SUGGESTIONS FOR FALL GARDENS

In a short time every farmer will be busily engaged in harvesting cotton and other crops, and when this big job starts, the average person will not take time out to prepare and plant a garden. So let's DO THIS JOB NOW.

Get the soil ready now. If you expect to have a fall garden, it is time to remove all weeds and apply barnyard manure plowing it into the soil to a depth of 4 or 5 inches. If the soil breaks up cloddy, break up the clods as small as possible, so that with the first rain it will be ready to plant.

Then have the seed on hand. The next time you go to town, buy the seed for your fall Victory Garden, so that you will not have to lose time or burn up rubber making an extra trip for seed at planting time. What kind of seed to buy. Don't limit your garden to turnips and greens when there are so many other vegetables that will grow well during the fall gardening season. Wise planting will assure an assortment of good vegetables and at the same time avoid losses from the fall gardening hazards of late summer heat, early frosts, heavy rain fall, and insect damage. Here's how.

Plant these vegetables to mature before frost:

Kind	Variety	Planting Date
Beans	Pinto	Now to August 31
Potatoes	Bliss Triumph	Now to August 31
English Peas	Thomas Laxton	Sept. 1-15
Radishes	Scarlet Globe	Sept. 1-15
Beans	Stringless Green Pod	Sept. 1-15
Lettuce	New York or Los Angeles	October 15-30
Mustard	Tendergreen	October 15-30

Plant semi-hardy vegetables to withstand light frost:

Kind	Variety	Planting Date
Carrots	Danvers Half Long	Sept. 1-15
Cabbage	Charles Wakefield	Sept. 1-15
Turnips	Shogoin	Sept. 1-15
Broccoli	Green Sprouting	Sept. 1-15
Beets	Detroit Dark Red	Sept. 1-15
Swiss Chard	Lucullus	Sept. 15-30

Plant hardy vegetables to withstand heavy frost:

Kind	Variety	Planting Dates
Collards	Louisiana Sweet	Sept. 1-15
Kale	Dwarf Curled	Sept. 1-15
Onions	White Bermuda	Sept. 1-15
Salsify	Sandwich Isle	Sept. 1-15
Spinach	Long Standing Bloomsdale	Oct. 1-15
Rape, Rutabagas, Shallots	dale or Noble	Sept. 1-15

Spinach will not tolerate the heat of late summer, nor can it stand "wet feet." Wait until the weather has cooled off, then sow the seed on top of a ridge or bed so that the soil will be well drained. Where rainfall is heavy, the Noble variety should be used, since it has an upright growth and is less likely to be drowned out than the varieties that make a spreading growth such as Long Standing Bloomsdale.

Cabbage and lettuce planted in September from seed should be thinned out in October or early November when the plants are about 3 inches high. Allow a spacing of 12 inches between plants, and use the plants thinned out to make an extra row in the garden.

Potatoes may be sprouted before planting, or "dry planting" may be done. Where it is impossible to irrigate the garden soil, seed potatoes should be planted without sprouting. Placing sprouted potatoes in dry dirt does not gain anything for the grower, and may actually retard the crop by causing the sprouts to dry up for lack of moisture. "Dry planting" may be done in August by thoroughly preparing the soil and planting the seed pieces 4-5 inches deep where there is a better chance for soil moisture. The backyard gardener with facilities for irrigating the potato patch can well afford to sprout potatoes before they are planted. Spread out the seed potatoes in the shade and cover with straw or wet sacks. Keep wet for several days until the potatoes begin to sprout. Then irrigate the garden soil to provide enough moisture to keep the sprouted potatoes growing. Drop the seed potatoes 14 inches apart, three inches deep. Small potatoes saved back from the spring crop may be kept in a cool place and used for seed in the fall, providing a rest period of six weeks is allowed to elapse between harvesting and planting. In preparing the soil for fall potatoes, mix thoroughly with rotted manure. In sandy localities, add 3 pounds per 100-foot of row of 4-12-4 commercial fertilizer.

TOMATOES—AN EASY VEGETABLE TO CAN

One of the season's most versatile foods, the tomato, is lending a bright touch of color to gardens, markets, and tables these days. Aside from being pleasing in appearance and refreshing to taste, the tomato has another advantage—that of being an easy vegetable to can. And the tomato is nutritious too. Well known as a valuable source of Vitamin C, this vegetable also gets honorable mention for its Vitamin A, some Vitamin B-1, and iron. The vitamin lost in canning the fresh tomato is slight. Neither does reheating canned tomatoes when you open them have much effect on food value.

