NUMBER SIX

RUBBER BOOTS AND RUBBER WORK SHOES ARE TO BE RATIONED

Because of the serious rubber shortage, certificate rationing of men's rubber boots and rubber work shoes has been ordered by the Office of Price Administration to insure necessary supplies of this footwear for men working on jobs essential to the war effort or the public health and safety. A. T. Pribble, chairman of the Mills County War Price and Rationing Board, announced this week.

Mr. Pribble said this action was taken at the direction of the War Production Board.

Effective at midnight on September 29, Mr. Pribble said the OPA ordered all sales and shipments of six types of men's rubber boots and rubber work shoes frozen to prevent a buyers' "run" on the stocks now on hand and also to give dealers time to take inventory.

All retailers, wholesalers and manufacturers of the rationed footwear are required to obtain OPA inventory forms from their local War Price and Rationing Board on either Thursday, Friday or Saturday of this week.

The "freeze" period will end on Monday, October 5, when rationing to customers begins. The Mills County War Price and Rationing Board will be open to workers and company purchasing agents who need certificates rationing them to buy the rationed footwear, Mr. Pribble said.

"All sellers of rationed rubber footwear—retailers, wholesalers and manufacturers—are required to take inventory on OPA forms as of midnight next Saturday, Oct. 3. The following specified types of men's rubber boots and rubber work shoes require a high crude rubber content and therefore are included under the rationing order: (1) hip-height rubber boots, including all boots of hip, body and thigh heights; (2) over-the-knee rubber boots, including Storm King heights; (3) all heavy short rubber boots; (4) all light-weight short rubber boots; (5) rubber pacs, booties and work shoes less than 10 inches in height. All variations in style and design within these six broad classifications are included." Mr. Pribble added that most types of rubber footwear necessary for ordinary use can be made mostly from reclaimed rubber and therefore are not rationed but can be purchased as usual.

He emphasized that OPA has restricted sales of the rationed footwear because it is pressed on one hand by the same rubber shortage that has restricted the sale of tires, and on the other by a demand for men's rubber boots and rubber work shoes that grows as wartime agricultural and industrial activity increases.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

A Flying Fortress is to America's air fleet what heavy artillery is to the Army. This gigantic four-motored bomber, equipped with heavy cannon, carries about three tons of bombs and reaches a speed of about 300 miles an hour.

These ships carry a crew of seven to nine men, weigh about 22½ tons, have a wing spread of 106 feet and each motor develops 1,000 horsepower. We need more of these "Flying Fortresses" to compete with the Nazi air force. You can help by investing at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every payday. Buy them from your bank, post-office or other convenient issuing agent.

MILLS COUNTY BOYS ENLIST AT RANDOLPH

Randolph Field, Texas, Sept. 30.—Clarence Wayne Cornelius, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Cornelius, and Carlos Patterson of Goldthwaite were among the new recruits who enlisted as aircraft mechanics and radio technicians at Randolph Field recently, Major General H. R. Harmon has announced.

Cornelius, who has been a machine shop foreman for the past six years, and Patterson, who had been employed by the Texas State Highway Department for 11 years, are among the hundreds who answered General Harmon's recent appeal for mechanically-minded workers between the ages of 18 and 50 who would like to serve their country in a field in which they are experienced. By a recent order men of 1-B classification will also be accepted as airplane mechanics.

After a brief period of basic training these men will go to work as airplane mechanics, armorers, metal workers, welders, or aircraft radio operators, radio mechanics, or radio technicians.

Experience in operating and maintaining farm machinery, tractors, reapers, binders, cream separators, etc., gave many of the men who recently enlisted the mechanical skill they will need for their new jobs.

Men interested in enlisting under this new plan may apply in person or by letter to either Major Thomas J. Royder, Post Headquarters Building, Randolph Field; Lieut. Ralph W. Bergstrom, 390th School Squadron, Kelly Field; or Captain John M. Platten, Post Recruiting Office, Brooks Field.

Applicants who communicate by letter should include their full name, address, and complete mechanical experience, General Harmon said.

MILLS COUNTY OVER TOP IN BOND DRIVE 6 DAYS AHEAD TIME

For September's Billion Dollar Bond Drive Mills County was given a quota of $15,000. By September 24, this amount of bonds had been sold. A list of 202 names of Bond Buyers has been sent to the Theatre War Activities Committee in Dallas, who in turn will give the list to North American Aviation Plant at Grand Prairie, Texas, where the names will be placed on a bronze plaque and put in a B-25 bomber.

For the $21,260 invested in bonds in Mills County from Aug. 31 to Sept. 24, the committee working on this sale is especially grateful. We know that America must be saved at any cost, but it is fine to work with people who never fail to meet a call—large or small. Let's put over the October quota.

Having completed this course, Mr. Smith is qualified in all branches of civilian defense. The people of Goldthwaite and Mills County are very fortunate in being so ably represented by such an enthusiastic person. He is to be commended for the work he is doing in the city and county, as he spends his entire time with the Red Cross and other defense work without pay.

There were 19 men in attendance at the school, representing the states of Louisiana, Georgia, Oklahoma, Mississippi, and Texas.

NEW PASTOR HERE

REV. D. A. BRYANT

Rev. and Mrs. D. A. Bryant and two children, Mildred Llewellyn and James Truett, arrived in Goldthwaite Wednesday. Rev. Bryant will be pastor of the First Baptist Church here.

Rev. Bryant received his education at Wayland College at Plainview, Howard Payne College, Brownwood, and at the Southwest Baptist Theological Seminary at Fort Worth.

He has served as pastor of the Westmoreland Baptist Church, Dallas, at the First Baptist Church in Madella, Minnesota, and has served the First Baptist Church at Richland Springs for the last sixteen months.

The people of Goldthwaite welcome Rev. and Mrs. Bryant and family.

METHODIST NOTICE

Next Sunday morning we will observe World Communion Sunday, along with the rest of Christendom. All Christian people are asked to join in this communion service. It is of supreme importance that we at this time seek God's blessings upon us. There is no place where we may find true repentance and deep spiritual fellowship with God better than at the communion table. May we urge all the people to attend their church or some other church and join with us in this observance of the broken body and shed blood of our Lord for the sins of the world.

