They wore their hair in nine of bright ribbon on each pigtail.

Each girl wore an onion around her neck and before the initiation ended, the girls were requested to eat most of the onion. Some very amusing stunts were performed by the girls in Kangaroo Court. The final

Trial Of Brady Ranchers Is Moved To Court At Williamson County

The trial of two Brady Ranchers in District Court in Mills County courthouse came to an abrupt halt shortly afternoon on Wednesday when Judge James K. Evetts, on the court's own motion, removed the cases to Georgetown, Williamson County Texas.

In ordering the move the court stated it appeared almost impossible, if not impossible, to secure 32 qualified jurors in this court, the number required with the State and Defense having a challenge right of 10 each, leaving a twelve man jury. The reason for this condition, according to the court, is because of the widespread comment and prejudgment of the case.

The cases will be heard in the 27th judicial district court during the November term with Judge D. B. Wood presiding.
Bill Davis is county attorney of Williamson county. District Attorney Raymond Thornton of the 27th district will continue to work with the prosecution.

The trial of Roy Barton, 58, and David Dutton, 48, of Mc-Culloch County opened here Monday morning. The men were charged by the state with maiming two Fort Hood soldiers, on or about July 4, at the ranch home of a widow in western Mills County.

Shortly after the trial opened the defense filed a motion for change of venue. A number of witnesses were heard on this motion and on motion of the state the change of venue was denied when court opened Tuesday morning at 9:00 o'clock.

Twenty-three prospective jurors were questioned during the day Tuesday and six were qualified. Three more were questioned Wednesday morning and one was qualified, making seven out of 26 qualified from the original panel of 36.

Mills County Sheriff C. F.
Stubblefield was instructed to bring in 20 additional Talesmen Wednesday morning for opening of court, although they were not called on before the court moved the cases.

Before the court ordered removal of the cases a defense motion to quash the indictments was overruled. A motion to consolidate the cases was granted. Under the consolidation defendants will jointly face one charge of castration and one on assault with intent to castrate.

Date for trial of the cases had not been set by Judge Wood as this went to press Wednesday evening.

Council for the defense were
Will Morris Sr. and Will Morris Jr., of San Antonio, Jerome Byrnes of Lampasas, Ross Hoffman and Aubrey Davee of Brady. Chief counsel was Mr.
Morris Sr.

District Attorney Raymond Thornton of Belton represented the state. He was assisted by county attorney A. M. Pribble.

Christian Rural Overseas Program is a program sponsored by the churches throughout America to aid the destitute overseas.

In this program the United States Government has agreed to ship overseas surplus commodities at the rate of 20 to 1.
This means that for every dollar collected they will send twenty dollars worth of surplus wheat, milk, beef and cotton. For example: if we obtain one car load of wheat, the government will send twenty car loads. One dime gives a cup of milk daily to a hungry child for three months.

taught these types of land and has first hand information to deliver. He will explain the en-

Ike's All-Out Campaign For Republican Congress

See President Worrying Over Possible Demo Win

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower has apparently embarked on an all-out campaign to elect a Republican Congress, and GOP leaders are much happier than they were a short time ago.

There is increasing indication that the President is becoming more worried about the possibility of a Democratic majority in both houses next year. At first, he showed not too much concern about consequences of a split government—or felt it was his province to talk in a partisan campaign involving only congressmen.

Mr. Eisenhower intended to make only a few references to GOP contestants and concentrate on a "high-level" campaign, urging people to vote and calling attention to his over-all program.

However, the President's recent California speeches sounded a new note—and he is apparently going to make more of a fighting campaign in behalf of his party's nominees. He has also been mentioning individual candidates by name.

Thus, the President may have taken a cue from Vice President Richard M. Nixon who said the Republicans are "running scared" this year.

● DEMOTED—Though the President is rated as popular as ever with the American people, he has lost much ground with at least one organization. The Custom Tailors Guild, in choosing its annual list of the 10 best dressed men in America, quietly dropped the chief executive from its list. However, the Guild did again include his brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, for top sartorial honors.

Quite discreetly, the custom tailors cited no reason for their decision. They pointed out, however, that Dr. Eisenhower and comedian Bob Hope were the only two on last year's list who are playing a return engagement in the select group.

Incidentally, the choice as best dressed man in "public life"—the slot for which Ike was chosen last year—went to one of the President's earliest and staunchest supporters, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, in 1954.

● EXPENDITURES—The administration is out to make more savings in the budget—in hope of achieving a balance between income and spending, a goal long-sought but still put off to the future.

