Third National Boy Scout Jamboree

By BILL BECKHAM

After arriving at the Jamboree site on the Irvine Ranch, in southern California we set up our tents and teepees. Then we were ready to begin our adventure.

Friday, July 17th, was the official opening day of the Jamboree. Friday morning dawned hazy as did most of the other mornings but the sun soon appeared. After breakfast we hiked two miles to the main arena and practiced our Indian dances for the Grand Opening scheduled for Friday night. After about two hours of practice we returned to camp for lunch.

That afternoon we went trading and visiting. We had an early supper at the trading post and headed for the arena.

At eight o'clock the colorful Grand Entry into the arena began. Our Indian dance was the first act. It was followed by many colorful acts: Coronado's Spanish explorers, Pioneers of the Old West, Mexican soldiers and the battle of the Alamo, Custer's Last Stand and many others. After a gay night we returned to our camp and welcomed cots.

Saturday morning, believe it or not, we stayed in bed until seven o'clock instead of the usual six. After breakfast we cleaned up the camp and went trading.

After lunch we went to Balboa Beach for our first swim in the sparkling Pacific. After about 45 minutes of swimming we returned to our camp.

After supper we went to a sectional camp fire. It was like the Grand Opening only on a smaller scale.

Sunday morning at 10:00 o'clock we went to church at the big arena. That afternoon we practiced our Indian dances.

That night we went to the arena again for church services. Vice-President Richard Nixon made the opening address. It was one of the finest speeches I have ever heard. He was accompanied by three California congressmen. Mr. Nixon's address was followed by a service entitled, "My Duty to God."

Monday afternoon we went to a Hollywood Variety Show and saw several movie stars. Among them were: "Lash" Larue, who did several tricks with his whip. Dorothy Lamour, who sang, and the Bell Sisters, who also sang.

Monday night we went to General Headquarters and performed a dance called the "Spirit Dance" in our Indian costumes.

Tuesday we spent a wonderful day on Santa Catalina Island. We left the mainland in a water taxi at 7:30 a. m., and we arrived at Catalina at 10:00 a. m. The twenty-two mile ocean ride was a new experience for many of us. On the island we had a wonderful time sight-seeing. At about 3:30 we returned to our boats to go back to the mainland.

Wednesday at noon we went for our second swim in the ocean. Our swim was followed by quite a bit of trading as we were trying to swap the last of our Texas oil and other items.

Thursday night we went to the closing ceremony entitled Calvalcade of Scouting. It was a fitting closing to our wonderful adventure.

Friday morning we were up bright and early taking down our camp for the trip home.

Approval of contract for Central Office equipment is expected within a few days. Bid for this phase of the project was accepted from North Electric Company of Gideon, Ohio at a cost of $203,000.00.

According to Sanders' announcement company management, engineers, REA representatives and contractors will meet on Wednesday and Thursday of this week to work out final details and work is expected to get underway as soon as equipment can be moved on the job.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Martin and children, Susie and Michial of Corpus Christi were guests of Mrs. Martin's grandmother, Mrs. J. W. Weathers, last weekend.

Emergency Loans Under New Laws Explained By County FHA Supervisor

Methods of making emergency livestock loans to farmers and cattlemen who need Federal credit to buy feed and pay operating expenses were outlined this week by FHA County Supervisor, George M. Dorman. The special loans were authorized by Congress in new disaster credit legislation approved July 14, 1953, by President Eisenhower.

This credit will be extended only to established producers and feeders of cattle, sheep and goats, who have a reasonable chance of working out of their difficulties but cannot obtain the funds they need from private or cooperative credit sources. Loans will not be made to enable a man to go into the livestock business or to carry on commercial feed lot operations.

Heaviest demand is expected in the drought-stricken Southwest but loans to cattlemen are not limited to the disaster area.

Application blanks will be available from the Farmers Home Administration offices within a few days. They will be available also at banks, production credit associations, national farm loan associations, as well as the local offices of the FHA. All applications will be passed on by special livestock loan committees to be appointed by Secretary Benson.

The farmers can get in touch with the loan committee servicing his area by contacting his banker, the County Agricultural Agent, the Farmers Home Administration Supervisor, or any other local agricultural official.

Loans will be made in amounts of $2,500 and more, at 5 percent interest for periods up to 3 years for the purchase of feed, seed and other operating expenses. They can be renewed if renewal is found to be in the best interest of the farmer and the Government. The loan funds cannot be used to refinance debts the farmers already owe.

