Eagles Defeat Armadillos 28-13; To Play Masonic Home Here Friday

The Goldthwaite Eagles scored in every quarter last Friday night as they defeated the San Saba Armadillos by a score of 28 to 13 in their second game of this season, played on Eagle field.

A pass from Smith to Berry for four yards opened the scoring with an extra point by Jones in the first quarter. In the second period Smith ran one yard for a touchdown and ran the extra point. Vaughan took the ball to pay dirt in the third quarter and also ran an extra point while Kirby ran three yards for touchdown, and kicked an extra point in the final quarter.

Everett scored both touchdowns for the Armadillos, one in the second and the other in the fourth quarter. Lindsay made their extra point.

The Eagles displayed a more aggressive spirit Friday night with excellent playing in the backfield and exceptional determination in the line.

While the Armadillos are in the AA class league they are somewhat on the lighter side this year. From all indications there is little need for Eagles to get overconfident over the Friday night victory. There are some tough games coming up.

Briefing of Big Business By Uncle Sam in Spotlight Democrats Checking BAC For Look at Cabinet Tips

WASHINGTON—Democrats investigating the Commerce Department's Business Advisory Committee still have at least one unrevealed ace-in-the-hole. They are going to learn just how much of a briefing big business advisors get from the government.

So far, a House judiciary subcommittee, headed by Rep. Emanuel Celler, New York Democrat, has sought to find out how much businessmen on the BAC are influencing administration policy.

The probers have not yet gotten around to finding out how much the administration is telling the businessmen about future government policy and activity.

The BAC—a blue-ribboned panel of industrialists and other businessmen—meets twice annually at some plush spot, usually outside Washington, and goes behind closed-doors for two or three-day sessions. The body was set up more than 20 years ago to keep the Commerce department up-to-date on economic developments and business thinking.

At their sessions, BAC members are briefed by many members of the President's Cabinet. The result is frequent disclosure to the businessmen of proposed administration plans and policies. Reported instances: Defense Secretary George C. Marshall about five years ago revealed a big Army buildup that was to get underway shortly; Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey dropped broad hints about tax and budget programs, and Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell warned business had better back improved unemployment benefits or face union demands for a guaranteed annual wage.

Democrats would like to know how much confidential information is spilled to the businessmen to give them a good head start on other people in the nation.

● "COLD WAR" to "COLD PEACE"—The Voice of America, which expresses State department policy, has changed its biting "cold war" tune since the Big Four heads of government conference.

Some observers are saying that the VOA is taking a "cold peace" approach to east-west issues.

The official U. S. propaganda agency no longer assails Soviet policy. Instead, the "Voice" takes a positive attitude in the electronic battle for men's minds, emphasizing such matters as President Eisenhower's atoms-for-peace plan and the record prosperity America is enjoying.

The VOA broadcasts are beamed in 38 languages to the nations behind the iron curtain.

● BLOOMS IN THE DESERT—For the lay reader, the Agriculture department's monthly crop reports traditionally have been cold statements in terms of bald facts and figures.

At first blush, the August report appeared to fit snugly into the traditional pattern. But at several points a frustrated advocate of colorful writing apparently had been at work.

Here's a sample: "Hay tonnage on Aug. 1 still looks like a champion, weighing in at 109 million tons."

Unbelieving newsmen handling the report blinked and rubbed their eyes, and then began searching for other verbal tidbits.

They were rewarded with this find: "Thundershowers in many areas leap-frogged fields, leaving good crops and poor ones as close neighbors."

Unfortunately, the writer of the gems remained unidentified.

Manning and Gillin'ne are still formulating plans for the town an electric light system. They have nothing definite to report to the public this week, futher than the fact they expect to have the plant in operation in the very near future.

T. J. Hamilton has sold his farm near Star to H. C. Springer of that community.

Freddie Martin, son of Henry Martin, celebrated the anniversary of his birthday Tuesday afternoon by having a number of his playmates spend the afternoon with him. Refreshments were served to the happy crowd and all had a good time.

One evening, not long ago, about 9:30 o'clock someone walked into the post office lobby and just flat swiped an Ivy Plant right out of the pot which was placed in one of the large planters next to the postmaster's office door. The vine from the plant was running up the side, across the top and part way down the other side of the door.

Whoever did the low down trick cut the vine just above the pot and took the plant leaving the empty pot.

The matter was referred to Sheriff Stubblefield and also was turned in to the Post Office Inspector in Charge.