This season the tomato crop is a good one. For the second time this summer fresh tomatoes have been designated a Victory Food Special. They make their return engagement for the period of August 24 through September 5 in the states east of the Mississippi River and north of the Ohio and Potomac Rivers.

In any locality, however home-makers can take advantage of the most opportune time to can tomatoes. The best time for canning this vegetable of course, is whenever supplies of top-notch tomatoes are plentiful on nearby markets or in your own Victory Garden.

Easy To Can

Tomatoes are easy to can at home, compared with non-acid vegetables such as corn and peas. Because tomatoes are acid, such as fruits, you can process them in a boiling water bath instead of the pressure canner required for practically all other vegetables.

To save jar space—important now when there is a shortage of canning equipment—can tomatoes by the hot pack method. By canning tomatoes this way, more can be put in a given amount of container space than by packing them raw. Whether you prefer to can the tomatoes themselves, by the hot pack way, or just the tomato juice, here are some "how-to-do-it" tips:

Canning Tomatoes

Use firm, ripe tomatoes with no decayed spots. One bit of decayed meat can spoil a whole jar of tomatoes. If you have some tomatoes which have decayed spots but are otherwise good, save them for eating fresh.

First skin the tomatoes. The easiest way to do this is to put them in a tray or wire basket, dip them in boiling water for about a minute, and follow with a quick dip in cold water. Then drain, peel, and remove the cores.

Cut the tomatoes in quarters, heat to boiling and hold at boiling until the pieces are heated through. Then pack boiling hot into containers—adding 1 teaspoon of salt for every quart. Fill the jars or cans with boiling hot tomato juice and process immediately in a boiling water bath canner.

To make such a canner, use any vessel with a tight cover, big enough to hold several containers and allow for covering them with 1 to 2 inches of water. A large kettle or a wash boiler would be suitable. Fit the canner with a rack on the bottom on which to place the jars or cans. Have water boiling in the canner. Then put the containers of hot-packed tomatoes on the rack, leaving enough room for the water to circulate freely around and under each. Make the boiling water cover the containers from 1 to 2 inches and keep it at this level throughout processing.

Put the top on the canner. Start counting processing time when the water begins to boil rapidly. Process tomatoes for five minutes, whether you use tin or glass containers. This processing time applies only to altitudes of 1,000 feet or less. If you live in higher altitudes, increase the time 20 per cent for each additional 1,000 feet—making the time 6 minutes for a 2,000-foot elevation and so on.

Canning Tomato Juice

Work fast when you can tomato juice—this saves vitamins. To insure speed, work with only enough tomatoes to make 1 to 2 gallons of juice at a time.

First, wash and trim the tomatoes. You do not have to remove the skins. To preserve the flavor and color, use stainless steel knives if possible. Avoid copper, brass or iron utensils.

Cut the tomatoes into small pieces. Then put them on the stove and simmer them until the yare softened. Do not boil them.

Put the hot tomatoes through a fine sieve—in order to remove the skins and seeds.

Add from ½ to 1 teaspoon of salt to each quart of juice. However, omit the salt if the juice is for infants or invalids on saltless diets.

Reheat the juice immediately. If you use glass containers, heat the juice just to boiling, pour it into the sterilized jars or bottles, and seal them. No processing is necessary. Invert the jars while they are cooling.

If you use tin containers, heat the juice to 180 to 190 degrees F. or to simmering, pour it into the cans, seal, and process for five minutes. This processing time applies to altitudes of 1,000 feet or less. Increase the processing time 20 per cent for every 1,000 feet additional altitude.

Do not leave any head space when putting tomato juice in either glass jars or tin cans.

Because spices tend to darken the color of the juice and change the flavor, it is best to add them at the time you serve the juice instead of when you can it.

THE STATE OF TEXAS

To MRS. EVA NICKOLS, Defendant, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to appear before the Honorable District Court of Mills County at the Court House thereof, in Goldthwaite, Texas, at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 12th day of October, A. D. 1942, then and there to answer Plaintiff's Petition filed in said Court, on the 25th day of August, A. D. 1942, in this cause, numbered 2714 on the docket of said Court and styled Glenn Nickols, Plaintiff, vs. Mrs. Eva Nickols, Defendant.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to-wit:

Suit for divorce. Plaintiff alleging that he, Glenn Nickols, was on the 21st day of May, 1934, married to Defendant, Mrs.

