WALTER R. LANGSTON, JR.

attend these services next week. The young people will fill the choir section each night and direct the ushering and other features of the services.

Several evenings during the week a question and answer period and brief fellowship hour will follow the preaching service.

A brief service will be conducted at 7:30 a. m. each day. The evening services will begin with a prayer meeting at 7:00, to be followed by the evangelistic hour at 7:30.

Walter R. Langston will direct the music for the meetings which will be held in the Baptist Educational building.

TO BE AT CHURCH HERE SUNDAY NIGHT

Rev. and Mrs. Lelan John Rogers, missionaries from British Guiana arrived in August, 1948 for their first furlough and will be the speakers in a Missionary service at the Church of the Nazarene in Goldthwaite, Sunday night.

They left the United States in October, 1944, for Trinidad where they began their first term of service. In 1947 they went into British Guiana where their work has consisted of Preaching, Education, and Construction.

They are both outstanding speakers, and will have a message that will be worth something to every one. A special invitation is extended to every one to come and bring a friend. The service will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

THE FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

M. D. LOWRY, Pastor
PASTOR'S PARAGRAPH

The Church is of God and it is empowered by God. From the beginning Christians began to let loose in this world an amazing force. In time it upset the Roman Empire, began righting old wrongs, and starting reforms which have been a blessing to every human being.

There have been centuries when it has failed miserably. The divine power has seemed to go out of it. But always it has happened that, with a revival of spiritual interests, the power has returned. A careful study of the history of the Church makes it very plain that these periods of failure have been altogether the fault of those who made up the membership of the Church. At all times and in all centuries, vast stores of divine power have been available. The Christians could have it—can have it—any time they are willing to pay the price for it.

Every member of the Church who provides a clear and unchoked channel for the carrying of God's power adds to the effectiveness of the Church. Every member, who by his selfishness, his evil habits, or his wicked attitudes, makes it impossible for the spirit of God to flow through his life, becomes a hinderance to the Church.

We are living in a period of spiritual ineffectiveness. The power of God is not flowing out upon the world from the Church of Christ as the needs of this day demand.

The trouble is no secret. We, the members of the Church, have allowed our lives to become choked with the things of this world so that the power of God cannot make its way through us. March 13 through 20 is the Week of Dedication in the Methodist Church. It has been set aside as a time when every member shall search his own life to find all those things which hinder in the inflow and the outflow of the power of God. It is a holy challenge to every one of us. In the name of God I summon you to accept the challenge.

Mills County Boys Win Livestock Honors At San Angelo Stock Show

Mills County 4-H Club and F. F. A. Boys won high honors at the San Angelo Livestock Show held last week. This last show winning gives Mills County more top places in livestock than any county in Texas or the United States. The boys have won at Brownwood, Fort Worth, Houston, and San Angelo shows.

Flat Top weighed 1,000 pounds and auctioned for 75 cents per pound. Young Poe's "Topsy Top" won Grand Champion honors at the San Angelo Show two years ago, and sold for $2.50 per pound. Poe also won third place there this year with a light weight Hereford calf.

Mills County 4-H Club Boys won first place at the San Angelo show in the five calves from one county entry. They also won this place at the Houston show. David Nugent won the Showmanship Award, which was a beautiful engraved spur clip.

BABSON DISCUSSES UTILITIES

New York City, Jan 7.—During the past few days I asked many investment bankers:—"In view of the business and market uncertainties, what are the safest stocks to hold?" The general answer was that the stocks of the operating utility companies offer the best combination of safety and income.

Outlook For Business

Total kilowatt hour output of the utilities will decline with general business, but this decline will be from industrial customers. As many electric companies are now short of generating capacity, and cannot take on many new residential customers, this could be a blessing in disguise. Residential customers are much more profitable than large industrial customers. Therefore, by switching customers, the total output could decline without a decline in profits.

Electric companies have very few labor troubles. In the case of water power companies, the labor expense is only 20 per cent, compared with 80 per cent in the printing industry. The labor expense for the entire electrical industry is low, — equalled only by the chemical industry. Therefore, it has little to fear from the much-talked-of "fourth round" of wage increases.

General Operating Expenses

The electrical industry is a large purchaser of supplies, including millions of miles of copper wire, millions of poles, arms, and insulators, thousands of trucks, as well as great quantities of coal, oil and natural gas. Although there may be some further price increases on some of these products, yet the corner has turned downward on the average. This should benefit the utilities so long as we avoid war with Russia or the Chinese Communists.

The only "nigger in the woodpile" is the attitude of utility commissions regarding rates. Many utility companies are in need of higher rates, especially street railway and bus companies which have large labor expense. As, however, these rate-making bodies clearly understand that to take care of their customers the utilities must have more capital, and in order to raise more capital must give investors a reasonable dividend, they should gladly grant these needed rate increases.