That's really snooping. The local post office staff has received many very nice compliments on the planters with flowers and vines in the post office lobby and also in front of the post office. It takes a lot of work and patience on the part of those who take it upon themselves to provide this attraction which adds much to the post office in appearance. Post Master Fairman and employees are to be commended for their efforts in that connection.

If anyone doesn't like to look at the plants they can look the other way while passing along the lobby. If it is a matter of wanting an IVY, you can buy one for anywhere from two-bits to forty-nine cents. If they don't have the money—or are too tight to buy one—they might let it be known and surely someone will come up big hearted enough and give them one.

The Eagle Staff was the recipient of a gift of JuJu fruit one day last week by Miss Pearl Crawford of the Chapel Hill Community. None of the force had ever seen or heard of this fruit, and were dubious of trying it, but after a sample, they all decided that it was very good. Miss Pearl stated that the fruit grows in clusters like grapes on trees that will grow as tall as your windmill if not cut back. She said the tree from which she gathered this fruit was planted by her mother many years ago and that she has given cuttings to people as far away as Lubbock, and that the tree will grow anywhere in any kind of soil.

The fruit at first glance looks like a large pecan, has a glossy brown skin and tastes like a cross between apple and date. It has a small seed similar to a date seed. Miss Crawford said that the tree was an import from a foreign country, but it seems to be a graft of date and some other fruit. At any rate the entire force enjoyed eating the fruit and we thank Miss Pearl for the gift and story of the JuJu fruit and tree.

The experience Eddie Jones, high school student, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Jones, had on Friday night in the football game between the Goldthwaite Eagles and the Hamilton Bulldogs will certainly long be remembered. In fact it is one of those experiences that will be down in history as far as Eddie is concerned, if we don't make our guess.

Eddie, No. 12, on the Eagles' squad, is not on the first string. Last week, before the game, he was told that Eddie was quite hoping and praying that he might get to play some during the game. Nothing unusual about that. Every boy on the squad has hopes such as that. The great is the moment when the coach taps them on the shoulder and gives them the go ahead signal to get into the game.

It was in the fourth quarter when the moment, Eddie had been praying for, came to pass. He was sent into the game and in a short time received from Tilman Kirby two passes that resulted in his scampering for two touchdowns—the only two made during the entire evening. Some day when Eddie is grown and maybe has children of his own or Sunday afternoon, some of us will hear him say: "One time I was playing football," . . . and so on . . . as he relates the story of that big night.

Miss Betty Jackson And Grover E. Smith Exchange Marriage Vows

MRS. GROVER E. SMITH

Miss Betty John Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Jackson of Goldthwaite, became the bride of Grover E. Smith of Liberty, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Weathers of Ennis, Saturday evening September 17, at 7:00 o'clock in the First Baptist Church of Goldthwaite. The beautiful ceremony was read by Dr. C. B. Jackson, Baptist Evangelist of Dallas, uncle of the bride.

The altar was beautifully decorated with palm trees, spiral candelabra, with white tapers, tall baskets of all white gladioli, pom pom mums and lilies of the valley. The G. W. Jackson memorial window in the church was also decorated with gladioli, mums and lilies-of-the valley.

Vows were exchanged before an arch entwined with white maline, white satin streamers and clusters of wedding bells.

The traditional wedding music was rendered by Mrs. Mary Ellen Schulz, organist and she accompanied Mr. Milton R. Smith who sang "O Perfect Love" and "I Love Thee".

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor length gown of Alencon lace and nylon tulle over satin.

The pointed basque bodice was designed with a scalloped scoop neckline and long sleeves which tapered to points at the wrists. A lace handkerchief type skirt peeked from beneath the tulle of the very full skirt. She carried a white Bible, which belonged to her grandmother, the late Mrs. R. W. Long, and which was topped with a white orchid. She also carried a wedding handkerchief belonging to the grooms mother.

Miss Lynda Giffen of Omaha, Nebraska, was maid of honor. She wore a dress of rose antique taffeta waltz length and carried red roses. Her head-dress was a circlet of red roses. Miss Judy Long, cousin of the bride and Miss Sarita Howard were bridesmaids. They wore pink taffeta dresses and carried bouquets of pink carnations. Their headdresses were pink carnations, they also lighted the candles.

