Madrid Clover Harvest Under Way In Brown-Mills Soil Conservation Dist.

Perhaps the most important harvesting operation in the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District is under way now when the cooperators of the District began cutting their Madrid clover this week. A total of 50 acres of Madrid clover will be harvested for seed in the Goldthwaite work unit area. Charlie Swindle of the Washboard Conservation Group has cut with a reaper a 9 acre field of Madrid clover that promises to produce a good crop of seed. H. P. Beard of the Bethel Conservation group began at sun-up on Tuesday morning with a reaper to bundle his 14 acres of Madrid clover. He will shock the bundles and thresh the seeds in about a week. Since this is about the first Madrid clover to be harvested for seeds in this area, the yield per acre is difficult to estimate. Tully Lee of the Mt. Olive Conservation Group harvested 265 pounds of Madrid seed from one-half acre last year.

Other cooperators with the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District who will harvest Madrid clover seed this year are Frank Kerby, of the Caradan Group, Clyde Kerby of the Caradan Group, Jim Soules of the Star Group and T. F. Sansom of the Goldthwaite Group.

This crop is important in that it gives the farmers a local supply of pure seed. About 5000 pounds of Madrid seed was shipped into the Goldthwaite Work Unit area last year and planted. Madrid clover is biennial yellow blossom clover that has proved its value as temporary pasture, for increasing soil productivity, and for hay. It can also be used as a cash crop if seeds are harvested and sold. The crop of Madrid clover that is being harvested withstood the long drought last summer and the severe winter this year. Farmers who used it as hay praised it highly and its ability to furnish summer grazing will assure its place in this area. The deep root system of Madrid and the nitrogen that is added to the soil makes it one of the most important soil conservation plants that the cooperators with the District have tried.

Madrid clover can be planted in rows or drilled with small grain or by itself. It responds to phosphate fertilizer and should be inoculated. It would be well to secure seeds from the above named farmers for next year's seeding.

Capt. McArthur was killed in a plane accident on May 3, 1943, in the North African war theatre. He was the pilot of a P-38 Lightning fighter and was commander of his squadron.

He enlisted in the Air Corps in February, 1941, and received his training in California and Oregon. He was sent overseas in October, 1942. Capt. McArthur was awarded the Air Medal in April for shooting down a German Messerschmidt over Tunis on January 29 and was credited with downing an Italian seaplane on February 21.

Capt. McArthur was a graduate of Zephyr High School and attended Daniel Baker College in Brownwood.

He is survived by his father, Tom McArthur of Caradan; a sister, Mrs. Harvey Kesler of Priddy; a nephew and two nieces.

The presentation of the Purple Heart and other medals won by Capt. McArthur, first Mills County boy killed with the U. S. Armed Forces, to his parents was made at the Goldthwaite Memorial Cemetery during the Memorial Day services held on Armistice Day, 1943.

The presentation was made by Lt. Col. Barrett of the Brownwood Air Force.

T. H. McArthur was born at Albany, Texas, on May 25, 1920 the son of Tom and Daisy George McArthur. His early childhood was spent in Brown County and in 1930 the family moved to the Mt. Olive Community.

He graduated from Zephyr High School in 1937 and was attending Daniel Baker College when he was called into the service of his country in February, 1941.

After completing his Air Corps pilot training, he received his wings and the rank of 2nd Lt. on October 31, 1941 and was immediately sent to Portland Air Base in Oregon. He returned to March Field, Calif., as an instructor for awhile and then went overseas in September, 1942.

On the night of May 3, 1943 he crashed into a mountain in North Africa while returning from a bombing mission.

He was preceded in death by his mother in 1924 and survivors include his father and step-mother, Mr. and Mrs. Tom McArthur of Caradan, a sister, Mrs. Harvey Kesler, one nephew, Wayland Kesler, two nieces, Grace and Karen Kesler, all of Priddy, and a host of relatives and friends.

