Standby Controls Bill Passage Seen Probable Temporary Measure With Very Rigid Safeguards?

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—There is widespread support on Capitol Hill for granting President Eisenhower standby power to impose price, wage and other controls on the economy, but only under very rigid safeguards.

Indications are a standby controls bill probably would pass if it only granted the President authority to clamp curbs in case the United States or one of its possessions were attacked. Even then, sufficient power probably would be given for only 90 days—that is, sufficient time to enable Congress to review the situation and pass a specific bill.

Powerful GOP leaders as well as Democrats are reluctant to give the President standby power except in case of an extreme emergency. This rules out any such legislation aimed at dealing with a war emergency stemming from the Formosa crisis.

The plan is to meet any situation resulting from the Formosa question as it comes up. If the administration decides to request standby control power, it will be in connection with the extension of the Defense Production Act, which expires June 30. The President wants the Act renewed.

President Eisenhower is proving himself just as adept as Harry Truman or the late FDR in keeping politicians and the public guessing about whether he will seek a second term.

Ike's neat footwork was demonstrated anew at the recent radio and TV correspondents' dinner at which he was guest of honor. In an impromptu speech, Mr. Eisenhower rose to thank the newsmen for a pair of English lanterns to be hung on the porch of his Gettysburg, Pa., farm home.

The President recalled that last year the same organization gave him a sun dial for the farm. The President said he assumed the lanterns were to light his way to the farm and the sun dial to mark the time until he gets there. He left the audience to guess how long the interval will be.

UNIMPRESSED—Democratic leaders of the Senate apparently are unimpressed by the press corps covering their activities. Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, of Texas, showed the first sign of this when he took away from newsmen the privilege of using one of two elevators otherwise reserved exclusively for senators.

Hereafter, said Johnson, both elevators would be used only by the 96 members of the Senate, leaving only one elevator, augmented by another in the rear of that wing of the Capitol, for the hundreds of newsmen and private citizens traveling from one floor to another.

He offered to reconsider when a petition was drawn up by a group of reporters, headed by foot-weary lady journalists who apparently had been driven to use the stairs on particularly busy days.

Then, the congressional committee on printing, headed by Arizona's Senator Carl Hayden, announced that newsmen no longer would be given free copies of the Congressional Directory. He said that if they want that legislative bluebook hereafter they will have to buy it at four dollars for indexed and two dollars for un-indexed copies. The saving to the government: $6,200 a year.

A committee aide said that "no one was picking on" the Washington press corps. He said this was merely a continuation of a policy to require everyone but members of Congress and their employees to purchase the Directory if they want it.

He said the policy originated two years ago, when other federal agencies were refused free copies and were notified they would have to buy them instead.

LABOR LEGISLATION—Capitol Hill sources believe this is Labor's year to get the legislation it wants. They point to the House labor committee with its pro labor majority of northern Democrats and to a number of influential union-minded senators eager to give organized labor a lift.

The outlook, then, is for passage of labor-sponsored, or labor-backed bills, including a hike in the federal minimum wage law.

SOLILOQUY

Since it is getting close to the April 15, deadline, for filing income tax returns it is interesting to note the comment coming from different individuals.

Comments coming from Don Robinson, Editor of the American Press Magazine, is worthy of note. A statement in the new income tax forms states: "After reading these instructions you should be able to prepare your own return."

To this Mr. Robinson has the following to say. "That statement in the new income tax forms might be interpreted as a challenge—a test to determine if you are of normal intelligence according to Treasury Department standards. And, after delving further into the situation, I am ready to admit a rating of first degree moron."

"But I have a suggestion. It seems to me that if the tax laws are supposed to be written so we taxpayers can prepare our own returns without help (instead of being written for the benefit of countless lawyers and accountants who make the major portion of their living from the complications of tax laws), the first place to test the simplicity of the laws is among those who write them."

"So I would like to suggest the following amendment to the tax laws. Every member of Congress must prepare his own return without any outside help whatsoever. And perhaps it would help even more if it were required that the return, every other year, be prepared by the Congressman's wife."

"It seems to me that new tax blanks and accompanying instructions are the most complicated and exasperating we have ever had to face. And I think it is about time the voters rose up in protest.