When a farmer applies for a livestock loan, his creditors will not be asked to subordinate their claims to the Government. However, they will be expected to give standby agreements for a long enough period to enable the farmer to have a reasonable chance of recovery.

The Secretary will set up special loan committees to serve a whole state or a few counties, depending on the demand for this credit. Each committee will consist of at least three local persons having recognized knowledge of the livestock industry.

Most loan approvals will be handled by the local committees. However, whenever an applicant's total indebtedness would exceed $50,000, final approval will be by the Secretary of Agriculture.

Authority for making livestock loans extends for two years.

The legislation passed by Congress also provides a supplemental source of emergency credit for established farmers—not limited to livestock operators—in areas designated by the President as major disaster areas. When the Secretary of Agriculture finds that farmers in these areas have felt the force of an economic disaster—such as a substantial price decline—to the extent they cannot get needed credit from local sources to carry on farming operations, he can authorize loans to meet that need.

Large areas of Texas and Oklahoma and parts of Colorado, Kansas, New Mexico and Arkansas have recently been designated as major disaster areas. Emergency loans to help farmers hit by economic disaster will be similar to the disaster loans now being made by the Farmers Home Administration to farmers who have suffered production losses from natural disasters as drouth, flood and windstorms. New loans will be made only during the period of emergency. Lending will be handled by the Farmers Home Administration offices. Credit will be available at rates and terms to be established by the Secretary.

The new legislation also provides that in the future whatever expense the Government bears in supplying feed and seed in disaster areas will be borne by a disaster loan revolving fund under the jurisdiction of the Secretary of Agriculture. In the past this expense had been carried by the President's emergency fund.

The other two new programs will also be financed out of the disaster revolving fund. About $16 million is available at the present time. A request for additional funds is being made.

AN EXAMPLE FOR US ALL

Local chambers of commerce, like other organizations, often cry loudly for sharp cuts in government spending as a general policy — and then protest violently at proposed retrenchment which will affect their own areas.

However, there are honorable exceptions to this, and a group of Indiana communities recently provided an example which deserves widespread praise and emulation.

The Army decided to close Camp Atterbury, which meant that three Indiana municipalities, Indianapolis among them would directly feel the loss of a big payroll. It might have been expected that the chambers of commerce involved would move heaven and earth in an attempt to get the decision rescinded. The opposite was the case. All three chambers recognized that economy must begin at home. The president of the Indianapolis chamber wrote the Secretary of Defense pledging support to the action "regardless of its immediate effect upon this locality." His letter continued: "We regard the necessity for economy in federal spending as most urgent, secondary only to the requirements of adequate defense of our country against a foreign army. . . . This is an occasion where those who urge reducing federal spending should show they mean what they say. . . ."

We will have cheaper and more efficient government when that attitude is shared in every section of the country. Economy in government must be for all — not just "the other fellow."

Foresee 'Copter Playing Big Role in A-Warfare
Flying Windmills Proved Value in Korea Fighting

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—An important role in atomic warfare has been mapped out for the helicopter which has demonstrated its value as a life-saving craft in the Korean war.

Army transportation officers reported in testimony before a Senate committee that the helicopter is the ideal means of moving men to the front after an atomic attack—if one has to be made in future war. Speed at such time, they said, is most important because an attacking force must move before the enemy is able to recover from the "high shock" of an atomic attack and regroup its forces.

Brig. Gen. Paul F. Yount

Brig. Gen. Paul F. Yount, acting chief of Army transportation, said: "The helicopter with its ability to overpass destroyed roads and bridges, and deliver troops into an area 20 or 30 miles away in a matter of minutes, offers the only solution to this problem."

In the Korean war, the 'copter, which aviation experts have long predicted will play an important role in civilian flying, has come into its own—bringing food and other supplies to men in mountain outposts and rescuing the injured from isolated areas.

SAVING BY ACCIDENT—The taxpayers' billions and millions do some strange tricks when military budget makers make their calculations. Take the case of the B-47 jet bomber—delayed for six months before production started. The unforeseen block saved taxpayers at least $100 million, the Pentagon experts figure.

When the new bomber first began coming off the assembly lines, Gen. Curtis LeMay objected because it did not have a tail gun. Designing and installing the gun took six more months. The setback in the production program meant fewer planes, so there were fewer lost in training accidents.