Eva Nickols, in Williamson County, Texas, and that they continued to live together as husband and wife until on or about the 14th day of August, A. D. 1942, when she the said Defendant, abandoned him. Plaintiff alleges that about two years prior to the time of their separation the defendant began a course of unkind, harsh and cruel treatment towards plaintiff, as is more fully set out in plaintiff's petition on file in this cause, that defendant has been given to such unbecoming conduct and has carried on such a series of vexatious that it has rendered said plaintiff's and defendant's living together as husband and wife insupportable. That there is no community property and that there were no children born to this said marriage. Plaintiff prays for judgment dissolving the marriage contract now existing between plaintiff and defendant, for costs of suit and for such other and further relief, special and general in law and in equity, as is more fully shown by Plaintiff's Petition on file in this suit.

The officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law, and make due return as the law directs. Issued and given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Goldthwaite, Texas, this the 25th day of August, A. D. 1942.

Attest:

W. E. SUMMY, Clerk,
District Court, Mills County,
Texas. 9-18

MILLS COUNTY BEHIND IN ITS NAVY QUOTA

In the U. S. Navy's campaign to enlist at least 6,000 men during the months of August and September, in which campaign Mills County has been assigned a quota of 12 men, no men have been enlisted from this county.

Lieut. L. H. Ridout, Jr., officer in charge of the North Texas recruiting district, has announced, "Many counties are reaching their quotas, but the report from this county is far from encouraging," said Lieut. Ridout. He was confident, however, that the various civic groups and committees aiding in this tremendous drive for recruits would redouble their efforts to aid in procuring men for naval service.

He was also confident that the quota of 6,000 men from the North Texas district would be reached and expressed his thanks to all persons and organizations actively engaged in this campaign.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Manley of Brownwood spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bryant.

Henry Featherston has been confined to his bed for a couple of months on account of illness.

Bob Johnson, Jr., is home for a few days.

Obenhaus-Daniel

Miss Lollie Obenhaus became the bride of Oda Daniel on Sunday, August 16, 1942, in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Obenhaus, before a large number of friends. Rev. L. L. Hays performed the ceremony. Catherine Epperson and Pat Obenhaus were the bride's and groom's only attendants. Janice Ann Obenhaus, niece of the bride, was ring-bearer.

Mrs. Daniel graduated from Goldthwaite High School in 1941, and was enrolled in business school at Austin. Mr. Daniel graduated in 1940. He attended John Tarleton College in Stephenville for the past two years. The bride was lovely in a cinnamon brown dress of silk jersey with harmonizing accessories.

An informal reception was held after the ceremony, and the couple left immediately for points in West Texas and New Mexico.

Out-of-town guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Howard and son Michael of San Antonio; Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Obenhaus and daughters, Janice and Patricia of Belton; and Mrs. H. D. Howard and Miss Sue Casey of Brownwood.

WTCS

The WTCS met Monday, Aug. 16, at the Methodist Church. Mrs. Jernigan led a short business session.

The worship service was led by Miss Love Gatlin.

Our educational program was a round-table discussion of the things to be accomplished by our own society for the coming year.

Our next meeting will be Sept. 21. The ladies of the church are urged to be present.

NEW COOLING SYSTEM FOR CAMP BOWIE HOSPITAL IS SECURED

CAMP BOWIE, Aug. 26.—A cooling system for the station hospital auditorium, long a dream of the Red Cross field service at Camp Bowie, now is a near-reality as a result of a pledge of $1,000 for its installation by the Camp Bowie Camp and Hospital Service Council at a recent meeting in the station hospital auditorium.

The council is composed of the Red Cross Chapters of 10 adjacent counties; namely, Mills, San Saba, Llano, Coleman, Comanche, Eastland, Mason, Hamilton, McCullough and Brown Counties.

Purpose of the council, which is sponsored by the Red Cross field service, is to provide greater entertainment facilities for soldiers within the camp. Through donations, both of money and equipment, the organization plans to furnish badly needed articles for regimental day-rooms as well as for the station hospital library and recreational center.

Mrs. C. L. Smith of Brownwood, chairman, presided over the meeting. It was the first since the council was organized two months ago. It was agreed that a budget of $2,000 for financial expenses, in addition to which representatives of the various chapters said they would round up suitable supplies and equipment.

Walter J. Barron, Red Cross field director, spoke of the necessity of an immediate installation of a cooling system in the hospital auditorium, which he said would cost $1,000.

He stated movies are shown twice a week in the auditorium to approximately 600 patients to whom no admission prices are charged. Because hospital rules required patients to be in bed at 9 p. m., he said it was necessary to start the movies at 6:30 which, during the summer, was still a warm hour. Furthermore, he added, the windows had to be covered with blackout curtains to shut out the daylight. The heat under such conditions, he termed as "unbearable."

