This came on at a time when the city water department was just beginning to make some progress after use of water was restricted in July when the demand became much greater than the supply due to the extremely hot weather.

City employees worked around the clock from Saturday, over the weekend, until repairs were made and the well again was in operation about midnight Monday.

Red Sox Defeat Pat's Cubs To Take Place In League Play-Off

BY CHARLES CONRADT

The Goldthwaite Red Sox have ended the regular playing schedule for the Hill Country baseball league with eight games won and six lost. The Red Sox were defeated by the Fredericksburg Giants last Thursday night by the score of 7 to 2.

Gilliam and Stacey were the hitting stars of the Fredericksburg game as they collected two hits in four times at the plate. McLean was just behind them with two hits in five times at the plate. Red Winners hit a home run for Goldthwaite, and from all who saw it I believe the ball is still traveling in a westward direction, and will hit the ground some time this fall.

Sunday the Red Sox came from behind three times to down the Cub's from Pats by the score of 8 to 7.

It took the pitching of Red Winners, John Gilliam and Mike Mistovich to complete the game. Red pitched four innings, gave up five hits and three runs, Gilliam pitched three and two thirds innings and gave up three hits and four runs. Mistovich pitched 1 and one third innings and allowed no hits and no runs.

Doggett, Carrell and Tullos were the heavy hitters for the locals as they collected two hits in four times at the plate. Tullos getting a triple and a home run. The Home run came at a very trying time. The Red Sox were behind two runs and with Carroll on base Tullos hit the first pitch high up on the score board for a home run that tied the score. Then Pats scored another run in the eight to go one ahead. This time it was Campbell and Doggett who hit two doubles, scoring Owens who walked and Campbell who hit before Doggett.

This closes the regular seasons batting averages and Tullos is the leading hitter with a 450% for the season. He is followed by Doggett with 342% with the weekend, until repairs were made and the well again was in operation about midnight Monday.

Shortly after the pump went out Layne-Texas Company of Dallas and Houston had two men on their way from Dallas to Goldthwaite to assist city employees in the repair job. They worked Sunday afternoon and until 2:00 a.m. Monday. At that time the Houston branch was called and by 3:00 o'clock a truck was on the way delivering a pump to this city. It arrived here Monday morning at 9:00 o'clock.

Installations were completed and the well put into operation about midnight Monday.

According to Water Notice appearing in this issue, City Officials express, "Thanks to the cooperation of Layne-Texas Co. and 'round the clock labor of our employees, our pump is repaired and back in service."

They state further, "Normal use of water can now be resumed except for UNNECESSARY WASTE. Your hearty cooperation is very much appreciated."

"Steps are being taken toward development of additional supply, but no benefit can be expected for this summer."

In that connection the city council appointed a committee at their Monday night meeting composed of Carl Lettetter, Joe Bailey Karnes and R. L. Steen to start working out details for drilling two additional wells for the city.

Stacey in third with 234%.

Manager Estep will try to match a ball game for this week but as yet has not worked out a game. The play-off will be announced as soon as the information is received.

Flood Prevention Program For Bennett Creek Watershed Discussed

By CHARLES HAENISCH

Supervisors of the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District, the Mills County Commissioners Court, representatives of the Goldthwaite Lions Club, and farmers and ranchers from the Bennett Creek watershed met with representatives of the Soil Conservation Service last Tuesday for the purpose of discussing the possibilities of obtaining a flood prevention program on Bennett Creek.

W. T. Moon, assistant State Conservationist from Temple, discussed the various steps in securing such a program. He also explained that two of the chief factors considered in approving a flood prevention program on a watershed are need and local interest.

Mr. Moon told the group that the flood prevention program is another way in which their Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District is able to assist them with their soil and water conservation problems. He further explained that this type program is a combination of land treatment and structures. In discussing the importance of the program, Mr. Moon stressed that one phase is dependent upon the other for a successful flood prevention program.

