Engagement And Approaching Marriage Of Miss Vicki Koleber Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Vic E. Koleber announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Vicki Ethada to Ralph E. Massey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess R. Massey, Route 2, Goldthwaite.

The wedding will take place in the First Baptist Church of Goldthwaite Thursday, September 30, at 5:30 o'clock in the evening.

Center City Study Club Has Regular Meeting

The Center City Thursday Study Club met in the home of Mrs. Ercher McCasland on September 9, with sixteen members and four guests. A report was given by the treasurer on donations the club has contributed to various charities and organizations.

The club program for the year is "Know Your Texas" and at this meeting, Mrs. Flora Owens gave an interesting report on "Resources of Texas". Mrs. Lois Owens gave an interesting talk on early Texas homes. Everyone began to appreciate more and more their modern homes as the report gave the hardships and inconveniences of early Texas women and homes. Nice homes began being built in 1850. Some homes in early Texas history were used as forts and of course many were log houses. We found there is one log house still standing in our community.

The club picnic was held August 12 in the home of Mrs. Harry Welch. There was a large number present and everyone enjoyed games of dominoes and forty-two. Ice cream, cake sandwiches and cookies were served.

Mrs. McCasland served cake and punch to the sixteen members and visitors who were: Mmes. Wrinkle Sr., Nella Berth Wrinkle, Allen Ross and Oscar Burns, all of Goldthwaite. Visitors are always welcome at these club meetings and we were especially glad to have Mrs. Blackwell of Goldthwaite back with us.

Mrs. Quirl will be hostess to the club on September 23 at her home, formerly known as the R. Slaughter Ranch.

James Jeffrey To Speak At Youth Rally Tonight

The Mills County Youth Rally will meet tonight at the First Baptist Church at 7:30 p.m.

James Jeffrey will be the featured speaker. He is a former Baylor and Los Angeles Rams star halfback. He has spoken here several times before and those who have heard him thoroughly enjoyed it.

Everyone is invited to attend, especially those boys and girls 12 years of age and above.

New products created 45,000 G-E jobs in the last nine years

And hundreds of new ideas are now being developed to keep employment high and help America live better

Tower of time cards shows jobs created by new G-E products. In a single pile, they'd reach 5 stories high.

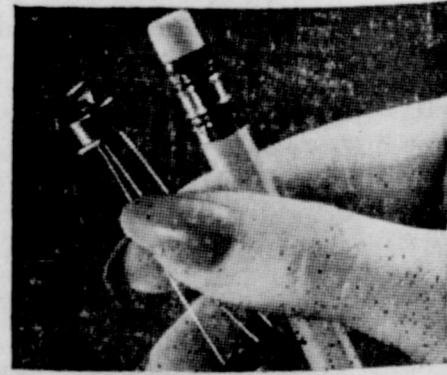

One out of every five people working at General Electric owes his job to products G. E. didn't make before 1945.

Will coming years bring as much progress?

Actually, we believe there will be more. Many exciting possibilities are predictable as we learn how to make full use of atomic energy. Another important new development will be electronic machinery which will make work easier, production swifter—and create more jobs. New uses for gas turbines promise improved air, rail and ship transportation, and better power plants for industry. Research will make home appliances even more helpful.

All these fields—and many others—are so promising that we expect to produce more in the next ten years than in all the previous 75 years of our existence. As we see it, in a free economy, America's industrial progress is not only continuing, it's rapidly accelerating.

Tiny job maker. The G-E transistor, not much bigger than a pencil eraser, does the work of a full-sized vacuum tube. It makes possible a wide variety of new electronic devices which will make your life more pleasant in the future and give employment to thousands of people.

Stop, Then Pass Halted School Bus At 10 Miles Per Hour, Says The Law

School busses over the state have now begun the task of carrying thousands of children to and from their studies. Soon to be expected are the inevitable tragic reports of deaths and injuries occurring when impatient youngsters dash across busy highways to greet their waiting parents or to board the bus. Most of such accidents could be avoided if motorists would adhere strictly to the letter of the law pertaining to the passing of school busses.

Most Texans are aware of the law which requires a driver to come to a complete stop when overtaking from the rear a school bus which has stopped to receive or discharge school children. After stopping immediately behind the bus, he is then allowed by law to proceed past same at a speed "which is prudent, not exceeding ten (10) miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children."

What many persons do not realize is that the very same rule applies when MEETING a stopped school bus. While everyone is interested in protecting our children, unthinking violators of this simple safety rule greatly outnumber those who comply. Failure to follow the law in this case can lead to fines up to $200.00 even when no accident occurs. Following an accident in which some child is injured or killed, the penalties are naturally much more serious.