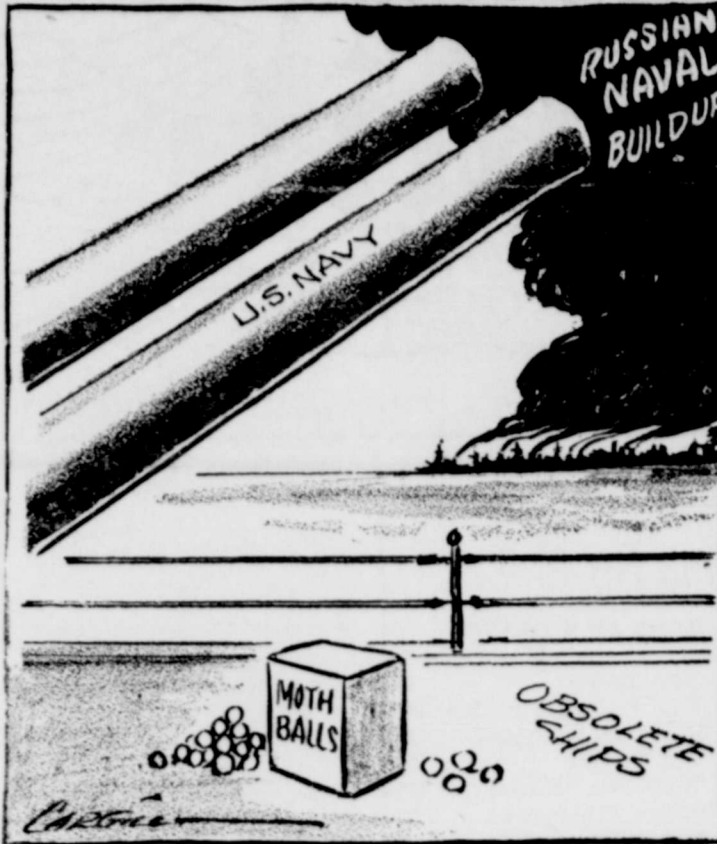

Orders, reportedly sent to all department heads, have called for drastic trimming in a drive to achieve a balanced budget. This, however, may mean a cut in jobs. The administration experts, however, hope that a big part of spending cuts can come from elimination of many government functions which can be transferred to private firms.

This drive will run into the same opposition that has already been injected into the election campaign—a charge that the government is engaging in a "give-away" of its lands, functions and know-how for benefit of private capital.

Unless there is a slash in the number of federal employes, or a drastic cutback in the government's non-military functions, the only way important economies can be effected is by trimming defense. The armed services, however, find that many things—including the proposed stepped-up reserve program and development of Atomic Age weapons—will cost more, not less.

Actually, the government has cut expenditures considerably, but the budget balancing is still far away because taxes also have been reduced. No increase in taxation is looked for, so the budget must depend on control of spending.

Mrs. Lizzie Garrett of Star recently received word that her son, S/Sgt. Randolph Garrett, who was wounded in France and spent several months in a hospital in England, was sent to New York and transferred to the McCloskey General Hospital in Temple October 16.

Sad news reached here of the death of Mrs. Winnie D. McElory, who had been making her home in Brownwood for the past ten years. She passed away Sunday at Brownwood where funeral services were conducted, and was laid to rest at the side of her husband who preceded her in death.

Mrs. C. Fesler, celebrated her 89th birthday Sunday. Three of her granddaughters were present, Mrs. Etelle Watson and Mrs. Glen Heater of Fort Worth and Mrs. Oneta Ward of Cleburne, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Weathers and Luther Roach and family.

Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Waddell and family attended a dairy rally and ice cream supper at Early High, Brownwood, Monday night. They received useful information that will help them with their new Grade A milk barn that they are building.

Mrs. D. E. Morris and son, Gerald of Houston arrived in Goldthwaite Saturday evening for a weeks visit with her children, Larita and Eddie Hilton, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Hill.

Mrs. Walter Weatherby joined her brother's, Luther Oquin of San Angelo and N. W. Oquin of Miles and they spent Saturday and Sunday in Lamesa visiting their brother, J. E. Oquin, who has been in bad health for over a year. He is somewhat improved.

The affectionate interest of a wide circle of friends centered last Tuesday morning at eight o'clock about the marriage of Miss Mildred Stephens to Horace Warner Caldwell, which took place at the First Baptist Church, with Rev. G. C. Ivins the bride's pastor, reading the beautiful ring ceremony in the presence of the immediate relatives and close friends.