Mr. G. B. Weathers, step-father of the groom served as best man and Mr. George W. Jackson, brother of the bride and Mr. Charlie Robison of Austin were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Jackson wore a marine blue dress, with matching hat, navy and white accessories and a white corsage. Mrs. Weathers, mother of the groom chose a navy blue dress, pink hat, navy accessories and a pink corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlor. The table was laid with tulle over white taffeta, centered with an arrangement of white mums and lilies-of-the valley on a reflector. A three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom was served by Miss Sarita Howard and Miss Judy Long laded the punch. Guests were registered by Miss Merium Jackson of Austin. Newspaper Week Speakers Bureau Announced by Texas Press Association

AUSTIN.— Plans for an "all out" observance of National Newspaper Week, Oct. 1-8, have been announced by the Texas Press Association, according to TPA President Russell W. Bryant, publisher of the Italy News-Herald.

A speaker bureau of more than 50 publishers from all sections of the state has been named by the association. Speakers will be available for appearances before all types of civic and social organizations during the week. Slogan for the 1955 observance of National Newspaper Week is "Your Newspaper Fights for Your Right to Know." TPA hopes to impress upon newspaper readers the fact that newspapers need to obtain information in order to keep the Texas public an informed public.

Recent instances of misdealing by public officials never would have been possible if the newspapermen and women of Texas had had free access to public records," Bryant said. "It has been proven again and again that the public will take action if it is armed with the information on which to act."

Organizations desiring to take part in the National Newspaper Week observance may make arrangements for speakers through their local newspaper publishers, or by writing direct to the Texas Press Association, 1716 San Antonio Street, Austin.

Clementine Wilmeth Briley Writes From Temporary Home In El Paso

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

Most of our days at El Paso are bright, sunny ones, but yesterday (Friday, Sept. 16) dark clouds gathered over, and last night it rained. When we have our few rains at El Paso they nearly always come at night. Our yard and flowers are still a constant delight. That fence-high row of cosmos, zinnias, and marigolds on the west get more beautiful as autumn comes on. The chrysanthemums are budding fast. Some of them are almost as tall as I am. We have had so many ripe tomatoes we have had to divide with our neighbors. And lately we have had some delicious cantaloupes from our vines.

I was happy to see in the Goldthwaite Eagle that some places in Mills County had rain the first week in September. But we can't know whether they had any at home or not unless someone writes to tell us.

Another card from Mrs. Edna Dwyer, dated Sept. 10, said she had had four days at the Anderson Clinic at Houston and was scheduled for another the following Tuesday. She says she feels good. She also says, "I tell you if everybody could get a glimpse of all the people that are coming to that hospital, they never would say anything more about dry weather or hard times. They are coming by the thousands and they have run out of room to keep those who have to be operated on." She said when she got back to Orange last Friday she had lots of cards and letters. And that is what makes her happy.

A letter from Daughter Ruth Wednesday said Carol Jean was leaving early Thursday morning (Sept. 15) for ACC. Carol will be more than a sophomore this year as she attended the entire summer school at Lamar College in Beaumont this past summer.

El Paso re-enacted its romantic past this week when its Historical Society staged its first public historic restoration project—placing in Plaza Park El Paso's first mule-drawn street car. El Paso has the distinction of being one of the first few cities of the United States to possess a street car system by 1882. Hitched to the street car will be Mandy, the faithful mule, to the tune of 2100 lbs. of cast iron. Mandy was happily thought of and reproduced by the Odd Fellows Lodge. She was cast by Grubbs Foundry from a mold made by two art students of Texas Western College. To complete the set, the Popular Dry Goods Co. dressed up their most appropriate dummy! to represent Pedro, the ever pleasing and courteous motorman.

Electric street cars came to El Paso in 1902, but in 1891 I rode the electric street car in Fort Worth. It ran right by my Aunt Maud's house on Seventh and Florence Streets. Aunt Maud told me that Fort Worth was the second city in the world to put on electric cars. Down town El Paso still has an electric street car running to Juarez.

U. S. Farm Exports In July Up 25 Percent Above Last July

College Station.— All U. S. agricultural exports for the month of July were valued at about $65 million as contrasted with $51 million for the same month a year earlier.

The 25 percent gain, says John McHaney, extension economist, was chiefly due to government export programs which increased shipments of principal grains, tobacco and some fats and oils. Exports of wheat, corn, grain sorghums, soybeans and cottonseed oil improved.

Cotton exports, points out the economist, were less than half of the July 1954 total. Foreign buyers limited purchases to short-term needs because of uncertainty as to this country's cotton export policy in the new marketing year.

United States agricultural exports for the fiscal year which ended on June 30 totaled $3,143 million or 7 percent more than for the previous year.