Asking for commitments to defray the cost of the cooling system as soon as possible, Mr. Barron announced that the national chapter had donated $250 to start the ball rolling.

Cash donations and pledges by the representatives soon boosted the amount to $915, whereupon Mrs. J. Claud Smith of Brownwood, representing the First Methodist Church, volunteered to head a committee to raise the remaining $85.

A motion was then adopted by the council to use the first $1,000 of the budget to pay for the cooling system.

Miss Maryanna Chockley, assistant field director for the Red Cross, read a report enumerating the articles contributed by the chapters so far. She also mentioned a number of things still needed.

The council will meet again Thursday, Sept. 17, in the hospital auditorium.

MILLS COUNTY CAMP BOWIE HOSPITAL SERVICE REPORT

We have received and delivered to Camp Bowie Hospital the following articles from Mills County:

- A piano for their auditorium;
- A shuffle board set;
- A croquet set;
- 20 small feather pillows;
- 21 small pillow cases;
- 6 lap robes for wheel-chair patients;
- 12 flower containers;

The committee thanks all who donated these things, and those who gave their time and work.

The needs of the hospital are so great we shall have to continue to help all we can.

Let's make the sick soldiers as comfortable as possible.

MRS. J. A. HESTER, Chairman.

NEW BUSINESSES CAN OBTAIN SUGAR QUOTAS

New retail and wholesale businesses that have opened up since rationing went into effect last April 28 may now obtain allowable sugar inventories under an amendment of the sugar rationing regulations, A. T. Pribble, chairman of the Mills County War Price and Rationing Board, has announced.

"A new retailer will be given an allowable inventory of one pound of sugar for each $1 of gross sales he estimates will be made during the first week of his operation," Mr. Pribble explained. "The retailer's estimated gross sales should include all commodities such as meats, groceries, fruits, vegetables and canned goods."

"Our office has been advised by the Office of Price Administration to make certain that persons making application for new wholesale or retail sugar allowances are actually opening businesses," Mr. Pribble added.

Within ten days after the completion of the first two full months of operation, the new retailer or wholesaler must mail or deliver in person a written report to his local board. Mr. Pribble said, and in the case of the retailer, this report must show his average weekly sales. The wholesaler must report his actual sale of sugar for the two-week period. If the board finds the initial allowable was too large, it may reduce the size by requesting the retailer or wholesaler to turn in stamps or certificates for cancellation; and if the original inventory was too small, this may be increased by the issuance of a certificate.

AUTOMOBILE RATIONING

Men of the armed forces of the United States are eligible to purchase new passenger automobiles, A. T. Pribble, chairman of the Mills County War Price and Rationing Board, announced this week. If they can provide proof that a car is needed for transportation between residence and post of duty or on official military business where no practical means of transportation exists and where no military vehicle can be supplied for their use.

Mr. Pribble said this is the purpose of Amendment No. 12 to the new passenger automobile rationing regulations. That amendment parallels a change made recently in the tire rationing regulations, to make Army and Navy personnel eligible for recapped tires under the same conditions of necessity.

The War and Navy Department recommended such action in both instances.

Mr. Pribble explained that a member of the armed services, in order to establish eligibility to buy a new car, must present to the local War Price and Rationing Board a statement from his commanding officer showing:

1. No other practicable means of transportation are now available.

2. The automobile will be used for necessary transportation between residence and post of duty, or on official military business but not to transfer applicant from post to post.

3. No quarters can be provided for the applicant at his post of duty or where his work is to be performed, or the applicant's duties require frequent travel.

4. The commanding officer will take all reasonable steps to insure that the applicant carries as many passengers as practicable at all times, and the vehicle will be used exclusively for the purpose stated in the application, except for minimum use for necessary personal purposes other than pleasure driving.

Voyd Lee Doggett, quartermaster at Naval Air Base, Norfolk, Va., is enjoying a ten-day furlough with homefolks.

Sgt. Elwain Doggett of Camp Bowie made a short visit here Tuesday.

Miss Bonnie Ferne Doggett spent last week-end in San Marcos.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Pass had as their guests over the week-end Mrs. Pass's sister, Mrs. Mattie Casbeer of Abilene, Mrs. H. Y. Phelan and little son Wayne of Brownwood, Fred Nickols and Robert Gibbons of Lampasas, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sheppard of Killen, and their son, Sidney Pass, and family of Abilene.

'THANK YOU'

I wish to thank my many friends for their support August 22nd.

I will do my best to be a Commissioner to whom you will not regret your past favors when my time to serve you is over.

Again thanking you, I am,

Sincerely yours,

L. A. (LOYT) ROBERTS