Mrs. A. G. Vick and family of Belton spent last Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Randolph. Saturday night he left his car standing in front of the Randolph home and some time during the night some thief stole a wheel, tire and all off the car.

Mrs. F. D. Webb underwent a minor operation in a Brownwood hospital this week and is now home recovering nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Karnes returned Saturday from a three weeks visit with their children in Graham, Greenville and Fort Worth.

SOLILOQUY

Someone suggested to me the other day that something should be said about the matter of our city needing a clean-up and fix-up campaign. Along with the suggestion the fact was mentioned that this is needed in the fall just as much as it is needed in the spring when most clean-up campaigns are usually conducted.

Then along about the same time someone started to talk about the need for folks who own business property to take a bit more civic pride in that ownership. It was pointed out that there are a number of business buildings that could stand a little face-lifting. Some awnings that could stand a little straightening out and others that would look more spic and span if the sway back were taken out.

Well, come to think of it, those suggesting these things may have something there. Clean-up campaigns are needed in the fall as well as in the spring. In fact it would be nice if folks in the residential section along with the business section would just kinda keep up a clean-up and improvement campaign going all year 'round. If that were done the need for a general clean-up and fix-up campaign wouldn't become so noticeable. With a little asson.

W. F. Keese, who has lived west of town for several years has located in Comanche County, at Sidney.

Linn Young, a merchant of Winchell, was here the first of the week endeavoring to secure a business house in which to open a store in this town. He could not get a house and went to Brady to prospect. He may return later.

L. W. Faulkner who recently moved to this city from Pleasant Grove has bought an interest with J. H. Allen in the saddlery business. This is a strong firm of good men and will secure a large part of the trade, and the people have confidence in them.

Mrs. Van Glahn has opened a Kindergarten in the room to the rear of the Morris Hotel and will be glad to have the patronage of the people.

Marriage license have been issued to Roscoe Boulter and Miss Cloey Johnson, Henry Barnes and Miss Effie Booker.

Horace Carswell, the little son of W. C. Carswell of Tolar, spent last week with relatives here in this city.

C. W. Lindsey, late of San Saba County, has bought the Ashley place west of town from J. W. Douglas and has moved to it.

Mrs. Frankie Nabors and her sister, Miss Vallie Applewhite, returned Saturday from Carlsbad, New Mexico. The recent floods have destroyed a greater part of that town.

one goes along things can be kept up in appearance.

It's nice to take a look at some of the improvements that have been made during the past year. Take the Melba Theatre with a new modern front. A new building, where the old Faulkner building formerly housed the Goldthwaite Cafe, in which is now located Stacy's Cafe. The new post office building—filling station and garage used to be. The new modern front and remodeling that E. B. Gilliam put in the old post office location where Duren Grocery is now located. Improvements that were made along with an addition to the Wilson Cafe building. These are some of the improvement projects that have been done in the downtown area.

Take a look at the many improvements and new homes in the residential sections of the city. It's encouraging to see all the fixin' that has taken place during these past two years.

Yet in the face of all that, those calling attention to the need for even more clean-up and fix-up certainly have plenty ground to base their arguments on. There is plenty to be done yet.

In discussing the matter of clean-up for the city someone stated that it would be nice for the Lions Club to stage a clean-up drive in the fall and then let the Garden Club sponsor one in the spring. In this way two different organizations would be taking part in the move and would be in position to reach more people and do the work more effectively. It's like some good logic there.

This week we are giving considerable space in the paper along with planning and to honor members of the Goldthwaite High School football squad—the Eagles. You will find on the several pages pages of all the forty-three boys who are taking part in the fall football program. Our thanks to Miss Peggy Blackwell for supplying pictures of the Eagles.

Coach Akins and his men to be commended for the showing that the team has made thus far this season. They have played some mighty football and done it in a way that everyone is proud of their work.

W. G. 'Spot' Taylor and Bradford are certainly sponsoring the gospel regarding the coming event in the automobile industry—the showing of new Chevrolet and Pontiac cars last week of this month. Spot attended a dealer meeting last week and Brad returned they were all set up about what they had seen. O. P. Shelton took the dealer to show new models for 1955 Studebakers two weeks ago.

Tab Ledbetter with Ford and Howard Hoover with Oldsmobile aren't saying much at the point—but, it won't be long until their new models will be on the floor for local car fans to have a look at. While there is some talk about business decline the industry is predicting an increase in sale of new cars during next year by five per cent.

Miss Juanita Weathers of Houston was a guest of her grandmother Mrs. J. W. Weathers last week.