Utilities as Inflation Hedges

Utilities of operating companies can be recommended for safety and for income, but they should not be selected as hedges against inflation. If considering only the cost of replacement, stocks of utility operating companies should be worth double what they were ten years ago provided they cannot be caught by the "Depreciation Formula". The fact, however, that utilities are not free to raise their rates without special permission, is a distinct handicap. Hence, for inflation hedges it is better to buy steel, oil or merchandising stocks. A live merchant can always keep one jump ahead of inflation.

It is wise to confine one's purchase of electric company stocks to the territory in which you live. You, yourself, should know the attitude of your public authorities on this rate-making problem; it is reflected by your local newspapers. If you believe that your public service commission is fair, then buy the stock of the company supplying your home with electricity; but not otherwise.

Importance of Diversification

Of course, you should not put all of your eggs in one basket, however good that basket may be. This means that one should not have more than 20 per cent of his funds in public utilities, and not more than 5 per cent

HEALTH NOTES

In a vigorous campaign to elevate the State health level by preventing the spread of communicable diseases which might be transmitted by foods, the State Department of Health is conducting training schools for food handlers in all sections of Texas, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"Food handlers are being instructed in sanitary methods of preparing, handling, and serving food for public consumption," Dr. Cox said. "Actual experience has shown that an insanitary eating establishment is one of the surest sources of spreading infection. The lack of proper sanitation in food handling is a definite menace to public health and our goal is the education of cooks, waiters, butchers, bakers, fountain men, and all other food handlers to such a level as will insure an elimination of this health hazard."

The training schools consist of elementary courses in bacteriology, communicable diseases, medical zoology, foods, disinfection, sterilization, personal hygiene, and sanitation.

Since the program was instituted about 8 years ago, more than 400 schools have been conducted, with a total of over 25,000 food handlers receiving their certificates of completion in the courses.

Arrangements for such a food school can be made through any county health unit, by requesting the service from the Division of Health Education, State Department of Health, Austin, Texas.

Eagle Want Ads Get Results

In any one company. An investor should have his funds divided amongst different industries, different companies and different sections. As a final thought, I urge you to avoid utilities in big cities that might be bombed in case of World War III.

BE SURE TO FILE
SS CLAIMS ON TIME

Would you throw away a check for $10 or $44 every month? Many elderly wage earners, temporarily away from work because of sickness, are doing just that by not filing claim for social security benefits on time, reports James B. Marley, Manager of the social security office located at 105 Brown Building, Austin, Texas.

Frequently employers and unions have established plans to provide sick payments when a worker is ill—to tide him over until he can get on his feet again. These payments, made under a definite company or union plan to sick wage earners, are not wages under the Social Security Act. Their receipt will not bar a worker, age 65 or more, from receiving social security benefits if he qualifies otherwise. Nor will they bar his wife from receiving her benefit in the event she is also 65.

"Every worker should get in touch with his social security office at age 65", warns Marley. "The field office will advise of rights under social security and will assist in establishing claims for benefits. Payments cannot be made unless a claim is filed with the Social Security Administration." Marley advises that if a worker is too ill to call in person at the field office, arrangements can be made for a representative to call at the home.

FARMERS AND FARM MACHINERY

In this period of mechanization, farmers are showing more and more interest in the selection and care of farm machinery. Texas A. & M. College agricultural engineers find special machinery for highly specialized farm and ranch jobs require large investments and depreciation of this machinery eats deeply into the operators profit margin if it is not properly cared for.

During the year, Texas county agents held numerous farm machinery field days. As a result, farmers were given an opportunity to become acquainted with new machinery and to actually see it perform, says W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer, in his annual report.

Five area tractor maintenance clinics were held in the state last spring. County agents and local 4-H Club leaders from 73 counties were given training at these two-day clinics. Those trained in the area clinics returned home and they were responsible for holding 105 county tractor maintenance schools. The attendance of these schools was 4,183. Savings can be made in the amount of gasoline used and the life of the tractor increased, if the principles taught at these schools are followed. These two items can materially increase the farm income, especially in areas where the investments in power machinery is large.

Farmers continue to build needed equipment. In 1948, 24,388 blueprints were sent to 218 counties and 19,346 pieces of equipment were built from these plans. Welding schools were held in 26 counties and 1,426 farmers were techniques of welding every repairs by stressed in the schu cludes Ulich.

HAYWORTH, FORD CO-STAR IN 'LOVES OF CARMEN'

There's good news in store for movie fans in the knowledge that the outstanding talents that made "Gilda" such a highly successful picture are reunited for what promises to be an even bigger and more entertaining film. The stars are Rita Hayworth and Glenn Ford and this time they are in Columbia's Technicolor drama, "The Loves of Carmen," which will be coming to the Melba Theatre on Thursday and Friday.