Budget makers can show—by compilations from records—that if the scheduled number of the B-47s had been produced and if the expected number of crashes had occurred, these alone would have cost an extra $100 million. The big planes cost $2,300,000 each and many crashes involve damage without serious casualties.

The accountants can also show that since in the normal course of events, the plane will become obsolete in five years, billions of dollars will be saved because a smaller number of B-47s will be produced. The current rate of production is about 600 a year.

It is not quite clear whether such savings are real or just something that affects budget-making, but at least the conclusion can be drawn that unfavorable delays, miscalculations and accidents in starting production provide a favorable action in the current budget.

THE CHINESE SOLDIER—The Army has compiled statistics on the average Chinese Communist soldier fighting in Korea. He is a simple peasant, about five feet, seven inches tall, weighing 140 pounds. The average Red army man of China is neither a fighting demon nor a "died-in-the-wool intellectual professing the Marxist doctrine." Instead, according to the Army, description he is: "In all probability, a farmer in his mid-20s. He cannot read or write. He gripes about incessant night marches, bad treatment from his officers, lack of adequate clothing and medical care, the frequent UN air attacks and the lack of Red air support."

China Given Analysis
His chief concern is not for the ideological principles involved in the struggle nor the absurd Communist charge of 'imperialistic aggression.' His main interest is staying alive and being able to obtain his daily quota of grain, rice, fried flour and millet."

He has little in the way of amusement, virtually no contact with civilians in North Korea and leads an austere and disciplined life.

Congratulations to Sig Jernigan. He was presented an engraved watch after taking part in the Olney Quarter Horse show, ten days ago, where he served as judge. The presentation was made by Charles S. In commenting on the present, Sig stated: "If they had placed a group of watches in a box and let me pick one of my choice it couldn't have been better—just what I've always wanted."

It looks like we'll have a baseballman in our family. Terry is on the camp paper staff so he has informed us. The comment coming from A. M. Pribble last Friday. Their son Terry is spending five weeks at Camp Rio Vista located at Ingram, Texas. Our guess is that at a boys' camp there are a good many activities to be reported and camp or school papers have served for years as a starting place for those who later follow in that line of work.

It must have been an interesting game for some of the local spectators when they attended the Red Sox-Meridian Bluejays baseball game last week Tuesday night, at Meridian. John Gilliam, who played with the Red Sox the early part of the season, has been taking part in the summer baseball school for the past several weeks and pitched five innings of the seven inning game. That was his first time in that line of work.

er team mates and buddies of the early season games in the Hill Country league. Makes one wonder what a spot the local fans were placed in during such a game, as boosters for the home team and also having one of our own boys on the opposition team. From reports and final score which came out five to three in favor of the Bigstaters, one can only guess that John's pitching arm is coming along in fine shape. The game was pronounced John Gilliam's ball game.

Frank P. Bowman asked me the other day and asked me if I had seen the tree on the Courthouse Square that contained a fountain of running water. We naturally had to tell him that it was news to us. He said: "I'm not taking a big mesquite tree at the corner of the Courthouse has water dripping out of it." If that had been reported late Thursday afternoon after the big rain, it would have been easy to understand. But, it happened before the rain and caused one to wonder and we investigated. A day or two later F. P. told us that the water was coming from an air conditioner which is located in the window of the P. M. A. office on the second floor. They hooked up their water hose and drained the flow into the tree to run down the trunk. During a few weeks of little or no rain—at least one mesquite tree had something to smile about.

Herman Koop of Priddy, tells the story about Bill Fox commenting as follows: "This is the first time in four years of my coming here to get Case Implement parts that you were short one little item." Speaks well for Herman and his partner Otto Seibheimer who operate the Hi-Way Garage and Implement Company as Case Dealers for Mills County. They take pride in carrying a complete stock of parts for their line of tractors and implements. Said Herman: "I don't know how in the world it happened, it was only a little item, but we were caught without a guess that's one time we slipped up."