The loans will be scheduled for repayment with in the shortest period consistent with the ability of the borrower to repay. No loan will be scheduled for repayment over a period which exceeds the useful life of the improvement or the security, which ever is less. In no case will the repayment period on loans to individuals exceed 20 years. Loans to associations will be repaid on the same basis as individual loans but in exceptional cases can be amortized over periods up to 40 years. Each borrower will be required to refinance the unpaid balance of his loan when he is able to obtain a loan at reasonable rates and terms from other sources.

Individuals can borrow amounts up to $25,000. It is expected that the average loan to a farmer will be less than $5,000. Water facility loans last year averaged $4,500. Loans to associations have a ceiling of $250,000. All loans will be secured chattels or real estate to the extent necessary to adequately protect the Government's investment.

Applicants will obtain whatever technical assistance they need from the Soil Conservation Service, Extension Service, other agencies, individuals and firms. Technical assistance of this sort from the Farmers Home Administration will be limited to a review of the engineering and

Soil And Water Conservation Loans Are Made Available Through New Law

Soil and water conservation loans are available to eligible farmers in Lampasas, Burnet, and Mills counties, Aston W. Cole, county Farmers Home Administration supervisor said this week.

The loans may be used to carry out measures for soil conservation, water development, conservation, and use, and drainage. This will include the construction and repair of terraces, dikes, ditches, ponds and tanks, the establishment and improvement of permanent pastures, basic application of lime and fertilizer, tree planting, well drilling, and the purchase of pumps and other irrigation equipment.

The new loan program was made possible by legislation recently passed by the 83rd Congress. (Supervisors in 17 Western States add "which greatly expanded the water facility loan program.")

Soil and water conservation loans may be made from funds supplied by private lenders and insured by the Government or from funds appropriated by Congress. Loans from appropriated funds will be made only when insured funds are not available. Loans, either direct or insured, will only be made when the applicant is unable to obtain the credit he needs at reasonable rates and terms from other sources. The Farmers Home Administration is authorized to insure loans up to a total of $25,000,000 each fiscal year. In addition, for fiscal 1955, the Congress appropriated $11,500,000 for this type of assistance.

Applications for all loans, insured or direct, will be made at the county office of the Farmers Home Administration located at Lampasas, Texas.

The 3-member county committee of the Farmers Home Administration will certify the eligibility of applicants. Applications from veterans will receive preference in processing.

Loans will be made to carry out only the types of soil and water conservation practices that are in accord with the recommendations made by the Extension Service and the Soil Conservation Service.

Soil and water conservation loan will not be available for annually recurring costs that are generally considered as farm operation expense.

To be eligible for a soil and water conservation loan, a farmer must have sufficient experience or training to indicate that he has reasonable prospects of conducting successful farming operations and be unable to obtain the necessary credit on reasonable term and condition from private and cooperative sources.

Non-profit associations such as incorporated water association, mutual water and drainage companies, irrigation and drainage districts, and soil conservation districts are eligible for a loan when they are unable to obtain adequate credit

TODAY'S Menu

Use "American Curry," A Versatile Seasoning

By ALICE DENHOFF

CHILL, sometimes known as the "American curry," has a distinctive, hot pungency.

Old in the Americas

No newcomer this, since its origin dates back to the Aztecs. It does a superb flavoring job on a variety of foods ranging from shellfish sauces to hamburgers.

Pre-blended chill powder, as we know it, is actually an American discovery. The Mexicans, in preparing their foods, blend the ingredients themselves, just as curry powder is prepared by the housewives of India.

Spicy Dressing

For a tangy French dressing, using this hot and spicy ingredient, mix together 1/2 tsp. salt, 1/2 tsp. sugar, 1/2 tsp. dry mustard, 1/2 tsp. onion salt, 1/4 tsp. paprika, 1/2 tsp. black pepper and 3/4 tsp. chill powder. Add 1/4 c. cider vinegar, 1/2 c. lemon juice and 3/4 c. salad oil.

Shake vigorously in a covered jar or dressing cruet. Makes about 1 c. dressing.

Packaged pre-cooked rice, with a dash of chill powder and served with fried chicken, is an inviting dish.

Pep up tomato juice with a dash of chill powder and celery salt.