Just before the communion we are going to present to the church a poster on which are the names of our men in service. This should be a most impressive service. All Methodists should be at this service. Many of you have loved ones on that roll.

We will have no service Sunday evening as we will attend the Baptist Church, to join with them in giving hearty welcome to their new pastor. Brother Dawson and his people came over to our church last year when your new pastor came. We wish to show them the same fine spirit of fellowship that they showed us.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Actual experience on the world's war fronts has proved the collapsible boat an essential safety feature for both Naval and land based planes. They are made of rubberized material, easily inflated.

At the Battle of Midway an Army Lieutenant, after bombing a carrier, was forced to bail out of his bomber. He was able to get a "fish eye" view of the entire battle from his collapsible boat and was later picked up by an American plane. Your purchase of War Bonds with at least ten percent of your income every payday will help protect the lives of men who are flying for you. Get behind them today. U. S. Treasury Department

Galveston, (SpI)—Concentrating on repairs important to the war effort—jobs which must go through without delay—the car shops of the Santa Fe Railway at Cleburne repaired more than 8,000 freight and passenger cars during the first eight months of 1942, according to R. B. Ball, vice-president and general manager of the Gulf Lines.

Heavy repairs to cars during that period showed an increase of approximately 50 per cent over figures for the same period in 1941.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

FLOYD P. SMITH, Pastor

Our revival with Rev. and Mrs. C. William Fisher brought to a glorious climax our labors in the Goldthwaite church this past year. A large number were either saved, sanctified or reclaimed and sixteen came into the church. This was truly one of the greatest revivals the church has had in years. Bro. Fisher is a prince of young men and did some very fine preaching. Their special music and songs were greatly appreciated and inspiring. We wish to express our appreciation to the friends and neighbors and visiting friends from other churches who helped make this revival a success.

Wife and I have been called to pastor in Harlingen, Texas, and will move the first of next week. I will bring my farewell address to the church Sunday night of October the fourth.

We have enjoyed our stay in Goldthwaite and though we are thankful for a promotion in our work for God, yet it makes our hearts heavy when we think of leaving all the wonderful friends we have made in Goldthwaite. The people of Goldthwaite have been grand and treated us in a most fraternal manner. We are really glad we ever came to Goldthwaite for otherwise we would have missed knowing so many grand people. We feel that when the final judgment is set and the books are opened and the names are called that we will hear the names of many friends of different denominations from Goldthwaite and then the words, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant. Enter into the joys of thy Lord."

H.D. COUNCIL MEETING POSTPONED

Mrs. Louise McAlister, the present agent, will leave Saturday, Oct. 3, for San Francisco, Calif., where her husband is now stationed.

BLITZING FOOD WASTE IN YOUR PANTRY

Wage a real "blitz" attack on food waste in your kitchen cupboards and other storage places this autumn. As war goes on, there is greater need to be alert against insects, mold, dampness, mice, and all the other saboteurs of the pantry.

One effective way to get all the good from food is to store it well until used. Put each type of food in the place it will keep best—in the right, and correctly cared-for, cupboard, cooler, can, or jar. Then check once in a while to make sure the food is ready for table duty when needed.

Sugar and spice are doubly precious these days. To store well, these foods need clean, tight containers that keep out dust, moisture, insects, and mice. Spices, coffee, and tea need containers tight enough to keep in prized flavors. When you open your cupboard door and get a spicy whiff of cinnamon or cloves—watch out. You can lose taste along with fragrance on the kitchen air. Keep spices in a cool place.

The best place to store flour is in a tight can, jar, or bin—to keep out light as well as moisture, mice, bugs, and dust. Clean these containers thoroughly before putting in new supplies of flour.

Bread will stay fresh longer, keep from molding in humid weather, if you wrap it in moistureproof paper and put it in the refrigerator. Otherwise, put your bread in a ventilated box. Cool home-cooked bread before storing.

Cake, also, ought to be thoroughly cooled before you put it away. It needs its own well-covered box, ventilated if in a humid climate. Both bread and cake containers must be spotlessly clean to keep away mold. They need scalding, airing and sunning regularly.

Crackers and crisp cookies soften if you store them with bread or cake. To keep them in the best condition, put those foods by themselves in clean, air-tight tins or boxes. And if you have a cookie jar, make sure it has a tight-fitting top.

According to a recent survey, American homemakers planned to put up over three billion jars of food, or about 50 per cent more in this war year than recent peacetime years. Many homemakers this year are putting up vegetables and fruits from their Victory Gardens. Whether you have a large array of canned goods on hand or only a few jars, you can't afford to lose a single jar.

Foods canned in glass need to be stored in a cool, dark place. Light affects their color and vitamins. Keep tinned goods dry to prevent cans from rusting. Rust may eat through metal and cause the food within to spoil. If you have home-dried some of the produce from your Victory Gardens, store these dried vegetables in tight, moisture-proof containers. And keep the containers themselves in a cool, dark, dry place.

The natural sugar in dried fruit keeps it from molding easily, but dried fruits, too, need protection against dust, moisture, and pests. As an extra precaution against weevils or worms, look over stored dried fruit once in a while—especially if you still have warm weather.

Quick-frozen foods need a place in the freezing compartment of a mechanical refrigerator, to stay there until used. These foods must be kept frozen solidly—and even then, not held too long. Once thawed, frozen foods spoil quickly. Do not re-freeze them.

Butter and cheese need to be cold for safe-keeping. Also keep them well covered, so that butter will not take up odors and so that cheese will not share its strong odor with something else. Cottage cheese and other soft types should be used quickly. Hard, cured cheese may be kept longer if you wrap it well and store in a cold place.

Fats keep best when stored in clean, tightly covered jars or tins and put in a cool, dark place. Those you save, to use again should be strained . . . and they need as much care as new fats.

We wish to thank our many friends for their kindness shown us during the illness of our wife and mother. May God bless each and every one of you.