A strong supporting cast has been assembled for "The Loves of Carmen," including such sterling character players as Ron Randell, Victor Jory, Luther Adler, Arnold Moss, Joseph Buloff and Margaret Wycherly.

Director-producer Vidor is reported to have weeded violent romance with equally violent action. Production highlights are numerous. They include the greatest woman-to-woman fight ever put on the screen, as well as one of the most savage man-to-man combats ever filmed. Miss Hayworth portrays the gypsy Carmen, the creature of a thousand moods, who hated as powerfully as she loved. A spitting, tongue-lashing wildcat, Rita hurls herself on Veronika Pataky, a female who has won the gypsy's discarded lover. Rita emerges the winner, of course, in this no holds-barred, scratch-as-scratch-can brawl.

'RACHEL AND THE STRANGER'

With the American border of a hundred and fifty years ago as its setting, RKO Radio's "Rachel and the Stranger," co-stars Loretta Young, William Holden and Robert Mitchum in an exciting story of romance and adventure.

Holden portrays an Ohio frontiersman who, when his wife dies, decides to marry again for his son's sake. Matrimonial resources at the nearest frontier settlement are limited, but he purchases a pretty young bondswoman (Miss Young) for twenty-two dollars, marries her, and brings her to his lonely cabin.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Substance" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 13.

The Golden Text is: "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen" (Hebrews 11:1).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not highminded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy" (I Timothy 6:17).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Paul and John had a clear apprehension that, as mortal man achieves no worldly honors except by sacrifice, so he must gain heavenly riches by forsaking all worldliness (page 459).

Soil Conservation Practices Gain In 1948 In Four Southwest States

Fort Worth, March 3—Farmers cooperating with the 286 operating soil conservation districts in Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas applied major soil conservation practices to 5,235,549 acres in 1948, an increase over the 1947 total of 5,199,170 acres. Last year's work brought the accumulated total of land treated in the four states to 21,854,762 acres.

These figures are given in a report issued today by Louis P. Merrill, regional director of the Soil Conservation Service which furnishes districts with technical help in preparing and applying a coordinated soil conservation program. With headquarters here, Mr. Merrill directs SCS work in the 4-state Western Gulf Region. Districts take in 88 per cent of the Region's land area.

The report showed that in 1948 district cooperating farmers applied 3 per cent more conservation per man-year of Soil Conservation Service technical assistance than in 1947. It was the third straight year in which more conservation work was done on the land per SCS technician serving the districts than in the previous year, being 86 per cent more in 1946 than in 1945 and 23 per cent more in 1947 than in 1946.

In reviewing the year's highlights, Mr. Merrill referred to the harvest of almost 28 million pounds of grass and legume seed. Of that total more than four million pounds were in native grass seed, an all-time record, exceeding by more than three million pounds any previous harvest for the whole nation, Mr. Merrill estimated. SCS field technicians and soil conservation district supervisors paved the way for the huge harvest.

Mr. Merrill emphasized the urgent need of the seed in putting grass back on millions of eroded and depleted acres. He pointed out that before the Soil Conservation Service came on the scene, the majority of the region's native grasses had never been harvested for seed, and the other species in last fall's harvest had not been used to produce seed in commercial quantity.

"The nearly 28 million pounds of seed will produce many times that number of plants to help and to hold the soil," Mr. Merrill said. "Last year's seed harvest represents another milestone in conservation progress."

Two other 1948 highlights mentioned were the development of a new grass seed drill and a Bermuda grass sprig planter at SCS regional headquarters. Equipped with a fertilizer attachment, the seven-row drill will make it easier and cheaper to plant large areas with the seed of last year's record harvest, he pointed out. The planter will make it possible to sprig Bermuda grass eight or ten times faster than by hand labor.

Some of the major practices applied in the four states last year were: contour farming, 981,076 acres; cover crops to protect the soil and increase fertility, 1,243,727 acres; using crop residues in such a way as to control erosion and enrich the soil, 1,894,235 acres; range improvement, 1,973,151 acres; pasture improvement, 746,996 acres; managing woodlands for perpetual production, 874,527 acres; stock ponds, 9,528; terraces, 31,707 miles; draining wet areas of farms, 210,773 acres; and improving methods of applying irrigation water, 243,228 acres.

Accumulated totals in some major practices at year end were: contour farming, 6,231,475 acres; cover crops, 5,064,738 acres; crop residue management, 9,786,229 acres; range improvement, 11,636,249 acres; pasture improvement, 3,823,267 acres; woodland management, 1,313,923 acres; stock ponds, 45,747; terraces, 178,210 miles; farm drainage, 571,682 acres; and improving methods of applying irrigation water, 832,112 acres.