LIONS CLUB HAS MEETING AT HANGAR TUESDAY NOON

Meeting at noon instead of at night during the baseball season, the Goldthwaite Lions Club held its regular third Tuesday meetings at The Hangar Tuesday at noon.

The club asked Earl Clements to write a history of Mills County and of Goldthwaite, the club having received a request from a magazine for this.

Lester Bain was appointed to take the place of Harold Yarbrough as chairman of the Mills County Softball League, which the club is sponsoring this year. Mr. Yarbrough, who has done a fine job, asked for relief from this duty because of other pressing activities.

The club at its meeting before this one, voted to meet on the first and third Tuesdays at noon instead of at night during the summer so members could attend the ball games of the softball league, which are played each Tuesday and Friday nights.

late in the spring. Corn prices are likely to be relatively higher than other feed grains and wheat this summer, since most of the decline in corn prices will take place this fall. Prices of feed are expected to be generally lower in the last half of this year than in the same period of 1947.

So the total U. S. production, or prospective supplies, seem to be the thing to watch. It seems a safe guess that the feed prices should soon turn lower, if there are no bad weather developments.

FIND OUT ABOUT
SOCIAL SECURITY
IF YOU ARE OVER 65

"Some firms in this area have gone back to the pre-war practice of retiring employees who are 65 or older. If you are over 65 and were retired or laid off at the end of the year or before then, you may be able to get social security retirement benefits," David S. Pruitt, manager of the Austin social security office said today.

"You should find out about your social security retirement payments even though you plan to get another job," Pruitt said. "If you're 65 and have worked long enough on jobs under social security, you can get social security payments for any month you do not work. Drawing those payments does not mean you cannot go back to work—although benefits cannot be paid for months you earn more than $14.99 from work that comes under social security."

Pruitt urged all workers over 65 years of age who have had jobs covered by social security to find out about their retirement benefits whether or not they are continuing to work. "If you inquire when you're 65," he said, "you're less likely to lose any benefits which may be payable for months you do not work because of illness, slack seasons, etc."

WHAT PRICE FEEDS?

College Station, June 10 — Grain crop prospects over the country are quite favorable, the USDA reports. Grain producers and consumers realize that supplies of feed grains are low in comparison to stocks a year ago. Now, with Texas' oat and barley crops not turning out so well, what are feed prices likely to do?

C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist of Texas A. and M. College, says that according to the Bureau of Agriculture Economics prices feed grains will probably hold near the April level through the spring. Prices this summer will be affected by the size of the grain crops harvested, and by the prospects for this year's corn crop.

If crops are indicated to be average or larger, the oats and barley prices are expected to decline seasonally, beginning

'ESCAPE ME NEVER' PROVES TO BE ENCHANTING FILM

A completely different flavor and mood permeates Warner Bros' excellent film version of "Escape Me Never", starring Errol Flynn, Ida Lupino, Eleanor Parker and Gig Young, which opens Sunday and Monday at the Melba Theatre. It is the charm of the Austrian Tyrol, the appeal of classical ballet plus lyrical music which highlights the picture form of Margaret Kennedy's celebrated novel and play. "Escape Me Never" is cinema magic at its best.

There is charm and laughter and more than an occasional tug at the heartstrings in this colorful story of a gifted family of musicians.

Erich Wolfgang Korngold's specially written ballet music is set off by the finish dancing of the distinguished Ballet Russe stars, Milada Mladova and George Zoritch. The supporting cast is also uniformly excellent, including the performances of Reginald Denny, Isobel Elsom, Albert Basserman, Ludwig Stoessel, Helene Thimig and Frank Reiher.

"SONG OF LOVE"

The unforgettable music of three great composers—Schumann, Brahms and Liszt—shares stellar honors along with Katharine Hepburn, Paul Henreid and Robert Walker in "Song of Love", an impassioned, stirring, and beautifully enacted love story based on the lives of Clara and Robert Schumann. The new M-G-M picture, which shows Tuesday and Wednesday at the Melba Theatre, is one of the season's distinguished productions and offers an enriching experience to lovers of music and drama alike.