ARMY AND SORGHUM WORMS REPORTED

Sorghum web worms are causing damage to sorghums in parts of Mills County by feeding on the seed of the sorghum heads in the field. According to Paul Gregg, Assistant Entomologist of the Extension Service of A. and M. College, there is no way of controlling this pest on grain sorghums in the field since a poison required to kill the worms if applied to the heads of the sorghum or seed would make it unsafe for livestock. About all that can be recommended is cultural practices, that is deep fall plowing and destruction of all grain sorghum stalks left in the field. If possible the grain sorghum should be cut and put into a silo where the pests are very abundant as they are sure to strip the heads.

Fall army worms are reported to be causing some damage to the foliage of peanuts in some parts of the county. Some think the cotton leaf worm is causing the damage, but Mr. Gregg says the cotton leaf worms feed on cotton plants only. A stomach poison will kill these worms if applied on the vines as a dust but it would be unsafe to use calcium arsenate or cryolite as a dust on peanuts unless they are going to be left in the field undug for a period of four weeks or more. Poison bran mash would probably be the best control measure for this pest. Prepare the bait with 100 pounds of wheat bran, 4 pounds of white arsenate, Paris green, or sodium fluosilicate, 2 gallons of cheap black-strap molasses and enough water to make the bait moist—7 to 10 gallons. The bait should be distributed early in the morning or late in the afternoon.

GET TURKEYS READY FOR MARKET

Turkey growers should start at once to finish their birds for market, says George P. McCarthy, poultry husbandman for the A. and M. College Extension Service, who cautions that only turkeys which are well-finished will be welcome to the market this fall.

To fatten a flock McCarthy advises restricting the birds to a smaller range and give them all the feed they desire. They should be fed a good finishing mash, either home-mixed or a commercial mash. In addition, they should be given a grain mixture made up, preferably, of 50 per cent corn, 25 per cent wheat and 25 per cent oats or barley. These feeds should be kept in open hoppers and sufficient amount placed out daily to run the turkeys for the day.

Where the turkeys have been on range they should be wormed with individual capsules or a reliable worm powder mixed with the mash before placing the birds on a full fattening program. If they are not eating mash as readily as they should it is a good practice to feed them wet mash twice daily—morning and afternoon. Make this mash soft but not watery, and feed what the birds will clean up in 30 minutes. Never allow wet mash to remain in the hoppers and sour. This will throw birds off feed.

Never allow the turkeys to be without plenty of cool clean water . . . not even for a short time.

Remember: Only finished turkeys dress out well. Well-finished turkeys are fat. Well-finished turkeys are free of pin feathers. Well-finished turkeys have an eye appeal to consumers. Well-finished turkeys bring more money.

 Reporter—Barbara Carter.

In this meeting we also chose Mrs. Barnett as our class sponsor, and we selected our class rings and invitations.

All of us Seniors realize that we are graduating under abnormal conditions, and that we may be deprived of some of the things other Seniors have been able to have, but with the help of our able faculty and the co-operation of all we believe we can make this our happiest and most successful high school year, and we hope that Goldthwaite High can always be proud of the class of '43.

PEP SQUAD REPORT

Our Pep Squad met on Sept. 16, 1942, and elected Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Barnett as our sponsors. We elected the following officers:

President—Kathryn Miller.
 Vice-president—Barbara Wesson.

Secretary-Treasurer — Lanell Morris.

Reporter—Barbara Carter.

We chose Bobby Obenhaus for the main leader of the pep squad and Barbara Wesson, Annabelle Woods, and Lorena Smith as yell leaders. Kathryn Miller and Lewis Hudson were chosen as flag bearers, and little Martha May Sparkman and Tommy Long are our mascots.

We have a membership of about sixty-five, and we hope to put on some real performances. Our main purpose, however, is to keep up the spirit of our school and our team and we want our football boys to know that we are behind them one hundred per cent—win or lose.

FACULTY GOSSIP

Some of the new teachers in high school this year are Miss Moore, home economics; Mr. Helton, principal; and Mr. Black, the new football coach. Mrs. Earl Fairman is the temporary teacher of science.

Oh! Oh! Lieutenant Lowe and Miss Welch spent one whole study hall Friday sitting on the piano bench! What's cooking?

Tiny Miss Moore is swell—thinks Pat Obenhaus.

It seems that it is easy for girls to get permits from Mr. Helton.

Miss Sivells should get to know most of the Seniors pretty well, since they have three classes under her.

Mrs. Thompson's husband's being gone seems to affect her classes.

SPORTS SLANTS

Eagles vs. Armadillos

On Friday, Sept. 25, Goldthwaite High launched herself on the coming football season by playing our greatest rival, San Saba. In spite of the tire shortage, there was quite a large crowd.

Goldthwaite received the kickoff at the beginning. In spite of the final score, 13-0 favor of San Saba, it can be said that our boys played a great game. We had many boys to play for their first time this year, this probably affecting the final outcome very much. We're sorry we didn't win, but after all, it's "how the game was played" that really counts.

This report wouldn't be complete without mentioning the excellent showing our Pep Squad gave.

We want to pay our respects to Mr. Harmon Frazier for his successful coaching.

THE SPY—?

We didn't know that Claude lived at the lake, yet that is where he was seen immediately after the game Friday night.

It seems Morine isn't doing so bad. She rates the physique of old G.H.S.—Cash Curtis.

We wonder why La Dell Casbeer and Joe Procter Karnes snuggled up so close to each other Friday night. Could it have been the weather?

Will it never end? One minute Lorena and Eli are fighting like cats and dogs, and the next minute they make up. Let's get together on this, kids!

It seems red hats are pretty popular now-days. Not only with the boys, but with the girls, too.

The "Tweedle O'Twill" of G.H.S.—Billie Jack Kelso. Snazzy, ain't it?

It seems that there is some debate over which is the better, Mullin or the Air Corps. Maybe Wanda B. can help us on that point.

We wonder why so many different people are seen driving Bill Rose's car—Velma don't seem to mind back-seat driving. Wow.

It seems that Lucy Reeves and Marvin Arnold are having a little trouble with Cupid—eh.

Wayne!

We thought that spring was the time for old romances to flame again, but fall seems to be all right for Elmer and Benois.

