,
H. Morgenthau, Jr.

The above letter was sent to this newspaper by Secretary Morgenthau in Washington. We publish it in the interest of the War Bond Quota Campaign and earnestly recommend that all our readers do their share in the tremendous job ahead of financing the War effort.

Start the day right by attending the Sunday school and study that lesson about the authority of Christ in your life. It will be vastly helpful if you really get the lesson.

There will be a welcome for you.

RED CROSS DISASTER RELIEF OPERATIONS IN TEXAS FOR APRIL

The month of April brought floods and tornados to Texas and Oklahoma. On April 20 it became evident that serious flood conditions threatened along the upper watershed of the Trinity River, affecting Dallas and Tarrant Counties. Continued rainfall has kept the river at flood stage and families out of their homes for an extended period.

The following counties were affected by floods: Dallas, Tarrant, Kaufman, Johnson, McLennan and Ellis. Five known deaths have resulted and more than 1,500 families are affected. National representatives were assigned immediately to assist chapters in extending aid to those in need. Eighteen Red Cross disaster workers from St. Louis were on duty to aid flood sufferers.

On April 28 a tornado struck Crowell, Texas, with devastating force, inflicting heavy property damage. This town of 1,817 population was practically leveled. Preliminary reports showed 11 deaths, 75 seriously injured and 1,000 others homeless. The Foard County Chapter, aided by volunteers from adjacent chapters, took immediate steps to meet emergency needs. Twelve Red Cross disaster workers from St. Louis were assigned to Crowell. The Red Cross furnished cots and blankets and operated a canteen. Other needs of these disaster-stricken families are being met pending plans for rehabilitation.

None of the above reports are complete, as the registration did not end until last night.

The school teachers and other volunteer workers are doing a wonderfully good job of registering people. There has been very little confusion since the registration began. It was the policy of the school authorities to have all the confusion before hand in order that there should be as little as possible during the registration. The co-operation of the people has been thorough and unhesitating. There have not been more than five cases of non-co-operation reported in the whole county.

The registration will indicate a considerable loss of population in the county. A complete report will be made to the Eagle next week.

SANTA FE TO OFFER AWARDS TO 4-H CLUBS

Galveston, May 6.—(Spl.)—Educational awards to outstanding 4-H Club boys and girls of Texas will be offered again this year by the Santa Fe Railway, it has just been announced by Edward Engel, president of the railroad.

The 1942 awards will be the same as those of last year when the Santa Fe named 19 winners from among the Texas farm group. The awards are made on the basis of individual records obtained in farm club work under the direction of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Department.

Winners of the Santa Fe awards will attend the National 4-H Club Congress to be held this fall in Chicago in conjunction with the International Livestock Exposition. Approximately 900 youths, representing practically every state in the nation, usually attend this event.

President Engel's announcement marks the 19th year the Santa Fe has offered to send 4-H Club winners to the National Congress. During this time, a total of 1,136 boys and girls have received awards. Of this number 353 have been from Texas. In addition to the Texas winners, 46 4-H Club winners from other states in which the Santa Fe operates will receive awards.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE
AUSTIN, May 1.—Bascom Giles, Commissioner of the General Land Office, has announced the awarding to the highest bidder of 363 tracts of school land which had been advertised for sale on April 8 by the School Land Board.

Commissioner Giles said after studying the numerous bids received that "this was the most successful sale of school land held in recent years. The Public Free School Fund received the highest average price per acre and also the highest average price per tract that was ever received in the state's history."

Commissioner Giles attributed a large part of the success of this sale to the advertisements run in newspapers; and he is, therefore, convinced that "it pays to advertise."

In Memory Of Varnell

There's a vacant place within our home, which can never be filled. God saw fit to take our sweet loving daughter and sister to a more wonderful place, not made with hands. Varnell was one of the most devoted to her family and friends. She honored her family and often spoke words of praise to them. She was very talented in art. Her sweet loving disposition can never be surpassed. She was the one who brought the sweetest joy to our home. Varnell had the interest of her church and community at heart. One of her greatest joys was serving her church as pianist. She so gladly played for the Baptist Church very often. During the revivals she delivered several numbers of beautiful solos. One of the last, I recall, was "Jesus Is Precious and Real to Me." You could see in her face Jesus was real to her. After her illness she would thank God for the past joys of her life. She was too sweet and pure for this world and with a cheery smile and a wave of the hand she has wandered into an unknown land, and left us dreaming how very fair its needs must be, since she lingers there. We think of her passing on as dear in the love of there as the love of here.

She is not dead—she is just away. Her presence there makes Heaven more precious and real each day. With the guidance of God's loving hand may she and family be reunited some sweet day.—Her Family.

Sanderson, Texas.
April 11, 1942.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Geeslin: I can't tell you how much I was shocked and grieved last week when I had a letter from home telling me about Varnell's death. I wished so much that I could have been there to attend her funeral, but that was impossible.

It seems such a short time ago that she was in high school with my sister, Margie, and me, and in reality it has been more

San Saba—

A recent survey on peanut than ten years. Time certainly does pass by in a hurry, doesn't it? But time is one of our greatest friends, for only its passing can reconcile us to Varnell's death.

I have been thinking of her so much this past week. I remember how beautifully she used to play the piano and how lovely she used to look in white.

When my family would go to church at Center City (especially during meetings), Varnell would always be at the piano. Most of the time she would be wearing a white dress, white shoes, and a white hat. I remember her more distinctly than I do in high school, but I shall always remember her as one of my closest high school friends.

Sincerely yours, Ollie Mae Featherston.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

CREOMULSION for Coughs, Chest Colds, Bronchitis

Sure, every acre's raising more... Now what's upping the mileage from this oil?

How does prize wheat or corn at the county fair get that way? Sure, man-made soil improvers — modern synthetics — were added to improve on nature.