"I don't suggest a sit-down strike — yet. But I do think that newspaper editors, through their editorials, could impress their congressmen with the difficulties their readers are having in trying honestly to meet their obligations to the support of government. And enough editorial protest might result in something being done about it."

Treasure hunters, or prospectors, who have been working the Dry Pond area on Uncle 'Proc' McCullough's ranchland may not be finding what they came out there to look for, but they are finding something. Some of them were working in Dry Pond a few days ago and made a good kill of two rattlers—good old Texas Diamondback rattle snakes. They killed two on their Sunday trip and Mr. McCullough had them on display in the back of his pick-up truck in town the following day. One was just over five feet long while the other was just under five feet long. One still having the rattlers on display which could be counted to thirteen. At that, some seemed to have disappeared from the tip end.

Tom Stevens of Star Route 2, Morton, Texas, sends greetings to friends and neighbors in Mills County. He states: "Enclosed you will find renewal for subscription to the paper. I love the news from friends and neighbors. Goldthwaite is still our old home town. West Texas is a beautiful and prosperous place—we are blessed with a little rain."

Warren Henry Goldsmith once said: "The only way to

Mr. B. F. Eubanks died at his home in this city Tuesday morning and was buried with Masonic honors in the Odd Fellows Cemetery Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Mr. Lafayette Walton died at his home in the Center City community last Saturday morning and was buried in the cemetery at that place Sunday afternoon.

R. L. Mohler of Big Valley was called to Gatesville Monday by a message announcing the serious illness of his mother.

Edward Bull left Wednesday for his home in Reno, Nevada, after spending several months visiting relatives in this county. His brother John accompanied him. They are sons of S. M. Bull of Big Valley.

Mrs. Kennerly's little son, Newton was badly hurt Wednesday afternoon by a horse he was riding falling with him.

play the game of life is to be your tarts when they are playing tarts, and not wait to see what they are going to do next."

From Mrs. C. H. Leverette Houston comes the following note: "Please find enclosed money order for renewal of subscription. There's no news from the old home town."

TWO POINTS OF VIEW - There are two kinds of people in the world, optimists and pessimists. The difference? Optimists fill a jar to the top with money, then ask what is Miss Optimist says it's half full. But Mr. Pessimist says it's half empty.

John V. Knight writes from Jal, New Mexico: "Am enclosing renewal for my subscription to the Eagle which we enjoy very much."

Voyager: "Captain, what do I do if I get seasickness?" Captain: "Don't worry, you do it."

FROM EXPERIENCE COMES FAITH

The woman who has used an electric clothes dryer would never think of hanging her wash on a line again. She has learned that she can do her washing in any kind of weather, with a minimum of work and trouble. She knows that clothes dried electrically are cleaner, without smoke or dust to soil them.

She has found, too, that the clothes dryer is easier on her family's clothes. They wear better and hold their color better, when wind and sun cannot damage them.

She knows all these things, because she has learned from experience.

Research facts bear out her experience. The Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station found that "white items dried in the dryer 50 times were as white as those dried outdoors. As for fading color and preventing fading, the dryer excels. All colors—even those washed 50 times in hot detergent water—remained deep and clear except one unstable blue dye. All items faded in the outdoor drying, even though they were in partial shade."

By Doyle Miles, Reporter
Some 50 guests were entertained by members of the F. F. A. Chapter Friday night at its annual banquet, March 18, 1955. Armand Clary, Chapter President, got things started with chapter officers going through "Opening Ceremonies." Charles Seglequist, last year's president, was master of Ceremonies.

Joe Autry, head of the Agriculture Department at Tarleton State College in Stephenville was the guest speaker. He delivered a timely address on the need of more farm boys staying in the field of Agriculture, either on the farm or as Professional Agricultural Leaders.

Van McCasland, Leonard Waddell, and Chester Rickel gave Progress Reports on their "Supervised Farming Programs."

Ira Adams was presented a medal for having had the most outstanding Project Program for the past year.

Larry Kelso recited the "Future Farmers Creed" and Lester Clary said the "Invocation." Doyle Miles gave the "Welcome Address." Special guests other than the parents of the chapter members are as follows: Neil Reeves, Chapter Sweetheart, Mr. Autry, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Soules, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Wall, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Carswell, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Beard, Mr. and Mrs. Ferris Akins, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Waldrop, Miss Lucy Burrus, Mrs. Etta Patterson, Miss Laura Virden, and Charles E. Davis, Chapter Adviser.