We wonder who this Garl P-yburn is—we've been hearing plenty about him from Olive Dee M.

Wanda Curbo's heart belongs to that Mullin bunch also.

We can't understand how Wayne M. gets around so fast. He was seen Sunday night with Glasys Saddler.

Can James Burkett be bashful or does he just not know of all his admirers in the Soph Class? It seems that Monetta R. wishes she was back in Grammar School again.

NEWS OF A FORMER STUDENT

Fred McKenzie, a former well-known student of Goldthwaite High School, is a member of the Bobcat squad at Southwest Texas State Teachers' College.

During the last two years of Fred's football career at Goldthwaite he played every minute of every game. He was also the all-district center in 1941.

He helped the Bobcats win over the Howard Payne Yellow-jackets 6-0 last Friday night and he is expected to get in a lot of service for the Cats this season.

Our heartiest congratulations and best wishes go with McKenzie.

FRANCES ADAMS

We're off to a good beginning this year with Frances Seena Adams as our first personality.

Frances has been with us for only two years. Her first nine years she attended in Hamilton County.

Although she has been here only two years, she has made quite a reputation for herself.

Her most outstanding qualities are—Excellent in her studies, a friendly personality, and loyal support to her school and class.

Besides these, she has many more qualities which would take quite a large space to relate.

The organizations she has been most active in are Home Making Club, Pep Squad, and Debate Club.

Frances' ambition is undecided as yet but she is sure to make a success of any vocation that she chooses.

Since Frances is not hard to please, she doesn't have a special like or dislike.

Her hobby is collecting friends, at which she is very successful.

The frost which fell here the night of the 26th did very little damage to fall gardens.

A very good representation of the church members was present Sunday afternoon and voiced their sentiments on the subject of disposing of the church property at this place. A unanimous vote was cast for retaining the property with the understanding that each member was to carry their end of the financial part as well as their presence when not unavoidably hindered.

'There Goes Your New Refrigerator'

That new refrigerator you ordered—and couldn't get—has sprouted wings. Now it's part of a four-motored bombers carrying "love letters" to the Axis! Yes, and that new car you planned on has become a General Grant tank. Instead of speeding you to Yellowstone this summer, it's carrying a crew of hard-fighting, eager young men across the sands of Africa. The same is true of a lot of other things we've been accustomed to. They've gone to war! Your radio, washing machine, vacuum cleaner, electric iron, your breakfast toaster, too—they're all first cousins to tanks and planes and ships and guns. Many of these weapons are being made on the same machines that used to turn out the household implements for your kitchen. That's why it's so important to make the things you now have last for the duration. Chances are there just aren't any more where they came from. Either the materials that went into their manufacture are now needed to build fighting machines . . . or, the factories that made them are now busy producing goods for Uncle Sam's Army and Navy. The result is—civilians will have to go without until the war—and the Axis—is finished. So don't take chances on the things you now have. Keep them in working order. If something needs fixing, have it repaired by an expert. For fine workmanship at economical rates, bring your repair work to our Special Service Repair Department. We will courteously discuss with you the job to be done. Remember—to keep the home front strong—to keep our households running on a steady keel—we must make the things we have last for the duration. They've got to outlast the Axis!

A preview of our future programs was flashed before us by Mrs. Ed Gilliam. Nutrition is the subject for October 14.

Every parent is urged to hear this program and get one of the free books that will be given each person which explains our daily needs for best health and growth.

Following the program, a short business session was held and new teachers were introduced. The association voted to keep the booth during the football games.

Lockers for our high school was suggested for our main project this term.

Remember, our next meeting is October 14. Try to come.—Reporter.

Scallorn Home Demonstration Club

A very interesting H.D. meeting was held Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Frank Hines with Mrs. McAllister demonstrating the proper method of preparing corn for hominy making. This was very interesting, since it was our first time to meet since July.

Present were eight members and four visitors. Mrs. Hines, assisted by her daughter, Greta Sue, served refreshments of ice cream and cake.

Our next meeting will be with Mrs. Ernest Johnston.

Finishes Course

Miss Evelyn Kauhs, daughter of Mrs. Minnie Kauhs of this city, who entered NYA Radio School at Waco last May, has finished her course and is now employed at Consolidated at Fort Worth.

Kemp, who is in her 80th year, and convalescing remarkably well from a broken hip. Mrs. Hutchings was a doubting Thomas until she came, saw and was happily convinced that mother was a good soldier and doing nicely.

101 PER CENT

When the soldiers of an infantry company at Fort Devens, Mass., boast that every member of the company is buying War Savings Bonds, they are 101 per cent correct. Not satisfied with 100 per cent participation in the Bond buying campaign, the doughboys chipped in and bought a $25 bond for their mascot, a tiny black dog named "Blackout." When "Blackout's" bond comes due, the money will go to the A.S.P.C.A.

A VERSE FOR TODAY

The Lord is slow to anger, and great in power . . . the Lord hath his way in the whirlwind and in the storm.—Nahum 1:3.

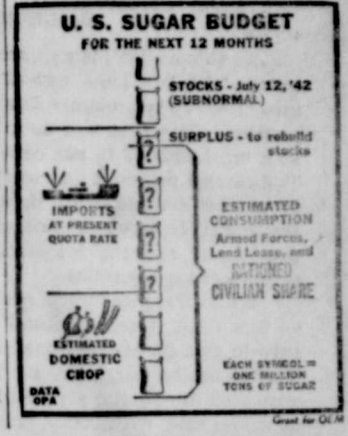

"SPINSTERS"

Among our industrial and frugal forefathers it was long a maxim that a young woman should not marry until she had spun herself a set of linen for person, bed or table.

From this custom all unmarried women are called "spinsters" when they reach a certain (or uncertain) age. The appellation is employed in all law proceedings to identify an unmarried woman.

This light frost chose the particular victims like sweet potato vines, morning glories and poinsettias, so will wait and come again at some future date for more spoil.