It was explained to the group that the local people would be required to participate in the flood prevention program. Seven ways in which the local people would be asked to assist were as follows:

1. Easements for rights-of-way for each structure will be furnished by the local people.
2. State water rights from the state Board of Water Engineers will be obtained by the local people.
3. The operation and maintenance of the structures after they are built will be the responsibility of the local people.
4. The cost for storage capacity for other than flood prevention purposes will be assumed by the local people.
5. Conservation land treatment on the watershed will be a responsibility of the local people.
6. Local people will let and administer contracts.
7. Local people will bear a share of the construction cost. The application for flood prevention work under Public Law 566 on the Bennett Creek Watershed has been approved for further study by the state Soil Conservation Board.

Inside WASHINGTON MARCH OF EVENTS

GOP Far More Hopeful Of Regaining Congress Optimism Stems From Conviction Ike Will Run

WASHINGTON—Republicans, now absolutely convinced that President Eisenhower will run in 1956, are far more hopeful than they once were over their chances of regaining control of Congress next year.

The Republicans reply to this by pointing out that no winning presidential candidate in many years has failed to carry his own party to victory in the congressional elections.

Democrats, who were confident to the point of cockiness about their 1956 congressional chances until recently, are no longer quite so sure.

They concede the President's personal popularity, realize he will campaign hard for a Republican Congress if he runs next year, and they admit they still have not come up with any really good issues for the 1956 campaigns.

JOHNSON—The situation has been complicated by the heart attack which removed Senate Democrat Leader Lyndon Johnson from the political scene—temporarily, both his friends and his political foes hope.

The Texan, since taking over as majority leader last January, had demonstrated unusual political skill. He rates ace high with liberals and conservatives alike in the Democratic fold.

Without Johnson's shrewd touch and his constant practice of what amounted to a political healing art, old enemies are likely to recur. However, if he can return to the Senate floor in January the Democrats will be in a much better position to go into the 1956 race with ranks closed.

LISARMAMENT—United States officials were hopeful that some progress could be made at the Big Four conference on a world disarmament plan, but they were well aware that a long, long road lay ahead before any concrete program could be worked out.

President Eisenhower, before he went to Geneva, said he hoped some agreement could be reached between the major powers on setting up a special group to consider disarmament and make recommendations.

MEAT-EATERS—If you like meat, there's good news ahead. Millions of hogs in pens, cattle in pastures and chickens in barnyards promise lower prices.

To Stand Forever in Quiet Dignity

To generations still unborn, a well chosen monument will bespeak a deeply shared devotion.

Plentiful Foods For August Listed

College station.— Food shoppers should find the August plentiful list to their liking.

Broilers and fryers share the spotlight with canned grapefruit sections, says Mae Belle Smith, extension specialist in consumer education.

Because crop prospects now indicate a near record supply, grapes have been added to the list.

Supplies of rice, Irish potatoes, watermelons, fresh and processed lemons and limes, says the specialist, are much larger than for last summer. Too, other than the spotlighted meats, beef and frozen halibut are the only ones carried on the August list.

Milk and other dairy foods such as American cheddar and cottage cheeses continue in heavy supply—about equal to the peak production in June.

Stocks of lard, vegetable fats and oils remain heavy and in some areas the summer vegetables will be in peak supply.

Miss Smith explains that the USDA's monthly listing of plentiful foods is based on a survey of supplies in the major trade territories of this section of the nation. The southwest food distribution division, U.S. Department of Agriculture, makes the survey for the Southwestern States.

Market News Lingo Can Be Helpful

The complicated lingo used in daily livestock marketing reports can vastly increase the efficiency of a farmer's operation if it's interpreted correctly, says John G. McHaney, extension agricultural economist.

Farmers are faced with such problems as what to produce and how much. When this should be sold, and where? Market news can help them decide. The U. S. Department of Agriculture spends more than $10,000,000 annually to obtain market news for general public use, McHaney adds.

Livestock producers who have been in the business long enough can remember when the only source of market information was the incomplete and conflicting reports of trade groups. Today market news is accurate, timely and usable.

Here are the interpretations of market terms: "Market strong" means prices are advancing. "Market firm" means prices are holding or are a shade higher. "Market steady" means no

Research Shows Broadcast Fertilizer Is Best For Perennial Pastures

College Station.— Maintaining an improved perennial pasture capable of producing large quantities of quality forage is of real importance to livestock producers in the humid section of Texas.