Texas Moves Ahead
Farmers and ranchers cooperating with the 132 operating soil conservation districts that take in 72 per cent of Texas applied major conservation practices last year to 3,159,978 acres, bringing the accumulated total to 13,141,503 acres.

The cooperating farmers and ranchers improved 1,406,463 acres of rangeland last year. The residues of crops were used in such a way as to prevent erosion and build up the fertility of the soil on 1,081,281 acres.

Part of a coordinated soil conservation program based on the principle of using the land according to its capabilities and treating it according to its needs, the 1948 work in Texas brought the accumulated totals of these practices to 6,862,649 acres of improved range and 5,758,970 acres of crop residue management at the year end, the report showed.

Other major soil conservation practices applied to Texas farms and ranches last year included:

Contour farming, 658,663 acres; planting cover crops to help control erosion and enrich the soil, 607,276 acres; planting strip crops to help control wind erosion, 17,920 acres; pasture improvement, 218,387 acres; seeding of range, 18,031 acres; seeding of pasture, 128,594 acres; woodland management for perpetual production, 47,586 acres; tree planting, 2,223 acres; stock ponds, 2,717; terraces, 20,937 miles; field diversions, 873 miles; drainage of wet farm areas, 30,252 acres; preparing land for irrigation, 33,293 acres; and improving methods of applying irrigation water, 206,063 acres.

Other totals accumulated since the first soil conservation districts were organized in Texas in 1940 included:

Contour farming, 3,865,352 acres; cover cropping, 2,106,477 acres; strip cropping, 196,844

DEATH CLAIMS HEZ COBB, 87

Funeral services were held from the Wilkerson Funeral Home chapel at 3 o'clock Thursday, March 3, for Hez Cobb, 87, pioneer resident of Mills and McCulloch Counties, who died at Medical and Surgical Hospital at 2:30 a. m., Wednesday.

4-H HOME IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM IS CONTINUED

The National 4-H Home Improvement program, first offered three years ago in response to State Club leaders who desired recognition for girls enrolled in this phase of 4-H work, has again been accepted by Texas, according to G. L. Noble, director, National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work. The activity is under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.

4-H girls who have imagination, are handy with a needle, paint-brush—and yes, hammer and saw, too—find the 4-H Home Improvement program a natural outlet for their many talents. Supervised and encouraged by their County Extension agent and local 4-H Club leader, the young homemakers plan improvements for beauty, comfort, health and safety. They also learn to know what is enduring in old as well as new furnishings, and are given an opportunity to develop their skills. Through demonstrations they show what can be accomplished.

"Every home cannot be richly furnished, but it can reflect good taste," Club leaders point out. As an added incentive toward this goal the Sears-Roebuck Foundation is again providing merit awards amounting to nearly $10,000. These include four sterling silver medals for winners in each county; an all-expense trip to the National Club Congress, Chicago, for state winners, and eight $300 scholarships to be presented to a blue award group selected from the state winners. The scholarship is increased $100 over last year.

There were 44 county medal winners named in 1948 in Texas.

Big Valley H. D. Club

There was no meeting of the Club on March 3, as was scheduled due to the fact that Mrs. Mary Weaver, with whom we were to have met, had to be away from home. Since she did not have time to get some one to have the meeting in her stead, it was called off at the last minute, but we will meet on our next meeting, March 17, in her home.

'WATCH OUT FOR KIDS' DRIVE
GAINS URGENCY WITH SPRING

Motorists were warned by the National Safety Council recently to be on the lookout for children on the streets as milder weather and lengthening days keep more and more children out of doors past school hours.

Traffic accidents in recent years annually have killed more youngsters one to 14 years old than any disease, according to the Council.

A Detroit survey showed that only 8 per cent of child traffic accidents occurred when children were going to or from school.

'Watch Out for Children' is the March slogan of 'Operation Safety,' the continuing traffic safety program sponsored nationally by the Council.

Most child traffic accidents could be avoided if motorists automatically regarded the sight of playing children as a danger sign and slowed to a speed which permits instant stopping.

Despite excellent advances in the education of children through schools and official agencies, children are still children and have little regard for the consequences of any impulsive action.

CLEAN-UP WEEK BEGAN WITH GIFT TO CHILDREN

Spring Clean-Up Week, the yearly phenomenon in which more than 10,000 communities clean up the winter's debris, is said to be the result of the gift of a blue pinafore to an untidy little girl in Cleveland.

The child, a product of a run-down, shanty district back in 1909, was given a bright, crisp pinafore by her teacher in an effort to instill some pride in the girl.

Asstounded neighbors began righting their own back yards. The ugly street became a respectable part of town. The neighborhood clean-up inspired other communities to tackle their local eyesores.

In recent years it has grown steadily, and now the National Board of Fire Underwriters reports that more than 10,000 cities, towns and villages participate in the yearly clean-up.