PROTECTION FOR AGRICULTURE

By GEORGE C. HESTER

At this outlook it appears that the opposing forces in Congress will reach some sort of a compromise on the anti-inflation measure. It is probable that two basic principles will be incorporated. The first will be a provision seeking to stabilize wages at a minimum of 15 per cent above the level of January 1, 1941. The second principle will seek to stabilize farm products at parity, or at the highest point between January 1, and September 15, 1942. For both wages and farm products there will be "escape provisions" whereby price adjustments can be made in order to remove gross inequities.

While the measure is probably the best that can be enacted at this time, it carries some obsolete principles of price control sure to give plenty of trouble in the future. The first mistake is that of basing parity on the purchasing power which the farmer possessed during the period 1909-1914. Price control in agriculture, as is the case with other groups, should be based on the grim realities of the hour, rather than on some obsolete formula of another era that has no bearing on the unprecedented situation we are now facing. No official would dare suggest that such a principle be applied to any other group, such as labor, for example, where industrial wages have increased 300 per cent since 1914, and that for much shorter working hours.

The labor leaders in the main are satisfied with the measure. They should be, since the measure in effect puts a price floor under wages equal to 15 per cent above the wage level of January 1, 1941.

Farmers generally are willing to accept the measure although it leaves the farmers at a serious disadvantage in some respects. In case the measure does not permit the inclusion of present labor costs in computing parity, the farmers' difficulties in securing labor will be increased instead of relieved. Since real parity can be computed only by including existing labor costs, any omission of such a provision, therefore, denies the farmer the very thing it presumes to establish—that of parity.

Furthermore, the measure in effect freezes the farmers' labor shortage, since competition with industrial wages, already impossible for the farmer, is made even more difficult. This provision will have its direful consequences in declining production and food shortages, as we shall be facing within another 12 months.

There is another provision, however, that should be included in the measure, if the farmer is to be given anything like the advantage offered organized labor. It should be noted that one definite intention of the measure is to establish and maintain wages at a minimum level of 15 per cent above those of January 1, 1941. This in reality is a floor not a ceiling. Some wage groups today already are receiving much higher wages. Wage earners in the lower brackets will be brought up to that level.

The farmer likewise should have some guarantee that farm prices will not decline below certain levels. This level should be set at not less than 90 per cent of the ceiling levels as established in the same act. In no other way can the farmer be given a security against a future price collapse. Anything less than that is not only unfair, but will deprive the farmer of his confidence to expand production or even to continue farming in the face of existing difficulties.

For many years the farmer has suffered cruelly as a result of the collapse of the postwar inflationary booms in the 1920's. That must not happen again. The hazards of farming already are greater than in any other economic pursuit. There can be no stabilization of production and economic benefits for agriculture similar to that guaranteed for the wage earner, unless the farmer also is fortified against future price collapses which have proven so disastrous in the past. With such a guarantee the farmer, too, can face the future with some degree of assurance that he will not again be made a helpless victim of economic circumstance.

State Department Health Notes

Because of the present emergency thousands of American families will be added this autumn to the many who are accustomed to the home-preparation and storage of meats for their own use. This is the opinion of Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer, who has issued a timely warning against carelessness that might cause illness.

Trichinosis, Dr. Cox explained, is caused by a microscopic organism called the trichina or muscle worm. This parasite develops in the human body whenever infested pork is eaten. If it has not been sufficiently cooked. The young worms, known as larvae, are found in the muscles of infested pigs. When this type of meat is eaten raw or is undercooked, the larvae grow in the intestines into adult worms which are carried by the lymphatic tissue and blood stream to the muscles where they become encysted. This period of invasion gives rise to the symptoms of the disease. The severity of the illness is dependent upon the number of trichinae originally consumed.

"While the adult parasites are in the human intestines they may cause acute diarrhea," Dr. Cox said, "which at first can be mistaken for typhoid fever or dysentery. This may start somewhere from the first to the fourth day after eating the infested pork and may last one to several days. Later a puffiness of the eyes may appear together with various degrees of pain in the muscles, particularly those of the calf of the leg, the upper arm, the shoulders and the jaws."

Dr. Cox declared that since no treatment is known, prevention is very important. The worms cannot be seen by the unaided eye, so inspection of pork cannot be depended upon to protect from this type of infection. The only sure safeguard is to be certain that all pork and pork products are thoroughly cooked, whether processed at home or purchased. Many of the more serious and fatal cases have been traced to eating raw smoked sausage or raw pork pudding.

Since it has been estimated that approximately five per cent of all swine are infested with trichinae, it is being emphasized that the invariable rule before consuming any pork or pork products is to see that it is cooked until all natural color is gone and no evidence of blood can be detected. This is the only safe rule to follow, according to the State Health Officer.

FAITH IN CHRIST AS OUR PERSONAL SAVIOUR

LESSON TEXT—Acts 16:13-15; Romans 5:1-11.
GOLDEN TEXT—Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ.—Romans 5:1.

Salvation through Christ is the way, and the only way, into the Christian life; therefore, there could be no other subject more suitable than that of our lesson to begin our brief series of "Studies in the Christ Life."

Our lesson for today tells us first how one comes into a personal saving faith, and then gives Paul's statement of the result of saving faith in the changed life of the believer.

I. The Opened Heart (Acts 16: 13-15).

Paul and his companions on their important errand for the Master, bearing the news of the gospel, had first known His guidance by hindrance, by the closed door; and then, by the direction of the Spirit into the open door, revealed in the vision of the man of Macedonia. Here in Philippi they found not only an open door, but an open heart, one which the Holy Spirit had made ready for the preaching of the Word of God. "Faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God" (Rom. 10:17).

Note that while Lydia was a woman of ability and culture, and a worshiper of God, yet she needed the message of redemption through faith in Christ.

Lydia evidenced the truth of her profession of faith by open testimony and by a desire for fellowship in putting forward the work of God (v. 15). Salvation is by faith apart from works, but a saving faith is always one which works.

II. The Transformed Life (Rom. 5:1-11).

This is one of the great passages of Scripture, rich in doctrinal instruction, presenting through Paul an illuminating discussion of justification by faith.

This lesson affords an opportunity for teachers to learn and present to classes much needed truth along the line of Bible doctrine. There is not enough teaching of this type. People seem to prefer a little devotional study, or the discussion of current events, possibly in the light of prophecy. These are good, but it is of first importance that Christians be informed regarding doctrine.