AND MODERN SYNTHETICS in Conoco Nth motor oil make it yield mileage that outscored all other brands tested in the sensational Death Valley Certified Competition. Five big-name quality brands got every fair chance against Conoco Nth oil. All were run till engines failed and none came closer than 58% of the mileage totaled by Conoco Nth!... the oil you can have for your needed Spring oil change that's now overdue... the oil whose best known man-made extra substance—at no extra premium—gives your engine OIL-PLATING.

OIL-PLATING backs up the familiar fluid type of oil film with a surfacing of lubricant close-bonded to inner engine parts. Every cylinder wall, for instance, becomes a wall of OIL-PLATING that doesn't all drain dry during all the time you use Conoco Nth. Even after all-day parking, the OIL-PLATING is still up to the topmost piston rings, ready to lubricate before any oil can circulate. That's one plain way of foiling excess wear, and keeping up mileage with your engine OIL-PLATED.

But Conoco Nth oil also includes Thialkene inhibitor... another synthetic... invented to inhibit or restrain the dangerous "jelling" of oil under excess strain. Engine heat and pressure can even gum up oil into something like fly-paper coating—only dirtier, and not much better for mileage. Against this threat, Thialkene inhibitor was created for Conoco Nth (U. S. Pat. 2,218,132). And Conoco Nth out-mileaged the others in the Death Valley Test—from 74% all the way up to 161%. You can get real optimistic about your own mileage. Conoco Nth will come through for you. Change at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Company

SENIOR REPORT

Come one! Come all; and see our big show staged in the school auditorium on Monday, May 11. We promise a night of entertainment in return for your admission ticket. We need your money! You need those millions of laughs—so let's compromise!

The Seniors are looking forward to a glorious time at the Junior and Senior banquet. We wish to express our appreciation to the Junior Class ahead of time for their part in making our Senior year one worth remembering. May your Senior year be as glorious as ours has been, Juniors, and may it be one of high scholastic standing.

The Senior in class rooms, on the street, in the home, and everywhere are dreaming happily toward the night of May 21, when they will be a full-fledged graduate of Goldthwaite High School and a citizen of the outside world. We are ready to take our place in the many ways that we can help our country. We are willing to strive and sacrifice as true Americans, and we can sincerely say that this spirit has been born in us through our earnest working faculty—so teachers, we thank you for your support, aid, and advice that will live in our hearts forever. Our greatest ambition is to live up to your estimation of our ability.

JUNIOR REPORT

For the last two weeks the Juniors have been preparing for the Junior-Senior Banquet which was given Thursday night in the recreation room of the Methodist Church. Everyone enjoyed himself to the fullest extent. The program was carried out in a western theme.

Master of ceremonies—Lewis Hudson.

Invocation—Mr. Johns.
Toast to Seniors—Lewis Hudson.

Response to Toast—Eloise Slaughter.

Class Will—Eunice Wrinkle.
"Home On the Range"—Leroy Stacy, L. B. Porter, Jr., Billye Smith.

Class Prophecy—Barbara Carter.

Speaker—A. H. Smith.
After the banquet we attended the theatre, which was a Gene Autrey show to carry out the Western style.

We enjoyed giving the Seniors the banquet, and wish for them success in life.

FRESHMAN REPORT

The holidays we have been having are fine. We won't mind using less sugar if we have holidays on registration days. But no one is worrying about their sugar. Everybody is willing to use less if it can be of any help and if our government sees best to ration it.

We can hardly realize there are just two more weeks of school. The reviews and final examinations are almost here. Then the tale will be told and if we want it to be a happy one we had better put our noses in a book and not raise up until May 22. Then we can take a deep breath that will last three months.

SENIOR PLAY

Well, again we remind you that our Senior play will take place Monday night, May 11th. Your money will be appreciated and we promise you a million laughs in return for your money. It's colossal, its stupendous, it's almost perfect. ("For Pete's Sake.")

The following cast and story will be presented: Lying as a fine art certainly calls for a strong head, a stout heart, and a good memory, and Peter Peppardine (Shirley Mahan) has all these qualifications to fit him for a magnificent liar. Then his exasperated aunt (Dortha Marie Wolfe), in an effort to discipline him, starts on a summer tour of Palestine without him. He rents her mansion, against her expressed desire, to her dearest enemy, the mother (Maxine Spinks) of his ladylove (Eloise Slaughter), and masquerades as her butler, disguising his pal, Bill, (Leslie Faulkner) as her gardener, and Mugsy (Tommy Hyslop), the despised college grind who is supposed to tutor him all summer, as her housemaid. And all this madcap scheming is not only to provide ready cash but to enable Peter and Bill to discover if their lady-loves (Eloise Slaughter and Bobbie Fairman) are flirting with older and wealthier suitors. And then Aunt Sarah spoils everything by cancelling her passage and coming home. Why not see the play to see what happens after this . . .

The rest of the cast consists of a self-important banker, Gordon Henry; A fatuous village poet, Sammie Smith; the college grind's jealous sweetheart, Glenda Oglesby; a timid dean, Billie Ray Armstrong; and a superstitious darkey cook, Billie Jo Sparkman.

Remember:
Time—8:00.
Admission—15c and 30c.
Place—School Auditorium.
Stage managers are Lucille Sheppard and Eunice Wrinkle.

There will be good in-between acts—for we have many talented students in our class. Between-act numbers include piano selections by Louise Skipper; "Indian Love Call," by Senior trio; "I Don't Want to Walk Without You," by Eunice Wrinkle; "Moonlight Cocktail," by Janet Jernigan; hot (???) music by Evelyn Burns. Madilene Porter and Janet Jernigan.

So come prepared for about three hours of grand entertainment.

RAIN

MAUDINE BURKES
Somehow I love a rainy day,
The drip-drop-dripping on the pane;
The rumbling roll of distant thunder
Following the lightning's flash across the lane.