"Dedicated To Punkin Great house" was the inscription on a Broadman Hymnal in a local church recently. It was lettered in the square space where churches usually place their books to signify that they are property of that particular organization. Knowing boys of that age group and sometimes of their conduct one can easily surmise that it was placed there at some time before the church services started. They would take time to do it after services were underway. But, just in case the book was inscribed during a service it doesn't necessarily mean someone missed out of the sermon. For the story is told that a preacher was invited to speak at a country church and he decided to take his young son with him for the services. The boy was about twelve years of age. After services were over and the two were on their way home, a nice little drive, the preacher father started to speak to his son about his behaviour during services, and in particular during the sermon. After giving the little fellow a pretty good talking, the preacher concluded his remarks with the line: "From the way you were behaving I dare say you missed the entire text that I was preaching about." Then the boy looked up and said: "No, I didn't miss out on what you spoke about, and he quoted the text and repeated some of the remarks the elder had spoken during the sermon. Then in concluding his remarks he said: "And furthermore, there are forty-seven more holes in the ceiling of this church."

 In Refreshing Summer Drinks

By ALICE DENHOFF
 IF there's any summer beverage you can count on to quench the thirst that comes with humid, hot weather, it's iced tea, the wonderful drink that was introduced to this country nearly 50 years ago.

Here are a few variations on iced tea, ideas with a party air, or just to make the family cool and happy. Tea Grape-Punch first, 2 quarts of a wonderful thirst-quencher.

Tea-Grape Punch

In a saucepan, bring 2 c. water to a full, rolling boil. Remove from heat. Immediately add 3 tsp. tea; brew 3 to 5 minutes. Stir and strain tea into container holding 2 c. cold water. Add one c. sugar; stir until dissolved. Add 1 1/2 c. pineapple juice, one c. grape juice, 1/2 c. lemon juice. Serve over ice cubes and garnish with lemon slices.

Next, another delightful drink, a tangy Tea-Cranberry Punch.

For this, proceed to prepare tea as outlined above. Strain tea into container holding 2 c. cold water. Add 3/4 c. sugar and stir until dissolved. Add 2 c. cranberry juice, 1 1/2 c. orange juice and 2 tsp. lemon juice. Serve over ice cubes and garnish with orange slices.

Refreshing Combination

For the final variation of iced tea and fruit juices, a refreshing combination, bring 2 quarts freshly drawn water to a full, rolling boil in a saucepan. Remove from heat. Immediately add 6 tsp. tea. Brew 3 to 5 minutes. Stir and strain tea into container holding one quart of cold water. Add 1/2 c. each lemon juice, orange juice and pineapple juice, and 1 tsp. each grated orange and lemon rind. Add sugar if desired. Serve over ice cubes.

To dress up a tall glass of iced tea, it's good to add mint, orange or lemon when you fill the ice cube tray in your refrigerator. The cubes add flavor to the tea as they melt.

Announcement Tea, Bridal Shower Honors Miss Janetha Welch Friday

Mrs. Jack Elms and her daughter, Mary Katherine, were hostesses last Friday evening, for an announcement tea and bridal shower honoring Miss Janetha Welch, bride-elect of Jackie H. Woodard of Harvey, Louisiana.

The receiving line was composed of the hostess, Mrs. Elms, the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Harry Welch, Miss Bernie Singleton of Arcadia, Louisiana, representing the groom's mother, Mrs. H. M. Woodard of Arcadia and the maid-of-honor, Mrs. Nan Hightower.

Miss Mary Katherine Elms registered the guests and Mrs. Walter Tubbs and Miss Lucille Welch, aunts of the honoree, served cake, lime float, nuts and mints from a table beautifully decorated with linen, silver and yellow gladiolus; carrying out the green and yellow color theme of the announcement tea.

Mrs. Lee Walton and Mrs. Vic Segelquist helped display the large assortment of beautiful gifts which were presented to the honoree.

The wedding is to be the latter part of August at the Center City Methodist Church.

Happy Birthday For 'Dad' And Pete

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hughes honored her father, "Dad" Stuckey and their ranch foreman, Pete O'Bannon last Saturday night with a barbecue dinner and birthday party at their Shady Oak Ranch. "Dad" Stuckey celebrated his eighty-third birthday and Pete his thirty-third.

There were forty-three guests present for the dinner and to wish "Dad" and Pete many more happy birthdays.

Notice To Gardeners

It is high time to cut off old perennials for fall blooming! Remember this includes dahlias as well as daisies and hollyhocks.

Fertilize them, water well, and mulch. Grass clippings make an excellent mulch. This saves water, the labor of using it, keeps the ground from baking and cracking, keeps the bacteria working and later adds humus to the soil when turned under.

If you have not already planted zinnia seed for fall blooming, do so at once. Make cuttings of plants for winter pots and next year's garden. They strike roots better in hot weather.

Let us strive for an early fall flower show.