Although the above rule does not apply when passing a stopped school bus in a business or residential district of a town, the necessity for extreme caution even in these locations is obvious.

When it comes to overtaking and passing moving vehicles, exercise of ordinary common sense will generally keep a driver with in the law. For instance, when passing a car it is only common sense to proceed on past it a safe distance before cutting back to the right side of the highway. Also, any driver would realize the danger of increasing his speed while another is attempting to pass him.

In the same category is the prohibition against passing on the right under most ordinary conditions. Of course, you may legally pass on the right in a few specific instances, such as when the vehicle overtaken is making or about to make a left turn, or upon a one-way street with two or more lanes, or upon a four-lane highway.

However, our traffic laws state that even when passing on the right is allowed, it shall be done only under conditions permitting such movement in safety. And, in no event should such passing be accomplished by driving off the pavement or main-traveled portion of the roadway.

Familiar to all are the no passing zones designated by dash lines placed to one side of the center stripe on our highways. Not so well known are the restrictions against crossing the center line when approaching within 100 feet of any bridge, viaduct or tunnel. The prohibition also applies when approaching within 100 feet of or when traversing any intersection or railroad grade crossing.

A driver should never cross the center line of a highway when the left side of the road is not clearly visible and free of oncoming traffic. Generally speaking, when not engaged in passing another vehicle, one should not drive to the left of the center of the roadway.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Census Bureau To Ask Questions On Commuting Habits

Questions designed to throw light on commuting habits of Americans will be asked in the September Current Population Survey, according to Supervisor Charles E. Fay of the Census Bureau's district office at Dallas, Texas.

Persons in the Current Population Survey reporting panel will be asked if the county in which they work is different from the county in which they reside. The main purpose of this inquiry is to determine how many workers commute to their jobs.

The questions on commuting are in addition to the usual inquiries on employment and unemployment asked each month in the Current Population Survey.

The Current Population Survey will be taken locally and in 229 other sections of the country during the week of September 12. Local interviews will be conducted by Nella P. Casbeer of Lampasas, Texas.

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT TEXAS

BARBED WIRE FENCE
In 1876, John W. Gates, a young drummer, sold barbed wire to the ranchers of Texas. In San Antonio the cattlemen laughed at him. In response to their jibes, Gates fenced in a city plaza and called for the "worst fence busters" of the herds. The cattle charged the wire as was expected but their hides were pierced by the barbs. They soon retired. Barbed wire came into use throughout the range area by 1883. Strife arose between cattlemen and fence-cutting became general. In some counties feeling ran so high that there was threat of civil warfare. An act of Legislature, together with the Texas Rangers, ended the strife.

 The annual meeting of the Baptist Association was held at the Scallorn Baptist Church on Sunday of last week. Most all churches in the Association were represented. The annual meeting for next year will be held at the church at Star. The cream and cake festival at the Scallorn Community Center on Thursday evening was enjoyed by a large crowd of friends and neighbors. Next meeting will be on October 14. Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hughes for the past two weeks were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. D. Montgomery and son of San Diego City, California, Mrs. Hughes and son, Al of Los Angeles, California and Bob of Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Griffin of Brownwood had as their guests over the weekend Mr. and Mrs. Robert Temple of Corsicana, who accompanied them to Scallorn Sunday. They were among guests of the writer. Mrs. Frank Hines was happily surprised last Saturday by a birthday party, given by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Fields. The hostess baked a lovely birthday cake along with special food for the guests who gathered for the dinner. Coming from Adamsville were Mrs. Maude Townsend and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Willey. Mrs. Townsend and Mrs. Willy are sisters of Mrs. Hines. Other guests were from Goldthwaite. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Turman of Austin spent the Labor Day holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Black and brothers, Huntis and Layton.

Huntis Black left last Sunday for Houston where he will enter the University of Houston. Mrs. Charles Wright of Mullin was a guest Monday of her mother, Ora Black.

Mrs. Dick Hughes and father, Dad Stucky spent last weekend in San Antonio where Mr. Stucky consulted an eye specialist. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McKinzie.

C. H. Black spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Junction. Guests Monday evening of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Black were Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hummel from Fort Hood, Mr. and Mrs. Hummel are originally from Ohio and he is a cousin of C. H. Black.