I love the musty, dusky smell,
The dampness in the atmosphere;
I even like the muddy streets,
The slushy puddles standing near.

But best of all I like the clearing off.
Beneath the scattering clouds, a bit of sky,
While the slowing golden drops of rain
Fall in rushing streams nearby.

Then the sun comes peeping out,
The sky is clear and blue again;
The grass is green and damp,
And all the Earth is glad we had a rain.

TROUBLED

SHIRLEY MAHAN
Here I sit all broken-hearted,
Trying to write a poem,
But I simply can't get started,
I think of a little, but I can't follow through;

I declare I don't know what I'm going to do.
If I don't write one I know I will fail,
And that will take the wind out of my sail.

I can't seem to rhyme; my brain just won't click,
I guess I must be just a poor country hick.
I can't think of a line or a word to say—
I couldn't compose if I tried all day;

If I could just write a poem, everything would be okay.
Ah! I have an idea how to beat this rap.
My brains and courage'll make it a snap—
I'll wrap my finger with band-aids white,

Then I'll tell the teacher I hurt it and simply can't write.

LET'S DO OUR PART

BILLY JO SPARKMAN
First our cars and then our trucks,
Uncle Sam says, "You must help!"

Next our radios and books,
Uncle Sam has gone and kept.
Now our extra pants and cuffs
Are needed by the Army, too;
And phonographs and tires and stuff,
Economize—for that's our cue.
Let's do our part!

After all we have our horses,
If need be then our feet will do—
Let's save for our armed forces;
They're working for me and you.
There's the doctor and the nurses,
They're doing their part, too.
Should we continue only curses?
Let's all try something new—
Let's do our part!

Sugar, bobby pins and likes,
Then they rationed gasoline,
Guess we'll have to learn to hike,
That's not so bad; in fact, it's keen;

Self-sacrifice our battle cry;
What we've hated we've learned to like,
We've told our selfish whims good-bye,
Wisely done with good foresight,
Let's do our part.

For bobby pins—we can do without;
For sugar, there's molasses;
Let's don't sit around and pout;
Let's utilize each day that passes.

As long as we're fighting, how about
Getting in our proper classes,
Giving our all, just out 'n out,
From our toes up to our glasses,
Let's do our part!

V for victory; keep 'em flying;
Each and every one can help!
Buy a defense bond; keep 'em buying;
Let's keep up our boys' pep.
Instead of sitting home and sighing,
Wishing we had things to do—
Let's go now, and let's keep trying!

HALF ALL FAMILIES IN U.S. ARE SUBSCRIBERS TO COUNTRY PAPERS

By M. S. FORBES

Publisher of the Fairfield O., Times and Lancaster, O., Tribune, and son of B. C. Forbes, famous writer on business and finance and editor of Forbes' Monthly. Reprinted from South Texas Press Association.

Today 49.9 per cent of all the families in the United States are subscribers to one or another of this country's 10,000 weekly newspapers. Taken all together, these weeklies are the prime printed medium for complete coverage of more than half the nation's population and their total circulation of 21,000,000 by no means reflects their full readership each week.

The rural counties these papers serve control the nation's political majorities; 46 per cent of all the stores in the United States are centered in their territory, with sales last year totaling $14,000,000,000, or 31 per cent of the national total.

Oh, yes, when one starts playing with statistics on 10,000 weekly papers impressive figures are turned up, and a dazzling picture can be painted.

But to one of the 1,900 subscribers per, these figures mean nothing to the average little home town paper. On Thursday or Friday of every week this reader looks forward to seeing in his paper what has happened to Mrs. Jones' proverbial cow, what or who was entertained at cards by whom, when and where. Little things, but the biggest things in the every day lives of us all.

Because only a little paper can "cover" all these items which occur in a small town the average weekly has a particularly powerful appeal, its semi-gossipy "socials" fulfilling a fundamental human need.

The point here being made was beautifully illustrated when in reply to a query from the writer as to whether or not she would miss her weekly paper if it ceased publication a lady answered with this question:

"Of course, young man. How else would I know what parties I hadn't been invited to?"

Human nature being what it is weekly newspapers have the soundest future in the world. Tremendous dailies at low cost, radio, telephone, facsimile transmission, frequency modulation—all these can never cut very far into reader appeal of weeklies, because it is physically impossible for them to cover the activities of the neighbors of each

We'll win this war before we're through—
Let's do our part!

SNOOPERMAN

Here we are again! Three days in a row give the kids plenty of time to do things.

My, my, of all the happenings at Norma's party! Everybody got with somebody else and had one swell time. Especially Orpha and Marvin. They seem to be somewhat attracted to each other.

Also was Peggy Gene particularly happy? The sweet little thing has at last opened her eyes and fallen for that little Alexander boy from Star.

Jimmie is sure getting popular; it seems that all the girls are begging him to take them to the banquet. And something else, we have a confirmed report that Jimmie actually uses lip-stick, and it isn't just when he gets off a date either.

Well, well, Marjeanne's party turned out to be a regular rug-cutting outfit, and by the happy faces that are still shining today, we presume that everybody had a swell time.

Patsy and Bobby and their heart-throbs thoroughly enjoyed a trip to Austin Sunday.

It is simply heart breaking to see some of these little lovers with that far-away look in their eyes. It couldn't be because they are being two-timed, huh? . . . We might find out from—?

One reason Mary Ann likes to stay with Barbara so well is because Barbara has such a captivating brother. My, how poetic they looked, dashing away on a royal steed, just like a knight and his lady in days of old.

SENIOR NEWS

We are glad that school is nearly out. We have all had a great time during the school period. We are very glad that the sugar rationing is over. The teachers worked hard filling out the blanks. We are sorry that a lot of children have whooping cough.

INTERMEDIATE NEWS

We have a hundred per cent present today (Tuesday). We are working hard on our work and our plays. Some were absent last week because they had to work. We hope they will be back this week. We will be glad when school is out because we want to put on our plays. The Intermediate room is having a picnic today (Tuesday). We have invited our mothers. The mothers who can come are Mrs. Curb, Mrs. Davee, Mrs. Adams. We person in their vast audience.