It is easy to believe that Miss Hepburn demanded the role of Clara Schumann, the gifted concert pianist who married her father's brilliant but impoverished composer-pupil and devoted her life to the world's recognition of his genius, for she gives it all she's got.

The two men in her life, her husband and Johannes Brahms, whose love she rejects in order to perpetuate her husband's fame after his death, are faultlessly played by Paul Henreid, as the tormented Schumann whose unrecognized genius drives him to insanity, and by Robert Walker, as the devoted Brahms who takes over the management of his friend's household and family, and who tries to ease Clara's burden.

Clarence Brown has given the production masterful direction, infusing the pictures monumental musical score as an integral part of the action itself and tracing with pointed touches Schumann's career from his carefree attic honeymoon period to the gripping concert hall climax in which he loses his mind just as he is about to receive the recognition his incomparable genius craved for.

Softball League Ends Tues. Night First Half Schedule Mills County

As a result of softball games played here in the eight-club Mills County Softball League, which is being sponsored by the Goldthwaite Lions Club, on Friday of last week and Tuesday of this week, four teams have a chance at being top in the first round-robin after the game tonight and those on Tuesday night of next week, which will close the first-half play.

Second half play will start on Friday night of next week, and winner of first half will play winner of the second for Mills County championship honors.

Standing at the top in the first half at present are Priddy, Mullin, Western Auto, and GI School, all having won all their games played except one. The GI School, however, has played only four games while the other three on top have played five. After the play next Tuesday night, it probably will be necessary for two or three teams to play off a tie, unless some upset in the four remaining games of the first half is had.

The crucial game is the first one tonight, starting at 8, when one of the top four will be eliminated as Western Auto battles it out with the Mills Co. Voc. School team. The winner in this game will be in a two or threeway tie for top position with Priddy and Mullin, both of which teams should win their games.

The second game tonight will be between Mullin and Pleasant Grove.

Next Tuesday night's schedule: At 8—Big Valley vs. Priddy; at 9:15—Frazier Bros. vs. Star.

Last week's results:
Last Friday night—GI School 13; Pleasant Grove, 2. Home runs: For Pleasant Grove, Glendon Benningfield; for GI School, Charles Conradt and Herbert Faulkner 2.

Tuesday night—Mullin 7; Star 0 (forfeit); Frazier Bros. 12; Big Valley 9.

Dr. Newton

Here we have the hope of preservation, the hope of peace, the hope of security, the hope of usefulness, the hope of deliverance, the hope of dominion, the hope of service, the hope of sovereignty, the hope of redemption and the hope of purification. A PROMISE FROM GOD THIS is no fancied scheme of man. It is God's clear promise. "Therefore will I save my flock, and I will set up one Shepherd over them, and he shall feed them... and I the Lord have spoken it." God goes on to promise them peace by ridding them of danger, and security through his blessing upon the land. "There shall be showers of blessing."

LOOKING FOR A BETTER WAY LONG had the people looked for a better way. Now God would provide that better way. It would be vouchsafed unto them through the Good Shepherd. He knows the way, he holds the key. The wistful hearts of the people must have been lifted up as Ezekiel and Zechariah shouted their prophecies of the coming Messiah. Many of these very passages have been used for the anthems which our choirs sing today. Well may every Christian employ them to tell of that better way in the midst of this troubled, changing world about us.

DANIEL'S DREAM OF THE DELIVERER THE passage in Daniel is resonant with hope. "I saw in the night visions, and, behold, one like the Son of man came with the clouds of heaven." This dream of Daniel was a vision of the Messiah, bringing dominion, glory and a kingdom—a kingdom for all people, nations and languages. It is the universal hopes of the ages, brought nearer through this inspired vision of the prophet. "For unto us a child is born, and unto us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulder; and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace." This vision of the coming Messiah set every bell ringing in the heart of humanity.