Mr. and Mrs. Barton Keeler of Brownwood were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Johnson. The well driller, Mr. Clairly who lives in our community has been kept quite busy through the summer cleaning out wells and drilling others deeper. He recently cleaned out a well for Mr. John Harris and is now drilling one deeper for Farris Geaberry in the Long Cove community.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Bishop have gone to Lytton Springs for a visit with her mother, who is a patient in the hospital there.

The cream and cake festival as well as the "Tacky" party at the Scallorn Community Center went over in a big way. There were only about four guests who had to pay a penalty.

The writer dressed in an early day costume went to Lampasas Saturday to be present for the Old Settlers Reunion. There we met some of our former school teachers and a host of childhood school mates. We had a wonderful day and look forward to being present next year.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hines and Greta Sue had as their guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Woody Patterson of Hale Center, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Patterson of Ballinger, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Patterson of Brownwood and Mrs. Janie Weathers of Goldthwaite. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Fields Hines and Gregory.

A quick home remedy for removing grease spots from upholstery and rugs is to mix baking soda with water to make a thick paste. Apply the paste to the stains and let dry. Remove with a brush or your vacuum cleaner. If the stain hasn't disappeared, repeat the process.

Never use house paint when you paint your porch or garden furniture. If you do you may collect chalk on your clothing.

Clementine Wilmeth Briley Writes From Temporary Home In El Paso

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

We'll just call this The Ebony Column since I have so long been a part of Ebony and Ebony has so long been a part of me that we can't be entirely separated though we be far apart.

Since I have been in El Paso I have received letters from Dallas, Brownwood, and Florida from people I have never known, telling me they have read the Ebony News and have enjoyed the Ebony folks for years. The nice, encouraging things they say would make any heart beat with joy.

I was happy to see in the Oakland News that the topping is being put on the Brownwood-Richland Springs road, and that the men are back at work on the bridge across the Colorado River. How I wish I could be there for the opening.

I find that El Paso has a population of 130,000. Dr. Brown, the school superintendent, says they have enrolled over 2,000 more children in the schools this year than last. They have registered 32,000. Also the dog license offices say they have issued 2,000 more licenses this year than last. The number reached 6,000 this year against 4,000 last year.

Just today Billy and his mother and his Grandad took Spotty to the veterinarian to get him vaccinated and to the license office to get his license. And whom should they find for the veterinarian but Dr. Adams who used to be at Brownwood, and who once came out to our place to doctor a bull for lump jaw. He really cured him too. New Spotty is a real town dog with a vaccination certificate, a license number, a collar, and a leash. But he has to spend most of his time shut up in the back yard.

Grandad and I really enjoy taking care of Johnny, but we marvel that so much will power could be wrapped up in such a small bundle. Just the other day he asked his mother to paint his finger nails. But when she came to his thumb, he said, "Don't paint it. I want to suck it."

A letter from daughter Ruth today tells me she is now taking care of Brenda, her three-months-old grandbaby. Brenda's mother, Marilyn, got a call back to her old job, typist for a Beaumont Construction Company. It was too good to turn down, so she bargains with Mother to take care of Brenda, and its back to work for her. But here are Grandmother Ruth's own words, "I have been keeping Brenda since Wednesday of last week. She is a darling. Too sweet for words. She laughs and coos, and already turns over from her back to her stomach quite easily. None of mine did that so early. I miss her when she goes home."

Although Robert is in the fourth grade and rides his bicycle to school, he wanted very much for his mother to go with him the first day. So she took Brenda and Jill and Jan and went, but stayed only thirty minutes. But Jan, the prissy, two-year-old, wanted to stay longer at school. She said, "I don't like my home now."

Daughter Grace said an El Paso teacher told her a mother called her and said she wanted to come with her first grader son the first day, but he just wouldn't hear of it. He said, "Who ever heard of a mamma going to school?"

Granddaughter Carol Jean will be leaving for ACC the last of this week. Her cousin, Joe Bateman, electrical engineer for Consolidated Air Craft of Fort Worth, who is off on vacation now has promised to take her. I'm sure she will feel quite elated sailing up there in a Cadillac with such a good looking chauffeur. She will stay at the home of her cousin, Dr. Marie Wilmeth.

Frank Cave of Plainview spent Saturday night and Sunday with his grandmother, Mrs. Tom Cave and Miss Ruby Cave. He was enroute to Austin where he will be a Freshman at the University.

Sheep And Goat Raisers Will Meet

SAN ANGELO (Special)—The fourth quarterly meeting of the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers' Association will be held in Junction, Saturday, September 18. Walter Pfluger, Eden, Association president, has announced. All producers in that general area and especially those in Kimble and surrounding counties are invited to the meeting, he said.