Only the home town paper has space for the social activities of the local church caretaker as well as those of the mayor's or banker's wife.

These great new developments utilizing the principles of radio are far greater threats to the dailies.

And it has been a well-grounded tradition that the average weekly editor wields a great influence over his little family of 1,900 readers; his indeed are the "grass roots." He writes for Tom, for Dick, for Harry, and not for "the peepul of this great nation." But these Toms, Dicks and Harrys of Small Town America are "the people."

Together with their "country editor" they have provided the thought and things which have made America great, and together in these turbulent, perilous days ahead, they will keep it great.

wish more could come, but they had to work.

PRIMARY NEWS

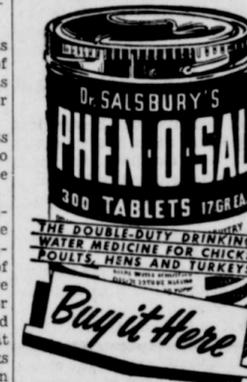

School will just be eight more days. The weather is getting so warm we can not stay awake.

We have four absent in our room today. They are Wayne Perry, Beulah Ann Perry, Loretta Adams and Joyce Truitt.

PEANUT BUTTER MARKET BOOSTS GROWER INCOME

NORFOLK, Va., May 6.—Total consumption of Texas peanuts and cash returns to the state's 66,431 farmer producers of this crop have been boosted in recent years by economies in processing and marketing peanut butter, a leading buyer of farm produce reported today.

More than 25 per cent of the South's commercial peanut crop went into peanut butter last year, and growers now receive a bigger share of the consumer's from any other ready-to-eat processed food, the report by B. D. Kellam of the A & P Food Stores' produce-buying affiliate declared. The report said increased efficiency in distributing peanut butter was one of the important factors in boosting $21.55 an acre in 1930-1939 to $39.95 last year.

"The grower's share of the retail dollar for peanut butter increased from an average of 32 cents during the 1935-1939 period to 42 cents last season, while annual consumption of Texas peanuts increased from 84,433,000 pounds in 1930-1939 to 171,500,000 pounds in 1941," Kellam pointed out.

A further indication that more efficient distribution brings increased consumption and greater returns to growers is provided by A & P's experience, Kellam said. During the past year, by eliminating unnecessary handling operations and costs, we were able to return producers 50.2 cents of the retail dollar for our brands of peanut butter—8.2 cents above the national average. At the same time, increased public consumption enabled the company to increase purchases of peanuts for butter 21 per cent in two years, from 26,700,992 pounds in the 1938-1939 season to 32,493,539 pounds in the 1940-1941 season," he reported.

Kellam pointed out that growers get far more of the retail dollar for peanut butter than they get from sales of other processed foods such as white bread, rolled oats, wheat cereal, rye bread, macaroni and soda crackers, for which farmer-producers get a share of the retail dollar ranging from 12 to 35 cents. Similarly, the farmer's share of the retail dollar on sales of most canned goods ranges between 15 and 20 cents, he added.

"As a matter of fact, growers get more out of the retail dollar from sales of peanut butter than from sales of some unprocessed foods. For example, growers today get only about 35 cents of the retail dollar for fresh fruits and vegetables moved to the consumers through all trade channels, despite the fact that some efficient distributors have streamlined fruit and vegetable marketing to the point where growers get as high as 85 cents return on some tonnage," Kellam said.

He explained that the report on "price spreads" in peanut butter marketing was prepared to help Texas peanut growers take stock of their market resources in planning the state's 1942 Food-Freedom goal of 1,056,000 acres, more than three times the 1941 planting.

He paid tribute to the peanut shelling industry for the economies and efficiencies this industry has developed in the past few years as an aid to the more

MOTHER'S DAY NEXT SUNDAY

"The love between a child and its mother is the germ of all love."

Miss Anna Jarvis of West Virginia organized in 1908 Mother's Day, for she had lost her own revered mother who had been a most beloved mother.

The second Sunday in May was decided upon on account of so many flowers and the carnation because it is a flower that can easily be worn by men.

The brave founder was not a mother but had the example and life pattern of her own wonderful mother and she visioned that love and life.

The Mother's Day idea grew and after years of perseverance, President Woodrow Wilson signed the bill and Mother's Day was here to stay.

It's a pity we do not pass on the love and courtesies to mother often. A card a week to mother from her absent child will put new life into her heart, a new song on her lips and a youthful spring to her faltering feet.

Bread can be cast upon the water if mother has gone on that long voyage through some other weary soul.

Send out gladness and a ray of sunshine and reap a harvest that is white.

Remember Friday is the date for the Home Demonstration Club at the school building. Bring your favorite cooked potatoes to the club and exchange recipes.

Lake Merritt H-D Club Meeting

The Lake Merritt Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. Jake Brown Wednesday, April 22. Our county agent, Miss Brammer, met with us. There were nine members and five visitors present. The main purpose of the meeting was to test pressure cookers. There were nine tested. Everyone in the community is getting ready to start canning. Some will have canning to do in about two weeks.

Each member took some kind of fresh vegetable and we learned how to combine them in cooking and make very appetizing dishes. We all spent a very enjoyable day. A delicious dinner was served. One of the main things we learned was how to cook dried beans and peas and save all the iron and Vitamin B which they contain. Put them into soak the night before cooking and start cooking in the same water soaked in, because in doing this you save all the food value which we need so much. Cook very slow. Do not put soda in them as that kills the vitamin B. We learn so many new things at these meetings that it is certainly worth while to attend them.

Our next club meeting will be with Mrs. Callaway on May 13.

the Homer Reeves home to visit Mrs. Sarah Ann Reeves.