Flower Show, Chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Dalton and girls, Judy and Charlotte and Mrs. Elva Moreland visited Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Burdett and family in Grand Prairie on Sunday, July 26.

Growing in Christ

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Scripture—Ephesians 4; Luke 2:52.

By Alfred J. Buescher

Paul, a prisoner, writes to the members of the Ephesian church, begging them to "walk worthily, with all lowliness and meekness, with longsuffering, forbearing one another in love."

"Let him that stole steal no more," writes Paul, "but rather let him labor, working with his hands the thing that is good, that he may have wherewith to give to him that needeth."

Put away all bitterness, wrath, anger, clamor, evil speaking, "And be ye kind one to another, tender hearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you."

As a boy, Jesus "increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man." Paul advises the Ephesians to follow His example. MEMORY VERSE—Ephesians 4:11.

News About Social Security

Most self-employed persons have family protection under social security at least until July 1, 1955, James B. Marley, manager of the Austin social security office, said today.

This survivors insurance protection has been built by people who have worked for themselves in most trades and businesses since January 1, 1951, and have reported and paid social security tax on net earnings of at least $400 for both 1951 and 1952.

These self-employed workers have retirement protection if they reach age 65 and retire before mid-1955. Future self-employment will extend the period of protection for these workers and their families at the rate of two years of protection for every year engaged in a social security covered trade or business. When a worker has completed 10 full years in covered employment either as a wage earner in the employ of another, or as a self-employed individual, he and his family will be permanently insured for life. The amount of the family payment, however, is dependent on the amount of wages or net earning from self-employment accumulated at the time of retirement or death. Under existing law, the minimum monthly family payment is $45, while the maximum is $168.75. Your own monthly retirement payment at age 65 ranges between a minimum of $25 and a maximum of $85.

Questions you may have about your coverage as a self-employed person can best be answered by your Austin social security office.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gilliam and sons, John and James, left Monday night for a two weeks vacation trip to San Francisco, California. They will visit the Grand Canyon in Colorado on their trip west.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Starks and children of Artesia, New Mexico, spent last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Starks.

Revival Meeting At Pompey Mountain

Rev. Odell Moore, pastor of the Pompey Mountain (Duren) Baptist Church, will conduct a revival at Pompey Mountain from August 7 through August 16.

James Green will have charge of the music. Services will be at 10:00 a. m., and 8:00 p. m., each day. Every one is most cordially invited to attend the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. McNeil, Sue, Mary, Bonnie and Donna Fay, of Lampasas, spent Sunday with friends here.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Glendon D. Hodges of Waco are the proud parents of a daughter, born at Blackwell Sanitarium and Clinic, Gorman, July 3. She weighed five pounds and twelve ounces and has been named Janice Ann.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur V. Meyer of Priddy and the paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Hodges of Caradan.

We have had lots of clouds and thunder this past week, but no rain. Water holes are getting low. Until now we have not had a scarcity of water since before the rains of last fall. Last year every time the stock water seemed about gone, it rained.

Last week Mrs. Cecil Egger and Mrs. Edna Dwyer planted a fall garden in their swag in the field. Mrs. Egger drove the tractor and Mrs. Dwyer manipulated the plow.

Bill Ketchum and Miss Helen Hiller of Goldthwaite and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Egger of Brownwood enjoyed ice cream at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Egger Friday night.

Jack Whittenburg is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Dale Reid and attending the vacation Bible school at the Church of Christ in Goldthwaite this week.

We will not meet for church here Sunday, August 2, as most of our members will be attending family reunions in nearby towns. The Wilmeth tribe will attend church at Austin Avenue Church of Christ in Brownwood. The following Sunday we will all be back on the job here.

Saturday night Billy, 6, said he was going to churn. I fixed the churn and let him get at it. I thought after a few strokes he would have enough of it. Granddad came in and offered to churn, but no, Billy was still going strong. I kept watching the procedure. After awhile I discovered the butter was almost there. Billy kept right on, and was he pleased when he saw all that nice, yellow butter he had churned all by himself!

Mrs. Belich says she recently entertained her Colonel cousin, who is now at Fort Bliss in El Paso for some special Army instruction. After he had gone, Billy said to his father, "Daddy,

I wish you had gone on to the top in the army. If I enter the army, I am going from Buck Private on to the top."