Discussions will be held on the recently passed legislation which will affect both wool and mohair growers beginning next year, and on other subjects important to the sheep and goat men.

Committees and the general meeting will be held in the Junction High School building, Pfluger noted.

Grandmother used a boiling pot, lots of homemade soap, an old-fashioned washboard, and all the energy she could muster up for the back-breaking task. It's no wonder she didn't feel like singing on washday.

Today— what a difference! The modern housewife leaves all her washday chores to her electrical servants. With an automatic washer, an electric clothes dryer, and an ironer in her home, she saves both time and energy doing the family wash the easy, efficient, economical ELECTRIC way, without even leaving the house!

AUSTIN, Tex.—With the state Democratic convention out of the way, Texans interested in government and politics now turn their attention to the next regular session of the Legislature, coming up in January. As the lawmakers convene, their principal problem is likely to be raising new taxes, in the amount of $10 million to $15 million per year. Governor Shivers has advocated spending $5 million more annually for mental and tubercular hospitals. He also has recommended more spending to continue improvements in the state prison system. And he favors a state water conservation program. Money will also be called for to enlarge the highway patrol and to continue paying teacher salaries at the current rate. PRESS CONFERENCE In his first press conference since the run-off primary, the governor said that his re-election constituted a re-statement of Texas independence. To please Texas, the South and Southwest, the national Democratic Party must get back to the middle of the road Shivers said. Specifically, he recommended replacement of Stephen Mitchell, national Democratic committee chairman, with a "good, strong, middle of the road man."

IT'S NOT OVER Not ended by the recent gubernatorial election is the long fight between the conservative and the liberal-loyalist Democrats of Texas. Already preparations are being made for another struggle in 1956, when, as in 1952, the rival candidates in Texas may clash over issues in the presidential campaign. In Austin as well as in many another city, the conservative forces are setting up a permanent organization to work between elections. Letters will go out to workers at the precinct level, thanking them for their efforts. Files will be kept for use as reference when the campaign begins next time. Labor organizations are also active in the interest of elections two years hence. Sent out by the UAW-CIO headquarters to all local union leaders in the state was a letter saying "We must, of necessity, prepare ourselves to be able to present our candidate and the issues to each and every voter next time." Expressed in the letter was regret that Ralph Yarborough, opposing Shivers for the chief executive's job, was defeated.

Campaign Strategy Planned For many years, the continuous political work done by the CIO has been recognized. Union people work at politics the year round, whereas Texas conservatives have been, in the past, inclined to relax from the political wars between elections. A significant development is the indication that the conservatives now plan to alter their strategy and try to insure another victory next time by keeping right on the job from now right through the 1956 primaries. One national columnist, commenting on the Texas election, remarked that the conservatives of this state have finally realized "that a political party cannot be captured by frontal assault. It must be captured by patient, quiet work at the precinct level." EXPENSES REPORTED Finally reported by both candidates were their expenses for the campaign. Governor Shivers revealed a total cost of $285,121, with $242,087 in donations and no debts or loans outstanding. Judge Yarborough reported that his campaign expenditures were $279,722, with $245,394 in gifts and $35,258 in debts outstanding. Donors to Yarborough's campaign put in amounts ranging up to $10,000, while no individual contributor to Shivers' race gave more than $500, according to the reports.

AGENCY REORGANIZED Re-organization in the Texas Education Agency's high officialdom came about as the result of the resignation of L. P. Sturgeon, associate commissioner of education, who will become public relations director for the Texas State Teachers Association. Moving up in the agency will be Warren Hitt, who becomes deputy commissioner of education; Bascom Hayes, who will be assistant commissioner for instruction; and M. A. Browning, who becomes assistant commissioner for vocational education. Dr. J. W. Edgar, commissioner of education, recommended the changes. Also selected was a new superintendent for the Austin School for the Deaf: John F. Grace, who had been principal of Gallaudet School for the Deaf in St. Louis. Grace succeeds Roy M. Steele, who moved to Colorado.

STATE REVENUE INCREASED In the fiscal year ended August 31, the State government took in $790,556,058 or nearly $55 million more than the total for the previous 12 months. Biggest items in the states' budget are schools (about $255 million, up $26 million); welfare (about $158 million, up $20 million); and highways (about $162 million, up $5 million). Accounting for much of the boost in revenue were increases in taxes on oil, natural gas, motor fuel, and franchises. There was an $18 million increase in federal aid for public welfare. Added to endowment funds was $28 million from mineral bonuses and royalties.