SAVIOUR AND KING FOREVER ALL the promises are embodied in these passages—Jesus the Saviour, Jesus the King, Jesus the Sanctifier. Here was hope for the Jews, and for all mankind. It was proclaimed through Jewish prophets, and Jesus was born of a Jewish mother. Favored, indeed, was that race. And although there be many who have rejected the Messiah, he fulfills the deepest meaning of every man's hope. With Charles Wesley we sing: Hail, thou long-expected Jesus, Born to set thy people free; From our sins and fears release us, Let us find our rest in thee. Born thy people to deliver, Born a child, and yet a King, Born to reign in us forever, Now thy gracious kingdom bring.

Christian Generosity On occasions a collection is taken in a tavern designed to relieve some man's distress. For any such generosity let us be thankful. But let us also remember that that sort of thing is done only occasionally in a liquor joint and it is the regular habit in a church.—Roy L. Smith. No Grim Struggle To become a musician you don't grit your teeth for a grim struggle. The basic fact for successful living is that life is eager to serve you. Approach it, then, in faith. "Fear not, little flock, it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom!"—Virgil Kraft.

Yellowing of the leaves of shrubs, rose bushes, shade trees, peach trees and other plants may be prevented by adding cooperas and sulphur to the soil at the rate of about one pound per large shrub or small tree. Centipede grass grows best on rich, sandy, well-drained soil with a fair amount of moisture. However, once this grass is established, fertilizers must not be added, as this will kill the grass next year. Sorghum cane for syrup making should be harvested in the soft dough stage. You get the highest yield at this stage, but the juices of the best quality. This is the case where quality is sacrificed for quantity. To prevent eye stings, light globes, bulbs and shades free from soot and dust. absorbs light that is available for reading and other activities in the room. Dust shades soft cloth or brush.

BROWN-MILLS SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

VERNON CARR, Brookessmith. WILLIS HILL, Goldthwaite.
 J. H. PRIDDY, Mullin. No. 523—TEXAS
 G. G. GOSS, Chairman, Rt. 1, Rising Star. Comprising all Farms and Ranches in Brown and Mills Counties—Approximately 1,057,280 Acres.
 CHARLIE BYNUM, Rt. 1, Zephyr.

SOIL CONSERVATION GROUPS
 The Board of Supervisors for the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District shows that progress in the district has been very good in the past six years. The district was organized in 1941 and began operations in 1942 and now has 722 coordinated conservation plans between the Soil Conservation District and farmers or ranchers, covering 239,578 acres, which provide for sound land use, the right combination of conservation practices, provisions for maintaining and improving soil productivity, and economically sound conservation farming.

Even though there has been much progress made and the work load has increased the supervisors of the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District are striving to expand their program. Since they wish to increase the number of farmers and ranchers they assist, the supervisors have adopted a plan of work with soil conservation groups. Working with groups of farmers and ranchers, through a common spokesman from among them, offers an opportunity to farmers for assuming their responsibilities and thereby speeding up planning and application of conservation work. When a group of cooperators is well organized, experience shows that it will save at least 10 days during the year for the Soil Conservation personnel as a work unit. If the work unit is assisting 25 groups, then that means 250 man days, or one technician's time for one full year will be saved. The work that this spokesman does with his group is of such a nature that he is the only one that can do it.

 He leads the way for each member in his group to become conservation minded. This means that each member of his group should know his erosion problems and know the solution, should realize the solution is practical, have a conviction that they will do conservation farming to a degree necessary to solve the problem, should realize that the coordinated program is a must, and that by working together in a group is the most efficient way to utilize the assistance from the soil conservation district.

The conservation group is probably the most efficient group of people, because, as a general rule, when the spokesman calls his group together, he selects a small group of his intimate neighbors, six to twelve in number, whom he visits, exchanges small jobs, and probably sees one or more times a week. He can rely on them and they on him. There may be any number of these neighborhood groups in small communities.