In cooperation with the "Food for Freedom" Program, Mrs. Alvin Hanna and her sister, Mrs. Sydney Boyd, working together, have set 1,440 eggs this spring.

Stanley Reeves returned home Friday night from Segundo, Colorado, where he went to attend the funeral of his brother, Cicero Reeves, who was drowned near his home there April 23.

Stanley reports that the river which skirts Cicero's place had been on a big rise, but had gone down. Cicero decided to cross the river to get his mail. Men were working on the bridge, but they permitted him to ride over. When he returned, he seemed not to want to disturb the men, so he rode into the water. The river was not so deep, but was very swift. The men called to him not to try to ford it, but he either did not hear or did not heed. His horse stumbled and horse turned over and over, but went under, rider and all. But Cicero was not seen again until they found his body four hours later about three miles away. His leg was broken and there was a bad hurt on his head.

Cicero was born February 23, 1877, in Tennessee. In his early boyhood his parents settled here on the Colorado. A few years ago in the Reeves field, spears and skeletons were dug up, thought to be the remains of the original Camp Colorado.

It is hard for us who knew Cicero in his youth to think of him as gone. He was always the gallant and daring young man. Impulsive, never fearing to take a risk. He could swim the farthest, ride the wildest bronchos and with the girls he was a regular "Beau Brummell."

In November, 1902, he was married to Miss Sallie Hildebrand, one of the best-known, best-loved teachers of that time about half the citizens of this county went to school to her and remember her with happy memories. For many years they have lived in Colorado. Miss Sallie continued teaching, but Cicero rooted himself to the soil, working continuously with his orchard of apples strawberries and other fruits. Just a few days before he died he asked his wife to walk down to his orchard along the river. He said he had at last got it just like he wanted it and he wanted her to see it. She said it was the most beautiful sight she ever saw. In a few days the river got all over it, washing up the trees and covering them with mud. Then when it went down, the same treacherous river took his life.

He is survived by his wife; three sons, Allen and Sam of Los Angeles and Tom of El Paso; one daughter, Miss Olive Ann of Segundo; his mother, Mrs. Sarah Ann Reeves of Ebony; two brothers, Stanley and Homer of Ebony; two sisters, Mrs. Flora Hodges of Texhoma and Mrs. Brownie White of Los Angeles; and four grandchildren.

Paul Mashburn, another one of our boys, died at his home at Bangs Sunday and was buried Monday at Jenkins Springs. Paul lived here in his youth and since his marriage too. He married Virgie Sawyers, one of our own girls. He had been in bad health for several years.

He is survived by his wife; two sons, Paul, Jr. and Wayne of Bangs; mother, Mrs. Sarah Mashburn of Brownwood; one brother, Claud Mashburn of Ebony; three sisters, Mrs. Laura White of East Texas, Mrs. Ruby Brewster of Brownwood and Mrs. Edith Willis of Comanche.

Pallbearers were Elmer Sawyers, Ode Henson, Norvell Wade, Burt Briley, Alvin Ketchum and Allen Lovelace. Bangs Funeral Home was in charge. Herbert L. Newman, minister of the Austin Avenue Church of Christ, officiated.

MEANING OF THE NATIONAL DEBT

By GEORGE C. HESTER

The Secretary of the Treasury has announced an aggressive selling campaign for War Savings Bonds. The purpose behind this campaign is to get everybody to invest in the national debt.

There is perhaps no current question about which so much confusion and misunderstanding exist as that of the national debt. The average American is grimly certain that we shall win the war.

He even follows the military campaigns and the developments behind the military front with a marked degree of understanding. But when the question of the national debt is raised, its future meaning and significance, we only hear a babble of opinions.

This is due chiefly to the fact that Americans have paid little attention to governmental fiscal policies in the past. Both the schools and the colleges have largely ignored the subject.

Let us raise and consider a few of the elementary facts about the public debt. The authorized war outlays are now approaching a prospective cost of nearly 100 billions. This is increasing and will continue to do so as the war progresses.

Under this assumption, what will be the situation confronting us at the end of two years? Briefly, the picture will be about as follows:

The annual revenues under existing laws total about 16 billions. The new tax bill calls for another 7 billions. This will mean an annual tax income of some 22 billions, or thereabouts.

At the end of the war this amount of revenues will be far in excess of peacetime needs. The New Deal peacetime spending, for example, has averaged only about 9 billion annually.

Will the national debt ever be paid off? The answer to this question is probably "no," at least not in the lifetime of this or the next generation. This does not mean that each individual bondholder will not be paid.

Are government bonds then safe investments? The answer is "yes." There is no doubt about our government redeeming these bonds. Its control of the credit and monetary system, together with its taxing power, leaves no doubt on this issue.

What are the uncertainties about the future of a government bond? There is only one. The only element of risk grows out of the possibility of inflation. It pertains to the purchasing value of the money with which the bonds are redeemed.

This is the real objective behind the campaign to sell war bonds to all citizens. Once in the hands of the citizens generally, they are safe investments. Herein lies the soundest basis for war financing.

Congratulations, Mrs. Thompson. We are all mighty proud of you and admire your courage in carrying on. Now we correspondents should try to send in copy that would not show a single ruffled feather in the old Eagle's wings.

Like the rest of you folks, we have been having oodles of rain, but no hail except a few scattered drops to remind us that such things as ice storms do parade occasionally through the skies in bombarding fury. We are glad they skipped us.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQVIST, D. D. Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for May 10

MONDAY: THE DAY OF AUTHORITY

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 21:12-22. GOLDEN TEXT—My house shall be called a house of prayer for all peoples.—Isaiah 56:7.

Modern presentations of Christ in picture and sermon often give the impression that He was an effeminate man who went about doing gentle little deeds of kindness.

Such a picture of Christ, whether in words or on canvas, was never obtained from the Bible. Yes, He was gentle and kind; He did go about doing good; He was altogether humble—but why give the false impression that gentleness means weakness, kindness means a sentimental softness, etc.?