Mrs. O. R. Mitchell of Beaumont writes of the surprise marriage of their daughter, Marilyn, 18, to Tommy Sheffield, 19, of Port Arthur, Saturday, July 11. The youngsters tried to keep the marriage a secret for a week, but Mrs. Mitchell got wise when she found they were hunting apartments Tuesday. She said Tommy's mother was very much upset when she had to inform her the following Friday. But now she says Mrs. Sheffield acts as pleased as punch and the young couple have gone with her on a trip to Mississippi.

One of the nicest social events we have attended was the birthday party for Mrs. Edna Dwyer Friday, July 24. She is the genial friend, loved by young and old alike. She has probably attended more showers and given more graduating and wedding presents than any other person in this community. She said Mrs. Cecil Egger came down to her house Friday morning with a pickup full of chairs and other things and said, "You are going to have a party today." Mrs. Dwyer said, "Where?" "Right here," was the reply. Mrs. Dwyer had let the water run all night on her flowers, and the windmill tank was dry. That didn't faze Mrs. Egger. She went down to the well at the old place, drew enough water, and hauled it to the house. She brought everything that was necessary including a freezer of ice cream.

Mrs. Hulon Egger made and brought the birthday cake—a beautiful Angel food. Mrs. Butch Rowlett brought a delicious white chiffon. Mrs. Edward Egger brought another freezer of ice cream. Marianna Egger, Annette Duncan, and Jerry Egger were so cute passing the cream and cake assisted by Wade Ann Harbor. On opening the presents, Mrs. Dwyer found cup towels embroidered by Marianna and Annette, a beautiful apron made by Wade Ann, and an original birthday card by Jerry. And oh, that cute nod and grin from Woodie Dean when Mrs. Dwyer asked him if he sent the card with the rooster on it! An original card from Mrs. Charlie Griffin said, "Why worry about a cockeyed birthday when if you live to be 111 you'll still be a spring chicken!" There were many beautiful presents and Mrs. Dwyer said she felt like a "Queen for a Day."

There were present 9 Mrs. Eggers: Mrs. Henry, Mrs. Ben, Mrs. R. D., Mrs. Lem, Mrs. Hulon, Mrs. Cecil, Mrs. Edward, Mrs. Effie, and Mrs. Eugene. Others present were Mrs. Butch Rowlett, Miss Wade Ann Harbor, Mrs. Charm Whittenburg, Mrs. Taylor Duncan, Mrs. John Briley, Mrs. Wm. Belich, Mrs. Stanley Reeves, Mrs. Johnny Humphries, and Mrs. Blue Thompson. Children present were: Marianna Egger, Woodie Dean Egger, Jerry Egger, Larry Egger, Katherine Egger, Annette Duncan, and Billy and Johnny Belich.

Mrs. Locklear is staying at the hospital with her husband.

"Statistical Picture" Of Mills County
Is Presented In Census Bureau Book

A "statistical picture" of Mills County's population, homes, business and agriculture is presented in the recently published 1952 edition of the COUNTY AND CITY DATA BOOK, according to Supervisor James M. Hamilton of the Census Bureau's district office at Fort Worth, Texas.

The frame of the picture consists of the basic data which show that Mills County has 5,999 inhabitants (1950), 2,154 dwelling units (1950), 1,061 farms (1950), 93 retail stores (1948) and 1 manufacturing establishments (1947). In the frame are some detailed figures concerning each of these items, such as:

POPULATION: The median age of the county's 5,999 inhabitants was 35.5 years; citizens 21 years old and over numbered 3,938; families totaled 1,955; the median family income (1949) was $1,711; the median school years completed of persons 25 years old and over was 9.6.

HOUSING: 1,926 of the county's 2,154 dwelling units were occupied in 1950; 1.9 percent of the occupied dwelling units were equipped with central heating, 83.6 percent had mechanical refrigerators, and 96.6 percent had radios. The median value of one-dwelling unit non-farm structures occupied by owners was $4,139.

AGRICULTURE: The average value of land and buildings per farm was $16,530; 978 of the county's 1,061 farms were electrified; total value of farm products sold in 1949 was $2,486,000.

RETAIL TRADE: The 83 retail stores had 179 paid employees and reported sales totalling $3,625,000 in 1948.

Duck Dates
Ready Soon

Austin— Texas duck and goose hunters should know dates and general regulations for the 1953 shooting season by mid-August, according to the Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

He said the Fish and Wildlife Service, which has final authority on the annual waterfowl harvest, meets in Washington, D. C., August 7 or thereabouts.