Make Eggs Sparkle

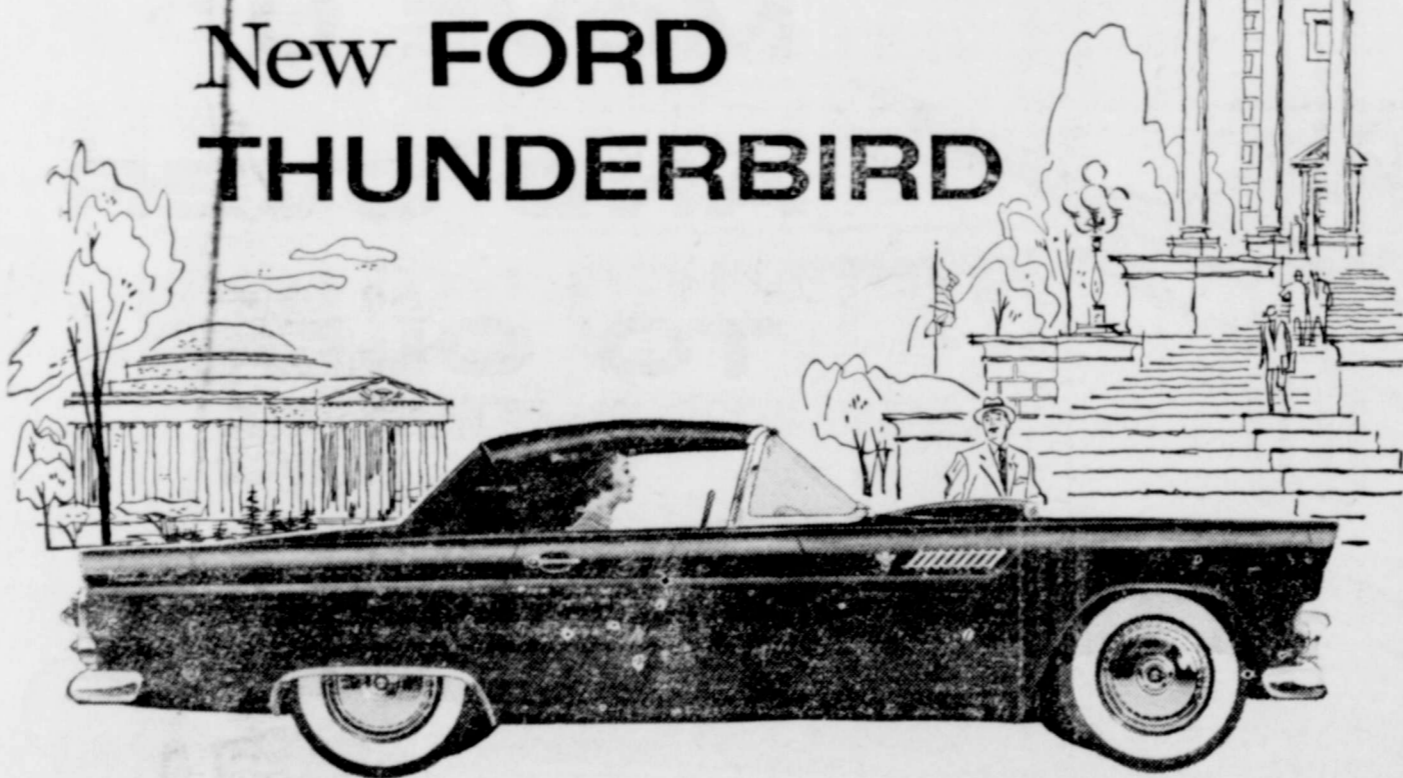

Baked eggs may be enlivened by topping each egg with grated cheese, a bit of butter, a sprinkling of chill powder and a dash of salt. Spinach can be glamorized, too, in the following way:

Melt 4 tbsp. butter. Sauté 1/2 c. chopped onion until golden. Add 2 c. tomato puree, 2 tsp. each chill powder and lemon juice, 1/2 tsp. garlic powder, 1/2 tsp. salt and 1/2 tsp. black pepper. Simmer 5 min.

Add 1 package frozen spinach and pour into casserole. Bake 20 min. at 350° F., topped with 1/2 c. grated cheese. Serves 6.

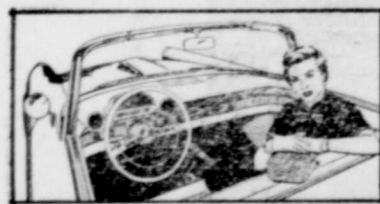

Utilize leftover beef and serve 4, by combining 2 tbsp. each chopped onion, chopped green pepper, ketchup and pickle relish, 1/2 c. ground leftover cooked beef, 4 tbsp. mayonnaise, and 1/2 tsp. chill powder. Mix thoroughly.

Hollow out centers of 4 hard rolls and fill with meat mixture.