McHaney says that government programs are expected to continue to give strength to farm exports during the current year. As a result of recently enacted legislation, authority for foreign currency sales by the U. S. Department of Agriculture now amounts to $1.5 billion for the three-year period ending June 30, 1957. Authority for foreign currency sales amounts to $300 million.

These facts coupled with generally favorable business conditions in most foreign countries should help to maintain or increase the present rate of farm exports, says McHaney.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Locklear last Sunday were their children, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Locklear of Weatherford and Mrs. Cecil Williams.

JOHN GILLIES

of San Antonio was elected fulltime director of the Christian Rural Overseas Program in Texas when the new state CROP committee met recently in Austin. Dr. Daniel Russell, professor of rural sociology at Texas A. & M. College, was elected chairman of the state committee. R. E. Meek, El Campo rice grower, was chosen vice-chairman and the Rev. Ross T. Welch, Methodist pastor in San Antonio, was elected secretary. C. W. Pfeuger, Jr., Coupland farmer and banker, was named state CROP treasurer.

Gillies is the son of missionary parents to Lithuania and Argentina. He himself was engaged in relief work in Europe in 1947. He comes to the CROP work with a wide experience in communications media, having worked with advertising agencies, radio, and television stations.

Hodges And Johnson Purchase Registered Brown Swiss Bull

C. W. Hodges and Leroy Johnson, Mullin, Texas, have recently purchased the registered Brown Swiss bull, H. J. Rinaldo 123460 from R. H. Heath, Winters, Texas according to a report from Fred S. Idtse, Secretary of the Brown Swiss Cattle Breeders' Association, Beloit, Wisconsin.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Williams were visitors in San Saba Saturday afternoon.

State Bar Outlines Some Facts With Respect To School Traffic

Thousands of school children are trooping back to school. Many of them will be transported by school buses. Fortunately most people are careful when approaching a school bus which may be standing beside the road or school to pick up school children or allow them to alight. But, nevertheless, we have had some very bad accidents because a child or a motorist, or both, were careless at that very time.

Most Texans are aware of the law which requires a driver to come to a complete stop when overtaking from the rear a school bus which has stopped to receive or discharge school children. After stopping immediately behind the bus, he is then allowed by law to proceed past same at a speed "which is prudent, not exceeding ten (10) miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children."

What many persons do not realize is that the very same rule applies when MEETING a stopped school bus. While everyone is interested in protecting our children, unthinking violators of this simple safety rule greatly outnumber those who comply. Failure to follow the law in this case can lead to fines up to $200.00 even when no accident occurs. Following an accident in which some child is injured or killed, the penalties are naturally much more serious.

Although the above rule does not apply when passing a stopped school bus in a business or residential district of a town, the necessity for extreme caution even in those locations is obvious.

When it comes to overtaking and passing moving vehicles, exercise of ordinary common sense will generally keep a driver within the law. For instance, when passing a car it is only common sense to proceed on past it a safe distance before cutting back to the right side of the highway. Also, any driver would realize the danger of increasing his speed while another is attempting to pass him.

In the same category is the prohibition against passing on the right under most ordinary conditions. Of course, you may legally pass on the right in a few specific instances, such as when the vehicle overtaken is making or about to make a left turn, or upon a one-way street with two or more lanes, or upon a four-lane highway.

However, our traffic laws state that even when passing on the right is allowed, it shall be done only under conditions permitting such movement in safety. And, in no event should such passing be accomplished by driving off the pavement or maintained portion of the roadway.

Familiar to all are the no passing zones designated by dash lines placed to one side of the center stripe on our highways. Not so well known are the restrictions against crossing the center line when approaching within 100 feet of or when traversing any intersection or railroad grade crossing.

A driver should never cross the center line of a highway when the left side of the road is not clearly visible and free of oncoming traffic. Generally speaking, when not engaged in passing another vehicle, one should not drive to the left of the center of the roadway.

At the meeting of the Goldthwaite P-TA last Wednesday the members decided to concentrate efforts this year on bringing the home and school into closer relationship rather than on fund raising, in order that parents and teachers may cooperate more intelligently in the training of the child.

Town-Mills Soil Conservation News

By CHARLES HAENISCH
 Last week a group of farmers, professional and business men and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Dublin in Upper Leon Soil Conservation District observed sewage water being used for irrigation on the L. B. Burnham farm one mile south of Goldthwaite.