The Executive Secretary said there were no advance indica-

"Now you know—you're No. 1 on my HIT PARADE!"

tions of drastic changes over the 1952 waterfowl season. The Game and Fish Commission has recommended that Texas be zoned for waterfowl with an early season for north Texas and a later season for the coastal areas. The Executive Secretary said indications are that regulations for mourning dove and white-winged dove seasons also will be set by the Fish and Wildlife Service in early August. The Commission has recommended a north zone mourning season beginning September 1 and a southern zone season beginning October 1. Waterfowl would be harvested on September 11, 13, and 15.

Just about every turkey grower feeding the Purina Way last year reported better-than-ever results. Fifty-three of these growers sent their records to Purina. PARENT PROBLEMS

Making a Will Is Important

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.
 IF every parent could foresee the difficulties that often result when one dies intestate, there would be a great scramble among parents to make a will.

A lawyer is usually able to help a person make a will directing what he wishes done with his estate, and to make it in such a way that these wishes will surely be carried out. When no will exists, a large part of the material things left may have to be paid to courts and lawyers, and frequently there is quarreling among the heirs over the estate.

Wife Should, Too
 As a rule, it is quite as important for the mother as the father to make a will, even though the average wife lives longer than her husband. If they have lived together cooperatively and companionably, these wills can be identical in pattern. For each to know what is in the other's will, bespeaks their mutual trust.

A good many parents don't make a will because they just don't like to face the certainty that they will die, or even to talk about such matters with the spouse. Many a mother hoping her husband would make a will doesn't venture to tell him so for like reason, or because she fears such a suggestion might cause her husband to think her selfish.

In a family of growing children the parents discuss with these children, as soon as they are old enough to understand, the family income and outgo and the plan of saving and providing for the future of each parent and the children. The children know about life insurance. They also know, especially after they are twelve or fourteen, that each parent has made provision in his or her will for the rest of the family who might be left.

Feeling of Security
 Just consider what these mutual understandings and confidences can contribute to the feeling of security of each member of the family and how, moreover, it can cause each child to feel himself a worthy member of this family.

The way we do and talk about these things while our children are growing up with us in the family, shapes their attitude toward us and memories of us after we will have gone.

Having done our best while living to provide them with the best opportunities for education and preparation for making a living on their own, why should they not be glad for us to will some of our estate, however small, to the local church, hospital, a college or some other worthy cause that deals with the imperishables?

LONE STAR
Agriculture
 Released by
 The Texas Department of Agriculture
 By John C. White, Commissioner

CATTLE PROSPECTS

Texas farmers and ranchmen, surveying their parched, brown earth and gaunt cattle, can very easily get a distorted picture of their future prospects. The situation is bad—but not hopeless.

Cattle owners must carefully consider their long-range plans. If you rush stock to the market which could be held, you may be cutting your income unnecessarily.

A larger part of our cattle back-log has been wiped out through quick marketing than many persons realize. Over 3½ million more cattle and calves were slaughtered during the first six months of 1953 than at the same time last year. In many cases, even the foundation herds of cattlemen have been cut drastically or eliminated entirely.

There is always the danger of going too far. Although the extremely favorable prices of the last few years may not return soon, measures are being put into effect which should add some strength to the market and encourage conservation of our foundation herds.

Some relief is on the way in the form of drouth hay purchases, reduced railroad fares for transportation of necessary fodder, and loans. Cottonseed pellets and meal is expected to sell to needy stock farmers at emergency prices of $35 a ton, corn at $1 a bushel, wheat at $1.10 and oats at 50 cents.

In addition, all efforts are toward quick and effective sale of beef through consumer advertising campaigns, government purchases and foreign exports. It seems likely that supplies of beef will continue high the next few years but that there will be very little increase in herd sizes. The long range effect is expected to help stabilize the market.

The stocker's chief problem will be in determining what part of his herd to sell and what to keep for continued production. Growers in the hard-hit areas should try to hold on to as many cattle as it is economically feasible to feed. Those with good pastures, principally in East Texas, may find this a good time to buy a few more head, depending on the size and condition of their range.

Farm and ranch people have demonstrated their mettle in asking only for the type of aid and relief which they could eventually pay back. With this kind of determination behind it, our cattle market will regain its solid footing.