WATCH-DOGS OF THE TAX DOLLARS

One important item to every Texan is the make-up and operation of the 54th Legislature's finance committees—that body of senators or representatives who make appropriations and spend the taxpayers' dollars.

As Commissioner of Agriculture, I have been very much impressed this year by the constructive attitude of these committee members. Dividing up state money among the various agencies is a tremendous chore for those people. They sit in conference hour after hour, day after day, listening to people who come in on an average of every half hour wanting money for their particular project or group.

It is a man-killing job. Certainly, after only a few days of hearing the same arguments over and over, the senses can become dulled to the point that any decision is a strain.

Under the circumstances, I was surprised and extremely pleased with my hearing before Sen. William Shireman of Corpus Christi recently. As a subcommittee chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, Sen. Shireman proved to be so interested and so effective in his suggestions that I believe it was the finest hearing I have ever had in the past four years.

When I came before the House Committee, I was the last member of state executive branches to appear. Those men were dog-tired. They had listened to hundreds of thousands of words concerning millions of dollars. They knew that as soon as I had finished, they could relax these hearings and go about other legislative tasks. But they sat there and gave me all the time I wanted. They discussed my appropriations bill and asked me searching questions about it.

I was extremely pleased when I left. That does not mean that the Texas Department of Agriculture got all the money requested. It did NOT. But on those items they refused to approve, I felt I had received a fair hearing on them, and that the members understood what I wanted.

In their refusal, I also felt like the members knew enough about the bills to feel justified in turning them down. I could not ask anything more than that—and the members are to be complimented for their fairness.

A member of the Legislature can come to Austin, sit at his desk and vote when told to vote and still draw his pay without undue effort. This is not the procedure of the vast majority this session. They are working day and night—and they don't get paid a cent more than if they just took life easy.

To me, it proves that the democratic form of government is not dead among the individual members of our House and Senate.

Home Laundry Facilities Need Improvements Says Home Economist

Home laundry facilities are the greatest single source of dissatisfaction to homemakers, according to Mrs. Mary Robinson, Lone Star Gas Company home economist.

"In too many homes," Mrs. Robinson said, "the laundry area looks much the same today as it did twenty years ago. If the homemaker is planning to buy an automatic washing machine and a clothes dryer, she should, at the same time, make the laundry area as attractive, comfortable and efficient to work in as any ultra-modern kitchen."

"It should have a floor that's easy to stand on," she said. "Good lighting and ventilation; built-in storage space for soaps, detergents, bluing, starches and bleachers; ample counter space for sorting and folding clothes; a bin for soiled clothes near the clothes dryer; and sturdy racks for freshly ironed flatwear, as minimum requirements."

A member of the Legislature can come to Austin, sit at his desk and vote when told to vote and still draw his pay without undue effort. This is not the procedure of the vast majority this session. They are working day and night—and they don't get paid a cent more than if they just took life easy.

A comfortable chair to sit on while ironing and a small radio set.

NEW PURINA Bite-Size CHECKER PLAN OF GROWING PULLETS

Compared to usual mash feeding, the new Bite-Size Checker plan can make a big cut in your growing cost. Chicks start eating the new, smaller Checkers when only 4 to 6 weeks old. It takes less feed because pullets spill less out of the hoppers. And the few Checkers that are spilled are quickly picked up—not lost on the ground like mash.

By LIDA BYRNE
Why do we fail to have enough rain? The Bible says: Neither say they in their heart. Let us now fear the Lord our God, that giveth rain, both the former and the later, in his season: he reserveth unto us the appointed weeks of harvest. Your iniquities have turned away these things, and your sins have withholden good things from you. Jeremiah 5:24, 25.

Center City Club Members See Preparation Of Foods For Freezers

The Thursday Study Club met in the home of Mrs. Sherwood Owens Thursday last week. Mrs. Ercher McCasland conducted the business session. The Club voted to give $2.00 to the Red Cross. Three members who had birthdays this month turned in their pennies to the Treasurer. Copper foil was ordered by those who want to work on their projects at the next Arts and Crafts Meeting. After the business meeting the members gathered in the kitchen for a demonstration in cooking. Mrs. Harry Welch made a deep freeze cake by slicing a frozen angel food cake into three layers. She then stacked and spread each layer with whipped cream and fresh strawberries, returning the cake to the deep freeze.