God's Signature

Lesson for March 13, 1949

IN A STRANGE city you may suddenly need to be identified. Some suspicious clerk wants to know if your signature is genuine. It is a fair challenge, for too many liars are in circulation. Jesus himself had to furnish identification. No less a person than his old friend John the Baptist had grown uneasy. Are you the One we are looking for, he inquired, 'or shall we look for some one else?'

Jesus wrote no back, no letters even; he wrote in action, and his acts were the handwriting of God. It is important to see where Jesus underscored that writing. It is true, his healings were what we call miracles. But Jesus did not even mention that feature.

What he asked John to notice was simply this: the blind see, the lame walk; lepers are cured, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, and (as a climax!) the poor hear good news. The signature of God, in short, is not sheer power; it is using what power one has, to help people in trouble. That was the sort of person Jesus was.

We do know that after dinner Zacchaeus was a changed man. He was going to give back every dishonest penny, with interest; and since he could not locate every one he had cheated, he was going to give away half of his holdings for the benefit of the poor.

What Jericho needed was a new administration, an honest one; they needed slum clearance; and Zacchaeus was going to give it to them. But first of all Zacchaeus had needed a new heart—and Jesus gave him that. Again it was the genuine signature of God.

We Too ALL AROUND us is a troubled world. Some men, seeing it, infer there is no God. Others conclude that if there is one, he must be bad or weak. The truth is that the signature of God is not to be found in the evil and the confusion of the world. It is to be seen wherever freedom is standing against slavery, wherever truth is pushing back ignorance, where diseased bodies are being healed, where sanity replaces madness.

More people would believe in God if they could see more of the handwriting of God. Do you want to help?

We cannot always do things as simply as Jesus did. Curing the diseased is not for us a simple matter of saying, Be well. A Christian woman, distressed by what she had learned of the plight of the insane in her backward state, was asking the head of the state hospital (himself a church officer), 'What can we Christians do?'

'You Look So Much Better Today, Dear, I'm Sure The Rest Is Doing You A World of Good.'

1949 CHEVROLET VENTILATION

Engineering studies of the 1949 Chevrolet ventilation system show that with windows closed and air duct valves open, car interior air is changed approximately two and one-half times each minute at 30 miles an hour. At 60 miles an hour, continues the report, the frequency of air changes is doubled.
 According to the company, the fact will prove a worthwhile safety feature in certain types of damp spring weather when windshields and windows have a tendency to fog. Body glass will stay clear without the necessity of providing drafts from open ventpanes.
 The new Chevrolet ventilation system includes screened openings behind the radiator grille leading through tubes to outlets under the dash. The volume of air issuing into the passenger compartment is controlled by knobs beneath the instrument panel. The system is standard equipment on all Chevrolet passenger cars.

SCALLORN—

By ORA BLACK
 There's quite a bit of activity going on out our way. Farmers planting corn, women doing their gardens, anxious to see the first seed come through, as they know that means early vegetables which are always better than any later ones. The turkey men also keep busy (of which we have three). Families who are handling turkeys in a big way and are shipping eggs to a northern market. Too, the REA people are about to complete their work of connecting us up with the outside world with electricity.
 The Santa Fe Company is lengthening the side track at Antelope Gap in order to take care of the longer trains, and believe me, they are doing a lot of blasting and moving great quantities of dirt.

 Mr. and Mrs. John S. Kuykendall and little son came over from Houston to spend a few days with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Wittenburg, and Mr. and Mrs. John Kuykendall. Joe Evans, accompanied by Raymond Swinney and son of Lometa, visited Sunday in the home of Mrs. R. D. Evans and family.
 Mr. and Mrs. Noble Doggett and family went down to Double Ford Sunday for an outing.
 Mrs. C. H. Black and sons Huntis and Layton called Monday evening in the Clive Carothers home.
 Mr. and Mrs. Robert Long visited one evening in the home of Mrs. R. D. Evans.
 Mr. and Mrs. Taff of San Saba were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Johnson.
 Several families from here went to Caradan Monday evening to the Mills County Workers Meeting. Mullin Church won the Attendance Banner, which makes twice in succession, and they plan to be at Scallorn in full force in April to win again, as this will make the third time for them to take the banner, and here's luck.
 There were 171 present at the Caradan meeting and we must say the people there certainly know how to prepare food for a large crowd. So take a hint, Scallorn.

WHAT TO TELL YOUR FAMILY ABOUT SOCIAL SECURITY

If you are a worker who is building social insurance protection on the job, you should make it your business to TELL YOUR FAMILY about your social security, said James B. Marley, Manager of the Austin Social Security Office.

Tell them that if you die, they may be eligible for monthly old-age and survivors insurance benefits.

Tell them that the law makes special provision for widows with children in their care. Show your family where you keep your social security card.