New FORD THUNDERBIRD

A personal car of distinction
...with Trigger-Torque performance

You'll be delighted at the wealth of conveniences the Thunderbird offers. Two tops are available: a disappearing fabric top... and an easy-to-lift-on hard top. The extra-wide vinyl upholstered seat is foam-rubber-cushioned... power-operated 4 ways. Windows roll up... by power, if you like. There is a tachometer... and a clock with a sweep second hand. There is a telescoping steering wheel. And you can have power steering and power brakes.

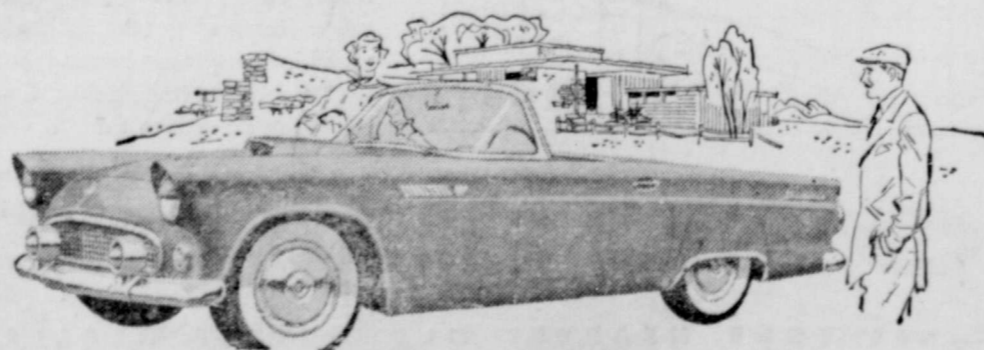

Something totally fresh is here—a bewitching new all-steel beauty that sets the styling keynote for other Ford cars to come.

But, styling gives the merest hint of what the Thunderbird has to offer. In traffic and on the open road the Thunderbird's Trigger-Torque performance is literally a revelation. Here is hair-trigger response... fleet, liquid agility... backed by a reserve of swift, sure power to meet safety's every demand. Trigger-Torque performance stems from Ford's new Thunderbird Special V-8—a high-torque engine with 4-barrel carburetor, dual exhausts, wide-opening valves and Ford's famous low-friction design. And you can have the Thunderbird with the transmission of your choice—Conventional, Overdrive, or new Speed-Trigger Fordomatic.

Ford's Ball-Joint Front Suspension not only velvet-cushions your ride, it also allows the Thunderbird to handle with utmost ease—to corner with greatest stability.

But, more important, the Thunderbird is the product of the same advanced engineering... the same manufacturing skills that have made Ford products so dependable, so value-full and so desirable to so many.

Questions On School Enrollment To Be Asked In Current Survey

Questions on school enrollment will be asked in addition to the regular inquires on employment and unemployment in the October Current Population Survey, according to Supervisor Charles E. Fay of the U. S. Census Bureau's district office at Dallas, Texas.

Similar questions last October revealed that about 34.5 million persons in the United States between the ages of five and 34 years of age were enrolled in school, including kindergarten, in 1953 compared with about 32.5 million in 1952. The expansion of the school population is taking place at all grades and age levels. There were approximately 2.0 million more pupils in the fall of 1953 than in the fall of 1952. Of this increase, 1.7 million took place among those in regular school and 300,000 among those in kindergarten. Since 1947, kindergarten enrollment has doubled, elementary school enrollment has grown by one-fifth, and high school enrollment by one-sixth.

The Current Population Survey will be taken locally and in 229 other areas of the country during the week of October 11. Local interviews will be handled by Mrs. Nella P. Casbeer of Lampasas, Texas.

PARENT PROBLEMS

Handling of Money Can Be a Temptation

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

SOME serious moral hazards face a few children who act as treasurers for their group, at Sunday school, their class at school, Scout troop, and the like. Occasionally an innocent boy or girl gets practice in spending money for his own personal use, collected by him and entrusted to his care. It often is so easy for him to do so, when the temptation is so great. Thus, under the guise of character education in responsibility, a child may get early training in embezzlement.

Poor Moral Training

Many adult leaders of groups of children and youth are very careless in this matter, seldom or never checking with the child responsible for collecting and keeping the funds of his group, and rarely or never going over his books with him. Although the Scout program calls for careful checking of the money a child collects from his troop and keeps or hand, even some Scoutmasters are careless on this score.

Other Temptations

Again, various children sell things and collect money in the neighborhood for their group.

Too often they are tempted to keep or use some of this money, since there is such a poor plan of checking.

I have seen young children collecting dimes during polio drives, and have been amazed at the great temptation with which these children were faced. No matter how worthy the cause, we can't afford to let it become a means through which children learn dishonesty in the use of money.