Mrs. Jack Elms made a Butter Scotch pie and Mrs. Ernest Ranson made Emma's Fluff. She whipped one can of chilled Carnation milk, added three fourths cup sugar, juice of one lemon, one small can of crushed pineapple, one fourth cup chopped cherries or nuts (or both) and then mixed this with the cooled mixture of jello (two boxes of lemon jello and two cups of boiling water). The mixture was then poured into large shallow dishes and chilled until firm.

Mrs. Lee Walton gave a demonstration on new ideas for gifts and decorations.

Refreshments were served to sixteen members and four children from a table decorated with a beautiful Easter center piece.

Social Security Applies To Higher Wages Paid, Effective January 1955

"Beginning the first of this year, up to $4200 per year in earnings are counted for social security purposes," said James B. Marley, manager of the Austin District Office today.

"This means that future payments of social security will be higher to those earning over the former ceiling of $3600."

"The old $3600 wage base permits payments of social security benefits of $98.50 per month to the worker."

The $4200 base will eventually allow a worker to retire and receive as much as $108.50 per month. Don't forget that the worker's wife will also be eligible for half of her husband's benefits." This means a family benefit of $162.80 per month if the worker has paid social security tax on as much as $4200 per year.

Average annual earnings are somewhat greater at present and this means that more people will get higher benefits because more of their earnings will be counted in the future.

Neal Brown of Arizona and Mr. and Mrs. Will Page of Richland Springs spent several days here with their mother, Mrs. M. L. Bounds and Mr. Bounds.

Mrs. J. H. Miller of Meigs, Georgia is visiting in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ellis Mahan, Mr. Mahan and children, and helping care for the new granddaughter.

Goldthwaite High School Juniors Present Play Friday And Saturday

LOVE IS IN THE AIR," a new act comedy, will be presented by the Junior Class of Goldthwaite High School, Friday and Saturday, April 1 and 2 at 8:00 p.m.

The Truitts come face to face with the fact that—as Maggie puts it—they "aren't so hot" in the romance department. Maggie makes determined and amusingly exasperated efforts to guide her husband, Elmer, in taking her to see the road-show revival of her favorite musical.

There is a "twist" on the customary father-to-son-heart-to-heart talk in which Clarence Elmer tells that he has lost the "old sing," and that to regain it, he's got to "woo—woo— and keep wooing."

Elmer is elated and then dejected when he finds he will have to take the jet plane ride he is to "live up to" his family's and his lodge's expectations. Then in a nightmare dream he is falling from the jet plane.

Maggie attempts to coach her father in the art of "purring" for a husband, and she and her friend Poodles attempt to snag Beanie and another boy for the Girl Scout weiner roast.

When timid Roscoe seems at last ready to propose to Gladys Truitt he is interrupted by Maggie hanging upside down in a tree outside the window. Gramps is peppery. Clarence and his pal Hugo vie for the attentions of Jackie, the new girl.

A committee from the LADIES AUXILIARY from Elmer's Lodge, the Sons of the Buffaloes, calls.

Gert and Elmer are played by Wanda Hall and James Petty. Gladys and Roscoe by Carolyn Mankin and O'Donnell Newton. Clarence by Mike McCullough, Hugo by Tommy Clint Daniel, Jackie by Jo Ann Jones. Maggie by Leona Mae Carter. Poodles by Betsy Smith, Beanie by Jimmy Schunke, "Gramps" by Tommpurkes, and the three ladies of the auxiliary by Linda Edgington, Norma Letbetter, and Jearline Perry.

Dan Covington visited relatives in Fort Worth last week.

Local Garden Club Members Hear Discussion On Flower Show Staging

The Goldthwaite Garden Club met at the Jennie Trent Dew Library, Thursday afternoon March 16, with Meses C. F. Stubblefield, F. M. Stephens, Arthur Schuman and E. O. Shepherd hostesses.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. T. M. Glass the business meeting was presided over by Mrs. C. F. Stubblefield.

Mrs. Jim Weatherby and Mrs. O. H. Yarborough gave reports on the District Five meeting which was held in Waco March 3.