Research workers at the Angleton Experiment Station have found that tillage of any sort favored the growth of ragweeds and had no beneficial results on maintaining the pasture. The application of phosphate increased the percentage of white clover in the pasture mixture and nitrogen in addition increased the percentage of Dallisgrass and decreased the clover. Potash had no effect upon the plant composition of the Angleton Station pasture.

Where tillage was not involved, there was no difference in yields due to fertilizer placement. Disking or rotary tilling or placing the fertilizer below the surface gave lower yields and disturbed the root systems which were found to be very extensive in the top two to three inches of soil. The use of phosphate and nitrogen gave the best yields in the three-year tests.

Radioactive phosphorus was used to measure the uptake of phosphorus by both Dallisgrass and white clover. Here again broadcast phosphate was utilized more efficiently than was phosphate placed in bands two inches below the surface and "Market weaker" means price declines are general.

"Demand good" means buyers have confidence in present prices.

"Supplies heavy" means the market is over-supplied and prices are weakening.

These and many other findings are carried in Bulletin 805, Effect of Fertilizer Placement on Perennial Pastures, recently released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. Copies are available from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

Goldthwaite Day To Be Designated At Waco Fair

Goldthwaite has been invited to have a "day" at the Heart O' Texas Fair in Waco, Oct. 1-7. The invitation was extended in a letter from President Russell A. Cox and Executive Vice President Othel M. Neely.

This city is asked to participate in the entertainment program on the big outdoor stage at the fair, name a Cowgirl Sweetheart to be introduced to the rodeo audience, and have the riding club ride in the rodeo grand entry.

So that the local delegation may sit together, a block of choice seats will be set aside, if desired. There is a daily World's Championship performance the first six days; the rodeo is at night except on Sunday, Oct. 2, when a matinee will be given. Duncan Renaldo, the Cisco Kid of movie, radio, newspaper comic strip and TV fame, will appear in person at each performance.

Appreciation for the generous support given the fair the first two seasons was expressed and assurance was given that many new features will make the '55 exposition the best yet.

Highlights And Sidelights On The U. S. Development Of Atomic Energy

(The following is the fifth of a series of seven articles disclosing the highlights and sidelights which have accompanied the nation's development of atomic energy. Prepared at the Hanford atomic energy plant, the series deals with the human things which followed in the wake of the first historic announcement that man had harnessed the atom. It touches upon the things which lie ahead.)

BY BILL JURY
General Electric News Bureau
Hanford Atomic Plant

The cast of characters vital to the development of atomic energy lists many players; scientists, engineers, designers, research teams, laborers, clerks, and strangely enough—sheep. Sheep and other domestic animals are an important part of a plan to probe into the many unknowns of the atomic age.

In tidy pens in the shadow of the huge Hanford atomic energy plant near Richland, Wash., sheep are being studied by some of the world's foremost biologists to determine how they react to radioactive isotopes. Findings from these studies already have helped scientists take long strides in the field of veterinary medicine, and have provided answers to perplexing problems pertaining to atomic energy.

What happens to livestock exposed to excessive radiation, and, for that matter, what amount is excessive? Those questions are being answered at the Hanford plant today by General Electric company scientists whose chief laboratories are clean brick barns where their purebred Suffolk sheep are housed.

Countless experiments proved that highly radioactive waste particles from the plutonium-producing Hanford Works are not harmful to animals or humans after they have been dispersed in the atmosphere, despite the fact that many of the particles eventually fall to the earth and settle on grazing lands.

However suppose the plant facilities were altered or increased; suppose another plant were built elsewhere in the nation where wind currents swooped the particles to the ground instead of scattering them into the atmosphere as they do at Hanford.

One part of GE's job is to determine if a greater number of particles or a greater concentration of particles, would be harmful to man or animals in the vicinity. Again, the team of biologists and their black-faced Suffolk sheep are providing an answer to the riddle.