In such a simple matter as having a child carry money with him to pay for his music lesson, an occasional youngster discovers he can spend this money on the way for a long while before being apprehended.

A certain youth, on parole after serving a penitentiary sentence for forging checks, once told me he began to steal when he was entrusted with money given him by his mother to pay for each music lesson.

Perhaps the child or youth who serves as treasurer of his Sunday school or department or other church group has more temptation to be dishonest than the treasurer of any other similar group. I wish Sunday school teachers and parents of their children would grow more conscious of these moral hazards and act accordingly.

Some young children get early practice in embezzlement by going to the store for the parent who does not require a receipted bill from him on his return nor count the change with him. Why not protect our innocent children, instead of throwing temptations to dishonesty in their way? Some children require constant supervision in this regard.

SIMPLIFIED DROUTH PLAN NEEDED

A little reverse body english was applied to the "grab and giveaway" technique in Washington recently.

When the railroads reduced drouth hay shipment rates by 50 percent early this month, the federal government cut its aid responsibility down to one-fourth the normal freight rate. Drouth stricken stockmen received half the benefits of the cut—the government grabbed the other half.

This bold stroke caught the drouth states unaware. It happened just at a time when representatives from 15 states, including Texas, were in Washington seeking to obtain a simple and more practical plan of relief for grass-starved livestock. The plan submitted by the states was turned down by aides of the Office of the Secretary of Agriculture and the rail cut was interpreted as an opportunity to reduce federal participation in the drouth program.

The delegates to Washington were stunned by this action. They immediately adjourned a meeting with the Federal Drouth Committee and returned to their respective states.

In the beginning, the delegates had hoped the government would dump the present program entirely as too complicated to be of any real use. Instead of paying half the actual hay freight rate up to $10 per ton, they had proposed a federal reimbursement flat rate of $9 per ton to eligible livestockmen. The rate was based on actual cost experience with last year's program in all 15 states.

The flat reimbursement could be applied towards the cost of hay and transportation, they pointed out. It would cut down paper work from five forms now required to only one certificate of eligibility. The end result would be more benefit to needy livestock for less administrative cost.

But instead, half the benefits of the rail cut were wiped out:

If the government intends to spend the money it has earmarked for drouth relief, then state officials argue the program should be put on a more simple and economical basis. As it now stands, the program is not doing the job for which it was intended.

Brown-Mills Soil Conservation News

BY BOB CROSSLAND

Whether or not terraces will protect cropland from erosion, has been the basis for many discussions by farmers in the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District. You can find the answer to this question by observing terraced fields after heavy rains. Small gullies have been noted between terraces. These gullies have carried silt deposits into the terrace channels. Some terraces have been broken because of these deposits, allowing the water to gain volume and causing more damage to terraces below.

The proper use of cover crops is one way to remedy this problem. Madrid sweetclover is a good cover crop that has proved to be well adapted to this locality. The many uses of clover have made it popular in this area. Madrid can be used for temporary grazing, hay, seed production, and soil improvement.

Cooperators of the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District who have successfully grown Madrid sweetclover say the following rules should be observed: (1) Plant four to five pounds of Madrid per acre. (2) Sow Madrid and small grain at the same time. (3) Use phosphate fertilizer as needed. A fertilizer containing nitrogen has proven profitable on land that has never been in clover. (4) Inoculate the Madrid seed with the proper inoculant. (5) Use a cultipacker behind the drill, if possible, to firm the seedbed.

In working toward the completion of their conservation farm plan, Mr. Lowell Burks of Mount Olive and Mr. Otto Singleton of Mullin, last week began construction of field terraces on their respective farms. These terraces are being built to break the long slopes in their fields and to carry the excess runoff water to a safe disposal area.

In order to provide an adequate supply of livestock water on their rangeland, Mr. Lowell Burks, of Mount Olive and Mr. Pete Lambert, of Pleasant Grove, have recently constructed farm ponds on their respective farms.

Mrs. Lloyd Reynolds and children, Letha, Marie, Noel, Jackie and Earl Wayne and Connie Todd spent last Sunday at the Circle K Stock Farm near Arlington with the Berell and Harold Reynolds families.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Connelly of Pampa are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ritchie and other relatives.

W. C. Warlick of Abilene was guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Warlick and family last Sunday.

The Basic Idea Behind the All-New 1955 PONTIAC

On Display October 29 and 30

ABOUT 30 years ago General Motors Corporation presented to America a new car called Pontiac. This new car was the direct result of a very specific idea.