On Monday as our Lord came into the city He saw and dealt with the fruitless fig tree and later in the day He cleansed the temple. This seems to be the order of the events (see Mark 11) and we will so consider them.

I. Jesus Stimulates Faith by an Act of Judgment (vv. 12-22).

In the morning as Jesus returned to Jerusalem, He was hungry. He had probably spent the night in prayer after His time of fellowship with the disciples (Mark 11:11). It was early spring, and normally not the time for figs to be ready to eat, but He saw a tree which already had foliage on it.

In a swift miracle of judgment, He condemned the tree, which soon withered. Some have assumed that He acted in anger, but that is evidently not so. His act was a sign to Israel and to us. The fig tree was a figure of Israel (see Hosea 9:10, Joel 1:7, Luke 13:6-9). They as a nation had the outward signs of fruit, that is, the "leaves" of temple worship, teaching of the law, etc., but there was no fruit of repentance and faith, of real love for God (see Rom. 2:17-23). Judgment was certain, and our Lord cursed a useless, fruitless tree to try to awaken the people to their need.

So our Lord comes to us—to look below the foliage of Christian profession, of our charities and benevolences, of our correct doctrinal views—to see if there is any fruit of real Christian living. How often He must turn away in sadness because there is none.

This miracle was not only a sign of judgment; it was used by our Lord to stimulate the disciples' faith. What they had seen was only an indication of what faith (and note it was their faith) could do. The promise of God to those who, abiding in Christ and with His Word abiding in their heart, ask according to His will, in faith nothing doubting, is without limit.

II. Jesus Stimulates Praise by an Act of Authority (vv. 12-17).

For a second time He drove out from His Father's house those who had made it a place of merchandise, of commercialized thievery. This is a realistic picture. The Son of God and Son of Man steps into the center of this unholy traffic and with mighty, holy indignation (not anger) drives it out. The people who had suffered long because of this religious racket, which paid a "cut" to the priests themselves (probably as a "gift" even as such things are managed in our day), were jubilant.

The boys who were in the temple (for such is doubtless the meaning of "children" in v. 15) were so delighted at this magnificent exercise of His divine authority that they broke out into "Hosannas," which, as we have suggested, were really a holy "Hurrah." Well, why not? Hurrah for our Lord! He will not tolerate iniquity even though it hides under the cloak of religion. He is not afraid to speak out and to act against sin and corruption. Possibly the church would reach a good many more men and boys in our day if it would step out in faith to fight the wrong and support the right. Then maybe the young men would shout, "Hurrah for the church," instead of some of the things they are saying.

The chief priests and scribes were "sore displeased" (v. 15) both by the acts of Jesus and the praise of the boys. They would be! And they have a host of descendants who hold places of authority today—yes, even in the church—who would be much displeased if such things were to happen now. But why fear them? Is it not high time that the people of God honored their Lord both by faith and good works, regardless of what men may say? Ought we not to please God rather than men (see Acts 5:29 and Ps. 86:4)?

BABSON SAYS THAT CHILDREN ARE ASSETS

By ROGER W. BABSON (Copyright 1942)

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 1.—As today is Child's Health Day, I should like to write of children as an investment and insurance.

First, let me say that I believe in standard life insurance as sold by strong companies. Parents, however, should not depend wholly upon such policies or even upon stocks, bonds, or real estate. Their only sure protection is a family or healthy, intelligent, and God-fearing children.

God's Children

Talk about miracles! Are there any comparable with the conception of a little child? I have in mind not the tiny eyebrows, the perfect finger nails, and these obvious things which appeal to mothers,—but rather the child's marvelous unseen digestive, circulatory, nervous, and other systems. Consider the power to see and to hear,—to taste and to smell! The mechanisms of the eye and brain alone far excel any invention by man.

Think of the possibilities of the brain of a little child. Realize its ability for analysis, leadership, and happiness. How it can devise ways for the health, prosperity, and peace of mankind! There is no reason why there should not be thousands of Edisons, Marconis, and Fords — thousands of Shakespeares, Dickens, and Longfellow; thousands of Darwins, Pasteurs, and Einsteins.

Good Breeding Essential

Of course, we must use common sense in breeding children just as we would use in breeding animals, trees, or plants. We must have good stock. Some people are not fitted for parenthood. Hence, young people should take care with whom they mate. There is, however, enough good stock to breed a constantly growing and better race if the value of children could be appreciated. By value I do not mean something dreamy and idealistic in the future. I refer to a definite and concrete value in dollars and cents.

BUT—and here is the difficulty—children are like farms, factories, stores, and every other business! They will not grow or succeed by themselves. Children need constant thought and care. Children usually will not be assets if treated as luxuries or even if merely "loved." Children should be looked upon as investments. An account should be kept of every dollar spent upon them and they should be trained to repay many fold. If, therefore, we will give time and thought to the training of our children—as we give to our business and pleasures—they are sure to return marvelous dividends.

Nature's Plan

The first command in the Bible is to "multiply and replenish the earth." Until recent years large families have been synonymous with Christian homes. The morality of the world depends basically upon the proportion of children which the better families bring into the world. Statistics as to school houses, church buildings, college endowments, missionary gifts, etc., are largely window dressing. Raising a family of good children is the first duty of men and women.

A realization of the above facts is the great need of America today. Money, pensions, and social legislation may soon be of little value under present declining birth rate tendencies. Remember what is happening to France and is perhaps happening to England! Besides, the cycle of life indicates that we are gradually returning to that period when land and children will again be our main assets. Wise are those young people who now anticipate coming events by investing in and developing nature's really sound investments.