Since 1950, experiments have been conducted in GE laboratories in an attempt to define the threshold level between safety and danger. The Suffolk sheep have been fed concentrated food pellets spiked with I-131, radioactive iodine. Quantities of the radioactive iodine are varied in a search to locate the amount which may be ingested daily without causing either structural or functional changes in the animal.

Every other condition to promote health is included in the care of the sheep so that the experiments are conducted on normal, healthy animals. They are among the nation's best fed sheep, stowing away liberal quantities of vitamins and minerals and nutrients in the form of alfalfa, grain, and concentrated food pellets.

In time, the biologists' work with sheep will provide part of the information that will be needed by engineers and scientists who design future atomic plants and will furnish much information of value to the entire livestock industry and to the medical profession.

Genetical conclusions will be longer in coming, but the results will be valuable to the scientist and layman alike. (Next week: "Radiation and the Plastic Man")

SEASON FOR FAIRS AT HAND IN TEXAS

In many a city and town of Texas today, community leaders are making plans for an important annual event which many folks have been eagerly looking forward to all year. During the next several months it will be fair-time throughout Texas—with county and regional fairs and festivals taking place in every section of the state, the culminating event being the State Fair of Texas in Dallas, October 7-23.

Texas possibly has a bigger percentage of large, widely patronized fairs than any other state. Several of Texas' big regional fairs attract more visitors and have more impressive fairgrounds than state fairs in some other sections of the nation.

The State Fair of Texas is, of course, the largest annual fair in the United States in terms of attendance, with over 2½ million visitors from all parts of America, and a magnificent fairgrounds with facilities valued at $35 million.

As with most fairs the country over, Texas events carry a heavy emphasis on livestock and agriculture. Entertainment naturally covers a wide range, from carnival sideshows, rodeos, folk festivals to the Broadway musical comedy "Fajama Game" which will be presented at the State Fair. Competition in making jams and jellies, succulent cakes and pies and other examples of traditional homemaking skills still occupies a big place in the program of most Texas fairs.

Fairs in Texas date back over 100 years. The first fair to be held in the state may well have been one in Corpus Christi in 1852, which featured bullfights, a circus, cockfights and fireworks. During the same decade Dallas County became the first county in the state to organize a fair. The State Fair was founded in 1886.

A good fair regardless of size can be a valuable asset to its community, in the opinion of James H. Stewart, general manager of the State Fair and vice president of the International Association of Fairs and Expositions.

In addition to providing wholesome and worthwhile recreation and relaxation, fairs serve to stimulate pride in the achievements of the individual, his group and his region." Mr. Stewart said, "They are a stimulus to trade and a unifying medium."

The various fairs, festivals and livestock shows in Texas have one important thing in common—they are all working to improve our agriculture and livestock industry, to better living conditions generally and to build up our state.

Texas cities which will hold fairs, festivals or similar events during August, September and October—the traditional fair season in Texas—include the following:

Ablene, Alice, Amarillo, Angleton, Baytown, Beaumont, Big Spring, Blanco, Boerne, Bowie, Brenham, Carthage, Center, Centerville, Cleburne, Coldspring, Corsicana, Crockett, Dalhart, Dallas, Denton, Dublin, Edna, Emory, Fairfield, Floresville, Floydada, Fredericksburg, Gainesville, George West, Georgetown, Gilmer, Coliad, Gorman, Haskell, Hempstead, Henderson, Huntsville, Iowa Park, Johnson City, Junction, Kaufman.

La Grange, Levelland, Liberty, Lipscomb, Littlefield, Livingston, Longview, Lubbock, Marshall, McKinney, Mesquite, Mexia, Midland, Nacogdoches, Navasota, New Braunfels, Palestine, Pampa, Paris, Pasadena, Pecos, Perryton, Plainview, Richardson, Roby, Rosenberg, San Angelo, Seguin, Seminole, Stanton, Taboka, Temple, Texarkana, Trinity, Tulla, Tyler, Waco, Wharton, Wheeler.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Dennard of Waco spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Dennard.

News About Social Security

"Social Security coverage of the self-employed farmer or rancher, which started this year, will not impose any new or heavy bookkeeping job," Mr. James B. Marley, District Manager of the Austin social security office said today.