There are some people who neighbor three or four miles away and fit into a group over there.

Soil conservation is not an individual problem. It is a series of problems which effect one's neighbors, soil conservation district, state, and even his nation. Therefore, the problem must be approached by neighbors getting together to ask for assistance from the local soil conservation districts, who in turn have available Soil Conservation Service technicians trained to solve conservation problems which arise in the local soil conservation group.

Homer McCasland, 5 miles north of Center City, called a group of his neighbors together at the home of C. D. Geeslin on Thursday night, June 10, and invited Ben R. Day, Work Unit Conservationist, and Carl Casbeer of Goldthwaite Work Unit, to explain the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District program. Mr. Day pointed out the value of landowners working together in groups in order to accomplish the most benefits from a coordinated conservation program. The District owned combination drills are routed through groups and seed orders within groups are pooled. By working together farmers and ranchers are helping each other establish the conservation measures necessary to prevent erosion and to increase the production of their land. The Soil Conservation Service technicians can serve more farmers and ranchers who are working in groups than they can any other way.

This new group will be known as the North Bennett Conservation Group and Homer McCasland was elected group leader by the group. When the Board of Supervisors approves the applications for assistance, conservation plans will be developed by the landowners on each farm and sound conservation practices will be applied to each acre according to its needs.

The following landowners were present and made application for assistance: Homer McCasland, R. T. Booker, J. M. Petrick, Howard Sullivan, C. O. Geeslin, O. G. McNeil, C. A. Montgomery, A. E. Stuart, Ercher McCasland.

In Memory Of Harvey Dunkle

Our hearts were made very sad when the news came that our friend and loved one had been called away from us last Sunday morning at an early hour. Harvey left this world quite without long suffering. He hadn't been able to work for a year but he didn't give up, which he should and gone for an examination. He is like most everybody, just kept putting it off until it was too late.

He was in World War I and I am sure he made a good soldier as he was good at every kind of work. Since he came to Mills County he was an oil driller and helped drill some of our wells here in Mills County. To his sorrow, they failed to bring our county any oil. Harvey said there was oil here but there wasn't anything he could do about it as he worked for the other fellow.

When his home was in the Rock Springs community, in this county, he was a good neighbor. He was good to every one, and especially to his mother-in-law, Mrs. J. T. Robertson. He stayed with her day and night when he was needed. He was a good husband. He was nice to everybody. If he had an enemy, no one knew it.

We will all miss seeing him on the streets from day to day.

Our program was on "Clothes of Yesterday and Today", given by Mrs. E. D. Robertson.

Recreation was led by Mrs. Hughston, after which refreshments were served to 12 members, 3 visitors and 7 children.

Our next meeting will be with Mrs. Paul Hughston, June 17.

GIRL SCOUTS HOLD DAY CAMP

One of the most worthwhile events in Girl Scouting has occurred at Lake Merritt this week. A Day Camp under the supervision of Mrs. Charley McLean was held for four days.

There were approximately 40 Girl Scouts and Brownies enrolled in Camp. The Scouts were divided into units, with each unit having their own unit home. These homes were constructed by the girls and their leaders. Every home had its own personal touch—a mirror, dressing table, music shell walk, record player, etc. There were six units and each unit home had a name: Brownie Oaks, Will 'O Wood, Dyas Im, The Stork Club, Las Buenas Chiquitas, and Sunflower Haven. The units were inspected by Camp Nurse Mrs. Alfred Carter.

The West Unit home proudly displayed a flag each day.

The girls started with colors and participated in hikes, games, nature hunts, crafts, folk dances and singing, dramatics, etc. each day.