We find in this Scripture the glorious transformation of life which comes to the one who takes Christ as Saviour, as we note the seven results of God's justifying grace.

1. Peace (v. 1). The human heart craves spiritual peace and knows that it can be found only when sin has been dealt with and put away. For sin cannot be condoned or ignored. There must be justification, and that can come only through Jesus Christ our Lord.

2. Grace (v. 2). A peace with God brings the peace of God into our hearts. We have that peace because we have by faith come into the place of God's favor. No longer strangers or outsiders, we have come in ("have access") to His place of grace and favor.

3. Hope (vv. 2b, 5a). Our faith not only brings present peace, but causes us to see future glory. Such a hope puts us in a right attitude toward God, and the things of life, including tribulations (v. 3), are rightly valued and understood. Even our troubles become evidences of His love in which we may glory.

4. Love (vv. 5b-8). God's love which gave His Son to die for our sins becomes the "shed abroad" portion of every believer in Him. It was an unmeasurably great love, and it all centers in Calvary.

5. Saved From Wrath (v. 9). The wrath of God is minimized or denied in much modern theology, but it is nonetheless a very "real and awful affection of the divine nature." But the Christ who died for sinners will surely deliver the saints from the wrath of God against sin.

6. Reconciled (v. 10). The death of Christ, which justified man has accepted by faith, brought reconciliation. Atone ment had been made for sin, and the One who died is alive again, a living Saviour.

7. Joy (v. 11). And why not? Such a revelation of what our redemption includes should make every believer in Christ rejoice in God. The One who is the sinner's judge is the believer's joy! That is the glorious transformation which takes place when one believes.

Some unbeliever who has read these lines thus far must by now be eager to have these things true in his life. Well, why not? "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved" (Acts 16:31). Then read again those majestic and joyful words in Romans 5:1: "Therefore being justified by faith, we have"—yes, I have "peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ."

BABSON DISCUSSES WAR AND BUSINESS

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1942)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 2.—After an impartial survey of the war situation, I am convinced that "business-as-usual" is over for the duration. Whether we are business men, or farmers, or wage workers, or investors, the sooner we quit thinking about ourselves and our wages or profits the shorter will be the war and the better off we will be in the end.

Those in non-essential businesses should immediately figure out how to get along with much fewer employees. All who owe money should make every effort to get out of debt. War II is ten times more difficult than World War I. To win it, I am told that all of us must change our personal habits, reduce our household expenditures, give up travel by train and automobile, and really act as if we were a part of the army.

Hitler Is Losing

This does not mean that the war is going badly. In fact, as the world breathlessly watches the epic drama of Stalingrad, it is apparent that Hitler's star is setting. He has failed to gain his all-important objective—the destruction of the Soviet armies before the winter of 1942. Even if he should reach the Baku oil fields, he cannot make use of them this year or next year. The Russians would destroy the drillings, and it would take Hitler months to get them back in operation. Also, remember that this oil would need to be carried 1,500 miles on a rickety single-track railway.

The real danger to the United Nations is not that Hitler will get oil but that Russia will lose it. Furthermore, there will be a vast amount of starvation and suffering throughout Russia this winter. If Hitler is able to anchor his southern lines to Stalingrad, he should be in a position to withstand Russian counterattacks during the winter. He has the bulk of his manpower in this area and he will be obliged to keep them there all winter.

Russia Will Hold Out?

The Nazis have also some fifty divisions strategically located in Western Europe where they can be flexibly manipulated against the expected second front. These divisions include some of Hitler's picked troops; they explain why the second front has not been opened already. Such a Nazi army probably totals close to one million men.

Roosevelt and Churchill are only using rudimentary common sense in making sure they can do the job before they move onto the continent. Stalin understands this now, following his conference with Churchill. You can discount stories of any serious disaffection between him and the Anglo-American leadership. Let us, therefore, forget war gossip, quit listening to radio commentators, and save instead of waste.

Stop Criticizing Washington

The Russians are fighting their own war. Stalin has played his cards close to his chest from the beginning. His concern is solely for Russia and for Communism, but he knows it is a fight to the death between him and Hitler. Hence, Washington does not now look for any separate peace between the Nazis and the Russians, even though this possibility has had some plausible grounds.

Readers write me asking if our army, navy and air forces are in safe hands. I am convinced that the management of the war is capably handled. Blunders are being made as they are always made in every war, since our leaders are only human. I came away from Washington, however, imbued with a fresh sense of confidence.

What About The Second Front

Naturally, no authoritative Washington official told me when or where the Second Front would be established. At the same time, I can assure readers that it will be set up and in full operation at the earliest possible moment. It probably will not be at one place, but launched in several major areas at once. When it comes, we shall have unquestioned air superiority. I also look for a steady step-up in the bombing of German industrial and communication centers by United States Flying Fortresses.

The British were even more culpable at Singapore than were we at Pearl Harbor. Complacent leadership and years of stupid colonial policy left England without native support in the Far East when the crisis came. Hence, we entered our Pacific warfare under a great handicap. However, we have already recovered from those first Japanese victories. Our Navy, our Marines and our Army detachments have done a splendid job. Today, Japan no longer has control of the sea, thanks to Midway. Japan's air power has been crippled during these recent months.

Our Air Supremacy

Nothing that now happens in the Pacific is comparable in importance to the European battlefronts. We must conquer Hitler's armies if we are to win this war. Everything else is collateral to that essential fact. Japan has not jumped on Siberia for one very good reason. She is waiting until Hitler has reduced the striking power of the Russian armies. Until that has been accomplished Washington does not believe Japan will take on any more headaches in the shape of new enemies or terrain.

To sum up weighted Washington opinion on war strategy: The main drive is Europe, not Asia; it is against Hitler, not Hirohito. Russia will hold and the Second Front is coming. United Nations air supremacy is now at hand in every theatre of the global war. In the Near East, Allied air control should prove the deciding factor in stopping Rommel's further advance against the Suez Canal.