The same records which the farm or ranch operator has been keeping in order to figure his income tax will provide the information necessary to figure his net income on which his social security tax and credit will be based. The form used to report such income for social security purposes will be similar to the Schedule F which farmers and ranchers have been submitting with their income tax returns in past years.

For the small scale operator whose income has been too low to require a detailed income tax return, special provisions have been made which make it easier for him to report that income for social security credit. These special options also help insure that his social security credit will continue unbroken through years of crop failure or poor market conditions.

Those farmers who report on a cash basis, which most farmers and ranchers do, and who have a gross income of $1800 or less for a year may report either their actual net earnings or 50% of the gross income. A figure of less than $400 cannot be used for social security credits. The operator whose annual gross income is over $1800 must first figure his actual net profit, but if his actual net income is below $900. Both the tax due and the social security credit received will be based on whichever amount the farmer chooses to report. In the interest of building up the highest possible social security benefits for the future, it is expected that most farmers and ranchers will exercise the option of reporting the higher amounts.

CROP PRODUCTION OUTLOOK

The 1955 crop report points out the false idea of selective acreage controls. Acreage forced out of one crop pops up in another to create a new surplus.

Cotton and wheat cuts have gone into soybeans, grain sorghums, hay and other products. Neither does lower price supports discourage planting. The farmer plants more to make up his losses in price.

Here are the details of the bumper 1955 harvest expected in the nation:

FEED grain supply will be the highest in history.

CORN crop forecast is almost 3.5 billion bushels—16% over 1954—coming from a new record yield of 42.7 bu per acre despite acreage cuts.

OATS supply looks like a record 1.8 billion bu.—slightly higher than last year. Carryover is about 325 million bu.—also the highest.

BARLEY will be about 224 million bu., about 75 million more than last year. Carryover is estimated at a record 140 million bushels.

GRAIN SORGHUM in Texas will approach and probably break records but production is not yet estimated. The same should hold true for the nation. Acreage is about 23 million, putting production estimates unofficially above the record 233 million.

RICE crop of 42.2 million 100 lb. bags is expected; 12 million less than 1954. In Texas, however, a record crop is anticipated but a breakdown is not available. The increase in production comes in spite of acreage cutbacks.

News Of The Ebony Community

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

Rain has passed us by this week, and still, hot weather prevails. It is woe to us when the wind doesn't blow and the windmill will not turn. The mockingbird has hushed his song. But O! the senita blooms again in all its lavender gray green beauty. Fields still are green, and how the cotton grows! Daughter Grace confirms the floods in El Paso. The Pasoans can go back to their damaged Mountain View homes, but across the river in Jaurez 10,000 are homeless, and the church was calling for all the clothing they could muster for those desperately in need. Daughter Ruth writes that it has rained in Beaumont almost every day since they went home. The paper said it was like the "good old days" when people didn't own water hose and came down Calder Avenue in boats.

Gladys Griffin LaRue of San Antonio is at the Griffin home this week. She came to help her mother hoe the tall careless weeds out of the peanuts. And the peanuts are looking fine. He came by the Griffin home Friday to bring them a little bill for groceries. Uncle Jim Singleton had come from Evant for a little visit. He and Charlie were sitting on their big, comfortable east porch. Every thing looked good and homey around there. The St. Augustine grass is rank and high in their yard. Eunice and Gladys were gone to tend to the Thompson things. Mr. and Mrs. Blue Thompson and Ezelle left Friday morning for Sherman to visit Lila Jo (Mrs. Paul Lockett). They were to return Sunday.

We, the Dwyer-Brileys, attended the funeral of Mrs. Louis Perkins at Regency Monday morning. The floral offering and the immense crowd spoke a beautiful tribute to her. It is sad but true that since the school and the church have gone from the country community, it is only at funerals we see our old friends and neighbors once again. Among many others I saw my good friends, Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Parks of Locker. Their daughter, Katy Myrl, is home from Japan where for sometime she has been librarian for the army. She will return to her post as librarian in the Dallas Schools this fall. We took our dinner with us where we were going. I was happy when Richland Springs soon appeared on the scene. We found Farm Road 45, and everybody was straight once more, and we were homeward bound.