Mmes. H. E. Patton and Talbot Ledbetter taught crafts. Mmes. Al Langford and Joe S. Langford instructed folk dance-ing and singing. The leaders present were Mrs. O. O. Smith, Mrs. Hollis Blackwell, Mrs. Leonard Archer, Mrs. L. A. Grumbles, Mrs. Bain, Mrs. Dale Reid, Mrs. D. B. McCombs, Mrs. Y. B. Johnson, Mrs. M. F. Horton, and Miss Shirley Kline.

Jack Reid, Camp Chairman, drove the bus each day to and from Camp.

Camp closed Thursday afternoon with a picnic at which all parents of the Scouts were present. Each unit presented a program, and an exhibit of Craft Work done by the girls was on display.

Miss Pat Lockridge visited her sister, Margaret Lockridge, in Temple last week. While there Pat attended the capping exercises at Scott and White Hospital. Margaret received her cap for completing one year's nurses training.

NEW 1949 FORD ON DISPLAY TODAY AT WEATHERBY AUTO

The 1949 Ford, which reveals a radical departure from traditional styling and engineering, is on display today at the Weatherby Auto Company here. Tolbert Ledbetter, company manager, announced yesterday.

"New standards of beauty, comfort, economy and performance in the 1949 Ford passenger cars advances them far ahead of others in the low priced field," Mr. Ledbetter said. "Styling of the new Ford definitely establishes it as The Car of the Year."

To develop and produce the 1949 passenger cars alone, the Ford Motor Company has expended more than $37,400,000.00 in tools, dies, jigs and fixtures.

Styling—The modern design has been molded along functional lines, resulting in a long, low, sweeping silhouette. The grille is distinctive, the hood massive but shorter and the body so wide the rear fenders have been eliminated. There are clean, unbroken lines from front to rear.

Comfort—Comfort has been one of the primary objects in the new Ford. There is more room in the "Lounge Car" interiors than in many cars with much larger over-all dimensions. Front seat widths have been increased six inches and the rear seat nearly eight inches. The body has been moved five inches forward with the seats cradled between the axles for a much smoother ride.

A new type of suspension system—"Hydra-Coil" springs replaces the traditional transverse springs and the front axle. This system is centered around airplane type shock absorbers mounted within low frequency coil springs. In the rear, extra long longitudinal springs are complemented by airplane type shock absorbers.

There's more leg room in the new cars because the size of the driveshaft tunnel has been decreased by adoption of the Hotchkiss drive and the hypoid rear axle. These engineering changes also minimized the transmission of road noises into the car.

Engine vibration has been reduced by literally floating the power plant on rubber mounts.

A new heating system available in the new Fords brings year around comfort to driver and passengers in the new Fords. Fresh air is scooped into the car through large intakes just behind the grille.

The system can be used as a fresh air ventilator, a fresh air heater or as a recirculating heater by selecting the position of an easily operated control knob. An automatic temperature control also is available. Fresh air, plus the pressure effect obtained by the car's forward motion reduces fogging and drafts.

Economy—Asked about the economy of the new Ford, Mr. Ledbetter advised: "Economy of operation has been increased up to 10 per cent for the new six-cylinder engine and the extensively redesigned V-8."

Both the V-8 and Six engines are offered as power plants in all Ford models. Other engineering features result in better performance and longer engine life.

Increasing miles per gallon has been effected mainly through a new intake manifold and the introduction of the "Equal-Flow" Cooling System.

The new intake manifold achieves better fuel distribution. It is attached to the engine so that it is horizontal to the ground, reducing the tendency of raw gasoline to flow toward the rear cylinders and smoothing out engine operation.

The new cooling system contributes to good performance under extreme conditions by improving general operating efficiency. Water flows in volume the full length of the block.

Temperatures in "hot spots" in the six and eight cylinder engines have been decreased by as much as 12 degrees. There are larger water pumps in the V-8.

Improvements in the ignition system also have contributed to increased economy and efficiency.

As much as 25 per cent improvement in gasoline economy may be achieved by taking advantage of the overdrive which is available as factory-installed optional equipment. This results in a substantial savings during the life of the car.