Looking Ahead

Many will wonder what will happen after World War II,—to our economic system, to our political traditions, and to the church. We assume that those now in control will decide these questions. We forget that we oldsters are gradually passing

"Deep In The Heart of Texas" This song about Texas has become the nation's number one hit tune. They hum it in Boston, whistle it in Denver, and sing it out loud in Memphis. Texas is a swell place; ask any stranger what he likes most about Texas and his quick answer is, "The friendliness and open hospitality of Texas people." That same friendliness and warm spirit of helpfulness is a very tangible part of the service we render. We're proud to be known as "Just Folks" who attend strictly to business, but who also take pleasure in applying the Golden Rule of friendship in our business dealings. Trent State Bank Goldthwaite, Texas Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation out of the picture and that an entirely new group will have unlimited power. The answer lies with our children. What are we doing to train them for these coming responsibilities?

Our present American way of life exists because of a certain balance of power made up in right proportions of employers and wage workers, educators and students, church members and "outsiders," conservatives and radicals. The success of America has been due largely to the diversification of these groups in proper proportions. But what if these proportions are upset? Such a misfortune will occur unless the spiritual, intellectual, and conservative families continue to propagate at least as rapidly as they have in the past and train their children in Christian citizenship. Let every community have a budget for new babies from good stock.

FRILLS ARE OUT (Authentic Babson Statement) The elimination of waste in all forms is an important factor in winning the war. We should voluntarily give up the luxuries and non-essentials, the production of which interferes with war needs. It is necessary to provide labor supplies and productive facilities and storage space for the more important needs of war production. Hence, we have restrictions and standardizations in many, many lines of consumer goods. Women's skirts will get shorter and their stockings may disappear. Men's suits, while pretty well standardized, will be cue on new lines to conserve cloth. Many liquid foodstuffs will appear as dried varieties packed in paper rather than in metal containers. Plywood and plastics will become standard substitutes for many metal products. This will help certain wood working and chemical companies which are now being converted into sources of new supplies. Get Accustomed To Changes Consumer goods, especially personal and household effects, will show marked changes. Living habits and standards must be revised for the duration. Only in a broad general fashion do householders and civilians now know what's ahead for them. To the casual shopper, most department store and other retail shelves appear comfortably filled. Watch out, however, for scarcities when replacements become necessary. Substitutes and simpler standardized products will, however, be available and serve the purpose for countless present products. This entire column could be devoted to lists of everyday items due for changes. In addition to the few already mentioned, there may be noted table silver, linens and blankets, kitchen utensils, personal clothing, furniture, tools, laundry necessities, electrical and mechanical appliances, dyes, medical and pharmaceutical supplies, building supplies, sporting goods and various foodstuffs. English families have discovered how well they can get along on how little. It has made them healthier and given them a direct part in their country's war effort.

WITLER WRITES FROM IRELAND

Mrs. T. A. Casbeer has received the following letter from her son, Pvt. M. L. Hufstutler. Mr. L. H. is a brother with MacArthur from whom no word has been heard since last Christmas.

March 16, 1942.

Dear Mother, Willie and Loretta,

Your letter a few days ago was glad to hear from you. I call the other I had about 15 mama, one from and yours. The rest were my old lady, so you can see that I have plenty writing to do.

Say, I got your package the time I got your letter, and it was candy sure was good. Of course you think I was telling a lie, but it was sure good. Course it was a little dry, but that didn't hurt it. All the boys said fell you that it sure was good, and if you wanted to you could send some more.

Well, it has been somewhere around two months since I left the old U.S.A. It seems like a year to me. I suppose you all know where I am by this time, but in case you don't, I am in Northern Ireland. I like it here very much and have been having lots of fun.

I have been going to some of the town hall dances. Of course I didn't dance, but just went to see and be seen.

The people here are kindly and nice to us so far, and of course we appreciate that very much.

Well Raymond is in a hot spot (his brother in the Philippines) and he will come back, as his leader knows his okra. I hear that foreign service men are going to get 20 per cent added to their pay. That will be pretty good. If we get it, I will draw $52 per month.

Say, this country is the most back-woods place I was ever in in all my life. I would say off-hand it is behind America one hundred and fifty years, so you all can guess the rest.

Well, nothing ever happens over here to write about, so guess I had better sign off for this time. Hoping this finds all of you well. Say, now, don't forget to answer this. With love,

ML.H.

FROM LT. HAMILTON TO HIS FAMILY

P. O. Box No. 84, Chilmark, Mass. April 20, 1942.

Dearest Mom and Family:

I know that you have been worried since I wrote you in January while at Fort Monmouth, New Jersey. I have been put out on an island since that time. I was sent back to Massachusetts for a few days' work in Boston. By the time you get this I will be back on the island but you can write me now at the above address.

Ge, how are all the folks? Shirley Ann must be quite grown by now. A big hug for me. Are the Suttons still in school. In two years Harold J., Jack and Eddie must be men. Are Effie and Goldie still in California? And Mom, how have you been, and Dad, too? Sure would like to see you all.

I am the commanding officer of a detachment of men on the island. We have been in tents all winter. Really it was cold up here, believe me. I have been well, though, and have grown quite accustomed to the cold. I have to drive 12 miles to take a bath, so I don't get in very often to wash my face.

Remember my telling you about Margaret? She is fine and wishes to be remembered to you all. There is not a finer girl living, Mom. I like her more every day.

Write me a long letter and tell me about everybody and everything.

I must be going now. Your son and bubba,

WENDELL.

Correct Way To Address Soldier Mail Is Explained

War Department Shows How To Speed Up Delivery

(All those who now have or expect to have a relative or friend in the Army will want to clip this article to keep for ready reference.—Editor.)

HOW TO ADDRESS MAIL TO SOLDIERS

Mail from home is the bright event of the day for the soldier and in the opinion of the War Department, supply of mail is second only to the supply of food as a morale agency. In keeping with its policy of striving for prompt and certain delivery of soldier mail the War Department, in an official bulletin, has reiterated instructions for proper addressing of mail for military personnel.