Mr. Burnham has been using disposal water from the Goldthwaite for irrigation since 1951. A five acre field is being irrigated with this water by using a level border system. At the present time this field is established to bermuda. Within the next few weeks the field will be plowed and a seed bed prepared for the planting of rye and Madrid sweet-clover. By establishing the field to these crops Mr. Burnham is able to have a year around grazing program on the fields. The rye is grazed in the fall and late winter, the Madrid sweet-clover is then grazed in the early spring and summer. At mid summer the Bermuda grass becomes available for grazing and livestock graze this until fall.

Technicians of the Soil Conservation Service assisting the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District laid this irrigation system out for Mr. Burnham in 1951. Since that time Mr. Burnham has been well pleased with the results he has obtained from the use of the sewage water.

After observing the system, the visiting group was satisfied that Mr. Burnham was making full use of the water that once ran down the creek. They felt that the water in their city could be put to the same use.

Last week terrace systems were laid out by technicians of the Soil Conservation Service for Melvin Pafford of Ridge, Charlie Noah of Priddy. These terraces are being constructed in fields where water erosion is a serious problem. The terraces will break the slope of the land and walk the water off the fields.

A number of landowners completed terrace systems this week. Terraces were checked for completion on the farms of A. W. Cline, Robert Kerby, C. A. Faulkner, Luther Roach, O. V. Clerey, and W. O. Kemp.

Farm ponds for livestock water were staked last week on the Ernest Kohler farm near Priddy and the Jim Weatherby ranch west of Goldthwaite. Ponds were also checked for completion on Robert Kerby, Harold Johanson, C. W. Lawson, and Jim Soules.

Mr. and Mrs. Vic E. Koleber spent the weekend in Denton with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Massey.

ONE STAR Agriculture

By John C. White, Commissioner

AN EXPANDED TEXAS MARKETING PROGRAM

The Texas Department of Agriculture is inaugurating a new marketing service designed to help farmers sell their commodities in these days of economic chance.

Texas is no longer a "one or two crop" state. In recent years, the emphasis has been switched to a more diversified system of farming which brings with it a whole new set of problems.

Thousands of acres of Texas land normally planted to cotton and a few other main cash crops have been diverted to lesser commodities because of planting allotments and acreage restrictions. These "new" products must be sold. And in most cases, the farmer is unfamiliar with the demand for his goods—no nearby markets exist. In such cases a market outlet must be found, or even created.

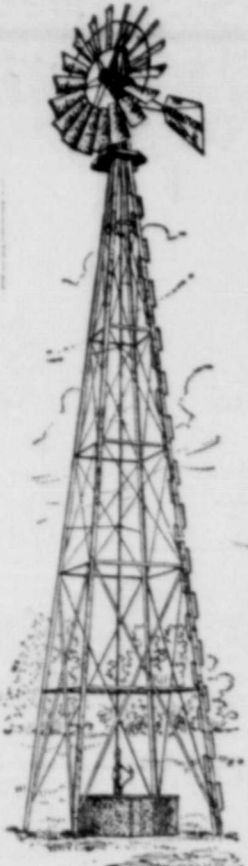

The Marketing Division of the TDA is making a survey of these new crops and possible markets. Where possible the department will act as a clearing house of supply and demand information for the farmer.

In addition, many farmers whose main cash crops have failed will need assistance in selling secondary crops which they would normally keep and utilize on the farm. At the other extreme, when bumper crops are produced, then storage space must be found until they can be moved into trade channels at a normal rate. A sudden dumping of bumper crops on the market could result in a serious price collapse.

Still another phase of the new project will be demonstration and research projects on proper handling, packaging and shipping of perishable Texas commodities. Many thousands of dollars are lost each year because normal precautions are not exercised in getting crops ready for the market. The TDA will endeavor to correct those practices which result in poor quality fruits and vegetables—and a corresponding decrease in value.