The idea was this: to create a car which took its style, its engineering principles and its features from the very best and most expensive in America—and to build these into a car priced just above the very lowest!

Naturally, such an idea produced a wonderful and highly popular car—a car which millions of satisfied owners have driven with outstanding pride and pleasure.

Now, nearly three decades later, an entirely new Pontiac has been created for 1955—a car completely new from the ground up!

One thing, however, about the 1955 Pontiac remains unchanged—its basic idea—to offer the American public the very finest car that can possibly be built to sell at a price within easy reach of any new-car buyer.

When you see the new Pontiac on Friday or Saturday—Oct. 29 or 30—you will be immediately impressed by its remarkable new styling. No other car in the world looks like this new Pontiac!

When you drive it you will be astonished at its performance. For the 1955 Pontiac introduces the powerful new Strato-Streak V-8, an all-new engine that has already been proved in more than 3 million test miles!

When you price the new Pontiac you will come face to face with the basic Pontiac idea—you will be agreeably surprised that so much car, so much sparkling newness, so much luxury, so much downright goodness can be priced so near the very lowest.

We cordially invite you to come in on Friday or Saturday and see for yourself what a superb all-new General Motors masterpiece has been created to carry the wonderful name "Pontiac" for 1955.

Scout Leaders Make Plans For Annual Finance Drive Starting Soon

Plans for the annual Boy Scout Finance Campaigns are being completed and campaigns will be held beginning October 25. Meetings were held last week in Lometa and DeLeon attended by the Community Finance Committees and their respective areas.

Chairman for the eight-county Comanche Trail Council attended these meetings. Also present were: Dr. T. C. Graves, Goldthwaite; Rio Cox, Brownwood; Charles Graham, Cisco; V. D. Gillen, Lampasas; Nell Brown, Lometa; and Sam Cleveland, Stephenville.

Chest in Brownwood and Brown County, Stephenville, Ranger, Cisco and Breckenridge. Therefore, no independent campaigns will be held there.

Campaigns will be held in each of the following twelve communities in support of the Boy Scout Movement: Goldthwaite, Lometa, Lampasas, San Saba, Richland Springs, Priddy, Comanche, De Leon, Gorman, Dublin, Rising Star, and Eastland.

Agriculture Department Sets 62c As Wool Production "Incentive Price"

The Agriculture Department last week announced it will guarantee wool growers an average of 62 cents a pound on the 1955 wool clip, up 16.5 per cent from this year's support price.

The new "incentive price" which will be made up to growers in the form of cash subsidies—is 106 per cent of the current wool parity price. That's down four points from the 110 per cent of parity maximum allowed in the new wool act which was the support level requested by wool grower representatives.

The department said the 62 cents a pound price "should stimulate production toward" 300 million pounds of wool a year. It also said the price is "consistent" with available wool tariff receipts which will be used to pay the subsidies.

Under the new wool act, Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson is allowed to set the "incentive" price at a level between 90 and 110 per cent of parity in order to assure production of 300 million pounds of wool annually. Wool production, down 40 per cent from 1942, is currently about 230 million pounds.

The new mohair incentive price will be 70 cents a pound or 91 per cent of the current mohair parity, the department said.

The law allows the mohair price level to vary as much as 15 per cent above or below the comparative level. Last week's mohair price was near the minimum of that authorized range, though 9 per cent above the support price for the current year.

The wool incentive price compares with 53.2 cents a pound, 90 per cent of parity, the government is currently paying on 1954 clip wool under a loan and purchase agreement program. Next year payments will be made to growers equal to the difference between the season's average wool government will not buy wool.

The department pointed out that since payments will be made on a percentage basis, rather than a flat cents per pound rate, each producer should try to get the "best possible price" on the market for his wool. Those so doing will get more subsidies.

For example if the incentive price is 20 per cent above the average price, each producer's incentive payment would amount to 20 per cent of the net sale value of his wool.

Meantime, the department assured growers that through May, 1955, none of the 110 million pounds of wool now owned by the government will be sold at less than 103 per cent of the 1954 wool support loan rate plus sales commission.

It said this policy should assure the industry that federal wool stocks will come on the market only at prices high enough to protect growers in selling the balance of the current year's wool clip at prices above the loan rate.

The department said after May, 1955, it will "continue to follow a policy of" orderly marketing "since it will be in the interest of both the government and producers under the new wool act."

Mrs. L. C. Griffin and children, Leonard, Melinda and Carlton Lee of Brownwood were guests of Florence and Gordon Jones Sunday afternoon.