Sunday John and Edna and I went to Goldthwaite to hear Roy M. Foutz at the Church of Christ. We also saw Mr. and Mrs. Charm Whittenburg and Clint and Jack there. We went home with Dale and Evalyn Reid for dinner. After dinner Evalyn's sister, Frittelene, and her husband, Lester Delles, and their daughter, Joy all of Fort Worth, came in. Also Cloud Mashburn. John and Cloud went off to the ball game. The rest of us stayed there. And, believe it or not, we talked Bible and Christian living all evening. We had a feast. I was amazed at how much Bible these youngsters know and how seriously they are taking their Christian living.

Texas Farm And Ranch Land Values Up Two Percent To $70.20 An Acre

Purchase price of Texas farm and ranch land in 1954 was two percent more than in 1953, or an average of $70.20 an acre. Although this slight gain represented a new price level, the number of sales dropped to the lowest level since 1940 and the increase transferred was the smallest in land market record history.

Continued drought, decreases in agricultural prices, acreage adjustments and "tight" holdings of land tended to depress land market activity," William G. Adams, agricultural economist at Texas A. & M. College, explained. Fewer Veterans Land Board purchases and modifications of that program helped push the sales volume down.

Attempts to enlarge units, demand for irrigated acreages, mineral activity and urban and industrial development were factors tending to increase market activity.

Adkins reported that owner-operators were the principle buyers in 1954 and farm size continued to grow. Tenants made only 10 percent of the purchases. "Family-type" farm units continued to be in strong demand, bringing premium prices.

Land price increases were most significant in the Panhandle wheat, High Plains cotton and Lower Rio Grande Valley areas. Price declines were notable in the Upper Rio Grande Valley irrigated area, the Post-Oak country and in the Rolling Plains.

Texas Savings Bond Sales Meet Goal For First Six Months Of '55

Dallas, July 30— More than $101 Million worth of United States Savings Bonds were purchased by Texans during the first half of this year, it was reported today by Nathan Adams and Ed Gossett, co-chairmen of the Savings Bonds Advisory Committee for the state.

Sales of the bonds throughout Texas for the first six months up to July 1 totaled $101,606,381, including purchases during the month of June amounting to $13,787,277.

"At the half-year mark 50.3 per cent of the state's 1955 Savings Bonds goal of $201.9 million was attained," the co-chairmen said. "It should be emphasized, however, that bond sales generally have been greater during the first half of each year and it is urgent that more people in every county of Texas buy more bonds during the remainder of this year.

"This is going to be necessary in order for our state to achieve its proportionate share of the $5.5 billion national goal this year for this vital program. It is essential to the sound money and stable economy plans for our nation, every community and each individual," they added.

The Savings Bonds co-chairmen urged that everyone increase Bond-a-Month or Payroll Savings Plan deductions during the remaining months of this year. They also urged the more than 1400 Savings Bonds volunteers throughout the state to step-up the program in every county so that Texas can put its 1955 bond goal over the top.

be really modern with GAS

Really modern women know that natural gas is the way to smart, clean homemaking. Gas is the world's most sought-after fuel. And gas is truly all-purpose — for ease and excellence in cooking, for automatic comfort in home heating, for the greatest efficiency in water heating, for modern, automatic refrigeration or air conditioning, for the best in clothes drying and home garbage incinerating.

GAS HOME HEATING offers all these advantages

Automatic gas is the carefree way to heat your home better at lower cost. Lone Star now brings you the very latest in home heating within your reach. It's PERIMETER gas heat! Under-floor ducts warm all floors — spread even heat throughout entire house! Control is automatic, prevents costly overheating — one furnace heats all rooms... evenly.

Lone Star's automatic gas floor furnaces and circulating heaters are flue-vented, too, heat more efficiently and are fully automatic; set and forget. And gas is always dependable — underground gas pipe lines are not affected by electrical storms, high winds or power failures. You can count on gas — ALL WAYS.