Big Business Is Doing A Big Job

On the domestic front, our war production is moving steadily ahead. Our shipbuilding program is now beginning to overtake submarine losses. Our Flying Fortresses are reaching England in highly encouraging numbers. We are even getting supplies into China by air in increasing volume. Our industrialists are doing a splendid job and can do even a better one if they are not hamstrung by Washington red tape and petty officials.

Whether this is Hitler's last winter of war depends on events now in the making. It equally depends upon the determination and sacrifice which all of us show in the immediate months ahead.

ROCK SPRINGS—
By MRS. EULA NICKOLS

We extend sympathy to Mrs. J. D. D. Berry and her children in the going away of her son and their brother.

Bro. Leslie Sparkman preached two sermons Sunday.

Sunday morning at four o'clock Dwight Nickols and wife from town came for John W. Roberts and wife and myself to go to Abilene for the day. We arrived at Mrs. Earlene Roberts' at seven o'clock. We were happy to see our grandson, James Watson Roberts, who has been in the navy for one year. His furlough was for ten days. He was at home four days. There is no doubt of it. He is making Uncle Sam a mighty good sailor. He looks fine and seems very happy in the Navy. He is a good-looking sailor. His hair looked like he had been to a beauty parlor. His white cap made his hair look prettier. We just saw him in his blue uniform with the white cap. All of my children, except Glenn and Shirley and wife got to go to Abilene to see him Sunday. There were friends from Winters who called to see him after dinner Sunday. We hope to hear from Jamie (as we call him) in a few days. He hasn't been getting any mail lately. If this boy lives to come back to us, he will have lots of things to tell us, for he doesn't let one thing go by him. He enlisted for six years.

Bro. Hancock and son from Brownwood and Charles Conradt and family from Big Valley visited until bedtime Saturday night in the Woodie Traylor home.

Mrs. Rena Smith and children from Nabors Creek visited in the Self home Sunday afternoon.

Shirley Nickols and wife from Greenville and Mrs. Beryl Turner and daughter from Greenville visited in the Nickols and Traylor homes.

Mrs. Sam Self spent Thursday and Friday with Mrs. Bob Martin at Center Point.

I spent a few days last week with Besse Hutchings at Center Point while Otis visited Sam Edlin and family in Oklahoma.

M. R. Circle and wife spent Sunday afternoon with their daughter, Mrs. Dan Holland, in town.

Rudolph Cooke and family were dinner guests in Woodie Traylor's home Sunday.

Mrs. Julia Taylor from town spent last week in the Joe Davis home.

There have been several truck loads of furniture moved by here from Ebony. It makes it awful hard on those people who are having to move out. I don't see how those who are left can stand it some days when the firing is so bad. I hope it will be so those people can keep their post office. We just must have the news from Ebony, for I enjoy it.

Prepare Now for V-I-C-T-O-R-Y AFTER VICTORY

The problem of changing from war work, after World War I, to peacetime production, plunged us into a long and grim depression.

Rural America felt this depression five years ahead of industry and business. We tried to warn labor and capital but they would not believe the warning and insisted the rainbow and the pot of gold at the end would last forever.

Finally, the bubble broke and the storm came. We had 12 million unemployed, the domestic market for farm production was gone, and even the smaller export market survived only when we loaned Europe the money to buy our products.

Farm income was reduced, mortgages increased and many farmers lost their farms while industry, big and little, was at its wits' end to survive.

To Prevent a Worse Depression. Our problem is to prevent even a worse depression at the end of this war. Every industry, big and little, has been retooled to produce airplanes, tanks, cannon and weapons of war. Millions and millions of dollars have been spent for this purpose.

When this war is ended it will take the same millions of dollars to turn these industries back to peacetime production.

Lessons of World War I. We learned after World War I that our country cannot prosper unless agriculture prospers. We know now that our country cannot prosper unless agriculture, business and industry, and labor are all prosperous. Whatever our personal feeling may be, the fact remains that all of these groups taken together make up our domestic market which consumes over 90 per cent of our total production.

Labor can purchase its maximum of farm products if each worker has a permanent job at good wages. The employer can pay good wages if he has something useful to manufacture and some one has the desire and the money to buy it. Jobs at good wages depend upon an employer who is making the money necessary to pay the wages.

Farm Prices Reflect Good Business. This makes it plain that with employers and business busy in useful undertakings, with all workers employed at good wages, farm prices will be good and consumption at its maximum.

The key to the situation is that employers shall have the cash money at hand to change from war manufacture to peacetime activity with the least possible delay when this war ends.

Our United States Senate is searching for a plan that will produce maximum revenue to the government to insure victory; provide a fund at the end of the war big enough and quickly enough to convert business and industry from war work to peacetime activity, but without the government having to borrow and lend the money for this purpose after the war is over.

Here is a Simple, Practical Plan. For the solution of all these problems there is one simple plan of outstanding practical value, based on the idea that war profits from all companies, big and little, should be used for this purpose.

The tax rate on war profits is figured at about 90 per cent. Business and industry, big and little, would be permitted, however, to deduct their taxable war profits 20 per cent of such profits, provided the deduction is used to purchase United States Recovery bonds.

Recovery bonds would be a special kind of bond for this purpose only. Recovery bonds could not be sold or borrowed upon during the war, and neither would they pay any interest. They must be held by the purchaser until the end of the war.

The day the war is over these bonds would automatically start to bear interest, could be bought and sold, and become the same as any other government bond. The purchaser could sell them or borrow upon them to obtain the money to change his business and plant from war production to peacetime production when and as he needed money to do this job.

Profits for Peace-Time Recovery. In other words, business, big or little, would be required to contribute 20 per cent of its own war profits to provide the money to change its own plants back to peacetime production.

The fairness and equity of such a plan is perfectly plain. Each company, by using 20 per cent of its own war profits to buy Recovery bonds, builds its own backlog to bridge from war production to normal peacetime activities. Big companies and small companies will buy in proportion to their size and needs until the war is over. In the meantime, our government receives the maximum in revenue to produce for victory, and we, the people, have established security against the worst depression of all time.