The program was "Flower Show Staging", with Mrs. H. D. Roberson leading a panel discussion on "Flower Show Practice". Serving with Mrs. Roberson were Mrs. T. J. Collier, Mrs. Robert Butler, Mrs. Daron Kerby and Mrs. Loyd King, who discussed the duties of the different chairmen.

The Staging Committee Chairman is appointed by the Flower Show Chairman and assumes all responsibility in connection with preparation and actual building of the show. In planning the show the first step is to consider the place, schedule and blueprint.

Entries Committee is to be divided with each member recording equal numbers of classes on loose leaf sheets.

Classification Chairman in Horticulture must be able to distinguish types of plant material in order that specimens and pot plants be placed in their correct class.

Classification Chairman in Arrangement Class must see that each entry fulfills the requirement of the schedule in type of arrangement, plant material, color, container, accessories and size.

Publicity Chairman, much of the success of the show depends on the right person to handle publicity. Posters, local newspaper articles, personal letters to neighboring Garden Clubs and other organizations are the usual channels used to attract attention to the show.

Hospitality Committee Hostesses are present when the show opens to discuss exhibits with visitors and answer questions, give names of plant materials new to the guests.

Clean Up Committee takes over after the show is over and does a thorough housekeeping job.

Good sportsmanship and a sense of humor are prime qualifications of a good exhibitor.

Lovely refreshments were served from Table Of The Month which was laid with a white imported cloth centered with a large green Shamrock, which was made of Bells of Ireland and pear blossoms. Plate favors were miniature Shamrocks.

Soft Emerald Isle Music, "When Irish Eyes are Smiling" and "Where The River Shannon Flows" and other Irish songs enhanced the occasion.

Next meeting will be at the Mills County Youth Center, Wednesday April 20.

Army Offers Technical Training

The finest Technical Training is offered young men and women entering the Army, according to Sgt. Daniel Dawson, local Army Recruiter.

The Army is now sending their Male enlistees to Ft. Ord California for Basic and their Women to Ft. McClellan, Alabama. During Basic the men and women are given a series of tests and interviews to determine which of the 400 odd courses offered in the technical training program he or she is best suited for.

The latest training methods and equipment are used in these technical schools. The Army has learned through experience that the "Learn as you Earn," or "Learn by Doing," methods produce the Best-Trained personnel.

Qualified men and women who are interested in learning more about the advantages of the Army, are urged to contact Sgt. Daniel Dawson at the Post Office in Goldthwaite, Texas from 1 p. m. to 5 p. m. each Tuesday afternoon.

Take it easy, Susie... LET'S NOT TIE UP THE PARTY LINE!

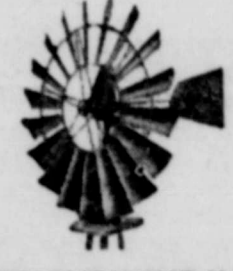

Right! It's only fair play to give others on your Party Line a chance to make and receive their calls. • Incidentally, allowing a few minutes between calls also helps to make everyone's Party Line service better.

P.S. It's always a good idea to make sure your receiver is replaced properly. Otherwise, your line—and every phone on your Party Line—is "bug" to all incoming calls.

Brown-Mills Soil Conservation News

By CHARLES HAENISCH
The supervisors of the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District are preparing now for Soil Conservation District Week which will be observed throughout the State of Texas May 9 through May 15. Many of the churches in the District will conclude the week with the observance of Soil Stewardship Sunday on the 15. Programs are being planned for that week and the supervisors are anticipating a week full of conservation activities.

Do you want to get your pasture land in better condition to store moisture? If you do, your Soil Conservation District Supervisors urge you to take advantage of the deferred grazing program under the Agricultural Conservation Program. Application can be made on the 2nd floor of the Mills County Courthouse at the ASC office. A payment of fifty-five cents an acre is being made on a 5-month deferment including the months of May, and June. Many cooperators have already applied for this practice. Some who have recently applied for the practice are: Joe N. Weatherby, John D. Calaway, George Roberson, Barney Edmondson, Charles H. Griffin, W. B. Black, T. C. Chaney, N. J. Tyson, Howard Ethridge, Joel Christenson, Albert Schuman, and Carl Jeske.