Tell them in case of your death to take it to the nearest Social Security Office. There they will get all the help they need to file a claim for benefits—free of charge. Tell them to contact the office promptly. Monthly benefits are retroactive for only three months and they may lose some of their payments by delay. If they don't know where the Social Security Office is, the Post Master will tell them.

Miss Joyce Harrell of Baylor University at Waco spent last week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Harrell, Sr., and other relatives and friends.

O. C. FISHER

connection with the aged and blind? "You political parasites have been making them the goats for years."

Another one in a less serious vein came from Jakey Lutz of Brooklyn, who wisecracked:

"Say, that's a hot one—a goat stamp. If you get away with it you'll be popular with the kids!"

A man in Boston sent me a clipping about my bill, and also a clipping of a "Grin and Bear" cartoon. The latter showed the rotund Senator Snort, with star and briefcase, inside the office of the "New Stamp Division" of the Postoffice Department, with the man behind the desk denying the Senator's request for a new stamp, in these words:

"I agree it would make a fine, inexpensive anniversary present for your wife, Senator—but we got too many new stamps already!"

John Moriarty of 4 Sylvester Place, Lynbrook, N. Y., has absolutely no patience with the idea. He asks for a "dignified philatelic program with stamps that actually commemorate more than the appeasement of some politician", that "makes sense!"

Well, the newspapers have picked up the cry for a slow-down on commemorative stamps. Last year there were 39, which we will admit maybe was a bit too many. They commemorated nearly everything from the centennial of the American poultry industry to the Fort Bliss cen-ennial. The Washington Star, commenting on the stamp fever and pending bills the other day, said in an editorial!

"One of the stickers demanded would glorify the trotter Hambletonian; another would advertise the centennial of the Angora goat!" (What I didn't like was his exclamation point.) Getting back to the letters, here's a classic, signed, "McGillicuddy". The address is Bryans Road, Maryland. The writer says, "I am a goat—We goats appreciate a Congressman of your vision, Congressman. All the time we are nothing but the goats of crude jests, with people alleging that we eat tin cans, which is not the fact. We only eat the bark off fruit trees and shrubs which our masters in any case should know better than to keep, for they only attract dogs for certain purposes anyway."

Then McGillicuddy speaks kindly of his sister whose name is Justice, "on account of the fact that from the front view she looks like a be-wigged Justice of the Court of Kings Bench".

But the pay-off came the other day when, in the House cloak room I saw my friend, Representative Tom Murray of Tennessee, chairman of the Committee to which my bill was referred. I said: "Tom, I've got a little bill before your committee and I want you to help me on it. It's a little stamp bill." Murray said he'd be glad to look into it, that the committee is swamped with bills for saamps this year, maybe 60-odd pending; that the Postmaster General had asked him and the Chairman of the Senate committee to hold up action until a policy limiting the number can be worked out. He went on to say that some of the bills were good but that others were on the doubtful side. To illustrate his point, he added: "Some bird even introduced a bill to commemorate the goat!"

Center City H. D. Club

The first meeting of the year for the Center City H. D. Club was held in the home of Mrs. Jack Elms on February 10. The new president, Mrs. Mann presided. The new year books were passed and the 14 members present drew numbers for their turn as hostess to the club. It was decided to meet twice a month. Miss Hintz will be present on the fourth Thursdays as formerly. There will be a member meeting on the second and Wednesday. Everyone was pleased to have Miss Edwards, the dist list agent present.

Mrs. Elms served delicious refreshments to Miss Hintz, 14 members and three guests.

Our second meeting was held on February 24 with our president, Mrs. Gilbert Mann. Mrs. Jack Elms read an interesting paper on "What is T. H. D. A." Mrs. Ercher McCasland gave a very interesting talk on "Interesting Women of the Bible." Miss Hintz led the discussion on bedroom furniture and demonstrated finishing furniture. Her method gave a lovely finish to the wood. We were all glad indeed to learn how to apply it.

Mrs. Mann served lovely cake and punch to 17 members and Miss Hintz.

We are very happy to welcome our new member, Mrs. Le May, to our Club and our community.

The meeting adjourned to meet on March 9 with Mrs. Nelson Waggoner. —Reporter.

Misses Rita Henry, Kathryn Satterwhite, and Betty Dahlstrom of Austin were week-end guests in the home of Rita's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Henry.

Make that water walk downhill

Water that runs downhill runs away with your precious topsoil

IT doesn't take a "gully-washer" or a "goose drover" to tell you of your precious topsoil. If you have up-and-down-hill row crops, water-grazed range all invite rain to escape without working for you—and to erode your topsoil away. But sod or cover crops act like a blotter to absorb and hold the growth-giving water. Slopes and hillsides tilled on the contour, with alternating strips of crop-land and grass, save maximum amounts of water, hold erosion to a minimum. Flatter fields may be subsurface-tilled to keep the protective rain-absorbing trash on top. Correct rotations of crops, which include plow-under crops, will help absorb and hold moisture.