The following instructions are designed to enable the families and friends of soldiers to send their letters so that they will be delivered promptly to the man for whom they are intended.

Outside Continental United States

Mail addressed to Army personnel serving outside the continental limits of the United States should clearly show—

Grade, first name in full, middle initial, and last name of person addressed, followed by his Army serial number, if known.

Letter or number of the company or other similar organization of which the addressee is a member.

Designation of the regiment or separate battalion, if any, to which the company belongs.

Army post office number in care of the appropriate postmaster. The location of the overseas station should not be used.

Name and address of the sender in the upper left corner.

Within Continental United States

Mail addressed to Army personnel at posts, camps or stations within the continental limits of the United States should show the same information as prescribed above for units outside continental United States, except that the post office address of the post, camp, or station will be used, preceded in appropriate cases by the APO number if applicable.

Mail addressed to Army personnel on maneuvers within the continental United States should show the same information as prescribed above for outside continental United States. Prior to beginning of maneuvers, the Post Office Department, with the concurrence of the Army, will designate the postmaster in whose care mail for personnel involved will be addressed.

Envelopes

There should be sufficient space at the left of the address to allow for indorsements by forwarding agencies if it is not possible to deliver the piece of mail at the address given.

The following are examples of correctly addressed envelopes:

(Outside the U. S.)
From John R. Doe
205 W. State St.,
Boston, Mass.

Pvt. Willard J. Roe,
(Army Serial No.)
Company F,
167th Infantry,
APO 801, c-o Postmaster,
New York, N. Y.

(Within the U. S.)
Pvt. Willard J. Roe,
(Army Serial No.)
Company F,
167th Infantry,
Fort Bragg, N. C.

(On maneuvers in the U. S.)
Pvt. Willard J. Roe
(Army Serial No.)
Company F,
167th Infantry,
APO 304, c-o Postmaster,
Ragley, Louisiana.

The return address on mail from Army personnel will be shown in the upper left corner, as follows:
From Pvt. Willard J. Roe,
Company F, 167th Infantry,

APO 801, c-o Postmaster,
New York, N. Y.

Mr. John R. Doe,
205 W. State St.,
Boston, Mass.

Changes In Address

Upon change of station within continental United States—If the organization to which the soldier will be assigned at the new station is known prior to his leaving his present station, he will be instructed to notify his correspondents of the new complete address. If the organization to which he will be assigned is not known, the soldier will be advised to notify his correspondents that they should write to him at his old station until such time as he is able to furnish a new address. Immediately prior to leaving for a new station he will advise the Army post office at his old station by filling out a notice of change of address, giving the station to which he desires his mail to be forwarded. Upon arrival at new station and assignment to an organization, he will inform the post office at that place and also his correspondents as to his correct address.

To expedite the handling of incorrectly or insufficiently addressed letters to soldiers, a central locator file of all personnel will be established at every Army post, camp and station.

These central card files, covering entire organizations and installations, will supplement the separate files now maintained for divisional, regimental, and similar units. Cards will be furnished for all new personnel, and changes of address noted, within 24 hours.

Upon transfer to overseas station.—The soldier will be advised to notify his correspondents to address mail to him to show the various essential elements, including the APO No., c-o Postmaster, —. All movement orders covering transfer of troops to staging areas prior to their departure for overseas destinations contain instructions as to the proper addressing of mail which are not subject to modification by subordinate authority without prior approval of the War Department.

Code designations for overseas locations will not be used on personal mail.

Locations overseas will not be shown on the same piece of mail matter on which the APO number appears. Avoid any reference in correspondence which might associate the APO number with the geographical location of the unit.

But we are finding them—in books, in magazines, in the files of famous authors—and by arrangement with other publishers as well as with authors, the reprint in the approved "Reader's Digest" manner the best detective fiction to be produced.

Such masters as Dashiell Hammett, Agatha Christie, Stuart Palmer and Ellery

MELBA THEATRE NEWS

"BIRTH OF THE BLUES" HAS RECORD NUMBER OF SONGS
 More music than you could shake a baton at is heard in the Paramount musical, "Birth of the Blues," which gives its way into the Melba Theatre, beginning with Saturday prevue, with Bing Crosby and Mary Martin heading a cast including Brian Donlevy, Carolyn Lee, Rochester and Jack Teagarden.
 Outstripping all other musicals, the new tune film gets into the groove with the presentation of 15 songs. Previously any musical having even ten songs was enough to cause the most excited comment.

The decision to put so many songs into one film came after extended conversations between Director Victor Schertzinger and Bing Crosby, both of whom agreed that the American people are turning to music and comedy as never before as relief from the strain of crucial events.
 Most of the songs they included in the picture are fondly regarded veterans, and some of them are hailed as American classics by musical authorities.
 In the picture, most of the songs are sung by Bing Crosby and Mary Martin, with Bing occasionally playing the clarinet. Brian Donlevy contributes a few trumpet solos. Jack Teagarden, famous orchestra leader and noted trombonist, plays several solos also.
 A show of shows—Don't miss it.

NO. ONE RACKETEER REALLY CIVIC HERO

It is one of Hollywood's ironies that the No. 1 gangster of the screen is in private life the most active leader in civic, charitable and patriotic affairs.
 Edward Arnold, whose benign countenance can and does become menacing on the screen, is probably the busiest man in Hollywood. Currently the overlord of gangsters in "Unholy Partners," coming to the Melba Theatre next Tuesday and Wednesday, with Edward G. Robinson and Laraine Day, Arnold's engagement book is more crowded than that of the average business executive.
 He is president of the Screen Actors' Guild and heads the Hollywood activities of the United Service Organizations to which Robinson recently contributed a large sum. In addition, Arnold is a member of the national and Los Angeles boards of the American Federation of Radio Artists and he is an active member of the Los Angeles division of the National Defense Committee headed by Nelson Rockefeller.
 This is truly a great show and a big bargain for Bargain Night.