Earthen Dams were laid out for construction on the Jimmy Logan ranch near Democrat, the Martin McCasland farm of McGirk, and the H. B. Curtis ranch of Nabors Creek last week by Soil Conservation Service technicians. These dams will impound runoff water from adjoining hills for use by livestock and will better distribute grazing on their rangeland. Fish are being ordered now by cooperators of the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District for spring and fall delivery. J. D. Wright, C. A. Gromatsky, W. W. Head, D. A. Hamilton, W. O. Kemp, Charles Stephens, and R. L. Burdette have applied through the District for fish to be delivered by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service. These fish will be placed in farm ponds.

Mr. and Mrs. Ode Wilkey spent last Sunday in Kerrville.

Clementine Wilmeth Briley Writes From Temporary Home In El Paso

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

"El Paso can rightly claim to be the Sun Capital of the U. S.," so said the Herald-Post today (Mar. 17). Yesterday for the first time since Jan. 14, 1954, the U. S. Weather Bureau reported no sunshine here. "As far as we can determine," said the weatherman, "this beats any other place in the U. S." Rain in El Paso measured .02 inch.

Friday night (Mar. 11), Robert Lindau, husband of Jessie Guthrie, called us to tell us that they had spent the weekend at Ebony and had brought John Guthrie, Jessie's father, home with them. They would have brought him over to see us that night, but Grace was having to attend the Trans-Pecos Teachers' convention, and I was accompanying her, so we made another date. We went to see them Sunday afternoon. Robert had gone to Minneapolis on business, but there were Mr. Guthrie, Jessie, Roberta and Bill. It was good to see Mr. Guthrie again and to hear from Ebony once more. They were needing rain as usual, but the grass and everything was getting green, and the grain was holding on.

The Lindaus had spent Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Guthrie in Brownwood and most of Saturday and Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Reeves at Ebony. They returned home Sunday. The Hubert Reeves were celebrating their son John's ninth birthday Saturday afternoon. Nancy had made the cake. Besides the Lindaus, guests were Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Humphries, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Reeves, Mrs. Flora Reeves Hodges of Brownwood, and her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Brooks, of Gruver, Maurine (Mrs. Humphries) brought the ice cream.

John and Mr. Guthrie had a good time talking while the rest of us went out into the backyard to see Jessie's flowers. She had beautiful, large daffodils in bloom and lots of chrysanthemum and daisy plants. She got a box and took up some of the plants for us. And just because it was from Ebony, she took up for us one of the Bells of Ireland plants her sister Miria had given her. John, looking through the window, saw us taking them to the car and said to Mr. Guthrie, "There they go. Everywhere we go they carry off a lot of plants."

A letter from my sister, Mrs. J. F. Bateman, of Fort Worth, said the plums and redbuds were in full bloom there, and her host of daffodils were gorgeous. She said she had not heard from that tall, redheaded, doctor son of hers since Feb. 4. So she called Galveston Saturday night, Mar. 12, to find if he still existed. He simply could not believe it had been so long. He said he had been oblivious to everything but writing histories and taking tests. "Did you get the two checks your Dad sent you?" she asked. "Yes." "Did you receive the chocolate fudge I sent?" "Yes, and I would like more of the same." "When I receive a letter from you, I'll send you some more." Now she's wondering if appetite will be strong enough to produce a letter.

Last week I received a lovely gift from a dear friend. Brownie Reeves White sent me from Los Angeles a pair of pillow cases, hand embroidered with sprays of pink carnations interspersed with smaller sprays of tiny blue forget-me-nots. A narrow hand crochet is hemstitched to the slightly scalloped edges. And between this and the sprays is a row of tiny pink forget-me-nots scattered along the contour of the scallops. They are exquisite, a thing of beauty, and — according to Keats — a joy forever.

Brownie writes, "These pillow cases were made entirely by this person. I mean for them to be an expression of gratitude for your very fine way of writing the Ebony News." She hopes to visit Ebony in the late spring. Mindful of our long and devastating drought, she says, "Surely something will happen to put some bounce back into that once beautiful and prosperous country. So here's to dear old Mills and all of us."

Not long ago Johnny went with his mother to visit a friend at the big, old, ugly, brick apartment house where they had lived before they bought their new home. He remembered that it was the place where they had lived. That night at the supper table we asked him how he liked it. "It shocked awful," he said.