You need lots of water. It takes about 200 barrels of water to grow one bushel of corn. That's around 625,000 gallons for every 100 bushels. And most other growing plants also require large amounts of moisture . . . You can't control the amount of rainfall you get. But you can conserve it, so that every drop does the best possible job of making grass or crops for you.

As farmers and ranchers in every state well know, water has a "split personality." It can be your ally, or a devastating foe. Lashing rains can erode away inches of fertile topsoil in a short time. But it takes nature 300 to 1,000 years to rebuild each lost inch. That's why the control of water is so important in a good land management program. Considerable progress in erosion control has been made in the past ten years. But we've still got a long way to go! Hundreds of millions of productive acres are endangered by erosion and gullying. They're washing away! Only good land management can save our soil and keep America strong. It will pay you—and all of us—to make that water walk downhill.

Growth

As every boy and girl should know, Big oaks from little acorns grow. And that's the way with business, too: Your growth depends on the job you do!

Gustavus Swift, away back when, Slaughtered a heifer, and he then Peddled the meat, also the hide. Got back the cost . . . a small profit beside!

From that small start in this big land Swift kept pace with the job at hand. As the job grew bigger, Swift grew, too. Yes, growth depends on the job you do!

New Grass Varieties

by Wilkie Collins, Jr. Soil Conservation Service Lincoln, Nebraska

Wilkie Collins, Jr.

Good pasture is the key to production of more meat, milk and wool, at lower cost. In addition, a good cover of grass protects your soil against wind and water erosion. When you have improved pasture, or range, good livestock and a sound conservation program, you have a profitable combination.

Many new grasses have been developed in recent years. Several of these promise to become real money-makers for livestock men. They out-yield old grasses, give a longer grazing season, and provide better soil protection.

1. Smooth Brome—The Lincoln, Auchenbach and Fisher strains give higher yields, are easier established and withstand summer heat and drought better in the central, eastern and southern broom areas.

2. Intermediate Wheatgrass—A high-yielding, sod-forming cool-season grass that is easier to establish than most varieties. It is highly palatable and does exceptionally well in the central and northern plains and western mountain area.

3. Sand Lovegrass—Highly palatable, especially well adapted to sandy soils.

4. Tall Wheatgrass—A high-yielding cool-season bunchgrass that does better than other grasses under alkaline conditions.

5. Ky-31 Fescue—High-yielding, supplies longer grazing, especially good for southern and southeastern states.

6. Russian Wild Rye, Blackwell Strain of Switchgrass, Hays Buffalo Grass, Yellow Bluestem and Sweet Sudan are other new or improved grasses for adapted areas.

Grasses usually give higher yields and better quality forage when grown in association with an adapted legume.

A System that Works!

I get riled up when I hear talk of changing our system of government, or our system of doing business, here in America. Sure, there's always room for improvement. But you can improve a house without wrecking the building! Any system that produces worthwhile results must be a pretty good one. I think our way of doing things has worked out mighty well for Americans.

Here we are—about 6% of the world's population, living on less than 6% of the world's land. Yet, through what I like to call our "three I's"—Initiative, Ingenuity and Industry—we have created the American way of life. We enjoy greater freedoms than the other 94% of the world's people. We have educational opportunities for all . . . schools, colleges, universities, libraries. And 48% of the world's radios. As just one measure of personal comfort and convenience, we have 92% of the world's bathtubs. We have a motor vehicle for every four people. And more than 286,000 miles of paved roads for them to run on.

Most important of all, thanks to your system of agricultural production, we have plenty of food for all of us—and enough to help feed our less fortunate neighbors. Yes, I think it's worth getting riled up in favor of the American System now and again.

AL T. LANGFORD WINS PURINA "MIKE AND IKE" AWARD

Hollis Blackwell Feed Co., of Goldthwaite, received the Eddy Arnold Award for Showmanship this week for the successful completion of the recent "Mike and Ike" live pig display at the store. The award was given by Arnold on behalf of the Ralston Purina Company, sponsors of "Mike and Ike" demonstrations throughout the country. The award consists of a large picture of Arnold, who is acknowledged the nation's favorite singer of folk songs, an inscription calling attention to the showmanship exhibited by Blackwell Feed Co. and bears Arnold's autograph.

The "Mike and Ike" demonstrations here gave definite proof that the feeding of a proper ration will help raise a big hog for marketing. The two hogs were litter mates and were nearly equal in size and weight when the demonstration started last fall. "Mike" was fed a Purina Hog Ration, while "Ike" received straight grain. At the end of the demonstration, "Mike" was bigger and heavier than "Ike" and the gains made by "Mike" were made at a lower cost per pound than gains made by "Ike."