Brown-Mills Soil Conservation News

By CHARLES HAENISCH At their last regular meeting, the Goldthwaite Lions Club was host to the supervisors of zone 3 and 4 of the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District and the members of the District Flood Prevention Advisory Committee. E. J. Hughes, Area Conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service, spoke on the new Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention Act. Mr. Hughes gave a short account of the progress of flood prevention work since its origin in 1936. In explaining the new act, Hughes told the group that local interest would be one of the prerequisite to developing a watershed work plan in an area. He also explained that a local organization, such as a Soil Conservation District, would be responsible for making application for a watershed work plan. David Watters, supervisor from zone 4, introduced the members of the Flood Prevention Advisory Committee that were present. These were Dr. T. C. Graves, R. L. Burdette, J. A. Schlee, and Jim Soules. Members of the committee who could not be present for the meeting were: Herman Jones, J. D. Berry, W. P. Duren, and J. H. Priddy.

Applications for planning assistance on Bennett Creek watershed under the Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention Act have been submitted to the State Soil Conservation Board by the supervisors of the District.

Misses Ann Dallis and Sue Lindsey of Austin spent the weekend with Ann's parents Mr. and Mrs. John Dallis.

Mrs. Lee Sykes of Balinger was a guest of Mrs. Marshall Miller last Thursday night and Friday. Mrs. Sykes also visited Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Ezzell and Mrs. Myrtle Forehand. She will be remembered here as the former Miss Ollie Reed.

Job's Struggle to Understand Life ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Job 1-2; 10-23.

There was a man in the land of Uz named Job. He feared God and avoided evil. He had seven sons and three daughters, great riches in flocks and herds, a great household and was the greatest man in the east.

Satan contended that Job worshiped because he was wealthy, so God allowed the evil one to destroy all Job's wealth and even his sons and daughters. When Job was told of this disaster, he fell to the ground and worshipped.

Next Satan afflicted Job with agonizing disease, and his wife said, "Dost thou still retain thine integrity? curse God, and die." Job answered her, "Shall we receive good at the hand of God and shall we not receive evil?"

Three friends came to comfort Job and one said he must be evil and was being punished. Job said: "He knoweth the way I take; when he hath tried me, I shall come forth as gold." MEMORY VERSE—Jeremiah 29:13.

NEED FOR COVER CROP

If experience is the best teacher, then Texas has had some harsh and bitter instructions on the need to save our agricultural land.

Drouth has exhausted most of the subsoil moisture from vast sections of the state. Hot winds sweeping over nude fields lifted great quantities of our top soil and powdered it into worthless dust. The disaster set us back many years in farm progress.

This is the second time in 20 years that we have experienced a "dust bowl" era. Apparently, we didn't learn our lessons very well the first time. But there are exceptions.

During a recent survey of the Plains area, a curious and heartening phenomena was observed. Next to a completely blown out field you could see a plot which still retained its topsoil. The relatively undamaged areas were those where the remaining soil moisture was utilized to produce cover crops.

Thousands of acres of land are allowed to lie barren in the off seasons in Texas. These fields are the first to suffer damage when dry winds start to blow. Yet, time after time, cover crops have proven to be an important factor in preventing this waste. We should take advantage of this knowledge.

Government authorities recognize this fact. As a result, a recent change in the Agricultural Conservation Program makes any farmer or rancher eligible to apply for cost-sharing of planting cover or green manure crops on cropland which will be shifted from crop production next year. The ACP authorizes payment of up to 50 percent of the cost of seedbed preparation, fertilizer, lime and seed for establishing cover crop on such land.

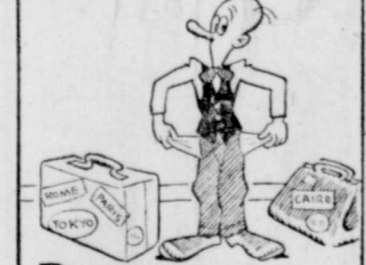

The main purpose of this aid is to provide adequate protective cover. But such crops can also provide emergency winter pasture for livestock. In many cases, this will be the only home-grown roughage available this winter and therefore could be extremely important in Texas.

Farmers and ranchers are encouraged to take advantage of the program this year. Conservation practices are drastically needed in all sections of the drouth area. A lot of poor crop land should be retired to grasses and much more needs to be protected during the winter and early spring months.

In view of an expected shortage of some forage seeds due to short crops this year, farmers are advised to anticipate their needs and order seed early.