Reseeded Ranges Prove Profitable With Proper Grass-Livestock Balance

College Station, (Spec.)—Texas ranchmen are learning to live with drouth and profit too. A range specialist says the answer for many lies in keeping a proper grass-livestock balance on reseeded ranges.

Many attempts at reseeding have not been profitable—and for several reasons, says G. O. Hoffman, extension range specialist. Reseeding fails because of planting at the wrong time or season, improperly prepared seedbeds, lack of seedling protection and weed control and grazing before the new plants become well established.

Hoffman advises farmers to determine whether as much as 15 percent of the native, key grasses are still present. If they are, don't reseed. Deferred grazing is a better and cheaper method of recovery.

A reseeding operation should be planned like a cash crop, Hoffman says. Fields out of cultivation for long periods seeded to adapted grasses give quickest response. Plant the grasses rows and follow with a roller cultipacker.

Reseeding is recommended in West Texas in April, May or June.

Management following seeding plays an equally important role in reestablishing rangeland. Do not graze the new grass the first year, or until the plant crowns are at least one inch in diameter.

Turn in the cows only after the new grasses have a firm foothold. But don't run in too many animals. Next comes the job of balancing livestock with forage produced.

that they were not buying land, but authorizing others to buy.

Other Land Activity— Other developments in the broadening land investigation included:

1. Cecil Burney, special attorney general, said that several branches of the federal government are interested.
2. Giles, in district court here, refused to answer questions about two deals in which the state is suing him and others to recover $171,427. Giles' attorneys said he would not talk because co-defendants had not been officially notified that oral depositions were to be taken.
3. Back to work on veteran land deals went a Travis County grand jury. A previous grand jury had been dissolved because of a legal question as to whether it was properly called.
4. Senator Phillips asked the investigating committee to subpoena all bank records of Alvis Vandygriff, Austin lawyer who was the first executive secretary of the veterans land board. Vandygriff has testified before the House investigating committee that he was to receive $5,000 legal fees in a Webb County deal.
5. Cuero Congressman John J. Bell told investigators that he received more than $20,000 in legal fees during 1952-54 from persons mentioned in land deals. Bell made the statement voluntarily, after some of his fees had been mentioned in land testimony.

Insurance Rules— Insurance reform bills made progress. Finally passed by the Senate and sent to the House was one measure requiring written examinations for the licensing of legal reserve life insurance agents.

Another bill passed first reading, but did not get enough votes for immediate final passage.

This second bill, by Senator Searcy Bracewell of Houston, would require legal reserve life companies to have $250,000 capital and $125,000 surplus.

At present, the requirement is only $25,000 to $100,000, depending on whether a limited or full capital stock company is concerned.

Gas Everywhere— Representatives from 500 Panhandle area farm families swarmed the legislature to support two bills that will make natural gas available to them.

At present, the area produces two million feet of gas a day, but the farmers can't buy the gas to run irrigation pumps for drouth-hit wheatland.

One measure pushed by the group would require gas, companies having wells on irrigated farm land, to sell enough gas to run pumps.

Another would give royalty owners the right to either sell their share of the gas or to use it for irrigation pumps.

Water Program— Final Senate approval has been given a proposed constitutional amendment calling for a $100 million state aid program for local water conservation. If the House approves it, it will go to the people September 20. A state property tax of three cents per $100 value would finance the bill.

Tideland Leases— First major leasing of tidelands since late 1953 will take place May 3 when the School Land Board puts 125,000 acres on the block. The Board will also offer for leasing 160,000 acres of other land.

Shivers Invited— Gov. Allan Shivers will attend a May 4-5 Washington conference of Democratic governors. Sponsoring the session is the Democratic National Committee. Shivers said the invitation came from National Committee Chairman Paul M. Butler.

Gas Conservation— A conservation bill to regulate natural gas prices at the wellhead is moving forward. House members voted 89 to 52 to have the bill printed after its committee was unable to agree.

City Annexations— Two measures governing city annexations have been initiated in the legislature.

One, giving a city first rights to incorporate areas within five miles during a 2-year period, has been sent to the Senate.

Rep. Joe Pool's bill to let the State Board of Water Engineers supervise city annexations and incorporation is in a House committee.