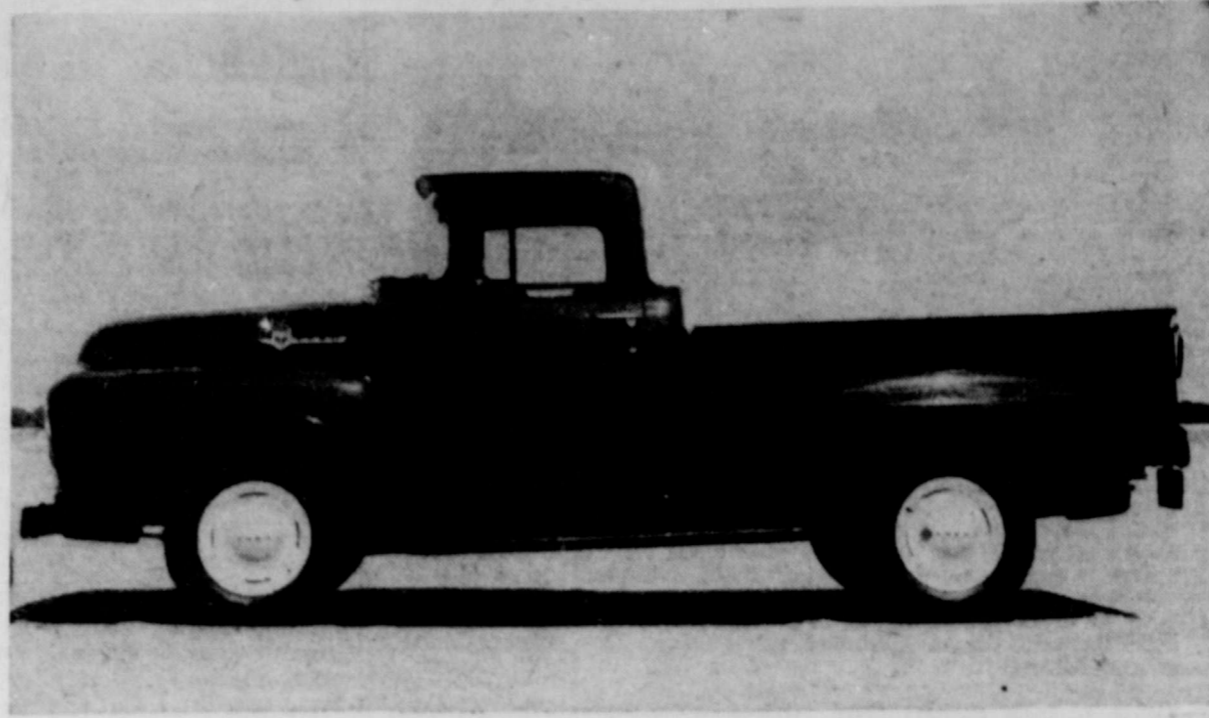

For further information on these projects, write John White, Commissioner, Texas Department of Agriculture, Austin 14, Texas.

Turkey Marketing Field Days To Improve Turkey Industry In Texas

College Station.—The purpose of four announced Turkey marketing field days is to improve the turkey industry in Texas. This can be done, says F. Z. Beanblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist, if producers will deliver to the consumer a turkey of Grade A quality which can compete with those from any area of the nation.

The program for the one-day meetings will include demonstrations and discussions on how this quality bird can be marketed. Beanblossom says the meetings are scheduled for Corsicana on September 20; Meridian, September 22; Gonzales, September 27 and Austin on September 28. All will begin at 9:30 a. m. and close by 4:00 p. m. Each will be held at a local processing plant and anyone interested in turkey marketing and improving the industry in Texas is invited to participate in the meetings, says Beanblossom.

Each participant will grade live turkeys during the morning; see them processed prior to the noon hour and after lunch will see and hear J. Alfred Bybee, Federal-State supervisor, USDA of Dallas, discuss and grade the processed birds. Here again participants will have an opportunity to do grading work. Dr. J. H. Quisenberry, head, Poultry Department of Texas A & M College System, will wind up the day's program with a discussion of what each member of the turkey industry's team can do to improve the grade of birds marketed.

The field days resulted from requests by the Texas Turkey Federation and Beanblossom says all segments of the industry are cooperating. A special feature at the Meridian meeting will be a discussion by George Draper of the random sample turkey test which he is supervising.

Local county agents can supply detailed information on the field days.

State Capitol NEWS

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Austin, Texas — Granite in the capitol building is more radioactive than the dirt being used by Texas' mushrooming "uranium dirt-sitting" businesses. So say state health department officials.

Landowners near uranium strikes have erected benches and charge patrons $2 to $3 an hour to sit with their feet in the supposedly irradiated dirt. Hundreds of people seeking relief from arthritis and other aches have patronized the places.

After analyzing the dirt, Dr. Henry Holle, health commissioner, said that dirt sitting does no actual harm—except that it may encourage an ill person to delay visiting a physician.

DROUGHT AID SOUGHT
Federal disaster aid is being sought for Texas' drought-stricken areas.

Gov. Allan Shivers asked President Eisenhower to designate as disaster areas counties to be specified by the U. S. Department of Agriculture state drought committee.