John Earl Roberts from San Antonio and Claud Holley and wife from Madill, Okla. visited this week with Mrs. Eula Nichols and other relatives.

SOME FACTS ABOUT GOVT. INSURANCE

World War I veterans who have retained their U. S. Govt. Life Insurance should think to see if the beneficiary to whom they would desire the insurance be paid to in case of death is correct.

Also of interest to veterans of World War I is the fact that they may apply for and secure U. S. Government Insurance by passing physical examination.

WORLD WAR II VETERANS AND NSLI WAR POLICIES

World War II veterans can still reinstate their National Service Life Insurance, if not lapsed for more than three months, if they are in as good health now as at time of lapse and making a statement to that effect.

If the insurance has lapsed more than three months it will be necessary to take physical examination.

Anyone can now be named as beneficiary of this insurance. Death payments can be made in lump sum, or three other optional methods.

For further information and assistance on your insurance—and all other benefits veterans or dependents of veterans may be entitled to—see the Representative of V. A. John H. Quick, at Court House, Commissioners Room, Tuesday morning of each week—or V. A. Office, 200 East Baker, Brownwood, Texas.

We Are Operating At MAXIMUM CAPACITY—In An Effort To Supply Your Areas' Demand With A Well Cured, Properly Blended Fertilizer. WE DO NOT RETAIL—WE WHOLESALE TO OUR DEALERS

Our Dealers In Your County Are Well Known

The quality of our fertilizer is second to none. The physical condition of our fertilizer and the manner in which it flows through your fertilizer distributor are superior.

SOME PERTINENT FACTS FOR YOU TO CONSIDER

DUE TO the quota system your allotted acreage on certain crops has been cut—
BUT YOU can by proper fertilizing assure even higher production than you have realized in the past by making acre yield more.

DUE TO extreme cold weather small grains are often seriously damaged—

BUT YOU can by proper fertilizing supply the plant with minerals which are salty and lowers the plants to point several degrees, thereby assisting the plant to survive extreme cold weather as well as to supply the plant sufficient nourishment to keep it alive and growing in the event it is damaged by extreme weather.

DUE TO the extreme early hot winds we often fail to make a good corn crop by about ten to fifteen days—

BUT YOU can by proper fertilizing plant earlier with less danger of cold weather, also making possible more growth thereby assuring some fifteen or twenty days earlier maturity and greater yield thereby beating the best and dry weather to the draw.

DUE TO the scarcity and price of feed, as well as the fact that it has been proven otherwise, successful winter grazing proved to be one of the most important factors to the livestock industry—

BUT YOU can by proper fertilizing more than double your grazing as well as furnish the animals with essentials necessary for maximum development.

DUE TO the fact that your number of cuttings of alfalfa, etc., depends upon how fast the plant grows, the cutting range from two to seven per season—

BUT YOU can by proper fertilizing put sufficient growth on your hay crop to insure maximum yield at the same time.

DUE TO the fact that fertilizer was first used in sandy loam areas forty years ago in such states as Alabama, Georgia, etc., many people believe that the black land areas do not respond to fertilizer—
BUT YOU can by proper fertilizing realize as much increase in yield on black land as has been realized on the soils. Your County Agent, A. A. Administrative Officer or Soil Conservation Supervisor will tell you that more fertilizer is used in the Mississippi Delta—the richest soil in America—and the rich Western grain belt than any section of the United States. The farmers who do not fertilize black land, should properly post himself on the realized by proper fertilizing in the Mississippi Delta, the Kansas grain area, the Nebraska and Iowa corn belt, the California and South Texas vegetable and fruit sections.

DUE TO the fact that some areas during the past several years have practically specialized in certain crops—peanuts in Central Texas, maize and cotton in West Texas, flax, peanuts and maize in South Texas, etc., the farmers are wondering what types they should use and how to properly apply their fertilizers on other crops—find it necessary to plant their excess acreage during this period of acreage quotas and gear shifting, so to speak.

BUT YOU can by proper fertilizing realize just as much increase in yield on one crop as another, for after all, all are plants of some kind—their source of food (the soil) is the same. They ALL MUST have nitrogen, phosphorus, potash—and these are the basic elements in fertilizer. To be sure all crops might not respond equally to the analysis fertilizer but various services at your command can advise you which analysis are best adapted to the particular plant according to the deficiencies of your local soils.

The Cotton and Potato Raiser in the old States—Alabama, Georgia, etc., fertilize heavy and will tell you that IT PAYS.

The Grain Raiser in the vast Northwestern Grain Belt fertilizes heavy and will tell you IT PAYS.

The South Texas farmer finds that proper fertilizing is PROFITABLE.

The Mississippi River Delta Farmer finds that fertilizer PAYS.

The Central Texas farmer has found that fertilizer PAYS.