Hillside Mission

By LIDA BYRNE

Last week we had a brief article containing scripture about "humility." Here are a few more definitions, copied from a tract, on the same subject: "Humility is perfect quietness of heart. It is to have no trouble; it is never to be fretted, or vexed, or irritated, or sore, or disappointed. It is to expect nothing, to wonder at nothing that is done to me; to feel nothing done against me; it is to be at rest when nobody praises me and when I am blamed or despised. It is to have a blessed home in the Lord, where I can go in and shut the door, and kneel to my Father in secret, and am at peace as in a deep sea of calmness, when all around and above is trouble."

Hoovers Return From Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hoover and son, Mike, returned home Saturday afternoon from eighteen days vacation spent in touring the Western states. They visited two of Mrs. Hoover's sisters, Mrs. C. N. Applegren in Milwaukie, Oregon, and Mrs. C. Skinner in Gervais, Oregon. While in Oregon they made several sight-seeing trips, including a trip of a hundred and twenty-six miles to the Pacific Ocean.

According to Mrs. Hoover, the state of Oregon is a wonderful place to spend a vacation.

Mrs. E. B. Anderson returned home with her brother, Frank Simms of Panhandle, for a visit, from there they will go to Ruidoso, New Mexico, for the Simms family reunion which is held there every year in August.

Mrs. W. E. Rhodes of Brownwood spent last weekend with friends here.

LONE STAR Agriculture

CATTLE PROSPECTS

Texas farmers and ranchmen, surveying their parched, brown earth and gaunt cattle, can very easily get a distorted picture of their future prospects. The situation is bad—but not hopeless.

Cattle owners must carefully consider their long-range plans. If you rush stock to the market which could be held, you may be cutting your income unnecessarily.

A larger part of our cattle back-log has been wiped out through quick marketing than many persons realize. Over 3 1/2 million more cattle and calves were slaughtered during the first six months of 1953 than at the same time last year. In many cases, even the foundation herds of cattlemen have been cut drastically or eliminated entirely.

There is always the danger of going too far. Although the extremely favorable prices of the last few years may not return soon, measures are being put into effect which should add some strength to the market and encourage conservation of our foundation herds.

Some relief is on the way in the form of drouth hay purchases, reduced railroad fares for transportation of necessary fodder, and loans. Cottonseed pellets and meal is expected to sell to needy stock farmers at emergency prices of $35 a ton, corn at $1 a bushel, wheat at $1.10 and oats at 50 cents.

In addition, all efforts are toward quick and effective sale of beef through consumer advertising campaigns, government purchases and foreign exports. It seems likely that supplies of beef will continue high the next few years but that there will be very little increase in herd sizes. The long range effect is expected to help stabilize the market.

The stocker's chief problem will be in determining what part of his herd to sell and what to keep for continued production. Growers in the hard-hit areas should try to hold on to as many cattle as it is economically feasible to feed. Those with good pastures, principally in East Texas, may find this a good time to buy a few more head, depending on the size and condition of their range.

Farm and ranch people have demonstrated their mettle in asking only for the type of aid and relief which they could eventually pay back. With this kind of determination behind it, our cattle market will regain its solid footing.

Hillside Mission

By LIDA BYRNE

Last week we had a brief article containing scripture about "humility." Here are a few more definitions, copied from a tract, on the same subject: "Humility is perfect quietness of heart. It is to have no trouble; it is never to be fretted, or vexed, or irritated, or sore, or disappointed. It is to expect nothing, to wonder at nothing that is done to me; to feel nothing done against me; it is to be at rest when nobody praises me and when I am blamed or despised. It is to have a blessed home in the Lord, where I can go in and shut the door, and kneel to my Father in secret, and am at peace as in a deep sea of calmness, when all around and above is trouble."

Hoovers Return From Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hoover and son, Mike, returned home Saturday afternoon from eighteen days vacation spent in touring the Western states.

They visited two of Mrs. Hoover's sisters, Mrs. C. N. Applegren in Milwaukie, Oregon, and Mrs. C. Skinner in Gervais, Oregon. While in Oregon they made several sight-seeing trips, including a trip of a hundred and twenty-six miles to the Pacific Ocean.

According to Mrs. Hoover, the state of Oregon is a wonderful place to spend a vacation.

Mrs. E. B. Anderson returned home with her brother, Frank Simms of Panhandle, for a visit, from there they will go to Ruidiso, New Mexico, for the Simms family reunion which is held there every year in August.

Mrs. W. E. Rhodes of Brownwood spent last weekend with friends here.