With such a plan adopted and in operation, we can all give our maximum to the war effort, secure in the fact that when the war is over we can quickly and safely go back to the paths of peace. The necessity for such a plan is so apparent, the evils of depression so grim and widespread that we, the people, can well afford to take time out to support our senators and congressmen in this effort to bypass another depression.

DEFENSE POLICE MOBILIZATION IN TEXAS IS COMPLETE

"Defense Police Mobilization in Texas is complete," Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, announced this week. A plan whereby the regular organized police force and sheriffs of non-strategic areas may be drawn to danger zones to quell riots, sabotage and other disorders has been developed.

The Department of Public Safety has catalogued all law enforcement personnel, guns, ammunition and other equipment and adequate protection can be instantly drawn to troubled areas. The mobilization of these regular police, and the duties of War Reserve Police drawn from civilian ranks, will be the subject of this week's dramatization of "Texans on the Alert." Originating in the studios of WFAA in Dallas and carried over WBAP WOAI, and KPRC, the program will be presented for the eighth time at 2 p. m. Sunday, Oct. 4.

The War Reserve Police are appointed and trained by local sheriffs and police chiefs and will supplement regular policemen in time of emergency.

LESTER BERRY

Lester Berry, son of the late J. D. D. Berry and Mrs. Berry, died Thursday night of last week, after being in ill health for a long time.

Funeral services were conducted last Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock by the Rev. F. E. Swanner, former pastor of the First Baptist Church here. Burial was in Odd Fellows Cemetery, with Mills County ex-service men in charge.

Mr. Berry is survived by his mother, wife and two daughters, one brother and several sisters.

NAVY WANTS FIRST-AID INSTRUCTORS AND HOSPITAL HELPERS

A call for first-aid instructors, pharmacists, hospital attendants, laboratory technicians and even men who have a general knowledge of chemistry and botany was issued this week by Lieut. L. H. Ridous, Jr., officer in charge of the U. S. Navy recruiting station in Dallas, with promise of special ratings in the Navy hospital corps.

Lieutenant Ridous said there is an urgent need at the present time for men with experience in pharmacy, hygiene, sanitation, medicines, first aid and all related work. Ratings are open for hospital apprentice, second class to pharmacist's mate, second class, with base pay ranging from $54 to $96 per month, in addition to allowances.

MEN, WOMEN WANTED BY WEATHER BUREAU

Uncle Sam is looking for men and women—but especially the gals—to go to work in the weather bureau, C. F. Moore, Goldthwaite secretary of U. S. Civil Service examiners, announced this week. Applicants should be at least 17 years old and have a high school education. They will have to pass a mechanical aptitude test.

The ones who make the grade in a training course may be rapidly promoted, with duty in Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Texas, and New Mexico.

Patriotic American workmen are urgently needed in Pearl Harbor for important war work. Paul H. Sigg, regional director 10th Civil Service District, has announced. Pay ranges from 70c to $1.14 an hour in different trades. Transportation to Hawaii for those workers selected will be at government expense, and return transportation will be provided upon completion of the worker's contract.

The District Recruiting Office has been asked to step-up its enrollment of women for the Women's Auxiliary Corps, according to Col. C. K. Riehart, district recruiting officer.

Women citizens of the United States between the ages of 21 and 45, who are in excellent physical health, are eligible for enrollment.

FARMERS, RANCHERS URGED TO RAISE FISH

To supplement the family diet and at the same time to economize on meat purchases during war time, farmers and ranchers of the state were urged by the Executive Secretary of the Game Department to construct ponds on their properties where suitable for the production of fish. Within the limits that exist, the department will stock such ponds with an initial supply of fish that over the years, under proper management, will increase greatly. Hundreds of large and small ponds already have been constructed, the demand made upon the Department for fish for stocking purposes is great, considering that the state's hatcheries also must stock public lakes and streams; but within its ability to do so, the Department will be glad to assist any landowner in this war-time emergency food program, William J. Tucker, the Executive Secretary, said.

In addition to stocking farm and ranch ponds where possible, the Department also is in a position to assist landowners with advice concerning fertilization of the ponds to assure proper food and cover conditions for the fish. This information has been compiled and plainly stated for the average citizen in a mimeographed bulletin by the Department's Chief Aquatic Biologist. The bulletin may be obtained upon request from the Texas Game Department, Austin Texas.

In addition to giving information concerning fertilization of ponds, it gives much advice about the proper stocking of these waters.

Ben Geslin of Edinburg was here a few days this week visiting relatives and attending to business.

W. F. Brown and family of Houston spent part of this week here visiting in the home of his sister, Mrs. Tom Conrad.

MELBA THEATRE NEWS

"THE COURTSHIP OF ANDY HARDY"

A new and sparkling personality is introduced in "The Courtship of Andy Hardy," which shows Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at the Melba Theatre, in Donna Reed, who plays the latest romance in Andy's life. In a difficult role, first as an "ugly duckling" and then as a lovely debutante, she gives an outstanding acting performance.

The story concerns the attempt of Judge Hardy to straighten out the life of a young girl whose existence has been madly ephaptic by the bitter quarrels of her separated parents. To do it, he enlists the aid of Andy, who takes the girl to her first dance.

She proves the expected wallflower and Andy's evening is made miserable. His courage in the face of it wins her worship, and she resolves to make herself attractive. This she does at the next dance, but Andy does not return her feelings, a source of no little worry to himself as well as to her.

"THE MALTESE FALCON"

The Melba Theatre's new feature attraction, starting on Saturday night, will be "The Maltese Falcon," starring Humphrey Bogart. Adapted for the screen from the Dashiell Hammett novel, the film is a well-concocted mystery drama with a liberal dash of comedy and romance.

For "The Maltese Falcon," Warner Bros. have assembled a fine cast of seasoned performers. Besides Bogart, there is charming Mary Astor in the romantic lead, Gladys George and Lee Patrick to give her some competition with the hero. Peter Lorre, in one of his most sinister roles.

Centering around the search for a porcelain statuette of fabulous worth, the story of "The Maltese Falcon" is one of the most intriguing mystery stories ever written. Bogart's performance as the debonaire—but tough—private detective who eventually solves the mystery is said to be one of his best, and Miss Astor is said to do an unusually fine job in the other starring role.