Safety—New standards of safety have been set in the rugged construction of the chassis and body. The box-type frame is of all-welded construction. Although it is lighter, combined with the body it is 59 per cent more rigid.

Lowering the over-all height by four inches and placing the seats between the axles results in a lower center of gravity, an aid in safe driving.

The windshield has been increased in height and width and the rear window now provides "Picture Window" Visibility for driver and passenger. The rear window is larger than the ordinary windshield. There is as much as 20 square feet of windows in the new cars.

All doors hinge at the front. Inside handles push up instead of down to open the door. Both features combine to preclude accidental opening of the doors while the car is moving.

Performance—Increased performance values are one of the highlights of the new cars.

Steering has been greatly improved. The new Ford may be guided by a minimum of effort even under severe wind conditions. Road shocks have been minimized. This is the result of a newly designed linkage in which the pivot point of the tie rods is on the same center line as the wheels.

Engineering changes, some of them already mentioned, in the engines contribute to smoothness of operation. These include the new cooling system and intake manifold, also redesigned combustion chambers and improved crankcase ventilation system as well as other features.

The 114-inch wheelbase, which is most successful in parking and in moving through traffic, has been retained.

The new Six develops 95-horsepower, providing better acceleration in passing and heavy traffic.

Other Features—Interior styling is colorful and practical. Traditional, neutral-toned automobile fabrics have been discarded for new tweeds, broadcloths and mohairs which retain the ability to absorb hard family usage.

Hardware is massive and attractive. Door handles and other hardware are much easier to operate. The doors have new type locks which eliminate all possibility of persons being locked out of the car with the keys inside.

The flight panel dash provides centralized grouping of instruments for quick-easy reference in line with the driver's view of the road. Fuel level, oil pressure, water temperature and charge indicators are placed outside the rim of the speedometer. The glove compartment on the right hand side has been enlarged.

Chrome trim, both inside and out, has been reduced considerably.

Mr. Ledbetter said: "There two lines of cars, the Ford and the Ford Custom. Body styles in both lines include the four door sedan, two door sedan and club coupe. Convertible and station wagon models are obtained only in the Custom line and the three passenger coupe only in the Ford line."

There are eight durable new exterior colors, Bayview Blue Metallic, Birch Gray, Sea Mist Green, Arabian Green, Colony Blue, Gun Metal Gray Metallic, Midland Maroon Metallic and Black.

Two additional colors—Faz Red and Miami Cream—are available in the convertible only.

REFRESHING AND RELAXING AT SAN ANTONIO TODAY

Everyone needs a refresher course now and then on how to build a better business. Once or twice a year the butcher, the baker and the banker attend meetings to bring themselves up to date on what's new in their respective business worlds. This week-end it's our chance.

Friday, Saturday and Sunday, we'll be in San Antonio, along with some 600 other Texas newspaper publishers, to attend the 69th Annual Convention of the Texas Press Association. The object is to learn new ways to produce a better newspaper for you. Speakers will be there from all over the country—seven one from England—to give us their ideas on the subject. There'll be a man from Wisconsin who will talk about classified advertising. A fellow is coming from New Orleans to discuss the responsibilities which our American free press owes its readers. Sunday morning we're having an open forum discussion of publication laws in Texas and hope thereby, to solve some of the headaches which go with this business which we work at, fight for, complain about—and stay with through thick and thin because we like it.

After we've spent a full day and a half exchanging ideas with the speaker, and our own fellow newspaper publishers in Texas, we're going to throw caution to the winds and be a Dude for a Day at the Dude Ranches around Bandera. No convention is complete without some entertainment and relaxation. So the Bandera Tourists Association has invited us to visit the ranches and be their guests at a barbecue and rodeo.

When we come back, we expect to be refreshed, both in mind and body, and ready to do our level best to use the new ideas we've gained, to give you the best newspaper possible.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Wilson
